

UNC-W
SEAHAWK

1948-1952;
1957-1978.

CONTINUED

UNC-W
SEAHAWK

1948-1952;

1957-1978.

CONTINUED

SURFING is a popular sport in this area, but for those not sufficiently inclined or coordinated...

WALKING ON THE BEACH combined with some creative daydreaming can be a rewarding recreational pastime. (photos by jeannie lovelace).

AND AS THE SUN SETS on the surfer or beachwalker and their friends, they may return home to finish the reading in their patiently waiting text books or to complete the some-neglected report, (photo by jeannie lovelace).

FIRST X-RATED CARTOON

With nudity, four-letter words and brilliant humor, "Fritz the Cat" represents a great stride forward in animation maturity, by far the most drastic advance since "Snow White" introduced the world's first full-length animated feature in 1938.

A far cry from Mickey Mouse and Bambi, the cartoon's feline hero will come as a familiar figure to many up-to-date comic strip readers. His encounters with drugs, cops, Hells Angels, group sex and a Harlem riot are enough to start Walt Disney whirling in his grave. Supporting Fritz are other cartoon animals playing key roles as teeny-boppers, hard hats, hippies, Black Panthers and revolutionaries in a pointedly liberal satire aimed at today's sophisticated audiences.

The voice of Fritz is that of Skip Hinant, the same actor who voiced the Snoopy role in "A Boy Named Charlie Brown." In color, "Fritz the Cat" was produced by Steve Krantz and directed by Ralph Bakshi, who also wrote the screenplay. The rock musical score was written especially for the film by Ed Bogas and Ray Shanklin, and features Bo Diddley, Charles Earland, Billie Holiday, Jim Post, Bernard Purdie, Merl Saunders, Alice Stuart, Cal Jader and The Watson Sisters.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 7

8 p.m.

KENAN AUDITORIUM

NOW SHOWING

A MIRACLE
OFA
MOVIE MUSICAL!

ALL DELUXE
MANOR
DOWNTOWN
62-2935

SONGS Hear its 12 great hit songs including
"DAY BY DAY"
"SAVE THE PEOPLE"
"BLESS THE LORD"
and
"BEAUTIFUL CITY!"

1st CITY SHOWING

COLUMBIA PICTURES PRESENTS A LANSBURY/DUNCAN/BERLIN PRODUCTION
SCREENPLAY BY DAVID GREENE AND JOHN-MICHAEL TERELAK
MUSIC AND LYRICS BY STEPHEN SCHWARTZ DIRECTED BY DAVID GREENE

FEATURES AT 1-3-5-7-9

OPEN 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

FOURTH CORNER
4405 wrightsville ave.

Organic Oils,
Shampoos, and Lotions

Waterbeds,
Albums,
Topsiders,
Tapes,

Tops,
Bottoms,
Jewelry,
Headgear,
Boots,
Insense,

Sav-A-Lot SUPER DISCOUNT STORE

1953 S. College Road
8 A.M. - 4 P.M. 6 Days

First Annual

UNC-W SALE!

Pepsi, Coke, or Seven Up

29¢

28 OZ

Everyday Low Price

Head & Shoulders

LOTION SHAMPOO

7 oz.

mfg. sugg. price-

$1.78

99¢

CREST Toothpaste

mfg. sugg. price-$1.13

FAMILY SIZE

69¢

STEREO TAPES

EIGHT TRACK

Wide Selection

2/$5

WALL POSTERS

mfg. sugg. $1.68

price-$2.00

Excedrin

100 count

mfg. sugg. price

$1.79

99¢

NOTEBOOK
PAPER

300
COUNT

49¢

JOHNSON & JOHNSON

COTTON SWABS

200'S

49¢

Mfg. sugg.
price $1.08

SURE

DEODORANT
UNSCENTED
ANTI-PERSPIRANT
6 OZ. SIZE

69¢

Mfg. sugg.
price $1.29

JOHNSON & JOHNSON

BABY SHAMPOO

12 OZ. SIZE

$1.09

Mfg. sugg.
price $1.89

BEN-GAY

RELIEF OF ACES AND PAINS
1 OZ. SIZE

67¢

Mfg. sugg.
price $1.09

NATURALLY FEMININE

DEODORANT SPRAY
3 OZ. SIZE

89¢

Mfg. sugg.
price $1.50

MISS BRECK

HAIR SPRAY
REGULAR - SUPER
13 OZ. SIZE

59¢

Mfg. sugg.
Price $1.09

PRO

TOOTHBRUSH
MEDIUM

33¢

Mfg. sugg.
price 69¢

Sentry Lock-Cap

ST. JOSEPH®
ASPIRIN FOR CHILDREN

Doctor Approved

ST. JOSEPH
ASPIRIN FOR CHILDREN
36'S

23¢

Mfg. sugg.
price 43¢

CIGARETTES

100's $2.49

$2³⁹

CTN.

"Frankly Speaking"

by Phil Frank

© FRANKLY SPEAKING Post Office Box 1523 East Lansing, Michigan 48823

(SOLUTION ON PAGE 8)

By EDWARD JULIUS

ACROSS

1. Movie Bridge Builder
5. Dark Yellow
10. Pain
14. Core
15. French Relative
16. Dutch-African
17. Bitter Drug
18. "Hamlet" Character
20. Digestive Gland
22. Tease
23. Curl
24. Vocalist Anita
25. Add To
28. Dislike
32. Melvin
33. Brake Parts
34. Playtex Product
35. Hardwoods
36. Church Singers
37. Goddess of Fertility
38. Maria
39. 1969 PGA Champ
40. Accost
41. Computer Language (pl.)
43. Graceful
44. Rabbit
45. Contemporary Author
46. Street
49. Excess
53. Feigning
55. Navigate
56. Of Ammonia
57. Chocolate Seed
58. Caesar Quote
59. Hasty
60. Penetrate
61. Throat Noise

DOWN

1. Egyptian Month
2. Snoopy's First Owner
3. British College
4. Nixon Dog
5. Hurt Feelings of
6. Die
7. Pronoun
8. Urge; Scot.
9. Saskatchewan Lake
10. Monasteries
11. Wood Measure
12. Cure
13. Irish-Gaelic
19. Approaches
21. Outer Layer
24. Egg-shaped
25. Khayyam Essential (2 wds.)
26. Runner
27. Cheapskate
28. Nautical Greetings
29. Norwegian Dramatist
30. Bay Window
31. Snide
33. Gleaned
36. Mr. Darrow
37. Britannic Waterway
39. Bowling Term
40. Horse's Pace
42. Roof Material
43. Botanist Mendel
45. Arm Bones
46. Box
47. Woman's Name
48. Spanish Digit
49. Ancient Britisher
50. Pledge
51. Ceremony
52. Canker Remedy
54. Biblical Character

Math dept. provides student tutors

The Mathematics Department anticipates having about three student assistants working in the work assistance and work study programs. Student assistants perform such duties as grading homework papers, tutoring students in freshman-level mathematics classes, and assisting with computer programming laboratories. At the beginning of the fall semester a tutoring schedule will be announced when students can get help in their mathematics courses.

The Math Club was organized three years ago to promote an interest in mathematics on campus. Activities for the club include dinner meetings followed by a guest speaker or a mathematics film, socials, and hopefully field trips. The club expects to apply for a chapter of the mathematics national honorary society, Pi Mu Epsilon, during the coming year. Club president is Benjamin Hooks with other officers to be elected at the beginning of the fall semester. All majors in mathematics as well as persons interested in mathematics are eligible for membership in the club.

Shoney's

"HOME OF THE BIG BOY"
4010 Market Street

Complete selection on our menu
open
7 a.m. - 12 p.m. Monday - Thursday
7 a.m. - 2 a.m. Friday & Saturday

Try Our Strawberry Pie

Yes

Wachovia

ANNIE GREEN SPRINGS

Wine

BERRY FROST COUNTRY CHERRY

distributed by Homer Baker Co.
Wilmington, N.C.

MRS. PHOEBE HOOD, R.N., is the Family Nurse Practitioner who deals daily with health problems and questions on campus. Students with minor illnesses and injuries may be treated free of charge in the Health Service Center in the Residence Hall on campus. (photo by Jeannie Lovelace)

BS, BA, Chem. degrees available

The Chemistry Department of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington offers two degree programs, B. S. and B. A.

The B. S. program is designed for those who plan to become professional chemists, and is approved by the American Chemical Society. Students who receive this degree are qualified to work as chemists in industrial and governmental laboratories or to do graduate study in chemistry or related fields.

The B.A. program is designed for students who need a good foundation in chemistry but who do not require the amount of advanced work offered in the B.S. program. The B.A. program includes somewhat less chemistry and mathematics, and so provides more time for work in other areas. This program is especially suitable for premedical and predoctoral students, for those planning to become high school science teachers, and for those interested in environmental science with a concentration in chemistry.

In addition to their regular classes, qualified students working toward either degree are encouraged to engage in research with the help and guidance of members of the chemistry faculty.

The Chemistry Department is housed in a new, air-conditioned building, with ample classrooms, stockrooms, and laboratories for teaching and research.

The laboratories are well-equipped with modern instruments, including ultraviolet, visible, and infrared spectrophotometers, an emission spectrograph, a nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometer, polarimeters, gas chromatographs, a polarograph, atomic absorption spectrophotometers, and a high speed centrifuge.

The university has access to the full resources of the IBM 370/165 computer of the Triangle Universities Computation Center in the Research Triangle Park. Chemistry majors use the computer in some of their courses and in research.

The Chemistry Department is staffed by six full-time and three part-time faculty members, holding Ph.D. degrees from Chicago, Duke, Florida State, Harvard, Louisiana State, North Carolina State, Rockefeller, and the University of the Pacific. The fields of analytical, biochemistry, inorganic, organic, physical, and physical-organic are represented.

LAST CHANCE TO BUY

SEASON TICKETS

for Popular Film Series

SEASON TICKET SALES END SATURDAY

SEPTEMBER 8

WITH SUPERFLY

$2 PER STUDENT

$5 FACULTY & GENERAL ADMISSION

TICKETS ARE AVAILABLE AT THE BOX OFFICE

KENAN AUDITORIUM

YOU CAN GET ALONG WITHOUT IT

A Fraternity, that is.

Despite what fraternity men have told during fall Rush Week, life at U.N.C.-Wilmington can be survived without fraternal affiliation.

You Can:

Study,
Make friends,
Enjoy College

All without Greek reinforcements.

UNC-W is a school with growing traditions and one of those traditions seems to be peddling a bill of goods to entering freshmen.

Not that DU is above that sort of thing. We aren't. We'll be telling you that you simply can't get along without a house, that college isn't a college as an independent, etc., etc.

But don't be too harsh on us, fraternities do help. They give you contact with upperclassmen you'd otherwise miss, they give you a place to party and people to party with, they give you a group to belong to, they give you an easy source of friends.

Maybe none of this is for you; if not, fine. Just be sure you make up your own mind and take what all of us say with a grain of salt.

If You decide to look at fraternities, come over to the DU House.

We think we've got a lot to offer.

We think that as far as fraternities go, the DUs are one of the best. We told you that fraternities aren't all they're cracked up to be.

And we also told you they can be a help, a good thing in their place.

Make up your own mind.

If you decide that fraternities are worthwhile, we hope we'll get a chance to meet you and tell you more about Delta Upsilon.

We've tried to be fair, and minimize the BS.

But come over and see for yourself. We're looking forward to meeting you, and sincerely think you'll like the DU House.

Come on over and meet Us

We're having open house all week

DELTA UPSILON

For information and rides call 799-1268

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY

WHERE YOU ALWAYS BUY THE BEST FOR LESS

GIBSON'S

DISCOUNT CENTER

OPEN
9 am to 9 pm
Monday - Saturday
68 South Kerr Ave.

NEED HELP?

Wherever you need help, we can help you. We have hundreds of courses that go from how to add and subtract through algebra and calculus...from English grammar to foreign languages...from basic study skills to college survival courses and speed reading...from beginning typing to Economics...and many more. Call for more information.

The Tutoring Center Learning Foundations

3301 Park Ave.
(behind Sears!)

763-3671

UNC-W Class Rings

GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler
and Silversmiths

212 North Front Street

Language Lab offers audio, video materials

The language laboratory, which has a large variety of recorded materials (both tape and disc), filmstrips and slides, is located at K-109. The laboratory has thirty-two student positions and is available to students on a library basis at announced hours.

Individual instructors may require laboratory attendance or take their classes as a group to the laboratory.

The Modern Language Department encourages students to participate in overseas programs and is quite liberal in granting credit for such participation. Especially recommended are the UNC-CH programs at Lyon and Seville because credits and grades earned are the same as credits earned at UNC-CH or UNC-W. To date at least three UNC-W students have participated in the Year-at-Lyon program, and two UNC-W students have been accepted for the 1973-74 academic year.

Cities suffocating

(Continued from page 3)

mentations are the following: Adjustment of discriminatory freight rates, depletion allowances and tax incentives that favor virgin materials over recycled resources.

Provision of below market interest rate loans from the federal government for the construction of solid waste management and resource recovery facilities at the local level.

Government practices that would favor the purchase of recyclable or reusable materials to encourage their use on a national level.

Removal of interstate and intrastate barriers to the transportation of solid wastes to encourage multi-jurisdictional disposal programs.

"This report," the league and conference point out in conclusion, "is printed on recycled paper."

reprinted from Conservation News
7/15/73

CLASSIFIEDS

Apartment (in nice quiet neighborhood) in private home for quiet girl. Private entrance, bath, bedroom, sitting room, kitchenette. All utilities furnished. 762-5470.

Roommate wanted. Own room in furnished house. Kitchen, bath, living room. Leave name and number in Seahawk box. Address replies to Jody Chilton.

Early Christmas present for the asking. 4 cuddly kittens: 2 female calico, 2 male orange-six weeks old. Call 791-6827.

Stereo Components! Most Major Brands! 20 - 50% Off! All Fully Guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

Needed: Girls to work as waitresses at Paul's Place. Looks a must. Contact Boogie after 7:30 any night but Monday.

Rooms for three guys in private home (Castle Hayne) with kitchen privileges. Call 675-0578 after 6 p.m.

DANCE !!

featuring

White Harvest

SATURDAY NIGHT

SEPTEMBER FIRST

IN THE PUB-9 to 1:00

S.G.A. dance committee

BUFFALO'S

DISCOUNT-BEVERAGES

COMPLETE GROCERY LINE

OVER 400 WINES From 11 Countries

OVER 50 BEERS From 18 Countries

5124 Oleander Drive

Located Across From The Bowling Center Next To The 6/15 Club - Call 799-2200

OPEN 7 to 1 except Fri. & Sat. - till 2:00 A.M.

8-Track Tapes 1.99

Carton Cigarettes 2.38 Reg. 2.48 100's

Stop By and See
Roger or Rocky
You'll Be Glad You Did.

ALL IN THE FAMILY -- No, it's not the cast of a weekly situation comedy show. It's the cast of a daily comedy-drama called STUDENT AFFAIRS. To share in triumphs and troubles, the student affairs staff is comprised, left to right, of Dr. William Malloy, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs; Mystery Man*; Mrs. Helena Cheek, dean; Dr. Darwin Newton, director of the counseling and testing center; Ms. Linda Moore, director of student activities; Ralph Parker, dean; Larry Crowder, director of student financial aid; Bill Williams, head dorm resident. *Mystery Man - not pictured is Dr. Jim Slager, psychological counselor.

'Something of a maverick'

Stanford's Lyons discusses job as dean

palo Alto, Calif. - (I.P.) - "When I started out as a dean, I was something of a maverick, because I wasn't interested in prescribing student behavior," suggests Dean James Lyons, who is completing his first year as dean of student affairs at Stanford University, after 10 years as dean of students at Haverford College.

"Now this is the way most deans are. Most deans don't see discipline as part of their role." Instead, Dean Lyons thinks of his major role as a teacher without a classroom. "I saw deaning as a clear and desirable alternative to teaching, one in which I can make use of the human condition, of what happens on campus, to help students learn."

He is glad to be free of the earlier paradoxical situation in which a university assumed that it was committed to intellectual and social self-actualization of its students while presuming that it must dictate to students how that actualization was to take place.

"Now there are different notions of how students become mature," Dean Lyons suggests. "We believe students should have experience in making choices, in trying out ideas through experience. Higher education in general is less prone to try to protect students from the consequences of their 'evil' activities."

"Now we feel that our responsibility is a common human responsibility--to do all we can to help students make good choices. We're far less prescriptive and far more descriptive about the consequences of various kinds of choices.

"I think universities have learned a lot with regard to student affairs in the past few years. In particular, I think we've learned to be more honest," says Lyons.

"Take the rules intended to separate men and women--they seemed to protect women from men. They were probably originally designed as sexual regulations, to prohibit or minimize sexual activity among students. But they were rarely couched in those terms."

"Universities claimed that that's what parents wanted--which worked until we asked the parents. It turned out the colleges were far more protective than parents ever were. In fact, parents were hoping colleges would do something with their children that the parents themselves couldn't do.

"So the universities tried to keep student sexual activity to a minimum, while claiming that the purpose of parental rules was to simplify student study schedules, or to hold down the attrition rate."

"We weren't being honest. We saw that sexual activity was going on, but we couldn't recognize it, because by definition it wasn't supposed to be happening. And so we couldn't deal with any of the consequences -- unwanted pregnancies or abortions."

"So we were a little more responsive when the drug phenomenon came along. We now can talk about it, above the table, so to speak. We are responding in a rational way, as an institution of higher learning ought to do."

HAWK'S NEST

5814 Oleander Drive

799-5880

Favorite Beverages

Good Food Color TV
Game Room

We now have a salad bar.

open 3 p.m. until

Live Bands

Wed., Fri., and Sat. Nights

 Professional Service At A Price You Can Afford

kar-kare Service Center

4207 Oleander Drive

Complete Parts & Accessories

Professional Trained Personnel

 LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT

"We do it right...or we do it over."

kar-kare

4207 Oleander Drive

799-2770

BE Goodrich

TIRES

Super-Tal Retread

- Wheel Alignment
- Complete Front End Repairs
- Shock Absorbers
- Diagnostic Tune-Ups
- Brake Service
- Batteries

GILBERT PARRISH
Owner

WAYNE SHANNON
Manager

Yes

Wachovia

VAC provides chance for students to 'learn while doing'

The Voluntary Action Center provides excellent situations for students who wish to "learn while doing." Volunteer work is, according to student activities director Linda Moore, whose office acts as the college branch of VAC, a "good way to find out if you'd enjoy teaching, nursing, etc." It's also "a great way to gather information for a project or report."

The college VAC functions with the same objectives as the downtown office, mainly to recruit and match college volunteers with the appropriate social agencies needing workers. "The needs of both the agencies and students are considered," according to Ms. Moore.

Students interested in doing volunteer work should fill out short questionnaires available in Ms. Moore's office located downstairs in the Pub (Student Services Building). The questions regard interests, time available, transportation needs, etc.

Mrs. Sue Colson, Executive Director of VAC, will match students with agencies, and the student will quickly be notified of the agency (or agencies) needing his talents.

Hour availability can vary, and one does not need to have a great amount of time to donate nor need he make a long-term commitment. One-time projects are available for groups.

If interested, students should contact Ms. Moore in the pub. During the year, watch bulletin boards and the Seahawk for information on volunteer openings.

Volunteer Opportunities to work with Children and Young People:

Girls Club of Wilmington - short-term resources aides in areas of art, crafts, music, drama, dancing, grooming, etc., to work with girls 6 yrs. to teenage.

New Hanover Drug Abuse Comm. - counselors for aiding young people with drug and related problems at "Open House"; phone answers for shifts at Crisis Line.

Family Service Northside Neighborhood Center - tutors for 1st-4th graders having trouble in school on a one-to-one basis after school one hour a week.

Juvenile Services Center - assist in areas of recreation, arts and crafts with young people in short-term detention at the Center.

"child-sitting" - with physically and mentally handicapped youngsters in their home to relieve parents for short periods.

Drivers-for assistance in getting to appointments, training opportunities, etc.

Volunteer Opportunities to work with Senior Citizens:

Nursing Homes - visitation, letter writing, errands, and to assist in recreation programs.

Y.W.C.A. - to assist with entertainment (slide presentations, special interest talks) at monthly programs for the Golden Age Club.

Drivers-for assistance in getting to medical appointments, clinics, shopping, etc.

Department encourages research

Qualified chemistry students are encouraged to engage in research, with the help and supervision of members of the faculty. This can be done in the Multiple Abilities Program, in the Honors Program (by eligible juniors and seniors), or as directed individual study.

The Chemistry Department has adequate facilities and qualified faculty members to direct student research in the following areas of chemistry: analytical, inorganic, organic, physical, and physical - organic. In the near future, research in biochemistry will be possible.

DEAN RALPH PARKER of the Student Affairs Staff deals in general with matters involved in various phases of student life. Specifically, he is the man to see about Veteran's benefits and placement. (photo by Jeannie Lovelace).

OPEN DOORS characterize the Student Affairs Office (A-1 3) under the able guidance of Dr. William Malloy, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs. Dr. Malloy states that students should feel free to carry a question or problem to the staff at any time. (photo by Jeannie Lovelace).

Boone serves as Campus Minister

Milton Boone serves UNC-W as Campus Minister which places him in a variety of roles with considerable flexibility. He likes the people-push of the college campus but he's really here because he believes that a person has not been spoken to unless his or her spirit has been addressed by God. So the minister is here to share with students and others in this quest for spiritual growth.

United Christian Campus Ministry began in January, 1973. It is the result of two years of study and planning and is sponsored by five major denominations.

Mr. Boone is on campus Monday through Thursday. He has no office but will stop and pull up a chair most anywhere. He may also be contacted through the Office of Student Affairs.

DEAN HELENA CHEEK is part of a vital and ever-increasing student affairs staff. Her office is located in Alderman Administration room 113, and she is available to aid in matters dealing with student housing, problems and procedures of student living, and international student advising.

"FOR THOSE WHO LIKE FINE DINING"

BALLARDS RESTAURANT

QUIET FAMILY ATMOSPHERE
STEAK • SEAFOOD • BARBQ CHICKEN

3917 Market Street
(U.S. 17 North)

Wilmington's Family Restaurant

Rex Ballard
Crystal Meares

763-4811

Holsum

THRIFT STORE

1055 S. College Road

(next to Sav-A-Lot)

BELOW RETAIL PRICES
ON

Breads, Cakes, Rolls, Donuts

"OKAY, HERE HE IS—OUR FIRST-BORN MALE CHILD! NOW HAND OVER THE CHUCK ROAST!"

THE INDIANA PENN

"HARK, THERE CAME A TUNE" SITTING: JOE COLLEGE'S DORM ROOM.

1. AS JOE COLLEGE SITS IN HIS TYPICAL DORM ROOM, COMPLETE WITH PEACE POSTER, MUSIC FLOWS INTO HIS HUMBLE PAD:

2.

3. RUNNING LIKE THE WIND, HE HEADS FOR THE MAIN EXIT. (IT WON'T BE LONG NOW) TENSION MOUNTS

4. THROWING OPEN THE DOOR HE DISCOVERS IT'S NONE OTHER THAN...

Tom Kula 1979

A little of what you fancy
does you good.

When we open soon at Oriole Drive and College Road, we'll have checking accounts, savings accounts, Master Charge and student loans to help you get what you fancy. We hope you'll come in and visit.

O First Union National
Watch for our opening

seahawk

vol. 16, no. 2

september 8, 1973

Eight Pages

BADFINGER

Concert coming Sept. 27

TICKETS ON SALE NEXT WEEK

EDITORIALS

YOU CAN GET ALONG WITHOUT IT

A Fraternity, that is.

Despite what fraternity men have told during fall Rush Week, life at U.N.C.-Wilmington can be survived without fraternal affiliation.

You Can:

Study,
Make friends,
Enjoy College
All without Greek reinforcements.

UNC-W is a school with growing traditions and one of those traditions seems to be peddling a bill of goods to entering freshmen.

Not that DU is above that sort of thing. We aren't. We'll be telling you that you simply can't get along without a house, that college isn't a college as an independent, etc., etc.

But don't be too harsh on us, fraternities do help. They give you contact with upperclassmen you'd otherwise miss, they give you a place to party and people to party with, they give you a group to belong to, they give you an easy source of friends.

Maybe none of this is for you; if not, fine. Just be sure you make up your own mind and take what all of us say with a grain of salt.

If you decide to look at fraternities, come over to the DU House.

We think we've got a lot to offer.

We think that as far as fraternities go, the DUs are one of the best. We told you that fraternities aren't all they're cracked up to be.

And we also told you they can be a help, a good thing in their place.

Make up your own mind.

If you decide that fraternities are worthwhile, we hope we'll get a chance to meet you and tell you more about Delta Upsilon.

We've tried to be fair, and minimize the BS.

But come over and see for yourself. We're looking forward to meeting you, and sincerely think you'll like the DU House.

Come on over and meet Us

We're having open house all week

DELTA UPSILON

For information and rides call 799-1268

Second Best Ain't Bad

Pure water is the best gift that man to man can bring.

But who am I that I should have the best of anything?

Let princes revel at the pump, let peers with ponds make wine.

Whiskey or wine or even beer is good enough for me.

Sir Compton Mackenzie

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Pridden
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

IF YOU DIDN'T BELIEVE us this summer when we ran the article citing the need for a bigger bookstore, we bet you're believers now. How about a show of hands on those unfortunates who waited in line two hours or more to get books? Ah ha, just as we thought. Some rearranging was done prior to the fall rush which helped. If you were around and were observing, you would have seen Col. James Clark, Director of Auxiliary Services, sleeves rolled up, moving books with the store staff. And it is indeed amazing how the staff was so cheerful and helpful in the midst of so trying a week. A vote of thanks to Manager Pat Gaskins and staff for doing their best. Understand that a bigger bookstore is not planned for the five-year prospectus for, believe it or not, the fastest-growing branch of the consolidated U. Someone doesn't have the old thinking cap on straight.

ON BEHALF OF A RATHER frustrated faculty member, be it hereby known: that a student attends an institution of higher learning for precisely that, Higher learning. Ideally, we are not here to improve our football (though admittedly, it's not a bad by-product of the UNC-W experience), but to get an extension of the skills and knowledge we have picked up thus far along the way. Just thought we'd mention it.

IF YOU SHOULD HAPPEN TO NOTICE that this week's Book is somewhat shorter than you picked up last week...We took a loss last week to introduce you to some people and information that we feel could make your years here much more beneficial.

AFTER PACKING 'EM IN AT last semester's dances, the turnout last Saturday night was pretty disappointing. Could be that everybody went home for the long weekend. Anyway, a lot of guys asked us to mention that the guy-girl ratio was about 3 to 1. Great for the chicks, but the guys would have preferred more of the opposite sex. It's not necessary by any means to have a date.

TONIGHT, TONIGHT is the on campus showing of FRITZ THE CAT. Jon, Jon, and well, the list goes on and on, assure us that it's well worth the time. And this weekend's movies are the last two opportunities to buy season tickets to the Fine Arts Committee's Popular Film Series. Season tickets are $2 for students and $5 faculty and general admission. There are 25 more movies left, so for eight cents a show, students can't go wrong. SUPERFLY is scheduled for Saturday night. Movies roll at 8 p.m. in Sarah Graham Kenan Memorial Auditorium.

HAD A NICE CHAT last week with Carolyn Gruelle, Exec. Director of Crisis Line, a 24-hour friend. Students who would really like to be of service should call Crisis Line or the Drug Abuse Center to get information on the training sessions which will start Sept. 13. Volunteers must be at least 18 years of age and must work only 8 hours monthly. Dr. Andy Jackson and Dr. Jim Slazek of UNC-W are actively participating in the 8-week training session.

seahawk

published weekly on Fridays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the Monday before Friday publication.

our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the UNC-W campus. phone 791-8055.

staff:
editor: kathi beall
associate editor: cummins a. mebane
advertising director: barry asbury photographer: jeannie lovelace
greek lines editor: rocky lane moore

supportive staff: sharon davis, beth hicks
susan lewis, j.k. muleman, anne nesbit, darlene pearall
adviser: ms. linda moore
special assistance: debbi bowen
mast head design: bert beall

There's no getting blood out of
a turnip.

If the bills keep coming in, but there's not much left to go out, we'd like to help. We're coming soon to Oriole Drive and College Road, and we hope you'll visit. For a home loan, car loan, general all-around loan or a student loan. Watch for our opening.

O First Union National
Opening soon.

Sat. Sept 8, 1973

POVERTY ENDED FOR 'SUPER FLY' STAR

8:00 p.m. Kenan Auditorium

Ron O'Neal used to stand on a painter's scaffold 10 hours a day, for $12 a day when he was lucky enough to get work, and tell himself "they are going to pay for this." By "they", he meant the white world in general which had kept him in a frustrating cycle of endless poverty. Some of that fiery resolution of years ago now flashes through his performance in "Super Fly," a drama about black ghetto life which opens next ... at the ... Theatre.

But O'Neal has mellowed. Working as a housepainter enabled him to maintain himself while studying acting, singing and dancing at a remarkable inter-racial theatrical group in Cleveland called "Karamu," which means "place of enjoyment" in Swahili. There he learned to give authentically personal performances in "white" roles, and discovered there was no essential difference in the way human beings react to various situations.

In New York, O'Neal made his acting breakthrough in Joseph Papp's production of "No Place to Be Somebody." The play won a Pulitzer Prize in 1971, and O'Neal carried off four of the biggest acting awards in town. In "Super Fly," he plays a big-time dope dealer who longs to put his entire capital into 30 keys of cocaine, parlay the investment into a million dollars, and escape the ghetto for good.

The brilliant soundtrack for "Super Fly" was written and performed by Curtis Mayfield, something of a giant in the world of soul music. His score (over a million albums have been sold) sets up a critical commentary on the dealer's supposed glamour and excitement, particularly in the two numbers "Pusherman" and "Freddie's Dead." The Sig Shore Production was directed by Gordon Parks, Jr., from a screenplay by Phillip Fenty. Starring with O'Neal are Carl Lee, Julius W. Harris, Sheila Frazier and Charles McGregor.

X-RATED CARTOON

FRIDAY,
SEPT 7

With nudity, four-letter words and brilliant humor, "Fritz the Cat" represents a great stride forward in animation maturity, by far the most drastic advance since "Snow White" introduced the world's first full-length animated feature in 1938.

A far cry from Mickey Mouse and Bambi, the cartoon's feline hero will come as a familiar figure to many up-to-date comic strip readers. His encounters with drugs, cops, Hells Angels, group sex and a Harlem riot are enough to start Walt Disney whirling in his grave. Supporting Fritz are other cartoon animals playing key roles as teeny-boppers, hard hats, hippies, Black Panthers and revolutionaries in a pointedly liberal satire aimed at today's sophisticated audiences.

The voice of Fritz is that of Skip Hinant, the same actor who voiced the Snoopy role in "A Boy Named Charlie Brown." In color, "Fritz the Cat" was produced by Steve Krantz and directed by Ralph Bakshi, who also wrote the screenplay.

8 p.m.
KENAN
AUD

Back To School Specials!

student bargain pack 8 ballpoint pens for only $.99¢	Bic Banana 3 for only $.59¢
Get 2 Pens FREE only $.49¢ 87¢ value	Bic Clic only $.89¢ $1.23 Value two ball pens plus extra refill

Now at the

University Bookstore

Sav-A-Lot

SUPER DISCOUNT STORE

1053 S. College Road
A.M. 8 P.M. 6 Days

SCOPE MOUTHWASH

18 oz. bottle 95¢
Mfg. suggested retail 1.59

SPECIAL THIS WEEK

CIGARETTES 2

35 CIGARETTES
100's $2.45

BLAKE'S T.V. & APPLIANCE

251 South Kerr Ave.

8 track tapes
3000 in stock!!!
$3.88

It's on tape, We've got it.

COMPONENT STEREOs, SPEAKERS,
TAPE DECKS, CAR STEREOs

791-1078

Left to right - Ron Inverse, Frosh. - "UNC-W is closer to my home." Ron Harmon, Frosh. - "I think this school is a nice place. I really like the biology program." Al Burnette, Soph. - "I really like the campus, especially the pine trees."

Bass®

SADDLES

The Saddle is Back!

And better than ever, with the Bass touch of gen'us! Bumpy toes...clunky soles and heels...the whole modern scene. Be with it in Bass saddles!

Wellington Lee SHOES

"Fit a Must...Service a Pleasure"

MARKET PLAZA SHOPPING CENTER
799-2671

"FOR THOSE WHO LIKE FINE DINING"

BALLARDS RESTAURANT

QUIET FAMILY ATMOSPHERE
• STEAK • SEAFOOD • BARBQ CHICKEN

3917 Market Street
(U.S. 17 North)

Wilmington's Family Restaurant

Rex Ballard
Crystal Meares
763-4811

WANTED:
Get into community action. Volunteer for OPEN HOUSE or help work on a street paper. For information, call 762-5597.

CONTENTS 12 FL. OZ.

SCHLITZ

The Beer that made Milwaukee Famous

SIX 12 FL. OZ. BOTTLES

You only live once. So look for the gusto in life. Even in the beer you drink. Schlitz has it. Why settle for less?

When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

you choose UNC-W?

Left to right - Barbara English, Soph. - "I've lived here all my life and I wanted to go to school close to home. The campus is really pretty also." Brenda Moss, Fresh. - "The size of the school is really good. I like being close to the beach, and the weather down here." (photos by cummins a. mebane)

Discussions for older students, newlyweds or couples begin soon

Two new outlets of communication are being offered through the auspices of the UNC-W Counseling and Testing service.

The first group, which will meet Tuesday, Sept. 11 and Thursday, Sept. 13, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in room 112 of the business building, is designed for those returning to school or older students enrolled in college for the first time, and for those who want to talk about what it is like to be a bit older than most college kids.

During the two meetings, participants will discuss various aspects of getting into the routine of college such as: Why am I here? What's different about today's college student? and the generation gap and value changes.

With Dr. Jim Slager in charge, the focus will be on discussion and sharing between participants.

Recently married or soon-to-be-wed couples may find five Wednesday evening sessions led by Rev. Milton Boone and Dr. Slager of very great interest. Focus for these sessions will be on communication skills and the exchange of value differences and adjustment.

The meetings will be held upstairs in the Pub from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays, Sept. 12 through Oct. 10. Those interested in attending should report at the time of the first meeting.

The Brothers of Alpha Phi Omega

National Service Fraternity invite All Male Students to Attend an Open Rush meeting either Sept 10 or 11 Upstairs in the Pub time: 7:30 All Men Interested in doing Service for the Campus & Community should attend. Refreshments will be served announces meet

English Club

The English Club was organized to afford an opportunity for fellowship and to exchange ideas pertaining to literature among all interested students. Mrs. Virginia Reagan, president, especially urges all freshmen to attend the first meeting on Monday, September 10 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 302, Kenan Hall. Plans for the year will be discussed at this time. Advisors are Dr. Joanne Corbett and Dr. James Collier and other officers are Goldie Adams, vice-president and Brenda Knowles, secretary-treasurer.

Yes

Wachovia

Shoney's

"HOME OF THE BIG BOY"

4010 Market Street

Complete selection on our menu

open

7 a.m. - 12 p.m. Monday - Thursday

7 a.m. - 2 a.m. Friday & Saturday

Try Our Strawberry Pie

ALL DELUXE
MANOR

DOWNTOWN
762-2935

1st RUN

NOW SHOWING

SHE IS FRANK... EXCITING...
IMMORAL... SHE IS WOMAN!

KPK FILMS INC. Present

Josefine M.

YOU WON'T FIND HER IN THE YELLOW PAGES

in COLOR

Distributed by LBJ FILM Distributors Inc.

For Adults!

Shows at

2:00-3:45-5:30-
7:15-9:00

Colony

762-5327
DOWNTOWN • 121 MARKET ST.

"The Friends of Eddie Coyle"

Starring
Robert Mitchum Peter Boyle

Bailey

762-7393
DOWNTOWN • 18 N. FRONT ST.

The ultimate
in Martial Arts
adventure!

BRUCE LEE

R

HELD OVER! 3rd Week

When was the last time you stood up and applauded a movie?

WALKING TALL

This Years BILLY JACK

at 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30 COLOR

OLEANDER
Cinema 1&2

ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

NOW SHOWING

769-3950

OLEANDER DRIVE

"DAZZLING! Once you see it, you'll never again picture
'Romeo & Juliet' quite the way you did before!" -LIFE

PARAMOUNT PICTURES presents

A UNIT FILM

The

FRANCO ZEFFIRELLI

Production of

ROMEO
& JULIET

No ordinary love story...

Rated PG

TECHNICOLOR / A PARAMOUNT PICTURE Shows 2:00-4:30-7:00-9:30

The Directors Company presents

RYAN O'NEAL

HELD OVER! 11th Week

Shows 2-4-6-8-10

PETER BOGDANOVICH PRODUCTION

"PAPER MOON"

PG

LONG LEAF
Cinema 1&2

NOW SHOWING

LONG LEAF MALL-SHIPYARD BLVD

Blume in Love

Starring GEORGE SEGAL
KRIS KRISTOFFERSON

SHOWS

1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

"There's no such thing as a perfect marriage."

ALL SEATS $1.00 TIL 2:30 EXCEPT SUNDAY

Sign (indicated by arrow) states "NO PARKING - TOW AWAY ZONE." Obviously, not many UNC-W students are capable of reading.

Whose Problem is parking?

Whose problem is parking? With the first two weeks of classes, more time has been devoted to complaining about the problems of UNC-W parking than about rising prices or homework or anything else.

While a member of the SEAHAWK staff was photographing cars parked illegally behind the Pub Monday, one of the students illegally parked came from the building. "Hey, wait a minute," he called, "If you're gonna take pictures of my car at least get me on it." Then he became sober and considered the position of his car. "Are you taking pictures so the cops will give me a ticket?"

editor. The reason for these privileged few to have parking authorization here? Perhaps the amount of hours spent working in the Pub. At any rate, those are the rules.

Why is parking on the grass such a sin? Several reasons. Parking on the grass, especially during the rain, not only rips up the grass, but is also responsible for the gradual breakdown of the pavement in the heavy traffic areas on the road behind the Pub which leads to the gym parking lot. Big deal?

Maybe not right now, but we bet when they repair that road rather than paving parking lots closer to classes than the south forty, it will seem a little bit bigger.

"Where does the $10 parking fee go? What are they doing with that money? Why don't they pave the parking lot up at the dorm where most of the kids park? Why don't you pick on the guys who run things instead of the students?"

The first three questions asked by the student are valid questions that we hope we can get answered for you. As for picking on the guys "that run things", this time "They" are right.

How about walking a few extra steps and letting the grass grow?

Actually, no. But it wouldn't have been a bad idea. On a rainy day, we could understand the reluctance of students to expose themselves to the elements, especially since the grassy area behind the Pub is so ideal. But Monday when the photos were taken, it was a perfectly nice day.

Signs at the entrance of the 5 - unit parking area behind the building clearly state "NO PARKING - TOW AWAY ZONE." It is extremely tempting to assume that students who ignore the signs cannot read. But let's be realistic.

The real problem is a cross between laziness, and not understanding the reasons for the restrictions.

The parking lot behind the Pub is authorized for the use of five people: the Director of Student Activities, the manager of the Bookstore, the President of the Student Body, the Fledgling editor, and the Seahawk

VILLAGE INN
WHERE PIZZA IS ALWAYS
IN GOOD TASTE!

Enjoy gourmet pizza, baked by perfectionists, served in the international atmosphere of a Village Inn Pizza Parlor.

A wide variety in three different sizes.

OVERWORKED?

4209 Oleander

PARTY DELIGHTS
Wholesale Party Supplies
Marquette University Center

Crisis Line
763-3695

DISCOVER AMERICA
IT'S SOME BACKYARD

Mills
Keopake
JEWELERS

26 N. Front St. 763 4590
Hanover Center 762 0736
Long Leaf Mall 790 5510

Have you been to Tuesday's Restaurant?

4106 Oleander Drive

LIVE MUSIC
WED. NIGHTS

FREE FLICKS
EVERY NIGHT

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

3617 Market Street

Where pizza is always
in good taste

Students illegally park in the lot and on the grass behind the Pub, apparently oblivious to the fact that there are plenty of LEGAL spaces just yards away in the Hoggard-gym parking lot.

Baptist Student Union

Baptist Student Union invites All Students of UNC-W

To an Open Fellowship Meeting

Sept 10, 1973

Association Office Across Street from UNC-W

7-9pm

Come & Fellowship !!

Refreshments will be served

PUB HOURS

MON-THURS 8 am -10pm

FRI 8-midnight

SAT 2-midnight

SUN 2-10pm

WHERE YOU ALWAYS BUY THE BEST FOR LESS

GIBSON'S

DISCOUNT CENTER

OPEN
9 am to 9pm
Monday - Saturday
68 South Kerr Ave.

HAWK'S NEST

5814 Oleander Drive

799-5880

Favorite Beverages

Good Food Color TV
Game Room

We now have a salad bar.

open 3 p.m. until

Live Bands
Wed., Fri., and Sat. Nights

ANNIE GREEN SPRINGS

Wine

BERRY FROST

COUNTRY CHERRY

distributed by Homer Baker Co.
Wilmington, N.C.

Yes

Wachovia

UNC-W
Class Rings

GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler
and Silversmiths

212 North Front Street

The Tomfoolery

Weekly SPECIAL Dinners
Tuesday

Lasagna $1.80

Wednesday

Chopped Sirloin Steak $1.80

Thursday

Spaghetti $1.50

6326 Market St. Open at 6 P.M.
Wilmington, N. C. Phone 791-2935

Students Sought for committees

by bill renn

The standing committees of the S.G.A. are actively seeking new membership. These committees are the dance committee, the concert committee, the fine arts committee, the board of elections, and the video tape committee. Their primary function, with the exception of the board of elections, is to provide social activities for the students.

Remember, committees are only groups of students working together, communicating, exchanging ideas and thoughts. The meetings are usually informal, often casual but always worthwhile. Whether it's the dance committee trying to decide who to have for the next dance or the library committee meeting to discuss policy decisions, the point is that committees offer opportunities for individuals to take part, speak up, and become involved. This is an excellent opportunity for all those "grippers" to do something about the situations that exist around them.

The following committees need students to complete their memberships. The

President of the S.G.A. appoints students to serve on these committees established by the Chancellor and consisting of faculty members also.

ATHLETIC COMM.

CALENDAR COMM.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT
OPPORTUNITY COMM.FINE ARTS LECTURE
COMM.

LIBRARY COMM.

EMERGENCY CONSULTA-
TIVE PANEL

HEARIN'S PANEL

INVESTIGATING COMM.

CURRICULUM COMM.

To become involved with any of these committees or perhaps the new ones you may have in mind, please fill out a STUDENT PERSONNEL AND INTEREST SHEET. These are available in the Pub, either from Ms. Moore or on the bulletin boards there, or in this week's SEAHAWK. Fill out the sheets and return them to the wooden boxes in the Pub or beside the S.G.A. office door.

STUDENT PERSONNEL AND INTEREST SHEET

NAME:.....

ADDRESS:.....

PHONE:.....

In what way would you like to become involved in Student Government activities?

What S.G.A. committees would you like to serve on?

What ideas do you have for new committees on campus?

Would you be willing to work with the S.G.A. to develop these?

What are your personal interests (both social and academic)?

What is your current opinion of the S.G.A.?

What suggestions do you have?

TUES.

DEADLINE IS 5:00pm THUR BEFORE TUE. PUBLICATION

SEAHAWK WILL BE PUBLISHED ON

BEGINNING TUE. SEPT. 11

TODAY IS THE FIRST DAY OF THE REST OF YOUR LIFE.

★ Professional Service At A Price You Can Afford

kar-kare Service Center

4207 Oleander Drive

Complete Parts & Accessories

Professional Trained Personnel

★ LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT

"We do it right...or we do it over."

kar-kare

4207 Oleander Drive

799-2770

GILBERT PARRISH
Owner

WAYNE SHANNON
Manager

B.F. Goodrich

TIRES
Super-Turf Retread

- Wheel Alignment
- Complete Front End Repairs
- Shock Absorbers
- Diagnostic Tune-Ups
- Brake Service
- Batteries

BUFFALO'S

DISCOUNT BEVERAGES

COMPLETE GROCERY LINE

OVER 400 WINES From 11 Countries

OVER 50 BEERS From 15 Countries

5124 Oleander Drive

Located Across From The Bowling Center
Next To The Fik's Club - Call 799-2000

OPEN 7 to 1 except Fri. & Sat. - till 2:00 A.M.

8-Track
Tapes 1.99

Carton Cigarettes
2.38 2.48
Reg 100's

Stop By and See
Roger - Buffalo
You'll Be Glad You Did.

Holsum

THRIFT STORE

1055 S. College Road

(next to Sav-A-Lot)

BELOW RETAIL PRICES

ON

Breads, Cakes, Rolls, Donuts

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

seahawk

vol. xvi, number 3

september 11, 1973

eight pages

SPECIAL APATHY EDITION

Students Sought for committees

by bill renn

The standing committees of the S.G.A. are actively seeking new membership. These committees are the dance committee, the concert committee, the fine arts committee, the board of elections, and the video tape committee. Their primary function, with the exception of the board of elections, is to provide social activities for the students.

Remember, committees are only groups of students working together, communicating, exchanging ideas and thoughts. The meetings are usually informal, often casual but always worthwhile. Whether it's the dance committee trying to decide who to have for the next dance or the library committee meeting to discuss policy decisions; the point is that committees offer opportunities for individuals to take part, speak up, and become involved. This is an excellent opportunity for all those "grippers" to do something about the situations that exist around them.

The following committees need students to complete their memberships. The

President of the S.G.A. appoints students to serve on these committees established by the Chancellor and consisting of faculty members also.

ATHLETIC COMM.
CALENDAR COMM.
EQUAL EMPLOYMENT
OPPORTUNITY COMM.
FINE ARTS LECTURE
COMM.
LIBRARY COMM.
EMERGENCY CONSULTA-
TIVE PANEL
HEARINGS PANEL
INVESTIGATING COMM.
CURRICULUM COMM.

To become involved with any of these committees or perhaps the new ones you may have in mind, please fill out a STUDENT PERSONNEL AND INTEREST SHEET. These are available in the Pub, either from Ms. Moore or on the bulletin boards there, or in this week's SEAHAWK. Fill out the sheets and return them to the wooden boxes in the Pub or beside the S.G.A. office door.

STUDENT PERSONNEL AND INTEREST SHEET

NAME:

ADDRESS:

PHONE:

In what way would you like to become involved in Student Government activities?

What S.G.A. committees would you like to serve on?

What ideas do you have for new committees on campus?

Would you be willing to work with the S.G.A. to develop these?

What are your personal interests (both social and academic)?

What is your current opinion of the S.G.A.?

What suggestions do you have?

BLAKE'S T.V. & APPLIANCE

251 South Kerr Ave.

8 track tapes

3000 in stock!!!

$3.88

If it's on tape, We've got it.

COMPONENT STEREO, SPEAKERS,

TAPE DECKS, CAR STEREO

791-1078

BUFFALO'S
DISCOUNT BEVERAGES

OVER 400 WINES from 11 Countries
COMPLETE GROCERY LINE Less Than Store Prices
OVER 50 BEERS from 13 Countries

5124 Oleander Drive
Located Across From The Bowling Center Next To The EIKS Club-Call 799-2000
OPEN 7 to 1 except Fri. & Sat.-til 2:00 A.M.

8-Track
Tapes 1.99

Carton Cigarettes
2.38 2.48
Reg 100's

Stop By and See
Roger- Buffalo
You'll Be Glad You Did.

Atlantis magazine staff announces plans for poetry, prose contests

ATLANTIS was discovered by a small but enthusiastic group Sept. 6 in the upstairs lounge of the Student Union. Editors for this year's magazine were introduced. They are Leigh Eaton, Editor; Christy Dunn, Associate Editor; Michael Church, Poetry Editor; Tony Moran, Prose Editor; Howard Tally, Promotional Manager. Definite plans for a combined Prose and Poetry contest were discussed and the deadline was set for October 1. First Prize for each will be $25; second prize $15; third prize $10. Entries may be left in the ATLANTIS office or the English Department. Everyone is encouraged to submit material.

This contest is being held early in the semester so that the art staff will have plenty of time to illustrate the material with original sketches and photography. Anyone interested in helping in this area will please contact Mike Gols of the UNC-W Art Department or the ATLANTIS Editor.

Also discussed Wednesday were plans for a night of free entertainment (skits, improvisational drama, music, etc.) and beer, sponsored by the Atlantis. If you are interested in seeing something like this done, please come by the office and offer your suggestions. A tentative date for this is the middle of October.

There will be a member of the staff in the office every day, so please come by and share some inspiration. "We welcome all suggestions and encourage everyone to contribute to their magazine in some way," stated Leigh.

Existence is excuse for spreading

Apathy is like a parasite, it grows and develops getting stronger and growing faster on its own strength, and at a cost to everyone around it. It provides in its existence an excuse for its continued spread. Students too readily look to the apathetic surroundings that they have created and find in these an excuse for maintaining their apathetic outlook. The cause of this apathy is indeterminable. The reason for its continued growth, however, lies with the faculty, for its own apathetic point of view concerning the campus as a whole; with the administration, for its lack of cooperation and understanding; and with the student body, for its failure to realize its full potential and its unwillingness to take advantage of all the opportunities afforded it. We are all responsible for the apathy on this campus, and we all must try to stop its spread.

As students on this campus, we are afforded certain rights and are given opportunities, yet few ever take advantage of these opportunities. Most students feel a certain uneasiness about trying new things and taking on new responsibilities. They therefore decide to shy away from these areas of student life, receding into a small cubicle of private existence, never realizing their full potential. Don't let this happen to you!

(cont. on p. 8)

seahawk

published weekly on fridays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington; deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the monday before friday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus, phone 791-8055.

staff:
editor: kathi beall
associate editor: cummins a. mebane
advertising director: barry asbury photographer: jeannie loveface
Greek lines editor: rocky lane moore

supportive staff: sharon davis, beth hicks
susan lewis, j.k. mubleman,
anne nesbit, darlene pearall
adviser: ms. linda moore
special assistance: debbi bowen
mast head design: bert beall

Crisis Line training to begin September 13

Thursday, September 13, will mark the beginning of six weeks of training for new Crisis Line volunteers. Saint Andrews Presbyterian Church is the site of the training, which will begin Thursdays at 7:30 p.m.

There will be one Saturday workshop.

"This (Crisis Line) is a really fantastic opportunity for college students to get involved in the community and practice what they preach," states Mrs. Carolyn Gruelle, executive director of Crisis Line.

Volunteers, who must meet the 18 year age requirement, are asked only to work 8 hours monthly - - and they can pick the time they'd like to work.

UNC-W's own Drs. Andy Jackson and Jim Slager are playing an active part in the training sessions. According to Mrs. Gruelle, the training in non-directive counseling is fascinating. It centers on the arts of listening, enabling volunteers to better communicate, and in becoming more empathetic.

The bulk of the training is handled in small group sessions so each trainee can play a very active part.

Average calls to Crisis Line, Mrs. Gruelle states, increase each month. For '73 the monthly average is running 414 calls.

If interested, students should call Crisis Line or the Drug Abuse Committee.

Crisis Line

763-3695

"FOR THOSE WHO LIKE FINE DINING"

BALLARDS RESTAURANT

QUIET FAMILY ATMOSPHERE
• STEAK • SEAFOOD • BARBQ CHICKEN

3917 Market Street
(U.S. 17 North)

Wilmington's Family Restaurant

Rex Ballard
Crystal Meares

763-4811

Holsum

THRIFT STORE

1055 S. College Road

(next to Sav-A-Lot)

BELOW RETAIL PRICES
ON

Breads, Cakes, Rolls, Donuts

Back To School Specials!

student bargain pack
8 ballpoint pens for only $ 99¢

Bic
Banana
$ 3 for only 59¢

Get 2
Pens
FREE
only 87¢
$ 49¢ value

Bic
Clic
only $ 89¢ $1.23 Value
two ball
pens plus extra refill

Now at the

University Bookstore

How pleasant it is to have money,
heigh-ho!
How pleasant it is
to have money.

The surest way to have money is to save money. And of course if you save money, you'll have even more money. Thanks to interest. We're coming soon to Oriole Drive and College Road and we hope you'll come in and talk about saving with us. After years of helping people save, we've learned how to make it rather pleasant.

First Union National
Watch for our opening.

University Theatre trains students

The University Theatre is the producing unit of the Department of Drama and Speech. Its primary functions in the developing University atmosphere is to train students to utilize their abilities to the fullest of their potential in the production of theatre and to provide cultural experiences for the student body, the faculty, and the surrounding community.

This basic dual function is supported by a full season of plays encompassing all important genres of dramatic literature. The plays are open for all students and community participation but primary consideration is given to university students. Five major productions are planned for the academic year with the possibility of student production work supported as the demand arises.

The University Theatre, through faculty participation, is affiliated with The Carolina Dramatic Association, The North Carolina Theatre Association, The Southeastern Theatre Association, and The American Theatre Association.

The Theatre will present as major productions in the academic year 1973-74 the following plays:

All our plays exist for our students. The productions are open for any student to participate in any area. We want to welcome and encourage all new students to work with the University Theatre as either a participant or an audience.

The Knight of the Burning Pestle
Leonce and Lena
The Caretaker
"Studio 74"

October 12-15
November 30-December 3
February 15-18
To Be Announced

I DON'T KNOW WHETHER I CARE OR NOT

"THE NIFTIEST
CHASE SEQUENCE
SINCE SILENT FILMS!"

— Paul D. Zimmerman
Newsweek

THE FRENCH CONNECTION

IN THE GREAT TRADITION OF AMERICAN THRILLERS.

20th Century-Fox COLOR BY DE LUXE®

September 17, 1973
8 p.m. Kenan Auditorium

Second Best Ain't Bad

Pure water is the best gift that man to man can bring.

But who am I that I should have the best of anything?

Let prices reveal at the pump, let peers with ponds make free.

Whiskey or wine or even beer is good enough for me.

Sir Compton Mackenzie

"Our Beverage Prices

Are Beautiful"

WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art Inc.

HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Pridgen
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

ANNIE GREEN SPRINGS

Wine

BERRY FROST

COUNTRY CHERRY

distributed by Homer Baker Co.
Wilmington, N.C.

Yes

Wachovia

WHERE YOU ALWAYS BUY THE BEST FOR LESS GIBSON'S
DISCOUNT CENTER

OPEN

9 am to 9 pm

Monday - Saturday

68 South Kerr Ave.

Sav-A-Lot

SUPER DISCOUNT STORE

1053 S. College Road
9 A.M. - 8 P.M. 6 Days

Disposable Lighter

$1.09 each
mfg. sug. price $1.49

Everyday Low Price

CIGARETTES 239 CTN.

100's $2.49

plus tax

OPEN 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

FOURTEEN CORNERS
4405
wrightsville ave.

Bottoms Tops
Jewelry Belts
Incense

Tapes
Shampoos, and Lotions Albums
Topsiders
Waterbeds

Discussions for older students; couples to begin

WE DON'T CARE

Two new outlets of communication are being offered through the auspices of the UNC-W Counseling and Testing service.

The first group, which will meet Tuesday, Sept. 11 and Thursday, Sept. 13, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in room 112 of the business building, is designed for those returning to school or older students enrolled in college for the first time, and for those who want to talk about what it is like to be a bit older than most college kids.

During the two meetings, participants will discuss various aspects of getting into the routine of college such as: Why am I here? What's different about today's college student? and the generation gap and value changes.

With Dr. Jim Slager in charge, the focus will be on discussion and sharing between participants.

Recently married or soon-to-be-wed couples may find five Wednesday evening sessions led by Rev. Milton Boone and Dr. Slager of very great interest. Focus for these sessions will be on communication skills and the exchange of value differences and adjustment.

The meetings will be held upstairs in the Pub from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays, Sept. 12 through Oct. 10. Those interested in attending should report at the time of the first meeting.

Fine Arts Committee provides culture, entertainment

The Fine Arts Committee at UNC-W has the responsibility of providing both cultural and entertaining events. The Fine Arts Committee was first introduced to the campus of Wilmington College in 1968 with a budget of $500. With this budget the committee was able to begin a cultural film series and bring in to the campus one, perhaps mediocre, lecturer. Today the committee has a budget of $9,800 and is second only to the Yearbook in senate allocations. This year, as for the past two years, the Fine Arts Committee will be sponsoring the N.C. Symphony for one concert on campus in the Fall Semester. In speaking of lecturers this year's program has four completely different performances in store—for the students and residents in and around Wilmington.

Even though the Fine Arts Committee no longer has its cultural film series it now has a POPULAR FILM SERIES which began on a trial basis in the student services building (PUB) in the spring of 1971. Due to the tremendous success of this series it has now been moved to Kenan Memorial Auditorium where students enjoyed such movies as Patton, Catch 22, Bullitt, Love Story, Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, and many more fine full length movies. This year we are looking forward to our best series since its beginning. The schedule for this year is:

October 5-Pat Paulsen

Looks at the Seventies

October 18-Jack Thomas 'The Life and Times of Mark Twain'

March 25-John Lehti

'The Life of a Modern Cartoonist'

April 16-RSVP-The Cole Porters

SEPTEMBER

7 Fritz the Cat

8 Superfly

17 The French Connection

25 Woodstock

OCTOBER

1 Summer of 42

15 Superman

30 Gone With the Wind

NOVEMBER

8 Ryan's Daughter

12 Yellow Submarine

19 Ben

DECEMBER

3 2001 A Space Odyssey

10 Snoopy Come Home

JANUARY

14 Whats Up Doc?

22 Lady Sings the Blues

- 12 Doctor Zhivago
26 Where Does it Hurt?
MARCH
12 Soldier Blue
18 Poseidon Adventure
26 Slough House T-16
APRIL
1 The Relvers
9 Skyjacked
22 The Getaway
30 Man Called Horse

Admission to the movies is by season ticket or UNC-W Students $50. General admission $1.00 at the door. Season tickets may be purchased for $2.00 (limit of 2 per student) and is good for admission to all 26 movies. This is an average of less than $.08 per movie. Season tickets may be purchased from the box office in Kenan Auditorium or at any of the movies.

In order to present such a large series this year the Fine Arts Committee will need a large staff. Any student wishing to serve on this committee should contact Raleigh Todd, Chairman of Fine Arts Committee, Ph 763-8815 or leave name and address with Doug Swink, Advisor to the Fine Arts Committee, in his office in Kenan Auditorium. Ushers, ticket takers, projectionist, and people to handle publicity are needed by the committee.

- 29 Skin Game
FEBRUARY
4 Dirty Harry

Yes

Wachovia

★ Professional Service At A Price You Can Afford

kar-kare Service Center

4207 Oleander Drive

Complete Parts & Accessories

Professional Trained Personnel

★ LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT

"We do it right...or we do it over."

kar-kare

4207 Oleander Drive

799-2770

GILBERT PARRISH
Owner

WAYNE SHANNON
Manager

BFGoodrich

TIRES

Super-Tuf Retroad

- Wheel Alignment
- Complete Front End Repairs
- Shock Absorbers
- Diagnostic Tune-Ups
- Brake Service
- Batteries

UNC-W
Class Rings

GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler
and Silversmiths

212 North Front Street

© 1971 Jos. Schlitz Brewing Co., Milwaukee and other great cities.

You only live once. So look for the gusto in life.
Even in the beer you drink. Schlitz has it.
Why settle for less?

When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

FALL '73 SCHEDULE

August 21, Tuesday
August 22, Wednesday
August 23-24, Thursday-Friday
August 24, Friday

August 27, Monday
August 29, Wednesday

September 3, Monday
November 20, Tuesday
November 26, Monday
December 11, Tuesday
December 12, Wednesday
December 13-14, Thursday-Friday
December 17-21, Monday-Friday
December 21, Friday

Dormitory opens.
Orientation (for new students not attending June Orientation)
Orientation and registration.
Late registration fee of $7.50 charged for all registering after this date.
Classes begin.
Last day for registering; last day to add a class or to drop a class without a grade.
Labor Day holiday.
Thanksgiving vacation begins 10:30 p.m.
Thanksgiving vacation ends 8:30 a.m.
Last day of classes.
Reading day.
Final examinations.

Fall semester ends.

Mills Keepsake JEWELERS
28 N. Front St. - 763 4590
Hanover Center - 762 0736
Long Leaf Mall - 799 5510

C'mon students! Get involved and support your local college. Student apathy is certainly something we can do without.

The foundation of a college is the student body. They build it and make it what it is. The students are the ones who can better their school, and without their support, a cloogee can go downhill.

Not only do clubs and organizations need your support, but also the athletic teams. Student support at games can increase the team's spirit. It's unbelievable how the athletes' playing changes for the better after seeing their fans cheer them on. Each of us strives to do his best knowing someone supports him. The same principle works when athletes see the bleachers filled.

Come out and take an interest in school this year! Let's try to make this the best year in the history of UNC-W.

--sharon davis

I DON'T CARE

Shoney's
"HOME OF THE BIG BOY"
4010 Market Street

Complete selection on our menu
open
7 a.m. - 12 p.m. Monday - Thursday
7 a.m. - 2 a.m. Friday & Saturday

Try Our Strawberry Pie

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

★ IN PERSON ★

PAT PAULSEN looks at the 70's

CONCERT

UNC-W's KENAN AUDITORIUM
FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5
8 p.m.
GENERAL ADMISSION $2.50
STUDENTS $1 (Limit 1 per ID)
TICKETS & RESERVATIONS MAY
BE MADE AT THE AUDITORIUM
(2-5p.m.) 791-9695.
TICKETS GO ON SALE TO
GENERAL PUBLIC NEXT WEEK

HAWK'S NEST

5814 Oleander Drive

799-6880

Favorite Beverages

Good Food Color TV
Game Room

We now have a salad bar.

open 3 p.m. until

Live Bands
Wed., Fri., and Sat. Nights

THERE'S A
VILLAGE INN
NEAR YOU

No matter where you live,
there's a Village Inn nearby
to custom-bake a delicious pizza to your order.

Call ahead and have your pizza ready when you arrive.

Live

Music

Wednesday Night

Free Flicks

Every Night

3617 Market Street

Where pizza is always
in good taste

Faces of opinion

What do you think about UNC-W apathy?

How can we solve the apathy problem?

L'Tanya Webb, Frosh. - "The situation is really pathetic. We need more social activities."

Bill McCarty, Soph. - "I think the situation is fairly understandable for a small school. We need to establish a University attitude."

Ed Weddington, Sr. - "Apathy has been here for a long time. It's a definite problem that has to have a solution."

Jo Ann Johnson, Soph. - "I think the size of the school is a factor. We need faculty and student participation."

Reggie Newkirk, Frosh. - No opinion.

Jobs available thru Parker's office

by cummins a. mebane

Around this time of the year, many students find themselves looking for work of some type. UNC-W has in recent years tried to provide work for students as well as help them find jobs in and around Wilmington.

Dean Ralph Parker, who is head of the Placement Office, deals in this type of service. The two main functions of the placement office are to find jobs for graduates, and to help students find part-time work. A file is kept on job openings, including descriptions, salaries, and other pertinent information on available jobs.

For students interested in part-time work during school, there is a list of positions posted in the main hall of the administration building (across from the telephone operator and adjacent to the door to the chancellor's office.) The list, compiled from employers who have offered to hire college students, describes the nature of job, salary, hours, etc. An interested student may contact the employer and arrange an interview. If a student has a particular area of interest, he or she may contact Dean Parker, who will keep a lookout for an opening along the lines of the interest.

Many proposed changes are currently being enacted by the placement center. Some of these include contacting area businesses, expanding from a placement to a complete career planning center, and providing data on trends and the job market.

Other new innovations include a two-way survey between employers and students, a program for summer employment, a proposed program to bring in experts and business representatives and to use campus publications and bulletin boards to make students aware of opportunities.

One proposed change that seems to be a dire need is an interview room which will provide an atmosphere conducive for interviews, company representatives, and job study lectures.

In summary, a student interested in part-time work or planning his career after college can utilize the services provided by the university in the form of job listing, placement center, and files of information.

In an upcoming issue, other work possibilities will be explored with particular focus on on-campus jobs.

Stay uninvolved

One type of student at UNC-W is apathetic, unaffected, uncaring and uninvolved. He seems unwarded for deeds he has never done and never congratulated for words he has never spoken. On the average he tends to be slightly academic but wary of any additional responsibilities outside of friends, classroom, library, and cafeteria. One may find him or her waxing a surfboard, preparing for an occasional ride on an impossible wave, or smoking the demon weed in a ditch behind the school.

Not important for their meager contributions, we assay their worth to the community as slightly above that of one more mouth to feed in a world already overpopulated with dimenchanted millions. Their temporary escape from responsibility may prove fulfilling to them, but may in the final analysis cause necessary institutions to falter. They do so much to be done, with so little. They laugh at reality as if it is a poor joke, and band together in cliques that help rationalize their own worth.

Approached by every temptation, they succumb to every one. Unwilling and unable to resist, they continue. Free to do nothing, they do nothing. While others stand to be counted, you can't count on them. They mock other's accomplishments when they have so few of their own. What meaning is there in their reason? What good is it to the rest of us?

What solution is the answer? Perhaps the shock of truth, the whims of nature, or the hard cruel facts of life. Even so, no answer will alter the fact that they are needed. Their unwillingness to become involved must be challenged.

With an energy crisis continuing, the environment steadily losing ground, with poor housing, rising prices, with a multitude of problems facing the people of the world, with our own school facing some of these and other problems, why not just stay uninvolved?

--rocky lane moore

CLASSIFIEDS

Early Christmas present for the asking. 4 cuddly kittens; 2 female calico, 2 male orange-silv weeks old. Call 791-6827.

Stereo Components! Most Major Brands! 20 - 50% Off! All Fully Guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

Needed: Girls to work as waitresses at Paul's Place. Looks a must. Contact Boogie after 7:30 any night but Monday.

Rooms for three guys in private home (Castle Hayne) with kitchen privileges. Call 675-0578 after 6 p.m.

WORKSHOP FOR LEADERS

FRIDAY 7-10 p.m.
SATURDAY 9-noon

HARBOR HOUSE
on Harbor Island

Payne's

Brenda Moss models a turtle neck sweater and coordinate solid brown slacks
by Red Eye.

Available at

Payne's

Downtown, Hanover Center
& Long Leaf Mall

OVER WORRED!

4209
Oleander

PARTY DELIGHTS
Whispering
Barrenest Beverage Center

There is a malicious rumor circulating around the campus as of late about this student body tending to be in a constant state of being, where this subversive rumor comes from, no one really knows. Some say this spectator lies in wait at various college functions, some say it lies hidden in the stu-

My first reaction on this topic was, "Who cares about apathy?" Then it dawned on me: practically no one cares.

I have never before seen so few people at club meetings, dances, and other social gatherings. It's sad to watch an editor or club president union and preys on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The spectator's name? Apathy! Come come now, surely we know such rubbish is no problem on our campus--there's not enough energy for a problem of that kind. So what's the story? Is apathy really rearing its rude head down the university halls?

Let's look at a small for instance. Last Saturday a band who entitle themselves WHITE HARVEST played a gig at our Pub. It was free, and the student body flashed its fanny and its appreciation by a showing of no more than 50 people at any given time during the concert. Concert? Yes, friends, concert. Rather than dance at a dance (how absurd!) the multitude politely stood and gazed at the bombardment of noise which the group amply provided. The extent of movement occurred outside the Pub, gentle conversation was the mainstay and in the nearby woods where Mary Jane and the gang congregated in the utmost of good taste.

Our spectator friend takes other shapes -- some say UNC-W is a suitcase college. Not in the sense that when the weekend comes around, everyone splits (agreed?), but simply now that the freshman and transfer drop has been scrutinized, everyone comes to classes, then heads for the high hills. Meanwhile, back at the ranch, the janitorial staff fills in where others are absent. I guess my gripe is coming to a head--the mood is coming across, at least.

In Webster's big Unabridged, it is written that apathy has two roots: the first being pathos (to feel; suffer) and the second being a- (privative; negating). Thus apathy is then a lack of feeling, of emotion. So much for Primer I. We know about apathy, don't we?

So the drift is evident--what now? If apathy is a general characteristic of UNC-W, how is it rectified? Participation! A marvelous deduction! But here's a thought--how can participation manifest itself if there is no communication? Our university complex has the worst communication system of events this source has ever seen. Sure, notices get posted all over creation, and the Seahawk helps, but can we ask more?

For example, would classroom announcements really be so high schoolish? The small effort for an instructor to read aloud an announcement about things to come couldn't deprive that much valuable classroom time. This is not the best solution, I agree. But workable?

Another possibility -- one thing that would help matters in this viewer's eyes would be a central student bulletin board, located in a place where it could be readily seen. And I mean a bulletin board worthy of the name--a place that would gain the reputation about what's happening.

Both suggestions could work, but there is room for improvement, and any ideas by any daring souls would be warmly welcomed. I feel that communication would encourage and/or increase participation, and I particularly feel it would contribute to some feeling of universal spirit, if you will. When it comes down to it, apathy is really boring. It is a sad state of being for any place.

--peter c. venable

Apathy is really boring

Apathy

president look about the room where a meeting was announced to take place and see only four or five people. Not many students realize the time and work that is put into student activities; not to mention the money spent.

Activities can't continue when an attitude of indifference looms over the campus. Ask yourself: If I won't get involved, who will?

--darlene pearsall
EXISTENCE
(cont. fr. p. 2)

Right now, many of you may be interested in working in some activity, but you're not sure how to begin. Whether you're interested in the Fine Arts Committee, the Concert Committee, or whatever, now is your chance to get involved. In the Student Government Office in the Pub, there are forms students may fill out showing what types of activity they are interested in becoming involved in. The SGA cannot contact each student personally every time it needs student help. We in the SGA would like for students to stop by the office and pick up one of the forms or just stop by and talk over some new ideas you may have for campus activities.

Thank you. See you around.
--keith hales,
student body vice pres.

BREAKAWAY SPECIALS

Roland Hosiery & Apparel

Sales Outlets

Corner of 7th & Greenfield Streets

Open

9:00 - 5:30 Mon. - Sat.

Men's Jeans

.99 - 3.99

Double Knit

Dress Slacks

Reduced for clearance

Underwear in Assorted Colors

Ladies Flare Jeans

$3.99

Large Selection of Stretchwear
and Sportswear

TOWELS AND BEDSPREADS

Savings up to 50%

All Types of Socks

Crews, Expandos, and Over the Calfs

Check Out The Savings At

Roland Hosiery and Apparel Sales Outlet

ALL DELUXE
MANOR
DOWNTOWN
762-2935

A film you won't see on television for a long, long time.

THE BEST OF THE
NEW YORK
EROTIC
FILM FESTIVAL

In color from Saliva Films.

Rated X. Under 17 not admitted.

Features at 1-3-5-7-9

All Seats - $3.00

seahawk

vol. xvi, number 4

september 19, 1973

sixteen pages

Don't drink when you drive -- or drive when you drink...

Easement seen in marijuana laws

Advocates of reform of marijuana laws—in the direction of lessening rather than strengthening penalties—believe they may have turned the corner in their campaign toward eventual legalization of the drug.

They cite these recent events:

-Texas, which had the harshest sanctions in the country against smoking marijuana, has sharply reduced its penalty for possession of the substance.

-Oregon has essentially removed all criminal penalties for private possession and use of marijuana, reclassifying possession and use of marijuana up to one ounce as a "violation" with a maximum penalty of a 100 dollar fine, the equivalent of an expensive jaywalking ticket.

-The House of Delegates of the prestigious American Bar Association called for an end to criminal penalties for marijuana smokers.

Before the change in the Texas law, offenders could be sentenced to life imprisonment for possession of marijuana. Under the new law, private possession has been reduced to a low misdemeanor classification. This provides for a maximum jail term of six months and a fine of up to $1,000 for possession of two ounces.

The Texas law also allows for a resentencing of those currently imprisoned.

According to the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws—700 persons are now serving marijuana-related sentences in Texas. "The new law will entitle many prisoners to be freed, and hundreds of others to have their sentences significantly reduced," it said.

The President's Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse reported last year that under existing state laws 93 per cent of marijuana-related arrests were for simple possession and only 7 per cent were for trafficking.

The marijuana lobbyists, while eventually hoping for the legalization of pot, are concentrating their efforts now on removing penalties for simple possession for private use.

Colorado has a unique plan which would go further than any existing law. would call for a tax of $6 an ounce which would be used for the state's old age pension fund.

-Taken from an article by David E. Anderson, Washington (UPI).

"I LEAVE THE BEER CANS AROUND TO REASSURE MY FOLKS—THEY'D FREAK OUT IF THEY SUSPECTED I WAS DOIN' DOPE!"

Who is to blame?

If you ask ten different students, "Are you apathetic?", you would get a mixed number of responses, both yes and no. The answers are as different as the individuals replying.

"Are you apathetic about the dances?"

"Now man, I dig the dances with all the beer and stuff."

"Are you apathetic about the Chancellor's committee on decrepid and defunct Latin professors?"

"Da what?"

The point is apathy and individual interests are highly related. Students who enjoy hip music and work on the Concert Committee are not apathetic. The people working with the Environmental Action Group are not apathetic about our environment. They are involved with a subject of great interest to them and which they find personally rewarding for whatever efforts expended.

Student apathy is always a good topic of academic discussion. Much has been written but little has been done on the practical side. Could the possible reason for this be that the ones doing the writing are looking so hard for external causes of student apathy that they forget that they themselves contribute to the problem?

The word apathy is a descriptive term meaning a lack of interest or just not caring. It is just too general to apply to a group of individuals. No one is totally apathetic. Each person has his or her own individual interests and abilities. It's up to good leadership to develop these potentials even if they may be as yet undiscovered within our own student body.

I personally feel that whatever apathy exists among the students is only amplified by the very clubs, groups, committees, and leaders who complain the loudest. It is the obligation of these clubs, committees, or whatever to extend an exceptional invitation to make the average student feel he really wants to become involved with this group or that one.

The students have the interests. All it takes is a look now in the direction of the leaders. It is the responsibility of the leaders to find a satisfying and rewarding place for those who want to become involved. It is only secondary that so much emphasis be placed on recruiting new membership. If a leader is successful in utilizing what manpower he has, their positive action and results alone will be all the advertising he needs.

For example, in S.G.A. I personally don't think that the students are all lazy, would rather drink and smoke than do something constructive. If anything is to blame it is the S.G.A. itself, not the students. It's only natural that people do what is pleasurable rather than some oppressive task. It's only when individual interests are stimulated that you find a group really dedicated to its interests. There are no students on the Concert Committee that hate music.

I've found elements of apathy when I've looked for it. But more importantly, I've found students that want to become involved but just don't know where to start or who to ask. This is the problem.

My objective this year is to reach out, let the students know that I'm only a student too. I want others to express their opinions, to become involved, not in some project or committee that I think up but a new one. Original ideas are heartily endorsed and supported. Let me take this opportunity to invite all students with any kind of weird and radical ideas to either stop me on campus or drop by the S.G.A. office in the Pub and let's develop them. The S.G.A. is here for that purpose. We provide not only a starting point for new ideas but promise substantial financial backing for these if money is the only thing standing in the way.

--bill rynn,
student body president

Open House training set

The Open House will begin training sessions for volunteers (in the Pub at UNC-W) Tuesday evening September 18 from 7 to 10 p.m. Further training will be held on Saturday, Sept. 22 from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m., and on Tuesday, Sept. 25 from 7-10 p.m. All potential volunteers must be at least 18 years of age and have an honest commitment to help promote communication and understanding.

the door's open...

COME IN

In a world where privacy is valued so highly that it leaves little room for caring, it is not unusual to note that the end result is apathy. For example, the noisy next door neighbor is so often told to "Mind your own business!" that when and if he is ever needed in an emergency, the call goes unheeded.

We frequently hear the story of the New York woman who was brutally murdered while a hundred people watched or turned away, shaking their heads. Yet we fail to see apathy in our own narrow existence.

The situation at the Open Door on Wrightsville Beach is a prime example of apathy. The preliminary work for the recreation center actually began in July 1972 when two women watched two long-haired little boys standing in the rain under a funeral tent that was then the Common-ground Coffeehouse. These two women began the organizational processes that were to result in what is now the Open Door.

Fine. Except that since its opening June 9, approximately 25 volunteer staff member applications have been completed, and of those, less than five are actually working staff members. Pleading publicity has yielded virtually no response.

On the other hand, average nightly attendance at the Open Door by the people for whom it is currently designed—people between ages 13 and 17—is 35 kids. It seems everyone is just too busy taking care of themselves to care about the needs of others.

The Open Door is open for its winter hours only on grand total of 11 hours. Of those, each staff member is asked to work only three hours. A little caring can go a long way.

In each man lies the ability to care, to feel his brother's joys and sorrows. In each of us is compassion and a sense of giving. We just too often fail to give. T. S. Elliot once said, "For us there is only trying, the rest is not our business." God knows, we must try.

-- debbi bowen

seahawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 791-8055.

editor: kathi baal

associate editors: beth hicks, cummins

a. mebane

advertising director: barry asbury photographers: nauma dozier, jeannie

loveace

greek lines editor: rocky lane moore

supportive staff: sharon davis, susan lewis,

j.k. muhlman, anne neshbi, darlene pearsall

adviser: ms. linda moore

mast head design: bert baal

Math students work as tutors

The Mathematics Department and the Math Club has set up a tutoring program in mathematics and computer programming for students who need extra help. Mathematics faculty members encourage their students to see them for help during announced office hours. However, some students need more help on an individual basis than they are able to get from their instructors. For this reason six hours each week have been scheduled when student assistants will be available to help students in MAT 100, MAT 101, MAT 102, MAT 111, MAT 112, MAT 115, MAT 211, MAT 225 and CSC 211.

Zach Cox will be in the User Room of the Computing Center on the second floor of Hoggard Hall on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2:00 until 4:00 to assist students in mathematics and programming. Barbara English will be in room C-221 of the Chemistry-Physics building on Mondays and Wednesdays from 3:00 to 4:00 to assist students in mathematics. Other members of the Math Club expect to participate in the program during some of these hours if the demand is great enough.

The Math Club also participates in a tutoring program for junior high and high school students. When calls for tutors are received by the Mathematics Department, they are referred to members of the club who are interested in it. These students are able to make quite a bit of extra money this way. It is a challenging job which can be rewarding, particularly those who plan teaching as a career.

October 5-Pat Paulsen
Looks at the Seventies
October 18-Jack Thomas 'The Life and Times of Mark Twain'
March 25-John Lehti
'The Life of a Modern Cartoonist'
April 16-RSVP-The Cole Porters

SEPTEMBER
25 Woodstock
OCTOBER
1 Summer of 42
15 Superman
30 Gone With the Wind
NOVEMBER
8 Ryan's Daughter
12 Yellow Submarine
19 Ben
DECEMBER
3 2001 A Space Odyssey
10 Snoopy Comes Home
JANUARY
14 What's Up Doc?
21 Lady Sings the Blues
29 Skin Game
FEBRUARY
4 Dirty Harry
12 Doctor Zhivago
26 Where Does It Hurt?
MARCH
12 Soldier Blue
18 Posaloon Adventure
26 Slaughterhouse Five
APRIL
1 The Reivers
9 Skyjacked
22 The Getaway
30 Man Called Horse

"Any time"

Crisis Line 763-3695

'WOODSTOCK' FEST OF PEACE, LOVE, MUSIC

Beyond performances by some 30 groups and singles, and attendance by nearly 50,000 youngsters, very little was expected for the three-day Woodstock Festival, held in Bethel, New York in August of 1969. But there were vibrations; it might turn out big.

What actually happened marks one of the major cultural events of our time. A half-million young adults clogged the highways of the Catskills on a pilgrimage to hear their kind of music and to be with their kind of people. Declared a disaster area by various communications media, Woodstock was, to those present, the ultimate expression of peace and togetherness.

Warner Bros.' Academy-Award-winning feature, "Woodstock," opening on ... at the ... Theatre, is the filmed record - a musical, sociological and even political documentary - that triumphantly captures the mind-blowing events and pulsating music marking this unique demonstration of Aquarian unity.

The three-hour musical marathon uses advanced sound and filmmaking techniques to highlight rock artist Joe Cocker; Crosby, Stills and Nash; Arlo Guthrie; Jimi Hendrix; Santana; Shana-na; Sly and the Family Stone; Ten Years After; The Who; Joan Baez; Country Joe and the Fish; Richie Havens; and John Sebastian. Michael Wadleigh directed and Bob Maurice produced "Woodstock."

Tuesday, Sept. 25
8 p.m.

Kenan Auditorium

"Does he love me . .
or is he intrigued by my
Newell's
SPORTSWEAR?"

NEW GIRL
WHATS-IN-A-NAME
SPRING CHICKEN
MODERN JUNIOR
BOBBIE BROOKS
RINGALEEVEEO
and many more.

SPERRY
TOP SIDERS
complete line
for ladies and men

Newell's Ltd.

SPORTS &
CASUAL WEAR

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK 9A.M. - 9P.M.

The Happy Shopping Place on Wrightsville Beach

Badfinger plays Sept. 27

by Jon Greene

Badfinger will headline the first concert of the semester September 27, 8 p.m., in Hanover Hall. Also featured will be Barnaby Bye and a local group, Heather. Tickets are $2.50 advance and Pandulum, and the NY production of HAIR. The members of the band are Peppy Casho, Billy Alessi, Bobby Alessi, and Mike Ricciardella. The debut album on Atlantic Records is ROOM TO CROW. Barnaby Bye, its distinctly New York music, should provide a contrast and complement to Badfinger.

Badfinger was signed to Apple Records in 1968 and since then has had several hit singles ("Maybe Tomorrow," "Come and Get It," "No Matter What," "Badfinger Day," and "Badfinger") and three fine albums: MAGIC CHRISTMAS, NO DICE, and STRAIGHT UP.

Badfinger is Pete Ham, guitar, piano, vocals; Joey Moland, guitar, vocals; Tom Evans, bass, vocals, and Mike Gibbons, drums, vocals. They have played with John Lennon and George Harrison, most notably with Harrison in the benefit concert for Bangla Desh. When they perform here, Badfinger will play the best of their old songs and preview songs from their forthcoming album.

This is an excellent bill—a talented local band, Heather; a promising NY band, Barnaby Bye; and one of the best bands anywhere—Badfinger.

UNC-W
Class Rings

GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler
and Silversmiths

212 North Front Street

$3.50 at the door.

Heather has been playing around Wilmington for four years now, and has been improving constantly, both instrumentally and vocally. Heather is Richard Bell, guitar and vocals; Roger Anderson, guitar; Harvey Arnold, bass and vocals; Hank Pittman, drums. Their repertoire now includes old blues, Allman brothers songs, and many excellent original songs. There is a feeling wherever Heather plays, a feeling shared by both the band and audience, that Heather deserves a good future in rock'n'roll.

Barnaby Bye is a new band out of the New York area. The band grew out of the Blues Magoos, The Illusion, The

Seniors,

Look to Jefferson Standard for YOUR future!

Jefferson Standard

Life Insurance Company

3131 Wrightsville Ave.

Bob Page 763-1604

Bill Heinberg 763-1605

A little
of what you fancy
does you good.

When we open soon at Oriole Drive and College Road, we'll have checking accounts, savings accounts, Master Charge and student loans to help you get what you fancy. We hope you'll come in and visit.

O First Union National
Watch for our opening

NSF announces grad fellowships

Washington, D. C. -- The National Research Council has again been called upon to advise the National Science Foundation in the selection of candidates for the Foundation's program of Graduate Fellowships. Panels of eminent scientists appointed by the National Research Council will evaluate qualifications of applicants. Final selection will be made by the Foundation, with awards to be announced on March 15, 1974. Initial NSF Graduate Fellowship awards are intended for students at or near the beginning of their graduate study. In general, therefore, those eligible to apply will be college seniors or first-year graduate students this Fall; in particular, eligibility is limited to individuals who by Fall 1974 will have completed not more than one year of full-time or part-time graduate-level study. Subject to the availability of funds, new fellowships awarded in the Spring of 1974 will be for periods of three years, the second and third years contingent on certification to the Foundation by the fellowship institution of the student's satisfactory progress toward an advanced degree in the sciences.

These fellowships will be awarded for study or work leading to master's or doctoral degrees in the mathematical, physical, medical, biological, engineering, and social sciences, and in the history and philosophy of science. Awards will not be made in clinical, education, or business fields, in history or social work, or for work leading to medical, dental, law, or joint Ph.D.-professional degrees. Applicants must be citizens of the United States and will be judged solely on the basis of ability. The annual stipend for Graduate Fellows will be $3,800 for a twelve-month tenure with no dependency allowances.

Applicants will be required to take the Graduate Record Examinations designed to test scientific aptitude and achievement. The examinations, administered by the Educational Testing Service, will be given on December 8, 1973 at designated centers throughout the United States and in certain foreign countries.

The deadline date for the submissions of applications for NSF Graduate Fellowships is November 26, 1973. Further information and application materials may be obtained from the Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, Washington, D. C. 20418.

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS

28 N. From St. - 765 4580
Hanover Center - 762 0736
Long Leaf Mall - 799 5510

LOST & FOUND

PUB

Denim jacket
Keys

Notebooks & Texts belonging to:

Jacqueline Floyd
Yvonne Rumble
John Schoolfield
Joann Lewis

Gary Cox
John Smith
Calvin Casey

Other assorted books

Tutors needed

The Board of Education is seeking volunteer tutors to work with 5-12 graders under the supervision of a professional teacher in one of six tutorial centers planned for the county.

Although the centers will serve mostly 5-8 grade students, the higher grades may seek help too.

Volunteers will work on a one to one basis with child-corrector on one basis with students in two main areas - Reading and math.

The centers will be open Monday through Thursday from 5 to 8 p.m. Volunteers may work out their own schedules, from one night a week up.

Yes

Wachovia

"FOR THOSE WHO LIKE FINE DINING"

BALLARDS RESTAURANT

QUIET FAMILY ATMOSPHERE
STEAK • SEAFOOD • BARBQ CHICKEN

3917 Market Street
(U.S. 17 North)

Wilmington's Family Restaurant

Rex Ballard
Crystal Meares
763-4811

PARTY DELIGHTS

PHONE: 791-5079

We can supply all the goodies for your party.

PARTY DELIGHTS

Community Shopping Center on Oleander Drive Across from Cape Fear Ford and 17th Street Extension next to New Hanover Hospital

Procrastinators anonymous

by darlene pearsall

My fellow students, I have just established a great new club. It's called "Procrastinators Anonymous." It's intended for freshmen who haven't yet become accustomed to college work, seniors who are bored with college work and, of course, anyone in between.

I must confess that I have been putting off the first meeting. But now I have definitely decided that it will be sometime sooner or later than 8:00 (or 9:00 or 10:00).

Our slogan will be: "Put it off til tomorrow so you can have more fun tonight."

Requirements for the club are as follows:

- 1) Members must maintain a 2.0 average or below. The lower the average, the more fidelity you display for your club.

- 2) Members must be known for saying at least twice a day - "I'll do it later."

3) Official time to begin homework is 11:30 p.m.

- 4) Official bedtime is 11:35 p.m.

All students, upon being granted membership, will receive:

- 1) a list of fun things to do in place of homework
- 2) a watch without hands
- 3) a super-spiffy membership card.

Now when your teacher asks you why you didn't get your homework in on time, simply show your membership card and smile.

For more information, call anytime, day or night... 900ps! I've been meaning to get that phone put in.)

Carl Kiehl

There's less than 12 weeks before EXAMS...

BUY YOUR ESSAYS NOW!

• • • Last Chance • • •

The Telephone Directory is just about ready. But as a special favor, anyone who has changed their address or phone number, or who has not given us this info, or you gave us your address from Florida or somewhere, please stop by A 113 Wednesday and give us this info. This is your last chance to have your name in print.

Marian Gibson,
Chairman

• • • • •

BLAKE'S T.V. & APPLIANCE

251 South Kerr Ave.

8 track tapes

3000 in stock!!!

$3.88

If it's on tape, We've got it!

COMPONENT STEREOS, SPEAKERS,

TAPE DECKS, CAR STEREOS

791-1078

DIVISION

come as you are!

Be yourself.
Relax and enjoy
delicious gourmet pizza
in the informal atmosphere
of the Village Inn.
No need to dress up. Bring
the whole family. Village Inn's
the fun place to go!

Live
Music

Wednesday Night

Free Flicks

Every Night

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

3617 Market Street

"Where pizza is always
in good taste"

★ Professional Service At
A Price You Can Afford

kar-kare Service Center

4207 Oleander Drive

Complete Parts & Accessories

Professional Trained Personnel

★ LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT

"We do it right...or we do it over."

kar-kare

4207 Oleander Drive

799-2770

GILBERT PARRISH
Owner

WAYNE SHANNON
Manager

BFGoodrich

TIRES

Super-Tef Retread

- Wheel Alignment
- Complete Front End Repairs
- Shock Absorbers
- Diagnostic Tune-Ups
- Brake Service
- Batteries

BUFFALO'S

DISCOUNT-BEVERAGES

COMPLETE GROCERY LINE

OVER 400 WINES From 11 Countries

LESS THAN CONVENIENCE STORE PRICES

OVER 50 BEERS From 13 Countries

5124 Oleander Drive

Located Across From The Bowling Center
Next To The Elks Club - Call 799-2000

OPEN 7 to 1 except Fri. & Sat.-till 2:00 A.M.

8-Track Tapes 1.99

Carlton Cigarettes
2.38 2.48
Reg 100s

Stop By and See
Roger-Bufferoe
You'll Be Glad You Did.

how much can you legally and intelligently drink?

find the percentage of alcohol in your blood

8	.26	.21	.17	.15	.13	Serious impairment of physical and mental functions; loss of judgment and inhibitions—clumsy, uncoordinated. Alcohol concentration in the body of ten one hundredths of one per cent or more is prima facie evidence of being under the influence of alcohol.
7	.22	.18	.15	.13	.11
6	.19	.16	.13	.11	.10
5	.16	.13	.11	.09	.08	Exaggerated emotion and behavior—less concern, mental relaxation. Decrease in finer skills of coordination. With concentration between 0.05% and 0.10%, there is no presumption either way, but will be considered along with other evidence.
4	.13	.10	.09	.07	.06
3	.10	.08	.06	.06	.05
	.06	.05	.04	.04	.03	Mild effects—slight change in feeling. Existing mood (anger, elation, etc.) may be heightened. Alcohol concentration in the body of five one hundredths of one per cent or less is presumptive evidence of NOT being under the influence of alcohol.
	.03	.03	.02	.02	.01

if you have had this many ounces of 86 proof whiskey or 12-ounce bottles of beer in the last hour and you weigh about this much

100 lbs. 125 lbs. 150 lbs. 175 lbs. 200 lbs.

Source: Hennepin County Alcohol Safety Action Project
Minneapolis, Minnesota
1962 Uniform Vehicle Code (1962 Revision)

GUITAR CLASSES WILL BE OFFERED BY THE PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT BEGINNING SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 22. THERE WILL BE CLASSES FOR CHILDREN AND ADULTS EACH SATURDAY MORNING. THE FEE IS $15 FOR 12 LESSONS. CLASSES WILL BE HELD AT TYE COMMUNITY CENTER ON 2nd and ORANGE STS.

YOU MAY REGISTER NOW THROUGH SATURDAY AT THE COMMUNITY CENTER OR CALL 762-7246 FOR INFORMATION.

ANYONE WHO HAS NOT PICKED UP BOOKS OR MONEY FROM THE BUSINESS CLUB'S USED BOOK STORE SHOULD LEAVE THEIR NAME AND PHONE NUMBER IN THE BUSINESS DEPARTMENT OFFICE SO THAT A MEMBER OF THE CLUB MAY CONTACT YOU AND RETURN EITHER BOOKS OR MONEY TO YOU.

classifieds

ROOM MATE WANTED to share large mobile home with another young lady. Call 799-0344 before 8:00 a.m. or after 10:00 p.m.

Female has nice, 2 bedroom trailer to share with same, 21 or older. Reasonable rent, close to campus. Leave name and phone number on Seahawk door addressed to D. Terrence.

Recycle Yourself

Even when you're doing nothing, you're doing something on a Raleigh bicycle. Something good for your body and mind. There's probably no easier way to get in tune with yourself.

And with a Raleigh you won't have to worry about it wearing out before its time. A Raleigh is precision made from the finest quality components to last for years. That's what won Raleigh its formidable racing reputation all over the world.

Raleigh makes so many models that there is literally one fit for you. Shown here is the Raleigh Sprite with new self-adjusting brakes.

See (LIFE CYCLES) then see a new you.

RALEIGH
THE BICYCLE FIT FOR YOU.
LIFE CYCLES

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER

4209 Olander Drive

799-5770

Mon-Thurs. Fri. Sat.
10-6 10-9 10-6

Holsum THRIFT STORE

1055 S. College Road

(next to Sav-A-Lot)

BELOW RETAIL PRICES

ON

Breads, Cakes, Rolls, Donuts

Sav-A-Lot

SUPER DISCOUNT STORE

1053 S. College Road

9 A.M. - 8 P.M. 6 Days

Laurel

Everyday Low Price

WALL POSTERS

$1.68

mfg. sugg.
price-$2.00

OVER 500 TO CHOSE FROM

Everyday Low Price

CIGARETTES 2³⁹ CTN

100's $2.49

plus tax

Yes

Wachovia

HASTE MAKES NO-NO DEPARTMENT

The Student N.C. Association of Educators

Will hold their first meeting September 17
in the Pub at 7:30 P.M.

Guest speaker: Nancy Franklin District Director
of N.C. Association of Educators

Topic "What Student N.C. Ass. of Educators Means to you"

WHAT DOES THE ASS OF EDUCATORS MEAN TO YOU?

• Legal council to be formed •

THE STUDENT PERSONNEL AND INTEREST SHEETS that are hanging across from the S.G.A. office in the Pub, may be used for indicating a desire to help form a student legal council to offer free legal advice to students. Students need to be formed of legal implications of the special status of being a student.

Many situations for the college student may be legally complicated or at least need the advice of an attorney. Whether it be local traffic violations, landlord difficulties, or drug hassles, often the away-from-home student does not have the readily available services of a good attorney. The Student Legal Council would not only serve to help a student find suitable and immediate counsel but also give sound advice on their rights, chances in court, and approximate lawyer costs.

Students interested in helping form this counsel, please get in touch with Mike Davis, the Student Attorney General or Bill Renn, Pres. of the S.G.A. Mike may be reached at the dorm, either in the main office or with a note under his door, room 230. Bill may be reached with a note left on the S.G.A. office door, including your name, phone number, or how you may be otherwise reached.

I WAS IN LOVE WITH A GIRL NAMED CATHY. I KILLED HER.

"It was last summer, and I was 18. Cathy was 18 too. It was the happiest summer of my life. I had never been that happy before. I haven't been that happy since. And I know I'll never be that happy again. It was warm and beautiful and so we bought a few bottles of wine and drove to the country to celebrate the night. We drank the wine and looked at the stars and held each other and laughed. It must have been the stars and the wine and the warm wind. Nobody else was on the road. The top was down, and we were singing and I didn't even see the tree until I hit it."

Every year 8,000 American people between the ages of 15 and 25 are killed in alcohol related crashes. That's more than combat. More than drugs. More than suicide. More than cancer.

The people on this page are not real. But what happened to them is very real.

The automobile crash is the number one cause of death of people your age. And the ironic thing is that the drunk drivers responsible for killing young people are most often other young people.

DRUNK DRIVER, DEPT. Y*
BOX 1969
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20013

I don't want to get killed and I don't want to kill anyone. Tell me how I can help.* Youths Highway Safety Advisory Committee.

My name is _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

STOP DRIVING DRUNK.
STOP KILLING EACH OTHER.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION
NATIONAL HIGHWAY TRAFFIC SAFETY ADMINISTRATION

FROM THE NEST

AN ENTERPRISING fiend made the tape player rip-off circuit recently. This time, however, he showed his true color - sewer ratbrown. Why? You ask. Because this time he ripped off the player of a student who comes to school at UNC-W with more than her share of problems. It would have been obvious to the thief that he was breaking into the car of a handicapped person, since there were special controls for the driver.

Since there's probably no hope of getting the player back through a conscience attack in the thief (well, we guess he considers himself pretty damn special anyway, to consider it within his rights to break into another person's auto anyway), several concerned students asked that the SEAHAWK collect donations from any student who cares to offer them so that the player may be replaced. Donations may be given to the Seahawk adviser, Ms. Linda Moore, in the Pub, or given to Seahawk editor Kathi Beall.

Two grinning guys came in the Seahawk office last week and requested that we run an announcement about the engagement of former Hawk pitcher Bob Becher to Miss Bridget Sholar, currently studying at UNC-W. We could not be sure the well-wishers were on the level, but if there is truth to the item, best wishes and congrats are in order.

Watch next week's Hawk for a story on Butch Pegram, who may well be "our man in city hall." By "our man," we mean a representative of ALL the people of the City of Wilmington. Butch is a senior in political science, and is Chief Justice of the Student Superior Court, as well as Chief of Staff of the SGA President's Cabinet.

He will be running against incumbent Mayor Brand in the October 9 election.

If you should notice a difference in some of the campus leaders, there is a very good reason for it.

A number of leaders spent Friday night and Saturday a.m. discussing leadership in many lights. More so than at any such conference this observer has attended, the reaction of the participants was one of collective enthusiasm and a feeling of unity.

The workshop was planned through the office of Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, and Jim Slager of the Counseling and Testing Center. Slager also led the workshop.

WANTED:

Wanted; Communications coordinator. The S.G.A. needs someone to get the news of what's happening around. This is a position that not only calls for a better than average knowledge of the available media but also requires one to be completely informed of all various Student Government activities as well as University functions. Anyone possessing these qualifications and also those willing to learn, please leave your name, address, and phone number either with someone in the Student Government office or on the office door. The S.G.A. office is located in the wing-opposite the bookstore, last office on the left.

"Any time"
Crisis Line

763-3695

ALCOHOL & DRIVING -- LETHAL COMBINATION

(photo by jeannie loveale)

Faces of opinion

The highest rate of traffic accidents are caused by drunken driving. What could be done by the public or through law enforcement to reduce the number of drunks on the road? (photos by nauma dozler)

Will Whitson - We can't do anything without being offensive, but the laws ought to be stricter.

Diane Plenty - There should be stricter law enforcement; just telling the public the hazards won't help - they won't listen.

Jerry Barnes - Passing liquor by the drink would prevent people from drinking while driving; not as much would be consumed sitting in a bar as would with a bottle driving around.

Marie Martin - I live in a dry county. Having to drive out of town to get liquor is dangerous - people drink coming home. The courts are too lenient with drunken drivers.

Bertha Bell - Stricter laws; drunks are a menace on the highways. Fines should be steep, and they should not even be allowed to drive to and from work.

Frank Walton - We could start here at school by talking about the hazards with our friends in and out of school, especially the ones we know are heavy drinkers.

Robert Maxey - Liquor by the drink would help. Being from Virginia where it's legal, I feel I can make a comparison. There seem to be fewer drunken drivers there. By going to a bar, you would have fewer drunks.

Patrick Simmons - Educate the public on the matter. The individual needs to become more conscientious.

BUCKLE UP FOR SAFETY

(photo by jeannie lovelace)

HOW DO YOU THINK MOST PEOPLE YOUR AGE DIE?

It's not drugs.
It's not suicide.
And it's not cancer.

It's automobile crashes.
More American people between the ages of 15 and 25 die in automobile crashes than in any other way.

At least half of those deaths are alcohol related. And the drunk drivers who cause most of them are under 25. Sometimes, many times, they kill themselves.

One of the most dangerous things you can do is get drunk and drive home.

You can change it. You have to.

You march against the war.

You fight for clean air and clean water. You eat natural foods. You practice yoga. You are so much for life. And you are so much against killing.

It would be unthinkable for you to wittingly kill another human being.

So then, why is this happening?

DRUNK DRIVER, DEPT. Y*
BOX 1969
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20013

I don't want to get killed and I don't want to kill anyone. Tell me how I can help. *Youths Highway Safety Advisory Committee.

My name is _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

STOP DRIVING DRUNK.
STOP KILLING EACH OTHER.

Club deadline set

Due to the necessity of planning the 1974 Fledgling as soon as possible, we cannot include in the yearbook any clubs or organizations which are not formed by September 21.

As yet the Chess Club and Biology Club have not been heard from. If these clubs do exist, they must notify The Fledgling before September 21.

HASTE MAKES NO-NO DEPARTMENT

The Student N.C. Association of Educators

will hold their first meeting September 17
in the Pub at 7:30 p.m.

Guest speaker: Nancy Franklin, District Director
of N.C. Association of Educators

Topic: "What Student N.C. Ass. of Educators Means to you."

WHAT DOES THE ASS OF EDUCATORS MEAN TO YOU?

• Legal council to be formed •

The STUDENT PERSONNEL AND INTEREST SHEETS that are hanging across from the S.G.A. office in the Pub, may be used for indicating a desire to help form a student legal council to offer free legal advice to students. Students need to be formed of legal implications of the special status of being a student.

Many situations for the college student may be legally complicated or at least need

the advice of an attorney. Whether it be local traffic violations, landlord difficulties, or drug hassles, often the away-from-home student does not have the readily available services of a good attorney. The Student Legal Council would not only serve to help a student find suitable and immediate counsel but also give sound advice on their rights, chances in court, and approximate lawyer costs.

Students interested in helping form this counsel, please get in touch with Mike Davis, the Student Attorney General or Bill Renn, Pres. of the S.G.A. Mike may be reached at the dorm, either in the main office or with a note under his door, room 230. Bill may be reached with a note left on the S.G.A. office door, including your name, phone number, or how you may be otherwise reached.

I WAS IN LOVE WITH A GIRL NAMED CATHY. I KILLED HER.

"It was last summer, and I was 18. Cathy was 18 too. It was the happiest summer of my life. I had never been that happy before. I haven't been that happy since. And I know I'll never be that happy again. It was warm and beautiful and so we bought a few bottles of wine and drove to the country to celebrate the night. We drank the wine and looked at the stars and held each other and laughed. It must have been the stars and the wine and the warm wind. Nobody else was on the road. The top was down, and we were singing and I didn't even see the tree until I hit it."

Every year 8,000 American people between the ages of 15 and 25 are killed in alcohol related crashes. That's more than combat. More than drugs. More than suicide. More than cancer.

The people on this page are not real. But what happened to them is very real.

The automobile crash is the number one cause of death of people your age. And the ironic thing is that the drunk drivers responsible for killing young people are most often other young people.

DRUNK DRIVER, DEPT. Y*
BOX 1969
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20013

I don't want to get killed and I don't want to kill anyone. Tell me how I can help.* Youths Highway Safety Advisory Committee.

My name is _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

STOP DRIVING DRUNK.
STOP KILLING EACH OTHER.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION
NATIONAL HIGHWAY TRAFFIC SAFETY ADMINISTRATION

FROM THE NEST

AN ENTERPREISING fiend made the tape player rip-off circuit recently. This time, however, he showed his true color - sewer rat brown. Why? You ask. Because this time he ripped off the player of a student who comes to school at UNC-W with more than her share of problems. It would have been obvious to the thief that he was breaking into the car of a handicapped person, since there were special controls for the driver.

Since there's probably no hope of getting the player back through a conscience attack in the thief (well, we guess he considers himself pretty damn special anyway, to consider it within his rights to break into another person's auto anyway), several concerned students asked that the SEAHAWK collect donations from any student who cares to offer them so that the player may be replaced. Donations may be given to the Seahawk adviser, Ms. Linda Moore, in the Pub, or given to Seahawk editor Kathi Beall.

Two grinning guys came in the Seahawk office last week and requested that we run an announcement about the engagement of former Hawk pitcher Bob Becher to Miss Bridget Sholar, currently studying at UNC-W. We could not be sure the well-wishers were on the level, but if there is truth to the item, best wishes and congrats are in order.

Watch next week's Hawk for a story on Butch Pegram, who may well be "our man in city hall." By "our man," we mean a representative of ALL the people of the City of Wilmington. Butch is a senior in political science, and is Chief Justice of the Student Superior Court, as well as Chief of Staff of the SGA President's Cabinet.

He will be running against incumbent Mayor Brand in the October 9 election.

If you should notice a difference in some of the campus leaders, there is a very good reason for it.

A number of leaders spent Friday night and Saturday a.m., discussing leadership in many lights. More so than at any such conference this observer has attended, the reaction of the participants was one of collective enthusiasm and a feeling of unity.

The workshop was planned through the office of Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, and Jim Slager of the Counseling and Testing Center. Slager also led the workshop.

WANTED:

Wanted: Communications coordinator. The S.G.A. needs someone to get the news of what's happening around. This is a position that not only calls for a better than average knowledge of the available media but also requires one to be completely informed of all various Student Government activities as well as University functions. Anyone possessing these qualifications and also those willing to learn, please leave your name, address, and phone number either with someone in the Student Government office or on the office door. The S.G.A. office is located in the wing-opposite the bookstore, last office on the left.

"Any time"

Crisis Line

763-3695

ALCOHOL & DRIVING -- LETHAL COMBINATION

(photo by jeannie loveince)

Faces of opinion

The highest rate of traffic accidents are caused by drunken driving. What could be done by the public or through law enforcement to reduce the number of drunks on the road? (photos by nauma dozier)

Will Whitson - We can't do anything without being offensive, but the laws ought to be stricter.

Diane Plenty - There should be stricter law enforcement; just telling the public the hazards won't help - they won't listen.

Jerry Barnes - Passing liquor by the drink would prevent people from drinking while driving; not as much would be consumed sitting in a bar as would with a bottle driving around.

Marie Martin - I live in a dry county. Having to drive out of town to get liquor is dangerous - people drink coming home. The courts are too lenient with drunken drivers.

Bertha Bell - Stricter laws; drunks are a menace on the highways. Fines should be steep, and they should not even be allowed to drive to and from work.

Frank Walton - We could start here at school by talking about the hazards with our friends in and out of school, especially the ones we know are heavy drinkers.

Robert Maxey - Liquor by the drink would help. Being from Virginia where it's legal, I feel I can make a comparison. There seem to be fewer drunken drivers there. By going to a bar, you would have fewer drinks.

Patrick Simmons - Educate the public on the matter. The individual needs to become more conscientious.

BUCKLE UP FOR SAFETY
(photo by jeannie lovelace)

HOW DO YOU THINK MOST PEOPLE YOUR AGE DIE?

It's not drugs.
It's not suicide.
And it's not cancer.

It's automobile crashes.
More American people between the ages of 15 and 25 die in automobile crashes than in any other way.

At least half of those deaths are alcohol related. And the drunk drivers who cause most of them are under 25. Sometimes, many times, they kill themselves.

One of the most dangerous things you can do is get drunk and drive home.

You can change it. You have to.

You march against the war.

You fight for clean air and clean water. You eat natural foods. You practice yoga. You are so much for life. And you are so much against killing.

It would be unthinkable for you to wittingly kill another human being.

So then, why is this happening?

DRUNK DRIVER, DEPT. Y*
BOX 1969
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20013

I don't want to get killed and I don't want to kill anyone. Tell me how I can help. *Youths Highway Safety Advisory Committee.

My name is _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

STOP DRIVING DRUNK.
STOP KILLING EACH OTHER.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION - NATIONAL HIGHWAY TRAFFIC SAFETY ADMINISTRATION

Club deadline set

Due to the necessity of planning the 1974 Fledgling as soon as possible, we cannot include in the yearbook any clubs or organizations which are not formed by September 21.

As yet the Chess Club and Biology Club have not been heard from. If these clubs do exist, they must notify The Fledgling before September 21.

THE NUMBER ONE KILLER OF YOUNG AMERICANS IS YOUNG AMERICANS.

You don't mean to be. But you are. The numbers are simple.

Latest available figures show that 8,000 American people between the ages of 15 and 25 died in alcohol related crashes. And almost all the drunk drivers who caused those crashes were also under 25.

1,380 died in combat. 3,420 committed suicide. 2,731 died of cancer.

It's incredible, but one of the most dangerous things you can do is to have a few bottles of wine with friends and drive home.

You can change it. You have to.

You march against war. You fight for clean air and clean water. You eat natural foods. You practice yoga. You are so much for life. And you are so much against killing.

It would be unthinkable for you to kill another human being on purpose.

So then, why is this happening?

DRUNK DRIVER, DEPT. Y*
BOX 1969
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20013

I don't want to get killed and I don't want to kill anyone. Tell me how I can help.*Youths Highway Safety Advisory Committee.

My name is _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

STOP DRIVING DRUNK.
STOP KILLING EACH OTHER.

CAFETERIA HOURS

WEEKDAYS

Breakfast	7:45-9:30a.m.
Lunch	11a.m.-1:30a.m.
Dinner	4:30-6p.m.

WEEKENDS

Breakfast	9-10a.m.
Lunch	12:30-1:30p.m.
Dinner	5-6p.m.

The birds, animals & flowers are dying to tell us...
"Give a hoot, don't pollute."

Join Woodsy Owl's fight against pollution. Today.

Reach for the gusto Schlitz has it!

You only go around once in life.
So reach for all the gusto you can.
Even in the beer you drink.
Why settle for less?

When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

Teacher test dates announced

College seniors preparing to teach school may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of the four different test dates announced today by Educational Testing Service, a nonprofit, educational organization which prepares and administers this testing program.

New dates for the testing of prospective teachers are: November 10, 1973, and January 26, April 6, and July 20, 1974. The tests will be given at nearly 500 locations throughout the United States, ETS said.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and by several states for certification or licensing of teachers. Some colleges also require all seniors preparing to teach to take the examinations. The school systems and state departments of education which use the examination results are listed in an NTE leaflet entitled SCORE USERS which may be obtained by writing to ETS.

On each full day of testing, prospective teachers may take the Common Examinations which measure their professional preparation and general educational background and an Area Examination which measures their mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, or their colleges, for specific advice on which examinations to take and on which dates they should be taken.

The BULLETIN OF INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES contains a list of test centers, and information about the examinations, as well as a Registration Form. Copies may be obtained from college placement officers, school personnel departments, or directly from National Teacher Examinations, Box 311, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

Dr. Jim Slager, right, discusses different aspects of student life with UNC-W students who find themselves new-old or old-new-comers to University living. (photo by nauma dozier)

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

Soccer team needs support

As the hustle and bustle of campus life slows somewhat and students begin to settle into the daily routine a familiar group of young men continue the almost monotonous task of forming a soccer team we can all be tenaciously ground into this team of mostly freshmen and sophomores the fundamentals and basics of a game which unlike football hasn't quite caught hold of the public. With three young sophomore captains composed of Hal Goodson, David Wychel, and Joe Mashery, this team has put together a team of inexperienced but hopeful soccer players. The season ahead is riddled with big name soccer schools such as, Madison, ECU, Duke, Campbell, and a host of others numbering 15 in total.

In their first scrimmage these boys formed into two squads. A and B took on an always omnipotent Chapel Hill, and the A team in a very managed a respectable 2-1 loss while the B team had their troubles but still looked sharp in a somewhat dismaying 6-0 trouncing. Later, that week, the squad took over looks of a very powerful Hogard High 9-1 with Hogard's lone goal coming first in a melee in front of the goal.

What does this young club need that you can give - simply YOU - with a little support this team could surprise everyone - but we need support!

The Tomfoolery

Weekly SPECIAL Dinners
Tuesday

Lasagna $1.80

Wednesday

Chopped Sirloin Steak $1.80

Thursday

Spaghetti $1.50

6326 Market St.,
Wilmington, N. C.

Open at 6 P.M.
Phone 791-2935

Crisis Line

763-3695

.....
All students interested in attending the Psychology Club meeting (Thursday, September 27) in room 211, at 11:30a.m.

In the Education-Psychology Building.

Shoney's

"HOME OF THE BIG BOY"

4010 MARKET STREET

Complete Selection On Our Menu!

OPEN--

7 a.m. - 12 p.m. Monday - Thursday

7 a.m. - 2 a.m. Friday & Saturday

Try Our Strawberry Pie

distributed by Homer Baker Co.
Wilmington, N.C.

Second Best Ain't Bad

Pure water is the best gift that man to man can bring.
But who can I trust I should have the best of anything?
Let prices reveal of the pump, let poets with pencils make love;
Whiskey or wine or even beer is good enough for me.

See Complete Machinery

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Win-Art Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Pridgen
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-6473

Pat Paulsen -- only true political humorist

UNC-W's KENAN AUDITORIUM
FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5
8 p.m.
GENERAL ADMISSION $2.50
STUDENTS $1 (Limit 1 per ID)
TICKETS & RESERVATIONS MAY
BE MADE AT THE AUDITORIUM
(2-5p.m.) 791-9695
TICKETS GO ON SALE TO
GENERAL PUBLIC NEXT WEEK

Satirists in the Will Rogers tradition are hard to come by. They are so rare, in fact, that only one genuine facsimile has appeared on the horizon since Rogers' tragic death in the 1930's.

That's Pat Paulsen, a comedic genius who's been described as 'a man with sad eyes and body to match and who, with an unglamorous, leathery, beat face, can get a laugh without telling a joke.'

Like Rogers, he loves to poke fun at the nation's manners, mores and morals and satirize the Establishment's sacred cows. He is also the only true political humorist on today's scene.

Even Rogers would not have dared undertake Paulsen's presidential campaign of 1968, rated by many as a high point in political satire. That he lost by a 'paltry sixteen or seventeen million votes' is unimportant. The fact remains that he helped the nation laugh at itself in the midst of one of the most heated campaigns in our history.

Pat's most recent venture into the public arena has been on a college lecture tour whimsically called 'Pat Paulsen Looks At The 70's', which has taken him to more than 90 university and college campuses across the country. The lecture, which is described as an analytical look at the major problems affecting mankind in the next decade, was the hit of this year's college circuit, so much so in fact that Paulsen is already solidly booked for a second tour during the 1973-74 school year.

Born in South Bend, Washington, and brought up in San Francisco, the son of a Norwegian father who used to write long letters to newspaper editors, Pat attended and graduated from Tamalpais High School. Thereafter, his interest in a performing career came to the fore, and he quit San Francisco City College to join a little theatre in Santa Rosa. This project failed to propel him into the big time, and he worked temporarily as a photostat machine operator in San Francisco and then in a gypsum plant in Nevada.

Two more attempts at show business proved abortive—a week's engagement at the Purple Onion in San Francisco and a brief try as a member of a music-and-comedy trio with his brother, Loren, and Joan Murray. Pat successfully eluded discovery on Art Linkletter's 'Talent Scouts' program.

Then about six years ago, things began to happen. With a face devoid of expression, and in a monotone with misplaced pauses, he started satirizing 'sacred cows' and poking fun at manners and mores. Coffee houses, in particular The Ice House in Pasadena, California, were quick to latch on to him, sensing his instant rapport with the thinking youth of today.

Then he met the Smothers Brothers, told them their act needed more comedy, and shortly thereafter sold them a song, 'Chocolate', which was included in their million selling album, 'The Two Sides of the Smothers Brothers'. Paulsen's career had suddenly lifted off the ground.

While playing at The Ice House, Tom and Dick, then putting together the 'Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour' for CBS-TV, brought their producers to see Paulsen. It was decided that when the show went on the air in January of 1967.

Tom had planned to do weekly editorials, but when it became apparent that this wasn't his thing, a brief audition made it equally apparent that it might be Pat's. The first Paulsen editorial aired drew 4,000 letters, and Pat's image became a weekly fixture on the home screens. His subjects ranged from the war on poverty ('We can win the war on poverty by shooting 400 beggars a week'), to sex education ('I am opposed to sex education in the schools. Let kids today learn it where we did—in the gutter'), and requests for copies averaged 15,000 a week. The non sequiter had at last come into its own! So much so, in fact, that Pat was a recipient of an Emmy for the 1967-68 season.

When rumors started flying as to his candidacy for President, he tried to dispel them, saying 'I have not only denied it to nationwide audiences on television, but spent considerable time and expense travelling around the country, visiting and subsidizing groups of loyal supporters who deny it too.' But, people paid no attention, and he finally told himself, 'I owe it to my country.' He reached this decision despite warnings from veteran political observers that America was not ready for such dynamic and decisive leadership.

Fully aware that, no matter what the outcome, he would remain 'a common, ordinary, simple savior of America's destiny', he did demand the accoutrements that accompany such a campaign. He insisted upon a testimonial dinner, and Campaign Manager Tom Smothers saw to it that he had not one but two—an 89¢-a-plate bash at Beverly Hills' Ontra Cafeteria and another at New York's Horn & Hardart Automat, complete with such fellow politicians as Jesse Unruh, Alan Cranston, and Paul O'Dwyer, and enough celebrities to turn the other presidential candidates green with envy.

Following his narrow defeat to President Nixon, Pat returned to television with regular guest star appearances on CBS-TV's 'Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour,' 'The Carol Burnett Show,' and a host of other shows. But then—Pat arose from his tub one morning, looked at himself in the full-length mirror and reached an inevitable conclusion. HE could lead America onward to an increased awareness of physical fitness. HE pursued this theme doing such spectacular feats as rowing across Lake Michigan; climbing the highest mountain in Kansas; and running in the famed Boston Marathon. The Marathon proved much to his liking as he covered the 26-mile course in a new record of seventy-one hours and thirty-five minutes. Upon reaching the finish line he learned that the winner preceded him only by some sixty-nine hours.

Now in great shape, Pat became the star of his own series, 'Pat Paulsen's Half A Comedy Hour,' on the ABC television network. But politics remained in his blood and late in 1971 he decided to enter the New Hampshire Primary as a Republican candidate for the presidency.

Many thought that this decision meant another satirical campaign, but the voters of the Granite state soon learned otherwise as Pat canvassed New Hampshire's two congressional districts for registered Republicans to sign his nominating petitions. The necessary thousand voters signed the official papers and Pat was a legitimate candidate for the nation's highest office...so much so in fact...that the Federal Communications Commission ruled that any appearance by Pat on television would require equal time for other candidates, a decision that forced NBC-TV to delay telecasting of Pat's guest hosting of 'Walt Disney's Mouse Factory' program. This ruling prevented Pat from appearing on other entertainment shows.

For two months leading up to election night, Pat campaigned throughout New Hampshire on the vital issues facing America today—Vietnam, the economy, the plight of the minorities, education and fair housing—all of which struck a responsive chord with the people and soon other Republican candidates, and many Democratic contenders too, were forced to speak to these issues...with facts rather than tired old political rhetoric.

Though he lost to President Nixon, he proved that even without vast sums of money, huge staffs and well-oiled political machines, anyone with courage and conviction can run for the presidency—a fact that too many Americans have forgotten.

Following the election, Pat wrote a book on 'How To Wage A Successful Campaign For The Presidency', which was recently published by the Nash Publishing Company. It provides any citizen with a perfect guide on how to win a political campaign and Pat hopes it will inspire other average Americans to run for office.

Besides his lecture tour, Pat has guest starred in two 'Bobby Darin Amusement Correlation' 'Bobby Darin Amusement Company' shows and also starred in the legitimate theater versions of 'Anything Goes,' and 'Three Men On a Horse.'

HAWK'S NEST

5814 Oleander Drive

SPAGHETTI NIGHT

every thursday

77¢

spaghetti, salad, rolls

Live Bands
Fri., and Sat. Nights

799-5880

FALL CLOTHING SPECTACULAR

Dresses by Patricia Fair, Cassee, Jo Jr., and By George

Love and Kisses Pantsuits sizes 5/6 to 15/16

Tops and Bottoms by Bobbie Brooks

Coordinate Sweaters

Now at

TALLY HO FASHIONS

5559 Oleander Drive

Math Club meets

An organizational meeting for the Math Club was held Thursday, Sept. 6. President Ben Hooks presided and remaining officers were elected as follows: Vice-president-Zach Cox; Secretary - Kathy Payne; Treasurer - Ava Eads.

Plans for the up-coming year were discussed. The major topic of discussion was the club's application for a chapter of Pi Mu Epsilon, the national honorary society for mathematics majors. This will bring the 2nd honorary society to the campus of UNCW.

Other plans for the year include dinner meetings with a program following, a possible field trip to TUC and various parties. A "Mingle" is planned for Thursday, September 20 at 4:30 in the upstairs room of the Pub. Anyone interested in joining the Math Club is urged to attend. The purpose of the "Mingle" is to give interested persons a chance to meet present members and faculty. The meeting will be very informal and refreshments will be served.

Several members of the club will be involved in the tutoring on campus and in the county. A schedule of on-campus tutoring will be published. Anyone desiring private tutoring can contact anyone on the math faculty.

COOPER DIRECTS LIBRARY SERVICES

Lenox Gore Cooper, Jr. joined the faculty and administrative staff as Director of Library Services on September 10. Miss Helen Hagan, Librarian since 1964, will retire on October 1.

A native of Wilmington, Cooper earned his A.B. degree in English and his Master's degree in Library Science at UNC-Chapel Hill. Prior to his appointment at UNC-W he was Assistant Director of Libraries for Technical Services at the Joint University Libraries, Nashville, Tennessee.

Fall hoop schedule set

VARSITY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

11/30	East Carolina	Greenville
12/8	NC Wesleyan	Rocky Mount
12/15	Fayetteville State	home
12/19	Muskingum College (Ohio)	home
1/5	Francis Marion	Florence, SC
1/8	High Point	High Point
1/10	Methodist	Fayetteville
1/12	Pfeiffer	home
1/14	Atlantic Christian	home
1/16	Gulford	Greensboro
1/19	Pembroke State	Pembroke
1/22	Hampton Institute	home
1/24	Shaw University	home
1/26	Elon College	home
1/30	High Point	home
2/2	Shaw University	Raleigh
2/6	Campbell	home
2/8	Hampton Institute	Hampton, Va.
2/11	Pembroke State	home
2/13	Atlantic Christian	Wilson
2/16	Gulford	home
2/18	Campbell	Buile's Creek
2/21	Elon College	Elon College
2/23	Pfeiffer	Misenheimer
2/25	Francis Marion	home

*ALL HOME GAMES AT 7:30 p.m.

ARTICLE ACCEPTED FOR PUBLICATION

"Improved Reading with Improved Treatment of Children" by Dr. Paz I. Bartolome of the Department of Education will be published in the February 1974 issue of CHILDHOOD EDUCATION.

Dr. Bartolome's article is a partial report on a research project she is conducting with the cooperation of the Southeastern Mental Health Center, the Family Service Travelers Aid Society and the Head Start Program. Her research is being funded under a grant from the N.C. Department of Mental Health.

VARSITY SOCCER SCHEDULE

1973

DATE	OPPONENT	SITE	TIME
Thursday, Sept. 20	Campbell Classic Tournament	Buile's Creek, N.C.
Friday, Sept. 21
Monday, Sept. 24	The Citadel	Wilmington, N.C.	3:30 p.m.
Thursday, Sept. 27	Duke University	Wilmington, N.C.	3:30 p.m.
Saturday, Sept. 29	N. C. Wesleyan College	Rocky Mount, N.C.	2:00 p.m.
Tuesday, Oct. 12	Atlantic Christian College	Wilmington, N.C.	3:30 p.m.
Monday, Oct. 8	N. C. State University	Raleigh, N.C.
Wednesday, Oct. 10	Pembroke State University	Pembroke, N.C.
Saturday, Oct. 13	High Point College	Wilmington, N.C.	2:00 p.m.
Wednesday, Oct. 17	St. Andrews College	Laurinburg, N.C.
Saturday, Oct. 20	Lynchburg College	Lynchburg, N.C.
Wednesday, Oct. 24	Campbell College	Wilmington, N.C.	3:30 p.m.
Saturday, Oct. 27	Methodist College	Fayetteville, N.C.
Thursday, Nov. 8 & Friday, Nov. 9	District 29 Playoffs

Budweiser.

KING OF BEERS.

When you say
Budweiser,
you've said it all!

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

799-3950 Oleander Drive

Cinema 1
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

HELD OVER

5th Week

"WALKING TALL is the best American movie so far this year Truly extraordinary action film."
Jon Landau THE ROLLING STONE

Based on the powerful and true story of Tennessee Sheriff Buford Pusser.

JOE DON BAKER
ELIZABETH HARTMAN
COLOR

WALKING TALL

SHOWS 1:30-3:40-5:50-8:00-10:10

Cinema 2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

NOW PLAYING

A Hammer Entertainment Production
DONALD SUTHERLAND
JENNIFER O'NEILL

"LADY ICE"

PG

SHOWS
1:30-3:30-
5:30-7:30-9:30

Colony
WILMINGTON, N.C.

STARTS
THURSDAY

Theatre of Blood

799-5710 Long Leaf Mall

Cinema 1

STARTS
THURSDAY

"HARRY IN YOUR POCKET!"

JAMES COBURN
TRISH VAN DEVERE

SHOWS
1:30-3:30
5:30-7:30
9:30

IF YOU ONLY HAVE EYES FOR HER...

Cinema 2

STARTS
THURSDAY

The ultimate
in Martial Arts
adventure!

BRUCE LEE
JOHN SAXON

Enter
The Dragon

PG

SHOWS
2-4-6-8-10

Ballay
WILMINGTON, N.C.

STARTS
THURSDAY

The Legend of HELL HOUSE

ALL SEAT'S $1.00 TIL 2:30 EXCEPT SUNDAY IN ALL CINEMAS!

To the editor:

I think the bookstore should go back to keeping later hours - say 4:30.

The current closing time, 3:30, is not convenient for many students, and because UNC-W is getting larger, a lot of students have late afternoon classes.

Zorie S. Brown

ATTENTION ALL WOMEN STUDENTS

Dolphin
Bookshop

Long Leaf Mall
Open Mon. --- Sat. 10 - 9

* JOURNEY TO IXTLAN$2.95

by Carlos Castaneda

This book is the record of Castaneda's initiation into the mysteries of sorcery-of becoming "a man of knowledge"-at the hands of one of the most remarkable personalities ever to emerge from anthropological investigation-Don Juan. Castaneda has written in Journey to Ixtlan a book that is destined, like its predecessors, to be an enduring classic.

"Books are our only business, not a sideline."

Greek Panhellenic invites you to an Icebreaker on Wednesday, September 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the Bandroom at Kenan Building. Wear casual clothing. See ya' there!

Welcome Back UNC-W Students!

We'd like to introduce you new students and reintroduce you who were with us last year to our pizza.

Take this buck to the Pizza Hut nearest you and get a dollar off on any large Pizza Hut Pizza or 50c off on any small pizza. Good at 3406 Market Street or 4016 Oleander Drive locations.

BRING THIS COUPON

(offer expires September 30, 1973)

BRING THIS COUPON

PIZZA HUT UNRESERVED NOTE

PIZZA HUTS OF WILMINGTON

Limit 1 Pizza Hut
Dollar per pizza
Offer may be withdrawn at any time without notice.

Redeemable with the purchase
of any LARGE-SIZE PIZZA
at 4016 OLEANDER DR.
799-3650
3406 MARKET ST.
763-3418
Pizza Hut Pete
PIZZA HUT PETE

ONE PIZZA HUT-BUCK

ONE

ONE

seahawk

vol. xvi, number 5

september 26, 1973

sixteen pages

LEADERSHIP

"Dr. Jim" conducted the Friday-Saturday workshop which spilled over into last Friday night. Slager, a psychological counselor for the UNC-W Counseling and Testing Center, was pleased with the response to the workshop, which was planned by Slager and Director of Student Activities Linda Moore.

Left to right, Marian Saffo, Jane Guest, Tom Buttke, Debbie Lewis, Linda Moore, Beth Hicks, Keith Hales, Marian Gibson, and Wes Knappe were among the participants in the leadership workshop.

Tom Buttke, Fledgling editor, found the workshop much different than he expected.

PHOTOS BY NAUMA DOZIER

Butch Pegram states that a primary key to interpersonal communication is a rational approach.

Pam Welsh, left, discusses communication in leadership as Woody Deyton listens.

Beth Hicks and Wes Knappe listen.

Marian Gibson makes an enthusiastic point. She is one of the participants in the leadership workshop who feels that the discussions bring about dramatic improvements in interpersonal relationships.

communication · organization · dedication

Faces of opinion

Seahawk roving photographer Nauma Dozier recently interviewed students on campus concerning the upcoming city council elections, and the two students who will be competing for seats on the city governing board.

Butch Pegram will vie for the Mayor's seat against Incumbent Mayor Brand. Chuck Kalaf will be competing for one of the council seats.

'What do you think of students running for city offices and do you think there is any advantage in having a younger person fill these positions?' the students were asked.

Paula Willis-it's fine if they are capable. There are some really old tyrants in city hall. Young people have to start somewhere and this might get kids to come out and vote for someone they can relate to Rick Garner-If they have the qualifications, age has nothing to do with it. There's an advantage in getting young people interested in what's going on and running also.

Paula Huyett-There are advantages in that a young person could give the city new ideas. There could be disadvantages in that an inexperienced person might make a wrong decision, making things worse than before.

Lyn Wagoner-A young person might not have as much experience, but he'd have new approaches.

James Robinson - We need young ideas. More young people might be interested in voting. A disadvantage might be the lack of experience.

Margaret Monroe-It's good to get a representative from the young - If they're able to vote, they're able to run. There is an advantage in having a young person run, since we'll run the city later, we should start now. A disadvantage might be that the older people won't listen.

seahawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north-carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 791-8055.

editor: kathi beall
associate editors: beth hicks, cummins
a. mebane
advertising director: barry asbury photographers: nauma dozier, jeannie lovelace

greek lines editor: rocky lane moore
supportive staff: sharon davis, susan lewis, j.k. muhlman, anne nesbit, darlene pearson
adviser: ms. linda moore
mast head design: bert beall

Volunteer help needed in 55 agencies

by beth hicks,
associate editor

Voluntary Action Center, located at 815 Murchison Building in downtown Wilmington, has been functioning since the first of April this past year.

The center has approximately 55 agencies who have requested volunteer help adding up to more than 100 different situations involving work with young children, handicapped children, adults and senior citizens. Needed also are people with a means of transportation for taking an elderly person to the doctor.

The programs didn't involve college students until this fall when students enrolled at UNC-W.

"It's a little too early to tell, but the response from the students at the college has been great," says Sue Colson, director of VAC. "Students can call me directly at the center (762-9611) or they can work with Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities.

A lot of volunteers have come from the Sociology and Psychology clubs, who volunteer not only to be helpful, but also for experimental and research work. Mrs. Colson said there is a need for math and science students and others interested in tutoring youngsters from the 5th grade up in math and reading.

"The biggest problem is the hours a student could work. He would have to work around his schedule to suit himself," Mrs. Colson asserts. "Most of our volunteers work on a regular basis of 1-3 hours a week, either in the mornings, afternoons, or on Saturdays depending on the program and the student's schedule."

One program the center is working on is the Big Brother program. The center is interested in recruiting blacks who want to work with little brothers. The volunteers would plan activities and spend time with their little brothers. This would involve 6-8 children between the ages of 6 and 14. The center has planned some initial workshops to get the program going.

"Many of these children don't have fathers, and we try to work with younger children, since more can be accomplished with them. They usually have a strong desire and need and are eager for all kinds of personal contact," Mrs. Colson adds.

The Girls Club and Boys Club are looking for people with skills in the arts.

These are only two of the organizations that contact the center when they need volunteer services. Other work available would be light office work such as receptionist duties, answering telephones, etc. There are many more openings for students interested in volunteering.

"We are close to being an employment agency," Mrs. Colson exclaims. The center is related to the National Center for Voluntary Action.

"Our job is to discover what the student or volunteer wants to do and then find the situation for him, one that he can enjoy. The program is successful and there are many satisfied volunteers."

Ms. Moore's office acts as campus liason for VAC

"There is a great need for volunteers. There are a lot of people who can benefit from doing volunteer work not only because of the experience of working with an adolescent mind or adults, but for their own personal good."

"I act as the liason between the VAC office downtown and the students here at the university," quips Ms. Linda Moore, director of Student Activities. "Most people have the notion that volunteer work means committing yourself forever. It's not. Most of these agencies desperately need people and as little as an hour a week is welcome."

Check into the positions needed below:

Chestnut Street School (7th & 8th Grade Center) Music classes are in need of volunteers to work with 7th and 8th graders who are studying different types of instruments such as the guitar, trumpet, etc. The classes are an hour long in the mornings. YOU DON'T NEED MUCH MUSIC EXPERIENCE. (You would be more or less helping the teacher.) Also, students are needed one hour twice a month from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. to work with school clubs such as ecology club, coin, drama, macrame, tennis, photography, yoga, and chess. The Spotlight Club is for kids who want to gain stage poise with whatever they're doing. These clubs do have advisers, so this would be a matter of lending a helping hand.

GIRLS' CLUB

Elementary school age children taking arts and crafts after school every day need someone to work with. On Saturday afternoons there are bowling and basketball ball activities for girls in the 7th, 8th, and 9th grades.

YMCA

The Y is sponsoring a swim program for handicapped children every morning (school age children). Also need someone to help set up a program for girls in grades 3-6 meeting Fridays from 3:30 - 5 p.m. Working under the supervision of a director, you would help determine the program and carry it out. Two semester commitment needed.

Parks & Rec

Recreation aides are needed to work with the supervisors at the various recreation centers, open from 2-9 p.m., Monday thru Friday. Any time available is welcome.

SELF IMPROVEMENT

Government funded program to help kids who have been in trouble with the law. People range in age up to 21. Volunteers are needed to teach the Laubach method of reading. (Don't panic! There will be a workshop beforehand to introduce you to the method.) Needed 1 hour a week for a two semester commitment.

Board of Education

Tutors to work with 5-12 graders under the supervision of a professional teacher in one of six centers in the county. Centers are open Monday - Thursday from 6 to 8 p.m. You may work out your own schedule.

"Volunteer work doesn't have to be on a 1-1 basis," remarks Ms. Moore. "You can work with clubs, organizations or groups. Or a club, sorority, fraternity or group could volunteer."

Interested parties should contact Ms. Moore in the Student Services Bldg. (Pub) if they wish more information or volunteer.

"Does he love me . . .
or is he intrigued by my
Newell's
SPORTSWEAR?"

NEW GIRL
WHATS-IN-A-NAME
SPRING CHICKEN
MODERN JUNIOR
BOBBIE BROOKS
RINGALEEVEEO
and many more.

SPERRY
TOP SIDERS
complete line
for ladies and men

Newell's Ltd.

SPORTS &
CASUAL WEAR

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK 9A.M. - 9P.M.

The Happy Shopping Place on Wrightsville Beach

Pass
the JUG
WINE

dist. by Homer Baker Co.
Wilmington N.C.

POTPOURRI

what's happening

Club notices and other relative info will be published in the calendar. Bring the info to the Seahawk office no later than Thursday at 5 p.m. prior to the date of publication.

WEDNESDAY

7 p.m.--SAILING and ROWING CLUB meets in room A-204 of the administration building. All those interested are asked to attend.

THURSDAY

1:30 a.m.--SPANISH CLUB will hold a luncheon meeting in the cafeteria. Meet in room K-103. Interested students are welcome.

11:30 a.m.--PSYCH CLUB meeting will be held in room 211 of the Education Psychology building.

SUNDAY

1 p.m.--CAPE FEAR CYCLISTS meet at Emple Park behind Sears on Oleander Drive for their afternoon ride. Anyone with a bike is urged to come for the outings.

3 p.m.--What is ECKANKAR? An informative talk on this subject will be given in the upstairs room of the PUB. (There is a complete set of books in the library on this subject.)

Shoney's
"HOME OF THE BIG BOY"
4010 MARKET STREET

Complete Selection On Our Menu!
OPEN--
7 a.m. - 12 p.m. Monday - Thursday
7 a.m. - 2 a.m. Friday & Saturday

Try Our Strawberry Pie

BLAKE'S T.V. & APPLIANCE
251 South Kerr Ave.

8 track tapes
3000 in stock!!!
$3.88
If it's on tape, we've got it.

COMPONENT STEREO, SPEAKERS,
TAPE DECKS, CAR STEREO
791-1078

your's broken?
we repair
all models!

LIFE CYCLES

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER
4209 Oleander Drive
798-5770
Mon. - Thurs. Fri. Sat.
10-6 10-9 10-4

NEW STUFF
Sweetest Day Cards (Oct. 20) Pretty Good Lighters
at the Bookstore
superboxes
T-shirts
Lovely Posters (and crazies)
Fuzzy Animals
Funky Playing Cards

LAPARISSE
$500 TO $10000

Shop Hanover Center
Long Leaf Mall - til 9 P.M.

Mills
Keepsake
JEWELERS
20 N. Front St. - 763-4590
Hanover Center - 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall - 799-5510

HAWK'S NEST
5814 Oleander Drive

SPAGHETTI NIGHT
every thursday
77¢
spaghetti, salad, rolls

Live Bands
Fri., and Sat. Nights
799-5880

Sav-A-Lot
SUPER DISCOUNT STORE
1053 S. College Road
9 A.M. - 8 P.M. 6 Days

Gillette TRAC II Razors
our everyday low price-- $1.78
mfg. sugg. price-$2.95

Everyday Low Price
CIGARETTES 239
100's 2.49 CTN. plus tax

ATLANTIS PREVIEW

• • • • •
The Atlantis is proud to present a sneak peek of what this year's magazine will look like. We hope to feature something for everybody! After all, this is a student magazine, so we want you to enjoy it! Be sure to submit your short stories, poems and art before november 1.

And now, ATLANTIS presents, for the first time in any medium, a wit of mind-boggling, stupi - uh - stupendous cupidity and a remarkable, if somewhat erratic, genius. He is a man of insight, wit and other a bstract nouns. We proudly present -What? - OK Leigh - anyway, we present the eclectic meanderings of Jeffrey Infirmin.

It's a long way from Madison Avenue to UNC-W. Don't get me wrong, God forbid!

-ref. choich-
I really appreciate the job. But I was once promotion agent for some of the biggest magazines in the country. Why I hooked one of the biggest advertising accounts ever-it was for apple pie (I forget which kind though).

-ref. apple pie-
Then television came along. We were holding our own against movies then- wham! - television comes along and everybody stops reading. Oh, we fought for a while - started using more pictures and catchy cartoons. Even that didn't stop our readers from deserting. And if that wasn't bad enough, the PR men started shifting sides to join up with the TV people.

Well, I finally made the move too.

Talked it over with mom.
-ref. mom. See, kids ya gotta lay on the schmaltz, gang; mom, apple pie, choich, cough, cough. Make sure dey start feelin guilty bout lettin dose poor ole magazines die.-

She said I should go ahead and make my father roll over in his grave (he was a printer).

-Gotta establish dem roots - middle class or low class even - appeal to da soul of da people.-

-Shouldn't you get to the point before the people stop reading? -Gettin dere, gettin dere. Gotta make it artistic, cough, ya see? Now where was dis narration at? And don't give me dat smart-ass proposition answer. I heard enuff a dose kind a answers from da college punks on da Avenue.-
-You were talking about your mother.-

Pardon me, yes, my mother, God rest her soul.

-See, dere's anudder choich reference.-

-Awright, awready, get on with the Plan.-

Yeah, well. So father rolled over in his grave and I went to make the Madison Avenue cats quake in their Bostonians. But things didn't go so well. I just couldn't get a handle on this new medium. Some people can adjust, you know? And some people were born too old.

-See, ya gotta get thaudience?

be pullin for ya. Everybody's suckers for a loser. Paythos is what Jimmy da Greek calls it. Ya know - sorta like scratch-in yore own eyeballs out.-

-Yeah, we know but get to the Plan! You're hogging up the whole page. AND you can't type either!-

Right, well it's hard to admit failure.

-More paythos makes da odds better cordin ta Jimmy.-

-(----?)-

-OK OK, here's da plan comin up.-

So I went back to magazines. I moved a step down the old circulation ladder, and then another, as all of the grand and glorious magazines died an unread death. Now the last refuge of reading lies here within the hallowed walls of academia.

-What?-

-Shuddup. Da music comes up here. I tink a little America da Beautiful will go good.-

Now what we need to do first is to tell the students what we're here for.

-What are we here for?-

-Boy yose guys is dumb. No wonder nobody reads your magazine. Yore da extension of students body's- voices an eyenears.-

We must chart a course of light through the perilous void of ignorance.

We must honor and cherish the basic building block of this great nation - the search for truth - no matter how big a lie it is. And in our never ending quest for knowledge we must always be aware of what truths our contemporaries are finding.

-Hoo boy! We just wanted to put out a little magazine. We didn't want to be the last bastion of democracy.-

-It's part a da game dummies! Soch fa truth is anudder woid for checkin out da competition, see?-

-No, but go on.-

We must desimminate this knowledge for the betterment of those around us both in the University community and in our larger global community.

-Jeezus, man! You're off your rocker. We can't even give away five hundred copies. What do you mean, global?-

-Not ta worry. Ya get students to show what dey been doin, right??

N everybody knows somebody what goes ta college. An den da townfolk outta curiosity looks ta see what tha wierd college cats are into. Dey gotta keep up wid da competition too, right? Den if da foist copy's any good - Whammo! Ya gottem hooked.-

-Yeah, but how do we get people to read the first copy?

-Dat's easy. Da very croix of da Plan. Ya put out a sample!

Show da peeps what da foist 'zeen gonna look like.-

-Aha! Then students might come to us and contribute something.

A-and we could publicize our first mag with it! We could show it to prospective patrons, maybe even go on TV.-

-GAAAAAAHHH! Don't say tee-vee to a magazine PR man.-

-Sorry.-

We are always interested in the world at large and naturally hope the world at large is interested in us.

And in conclusion may I ask that you please support these kids' magazine and you in the student body, if for no other reason than compassion for a down-and-out soul, please support your magazine. There's nowhere left for this humble PR man to go. God bless!

-A-hee! hee! Dat's my biggiee! Maybe dat'll get some help for yose guys.

If da students know someone who's got da creepin aesthetics bout his or her body den maybe dey'll come let ya know. Or at least come a n wolk for da magazine. Uh-one more ting. Dis promo sheet. I gotta great idea for a column.-
-Column? Why a column in a literary magazine?-

-See, ya gotta have somethin everybody know is gonna be in every issue dat dey will like.-

-How do you know everyone will like it.-

-Don't. But lemme tell ya bout da idea, bout dis down an out PR man see...

Jeffrey Infirmin (hic!)

VARIATIONS ON A BATHTUB RING

$1...

Ed Danilowicz

We wonder what archeologists several hundred years hence will think when they uncover gems like this around old newspaper offices.

PORTRAIT

1

She stands expectant eyed,
Waiting for some certainty
She was deceived into believing would announce itself,
Like an overripe peach hanging Potential and heavy on a yellowing tree
Awaiting the overwhelming thunder-clap
Of autumn - - to fall.

PORTRAIT

3

He sits among the empty boxes,
The ~~concrete~~ ruins of limited mountains,
Gazing into vacancy
As if it were a prophetic vision.
His thoughts have settled like dust.
On the polished marble floor
And the blank-white mural walls.
He is

Lost

Lost

In wondering if couldn't Might have been the word for didn't.

Photographs by Steve Vallender

IT'S FUNNY WHEN I LOOK BACK ON IT NOW
ALL THE SMILES, AND STYLES, AND PILES OF BOOKS,
SOMEHOW, WHEN I WAS THERE
I NEVER THOUGHT I'D MISS IT.
SO WHY IS THERE THIS ACHING IN MY HEART?

Jane Houghtalen

93...

PROLOGUE TO BOOK IV

The faces
The beat
Moving
Noisy in the restaurants
And the streets,
The walkers, the talkers
The poets
Writing on napkins
Where the lights are of colors
Iridescent
Pulsating with life
The hands moving
With words of motion
Matching the mouth
Open with syllables
Pouring out.

The girls came in
And boys watch them
Eyes traveling, touching Skittering down to the floor
Cigarette smoke undulating
In bright blue gray streamer
Floating shining in the light

The highways, cars
And restaurants,
The beaches, movies
And bars,
Life poured out in rich
Colors of movement
Bouncing between the beat
Following its weaving
One lonely face in the corner
Tears and beer
One long white cigarette streaming
Smoke watched
With empty hurting dull eyes of ache.

Kisses through the long darkness
Moving wheels
Waiting through the long greyneess
For blasted colors
Scintillating out in kaliedescope patterns
Weaving in time
For precious seconds of diamond feelings,
Follow me
Look close and maybe you'll see Yourself free
Or at least enjoying the full pleasures
Of your prison.

-DAVID CREWS

* DON'T FORGET *
* THE ATLANTIS' *
* PROSE AND POETRY *
* CONTEST! IT'S NOT *
* FOR THE STAFF, IT'S *
* FOR THE STUDENT * * BODY, DAMMIT! *

COLLAGE ON COLLEGE

Young Jon a Nathan Pondered the halls and walls of eloquent
With slide rule gulls.
He mused of blond smiles
And
High in steamboat skies
He vaulted courts and fields
Pausing in the metered Rhymes of Rockless Time.
Young Jon played tennis philosophy
And hunted educational codes,
Modes of remiss.
Jon?
Where is your literary brine,
Where is your liberty,
What is your fine?

Jean Bryan

Miss Hagan retires Oct. 1

Miss Helen Hagan, head librarian at UNC-W for the past nine years, will end a 43-year career in library service on Oct. 1 when her retirement becomes effective.

Appointed to the post in 1964, Miss Hagan was immediately faced with the challenge of converting a junior college collection into a library capable of supporting a senior college curriculum. It was also during this period that the institution was being evaluated for accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, and one of the most critical criteria for obtaining the accreditation was that the library's resources be adequate for sustaining a 4 year program of studies.

When Miss Hagan came to the Wilmington campus in 1964, the library was housed in a single wing of the administration building and consisted of one large room with space for 200 readers and a book capacity of 32,000 volumes. The card catalog listed only 16,000 volumes at the time.

In January 1969, she supervised the library's move into its own building which features 63,000 square feet of floor space, a seating capacity of 600, and a book capacity of 200,000 volumes. The card catalog today lists 102,000 volumes.

A native of Sylvania, Ga., Miss Hagan received her BA degree from Georgia State College for Women and earned her BS in Library Science at Peabody College for Teachers. Her Master's degree in Library Science was conferred by the School of Library Service, Columbia University.

She began her professional career in 1930 as assistant librarian in charge of circulation and reference at Georgia State College for Women. From 1936 to 1941 she was librarian at Judson College in Alabama. She left that position to become librarian at Coker College in Hartsville, S. C. From 1954 to 1964, she was an assistant professor and assistant director of the Division of Librarianship at Emory University in Atlanta, Ga. She has also served as a visiting lecturer at Appalachian State University during the summer sessions.

Miss Hagan plans to maintain her home in Wilmington, but will also spend a great deal of time in Sylvania with her mother, Mrs. C. E. Hagan.

Campus jobs available for qualified students *****

by cummins a. mebane,
associate editor

In a previous issue, a story was presented on jobs available to students primarily through the placement center. In this issue, the possibilities of work available on campus will be examined.

Through the Student Financial Aid Office, prospective students have an opportunity to work in various jobs around the university. These fall under two categories which are Work-study and Work-assistance programs. The former is federally funded and constitutes the greatest number of positions, while the latter is state funded and somewhat limited.

In order to qualify for one of these programs, a student must fill out an application for aid and a confidential financial statement. After doing so, a student's need must be determined before he or she may be placed in a job.

The first step necessary is to contact Larry W. Crowder, Director of Student Financial Aid, and arrange an interview with him. The particular area of interest is heavily considered as there are jobs available in almost every area of work from library work to lab assistants.

A student working in one of these programs is paid $1.80 an hour and may work from one to a maximum of fifteen hours.

This is the first year all departments have employed student help.

A student interested should contact Crowder immediately as there are about 175 positions, many of which will be available by next semester.

Another source of work on campus is janitorial in the Student Services Building. Ms. Linda Moore is the person to see about this.

Janitors are paid $1.83 per hour, and they usually work eight hours a day.

Still another source of employment is the UNC-W police. Chief Brantley Dillon hires qualified students for particular events, and part-time student help during the school year. A prospective job candidate must pass an exam given by the State Department of Justice in order to qualify. Interested students should contact Chief Dillon.

IF YOU WANT TO KNOW

DON'T READ THIS

A daily list of events will soon appear on most bulletin boards around campus. Giving basic details like dates, times and sponsors of events, it should prove to be a useful addition to our communication system.

TODAY, as the bulletin is titled, will be compiled by Bill Williams, Resident Director at the Dormitory, and several work-study students. It will be distributed by various students volunteering a few minutes each day.

News items may be phoned to Williams at Ext. 301 between 10 a.m. and noon on Monday through Friday. The campus mail may also be used at other times.

Students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to submit news items. Club and committee meetings as well as information regarding special events will be solicited.

Events will be listed in TODAY up to three days in advance.

Call TODAY today!

Life only happens once. You get no second chances. So you go for all the gusto there is. Sometimes you can even taste it.

When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

fall fever?

Community Shopping Center on Oleander Drive across from Cape Fear Ford

17th Street Extension next to New Hanover Hospital

We have the cure!

PARTY DELIGHTS

Wilmington's Discourse Beverage Center

Radio Station to air

After years of silence on your dial, you'll soon be able to pick up progressive radio in the Wilmington area.

Shooting to be on the air at at the start of next semester, the station is still in its infancy. Mark Silver, the station manager, has been with radio and recording arts for the past four years. He says he still needs loads of help (working bodies) and fresh ideas. If you would like to help bring decent, non-commercial radio to the Wilmington area, you can contact Mark at 256-3861, or the assistant manager Jon Baker, room 214 in the Residence Hall, at 791-9935.

This is a real opportunity to get in on the ground floor of something new and exciting on the campus, —Jon Baker

If you've got the time, we've got the beer.

Miller

Psych club turns room into mixer

The Psychology Club has turned the psych lab on the second floor of the ed-psych building into a "mixer room", according to club president Dick Crawford. The purpose of the project is to have a place where students can come in, have a cup of coffee and a snack, and rap for a while.

Tutorial services will also be available for students needing help with the social sciences.

"This is the first time anything like this has been done with a classroom at UNC-W," remarked Crawford. "It will take about a month for the students to catch on."

FOR THOSE WHO LIKE FINE DINING

BALLARDS RESTAURANT

QUIET FAMILY ATMOSPHERE

STEAK • SEAFOOD • BARBQ CHICKEN

3917 Market Street
(U.S. 17 North)

Wilmington's Family Restaurant

Rex Ballard

Crystal Meares

★ IN PERSON ★

CONCERT

UNC-W's KENAN AUDITORIUM
FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5
8 p.m.

STUDENTS $1 (Limit 1 per ID)
TICKETS & RESERVATIONS MAY
BE MADE AT THE AUDITORIUM
(2-5p.m.) 791-0886

OPEN 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

FOUR-TELL CORNER

4405 wrightsville ave.

Bottoms Tops Incense
Jewelry Belts Headgear
Organic Oils
Shampoos and Lotions
Albums Top-siders Waterbeds

★ Professional Service At A Price You Can Afford

kar-kare Service Center

4207 Oleander Drive
Complete Parts & Accessories
Professional Trained Personnel

★ LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT
"We do it right...or we do it over."

kar-kare
4207 Oleander Drive
799-2770

BFGoodrich
TIRES
Super-Tuf Retroad

- Wheel Alignment
- Complete Front End Repairs
- Shock Absorbers
- Diagnostic Tune-Ups
- Brake Service
- Batteries

GABRIEL FARRICH
Owner
WAYNE SHANNON
Manager

How pleasant it is
to have money,
heigh-ho!
How pleasant it is
to have money.

The surest way to have money is to save money. And of course if you save money, you'll have even more money. Thanks to interest. We're coming soon to Oriole Drive and College Road and we hope you'll come in and talk about saving with us. After years of helping people save, we've learned how to make it rather pleasant.

First Union National
Watch for our opening.

Marine geology seminars set

"The Crisis on North Carolina Beaches" and "Marine Geology of the North Carolina Continental Margin" will be probed in two public seminars at UNC-W Sept. 27.

The geology seminar will be held from 10 to 11 a.m. in the auditorium of Arnold K. King Hall, and the crisis seminar will be held in the library auditorium from 2 to 3:30 p.m.

Presented as a public service for coastal residents, ecologists and engineers, the seminars are being sponsored by the university's Program in Marine Science and will feature Dr. Orrin H. Pilkey as seminar leader.

Dr. Pilkey is Professor of Geology at Duke University and also actively participates in research programs at Duke's Marine Laboratory.

His current research interests include "Sedimentation along the Carolina Continental Margin," "Destruction of North Carolina Beaches," "A Geological Investigation of the Caribbean Sea," and "Pollution and Sedimentation in the Lake of Tunis, Tunisia."

Author of more than 50 professional papers and articles, Dr. Pilkey has been associated with the University of Georgia, Sapelo Island, as a research associate and assistant professor and was a visiting professor at the University of Puerto Rico, Mayaguez, before joining the Duke faculty.

He earned his BS at Washington State University, his MS at Montana State University, and his Ph.D. at Florida State University.

Yes

Wachovia

LSAT slated

The Law School Admission Test is scheduled this semester for Oct. 20 and Dec. 15. The deadline for application for the October test is Sept. 28. An application form and information bulletin may be obtained from Dr. James Dixon, A-205H.

The Foreign Service Officer Examinations are administered only once each year. This year the exam will be given on Dec. 8. Application must be made by Oct. 31. For information see Dr. Dixon or Dr. S. S. Ahmad.

UNC-W

Class Rings

GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler
and Silversmiths

212 North Front Street

BUFFALO'S

DISCOUNT-BEVERAGES

COMPLETE GROCERY LINE
OVER 100 WINES
Less Than Convenient Store Prices
OVER 50 BEERS
From 15 Countries

5124 Oleander Drive

Located Across From The Bowling Center
Next To The Elks Club-Call 799-2000

OPEN 7 to 1 except Fri. & Sat.-till 2:00 A.M.

8-Track
Tapes 1.99

Carton Cigarettes
2.38 2.48
Reg 100's

Stop By and See
Roger-Bufferoe
You'll Be Glad You Did.

"Summer of '42"

October 1: 8 p.m.

Kenan Auditorium

'Surprise people / Serve

MICHELOB

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

MANOR THEATRE
A FULL-LENGTH FEATURE FILM
RE-CREATION OF THE 50's!

Chuck Berry
Little Richard Fats Domino
Chubby Checker
1st Bo Diddley
Run 5 Satins
The Shirelles
The Coasters
Danny and the Juniors
Special Guest Star
Bill Haley and the Comets

COLUMBIA PICTURES Presents
A METROMEDIA PRODUCERS CORPORATION PRODUCTION

Let The Good Times Roll

Now Showing
SHOWS at 9/27/73
1:20-3:15-5:10-7:05-9:00

HELD OVER
5th WEEK

799-3950 Oleander Drive
Cinema 1&2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

NOW
SHOWING

THIS YEAR'S
'BILLY JACK'

-Kevin Thomas, L.A. Times

WALKING TALL

A BCP Production
A series of C-10 Broadcasting Corp. Shows in Color

SHOWS 1:30-3:40-5:50-8:00-10:10

From
CLOCKWORK ORANGE'S
Malcom McDowell

OH LUCKY MAN

Songs by Alan Price

in color rated R

SHOWS 2:00-5:00-8:00

Starts
Thursday

799-5710 Long Leaf Mall
Cinema 1&2

Starts
Friday

Nothing is more important than friendship
Not fame, not money, not death.

From Brian's
Song
to Bang the drum slowly

SHOWS
2-4-6-8-10
PG

George Segal

Glenda
Jackson

in
A Touch Of Class

Technicolor® Panavision®
SHOWS
1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

Colony
COLOR

SANTEE
Starts
Thursday
GLENN FORD Starring in SANTEE
A Crown International Pictures, Inc. Release

Bayley
COLOR

Starts
Thursday

"LADY KUNG FU"
Color

ALL SEATS $1.00 TIL 2:30 EXCEPT SUNDAY IN ALL CINEMAS!

GREEK!

NOTE:
ALL FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES, PLEASE SUBMIT ITEMS FOR THE GREEK LINES COLUMN TO THE SEAHAWK BY THURSDAY BEFORE EACH TUESDAY PUBLICATION.

LOST & FOUND

PUB

NAVY "LIFE GUARD" JACKET
DENIM JACKET
KEYS

NOTEBOOKS AND TEXTX BELONGING TO:

TOM ALLEN
MAY BARBEE
CALVIN CASEY
GARY COX
JACQUELINE FLOYD
ELVA ANN HALES
GAIL JEFFORDS
JOANN LEWIS
MIKE LONG
JOHN SCHOOLFIELD
JOHN SMITH
PAT WADDELL

OTHER ASSORTED BOOKS & TEXTS

LOST:

WIRE RIM GLASSES
GREEN WALLET
GOLD ID BRACELET
BLUE KEY CASE

YEARBOOK

PHOTOS

WILL BE TAKEN UPSTAIRS

IN THE PUB

OCT. 1-5

THE PHOTOGRAPHERS WILL

ONLY BE ON CAMPUS ONE TIME

how's your P.E.N. life dearie?

Holsum THRIFT STORE

1055 S. College Road
(next to Sav-A-Lot)

BELOW RETAIL PRICES
ON

Breads, Cakes, Rolls, Donuts

COUPON!

FREE

1 pound loaf of BREAD with $1.00 purchase

PRESENT THIS COUPON

COUPON!

Crisis Line
763-3695

CLASSIFIEDS

65 Mustang, 6 cylinder, 3-speed, Chrome reversals. Repainted from last year. A Great Buy for only $600. Call 791-6364.

Stereo Components! Most Major Brands! 20 - 50% Off! All Fully Guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

Yes

Wachovia

"An English interior, though it hath no woor
Shewing forth Blackest carbide along
The path, or which the for human entrance
The red grapes in the sunny bank of song
Hath yet a parchment chase of chequer stones
The claret light and the Moders song
If Britain secure for blackness, we can tell her
The very best of vineyards in the valley
-Byron, Don Juan. II. LXXXV

'Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful'
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Win-A-Min
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Priggen
3342 Wrightville Ave. 791-9673

THERE'S A
VILLAGE INN
NEAR YOU

No matter where you live,
there's a Village Inn nearby
to custom-bake a delicious
pizza to your order.
Call ahead and have your pizza ready when you arrive.

Live
Music

Wednesday Night

Free Flicks
Every Night

3617 Market Street

*Where pizza is always
in good taste*

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry
Bags
Candles

Handmade Spreads
Embroidered Dresses

Belts
Leatherwork
Mexican Handicraft.

Headgear

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759 Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

seahawk

vol. xvi, number 6

October 3, 1973

twelve pages

PAT PAULSEN LOOKS at the 70's

Kenan Auditorium October 5 8 p.m.

SPONSOR - FINE ARTS COMMITTEE

What do you think of Pat Paulsen?

Pat Paulsen is coming to our campus Oct. 5 in Kenan Auditorium to speak about the 70's. What do you think of him and do you plan to go? (photos by neal huntley)

Anne Gibson-I might go. I like him because he's really funny and he acts so dumb.

Robin Kusilka-I'd like to go, to see what he's really like.

Libby Walton-I really would like to go if I weren't going home, I would love to go see him.

Annette Grady-I don't care that much about him, although he does have some interesting things to say. If I don't have to study, I'll go.

Arnold Rabes-I'm disappointed that I won't be able to go, he's one of my favorite comedians. I used to watch the Smothers Brothers just to see him.

Sheryl Moore-I like him; I'll go because I've never seen an honest politician before.

J.K. Muhleman-I think he's funny and I'm going to see him come hell or high water.

Seabawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 791-8055.

editor:kathi beal
associate editors: beth hicks, cummins a. mebane
advertising director: barry asbury photographers: nauma dozler, neal huntley, jeannie lovelace, j.k.muhleman

business manager: alan murphy
greek lines editor: rocky lane moore supportive staff: sharon davis, susan lewis, j.k.muhleman, anne nesbit, darlene pearsall advisor: ms. linda moore
mast head design: bert beall

TODAY

Math Club distributes TODAY this month

After sometimes lacking campus communication, another step forward has met with success as TODAY, the daily bulletin, made its maiden appearance on 25 bulletin boards all over campus this week.

TODAY is the result of a number of proposals made by a communications committee of the Student Affairs Committee last year.

The bulletin is being complied by Bill Williams, Resident Director at the dorm, and several work-study students. During October it is being distributed by members of the Math Club.

News items may be phoned to Williams at University extension 301 between 10 a.m. and noon Monday through Friday. Items may also be sent to him through campus mail.

Events will be listed in TODAY up to three days in advance.

The mast head for TODAY was designed by Anne Nesbit, UNC-W sophomore.

Students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to submit news items. Club and committee meeting announcements as well as information regarding special events is welcomed.

Pegram files for mayor

UNC-W student Butch Pegram has "thrown his hat" into the ring for the seat of Mayor of Wilmington. Butch will face incumbent Mayor Herbert Brand in the municipal election Oct. 9.

Pegram recently talked with the SEAHAWK concerning his candidacy. He said he was "very pleased" with the response he had received from older people. He felt that they were enthusiastic about his candidacy.

"I want students to vote for me," he stated, "but not just students. I want to be elected by everybody."

Pegram, a senior, will graduate in May with a degree in political science. He began college at Louisburg after returning from his 4-year commitment in the US Air Force.

He has been active in a number of government related functions both at Louisburg and UNC-W. Active in student government, he currently serves as Chief Justice of the Student Superior Court, chairman of the NCSL delegation from UNC-W and chief advisor to the SGA president's cabinet.

Pegram feels that he has the time necessary to give to the municipal office. "I have classes to go to, but a lot of the city officials are businessmen who do not have as much time as I do."

Honesty and dedication are two qualities which Pegram feels are necessary for a public servant, and he feels that he fills the bill on both counts. He also feels that his constituents should be free to call on him at any time, day or night. Availability is one of the most important factors involved with public office.

"People like leaders they can go up to on the street and talk to, discuss a problem with. I've seen leaders like that before, and I've seen the other kind (that resent being "bothered")." Pegram wants to be the one that "you can stop any time, just to talk, or to talk with when there's a problem."

Fairness is another thing that he would like to bring to city government. "I have no business ties, so there's no chance of special interests. I want to do what's the right thing for everyone involved."

He also feels that "everyone should be involved" in the operation of their city government. Too many decisions, he feels, are made when a few people with a special interest are present at a meeting with no one representing the opposing viewpoint.

Again he stresses that he does not want to be considered the "Youth" voice in city government. He wants to be the people's voice. And to be the people's man in city government, he urges everyone, from all races, all ages, all businesses, professions, and interests to vote Oct. 9.

"They do not love that do not show their love."

William Shakespeare

Choose Keepsake with complete confidence, because the famous Keepsake Guarantee assures a perfect engagement diamond of precise cut and superb color. There is no finer diamond ring.

Keepsake
REGISTERED DIAMOND RINGS

ELLIOT
$500 TO $10000

Shop Hanover Center
Long Leaf Mall - til 9 P.M.

Mills
Keepsake
JEWELERS

28 N. Front St. - 763-4590
Hanover Center - 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall - 799-5510

T-M Reg. A.H. Pond Co.

FALL CLOTHING SPECTACULAR

Dresses by Patricia Fair, Cassee, Jo Jr., and By George

Love and Kisses Pantsuits sizes 5/6 to 15/16

Tops and Bottoms by Bobbie Brooks

Coordinate Sweaters

Now at

TALLY HO FASHIONS

5559 Oleander Drive

HOW TO PLAN YOUR ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING

Send new 20 pg. booklet, "Planning Your Engagement and Wedding" plus full color folder and 44 pg. Bride's Book gift offer all for only 25¢. F-73

Name _____ (Please Print)

Address _____

City _____ Co. _____

State _____ Zip _____

KEEPSAKE DIAMOND RINGS, BOX 90, SYRACUSE, N.Y. 13201

Council candidate addresses students

To the editor:

I am submitting this letter to the student body regarding their most important role in the vast positive changes potentially upon us.

Dear students:

This letter is directed to those eligible to vote in the upcoming Wilmington municipal election and to those who are ineligible.

Recently a report that Wilmington paid $16,500 to have made regarding its management, plans and future potentials was published and the first 20 copies presented to the City Council. Those of you who have been reading the papers have some ideas about its content. While reconciliatory in tone, the multi-subject paper didn't have a whole lot of "pluses" for Wilmington's accomplishments and goals achieved.

By and large the report has repeatedly asserted and verified with cold, hard fact the failure of city government; the impotence of some of its members to give Wilmington any direction. Let me cite some examples of grave importance.

A) Wilmington's form of government is said to be

"manager-council". This means the council is supposedly the policy setting machine and the manager is the administrative officer. The report lets one know in no uncertain terms that the city manager is unable to get any measure of successful work done because of the incessant interference of the members of council. It even lets the council know that the council is not even clear itself on its existing policies. The council is, to say the least, in a bad way.

B) The City Council seems to be unaware of its own set of priorities. The various departments of the council are, for the most part, disorganized and will remain so without adequate, and positive leadership. Some of the depts. spoken of are Housing Authority, Urban Planning, Waterfront Projects, Historical District Committees; Dept. on Human Relations; Community Affairs Depts. The report suggests affirmative action that will equate people to people; action that will demonstrate leadership. Again the council is in left field!

C) The most damning part of the report was a section that alluded to problems whose ramifications are totally unpredictable. Are you ready? The City employees are apathetic! The report was able to talk frankly to a large number of the city employees. With the guarantee of anonymity, the employees admitted a tremendous lack of faith in their own employers -- the city council.

I rest my case!

My summation is simple:

I do not advocate radicalism of any kind, for that too may well defeat progress. I do not advocate an overthrow of the system as such. This would be impractical and would not represent a majority opinion.

I do charge you to consider these facts as presented.

I do charge you to get involved with your city. If your home is not here - get involved because your money does support it somewhat.

I do charge you to vote October 9th.

Thank you,
Charles Kalaf
(candidate for City Council)

Volunteer help needed

Chestnut Street School
(7th & 8th Grade Center)
Music classes are in need of volunteers to work with 7th and 8th graders who are studying different types of instruments such as the guitar, trumpet, etc. The classes are an hour long in the mornings. YOU DON'T NEED MUCH MUSIC EXPERTISE. (You would be more or less helping the teacher.)

Also, students are needed one hour twice a month from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. to work with school clubs such as ecology club, cota, drama, macrame, tennis, photography, yoga, and chess. The Spotlight Club is for kids who want to gain stage poise with whatever they're doing. These clubs do have advisors, so this would be a matter of lending a helping hand.

GIRLS' CLUB
Elementary school age children taking arts and crafts after school every day need someone to work with. On Saturday afternoons there are bowling and basketball ball activities for girls in the 7th, 8th, and 9th grades.

YMCA
The Y is sponsoring a swim program for handicapped children every morning (school age children). Also need someone to help set up a program for girls in grades 3-6 meeting Fridays from 3:30 - 5 p.m. Working under the supervision of a director, you would help determine the program and carry it out. Two semester commitment needed.

Parks & Rec
Recreation aides are needed to work with the supervisors at the various recreation centers, open from 2-9 p.m., Monday thru Friday. Any time available is welcome.

SELF IMPROVEMENT
Government funded program to help kids who have been in trouble with the law. People range in age up to 21. Volunteers are needed to teach the Laubach method of reading. (Don't panic! There will be a workshop beforehand to introduce you to the method.) Needed 1 hour a week for a two semester commitment.

Board of Education
Tutors to work with 5-12 graders under the supervision of a professional teacher in one of six centers in the county. Centers are open Monday - Thursday from 6 to 8 p.m. You may work out your own schedule.

Recreation aid needed at newly formed Mental Health Center Day Hospital. Would assist with craft projects, etc. Very informal atmosphere. Tuesday and Thursday 2 - 4:30 p.m. Any amount of available time gladly accepted!

Reading tutors needed at Wilmington Baptist Assn. (across from college). Will use Laubach reading method. Attendance at preliminary training workshop required. Requests an entire school year's commitment of one hour twice a week.

Contact Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, for more information on volunteering for these and other positions.

You've got a friend, Mr. Nixon

(CPS)--The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) demonstrated that justice is blind this week by filing a "friend of the court" brief that argues both for and against the disclosure of Nixon's White House tapes.

In a brief to the US Court of Appeals, ACLU lawyers asked the court to reject Nixon's claim that he alone can decide when to comply with a lawful subpoena but also urged the court to consider the legal and constitutional right to privacy of those persons whose conversations were recorded without their consent.

ACLU lawyers suggest that "the participants in the conversations with the President, who are or will be witnesses or potential defendants before the Grand Jury have the right to move to suppress the tapes by the Special Prosecutor in this action."

This suggestion is based on analysis of recent Supreme Court opinions which leave unsettled the question of whether a participant in a conversation which is recorded by a government officer violates the 4th Amendment's prohibition against illegal search and seizure.

Greetings Bride-to-be

For a perfect and "heavenly" wedding you are cordially invited to come in and let us show you why this is such a popular shopping spot with smart brides

MADEMOISELLE
Shopper

"We are big enough to serve you and small enough to know you"

22 North Front Street

WILMINGTON

UNC-W Class Rings

GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler
and Silversmiths

212 North Front Street

Winter jobs open to Students in Europe

Luxembourg (Europe)- More than two thousand American students took summer jobs in Europe because they chose to pack up and see the continent on an earn-as-you-go basis. In this day of high prices the attraction of a paying temporary job in Europe with free room and board is obvious. A few weeks work, which in itself is a unique experience, earns the lion's share of the trip cost, and a few more weeks earns money for travelling around Europe.

Now fall and winter jobs are available in European ski and winter resorts. Standard wages are paid, plus free room and board. Jobs, working papers, permits and living accommodations are arranged in advance, on a non-profit basis, by the Student Overseas Services (SOS), a student organization which has been helping American students in Europe for the past 14 years. To make certain each student gets off on the right foot in Europe- and to the job at the right time- SOS also provides a job orientation in Europe.

Jobs, work permits and other necessary papers are issued to students on a first come, first served basis. Any full or part time student between the ages of 17 and 27 may apply. Applications should be submitted early enough to allow SOS ample time to obtain the necessary papers and permits.

Students interested in applying for a winter or summer job in Europe may obtain the SOS Handbook on earning your way in Europe, which contains a job application form, job listings and descriptions, by sending their name, address, name of educational institution, and $1 (for postage, printing, addressing and handling) to either SOS Student Overseas Services, Box 5173, Santa Barbara, Calif. 93108 or SOS-Student Overseas Services, 22 Ave. de la Liberté, Luxembourg, Europe.

CLASSIFIEDS

65 Mustang, 6 cylinder, 3 speed. Chrome reversals. Repainted from last year. A Great Buy for only $600. Call 791-6364.

Stereo Components! Most Major Brands! 20 - 50% Off! All Fully Guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

Student nurses receive caps

A member of the first year class of the Associate Degree in Nursing students gets capped by her big sister from the second year class. (photo by j.k. muelleman)

First year nursing students recently received their caps in ceremonies in the King Hall auditorium. Also participating in the capping structors Mrs. Toni Barfield, Miss Luella Booe, Miss Dorothy Dixon, Mrs. exercise were second year students, and nursing in-

Jane Lowe, Mrs. Nancy White, and Miss Mary Alice Whitfield. (photo by j.k. muelleman)

YEARBOOK PHOTOS

WILL BE TAKEN UPSTAIRS
IN THE PUB

OCT. 1-5

THE PHOTOGRAPHERS WILL ONLY BE ON CAMPUS ONE TIME

Shoney's

"HOME OF THE BIG BOY"

4010 MARKET STREET

Complete Selection On Our Menu!

OPEN--

7 a.m. - 12 p.m. Monday - Thursday

7 a.m. - 2 a.m. Friday & Saturday

Try Our Strawberry Pie

'74 FORD

featuring the all new Mustang II

THE CLOSER

YOU LOOK, THE BETTER

WE LOOK

CAPE FEAR

799-4060

4222
Oleander Drive

"The Little Profit Dealer."

Yes
Wachovia

Stories to play Oct. 17

by jon greene

The Badfinger concert originally scheduled for September 27 was cancelled due to contract negotiation problems between Badfinger and their new label, Warner/Reprise. Technicalities developed which would have prevented the simultaneous release of a new album in conjunction with their upcoming US tour. The entire tour has been cancelled and delayed until the new album is ready for release.

Consequently, the first of two concerts this semester will be on Wednesday, Oct.

17, featuring Stories and a as yet unsigned opening act. Stories currently has the no. 6 single nationally, "Brother Louie." The record was formerly No. 1.

Stories is a versatile group playing powerful but extremely melodic music in the tradition of the Beatles, the Who, and Rod Stewart. As one might expect, "Brother Louie" is only one side of Stories. Their latest album "About US" has received nothing but excellent reviews from such rock journals as ROLLING STONE, FUSION, and CREAM.

apparel factory outlet

Misses' &
Jr. Miss
Denim JEANS

from $4.44

baggies
flares
bells

Men's Denim
Jeans

from $4.66

Hand Carved Bells - $6.66

10-6 sat. FREE PARKING 10-9 mon.-fri

4204 OLEANDER DRIVE

BANKAMERICA

Master Charge

"FOR THOSE WHO LIKE FINE DINING"

BALLARDS RESTAURANT

QUIET FAMILY ATMOSPHERE
STEAK • SEAFOOD • BARBQ CHICKEN

3917 Market Street
(U.S. 17 North)

Wilmington's Family Restaurant

Rex Ballard
Crystal Meares

763-4811

Anne Murray looks for new image

Capitol recording artist Anne Murray resents being labeled the All-American girl.

"For one thing, I'm a Canadian," says Anne. "For another, I'm weary of the wholesome girl next door image. Sometimes I think I'd like to do something really far-out just to shock people."

Anne's public image derives from several things. First of all, there's her background. She was raised in a normal, healthy environment in Nova Scotia and became a Physical Education teacher.

"People read I was a teacher and teachers are supposed to be sexless creatures," she sighs.

Then there's the matter of appearance. Anne exudes health with her blond hair, blue eyes and good, but not too-obvious figure.

"I guess I have a clean, scrubbed look," admits the girl who still sings barefoot on occasion.

And then there's the matter of personal life, which has always seemed above reproach. Put them all together and Anne comes out like a bright-eyed, apple-cheek school-marm, an image not calculated to appeal to young audiences today.

"Young audiences are turned off if they think you're a square," says Anne. "Too often they judge people not by talent but by the kind of person they think you are. And frequently, that opinion is based solely on appearance."

Recently, the singer, whose theme from the motion picture "Oklahoma Crude," "Send A Little Love My Way," is rising on the music charts, hosted a "Midnight Special" television show. The audience was mostly young with beards, long hair and funky jeans.

"When I walked out on stage, I sensed an attitude of 'look at this square,'" she said. "It angered me because I felt these people resent being put down by straight people for their looks and there they showed resentment to me because of the way I looked."

What image does she want? "Well, I don't want to get caught up in this image-making thing," she says. "I've seen good performers who've been lost because of it."

"I guess I want people to accept me for what I am. I'm not a square and I'm not a freak. I'm an ordinary girl who has drives, ambitions and desires like everyone else. I mean, nobody could be quite as good and straight as I'm sometimes made out to be."

come
as you are!

Be yourself.
Relax and enjoy
delicious gourmet pizza
in the informal atmosphere
of the Village Inn.
No need to dress up. Bring
the whole family. Village Inn's
the fun place to go!

Live
Music

Wednesday Night

Free Flicks

Every Night

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

3617 Market Street

Where pizza is always
in good taste

"An English autumn, though it hath no wine
Shedding with Bacchus carousals along
The paths, & in which the farthest autumn
The red grapes in the many lands of song.
Hath yet a purchased chase of chestnut wine.
The claret light and the Malaga strong
If Breton rears her blackness, we can tell her.
The very best of vineyards in the color
-Byron, Don Juan, Canto 12

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Win. Art. Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Pridgen
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-0673

Dolphin
Bookshop

Long Leaf Mall
Open Mon. - Sat. 10 - 9

* The Salamander$7.95
by Morris West

The background is modern Italy: the dark underworld of the big cities-Rome, Milan, Venice; the high society of politics and finance. Here West has set a story of love, intrigue, and violence that holds the reader spellbound from the first page to the last.

"Books are our only business, not a sideline."

"Here's looking at you, kid."
Starts Thursday
At 1-3-5-7-9

...WITH
THE WHOLE
WORLD
CRUMBLING
THEY HAD TIME TO FALL
IN LOVE!

Humphrey
Bogart
Ingrid
Bergman

CASABLANCA ALL DEUXE-MANOR
DOWNTOWN
762-2935

799-3950 Oleander Drive

OLEANDER
Cinema 1
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

NOW
7th Week

Shows
1:30
3:40
5:50
8:00
10:10

Next-Harrod Experiment

OLEANDER
Cinema 2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

Now
Showing

He's a Good Cop
on a Big Bike
on a Bad Road

in color

PG

ELECTRA GLIDE IN BLUE

Colony ANGELA WAO

Now
Showing
Rated R "LADY KUNG FU"

799-5710 Long Leaf Mall

LONG LEAF
Cinema 1

Starts
Thursday

Shows 2-4-6-8-10

LONG LEAF
Cinema 2

Starts
Friday

SHOWS
1:30-3:30
5:30-7:30
9:30

ROD SERLING TELLS THE HORROR OF THE ENCOUNTER WITH THE UNKNOWN

WARNING: No One Who Sees It Will Be Quite The Same Ever Again.

Bayley

Starts Thursday

Marlon
Brando
Last Tango in Paris

NO ONE UNDER 18 ADMITTED

ALL SEATS $1.00 TIL 2:30 EXCEPT SUNDAY IN ALL CINEMAS!

BLUE NOTES

a bulb swirling with black light vapor is alive in an empty room. . .

the sound of its light--- a hot blue edge--- splits the silence until the dulling darkness blunts its reaches.

no laugh in the dark as two eyes see their stretch of space cut at the black abyss.

a single note splits the blue wall and moans deep into the pitch. . .
a Hohner harp blasts the blues from the corners of the eyes to the echos of the dark--- blues that puts hair on the bones and shades on the night.

know the blues blowing dust from empty pockets. . .

know the night is the color of the blues.

pcv

NEW FACE

ONE OF THE NEW FACES on campus that will become more familiar is that of Lenox G. Cooper, Jr., Director of Library Services. Cooper is a native of Wilmington. He earned his AB degree in English and his Master's in Library Science at UNC-Chapel Hill. Prior to coming to UNC-W, he served as Assistant Director of Libraries for Technical Services at the Joint University Libraries, Nashville, Tenn. (photo by Roberta Allred)

★ Professional Service At A Price You Can Afford

kar-kare Service Center

4207 Oleander Drive

Complete Parts & Accessories

Professional Trained Personnel

★ LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT

"We do it right...or we do it over."

kar-kare

4207 Oleander Drive

799-2770

BFGoodrich

TIRES

Super-Tuf Retread

- Wheel Alignment
- Complete Front End Repairs
- Shock Absorbers
- Diagnostic Tune-Ups
- Brake Service
- Batteries

GILBERT PARRISH
Owner
WAYNE SHANNON
Manager

distributor: Baker Co.
Wilmington, N.C.

glassware ashtrays
A REAL CHOICE
 at the Bookstore
beer steins coffee cups hot cocoa mugs

Budweiser.
KING OF BEERS

'When you say
Budweiser,
 you've said it all!

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

SAVE GAS BIKE IT

Yes

Wachovia

THE NUMBER ONE KILLER OF YOUNG AMERICANS IS YOUNG AMERICANS.

You don't mean to be. But you are. The numbers are simple.

Latest available figures show that 8,000 American people between the ages of 15 and 25 died in alcohol related crashes. And almost all the drunk drivers who caused those crashes were also under 25.

1,380 died in combat. 3,420 committed suicide. 2,731 died of cancer.

It's incredible, but one of the most dangerous things you can do is to have a few bottles of wine with friends and drive home.

You can change it. You have to.

You march against war. You fight for clean air and clean water. You eat natural foods. You practice yoga. You are so much for life. And you are so much against killing.

It would be unthinkable for you to kill another human being on purpose.

So then, why is this happening?

DRUNK DRIVER, DEPT. Y*
BOX 1969
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20013

I don't want to get killed and I don't want to kill anyone. Tell me how I can help.*Youths Highway Safety Advisory Committee.

My name is _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

STOP DRIVING DRUNK.
STOP KILLING EACH OTHER.

Album charted

The music industry's three major trade publications - Bill-board, Cash Box, and Record World - have all charted Helen Reddy's LONG HARD CLIMB album, released by Capitol Records July 16. The disc charts at 8, 8, and 6 respectively, each with a bullet indicating fast ascendance on the top sellers' lists.

With this, Ms. Reddy joins a select group of recording artists who have more than one album on the national charts. Even more rare is her accomplishment - three albums charted. In addition to LONG HARD CLIMB, Ms. Reddy's I AM WOMAN and I DON'T KNOW HOW TO LOVE HIM LPs are in strong listing positions.

"Delta Dawn," the single from LONG HARD CLIMB, recently achieved the No. 1 chart position simultaneously in all three trade publications.

Grants available

The US Office of Education is sponsoring a new student financial aid program which is available to first-time, full-time students for the 1973-74 school year.

The new Basic Educational Opportunity Grant Program, more popularly known as Basic Grants, is designed to assist eligible students planning to enter colleges, universities, community colleges, etc.

When the appropriation is sufficient to fully-fund the program, students will receive grant assistance of $1400, less the amount the family can be expected to contribute for the post-secondary education of the student. No grant can, however, be more than one-half of a student's cost of attendance.

For the 1973-74 academic year, $122 million is available to assist an estimated 425,000 students. The maximum award is $452 and the average award is $200.

2 The amount of each student's expected family contribution and the amount of his award is determined on the basis of a formula developed by the Office of Education and applied consistently to all students who apply for a Basic Grant.

Basic Grants, unlike loans, do not have to be repaid and may be used to cover a student's tuition, fees, room, board, books, supplies, and miscellaneous expenses. They are the "floor" of the assistance package available to eligible students. Other forms of student aid may be provided in addition to these grants.

Interested students who think they may be eligible should talk over BEOG and other forms of financial

your's broken?
we repair
all models!

LIFE
CYCLES

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER

4208 Glenside Drive

799-5770

Mon. - Thurs. Fri. Sat.
10-6 10-9 10-6

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

assistance with Larry Crowder, Director of Student Financial Aid, whose office is located on the right as one enters the main doors of the administration building opening from the quad.

English Club Plans flea market

Members of the newly formed English Club met Thursday morning, Sept. 28, to discuss plans for the upcoming flea market.

The flea market will be held Saturday, Oct. 13, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the parking lot adjacent to Sarah Graham Kenan Auditorium. In case of rain, it will be held on the stage inside the auditorium.

The market is being held to raise money to finance the Jesse Rehder Memorial Fund. The fund, controlled by the University English Department, sponsors an annual short story contest open to all students on campus. The contest is given in memory of Jesse Rehder, native Wilmingtonian fiction writer and poet.

Anyone having donations should contact the secretary of the English department. Donations for the market may be brought to the English Department, second floor, Kenan Hall, or members of the club will pick them up from your home.

Everyone is urged to attend the first flea market held on the UNC-W campus.

FOR SALE: 71 Vega, red/black interior, 4 speed, 48,000 miles, excellent cond. 799-3066

FOR SALE: 65 Oldsmobile station wagon. Power brakes, power steering, auto trans, good condition. 799-3066.

Sav-A-Lot
SUPER DISCOUNT STORE

1000 College Road
A.M. 10-6 M-F Sat

SCOPE MOUTHWASH
24 oz. bottle 99¢
Mfg. suggested retail $2.05

Extremely Low Price

CIGARETTES 2 19
00 1-9

crossword

ACROSS

- 1 Lower back
- 11 Highest point
- 15 Fear of Heights
- 16 Discomfort
- 17 Circus performer (pl.)
- 18 Mass. — of Tech.
- 19 Part of wedding ceremony (pl.)
- 20 German city
- 22 — Scully
- 23 Never: Ger.
- 24 Type of soup
- 26 Sweetsop
- 28 Man's name
- 30 John or Jane
- 31 Medicinal substances
- 33 One named after another
- 35 Rests
- 37 Italian coin
- 38 Hugh Hefner bunny
- 42 Hard worker
- 46 Poetic term
- 47 Advertisements (slang)
- 49 Alaskan city

- 50 Florida resort city
- 52 Play on words
- 53 Fuel
- 54 1965 baseball MVP
- 57 Famous ship
- 58 — Japanese War
- 59 Fiendish
- 61 Oklahoman city
- 62 Expect
- 63 Moslem potentates
- 64 Abstinence

DOWN

- 1 Aids to digestion
- 2 Sourness
- 3 Crosby, e.g.
- 4 Swoboda and Hunt
- 5 Make a choice
- 6 If — a hammer
- 7 Arthur Miller
- 8 Family
- 8 Spanish or Portuguese
- 9 U. S. Military decoration
- 10 Peggy —
- 11 Relating to bees
- 12 G. B. Shaw play
- 13 Recognized incorrectly
- 14 Common suffix
- 21 Bullfighter
- 25 Born
- 27 Eastern group of colleges (abbr.)
- 28 "Such — for the course"
- 29 Leaves out
- 32 Argentine plains
- 34 Spain's teammate
- 36 Part of an intersection
- 38 Go to —
- 39 Going away
- 40 Region of Asia
- 41 Try to equal or surpass
- 43 Sound
- 44 Come forth
- 45 Secondhand dealer
- 48 12¢ cents
- 51 Urges
- 55 Malay law
- 56 Brazilian heron
- 57 Palm drink
- 58 Body of water
- 60 Ignited

You only go around once in life.
So reach for all the gusto you can.
Even in the beer you drink.
Why settle for less?
When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

HAVE

A

GOOD

DAY

instant bread.

When money is the reason you're looking for a job, take a look at Manpower's temporary jobs. Assignments to fit your schedule. Paychecks for time-worked are mailed weekly. There's a variety of work available. Secretarial, Typing, Clerical, General Industrial, Skilled and semi-skilled, Data Processing, Sales, Technical. If you've worked before, are ready to work for a while again and you're thinking of coins—not a career—call Manpower, 1036 S. College Road, Wilmington, N.C. 28401 791-5515

MANPOWER
your instant bread people.
an equal opportunity employer

HAWK'S NEST

5814 Oleander Drive

SPAGHETTI NIGHT

every thursday

77¢

spaghetti, salad, rolls

Live Bands
Fri., and Sat. Nights

799-5880

"Jobs for young people 18 to 29 are now available in Europe any time of the year," said Dr. F. X. Gordon, President of Princeton Research, at an interview with Stanford University and Palo Alto High School students recently. "The European Common Market unemployment rate is 50% less than that of the United States. Job availability forecasts for 1974 high school and college graduates in the US are not so rosy. There are more young people entering the job seeking market (some 1,300,000 per year) than there are suitable jobs.

Some graduating high school seniors, college freshmen, sophomores, and juniors are wisely following the advice of personnel and education experts by planning to take a year off from the academic treadmill to stretch the mind by working and traveling.

"We have a program called Jobs Europe," Gordon continued. "The aim of this program is to give young people an inexpensive and unique opportunity to live in and learn about Europe. In the past 13 years we have found jobs in Europe for 10, 823 young people. Three thousand jobs are now available anytime of the year."

The guaranteed salaried jobs are mostly for trainees (general help) as stewardesses and stewards on trains, with large 1st class hotels, restaurants, supermarkets, department stores, etc., in Switzerland, England, and Belgium. Most of the jobs include room and board in addition to local salary. Friends can work together or near each other if they apply together.

For free details, send a self addressed, stamped, business-size envelope to: Jobs Europe, 2350 Bean Creek Road, Santa Cruz, California 95060.

Editorial

(No) thanks for ruining the movie

If there's one thing we learned Monday evening, it is that the majority of UNC-W students are not apathetic when it comes to one thing -- ruining a movie for those few who might have attended SUMMER OF 42 because they actually wanted to see the film.

If you weren't there Monday night, more power to you, since you probably saved yourself a lot of grief. Parts of the movie were funny, granted, and we laughed with the best of them. But some of the scenes were neither funny nor intended to be so. Why laugh then?

Maybe all that some students could do to derive entertainment from the film was to ruin it for everyone else. If so, the rest of us are sad that this is all you can do to bring sunshine into your miserable existences.

Just as the audience's treatment of Chicago soured some of us to concerts, (and certainly gave Chicago some wise words to spread to other performers), so did some of our less controlled numbers turn us off to movies.

We paid our money to see SUMMER just like everyone else, and that is what we would have liked to have done. Sorry, folks, maybe next time.

If there is a next time for us, we hope there won't be a repeat audience performance. If there is, we'll be glad to recommend that the film money be spent better in other ways. We've seen youngsters have just as much fun with a playpen and some rattle toys.

Maybe that's not such a bad idea, after all.

Seniors,

Look to Jefferson Standard for YOUR future!

Jefferson
Standard

Life Insurance Company

3131 Wrightsville Ave.

Bob Page 763-1604

Bill Heinberg 763-1605

BUFFALO'S

DISCOUNT-BEVERAGES

OVER 400 WINES
from 17 Countries

COMPLETE GROCERY LINE

Less Than Convenient Store Prices

OVER 50 BEERS
from 13 Countries

5124 Oleander Drive

Located Across From The Bowling Center
Next To The E/RS Club - Call 799-2000

OPEN 7 to 1 except Fri. & Sat. - till 2:00 A.M.

B-Track

Tapes 1.99

Carton Cigarettes

2.38 2.48

FREE

ONE 28 OZ. BOTTLE

OF SOFT DRINK

(your choice)

LIMIT-ONE TO A CUSTOMER

GOOD THRU OCT. 9TH, 1973

COUPON

COUPON

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

a Christian fellowship for all denominations invites UNC-W students to a

TRAVELING INWARD

led by Campus Minister Milton Boone
Monday, October 8 7:30 p.m.
Baptist Association Office across street from UNC-W REFRESHMENTS AND SINGING

seahawk

vol. 16, no. 7

October 10, 1973

twelve pages

"MARK TWAIN ON STAGE!"

featuring

JACK THOMAS

Stories

STORIES-REFOCUS

by wés knape

Stories, Lynyrd Skynyrd, and Heather will be appearing in blanket concert Wednesday, October 17 at Hanover Hall. Student tickets (limit 2 per ID) will be on sale at the Pub. Reduced student prices are 2.50 advance and $3.50 at the door.

Stories was founded in 1971 by Micheal Brown, formally of the Left Banke (Walk Away Renee and Pretty Balarina) and Ian Lloyd along with Steve Love-guitar and Brian Maddy-drums. Their first album was released in the spring of 1972. It received excellent reviews and they quickly picked up a small elite following of record critics and fans. Unfortunately the first album sold poorly and it was not until April of 1973 that they released their second album "About Us". The original version of the album did not include "Brother Louie" which was added only after it became a hit. The album met with immediate critical acclaim. The April issue of Phonograph Record Magazine awarded it "the best album of the month." The complements continued. The August 16 edition of Zoo World called it "simply one of the 10 best American albums of the past two years." Rolling Stone described it as "spectacular." They also received an excellent review in Cream and Fusion. That's pretty strong for a group that has released only its second album. Currently the album is already in the top twenty and still rising.

There were several personal changes in the band shortly before "About Us" was released. Michael Brown preferred a more low key sound while the rest of the band wanted to rock a bit more. Brown left to reform the Left Banke and was replaced by Ken Bichel on organ, moog synthesizer, mellotron, harpsicord, and piano. Ian Lloyd who had been playing bass shifted strictly to vocals and Kenny Aaronson formally of "Dust" was brought in which completed the present line up. Incidentally Ken Bichel is a classically trained graduate of the Jullard School of Music in N.Y.C. with his masters degree in music.

"Stories" music is first rate. Zoo World called Steve Love's guitar work "more than masterful guitar playing." Cashbox, in its June 23 edition said this about Kenny Aaronson live bass work, "The bass work is astonishing considering that it's done within the confines of pure rock and roll." The review went on to describe Ian Lloyd's vocals as "Kinky, one-in-a-million instrument that can growl or soar at will." Zoo World called Brian Maddy "one of the great drummers of the age."

Also appearing with Stories will be Lynyrd Skynyrd - a new band handled by the same agency that handles the Allman Brothers, Marshal Tucker and Wet Willie. They are handled by Al Kooper and record for Sounds of the South label. In a review of their first album Cashbox, Aug. 25, called them, "the finest new blues rock organization to come out of the south since the Allman Brothers first emerged from Macon a few years back... That rumbling you hear down below the Mason-Dixon line is Lynyrd Skynyrd, the worlds next supergroup."

Also appearing with Stories and Lynyrd Skynyrd will be Heather. This will be the first time they have played a concert with a really professional P.A. system.

"Brother Louie" was Stories first big hit. It's the only non-original song they have released to date. It was a really great song when first released; however I think most of us are tired of it being played so often. It's unfortunate that the stupidity of Top 40 radio dictates that any really good song will be played until one can't stand to hear it any longer. This can hardly be held against the band that released it - in this case, Stories. It's even more unfortunate when a pseudo-hip audience will not bear this in mind.

Perhaps the best way to judge Stories ahead of time is from the live performance review in the June 23 edition of Cashbox - a record performance magazine. "After hearing 'Brother Louie' and deciding it was a great single but never the less too simple a rocker to be evidence of a group to be taken seriously; it was staggering to discover Stories are a marvelously inventive conglomeration of virtuosos who can play in any mode that interests them."

Three great groups for only $2.50 - Wake up, UNC-W. Your first concert is going to be a killer!

SALUTE TO NURSING

There's an old saying, "Behind every successful man, there's a good woman." Especially in view of the fact that this week is National Nursing Week, it might be good to modify that to say, "Behind every successful doctor, there's a good nurse."

For those students, new and old, who are not familiar with UNC-W's Associate Degree in Nursing program, let us throw a few facts your way.

- Associate degree programs in nursing are the fastest growing in the US.
- After two years successfully completed, graduates may take the State Board exams for licensure as Registered Nurses.
- As RNs, they may enter into a multitude of fields - hospital nursing, in doctor's offices, in the military.
- With additional training, they may become public health nurses, nurse anesthetists, nurse midwives, pediatric nurse practitioners, family nurse practitioners, nursing instructors - a wealth of opportunities.
- This year, UNC-W's first year nursing class doubled in size over previous years.

This is the week to honor, on our own campus, the nurses of the second-year class, the nurses of the first year class, and the nurses who are teaching them to be good nurses.

seahawk

editor: kathi beal
associate editors: beth hicks, cummins a. mebane
advertising director: barry asbury photographers: nauma dozier, neal huntley, jeannie lovelace, j.k. mihleman

business manager: alan murphy
greek lines editor: rocky lane moore supportive staff: sharon davis, susan lewis j.k. mihleman, anne nesbit, darlene pearsall advisor: ms. linda moore
mast head design: bert beall

"Mark Twain" On Stage In Kenan Aud.

Jack Thomas, a young actor from West Virginia, who has been transplanted to Salisbury, IS Mark Twain. When he shuffles onto the stage, the audience is transported back in time to the Twain era. Every part of Jack Thomas has been changed into Twain. The white suit is a carefully tailored replica of the suit that Samuel Clemens wore during his lifetime. The make-up is so perfect that it takes three hours to put it on. Rare photographs of Mark Twain provide detailed studies of the humorist's characteristic way of standing, smoking, sitting, even the tilt of his head.

Thursday night's presentation will include portions of "Life on the Mississippi" as well as sections of "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn." The program will also include some of Twain's short stories such as "The Story of the Old Ram" and "Curing a Cold". However the highlight of the evening will come when Mark Twain is presented as Social Critic of his age when he speaks on such topics as religion, art, journalism, and government.

Jack Thomas is no newcomer to the stage, having appeared in productions of the Piedmont Players, Catawba College, and the Florence Little Theatre. His performances include Detective in "Mouse Trap", Pickering in

"My Fair Lady", Ruif in "The Sound of Music", Sailor in "The World of Suzy Wong", George in "She Loves Me", Nanki Poo in "The Mikado", and Lucentio in "Taming of the Shrew".

And because of his previous theatre experience, Thomas knows that a one-man show is no push-over, but he attacks the show with great energy and fervor. The script for "Mark Twain on the Stage" has been built on research on top of more research by Thomas. The idea of doing the Mark Twain show occurred to him about two years ago.

The hand movements and tilt of the head are no accident, however.

"Libraries (public and Catawba College) have approximately 70 books either about or by Mark Twain. In addition to what's been put down in writing, I have found dozens and dozens of pictures from which to draw my interpretations."

Make-up for his performances are done by Leonard Kruea, manager of the College-Community Centre in Salisbury, and takes about three hours to complete.

Salisbury's own Sidney Blackmer has called Thomas' performance magnificent. "His talent is rare and unique and his performance is spellbinding! You are suddenly transported to the era of "Life on the Mississippi" as you listen to Twain reminiscence of the days when he lived there as a boy."

"Jack Thomas IS Mark Twain, and you are there with the great storyteller and critic of his time. This is the challenge of the actor - to become the character! This Mr. Thomas has achieved."

"I've always been a fan of Mark Twain," he said from beneath the strawberry blonde mustache which matched his hair, adding, "I've just started reading everything he had ever written, and I found an awful lot in common with him."

As Thomas spoke, gesturing with his hands, he looked strangely like younger pictures of Samuel Clemens who also had that tinge of red in his locks.

Admission $1.00 per student w/ ID

Students to raise money for outdoor bullet in board

A group of concerned students, already encompassing a number over 100, have made preparations to raise money for an outdoor bulletin board to be located between Kenan Hall and the school cafeteria. These students, actively seeking school and community support, have agreed to back a local social fraternity, Delta Upsilon, in collecting donations for this project.

A ten speed bicycle has been purchased by Delta Upsilon as first prize for some lucky donor. Several other clubs, sororities and fraternities have offered their support in selling tickets and accepting donations for this project. Alpha Phi Omega has already requested 200 tickets to sell. The sociology club has requested 100. It is hoped other social organizations will demonstrate the same enthusiasm that these organizations have.

Donations for $1. tickets will be accepted beginning Oct. 11th and continue until the final deadline on October 26th. The drawing will be held October 31. The winner need not be present to win. A public official will make the drawing during a Halloween party sponsored by the UNC-W Chapter 1. All are eligible to win except members and relatives of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

Ticket stands will be conveniently located at New Hanover and Woolco shopping centers as well as on campus. Posters announcing chain of events will be provided by the Zeta Tau Alpha and Phi Mu sororities and the Delta Upsilon little sisters club.

All proceeds that exceed expected revenue to build the bulletin board will be reddiverted into a special account to be used by the newly formed interclub council for future projects.

Much work has already gone into the preparations and planning of this project. The Math club, Chemistry Club, Phi Mu, Zeta Tau Alpha, Student Nurses Association, Alpha Phi Omega, and others have pledged their assistance. All they need now is your support. Thank you on the behalf of concerned students.

HAVE A GOOD DAY

CLASSIFIEDS

65 Mustang, 6 cylinder, 3 speed, Chrome reversals. Repainted from last year. A Great Buy for only $800. Call 791-6364.

Stereo Component! Most Major Brands! 20 - 50% Off! All Fully Guaranteed! Call 799-1096 after 6 p.m.

House Mate Wanted-- NOW! on the beach--- $50/month--- fully furnished & phone--- guy or chick--- phone: 256-3228 or 256-4433

FOR SALE: 71 Vega, red/black interior, 4 speed, 48,000 miles, excellent cond. 799-3066

FOR SALE: 65 Oldsmobile station wagon, Power brakes, power steering, auto trans, good condition. 799-3066.

DANCE

Friday, October 12th

IN THE PUB

The Band will be

BENEFIT from 9:00 am UNTIL sponsored by Budweiser 1:00 PM and S.G.A. dance committee

Free Budweiser

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry

Bags

Candles

Handmade Spreads

Embroidered Dresses

Belts

Leatherwork
Headgear

Mexican Handicraft

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuheir Ali Bedwan, Owner

Yes

Wachovia

The DEVIL made me do it!

"What do you say about a 23 year old baseball player who likes tobacco--and dies?" asks Patricia White

He wasn't a gunfighter on the Streets of Laredo (where the title comes from). He was a baseball player with a big heart and few friends. He was a tobacco chewing southern boy with a penchant for doing and saying the wrong things. He was also a terminal case.

Bang the Drum Slowly, though not an accurate expose of the Great American Game, reveals a true friendship and in the course of the film molds a major league team into a World Series winner.

Bruce Pearson and Henry Wiggins play for the New York Mammoths a fictitious major league baseball team with and ever-inquisitive neurotic manager and a team right out of Ball Four. Bruce is zealous catcher with fading talents. Henry (you can call him Arthur) is the star pitcher, business-like, clever and the only person between Bruce and the minor leagues.

Bruce and Arthur are played by two actors who read their lines as though they have been watching too many interviews with Hank Aaron. Their ballplayer monotonies are just strong enough to make them typical baseball players yet genuine enough to make them human.

Bang the Drum Slowly reveals life. It is a human approach to the game of baseball without cynicism and without an ever current of morality. It cannot be compared to other films portrayals of pro sports because it admits its flaws and overcomes them with a human experience that should be remembered.

Bang the Drum Slowly, though it may not have won the game with its representation of a major league team in a tight pennant race, scores some runs with its fine portrayal of love between friends.

THE TRANSPLANT

God is people-minded.

So the whole universe tilts heavily in favor of people.

People have names like Ethel, Adam

Jon, Joab

Agnes, Peggy

Kirk, Solomon

Julienne, Rufus

and whatever name you are crowned with.

So even when I am not aware of it, I am addressed as a member of the family and invited to the wedding. God is prejudiced about kinkfoks.

We are a motley tribe.

And I would say He has his hands full, which may indicate a very limited understanding of his handling power because sparrows are accounted for (Luke 12:6)

beef are all branded (Ps. 50:10) and I have a mark on me (Gen. 1:27) which says that I am responsible for knowing who Our Father is and what's his.

Heavy?

So heavy you can stand on it

Count on it

Wish on it and in case of death, be carried out on it.

Like in the New Testament a man named Paul picked his own pall bearers and said:

"I kept the faith".

He wasn't bragging,

Just looking over his shoulder.

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

Shoney's

"HOME OF THE BIG BOY"

4010 MARKET STREET

Complete Selection On Our Menu!

OPEN--

7 a.m. - 12 p.m. Monday - Thursday

7 a.m. - 2 a.m. Friday & Saturday

Try Our Strawberry Pie

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

Recycle Yourself

Even when you're doing nothing, you're doing something on a Raleigh bicycle. Something good for your body and mind. There's probably no easier way to get in tune with yourself.

And with a Raleigh you won't have to worry about it wearing out before its time. A Raleigh is precision made from the finest quality components to last for years. That's what won Raleigh its formidable racing reputation all over the world.

Raleigh makes so many models that there is literally one fit for you. Shown here is the Raleigh Sprite with new self-adjusting brakes.

See (LIFE CYCLES) then see a new you.

RALEIGH
THE BICYCLE FIT FOR YOU.
LIFE
CYCLES

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER

4209 Oleander Drive

798-5770

Mon. - Thurs. 10-6 Fri. 10-6 Sat. 10-6

ECOS comes to UNC-W

ECOS, the state-wide and now campus environmental awareness group, will be holding a membership drive in the next few weeks. A new chapter here is being formed.

Anyone the least bit concerned with our environment is urged to attend. The least anyone can do is be informed. Join ECOS.

Watch the SEAHAWK for more information or drop by the Student Government office. On campus, talk with Worth Bolton, Don Massengill, or Bill Renn about the upcoming projects and plans.

Pi Kapp shows Fall '73 peak

by Mike Jones, historian,
Pi Kappa Phi

Fall, 1973 is proving to be one of the best semesters in the history of Pi Kappa Phi at UNC-W.

Last summer, the brothers began an extensive campaign to raise the morale of the chapter. Parties, work on the new house, parties, planning for the new school year, and more parties all worked to bring Gamma Theta to an all-time peak.

This enthusiasm has carried through the semester. Gamma Theta boasts 19 pledges as well as 24 pledge-ettes to the Little Sister Program. This success was not due to any brother's effort, but a joint cooperation of the entire brotherhood. A special pat on the back goes to the alumni association. It was they who provided the encouragement and assistance to get Gamma Theta on its feet and keep it running. Their efforts continue to be deeply appreciated.

New officers for the 73-74 year are: Mike Long, Archon; Bill Kelly, Treasurer; Larry Brammer, Secretary; Mike Davis, Warden; Mike Jones, Historian; and Jim Wishon, Chaplain. These brothers expect few problems in the coming year. They will have a fantastic group of guys to work with, as once again, Pi Kappa Phi is Number One on campus and Pride of the South.

TEKE LINES

Mu-Chi chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon is proud to welcome as pledges the following men: Tommy Kountz, Asheville; Rod Rutt, New Jersey; Bill Wilkie, Asheville; John Kapsky, New Jersey; David Willis, Dublin; Cummins Mebane, Greensboro; Danny Henderson, Wilmington; Barry Weaver, Lexington; Buzz Kistler, Raleigh; and Nick Davis, Wilmington. These men will be learning of the traditions, customs, and social aspects of the fraternity for the next eight weeks.

Topsail Beach was the scene of a recent TEKE outing. Thirty brothers and dates enjoyed boating, fishing, swimming, surfing, oysters and shrimp at the beach home of two of our brothers.

The TEKEs made the local newspaper last week as a result of their service to Washington Catlett School. The school, for exceptional children, was in need of playground equipment and repair of some toys. This project is one of many public service activities which the brothers and pledges take part in throughout the year.

This past weekend the TEKEs from Appalachian State University and UNC-W met in the mountains at Linville Falls Campground. Leaving Friday from school and returning late Sunday night, the TEKEs of Mu-Chi chapter at UNC-W camped, hiked and partied for two days and two nights.

CHESS CLUB MEETING!

WEDNESDAY Oct. 17 3 PM

SGA OFFICE IN PUB

ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING

DESIGNED FOR ACTIVE INTEREST

IN CHESS

FOR THE BEGINNER OR ADVANCED PLAYER.

MICHELOB.

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

HAWK'S NEST

5814 Oleander Drive

SPAGHETTI NIGHT

every thursday

77¢

spaghetti, salad, rolls

*Live Bands
Fri., and Sat. Nights*

799-5880

COUPON!!!!

Good for 40¢ off on a purchase from the HAWK's NEST.

Good from Oct. 10 thru Oct. 16.

"one coupon per customer"

Payne's

Elvita Thomas models rust colored slacks and vest by Red Eye worn with a cream shade bodysuit

Available at

Payne's

Downtown, Hanover Center
& Long Leaf Mall

CALENDAR

KNIGHTS OF THE BURNING PESTLE will be presented Friday Saturday, Sunday and Monday beginning Oct. 12. Students are admitted free, but because of limited seating in the SRO theatre, they are urged to make reservations as soon as possible (Ext. 332 between 1 and 5 p.m. Monday - Friday).

As a result of lack of interest, this year's wrestling program has been temporarily suspended. If UNC-W is to have a wrestling team this year, many now want weight classes must be filled especially some of the mid-level classes. We would like for anyone interested in forming and participating in forming the team to meet Thursday, October 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the pub lobby. Please attend if at all possible. Signed, Concerned Wrestlers.

The P.E. Majors Club will meet Monday, Oct. 15 at 7 p.m. in H-201. All majors are urged to attend and are reminded not to forget their yearly dues.

There will be a dance in the PUB Friday, October 12 at 9:00 p.m. Benefit will play. This dance is sponsored by the Dance Committee. Free beer will be served.

The History Club will meet Thursday, October 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Administration Building. Professor Walser-Allen will speak on Old Brunswick and final preparations for a field trip made at that time. Any interested students who wish to go on the trip may come to the meeting or go by and sign up in the History Dept. (see Mrs. Foster). Faculty and staff are invited, too.

There will be an Inter Club Council meeting on Oct. 11 at 11:30 in the upstairs room of the Pub. All clubs should have a representative there.

"Does he love me . . . or is he intrigued by my

Newell's
SPORTSWEAR?"

NEW GIRL
WHATS-IN-A-NAME
SPRING CHICKEN
MODERN JUNIOR
BOBBIE BROOKS
RINGALEEVEEO
and many more.

SPERRY
TOP SIDERS
complete line
for ladies and men.

Newell's Ltd.

SPORTS &
CASUAL WEAR

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK 9A.M. - 9P.M.

The Happy Shopping Place on Wrightsville Beach

English Club Plans flea market

Members of the newly formed English Club met Thursday morning, Sept. 28, to discuss plans for the upcoming flea market. The flea market will be held Saturday, Oct. 13, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the parking lot adjacent to Sarah Graham Kenan Auditorium. In case of rain, it will be held on the stage inside the auditorium.

The market is being held

to raise money to finance the Jesse Rehder Memorial Fund. The fund, controlled by the University English Department, sponsors an annual short story contest open to all students on campus. The contest is given in memory of Jesse Rehder, native Wilmingtonian fiction writer and poet.

Anyone having donations should contact the secretary of the English department. Donations for the market may be brought to the English Department, second floor, Kenan Hall, or members of the club will pick them up from your home.

Everyone is urged to attend the first flea market held on the UNC-W campus.

UNC-W

Class Rings

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler
and Silversmiths
212 North Front Street

FOR THOSE WHO LIKE FINE DINING

Wilmington's Family Restaurant

Rex Ballard
Crystal Meares

763-4811

QUIET FAMILY ATMOSPHERE
• STEAK • SEAFOOD • BARBQ CHICKEN
3917 Market Street
(U.S. 17 North)

SUPERMAN RETURNS IN UNIQUE FEATURE FILM

Rocketed to earth as an infant when the planet Krypton exploded, Superman grew up in Smalltown, U.S.A., to find himself endowed with amazing physical powers. He could move faster than a speeding bullet. He was more powerful than a locomotive. He was able to leap over tall buildings in a single bound. But in order to utilize his amazing powers, he was forced to assume an alias - Clark Kent, a mild-mannered, bespectacled reporter on the Metropolis Daily Planet newspaper.

Since his first appearance in a comic strip in 1938, the "man of steel" has been impressing children with his unceasing battle against crime and intolerance, for truth and justice. Now, four half-hour episodes from the outstanding television series that aired during the 1950's have been programmed back-to-back in a unique feature film.

The four titles featured are "The Mysterious Cube," "Superman's Wife," "The Tin Hero," and "The Town That Wasn't." Each is a classic example of the flamboyant action-adventure formula that made Superman the prototype of charismatic super-heroes. And each brings back the familiar personalities of George Reeves as Superman; Noell Neill as Lois Lane; Jack Larson as Jimmy Olsen, cub reporter; John Hamilton as Perry White, editor of the Daily Planet; and Robert Shayne as Inspector Henderson.

Monday, October 15, 1973

KENAN AUDITORIUM

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 791-8055.

BUFFALO'S

DISCOUNT BEVERAGES

COMPLETE GROCERY LINE

OVER 400 WINES From 11 Countries

50 BEERS

From 15 Countries

5124 Oleander Drive

Located Across From The Bowling Center
Next To The Elit's Club - Call 799-2000

OPEN 7 to 1 except Fri. & Sat. - till 2:00 A.M.

B-Track
Tapes 1.99

Carton Cigarettes
2.38 2.48
Reg 100's

Stop By and See
Roger - Buffalo
You'll Be Glad You Did.

799-3950

Oleander Cinema 1

ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

Held 8th Week

7:30-8:40-5:50-8:00-10:10 color-R

WHAT MAKES WALKING TALL

The One Movie Many People Are Going To See Over and Over... Is It Really This Years BILLY JACK?

Oleander Drive

Oleander Cinema 2

ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

T-O-D-A-Y shows 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

THE HARRAD EXPERIMENT

THE MOST READ BOOK ON OR OFF CAMPUS IS NOW ON SCREEN!

Harrad College... where free, liberated relations between coed students are encouraged!

799-5710

LONG LEAF Cinema 1

HELL, UPSIDE DOWN

At midnight on New Year's Eve the S.S. Poseidon was struck by a 90 foot tidal wave and capsized

WHO WILL SURVIVE - IN ONE OF THE GREATEST ESCAPE ADVENTURES EVER!

THE POSEIDON ADVENTURE

Combining the Talents of 15 Academy Award Winners

7 BIG DAYS Thursday thru Wednesday Shows 2-4-6-8-10

LONG LEAF Cinema 2

Friday thru Thursday at 1:30-4:00-6:30-9:00

THE LEGEND OF HILL BILLY JOHN

mountain folk swear it's true

HARRAD EXPERIMENT 1973

by Robert H. Rimmer, author of the Harrad Experiment,
That Girl from Boston, Proposition 31,
etc.

I'm delighted that at long last THE HARRAD EXPERIMENT is a movie. When I wrote HARRAD in 1965 - I dedicated it to the men and women of the 21st century with the feeling that it would be at least fifty years before the kind of undergraduate college where a male and female roomed together--were actually pre-chosen for each other as one possible marital mate--would come into existence. Keep in mind, in 1965, while there were co-ed colleges and universities, the old style all male or all female college like Harvard, Princeton, Yale or Wellesley and Vassar were strongly entrenched. The idea of sandwich dormitories with males on one floor and females on another, or mixed dormitories was unheard of. I have the feeling that HARRAD, which after seven years continues to be widely read by the younger generation, has re-inforced the kind of living environment now available on most campuses.

But keep in mind--there is still no Harrad College where a male and female can actually room together within the college grounds with administration and faculty approval. Nor is there any pre-marital structure whose avowed purpose is to create a learning environment where young males and females can experience, intimately (over a period of several years), more than one member of the other sex as a part of their total educational experience.

The rapidity of change that is occurring in all our values, including sexual, is dramatically pointed out by the fact that less than six years ago, when THE HARRAD EXPERIMENT was first published, had a daring producer attempted to make a movie from the book, and had it been exhibited, all concerned would have received prison sentences. If you don't believe that, look at what happened to Ralph Ginsberg with EROS! Today, while the idea of

Harrad still shocks a vast segment of middle America, it's becoming increasingly obvious that if we are going to train youngsters to live in tomorrow's environment of loose--open-ended monogamy or approved group marriages with young women who expect much more from their marriages than a home in suburbia, the administration and faculty of our major colleges and universities will have to set in motion undergraduate interpersonal programs that give young men and women an approved, structured pre-marital experience similar to Harrad. I believe that within the next ten years Harrad will be a common experience available to millions of young people.

THE HARRAD EXPERIMENT as a moving picture will reach additional millions who will make a Harrad type undergraduate experience a reality in our lifetime. When it happens it will be a more joyous world to live in!

LAST TANGO IN PARIS dancing madly backwards

by spence focusue

So, he would call it sheer blasphemy, others a blatant misrepresentation for any writer of my demeanor who calls himself, however lowly, a representative of the critical arts, to judge a film such as LAST TANGO IN PARIS. A much damned and praised movie, LAST TANGO emerges (if not only from its box office success) as at least the most noted film of its time and of its kind.

LAST TANGO deserves more than the cheap shots it has taken by the fact of the appearance of Marlon Brando. Despite his nasal qualities, Brando the actor has perhaps his greatest role in LAST TANGO, not so much as an illumination of his acting talent, but as a personification of his real life. Brando's GODFATHER role was a show of his versatility; LAST TANGO is Brando. Certainly, though it may not rate as one of his best films, TANGO calls for a pause to look back at Brando and acknowledge his brilliance.

Throughout the course of the film, the tangibility of Brando and Marlon Schneider's (two nameless lovers) encounter is punctuated by sex not overpowered by it. Certainly sex was the blood of their relationship, but it was not the total force behind its demise. Director Bernardo Bertolucci could not have been denouncing or expounding the pathological madness of this insanely child-like couple--the madness was too overpowering and subtleness was called for. Bertolucci touches on the madness of society but most importantly provides a groundwork for Brando's talents and Schneider's raw beauty to weave the story.

LAST TANGO was over long after it should have been and when the final steps of Brando and Schneider's mad dance were over only then did the audience wrestle with the long awaited finale. LAST TANGO had its flaws, but the mere profusion of reviews, however good or bad, plus the publicity and the talents of Brando and Schneider make it more than cheap sex.

BREAKAWAY SPECIALS

Rolane Hosiery & Apparel Sales Outlets

Corner of 7th & Greenfield Streets

Open

9:00 - 5:30 Mon. - Sat.

Men's Jeans

.99 - 3.99

Double Knit

Dress Slacks

Reduced for clearance

Underwear in Assorted Colors

Ladies Flare Jeans

$3.99

Large Selection of Stretchwear
and Sportswear

TOWELS AND BEDSPREADS

Savings up to 50%

All Types of Socks

Crews, Expandos, and Over the Calfs

Check Out The Savings At

Rolane Hosiery and Apparel Sales Outlet

ANNIE GREEN SPRINGS

Wine

BERRY FROST

COUNTRY CHERRY

distributed by Homer Baker Co.
Wilmington, N.C.

LOST & FOUND
pub;
black sweater
two pairs of wire rimmed glasses pool cue assorted notebooks & texts

free free free free free
Free Badfinger posters to all those that can find the Student Government Office. The office is the last door on the left in the left wing of the Student Services building. Can't miss it, it's right beside the men's restroom. While you're there, picking up your jiffy poster, be sure to sign up for the bicycle race.

Yes

Wachovia

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terri and Marty Prigden
3843 Wrightville Ave. 791-6673

Hanover Distributing Company
Wilmington

Thomas As Twain Holds His Audience Spellbound

Thomas Gives Convincing Show As Aging Mark Twain

The second season of Jack Thomas portraying Mark Twain on a lecture tour opened last night at the Hedrick Little Theatre. About 500, mostly Catawba College students, appeared to enjoy the performance.

Jack Thomas ---- as Mark Twain signs autographs at Davie County Public Library.

Mark Twain Appears Here Before A Full House

Mark Twain appeared before a full house at the Davie County Public Library on Monday night, April 18, with many of his admirers being turned away for lack of even standing room. Those who were unable to see the program missed a truly delightful treat.

It is rare indeed that a town so small has the good fortune to see such a performance as that rendered by Jack Thomas. By the end of the evening everyone was ready to declare that he was Mark Twain.

His white flannel suit, hair, moustache, and make-up were faultless and defied detection by even the most well-trained eye.

But it was Thomas' skillful use of gestures and mannerisms that really won the audience. A shuffled walk, the constant drawing on a cigar, the clearing of the throat all blended beautifully to present a picture of an ageing, cantankerous Mark Twain.

Mr. Thomas will, no doubt, go on to follow the successes of such greats as Hal Holbrook and James Whitmore. "We are only glad that we were given this opportunity to see him at work."

for this year he has taken out some and added other Twain material. The honors of course, always go to Twain for his sharp and satiric writing that shows no signs of being outdated by the passage of 50 or more years. But Thomas is the interpreter of Twain's words, and the quality of his custodial care determines whether or not Twain comes to life. For the most part he does. Thomas' make-up and costuming get him off to a convincing start. His simulation of an aging man -- as Twain was during his later lecture tours -- is perfect. The crackling, aged voice is also excellent, although on a few occasions the timbre changes.

The stage set is a simple one of a table with books and a kerosene lamp, and a chair. Although overhead lights are used, Thomas is half shadowed much of the time, and since he works so close to the audience this helps protect the credibility of his makeup.

Thomas' timing of his lines is excellent. He uses exceptionally long pauses between the observations and the punch lines. These pauses are used to bristly clear his throat, study his cigar and other business which sometimes drew more laughs than the laugh line.

As generally excellent as Thomas is, one finds oneself realizing that this is a good actor up there, that this is Jack Thomas, not Mark Twain. The acting is a shade too devised, too tense, not relaxed enough. The result is that one is often more conscious of the acting than of the character he is portraying.

The Twain monologue was brought to its highest degree of perfection by Hal Holbrook, and one cannot help but wonder why Thomas is mining this lode that has been so heavily exploited by Holbrook. There must be other, fresher lodes for this fine monologist to tap.

GEORGE RAYNOR

'Mark Twain' To Be Presented By Library Group

"Mark Twain On Stage", featuring Jack Thomas, will be presented by the Friends of the Library on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the St. Paul's School Auditorium.

Thomas, a young actor from West Virginia, who now lives in North Carolina, has received rave notices for his portrayals of Mark Twain all over the country, spokesmen said. Sidney Blacker, President of the Theatre Authority, Inc. of New York City and a former North Carolinian, says Thomas' acting is "magnificent."

"His talent is rare and unique and his performance is spell-binding."

"I cordially urge everyone not to miss Mr. Thomas' performance. It will be an evening you will long remember," Blacker commented.

According to critics, Thomas' rendition of Mark Twain is outstanding that the audience is transported back in time. Three hours of makeup worn by the costume is an exact replica of the clothes worn when he was "under the

See "MARK TWAIN"

Oct. 18

KENAN AUD.

VILLAGE INN
WHERE PIZZA IS ALWAYS
IN GOOD TASTE!

Enjoy gourmet pizza,
baked by perfectionists, served in the international atmosphere of a Village Inn
Pizza Parlor.

A wide variety in three different sizes.

Bicycle race tentatively set for early November

A few interested students and professors are attempting to put together a 20 to 25 mile race to be held here on campus. In conjunction with the race, a tune-up clinic will be held on the Wednesday and Thursday nights before the race. The clinic will be open to all students interested in learning a little more about their bicycles and will be especially informative for those with particular problems. This is all still in the planning stage but hopefully there will be 3 or 4 bike mechanics on hand to examine each and everyone's particular problem.

The race itself (again this is tentative) will be 4 or 5 laps around a course on campus totalling between 20 to 25 miles. Traffic will understandably be blocked off for about an hour on the Saturday afternoon of the race. Trophies will be awarded to the first three places in each of four divisions. The four divisions are I. UNC-W men, II. UNC-W women, III. open men, IV. open women. In the first two categories, UNC-W students will be racing just other students.

IMPORTANT: All of these plans are dependent on one thing - participation. This can only come through if there are people willing to help organize and to participate. If you think this is a good idea and would like either to race, come to the clinic, or help officiate the race, please drop by the Student Government Office in the Pub and let someone know what you think.

Even though such crass materialism is below my dignity and against my better judgement I have compromised my principles and consented to perform in front of you clowns.

Jack Thomas as Mark Twain
KENAN AUDITORIUM, Oct. 18
students: $1.00 with I.D.'s

EVERY STUDENT IS SMART ENOUGH TO UNDERSTAND THE ECONOMICS OF SHOPLIFTING!

For every 75¢ item some creep rips off from the Bookstore, we are forced to sell 3 honest students the same item for $1.00-- -- and that's just breaking EVEN!!!

HELP YOURSELF BY NOT "HELPING YOURSELF" !!!!!

Phone: 791-5079

FULL LINE OF PARTY COMPLIMENTS
Domestic & Imported Wines & Beers Cocktail Mixes
Fancy Foods Beer by the Keg

PARTY DELIGHTS
Community Shopping Center on Oleander Drive Across from Cape
Fear Ford and 17th Street Extension next to New Hanover Hospital

LIVE MUSIC
WED. NIGHTS

FREE FLICKS
EVERY NIGHT

3617 Market Street

Where pizzas always
in good taste.

FOURTH CORNER
4405 wrightsville ave.

Top Bottom
Organic Oils,
Shampoos, and Lotions
Belts
Incense
Jewelry
Topsiders
Albums
Headgear
Water beds
Tapes

VARSITY SOCCER SCHEDULE

1973

DATE	OPPONENT	SITE	TIME
Wednesday, Oct. 10	Pembroke State University	Pembroke, N. C.
Saturday, Oct. 13	High Point College	Wilmington, N. C.	2:00 p.m.
Wednesday, Oct. 17	St. Andrews College	Laurinburg, N. C.
Saturday, Oct. 20	Lynchburg College	Lynchburg, N. C.
Wednesday, Oct. 24	Campbell College	Wilmington, N.C.	3:30 p.m.
Saturday, Oct. 27	Methodist College	Fayetteville, N. C.
Thursday, Nov. 8 & Friday, Nov. 9	District 29 Playoffs

Fall hoop schedule

VARSITY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

11/30	East Carolina	Greenville
12/8	NC Wesleyan	Rocky Mount
12/15	Fayetteville State	home
12/19	Muskingum College (Ohio)	home
1/5	Francis Marion	Florence, SC
1/8	High Point	High Point
1/10	Methodist	Fayetteville
1/12	Pfeiffer	home
1/14	Atlantic Christian	home
1/16	Gulford	Greensboro
1/19	Pembroke State	Pembroke
1/22	Hampton Institute	home
1/24	Shaw University	home
1/26	Ejon College	home
1/30	High Point	Raleigh
2/2	Shaw University	home
2/6	Campbell	Hampton, Va.
2/8	Hampton Institute	home
2/11	Pembroke State	Wilson
2/13	Atlantic Christian	home
2/16	Gulford	Buie's Creek
2/18	Campbell	Elon College
2/21	Elon College	Misenheimer
2/23	Pfeiffer	home
2/25	Francis Marion	home

*ALL HOME GAMES AT 7:30 p.m.

MY FELLOW AMERICANS,
I AM GOING TO SPEAK TO YOU ABOUT A SUBJECT OF GREAT IMPORTANCE TO US ALL: THE TRUTH

I COULD TELL YOU THE TRUTH.
IT WOULD BE THE EASY THING TO DO. BUT THE EASY WAY IS NOT ALWAYS THE CORRECT WAY.

UNDER THE DOCTRINE OF THE SEPARATION OF POWERS, ONLY CONGRESS CAN TELL YOU THE TRUTH. I WILL NOT INTERFERE BY GIVING THEM THE FACTS.

SO, AFTER GREAT SOUL-SEARCHING,
I HAVE DECIDED TO WITHHOLD ALL EVIDENCE SO THAT CONGRESS MAY PROCEED WITH ITS GREAT WORK.

NO, MY FRIENDS,
THE TRUTH WILL NOT BE KNOWN BY EXAMINING THE FACTS. THE TRUTH WILL BE KNOWN ONLY BY INNUEENDO AND DENIAL.

IT'S THE AMERICAN WAY.

NEW

RECORD
WORLD

*a new sound experience!!

Long Leaf Mall

DISCOUNT PRICES ON RECORDS & TAPES!!!!

OPEN--10 till 9
Monday thru Saturday.

'74 FORD

featuring the all new Mustang II

THE CLOSER

YOU LOOK, THE BETTER
WE LOOK

CAPE FEAR

4222
Oleander Drive

799-4060

"The Little Profit Dealer."

Thalians seek help

The Thalian Association, "the oldest continuously active community theatre in the United States", welcomes students and faculty members to participate either on or backstage during its 1973-74 season.

Because restoration work is being completed on Thalian Hall, at least two of this year's productions will be staged at Kenan Auditorium here on campus.

The Thaliens are currently rehearsing the elaborate musical Funny Girl which opens the season with performances on October 26, 27, and 28. Students may attend the final dress rehearsal on Thursday, October 25 for a $1 admission charge.

Those preferring to attend the regular performances may be interested in buying season tickets which offer substantial savings over the individual admission prices of $3.50 for musicals and $2.50 for plays. Married couples may buy two seats to each of the four shows for $15; single season tickets sell for $8. College and senior high students pay only $6 to see all four shows. Linda Moore will have season tickets at the Student Activities Office for the next week or ten days.

The Thalian Association has hired Peter Smith, a UNCW student with a considerable background in drama, to direct this season's plays which include the popular comedy Barefoot in the Park, the award-winning drama The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie, and the exciting rock musical Godspell in addition to Funny Girl.

Students and staff or faculty members who are interested in helping with the opening production or are curious about looking over a script for the next two plays should contact Linda Moore or Peter Smith on campus or drop by Thalian Hall (3rd and Princess Streets) any weeknight. Your support and participation will be welcomed.

★ Professional Service At A Price You Can Afford

kar-kare Service Center

4207 Oleander Drive

Complete Parts & Accessories

Professional Trained Personnel

★ LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT

"We do it right...or we do it over."

kar-kare
4207 Oleander Drive
799-2770

B.F. Goodrich

TIRES
Super-Tuf Retread

- Wheel Alignment
- Complete Front End Repairs
- Shock Absorbers
- Diagnostic Tune-Up
- Brake Service
- Batteries

GABRIEL PARRISH
Owner
WAYNE SHANNON
Manager

HOWARD HUGHES MAY BE APPEARING INCOGNITO
AT TONIGHT'S CONCERT
ANYONE IDENTIFYING HIM WILL RECEIVE THE NEXT BEATLE ALBUM FREE AS WELL AS TWO FREE TICK-ETS TO NEXT MONTH'S JIMI HENDRIX CONCERT

seahawk

READ THE STORIES STORY
ON PAGE ELEVEN. IT'S
THE TRUTH, AND THAT'S NO STORY.

vol. xvi no.8

october 17, 1973

twelve pages

STORIES, LYNYRD SKYNYRD, and HEATHER

TONIGHT

From the people who brought you YES, JOHN SEBASTIAN, STEELY DAN, SAVOY BROWN, BILLY PRESTON, and TRANQUILITY

How do you feel about marijuana legality?

PHOTOS BY CUMMINS MEBANE

Charlie Roberts, Soph. "Yes, I don't think there is enough evidence against it. Almost everything else is legal, why not marijuana."

Debbie Thorton, Frosh. "Yes, there aren't any harmful effects known and I really don't think any will be found. The reason it's illegal now is that the government thinks it's a social problem."

Micheal Ellis, Jr. "Yes, I think it's much less harmful than alcohol."

Jo Anne Baum, Jr. "Yes. Alcohol is legal and pot isn't. Many people go to jail for no reason."

Peter Venable, Sr. "No, I don't think the government should have the right to tax it like beer and tobacco. The penalties are absurd, a system of small fines would be fairer."

Cynthia Stewart, Jr. "Yes; people that want to should have the right to smoke. The laws just cause a lot of trouble and aren't very effective."

Reaction, Jr. "No, it makes normally active people passive and apathetic. Instead of doing things people just get high and let the world eat them."

seahawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 791-8055.

editor: kathi beall
associate editors: beth hicks, j.k. muhleman
advertising director: barry asbury
sports editor: robert maxey
business manager: alan murphy
mast head design: bert beall

photographers: robert allred; nauma dozier, chief neal huntley, jeannie kovalace, j.k. muhleman greek lines: rocky lane moore
supportive staff: sharon davis, anne nesbit, darlene pearshall
adviser: ms. linda moore

"Mark Twain" On Stage In Kenan Aud.

Jack Thomas, a young actor from West Virginia, who has been transplanted to Salisbury, is Mark Twain. When he shuffles onto the stage, the audience is transported back in time to the Twain era. Every part of Jack Thomas has been changed into Twain. The white suit is a carefully tailored replica of the suit that Samuel Clemens wore during his lifetime. The make-up is so perfect that it takes three hours to put on. Rare photographs of Mark Twain provide detailed studies of the humorist's characteristic way of standing, smoking, sitting, even the tilt of his head.

Thursday night's presentation will include portions of "Life on the Mississippi" as well as sections of "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn." The program will also include some of Twain's short stories such as "The Story of the Old Ram" and "Curing a Cold". However the highlight of the evening will come when Mark Twain is presented as Social Critic of his age when he speaks on such topics as religion, art, journalism, and government.

Jack Thomas is no newcomer to the stage, having appeared in productions of the Piedmont Players, Catawba College, and the Florence Little Theatre. His performances include Detective in "Mouse Trap", Pickering in

"My Fair Lady", Rufin in "The Sound of Music", Sailor in "The World of Suzy Wong", George in "Sue Laves Me", Nanki Poo in "The Mikado", and Lucentio in "Taming of the Shrew".

And because of his previous theatre experience, Thomas knows that a one-man show is no push-over, but he attacks the show with great energy and fervor. The script for "Mark Twain on the Stage" has been built on research on top of more research by Thomas. The idea of doing the Mark Twain show occurred to him about two years ago.

The hand movements and tilt of the head are no accident, however.

"Libraries (public and Catawba College) have approximately 70 books either about or by Mark Twain. In addition to what's been put down in writing, I have found dozens and dozens of pictures from which to draw my interpretations."

Make-up for his performances are done by Leonard Kruea, manager of the College-Community Centre in Salisbury, and takes about three hours to complete.

Salisbury's own Sidney Blackmer has called Thomas' performance magnificent. "His talent is rare and unique and his performance is spellbinding! You are suddenly transported to the era of "Life on the Mississippi" as you listen to Twain reminisce of the days when he lived there as a boy."

"Jack Thomas IS Mark Twain, and you are there with the great storyteller and critic of his time. This is the challenge of the actor - to become the character! This Mr. Thomas has achieved."

"I've always been a fan of Mark Twain," he said from beneath the strawberry blonde mustache which matched his hair, adding, "I've just started reading everything he had ever written, and I found an awful lot in common with him."

As Thomas spoke, gesturing with his hands, he looked strangely like younger pictures of Samuel Clemens who also had that tinge of red in his locks.

Admission $1.00 per student w/ ID

instant bread.

When money is the reason you're looking for a job, take a look at Manpower's temporary jobs. Assignments to fit your schedule. Paychecks for time worked are mailed weekly. There's a variety of work available. Secretarial. Typing. Clerical. General industrial. Skilled and semi-skilled. Data Processing. Sales. Technical. If you've worked before, are ready to work for a while again and you're thinking of going - not a career - call Manpower. 1036 S. College Road, Wilmington, N.C. 28401 791-5515

MANPOWER
your instant bread people.
an equal opportunity employer.

MATH PROFESSORS ATTEND CONFERENCE

Two members of the Mathematics Department faculty will be participants at the Third Annual State Mathematics Conference to be held at Meredith College in Raleigh on October 19-20, 1973. Miss Martha Moyer will participate in a panel discussion on Articulation of Programs Between the Two- and Four-year Colleges. Dr. Fletcher Norris will present a paper entitled The Use of Computers in Problem Solving Situations.

Miss Eloise Scott is also attending the conference. The conference is co-sponsored by the North Carolina Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the Mathematics Division of the State Department of Public Instruction.

Even though such crass materialism is below my dignity and against my better judgement I have compromised my principles and consented to perform in front of you clowns.

Jack Thomas as Mark Twain
KENAN AUDITORIUM, Oct. 18
students: $1.00 with I.D.'s

Seniors,

Look to Jefferson Standard for YOUR future!

Jefferson Standard

Life Insurance Company

3131 Wrightsville Ave.

Bob Page 763-1604

Bill Heinberg 763-1605

Do you feel Self-conscious Of Your Bustline?

Countless numbers of women are ashamed of their bust, suffering embarrassment and often discomfort... usually because of an improperly fitted bra. Every woman is unique and so is her figure. That's why we developed the Cameo custom-fitted bra. The Cameo is designed on a unique suspension principle that eliminates weight-carrying problems along with the distress of shoulder strap pull. Yet, the Cameo bra provides firm, comfortable support. Because of thrust and gravity of the suspension principle, the appearance of the small bust is fuller and more natural looking without one ounce of padding. The Cameo is available in over 100 different sizes which means there is a size that properly fits you! And it's priced well within your reach. Obviously, a custom-fitted bra such as Cameo cannot be sold "over the counter". Instead, a trained Cameo Couturier will fit you at your convenience, in the privacy of your own home. Through her individual attention you will find just the right combination of cup sizes and other bra measurements to fit you perfectly. Won't you please respond by calling or visiting the Salon de Frey Boutique and let Cameo help you find the freedom and comfort you deserve? After all, you need not be self-conscious of your bust.

Salon de Frey and Boutique

791-3051

791-2214

318 Parkway Drive off South College Road

Yes

Wachovia

Members of the Student Affairs Committee meet to discuss final details of Today the campus daily bulletin. They are, left to right, Dr. Ned Martin, chemistry; Carlos Perez, Spanish; Doug Swink, drama; Dr. Marie Powles, English; Miss Martha Moye, math; Committee Chairman Dr. Fletcher Norris, Math; Mrs. Judy Lewis, physical education; Ms. Linda Moore, director of student activities; Mike Jones, junior class president; Tom Rabon, sophomore class president; Dr. Bill Malloy vice chancellor for student affairs; absent were Keith Hales SGA vice president; Charles Berg, senior class president; and Mike Goins, art department. (photo by nauma dozier)

UNC-W
Class Rings

GURR Jewelers

212 North Front Street
Wilmington's Fine Jeweler
and Silversmiths

INTEREST

with robert maxey

National Sports

Place your bets! It's World Series time. This year the Oakland A's face the New York Mets. The A's took the first game with a 2-1 victory and the Mets took the second game 10-7.

State Sports

Carolina & State posted victories this past weekend. The North Carolina State Wolfpack defeated the Maryland Terps 24-22 and the Carolina Tarheels broke a losing streak to defeat Kentucky, 16-10.

U.N.C.-W Sports

The Seahawk Soccer team continue to win as they defeated Pembroke 2-0 and Highpoint 1-0 in soccer. Details on the Highpoint game on page 5.

Intramural Sports

TEKE trounced HIGHTOPS 20-0 in Flag Football.

ECOS comes to UNC-W

ECOS, the state-wide and now campus environmental awareness group, will be holding a membership drive in the next few weeks. A new chapter here is being formed.

Anyone the least bit concerned with our environment is urged to attend. The least anyone can do is be informed. Join ECOS.

Watch the SEAHAWK for more information or drop by the Student Government office. On campus, talk with Worth Bolton, Don Massengill, or Bill Renn about the upcoming projects and plans.

Stories

LATEST Album -

"About Us is one of the Best 10 American albums of the past two years." - Zoo World

Lynyrd Skynyrd - a super hot new band from Atlanta, Ga.

Heather - the "Home-Town Boys"

SEE THEM ALL ----
WEDNESDAY
October 17th
8:00 P.M.

in our very own Gym!! student advance - $2.50
(on sale at the Pub)

at the door - $3.50
AVOID THE RUSH

We can order you a new
Chrysler - Plymouth automobile.

PORT CITY Chrysler - Plymouth

219 S. College Rd.

799-1815

Whatever Your Needs - See PCCP First!

Shoney's

"HOME OF THE BIG BOY"

4010 MARKET STREET

Complete Selection On Our Menu!

OPEN--

7 a.m. - 12 p.m. Monday - Thursday

7 a.m. - 2 a.m. Friday & Saturday

Try Our Strawberry Pie

VTN --- a good idea

Soccer team wins

second straight

by robert maxey

The U.N.C.W. soccer team won its second straight game Saturday by defeating Highpoint College 1-0 in a see-saw battle that culminated in the final moments of play.

The outstanding moments of the first half came in the first 3 minutes of play when Joe Maskery shot a low line drive sinker toward the goal. However the shot was unsuccessful. Later Bitton, Wychel, and Wells attempted 3 consecutive shots they were also unsuccessful. Both teams had 8 goal attempts in the first half but the half ended scoreless.

The second half got under way with both teams heading up and down the field. Neither team seemed to have more control or possession of the ball than the other.

The winning score came with 5 minutes and 28 seconds remaining in the game. Bill Renn scored with an assist by David Wychel to sew up the victory.

With 35 seconds remaining on the clock Highpoint threatened the Seahawks shaky lead. Tim Willette, the Seahawk goalie prevented a possible tie with a fantastic save. Tim chucked up 20 saves during the game.

Although the game with Highpoint was a non-district game the Seahawk soccer team holds a 4-5-2 season overall and are 2-0-1 in the conference.

After the game. Coach Lane stated "I'm very happy with the game and the team. Highpoint has a good team but we just don't seem to play as well at home as away. Last Wednesday we played our finest game of the year against Pembroke. It's the first time U.N.C.W. has ever defeated Pembroke in soccer." The Hawks won that game by a score of 2-0.

The Seahawks, who are undefeated in the district have 4 remaining games all in district play. Last home game Wednesday Oct. 24th.

Gene Browksi of Maryland, one of the two highly recruited players on the Seahawk Soccer squad, blasts a shot against High Point. Browksi is tied with Bill Renn for the leading scorer slot on the team. Each has four goals to his credit. (photo by Neal Huntley).

SGA President Bill Renn ducks into a nearby phone booth and emerges as #15 Wild Bill Super Soccer Socker. This photo of Bill in disguise was secretly made during Saturday's game against High Point. (photo by Neal Huntley).

VARSITY SOCCER SCHEDULE

1973

DATE	OPPONENT	SITE	TIME
Wednesday, Oct. 17	St. Andrews College	Laurinburg, N. C.
Saturday, Oct. 20	Lynchburg College	Lynchburg, N. C.
Wednesday, Oct. 24	Campbell College	Wilmington, N.C.	3:30 p.m.
Saturday, Oct. 27	Methodist College	Fayetteville, N. C.
Thursday, Nov. 8 & Friday, Nov. 9	District 29 Playoffs

Life only happens once. You get no second chances. So you go for all the gusto there is. Sometimes you can even taste it.

When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

HAWK'S NEST

5814 Oleander Drive

SPAGHETTI NIGHT

every thursday

77¢

spaghetti, salad, rolls

Live Bands

Fri., and Sat. Nights

799-5880

BILL TOMZ CREATES MAGNETO-ELECTRETS

UMA SHANKAR CREATING WAVES (GRAVITY)

"Does he love me . .
or is he intrigued by my
Newell's
SPORTSWEAR?"

NEW GIRL
WHATS-IN-A-NAME
SPRING CHICKEN
MODERN JUNIOR
BOBBIE BROOKS
RINGALEEVEEO
and many more.

SPERRY
TOP SIDERS
complete line
for ladies and men

Newell's Ltd.

SPORTS &
CASUALWEAR

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK 9A.M. - 9P.M.

The Happy Shopping Place on Wrightsville Beach

1+1=3

Yes, it's base 10; only this equation deals with real life - when you're pregnant, there are 3 lives to consider.

Children's Home Society has counselors who listen and help - not only with sorting out feelings, but with the nitty-gritty details of realistic planning for whatever decision
YOU make.
Remember 1 and 1 equals 3, and we can help.

Children's Home Society maintains offices in eight locations in North Carolina - the nearest one is in Wilmington. 763-9727

*Dolphin
Bookshop*

Long Leaf Mall
Open Mon. - Sat. 10 - 9

•Buried Alive$7.95

by Myra Friedman

Janis Joplin's life is depicted in this great biography. She was a lonely, brashly, insecure woman whose suicidal life-style brought her great adulation, wealth, occasional happiness, and left her dead. This is her story, in as definitive a form as there is ever likely to be.

"Books are our only business, not a sideline."

PHYSICS STUDENTS PRESENT PAPERS

Two students in physics will present results of their research at the fall meeting of the Southeastern Section of the American Physical Society in Winston-Salem on November 9.

Bill Tomz, a senior physics major, will present his paper, "A Study of Wax Magneto-Electrets." Electrets are the electrical counterpart to the familiar permanent magnets; that is, electrets have permanent electric fields associated with them, while magnets have permanent magnetic fields. Recently a researcher in India published a paper indicating electrets could be produced in a magnetic field. His experimental technique did not appear to be as rigorous as it could have been, so it was decided to develop more sophisticated experiments to determine the validity of this claim. Bill's work thus far indicates that the interpretations of the earlier experiments were incorrect.

Uma Shankar, a junior physics major, will present a paper "Gravitational Field Theory." Her work, con-

VAC SEEKS STUDENT BOARD MEMBER

The Lower Cape Fear Voluntary Action Center (VAC) is looking for a student to sit on it's Board of Directors. Responsible for public relations, program, the recruitment, training, and recognition of volunteers as well as the financial management of VAC. The Board meets approximately once a month. Current members represent the business and professional sectors of the community, as well as the public and private agencies VAC serves. A student is sought to contribute the student viewpoint.

Anyone with this interest is asked to call VAC's Director, Ms. Sue Colson, at 762-9611, or stop by Ms. Linda Moore's office in the Pub.

ducted with the aid of the Multiple Abilities Program, is in the area of theoretical physics. She is attempting to create a model of the solar system that will predict the observed motion of the planets. This can be done with the aid of general relativity, but her work is non-relativistic in nature.

It has been thus far determined that by adding a rotational component to the static gravitational field, the same equation for the orbits of the planets as predicted by general relativity results.

CHESS CLUB MEETING!

WEDNESDAY Oct. 17 3 PM

SGA OFFICE IN PUB
ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING
DESIGNED FOR ACTIVE INTEREST

IN CHESS

FOR THE BEGINNER OR ADVANCED PLAYER.

THE TRANSPLANT

"This is my commandment that you love one another as I have loved you." (Jesus Christ)

Love is a verb more often verbalized than verbed. Talking never seems to put it across or get the job done.

But, with proper motivation it can be acted out in any culture on any street in our town at any door where two hands touch.

Seeing is believing when love happens before your eyes. Other believing is intellectual or emotional assent in absentia and neither hurts nor heals.

I prefer to see love coming on two feet reaching out to do what needs doing.

Like picking up a child's shattered security and putting him together again.

Or smiling (a verb that has fallen on hard times) at the quiet classmate.

It makes no noise but changes the weather map in another's mind

Love is available in varied degrees of holiness or hollowness.

Reading from left to right: "God so loved the world that he gave his only son..." And I wasn't ready for that kind of caring for me and my world.

Who could be ready?
like being prepared or qualified or having one's bag packed?

So it remains mystery

Until I see love in someone's eyes accepting me caring for my hunger brothers and sisters and weeping over the city fallen apart or nation gone to pot.

Then I see love being verbed...on stage And seeing is believing.

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

"FOR THOSE WHO LIKE FINE DINING"

Ballards

QUIET FAMILY ATMOSPHERE
• STEAK • SEAFOOD • BARBECUE CHICKEN

3917 Market Street
(U.S. 17 North)

Wilmington's Family Restaurant

Rex Ballard
Crystal Meares

763-4811

799-3950

Oleander Cinema 1
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

Held 9th Week
:30-3:40-5:50-8:00-
10:10 color-R

WHAT MAKES WALKING TALL

The One Movie Many People Are Going To See Over and Over... Is It Really This Years BILLY JACK?

Oleander Cinema 2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

Today thru Tuesday

DILLINGER color-R
Shows 2-4-6-8-10
BEN JOHNSON... CLORIS LEACHMAN

LONG LEAF Cinema 1
799-5710

HELD OVER thru Wednesday Shows 2-4-6-8-10

HELL, UPSIDE DOWN

At midnight on New Year's Eve the S.S. Poseidon was struck by a 90 foot tidal wave and capsized

WHO WILL SURVIVE - IN ONE OF THE GREATEST ESCAPE ADVENTURES EVER

All Seats $1.00 till 2:30 in all 4 cinemas except Sunday

THE POSEIDON ADVENTURE

Combining the Talents of 15 Academy Award Winners

LONG LEAF Cinema 2

Friday thru Thursday

They rob banks better than Bonnie & Clyde!

at 1:50-3:40-5:30-7:20-9:10

PETE, PEARL & THE POL

TECHNICOLOR • TECHNISCOPE®
A National General Pictures Release

Bailey
762-7393

DOWNTOWN • 18 N. FRONT ST.

Thurs. thru Weds.

"THE HONG KONG CAT" R

Starring ROBERT DUVAL

Colony
762-3327

DOWNTOWN • 131 MARKET ST.

Thursday thru Wednesday at 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

Paramount Pictures Presents
A HOWARD W. KOCH Production
BADGE 373
INSPIRED BY THE EXPLOITS OF ERIC STAR
In color Prints by MOVIELAB
A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

Volunteer work helps volunteer

Want to do "something"?
Want to grow, not just exist?
Want to help people? Want help deciding a career?

Want to do "something"?
Want to grow, not just exist?

Want to help people? Want help deciding on a career?

Those questions, and many others may be answered with involvement in a volunteer program. Approximately 55 area agencies have requested volunteer help in a vast assortment of situations. Whether you decide to assist youngsters or the elderly, to work with a group or just one individual, to be an assistant or leader, to help with academics or recreational activities—the choice is yours.

Working in consort with the downtown Lower Cape Fear Voluntary Action Center, Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, is able to give students detailed information on opportunities in and around Wilmington. "A large amount of time is not required!" stresses Ms. Moore. As little as an hour a week or, for instance, a Saturday morning every two weeks, would be most welcome. Also campus clubs or organizations can arrange a one-time project to suit members' needs and interests.

Check out these opportunities by contacting Ms. Moore in her office in the Pub, or by calling Mrs. Sue Colson, Director of the Voluntary Action Center, 814 Murchison Building, 762-9611.

RECREATION:

Northside Neighborhood Center
Recreation leader to work with first through fourth graders to arrange "happenings", arts & crafts, personal care sessions, for example. Mon-Fri. 2-5 Sat. mornings hours can be arranged.

A semester's commitment will be needed.

Mental Health Center Day Hospital

Volunteers needed to help in informal situations with craft ideas, music & singing sessions, etc. Professionals present. Tues. & Thurs. 2-4:30 p.m. Any time available is welcomed.

ACADEMIC---

Day Care Centers

Aides needed in all age groups in a variety of situations.

Good place to observe child development.

James Dudley School

Classes for the mentally retarded junior high school student need teacher's aides.
Any time available is welcomed.

YMCA

The Y is sponsoring a swim program for handicapped children every morning (school age children).

Parks & Rec

Recreation aides are needed to work with the supervisors at the various recreation centers.

ers, open from 2-5 p.m., Monday thru Friday. Any time available is welcome.

GIRLS' CLUB

Elementary school age children taking arts and crafts after school every day need someone to work with. On Saturday afternoons there are bowling and basketball ball activities for girls in the 7th, 8th, and 9th grades.

Chestnut Street School

(7th & 8th Grade Center)
Music classes are in need of volunteers to work with 7th and 8th graders who are studying different types of instruments such as the guitar, trumpet, etc.

Come
as you are!

Be yourself.
Relax and enjoy
delicious gourmet pizza
in the informal atmosphere
of the Village Inn.
No need to dress up. Bring
the whole family. Village Inn's
the fun place to go!

Live
Music

Wednesday Night

Free Flicks

Every Night

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

3617 Market Street

Where pizza is always
in good taste

"An English custom, though it hath no name
Blending with Beckett curians along
The public, it's which the for instance between
The real grapes in the many hands of wine.
Hath yet a purchased chance of chosen wine.
The chosen light and the Modest strong
If chosen across his Modestness, we can tell for.
The very best of vineyards in the cellar
-Byron, Don Juan, Canto LXVI

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Family and Monthly Prizes
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-4673

Octoberfeast

Here's an opportunity to get together with friends and enjoy some good folk music and beer!

On October 19, from 8-12 p.m., the Atlantis is sponsoring an "October-feast" in the upstairs lounge of the Student Union (Pub).

The aim of UNC-W's liberal arts magazine is to represent the different areas of creativity on our campus. In presenting the "Octoberfeast" the Atlantis invites you to be entertained by local musicians in a relaxed atmosphere.

Students with ID's will be admitted free. Non-students will be charged a 50¢ admission fee and must be 18.

Bring a blanket to sit
on.

Winners of the Poetry and Prose Contest and of the Photography and Art Contest will be awarded their cash prizes sometime during the evening. Please be sure to come if you entered the contests.

Budweiser.
KING OF BEERS.

"When you say
Budweiser,
you've said it all!"

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

MON. - SAT. 10A.M. - 6P.M.

FREE

Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty, and staff are invited - urged - begged to put their classified ads in the Seahawk FREE
Let us give you a break-

66 Mustang, 6 cylinder, 3 speed. Chrome overalls.
Repainted from last year.
A Great Buy for only $600.
Call 791-6564.

Stereo Components Most
Major Brands 20 - 30%
Off. All Fully Guaranteed
Call 799-1699 after 6 p.m.

House Mate Wanted-- NOW!
on the beach--- $50/month--- fully furnished & phone--- guy or chick--- phone: 256-
3228 or 256-4433

FOR SALE: 71 Vega, red/black interior, 4 speed, 48,000 miles, excellent cond. 799-3066

FOR SALE: 65 Oldsmobile station wagon. Power brakes, power steering, auto trans,
good condition. 799-3066.

AIR CONDITIONED 1969
OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS
WITH POWER STEERING.
RADIO, ONLY $1,000.
CALL 799-3765.

Unplanned pregnancy?
Call Children's Home Society for help in evaluating all alternatives:
(919) 763-9727

Bedroom and private bath
for rent- Hanover Heights Area-kitchen privileges arranged.
Call 791-6530.

Room mate wanted:
Female
$52.50/month & utilities
Wrightsville Beach Sound
256-4196

STORIES=L. SKYNYRD=HEATHER TONIGHT!!!

When rock and roll began in the 50's the south developed a vanguard of stars that in their own unique crude way produced an exciting style of rock music that has never been equaled. People like Little Richard, Jerry Lee Lewis, and Elvis Presley were unsurpassed in their own style. Today groups like Sha-Na-Na, Flash Cadillac, and Vince Vance try to recapture this natural expression of the early 50's.

In the second half of the 50's the south made its other contribution to rock--"beach music". Black groups like the Platters, Drifters, Coasters, Major Lance Revue, Lee Dorsey, and the Falcons dominated much of the singles market. Albums were not very important in those days. By late 1963 "beach music" was on its last legs and died shortly after the "British Invasion" of 63-65. Today "beach music" as far as singles, albums, and concerts is dead for all practical purposes. Groups like the Platters, Drifters, and Major Lance Revue still tour but can only attract older audiences at lounges and clubs. For the most part, perhaps undeservably the mention of "beach music" evokes only giggles in today's concert oriented audience.

Since the south spawned these groups it was naturally associated as "southern music" so that during the 60's, no one ever took southern bands seriously. Bands like the Occasions only reinforced this opinion.

The national view of southern music began to change slowly in 1969. An unknown group of musicians were organized by Duane Allman into a tight blues-rock group by the name of the Allman Brothers Band. It took a lot of touring but slowly people began to think twice about southern groups. The Allman's broke a lot of ground for today's southern groups.

Today the south is probably the hottest area in the nation for new bands. The Allman's are no longer a small group. They received $117,000 for their part of Watkins' Glen - not bad for a day's work. In their wake several southern groups are beginning to figure prominently on a national scene. Groups like Marshall Tucker, Wet Willie and Lynyrd Skynyrd, (possibly Heather someday in the future) are now clamoring up the steps the Allman's built only recently. Today very few people still snicker at the south. Which brings us to the real purpose of the article-- a bit of information of Lynyrd Skynyrd.

Lynyrd Skynyrd is a young group of musicians from Georgia that now call Florida their home. Their name is a corruption of the spelling of Leonard Skinner-- their high school baseball coach who used to scream about their long hair. Their music is blues-rock a la Allman's. Cashbox says that they are the best southern band since the Allman Brothers. It should be noted that no one claims that they are as good or better than the Allmans-- just the best band since them-- which is still a very strong compliment (personally I think that compliment belongs to Marshall Tucker), however no one disputes that Lynyrd Skynyrd is an excellent young band. They are produced by Al Kooper, the man who founded the Blues Project and Blood Sweat and Tears, worked with Mike Bloomfield, and now specializes in mostly record productions. Lynyrd Skynyrd features an electric guitar, two acoustic guitars, bass, drums, and keyboards. Their first album "Lynyrd Skynyrd" is on the sounds of the South - Al Koopers label.

Beginning with this concert committee will institute some new services to the students of UNC-W.

Through an agreement with Inside A Note Records of Wrightsville Beach. Albums by groups appearing here will be available in the Pub at the ticket table to UNC-W students at whole sale cost. Albums with a list price of $5.98 will be sold at cost for $3.25. This is $1.25 to $1.75 cheaper than the albums can be purchased from most record stores in the community. Also, if there are any extra Stories T-shirts left over they will be available for purchase. These ideas were conceived at the Wit's. Since we started quite late on these ideas we hope to have these items here by the last day of ticket sales this time. In the future this will be available during the entire ticket selling time.

The last article about Stories was undeniable defensive. To be honest earlier there was a certain pervasive cynical attitude among certain students about the musical level of Stories. Just about everybody who has listened to the albums have changed their opinion, however, the last time such an attitude was displayed was with a gentleman by the name of John Sebastian. Consequently very few students showed up for it. The 300 or so that did show up and disputedly one of the best finest concerts ever presented by UNC-W. After blowing that one it would seem that the student body would give up trying to second guess every one that appears here. Any one that is anything in rock has had nothing but excellent compliments for Stories (check out the display in the Pub) that should suffice. Advance student tickets are 2.50. The door price is $3.50 (limit of two per ID). Concert begins at 8:00 tonight. Doors open at 7:00-- bring a blanket and a friend-- the rest is up to you. History, Notes, Opinions-- Wes Knappe

Bicycle race tentatively set for early November

A few interested students and professors are attempting to put together a 20 to 25 mile race to be held here on campus. In conjunction with the race, a tune-up clinic will be held on the Wednesday and Thursday nights before the race. The clinic will be open to all students interested in learning a little more about their bicycles and will be especially informative for those with particular problems. This is all still in the planning stage but hopefully there will be 3 or 4 bike mechanics on hand to examine each and everyone's particular problem.

The race itself (again this is tentative) will be 4 or 5 laps around a course on campus totalling between 20 to 25 miles. Traffic will understandably be blocked off for about an hour on the Saturday afternoon of the race. Trophies will be awarded to the first three places in each of four divisions. The four divisions are I. UNC-W men, II. UNC-W women, III. open men, IV. open women. In the first two categories, UNC-W students will be racing just other students.

IMPORTANT: All of these plans are dependent on one thing - participation. This can only come through if there are people willing to help organize and to participate. If you think this is a good idea, and would like either to race, come to the clinic, or help officiate the race, please drop by the Student Government Office in the Pub and let someone know what you think.

your's broken?

we repair
all models!

LIFE
CYCLES

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER
4209 Oleander Drive
798-5778
Mon. - Thurs. 10-4 Fri. 10-9 Sat. 10-4

DISCOUNT PRICES ON RECORDS & TAPES!!!!

OPEN--10 til 9
Monday thru Saturday.

RECORD
WORLD

* a new sound experience!!

Long Leaf Mall

BUFFALO'S
DISCOUNT-BEVERAGES

COMPLETE GROCERY LINE

OVER 100 WINES From 11 Countries

OVER 50 BEERS From 18 Countries

5124 Oleander Drive

Located Across From The Shopping Center Next To The Elms Club - Call 799-2000

OPEN 7 to 1 except Fri. & Sat. - till 8:00 A.M.

8-Track Tapes 1.99

Carton Cigarettes 2.38 2.48 Reg 100's

Stop By and See
Roger- Buffalo
You'll Be Glad You Did.

NEW

apparel factory outlet

Misses' &
Jr. Miss
Denim JEANS

from $4.44

baggies
flares
bells

Men's Denim
Jeans

from $4.66

Hand Carved Belts - $6.66

10-6 sat. FREE PARKING 10-9 mon.-fri

4204 OLEANDER DRIVE

The DEVIL made me do it!

★ Professional Service At A Price You Can Afford

car-kare Service Center

4207 Oleander Drive
Complete Parts & Accessories
Professional Trained Personnel

★ LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT
"We do it right...or we do it over."

kar-kare
4207 Oleander Drive
799-2770

BFGoodrich

TIRES
Super-Tef Retread

- Wheel Alignment
- Complete Front End Repairs
- Shock Absorbers
- Diagnostic Tune-Ups
- Brake Service
- Batteries

GILBERT PARRISH
Owner
WAYNE SHANNON
Manager

seahawk

vol. xvi, no. 9

october 24, 1973

eight pages

FASHION SHOW

nov 1
8 p.m.

kenan
aud.
$1.50

UNDER SPONSORSHIP OF PHI MU AND DIRECTION OF BELK-BEERY.
PROCEEDS FROM THE FASHION SHOW WILL GO TO FUND THE HOSPITAL SHIP HOPE COME AND SUPPORT PHI MU AND HOPE!!!

HOW WAS THE CONCERT

Ed Taylor - Heather and Skynyrd were good, but Stories was a let-down. It was still a good concert; we ought to have more having local bands so it won't be so expensive.

Carl Edmonds - Heather was the best, Skynyrd was okay at first, but Stories was a let-down. We ought to have more concerts with a larger variety, including blues.

Sally Hasbend - I didn't go but I heard Stories wasn't that good. I think we ought to have more concerts with more well known groups, like Badfinger.

Adrienne Rice - The sound system was messed up. The music was too loud and it was overpowering the singing. It hadn't been for this it would have been pretty good. I also thought there were too many high school kids there. What happened to UNC-W students?

David Brickley - Heather was the best, you could hear them which made it pleasant. The sound system was out of whack and you could not understand them the louder they got. I didn't like the break between the bands. There should be a local artist to play between them to keep the audience in the mood.

Steve Ezzell - The music was too loud. I couldn't understand what they were saying. Otherwise the bands themselves were good. I like most any kind of music and would like to see more of a variety of music including country.

seahawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 791-8055.

editor: kathi beall
associate editors: beth hicks, j.k. muhlemann
advertising director: barry asbury
sports editor: robert maxey
business manager: alan murphy
mast head design: bert beall

photographers: roberta allred; nauma dozier, chief neal huntley, jeannie loveace, j.k. muhlemann
greek lines: rocky lane moore
supportive staff: sharon davis, anne nesbit,
darlene pearsall
adviser: ms. linda moore

SHOP EARLY
for the holidays

Halloween
CHRISTMAS
EVERYDAY
GREETING CARDS
(large selection)

GRUMBACHER ART SUPPLIES
10%
Discount to Art Students

Gifts & Novelties

Becker's GIFT & DECOR CENTER

Long Leaf Mall Hours: 10 - 9

Give others Hope

Phi Mu urges support

USS HOPE, Helping Other People Everywhere, is the national philanthropy of Phi Mu Sorority.

"Hospital at sea," the medical ship travels the world 'round administering services to underdeveloped and needy communities. Nov. 1 at Kenan Auditorium, Phi Mu Collegiates and Alumnae will sponsor a fashion show beginning at 8 p. m. under the direction of Belk-Beery Company.

Props, action scenes, music and a film explaining the philanthropy add up to an interesting evening.

Models, to include faculty of UNC-W, will parade on stage in male and female fashions.

Attend the fashion show. Proceeds go to the USS HOPE. Tickets may be purchased from any Phi Mu and at Belk-Beery, Hickory farms or the Beehive at the Long Leaf Mall for $1.50.

NEW

RECORD WORLD

DISCOUNT PRICES ON RECORDS & TAPES!!!!

OPEN--10 til 9
Monday thru Saturday.

a new sound experience!!

Long Leaf Mall

Today
thru
Tuesday
Held Over!
10th Week!
color
(R)

OLEANDER
Cinema 1&2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

1:30-3:40-5:50-
8:00-10:10

WALKING TALL

"Might just turn out to be this year's sleeper and emulate the runaway success of 'BILLY JACK'."

—Kevin Thomas, L.A. Times

Today
thru
Tuesday
1:40-3:30-
5:20-7:10-9:00

in color rated PG

Thursday
thru
Wednesday
Shows
2-4-6-8-10

LONG LEAF
Cinema 1&2

LONG LEAF MALL—SHIPYARD BLVD. 2-4:30-7-9:30
in color rated G

Great Entertainment
Don't Miss
KIRK DOUGLAS NEVILLE BRAND
in

'SCALAWAG'

in color rated G

Thursday
thru
Wednesday
at 12:00-3:50-
5:40-7:30-9:20

Colony
762-5327
DOWNTOWN • 131 MARKET ST.
color

THE CLONES

Bailey
762-7393
DOWNTOWN • 18 N. FRONT ST.

JIM BROWN
"I ESCAPED FROM DEVIL'S ISLAND"

COLOR
(R)

Aim for intramurals

By ROBERT MAXEY

Get on the ball; don't putter around; aim for INTRAMURALS.

Open to all students, Intramurals can involve clubs, fraternities and individuals.

The program offers a great deal of variety for those that want to get involved in sports.

Planned programs include flag football for the rough 'n tough; cross country for the energetic, and archery for the cupids on campus. Golf, tennis, softball and horseshoes are other activities offered.

Women: Don't feel excluded as you are essential to the program. For the liberated, there is volleyball, basketball, archery and other sports in which you can become a participant.

The program began Sept. 12 with flag football. Six teams entered the competition and have completed the first half.

STANDINGS ARE:

TEAM	won	lost
JOCKS	5	0
TKE	4	1
DOLPHINS	3	2
SHADOWS	2	3
MAJORS	1	4
PHI KAPS	0	5

Second round games begin Tues., Oct. 23 at 4:30 p. m. Good luck

David Warner, head of the program has and will continue to work diligently to make the intramurals a success at UNC - W, but it takes more than a head to make the program a success. It takes a body of people to participate. So if you are out to meet people, have fun, get exercise and competition, join up and let's get that body in shape for another great year of intramurals.

UNC-W
Class Rings

GURR Jewelers

212 North Front Street
Wilmington's Fine Jeweler
and Silversmiths

 Professional Service At
A Price You Can Afford

kar-kare Service
Center

4207 Oleander Drive
Complete Parts & Accessories

Professional Trained Personnel

 LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT

"We do it right...or we do it over."

kar-kare

4207 Oleander Drive
799-2770

GILBERT PARRISH
Owner
WAYNE SHANNON
Manager

BFGoodrich
TIRES
Super-Tuf Retread

- Wheel Alignment
- Complete Front End Repairs
- Shock Absorbers
- Diagnostic Tune-Ups
- Brake Service
- Batteries

'Surprise people / Serve

MICHELOB.

MICHELOB.

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

IN ORBIT

with

robert maxey

NATIONAL SPORTS

The Oakland A's won the World Series, Sunday four games to three over the New York Mets!

STATE SPORTS

UNC Tarheels were defeated by Tulane 16-0.

ACC Basketball will begin this week with North Carolina and NC State heavy favorites.

UNC-W SPORTS

UNC-W Soccer team defeated St. Andrews 2-0 but lost to Lynchburg 3-0 for a record 3-1-1 in the district and 4-6-2 over all. Two games remain on the schedule. Support your soccer team Wednesday at 3:30 for their last home game against Cambell.

Coach David Warner shows off trophies to be awarded to skilled participants in this year's Intramural program. (photo by nauma dozier)

VARSITY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

11/30	East Carolina	Greenville
12/8	NC Wesleyan	Rocky Mount
12/15	Fayetteville State	home
12/19	Muskingum College (Ohio)	home
1/5	Francis Marion	Florence, SC
1/8	High Point	High Point
1/10	Methodist	Fayetteville
1/12	Pfeiffer	home
1/14	Atlantic Christian	home
1/16	Guilford	Greensboro
1/19	Pembroke State	Pembroke
1/22	Hampton Institute	home
1/24	Shaw University	home
1/26	Elon College	home
1/30	High Point	home

Decoupage
Candle & Art Supplies

THE BEEHIVE

MON.-SAT. 10 A.M.-9 P.M.

Long Leaf Mall

CLASSIFIED

Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are invited - urged - even begged to put their classifieds in the SEAHAWK free - FREE, i.e., no charge. Let us give you a break.

AUTOMOBILES

65 MUSTANG: 6 cylinder, 3 speed with chrome reversals. Repainted last year. $600. Call 791-6364.

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: with power steering, radio. Only $1000. Call 799-3765.

PLACES FOR RENT; ROOM
MATES WANTED:

1 Bedroom and private bath for rent in Hanover Heights area. Kitchen privileges arranged. Call 791-8330.

Roommate wanted: Female. $52.50 per month includes utilities at Wrightsville Beach Sound. Dial 256-4196. House

House mate wanted: Guy or chick! On the beach for $50 per month; fully furnished and phone. Call 256-3228 or 256-4433.

For Sale: One Penn Senator 9/0 reel with 800 plus yards of 80 lb Dacron and custom built 80 lb class rod with Fin Nor Guides. $65.00. Also one Penn 4/0 reel. NEW and rod - $35.00. Call 763-7153, after 5 p.m.

STEREO EQUIPMENT

Stereo Components! Most major brands! 20 - 50% Off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

Winner of Ten Academy Awards

A SELZNICK INTERNATIONAL PICTURE • VICTOR FLEMING • SCREEN PLAY BY SUREY HOWARD • RE-RELEASED BY METRO GOLDWYN MAYER INC.

A detailed black and white illustration of three bottles of Miller beer and a large mug. The bottles are arranged in a row, with the one on the right being the tallest and the one on the left being the shortest. Each bottle has a label that reads "Miller" and "Pilsener". The bottle on the left has a small label that also says "Miller". The bottle in the middle has a label that says "Miller" and "Pilsener". The bottle on the right has a label that says "Miller" and "Pilsener". A large mug filled with beer and a thick head of foam is positioned in front of the bottles. A small, round object, possibly a coin or a small bottle cap, lies on the surface in front of the shortest bottle.

Miller

Yes

Wachovia

HAWK'S NEST

5814 Oleander Drive

SPAGHETTI NIGHT

every thursday

77¢

spaghetti, salad, rolls

Live Bands
Fri., and Sat. Nights

799-5880

OPEN 10am 'till 6pm

OPEN 10am 'till 6pm

FURTTT CORNELL

4405 wrightsville ave.

Left Side:

- Tops
- Bottoms
- Organic Oils, Shampoos, and Lotions
- Belts
- Incense

Right Side:

- Jewelry
- Topiders
- Albums
- Headgear
- Waterbats
- Tapes

"Make amends with my father," says the ghost of Jasper (Lewis Musser, standing) to Venturewell (Pat Parker, on floor) (photo by nauma dozier)

Inadvertently, the photo identification for these scenes from the University Theatre's "Knight of the Burning Pestle" were omitted from last week's papers. We reran the photos this week with cutlines. Ed.

"A Stand" - The London Troops are reviewed by the Knight Ralph. Left to right, players in Knight of the Burning Pestle are Randy Mercer, Ed Danilowicz, Lewis Musser, Steve Dunn, Billy McCarty, J.K. Muhleman, Danny Roach, and Neal Bell. (photo by nauma dozier)

your's broken?
we repair
all models!

LIFE
CYCLES

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER
4208 Oleander Drive
799-5770

Mon. - Thurs.	Fri.	Sat.
10-6	10-9	10-6

We can order you a new Chrysler - Plymouth automobile.

PORT CITY
Chrysler - Plymouth

219 S. College Rd.

799-1815

Whatever Your Needs — See PCPP First!

VILLAGE INN
WHERE PIZZA IS ALWAYS
IN GOOD TASTE!

A wide variety in three different sizes.

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

3617 Market Street

Fisher
We invented high fidelity.

Studio - Standard Series

304 404 504

THIRD GENERATION SOUND!

Traditionally, "first generation" has been used to describe the earliest hardware of a new technology. After some experiences in the field, blended with feedback from users of the new items, the industry enters a period of "second generation" products: refined, integrated, sleeker, less awkward. This is the status of most four-channel audio equipment now on the market.

But some designers go back to the drawing boards, a little earlier than the rest of the crowd, to rethink basic concepts. Out of that disciplined creativity comes a still more highly perfected, more truly mature product. That is the point to which Fisher has come. Four channel in full stride.

McDOWELL MUSIC CO.
Glen Meade Plaza
763-1854

fall fever?

Community Shopping Center on Oleander Drive across from Cape Fear Ford

17 th Street Extension next to New Hanover Hospital

We have the cure!

PARTY DELIGHTS

Whispering's
Downtown Beverage Company

THE TRANSPLANT

"...your old men shall dream dreams, and your young men shall see visions." Joel 2:28

Dreams are in but visions are hard to come by.

A vision is instant replay of something that could have happened.
It's wishful thinking that got realized
It's a UFO with out-of-state license plate

A vision is best defined by the one who has it.
If you have it and talk about it
Nobody takes you seriously
Except you
Which is the whole point.

Religious history is sprinkled heavily with visions.
Moses by the bush
Saul on the Damascus thoroughway
Augustine coming late from philosophy class.

A post-vision world always looks different.
St. Theresa, having seen what she saw.
Re-worked the Camelite order.
There were those who said she was possessed of evil spirits
Because nobody likes change.

A vision is forewarning that one's creativity
Is about to bloom.
It's God making an announcement
And passing out gifts
Which is his department.

A vision is not for everyone
But if Our Father wants your attention
He might even whistle.

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

Mills Keepsake JEWELERS
28 N. Front St. 763 5490
Hanover Center 763 0736
Long Leaf Mall 799 5510

LOST AND FOUND

Pub

black sweater
pool cue
wire-rim glasses
leather cigarette case assorted texts and notebooks
tennis shoes
denim jacket
sweater

BALLARDS RESTAURANT
Wilmington's Family Restaurant
Rex Ballard
Crystal Meares
763-4811

FOR THOSE WHO LIKE FINE DINING
QUIET FAMILY ATMOSPHERE
STEAK • SEAFOOD • BARBQ CHICKEN
3917 Market Street
(U.S. 17 North)

NUNN BUSH NUNN BUSH

Ranier Suede
Isn't this a great looking comfort shoe? Just the item for easy living.
Come in, today.

Wellington Lee
SHOES
'Fit a must...Service a pleasure'

MARKET PLAZA SHOPPING CENTER 799-2671

You only go around once in life.
So reach for all the gusto you can.
Even in the beer you drink.
Why settle for less?

When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

PHONE BOOK PUBLISHED

Student Phone Directory coordinator Marian Gibson urges students to pick up their copies of the directory now on hand in the Pub. An initial shipment of 500 was received Monday and additional copies will shipped later in the week. Art work on the cover was done by Nauma Dozier.

Second Best Ain't Bad

Pure water is the best gift that man to man can bring.
But who can I trust I should have the best of anything?
Let princess reveal at the pump, let page with ponds make free.
Whiskey or wine or even beer is good enough for me.

for Compton Machines

"Our Beverage Prices

Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine-Are-Inc
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Pridden
3342 Wrightville Ave. 791-9675

WOOW, NIXON HAS US IN BIG TROUBLE. IT'S SO HARD TO MAKE A LIVING, GAS, AND MEAT PRICES, WHEAT SHORTAGE, THE COORS FACTORY RAN OUT OF BEER, CAN'T FIND A PLACE TO LIVE, NOT TO MENTION THE COMMIES CLOSING IN.

YEAH, THE ONLY THING LEFT TO DO IS MAKE IT GOOD WITH GOD, AND STAY HIGH 'TIL THE END.

GENTLE-T

FREE
at
Shoney's
4010 MARKET STREET

BRING THIS COUPON IN
WITH YOU
TO OUR
TAKE OUT
COUNTER

VALUABLE COUPON FOR WEDNESDAY
BUY ONE
KING FISH SANDWICH
GET ONE FREE!
(with this coupon)
GOOD ONLY ON WEDNESDAY OCT. 24

VALUABLE COUPON FOR THURSDAY
BUY ONE
SLIM JIM SANDWICH
GET ONE FREE!
(with this coupon)
GOOD ONLY ON THURSDAY OCT. 25

AT OUR
TAKE OUT COUNTER
ONLY!

BUY ONE,
GET ONE
FREE!

VALUABLE COUPON FOR FRIDAY
BUY
FISH & CHIPS
GET ONE FREE!
(with this coupon)
GOOD ONLY ON FRIDAY OCT. 26

VALUABLE COUPON FOR SATURDAY
BUY ONE
HOT FUDGE CAKE
GET ONE FREE!
(with this coupon)
GOOD ONLY ON SATURDAY OCT. 27

INSTANT
SERVICE

NYLON JACKETS
ONLY 5.25
at the Bookstore!

WINTER
WINDS

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry

Bags

Candles

Handmade Spreads

Embroidered Dresses

Belts

Leatherwork
Headgear

Mexican Handicraft.

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

PHONE IN NEWS FOR TODAY
ALL DAY LONG
STUDENT AFFAIRS
OFFICE
EXT. 219

seahawk

PHONE IN NEWS FOR TODAY
ALL DAY LONG
STUDENT AFFAIRS
OFFICE
EXT. 219

vol. XVI no. 10

October 31, 1973

twelve pages

SPRING COURSES TREE SPROUTS NEW LEAVES

SEE ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ON NEW COURSES OFFERED THIS SPRING ON PAGE TEN

HAPPY HALLOWEEN ALL YE GHOSTS
AND GOBLINS. BEWARE THE CAULDRON AND FLAME OF FINALS.

--seahawk staff

WHAT ARE YOU DOING HALLOWEEN?

(photos by nauma dozler)

Dennis Steele - Raise hell.
Bust pumpkins if I can find any.

William Heyer - Probably work. Halloween is just like any other day. It's okay.

EDITORIAL RENN, BOLTON PROPOSE UNC-W PRISON PROJECT

Apathy seems to be a favorite word to a small majority of people on campus this semester. But, this is surely not evident in our Student Government. New ideas revitalized old ideas and fast moving action are characteristics of the S.G.

Recently, two students, Bill Renn S.G. Pres. and Worth Bolton attended the "Union of Student Body Presidents," conference held at State University. The two sessions held on Saturday and Sunday consisted of reports projects ideas problems and discussions just to name a few.

One of the major items on the agenda was a report from each Student Body President on his student body's projects, problems, and plans. Our own Pres. Bill gave an outstanding presentation accompanied by printed material from our S.G. office to focus attention on UNC-W, and to make the Union aware of our activities and problems this year.

Prior to the conference Bill and Worth had worked many hours on a program that they presented to the Union asking for their support.

Notwithstanding a few structural changes, the program was as follows: The Dept. of Correction often has the problem of finding qualified personnel to supervise some much-needed programs for the inmate population. Worth and Bill feel that this problem can be alleviated by the establishment of an office in the S.G. for the co-ordinating of Senior Projects and or Independent study between the University and local prison unit. Soc. Majors Psych. Maj. and P.E. Majors to name a few could not only earn credits toward graduation but help provide many of the needed programs within the prison system.

Worth continued to say that this type of program not only would offer the inmate numerous possibilities for advancement but would also give the student an opportunity to look into our penal system on a different level than the presentation made by the news media. Stressing that this is not another overworked "prison reform" program but a reciprocating endeavor between the University and the Dept. of Corrections. Worth has the support of the prison administration as well as a growing number of interested students and faculty.

This idea, with its genesis here in the Wilmington area, is more or less a pilot program that can be incorporated across the state once its credibility is established. The Union expressed their interest and their newsletter for the month of November, will carry the details for other interested Universities in the state.

There are 16 universities in the Union of S.B. Pres. and each will be working to set up this program at their respective University. Many of these universities have had similar programs in the past but this state-wide endeavor in a more organized direction would give some structure and continuity to the over-all effort.

Any student or faculty member interested in developing or helping S.G. implement this program, are urged to stop by S.G. office and express their so desire.

Marian Gibson

Betsy Thomas - Work. It's enough around school with fright night. Personally, I like to see the kids come.

Jeff Hosler - When is it?
Probably study for a debate meeting. It's good for kids, gives them an outlet. It's the same spirit as Easter and Christmas for them.

Alisa Hylton - Probably go out. It's great for little kids but teenagers go to extremes.
Destructiveness is bad!

Suzanne Howell - Practicing for play. I'll be trick or treating with the play. It's rather strange.

seahawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 791-8055.

editor: kathi beall
associate editors: beth hicks, j.k. muhleman
advertising director: barry asbury
sports editor: robert maxey
business manager: alan murphy
mast head design: burt beall exchange editor: marian gibson

photographers: roberta allred; nauma dozler, chief;
neal huntley, jeannie lovelace, j.k. muhleman
greek lines: rocky lane moore
supportive staff: sharon davis, anne nesbit,
darlene pearsall
adviser: ms. linda moore

SHORTS FROM CPS

COLLEGE PRESS
SERVICE

MASS. PROHIBITS TERM PAPER SELLING

The sale or purchase of term papers is prohibited by a recently enacted law in Massachusetts.

Included in the bill signed by the governor last week was an amendment making it illegal for one student to take a test for another.

The bill states in part "Whoever sells themes or theses, whoever arranges or assists in their compilation, or makes use of such items or results of studies without giving due reference shall be punished by a fine of not more than $100.00 or six months imprisonment or both."

The new law was designed to combat the increasingly wide scale use of term paper and research services in Massachusetts.

Boston University brought suit against ten Massachusetts term paper firms in October, 1972.

"I'M ON THE LIST"

A Glastonbury, Connecticut group called the Enemies Unlimited is currently offering an opportunity to get on a White House enemies list. For $5.00, contributors can get their names placed on a scroll, which will be sent to the President, stating that they are an official enemy of the White House. In addition, "enemies" will receive a button saying, "I'm on the list."

RULE OF THUMB FOR LSAT

In an attempt to discourage hiring "ringers" to take law school entrance exams, administrators of the LSAT have stipulated that a thumbprint be taken of each test taker.

If the LSAT scores seem unusually high for a particular applicant, the thumb print will be used to determine that the applicant was the actual test taker, according to Norman Penney, a Cornell University law professor and president of the council that coordinates most American law school admissions.

The increasingly intense competition for places on law school freshman classes has led many students to hire professional exam-takers, "fingers," to take the LSAT for them, with fees ranging as high as $300.

Last year over 121,000 applicants took the admissions exams, which were safeguarded by handwriting samples and identification cards. The handwriting analysis proved unsatisfactory as a method to prevent organized cheating and the thumb print method was developed.

Essentially the system involves affixing a thumbprint directly onto the LSAT answer sheet, which can be checked if an identification problem should arise. If the thumbprint doesn't match that of the applicant the test scores will be nullified and the law school notified accordingly.

AND AFTER SOYBURGERS?

Are you ready for insects to take their place as a major for source of protein in your diet? It could happen.

Numerous bug experts are reporting that insects are a cheap and accessible source of protein. Termites—whether raw, dried, or smoked—are 35% protein and are high in fat. Grasshoppers—whether whole or ground into flour—are high in iron and have twice the protein of wheat flour.

Caterpillars and other larvae in dried form are 53% protein.

LIGHT AT THE END OF THE TUNNEL

"Does he love me . . .
or is he intrigued by my
Newell's
SPORTSWEAR?"

NEW GIRL
WHATS-IN-A-NAME
SPRING CHICKEN
MODERN JUNIOR
BOBBIE BROOKS
RINGALEEVEEO
and many more.

SPERRY
TOP SIDERS
complete line
for ladies and men

Newell's Ltd.

SPORTS &
CASUAL WEAR

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK 9A.M. - 9P.M.

The Happy Shopping Place on Wrightsville Beach

WILL YOU BE DENIED THE RIGHT TO VOTE ON THE TOUGHEST BEVERAGE CONTROL PLAN IN THE NATION?

The Black & White Of It

(reprinted)

SHOULD PEOPLE IN EACH COUNTY HAVE THE RIGHT TO DECIDE FOR THEMSELVES WHETHER THEY FAVOR THE SALE OF MIXED BEVERAGES IN THEIR COUNTY?

If you vote in favor of the referendum and it passes, what then?

You and your county will have a chance to implement the toughest beverage-control plan in the nation.

Here's what it can mean to you, the buyers. And them, the sellers.

YOU CAN'T DRINK IN A SALOON.

Because the law won't allow so-called open bars.

YOU CAN'T DRINK ON AND ON.

Because the law prohibits the serving of anyone who is intoxicated. And that means the drinker can be cut off. So he doesn't become the drunk.

YOU CAN ORDER ONE DRINK AT A TIME.

Counties with an established ABC System already have drinks. In glasses poured from pints, fifths and half gallons. Purchased from ABC stores in quantities up to a gallon.

What this new plan will do is make drinks available one by one in places that qualify to serve mixed beverages. So you can order a cocktail like a daiquiri, manhattan or alexander. Without dragging along your big bottles.

YOU CAN FORGET THE MINIBOTTLE.

It's not an issue. Because it's not in the bill. Under the new plan, mixed beverages will be prepared from regular-sized bottles.

YOU CAN CONTINUE TO BROWNBAG IF YOU LIKE.

Many people who belong to clubs or social groups will want to continue the present system for reasons of cost and convenience. People who do not prefer mixed beverages will be able to brownbag in places that continue that policy.

But only if the seller is properly licensed and meets these strict requirements:

THE SELLER MUST BE A GRADE A RESTAURANT.

Or bona fide club or auditorium or inn or reception hall. And mixed beverages can only be served in eating establishments with 36 seats or more, where full meals are regularly prepared and served.

THE SELLER MUST CHOOSE A POLICY OF MIXED BEVERAGES OR BROWNBAGGING.

Under the law, each owner of a licensed establishment will have to make a choice. He cannot have both.

THE SELLER MUST KEEP RECORDS.

To prove mixed beverages aren't adding up to more than his food receipts. He must keep his premises open for inspection by any law enforcement officer. Not just the 97 ABC enforcement officers, but the 9,254 county, city and state law enforcement officers as well.

THE SELLER MUST NOT SERVE MIXED BEVERAGES ALL NIGHT.

And the legal cut-off time is the same for everything. Beer, wine, or mixed beverages.

THE SELLER CANNOT PUSH DRINKS.

He cannot advertise drinks via newspaper, outdoor signs, radio, T. V.

He must buy his beverages only at an ABC store. And he's got to pay an extra $5 tax per gallon, which goes to the local county government.

His license can cost from $600 to $1,000 per year and must be renewed every year.

And if he breaks any of the regulations, he risks losing his license. He could also pay a fine up to $1,000 or be imprisoned. So breaking the rules wouldn't be very smart.

The rules go on and on. Some 4,500 words of them. They protect you against things like ownership of licensed establishments by organized crime, or influencing minors to drink, or lewd entertainment.

Because the essence of this plan is control. Tight control.

WILL THE MIXED BEVERAGE LAW BE BENEFICIAL?

Statistics show that every state that has adopted mixed beverages over the past 25 years now shows a per capita consumption figure below the national average.

Statistics show that traffic fatalities are much lower than the national average in each state that allows mixed beverages.

IT'S A QUESTION OF CHOICE.

But some will try to muddle the issue, questioning the effects of the mixed beverage system instead.

To answer their charges you have but only to look next door.

Dr. Wayne Womer, the leader of the opposition to mixed beverages in Virginia 5 years ago has said "liquor-by-the-drink has not resulted in all the horrible things we thought it would... It hasn't ruined families or caused more alcoholism or increased the number of drinkers—it just hasn't resulted in any of those things."

North Carolina's plan. It's the toughest mixed beverage-control plan in the nation because it was designed as much for people who don't drink, as people who do.

So whether you're for it, or against it, vote for the referendum.

Because what's at stake is more than a system of control. It's your freedom of choice.

VOTE NOV. 6.

'FUNNY GIRL'

"'Funny Girl'", the musical stage show that combines the Ziegfeld Follies with entertainment was excellently directed by Pete Smith, a student of UNC-W. Produced by the Thalian Association, it was the first play of the season. Even with its minor flaws (common in community theatre) "'Funny Girl'" turned out to be delightfully entertaining. I might add that plays produced by the Thalian Association as well as the University Theatre are always some of the best entertainment for the money in this part of the state.

-Barry Asbury

These UNC-W students did an outstanding job in helping to make 'Funny Girl' go over for the Thalian Association. Standing left to right are Ingeborg Shelton, Donna Blaustein, Randy Mercer, Sheila Brooks, Jimmy Rhodes, Fete Smith (Director), and Darrell Duke. Sitting is Emma Mahn.

"BUT DICK... YOU PROMISED!"

Hell? Hell exists only as a contrast, so that we can better conceive that something actually exists in heaven.

"Leonce and Lena"

University Theatre Production
November 30 - December 3

HAWK'S NEST

5814 Oleander Drive

SPAGHETTI NIGHT

every thursday

99¢

spaghetti, salad, rolls

CLOSED MONDAYS

799-5880

Recycle Yourself

Even when you're doing nothing, you're doing something on a Raleigh bicycle. Something good for your body and mind. There's probably no easier way to get in tune with yourself.

And with a Raleigh you won't have to worry about it wearing out before its time. A Raleigh is precision made from the finest quality components to last for years. That's what won Raleigh its formidable racing reputation all over the world.

Raleigh makes so many models that there is literally one fit for you. Shown here is the Raleigh Sprite with new self-adjusting brakes. See (LIFE CYCLES) then see a new you.

RALEIGH
THE BICYCLE FIT FOR YOU.
LIFE
CYCLES

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER
4209 Oleander Drive
798-5770

Mon. - Thurs. Fri. Sat.
10-6 10-9 10-6

apparel factory outlet

Misses' &
Jr. Miss
Denim JEANS

baggies
flares
bells

Men's
Denim
Jeans

from $4.44

from $5.37

Hand Carved Bells - $6.66

10-6 sat.

FREE PARKING 10-9 mon.- fri

4204 OLEANDER DRIVE

come
as you are!

Where pizza is always
in good taste.

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

3617 Market Street

'Jeremy' Modern Love Story

"Jeremy," a modern love story set in New York, stars two delightful 16-year-olds — Robby Benson who plays the title role, and Glynnis O'Connor, who makes her professional acting debut.

It also marks the theatrical motion picture debut for director-writer Arthur Barron, prize-winning director, who previously achieved considerable distinction with documentaries and as a professor of the film at Columbia University and Brooklyn College.

While the accent is on youth for this film—with two teen-age leads and director of photography, Paul Goldsmith, 26, Barron himself has long past the 30-year-barrier, separating the then and now generations.

Robby Benson came to "Jeremy" fresh from his triumph in the Broadway hit, "The Rothschilds," in which he played young Solomon Rothschild, and as the title-role star of the film, "Jory."

Glynnis O'Connor literally graduated from high school into the role of lead, "Jody in 'Jeremy'." This is her first professional acting assignment.

New York City provided an exciting backdrop for movie-maker Barron. He and his crew filmed the story on a wide variety of Gotham locations including Park Avenue, the Mannes College of Music on East 74th Street, the High School of Performing Arts and on Long Island at the Belmont Race Track.

Barron describes his picture "as an intimate film about a universal experience that everyone can identify with—the exultant and frightening experience of first love."

"Jeremy" was produced by George Pappas, with Elliott Kastner an executive producer. It will be released by United Artists, an entertainment service of Transamerica Corporation.

HAVE A HAPPY
ANDSAFE HALLOWEEN,
MONEY!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Glynnis O'Connor, a newcomer to the screen, and Robby Benson have the starring roles in "Jeremy," a modern love story set in New York City.

IN CONCERT

THE REVELATORS, contemporary gospel group from Fayetteville

NOVEMBER 3, 7:30 p.m.

Kenan Auditorium

ADMISSION FREE

Do you feel Self-conscious Of Your Bustline?

Countless numbers of women are ashamed of their bust, suffering embarrassment and often discomfort . . . usually because of an improperly fitted bra.

Every woman is unique and so is her figure. That's why we developed the Cameo custom-fitted bra. The Cameo is designed on a unique suspension principle that eliminates weight-carrying problems along with the distress of shoulder strap pull. Yet, the Cameo bra provides firm, comfortable support. Because of thrust and gravity of the suspension principle, the appearance of the small bust is fuller and more natural looking without one ounce of padding. The Cameo is available in over 100 different sizes which means there is a size that properly fits you! And it's priced well within your reach. Obviously, a custom-fitted bra such as Cameo cannot be sold "over the counter." Instead, a trained Cameo Couturiere will fit you at your convenience, in the privacy of your own home. Through her individual attention you will find just the right combination of cup sizes and other bra measurements to fit you perfectly.

Won't you please respond by calling or visiting the Salon de Frey Boutique and let Cameo help you find the freedom and comfort you deserve?

After all, you need not be self-conscious of your bust.

Salon de Frey and Boutique

791-3051

791-2214

318 Parkway Drive off South College Road

NEW

RECORD
WORLD

*a new sound experience!!

Long Leaf Mall

DISCOUNT PRICES ON RECORDS & TAPES!!!!!!

OPEN--10:00-9
Monday thru Saturday.

"FOR THOSE WHO LIKE FINE DINING"

QUIET FAMILY ATMOSPHERE
• STEAK • SEAFOOD • BARBQ CHICKEN

3917 Market Street
(U.S. 17 North)

Wilmington's Family Restaurant

Rex Ballard
Crystal Meares

763-4811

HAIL TO THE 50's

Reprinted from THE ATLANTIC WEEKLY
and Casbah Post-Dispatch

"Race Music" turns to "Rock 'n' Roll"...DAs and pony tails abound...Alan Freed starts the Big Beat, DJs spill out Me-a-sur-ray...and hand-jive begins...The word "Teen Age" finds its way into the national dictionary, and Dick Clark televises a show for teens alone...Huge black "harleys" line up outside the "Chocolit Shoppe" where the "gang" buys Archie, Superman, and Green Lantern comic books, along with that one Dell Classic for the overdue book report...Strains of the Cha-Cha, Lindy, and the Fish are danced at "the hop" and...afterward, everyone "makes out" in the back seat of a pink and black Ford - a tube of Clearasil and a roll of Certs in the glove compartment. Parents finally became sensitive to the "growing pains" of youth, and ...

"EVERYTHING

WAS

BOSS!"

Of course the adults knew with certainty the fad of Rock 'n' Roll would never last...yet radios blared out the beat of "Rock Around the Clock," "Maybelline," "Teen Angel," "Hound Dog," and "Chantilly Lace." Hundreds filled the sidewalks of the Paramount for the spectacular Alan Freed shows and stormed the doors of the Brooklyn Fox to scream over idols...Bobby Rydell, Jimmy Clayton, Dion and the Belmonts, Gary U.S. Bonds, and Pat Boone.

Bill Haley and the Comets had brought black "Race Music" to the white world, and now under the alias of "Rock 'n' Roll," it began to creep into the hearts and homes of American Teens.

The latest '50s trends can be seen today in the current 7-Up and Cantrance TV commercials, at rock concerts with groups like Sha Na Na, and on AM and FM radio, where more "golden oldies" are given more airplay than ever before. Broadway has its share of '50s nostalgia with the hit production, Grease, and '50s fashions are in vogue along with the infamous "hula hoop." For the past three years '50s Rock Revival shows have been touring the U.S. and Europe with great success. The fans attending are fanatics, and the audience ranges from old "greasers" to puberty-ridden teens who have never even heard of the "Big Bopper." Fan mail pours in from thirty-five year old housewives who "can remember waiting on line for four hours outside the Brooklyn Paramount to cry profusely over Conway Twitty's latest love song."

The Music that Bill Haley sang and Alan Freed aired started a musical revolution nearly twenty years ago. As the masses shouted then, they shout now -

"ROCK 'N' ROLL IS HERE TO STAY!"

ACROSS

- 1 Swig
- 4 Capital of Latvia
- 8 Cancer
- 12 Tonal language
- 13 Rickenbacker and the Red Baron
- 14 Occurs by chance (arch.)
- 15 Drama: Joe
- 16 Dog
- 18 Flinders' flower
- 20 Used with shift and box
- 21 Comparative suffix
- 22 Bog
- 23 Shade of green
- 27 Finished first
- 29 Jolt
- 30 Character from Peanuts
- 31 Article
- 32 Range of knowledge
- 33 Catcher in the
- 34 Steamship (ab.)
- 36 Fragrance
- 37 View
- 38 River in Scotland
- 39 Soccer hero
- 40 Insect
- 41 Symbol: helium
- 42 Used with drone and nautical
- 44 Kind of hump
- 47 Character from Peanuts
- 51 Australian bird
- 52 Sea eagle
- 53 Selah's cousin
- 54 Fabulous bird of prey
- 56 Exploit
- 58 Auld lang
- 59 Attempt

DOWN

- 1 Footfall
- 2 Othello's nemesis
- 3 Character from Peanuts
- 4 Rique
- 5 - liebe dich
- 6 Kind of counter
- 7 Peltid
- 8 Character from Peanuts
- 9 Gridiron cheer
- 10 Movie: The World of ...
- 11 Youth organization (ab.)
- 17 University of Arizona (ab.)
- 19 Abbreviation used in advertising
- 22 Aficionado
- 24 The doctor is -

- 25 Terpischore, for example
- 26 Being (Lat.)
- 27 Sociologist's term
- 28 One time
- 29 A certain
- 30 Soap ingredient (ab.)
- 32 Squeezed
- 33 Soak
- 36 - Dorado
- 37 Character from Peanuts
- 38 Gobi, for one
- 40 Palacio de Belles
- 41 Greeting
- 43 Plural suffix
- 44 Travel on thin runners (ver)
- 45 Love Spanish style
- 46 World's greatest
- 47 Splendid
- 48 Baunite
- 49 Any number divided by itself
- 50 Period of time (ab.)

Dist. by Puzzles, Inc. No. 109 C

NEW B&S FROM LITTLE DAVID

Jack Burns and Avery Schreiber are easily the most creative comedy duo of the past fifteen years. They came together in Chicago's Second City, long an incubator for great comedic talents. After several television appearances in the early 60's, Columbia Records' David Rubinson recorded a brilliant album with the duo.

Unfortunately, their material was a bit too powerful, direct and daring for the time. Burns and Schreiber went their separate ways, doing quite a bit of television acting. Fortunately, they are together again at long last. This spring - they wrote & performed on an album called The Watergate Seven, and shot a television special that was so successful it grew into a regular summer series.

And now Little David Records, distributed by Atlantic, adds Burns and Schreiber to their already impressive roster of comedic artists with the release of Pure B.S.

There are many in the avid cult of Burns and Schreiber followers who lament the duo's recent success. After a decade of stealing their lines and using their routines, discovery can be painful. What a price, success.

HELD OVER

OLEANDER DRIVE 799-3950

Cinema 1&2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

SHOWS AT
1:30-3:30-
5:30-7:30-9:30

Late Show Fri. & Sat. Nites
at 11:30 p.m. - PG-
Peter Sellers in "The Optimist"

Thursday
thru Wed.
2-4-6-8-10

LONG LEAF MALL 799-5710

Cinema 1&2

Thursday
thru Wednesday

Colony

THE YOUNG NURSES
COLOR

SHOWS
1:05
2:40
4:15
5:50
7:25
9:10

TODAY

SHOWS AT
2-4-6-8-10

BAXTER!

JEAN PERRE CAROL SCOTT JACOBSON BAXTER
A NATIONAL GENERAL PICTURES PRESENTATION

Friday
thru Thurs.
1:30-3:30-5:30-
7:30-9:30

WALT DISNEY PRODUCTIONS PRESENTS

TECHNICOLOR
Released by Buena Vista Distribution Co., Inc.
©1972 Walt Disney Productions

Bayley

Thursday thru
Wednesday

FEARLESS FIGHTERS
WIDESCREEN CHINASCOP COLOR

SHOWS
1:30
3:20
5:10
7:00
9:00

DU KNOW

by rocky moore

DU hasn't had a party in 3 weeks for one very good reason. DU has been very busy working to improve Greek Relations on campus and off. Recently, DU's voted unanimously to dip into their savings to provide $120, as a donation towards building an outdoor bulletin board for the school, subsequently, DU's led a massive effort of school organizations to raise more money, expending much time and energy of its members in preparation and coordination of the sale. DU's alone account for over $300. of the money thus far raised. Its their gift to the school. When the final money is counted DU expects to provide the school with between $600. and $1,000. for construction of this bulletin board.

This past Saturday night, the little sisters of DU successfully conducted a Halloween party for underprivileged children. Nearly 20 children participated in the games and frolics in the DU party room. One brother and little sister was responsible for each child's transportation. It was a rewarding experience for the entire Brotherhood.

Some DU's are burnt out and plan some excitement for the upcoming weekend. Personal invitations have been passed out for a Band Dance to be held in early November. DU reminds the student body that in a time of changing fraternal concepts, DU knows where it is headed. Delta Upsilon intends to offer students more more than they have in the past. Some interesting facts include: Seniors pay less than 1/3 towards their national dues, our pledges are not harassed, and have all rights of brothers, and a collective vote in the brotherhood pledges pay no dues, and of more importance to any collegiate graduate is the right to say you were a charter member and founding brother of a great fraternity at a university destined to grow geometrically the next ten years. Come see us! OR CALL 799-1265.

Drink now, and love, Democritus; for we shall not have wine and girls eternally. Wreathes we our heads, anoint ourselves with myrrh. Others will do this to our sepulchre. Let new my living bones with wine be drenched; Water may deluge them when I am quenched. —Straton (J. A. Symonds tr.)

"Our Beverage Prices Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE and HOPS SHOP

Terry and Marty Fridgen
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

Wachovia

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

SOC. CLUB SPONSORS SEXUALITY SEMINAR

The Sociology Club of U.N.C.W. will sponsor a human sexuality workshop on November 10 led by Dr. John Reckless. Dr. Reckless has a background in General Medicine, Obstetrics & Gynecology and is certified in the specialty of Psychiatry. He is a former native of England and has been a naturalized citizen since 1964.

He took his residency training at the Duke University Medical Center in the late 50's and rose to full professor in the E Department of Psychiatry.

For the past three years, years, Dr. Masters and Mrs. Johnson and he and his two co-therapists have all been trained at his foundation at St. Louis in the treatment of sexual dysfunction.

Dr. Reckless has also been on the faculty of the Kinsey Institute as a visiting lecturer in the treatment of sexual distress.

Since July of this year, he has been in full time private practice of marital and sexual counseling and has his own clinic in the Durham Area.

He remains affiliated with the University and teaches both at the undergraduate levels, coursed in Human Sexuality.

The workshop is open to both students and non-students with a capacity of 26 capacity of 25 persons. There is a registration fee of $3.00 per person payable to Betty McEntire in the Sociology Department.

THE TRANSPLANT

by a weekly column in a poetic

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

I like that little man in the Bible named Zacchaeus. No call to fame except the name. You don't forget.

Zacchaeus had enough child in him to climb trees which is the best way to see what is happening in your world or to get the long view undistorted by traffic lights term papers and people who don't like you the way you are.

When Zacchaeus got his feet on the ground He was in the high company of a man named Jesus Christ.

His vision became treetop 20/20 seeing things he never saw before: silver coins become people who are poor a dirty deal turns to double payback loneliness finds a friend who's coming to dinner.

In the campus market-place nobody climbs a tree, few people see a tree, or recognize one when they see it.

But high company is still in town and a fresh look at one's world doesn't hurt a bit even from a treetop.

UNIVERSITY POETRY CONTEST

Seniors,

Look to Jefferson Standard for YOUR future!

Jefferson
Standard

Life Insurance Company

3131 Wrightsville Ave.

Bob Page 763-1604

Bill Heinberg 763-1605

The UNC-W Department of English has announced the opening of the 1973 University Poetry Contest. All UNC-W students are eligible to submit original poetry to the Department of English in the Kenan Building. Deadline for all entries is Monday November 12th. Prizes for the best poems as judged by the judges are as follows:

First Place---$50.00

Second Place---$30.00

Third Place---$20.00

The University Poetry Awards Contest Award Contest is sponsored by the Department of English and financed by the North Carolina Junior Sorority.

National Sports

The Minnesota Vikings remain undefeated after battling out to a 10-9 victory over the Los Angeles Rams.

The Dallas Cowboys were upset by the Philadelphia Eagles 30-16.

The New Orleans Saints put a feather in their cap by overcoming the Washington Redskins 19-3.

IN ORBIT with robert maxey

State Sports

Intramurals

Results from the Cross Country Intramural 3.1 mile Race.

	TIME
Phil Lancaster	17:27
Daniel Stubbs	17:28
Emerson Willard	18:59
Jim Knapp	19:46

The UNC-Chapel Hill Tarheels and the Wolfpack of NC State both posted wins his past weekend. The Tarheels barely slipped by the st Carolina Pirates 28-27.

The Wolfpack fired better by putting down Clemson 29-6.

SKILLED CAMELS DEFEAT HAWKS

Under cloudy skies and gusty winds the Seahawks lost to a tough Cambell team, 3-1, Wednesday. In the 1st half Cambell controlled the ball. They had 20 goal attempts to the Seahawks one and only attempt by Charles Wells. The Camels scored twice in the 1st half.

Although trailing by 2, the SEASeahawks became more aggressive in the 2nd half. The Seahawks threatened with 5 goal attempts but could not penetrate for the score. The Camels scored again in the last half to finish 3-0. Cambell is undefeated this year! Tim Willette, the Seahawk goalie, made 17 saves in the game.

After the game Coach Lane commented, "I'm happy with the game. Cambell has a lot of skill and they deserve to finish No. 1. I think the wind was a major factor against us in the 1st half. We play Methodist College Saturday and a win would give us a berth in the playoffs! I am confident that we will defeat Methodist."

"Listen, fellow, that's my ball," shouts John Jordan in last Wednesday's game against Cambell. (photo by maxey)

Mike Stallings, David Stallings, and Vince Lindin-Schmidt watch as Solomon Bifton uses a little Kung Fu (or so it seems) on a player from Cambell. (photo by maxey)

SOCCKER PLAYOFFS?

Will the Seahawk Soccer team make the playoffs? If they do, it will be the first time in UNC-W history. There are many obstacles, however, that cloud the path of the play offs for the Seahawks. A win this past Saturday against Methodist would have assured a berth for the Hawks and a third place standing in District 29, NALA. However, in the last 30 seconds of play Methodist scored to make a tied ball game and ruin a win for UNC-W. The game was at a 0-0 stand-off at half-time after which the Hawks came on very aggressively to score a goal to make the score 1-0. Methodist came back to score a goal after the Hawks missed a chance to score on a penalty shot. So, the Dilemma of the Seahawks starts with a 1-1 tie. Whether the Hawks make it to the playoffs depends on how Pembroke and Saint Andrews fair in NALA District 29 play.

Cambell and Lynchburg have claimed 1st and 2nd place respectively in district standings and berths in the playoffs. Pembroke and Saint Andrews both have two remaining games, one of which is against each other. Should Pembroke defeat Saint Andrews, the Hawks can claim 4th place and a berth in the playoffs. If Saint Andrews defeats Pembroke, Pembroke must lose to Undeafated Cambell for the Hawks to come to a tie with Pembroke for 4th place. The question still lingers in the air. The answer will hopefully be that the Seahawks will have their first berth in District 29 playoffs in Soccer

You only live once. So look for the gusto in life. Even in the beer you drink. Schlitz has it. Why settle for less? When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

Hanover Distributing Company
Wilmington

Pizza Buffet Mon & Tues Night

all the delicious pizza and salad you can eat

$1.75

Snoopy's Diet Buster

all the delicious pizza and salad you can eat

$1.40

11:00 to 2:00 Mon. - Sat.

entertainment
Fri., Sat., Sun.
nights

Wed. nite is Family nite.
.50 off on every
Family Size Pizza

Snoopy's
PIZZA PARLORS
Where The Good Times Are

NORTH-17 SHOPPING CENTER

(Photo by Roberta Allred)

Yes

Wachovia

Rusty Walker poses with a smelly mess of 10 spots and blues which he and Dan Durant caught last week on a local stretch of our east coast.

Rusty Walker and Dan Durant locally are from the infamous third floor of our keg partying, ceiling remodeling, drunk en, brawling, passive neighborhood of the quiet smutuary of our beautiful, ultra-modern dormitory (bee hive style), which the gang calls home among other harmless names.

SOMETHIN' FISHY

Froud Rusty better be careful where he hides those tender, finny, little tomatoes because the people in the dorm would likely kill him to refresh their memory as to what real food tastes like. You can't live in the dorm unless you agree to suspect your digestive tract to the cafeteria's full repertoire of culinary treasures. Our taste buds have withered since the "end of food", namely the beginning of this semester. People complain that there's nothing to do on the weekends. That's because the cafeteria's weekday food drives off anyone with a car and a place to go on the weekends. But they always come back. They have to. And don't think the cafeteria isn't ready for them. Sunday night comes along and we all sit down to a greasy, gurgling, fossil of a meal we remember from the weekend either throwing away or throwing up.

Neal Huntley

SPRING COURES

Analytical Chemistry in Environmental Problems (CHM 235) will be offered by the Chemistry Department next semester. The course will treat the theory and practice of sampling techniques and sampling preparation (air, water, etc.); selected classical methods of gravimetric and volumetric analysis; instrumental techniques (spectrophotometry, gas chromatography, atomic absorption, etc.), and monitoring systems (automatic sampling and analysis). Student groups will select particular environmental problems in the area, study them throughout the semester, and report their findings. Some of the experiments to be considered are air sampling - continuous vs. intermittent, dustfall methods, location of odor source, water sampling, amount of calcium in eggshells vs. shell thickness, screening for lead in pottery, SO₂ in air, mercury in fish and hair, pesticides by TLC, and nitrites in foods.

Class: T-TH at 0900
Lab: M at 1330
Instructor: Dr. L. Adcock
Four credit hours

Aristotle (P&R 309) will be an examination of Aristotle's philosophy through selected texts (De Anima, Nicomachean Ethics, Metaphysics, and Topics) and supplemented with contemporary philosophical criticisms. Aristotle's criticisms of Plato will be discussed as well as problems of interpretation of such topics as weakness of will, the nature of the soul, Enkoma (received opinions) and the use of dialectic.
Class: MWF 1530
Instructor: Dr. Shinn
Three credit hours

With Junior standing and/or the consent of the instructor, students may elect to take Jurisprudence and Legal Philosophy (P&R 310 and PLS 310), an introduction to the nature, concept and sources of law and the various schools of jurisprudence. A comparative examination of legal theories including natural law, idealism, historical jurisprudence, utilitarianism, analytical jurisprudence, sociological jurisprudence and legal realism.
Class: T-TH 0830
Instructors: Mr. Duckett and Dr. Ahmad
Three credit hours

With PSY 446 and 447 behind them, students of psychology may receive an introduction to Counseling (PSY 450). The major historical and contemporary theories of counseling will be reviewed, including Freudian, client-centered, behavioristic and existential. Examination of each theory will be accompanied by demonstration and role-play situations in which the elements of each theory are explored.
Class: T-TH 1530
Instructor: Dr. Slager
Three credit hours

The evolution of man and societies is the subject of the Sociology Dept.'s new offering Human Societies (SOC 205). Prerequisite for the course is SOC 105.

The course views societal evolution as an extension of and/or parallel to biological evolution. A movement from simple to complex as analyzed from a focus upon sustenance activity as the primary organizing principle of societies. Meets, three hours each week.

Class: MWF at 0830 or 0930
Instructor: Mr. Herrin
Three credit hours

SOC 303 (Social Welfare and Rehabilitation: Services, Policies, Issues and Programs) has as its only prerequisite SOC 235.

A problematic approach to situations that affect policies, issues, programs and services in social work and rehabilitation. An attempt to aid the student in developing an analytical and critical understanding as he explores the motivation and methods by which social work and rehabilitation are being developed by our society and other countries. 3 hrs. per week.
Class: M 1900
Instructor: Mrs. Blanks
Three credit hours

Prerequisites for SOC 316 (Human Ecology) are SOC 105 and three additional hours in sociology above the introductory level.

SOC 316 is a theory of community structure based on societal evolution as shown through the referential concepts of population, organization, environment and technology. An analysis of the spatial, temporal, functional and relational configuration of human communities.
Class: MWF 1230
Instructor: Mr. Herrin
Three credit hours

Critical Issue in Criminal Justice (SOC 356) will be a study of crime, lawlessness, civil unrest and violence as issues relating to the administration of criminal justice, focusing on the current role of the system, the problems arising from attempting to fill that role, and some role modification that will improve the general operation of the criminal justice system.

Prerequisite is SOC 255.
Three hours per week.
Class: TH 1200
Instructor: Mr. Fields
Three credit hours

Ski trip

Again this year UNCW will participate in the Eastern College Ski Ass. reduced rate package ski trips. Weekly trips are planned from mid-Dec. thru March. By sleeping hostels (4 to a room) and eating family style with each skier helping occasionally with meal preparation or cleanup costs are pared to a minimum. The total cost of a ski week, including room, board (3 good meals a day) ski rental, 5 group ski lessons and lift tickets for six days and seven nights is just under $100. Transportation is not included.

More information can be obtained from representative Ned Martin (chemistry-physics Room 108, or extension 321). Anyone interested in skiing during Christmas vacation should get reservations in by Nov. 1 since space is limited.

★ Professional Service At A Price You Can Afford

kar-kare Service Center

4207 Oleander Drive

Complete Parts & Accessories

Professional Trained Personnel

★ LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT

"We do it right...or we do it over."

kar-kare

4207 Oleander Drive

799-2770

GILBERT PARRISH Owner
WAYNE SHANNON Manager

BF Goodrich

TIRES

Super-Turf Retread

- Wheel Alignment
- Complete Front End Repairs
- Shock Absorbers
- Diagnostic Tune-Ups
- Brake Service
- Batteries

Budweiser.

KING OF BEERS

'When you say Budweiser, you've said it all!'

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.

Wilmington

Dolphin Bookshop

Long Leaf Mall

Open Mon. - Sat. 10 - 9

The Fifth Estate

by Robin Moore.....$7.95

Expanding on the violent street world he portrayed so well through the eyes of Detective Eddy (Poppey) Egan in "The French Connection", Robin Moore here fills in the space behind today's headlines of criminal influence in the highest echelons of government and business.

"Books are our only business, not a sideline."

MUSIC

by barry asbury

NO PLATTERS

There is a record shortage going on presently because of a shortage of vinyl, which is the material used to make records. The large companies say that a cutback in promotion records can be expected. Acutback and close watch over promos is also resulting from the record payola situation that has been flaring up.

YOKO ONO

New Yoko Ono album on the Apple label has been released. The LP features 12 songs written, arranged, and produced by Yoko Ono. It has been preceded by a single cut from the album entitled "Woman Power."

"ISLAND PEOPLE"

Five new albums from Island Records are now on their way to record stores. LPs by Traffic (ON THE ROAD), John Martyn (INSIDE OUT), Spooky Tooth (WITNESS), The Wallers (BURNIN'), and Amazing Blondel (BLONDEL).

These albums come under the "Island People" promotion by Island Records along with other artists such as The Southerland Brothers and Quiver whose recent tour and chart single have brought them statewide acclaim and Stomu Yamash'ta and the RED BHUDDA Theatre whose show and album both entitled "Man From The East" premiered in the U.S. in September.

THE JOKER

Steve Miller Band has it's new album, THE JOKER, out. Miller is about to embark on an extensive U.S. tour.

NEW BAND

Forest Green is an eight-piece band making its recording debut on Capitol. They have a new album out called, Forest Green. The Philadelphia group features a blend of woodwinds, keyboards, guitars, percussion and voices; all selections on the album are penned by members of the band.

NEW PRINE

John Prine and producer Arif Mardin have just finished mixing the singer/songwriter's third album.

Prine fans will be both surprised and pleased. The album offers another incredible set of Prine originals, but in a much different setting. The setting is more rhythmic, vital, and funky than one might expect with the hard tracks adding new dimensions to Prine's music but not marring its grace and lyric impact.

That's it for this time. Have a nice Halloween. Watch the little ghosties and Goblins, and beware of razor blades.

EMERALD
$500 TO $10000

Shop Hanover Center
Long Leaf Mall - 11 5 P. M.

Mills
Keepsake
JEWELERS

28 N. Front St. 762 4590
Hanover Center 762 0736
Long Leaf Mall 799 5510

CALENDAR

With graduation approaching, Seniors ought to be looking into joining that cold cruel world. For those company representatives some coming to campus to interview perspective graduates. These include:
Burroughs Corporation - Nov. 8th
Jefferson Standard Ins. Co. - Nov. 11th
Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. - Nov. 15th

The 1973 fledglings have finally returned to their nest and may be picked up by students between 8:30-5:00.

Bioinorganic Chemistry will publish "A Systematic Study of Pd (II) Dipeptide Chemistry," an article by Doctors Lawrence, A.F. Shereiner and H.G. Frye.

Richard Steen, baritone, will appear in recital Sunday, November 4th at 3 pm in Kenan Auditorium. Steen has been a member of the UNC-W Department of Music faculty for this one semester.

The NAIA District 29 Soccer playoffs will be Thursday, Nov. 8th & Friday Nov. 9th. Let's all be hoping that the Seahawks get to the playoffs by Pembroke and Saint Andrews falling down. Support the Hawk Soccer Team.

Gurr Jewelers

FIRST CHOICE FOR A CHRISTMAS WISH

Charisse From $175

Columbia
GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler and Silversmiths
212 North Front Street

A FREE PRESS...

...Your Foundation for Free Choice

Cill's

WILMINGTON

Phone 791-4040

OLEANDER DR.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

JUST OFF OLEANDER DRIVE AT AUDUBON BOULEVARD

Decorative Nautical Items and Gifts

PHONE BOOK PUBLISHED

Student Phone Directory coordinator Marian Gibson urges students to pick up their copies of the directory now on hand in the Pub. An initial shipment of 500 was received Monday and additional copies will be shipped later in the week. Art work on the cover was done by Nauma Dozier.

LOST AND FOUND

black sweater
pool cue
wire-rim glasses
leather cigarette case
assorted texts and note-

Pub

books
tennis shoes
denim jacket
sweater

classifieds

FREE
at
Shoney's
4010 MARKET STREET

BRING THIS COUPON IN
WITH YOU
TO OUR
TAKE OUT
COUNTER

VALUABLE COUPON FOR WEDNESDAY
BUY ONE
KING FISH SANDWICH
GET ONE FREE!
(with this coupon)
GOOD ONLY ON WEDNESDAY OCT. 31!

VALUABLE COUPON FOR THURSDAY
BUY ONE
SLIM JIM SANDWICH
GET ONE FREE!
(with this coupon)
GOOD ONLY ON THURSDAY NOV. 1.

AT OUR
TAKE OUT COUNTER
ONLY!

BUY ONE,
GET ONE
FREE!

VALUABLE COUPON FOR FRIDAY
BUY
FISH & CHIPS
GET ONE FREE!
(with this coupon)
GOOD ONLY ON FRIDAY NOV. 2.

VALUABLE COUPON FOR SATURDAY
BUY ONE
HOT FUDGE CAKE
GET ONE FREE!
(with this coupon)
GOOD ONLY ON SATURDAY NOV. 3.

INSTANT
SERVICE

Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are invited. Adged. Seven begged to put their classifieds in the SEAHAWK free - FREE, i.e., no charge. Let us give you a break.

AUTOMOBILES

65 MUSTANG: 6 cylinder. 3 speed with chrome overalls. Repainted last year. $800. Call 791-6364.

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: with power steering, radio. Only $1000. Call 799-3765.

For Sale: One Penn Senator 9/0 reel with 800 plus yards of 7-10 Diacon and custom built 80 lb class rod with Flin Nor Guides. $65.00. Also one Penn 4/0 reel, NEW. and rod - $35.00. Call 763-7153. after 5 p.m.

STEREO EQUIPMENT

Stereo Components! Most major brands! 20 - 50 % Off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

Beautiful puppies! 4 weeks old, 3 male & 2 female. $2.00 each 791-5622

Sunshine Surfboard for Sale. $40.00 Call 256-2325.

Surfboard for Sale. $80.00. Custom made by William Frierson. 6'6" long 20 in. wide. 3 in. thick. Pearll. Contact Tim in Room 314, Residence Hall.

RIDES

I need a ride to Rochester, New York or thereabouts over Thanksgiving. Call 256-9370 and ask for Charlie. I'm desperate.

Need a ride to Goldsboro or nearby. Will help on gas. D See Beth in Room 611, Residence Hall

PLACES FOR RENT; ROOM MATES WANTED:
Bedroom and private bath for rent in Hanover Heights area. Kitchen privileges arranged. Call 791-8330.

Roommate wanted: Female. $52.50 per month includes utilities at Wrightsville Beach Sound. Dial 256-4196. House

House mate wanted: Guy or chick! On the beach for $50 per month; fully furnished and phone. Call 256-3228 or 256-4493.

Room mate needed for 2 bedroom complex at University Arms Apts. 1 girl to share large bedroom. Deposit already paid. $55.00 a month per girl. Electric bill split 3 ways. Call 791-9379 around 12 noon or after 10 p.m.

For rent: bedroom and bath with kitchen privileges and full household area. Ideal for one or two students. Also, ideal conditions for studying. Good location and surroundings. CALL 791-7611 after 5 p.m. or 763-9971 Ext. 587 in-between 8:30 and 5.

Male needed to share 2 bedroom apartment in Forest Hills Apts. Call 763-1935 after 5 p.m.

RIDES cont.

Would like a ride to Kentucky anytime. Preferably near Berea or Lexington. Will help on cost of gas. Contact Gary Coburn, Room 411. Residence Hall.

Need a ride to Western Carolina University any weekend. Will help pay for gas. See Susan in Room 102, Residence Hall.

If anyone needs a ride up Highway 74 as far as Rockingham on Friday afternoons, contact Steve in Room 214, Residence Hall. Help pay for gas.

"OLE TIME BARGAIN DAYS"

ARE HERE AGAIN.

EVERY

Friday & Saturday

12 oz Draught - 25¢

RAMADA INN

5001 MARKET STREET

Declaration of Impeachment 1973

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men and women are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among people, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed....

Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience has shown that mankind is more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security....

The history of this President of the United States, Richard Milhous Nixon, is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in effect the establishment of tyranny over these states.

SHOULD WE IMPEACH

THE PRESIDENT ?

John Schoolfield- Yes. He and his administration are crooked.

Jimmy Sheegog- Yes. He has led the American people astray on many of the issues they needed to know about. (like Watergate)

Jack Hooks- President who? (apathetic student)

Brian Davis- I believe our president loves this country and he is doing what he thinks is best for the country.....
.....and himself

Willie Jackson- He should but I can't see no other person suited for the seat.

Loretta Johnson- Yes. He has been dishonest and I have lost faith in him.

seahawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 791-8055.

editor: kathi beall
associate editors: beth hicks, j.k. muhleman
advertising director: barry asbury
sports editor: robert maxey
business manager: alan murphy
mast head design: bert beall
exchange editor: marian gibson

photographers: roberta allred; nauma dozier, chief
neal huntley, jeannie lovelace, j.k. muhleman
greek lines: rocky lane moore
supportive staff: sharon davis, anne nesbit, darlene pearseall
adviser: ms. linda moore

ESTABLISHED 1960

SHORTS FROM CPS

COLLEGE PRESS
SERVICE

THIS IS JUSTICE?

Ralph Wayne Taylor of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma must be muttering to himself after hearing about Spiro Agnew's sentence.

Agnew received three years probation and a $10,000 fine after being charged with accepting hundreds of thousands of dollars in kick-backs and with cheating on his federal income tax returns. Agnew was fined and put on probation.

In the meantime Taylor began serving a 15 year prison sentence this month. He was convicted of stealing three dollars and seventy-three cents from city parking meters.

QUEEN BUNNY

Shortly after a brigade of enterprising midshipmen got an affirmative answer to their letter inviting a Playboy magazine bunny to compete in the Naval Academy's homecoming pageant, they were told by the school that their entry would be ineligible. Stating that the girl's occupation had nothing to do with the decision, an academy spokesman said the pageant is open only to friends of the midshipmen. He also said that if any of the middies had actually known the bunny she would have been eligible but they didn't even know her name. Playboy magazine was irate when it learned the invitation had been withdrawn and wrote a letter to academy officials accusing them of "intellectual cowardice."

HONK IF YOU THINK HE'S GUILTY

A "Honk for Impeachment" demonstration materialized spontaneously in front of the White House following the firing of Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox. Latest reports indicate a audio protest is continuing.

Over 150 people gathered in front of the Presidential "Palace" the evening of October 20, some carrying signs which requested passing motorists to honk their horns if they believe that Nixon should be impeached.

Cars bearing tourists, business people, and police plus taxis, buses, trucks, and even diplomatic cars responded in an increasing din of horns. One bystander estimated 85% of the vehicles passing down Pennsylvania Avenue as participating in the demonstration.

A 45 year old man in a business suit who joined the protesters said, "I can't stand it anymore," referring to the President's actions. "This is an outrage."

WANTED: ONE
HOMECOMING QUEEN
NO EXPERIENCE REQUIRED.

told her, "Only virgins can run for Homecoming Queen."

Sharon Boldman had been nominated for queen by her classmates. The only qualifications originally named were that the contestants be female, a senior, and nominated.

The school superintendent, Roe Hildreth, backed up the action by the principal saying, "The administration feels that those on the court should reflect the values of the community."

Sharon's parents filed suit in US district court in Dayton asking the election be voided. Sharon received several write in votes but not enough to become a member of the court from which the queen was selected.

The suit charged that the administration's action "was taken without any regard to any valid rule or regulation... and that the (action) merely sought to punish Sharon for past conduct the defendants found offensive."

POLYNESIA
$500. TO $10000

Shop Hanover Center
Long Leaf Mall - til 9 P.M.

Mills
Keepsake
JEWELERS

28 N. Front St. - 763 4590
Hanover Center - 762 0736
Long Leaf Mall - 799 5510

THEY'VE ARRIVED

Levi's

CORDS & JEANS

ALL COLORS and SIZES

GET YOUR FALL & WINTER CLOTHES

SAHARA BOOT

just name your game... this champion will be a real sport at it!

Eyans
Casuals

Two-eyelot tie casual. Shag leather with crepe sole.

$16.95

If It's Fashions...It's At...

Fleishmans
Hanover Center

OAKWOOD MOBILE HOMES

See CHARLIE PARKER & TERRY NEEDHAM

5202 Oleander Drive

CALL 791-0317

See CHARLIE CANNON & CURTIS BRITT

Highway 74, 76, 87 at Maco

CALL 655-3845

NOW ORGANIZES

Just organizing, the Cape Fear Chapter of the National Organization for Women will hold a meeting on Monday, November 12, in Room 213 of the Business and Economics Building. Sponsored by Betty McEntire of the Sociology Department and by Suzanne Pferrer, the meeting will introduce some of NOW's goals and purposes to interested UNCW students, faculty and staff. The meeting is open to the public. Both men and women are invited to attend, since one of NOW's goals is to challenge and break through the traditional sex role stereotypes that have confined both men and women for centuries in various guises, and continue to do so today.

NOW goals challenge these "traditional" roles imposed upon people by society, often inhibiting not only their personal lives and self identities, but confining some persons to unsatisfying, stultifying vocations or jobs that are far beneath their capacities as human beings. Or, if the person, in this case usually a woman, does succeed in "breaking" the barriers to achieve a position of some eminence in any profession not usually thought of as

"woman", she often finds herself discriminated against when her "image" does not fit the traditional one expected by our society. For instance, when you think of it, we have many women nurses but few women doctors. We have many men doctors, but few men nurses, or male nurses, as they are usually referred to. Perhaps if there were more freedom of choice without so much questioning about "role breaking" in this and other professions and vocations, each student at any university or college might have greater choice about which educational program he or she wished to enroll in.

Professional and vocational choice is only one of the many areas where NOW is at work (successfully, too), challenging and changing outdated stereotypes, roles and legal barriers. If you are interested and wish more information be sure to attend the meeting on November 12.

STUDENT NURSES MEET

Twenty-three student nurses met for lunch last week to discuss upcoming activities of the UNC-W chapter of the Student Nurses' Association (SNA).

As class projects, the first and second year classes are currently selling Johnson & Johnson First Aid Kits for $2 each.

SNA President Connie Carter reported on the District 9 meeting Oct. 27 at Southeastern Community College which she attended along with SNA adviser Miss Mary Alice Whitfield, and four members of the first year class, Jackie Floyd, Ann Fredrickson, Charles S. Smith, and Kathi Beall. The next District 9 meeting will be hosted by the local SNA in January.

Details on the "Student Nurse of the Year" contest were presented by Debbie King, last year's winner. The recipient of the award will be chosen by SNA from

CIRCLE K SEEKS ADVISER

The Kiwanis Club of Wilmington needs a faculty member to serve as adviser for the Circle K Club at UNC-W.

Circle K is an international organization of college men and women who are involved in the campus and community. Project areas are protection of the environment, concerns of disadvantaged youth and other areas. The club offers a combination of service and fun for all involved.

Any faculty member interested in serving as adviser and helping to reactivate Circle K at UNC-W, please contact Lee Hyatt at ext. 41, 762-4411 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., or at 791-2955 after 5 p.m.

ENVIRONMENTAL PHYSICS CLASS, PHOTOGRAPHY OPEN FOR SPRING

The Physics Department will offer a new course for the spring semester, PHY 106, Environmental Physics. The course, which has no prerequisites, will consist of three lecture periods per week (11:30 MWTF) and field trips to generating plants, transportation terminals, etc. Enrollment will be limited to 30.

Various topics will be introduced; for example, energy uses and sources, transportation problems, pollution, etc. and the basic physics and techniques needed to analyze these problems will be developed as an understanding of and solutions to these problems are sought.

Because several students who applied for the photography course, Physics 370, in the fall could not be accommodated, the course will be offered again in the spring and will carry three hours of credit. It will consist of two lecture periods (12:30

Th) and a two-hour lab scheduled individually. Enrollment will be limited to 16.

CHURCH SEEKS CHILD CARE AID

The Episcopal Church of the Servant, presently located in College Park Elementary School on Oriole Drive, needs qualified personnel to be in charge of its nursery. The hours would be from 9:45 A.M. to noon every Sunday. Pay will be $6.00 per Sunday. Applicants must furnish their own transportation. If interested contact Mr. John Bauerlein at 763-2066 8:30 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. Mon.-Fri. or 799-3927 other times.

Greetings Bride-to-be

MADEMOISELLE
Juppe

For a perfect
and
"heavenly"
wedding you are cordially invited to come in
and let us show
you why this is such a popular shopping spot
with smart brides

"We are big enough to serve you and small enough to know you"

22 North Front Street

WILMINGTON

Yes

Wachovia

Gurr Jewelers

FIRST CHOICE FOR A CHRISTMAS WISH

GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler and Silversmiths

212 North Front Street

UMS PRESENTS GUITARIST

Narciso Yepes was born in 1927 in Lorca, southern Spain. He began to play the guitar at the age of five. His early studies in Lorca were followed by courses in harmony, composition, and the guitar at the Valencia Conservatory. In 1946 he came to the attention of the director of the Spanish National Orchestra, Ataúlfo Argenta, who urged him to go to Madrid, where he made his concert debut the following year with the interpretation of Rodrigo's "Concierto de Aranjuez" in the Teatro Espanol. Soon afterwards, he began to tour with Argenta, visiting Switzerland, Italy, Germany, and France. In 1950, after performing in Paris, he spent a season studying interpretation with Enesco and Gieseking. It was in 1952 that he created the memorable musical sound-track for the award-winning French film "Forbidden Games."

Since then Yepes has travelled to the four corners of the world, performing in recital as well as with the leading orchestras of Europe, the Near East, North and South Africa, America and Japan.

Two dozen of his recordings have been released to date, and his research into forgotten manuscripts of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries has resulted in the transcription of early tablatures into modern notation. His extraordinary new ten-string guitar will make it unnecessary to transcribe the Renaissance and baroque music originally written for the lute.

Narciso Yepes, through his patient and sensitive study of his instrument, has developed a revolutionary technique and discovered hitherto unsuspected resources and possibilities. His exceptional pedagogical gifts have caused guitarists from all over the world to travel to Madrid for advanced study with him.

Yepes will appear Nov. 13 at 8 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium as part of the University Music Series. UNC-W students are admitted free with ID.

NARCISO YEPES

THE TRANSPLANT

by
Milton Boone
Campus Minister

Churches are billed as places to worship God which is not always what happens there but still worth the trip.

A prophet man named Isaiah was in the worship place for his tribe one day and psyched out seeing six-winged seraphim and such. It so altered his frame seeing "the whole earth is full of His glory" that he left before the benediction.

Worship is being recklessly in love and making a fool of yourself for God's sake which is all right with Him. We fall in love with each other and do the same thing for our sake which is all right with us.

It happens now and then in temples that one decides what's worth betting his life on and goes out to live the risk and play the fool knowing who to thank. Then somewhere down the line history turns a sharp corner or the conscience or the world is hoisted higher and another human being sees "the whole earth... full of His glory".

My God, my God, is it true then that we must redeem ourselves with our own suffering? Is it true then that the world is a crucified Savior, the sun its crown of thorns, and the stars the nails and spears in its feet and sides?

"Leonce and Lena"
University Theatre Production
November 30 - December 3

Fly your own With our 747 cockpit posters

only $3.00

NOW! at the BOOKSTORE

ECU PRESENTS CONCERTS

The East Carolina Student Union Popular Entertainment Committee will be presenting two major concerts as a part of its Homecoming festivities. On Friday, Nov. 9, the Temptations will appear in Minges Coliseum at 8 p.m. Tickets price for the general public is $4 each.

On Sunday, Nov. 11, a 3-act concert is scheduled featuring John Paul Hammond, Lynard Skynyrd, and Wet Willie. Showtime is 2 p.m. in Minges Coliseum and tickets are $3 each.

Tickets are now on sale and are available at the Central Ticket Office, P O Box 2731, Greenville, N.C. 27834. For further information, call 758-6278 in Greenville.

Fisher
We invented high fidelity.

Studio-Standard Series

304 404 504

THIRD GENERATION SOUND!

Traditionally, "first generation" has been used to describe the earliest hardware of a new technology. After some experiences in the field, blended with feedback from users of the new items, the industry enters a period of "second generation" products: refined, integrated, sleeker, less awkward. This is the status of most four-channel audio equipment now on the market. But some designers go back to the drawing boards, a little earlier than the rest of the crowd, to rethink basic concepts. Out of that disciplined creativity comes a still more highly perfected, more truly mature product. That is the point to which Fisher has come. Four channel in full stride.

McDOWELL MUSIC CO.
Glen Meade Plaza
763-1854

OPEN 10am 'till 6pm

FOURTH CORNER
4405 wrightsville ave.

We've got some records and tapes.

We can order any record or tape at no extra charge.

LIST PRICE	OUR PRICE
$5.98 Lps	$4.57
$9.98 Lps	$7.19
$6.98 tapes	$5.57

SOME PICTURES UPON THE B&E

Roger, Walter, and Crazy Bob-Getting down and getting drunk.

That's John

Sha Na Na freak Roger Wheeler belches out an oldie goldie while pounding on his invisible tennis racket, (at least he's not jumping on the bed.)

At the hop. (Crazy Bob's jumping on the bed now.)

ALL DELUXE MANOR
DOWNTOWN
762-2935

BIG ROCK LATE SHOW

Fri. & Sat. - 11 pm

Adults.....$2.00,
Children under 12...$1.00

POPCORN

MICK JAGGER THE ROLLING STONES

JIMI HENDRIX

OTIS REINING

VANILLA FUDGE

Joe Cocker

TRAFFIC

bee Gees

ERIC BURDON

popcorn

an audio/visual rock thing in color

GET UP A GROUP & ROCK WITH US!!!!!!

'Surprise people / Serve

MICHELOB.

MICHELOB.

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

DO YOURSELF AND US A FAVOR!

JUST WALK INTO THE SHOE MARKET AND BROWSE AROUND. WE PROMISE THAT YOU'LL FIND THE FINEST QUALITY SHOES. THE BEST SELECTION OF SHOES FOR GUYS AND GALS ALL THE LATEST UP TO DATE FASHIONS, AND MOST OF ALL PRICES JUST AS LOW OR EVEN LOWER THAN OUR NEAREST COMPETITOR. LOOK CLOSELY! WE CARRY NO SECONDS OR FACTORY REJECTS! ALL ARE FIRST QUALITY SHOES. WE'VE GOT SHOES YOU'LL LOVE!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

DO YOURSELF AND US THAT FAVOR TODAY!

NEW

RECORD WORLD

*a new sound experience!!

Long Leaf Mall

DISCOUNT PRICES ON RECORDS & TAPES!!!!!!

OPEN--10 til 9
Monday thru Saturday.

The Shoe Market

4621 MARKET STREET

"QUALITY SHOES AT BUDGET PRICES"

DOGGYING OF THE 3RD FLOOR'S

SATURDAY NIGHT

photos and stuff by neal huntley

Play it again, Sam!

"Honest, honey, I was out drinking with the girls!"

Goodness Gracious- Great Balls of Fire!

OLEANDER Cinema 1
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

Today thru Tuesday
2-4-6-8-10

YOUR THREE MINUTES ARE UP!

Paragon's Color by Deluxe From Cinema Releasing

OLEANDER Cinema 2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

T-O-D-A-Y
2-4-30-7-9:30
No 9:30 show at.

THE NUMBER ONE BOOK OF THE YEAR!
NOW-THE SUSPENSE FILM OF THE YEAR!

Fred Zinnemann's Film of

THE DAY OF THE JACKAL

A John Woolf Production in color (PG)

LONG LEAF Cinema 1

Thursday thru Wednesday 2-4-6-8-10

TERROR IN THE WAX MUSEUM

PG

Bailey
762-7393

DOWNTOWN - 18 N. FRONT ST.
Thursday thru (R)
Wednesday

GORDON'S WAR

LONG LEAF Cinema 2

Friday thru Thursday 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

JEAN-LOUIS TRINTIGNANT
ANN-MARGRET
ROY SCHEIDER
ANGIE DICKINSON

"THE OUTSIDE MAN"

thru Wednesday
"Cannibal Girls" R in color

Colony
762-3327

Decoupage Candle & Art Supplies

THE BEEHIVE

MON.-SAT. 10 A.M.-9 P.M.

Long Leaf Mall

HAVE YOU FORGOTTEN HOW ?

photos and story by nauma dozier

MGM Presents

A story of love.

Filed by

David Lean

Ryan's Daughter

Starring
ROBERT MITCHUM
TREVOR HOWARD
CHRISTOPHER JONES
JOHN MILLS LEO McKERN
SARAH MILES GP

METROCOLOR and SUPER PANAVISION

THURSDAY, NOV. 8
8 p.m.
KENAN AUDITORIUM

Simplicity maybe, but it's self expression. An innocence that lets loose all the inhibitions held by the grown-up world. Unafraid of a smile and unaware that you don't smile without a reason or laugh without a joke, because someone may think you're wierd.

Have you ever stopped to think that maybe it's you who is wierd? To a child wierd is only another stupid word the grown-ups invented. Its implications have no relevance or meaning in their

VILLAGE INN
WHERE PIZZA IS ALWAYS
IN GOOD TASTE!

A wide variety in three different sizes.

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR
3617 Market Street

lives. It only leaves a question in their minds as to why. "Why did they make a silly word like that? Why do my pictures look different from theirs? Why does it always take them so long to think of or do something so simple? Why don't they ever understand what I mean? Why are they always in a hurry?"

Too deep or maybe just a little silly. "They're cute, but they're just kids." After all, you have to grow up and become a part of the affluent society.

Slow down for just a minute and think. Have YOU left something behind?

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

HAWK'S NEST

5814 Oleander Drive

SPAGHETTI NIGHT

every thursday

99¢

spaghetti, salad, rolls

CLOSED MONDAYS

799-5880

WHAT

ARE

YOU

DOING

NATIONAL SPORTS

The Chicago Bears ripped the Green Bay Pack, 31-17. The Atlanta Falcons flew past the L.A. Rams, 15-13. The Miami Dolphins swam past the N.Y. Jets, 24-14.

IN ORBIT with robert maxey

STATE SPORTS

The Wolfpack pounced the S.C. Gamecocks, 56-35. Virginia slipped past North Carolina, 44-40. The Duke Blue Devils fell to Ga. Tech, 12-10. The E.C.U. Pirates ambushed the Wm. & Mary Indians, 34-3.

J.V.'s :NEW GOAL SCORED

UNC-W will get their first Junior Varsity basketball team this year. The program, initiated by Coach Mel Gibson, will give young men more opportunity to play basketball. The jayvee team will be comprised of freshmen and sophomores under the direction of Assistant Coach and Trainer Tracey James.

The jayvees will play mostly junior colleges. "We hope to play other 4 year colleges in the future who will also open up this program," commented Coach Gibson.

The jayvee team will face a 10 game schedule with their first game at home against USC-Conway on Dec. 3.

The rest of the schedule follows:

12/5 Mt. Olive-H
12/10 USC-Conway-A
12/11 Southeastern-H
12/15 Coastal Carolina-H*
1/22 Wayne CC-H*
1/28 Mt. Olive-H
2/4 Southeastern-A
2/9 Coastal Carolina-A
2/14 Wayne CC-A

All games are scheduled for 7:30 p.m., except those marked with an asterisk (*). Those are set for 5:30 p.m., preliminary to the varsity games.

"What could they all be talking about?" Jayvee basketball--a first at UNC-W.

INTRAMURALS IN ACTION

BASKETBALL

Regular intramural basketball season began Monday, Nov. 5. Twenty four teams have turned in rosters to play ball.

There will be three 8-team leagues with games scheduled every night except Friday-Sunday. Six games will be played each night and both gyms will be in use.

Each team will play approximately 14 games before the season is rounded up, with tournaments of league champions and runners-up.

LOMBARD TYPE BASKETBALL

On Oct. 29 & 30 the first annual pre-season intramural basketball tournament was held. Sixteen teams competed in the Lombard type tournament. Each team played a series of 4-minute games with a victor from each gym. The Ballers had a 6-0-1 in the front gym and the Faculty were victorious in the back gym with a 7-0 record. Mike Cherry was the student director.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

The first fall intramural golf tournament was held on Oct. 25 at the Duck Haven Golf Club Course. Bruce Failing was the student director and 37 students participated.

Robert Vail was low handicap winner with Dennis Esselman the runner-up.

Dennis Ingram was low gross champ with Greg Dalton runner-up.

WRESTLING, TENNIS, BADMINTON AND BOWLING YET TO COME IN INTRAMURALS. So let's get it on!

Ski trip

Again this year UNCW will participate in the Eastern College Ski Ass. reduced rate package ski trips. Weekly trips are planned from mid-Dec. thru March. By sleeping hostel-style (4 to a room) and eating family style with each skier helping occasionally with meal preparation or clean-up costs are pared to a minimum. The total cost of a ski week, including room, board (3 good meals a day) ski rental, 5 group ski lessons and lift tickets for six days and seven nights is just under $100. Transportation is not included.

More information can be obtained from representative Ned Martin (chemistry-physics Room 108, or extension 321). Anyone interested in skiing during Christmas vacation should get reservations in by Nov. 1 since space is limited.

Trips will be to the mountains of New Hampshire.

Life only happens once. You get no second chances. So you go for all the gusto there is. Sometimes you can even taste it.

When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

PHONE: 791-5079

We can supply all the goodies for your party.

PARTY DELIGHTS

Community Shopping Center on Oleander Drive Across from Cape Fear Ford and 17th Street Extension next to New Hanover Hospital

MAP SUPPORTS STUDENT PROJECTS

by darlene pearsall

UNCW is the first known university in the United States to establish a program to aid in the education of students with outstanding creative potential. The original concept for the Multiple Abilities Program came from Dr. Gerald Shinn when he obtained a grant from an anonymous donor for the purpose of developing students' creativity. Presently, the program is financed by the donor as well as by yearly state contributions.

The program has two phases. One is for the support of student projects. During 1972-73, the Multiple Abilities Program financed fifty student projects. They involved creative writing, scientific research, musical composition, and other subjects of a similar creative and exploratory field. Project support will continue throughout this school year but will basically be restricted to juniors and seniors. The proposals should be developed by the student with little faculty assistance. The project proposals are then evaluated by a special faculty committee.

The second phase of the MAP is a "fellows program" for creative freshman. The fellows program has just been started for the 1973-74 school year. An appropriate academic schedule will be arranged for each student in this phase of the MAP—a schedule to fit the individual's precise talents, interests, and requirements.

This phase of the Multiple Abilities Program has been limited to twenty students or less. The selection is based on creative potential, as revealed through the Alpha Biographical Inventory test given during freshman orientation, as well as through personal interviews.

Freshman who received high scores on the test were notified at the beginning of October. They, then, made appointments to be interviewed by faculty members from various academic fields designated by Charles Cahill, Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs. The faculty members are: Dr. Jack Levy, Dr. Gerald Shinn, and Dr. John Stokes. Working with them is Dr. James McGowan, Assistant Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs.

All interviews were completed by November 1. A final decision has not yet been reached, however, on those to be accepted into the program.

The faculty members will select and work closely with the students, guiding them to the different resources on campus while trying to enlarge these resources for the benefit of the creative student.

The students will receive full four year scholarships for tuition and fees. Their major responsibilities will be to dedicate themselves to exploration and to aid in the welfare of other members of the MAP fellows program.

Drs. Shinn, Stokes, and Levy interview a prospective MAP participant.

SOC. CLUB SPONSORS SEXUALITY SEMINAR

The Sociology Club of U.N.C.W. will sponsor a human sexuality workshop on November 10 led by Dr. John Reckless. Dr. Reckless has a background in General Medicine, Obstetrics & Gynecology and is certified in the specialty of Psychiatry. He is a former native of England and has been a naturalized citizen since 1964.

He took his residency training at the Duke University Medical Center in the late 50's and rose to full professor in the Department of Psychiatry.

For the past three years, years, Dr. Masters and Mrs. Johnson and he and his two co-therapists have all been trained at their foundation at St. Louis in the treatment of sexual dysfunction.

Dr. Reckless has also been on the faculty of the Kinsey Institute as a visiting lecturer in the treatment of sexual distress.

Since July of this year, he has been in full time private practice of marital and sexual counseling and has his own clinic in the Durham area.

He remains affiliated with the University and teaches both at the undergraduate levels, courses in Human Sexuality.

The workshop is open to both students and non-students with a capacity of 25 persons. There is a registration fee of $3.00 per person payable to Betty McEntire in the Sociology Department.

A story of love.
Filmed by David Lean

Ryan's Daughter

METROCOLOR and SUPER PANAVISION

THURSDAY, NOV. 8
8 p.m.
KENAN AUDITORIUM

your's broken?
we repair
all models!

LIFE
CYCLES

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER

4207 Oleander Drive

799-5770

Mon. - Thurs. Fri. Sat.
10-6 10-7 10-5

Yes
Wachovia

Drink now, and love, Democritus:
for we
Shall not have wine and girls
eternally.
Wreath we our heads, anoint
ourselves with myrrh,
Others will do this to our sepulture:
Let now my living bones with
wine be drenched;
Water may deluge them when I am quenched. —Straton
(J. A. Symonds tr.)

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

WineArt, Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP
Terry and Marty Bridgen
3342 Wrightville Ave. 791-9675

★ Professional Service At
A Price You Can Afford

kar-kare Service Center

4207 Oleander Drive
Complete Parts & Accessories
Professional Trained Personnel

★ LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT
"We do it right...or we do it over."

kar-kare
4207 Oleander Drive
799-2770

GILBERT PARRISH
Owner
WAYNE SHANNON
Manager

BFGoodrich
TIRES
Super-Tek Radial

- Wheel Alignment
- Complete Front End Repairs
- Shock Absorbers
- Diagnostic Tune-Ups
- Brake Service
- Batteries

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry Bags Candles
Handmade Spreads Embroidered Dresses
Belts Leatherwork Mexican Handicraft.
Headgear

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759 Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

classifieds

Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are invited - urged - even begged to put their classifieds in the SEAHAWK free - FREE, i.e., no charge. Let us give you a break.

63 convertible Cutlass $400. Call 791-3307 or 791-1652.

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with 4th power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: with power steering, radio. Only $1000. Call 799-3765.

Edgar Cayce's Association For Research and Enlightenment A Group Meeting to be held For more information call 799-0605 WORK

NEEDED: We are now hiring females to be representatives for Cameo Custom Fit Bras. Work your own hours. Make $5.00 and up an hour. Apply at Salon de Frey Salon and Boutique. Phone 791-6618. Ask for Mr. Whitman.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE: Hoover Portable washing machine. Less than one year old. Ideal for an apartment. $75.00. Paid $160.00 new. Call Rex at 791-9325.

FOR SALE: Sears Silver-tone 19" portable TV with P and UHF antennas. Excellent physical and mechanical condition. $50.00.

Sunshine Surfboard for Sale. $40.00 Call 256-2325.

FOR SALE: Waterbeds. New king size $25.00. Call Herbie 791-9325.

Sears Pak-A-Poose toddler Aluminum frame, nylon shoulder straps, blue canvas seat. Like new. $6.00. Call 791-9363 after 6:00 P.M.

Surfboard for Sale. $60.00. Custom made by William Frierson. 6'6" long 20 in. wide. 3 in. thick. Pearlart. Contact Tim in Room 314, Residence Hall.

Beautiful puppies! 4 weeks old, 3 male & 2 female. $2.00 each 791-5662

For Sale: One Penn Senator 9/0 reel with 800 plus yards of 80 lb Dacron and custom built 80 lb class reel with Fin Max Guides. $65.00. Also one Penn 4/0 reel. NEW and rod - $35.00. Call 763-7153. after 5 p.m.

Stereo Components! Most major brands! 20 - 50 % Off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p. m.

RIDES

If anyone needs a ride up Highway 74 as far as Rockingham on Friday afternoons, contact Steve in Room 316 Residence Hall. Help pay for gas.

Would like a ride to Kentucky anytime. Preferably near Berea or Lexington. Will help on cost of gas. Contact Gary Coburn, Room 411. Residence Hall.

I need a ride to Rochester, New York or thereabouts over Thanksgiving. Call 256-9370 and ask for Charlie. I'm desperate.

Need a ride to Western Carolina University any weekend. Will help pay for gas. See Susan in Room 102. Residence Hall.

Need a ride to Goldsboro or nearby. Will help on gas. See Beth in Room 314. Residence Hall.

PLACES FOR RENT; ROOM MATES WANTED: (2) - (3) Bedroom and private bath for rent in Hanover Heights area. Kitchen privileges arranged. Call 791-8330.

Roommate wanted: Female. $52.50 per month includes utilities at Wrightsville-Beach Sound. Dial 256-4196. House

Male needed to share 2 bedroom apartment in Forest Hills Apts. Call 763-1935 after 5 p.m.

For rent: bedroom and bath with kitchen privileges and full household area. Ideal for one or two students. Also, ideal conditions for studying. Good location and surroundings. CALL 791-7611 after 5 p.m. or 763-9971 Ext. 587 in between 8:30 and 5.

CALENDAR

With graduation approaching, Seniors ought to be looking into joining that cold, cruel I world. For those interested, there are some coming to campus to interview prospective graduates. These include:
Nov. 8th Jefferson Standard Ins. Co.
Nov. 11th Burroughs Corporation
Nov. 15th Wachovia Bank and Trust Co.

The 1973 Fledglings have finally returned to their nest and may be picked up by students and faculty in A-124 between 8:30-5:00.

All seniors graduating in December or May should be measured for their caps and gowns as soon as possible. Measurements are being taken in the Bookstore.

Student Nurses' Association Meeting
November 15 - Thursday
11:15 a.m. Nursing Lab

The NAIA District 29 Soccer playoffs will be Thursday, Nov. 8th & Friday Nov. 9th. Let's all be hoping that the Seahawk's get to the playoffs by Pembroke and Saint Andrews falling down. Support the Hawk Soccer Team.

A FREE PRESS...

...Your Foundation for
Free Choice

SHOP EARLY for the holidays

Halloween

CHRISTMAS

EVERYDAY

GREETING CARDS

(large selection)

GRUMBACHER ART SUPPLIES

10%

Discount to Art Students

Gifts & Novelties

Becker's GIFT & DECOR CENTER

Long Leaf Mall

Hours: 10 - 9

MUSIC

by barry asbury

In 1974, Capitol Records will be no more. The name of the company changes to EMI - Capitol Industries and will put out the EMI label. Capitol has seen many good moons. How many remember the old Orange label? I remember it well. Oh for the days of Beach Boy records lying around the house..... The name change has evolved because of 70% ownership of Capitol by British based, world company EMI, Ltd.

"RINGO"

On October 15 Ringo Starr's new "Ringo" album was released. After checking several record stores and departments, this album seems to be selling very well. One was sold out already. One reported that he couldn't get anymore for at least a week. If local sales and the rising popularity of the single, "Photographs" is any indication, this looks like a gold record and a feather in the cap for Richard Stark-ey.

they don't need you anymore. This is the screw of the highest vulgarity.

VINTAGE FLOYD

Vintage space-rock is scheduled from Pink Floyd in November. Prompted by the massive world-wide success of Pink Floyd's most recent LP Dark Side of the Moon, the new package will be their two earlier albums combined into one package. The two earlier albums were Pink Floyd and A Saucerful of Secrets. The title set for the power-packed package is A Nice Pair.

SENATOR SAM BRIDGES WATER

In the midst of all the confusion in Washington Senator Sam has seen the bright side as he always has and has an album set for release. Sam Ervin D.-N.C. has his first album of anecdotes and puts forth his best foot as he has a story for any topic that happens to arise. The single released before the album oddly is entitled "Bridge Over Troubled Water".

ROCK 'N ROLL-L-L

Flying Circus is a Canadian band of the old rock 'n roll tradition. Now they have a second album set for release in November entitled Last Laugh. Flying Circus plays rock 'n roll free and simple but it moves. That's what is going to put Flying Circus to the top. They don't try to complicate music---just play what they feel. This is a band that can put together an astonishingly simple, really free rock 'n roll song.

DYLAN AGAIN

"Mr. Bojangles", a la Dylan is featured on a new album set for release by Bob Dylan. All the material on his new album is all brand new Dylan. His style may have been around for a long time but I question as to whether it will ever grow old.

MIND GAMES OR MUSIC PSYCHOLOGY

"Mind Games" is the new album out from John Lennon as of October 30. If Yoko Ono/Lennon's companion fellow artist and hob-nobber new album is any sign of what Lennon's material is going to be like, my first question is, "Who is he championing with song to make lots of money off of this time?" I will admit that his stuff is very popular presently. However, does just being popular make it good? "Throw this question to everyone on campus who digs on music for the reason that others say it is good. Also, this is for those of us who refuse to say that we don't like a fantastically popular group because we're afraid that everyone will say how out of it we are. By the way, for those who are bright enough to wonder, this does not go for only music.....

GRATEFUL DEAD SCREWS WARNER

Grateful Dead, as other filthy rich rock bands have done, has decided to cut off recording with Warner Brothers Records and start their own company for recording, manufacturing, and distributing their wares. Other bands to do this have been the Beatles, the Moody Blues, the Rolling Stones, Grand Funk Railroad, and the Beach Boys. This type thing is common among most people. They will let you build them up until

I'm sure Jupiter's as incompetent as any other pagan god, regardless of race, creed or color.

FREE
at
Shoney's
4010 MARKET STREET

BRING THIS COUPON IN
WITH YOU
TO OUR
TAKE OUT
COUNTER

VALUABLE COUPON FOR WEDNESDAY
BUY ONE
KING FISH SANDWICH
GET ONE FREE!
(with this coupon)
GOOD ONLY ON WEDNESDAY NOV. 7

VALUABLE COUPON FOR THURSDAY
BUY ONE
SLIM JIM SANDWICH
GET ONE FREE!
(with this coupon)
GOOD ONLY ON THURSDAY NOV. 8

AT OUR
TAKE OUT COUNTER
ONLY!

BUY ONE,
GET ONE
FREE!

VALUABLE COUPON FOR FRIDAY
BUY
FISH & CHIPS
GET ONE FREE!
(with this coupon)
GOOD ONLY ON FRIDAY NOV. 9

VALUABLE COUPON FOR SATURDAY
BUY ONE
HOT FUDGE CAKE
GET ONE FREE!
(with this coupon)
GOOD ONLY ON SATURDAY NOV. 10

INSTANT
SERVICE

"OLE TIME BARGAIN DAYS"
ARE HERE AGAIN.

EVERY

Friday & Saturday

12 oz Draught - 25¢

RAMADA INN

5001 MARKET STREET

seahawk

vol. XVI no.12

November 14, 1973

twelve pages

JOSEPH & NATHAN

See details on page 10.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THE CAFETERIA FOOD?

Bob Kille-
(one picture is worth a thousand words)

Kevin Beard- It's a great way to lose weight, fast.

Kevin Wright- (no comment)

Brenda Moss- People complain through all their schooling; elementary, Jr. high, and high school, about the food. They just want something to complain about.

Alan DeWitt- It makes me feel all warm inside.

R. K. Mann- Abbal-gabbu-mmmfph. uh. Hmmm um.

photos by neal huntley

seahawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 791-8055.

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

editor: kathi beall
associate editors: barry asbury, beth hicks,
j.k. muhleman
advertising director: barry asbury
sports editor: robert maxey
business manager: alan murphy
mast head design: bert beall
exchange editor: marian gibson

art work: anne nesbit
photographers: roberta allred; nauma dozier, chief;
neal huntley, jeannie lovelace, j.k. muhleman
greek lines: rocky lane moore
supportive staff: sharon davis, anne nesbit,
darlene pearsall
adviser: ms. linda moore

OH DADDY! AREN'T YOU PROUD OF KING TIMAHOE? HE FOUND THEM!"

SHORTS FROM CPS

COLLEGE PRESS
SERVICE

NIXON TAPES HOAKY

The president of Syntonic Research Inc. of New York recently performed a unique experiment in order to find out if the so-called Nixon tapes could be altered. Syntonic's president, I.S. Tiebail put a special tape of Nixon's speeches together, by cutting, editing, splicing. His conclusion: the Nixon tapes would probably be a snap to alter.

The Syntonic Company is now selling the tapes to individuals at $2.50 each.

CHILEAN JUNTA BANS BOOKS

The military junta of Chile has imposed strict censorship on books and films which are supposedly of Marxist influence.

The sale or reading of over 400 books has been prohibited, ranging from works on economics and history to novels. "The Mexican", by Jack London, was censored considered "subversive" in that it "supported Darwin's theory of the survival of the fittest," according to a state-state's editorial administrative council.

Indications of the junta's overzealous efforts to crush the Marxist influence are reflected in the report by a Spanish correspondent, that his co-league's house was searched by inquisitors who seized a book entitled "Cubism" because they thought the work referred to Cuba.

POT NOT GOOD AS SLEEPING PILL

Smoking pot before going to bed does not make for a good night's sleep.

Florida professor of psychiatry, compared the sleeping patterns of pot smokers and non-smokers by hooking up EEG and EOG recording devices to volunteers' heads while they dozed away.

The chronic pot smokers were permitted to get stoned shortly before going to bed. Then the sleeping patterns of the two groups were compared.

Karacan reported finding both smokers and non-smokers slept for about the same period of time. But the recording devices found one major difference between the two groups: non-pot smokers enjoyed nearly twice as much time in "stage four sleep" which is the stage in sleep when the most relaxation occurs.

THE LINE OF SUCCESSION

With all the turmoil in Washington going on, it might be interesting to run down the line for the Presidency as defined by the US Constitution. President but that office is temporarily empty. Second in line is Speaker of the House, Carl Albert who says he doesn't want the job. Third down the line is President pro tem of the Senate, Senator James Eastland of Mississippi. Fourth is the Secretary of State, but because Henry Kissinger is foreign born, he prohibited by the Constitution from accepting the job.

Fifth is the Secretary of the Treasury, George Shultz. Sixth in line is the Attorney General, but again this office is vacant.

And seventh in line is the Secretary of Agriculture, who is, of course Earl Butz.

"Does he love me . . . or is he intrigued by my

Newell's
SPORTSWEAR?"

NEW GIRL
WHATS-IN-A-NAME
SPRING CHICKEN
MODERN JUNIOR
BOBBIE BROOKS
RINGALEEVEEO
and many more.

SPERRY
TOP SIDERS
complete line
for ladies and men

Newell's Ltd.

SPORTS &
CASUAL WEAR

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK 9A.M. - 9P.M.

The Happy Shopping Place on Wrightsville Beach

$1 CONCERTRENAISSANCE

by jon greene

The SGA Concert committee will present Renaissance on Nov. 30 in Kenan Auditorium. Student tickets will be $1 and no general admission tickets will be sold until 15 minutes before the performance. Only 986 tickets will be sold in all. The Concert Committee is presenting this concert as a service to the students and hopes to make no money on it.

Due to Thanksgiving vacation, tickets will go on sale Monday, Nov. 26. Albums will be available for $3.25 for those wishing to get into the music before they come.

Renaissance was formed in 1969 by ex-Yardbirds Keith Relf and Jim McCarty with Jane Relf (Keith's sister), Louis Cinnamo, and John Hawken. Their first album was released on Elektra and was regarded as an extremely successful fusion of classical, folk, and rock 'n' roll, aided by excellent instrumental work.

Between the first and second albums, Renaissance changed personnel completely and in so doing, became a much better band. Renaissance is now Annie Haslam-vocals, John Tout-keyboards, John Camp-bass and guitar, Terrance Sullivan-percussion. Their second album PROLOGUE was released on their new label-Sovereign. Recently their new album ASHES ARE BURNING was released.

Renaissance is distinguished by the clear beauty of Annie Haslam's vocals and the imaginative, tasteful keyboard work of John Tout. Their songs are concerned with nature and the subtle emotion and behavior of people. These are treated with literacy and beauty.

There were a number of choices for this special concert in Kenan, chief among them Ian Matthews, Leo Kottke, Matthew and Peter, and Renaissance. The latter was chosen because it was felt that they would have the widest appeal to students and of course because of their exceptional talents.

Presenting Renaissance is regarded among other schools (i.e. Duke and others) as a coup comparable to presenting Yes and Tranquility. In fact, Renaissance joins Yes and Tranquility as the three best bands ever to appear at UNC-W.

MONEY RAISED TOBUILD BULLETIN BOARD

by marian gibson

For the few of you don't know, Rocky Moore has been working diligently for the past few weeks on an outdoor-Bulletin Board on campus. The funds for this Bulletin Board are coming from a bike drawing to be held here on campus.

Ticket sales have been going on for several weeks, but as a special favor, will continue until Nov. 15. The drawing will be held on Mon. Nov. 19 in the Snack Bar at 1:00. Our own Chancellor Wagoner will be there to do the honors.

The Bulletin Board is going to be either 2 or 3 sections used as a display as well as an information center. It will be weather proof, lighted and possibly with a roof for protection from the weather.

Student Affairs Comm. has suggested placing the Bulletin Board at the North-West corner of the cafeteria. Luther Rogers, a UNC-Wilmington student in Carl Dempsey's Graphics Class has been asked to submit a design for the Outdoor Bulletin Board. But the final outcome of the Bulletin Board depends on how much money is raised.

Most clubs on campus are selling tickets. Also Ms. Moore in the Pub has some tickets. Tickets are $1.00. All ticket sales people must turn in money or tickets to Rocky or Ms. Linda on the 15th.

Do you feel Self-conscious
Of Your Bustline?

Countless numbers of women are ashamed of their bust, suffering embarrassment and often discomfort... usually because of an improperly fitted bra. Every woman is unique and so is her figure. That's why we developed the Cameo custom-fitted bra. The Cameo is designed on a unique suspension principle that eliminates weight-carrying problems along with the distress of shoulder strap pull. Yet, the Cameo bra provides firm, comfortable support. Because of thrust and gravity of the suspension principle, the appearance of the small bust is fuller and more natural looking without one ounce of padding. The Cameo is available in over 100 different sizes which means there is a size that properly fits you! And it's priced well within your reach. Obviously, a custom-fitted bra such as Cameo cannot be sold "over the counter." Instead, a trained Cameo Colliere will fit you at your convenience, in the privacy of your own home. Through her individual attention you will find just the right combination of cup sizes and other bra measurements to fit you perfectly.

Won't you please respond by calling or visiting the Salon de Frey Boutique and let Cameo help you find the freedom and comfort you deserve?

After all, you need not be self-conscious of your bust.

Salon de Frey and Boutique

791-3051

791-2214

318 Parkway Drive off South College Road

CIRCLE K SEEKS ADVISER

The Kiwanis Club of Wilmington needs a faculty member to serve as adviser for the Circle K Club at UNC-W.

Circle K is an international organization of college men and women who are involved in the campus and community. Project areas are protection of the environment, concerns of disadvantaged youth and other areas. The club offers a combination of service and fun for all involved.

Any faculty member interested in serving as adviser and helping to reactivate Circle K at UNC-W, please contact Lee Hyatt at ext. 41, 762-4411 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., or at 791-2955 after 5 p.m.

Gurr Jewelers

FIRST CHOICE FOR A CHRISTMAS WISH

Columbia

Ronelle $179

GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler and Silversmiths

212 North Front Street

YesWachovia

Don't turn 'em on

DON'T TURN 'EM ON!!!
That's the official word on the lights at UNC-W. The idea is to conserve energy.

A SEAHAWK representative talked with UNC-W plant engineer Dave Lumpkin on Monday to see exactly what is being done on campus to conserve fuel and energy in a period when we're all beginning to feel the pinch.

Every building except the dorm, Hoggard Hall, Chem-Physics, and Bear building are kept at 68 degrees daily, but at night, buildings without scientific experiments or thermal-sensitive equipment are cut back to 60 degrees. It is then set at 68 an hour before the commencement of classes.

Hoggard Hall and the Chem-Physics Building must be heated at all times due to scientific experiments.

Generally, hall lights not really needed during the day are being kept off, and Lumpkin requests that students and faculty aid in keeping this waste to a minimum. He also asks that doors and windows be kept closed so that fresh air intake in buildings will be reduced, and the heaters will have less cold air coming in to maintain at warmer levels.

After a class in any classroom, lights should be turned off.

The temperature of hot water which previously has flowed at 150 degrees now comes from the tap at 120 degrees.

The Governor has outlawed in state buildings.

Signs have been placed in all state vehicles requesting operation at less than 50 MPH.

All decorative lighting is off at night now, and, the only lighting remaining is that for safety and security purposes.

The street lights (on which construction is to begin right away) will be up within the next month. They will be on until 11 p.m. at which time only one in four will be on.

UNC-W heating, etc. is run on natural gas, with fuel oil as our secondary fuel. The fuel oil is used when the natural gas is cut. Since gas has been cut back by 17 per cent to our supplier, Lumpkin estimates that we will be using fuel oil for three or more weeks this year.

Working with Dr. James McGowan of the Academic Affairs office, Lumpkin is studying the possibility of concentrating night activities into the fewest number of buildings possible in order to save on heating and electricity required.

The Governor has outlawed the use of radiant heaters in state buildings.

The entire class schedule ever, to shift classes wherever possible to save electricity.

Lumpkin emphasized that the conservation of energy requires cooperation from everyone on campus.

Western NC schools feel the energy pinch

Schools in the western part of the state are feeling the energy pinch --- perhaps more so than those of us on the warmer east coast.

The Vice Chancellor for Business Affairs at Appalachian State University told the Seahawk in a phone interview Monday that although "We have experienced no shortages to curtail our operation" the SGA there had formed a committee to recommend ways in which energy could be conserved.

Ned Trivette told the Seahawk that among the suggestions from the committee were reducing room and water temperatures, night activities in fewer buildings, cutting off every other street and walk light on campus, and gummed labels on lights reminding that they be cut off when not in use.

Another proposal which would save five days of fuel is the beginning of Christmas holidays on Dec. 14, a Friday, rather than on the 19 as previously set.

The price of fuel for his school has gone from 12 cents to 18 cents a gallon since September. So, observed Trivette, for the 4 million gallons used per year, the difference in cost is to the tune of some $240,000.

Sam Miller, plant engineer at UNC-A, said that Asheville students had been very cooperative in relation to the cut-backs. The main source of complaints has been the faculty and secretaries.

The main task at hand for Miller is "educating the faculty." The electricity to be saved from cutting off lights in classrooms not in use can really mount up.

A UNC-W CLASSROOM WHEN NOT IN USE SHOULD LOOK LIKE THIS.

Shoney's
"HOME OF THE BIG BOY"
4010 MARKET STREET

Complete Menu

"GO ORDER ANYTIME"

OPEN

7 am - 11 pm Sun - Thurs

7 am - 1 am Fri & Sat

Try Our Strawberry Pie

Cill's

WILMINGTON

Phone 791-4040

OLEANDER DR.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

JUST OFF OLEANDER DRIVE AT AUDUBON BOULEVARD

Decorative Nautical Items and Gifts

Seniors,

Look to Jefferson Standard for YOUR future!

Jefferson
Standard

Life Insurance Company

3131 Wrightsville Ave.

The Sock Hop, where the dancers discard their shoes so as not to mar the floor of the school gymnasium, is featured in the Lucasfilm Ltd./Coppola Company comedy for Universal, "American Graffiti."

Drink now, and love, Democrates;
for we Shall not have wine and girls
eternally:
We eathe we our heads, anoint
ourselves with myrrh,
Others will do this to our sepulchre:
Let now my living bones with wine be drrenched;
Winter may deluge them when I am quenched. —Straton
(J. A. Symonds tr.)

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art, Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Prigdon
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

LAUREL
$500 TO $10000

Shop Hanover Center
Long Leaf Mall — till 9 P. M.

Mills
Keepsake
JEWELERS

28 N. Front St. — 963-4590
Hanover Center — 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall — 738-5510

Where pizza is always
in good taste

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR
3617 Market Street

Miller

AMERICAN GRAFFITI

NOSTALGIC LOOK BACK INTO TEEN YEARS

A nostalgic look back ten or so years, illustrated through the music of the period, the motor vehicles and the part they played in the lives of the protagonists, and the last 12 hours of night for four high school graduates before going on to new pursuits, form the basis for the hilarious comedy in Technicolor, "American Graffiti,"

It stars Richard Dreyfuss, Ronny Howard, Paul Le Mat and Charlie Martin Smith as the graduates, Candy Clark, Mackenzie Phillips and Cindy Williams, as their girl friends, and Wolfman Jack, the well-known disc jockey, whose broadcast through the night presents the more than 40 rock musical numbers of the era.

George Lucas directed, and wrote the picture in collaboration with Gloria Katz and Willard Huyck. Francis Ford Coppola, winner of the Oscar for directing "The Godfather," produced and Gary Kurtz was co-producer. Lucas admits the story does pay homage to his own youth, and in so doing touches nostalgia in everyone. Now aged 28, he was the same age as the leads in the story 10 years ago when it takes place in a northern California town (Lucas was born in Modesto, California). This is the second feature for the director, who graduated from the Cinema school at the University of Southern California. His previous film was

"THX 1138" which received critical plaudits as a visual tour de force.

A fast-paced rhythm is set by the radio show's broadcast of rock music provided in the film by deejay Wolfman Jack. He's a secret friend and every kid imagines him differently. The songs represent the hopes, dreams and absurd comedies of the beginning of the JFK-New Frontier — back when kids still looked at the world with awe and the music was sweeter. MCA Records has put all the music into a sound track album.

"American Graffiti" was filmed in and around the towns of Petaluma and San Rafael, California, across the bay from San Francisco, in an area which has resisted the encroachment of developers and has not changed really since 1962. It was time-consuming, but not too difficult, to locate about 300 pre-1963 automobiles to create the auto-street ballet director Lucas wanted.

All the lead players are professionals. Dreyfuss, in addition to several Broadway plays and a number of television shows, has appeared in two feature films; "Hello Down There" and "The Young Runaways." Howard, at 18, is a thoroughly experienced veteran of hundreds of roles in television and films. He is best known for his portrayal of Opie, co-star of the Andy Griffith television show for eight years. Paul Le Mat makes his film debut in "American Graffiti," although he has been on the stage since high school in San Diego. Charlie Martin Smith comes from a family all of whom are involved in the entertainment industry. His first role was in "The Cattle Company" and he has since been seen in "Fuzz."

"American Graffiti" has been rated "PG — Parental guidance suggested. Some material may not be suitable for pre-teens."

"OH, FOR THE GOOD OLE DAYS...."

Oh, all ways are long. The peck of the deathwatch beetle in our breasts is slow, and every drop of blood is a moment lost, and our life is a lingering fever.

"Leonce and Lena"
University Theatre
November 30 - December 3

OAKWOOD MOBILE HOMES

See CHARLIE PARKER & TERRY NEEDHAM

5202 Oleander Drive

CALL 791-0317

See CHARLIE CANNON & CURTIS BRITT

Highway 74, 76, 87 at Maco

CALL 655-3845

FROM TH' PUB

Oleander Drive

T-O-D-A-Y
THRU
TUESDAY

world wide pictures presents times to run PG estmancolor

OLEANDER
Cinema 1
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

799-3950

1:00-3:00-5:00-7:00-9:15

Starts Friday Nov. 16

for extended engagement
shows 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

OLEANDER
Cinema 2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

"...easily the best movie so far this year."

— Stephen Farber
NEW YORK TIMES

Where were you in '62?

American Graffiti

PG

CRUISING

LONG LEAF
Cinema 1

Today thru
Tuesday

2-4-6-8-10

Topical, intelligent and perceptive.

It is a film of that growing group of married couples who still resist the idea of an open marriage, but who like to try leaving it ajar.

— ABC-TV

I COULD NEVER HAVE SEX WITH ANY MAN WHO HAS SO LITTLE REWARD FOR MY HUSBAND

COLOR
(R)

Long Leaf Mall 799-5510

LONG LEAF
Cinema 2

Today thru Tuesday

CARLO PONTI presents

RICHARD BURTON

MARCELLO MASTROIANNI

MAFFACRE IN ROME

TECHNICOLOR®

PG

A National General Pictures Release

MUSIC

by barry asbury

BADFINGER CENSORED

Badfinger has an album set for release in November. The English group's new LP is entitled ASS and is recorded on the Apple label. Badfinger appeared in Wilmington two years ago and did everything but impress the audience. Although I've heard of them putting on a good show, I've never seen them do it. They seem to be one of the groups who can get it on in the recording studio with all the electronic equipment but cannot prove themselves on stage. They do have their own sound though. I'm anxious to see if they have stuck with the same sound or have bothered to try to improve or build on it.

that "was so set in his style that I thought for sure that he would never change. If he's changing to a more country sound, which I doubt, it will be a shocking surprise to me and will be a long way from "Canta Libre".

AL MARTINO COUNTRY?

An album I want to check out of pure curiosity is a new one by Al Martino entitled COUNTRY STYLE. Al Martino used to have a soft mellow easy listening style. The reason for my curiosity is that Al Martino was one of those singers

NATHAN AND JOSEPH

Nathan and Joseph appear in Kenan Auditorium November 18th at 8 p.m. I met them when they were down from Boston this summer visiting their parents who live here in town. This duo is going to be one of the most influential on modern folk music. This summer, they were working on some material for Sesame Street.

PINK FLOYD GOLD

Two years after its release in October, 1971, Pink Floyd's seventh album MEDDLE has finally been certified as R.I.A.A. gold. It took until October, 1973 for this album to sell one million records or two years. This is a shy bit longer than it took for DARK SIDE OF THE MOON. All you rockers might say that people must have been crazy not to have noticed good music. Swingers of the Elvis Presley, Chubby Checker, and Fats Domino said the same thing about their forerunners of a few years before. Just exactly what is good music? And I'm looking for an answer besides "What I say it is" or "If you don't know, why should I tell you?"

During the month of November, the Steve Miller Band is making a tour of stops all on this side of the Mississippi. The closest to here is on November 30th. They will be appearing in the historic Fox Theatre on Peachtree Street in downtown Atlanta, Georgia. That's a long way to go, but for some the Steve Miller Band is worth every gallon.

Album Review

Mott the Hoople
Columbia KC32425

After a few years of really hard work on Atlantic Records, Mott the Hoople has finally popped up with an album worth playing to death but on the Columbia label. Whether the company change or group experience has had any effect on the album is hard to say, however, no one was really exposed until the label switch came.

Their first album to hit the US was "Mott the Hoople" and featured such classics as "At the Crossroads", written by Doug Sahm, and "Laugh at Me" by Sonny Bono. The year was 1970 and the voice of Ian Hunter was just what the old Daylan somehow never found.

The same year the album Mad Shadows came out and was less popular than the first. The album was first released in this country to contain all Mott the Hoople material with "I Can Feel" as the best effort the group. The album popped up during the period that was lapsing the dead Cream, Joplin, and Hendrix era and should have hit the top if it had been well promoted. The only thing was that Atlantic Records was too busy with other groups, such as Led Zeppelin, to really do anything for many groups which could have hit the top as fast as Zep did.

1971 was a new year and the third Mott the Hoople album was released. Wildlife, and again Atlantic Records, shoved it away as the others had been. The highlight of the album was "Angle of Eighth Avenue" and again the Daylan sound thrived throughout the album.

After the third failure, a fourth album and the last to be released on the Atlantic in 1972, it happened—a new sound on a new label—a new album and a hit: "All the Young Dudes". The new all-people began to wonder where Mott the Hoople had been all this time.

Now, after a brief breath to get over the sudden stardom, Mott the Hoople has released their second album on Columbia, simply MOTT.

"All the Way From Memphis" is the single being released from the album. Yet it gives no idea as to what the rest of the album is like. The sound is some of the purest and best rock of the year. And the cuts are pure Mott the Hoople. "Honoloochie Boogie" has to be the best song on the record because it has the words and music

Now I got this friend, jiver,

You know some kinda automobile on the street And he has converted me to Rock 'n Roll

Now I just want to dance to Honoloochie Boogie Get in time, don't worry about the shirt-shine, Honoloochie Boogie Yeah, You sure started something.

Then "Hymn for the Dudes" and "Ballad of Mott" mellow the album to a blend of rock and harmony only Mott the Hoople could produce.

I hope, for Mott fans, that the breath between this album and the next is not as long as the last. By the sounds on this album, it shouldn't be.

you can't tell a jet plane to shut up

Cash Roberts

You only go around once in life.
So reach for all the gusto you can.
Even in the beer you drink.
Why settle for less?

When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

HAWK'S NEST

5814 Oleander Drive

SPAGHETTI NIGHT

every thursday

99¢

spaghetti, salad, rolls

CLOSED MONDAYS

799-5880

IN ORBIT with robert maxey

STATE SPORTS

NATIONAL SPORTS

The N.Y. Jets posted a victory over the New England Patriots, 33-13.

The Cowboys out towered the Giants, 23-10.

The Miami Dolphins drowned the Baltimore Colts 44-0.

The Green Bay Packers slipped past the St. Louis Cardinals, 25-21.

College Football Scores

East Carolina 44
Richmond 14

Maryland 33
Virginia 0

Wake Forest 7
Duke 7

(for how State and Chapel Hill fared see State Sports)

Coach Lane discusses strategy with player David Wychel during a soccer match. (photo by maxey)

SEAHAWKS LOSE IN PLAYOFFS

The UNC-W Seahawk soccer team was dormant last week waiting to see how the other teams in District 29 are going to fair. St. Andrews and Pembroke lost their final games. By losing their final game, St. Andrews is out of contention. The Seahawks and Pembroke tied in regular season standings, but since UNC-W beat Pembroke when the two clashed in conference play, the Seahawks were voted to the 3rd place berth by the conference committee of coaches with Pembroke being voted 10th place.

The Seahawks faced 2nd ranked Lynchburg Thursday November 8th to start play-off action. The battle took eleven overtime periods between down in defeat after a hard battle. The score - 1-0. The game was postponed on Thursday because of approaching darkness after 8 overtime periods. The last three periods were played on Friday. The game lasted for approximately 2 hours and 20 minutes and was said to be the longest soccer game in the history of soccer in North Carolina.

Tim Willette, goalie for the Seahawks had an outstanding day for the home team with four saves. This is a Wolfpack, Tarheels fall prey to Penn State & Clemson. N.C. State was edged out by Penn State, 35-29. U.N.C. bowed out to Clemson, 37-29. The East Carolina Pirates fired a cannon in the Richmond Spider's web by defeating them 44-14. The fire & brimstone game between the Duke Blue Devils & the Wake Forest Deacons ended in a 7-7 deadlock.

new school record. Coach that if Tim Willette isn't an all conference soccer player, he didn't know who was one. Coach Lane, along with others, is confident that Tim has an excellent chance of obtaining this honor.

The final blow of the Seahawk-Lynchburg game came to the Seahawks when in the overtime period, the opposing team scored a goal from a corner kick and defeating UNC-W by the score of 1-0.

The Seahawk staff would like to congratulate Coach Lane and the seahawk soccer team for a fine season's performance!

FOX HUNTING. HERE?

Release the dogs, sound the bugle, and they're off to start the national fox hunt. The hunt was held at Camden, S.C.

Brenda Jean Mertz participated in the 5-day event held October 29-November 3rd. Brenda, a sophomore, is majoring in Math with hopes of teaching. This is her first year at the University. She previously attended Winthrop College, a girls school, in Camden, S.C.

Now a resident of Winabow, Brenda owns four horses, Gipsy Star, Latina, Kit's King, & Cheeta's Baby Doll. Horses have become a very important part of her life. She has been raising horses since she was 10 years old. She breeds and trains her horses as well as raises them.

The object of the fox hunt is to test the ability of the hounds in hunting. Judges observe the dog's and award trophies to the outstanding hunting hounds. The last three days the Fraternity Hounds, under 2 years old, casted off at 6:00 each morning. Judges observed the dog's over the three day period and on Wed.

night awarded the best hounds in that division. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday the Aged Hounds were observed and awarded Saturday night for the best hounds for the Aged Hounds division. On Tuesday night there was a horse show for Capped Members of the National Fox Hunt.

"It was a very exciting, entertaining, and rewarding week," stated Brenda. "It gave my horses, Star and Latina a chance to get some riding, jumping, and general experience."

UNC-W J.V. BASKETBALL TEAM SCHEDULE

12/5	Mt. Olive-H
12/10	USC-Conway-A
12/11	Southeastern-H
12/15	Coastal Carolina-H*
1/22	Wayne CC-H*
1/28	Mt. Olive-H
2/4	Southeastern-A
2/9	Coastal Carolina-A
2/14	Wayne CC-A

INTRAMURALS

BASKETBALL

Regular intramural basketball season began Monday, Nov. 5. Twenty four teams have turned in rosters to play ball.

There will be three 8-team leagues with games scheduled every night except Friday-Sunday. Six games will be played each night and both gyms will be in use.

Each team will play approximately 14 games before the season is rounded up with tournaments of league champions and runners-up.

Yes

Wachovia

apparel factory outlet

Misses' &
Jr. Miss
Denim JEANS

from $4.44

baggies
flares
bells

Men's
Denim
Jeans

from $5.37

Hand Carved Bells - $6.66

10-6 sat.

FREE PARKING 10-9 mon. fri

4204 OLEANDER DRIVE

* Professional Service At
A Price You Can Afford

GOOD YEAR

TIRES

* LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT

Dick Wilson, Mgr.

kar-kare

"We do it right... we do it over."

4207 Oleander Drive

799-2770

- Wheel Alignment
- Complete Front End Repairs
- Shock Absorbers
- Diagnostic Tune-Ups
- Brake Service
- Batteries

BANKAMERICA

BANKAMERICA

master charge

"Superior follow-up to 'Willard'.
Imaginative and enormously effective." —Mayerson, Cue

"A GENUINE HORROR TALE!" ...
—FILM NEWSLETTER

"AN IMAGINATIVE AND ENORMOUSLY EFFECTIVE HORROR FILM!" —

—DONALD MAYERSON—
CUE MAGAZINE

Don't see it alone!

BEN

BEN is on his way
and this time, he's not alone!

MONDAY
NOVEMBER 19, 1973
8 p.m.
KENAN AUDITORIUM

Computerized match-ups reveal higher grades

(from the Charlotte Observer)

College roommates matched up by a computer earn significantly higher grades than students assigned by the luck of the draw, according to a recent study.

Freshmen paired by computer at West Virginia Institute of Technology on the basis of predicted compatibility also reported they like college better and were more pleased with their own first year performance.

For both men and women, the most important single factor in determining whether they would get along well was similarity of their stage of academic development.

For men, attitude toward drinking was the second most important factor. Third was whether the student was the first born in his family.

Women got along best if their ages were very close, if their attitudes toward smoking were similar, and if they came from high schools of similar size.

The study, by David D. McIntire, involved 20 roommate pairs of men and 20 pairs of women, and a larger group who were assigned at random for comparison.

Reaction from housing directors at Washington-area colleges is guarded. "It could be true," said Leon Young of American University, "but I don't know."

A statistical procedure was used to find out which factors best predicted roommate compatibility.

The grade point average was improved by a third of a point for men and a quarter of a point for women.

McIntire says he is not sure why except that the time spent in the dorm is far greater than the time spent in the lecture hall.

A FEW WORDS FROM

DID YOU EVER SEE A LITTLE BIRD THAT TALKED?
How about a LITTLE BIT OF BLUES on a rainy evening or ... a sunny morning
I WANT YOU TO KNOW THAT I'VE BEEN THINKING ABOUT YOU
From folk to classical to children's music to blues

JOSEPH & NATHAN

(BROTHERS AND GOOD BUDDIES) take you up - let you down - bring you back and round and round, with music, smiles, laughs and frowns.
Guitar, flute, piano, operatic voices (adaptable to many styles), trumpet, sax drums, burps and melodious mellow melodies.

JOSEPH and NATHAN

Julliard composition majors - authors of children's books, TV, radio, newspapers, magazines, and comic books and just plain EVERYDAY PEOPLE.

Folk singers Nathan and Joseph will appear in Kenan Auditorium as part of the University Music Series on Sunday, Nov. 18 at 8 p.m. instead of their scheduled appearance in April.

This change was necessitated by an invitation from the Israeli government to entertain there for the next six months.

Nathan and Joseph have performed for many colleges and universities across the country and are coming here from recent appearances at Harvard and Brandeis. Much of their material is original and reflects contemporary thought on the important issues of today.

They are the sons of Rabbi and Mrs. Aaron Segal of Wilmington and have a sister attending UNC-W. Student admission to the concert is free with presentation of a UNC-W ID card.

Payne's

Barry Asbury checks out a leather waist coat by Lion, pants by Male, shoes by Verdi, and an embroidered western cut shirt by Assent.

Available at

Payne's

Downtown, Hanover Center
& Long Leaf Mall

classifieds

Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are invited - urged - even begged to put their classifieds in the SEAHAWK free - FREE, i.e., no charge. Let us give you a break.

63 convertible Cutlass
$400. Call 791-3307 or 791-1652.

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS:
with power steering, radio.
Only $1000. Call 799-3765.

LOST & FOUND
Pub:
several jackets
pool cue
two pair of wire rim glasses sunglasses
keys tennis shoes
assorted books
and notebooks

THE TRANSPLANT

by
Milton Boone
Campus Minister

A pilgrim is one on the road putting down no roots searching out a way from birth to death or life.

Christian faith is pilgrimage from the dark side of our worlds to a place of order and design - where things are seen to make sense.

If destination gets in the way too soon or one decides he early has arrived, a backward look may show a wrong turn taken and pilgrim's progress stalled.

Faith is also pilgrimage from me to you that gets bridged by our Father's love and life becomes a kind of meeting place to celebrate the trip from here to there.

Pilgrims are on the way to thanksgiving.

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

Edgar Cayce's
Association For Research and Enlightenment
A Group Meeting to be held
For more information call 799-0605

WORK

NEEDED: We are now hiring females to be representatives for Cameo Custom Fit Bras. Work your own hours. Make $5.00 and up an hour.
Apply at Salon de Frey
Salon and Boutique.
Phone 791-6618. Ask for
Mr. Whitman.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE: Waterbeds. New king size
$25.00. Call Herbie
791-9325.

FOR SALE: Sears Silvertone 19" portable TV with VHP and UHP antennas.
Excellent physical and mechanical condition.
$50.00.

Sunshine Surfboard
for Sale. $40.00 Call 256-2325.

Stereo Components! Most
major brands! 20 - 50 %
Off! All fully guaranteed!
Call 799-1696 after 6 p. m.

FOR SALE: Hoover
Portable washing machine. Less than one year old. Ideal for an apartment. $75.00.
Paid $160.00 new.
Call Rex at 791-9325.

Beautiful puppies!
4 weeks old, 3 male & 2 female. $2.00 each 791-5662

Sears Pak-A-Poose todd-Aluminum frame, nylon shoulder straps, blue cavvas seat. Like new.
$6.00. Call 791-9363
after 6:00 P.M.

Surfboard for Sale.
$60.00. Custom made by William Frierson.
6'6" long 20 in. wide.
3 in. thick. Peartail.
Contact Tim in Room
314, Residence Hall.

For Sale: One Penn Senator
9/0 reel with 800 plus yards of 80 lb Dacron and custom built 80 lb class rod with Fin Nor Guides. $65.00.
Also one Penn 4/0 reel.
NEW and rod - $35.00.
Call 763-7153. after 5 p.m.

RIDES

I would like a ride to the Winston-Salem area for Thanksgiving. I will help pay for gas. See Richard in Dorm. room 234.

I need a ride to Rochester, New York or thereabouts over Thanksgiving.
Call 256-9370 and ask for Charlie. I'm desperate.

If anyone needs a ride up Highway 74 as far as Rockingham on Friday afternoons - contact Steve in Room 316 Residence Hall. Help pay for gas.

your's broken?
we repair
all models!

LIFE CYCLES

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER
4209 Oberlander Drive
799-5770

Mon. - Thurs. Fri. Sat.
10-4 10-9 10-6

DISCOUNT PRICES ON RECORDS & TAPES!!!!

OPEN--10 til 9
Monday thru Saturday.

RECORD
WORLD

a new sound experience!!

Long Leaf Mall

Would like a ride to Kentucky anytime. Preferably near Berea or Lexington. Will help on cost of gas. Contact - Gary Coburn, Room 411.
Residence Hall.

Need a ride to Western Carolina University any weekend. Will help pay for gas. See Susan in Room 102, Residence Hall.

Need a ride to Goldsboro boro or nearby. Will help on gas. See Beth in Room
611, Residence Hall

MEAL PRICES

UNC-W Cafeteria

Breakfast .85

Lunch 1.15

Dinner 1.35

PLACES FOR RENT; ROOM
MATES WANTED:
Bedroom and private bath
for rent in Hanover Heights area. Kitchen privileges arranged. Call 791-8330.

Roommate wanted: Female.
$52.50 per month includes utilities at Wrightsville
Beach Sound. Dial 256-4196.
House

For rent: bedroom and bath with kitchen privileges and full household area. Ideal for one or two students.
Also, ideal conditions for studying. Good location and surroundings. CALL 791-7611 after 5 p.m. or 763-9971 Ext. 587 in-between 8:30 and 5.

Apartment for sub-leasing:
2 bedroom furnished apartment at 5026 Hunt Club RD,
Apt. #5. Country Club APTS.
Apt. #5. Country Club Apts.
Effective Jan. 1, 1974. For information call 799-2876.

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO
APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT
A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Wall-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen area
- Hotpoint range, refrigerator, garbage disposal
- Individually-controlled air conditioning
- Large swimming pool. Central laundry facilities.

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished $135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished $149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished $160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished $185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT ...

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take
a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right.
From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17)
to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive.
We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

This pine cone looks as if it has seen its better days.

(drawing by Anne Nesbit)

TO KICK OR NOT TO KICK

by Rocky Moore

A unique phenomenon is occurring at UNC-W. Students with frustrations, odd whims or otherwise playful moods are participating in kicking pine cones all over campus.

Recently, a student was observed leaving his class at the Kenan Hall building. One might have detected a look of sullenness and repressed anger as he paused and kicked a pine cone 10 feet in the air, but no one paid any real attention to this seemingly accepted pastime.

Pine cones may travel from one end of campus to the other as many as three times a year. (Observed one young girl who herself was delighted to have kicked a pine cone all the way from the Chemistry building to the pub. Needless to say, all students are tempted to kick pine cones. One might infer that there is a great theological significance in the act. (That God is dead, so what the heck!)

Status has something to do with it. No professors have been observed kicking pine cones on campus. Business students with a B average or better generally avoid kicking pine cones while some philosophy students go out of their way to find one.

One girl caught in the act was asked why she had just kicked a pine cone. She retorted, "Why do I kick a pine cone." "Because its there."

There has been considerable confusion concerning the Student Health Service recently. For clarification, Mrs. Phoebe Hood, nurse practitioner for the Service, outlined the services provided to all full-time students for the fee paid with their tuition and other fees.

For general problems, a student should see Mrs. Hood in the infirmary located in the residence hall between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday through Friday. The fact that the infirmary is located in the dorm has caused some confusion, but Mrs. Hood stated that all full-time UNC-W students are eligible to receive care through the Health Service.

If it is indicated or necessary, the student may be referred to a physician.

In the case of an emergency or other instance in which the infirmary is closed, but the student needs immediate attention, he should call 763-8251. This number will put the student in touch with the Wilmington Health Associates or the doctor on call for WHA. If it is necessary for the student to be seen by the doctor, he should still call 763-8251, describe his problem to the doctor, who will make arrangements to see him in the Emergency Room at New Hanover Memorial Hospital. After the student arrives at the ER, he should have them call the doctor again.

These calls must be made or the student will have to pay an additional fee to the physician who examines him in the ER.

Students who must be seen in the Emergency Room at the hospital should expect to pay an ER fee. If he has not called Wilmington Health Associates or their doctor on call, he will have to pay the additional physician's fee.

Another source of confusion is what services are and are not covered by the health service fee.

Full-time students will receive free any services provided by the nurse practitioner in the infirmary or the doctors with Wilmington Health Associates. It also covers any out-patient lab

the infirmary or at the WHA office.

Students fees DO NOT cover the following things: the Emergency room fee, visits to specialists, prescriptions, x-rays, lab tests done at the hospital or elsewhere, or in-patient service at the hospital. Students should expect to pay for these services themselves.

"The Student Health Service is not an insurance policy," Mrs. Hood stated. She said that there is a very good inexpensive insurance policy available to students through UNC-W which would pay for ER costs and other expenses. Students may obtain more information by going to the office for Student Affairs, A 114.

Examination Schedule

Fall Semester 1973

	9:00 - 12:00	2:00 - 5:00	7:00 - 10:00
Wednesday December 12	10:30 MWF classes	12:30 T Th classes	Wednesday night classes
Thursday December 13	11:30 MWF classes	1:30 MWF classes	Thursday night classes
Friday December 14	8:30 MWF classes	2:00 T Th classes
Monday December 17	12:30 MWF classes	2:30 MWF classes	Monday night classes
Tuesday December 18	8:30 T Th classes	3:30 T Th classes	Tuesday night classes
Wednesday December 19	10:00 T Th classes	2:30 MWF classes
Thursday December 20	9:30 MWF classes	4:30 MWF classes

Brass Boot.

NON BUSH

Wellington Lee
SHOES

'Fit a must...Service a pleasure'

799-2671

MARKET PLAZA SHOPPING CENTER

Happy Thanksgiving

...NOW
MUNCHY'S
GRILL
"We'll make you a sandwich you can't refuse!"
EAT HERE OR TAKE OUT

PIZZA
BEVERAGES

SANDWICHES
BEVERAGES

OPEN 11 'TIL 11

EXCEPT

SUNDAY

1313 South College Road

(next to Cleopatra Gift Shop)

call 791-9980
to order

Theatre presents

photos by
neal huntley

'Leonce and Lena'

See page 3 for details
on University Theatre's exciting production,
'Leonce and Lena'

There's a concert Friday with

RENAISSANCE

$1

see Wes

KNAPE'S
KLEVER
KOMMENTS

pages 7 & 8

TO KICK OR NOT TO KICK

by Rocky Moore

This pine cone looks as if it has seen its better days.

(drawing by Anne Nesbit)

A unique phenomenon is occurring at UNC-W. Students with frustrations, odd whims or otherwise playful moods are participating in kicking pine cones all over campus.

Recently, a student was observed leaving his class at the Kenan Hall building. One might have detected a look of sullenness and repressed anger as he paused and kicked a pine cone 10 feet in the air, but no one paid any real attention to this seemingly accepted pastime.

Pine cones may travel from one end of campus to the other as many as three times a year. (Observed one young girl who herself was delighted to have kicked

a pine cone all the way from the Chemistry building to the pub. Needless to say, all students are tempted to kick pine cones. One might infer that there is a great theological significance in the act. (That God is dead, so what the heck!)

Status has something to do with it. No professors have been observed kicking pine cones on campus. Business students with a B average or better generally avoid kicking pine cones while some philosophy students go out of their way to find one.

One girl caught in the act was asked why she had just kicked a pine cone. She retorted, "Why do I kick a pine cone." "Because its there."

HEALTH SERVICE ROLE CLARIFIED

There has been considerable confusion concerning the Student Health Service recently. For clarification, Mrs. Phoebe Hood, nurse practitioner for the Service, outlined the services provided to all full-time students for the fee paid with their tuition and other fees.

For general problems, a student should see Mrs. Hood in the infirmary located in the residence hall between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday through Friday. The fact that the infirmary is located in the dorm has caused some confusion, but Mrs. Hood stated that all full-time UNC-W students are eligible to receive care through the Health Service.

If it is indicated or necessary, the student may be referred to a physician.

In the case of an emergency or other instance in which the infirmary is closed, but the student needs immediate attention, he should call 763-8251. This number will put the student in touch with the Wilmington Health Associates or the doctor on call for WHA. If it is necessary for the student to be seen by the doctor, he should still call 763-8251, describe his problem to the doctor, who will make arrangements to see him in the Emergency Room at New Hanover Memorial Hospital. After the student arrives at the ER, he should have them call the doctor again.

These calls must be made or the student will have to pay an additional fee to the physician who examines him in the ER.

Students who must be seen in the Emergency Room at the hospital should expect to pay an ER fee. If he has not called Wilmington Health Associates or their doctor on call, he will have to pay the additional physician's fee.

Another source of confusion is what services are and are not covered by the health service fee.

Full-time students will receive free any services provided by the nurse practitioner in the infirmary or the doctors with Wilmington Health Associates. It also covers any out-patient lab

the infirmary or at the WHA office.

Students fees DO NOT cover the following things: the Emergency room fee, visits to specialists, prescriptions, x-rays, lab tests done at the hospital or elsewhere, or in-patient service at the hospital. Students should expect to pay for these services themselves.

"The Student Health Service is not an insurance policy," Mrs. Hood stated. She said that there is a very good inexpensive insurance policy available to students through UNC-W which would pay for ER costs and other expenses. Students may obtain more information by going to the office for Student Affairs, A 114.

Examination Schedule

Fall Semester 1973

	9:00 - 12:00	2:00 - 5:00	7:00 - 10:00
Wednesday December 12	10:30 MWF classes	12:30 T Th classes	Wednesday night classes
Thursday December 13	11:30 MWF classes	1:30 MWF classes	Thursday night classes
Friday December 14	8:30 MWF classes	2:00 T Th classes
Monday December 17	12:30 MWF classes	2:30 MWF classes	Monday night classes
Tuesday December 18	8:30 T Th classes	3:30 T Th classes	Tuesday night classes
Wednesday December 19	10:00 T Th classes	3:30 MWF classes
Thursday December 20	9:30 MWF classes	4:30 MWF classes

Brass Boot.

NON BUSH

Wellington Lee
SHOES

'Fit a must...Service a pleasure'

799-2671

MARKET PLAZA SHOPPING CENTER

Happy Thanksgiving

...NOW OPEN...

MUNCHY'S

GRILL

"We'll make you a sandwich you can't refuse!"

EAT HERE OR TAKE OUT

PIZZA
BEVERAGES

SANDWICHES
BEVERAGES

OPEN 11 'til 11
EXCEPT SUNDAY

1313 South College Road
(next to Cleopatra Gift Shop)

call 791-9980 to order

Theatre presents

photos by
neal huntley

'Leonce and Lena'

See page 3 for details
on University Theatre's
exciting production,
'Leonce and Lena'

There's a concert Friday with

RENAISSANCE

see Wes

$1

KNAPE'S

KLEVER

KOMMENTS

pages 7 & 8

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THE seahawk

David Ramey- It's better than the Caveller-more informative.

Debbie Brooks-What can I say? I love the photography!

Margaret Monroe- I like it. I liked the bath tub drawings.....we need more of them.

Steve Brinson- I can do with it or without it.

Cold Milk- make another selection!

Jim Hutto- Excellent!

photos by neal huntley

seahawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 781-8055.

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

TIME FLIES LIKE THE WIND
FRUIT FLIES LIKE BANANAS

editor: kathi beall
associate editors: barry asbury, beth hicks,
j.k. muhleman
advertising director: barry asbury
sports editor: robert maxey
business manager: alan murphy
mast head design: bert beall
exchange editor: marian gibson

art work: anne nesbit photographers: roberta allred; nauma dozler, chris neal huntley, jeannie lovelace, j.k. muhleman
greek lines: rocky lane moore
supportive staff: sharon davis, anne nesbit,
darlene pearsall
adviser: ms. linda moore

"GODDY, MR. SAXBE, WE CAN'T OFFER ANYTHING PERMANENT—HOWEVER, WE DO HAVE AN OPENING FOR AN ATTORNEY GENERAL...."

Theatre presents

'Leonce and Lena'

The University Theatre of UNC-W will present "Leonce and Lena" on November 30 through December 3 in the SRO Theatre. Curtain time is set for 8:15 pm each evening and reservations may be made by calling the Drama and Speech Department office 791-4330 ext. 332 between the hours of 1 to 5pm, Monday through Friday of the production week.

All University students are admitted free to all of the University Theatre productions. Students are encouraged to make reservations in order to be assured of their place in the theatre.

"Leonce and Lena" by Georg Buechner is an amusing lighthearted variation of the ambiguous condition of man in time and space. The play demonstrates man's inability to define his origin or to recognize his final destination. In between these two points he also discovers that his actions are controlled by outside forces. Man is not able to exert "free will" in the face of historical fatalism. Prince Leonce does not want to become king and marry the princess chosen for him. He decides to flee. But this supposed act of free will does not alter the passivity of his historical fate.

This seemingly dark expression of the condition of man is handled in an extremely light and amusingly cheerful manner. There are scenes where Leonce, and sometimes Lena and Valerio, are given funny or beautiful monologues. There are other scenes which ridicule the smallness of the individual hypocrisy of the peasantry as well as mockery of the pretentiousness of the nobility. Under this purposeful exaggeration which is the habitual device of comedy and fantasy Georg Buechner has produced a delightful and a free the mind of worldly cares or a key to a deeper understanding of worldly cares or better still, perhaps, both.

The players are: Sheryl Moore, Tom Eaton, Margaret Monroe, Dawn Gardner, Jody Chilton, James Terrell Holley, David L. Brickley, Leigh Eaton, Valerie Cooper, Suzanne Howell, Danny Roach. Original music is composed by Howard T. Alley. The costumes are designed by Joan Robinson. The original set design is by David Brickley. Victoria Daum will serve as house manager.

"Does he love me . . . or is he intrigued by my

Newell's
SPORTSWEAR?"

NEW GIRL
WHATS-IN-A-NAME
SPRING CHICKEN
MODERN JUNIOR
BOBBIE BROOKS
RINGALEEVEEO
and many more.

SPERRY
TOP SIDERS
complete line
for ladies and men

Newell's Ltd.

SPORTS &
CASUAL WEAR

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK 9A.M. - 9P.M.

The Happy Shopping Place on Wrightsville Beach

Advanced placement test registration deadline Dec. 5

The Office of Counseling and Testing will implement the recently approved Advanced Placement and College Level Examination programs during spring semester registration, Jan. 7 and 8, 1974.

Students who plan to take the tests must register in the office of C&T, A-217, by Dec. 5. The office is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. til 5 p.m.

Dr. Darwin R. Newton, Director of C&T, said that any currently enrolled student seeking course exemption, college credit, or both, may register for the tests. "However," he added, "the Advanced Placement Examinations are for students who have had college level instruction in high school in the area for which they intend to register for testing."

The placement exams are available in 16 areas, including American History, Biology, Calculus AB and BC, Chemistry, Classics, English, European History, French Language and Literature, German, the History of Art, Music, Physics B and C, and Spanish.

The CLEP general examinations will be offered in English Composition, Humanities, Mathematics, Natural Sciences, and Social Sciences-History.

There will be a $5 service charge for each advanced placement test for which the student registers; and a $5 charge for enrolling in one CLEP test, or a $10 charge for taking from two to five of the CLEP tests.

Students planning to take any of the tests offered should be sure to register in A-217 before 5 p.m. on Dec. 5.

FALL CARNIVAL

Sponsored By INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

Friday Nov. 30
7:30 PM - 12:00 PM

Saturday Dec. 1
5:30 PM - 12:00 PM

RECORD-HOP

Will Be Provided
By WHSL Radio on Friday

PUBLIC INVITED
No
Admission Charge

Drink now, and love, Democritus;
for we
Shall not have wine and girls
eternally:
Wreaths we our heads, anoint
ourselves with myrrh,
Others will do this to our sepuchres.
Let new my living bones with
wine be drenched;
Water may deluge them when I
am quenched. —Straton
(J. A. Symonds tr.)

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine-Art Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Bridgen
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

Fisher
We invented high fidelity.

Studio-Standard Series

304 404 504

THIRD GENERATION SOUND!

Traditionally, "first generation" has been used to describe the earliest hardware of a new technology. After some experiences in the field, blended with feedback from users of the new items, the industry enters a period of "second generation" products: refined, integrated, sleeker, less awkward. This is the status of most four-channel audio equipment now on the market.

But some designers go back to the drawing boards, a little earlier than the rest of the crowd, to rethink basic concepts. Out of that disciplined creativity comes a still more highly perfected, more truly mature product. That is the point to which Fisher has come. Four channel in full stride.

McDOWELL MUSIC CO.
Glen Meade Plaza
763-1854

Curr Jewelers

FIRST CHOICE FOR A CHRISTMAS WISH

Charisse From $175 Columbia

GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler and Silversmiths
212 North Front Street

PHONE IN NEWS FOR TODAY
ALL DAY LONG
STUDENT AFFAIRS
OFFICE
EXT. 219

Yes
Wachovia

Editor's farewell

With just a little reluctance, I now write my words of farewell to all friends and Seahawk readers.

At the end of this semester, I will have been the editor of the Seahawk for one full year (35 issues, give or take a couple), which I believe is a record, and which I know to be enough for any school paper editor. Throughout the past year, I have lost many a night of sleep getting out a newspaper which I felt was important to UNC-W. The tables have turned a little now, since I am leaving because of something which is of the greatest importance to me. I cannot put out a good newspaper and do all the work, learn all that is necessary to become a good nurse. I do not harbor any thought of being THE SEAHAWK editor for the rest of my life. But I would like to be a good nurse. A decision had to be made, but it was not a difficult one.

In leaving, I wanted to say some things about people at UNC-W who have come to mean a lot to me. As editor, I've worked with a lot of terrific people that I have to say something about.

MRS. JOYCE JACKSON, Dr. Malloy's secretary, is one of the most beautiful people with whom I have come in contact. She is ALWAYS smiling and her smile is infectious. Have you ever met somebody you loved because they are who they are? If not, stick your head in A-113 and introduce yourself. If so, you know what I mean.

DR. BILL MALLOY, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, has got to be one of the greatest things to ever happen to UNC-W. He's a great person to work with, not only because he is who he is, but because he cares about students.

The Loan Arranger cares too. LARRY CROWDER, Director of Student Financial Aid, is ready in a minute with a joke and the $$$.

JIM SLAGER has helped me not only as a counselor, but as a friend. He and his wife LINDA are two very special people as far as I'm concerned.

PAT, BETSY, SUSAN, and STEVE are our bookstore family. They're doing their best, a grand job, I might add. I still hope they get a bigger store.

From the SGA, BILL RENN, KEITH HALES, and NANCY PUGH are fantastic people to work with.

The SENATE deserves a lot of credit. They're up against apathy and a budget so tight it is ridiculous for a school this size.

My staff is made up of sometime-goot-offs, sometime-work fiends. But a greater bunch of books and cutthroats, an editor couldn't hope for.

MS. LINDA. That speaks for itself. But naturally I'm not going to pass up such a golden opportunity for flowery prose. To the Director of Student Activities, Seahawk adviser, and a good friend...thanks isn't enough, but it's all I've got.

My family and friends helped me when they were tired, stood behind me and beside me. And supported me morally, spiritually, and financially.

There are many more people who have become very special, if I only had the time and space to thank them all. I don't though, so I'm going to finish this quickly now, with a wish that all those who have found themselves continue to grow and enjoy what they are doing, as I shall do, and that those who are still searching will find something that means as much to them as nursing has come to mean to me.

Thanks and God bless you all.

Kathi

Chancellor William Wagoner draws the stub which names Mrs. Isabel Kornegay as lucky winner of the bike. Rocky Moore, project chairman, looks on. (photo by neal huntley)

MONEY RAISED TO BUILD BULLETIN BOARD

Perhaps student apathy is not as bad as one might think. A surprising total of $308.50 was raised by the students of UNC-W to build a Bulletin Board for the school. A total of 448 tickets were sold indicating a participation of over 30% of the student body. Several other sources are expected to make up the difference in cost.

Other clubs still have money outstanding and the administration may contribute the balance.

VILLAGE INN

WHERE PIZZA IS ALWAYS
IN GOOD TASTE!

A wide variety in three different sizes.

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

3617 Market Street

BUYING DIAMOND
JEWELRY?

Remember
The Money You Save
Will Be Your Own

Wilmington's
Largest Direct
Diamond Importers
and Distributors

Use Reed's Convenient Credit
Students Accounts Invited

It's Reed's
For Diamonds

Reed's
JEWELERS

27 NORTH FRONT STREET
WILMINGTON, N.C. 28401

Shoney's

"HOME OF THE BIG BOY"

4010 MARKET STREET

Complete Menu

"GO ORDER ANYTIME"

OPEN

7 am-11pm Sun-Thurs
7 am-1 am Fri & Sat

Try Our Strawberry Pie

Cill's

WILMINGTON

Phone 791-4040

132 76

OLEANDER DR.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

JUST OFF OLEANDER DRIVE AT AUDUBON BOULEVARD

Decorative Nautical Items and Gifts

Ronny Howard, Candy Clark and Charlie Martin Smith pause between scenes of the Lucasfilm Ltd./Coppola Company comedy in Technicolor, "American Graffiti" for sodas.

EDITOR SOUGHT

The position of SEAHAWK editor will be vacant second semester. Anyone interested should apply in writing to Dr. Fletcher Norris, Chairman, Student Affairs Committee. For more information, contact Dr. Norris in the Math Dept. or Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, in the Pub.

DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS IS FRIDAY, DEC. 7.

AMERICAN GRAFFITI

NOSTALGIC LOOK BACK INTO TEEN YEARS

A nostalgic look back ten or so years, illustrated through the music of the period, the motor vehicles and the part they played in the lives of the protagonists, and the last 12 hours of night for four high school graduates before going on to new pursuits, form the basis for the hilarious comedy in Technicolor, "American Graffiti."

It stars Richard Dreyfuss, Ronny Howard, Paul Le Mat and Charlie Martin Smith as the graduates, Candy Clark, Mackenzie Phillips and Cindy Williams, as their girl friends, and Wolfman Jack, the well-known disc jockey, whose broadcast through the night presents the more than 40 rock musical numbers of the era.

George Lucas directed, and wrote the picture in collaboration with Gloria Katz and Willard Huyck. Francis Ford Coppola, winner of the Oscar for directing "The Godfather," produced and Gary Kurtz was co-producer. Lucas admits the story does pay homage to his own youth, and in so doing touches nostalgia in everyone. Now aged 28, he was the same age as the leads in the story 10 years ago when it takes place in a northern California town (Lucas was born in Modesto, California). This is the second feature for the director who graduated from the Cinema school at the University of Southern California. His previous film was

"THX 1138" which received critical plaudits as a visual tour de force.

A fast-paced rhythm is set by the radio show's broadcast of rock music provided in the film by deejay Wolfman Jack. He's a secret friend and every kid imagines him differently. The songs represent the hopes, dreams and absurd comedies of the beginning of the JFK-New Frontier — back when kids still looked at the world with awe and the music was sweeter. MCA Records has put all the music into a sound track album.

"American Graffiti" was filmed in and around the towns of Petaluma and San Rafael, California, across the bay from San Francisco, in an area which has resisted the encroachment of "developers" and has not changed radically since 1962. It was time-consuming, but not too difficult, to locate about 300 pre-1963 automobiles to create the auto-street ballet director Lucas wanted.

All the lead players are professionals. Dreyfuss, in addition to several Broadway plays and a number of television shows, has appeared in two feature films; "Hello Down There" and "The Young Runaways." Howard, at 18, is a thoroughly experienced veteran of hundreds of roles in television and films. He is best known for his portrayal of Opie, co-star of the Andy Griffith television show for eight years. Paul Le Mat makes his film debut in "American Graffiti," although he has been on the stage since high school in San Diego. Charlie Martin Smith comes from a family all of whom are involved in the entertainment industry. His first role was in "The Cattle Company" and he has since been seen in "Fuzz."

"American Graffiti" has been rated "PG" — Parental guidance suggested. Some material may not be suitable for pre-teens.

You only live once. So look for the gusto in life. Even in the beer you drink. Schlitz has it. Why settle for less?

When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

Hanover Distributing Company
Wilmington

Brass Book

NASH BUSH

Wellington Lee

SHOES

Fit a must... Service a pleasure

799-2671

MARKET PLAZA SHOPPING CENTER

RENAISSANCE PLAYS FRIDAY

by was knape

To trace Renaissance history, one must go back to the demise of the Yardbirds in 1968. The Yardbirds, with the exception of John Mayall, contributed more influential musicians during the 60's than any other group.

Eric Clapton, Jeff Beck, and Jimmy Page all got their start with the Yardbirds. In addition, Paul Samwell-Smith (who produced Cat Stevens up until FOREIGNER) came from the group.

In 68, the group finally broke up. Jimmy Page went on to borrow a name from John Entwistle and start a small group by the name of Led Zeppelin. Keith Relf, the founding father of the Yardbirds, started a classically oriented folk-rock group by the name of Renaissance.

Renaissance made one album which was well received critically but sold poorly and the group folded shortly thereafter.

About 18 months ago, John Tout and Annie Haslam reformed the group and released an album entitled PROLOGUE. The album was a beautiful blend of the original style, only more refined. Tout's Keith Emerson-influenced piano work complimented the album and provided a great backdrop for Annie Haslam's beautiful voice.

Earlier this year Renaissance released their latest album ASHES ARE BURNING. The arrangements are more refined and developed than with PROLOGUE and their songwriting team of Mick Dunford and Betty Thatcher have also improved. They are one of the best and each song features beautiful melodies coupled with refined delicate lyrics.

The entire band has had time to gel and the result is ASHES ARE BURNING, one of the very best albums released this year.

Renaissance's sound is indeed unique.

The band features Jon Camp on bass, but use no guitar on stage. Drummer Terry Sullivan was taught by the same gentleman who gave lessons to Bill Bruford, former drummer with Yes and currently with King Crimson. Sullivan is also above average in the rock sphere.

Renaissance recently played Charlotte to open the John Mayall concert. They were incredible and though radically different than the blues dominated show, were well received. Their show at New York's Academy of Music netted them two encores. Bob Bradley, concert chairman at Duke, is planning to come preview the group in hopes of signing them for a March concert. We video-taped an interview with Renaissance in Charlotte which may be seen in the Pub daily.

The performance in Kenan Auditorium this Friday is as much a concept as a concert. It should provide a type of music which has up to now been largely neglected. This concert is designed for and will succeed or fail solely on the basis of support of the students of UNC-W. Tickets are priced at only $1. Renaissance is looking forward to playing the date and it is their last concert before returning to England.

The concert promises to be one of the best ever presented here, and officially I think it will be the best since the Yes concert in March of 72. In the interest of this and future concerts of this nature, I hope you'll attend.

ECOS sponsors bike race

Saturday, Dec. 1, at 2 p.m. UNC-W student members of ECOS, Inc. are sponsoring a 20-mile bicycle race for students and faculty. ECOS, Inc. is a state-wide non-profit organization promoting awareness of environmental problems.

The purpose of the race is to highlight the energy crisis and emphasize the value of bicycling as an alternative fuel-conserving mode of transportation.

The race, composed of six laps, will begin at the dormitory, continue past the gym on Riegel Rd., turn right at Street B, continue through the traffic circle at the main entrance, past Kenan Auditorium, turn right at Randall Drive, continue to and through the Economics parking lot, and then returning to the dormitory by the same route.

Trophies will be awarded in two divisions, Men's and Women's. An entry fee of $1 may be paid at the Student Services Building (the Pub).

On Thursday and Friday before the race, from 7 to 9 p.m., a bicycle clinic will be held at the dormitory. Tom Davis from Life Cycles will be available to give advice and make minor repairs in an effort to see that all UNC-W cyclists get the most out of their 2-wheeled vehicles.

STUDENTS WITHOUT ID CARDS

WHO HAVE ANY DELUSION

ABOUT GOING FREE TO

UNC-W BASKETBALL

GAMES

MAY AS WELL FORGET IT

UNLESS OF COURSE

THEY CHECK BY A-113

TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS

TO HAVE ONE MADE

THE EQUIPMENT WILL BE

UP FOR A WEEK ONLY

IT'S NOW OR NEVER

THE TRANSPLANT

by
Milton Boone
Campus Minister

If one recalls Thanksgiving in search of a question it could be asked "how much is enough?"

Looking forward or backward at how girls and beauty warm the winter of our days, blessed is our name.

When I say thank you, from some place deep inside comes a response to what you've said or done or been.

Knowing who to thank for all the basketfuls determines what's enough and how to spend the rest.

Holidays will be holy days when time is found to test the wants against the need or word beside the deed

"Bless the Lord O my soul; and all that is within me bless his holy name." Ps. 103:1

OLEANDER Cinema 1
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

Today through tuesday
at 2-4-6-8-10

The Godfather wants revenge!

The Contracts are out...
The Hit Men gather.
All Hell explodes in the Underworld!

"the Italian Connection"

OLEANDER Cinema 2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

Held over 3rd week!
at 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

"SENSATIONALLY FUNNY!"
—L.A. TIMES

American Graffiti

A UNIVERSAL PICTURE PG

LONG LEAF Cinema 1

Held over thru tuesday
2-4-6-8-10

like Billy Jack and Buford D ussen
this man fought for peace—until he got mad

"THE DEADLY TRACKERS" PG
Rod Taylor
In color

LONG LEAF Cinema 2

Today thru tuesday
1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

ELIZABETH TAYLOR
LAURENCE HARVEY
"NIGHT WATCH"
BILLIE WHITELAW

A Joseph E. Levine and Brut Productions Presentation

PG Technicolor An Arco Embassy Release

POSITIVELY NO ONE ADMITTED DURING LAST 20 MINUTES OF "NIGHT WATCH"

All seats $1.00 til 2:30pm except Sunday in all 4 cinemas

Story behind the concert

by wes knape

There's a long story behind the next concert slated for this Friday. Originally, the concert was to have been Nov. 17, and several agents for several artists were contacted.

Due to his popularity last year, we tried to resign Billy Preston, however, Preston just completed a European tour with the STONES, and has no intention of playing Wilmington again. . . .

We next tried to put together a bluegrass concert with the Earl Scruggs review - you can't find a much better bluegrass group anywhere - but they were booked until January.

We tried to put on a concert with some "southern music," but both Marshall Tucker and Wet Willie were unavailable for November or December.

The only point of all this is to graphically demonstrate that it's hard to find anyone that is well known and not out of our price range. It also shows quite nicely that it's a seller's market.

The only concert we could find was one with the James Gang and Brownsville Station, but due to the present national shortage of Clearasil, it was feared that the audience that is attracted to that type of concert would not be able to come. We may slip up and book a bomb like Stories, but we never intentionally book a bad band.

We finally gave up the idea of putting on a concert in Hanover Hall and decided to put on a more mellow type show in Kenan Auditorium. To put off a show in Kenan which seats only 986, one obviously must present a smaller-name performer. In order to make a concert pay for itself ticket prices need to be scaled at approximately $2 per $1000 spent. Tickets for this next show should therefore cost $2.50 - $3 each. But they don't. Tickets for UNC-W students and guests are $1 each. If we sell the concert out, we lose about $600, but that's the way it's planned, so this time it's acceptable.

No off-campus advertising has been used on this concert and no general admission tickets will be sold until 15 minutes before the show - if any are left. If so, they will be sold for $3 each.

The acoustics in the gym are poor to say the least, so special consideration was given for a group that could really take advantage of the superior acoustics in Kenan. The following performers were contacted: Leo Kottke, Ian Matthews, Renaissance, Matthew and Peter, and Doc Watson. (If you don't recognize any of the names, don't worry - you're normal). All the people listed are somewhat unknown, but excellent. Out of this group, only two were available: Renaissance on Nov. 30 and Matthew and Peter on Dec. 5. Renaissance was selected for several reasons, one of which being that they have two albums out and Matthew and Peter are not recording for anyone yet. In short, you can find out ahead of time and get into the music of Renaissance, but with Matthew and Peter you would simply have to take our word that they're good.

Renaissance's music is the most diverse bland ever presented here. It is a fusion of folk, rock, and classical and would best be described as full instead of loud.

It's a compromise - no one will have their eardrums pounded, but no one will fall asleep, either.

The ban on smoking will be strictly enforced. Anyone caught smoking inside the auditorium will be ejected without refund. That may be a bit harsh, but it is simply a reality in putting on a concert in Kenan. People will be able to go outside to the lobby or leave the building to smoke, however.

Renaissance

AT THE BOOKSTORE

JON CAMP

JOHN TOUT

TERRY SULLIVAN

ANNIE HASLAM

Pizza Buffet Mon & Tues Night
all the delicious pizza and salad you can eat
$1.75

Snoopy's Diet Buster
all the delicious pizza and salad you can eat
$1.40

11:00 to 2:00 Mon. - Sat.

entertainment
Fri., Sat., Sun.
nights

Wed. nite is Family nite.
.50 off on every
Family Size Pizza

Snoopy's
PIZZA PARLORS
Where The Good Times Are
NORTH-17 SHOPPING CENTER

OAKWOOD MOBILE HOMES

See CHARLIE PARKER & TERRY NEEDHAM

5202 Oleander Drive

CALL 791-0317

See CHARLIE CANNON & CURTIS BRITT

Highway 74, 76, 87 at Maco

CALL 655-3845

INTRAMURALS

Standings for UNC-W Intramural basketball (all games thru Nov. 15)

White League

Jocks 4-0
Ballers 3-1
TC Neuman 3-1
GDI's 2-2
Wammer Jammers 2-2
PIKap "A" 1-3
AAA's 1-3
TKE 0-4

Green League

Majors 4-0
Cougars 4-1
Jokers 1-1
Bombers 3-2
Faculty 1-2
Midnight Riders 2-3
SAB 0-3
Studs 1-4

Gold League

Cupjacks 5-0
Nets 3-1
PIKap "B" 3-1
Engineers 2-3
Minnows 1-3
The Claps 2-4
Delta Upsilon 0-4

Mike Cherry goes for layup during varsity practice. (photo by huntley)

SEAHAWKS FACE ECU

The UNC-W Seahawk basketball team will begin their campaign with a journey away from home to face the ECU Pirates at ECU Friday night.

Three starters for Friday nights game are 5 ft. 9 in. Rick Alessi, a sophomore, 6 ft. 2 in. Mike Cherry, a senior, and 6 ft. 7 in. Ernie Lynn, a sophomore. The other two starters has not been decided as of yet.

Coach Gibson said that the Seahawks should have a good year. "We should do real well against ECU although they are in the Atlantic Coast Conference. If we get beat bad that will surprise me the most. Not only do I think we will play well against the Pirates but the team is confident that we will give them a good fight and that's what counts," stated Gibson.

The basketball team has already had two scrimmage games and have won both. The Seahawks will be tough competitors and will face tough opposition this season.

VARSITY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE.

11/30	East Carolina	Greenville
12/8	NC Wesleyan	Rocky Mount
12/15	Fayetteville State	home
12/19	Muskingum College (Ohio)	home
1/5	Francis Marion	Florence, SC
1/8	High Point	High Point
1/10	Methodist	Fayetteville
1/12	Pfeiffer	home
1/14	Atlantic Christian	home
1/16	Gulford	Greensboro
1/19	Pembroke State	Pembroke
1/22	Hampton Institute	home
1/24	Shaw University	home
1/26	Elon College	home
1/30	High Point	home

★ Professional Service At A Price You Can Afford

GOODYEAR

TIRES

★ LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT

Dick Wilson, Mgr.

kar-kare

"We do it right...or we do it over."

4207 Oleander Drive

799-2770

BANKAMERICARD

IN ORBIT with robert maxey

SOCCER

Tim Willette, a freshman, has made first team All District goalie. Tim has had an outstanding year with the Seahawk soccer team. He is the first soccer player to make first team All District since 1968. During the playoffs against Lynchburg Tim had a remarkable 40 saves, a new school record.

Three other teammates made second team All District. Hal Goodson, sophomore, and Gene Borowski, freshman, made second team All District backs while David Wychel, sophomore, made second team All District forward. This has been a good season for the UNC-W Soccer team which finished out the season with a 5-8-3 overall record.

Uncle Mel wants you... to support the Seahawks! (photo by huntley)

Why do some people think Bud. is sort of special?

Go ahead and find out why!

(Brewing beer right does make a difference.)

When you say Budweiser, you've said it all!

ANHEUSER-BUSCH, INC. • ST. LOUIS.

J.V. BASKETBALL TEAM

SCHEDULE

12/5	Mt. Olive -H
12/10	USC-Conway-A
12/11	Southeastern-H
12/15	Coastal Carolina-H*
1/22	Wayne CC-H*
1/28	Mt. Olive-H
2/4	Southeastern-A
2/9	Coastal Carolina-A
2/14	Wayne CC-A

BUYING DIAMOND JEWELRY?

Remember
The Money You Save
Will Be Your Own

Wilmington's
Largest Direct
Diamond Importers
and Distributors

Use Reed's Convenient Credit

Students Accounts Invited

It's Reeds

For Diamonds

Reed's
JEWELRY
27 NORTH FRONT STREET
WILMINGTON, N.C. 28401

HAWK'S NEST

5814 Oleander Drive

SPAGHETTI NIGHT

every thursday

99¢

spaghetti, salad, rolls

CLOSED MONDAYS

799-5880

The cafeteria has a heart after all. They spared the grease and threw a delicious buffet Thanksgiving feast last Monday night which attracted many off-campusers, a few faculty folks, and the usual dorm crowd. I don't know about anyone else but after I ate about twice as much as I can eat I couldn't move for about 15 minutes. The mashed potatoes, which I never got to didn't look artificial at all and I heard the ham (some slices reported up to 1/2 inch thick) was fantastic. I can tell you first hand that the fried chicken was excellent.

I really ate a bunch and I think everybody else did too. I'm looking forward to seeing the leftovers someday but, then again, I'd also like to see the BEATLES come together again. PLUG: Listen to Ringo's new album. Special thanks to John of course the trade was fair.

OPEN 10am 'till 6pm

FOURTH CORNER

4405 wrightsville ave.

We've got records & tapes!

LIST PRICE	OUR PRICE
$5.98	$3.98
6.98	5.12
7.98	6.18
9.98	7.62
11.98	8.81
12.98	9.93

We can order any record at noon extra charge!

Decoupage Candle & Art Supplies

THE BEEHIVE

MON-SAT. 10 A.M.-9 P.M.
Long Leaf Mall

classifieds

Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are invited - urged - even begged to put their classifieds in the SEAHAWK free - FREE, i.e., no charge. Let us give you a break.

Honda 305 cc
Runs good, rebuilt motor must sell $175.00
call 763-6624

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: with power steering, radio. Only $1000. Call 799-3765.

LOST & FOUND
Pub:
several jackets
pool cue
two pair of wire rim glasses
sunglasses
keys tennis shoes
assorted books
and notebooks

Stereo Components! Most major brands! 20 - 50 % Off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

Edgar Cayce's Association For Research and Enlightenment
A Group Meeting to be held
For more information call 799-0605

WORK

NEEDED: We are now hiring females to be representatives for Cameo Custom Fit Bras. Work your own hours. Make $5.00 and up an hour. Apply at Salon de Frey Salon and Boutique. Phone 791-6618. Ask for Mr. Whitman.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE: Waterbeds. New king size $25.00. Call Herbie 791-9325.

FOR SALE: Sears Silver-tone 194 portable TV with VHP and UHP antennas. Excellent physical and mechanical condition. $50.00.

Sunshine Surfboard for Sale. $40.00 Call 256-2325.

FOR SALE: Hoover Portable washing machine. Less than one year old. Ideal for an apartment. $75.00. Paid $160.00 new. Call Rex at 791-9325.

Beautiful puppies!
4 weeks old, 3 male & 2 female. $2.00 each 791-5662

Sears Pak-A-Poose toddler Aluminum frame, nylon shoulder straps, blue canvas seat. Like new. $6.00. Call 791-9363 after 6:00 P.M.

Surfboard for Sale. $60.00. Custom made by William Frierson. 6'8" long 20 in. wide. 3 in. thick. Peartail. Contact Tim in Room 314, Residence Hall.

For Sale: One Penn Senator 9/0 reel with 800 plus yards of 80 lb Dacron and custom built 80 lb class rod with Fin Nor Guides. $65.00. Also one Penn 4/0 reel. NEW and rod - $35.00. Call 763-7153. after 5 p.m.

RIDES

If anyone needs a ride up Highway 74 as far as Rockingham on Friday afternoons, contact Steve in Room 316 Residence Hall. Help pay for gas.

Would like a ride to Kentucky anytime. Preferably near Berea or Lexington. Will help on cost of gas. Contact Gary Coburn, Room 411, Residence Hall.

Need a ride to Western Carolina University any weekend. Will help pay for gas. See Susan in Room 102, Residence Hall.

Need a ride to Goldsboro or nearby. Will help on gas. See Beth in Room 611, Residence Hall.

MEAL PRICES

UNC-W Cafeteria

Breakfast .85

Dinner 1.15

Dinner 1.35

PLACES FOR RENT; ROOM MATES WANTED:
Bedroom and private bath for rent in Hanover Heights area. Kitchen privileges arranged. Call 791-8330.

Roommate wanted: Female. $52.50 per month includes utilities at Wrightsville Beach Sound. Dial 256-4196. House

For rent: bedroom and bath with kitchen privileges and full household area. Ideal for one or two students. Also, ideal conditions for studying. Good location and surroundings. CALL 791-7611 after 5 p.m. or 763-9971 Ext. 587 in-between 8:30 and 5.

Apartment for sub-leasing: 2 bedroom furnished apartment at 5026 Hunt Club RD. Apt #5- Country Club APTS. Apt #5- Country Club APTS. Effective Jan. 1, 1974. For information call 799-2878.

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Wall-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls
- Rooms carefully arranged for entertaining
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen area
- Heatpump range, refrigerator, garbage disposal
- Individually-controlled air conditioning
- Large swimming pool. Central laundry facilities.

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished $135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished $149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished $160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished $185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT...

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

BUT GRASSHOPPER....
...but grasshopper is it better to live where you share with others like the dormitory or is it better to reside in a gutter that you can call your own

This is a first in the continuing series of mysterious writings by our mysterious writer-B.D. (maybe)

RECORD

WORLD

Discover
New Dimensions

- * NEW RELEASES
- * BRITISH IMPORTS
- * JAZZ
- * SOUL
- * GIFT CERTIFICATES
- * GOOD MUSIC!!!!!!

791-7043

*ASK ABOUT OUR
BAKER'S DOZEN

Long Leaf Mall

Ceremony planned for 100,000th volume

The William Madison Randall Library at The University of North Carolina at Wilmington will commemorate the acquisition of the 100,000th volume in a public ceremony November 30, 1973, at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Arnold Kinsey Hall on the UNC-W campus.

"Although the 100,000th volume milestone was reached in April, we reserved the number for the acquisition of a very special volume," Lenox G. Cooper, Jr., Director of Library Services, said. "We have recently acquired such a volume-- a first edition of ADVENTURES OF HUCKLEBERRY FINN dated 1885."

Keynote speaker for the ceremony will be Dr. Louis D. Rubin, Jr., whose topic will be "Time and TOM SAWYER." A professor of English at UNC-Chapel Hill, Dr. Rubin is a frequent contributor to the Sunday Star-News Newspaper.

"We extend a cordial invitation to all those who have an interest in the university to come hear Dr. Rubin and help us celebrate this important event in the development of the Randall Library," Cooper said.

Interview workshop set by bus. frat, placement

Sigma Alpha Beta, the professional business fraternity, and the UNC-W placement office will sponsor an interview workshop Thursday, Nov. 29 in the auditorium of King Hall at 2:30 p.m. All students who expect to be involved in employment interviewing are encouraged to attend. This workshop might give the student that needed edge that will enable him to get the job.

The workshop will consist of four speakers from different areas of business. Mrs. June Johnson, IRS agent, representing the government, will speak on the importance of verbal responses during the actual interview. Thomas Omucenski, Sears personnel manager, represents the retailing business and will speak about the importance of resumes, personal references and other submitted materials. Walter Mangum, vice-president of the Mt. Olive Pickle Company, will speak on the importance of personal appearance at the interview. Fred Wells, Eastern Personnel owner, will give students a look at the future job market.

Most students will be faced with looking for a job one day, and this workshop will provide invaluable help to that person. All students should plan to attend.

SNCAE sponsors panel discussion

SNCAE sponsored a panel discussion, "Student Teachers and Supervising Teachers" on Nov. 19.

Mrs. Joan Stout of Winter Park School, Mrs. Trudy Matthews of College Park School, and Mrs. Sneed of New Hanover High School were supervising teachers on the panel. Student teacher representatives on the panel were Jill Bennett, Elaine Darden, and Sandra Sellers. Dr. Harold Hulen, chairman of the Education Dept., was the narrator.

The discussion was constructed to give students an idea of what student teaching is like and what supervising teachers expect from the student teacher. According to SNCAE member, the discussion was "informative and interesting."

A parent panel is planned for the January meeting for the group. All members are encouraged to attend.

Participants in the SNCAE program recently were, left to right, (standing) Elaine Darden, Dr. Harold Hulen, Jill Bennett, Kathy Robeson (program chairman), (seated) Mrs. Stout, Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. Sneed. (photo by Neal Huntley)

Soc students aid Christmas cheer

Students from the Sociology Department are doing their level best to bring a little Christmas cheer to senior citizens in New Hanover county and to patients at Cherry Hospital. But to do the Santa Claus thing, they need everyone's help.

The deadline for gift contributions for Cherry is Dec. 7. Gifts such as men and women's clothing and underwear, cosmetics, grooming supplies, candy, etc. are acceptable individual gifts. Checker sets, playing cards, puzzles, etc. are good for patient groups. It has been requested that the gifts not be wrapped, so that each patient may receive packages more nearly equal.

New Hanover Services for the Aging is having a Christmas party for local senior citizens. Needed is transportation, gifts (new), money, or refreshments. Deadline for donations is Dec. 4.

Sociology student Donna Blaustein is chairman for the projects on campus.

Gifts may be delivered to the Sociology department by the deadline dates listed.

THE NAVY

has a place for you.
The world.

"Join the Navy and see the world" is more true today than ever. Besides travel, you also get some of the best job training in the world, more money than any other new sailor has ever made, plus food, housing and health care.

To see if you qualify, to find out if you've got what it takes to make it in the New Navy, call or see

U.S. Navy Recruiting Branch station
Browning Plaza #2
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N.C.
Ph. 919-799-2216

Be someone special
in The New Navy.

Yes

Wachovia

SHOP EARLY

for the holidays

CHRISTMAS
EVERYDAY
GREETING CARDS

(large selection)

GRUMBACHER ART SUPPLIES

10%

Discount to Art Students

Gifts & Novelties

Becker's GIFT & DECOR
CENTER

Long Leaf Mall

Hours: 10 - 9

Recycle Yourself

Even when you're doing nothing, you're doing something on a Raleigh bicycle. Something good for your body and mind. There's probably no easier way to get in tune with yourself.

And with a Raleigh you won't have to worry about it wearing out before its time. A Raleigh is precision made from the finest quality components to last for years. That's what won Raleigh its formidable racing reputation all over the world.

Raleigh makes so many models that there is literally one fit for you. Shown here is the Raleigh Sprite with new self-adjusting brakes.

See (LIFE CYCLES) then see a new you.

RALEIGH
THE BICYCLE FIT FOR YOU.

LIFE
CYCLES

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER
4209 Oleander Drive
799-5770

Mon. - Thurs. Fri. Sat.
10-6 10-9 10-6

Π Aren't Square

or so Dr. Fletcher Norris seems to say. It are, however, gooey and sticky and hard to get out of your hair. Dr. Norris was one of several faculty members and administrative figures who braved the cold weather and fun-loving crowds to play target for students with chocolate creme un-grudges.

Which pies did the targets like best? An unofficial pollster reports that the majority liked best "the ones that missed." The pie throw was Phi Mu's contribution to the booths at last weekend's Fall Carnival.

(photo by roberta allred)

Does Church play an important part in our society?

Terry Moore- I'm a druid and I have no comment.

Vicki Martin- Yes- you can't get more basic than religion and it's the center of life.

Rick Tharrington- No. People can find spiritual enrichment in their home as well as at church by just searching your own soul.

(photos by nauma dozler)

JK Muhleman- What I think of the Church in general and of religion as a whole is unprintable.

SHORTS FROM CPS

COLLEGE

PRESS

SERVICE

CLUB FOR HITCHERS

People who would like to make hitchhiking safer for both motorists and hikers have started a national organization called "Hikers for America".

For a $5 fee members become registered members of the club, receive an I.D. card and a numbered ecology armband.

According to a club spokesman, if one of the members robs or hassles a motorist, the motorist should turn in the I.D. number to authorities with "Hikers for America" who will in turn reveal the name and address of the hiker registered to that number if charges are pressed. potential robbers will register with the group and wear armbands during a robbery. It is hoped that motorists will recognize that hikers wearing the armband have been registered with the group and feel safer about picking them up.

Some California lawmakers

ers have suggested making a law requiring hikers to file an application with police cense. Hikers for America fear that such a policy would lead to unnecessary police checks on hikers and hope that their organization may be the best middle course.

People wishing to join the group should contact Joe Bentivenga, P.O. Box 12322, Las Vegas, Nevada 89102.

BIRTH CONTROL AGAINST LAW

The Michigan chapter of Zero Population Growth has filed a class-action lawsuit seeking injunctions against two Michigan laws pertaining to birth control in the public schools; the other allows a parent to pull his or her child out of any class in which sex or V.D. information is taught.

The suit, filed against the members of the State Board of Education, seeks a declaration that the law

Don Massengill- No, the church plays less of a roll than it used to. I feel the same about it as Thoreau. He felt much closer to God spending a day in the woods than in church a day in the wood than in church. I should add, however, that I'm assuming the question refers to the church as an historical institution. If, however, we think of the church as the entire community of sentient beings, and we think of the community as the body of christ, and remember that the church is the body of christ, then I would say the whole universe is a church. Thinking of the church in this light I think it's fair to say church plays a meaningful role, for from this perspective, there is no meaning apart from the church.

seahawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 761-9055.

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

editor: kathi beall
associate editors: barry asbury, beth hicks,
j.k. muhleman
advertising director: barry asbury
sports editor: robert maxey
business manager: alan murphy
mast head designer: bert beall exchange editor: marian gibson

art work: anne nesbit
photographers: roberta allred, nauma dozler, chief,
neal huntley, jeannie lovelace, j.k. muhleman
greek lines: rocky lane moore
supportive staff: sharon davis, anne nesbit,
darlene pearsall
adviser: ms. linda moore

"IMPEACHMENT? NO, I WOULDN'T WANT TO PUT THE COUNTRY THROUGH THAT?"

SHORTS FROM CPS

(continued from page 2)

allowing parents to withdraw students from sex education or health classes violates the students' First Amendment right to acquire knowledge, and that the law prohibiting birth control instruction violates the 14th Amendment's guarantee of equal protection under the law.

Plaintiffs in the suit are Alexander Mercer, a high school teacher, and Richard Goldfine, M.D., a Detroit gynecologist.

Periodic efforts have been made in the legislature to repeal the laws, but to no avail. If the laws are found to be unconstitutional it could have a profound effect in other states with similar legislation.

TAPE DOCTORING TIPS

The discolored of an 18-minute tone in one of the subpoenaed Watergate tapes has renewed speculation as to whether more subtle aberrations—perhaps even deliberate ones—could be detected.

Audio experts at the 3M Company, a major manufacturer of tape, agree that tapes can be doctored by editing voices in or out, by rearranging words or by dubbing in an impersonator's voice. After the tapes are rerecorded the physical splices would be eliminated and the ear couldn't detect them.

However, by using certain sophisticated equipment, skilled specialists could uncover doctored. Splicing interrupts a tape's magnetic field, which will show up on an oscilloscope.

Background sounds like a radio playing or a clock ticking might also give away attempted alterations. An electronic signal correlator can lock in on a background noise and register any frequency shifts that occur because of splicing.

Nevertheless, the experts agree that it would be nearly impossible to detect the removal of entire conversations by cutting at spots where the recorder had stopped.

Also, the possibility of detection on the type of equipment used for the bugging. Whether the recorders used to monitor Presidential conversations were highly sophisticated—as former Presidential aide Alexander Butterfield once indicated to the Senate Watergate Committee—or “no Apollo system” as President Nixon reaffirmed in last week's press conference, has yet to be resolved.

To garble the air even more, tape specialists say only a small number of persons are skilled enough to detect sophisticated tape doctored—“and many of those work for the government,” one expert reported.

WILMINGTON HILTON

ANNOUNCES and invites you to join the

“KING'S INN DINNER CLUB”

Membership to the “Kings Inn Dinner Club” entitles you to receive 12 complimentary Luncheons or Dinners of your choice within the next 12 (twelve) months. Yes, within the next 12 (twelve) months, you may dine 12 times, any day or evening, any weekend, or any holiday. Your membership is good for dining at any time for the next 12 months. All you have to do is be accompanied by one guest. You pay for one of the two luncheons or dinners. The other is free. Or with four people, you pay for two of the luncheons or dinners and the other two are free. The membership fee is $20.00 for the entire 12 months, however for a brief period of time we are offering to UNC-W students, a membership at a $2 discount from the regular price.

To insure the finest service to our members, the number must necessarily be limited. So, we suggest that you call, come by, or mail this handy coupon right away. Remember, you will not find another dining offer like this in the area. Call the Wilmington Hilton at 763-9881 and ask for the Dinner Club for details. We are registered with the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce.

MEMBERSHIP IS LIMITED

PHONE
763-9881
TODAY — OR MAIL
COUPON

Amount of check enclosed.....
No. of memberships.....
Name.....
Student I.D. No.....
Address.....
Phone.....

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO
APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN
NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT
A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Well-to-well carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, hall.
- Rooms neatly arranged for entertaining.
- Attractive bar separating living kitchen unit.
- Hotpoint range, refrigerator, garbage disposal.
- Individually-controlled air conditioning.
- Large swimming pool. Central laundry facilities.

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished $135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished $149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished $160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished $185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT...

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

Greetings Bride-to-be

MADEMOISELLE
The Shoppe

*For a perfect
and
"heavenly"
wedding you are cordially invited to come in
and let us show
you why this is such a popular shopping spot
with smart brides*

"We are big enough to serve you and small enough to know you"

22 North Front Street

WILMINGTON

B, S & T appear in Raleigh January 12

RALEIGH--BLOOD, SWEAT & TEARS will play at Dorton Arena on Saturday, January 12 beginning at 8:15 p.m. The rock group will perform with the North Carolina Symphony in a program in which each musical ensemble will "do their own thing."

BLOOD, SWEAT & TEARS will then solo in a series of their most popular songs, after John Gosling, Artistic Director and Conductor of the symphony leads "Pines of Rome" by Respighi.

Second half of the program will include a contemporary work featuring the recorded songs of the humpbacked whales, beautiful, haunting melodies on which the orchestral score is based. Another solo of BLOOD, SWEAT & TEARS will follow.

The two musical ensembles will perform a number together with the details announced at the concert.

Members of the North Carolina Symphony Society will be admitted. Tickets will be available at the door for $5.

Gurr Jewelers

FIRST CHOICE FOR A CHRISTMAS WISH

GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler and Silversmiths

212 North Front Street

Annie Haslam (above) and two more of the Renaissance group (above right) charmed some 300 listeners in Kenan Auditorium last Friday night. The concert was operated at a loss, which was planned. Members of the concert committee as well as audience listeners were extremely pleased with the talented English group and hope to have them return to UNC-W when the group returns to the States in March. (photos by neal huntley) made debut when 12

Cellist Zara Nelsova performs Thursday

Internationally acclaimed cellist, Zara Nelsova, who made her debut with the London Symphony at the age of twelve, will perform Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium at the university.

Appearing with the North Carolina Symphony in its 42nd season with Artistic Director and Conductor John Gosling, Miss Nelsova will perform the Cello Concerto in B minor by Antonin Dvorak, a classic in the cello repertoire.

Renowned as a gifted cellist since girlhood, Miss Nelsova has performed with major orchestras in Europe and the United States. She regularly tours Europe and South America in addition to performing with the New York Philharmonic, the Los Angeles Philharmonic, the Boston and Chicago symphonies and a score of others. She has won laurels at such musical festivals as the Festivals Casals and the Prague Festival.

Third generation of a distinguished Russian musical family, Zara Nelsova was born in Canada and educated in England. She is a citizen of the United States. She will appear in every major area of North Carolina: in Durham on Dec. 3, in Asheville on Dec. 4 and in Wilmington on Dec. 6. The appearance of Miss Nelsova is one of the highlights of the symphony's '73 season.

THE TRANSPLANT

by
Milton Boone
Campus Minister

Advent is a doorbell in some distant part of the house announcing the arrival of one long waited for.

Tenants gather up unsightly things left on the floor and sweep the air of word or attitude improper for the hour.

Expectancy plus busy sounds against the wall, stops kitchen sink, and breathing waits the ticking of the clock.

Listen for gentle footsteps in the center of our storm like "dayspring from on high" to green the earth and dry the eye.

God; how we wait. Beside the workbench of wasted hours we cry for visitation from outer, inner, or other space that warms the loneliness within.

When Holy One is near joy hands suspended in the house.
Will someone get the door?

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

"They do not love that do not show their love."

William Shakespeare

Choose Keepsake with complete confidence, because the famous Keepsake Guarantee assures a perfect engagement diamond of precise cut and superb color. There is no finer diamond ring.

Keepsake
REGISTERED DIAMOND RINGS

T-M Reg. A. H. Pond Co.

HOW TO PLAN YOUR ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING

Send new 20 pg. booklet, "Planning Your Engagement and Wedding" plus full color folder and 44 pg. Bride's Book gift offer all for only 25¢. F-73

Name _____ (Please Print)

Address _____

City _____ Co. _____

State _____ Zip _____

KEEPSAKE DIAMOND RINGS, BOX 90, SYRACUSE, N.Y. 13201

REEFER MADNESS

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

LAPIDARIUM
$500. TO $10000
Shop Hanover Center
Long Leaf Mall - rd 9 P. M.
Mills
Keepsake
JEWELERS
28-N Front St. 763 4590
Hanover Center 762 0736
Long Leaf Mall 799 5510

Germany or Bust

Wolfgang Michel and Rocky Moore are seeking three students who would possibly be interested in a bicycle tour of Germany students would be expected to have at least $1,000.00 for traveling expenses (including food, lodging, etc.) Wolfgang is German and will be an excellent interpreter.

Wolfe and Rocky plan to travel using Youth Hostels which are relatively inexpensive. The purpose of the trip is to meet with the German people where they live and work.

The group as a whole consists of no more than five people. All five will decide what parts of the country will be visited.

Anyone interested in going can get in touch with 799-1268, or by leaving a message with Linda Moore in the Pub, (Remember only five in our group).

CHRISTMAS VACATION IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER

HURRAH

BUT WITH IT COMES EXAMS

THAT TAKES SOME OF THE HO, HO, HO OUT OF THINGS, DON'T IT?

your's broken?
we repair
all models!

LIFE
CYCLES

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER

4208 Olander Drive

799-5770

Mon. - Thurs.	Fri.	Sat.
10-6	10-9	10-6

Shoney's

"HOME OF THE BIG BOY"

4010 MARKET STREET

Complete Menu

"GO ORDER ANYTIME"

OPEN

7 am - 11 pm Sun - Thurs

7 am - 1 am Fri & Sat

Try Our Strawberry Pie

DO YOURSELF AND US A FAVOR!

JUST WALK INTO THE SHOE MARKET AND BROWSE AROUND. WE PROMISE THAT YOU'LL FIND THE FINEST QUALITY SHOES THE BEST SELECTION OF SHOES FOR GUYS AND GALS ALL THE LATEST UP TO DATE FASHIONS, AND MOST OF ALL PRICES JUST AS LOW OR EVEN LOWER THAN OUR NEAREST COMPETITOR.

LOOK CLOSELY! WE CARRY NO SECONDS OR FACTORY REJECTS! ALL ARE FIRST QUALITY SHOES. WE'VE GOT SHOES YOU'LL LOVE!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

DO YOURSELF AND US THAT FAVOR TODAY!

Saturday bike race

ON YOUR MARK! GET SET!!

(photos by neal huntley)

GO!!! AND THEY'RE OFF!!!!

'Surprise people / Serve MICHELOB.

MICHELOB.

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

REEFER MADNESS

TM lecture Thurs., Fri.

by John Finkle
(Finkle is a TM instructor from Fayetteville, who learned how to pass on the skill of TM to others by studying at an intensive 6-month training course with Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, the Indian teacher and thinker who revived the 6000-year old technique to "eliminate the age-old problem of human suffering within this generation.")

There will be a free introductory lecture on Transcendental Meditation (TM) at UNC-W at 4 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 6 and at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 7, in the activities room of the student union (upstairs Pub). TM is the East's most precious gift to mankind, a scientific technique of human fulfillment. Effortless, innocent, easily-learned and natural, totally devoid of any concentration or manipulation, completely non-religious in principle and practice, TM is the automatic way for anyone to activate the inherent capacity of the human nervous system to bring to one's awareness the source of thought, pure consciousness, the universal unbounded reservoir of creative intelligence and fulfillment from which spring our thoughts, our dreams, our actions.

By regularly, effortlessly tapping this source, over 300,000 Americans are gleaming the fruits of man's deepest wisdom, that for which kings have given up their kingdoms in times past, that which for centuries was thought to be the prize of a fortunate few, who by arduous practices were able to bring about those changes in their nervous systems which enabled them to live that fullness of life, that total intellectual and emotional ripeness, that Supreme Knowledge "beyond which there does not seem to be further possibility of human development."

The experiences in meditation vary from person to person, and for the same individual, from sitting to sitting (one practices TM for 15-20 minutes twice daily). But the common denominator of the diverse meditative experiences is "restful alertness," a state in which the body (as studies on metabolic rate at Harvard Medical School have shown) is resting at least twice as deeply as it rests in a full night's sleep, while the mind is far more awake than in our waking state. During this state, blood lactate (associated with anxiety) falls, skin resistance rises, another indication of deep relaxation, and EEG regularly records thick clusters of Alpha waves interrupted by bursts of beta waves as well as a unique synchrony between the right and left lobes of the brain. Zen masters of 20-40 years experience show brainwave patterns similar to those seen in TMers from the very beginning.

During this state of restful alertness, the mind gains access to unbounded awareness while the body throws off stresses which are too deeply deposited for the shallower rest of sleep to remove. The regular exposure of the human nervous system to this normalizing and rejuvenating process, as the mind expands to unlimited awareness, eventually brings about a state of "full, normal life" in which there are no restrictions in the mind-body to the availability of full mental and emotional potential, and the mind can enjoy its own unboundedness at all times.

In immediate terms, meditators unanimously report tremendous increases, from the very beginning of the practice, in relaxation, sensory acuteness, clarity of mind, intuitiveness, energy, ability to love, creativity, productivity, emotional stability and contentment, and decreased reliance on artificial "highs." Scientific tests have already established objective verification for this vast body of testimony, showing that in meditators autonomic stability, IQ, learning ability, memory, auditory discrimination, reaction time, mind-body coordination, self-actualization, habituation of galvanic skin response, development of personality and psychological well-being all improve dramatically.

The experience of "transcending" (going beyond the thought process to experience the source of thought) is as natural as waking, dreaming, or sleeping, and has been described by researchers as a "fourth major state of consciousness." Just as dream-deprivation, for example, causes insanity within a few days, so deprivation of transcending is said by Dr. Dmitri Kaniellakos of Stanford Research Institute to be the cause of suffering, for suffering abides in weakness, and weakness is due to stresses in the nervous system, which it is the function of TM's deepest relaxation to remove. It is not the experience of transcending but the results that are important, and the results are simply the living of life in increasing values of happiness, harmony, intelligence and energy. Preliminary results in government-sponsored experimental programs to teach TM to mental patients and in prisoner rehabilitation programs indicate that Maharishi Mahesh Yogi's claim that TM will empty such institutions may not be at all exaggerated. Hundreds of high schools and colleges are now teaching the science of creative intelligence, the systematic theoretical investigation of the nature of intelligence of which TM is the applied aspect, and all who have had the joy of this knowledge agree that it provides the fulfillment of education, the much-needed knowledge OF THE KNOWER. Does it sound too good to be true? Skepticism is welcomed by teachers of TM since it is not a technique of faith or of intellectualization, but of direct experience. A four day course (one hour and a half per day) is all that is needed to learn the technique, and this will be offered in Wilmington soon after the introductory lecture, which should be attended as a prerequisite for taking the course. The lecture will include lots of time for questions and discussion. A slide show will briefly show the scientific findings.

Attention N.H. Skiing Fans

Because of the gasoline shortage, lodging and meals begin Saturday through Friday for all weeks of the Mt. Sunapee, NH ski trip. Further details, directions, etc. will be available shortly from Ned Martin Chem-Physics Building Room 109. Martin is the UNC-W representative for the NH ski trips.

Used book store notes

The used bookstore run by the Business Club will operate from January 8 through 16 in the Pub. Save your books until then!!!!

Fowlett Book Co. will be in the Pub to buy back books only on Thursday, Dec. 20, 8:30 a.m. til 4:30 p.m.

LOST & FOUND

PUB

JTHHS ring
Jackets
Keys
Pipe
Eyeglasses
Tennis shoes
Textbooks & notebooks

BIKE RACE WINNER
JIM KNAPP
(photo by Neal Huntley)

OLEANDER Cinema 1 ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

Summertime... and the living is deadly!

Joseph E. Levine
presents
An Avco Embassy Film—
A Isasi Production

SUMMERTIME KILLER

Technicolor®
PG An Avco Embassy Release

CHRIS MITCHUM
KARL MALDEN

TODAY THRU
TUESDAY
2:00-4:00-6:00-
8:00-10:00

OLEANDER Cinema 2 ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

HELD OVER
4th Week

A REAL CROWD PLEASER!
Where
were you in '62?
American Graffiti
PG
SHOWS: 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

DON'T COME ALONE
BRING A HORRIBLE FRIEND!

LATE SHOW
Fri. & Sat.
at 11:30 p.m.

Also—
"Who Slew Auntie Roo"

LONG LEAF Cinema 1

Today thru Tuesday
Bogart & Bergman
"CASABLANCA"
2-4-6-8-10

LONG LEAF Cinema 2

Today thru Tuesday
Terrifying Suspense
"SO SAD ABOUT GLORIA"
1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30
PG - IN COLOR

2 BIG SHOCKING HITS!

FRIDAY &
SATURDAY
NIGHTS-11:30 p.m.

SO BIG-- IT'S PLAYING
2 THEATRES

OLEANDER Cinema 2 ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

Colony
752-5327
DOWNTOWN • 131 MARKET ST.

TERROR THAT RIPS THE SCREAMS
RIGHT OUT OF YOUR THROAT!

MEET THE SEAHAWK BASKETBALL TEAM

(photos by neal huntley)

CO-CAPTAINS

SENIORS

"Come, come, let us drink
the Whitner's Good Health.
'Tis the Cask, not the Coffin, that holds the true wealth."
17th century London street song

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art, Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Pridden
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

MIKE CHERRY

Mike, a 6 ft. 2 in. senior, is one of the co-captains for the UNC-W Seahawk basketball team. He is a native of Ahoskie, N.C. Mike led the team in scoring and rebounding, averaging 18 points and 10.5 rebounds per game. He is the first cager to attain all-NAIA District 29 honors. Cherry is one of the most dynamic, exciting, and entertaining Seahawks ever. Despite his height, he has the ability to jump against players 5-6 in. taller. Cherry will again carry a large portion of the scoring and rebounding load.

RICKY BROCK

Ricky, a 6 ft. 11 in. senior, is also a co-captain. He is a native of Wilmington. Brock possesses great quickness and has good shooting qualities. He did not participate in high school basketball because of extenuating circumstances, but he is now one of the hardest workers on the squad. Ricky began the 1972-73 season in a reserve role, but with his natural ability he gained near mid season a starting role and was one of the major reasons for the second half surge by the Seahawks.

GREG KEMP

Greg, a 6 ft. 3 in. senior, is a Charlestown, Ind. native. He came to UNC-W AS a transfer student from a junior college. Kemp was a part-time starter where he displayed good rebounding and passing. His outside shooting is excellent but he has defensive problems. Greg is aggressive and is expected to contribute more to the Seahawk campaign.

DAVID PRINCE

With a leaping ability allowing him to play six inches taller than his 6 ft. 4 in. stature, David is probably the most improved player on the squad. Though he plays the entire court he needs to develop consistency and aggressiveness. David is a native of Cope, S. C.

JUNIORS

BRENT BELCH

Brent, a 6 ft. 2 in. junior, is from Colerain, N.C. He was a part time starter last season. Belch is a good ball handler and has excellent defensive ability. He uses strength well inside, however because he is a non-productive scorer his playing time is limited. Brent seldom commits floor errors.

WILLIE JACKSON

Willie, a 6 ft. 2 in. junior, is from Burgaw. He was a top recruit last spring from Spartansburg Junior College. While there he made all-conference. Willie is extremely quick and possesses great shooting ability. In junior college Jackson averaged 23 points and 10 rebounds per contest. In one game alone he had a high of 45 points and hit 22 of 25 floor shots.

go
seahawks

The Tom Foolery
RESTAURANT

Take Out Menu
Spaghetti w/meat sauce 99¢

Lasagne w/beef $1.49

add 70¢ for each, mushrooms, meat balls or sausage. Garlic bread included.

Salad (choice of dressing) 75¢

Thousand Island, Blue Cheese, French or Italian

Rib Eye Sub Sandwich $1.99

Lettuce, Tomato, Mayonnaise and French Fries

Pizza w/cheese 12"/$1.99 15"/$2.99

topping additional 40¢ ea. 50¢ ea.

Canadian Bacon, Sausage, Pepperoni, Beef Onions, Green Peppers, Mushrooms

THESE PRICES ARE TAKE OUT ONLY

OPEN 5 PM
MON.-SAT.

Green Meadows
Shopping Center

CALL 791-2935 CALL

BUYING DIAMOND
JEWELRY?

Remember
The Money You Save
Will Be Your Own

Wilmington's
Largest Direct
Diamond Importers
and Distributors

The Need's Convenient Credit
Students Accounts Invited

It's Needs
For Diamonds

Reeds
JEWELRY

27 NORTH FRONT STREET
WILMINGTON, N.C. 28401

Seniors,

Look to Jefferson Standard for YOUR future!

Jefferson
Standard

Life Insurance Company

3131 Wrightsville Ave.

Bob Page 763-1604

Bill Heinberg 763-1605

SOPHS

KEITH YOW

Aggressive 6 ft. 8 in. Keith grew six inches in 12 months last year and is still growing. Native of Randeman, N. C., he is the tallest player on the squad. With poor fundamentals, yet an outstanding shooter, he will be brought along slow, but has great potential.

SUPPORT THE

SEAHAWKS !!!!

RIKK ALESSI

Rikk, a 5ft. 9in. sophomore, is a native of Steubenville, Ohio. He is a capable floor leader as well as outstanding passer. Alessi will probably see alot of action directing the Seahawk offence from the point position. HE was a part-time player last year but the coaches feel that Rikk's contribution this campaign will be even greater.

KEMMY GOODSON

Goodson, a 6ft. 4in. sophomore, is from Washington Court House, Ohio. He is a strong rebounder and potentially a good shooter, however hampered by a lack of defensive ability and quickness he saw little action last year. This year he has worked to improve and will see some action.

ERNIE LYNN

High game for 6 ft. 7 in. Ernie was 22 points. Forced into early action after Steve Langston left the squad last year, this sophomore from Fairfax, Va., could be one of the best in area this campaign. Accepts challenges and responds to situations; averaged consistently in double figures after getting established. Fundamentally sound, he has improved in the off-season.

PERRY DOBSON

Perry, a 6ft. 5in. sophomore, is from Wilmington. He did not play last year but saw alot of action 2 years ago for the Seahawks. He is one of the most improved players on the team. Dobson lost 30 pounds during his year off which has contributed to his improved mobility and he will probably see alot more action.

BOBBY O'DONNELL

Long range shooter, this Columbus, Ohio, native is a good rebounder and passer. Potential starter, Bobby will contribute to the squad in several important areas. This sophomore has potential as a starter.

FROSH

JIMMY BROGDEN

Jim, a 6ft. 2in., freshman, is a Wilmington native. He was a starter for East team in highschool East-West game in Greensboro during the summer. Jim comes to us from Hogard highschool where he averaged 14 points a game. He is probably the best passer on the team and possess a great deal of quickness. Brogden lacks outside shooting but makes up for it with his unique ability to grasp situation and solve floor problems. He is a potential starter after he attains some experience.

RICKY McKOY

Wilmingtonian from Hoggard High under Coach Jim Hebbe, Ricky stands 6 ft. 5 in. and is an outstanding potential for the team as a freshman. Quick and aggressive, he has a soft touch inside and is sound fundamentally.

J.V. BASKETBALL TEAM

SCHEDULE

12/5	Mt. Olive -H
12/10	USC-Conway-A
12/11	Southeastern-H
12/15	Coastal Carolina-H*
1/22	Wayne CC-H*
1/28	Mt. Olive-H
2/4	Southeastern-A
2/9	Coastal Carolina-A
2/14	Wayne CC-A

10	ALESSI RIKK	Point
11	BROGDEN JIMMY	Point
12	JACKSON WILLIE	Wing
15	BROCK RICKY	Wing
20	BELCH BRENT	Point
22	PRINCE DAVID	Middle
24	O'DONNELL BOBBY	Wing
25	McKOY RICKY	Wing
31	ROBINSON SAM	Middle
33	KEMP GREG	Wing
34	CHERRY MIKE	Wing
41	LYNN ERNIE	Middle
42	GOODSON KEMMY	Middle
53	DOBSON PERRY	Middle
54	YOW KEITH	Middle

IN ORBIT

with

robert maxey

CHALLENGE

TO FEMALES

INTRAMURALS

Twenty nine contestants participated in the first punt, pass, and kick competition held on Nov. 14.

Winners in the overall competition was:

John Melton

Joe Miller-runnerup

Individual event winners were:

Pass-Renn Holt

Punt-Joe Miller

Kick-John Melton

Runners up in individual competition were:

Pass-Melvin Batson

Punt-John Melton

Kick-Renn Holt

Directing the event was Bill Dolan assisted by members of the Intramural class.

I hereby issue a challenge to all of those women students, who displayed apathy by not entering these tournaments put on by the Intramural class, to participate. These tournaments are conducted by the student and for the benefit of the student.

Student activity fees are paid by the student for these activities. In these days of inflation, why not take advantage of an activity that is rightfully yours? Why not support these programs by your participation? These tournaments should be supported by every woman student registered on campus. Women's life has suffered a severe blow by this cancerous condition known as apathy. Women, think about this next time when you wish you could have the privilege of a facility that is no longer available.

Yes

Wachovia

Mary ann King

by Don Massengill

In an exciting finish, Jim Knapp won the Men's Division of the ECOS-sponsored bicycle race here on campus last Saturday, Dec. 1, completing the six-lap, twenty-mile course in forty-four minutes and fifty-two seconds, with an average speed of approximately twenty-seven mph.

Winning the Women's Division was Margaret Curtin, with a time of fifty minutes and nine seconds. Knapp and Ms. Curtin both received trophies. Bobby Wilson and trophies. Bobby Wilson and Jimmy Safford received runner-up trophies.

Finishing an extremely close second and third after Knapp were, respectively,

130 lb. winner Greg Permar

2nd Ahmet Ozal

2nd - Jerry Dixon

3rd - Barry Weaver and Mike Kinney

138 lb. winner Steve Martin

2nd - Wayne Barbee

3rd - Kent Flowers

HW winner Mike Good

2nd - David Ramey

145 lb. winner

Bobby McQueen

Randy Sullivan was the director and Ed Weddington was the referee.

As Coach Warner looks on, Mike Kinney and Jerry Dixon wrestle intramurally, Ed Whitting referees the match.

BICYCLE RACE RESULTS

safford, only tenths of a second behind Knapp.

Safford led the pack during the first lap, after which Safford and Knapp close behind. During the third lap Knapp moved into second place and Safford moved moved back to third.

Knapp made his move during the fourth lap, taking the lead from Wilson. From that point onward Knapp, Wilson and Safford battled for the lead until Knapp finally won in an exciting finish.

Eight of the ten contestants finished the race. John Wilson's chain came off during the first lap, and Dr. John Williams had a flat in the fifth lap; so they both had to drop out of the race.

The contestants finished in the following order:

Jim Knapp	44:52
Bobby Wilson	44:52
Jimmy Safford	44:52
Bob Kusler	46:09
Harry Tusting	47:52
Maragaret Curtin	50:09
Ronnie Pittman	51:01
Cam Crumpler	51:02
John Williams	did not finish
John Wilson	did not finish

★★★★

VARSITY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

12/8	NC Wesleyan	Rocky Mount home
12/15	Fayetteville State	home
12/19	Muskingum College (Ohio)	home
1/5	Francis Marion	Florence, SC
1/8	High Point	High Point
1/10	Methodist	Fayetteville home
1/12	Pfeiffer	home
1/14	Atlantic Christian	home
1/16	Gulford	Greensboro
1/19	Pembroke State	Pembroke home
1/22	Hampton Institute	home
1/24	Shaw University	home
1/26	Elon College	home
1/30	High Point	home

apparel factory outlet

Misses' &
Jr. Miss
Denim JEANS

from $4.44

baggies
flares
bells

Men's
Denim
Jeans

from $5.37

Hand Carved Bells - $6.66

10-6 sat. FREE PARKING 10-9 mon.-fri

4204 OLEANDER DRIVE

MAKE HER'S A MERRIER CHRISTMAS

Christmas GIFT
VALUE!

REED'S RADIO-TV SPECIAL
Tiffany Solitaire Blazing
with Fire and Flame
Matching Wedding Bands Free!
Former Price $369.95 $269.95

Wilmington's Largest Diamond Importers

Student

Accounts

Invited

Reed's
JEWELERS
27 NORTH FRONT STREET
Wilmington

classifieds

WORK

NEEDED: We are now hiring females to be representatives for Cameo Custom Fit Bras. Work your own hours. Make $5.00 and up an hour. Apply at Salon de Frey Salon and Boutique. Phone 791-6618. Ask for Mr. Whitman.

Wanted. Male help at Belamy Drug Company. 3806 Oleander Drive. 2-5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Packer in shipping department. Ask for Mr. Sis-trunk.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE: Waterbeds. New king size $25.00. Call Herbie 791-9325.

Sunshine Surfboard for Sale. $40.00 Call 256-2325.

hey, wanna sneak a real goody in on 'em this year? Turn em on to a Beckett Bend Hammock. Singles, doubles, and families now in stock. come on down. at the intersection of 74-76 near Babies Hospital. Tell 'em Sam sent ya.

Resin-$4.00 gal. Call 256-3825 Ask for Edgar.

Stereo Components! Most major brands! 20 - 50 % Off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p. m

1969 mobile home 12x65, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, central air for appointment, call between 6 & 8 pm 285-3747

Stereo unit- 8 track tape player, am-fm radio, & turn table. $200.00 call 799-1586 ask for Dean.

For Sale: One Penn Senator 9/0 reel with 800 plus yards of 80 lb Dacron and custom built 80 lb class rod with Fin Nor Guides. $65.00. Also one Penn 4/0 reel. NEW. and rod - $35.00. Call 763-7153. after 5 p.m.

FOR SALE: Hoover Portable washing machine. Less than one year old. Ideal for an apartment. $75.00. Paid $160.00 new. Call Rex at 791-9325.

PLACES FOR RENT; ROOM MATES WANTED;
Bedroom and private bath for rent in Hanover Heights area. Kitchen privileges arranged. Call 791-8330.

Roommate wanted: Female. $52.50 per month includes utilities at Wrightsville Beach Sound. Dial 256-4196. House

For rent: bedroom and bath with kitchen privileges and full household area. Ideal for one or two students. Also, ideal conditions for studying. Good location and surroundings. CALL 791-7611 after 5 p.m. or 763-9971 Ext. 587 in-between 8:30 and 5.

Apartment for sub-leasing: 2 bedroom furnished apartment at 5026 Hunt Club RD. Apt #5- Country Club APTS. Apt #5- Country Club Apts. Effective Jan. 1, 1974. For information call 799-2878.

Honda 305 cc
Runs good, rebuilt motor must sell $175.00 call 763-6624

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 793-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: with power steering, radio. $51000. Call 799-7654

1961 American Motors Mitty Mite Jeep, V-4, air cooled engine, 4 wheel drive, fully independent suspension, aluminum body, excellent condition. 675-0301 ext. 64 daily til 4 791-0587 - night & weekend
FOR SALE! "Old Faithful" Chevrolet, 1953 model, lively enough to get you anywhere in town. Inquire at 762-4886, evenings after 6 and mornings 9-noon. One car owner!!!

RIDES

If anyone needs a ride up Highway 74 as far as Rockingham on Friday afternoons, contact Steve in Room 316 Residence Hall. Help pay for gas.

Would like a ride to Kentucky anytime. Preferably near Berea or Lexington. Will help on cost of gas. Contact Gary Coburn, Room 411. Residence Hall.

Need a ride to Western Carolina University any weekend. Will help pay for gas. See Susan in Room 102. Residence Hall.

Need a ride to Goldsboro or nearby. Will help on gas. D See Beth in Room 611, Residence Hall

ETC.

Edgar Cayce's Association For Research and Enlightenment
A Group Meeting to be held For more information call 799-0605

THE SEAHAWK HAS OPENINGS FOR NEWS REPORTERS FOR THE SPRING SEMESTER. LEAVE YOUR NAME AND TELEPHONE NUMBER ON THE DOOR OF THE SEAHAWK DOWNSTAIRS OF THE PUB OR ASK SOMEONE IN OUR OFFICE.

HAWK'S NEST

5814 Oleander Drive

SPAGHETTI NIGHT

every thursday

99¢

spaghetti, salad, rolls

CLOSED MONDAYS

799-5880

SNOOPY, COME HOME!

A BIG NEW HONG KONG HIT BY SCHROEDER AND ROBERTA SCHULZ

INTRODUCING WOODSTOCK THE NEWEST MEMBER OF THE PEANUTS GANG

"Snoopy, Come Home"

A CINEMA CENTER FILMS PRESENTATION
A LEE MENDELSON-BILL MELENDEZ PRODUCTION
CREATED AND WRITTEN BY CHARLES SCHULZ
PRODUCED BY LEE MENDELSON AND BILL MELENDEZ
DIRECTED BY BILL MELENDEZ • MUSIC AND LYRICS BY RICHARD M. ROBERT B. SHERMAN • TECHNICOLOR
A NATIONAL GENERAL PICTURES RELEASE

KENAN AUDITORIUM
MONDAY, DECEMBER 10
8:00 p.m.

How pleasant it is
to have money,
heigh-ho!
How pleasant it is
to have money.

The surest way to have money is to save money. And of course if you save money, you'll have even more money. Thanks to interest. We're coming soon to Oriole Drive and College Road and we hope you'll come in and talk about saving with us. After years of helping people save, we've learned how to make it rather pleasant.

O First Union National
Watch for our opening.

come
as you are!

Where pizza is always
in good taste

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR
3617 Market Street

fall fever?

Community Shopping Center on
Oleander Drive
across from Cape Fear Ford

17 th Street Extension next to New Hanover Hospital

We have the cure!

ARE YOU REALLY IN LOVE WITH THAT GUY YOUR DATING OR ARE YOU JUST GOING OUT WITH HIM BECAUSE OF THE HIGH COST OF STEAK?

by darlene pearsall

How do you really feel about that one guy in your life? Whether he's the head of 3/4 of the organizations on campus or the moron in your math class, you must think of him occasionally. Why not think of him now and decide if he's really worth the time you've been spending with him. In order to find out, simply take this quickie test.

1. When you first met him, you thought he was-----
a. comparable to a greek god- a reincarnation of Apollo perhaps?

b. O.K.- nothing special, but O.K.
c. a slob

2. When he first phoned you, you thought his voice sounded--
a. sexy and virile
b. O.K.
c. shrill- you expected it to squeak any minute

3. When he asked you out, you thought ---
a. WOW! He actually wants to take ME out?
b. O.K.
c. I'm to good for him, but I'll go anyway.

4. Your first date was ---
a. heavenly- didn't want it to end
b. O.K.
c. areal drag, 30 minutes after he picked you up you asked to be taken home because of a sudden headache.

5. When he took you out to have a hamburger, you thought it was---
a. wise- it's a true virtue to handle money so conservatively.
b. O.K.
c. cheap

6. When he opened doors for you, you thought it was---
a. sauve and gallant
b. O.K.
c. an action of a male chauvinist pig- is he imply- for yourself?

7. When he told you that he's making all As, you thought--
a. naturally- what do you expect from a genius.
b. it's O.K.
c. he cheated

8. When he puts his arm around it's---
a. comforting- you feel secure
b. O.K.
c. exasperating- what's he trying to do? Crush you?

9. You remember your first kiss as being---
a. tender and gentle
b. O.K.
c. slobbery

10. You describe him to friends as --- a. tall, dark and handsome
b. O.K.

Now it's time to check your score and evaluate your true feelings toward him.

For each A, give yourself 2 points, for each B 1 point, and each C none.

MADE ALONG WITH
WILMINGTON POLICE

The Wilmington Police force has instigated a "ride-along" program where a citizen is able to ride with a police officer while on duty. If interested call 762-3311 police Administration.

20-17 - Either he's the best guy on campus or you exaggerated just a bit. You don't love him, but instead idolize him. Be careful. If he finds out, he may start asking you to fetch his slippers and paper.

16-10 - This is an indication of a good solid relationship- definitely not blind love. You are aware of his faults as well as his merits. You can be sure it will last- at least for another day or two.
9-0 - You've got to be a masochist!

CHEMISTRY CLUB MEETING
C-101
TUESDAY, DEC.11
11:30 a.m.

Mrs. Isabel Kornegay, winner of the bicycle to raise money for the outdoor bulletin board, is currently selling the fine vehicle for the ridiculously low sum of $85. Anyone interested should see Mrs. K in the cafeteria. (photo by nauma dozier)

—FALL ISSUE OUT—

THE FALL ISSUE OF THE ATLANTIS WILL BE AVAILABLE THURSDAY AND FRIDAY OUTSIDE OF THE PUB AND THE CAFETERIA, WEATHER PERMITTING. PICK UP YOUR COPY AS SOON AS POSSIBLE DUE TO THE LIMITED AVAILABILITY.

SINCE WE HOPE TO MAIL YOUR COPY TO YOU NEXT SEMESTER, STAFFERS WILL BE TAKING NAMES AND ADDRESSES OF THOSE INTERESTED, AND ACCEPTING DONATIONS TO HELP OFFSET MAILING COSTS.

MUNCHY'S

GRILL
"We'll make you a sandwich you can't refuse!"
EAT HERE OR TAKE OUT

PIZZA BEVERAGES
SANDWICHES BEVERAGES

OPEN 11 'TIL 11
EXCEPT SUNDAY

1313 South College Road
(next to Cleopatra Gift Shop)

call 791-9980 to order

★ Professional Service At A Price You Can Afford

kar-kare Service Center

- Wheel Alignment
- Complete Front End Repairs
- Shock Absorbers
- Diagnostic Tune-Ups
- Brake Service
- Batteries

GOODYEAR
TIRES

★ LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT
Dick Wilson, Mgr.

kar-kare
'Service You Can Believe In'

4207 Oleander Drive
799-2770

BANKAMERICARD

seahawk

vol. XVI no. 15

December 12, 1973

twelve pages

once again, our rovin' reporter queries:

Dear Santa, For Christmas I want...

a keg, man,
and yOu babe

YOU!

I WANT
I WANT
I WANT

HUBBA HUBBA

SHEET YOUR MOUTH BOY.
'CAUSE YER 'N HOT WATER RIGHT NOW...YUH HEA' ME, BOY?

BAH! HUMBUG!

seahawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication.
our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 791-8055.

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

editor: kathi beall
associate editors: barry asbury, beth hicks,
j.k. muhlemann
advertising director: barry asbury
sports editor: robert maxey
business manager: alan murphy
mast head design: bert beall
exchange editor: marian gibson

photographers: roberts allred; nauma dozier, chief;
neal huntley, jeannie lovelace, j.k. muhlemann
greek lines: rocky lane moore supportive staff: sharon davis, anne nesbitt,
darlene pearsall
adviser: ms. linda moore

TIME FLIES LIKE THE WIND
FRUIT FLIES LIKE BANANAS

SHORTS FROM CPS

STUDENTS ON GOVERNING BOARD

Jackie Vaughn, a state representative from Detroit, Michigan, introduced a resolution to the state legislature which would require at least one student sit on the governing board of every state-supported college, university, and junior college.

There is an eight member board at each of the state's four year colleges. They are appointed by the governor.

To become effective, the resolution must receive a two thirds vote of both houses of the Michigan legislature as well as a majority of the votes in the next election.

"As things stand now," Vaughn says, "students are being denied the basic rights to govern themselves. They have virtually no power to determine what happens in their community that is the particular college or university in which they are enrolled."

Vaughn is experienced in working for student rights he wrote Michigan's 18-year old voting rights act and the young citizens' Bill of Rights and is chairman of the House Youth and Student Participation Committee.

SHORT SKIRTS FOR ATTRACTIVE LEGS

The following policy letter was recently distributed on buses concerning dress regulations for women in the Air Force:

"SKIRT LENGTH: Reference AFM 35-10, para. 1-13b. Skirts should normally be at more than one inch above. If a WAF has attractive legs two inches may be acceptable."

Apparently if a WAF who wears short skirts has "unattractive" legs she may be subject to disciplinary proceedings.

HELPFUL LAW OFFICERS

A Colorado State University student was arrested when he entered a Fort Collins, Colorado restaurant wearing jeans.

Mike Butler, a self-described cowboy, entered the Northern Hotel dining room one evening shortly after the establishment declared its new "no jeans" policy. He was confronted by two Fort Collins police officers who told him to leave. Butler, who had been served earlier in the day at the Northern while wearing jeans, told the police officers that he was not impressed with them and demanded to see the manager. He was then arrested for being "drunk and disorderly" and forcibly removed from the hotel.

He was then taken to the Fort Collins police station where Butler said he was treated very badly by four members of the department. Butler also maintained that he was not advised of his rights at the time of his arrest, that he was not given a test for intoxication, and that he was not permitted to call an attorney. According to Butler, when he protested this, the arresting officer punched him in the mouth.

Butler's bail was set at fifty dollars, but he had only but he had only $49.58. When a friend offered the needed 42 cents, the police reportedly insisted that someone "respectable" put up the rest of the money. Butler was then permitted to call his wife who had 42 acceptable cents.

The final irony Butler said is that the Northern Hotel widely advertises its "Western flavor", but bars western dress.

"Does he love me . . . or is he intrigued by my Newell's SPORTSWEAR?"

NEW GIRL
WHATS-IN-A-NAME
SPRING CHICKEN
MODERN JUNIOR
BOBBIE BROOKS
RINGALEEVEEO
and many more.

SPERRY
TOP SIDERS
complete line
for ladies and men

Newell's Ltd.
SPORTS &
CASUAL WEAR
OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK 9A.M. - 9P.M.

The Happy Shopping Place on Wrightsville Beach

SONATA
$500. TO $10000

Shop Hanover Center
Long Leaf Mall - tel 5 P. M.

Mills
KODOLAK
JEWELERS

26 N. Front St. 763 4500
Hanover Center 762 0736
Long Leaf Mall 799 5510

ANNUAL SKI TRIP

The annual Mt. Sunapee, New Hampshire outing club ski trip which originated at UNC-G four years ago with a group of twenty students led by Lee Spencer, then faculty sponsor of the outing club, has expanded by popular demand to an event which now involves several hundred ski and outing club members from over twenty East Coast colleges and universities. While Spencer was a graduate student at Duke University and doing research at Duke Marine Lab in Beaufort, he continued to coordinate the trip to include UNC-W skiing enthusiasts.

The Outing Club style vacation involves members bringing their own sleeping bags or bedding, sleeping 4 or 5 per room and each helping with the cooking, bag lunch preparation or clean up a couple of times during the 7-day trip. With this type of group effort, it has been possible to bring the cost of board and lodging down to a very low figure. Lift tickets, equipment rentals, and ski school lessons are all obtained at half price, making the entire trip quite inexpensive for those who don't mind roughing it a bit.

A "1920 vintage" hotel, a lodge, and about half the rooms of a first class motel have been leased to accommodate the several hundred skiers who will be attending one of the four-week trips which have been arranged. The trip will be based at Mt. Sunapee, located in west central New Hampshire, which is among the state's top five ski areas. Sunapee was chosen because of its large number of trails, slopes and lifts and because of its central location which puts it within a one and one-half hour drive to any of the other major New England ski areas.

Dr. Ned Martin, Chemistry Dept., Tel 791-4330, ext. 321, is helping to organize the UNC-W group this year. The first week of January is already filled, however there are still spaces available for the week before Christmas, Christmas week, and the second week in January. Those interested should contact Dr. Martin immediately

WE DON'T CARE

BURN THE FLAG

Well, good. We were hoping that the headline would attract some kind of attention.

The last issue of the Seahawk published in Spring '73 featured a front page photo and plea that the University powers that be please retire the ragged North Carolina flag for a less tattered, more inspiring version.

We were pleased to note that the flag was promptly put to rest. We would not have been nearly so enthusiastic about the results of our humble efforts to awaken slumbering standard-bearers had we known that the flag in question had just been retired until we forgot about it.

That flag, which flew over our campus last week and the first part of this week, is a DISGRACE!!! Not what it stands for, mind you, but its actual physical condition. The thing is virtually SHREDDING in the cool Carolina breeze.

What does it take, oh wise Seahawk spirit? A riot? A sit-in? A hundred billboards all over town?

Granted, it's not the worst of our problems. It's probably not even enough to get irritated over.

What's the point, then? The point is that the Battered Banner Affair is symbolic of a majority of UNC-W's problems. Namely. If there be a problem, we are placated for a while and then...

You guessed it. Complaint stashed in circular file like dozens before it.

It would be nice to think someone was listening. Real nice.

We might even begin to feel that as students, we are the purpose of the University's existence. Instead of an evil it is necessary to endure.

Face it, Flag Man, without us you'd be getting your Christmas turkey this year with money from your unemployment check.

Yes

Wachovia

Decoupage

Candle & Art

Supplies

THE BEEHIVE

MON.-SAT. 10 A.M.-9 P.M.

Long Leaf Mall

RECORD

WORLD

Discover New Dimensions

- *NEW RELEASES
- *BRITISH IMPORTS
- *JAZZ
- *SOUL
- *GIFT CERTIFICATES
- *GOOD MUSIC!!!!!!

791-7043

*ASK ABOUT OUR BAKER'S DOZEN

Long Leaf Mall

There's
no getting blood out of
a turnip.

If the bills keep coming in, but there's not much left to go out, we'd like to help. We're coming soon to Oriole Drive and College Road, and we hope you'll visit. For a home loan, car loan, general all-around loan or a student loan. Watch for our opening.

O First Union National
Opening soon.

POT PRISONERS

NEVER HAVE A NICE DAY ☹️

POOR LITTLE, RICH KIDS?

Poor kids and rich kids can go to colleges of their choice. Middle class kids cannot.

That paradox, and why many colleges face financial difficulties, will be probed in "The College Money Crunch," an NBC News special to be sponsored by Xerox Corporation Thursday, Jan. 3, 10-11 p.m., over the NBC Television Network.

It will mark the first of a number of special programs that Xerox plans to bring to the nation's viewers during 1974.

Edwin Newman, reporter for "The College Money Crunch," will point out that the cost of higher education is soaring -- up to $5,500 at some schools per year.

Very rich parents can afford such costs. The very poor can qualify for financial aid. But many middle-class youngsters, eliminated from the Federal guaranteed loan program by the government's recent budgetary cutback, can no longer afford to enroll in the higher-cost private colleges and universities.

Many colleges too are caught between rising costs and shrinking enrollments. Elliot Frankel, executive producer of the Xerox special, says it will focus in part on little Belknap College in New Hampshire, which "goes out of business" at the end of the current semester.

Some private institutions are flooding high schools with direct mail promotion literature and recruiting high-school seniors via telephone. "We operate almost like college football coaches striving to recruit the best high school athletes," says one administrator. "It's almost like selling soup."

Tax-supported state universities can offer much lower tuition costs, but have their own problems. Anticipating steadily-increasing enrollments, some schools are already city-size and still growing. By 1983 they may have up to 85 per cent of the college student crop.

The special is being filmed at a number of locations across the country, as Newman interviews students, their parents, and college administrators.

ALL ABOUT DU

Delta Upsilon, formerly known as Delta Epsilon, has made great strides this year. With installation imminent and affiliation with a great international fraternity certain. DU's are planning to spend several thousand dollars in the process for a band and formal dinner. This is the result of six years of hard work on the part of the brotherhood.

The fraternity has sought to help school growth over the past year. With the help of seven other clubs and organizations, more than $300 has been raised this semester for an outdoor bulletin board at the university. Additionally, the little sisters are equally active having had a party for underprivileged children on Halloween.

Community service is not a priority, although the group has pledged itself to a project per semester. DU is at first a social fraternity with all the attributes as such. Many different people find fulfillment in the brotherhood. Some find challenge in leadership while others find lifetime "friendship."

DU meetings are formal, and its by-laws are strict. DU does not hide behind veils of secrecy, however, the meetings are closed. Any brother will proudly relay the history of the fraternity to interested persons.

The fraternity does not consider itself the answer to world problems, but it is concerned with what it can offer a student in the way of broadening his education. A college education, important as it is, is no substitute for the experience obtained in dealing with people in a social setting. Ask any fraternity member.

DU is glad to finally be joining the other two fraternities as a full-fledged, chartered brotherhood. Proud of the fraternal tradition that has preceded it as exemplified by the two other fraternities on campus, DU will welcome new charter groups to petition on campus that follow in DU's wake.

This does not alter the fact that the fraternity is aware of the growth of the university; the brotherhood is schooling its members to take a leading role in making UNC-W a school to be proud of and respected.

Thanks

December 3

Dear Friends,

I would like to take this opportunity to give my personal heartfelt thanks and the thanks of my family after the death of my father, Robert Kennedy. Even though none of you knew him, I am sure all of you would have liked him very much.

I am using the SEAHAWK to express my thanks because I have absolutely no idea how to go about thanking the friends of Mike Kennedy except by these means. My mother also sends her personal thanks. She thought the basket of flowers were the most impressive of any we received. Again, I would like to thank you all. The flowers helped me personally through the ordeal - just knowing that my friends at school were concerned was a personal comfort.

I would also like to express my thanks to Mike Davis at the dormitory. I feel that he coordinated this effort and I THANK HIM VERY much.

Respectfully,
Michael F. Kennedy

People in all walks of life are finding specialty foods desirable to serve to family and friends on all occasions! Hickory Farms of Ohio has the great selection of specialty foods . . . from 126 different cheeses to tasty smoked meats, including exclusive BEEF STICK Summer Sausage. You'll find that specialty foods excel in both quality and taste!

Hickory Farms

Wilmington's Christmas Headquarters

Open til 9:00 Mon-Sat
1:00-6:00 Sundays

Hanover Shopping Center

AMERICA'S LEADING CHEESE STORES

apparel factory outlet

Misses' &
Jr. Miss
Denim JEANS

from $4.44

baggies
flares
bells

Men's
Denim
Jeans

from $5.37

Hand Carved Belts - $6.66

10-6 sat. FREE PARKING 10-9 mon.-fri

BANKAMERICAN

4204 OLEANDER DRIVE

master charge

MAKE HER'S A MERRIER CHRISTMAS

Christmas GIFT VALUE!

REED'S RADIO-TV SPECIAL
Tiffany Solitaire Blazing
with Fire and Flame
Matching Wedding Bands Free!
Former Price $369.95 $269.95

Wilmington's Largest Diamond Importers

Reed's

Student

Accounts

Invited

Wilmington

PUB NEEDS JANITOR

ANYONE INTERESTED IN WORKING APPROXIMATELY

100 HOURS A MONTH AS A JANITOR IN THE PUB SHOULD

CONTACT MS. LINDA MOORE BEFORE CHRISTMAS

VACATION. JOB BEGINS SECOND SEMESTER.

LAST CHANCE

PICK UP YOUR JACKET, TEXTBOOK, NOTEBOOK, KEYS, GLASSES OR WHATEVER IT WAS YOU LOST FROM MS. LINDA MOORE IN THE PUB.

Passers May Fail

by darlene pearsall

Students are often deliberating the idea of having a completely different grading system. It would be one in which you simply pass or fail all courses -- and not receive letter grades. Everyone knows that this will happen at UNC-W sometime in the near future (perhaps 1992 or 1993). But is the world really ready for it before then? Suppose that in training for our careers we didn't strive for excellence.

A man walks into a clinic.

Man: Nurse, I've got a sharp pain in my arm.
(The nurse examines his fingers, wrist, and then elbow)
Man: I said it's in my arm.
Nurse: Don't rush me. I'll find it eventually.
Man: I thought you were a registered nurse.
Nurse: I am. But anatomy never was my subject. Your arm, huh? Do you mind spelling that?

Meanwhile ...

Corporation president: I need a report on the elasticity of our new product.
Junior executive: Elasticity? What's an elasticity? Wait a minute! Don't tell me. Let me guess. Is it bigger than a breadbox?

And in the same city ...

An English teacher is asked a question about Shakespeare.

Teacher: I don't want to talk about English! I just went into this because everyone told me it was easy. Let's talk about something fun like sex.

A marine biologist is out on a ship on his first day of plant research.

Captain: Well, son, we've reached the spot. Now I want you to go down there and check out those plants I was telling you about.
Young man: Down there? You mean in the ocean?
Captain: Why sure. Don't worry. We have all the equipment you could possibly need.

Young man: You don't understand -- I don't know HOW TO SWIM!!!

your's broken?
we repair
all models!

LIFE CYCLES

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER
4200 Glenside Drive
799-5770
Mon. - Thurs. Fri. Sat.
10-4 10-9 10-4

Payne's

ANNE NESBIT

COMPLIMENTS

A LIGHT BLUE FADED DENIM

PANTS SUIT WITH

WESTERN EMBROIDERY.

Available at

Payne's

Downtown, Hanover Center
& Long Leaf Mall

We Wish You A Merry CHRISTMAS

AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR WITH THE FINEST

LINE OF NAME BRAND SHOES IN TOWN!!!!!!

LOOK FOR US IN NEXT SEMESTER'S SEAHAWK.

Wellington Lee

SHOES

'Fit a must...Service a pleasure'

799-2671

MARKET PLAZA SHOPPING CENTER

COVER ART BY NEW ED

The cover art this week was done by Associate Editor Beth Hicks, who was chosen Tuesday by the Student Affairs Committee as their recommendation for the position of Seahawk editor.

Beth will assume duties as acting editor until the committee recommendation is approved by the Student Senate at the start of Spring Semester.

Beth has had extensive journalistic experience in high school, and has worked in the bridal department and as a feature writer for the Star-News. She is working on a journalism project under the Multiple Abilities Program.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY LIBRARY SCHEDULE

December 11-13
Friday, Dec. 14
Saturday, Dec. 15
Sunday, Dec. 16
Monday - Wednesday, Dec. 17-19
Thursday - Friday, Dec. 20-21
Saturday - Wednesday, Dec. 22-26
Thursday - Friday, Dec. 27-28
Saturday - Sunday, Dec. 29-30
Monday, Dec. 31
New Year's Day
Wednesday - Friday, January 2-4
Saturday - Sunday, Jan. 5-6
Monday - Tuesday, Jan. 7-8
Wednesday, Jan. 9

8 a.m. - 11 p.m.
8 a.m. - 5 p.m.
9 a.m. - 5 p.m.
2 p.m. - 11 p.m.
8 a.m. - 11 p.m.
8 a.m. - 5 p.m.
CLOSED
8 a.m. - 5 p.m.
CLOSED
8 a.m. - 5 p.m.
CLOSED
8 a.m. - 5 p.m.
CLOSED
8 a.m. - 5 p.m.
Resume regular schedule

CRUEL SHORTAGE BUT TO MUTANTS LIVING AMONG US, WHO NEED TO DRINK GASOLINE TO LIVE. THESE CREATURES ARE PLANNING TO TAKE OVER THE COUNTRY AND DRINK ALL OUR GASOLINE.

SO IF YOU SMELL GASOLINE
ON THE BREATH OF A MEMBER OF YOUR FAMILY, FOR EXAMPLE, KILL THEM AT ONCE. THEY MAY BE A MUTANT. AND REMEMBER...

THE MUTANT YOU SAW WILL TODAY WILL BE RAPING YOUR DAUGHTER AND DRINKING YOUR GASOLINE
TOMORROW.

Just ONE Person Wants
Him. Everyone Else Wants Him Out of Town. why?

--a real puzzler an exciting thriller--!

"RUN
STRANGER, RUN"

color - (PG)

OLEANDER
Cinema 1
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

It was the
Time of Makin' Out and Cruisin'!
Where
were you in '62?

American Graffiti

1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

OLEANDER
Cinema 2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

2 Big
Clint
Eastwood
Hits!
"GOOD, BAD, + UGLY"
-also-

"Hang 'Em High"
(R)

NOW PLAYING LONG LEAF
Cinema 1

GREAT BELLY LAUGHS

ELLIOTT KASTNER presents
CLIFF GORMAN JOSEPH BOLOGNA in

COPS
AND ROBBERS"

United
A-Grade
(PG)

Today
thru
Tuesday

LONG LEAF
Cinema 2

LONG LEAF MALL 799-6710

Pizza Buffet Mon & Tues Night

all the delicious pizza and salad you can eat

$1.75

Snoopy's Diet Buster

all the delicious pizza and salad you can eat

$1.40

11:00 to 2:00 Mon. - Sat.

entertainment
Fri., Sat., Sun.
nights

Wed. nite is Family nite.
.50 off on every
Family Size Pizza

Snoopy's
PIZZA PARLORS
Where The Good Times Are

NORTH-17 SHOPPING CENTER

SEAHAWKS come HOME

The UNC-W Seahawks will finally come home after two road games to ECU AND North Carolina Wesleyan. The Hawks are 1-1 overall and 1-0 in district 29 NAAIA thus far in the campaign. The Seahawks will host Fayetteville

State University, Sat. night at 8 pm. The Seahawks look very impressive so far and could be a major factor in the district along with defending champs and pre-season favorite, Pembroke.

Let's pack the gym and back the SEAHAWKS!!

"Jeez man, them Seabirds are really high tonight.....in scoring." Seahawks plan to dribble all over Fayetteville State Sat. night at Hanover Hall!!!

SEAHAWKS STUN BISHOPS

After loosing the opening game against the ECU Pirates by 7, 69-62, the Seahawks came back strong to crush the NC Wesleyan's Bishops last Sat. night, 83- 53. For the first 16 min. of the game the two teams were at even terms. With approximately 4 min. left in the half the Bishops made four straight points to take a 27-26 lead. This was the last lead the Bishops enjoyed, while the Seahawks made 8 more points to hold a 34-27 lead at half-time.

The second half got on the way when Coach Gibson began infiltrating the lineup with rested players. The talented Hawks rallied to end the game with a 30 point spread, 83-53. Three Seahawks were in double figures, Prince, Lynn, AND Mike Cherry pacing the Seahawks with 24 points.

UNC-W(83)

	FG	FT	PTS
Cherry	12	0-0	24
Prince	7	2-3	16
Lynn	6	0-0	12
Brock	3	1-1	7
Alessi	0	0-0	0
Dobson	1	0-0	2
O'Donnell	1	0-0	2
Kemp	0	4-4	4
Belch	0	0-0	0
Jackson	8	0-0	16
TOTALS	38	7-8	83

JV's WIN OPENER

UNC-W Seahawk JV's won their first game in an impressive match against the Coastal Carolina SC -- formerly USC-Conway), Chanticleers, 70-59. The Seahawks completely dominated the game, racking 8 points before the visitors got on the scoreboard. With 3:15 left in the first half the Seahawks took a 19 point lead, 37-18, but when the half ended the lead had been cut to 15, 37-22. The Seahawks had 39 rebounds in the first half. With a comfortable lead the Seahawks continued to score big. With 13:06 showing on the clock the Seahawks enjoyed a 24 point lead, 57-33. This was the biggest lead of the night. The Chants did not give up however and came back with score after score to get within 9 with 3:40, 63-54 before the Seahawks began to slow the ball down.

With 16 seconds remaining and victory in the air, Sam Robinson raced down court with the ball and dunked it however the officials called a technical foul on him.

Four of the six JV's were in double figures with Keith Yow pacing the Seahawks with 23 points.

UNC-W(70)

	FG	FT	PTS
Yow	11	1-2	23
Robinson	8	0-0	16
Brogden	5	1-3	11
O'Donnell	5	0-0	10
Goodson	4	0-0	8
McKoy	1	0-2	2
TOTALS	34	2-7	70

J.V. BASKETBALL TEAM

SCHEDULE

12/10	USC-Conway-A
12/11	Southeastern-H
12/15	Coastal Carolina-H*
1/22	Wayne CC-H*
1/28	Mt. Olive-H
2/4	Southeastern-A
2/9	Coastal Carolina-A
2/14	Wayne CC-A

GO
Seahawks

BUYING DIAMOND JEWELRY?

Remember
The Money You Save
Will Be Your Own

Wilmington's
Largest-Direct
Diamond Importers
and Distributors
Use Reed's Convenient Credit
Students Accounts Invited

It's Reeds

For Diamonds

Reed's
JEWELRY

27 NORTH FRONT STREET
WILMINGTON, N.C. 28401

You only go around once in life.
So reach for all the gusto you can.
Even in the beer you drink.
Why settle for less?

When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

★ Professional Service At
A Price You Can Afford

kar-kare Service Center

★ Wheel Alignment
★ Complete Front End
Repairs
★ Shock Absorbers
★ Diagnostic Tune-Ups
★ Brake Service
★ Batteries

GOODYEAR
TIRES

★ LOUNGE FOR YOUR COMFORT
Dick Wilson, Mgr.

kar-kare

'We do it right...or we do it over.'

4207 Oleander Drive
799-2770

BANKAMERICARD

IN ORBIT with robert maxey

Kieth Yow shoots two for the SEAHAWKS while teammate Bobby O'Donnel looks on during JV game against Coastal Carolina (SC).

(photo by robert maxey)

The finals in team and individual bowling have been officially recorded as the 1973 UNC-W Women's Bowling Tournament has come to a close. The three day event was a huge success and everyone had a good time.

Congratulations are in order for the following tournament winners:

1st place team-1804

Marlene Mills
Jan Donahue
Peggy Phillips

2nd place team-1770

Robin Kusilka
Debbie Yount
Kathy Murray

Individual Handicap Winners series: Robin Kusilka-682 game: Marlene Mills-249

Individual Scratch Winners series: Peggy Phillips-688 game: Jan Donahue-164

 VARSITY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

12/15	Fayetteville State	home
12/19	Muskingum College (Ohio)	home
1/5	Francis Marion	Florence, SC
1/8	High Point	High Point
1/10	Methuen	Fayetteville
1/12	Pfeiffer	home
1/14	Atlantic Christian	home
1/16	Gulford	Greensboro
1/19	Pembroke State	Pembroke
1/22	Hampton Institute	home
1/24	Shaw University	home
1/28	Elon College	home
1/30	High Point	home

Gurr Jewelers

FIRST CHOICE FOR A CHRISTMAS WISH

Columbia

Ronelle $175

GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler and Silversmiths
212 North Front Street

Yes

Wachovia

"Come, come, let us drink
the Vintner's Good Health.
'Tis the Cask, not the Coffer, that
holds the true wealth."
17th century London street song

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art, Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Pridden
3342 Wrightville Ave. 791-9675

The Tomfoolery
RESTAURANT

Take Out Menu

Spaghetti w/meat sauce 99¢

Lasagne w/beef $1.49

add 70¢ for each, mushrooms, meat balls or sausage. Garlic bread included.

Salad (choice of dressing) 75¢

Thousand Island, Blue Cheese, French or Italian

Rib Eye Sub Sandwich $1.99
Lettuce, Tomato, Mayonnaise and French Fries

Pizza w/cheese 12" / $1.99 15" / $2.99

topping additional 40¢ ea. 50¢ ea.

Canadian Bacon, Sausage, Pepperoni, Beef Onions,
Green Peppers, Mushrooms

THESE PRICES ARE TAKE OUT ONLY

OPEN 5 PM MON.-SAT. Green Meadows Shopping Center

CALL 791-2935 CALL

VILLAGE INN
WHERE PIZZA IS ALWAYS
IN GOOD TASTE!

A wide variety in three different sizes.

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

3617 Market Street

	9:00 - 12:00	2:00 - 5:00	7:00 - 10:00
Wednesday December 12	10:30 MWF classes	12:30 T Th classes	Wednesday night classes
Thursday December 13	11:30 MWF classes	1:30 MWF classes	Thursday night classes
Friday December 14	8:30 MWF classes	2:00 T Th classes
Monday December 17	12:30 MWF classes	2:30 MWF classes	Monday night classes
Tuesday December 18	8:30 T Th classes	3:30 T Th classes	Tuesday night classes
Wednesday December 19	10:00 T Th classes	3:30 MWF classes
Thursday December 20	9:30 MWF classes	4:30 MWF classes

THE TRANSPLANT

by
Milton Boone
Campus Minister

CHRISTMAS TAKES THE DULLNESS FROM DECEMBER
CALLING STARS TO CELEBRATE THE JOY OF NEW CREATION

SOMETHING OLD LIKE BIRTHING PUTS THE UNIVERSE
ON NEW EDGE TO SEE WHAT KIND OF CHILD
THIS CHILD MAY BE

AND GOD, GIFT-WRAPPED IN INFANCY, TAKES A CHANCE ON BEING SEEN IN PUBLIC CRYING
LIKE A BABY OVER AN UNHAPPY WORLD

OVER MY OBJECTION AND SHORT MEMORY
THE PRINCE OF PEACE COMES LOVING ME
LIKE I WAS AN ONLY CHILD
UNTIL I SEE MY BROTHER'S FACE

HISTORY, REMEMBER WHAT IT WAS LIKE WITH NO CHRISTMAS
IN DECEMBER

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

Who's Who

Twenty-six UNC-W students have been named to the forthcoming edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES.

The students were selected on the basis of their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and future potential.

Included in the publication are Barry S. Asbury, Kathi Beall, Arlee Brent Belch,
Liz Buffington, Tom Buttkie,
Jerry Allan Covil, Michael Hendon Davis, Severn Somerville Eaton, Sarah Gerthia
Green, Keith Hales, Lee
Hoffman, Julius Metts, Rocky Lane Moore, Terry Allen
Moore, Wanda Darlene Moore,
Butch Pegram, Beth Perry, Gloria Ramos, Virginia Res-gan, Bill Renn, Peter Smith,
Howard Talley, Leonard
Temoney, Raleigh Todd, Pam Welsh, and Bonnie Wiley.

Budweiser.

KING OF BEERS.

'When you say
Budweiser,
you've said it all!

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

Used book store notes

The used bookstore run by the Business Club will operate from January 8 through 16 in the Pub. Save your books until then!!!!

Fowlett Book Co. will be in the Pub to buy back books only on Thursday, Dec. 20, 8:30 a.m. til 4:30 p.m.

OPEN 10am 'till 6pm

FOURTH CORNER

4405 wrightsville ave.

We've got
records & tapes!

LIST PRICE OUR PRICE

$5.98	$3.98
6.98	5.12
7.98	6.18
9.98	7.62
11.98	8.81
12.98	9.93

We can order any record or tape at NO extra charge!

marvelous gift
for Christmas!

Imported Stationary

FROM Sweden

AT THE BOOKSTORE

classifieds

Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are invited - urged - even begged to put their classifieds in the SEAHAWK free - FREE, i.e., no charge. Let us give you a break.

Honda 305 cc
Runs good, rebuilt motor
must sell $175.00
call 763-6624

71 VEGA: Red with black interior, 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. 799-3066

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: with power steering, radio. Only $1000. Call 799-3765.

1961 American Motors Mity Lite Jeep, V-4, air cooled engine, 4 wheel drive, fully independent suspension, aluminum body, excellent condition. 675-0301 ext. 64 daily til 4 791-0587 - night & weekend

FOR SALE! "Old Faithful" Chevrolet, 1953 model, lively enough to get you anywhere in town. Inquire at 762-4886, evenings after 6 and mornings 9-noon. One car owner!!

RIDES

Anyone needing a ride to Pennsylvania around the King of Prussia, Valley Forge, Phoenixville, or Pottstown area after Dec. 12, call 791-7247 or 791-1429. If I am not at home, leave name and phone number.

Anyone going North who would take a ride to either, Charleston, West Virginia or Eastern, Ohio area. Will share gas. Need the ride any time after Dec. 20. Call 791-4456.

Anyone going to the mountains this Christmas? I need a ride up to the Great Smokies for the vacation. Call Jim Knapp at 799-2964.

If anyone needs a ride up Highway 74 as far as Rockingham on Friday afternoons, contact Steve in Room 316 Residence Hall. Help pay for gas.

Would like a ride to Kentucky anytime. Preferably near Berea or Lexington. Will help on cost of gas. Contact Gary Coburn, Room 411. Residence Hall.

Need a ride to Western Carolina University any weekend. Will help pay for gas. See Susan in Room 102, Residence Hall.

WORK

NEEDED: We are now hiring females to be representatives for Canoe Custom Fit Bras. Work your own hours. Make $5.00 and up an hour. Apply at Salon de Frey Salon and Boutique. Phone 791-6618. Ask for Mr. Whitman.

Wanted. Male help at Belamy Drug Company. 3806 Oleander Drive, 2-5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Packer in shipping department. Ask for Mr. Sistrunk.

THE SEAHAWK HAS OPENINGS FOR NEWS REPORTERS FOR THE SPRING SEMESTER. LEAVE YOUR NAME AND TELEPHONE NUMBER ON THE DOOR OF THE SEAHAWK DOWNSTAIRS OF THE PUB OR ASK SOMEONE IN OUR OFFICE.

FOR SALE

Stereo unit - 8 track tape player, am-fm radio, & turn table. $200.00 call 799-1586 ask for Dean.

1969 mobile home 12x65, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, central air for appointment, call between 6 & 8 pm 285-3747

Stereo Components! Most major brands! 20 - 50 % Off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p. m.

FOR SALE: Waterbeds. New king size $25.00. Call Herbie 791-9325.

FOR SALE: Sears Silver-tone 19" portable TV with VHP and UHP antennas. Excellent physical and mechanical condition. $50.00.

Resin-$4.00 gal. Call 256-3825 Ask for Edgar.

PLACES FOR RENT; ROOM MATES WANTED:

12-13-73 12-13-73
1 Bedroom and private bath for rent in Hanover Heights area. Kitchen privileges arranged. Call 791-8330.

Roommate wanted: Female. $52.74 per week includes utilities at Wrightsville Beach Sound. Dial 256-4196. House

Apartment for sub-leasing: 2 bedroom furnished apartment at 5026 Hunt Club RD. Apt #5. Country Club APTS. Apt #5. Country Club Apts. Effective Jan. 1, 1974. For information call 799-2878.

For rent: bedroom and bath with kitchen privileges and full household area. Ideal for one or two students. Also, ideal conditions for studying. Good location and surroundings. CALL 791-7611 after 5 p.m. or 763-9971 Ext. 587 in-between 8:30 and 5.

Room mate needed for 2 bedroom complex at University Arms Apts. 1 girl to share large bedroom. Deposit already paid. $55.00 a month per girl. Electric bill split 3 ways. Call 791-3779 around 12 noon or after 10 p.m.

gort

Oh, Cain... I saw you kill Abel.

You were an eyewitness?! I guess you're gonna tell everyone!

Nope. I steer clear of family squabbles. But I suggest you get a good lawyer.

Yeah... I need one that'll keep his mouth shut! What about John Dean?

Well, he's not exactly well known 't' keep counsel.

Then WHO?? I gotta get a shyster who'll keep this whole thing on 't' quiet...

...one who knows all 't' tricks 't' keep EVERYBODY in 't' dark! Who?

A deceptive, non-communicative, tricky lawyer. Do! really need give you 't' man's name?

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Wall-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen area
- Helpant range, refrigerator, garbage disposal
- Individually-controlled air conditioning
- Large swimming pool Central laundry facilities

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished $135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished ... $149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished $160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished ... $185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm... or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT . . .

Country Club APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

Video Tape Committee

by jon green

Video tape is a relatively new and exciting medium with many possibilities. Realizing this, a video tape committee has been formed.

With a grant from SGA, the committee has purchased a video tape player and monitor (a television set with minor modifications), joined the Video Tape Network, and set up plans for programming on campus.

The first program, REEF-ER MADNESS, is a hilarious piece of anti-marijuana propaganda made in the 1930's. The comedy classic will be shown every day in the Pub and several nights at the dorm the week that we return from Christmas vacation.

VTN sends video tape programs at a special discount to member campuses, but this will not be the only source of programs. Tapes may also be obtained from other schools where students have made their own.

This is probably the most exciting aspect of video-tape the ability, with relatively simple equipment, to make one's own programs of any type - instructive, dramatic, comedic.

The video-tape committee needs members. No previous experience is required and the equipment is simple to operate. If you wish to join, see Ms. Linda Moore in her office in the Pub.

In any case, we hope you enjoy REEFER MADNESS. It seems to have almost universal appeal.

THE NAVY

has a job
for you.

As a matter of fact,
he's got over 300 jobs for you.

Jobs in computer technology and electronics and nuclear science and aviation mechanics. Jobs that can help you go places while you're in the Navy and when you get out.

Jobs that give you a chance to travel, to make good money (today's sailor is the best paid in history), to make a life for yourself. To see if you qualify, to find out if you've got what it takes to make it in the New Navy, call or see

U.S. Navy Recruiting
Branch station
Browning Plaza #2
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N.C.
Ph. 919-799-2216

Be someone special
in The New Navy.

Phone: 791-50791

FULL LINE OF PARTY COMPLIMENTS

Domestic & Imported Wines & Beers Cocktail Mixes
Fancy Foods Beer by the Keg

PARTY DELIGHTS

Community Shopping Center on Oleander Drive Across from Cape
Fear Ford and 17th Street Extension next to New Hanover Hospital

NOBODY'S PERFECT

Each one of us is a mixture of good qualities and some perhaps not so good qualities. In considering our fellowman we should remember his good qualities and realize that his faults only prove that he is, after all, a human being. We should refrain from making harsh judgements of a person just because he happens to be a dirty, rotten no-good son-of-a-bitch!

GOING MY WAY?

Mrs. Dorothea Ashley of Mockingbird Lane (1 block off 132 - easy access) needs a ride to UNC-W MWF around 8:30. She will pay the driver, and will return home whenever she can find a ride back. If interested, call 791-1736.

Shoney's

"HOME OF THE BIG BOY"

4010 MARKET STREET

Complete Menu

"GO ORDER ANYTIME"

OPEN

7 am - 11 pm Sun-Thurs

7 am - 1 am Fri & Sat

Try Our Strawberry Pie

freshman seahawk

university of north carolina-wilmington

SPECIAL EDITION EXCLUSIVELY FOR FRESHMEN

January 7 - 8

UNC-W ORIENTATION

WELCOME FRESHMEN

Freshman

Sophomore

Junior

Senior

Graduate

COLLEGE: where you gain direction

-Western Graphic
(CPS)

SEAHAWK rewards staff with scholarships

Run on "student power," the staff of the SEAHAWK newspaper likes to think that the campus paper is the voice of the students at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

However, the staff could be wrong, and that is why we employ the "open door" policy: our door is always open and our ears are always ready to take on the ideas, dreams, beliefs and even criticisms of the student body.

With a remarkably small staff, the newspaper manages to come out and be distributed weekly. Persons with or without a flair for art, writing, photography, design are asked to come by and contribute what they can. There are always openings on the staff, and our outstanding staff members are rewarded with a scholarship.

Through advertising, the students at the university receive special discounts and deals from the local advertisers. In the first edition of the newspaper students will find a coupon entitling them to free food.

The advertising manager, Barry

Asbury, spends time, effort and money locating the businesses around the area that welcome students and are ready to assist them. Other staff members, Beth Hicks, the editor; Neal Huntley, Nauma Dozier, Roberta Allred, J. K. Muhleman, Robert Maxey, sports editor; Alan Murphy, business manager; Marion Gibson, Anne Nesbitt, artist;

Darlene Pearsall, Rocky Lane Moore, Sharon Davis, and our advisor, Ms. Linda Moore, all work diligently to produce an effective, outstanding and news-worthy weekly campus newspaper.

Come by and see us.

"REEFER MADNESS" aired this week

Video tape is a relatively new and exciting medium possessing a large number of possibilities. Realizing this, a video tape committee has been organized on campus.

With a grant from the Student Government Association, the committee has purchased a video tape player and monitor, (a television set with minor modifications), joined the Video Tape Network and set up plans for programming on campus.

"REEFER MADNESS, the first program, is a hilarious piece of anti-marijuana propaganda produced in the 1930's. The comedy classic will be shown every day in the Pub and several nights at the Residence Hall during the week students return from the holidays.

Video tape programs are sent to the university from VTN at a special discount to member campuses, however this will not be the only source of programs for viewing. Tapes are also obtainable from other schools where students have advanced to making their own shows.

This is probably the most exciting aspect of video tape: the ability, with relatively simple equipment, to make programs of any sort - instructive, dramatic, comedic.

The committee needs members. No previous experience is needed, and the equipment is simple to operate. If interested in joining, contact Ms. Moore, Director of Student Activities, in her office in the Pub.

In any case, it is hoped that the student body will get a kick out of REEFER MADNESS; it seems to have universal appeal.

if you get hurt

In case of an emergency at the university between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Monday through Friday, the university nurse should be contacted at extension 339. Ms. Hood's office is located adjacent to the main lobby of the residence hall.

At all other times, the Wilmington Health Associates should be contacted at 763-8251. These doctors are on contract with UNC-W.

Of course, in case of serious injury, requiring immediate attention, the injured person should be taken to New Hanover Memorial Hospital as quickly as possible. A private car, UNC-W campus security vehicle or the Rescue Squad can be contacted for aid. Be sure to call the Wilmington Health Associates and ask that a physician meet the student at the emergency room. Otherwise, an emergency room fee will be charged.

Bookstore offers all school supplies, gifts, magazines

The University Bookstore, located in the Student Services Building, (Pub) stocks required textbooks, varied interest books, art and general school supplies, as well as examination blue books, Campus clothing and gift items are also available. The bookstore is open between the hours of 8 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., Monday - Friday.

Upon presentation of a University I.D. card, the bookstore will cash small checks for students.

Grade reports mailed

Grade reports at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington are mailed to students and to the parents of students under 18 years of age at the end of each semester.

Campus radio underway

Currently under development at the university is a campus radio station. Although just in the "planning stages," there is a good idea of what the station will be like. Ideally, if all goes well, the station will be a high-power FM stereo station.

Built under a grant from Health, Education and Welfare, the radio station will be a public broadcasting station. During the day the program will consist of public service announcements and public affairs shows, but in the evenings - only the best in listening music.

Within the next few months, the station hopes to be on the air on limited power, however, full-scale operation is probably a year off. Nevertheless, help is needed. If you can type, or would like to find out about being station personnel, contact Mark Silver or call 256-2377.

55 agencies seek eager volunteers

Want to do "something?"
Want to grow, not just exist?
Want to help people?
Want help deciding on a career?

"A large amount of time is not required," stresses Ms. Moore. "As little as an hour a week, for instance, would be most welcome. Campus clubs or organizations could arrange a one-time project to suit members' needs and interests.

Check out the variety of opportunities available by contacting Ms. Moore in her office in the Pub, or by calling Mrs. Sue Colson, Director of the Voluntary Action Center, 814 First Unitary Action Center, 814 First Union Building, 762-9611.

These questions and many others may be answered with involvement in a volunteer program. Approximately 55 area agencies have requested help in a vast assortment of situations. Whether you decide to assist the handicapped, elderly or children, to work with a group or just one individual, to be an assistant or leader, to help with academics or recreational activities: the choice is yours.

Working in conjunction with the downtown Lower Cape Fear Voluntary Action Center, Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, is able to give students detailed information on opportunities in and around Wilmington.

Library emphasizes service to students

Service to students is emphasized at the William Madison Randall Library, a spacious and inviting facility, which opened in January '69. To serve the students by providing material supportive to their individual study programs and to help them develop skill in using the library resources are the primary goals of the library staff.

With a seating capacity of 600 spaced throughout the comfortable, two-story building, the floor plan is designed in such a way as to create an appealing atmosphere in which the readers and books are pleasantly intermingled. In addition to traditional seating, numerous individual seating and study carrels are provided, as well as small group study rooms and comfortable lounge furniture.

Copying service is available through two coin-operated copiers - one for duplicating printed matter, and the other for processing microfilm. Another feature of the building is a listening center, available for classroom assignments or for personal use.

The library collections, growing rapidly, now total over 100,000 volumes with more than 50,000 government documents and a variety of periodicals and indexes. Staff members are eager to answer questions and to assist students in gaining maximum benefit from library resources.

chess is on the rise!

Formed during the fall semester, the Chess Club's membership is open to all students and the faculty at the university. Purpose of the organization is to engender a greater appreciation of the game and to sponsor tournaments with other schools.

Having applied for affiliation with the Inter-Collegiate Chess League of America and the United States Chess Federation, the group plans to be in shape for competitive play this semester. Interclub games are played weekly.

Students interested in joining need not be chess "experts," as one of the functions of the club is to develop playing expertise. Dates of club meetings will be posted weekly on the bulletin board and published in the newspaper.

freshman seahawk

the freshman seahawk is published especially for freshman orientation by the unc-w student affairs staff.

this issue was compiled and coordinated by ms. linda moore, director of student activities, and edited by kathl beall, mast head design by bert beall. seahawk editor, assisted by

Financial Aid Office provides money for students' education

There are many different ways a student can earn money for his education. Larry Crowder, the Student Financial Aid Director, is the best source for this information. He has ideas as well as application blanks for the aid programs listed below. Stop in and see Mr. Crowder any time!

SCHOLARSHIPS: Scholarship awards are given to students who demonstrate financial need, character, leadership and scholarship. These awards may be made by the institutions or by outside organizations. Several student positions on the SEAHAWK and FLEDGLING staffs and in the Student Government are rewarded by scholarships.

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY GRANTS: Educational Opportunity Grants provide financial aid to students of exceptional financial need, who, for lack of financial means of their own or of their families, would be unable to enter or remain in this institution without assistance. Students who qualify may be eligible for a grant of up to $1000 per year.

NATIONAL DEFENSE STUDENT loans: Students who can demonstrate financial need and who are taking at least half - time course loads may borrow up to $1000 each academic year up to $5000. The repayment and interest periods begin nine months after a student ends his studies. The loan bears interest at three per cent per year. Prior to graduation or other discontinuation of studies, borrowers in the program are expected to have exit interviews with the Financial Aid office to establish a repayment schedule.

BASIC OPPORTUNITY GRANTS: The Basic Opportunity Grant Programs, more commonly known as Basic Grants, is a new program of student financial aid. This program provides for grants of $1400 (less the expected family contribution) for all eligible students to assist them in meeting educational costs.

In order for a student to receive a Basic Grant, he must have been accepted for enrollment in, or be in good standing at, an eligible institution of higher education. Also, he must be enrolled on at least a half-time basis.

Applications for the Basic Grant may be obtained in the Department of Financial Aid or from a high school guidance counselor. Instructions and some program regulations and procedures can be found in the application.

COLLEGE WORK-STUDY: Students from low - income families are eligible to apply for employment in on-campus jobs under federal work-study programs. Students may work up to fifteen hours weekly while attending classes full-time. Summer employment is also provided off-campus for students who show evidence of financial need. The student is expected to save 80 per cent of his earnings for college expenses during the following year.

COLLEGE FOUNDATION, INC.: Under the Federal Guaranteed Loan, North Carolina students are eligible to borrow up to $7500 for undergraduate study and this maximum may be extended to $10,000 for those who wish to borrow for graduate and professional study. The annual percentage rate is seven per cent simple interest. Upon termination of enrollment, each borrower is allowed at least nine months grace before repayment begins.

PROSPECTIVE TEACHER LOANS: Recipients are eligible to receive $600

per academic year when enrolled in a full-time teacher education program. Repayment may be made by teaching in North Carolina schools after graduation. Application must be made by March 1 of the year of expected fall enrollment.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT: Students may apply for employment on-campus under state-supported work assistance programs. Students may work up to ten hours weekly under these programs if they are enrolled full-time.

ATHLETIC AWARDS: Athletic awards in varying amounts are available to qualified students who participate in intercollegiate basketball and baseball. For information, see the Director of Athletics.

For information on all aspects of financial aid, Crowder is the man to see.

WORKING TOGETHER TO AID THE INCOMING TRANSFERS AND FRESHMEN is the student affairs staff pictured at the left. They are, left to right, Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities; Ralph Parker, Dean of Students (men); William Williams, Head Resident in Residence Hall; Dr. Darwin Newton, Director of the Counseling and Testing Center; Dr. William Malloy, Vice-Chancellor of Student Affairs; Dr. James Slager, Psychological Counselor and Asst. Professor of Psychology; Mrs. Helena Cheek, Dean of Students (women); and Larry Crowder, Director of Financial Aid.

Use of computing center urged for individual, classes

The Computing Center, located on the second floor of Hoggard Hall, is equipped with a high-speed multi-leaving terminal transmitting at 600 cards per minute and receiving at 600 lines per minute. A card punch and a plotter are also attached. The UNC-W terminal is connected to the Triangle Universities Computation Center by a dedicated telephone circuit.

The university has access to the full resources of TUCS's IBM 370/165 computer, including two million bytes of core storage and 800 million bytes of online storage. In addition, TUCS has 8 setup disk drives and five tape units. This system supports all standard languages and many special purpose processors.

The university has several conversational terminals located on campus that are connected to TUCS through a unique software interface. CPS, BASIC and APL are available to faculty and students through these machines.

The university encourages the use of the center for individual and class projects. Key punches, references material and assistance are available to students and faculty in the User Room.

The Computing Center has a Xerox copy service available to all faculty and students. Material to be copied should be left with the Dispatcher in the User Room.

Career, placement services available to students

The Career Planning and Placement Office, located in Room 113 of the Administration Building is designed to assist students in identifying and implementing their career goals from the freshman year through graduation.

This office also co-ordinates and arranges job interviews between seniors and employer representatives that are scheduled for campus visitations. If there is a particular company or firm that is not scheduled to send a representative to the campus, upon the request of students, efforts will be made to contact that particular employer. Therefore, seniors interested in securing employment should contact this office early in the academic year and make appointments for job interviews.

Employment opportunities for other students at the University are also available through this office ranging from part-time to full-time positions. Students that are interested in gaining employment should register with the office, listing the type of work desired, special skills, qualifications and hours available for work.

Office serves vets

Office for veterans' affairs, located in room 113 of the Alderman Administration Building, will be set up in the gymnasium to certify veterans and the dependents of veterans during registration on January 7 and 8.

In order to receive benefits, veterans must apply each academic term for which they are registered. Veterans are also reminded that it is their sole responsibility to contact the campus office in case of any change in their academic standing.

The FLEDGLING lives!

The story you are about to read is true. The names have been changed to protect the innocent. My name is Darlene Pearsall. I work for the FLEDGLING.

At the beginning of the academic year, if you will recall, the yearbook staff was reported to be in complete havoc. Now, however, I am happy to report that after working seriously for more than a semester, the staff is no longer in complete havoc. It's only in half-a-havoc.

The staff is interested in finding new people and new ideas in order to complete the annual. The office is located upstairs in the Pub - we haven't been evicted yet. If you would like to join the staff, donate ideas, take pictures or just be a nag, let us know. Leave your name, finger prints or a lock of hair in the office, and we'll hunt you down. Past experience in the field is not needed. All we require is that you know how to read, write and count to ten.

Our fearless leader is Tom Buttkie. (He has a long list of other aliases, but I won't list those.) We have two photographers, Nick Lanier and Galen Harris. You've probably seen them roaming around campus; look out! The cameras are always loaded. They specialize in porno pics, but the staff is trying to mend their ways so that the annual will receive a GP rating.

The rest of the staff is equally as deranged: Carolyn Bordeaux, Woody Deyton, Sheila Covil, Pam Gurganous, Keith Hales, Debra Lewis and Cheryl Brown.

Stop by the office anytime - day or night. We won't be there anytime - day or night - but stop by anyway. Don't worry - we don't charge admission.

UNC - W*

 a school of many facets...

University of North Carolina

at Wilmington

CAMPUS MAP

Randall Library
Herman Administration Building
Student Services Building (Gymnasium)

Music Hall
Physics Building
Menan Memorial Auditorium

Chemistry Building
Life Sciences Building

Parking lots shown as shaded areas

SNA broadens nursing experience

The Student Nurse Association of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington was organized in the fall of 1967 and became a member of the Student Nurse Association of North Carolina. The purpose of SNA is to

PE Majors' club active

Open to all physical education majors, the Physical Education Majors' Club enables students to become more familiar with and to take part in the state and national physical education associations, and through club activities grow professionally. See Butch McDaniels, president, or Dr. Miller in the physical education department for more information.

Karate Club objective told

The objective of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington Motoburyu Karate Club shall be "to promote and encourage the continued practice of the Motoburyu style of instruction, to maintain a high degree of professionalism in the martial art of karate, to discourage karate styles which do not maintain a high degree of professionalism, to instill in its members a spirit of effort, to cultivate sincerity, to respect courtesy, and to develop men strong in body, mind, and heart through the true spirit of the art—SELF DEFENSE. Any major who meets school requirement for enrollment is eligible for membership. There shall be admission periods at the beginning of each semester.

Some of the activities of the club have included a "Get-Acquainted Party" given by second year students to honor the freshmen students, caroling at Christmas time at New Hanover Memorial Hospital and attendance at the state convention in Winston-Salem.

In 1969 the SNA initiated the Big Sister Program for freshmen nursing students. The objective was to give encouragement to each little sister and to help make the nursing program more than attending classes and working in the hospital.

through the true spirit of the art—SELF DEFENSE. Any major who meets school requirement for enrollment is eligible for membership. There shall be admission periods at the beginning of each semester.

The Student North Carolina Association of Educators is the professional association for college and university students preparing to teach. The responsibility of the Student NCAE program is to provide opportunities for (1) personal and professional growth, (2) development of leadership skills; (3) understanding of the history, ethics,

APO is fraternity with 'real meaning'

Alpha Phi Omega is the National Service Fraternity for college and university men. Its purpose is "to assemble college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop

Alpha Chi Sigma

serves UNC-W

Alpha Chi Sigma is the oldest women's organization on the campus of UNC-W. Alpha Chi serves the University and the community in various ways. Members serve at teas, host receptions, act as guides and ushers, as well as assist Alpha Phi Omega with several projects.

Although Alpha Chi Sigma's main purpose is to serve, it also offers many chances for socializing. Dinners, dances, and beach parties with Alpha Phi Omega all help to make a well rounded program.

Membership is by application and all members must maintain a "C" average or better to qualify.

SNCAE provides growth opportunities

and programs at local, state and national levels, and (4) participation in professional activities at local, state, and national levels.

Leadership, to promote Friendship, to provide Service to humanity, and to further the freedom that is our national, educational and intellectual heritage." Upsilon Nu Chapter at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington received its charter in May, 1969.

Alpha Phi Omega's well rounded program of service projects, as well as social events, makes it a fraternity with real meaning. The last two years have found the fraternity engaging in a local "Rock-A-Thon" producing money for Easter Seals. Previously our A.P.O. branch has given its services to obtain finances for some new books for the UNC-W library. Among the social highlights of the year are the chapter banquets and parties.

Membership in Alpha Phi Omega shall be open to men of all races, colors, creeds, irrespective of their course of study or other fraternal affiliation, upon the approval of the respective college chapter and after fulfilling the membership requirements prescribed by the National Fraternity and by that chapter.

I.D.'s needed

STUDENT IDENTIFICATION CARDS WILL BE MADE ONLY ON JANUARY 7 - 11 FROM 8 A.M. - 5 P.M. IN THE STUDENT AFFAIRS OFFICE, 113 OF THE ALDERMAN ADMINISTRATION BUILDING.

THESE I. D. CARDS ARE MANDATORY FOR CHECKING OUT BOOKS FROM THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY, FOR ADMITTANCE TO BASKETBALL GAMES AND ALL OTHER SPORTS, FOR CAMPUS ELECTIONS, THE BOOKSTORE AND STUDENT ACTIVITIES SUCH AS DANCES AND CONCERTS. IF YOU LIVE IN THE DORM YOU WILL NEED THE I. D. FOR THE CAFETERIA.

FUTURE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL teachers taught special classes during the afternoons for local children with reading problems. They learned by teaching and were rewarded as they watched the children's progress.

TKE oldest social frat

Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity is the oldest social fraternity on campus. Our international fraternity has over 300 chapters with many in North Carolina, including one at nearby Pembroke State.

Our chapter, Mu Chi, is very sports

'Pub' serves student needs

Governed by the Student Government and the Director of Student Activities, the "Pub" is a flexible, multi-purpose building here to serve student needs. It contains the Bookstore and the offices of the Student Government Association, ATLANTIC, FLEDGLING, SEAHAWK, and the Director of Student Activities.

Two recreation areas provide room for meetings, parties, and casual get-togethers. Pool, ping-pong, television, foosball, chess, and checkers are available, along with a stereo system to play records or tapes brought in.

Several bulletin boards, a display case, and club mailboxes provide a means of communication.

conscious, and very active in school functions. Programs for the year include campouts, a ski weekend, beach weekend, water skiing parties, cook-outs, concerts and band parties.

The brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon invite all men and women to come by our houses at 4505 and 4507 Wrightsville Avenue and live with the men of TEKE.

2nd year for History club

The History Club is in its second year of existence at UNC-W. The purpose of the club is to engender greater interest in history and its values among students, history majors and non-history majors, through a program of lectures, field trips and other activities. Membership is open to all students at UNC-W.

Wantu Wazuri welcomes freshmen

The Wantu Wazuri club of the University of N. C. at Wilmington, expresses a most sincere welcome to all incoming new students. We would invite you to become a part of our organization.

Our purpose is to provide Representation for Blacks on campus, to promote cultural programming which would add to the general cultural atmosphere of our campus and promote social entertainment.

We are looking forward to meeting you in the near future. Drop in on the club meetings every Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. in the Kenan Building, room 121.

Jacqueline McCrae
President
Carolyn Harrington
Sec.

Psych meetings feature programs

The purpose of the Psychology Club is to further the interest of psychology. In connection with this aim, the meetings feature programs with invited guest speakers.

At present, membership in the club is open to those students who are interested in the field of psychology.

One of the important projects is to help build up the selection of psychological periodicals in the Randall Library.

NOT ALL CAMPUS LIFE IS STUDY! STUDY! STUDY! as obviously portrayed by these students enjoying an evening of friends, fun and a six-pack in the Residence Hall on a Saturday evening.

Debaters participate, sponsor tournaments

Giving students experience in public speaking, argumentation and research, the University Debate Team participates in a number of tournaments each year, and during the spring hosts a tournament for high school debaters.

Financed through the Student Government Association, the debate team has openings for novice or experienced debaters. Membership is open to all students with no experience necessary. Contact Betty Jo Welch in room 201 of the Kenan Building.

Soc majors urged to join

The purpose of the Sociology Club is to further the interest of Sociology, with particular emphasis on perspective sociology majors. The club will also serve as a means for students to learn about post-graduate opportunities and to acquaint themselves with the various aspects of sociology, sociological research, and sociological applications.

Panhellenic coordinates campus women's frats

The UNC-W Panhellenic Association wishes to extend a hearty welcome to all incoming students. The Association is made up of the two campus letter women's fraternities, Zeta Tau Alpha (ZTA) and Phi Mu (OM). Through Panhellenic, both sororities coordinate their common activities and regulations to promote their aims and interests.

Zeta Tau Alpha is an international women's fraternity, founded in 1898. Zeta Tau chapter here at UNC-W became affiliated nationally in 1969 and has gained much recognition since. Not only are there service projects, but also social, both of which can bring much personal satisfaction.

Phi Mu Fraternity was the first local women's fraternity on campus.

Love, honor, and truth are the ideals of Phi Mu and these qualities are exemplified by the sisters on campus.

Chemistry club welcomes members

The Chemistry Club is composed of all interested UNC-W students. Its purpose is to help students learn about post-graduate opportunities and acquaint them with the various aspects of chemistry: chemical research, and chemical applications. Last year '72-'73 interested students observed the practical aspects of chemistry through tours of local plant facilities, including Hercules and the General Electric Co.

Project Hope is the national philanthropy of Phi Mu. Our 'Washboard Band' is very unique and does its share in raising funds for the project's ship, the HOPE.

Sigma Alpha Beta operates as a business corporation

Sigma Alpha Beta, only professional fraternity on campus, was organized in the spring of '73. The fraternity is seeking affiliation with Delta Sigma Pi, an international professional business fraternity.

To help members develop professionalism and to help members understand the organization of a large business are the purposes of the fraternity. Two meetings are held per school month; a breakfast or dinner meeting paid for from fraternity fund funds, held on the second Tuesday of the month, and the other meeting being held on the fourth Thursday of each month at 11:30 a.m. in room 112 of the Issac Bear Hall to conduct business. The dinner meetings feature a guest speaker from the financial community.

The annual calendar for the group includes workshops for the university community, a couple of social events and participation in intramurals. The activities are planned so that members will be better prepared for their respective careers. The organizational structure of the fraternity is patterned after a large corporation and the fraternity is operated in a business-like manner.

Working as a member of Sigma Alpha Beta prepares business stud-

The Panhellenic Council will sponsor a booth in the dorm lobby Sunday and Wednesday nights. Please come and have your questions answered. Get to know your sororities.

ents to function in the business community. Membership is open to all students pursuing a career in business, have attained 27 hours of university credit and have a 2.5 quality point average.

Anyone planning to seek a career in business is encouraged to consider joining Sigma Alpha Beta. As graduation approaches and job prospects arise, extra curricular activities will become important. Prospective employers will ask about college activities.

Since Sigma Alpha Beta is a business fraternity, we all have something in common, so let's get together and talk over the advantages of being a member of the fraternity.

Students given free medical treatments

Open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. - 2 p.m., the Student Health Center has a family nurse practitioner, Ms. Hood, at disposal, and a physician is on call 24 hours a day.

Students enrolled for five or more credit hours per semester is eligible for treatment of illness or any type problems. The center is located adjacent to the main lobby of the residence hall.

Free counseling, testing center assists students with questions

Counseling and Testing services are available to all University of North Carolina at Wilmington students without charge. Counseling is designed to assist students who have questions concerning their educational - vocational training or problems which prevent them from realizing their potential. Counseling involves confidential interviews with a professional counselor and use of psychological tests when appropriate.

Appointments for interviews may be made by visiting the Center in Room 217 of the Administration Building or by phoning ext. 242.

The Counseling and Testing Center also administers group testing programs. These include entrance exams, freshman tests, placement tests and tests required by professional and graduate schools.

Delta Upsilon goes national

Delta Upsilon, formerly known as Delta Epsilon, has made great strides this year. With installation imminent and affiliation with a great international fraternity certain, the fraternity is planning to spend several thousand dollars in the process for a band and formal dinner affair. This is the result of six years of hard work on the part of the brotherhood.

Delta Upsilon Fraternity has sought to help the school grow as it has also grown this past year. Over $300. was raised for the outdoor bulletin board for the campus by the group and seven other organizations and clubs. Additionally, the little sisters of DU are equally as active having had a party for underprivileged children on Halloween.

Community service is not a priority, although DU's pledge themselves to one project per semester. The organization is at first a social fraternity with the attributes as such. Many different people find fulfillment in the DU brotherhood. Some find challenges in leadership and others simply find lifetime friendships.

Meetings are formal and by-laws are strict. DU does not hide behind veils of secrecy, however, meetings are closed. Any brother will proudly relay the history of the fraternity to any interested persons.

Delta Upsilon does not consider itself the answer to world problems, but the organization is concerned with what it can offer a student in the way of broadening his education. A college education, important as it is, is no substitute for experience in dealing with people in a social setting. Ask any fraternity brother.

The fraternity is glad to be joining the two other fraternities as a full-fledged chartered fraternity. It is proud of the fraternal tradition that has preceded it as exemplified by the other fraternities, and it will welcome new charter groups to petition on campus that follow in DU's wake.

This does not alter the fact that the brothers of Delta Upsilon are consciously aware of the university's coming of age, and we are schooling our members to take a leading role in making the University of North Carolina at Wilmington a school to be proud of and respected.

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

LOCATED IN HINTON-JAMES BLDG.

8a.m. - 3:30p.m.

•textbooks

•supplies

UNC-W imprinted
gifts & clothing

Boone functions as religious outreach

Milton Boone is Campus Minister at UNC-W as a Christian resource person to students, faculty and staff. Working through a board of directors known as United Christian Campus Ministry, Boone functions as an outreach of the churches in the Wilmington area challenging people to live out the Christian Gospel in an academic community.

Our minister is a listener who shares your religious interests and personal concerns with understanding. He is on campus Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays.

He has no office to hide him, and functions best on the sidewalk, under a tree or behind a cup of coffee. He'd like to meet you.

REV. MILTON BOONE, minister on campus Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, doesn't hide behind an office door.

Wind ensemble lends instrumental experience

The Wind Ensemble is organized each semester in order to provide instrumental music experience for those students who desire it. Membership is open to any student who has had instrumental experience, with the approval of the director, and any participant may earn credit. The Wind Ensemble and its smaller ensembles regularly provide music for University functions, civic groups, church groups, and radio and television.

Participation by non-music majors may be supplemented by private lessons, also for credit. Participation in either a vocal or instrumental organization is required of all music majors.

The University Wind Ensemble presents at least two concerts a year and participates in the large stage productions of the Music and Drama Departments.

Faculty and student recitals and special senior recitals are presented by the music department free of charge. The public, and especially all students, are invited to attend.

PE Dept. sponsors men's, women's intramurals

The Physical Education Department organizes and administers the intramural activities for both men and women each semester. This past year, competition was open in frisbee tossing, surfing, and horseshoe throwing, as well as the usual campus sports. Watch for the announcements!

COUNCIL REGULATES FRATERNITY ACTIVITIES

The Inter-Fraternity Council is a coordinating body composed of representatives from the three general fraternities on campus. It has the responsibility of regulating rush, pledging, membership, and other areas where all fraternities are directly involved and representing the interest of members before the administration.

The I.F.C. also organizes athletic competition, joint parties, and sponsors trophies in athletics and scholarship.

Club encourages interest in math

The purpose of the Mathematics Club is to encourage greater interest in mathematics and its values among students, regardless of major, through a program of lectures, films, and other activities. The Club is also designed to create a closer fellowship among those students and faculty who have similar interests in Math. Membership is open to all UNC-W students, alumni, faculty, and staff.

Pi Kappa Phi prides itself in being a 'very personal fraternity'

The brothers of Pi Kappa Phi wish to extend a cordial welcome to all new students, both freshmen and transfers, at UNC-W. We hope that you will consider Pi Kappa Phi as well as the other fraternities when you return in the fall.

Pi Kappa Phi National Fraternity was founded on December 10, 1904 at the College of Charleston in Charleston, South Carolina. The national headquarters are in Charlotte, North Carolina with chapters throughout the United States.

The UNC-W chapter, Gamma Theta, was installed on February 28, 1968, the first national fraternity on campus. Since then, the Gamma Theta has twice received Pi Kappa Phi's highest chapter award, Grand Master Chapter. Scholarships, Pi Kappa Phi have won three of the last four IFC scholastic trophies. Athletically, the Gamma Theta Raiders have excelled in both IFC and intramural sports. Pi Kappa Phi serve the community through their annual Christmas and Easter parties for underprivileged children. Social activities include Beach Weekend at Ocean Drive, Rose Ball, and Ma Keel party.

While a closely-knit group of people, Pi Kappa Phi prides itself in being "a very personal fraternity". The Pride of the South invites you to come by the house at 122 Yorktown Dr. or call 762-9422. We wish you well at UNC-Wilmington!

Orchestra gives four concerts

The UNC-W Community Orchestra seeks to give citizens as well as students the opportunity to use their musical talents in a cooperative endeavor. Four concerts are given during the school year.

Rehearsals are held each Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 9:30. UNC-W students receive on credit hour per semester. Interested students should contact William Adcock in Kenan Hall, Room 116, for information on auditions.

Varsity games free

The University competes each year in soccer, basketball, baseball, golf, tennis, and wrestling. Baseball games are played at Brook's Field and basketball games are played in Hanover Hall.

All regularly enrolled students of the University who have paid the appropriate general fee are admitted without charge to all regular varsity games. Students are urged to support the University teams by attending home games and matches and sitting in the regular cheering section.

Health coverage recommended

Anyone not having health and accident insurance is strongly urged to consider the coverage plan available under the Student Hospitalization and Surgical Insurance Plan. All students are eligible to participate, at a cost of $18.00 per half year, and receive coverage 24 hours a day through August 1974. Applications are available in the Student Affairs Office in room 113 of the Alderman Administration Building.

Singers earn credit in vocal ensembles

The University of North Carolina at Wilmington Mixed Chorus is organized each semester in order to provide vocal musical experience for those students who desire it. Membership is open to any student in the University, with the approval of the director, and any participant may earn credit.

The University Mixed Chorus and its smaller ensembles regularly provide music for University functions, civic clubs, church groups, radio and television. The small ensembles or groups depend on the composition and interest of the complete mixed chorus.

Participation by non-music majors may be supplemented by private lessons also for credit. Participation in either a vocal or instrumental organization is required of all music majors.

The University Mixed Chorus presents at least two concerts a year and participates in the large stage productions of Music and Drama Departments. In addition, the University Mixed Chorus and its smaller groups have acted as ambassadors to many of the high schools in the surrounding area.

UNC-W BOASTS ACTION PACKED athletic seasons, be it soccer, wrestling, basketball, golf, or baseball.

Atlantis publishes student writing, art

Printed between the covers of the liberal arts magazine, the ATLANTIS, are short stories, poems, essays, art work and photography representative of the creative talents at the university.

In order to make the magazine truly representative of the wide spectrum on campus, there is a definite need for a large staff as well as a number of contributors. Anyone interested in any aspect of literature or art is more than qualified to work on the magazine. Contact Leigh Eaton, editor, in the ATLANTIS office or at her home.

Contributions, accepted at any time for consideration for the two yearly publications, should be brought by the office.

University Theatre trains students

The University Theatre is the producing unit of the Department of Drama and Speech. Its primary functions in the developing University atmosphere is to train students to utilize their abilities to the fullest of their potential in the production of theatre and to provide cultural experiences for the student body, the faculty, and the surrounding community.

This basic dual function is supported by a full season of plays encompassing all important genres of dramatic literature. The plays are open for all students and community participation but primary consideration is given to university students. Five major productions are planned for the academic year with the possibility of student production work supported as the demand arises.

The University Theatre, through faculty participation, is affiliated with The Carolina Dramatic Association, The North Carolina Theatre Association, The Southeastern Theatre Association, and The American Theatre Association.

The Theatre will present as major productions in the academic year 1973-74 the following plays:

All our plays exist for our students. The productions are open for any student to participate in any area. We want to welcome and encourage all new students to work with the University Theatre as either a participant or an audience.

Lost and Found

Lost and Found articles can best be located by checking with Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, in the Pub. Any article you find on campus should also be turned in to her office.

The Caretaker
"Studio 74"

mcu

seahawk

vol. XVI no. 16

January 9, 1974

twelve pages

Haaappy New Year!

WELCOME BACK ISSUE

inside

"REEFER MADNESS"

barbra streisand's zany flick!

blood, sweat & tears concert

cures for the dorm blues

N.C. GOV'T INTERNS

SPORTS SCOOP: mike cherry biking 'cross campus, cross-country

On other college campuses

Professor's "notes" aid students in courses

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (IP)--The "Fog 'n Grog" is more than San Francisco's newest beer establishment; it is the first on-sale beer hall on a college campus in the state. The preceeding-setting beer license for the University of San Francisco facility was granted in May.

Approval for the taproom ended more than five years of negotiation between the university and the Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission. Counting the graduate and law schools, nearly half of the beer hall's customers are eligible drinkers 21 years or older. At 30 cents a glass, the "Fog 'n Grog" hopes to attract many of the students in for an occasional beer and a rap with professors.

The administration views the beer establishment as an incentive for commuter students to stay on campus "to enjoy some of the extras that go with a good education -- meeting more people, getting to know them better, and a chance to get in on campus activities.

The original aim was a campus facility that could serve all ages as a place of entertainment, a meeting room and a snack bar -- as well as offering beer and wine to adults. The ABC reacted unfavorably to such an open arrangement first proposed in 1968. A less ambitious proposal won approval: the establishment can serve only beer, no wine; allow no beverages to leave the premises; admit persons only over 21; ask for $1.00 D's and post a responsible adult at the door at all times.

In addition, the university has agreed to furnish students over 21 with special identification cards. Students and faculty have been advised of the legal requirements and the penalties for non-compliance.

Beer keeps commuters on campus for activities

DETROIT, Mich. (IP)--Note taking in complicated technical courses is being made easier for students through the use of "textnotes" (a system of semi-completed notes for a course), developed by Dr. C. F. Miranda, Acting Dean of the University of Detroit's College of Engineering.

Dr. Miranda has taken the notes for his class in systems engineering which had no commercial textbook, placed them in a looseleaf binder and struck out key words, phrases and examples. By leaving out these passages, the system forces students to come to class for information attainable nowhere else and data that is sure to show up on an examination.

The professor has found that by giving the student a complete set of his notes for the course, the student tends to miss class periods because he has then a complete run-down of what the professor will have to say, and what to expect on the test. When a student is given no notes he easily becomes confused as he tries to make out sentences and draw complete, complicated graphs and charts while listening to the lecture. "Textnotes" provide students with basic material needed for effective note taking, such as the reference points for drawing up charts already written down and described.

The system has allowed Dr. Miranda to create a text for his students at a fraction of the cost of conventional books; the cost ranges from approximately $15.00 to $20.00 a book to about the considerable cheaper textnotes obtainable at $5.00 or $6.00.

The development of the textnotes occurred over the three past years. In planning the systems engineering course material, the professor wanted the students to be able to have the material he felt no textbooks could provide. His is a step towards reducing the cost of books, and being flexible enough that changes can be made and material added as new technologies or discoveries emerge. Dr. Miranda expects continual improvements of his textnotes through the reactions and comments of his students.

Chowan's female team captain: last resort?

(taken from the Star-News Newspaper)

MURFREESBORO-- Chowan College's soccer team, which has surprised itself by being fairly successful in competition in its first year of play, astonishes its competition with its international membership and its woman coach.

The players are from Africa, Iran, Korea and Venezuela, and the coach, a Chowan sophomore, Mrs. Clifton Alexander says she was accepted as a "last resort."

The team began with a group of students playing soccer on the front lawn of the college. Clifton and Ann Alexander of Hampton, Va., became fans of the informal play. It was suggested by Hector Cuellar of Bethel Park, Pa., a citizen of Colombia, South America, that the students organize themselves into a team. Chairman of the social science department, Warren Sexton, agreed to be the required faculty sponsor, but said he would need help due to his already heavy schedule.

Mrs. Alexander, assistant head resident of Belk Hall, a women's dormitory, volunteered to be the needed assistant; "I told them that I didn't know anything about soccer but was

"Frankly Speaking"

SEAHAWK newspaper rewards staff members

Working on the SEAHAWK newspaper has its advantages and its disadvantages. Run on "student power," the staff of the weekly publication likes to think that the campus paper is the voice of the students at the university.

However, the staff could be wrong. That is why the "open door" policy is employed by staff members who are always willing and ready to take on new ideas, dreams, beliefs and even swallow criticism.

With a remarkably small staff, the newspaper manages to come out on Wednesdays. Persons with a flair for writing, art, photography, design -- the desire to do something -- are asked to contribute what they can when they can. There are always openings on the staff, and outstanding staff members are rewarded with scholarships. No previous experience is needed.

Through advertising, the students at the university receive special discount ceive special discounts and deals from the local advertisers. In this issue is a coupon for free food. Other such discounts and deals are offered from time to time in the SEAHAWK.

Free counseling, testing center assists students with questions

Counseling and testing services are available to all students at the university without charge. Counseling is designed to assist students who have problems and questions concerning their education -- vocational training or problems which prevent them from realizing their full potential. Counseling involves confidential interviews with a professional counselor and the use of psychological tests when appropriate.

Appointments may be made by visiting the Counseling and Testing Center located in room 217 of the Alderman Administration building or by phoning extension 242.

The center also administers group testing programs which includes entrance examinations, freshman tests, placement tests and tests required by professional and graduate schools.

seahawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 791-8055.

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

editor: both hicks
associate editors: barry asbury,
j.k. muhleman
advertising director: barry asbury
business manager: alan murphy
sports editor: robert maxey
greek lines: rocky moore

photographic staff: roberta allred,
nauma dozier,
neal huntley
supportive staff: sharon davis,
anne nesbit,
darlene pearlsall
artwork: anne nesbit

in case...

In case of emergency at the university between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Monday through Friday, the university nurse, Mrs. Hood, should be contacted at extension 339. Her office is located adjacent to the main lobby of the residence hall.

At all other times, the Wilmington Health Associates should be contacted at the number 763-8251. These doctors are on contract with the university.

Of course, at all other times when the injured person needs immediate attention, he should be taken to New Hanover Memorial Hospital as quickly as possible. A private car, campus car or the Rescue Squad can be contacted for aid. Be sure to call the Wilmington Health Associates and ask that a physician meet the student at the emergency room. Otherwise, an emergency room will be used.

Free treatments

Open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. - 2 p.m., the Student Health Center, located adjacent to the main lobby of the residence hall, has a family nurse practitioner, Mrs. Hood, at disposal. A physician is on call 24 hours a day.

Students enrolled for five or more credit hours per semester are eligible for treatment of illness or any type problems.

I.D.'s mandatory

Student identification cards will only be made January 7 through 11 from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. in the Student Affairs Office, room 113 of the Alderman Administration Building.

These cards are mandatory for checking out books in the university library, admission to the basketball and all other games, cashing a check in the campus bookstore, eating in the cafeteria if you are a resident in the dorm, and to gain admission to student activities such as dances and concerts.

Grade reports mailed

Grade reports at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington are mailed to students and to the parents of students under 18 years of age at the end of each semester.

"HOW DO YOU LIKE THAT—WE'RE SAVING THE GUY FROM COMMIE TAKE-OVER AND ALL HE CAN THINK ABOUT IS HIS THERMOSTAT!"

SHORTS FROM CPS

Save $ on drugs; Xerox not a word; Nudity on radio; Nixon

Generic name cheap

Asking for a prescription drug by its generic name, instead of its brand name can result in considerable savings according to Public Communication reports.

An MD can write the prescription either way, but the brand name will usually cost more. For example, one drug used to reduce high blood pressure costs drug stores $4.50 under its brand name, yet only 99¢ under its generic name.

Ask the doctor to write the prescription using the generic term, and then request that the pharmacist fill the prescription with the lowest priced quality drug he or she can recommend.

Not even a word

In an attempt to avoid the word "xerox" being coined such as "kleenex" or "aspirin," the Xerox Corporation is running a series of advertisements cautioning people not to use "xerox" to mean any photocopy or photocopier.

"Despite what consumers might think, there is no such thing as a xerox," declares one such ad. "In other words, you can't make a xerox. You can't go to the xerox and you can't xerox anything, ever."

Marijuana-like plant might replace pulp

Among the list of materials in short supply, one of particular interest to journalists is the shortage of newsprint.

The current shortage began with a rail strike in Canada which stopped the flow of lumber from the northern part of the country. Gulfwood Pulp Association workers made the situation worse by going on strike for better working conditions. Many small paper mills in the U. S. and Canada have shut down because of stricter anti-pollution measures. The companies could not afford the equipment to reduce pollution.

Shortage cut back supplies to distributors to the level of two years ago, but due to the increasing demand, supply of newsprint is diminishing.

Researchers at the University of Florida, however, feel there is cause for hope in the long run. They are currently experimenting with a plant called "kenaf" which looks like marijuana, but does not possess the same effects.

Researchers claim that a crop of kenaf can produce five to seven times more pulp in a year than a conventional pine forest, and a new crop grows every year, rather than the 15 required for a pine tree.

143,000 live together

Eight times as many couples are living together today without being married as cohabited ten years ago, a study by the Census Bureau (population division), revealed. In 1970, 143,000 unmarried persons told the census takers they were living together with a partner of the opposite sex, compared with 17,000 in 1960.

Audio nudity

Rolling Stone magazine reports that Los Angeles radio station KFI is pyromusing no more "audio nudity."

The problem stems from a recent all night panel discussion. Host Hilly Rose took off his pants, guest Stanley Ross stripped to his shorts and socks, and panelists Patty Harrison and Robin Tyler completely disrobed. All the panelists described their state of undress, and several radios in the Los Angeles listening area turned blue as the KFI telephone got hot.

Pay in blood

Motorists who receive fines for traffic violations in Fayette Quarterly Court in Kentucky can pay in blood. The court offers people the option of donating a pint of blood instead of paying court costs.

Authors repudiate producer's claims

Authors of the non-fiction novel and film, Executive Action, Mark Lane and Donald Freed, have announced that the film's producer and the distributors were not speaking for them when they stated the film is "nothing more than entertainment" and "no reopening of the investigation is being sought."

Land and Freed stated, "We wrote this novel and screenplay in order to give a message of hope to the American public that the decade of lies and conspiracy is coming to an end. We are seeking the opening of an independent investigation into the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Our strategy includes publicity, teach-ins and the establishment of continuing investigation committees on campuses nationwide."

Working with author Norman Mailer and Washington attorney Bernard Fensterwald, the two authors plan to provoke official response by sending petitions and a fact sheet repudiating the Warren Commission's findings to members of the Congress.

the "getaway"

Johnny Carson claims he has the explanation for Nixon's order to close all service stations on Sunday... "That's the day he makes his getaway!"

"OLE TIME BARGAIN DAYS"

ARE HERE AGAIN.

EVERY

Friday & Saturday

12 oz Draught - 25¢

RAMADA INN

5001 MARKET STREET

interested in government?

Students apply for internships

RALEIGH -- Governor James Holshouser urged North Carolina college students interested in state government to apply for the 1974 State Government Summer Internship program.

For 11 weeks, the 24 selected interns will work in the state departments and learn about various aspects of the state government. Beginning on May 27, the program ends on August 9. Interns will be paid $120 a week, and will live together in housing on the North Carolina State University campus.

To be eligible for the intern program, applicants must (1) be residents of the state of North Carolina, (2) be currently enrolled in a college or university, and (3) have satisfactorily completed three years of college by June 1974.

The Governor noted that applications must be mailed to the Institute of Government by February 1. Applications may be obtained from college and university departmental and placement officials, local offices of the North Carolina Employment Security Commission, the State Personnel Office in Raleigh, and the Institute of Government in Chapel Hill. Brochures are also available describing the program.

To apply, complete one copy of the application obtainable through the mediums stated above; write a letter stating career plans, honors received, extracurricular activities in college, and the reasons for wishing to participate in such a program. Enclose a transcript of your college record.

interview by the advisory committee in Chapel Hill and upon academic records, participation in extracurricular activities and interest in state government.

Applicants for the program will be notified of their acceptance or rejection by March 30. Applications and supporting materials must be received by the Institute of Government in Chapel Hill by Feb. 1,

Interns are selected by an advisory council including appropriate government officials, college professors and former interns. Final selection will be based on an

"REEFER MADNESS" aired

"Reefer Madness," a hilarious piece of anti-marijuana propaganda produced in the 1930's will be shown in the Pub every day this week and several nights in the Residence Hall.

The comedy classic is the

Yes

Wachovia

first program to be shown using the university's newly acquired video tape equipment bought with a grant from the Student Government Association. The committee purchased a video tape player and monitor comparable to a television set with minor modifications.

Realizing that video tape is a relatively new and exciting medium possessing a large realm of possibilities, the committee has joined the Video Tape Network and has set up plans for programming on campus.

Video tapes are sent to the university from VTN at a special discount to member campuses, however, this will not be the only source of programs. Tapes are also obtainable from other schools where students have advanced to making their own programs.

This is probably the most exciting aspect of video tape: the ability, with relatively simple equipment, to produce programs of any sort - instructive, dramatic, comedic.

The committee needs members. No previous experience is needed, and the video tape player and monitor are easy to operate. Contact Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, in her office located in the Pub.

Caution: Smoking may be hazardous to your health...

Institute to be held in Washington in June

WASHINGTON--"The future of the United States -- European relations" will be the focus at the National Leadership Institute to be held the first week in June. The Institute, sponsored by Youth for the Federal Union, is open to all young Americans.

A group of distinguished speakers from the political, diplomatic and educational fields will guide institute participants in a series of debates, panel discussions and informal informative presentations. Workshops will develop skills to carry out community-level programs to encourage interest in U. S. - European affairs.

For further information, write:

Youth for Federal Union
1736 Columbia Road, N.W.
Washington, D. C.
20009

REAL director needed

REAL Crisis Intervention Incorporated, better known as REAL House, announced that as a result of funds appropriated by the North Carolina Drug Authority a position is open for the directorship at a salary of $500 per month. This is an important step for REAL House as they have been struggling to provide an essential service with a volunteer staff.

The director will be expected to provide some needed backbone and planning to insure that REAL House continues to serve the community in as large a capacity as possible. The director's manifold duties will include directing training, fund raising and public relations. Work and educational experience related to the general area of crisis intervention, that is, psychology, counseling, sociology, social work, etc., are preferred but not required. The position must be filled immediately.

Send inquiries and resumes to:

REAL
1310 Evans Street
Greenville, N. C.
27834

Phone: 919-758-4357.

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

Used books sold in Pub

Sponsored by the Business Club on campus, the used book store is in operation in room 109 of the Pub across from the Student Government Association office. The store will be open until Jan. 15 to assist students in buying and selling used books.

GOT YOUR Q. P. 's ?

To determine the quality point averages for a semester or for the total time at the university do the following:

Add the number of quality points earned so far; each letter grade represents a set number of points. At the university, the system is:

- A - 4 points
- B - 3 points
- C - 2 points
- D - 1 point
- F - 0 points

Divide by the total number of course hours taken.

Have it your way!

Come Before 11:30 a.m. and receive FREE FRIES
with the purchase of a WHOPPER & COKE!

BURGER KING

4404 Oleander Drive

COUPON!

BURGER KING

"OH, SWELL—DICK NIXON OF THE WASHINGTON REDSKINS AGAIN!"

SPORTS SCOPE: Cherry chosen p.o.t.w.*

*player of the week

PEMBROKE--Mike Cherry, UNC-W guard who hit an amazing 73.6 per cent of his field goal attempts (14 for 19) and scored 32 points in the Seahawks' surprising 83-63 crushing of Fayetteville State's defending CIAA champions recently, has been chosen as NAIA District 28 "Basketball Player of the Week."

Cherry, a 6 ft. 2 in. senior from Ahoskie, put on a left-handed shooting blitz at the start of the second half as UNC-W outscored the awestruck Broncos 16-4 to charge as much as a 30 point lead.

"Mike made his baskets both inside and outside in a terrific performance," praised Wilmington coach, Mel Gibson, who in his second season at the Seahawk helm piloted the university to its most impressive basketball win in at least six years.

Gibson recruited Mike Cherry as a junior college transfer from Mt. Olive last season, and Mike promptly made all-district. This year he has led the Seahawks to a perfect 2-0 start in district play, averaging 25.7 points a game and hitting 58 per cent of his total shots.

N.C. pitcher stunts opponents to win

PEMBROKE--The only North Carolinian collegiate chosen for the 20-man United States squad for the Summer '72 Olympics was a Pembroke State University senior, Ron Norman. His one gold medal cannot compare with Mark Spitz's seven, but All-American pitcher, Ron, couldn't be prouder.

For the senior from Pembroke it was a fantastic experience, who is with the Braves and helped the U. S. win the World Amateur Baseball Tournament for the first time in seven tries.

The tournament, which ended Dec. 7, involved 14 countries and took place in Nicaragua, but games were spread out in the Honduras and Costa Rica.

In the round-robin contest, the U. S. rolled a perfect 10-0 record, with one of the victories belonging to Norman.

Starting the next-to-last game for the states against the Honduras, the pitcher displayed the same blazing velocity that enabled him to lead the national NAIA ranks with 200 strikeouts in 141 2/3 innings last season en route to a 12-1 record.

RALEIGH

NEW DUDES

JUST GOT 'EM IN!

AT YOUR UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

A little of what you fancy
does you good.

When we open soon at Oriole Drive and College Road, we'll have checking accounts, savings accounts, Master Charge and student loans to help you get what you fancy. We hope you'll come in and visit.

O First Union National
Watch for our opening

Winning coach loses a few;
has sound reasoning for loss

NEW YORK--John Wooden, who has coached the UCLA Bruins to nine NCAA college basketball championships in the last ten years, doesn't always coach to win.

At least that's the opinion of the Los Angeles Times sportswriters Dwight Chapin and Jeff Prugh, as expressed in their recently published paperback biography of the coach entitled "The Wizard of Westwood."

"John Wooden secretly plots--or secretly wishes--for some of his team's rare defeats," say the authors. It's a strange charge to make against a coach whose teams had won 75 consecutive games coming into the '73-74 season, but they support the contentions with quotes from Wooden himself.

Let me say that it is very true that there have been occasions when I haven't done everything that I thought best to outscore the opponent. It doesn't mean I didn't want us to win, but sometimes I think we needed to be knocked down to win later on." In "The Wizard..." this is interpreted as meaning that Wooden doesn't try to throw a game; rather he simply does not pull off every strategic maneuver or psychological ploy possible in order to win. Maybe, he believes a defeat every now and then will help more than harm.

It is strange that these two sportswriters would accuse the winningest coach in college basketball of not always coaching to win, but then, John Wooden is a unique, complex individual.

Varsity games free

Each year the university competes in soccer, basketball, baseball, golf, tennis and wrestling. Baseball games are played at Brook's Field, and basketball games are played in Hanover Hall or the gym.

All regularly enrolled students who have paid the appropriate general fee are admitted without charge to all regular varsity games. Students are urged to support the teams by attending the home games and matches, and by sitting in the regular cheering section.

FOUR GAMES SLATED

With no less than four basketball games scheduled for this week, the Seahawks will definitely feel the brunt of activity and excitement for a demanding eight day lapse.

The team will be making up for the holiday break keeping them inanimate since Dec. 17.

Tuesday, the team hit the road for High Point College, coached by Jerry Steele; then to move on to Fayetteville Thursday for a match against Methodist College. Saturday night, the Seahawks play host to Pfeiffer College at Hanover Hall.

According to Coach Mel Gibson, the Seahawks are in the heart of their season, even though, this he feels, is an understatement. The players have not let the break keep them from working out, he says, and they're reading themselves for the games.

The Seahawks feature All-American candidate, Mike Cherry in the District 29 outbreak.

REGISTRATION SET

Registration for studio art classes to be taught by Heather C. Donnelly at St. John's Art Gallery on Orange Street is underway.

Limited in size, the classes will consist of instruction in watercolor, charcoal, oil, pastel and acrylic.

Beginning Jan. 16, adult classes for advanced students will be held from 10 a.m. - noon, and for students beginning art lessons, there will be a session on Jan. 17 from 10 a.m. until noon. Registration for the classes can be made by calling Miss Donnelly at 762-1243.

'Hawks claw Patriots

FLORENCE, S. C. -- Capturing its fourth straight win against the Francis Marion College Patriots, the Seahawks at the University of North Carolina--Wilmington will play Pfeiffer College Saturday night in Hanover Hall. The Seahawks played High Point College in an out-of-town game yesterday. (At this time, scores are not available.)

The Seahawks, 4-1 on the season, dribbled the Patriots ragged with the game ending in a score of 85 - 77 decision. Action against the Patriots was the first since Dec. 17 when Coach Mel Gibson and the team outsmarted Fayetteville.

The coach was a bit disappointed with the team's overall performance against the Patriots, even with Mike Cherry and Dave Prince scoring 25 points to outman Francis Marion College. Leading by 12 points, 43-31, at intermission, Gibson watched the Seahawks gain a 17 point advantage, and then fall mysteriously under the pressure of the Patriots' defense.

GRADUATE SENIORS urged to come for possible jobs

All graduate seniors are encouraged to contact the Career and Placement Office, room 113 of the Alderman Administration Building, to take advantage of the placement services available to students of the university. Presently, the job market is very tight; therefore, all services that will possibly lead to employment should be utilized.

Throughout the spring semester, representatives from various companies, firms and agencies will be on campus to conduct interviews for employment. Students are urged to sign up for interviews as soon as possible in room 113 as indicated above.

The following companies have scheduled visits on the listed dates. This is to be considered a partial list as it will be periodically updated as more commitments are made. Brochures made. Brochures, annual reports and other printed material on each company is available for the asking.

January 16, 17, 1974
January 18, 1974
February 19, 1974
February 20, 1974
February 21, 1974
February 28, 1974
March 12, 1974
March 13, 1974
March 14, 15, 1974
March 18, 1974
March 19, 1974
March 20, 1974
March 21, 1974
March 27, 1974
April 2, 1974
April 4, 1974
April 5, 1974

U. S. Marine Corps
Babcock & Wilcox Co.
N. C. State Personnel
J. P. Stevens Company
Internal Revenue Service
Branch Banking & Trust Co.
General Electric Co.
Corning Glass Works
Boy Scouts of America
Jefferson Standard Insurance Co.
Prudential Insurance Co.
Waccamaw Bank
Weyerhaeuser Corporation
Burlington Industries
Burroughs Corporation
Wachovia Bank & Trust Co.
North Carolina National Bank

EARLY EATERS

FIRST 45 MINUTES
OF EACH MEAL

SPECIAL

A COMPLETE MEAL

ONE MEAT-choice of chicken, chopped steak
crab patty, or fish

SALAD
ONE VEGETABLE
BEVERAGE OR BREAD

$1.35

LUNCH 11:00 - 2:15

DINNER 4:45 - 8:00

Balentines
BUFFET
Long Leaf Mall
SERVING CREATIVE FOODS

RECORD

WORLD

Discover
New Dimensions

*NEW RELEASES
*BRITISH IMPORTS
*JAZZ
*SOUL
*GIFT CERTIFICATES
*GOOD MUSIC!!!!!!

*ASK ABOUT OUR
BAKER'S DOZEN

Long Leaf Mall

Volunteers choose work conditions

Want to do something?
Want to grow, not just exist?
Want to help people?
Want help deciding on a career?

These questions and many others can be answered with involvement in a volunteer program. Approximately 55 agencies in the area have requested help in a vast assortment of situations. Whether you decide to assist the handicapped, elderly or children, to work with an individual or a group, to be an assistant or a leader, to help with academics or recreational activities; the choice is yours.

Working in conjunction with the downtown Lower Cape Fear Voluntary Action Center, Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities is able to give detailed information to students on opportunities in and around the Wilmington community.

"A large amount of time is not required," Ms. Moore stresses. "As little as an hour a week, for instance, would be most welcome." Campus clubs or organizations could arrange a one-time project to suit members' needs and interests.

Three of the most recent requests from agencies include openings for teacher aides working with second graders (listening to the children read, going on field trips); for a typist to work two to four hours per week and for teacher aides to work with mentally retarded kindergarten children. Any of these positions would provide valuable experiences.

Check out the variety of opportunities available by contacting Ms. Moore in her office in the Pub, or by calling Mrs. Sue Colson, Director of VAC, 814 First Union National Bank Building, 762-9611.

• VAC •

REVIEW

"It might 've been a dumb movie;" panorama, songs are a "high"

by pat conrad unc-ch student

When I first heard that Hal Bartlett had decided to make movie out of Richard Bach's best seller, I was full of skepticism. I mean, what could a person possibly expect to see except a seagull flying around? Of course, the fact that Neil Diamond had created the musical score for the movie did merit some considerable thought, and seemed to be a likely reason for spending two hours viewing "Jonathan Livingston Seagull."

Well, the movie made quite a favorable impression. Unlike many movies based on the popular novels, the action and dialogue did not stray far from that of the books. The songs that Neil Diamond sang and composed seemed to clarify Jonathan's thoughts and goals, and helped to catch the audience's sympathy for, and identification with the gull in his aspirations.

The photography was superb; the color techniques used and the panoramas of landscape scenes that were shot were so awesome and overwhelming that a natural high was not far from possessing me completely.

Without all these factors which fit together to make the film a success, "Jonathan Livingston Seagull" might have been just a dumb movie about a dumb bird that gets wing-happy. Instead Hal Bartlett created a movie that, if taken as seriously as the novel, can be an inspiration and a thought-provoking experience.

A year for Greeks

by rocky moore
greek editor

1974 ushers in a new year that gives evidence of a strengthening of the Greek system on the campus of UNC-W.

Tau Kappa Epsilon has exemplified an outstanding record of community service this past semester. Pi Kappa Phi has purchased a new house which will be one of the best fraternity houses in the area for a long time.

Alpha Delta Upsilon, formerly known as Delta Epsilon, after much diligent work will receive its just recognition from the school as a fully chartered fraternity. On Feb. 1, it will be installed with the Delta Upsilon International Fraternity. Well-known band, "Warehouse," will play at a special party following a formal dinner party to be held at the Wilmington Hilton in honor of the event.

Sigma Alpha Beta became the first professional fraternity organized on campus. It, too, is seeking national affiliation with Delta Sigma Pi. Alpha Phi Omega is a fraternity dedicated to serving the needs of the university. It has demonstrated a remarkable talent for raising money for various charities. Much is expected of APO this year.

Phi Mu, currently the largest girls' fraternity on campus, recently elected their new president, Debbie Warner, who will be taking over where Pam Welsh left off.

All in all, Greeks had a good year. It is hoped that they will have even more to offer the school and individual members in 1974. Go Greeks!

SOLITAIRE REFLECTIONS

CAMINO
$250-$1,000
WED. RING $50.00

Keepsake
REGISTERED DIAMOND RINGS

A brilliant, perfect Keepsake diamond of clear white color and precise modern cut. Keepsake... there is no finer diamond ring.

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center
28 N. FRONT ST. • PHONE 763-4390
HANOY CENTER • PHONE 765-0736
LONG LEAF MALL • PHONE 799-5510

OLEANDER DRIVE

799-3950

Cinema 1&2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

Clint Eastwood is Dirty Harry in Magnum Force

HELD OVER

3rd WEEK

At 1:30-3:40

5:50 8:00 8:40

This time the bullets are hitting pretty close to home!

PARAMOUNT • TECHNICOLOR • From Warner Bros.
A Warner Communications Company

NOW SHOWING

At 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

R - in COLOR

Paramount Pictures Presents

A Sigmund Production

Elizabeth Taylor

"Ash Wednesday"

Helmut Berger and Keith Baxter and Henry Fonda as Mark

LONG LEAF MALL

799-8710

Cinema 1&2

HELD OVER 3RD WEEK

AT 2-4-6-8-10 P.M.

...Where nothing can possibly go wrong

PG
in COLOR

HELD OVER 3RD WEEK

BURT LANCASTER
ROBERT RYAN WILL GEER

EXECUTIVE ACTION

COLOR

PG

AT 2:00-3:50-5:20-7:30-9:20

'Surprise people / Serve
MICHELOB.

MICHELOB.

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.

Wilmington

seventeen magazine says:

8 1/2 million bikes pedaling over 15,000 miles

This bike thing. Last year it resulted in the sale of some eight and a half million bicycles. This year, according to the Bicycle Institute of America, the figure should exceed 10 million. Kids who haven't been on a bike since fourth grade, are suddenly pouring their hard-earned money into Peugeot PX-10's and Schwinn Sports Tourers. Fifteen thousand miles of bikeways have been built in the past three years and the federal government is talking about adding 100,000 miles more. Bicycling has gone from a sometime Sunday thing to an accepted means of transportation -- and a brand new vacation way to explore.

Then there's the health angle. Bicycling is generally regarded as good exercise. "Medical authorities agree that running or jogging, swimming and cycling are the three top sports to develop endurance-type body muscles and increase the work ability of the heart and lungs," reports Dr. Fred Brandt, himself a bicycle freak, in a recent issue of a magazine for bicyclists. He warns, however, that one should give his body a chance to get in shape -- and not tackle 30-mile trips the first day out.

WHICH BICYCLE FOR YOU? Once the bicycle bug bites, how do you decide? That depends on what you plan to do with a bike. For riding across town to school or taking occasional long rides, it is best to use a single-speed or a three-speed bike. For serious, long-distance touring, a five-speed or ten-speed cycle is the best choice, and if space is a problem and you need a short-distance bike, consider the new fangled, folding bikes.

The differences? A standard one or three-speed cycle is a sturdy bike, equipped to handle heavy accessories as well as the wear and tear of city streets, and the gears can be changed when the bicycle is stopped. The cyclist can stop in one speed for a traffic light and start in another -- so it's a good choice for stop-and-go traveling. The handlebars are in a raised position for faster braking.

The multi-speed or derailleur bike, is a lightweight bike designed for long distance traveling; the dropped handle bars allow for even weight distribution; gears, however cannot be skipped, and cannot be changed unless the bike is in motion, so this bike can be a drag in stop-and-go traffic. If you are compelled to stop for a light, you must either resume pedaling in a higher speed than is comfortable, and then adjust gears, or else de-bike and change the gears while turning the pedal with your foot.

The new fold-up models? Easy to transport and store, but their small wheels and overall design make them unstable and generally difficult and tiring for long trips. It's definitely a bike for short distances.

BEFORE YOU PURCHASE A BIKE. Don't put any money down on a bicycle before you can size one up. Get up a bike manual. Learn how to judge brakes, frames, gears, and wheels. Learn about sew-up tires: they give you an easy ride but are hell when it comes to punctures, are hard to repair and are expensive. Heavier clincher tires are tougher and fairly simple to repair. Fenders? A lot of the ten-speed racers come without them, but they are a practical addition for any bike; they protect clothes and keep mud and debris from flying into the working parts of cycle.

Rent and try -- out several types and makes. Don't buy any bike you haven't ridden, and buy your bike from a bicycle specialty shop only. Department stores and discount houses do not have the trained bicycle mechanics and aren't set up to honor warranties.

MAKING A BIKE THIEF-PROOF. There are probably no bike chains on the market which can't somehow be cut. To reduce the chances of having your bike stolen, buy a heavy chain three-eighths of an inch thick (selling for about $3.00 a foot), and a sturdy lock (from $8-$10.00). When you lock up the bicycle, draw the chain through both the frame and the back wheel. If the front wheel has a quick release, remove the wheel and pass the chain through that ass wheel and pass the chain through that as well. DO NOT CHAIN THE BIKE TO A PARKING METER; the thief can simply pull the chain over the meter. To keep from scratching the bike, cover the chain with an old inner tube (free at most bike shops) and cover the lock with adhesive tape.

SAFETY. In most states bicycles are subject to the same regulations as vehicles. This includes traveling with traffic, obeying stop signs and lights, and using proper hand signals. It also means having a front and rear light visible for at least 500 feet and having some kind of bell or horn.

The battery-operated removable headlights are the best choice for a bike. It can be removed for repairs and to keep it from being snatched. Most bikes are being manufactured with reflectors on the back of the pedals, but they have been proven fairly worthless as they can be obscured with mud, and are almost impossible to see anyway. If the bike is not equipped with a three inch round deflector on the rear fender, buy one.

The loudest sounding device, i.e. horn, is a portable Freonpowered boat horn. Pedestrians may respond to a tinkling bell, but motorists will have trouble trying to listen out for a "ding! ding!" with all the other noise around. Always give way to bigger bicycles. You can't very well fight over the right-of-way with a powerful V-8, now can you? And which would you rather be: dead right or alive?

For additional safety, consider the crash helmet. You may never reach the speeds of a motorcycle, but if you are thrown or hit, you'll find your skull is just as soft.

BREAKING IN THE BIKE SEAT. Cowboys aren't the only ones with saddle soreness. To avoid an aching backside from a day of riding, use a leather softening material on your dry, new saddle, even Vaseline will do, then pound the seat time and time again with a heavy stick or rolling pin. You may get laughed at, but you'll laugh last.

BIKE TOURING. Cars are for covering ground, bikes are for messing around, right? No hardly. An in-shape cyclist can cover between 60 and 100 miles a day, and more and more people are taking longer and longer bike vacations.

Touring extras might include a tire pump, patch kit, two spare tires, a metric tool kit that comes with some bikes, cycle oil and spare parts. Purchase a pair of toe clips that allow you to pedal at maximum efficiency, since you can push up as well as down. They are not recommended for city use because they make it rough to get your foot off the pedal quickly. Take along a plastic water bottle, lightweight emergency blanket, sleeping bag, tent and cooking gear (should not exceed over 30 pounds). Supplies should be carried as low on the bicycle as possible -- never on a backpack as packs tend to make pedaling difficult; use pannier bags (saddlebags) that are lightweight and water-repellent, and mount them across the rear fender. Other supplies can be carried under the seat and between the handle bars, but avid cyclists know that heavy equipment stored on the bars can throw the bike off balance.

For touring information: North American Bicycle Atlas (Hammond), American Youth Hostels, Ntl. Headquarters, 20 West 17th Street, New York, New York, 10011.

what's in the head's

when you inherit a million from your rich uncle. (Haven't got an uncle? That's the breaks, sweetie!) Your lucky day will be Doris, your lucky color spinach green, and your lucky number is any number other than 548,321, 002. Watch out for falling stars, bricks and pianos -- and stay off rooftops!

If you're not a Capricorn, Pisces or Gemini -- forget it! This will not be your month. But for you goats, fish and twins: finances will keep you out of the poor farm bookstore gets facial ...a whole new look

Bookstore rush hours for the first 6 days of the spring semester will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. with no break for lunch. After the 14th of Jan, the bookstore will resume its regular hours.

The University Bookstore will welcome the students with a whole new facelift: there are now three cash registers, bookshelves line the walls, and there's even a new face to compliment the place.

CHRIS BOBIAK

will order new books

Taking over where Betsy Parker left off, Chris Bobiak will assume the responsibility of ordering books. Chris' husband, Leigh, is a business management major at the university. The couple moved here from Pittsburgh, Pa., seven months ago.

"This is the first time I have ever worked in a bookstore, and I love it!", the petite brunette exclaims. Chris worked previously as a secretary to the president of a carpet company. "I don't know what problems I'll run into," she laughs.

"Working here on campus will give me the opportunity to be with kids my age, meet more people and learn college life," Chris says.

For the semester, the bookstore has received a shipment of new "duds" including jogging jackets in red, white and blue knit (the pants are on order), and red and black heavy-duty garment bags. Other new items include booze bags in a variety of colors, stationery from Sweden and T-shirts. On order are new posters, mugs and gift wrap as well as more paperback books that aren't textbooks or entertainment, but interestingly educational.

Mrs. Pat Gaskins, bookstore manager, reminds students that no checks will be accepted without a UNC-W student identification card. These cards can be made in the Student Affairs Office in room 113 of the Alderman Administration Building only on Jan. 7 - 11 from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Replacement for the I. D. is $3.00.

MONDAY NIGHT JANUARY 14 8 P.M.

KENAN MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM presented by the fine arts committee

MODERN SCREWBALL COMEDY

CHINESE DRAGONS, LADDER CHASES,
PREHISTORIC ROCKS,
AN ENCYCLOPEDIA MIND --

WHAT MORE COULD YOU ASK FOR?

After an Academy Award, four hit pictures, and a rack full of smash recordings, Barbra Streisand brilliantly tops them all as the star of a high-spirited comedy full of word gags, sight gags, and literally reels of sustained laughter.

"What's Up, Doc?" is a zany tribute to the great screwball comedies of the 1930's, totally and intentionally without social significance. Miss Streisand plays Judy Maxwell, a way-out girl with an encyclopedic mind, a capricious way of thrusting herself into other people's lives, and enough idiosyncracies to make your head swim. Ryan O'Neal, recently of "Peyton Place" and "Love Story" fame, is delightful as a muddled musicologist with a traveling case full of prehistoric rocks.

Together, they're hilarious, as frantic misadventures confuse all the characters and culminate in a hair-raising chase under ladders, through a Chinese dragon, around the biggest pane of glass in the world, into traffic on San Francisco's most perilous hills, and finally straight into the Bay.

"What's Up, Doc?" was produced and directed by Peter Bogdanovich, the brilliant young director who gained nation-wide attention when his "The Last Picture Show" was nominated for an Academy Award. The screenplay, written by Buck Henry and David Newman & Robert Benton, co-stars Kenneth Mars, Austin Pendleton, Sorrell Booke, Michael Murphy and Madeline Kahn.

COMPUTER—MATCHED ROOMMATES MANAGE LIVING TOGETHER BETTER

(from Charlotte Observer)

College roommates matched up by a computer earn significantly higher grades than students assigned by the luck of the draw, according to a recent study.

Freshman paired by computer at West Virginia Institute of Technology on the basis of predicted compatibility also reported they like college better and were more pleased with their own first year performance.

For both men and women, the most important single factor in determining whether they would get along well was similarity of their stage of academic development.

For men, attitude toward drinking was the second most important factor. Third was whether the student was the first born in his family.

Women got along best if their ages were very close, if their attitudes toward smoking were similar, and if they came from high schools of similar size.

The study, conducted by David D. McIntire, involved 20 roommate pairs of men and 20 pairs of women, and a larger group who were assigned at random for comparison.

Lost and Found

Lost and found articles can best be located by checking with the Director of Student Activities, Ms. Linda Moore, in her office in the Pub. Any article found on campus should also be turned in to her office.

Saturday night

B,S&T in N.C.

RALEIGH-- Blood, Sweat and Tears will perform Jan. 12 at the Dorton Arena with the North Carolina Symphony under the direction of John Gosling. Concert will begin at 8:15 p. m., and all those who hold 73-74 North Carolina Symphony tickets will be admitted with the tickets. General admission will be $5.00.

The unique program allows each musical ensemble to more or less "do their own thing," with Blood, Sweat and Tears doing several solos of their most popular songs from their albums, and the symphony performing the majestic "Pines of Rome" by Respighi.

The North Carolina Symphony will introduce the second half of the performance with the contemporary work by Alan Hovhanes entitled "And God Created Great Whales" featuring the Jordanes.

• STUDENT I.D.'s NEEDED FOR ACTIVITIES

Student identification cards will be made only on January 7 through 11 from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. in the student affairs office, room 113 of the Alderman Administration Building.

These cards are mandatory for many functions on campus: using the library, eating in the cafeteria if you live in the residence hall, going to the games, cashing a check in the university bookstore or attending the dances and concerts on campus.

of the great hump-backed whales. The full orchestra plays the piece with the orchestral score based on the beautiful and haunting melodies of the whales.

This will be followed by another solo of Blood, Sweat and Tears, after which the two groups will perform one musical together. Details of the joint presentation will be announced at the concert on Saturday.

come
as you are!

Where pizza is always
in good taste

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR
3617 Market Street

SEE SEE SEE
RALEIGH AD
...PAGE 10...

apparel factory outlet

Misses' & Jr. Miss Denim JEANS from $5.61
baggies
bells
Men's Denim Jeans from $5.37

Hand Carved Bells - $6.97

10-6 sat. FREE PARKING 10-9 mon.-fri

4204 OLEANDER DRIVE

DAWAMERICAN

master charge

Holsum THRIFT STORE

1055 S. College Road

(next to Sav-A-Lot)

BELOW RETAIL PRICES

ON

Breads, Cakes, Rolls, Donuts

seahawk editor dedicates life nursing is her direction

"Disease has got a headstart on medicine. We're trying to catch up -- technology helps, but anything with a headstart has the advantage," Kathi Beall

"Disease has got a headstart on medicine. We're trying to catch up -- technology helps, but anything with a headstart has the advantage," laughs Kathi Beall, who is a first -- at least as far as WHO'S WHO is concerned, and who have included her biography with those of other outstanding students recognized for their academic service.

Kathi is the first nursing student at the university to be included in the edition.

Giving up the editorship of the SEAHAWK, Kathi feels that the patient always comes first.

"Certainly there are expansions in nursing from the standpoint there are expansions in most anything, especially with specialization. Two new courses, pediatric nursing and family nurse practitioner, are now available to graduate students with an RN standing," she says. "All of these things are new basically, but mainly, I think for the most part, nursing fees in the same direction it always has -- in the interest of the patient

-- that's number one," she maintains.

Part of the reason for her interest in nursing stems from a personal tragedy in her family, and the other part, she claims, is from studying in Spain for a semester, where she witnessed what she refers to as "lazi-dazical medical care and haphazard dispense of drugs," yet in the middle of it -- an American girl's determination to overcome it -- "It made me want to check into it," Kathi recalls.

Nursing, she feels, is picking up because the population is picking up. "Nursing is being recognized as a noble career," she continues. "For a number of years it was a glorified maid service. Before educating nurses, they weren't qualified to do more than change beds.

"Most would like to right all the wrongs, cure all the ills, but that's a realm of impossibilities; limitations

KATHI BEALL

Seahawk editor, first nursing student in WHO'S WHO, is humorous, friendly, warm, loyal impossibilities; you have to accept human limitations," Kathi advises.

She will graduate in May '75 with an associate degree in nursing after having studied nursing fundamentals, maternal and infant care, psychiatric nursing, medical surgical and pediatrics, and she will have a B. A. degree in English.

"I never realized what nursing is," she beams. "A lot of people don't."

Shoney's

"HOME OF THE BIG BOY"

4010 MARKET STREET

Complete Menu

"GO ORDER ANYTIME"

OPEN

7 am - 11 pm Sun-Thurs

7 am - 1 am Fri & Sat

Try Our Strawberry Pie

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.

Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings -- as an Air Force pilot or navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

SGT. JERRY T. LEWIS
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N. C.
Phone: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

Yes

Wachovia

OPEN HOUSE seeks staff volunteers

OPEN HOUSE is in dire need of staff members. The approach at the House is peer counseling, and the staff is made up almost entirely of volunteers -- this means we need you to care and to help.

Services provided for friends include legal aid, group and individual counseling, emergency and rescue transportation, suicide intervention, free medical treatment, information, referral and crashing. But there are so many other things that need to be done, and for this, we need your support.

The staff will be conducting training at the Open House on Market Street, beginning on Jan. 23 at 7 p.m. Talk to staff members on campus, or contact us at the house.

RALEIGH

A FAMILY OF RACERS

Raleigh makes the popular lightweight 10-speed Record model for everybody in the family. Even a youngster who isn't quite ready for a full-size cycle. The Raleigh Record 24 is a scaled down version with an 18" frame and 24" wheels. It's one 10-speed you don't have to grow up for. And nobody knows more about making racers than Raleigh, because Raleigh has been making international competition winners for decades. See the Record family at your Raleigh dealer, who also features the Raleigh CustomSizer™, the amazing machine that guarantees a perfectly fitting bicycle.

RALEIGH

Call

799-5770

See 'em at

LIFE CYCLES

Community Shopping Center 4209 Oleander Drive
Across From Cape Fear Ford

"Come, come, let us drink the Vintage's Good Health. 'Tis the Case, not the Coffer, that holds the true wealth."
17th century London street song

"Our Beverage Prices Are Beautiful"

WE NOW CARRY THE COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art Inc.

HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE and HOPS SHOP

Terry and Marty Bridgen
3242 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

Dorm room gets you down?

how to give a room life*

WITH PLANTS, CRATES, FREEZER WRAP, MATERIAL

*without really trying

Got the mid-year blues when it boils down to the dull and dreary room you've been looking at for four months now? Why not brighten it up for spring using wild, fresh colors and simple ideas?

One of the easiest ways to bring life into a room is to do just that: with greenery you are a little closer to the outdoors. Good plants for dorm rooms include ivy (the variegated, small leaf makes an attractive plant), cacti, ferns of various sorts that require little or no sunlight, little or no moisture, violets or other flowering plants.

To put the plants on, beg-a-grocer to give you a wooden orange crate or large box (the kind paper towels come in), and cover the box with felt, adhesive paper in a variety of colors and patterns, or paint and apply decals or stickers. If you find yourself with a lot of different colors, and not enough of one color, splatter-paint the box. Using several crates or boxes -- presto! -- shelves. Cut designs (circles, squares, triangles) in the sides of the boxes. Possibilities never cease.

Maybe you can purchase several yards of a fabric you like to drape over one wall and across the room. One girl used an Indian print, bought an inexpensive curtain rod, and draped the fabric down one wall and across the ceiling for a dramatic "tent" effect.

To cover the windows, but at the same time allowing the sunshine in, purchase ball fringe in an array of colors or one color and hang from the window. Or cover the bottom panes with colored tissue paper for a stained-glass look, or if you are artistic, cut out scenes or shapes.

Beds can be made to actually look like a sofa or the popular day-bed by taking a bedspread and draping it on the bed and letting it hang down on all four sides. Buy pillows to lean up against the wall for a back.

Putting a mural up in the room breaks the monotony of posters; get some freezer wrap and paint a scene or scenes, or cut pictures out of magazines and glue on the paper. Then tape or otherwise secure the mural on the wall. You can make the mural cover one wall, or have a series of scenes covering as many of the walls as you see fit.

If your room suits you, but you want to do something different to your door, get some fabric wide enough to cover the door, sew some "pockets" on it to hold a pad, pencil; make a sign to hang on the door with hands like on a clock to point to where you are at the moment. Add other things you might think of, and give the door a theme -- use denim to cover it and maybe use a red pencil to write notes with, red and white sheets of a set of paper -- for a "country look."

classifieds

Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are urged to put their classified ads in the SEAHAWK free -- FREE, ie, no charge. Let us give you a break.

•FOR SALE

STEREO UNIT: 8 track tape player, AM-FM radio and turn table. $200. Call 799-1586; ask for Dean.

WATERBEDS: New king size. $255. Call Herbie at 791-9325.

1969 MOBILE HOME: 12 x 65 foot, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, central air conditioning. For appointment, call between 6 and 8 p.m. at 285-3747.

PORTABLE T.V.: Sears silver-tone 19 inch screen with VHP and UHP antennas. Excellent condition physically, and mechanically. $50.

RESIN: $4. per gallon. Ask for Edgar at 256-3825.

STEREO COMPONENTS: Most major brands! 20 - 50% off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

•WHEELS

71 VEGA: Red with black interior, 4 speed with 46,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: power steering and radio. Only $1000. Dial 799-3765.

61 MITY MITE JEEP: American Motors, V-4, air cooled engine, 4 wheel drive, independent suspension, aluminum body. Excellent condition. Call 675-0301 (ext. 64) daily until 4 p.m.; 791-0587 on nights and weekends.

HONDA 305 CC: Rebuilt motor; runs good. Must sell. $175. Call 763-6624.

53 "OLD FAITHFUL" CHEVY:

Lively enough to get you anywhere in town. Inquire at 762-4886 in the evenings after 6 p.m., and in the mornings before 9 a.m. One car owner!

•RIDES

LEGALLY BLIND WOMAN needs ride to classes (M-W-F 8:30) spring semester. Willing to pay for service. Lives one block off of Highway 132 on Mockingbird Lane in Long Leaf Hills. Needs return ride any time after 9:30 a.m. Call Mrs. Ashley at 791-1736.

RIDE NEEDED to Western Carolina any weekend. Will help

RIDE NEEDED ANY WEEK-END to Western Carolina. Will help pay for gas. See Susan in room 102 in the residence hall.

GOING UP HIGHWAY 74 as far as Rockingham on Friday afternoons. Contact Steve in room 316 in the residence hall. Help pay for gas.

•WORK

MALE HELP: Bellamy drug company at 3806 Oleander Drive needs packer in shipping department to work on Monday - Friday from 2 - 5:30 p.m. Ask for Mr. Sis-trunk.

FEMALE HELP: Representatives needed for Cameo Custom Fit Bras. Work own hours and earn $5. and up per hour. Apply at Salon de Frey Salon and Boutique. Phone 791-6618, and ask for Mr. Whitman.

OPENINGS FOR REPORTERS: The SEAHAWK newspaper is looking for reporters for the spring semester. Leave name and phone number or dorm number on the bulletin board on the office door, or ask someone in the office.

•PLACES FOR RENT

BEDROOM AND BATH: In Hanover Heights area with kitchen privileges. Call 791-8330.

BEACH HOUSE: Roomate needed for place at Wrightsville Beach Sound. $52.50 a month includes utilities. Call 256-4196.

TWO BEDROOM COMPLEX: Roomate needed at University Arms Apartments to share one large bedroom with another girl. Deposit already paid: electric bill split three ways. $55. per month per girl. Dial 791-9379 around noon or after 10 p.m.

BEDROOM AND BATH: With kitchen and full household privileges. Ideal for one or two students with ideal study conditions and good location. Call 791-7611 after 5 p.m. or 763-9971 (Ext. 587) between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

TWO BEDROOM APT: For sub-leasing effective Jan. 1. Furnished Apt. #5 at the Country Club Apartments at 5026 Hunt Club Road. For information call 799-2878.

BSU meets Monday: Reverend Boone talks

Baptist Student Union meets Monday evening, Jan. 14, at 7:30 p.m. at the Wilmington Baptist Association Building across from the university. Everyone is invited to attend; Reverend Milton Boone, campus minister, will speak.

* AUDITION *

Auditions for Harold Pinter's, "The Caretaker," will be held tonight and Thursday night in the SRO Theater at the college. The play will be presented by the University Theater in February.

BOOKSTORE
SETS UP
RUSH HOURS

Rush hours for the spring semester will be from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., with no break for lunch in the University Bookstore through Jan. 14. No checks will be accepted without a student identification card.

The PUB hours

MON - THURS	8 a.m. - 10 p.m.
FRIDAY	8 a.m. - midnight
SATURDAY	2 p.m. - midnight
SUNDAY	2 p.m. - 10 p.m.

ping pong, pool, TV,
foosball, chess, cards,
checkers

TOAD FARM

DANCE DANCE DANCE is a gonna be playin' fer all uh yer folks out there

on!

January 12th

in the
PUB
that's Saturday nite!

FROM 9:00 - 1:00

UNC-CH students publish women's paper

CHAPEL HILL-- Students at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, in conjunction with the Association of Women Students, are publishing a newspaper for the women of the Chapel Hill and Durham communities.

Published in April, the first issue featured a calendar page of activities of interest to women in the two areas. During the year, the publication will be expanding coverage on the calendar page to include all areas of the state.

Material may be sent to the monthly publication by writing to:

SHE
c/o AWS
UNC Student Union
Chapel Hill, N. C.
27514

Information must be received no later than the second Thursday of each month to insure publication in that month's issue.

Station to air soon

Currently under development at the university is a campus radio station. Although just in the 'planning stages,' there is an excellent idea of what the station will be like.

Built under a grant from Health, Education and Welfare, the station, ideally, will be a high-power FM stereo station. During the day the station will function as a public broadcasting station airing public service announcements and public affairs shows, and in the evenings, music will be played.

Within the next couple of months the station plans to be on the air on limited power, however, full-scale operation is probably a year off. Nevertheless, there is a definite need for interested volunteer help. If interested in typing or working as station personnel, contact Mark Silver or call 256-2327.

Health insurance promoted

Students not having health and accident insurance are strongly urged to consider the coverage plan available under the Student Hospitalization and Surgical Insurance Plan. All students are eligible.

All students are eligible to participate at a cost of $18.00 per half year, and receive 24 hour coverage through Aug.

Applications are available in the Student Affairs Office in room 113 of the Alderman Administration Building.

QUALITY

VALUE

SERVICE!

Prices good thru January 12, 1974.

7 OZ.
WHITE RAIN
HERBAL SHAMPOO

62¢

Mfg. Sugg. Price 75¢

40
POLIDENT TABLETS

Mfg. Sugg. Price $1.21

95¢

VASELINE
PETROLEUM JELLY
3.75 OZ.

Mfg. Sugg. Price 45¢

37¢

9 OZ.
JERGENS
EXTRA DRY

1.12

Mfg. Sugg. Price $1.39

40's
TAMPAX
REGULAR - SUPER

1.49

Mfg. Sugg. Price $1.93

BAYER ASPIRIN

100
84¢

Mfg. Sugg. Price $1.17

Colgate MFP
TOOTHPASTE

5 OZ.
73¢

Mfg. Sugg. Price 89¢

DRISTAN
NASAL MIST

15 cc
$1.09

Mfg. Sugg. Price $1.39

CONTAC
COLD CAPSULES

10 CAPSULES
99¢

Mfg. Sugg. Price $1.69

VICK'S FORMULA 44
COUGH MIXTURE

3 OZ.
97¢

Mfg. Sugg. Price $1.29

HAPPY 1974

Our sincerest wish for a year of good cheer for our good friends.

LISTERINE
MOUTHWASH

20 OZ.
$1.13

Mfg. Sugg. Price $1.69

DOAN'S PILLS
FOR RELIEF OF BACKACHE

40
.93

Mfg. Sugg. Price $1.20

COMET KOHOUTEK: SHOOT IT DOWN WITH A SATURN V?

BRIGHT SPECTACLE

The comet Kohoutek has proven to be somewhat of a disappointment for many people this winter: predictions of a spectacle fifty times brighter than Halley's comet proved to be premature, and Kohoutek has been difficult if not impossible to see.

SECRETS REVEALED

Scientists, however, are not disappointed. Surprisingly, despite its dimness, the comet has given them realms of data which once assimilated should reveal more secrets about the physical nature of the universe.

DOOM TO COME

A third group of people have also found Kohoutek to be of maximum significance. To these people, the comet is an omen of bad, almost and possibly, catastrophic times ahead.

Foremost among the group are the Children of God, whose spiritual leader, Moses David, sees the comet as a warning of the impending destruction of the United States, the start of a chain of events which will lead to the second coming of Christ.

Prophets of doom have existed even longer than Christianity, but the predictions of the Children and the idea of Kohoutek being an indicator of the pending and inevitable doom is catching on with many devoutly religious persons. One of the primary reasons for this is that many prophecies concerning conditions prior to the end of the world in the Bible currently exist.

According to the Bible, the end has been possible ever since the establishment of the Jewish state of Israel, predicted in the book of Mark as the beginning of a traumatic period. Scholars note that the international conditions that make the earth ripe for destruction include constant "Rumors of wars," hellish instruments of war, earthquakes, and increasing world conflicts accompanied by pestilence and famine.

Specifically, the Children view the comet as a warning of events to begin at the end of this month. Though they are not certain what these events will be, collapse of the economic system, an energy panic, or a war, it is nonetheless, the beginning of the "collapse of America," leading eventually to the establishment of one world government ruled by the anti-Christ, followed by the second coming and the purification of the earth by fire. Moses David theorizes that this will occur in 1986, coincident with the next appearance of Halley's comet.

The Children maintain that Halley's comet has often brought bad times in its appearances such as the Crusades, the Magna Carta, Genghis Khan, the establishment of the Order of St. Francis, the Renaissance, the Great Black Plague of Europe, the Reformation, the discovery of the new world, the rise of America, and most recently, World War I. In addition, the rise of the new world, the rise of America, and most recently, World War I. In addition, the Great Comet of 1882 appeared within a year of two men "upon whose teachings both the fate and the faith of a Godless world now hangs" -- Charles Darwin and Karl Marx.

CONGRESS BOMBARDED

Such ideas have caused a lot of people some worry.

Enough congresspeople were bombarded with mail on the subject that the Library of Congress was recently ordered to do painstaking research on the historical effects of comets. After extensive study, the Library concluded there is no correlation between comets and large scale tragedy.

SHOOT IT

The ultimate reaction to Kohoutek seems to be centered in Duluth, Minnesota, where a group known as the "Stop the Comet Citizen's Action Group" is so upset by the possible disastrous implications of the comet, that they have asked the government to shoot it down with a Saturn 5 rocket. The last time this comet appeared, their newsletter reads, it led to the extinction of all dinosaurs.

"YES, ACCORDING TO MY CALCULATIONS THE COMET KOHOUTEK WILL NOT APPROACH THE EARTH THIS CLOSELY FOR ANOTHER FIFTY THOUSAND YEARS"

An ill omen...

or the "second coming of Christ?"

ON OTHER COLLEGE CAMPUSES

"Guinea" freshmen experiment

LINDSBORG, Kans. (IP) -- Freshman students at Bethany College are the subjects of a unique experiment this year to establish a sense of community through their resident living arrangement. The "neighborhood concept" is a project which has undergone a year of study, and has been the subject of several retreats for its planners, before it was put into effect this past September.

A task force composed of students, faculty and administrators examined the quality of life on the campus and recommended, as a first step, to make a change in the living environment for freshmen. Students are now organized into units of fourteen or fifteen members each, with the groups designed to represent heterogeneous geographical, cultural and scholastic backgrounds.

Each neighborhood is a geographical area of the resident hall, with each neighborhood painted a distinctive color to mark it off from the rest of the neighborhoods; the area is decorated by the group and contains a den for group meetings. Members of a neighborhood work together to plan activities with their group or other neighborhoods. They also are enrolled in a common academic course for which they can study time after time and again together.

According to the Dean of Students, Fred Ray, and Academic Dean Lloyd Foerster, the keys to the success of the different neighborhoods and the project as a whole, rely on the thirteen resident assistants, each of whom has been given extensive training in preparation to deal with the problems that arise in dormitory life, and to answer questions that students might have concerning school policies, courses and campus life in general, and to give guidance in personal problems. The resident assistant is to act as a friend to the neighborhood residents.

Freshmen interviewed as to how they are adjusting to the living arrangement and the general concept have been more than enthusiastic. "It's a great way to meet people; I don't feel so lost since my neighborhood is so well acquainted. At first I thought the whole idea was really juvenile, but the neighborhood gives me something to hang on to while I adjust to the campus atmosphere."

The hope is that the "neighborhoods" will not only help initial adjustment to college life for freshmen, but they will also become an integral part of the continuing life of college students, so that many hours each student spends in the dorm will be spent in meaningful and productive relationships with fellow students and friends.

Editors file suit

LONG BEACH, Calif. (OCR) -- Editors of the "49er" newspaper at California State University recently lost a suit to recover editorial salaries which had been cut off by the student senate.

Now the editors of another state student newspaper, the California State at Northridge "Daily Sundial," have a similar problem. As a protest of the student government's decision to cut salaries for their editors, the paper was published for a week with all news columns completely blank.

Both papers have been under fire by their student governments for the type of coverage given to the student government elections last spring.

Condominiums sold to students

COLUMBUS, Ohio (OCR) -- The latest thing - of all things - being sold to students is condominiums. A Columbus real estate developer placed ads in the college newspapers urging "be a homeowner while you're still in school... it's a valuable experience and an investment that will pay off in a few years when you graduate... save on your down-payment by doing your own painting."

A company spokesman reports the ad campaign was an experiment to fill the normal fall surplus of unsold units. He says the $18,900 - and - up townhouses are surprisingly popular with young singles, including students if roommates can show an acceptable combined monthly income.

A group of 15 undergraduates from Union College in New York purchased a $28,000 nine-bedroom house. They figure they will save several hundred dollars each every year, and possibly benefit from increased real estate value when they sell after graduation.

"Frankly Soaking" by Phil Frank

Reduces risk of nuclear war

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (IP) -- To initiate students in arms control and disarmament, a new program for science and international affairs will be established at Harvard University with a grant from the Ford Foundation adding up to more than one million dollars.

One of the program's chief objectives will be to renew academic interest in understanding the relation of military forces to international order and to examine ways in which the control and reduction of arms may improve international security and reduce the risk of nuclear war.

Professor Paul Doty will direct the program which will be located initially in the Center for International Affairs. Mr. Doty, a member of the center's executive committee, has been involved in science policy and arms control for decades. Since 1963 he has served as chairman of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences Committee on International Studies of Arms Control.

seahawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the uni-w campus. phone 781-5065.

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

editor: beth hicks
associate editors: barry asbury,
j.k. muhlman
advertising director: barry asbury
business manager: alan murphy sports editor: robert macey greek times: rocky moore

photographic staff: roberta allred,
nauma dozier,
neal huntley
supportive staff: sharon davis, anne neesht,
darlene pearsall

artwork: anne neesht and anthony...

Oil shortage harasses public

No one is absolutely certain that gasoline rationing will be needed. None can say when it will be needed, if it is. And everybody, in and out of government, must surely hope that rationing can be avoided by various conservation measures, and perhaps, an Arab decision to turn on the oil supplies again. Nevertheless, it is encouraging to see the administration moving at least to set up a rationing system to be invoked if necessary.

The standby plan incorporates some sensible principles. Basing the rationing on licensed operators rather than on car agents and registrations makes sense. It insures that the affluent two and three-car families with only two or three operators won't have the advantage over the less affluent one car family with several operators.

Such a system would also be easy to administer, for most state motor vehicles departments have computerized lists of licensed operators which are much less subject to change than the lists of registered automobiles.

The provision for a white market in certificates, permitting the sale of unneeded certificates and their purchase by drivers willing to pay the premium should go far to block the black market that would otherwise almost inevitably arise. The system will thus permit a basic minimum of gasoline to flow to all at the lowest price -- but also allow those who must have more to get it by paying more.

Finally, the basic simplicity of the system has an obvious appeal. The federal government will not attempt the almost impossible bureaucratic job of setting dozens of different categories of need; instead questions of special hardship will be handled by local boards of general guidelines. As a result, the Washington headquarters can be kept to only about 500 people. The best system of all would be no system at all, and we hope that voluntary measures will keep the stand-by plan in the closet. But if it is needed, at least it will be there.

SHORTS FROM CPS

Jeans prohibited;
new math poor;
dirty smut law;
LIFE lives

Jeans are no-no

PROVO, Utah -- Faculty members at Brigham Young University have been given the authorization recently to flunk any male student wearing jeans on the campus.

After issuing the authorization, the university president maintained, "We are proud of Brigham Young University and for the high morals for which we stand. That is why faculty, students and administrators are concerned over the noticeable departure by some students from the standards of dress and grooming we have all promised to uphold."

The president's statement was endorsed by the chairman of the Faculty Advisor Council and the student body president at the university.

Arm twisting

McLAUGHLIN, S. D. -- A federal indictment has been brought against a South Dakota policeman, Melvin E. Litau, for allegedly breaking a Sioux woman's arm.

He was charged by the Civil Rights Division of the U. S. Attorney General's office with violating Ms. Delores Marion Taken Alive's constitutional right not to be deprived of liberty without due process of law.

Lettau allegedly deprived Taken Alive's liberty when he twisted her arms in a South Dakota police station. Ms. Taken Alive, a Head Start teacher, suffered a broken left arm and a broken left wrist.

If convicted, Officer Litau could serve up to one year in prison or be forced to pay a $1000 fine.

2+2=4?

A recent doctoral candidate's dissertation concluded that math students studying the "new math" are clearly inferior to students of the "old math."

Stephen Roderick used the mathematics test skill items from the Iowa schools in 1936, 1961, 1965 and 1965. The tests were administered to a cross-section of present Iowa students and compared with test results from previous years.

New math students were rated inferior in problem-solving, computation, decimals and percentages, as compared to the 1936 students.

Effectiveness of the "new math" curriculum has been questioned by the candidate, who has speculated that the poor showing of present students might also be connected with the attitudes of the students themselves, their teachers and the emphasis placed on math today as a whole.

Smutty law

WINCHESTER, Ind. -- Problems have been encountered in the town of Winchester with the new smut ordinance: Winchester's only newspaper, the "Winchester News Gazette" says the new ordinance is too dirty to print.

Under city law, all ordinances must be published as legal notices in the gazette before the ordinances officially become law. Publisher Richard Wise read over the ordinance one time, and refused to have the anti-smut bill set in type.

Wise explained in a front page editorial that the ordinance itself was much too explicit about sexual activity and stated that he could not, in good conscience, publish it.

Un-wed sues

A single parent in Iowa is threatening legal action because her baby was disqualified in a newspaper-sponsored contest for the first baby born in the year.

Ms. Pam Aubrecht claimed that her son was born 14 hours before the baby named as the contest winner in Johnson County, Ohio. Ms. Aubrecht stated she might sue the newspaper for the $200 in prize money.

The newspaper, the "Press Citizen," has responded that the contest procedure included the "implied understanding that the parents should be married."

LIFE after death

Time Incorporated has announced it will begin publishing LIFE magazine again as a monthly dedicated to photojournalism and editorial news material. LIFE ceased publication as a weekly at the end of 1972, but special editions have sold well enough for the publisher to attempt the reincarnation.

SEE SEE SEE
RALEIGH AD
...PAGE 10...

"TO TELL THE TRUTH" WILL NOT BE SEEN TONIGHT SO THAT WE MAY BRING YOU THE FOLLOWING SPECIAL BROADCAST FROM THE WHITE HOUSE...

GOOD EVENING, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN. THE CRISIS FOR TONIGHT IS THE ENERGY CRISIS.

THE COUNTRY HAS BEEN GETTING HOT UNDER THE COLLAR IN RECENT WEEKS. THUS, OUR ENERGY DEMANDS HAVE BEGUN TO EXCEED AVAILABLE SUPPLY...

I URGE THE NATION TO KEEP COOL - AS I DO. YOUR FEDERAL GOVERNMENT, OF COURSE, WILL LEAD THE WAY IN ENERGY REDUCTIONS...

ACCORDINGLY, I AM CUTTING OFF ALL POWER TO THE SENATE OFFICE BUILDING AND TO THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT...

POWER TO THE PEOPLE!

Garbage men:
rough job

Believe it or not, being a garbage collector is the most hazardous job in America.

According to a study made by the National Safety Council, garbage workers have twice as many on-the-job injuries as fire-fighters, and three times as many as coal miners. One in every five collectors was hurt this past year.

The safety council blames three factors for the high injury rate that haunts the garbage-collecting profession: they are hurt because they are not instructed as far handling heavy trash cans (there is a proper way), they do not wear protective clothing such as gloves, and they are often confronted by vicious dogs.

Gov't body useless

Chile's military junta recently abolished the nation's constitutional court, with a flourish of constitutional logic.

The junta explained that since neither the congress nor the office existed any more, a body reformed to solve differences was no longer needed.

Keep on Trukkin' with dunham trukkers™

THEY'RE HERE! Dunham Trukkers™!

The happy new idea in casuals. All the comfort of super-soft suede over a wrapped crepe sole. They're side-stripe stitched and laced through a dozen rings ... to make them today's great look for everyone in the family. In fun-time colors.

dunham trukkers™

Su-Ann SHOES

LONG LEAF MALL & DOWNTOWN

ON OTHER COLLEGE CAMPUSES

"Guinea" freshmen experiment

LINDSBORG, Kans. (IP) -- Freshman students at Bethany College are the subjects of a unique experiment this year to establish a sense of community through their resident living arrangement. The "neighborhood concept" is a project which has undergone a year of study, and has been the subject of several retreats for its planners, before it was put into effect this past September.

A task force composed of students, faculty and administrators examined the quality of life on the campus and recommended, as a first step, to make a change in the living environment for freshmen. Students are now organized into units of fourteen or fifteen members each, with the groups designed to represent heterogeneous geographical, cultural and scholastic backgrounds.

Each neighborhood is a geographical area of the resident hall, with each neighborhood painted a distinctive color to mark it off from the rest of the neighborhoods; the area is decorated by the group and contains a den for group meetings. Members of a neighborhood work together to plan activities with their group or other neighborhoods. They also are enrolled in a common academic course for which they can study time after time and again together.

According to the Dean of Students, Fred Ray, and Academic Dean Lloyd Foerster, the keys to the success of the different neighborhoods and the project as a whole, rely on the thirteen resident assistants, each of whom has been given extensive training in preparation to deal with the problems that arise in dormitory life, and to answer questions that students might have concerning school policies, courses and campus life in general, and to give guidance in personal problems. The resident assistant is to act as a friend to the neighborhood residents.

Freshmen interviewed as to how they are adjusting to the living arrangement and the general concept have been more than enthusiastic; "It's a great way to meet people; I don't feel so lost since my neighborhood is so well acquainted; At first I thought the whole idea was really juvenile, but the neighborhood gives me something to hang on to while I adjust to the campus atmosphere."

The hope is that the "neighborhoods" will not only help initial adjustment to college life for freshmen, but they will also become an integral part of the continuing life of college students, so that many hours each student spend in the dorm will be spent in meaningful and productive relationships with fellow students and friends.

Editors file suit

LONG BEACH, Calif. (OCR) -- Editors of the "49er" newspaper at California State University recently lost a suit to recover editorial salaries which had been cut off by the student senate.

Now the editors of another state student newspaper, the California State at Northridge "Daily Sundial," have a similar problem. As a protest of the student government's decision to cut salaries for their editors, the paper was published for a week with all news columns completely blank.

Both papers have been under fire by their student governments for the type of coverage given to the student government elections last spring.

Condominiums sold to students

COLUMBUS, Ohio (OCR) -- The latest thing - of all things - being sold to students is condominiums. A Columbus real estate developer placed ads in the college newspapers urging "be a homeowner while your still in school . . . It's a valuable experience and an investment that will pay off in a few years when you graduate . . . save on your down-payment by doing your own painting."

A company spokesman reports the ad campaign was an experiment to fill the normal fall surplus of unsold units. He says the $18,900 - and - up townhouses are surprisingly popular with young singles, including students if roommates can show an acceptable combined monthly income.

A group of 15 undergraduates from Union College in New York purchased a $29,000 nine-bedroom house. They figure they will save several hundred dollars each every year, and possibly benefit from increased real estate value when they sell after graduation.

"Franky Soaking"

by Phil Frank

Reduces risk of nuclear war

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (IP) -- To initiate students in arms control and disarmament, a new program for science and international affairs will be established at Harvard University with a grant from the Ford Foundation adding up to more than one million dollars.

One of the program's chief objectives will be to renew academic interest in understanding the relation of military force to international order and to examine ways in which the control and reduction of arms may improve international security and reduce the risk of nuclear war.

Professor Paul Doty will direct the program which will be located initially in the Center for International Affairs. Mr. Doty, a member of the center's executive committee, has been involved in science policy and arms control for decades. Since 1963 he has served as chairman of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences Committee on International Studies of Arms Control.

editorial

Oil shortage harasses public

No one is absolutely certain that gasoline rationing will be needed. None can say when it will be needed, if it is. And everybody, in and out of government, must surely hope that rationing can be avoided by various conservation measures, and perhaps, an Arab decision to turn on the oil supplies again. Nevertheless, it is encouraging to see the administration moving at least to set up a rationing system to be invoked if necessary.

The standby plan incorporates some sensible principles. Basing the rationing on licensed operators rather than on car agents and registrations makes sense. It insures that the affluent two and three-car families with only two or three operators won't have the advantage over the less affluent one car family with several operators.

Such a system would also be easy to administer, for most state motor vehicles departments have computerized lists of licensed operators which are much less subject to change than the lists of registered automobiles.

The provision for a white market in certificates, permitting the sale of unused certificates and their purchase by drivers's willing to pay the premium should go far to block the black market that would otherwise almost inevitably arise. The system will thus permit a basic minimum of gasoline to flow to all at the lowest price -- but also allow those who must have more to get it by paying more.

Finally, the basic simplicity of the system has an obvious appeal. The federal government will not attempt the almost impossible bureaucratic job of setting dozens of different categories of need; instead questions of special hardship will be handled by local boards of general guidelines. As a result, the Washington headquarters can be kept to only about 500 people. The best system of all would be no system at all, and we hope that voluntary measures will keep the stand-by plan in the closet. But if it is needed, at least it will be there.

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 791-8985.

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

editor: beth hicks
associate editors: barry asbury,
j.k. muhlenman
advertising director: barry asbury
business manager: alan murphy
sports editor: robert maxey
greek lines: rocky moore

photographic staff: roberta allred,
nauma dozier,
neal huntley
supportive staff: sharon davis,
anne nesbit,
darlene pearlsall

artwork: anne nesbit, sally mullins

SHORTS FROM CPS

"TO TELL THE TRUTH" WILL NOT BE SEEN TONIGHT SO THAT WE MAY BRING YOU THE FOLLOWING SPECIAL BROADCAST FROM THE WHITE HOUSE...

GOOD EVENING, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN. THE CRISIS FOR TONIGHT IS THE ENERGY CRISIS.

THE COUNTRY HAS BEEN GETTING HOT UNDER THE COLLAR IN RECENT WEEKS. THUS, OUR ENERGY DEMANDS HAVE BEGUN TO EXCEED AVAILABLE SUPPLY...

Jeans prohibited;
new math poor;
dirty smut law;
LIFE lives

Jeans are no-no

PROVO, Utah -- Faculty members at Brigham Young University have been given the authorization recently to flunk any male student wearing jeans on the campus.

After issuing the authorization, the university president maintained, "We are proud of Brigham Young University and for the high morals for which we stand. That is why faculty, students and administrators are concerned over the noticeable departure by some students from the standards of dress and grooming we have all promised to uphold."

The president's statement was endorsed by the chairman of the Faculty Advisor Council and the student body president at the university.

Arm twisting

McLAUGHLIN, S. D. -- A federal indictment has been brought against a South Dakota policeman, Melvin E. Litau, for allegedly breaking a Sioux woman's arm.

He was charged by the Civil Rights Division of the U. S. Attorney General's office with violating Ms. Delores Marion Taken Alive's constitutional right not to be deprived of liberty without due process of law.

Letrau allegedly deprived Taken Alive's liberty when he twisted her arms in a South Dakota police station. Ms. Taken Alive, a Head Start teacher, suffered a broken right arm and a broken left wrist.

If convicted, Officer Litau could serve up to one year in prison or be forced to pay a $1000 fine.

2+2=4?

A recent doctoral candidate's dissertation concluded that math students studying the "new math" are clearly inferior to students of the "old math."

Stephen Roderick used the mathematics test skill items from the Iowa schools in 1936, 1951, 1955 and 1965. The tests were administered to a cross-section of present Iowa students and compared with test results from previous years.

New math students were rated inferior in problem-solving, computation, decimals and percentages, as compared to the 1936 students.

Effectiveness of the "new math" curriculum has been questioned by the candidate, who has speculated that the poor showing of present students might also be connected with the attitudes of the students themselves, their teachers and the emphasis placed on math today as a whole.

Smutty law

WINCHESTER, Ind. -- Problems have been encountered in the town of Winchester with the new smut ordinance; Winchester's only newspaper, the "Winchester News Gazette," says the new ordinance is too dirty to print.

Under city law, all ordinances must be published as legal notices in the gazette before the ordinances officially become law. Publisher Richard Wise read over the ordinance one time, and refused to have the anti-smut bill set in type.

Wise explained in a front page editorial that the ordinance itself was much too explicit about sexual activity and stated that he could not, in good conscience, publish it.

Un-wed sues

A single parent in Iowa is threatening legal action because her baby was disqualified in a newspaper-sponsored contest for the first baby born in the year.

Ms. Pam Aubrecht claimed that her son was born 14 hours before the baby named as the contest winner in Johnson County, Ohio. Ms. Aubrecht stated she might sue the newspaper for the $200 in prize money.

The newspaper, the "Press Citizen," has responded that the contest procedure included the "implied understanding that the parents should be married."

LIFE after death

Time incorporated has announced it will begin publishing LIFE magazine again as a monthly dedicated to photojournalism and editorial news material. LIFE ceased publication as a weekly at the end of 1972, but special editions have sold well enough for the publisher to attempt the reincarnation.

Garbage men: rough job

Believe it or not, being a garbage collector is the most hazardous job in America.

According to a study made by the National Safety Council, garbage workers have twice as many on-the-job injuries as fire-fighters, and three times as many as coal miners. One in every five collectors was hurt this past year.

The safer council blames three factors for the high injury rate that haunts the garbage-collecting profession: they are hurt because they are not instructed as far handling heavy trash cans (there is a proper way), they do not wear protective clothing such as gloves, and they are often confronted by vicious dogs.

Gov't body useless

Chile's military junta recently abolished the nation's constitutional court, with a flourish of constitutional logic.

The junta explained that since neither the congress nor the office existed any more, a body reformed to solve differences was no longer needed.

Keep on Trukkin' with dunham trukkers™

THEY'RE HERE! Dunham Trukkers™!

The happy new idea in casuals. All the comfort of super-soft suede over a wrapped crepe sole. They're side-stripe stitched and laced through a dozen rings ... to make them today's great look for everyone in the family. In fun-time colors.

dunham trukkers™

Su-Ann SHOES

LONG LEAF MALL & DOWNTOWN

SEE SEE SEE
RALEIGH AD
...PAGE 10...

CHERRY PACES DISTRICT IN SCORING

Mike Cherry, UNC-W's 6ft.2 senior guard from Ahoskie, NC, leads all scorers in the 15-team NAIA District 29 with a sparkling 26.0 averaged, according to the latest district statistics.

A southpaw who was all-district last season, Cherry also ranks third in the district in field goal percentage with 62.5 accuracy and fourth in free throw marksmanship with an 87.0 percentage.

Trailing Cherry in the scoring race are Linwood Johnson of Va. State with a 25.7 averaged, Glen Windley of Elizabeth City State with a 24.6 average and Greg Jones of Methodist with 21. Completing the top five is Alphonzo McRae of Pembroke's defending district champions with a 19.4 average.

Top rebounder is Windley of Elizabeth City with 15.5 recoveries per game. Next is Johnson with 13.5.

Field goal percentage leader is Wm. Shiver of Elizabeth City with a remarkable 69.7 percentage, followed by Allen Searson of ACC with 68.0 marksmanship.

The number one free throw shooter is Campbell's Danny Gaither, who has hit 41 of 45 tosses for a sizzling 91.1%. Second is Pembroke's Everett Hambric with a 90.9 mark.

(photos by roberta allred)

Ernie Lynn pulls down a rebound as teammate Sam Robinson observes his technique. (see story on Sam Robinson jumps to fame.) The Seahawks won their first game ever against Pfeiffer by a more than convincing score, 89-71!!!!

SPORTS SCOPE: Sam Robinson jumps to fame

by wayne steele

With a great jumping ability and unusual speed, Sam Robinson has become one of the top reserves on the UNC-W basketball team.

Sam is a 6' 5" freshman from Wilmington. He started in every game in his junior and senior years at Hanover High School and averaged 15 points and 10 rebounds per game.

This year as a substitute center, Sam is averaging 5 points and 5 rebounds per contest and has blocked more shots than anyone else on the team.

Sam is also playing on the Junior Varsity team where he is averaging 19 points a game. He says, "I feel I am getting valuable experience playing on both the Varsity and JV."

Sam keeps himself busy even off the basketball court. "I am always doing something because I love being with people and just having a good time," he states.

He really enjoys going to school here because he can still live at home and he has a scholarship. He is undecided about his major but leans toward political science.

Sam appreciates the support the fans have shown at the games. He feels their enthusiasm is reflected in the Seahawks' victories at home.

Along with the other freshmen on the team, Sam is being brought along slowly by Coach Gibson but shows great potential for the future.

PE Majors give $100

The PE Majors Club, sponsored by Dave Miller, gave $100.00 to the interclub council to go towards the outdoor bulletin board.

Butch McDaniel, president of the club said that the club raised the dough by two projects.

The first project initiated was a booth at the carnival.

"There was good club effort. The women made prizes, cookies and cakes. At the carnival we raised 40 dollars," stated Butch.

The next project was a raffle. An 8 tract tape-player was raffled. Catherine Susan Warner was the lucky recipient.

3-0, record best start in years

The University of North Carolina at Wilmington, building its game program under Coach Mel Gibson, was only 10-14 in Gibson's first season last year. But the coach has this year's edition of the Seahawks off to its best start in years.

The university has a record of 3-0 in the NAIA District 29.

Leader for the team is 6-foot 2-inch Mike Cherry, a southpaw marksman who leads NAIA District 29 in scoring with a 26 point average. Other Seahawk scoring leaders include 6-foot 2-inch Willie Jackson (16.0) and 6-foot 3-inch David Prince (12.8).

tennis match slated

PEMBROKE -- Using the facilities of the spacious Jones Health and Physical Education Center, Pembroke State University will host an open indoor tennis tournament for all players 18 years old and above on Friday, Saturday and Sunday - February 1-3.

Both a mens' and womens' tournament in singles and doubles, championship trophies will be awarded in all divisions. Players from Robeson, Scotland, Cumberland and outlying counties have been invited to participate.

Entry fee is $1.00 per event in singles and doubles; each entry is also required to bring a new can of balls. Entries should be addressed to Dr. Kenneth Johnson, P.E. Dept., Pembroke State University, Pembroke, N.C. 28372. Dr. Johnson can also be notified by calling 521-4634.

Deadline for entries is Thursday, January 31.

Dr. Johnson, tennis coach at the university explained, "The first round games will be played Friday night. Contests will continue all day Saturday, and finals will be held Sunday."

Girls dribble

For the first time at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, a girls' basketball team has been organized. The girls played their first game Friday night, Jan. 18 against Campbell College in Bales Creek.

Other games include:

January 21	PSU	home
January 28	USC	home
February 1	ECU	away
February 4	PSU	away
February 9	FMC	away
February 12	USC	away

The North Carolina State Basketball Tournament (B) will be held in Raleigh on Feb. 22 and Feb. 23.

Coach for the team is Jan Donahue.

VISTA, PC RECRUIT

Recruitment for the Peace Corps and VISTA will be held on campus February 11-13 in the student union.

Cupid has shot his little arrow. Now, Valentine, the DIAMONDS are up to you.

GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler and Silversmith
212 North Front Street

There's
no getting blood out of
a turnip.

If the bills keep coming in, but there's not much left to go out, we'd like to help. We're coming soon to Oriole Drive and College Road, and we hope you'll visit. For a home loan, car loan, general all-around loan or a student loan. Watch for our opening.

First Union National

NOW OPEN

AT COLLEGE ROAD AND ORIOLE DRIVE

As Rikk looks on, teammate Ernie Lynn scores two for the Hawks.

Rikk Alessi takes a siesta during a basketball game while Ricky Brock and Perry Dobson try to wake the sleeping Rip Van Winkle!

coach notes team loss

BUIES CREEK -- First game for the lady Seahawks was lost to the more experienced Campbell College team, 54-31.

Coach Jan Donahue had only praise for the girls, "I think we did very well considering none of our girls have ever had college competition before this game. We did suffer because of several ineffective offensive players. We had the shots but we missed a great many of them. On defense, I thought we did a very fine job. We will get another crack at Campbell at home this Thursday night."

Sheila Bowles lead the UNC-W team with 10 points to the high 14 points made by Campbell's Cicky Hawley.

bulldogs nip feathers

"We played better than we have ever played and I am very pleased with our overall team effort," exclaimed the exuberant coach, Mel Gibson after the Hawks flew past the ACC's Bulldog's bite, 85-60!

The game was four minutes old before the bulldogs scored one on a free throw while the Seahawks had built up a fine 11 point lead. The Bulldogs rallied to come within 6 of the Seahawks 13-7, their closest attempt of the evening as the Hawks went on to build up a 13 point lead at halftime, 40-27.

The second half found Ernie Lynn in foul trouble as he committed his fourth foul and was taken out of the game with 16:30 showing on the clock; however, the Seahawks had a 17 point advantage, 46-29.

With the game never in doubt the Hawks mounted up a dazzling 22 point lead, 69-47, with 7:05 remaining before the Seahawks could claim victory. Ernie Lynn came back in the game only to commit his final foul with 4:56 remaining.

Kemp came into the Seahawk lineup and fired three straight buckets to end the game, 85-60.

Mike Cherry, although not up to his usual average, paced the Hawks with 18. Others in double figures were: Jackson with 12, and Prince and Yow had 10.

76-67

Braves scalp Seahawks

PEMBROKE -- Pembroke State's Braves joined the homecoming festivities with a 60% shooting mark from the floor as they downed the UNC-W Seahawks 76-67 in league basketball January 18.

Seahawk Coach Mel Gibson was disappointed with his first conference loss after three wins in the district. The team played poorly, he said, and effort in the first half was disappointing. Shot selection was poor; Pembroke hustled the team for 30 of the 40 minutes and we got close with too little time to make it up, he stated.

The team moved within 10 points three times within the last few minutes of play, and Jim Brogren's free throw left the team behind nine points, 76-67. Overall the Seahawks hit 31 for 65 for 47.7%. At halftime Pembroke Braves were ahead by 12 points.

The Seahawks were guilty of numerous personal fouls in the first half, while the Braves were charged with only four personals in the first half of the match.

In the second half, the Seahawks got chances at the free line as Pembroke caught up with UNC-W in personal fouls.

High scorer was Ernie Lynn with eight buckets and two free throws totaling 18 points.

DISTRICT 29 STANDINGS UP TO JANUARY 12

SCHOOL	DISTRICT		ALL GAMES
	W	L	W	L
Virginia State	6	0	9	1
UNC - Wilmington	2	0	5	2
Norfolk State	2	0	5	3
Methodist	2	0	3	2
Atlantic Christian	2	0	4	7
Virginia Wesleyan	3	1	7	2
Pembroke State	2	1	8	3
Christopher Newport	2	1	7	4
Lynchburg	2	2	5	4
Shaw	1	1	4	6
Hampton Institute	2	4	5	6
Campbell College	0	1	6	7
Elizabeth City State	0	2	3	9
St. Andrew's	0	4	3	9
N. C. Wesleyan	0	6	1	10

LAMPOON tests Wayne's "true grit"

In response to a challenge issued by the Harvard Lam-poon, the oldest college humor magazine, actor John Wayne was at the Harvard Square Tuesday, Jan. 15 to have his "true grit" tested in the "most intellectual, most traditionally radical, in short, most hostile territory on earth."

Wayne appeared to publicize "McQ" which features him as a hard-bitten detective who becomes personally involved in a big-city crime, violent death and mental anxiety.

The Lampoon planned a number of activities to mark the occasion. The Duke left the Lampoon Castle and joined an authentic U. S. Army armor escort, proceeded to Harvard Square with a fanfare from the Harvard-University Band.

He was greeted at the square with a spontaneous stampede of mammals, species undetermined, and a running gun battle between cowboys, Indians and syndicate trigger-men, all in their native dress.

Identical twins then escorted the Duke into the square theater, where the program included the commissioning of John Wayne as an honorary colonel in the Army, a ceremonial saloon slug-fest and the showing of "McQ."

Following the screening, Wayne responded to questions from the audience. The conclusion to the festivities was marked with the star's finger being preserved for eternity in cement.

what makes a cat hum?

Doctor Paul Layhausen has been working on a puzzle that has baffled scientists for centuries: what makes a cat purr, and why?

After studying thousands of felines, the doctor reports that the purrs are very complex habits. Cats, he claims, purr for the same obvious reason that people smile -- because they are happy and relaxed, q. He added, however, that some cats use their purrs to wrangle a little extra food from unsuspecting humans; these cats purr loudly when people are around, and usually rewarded a treat.

drama notes: scene 1

Troup gains five actors

by peter smith

Five talented newcomers on campus have much to offer Wilmington's dramatic organizations.

Two Wilmington residents, Leslie Jordan and John Johnson, have transferred from Chapel Hill to UNC - W this semester. Both promptly landed leading roles in the Thalian Association's next production, "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie."

Jordan has a great deal of theatrical experience with groups like the Carolina Play-makers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and at the Lab Theater.

Johnson was known primarily as a fine singer and clarinetist until his success in the title role of the S. R. O. Straw - Hat production of "The Drunkard."

Jacqueline Frier, who teaches English at Miller-Motte Business College in the mornings and at the university afternoons, is evidently non-plussed by a schedule that would leave most instructors feeling suicidal, to find the time to give a stylish performance as the second Mrs. Condomine in the recent Arts Council production of "Blithe Spirit" directed by Dan Cobb.

Miss Frier has a singing voice of unusual quality and has played many leading roles in musicals with community theater groups in Georgia. If you are acquainted with Pat Sanderlin, you probably think of her as someone tucked away in the Bursar's Office calmly pursuing mundane tasks. Those who saw her performance as the pixilated medium in Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit," however will never again feel the same in her company -- what if she should start sniffing for ectoplasm in the Administration Building?

Although he is an accomplished musician, it was Flynn Rivenbark's talent as a singing actor that won him entry into New York University's prestigious School of the Arts.

Having returned to his home in Wallace and to school here, Rivenbark was immediately drafted by Anne Fitzgibbon as co-stage manager for Harold Pinter's fascinating play, "The Caretaker," to be presented by the University Theater in February.

Baptist meeting

There will be a meeting of the Baptist Student Union Monday, January 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the Baptist Association Building across from the campus. Everyone is invited to attend.

Used Books?

Students who have not picked up their books from the Used Book Store, or their money, should claim these items by leaving a name and number where they can be reached with the secretary in the Business Department.

BILL TIA

(photos by nauma dozier)

PETER MILLER

"HEY I SAW YOUR AD IN THE SEAHAWK NEWSPAPER," has become a familiar note at Munchy's Grill located up from the college on Highway 132. Natives of New York with years of restaurant experience, the two refer to themselves as "gourmet cooks." There's a difference, they laugh.

tricks 'o the trade

Plane crashes

by jay tilley

With a more than ample supply of chain hamburger joints, Munchy's is a great alternative for those who enjoy the more unique and friendlier atmosphere.

Bill Tia and Peter Miller operate and own the four-month-old grill located conveniently on College a few blocks from the university. Not the ordinary stereotype business proprietors, Bill and Peter are only twenty-one years old. An interview with the two guys revealed the following:

Originally from New York, the two were in a plane crash near the campus, and that is how they ended up in Wilmington. Combined, they have sixteen years of restaurant experience. For five years they worked together, and three years separately in New York as gourmet cooks.

Being the only dell-food outlet in the area, Munchy's has become a regular eating place for many of the students that it have tried it out. Good dell-food is hard to locate in Wilmington.

Munchy's is really designed for the college, comparable to the many restaurants outlining the campus of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Although Wilmington has a long way to go to ever become a "college town," places like Munchy's and the guys that own it help create a collegiate atmosphere.

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Wall-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen areas
- Hotpoint range, refrigerator, garbage disposal
- Individually-controlled air conditioning
- Large swimming pool, Central laundry facilities

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished $135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished $149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished $160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished $185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENTER APARTMENT LIVING AT ...

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

RECORD

WORLD

Discover
New Dimensions

- NEW RELEASES
- BRITISH IMPORTS
- JAZZ
- SOUL
- GIFT CERTIFICATES
- GOOD MUSIC!!!!!!

791-7043

*ASK ABOUT OUR
BAKER'S DOZEN

Long Leaf Mall

HOW TO STOP SMOKING

(regular or menthol)

by darlene pearsall

Have you ever entered a room full of people and tried to guess the Camel Filters smoker? In the advertisement, it's easy. He is always the guy holding a jacket over his shoulder. In reality, however, it proves to be a bit more difficult. Something that is easy to guess, though, is the recent ex-smoker in the room -- you know, the one who "kicked the habit and joined the unhooked generation." He is generally tense, biting his nails, eating a lot, or in the act of all three. But this is really unnecessary because there are two great methods that will help you quit smoking.

The first method is easy and practical. You simply take a cigarette, look it in the eye and say, "Ahala gbadaduckey." At the same time rub a frog's leg across your left knee. This is guaranteed to produce great results by completely diminishing your hunger for cigarettes -- it only works, however, if you eat cigarettes and don't smoke them.

The second method is to quit buying; this is, in reality, more common. After you have drained your friends' supplies, you are well on your way to stopping.

With both methods there's one tiny little drawback -- you turn paranoid. Everywhere you look, people seem to be lighting up a cigarette. Your professors begin to resemble the things. You feel everyone is staring at you, and you sense whispering -- "Hey man, look at the wierdo without a cigarette."

The following account has been recorded to have happened to a student at the university after following method # 2.

"One day I stopped at the cafeteria for lunch. I had a fantastic, healthy appetite. As soon as I had finished my meal -- it happened!! I saw in a far corner of the room -- someone lit a cigarette. 'Oh no!', I cried. 'Not that!' It was too late. Others had followed the lead. My table companion included -- 'Et tu Brute?' It had to have been a conspiracy. I could imagine them as a Gestapo mob with a machinegun in one hand and a cigarette in the other. And they were all out to get me. They wanted me to join them again -- I could tell.

Then, one of the guys winked at me, and ordered a carton of milk to be sent to my table. Which would have been great -- if I were a girl."

BEEF WITH CAFETERIA

by carl vaughn

The food turned out by the cafeteria appears to be a main point of concern to the students at UNC - W.

Practically everyone interviewed had some thoughts on the cuisine at the campus cafeteria, and the majority of those thoughts were not particularly favorable.

Variety of the cuisine was voiced most frequently.

Eddie Dees, a sophomore from Hope Mills, N. C., described the menus as "unvaried," saying, "You know three weeks ahead of time what it is you're going to have."

Although most students voiced feelings similar to those of Dees, few were able to come up with any suggestions as to how to make improvements.

One exception to the pattern was Donnie Ward, a senior physics major, and a Wilmington native.

Ward had some sympathy for the cafeteria's problems, as he stated, "I'm sure they could produce excellent choices, but it's probably a matter of money."

Ward offered the only real suggestion for giving the students what they want at the cafeteria.

"I'd like to see a hotdog-hamburger stand, where you could get something fairly cheap. I'm sure the students would like that."

Ward made that statement over a Whopper, fries and a coke at the Burger King.

This will be a weekly column presenting random samplings of student likes and dislikes. Grips will more than likely dominate, but complaining can be beneficial.

As John Billings, American humorist, said, "The wheel that squeaks the loudest is the one that gets the grease."

Math Club meeting

The Math Club will hold the first meeting for Spring Semester on Thursday January 24. Plans for the meeting are: Dinner in the cafeteria at 5:00pm and a movie at 6:00pm in the Chemistry building room C-218. The movie concerns Topology and is on an introductory level.

Other plans for this semester include, a lecture, and two more movies. Dr. J.W. Bishir from N.C. State University will give the lecture scheduled. Dr. Bishir will be on campus the day of Feb. Feb. 14 and will be available for interested students to talk about the graduate program at N.C. State from 3-5pm. At 5:00pm there will be supper at the cafeteria, followed by the lecture. Dr. Bishir's lecture will concern Probability and its applications. The dinner-movie combination will be repeated two more times this semester. On Feb. 28, also a Thursday, the movie will be CHALLENGING CONJECTURES, and, on March 28 the final movie this semester will be shown following the supper, the topic will be Logic.

Anyone interested in becoming a member of the M Math Club may come to the first meeting this Thursday. The price for the supper is the normal fee for eating in the cafeteria, and the movie is free for all to attend. To become a member of the Math Club only an interest in math is required, and $5.00 a semester dues. The above activities are only those that were planned last semester, and more will be added as the club comes up with them.

RALEIGH

AFRICAN VIOLETS, TERRARIUMS, & HANGING BASKETS, FERNS, POTS, & POTTING SOIL.

MRS. ELSIE AALAM
213 WHITE OAK DRIVE
phone: 791-1184

odds 'n ends

Homecoming

GIGANTIC BANANA SPLIT?

Persons interested in working with the Homecoming Committee should contact Charles Berg, chairman, or Ms. Linda Moore, director of student activities, in her office in the Pub.

Art shows in Kenan

The Art Department opened the 1974 season with two art shows -- The Associated Artists of North Carolina Traveling Exhibition, and Four Artists from East Carolina University in Greenville. Displays are hanging in the Kenan Hall galleries, and will remain on display through January 27.

Kowal has Ph.D.

Miss Kathleen Kowal, an instructor at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, has successfully completed requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy Degree in psychology at Columbia University.

Miss Kowal completed her undergraduate degree in psychology at the University of Maryland, and earned her Master's Degree at Columbia University. She joined the faculty in August 1973.

Her dissertation was entitled, "The Effective Meaningfulness, Cultural Familiarity and Duration of Time Perception."

Suggested activities:

bonfire gigantic banana split
concert
basketball game with queen crowned at half - time dance car smash

All activities are tentative with the exception of the concert and the basketball game.

OLEANDER DRIVE 799-3950

Cinema 1
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

STARTS THURSDAY

The Graduate
Goodbye Columbus
Summer of '42
The Last Picture Show

Every so often there's a movie that people relate to in a special kind of way

The Paper Chase is such a movie

2:00-4:00-6:00-8:00-10:00

COLOR BY DE LUKE
TWOOTHY BOTTOMS - LINDSAY WAGNER - JOHN HOUSEMAN

OLEANDER 2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

STARTS THURSDAY

1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

WOODY ALLEN TAKES A NOSTALGIC LOOK AT THE FUTURE.

Woody Allen and Diane Keaton

NEXT: "THE WAY WE WERE"

"Sleeper"

LONG LEAF MALL 799-5710

LONG LEAF Cinema 1

STARTS THURSDAY

2:00-4:00-6:00-8:00-10:00

JULIE CHRISTIE and DONALD SUTHERLAND

"DON'T LOOK NOW"

ALL SEATS $1.00 til 2:30
IN ALL 4 CINEMAS EXCEPT SUNDAY
NEXT: "THE LONG GOODBYE"

LONG LEAF Cinema 2

NOW SHOWING

1:50-3:45-5:40-7:35-9:30

The dirty-tricks squad that even regular cops are afraid of!

From the producer of "Bullitt" and "The French Connection"

THE SEVEN UPS (PG)

HELD OVER!

Attention: Seniors

All seniors who have not yet done so are urged to fill out a senior information sheet for the 1974 FLEDGLING as soon as possible.

•VAC•

Fraternities born with country

by rocky moore

Five months after the Declaration of Independence was signed, five students at the college of William and Mary at Williamsburg, Virginia met on December 5, 1776 to found Phi Beta Kappa.

This early Greek letter society traces its origins back to the flat hat club which existed at William and Mary since 1750. From the first, Phi Beta Kappa had many of the hallmarks of most social fraternities as they are known today. Friendship, comradeship, and high ideals were the common bonds which united these college men.

Twenty-six fraternities had been established by 1861, when the civil war interrupted growth and expansion. It was not unusual for whole chapters of southern fraternities to enlist as a body to defend the cause of the confederacy.

After 1900, the fraternity movement continued to grow, both through chapter expansion and the founding of several new fraternities. Tau Kappa Epsilon, founded at Illinois Wesleyan in 1899 did not found a second chapter until 1909, but grew rapidly thereafter. Since World War II, Tau Kappa Epsilon has added well over 150 chapters making it the largest fraternity, in terms of chapters (245) in 1968.

Pi Kappa Phi was founded December 10, 1908 at the College of Charleston by Simon Fogarty, Alexander Kroag, and L. Harry Misson. Chapters were soon founded elsewhere in South Carolina, later spreading throughout the South to the West Coast. Pi Kappa take pride in their traditions as gentlemen. Former Congressman Nick Galifianakis was a member of Pi Kappa Phi.

In order of founding, Delta Upsilon is the sixth oldest Greek letter college fraternity. It was one of the first of the early fraternities to achieve significant size, spreading across the United States and Canada to become an international fraternity. Delta Upsilon was the only fraternity which grew out of a protest against the early weaknesses of the sub-rosa societies.

DU's unique position as the first fraternity to make an open declaration of principles and the first to declare selection only on merit, provided a natural source of strength. It is not surprising to find that Delta Upsilon played a leading role in the conception and formation of the National Interfraternity Conference (NIC), the coordinative and advisory body which promotes cooperation and unites all fraternities.

Charles Evans Hughes, who was later to become one of the greatest chief justices and Secretaries of State to have served the US, entered Colgate University in 1887. He was attracted to one of the Greek letter fraternities by the good fellowship of the brothers and academic standing of the Madison Chapter.

His father, a Baptist Minister, permitted Charles to join, but cited three fears of college societies: 1) They cultivate "a party spirit which leads to envy and jealousy," 2) they consume time which is needed for personal study and meditation, and 3) they might complicate the "maintaining of a strictly spiritual life."

However, within a few weeks young Hughes joined the fraternity, along with fifteen or twenty of his friends. Charles Evans Hughes was an excellent student and ultimately a highly successful statesman. Charles was a lifetime member of his fraternity and spoke well of it wherever he went.

It is men like Charles Evans Hughes who continue the Fraternity Movement to this day. During this week Tau Kappa Epsilon, Pi Kappa Phi, and Delta Upsilon are holding their rushes. Each fraternity has a unique program and have set high standards for their pledges at UNC-W.

A HUMP PARTY?

Several people in the Dorm were invited to a Hump Party at the Pi Kappa Phi house this past week. They were told it would be necessary to bring dates. Many students unfamiliar with this particular party raised their eyebrows when they heard this. Many have wondered what the sometimes mysterious Pi Kaps were up to.

Finally, some light can be shed on this traditional Pi Kappa Phi party. The event began many years ago with the founding chapter Pi Sigma Nu. It is held on Wednesday night which represents the middle of the week or the Hump. So celebration ensues Wednesday night after the brotherhood has rounded the Hump.

At least 75 or more people thronged the party room and house of Pi Kappa Phi. All received a warm welcome as the Pi Kaps are well known for their southern hospitality. Pi Kappa Phi has all the earmarks of a successful social fraternity.

VILLAGE INN
WHERE PIZZA IS ALWAYS
IN GOOD TASTE!

A wide variety in three different sizes.

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

3617, Market Street

FRATERNITY CHAPLAIN SPORTS AN UNCOLAI PHOTOS BY NEIL HUNTLEY

Rumor has it someone is contemplating forming a new social fraternity at UNC-W. Now that Delta Upsilon is in the process of achieving Chapter status, it will be possible for another local fraternity or colony to be formed probably within a year. Any one interested in forming a new social fraternity, one which would differ from those existing is invited to contact the Greek Editor for information concerning certain national fraternities interested in starting colonies at UNC-W.

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.

Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings — as an Air Force pilot or navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

SGT. JERRY T. LEWIS
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N. C.
Phone: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

"Come, come, let us drink the Vintner's Good Health. 'Tis the Cask, not the Coffer, that holds the true wealth.' 17th century London street song"

"Our Beverage Prices Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE and HOPS SHOP

Terry and Marty Pridgen
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

WHAT IS DELTA Upsilon UP TO? SEE NEXT WEEK'S COPY.

DO KNOW?

Alpha Delta Upsilon has temporarily suspended its rush with the advent of its

Yes

Wachovia

Installation with the Delta Upsilon International Fraternity. The brothers of Delta Upsilon have already spent close to $4,000 preparing for this once in a life time event.

A brief review of the itinerary reveals that there will be a formal banquet at which time the DU's long-awaited charter will be presented to them. Subsequently there will be a band dance. The well known band "Ware-house" will play from 9:00 to 1:00 at the Wilmington Hilton. Invitations have already been sent out — R.S.V.P. REQUIRED FOR ALL EVENTS

VISTA

Recruitment for the Peace Corps and VISTA will be held on campus February 11 - 13 in the student union.

SOLITAIRE REFLECTIONS

CAMINO
$250-$1,000
WED. RING $50.00

Keepsake
REGISTERED DIAMOND RINGS

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

28 N Front St • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

TKE BROTHERHOOD SALUTES THE UNIVERSITY!

PHOTOS BY NEIL HUNTLEY

TKE BROTHERS AND THEIR DATES ENJOY AMONG OTHER

TKE LINES

Tau Kappa Epsilon held its first rush party for the semester. "Lush" a much improved band this year provided 4 hours of outstanding music. During this time TKE brothers talked to prospective pledges and encouraged them to enjoy the dance. A tour of the TKE house revealed much time and effort was put into the upkeep of the house. All rooms were freshly painted and individual rooms indicated a great deal of pride and hard work went into their making. Tau Kappa Epsilon is a fraternity with a close knit brotherhood. More parties are planned as rush continues. TKE invites you to visit with them and join in the festivities.

ATTN: GREEKS

Submission of articles for greek lines should be turned in Wednesday before Friday publication if at all possible. Any Fraternity wanting a photographer or writer to appear at a social function or party should be advised a week in advance. By calling 791-8055. All Greek organizations are invited to take advantage of this. Let's show the campus what the Greeks are doing in the community socially and otherwise. Thank you, Greek Editor.

Ren Holt (TKE) - Joining helped me mature considerably. People need to meet people who want something in life. There are people in the world that don't give a damn. Fraternity brothers care about each other. All you have to do is ask for help.

Frank Moore (Pi Kappa Phi) - I liked the idea of improving my social life. It helps to improve your college standing. However, it is not just studying. Brotherhood is a good thing. You learn about different ways of life from different people in the fraternity. I think everyone should at least consider joining Janet Dobo (Little Sister for DU) - I joined DU because this fraternity seems to have more of a true fraternal brotherhood feeling. DU is truly a gentlemen's fraternity.

"SOMEONE HAS TO KEEP

THE PARTY GOING"

EARLY EATERS

FIRST 45 MINUTES
OF EACH MEAL

A COMPLETE MEAL

ONE MEAT-choice of chicken, chopped steak
crab pattie, or fish

SALAD
ONE VEGETABLE
BEVERAGE OR BREAD

$1.35

LUNCH 11:00 - 2:15

DINNER 4:45 - 8:00

HOSPITALITY

Balentines
BUFFET
Long Leaf Mall
SERVING CREATIVE FOODS

modern bridal and FORMAL SHOPPE
LONG LEAF MALL

Bridal Fashion Show

FRIDAY, JANUARY 25th 7:00 PM

at Balentines Banquet Room

Long Leaf Mall

FREE ADMISSION TO ALL

Come in to register for a Free Bridal Gown to be given away during the show!

Everyone is cordially invited. We know you'll like it.

For appointments, call 799-5730

College president controlled news

Marketing students at Western Missouri State College conducted a survey late last fall that indicates that almost three quarters of the students polled believe the college paper, the "Griffon News," is controlled by the college president.

Editor of the "Griffon News," said that the misconception is due to the fact that during the school year, the college's Board of Controls appointed the college president editor and publisher of the newspaper because of obscenities printed by the 1971 editor. Control of the newspaper was returned to the students during the summer of '72.

"Printing the truth, even if it is critical of the administration or students, is the guideline under which we operate, the editor, Dave Langlais commented. The administration has no say-so in the content of the paper."

Yes

Wachovia

RIDE ON!

Tour
America
on a
Raleigh
3-speed bicycle

Raleigh 3-speed models are designed for the rigors of touring. Rugged frames and components, comfortable saddles and easy shifting hubs let you go places with ease. You'll find a wide choice of Raleighs too. And you're guaranteed a perfect fit with the Raleigh CustomSizer. Raleigh... a world of difference.

RALEIGH

See 'em at 799-5770

LIFE CYCLES

Community Shopping Center 3209 Oleander Drive

Across From Cape Fear Ford

apparel factory outlet

Misses' &
Jr. Miss
Denim JEANS

from $5.61

baggies
flares
bells

Men's
Denim
Jeans

from $5.37

Hand Carved Bells - $6.97

10-6 sat. FREE PARKING 10-9 mon.-fri

4204 OLEANDER DRIVE

Reviews

"Soulful white vocalist"

"Everybody's crying mercy, when they don't know the meaning of the word..." A very gifted Bonnie Raitt is backed by Taj Mahal, Bill Payne, Jim Keltner, Van Dyke Parks and others resulting in a fine album from Warner Brothers entitled, "Takin My Time." There probably isn't a more soulful white vocalist -- this album being more than adequate evidence. (Bonnie Raitt also plays acoustical guitar and electric bottleneck guitars.) Predominantly blues, the release includes beautiful versions of Jackson Browne's "I Thought I Was a Child," and Randy Newman's "Gully." The music that won't make you want to cry will make you want to dance...

Mid-forties tune

Choose what if you buy another "hard" boogie album. "Hard Nose the Highway," you will probably buy additional Van Morrison album. Notable cuts include "Wild Children" -- a somewhat melancholy song reminiscent of the mid-forties, and "Autumn Song" -- a terribly warm and beautiful 10-minute composition on the season. Purchasing this one is a good choice.

Country-rockers' delight

Needless to say, some of today's finest music goes unnoticed. Aside from the writing and guitar talents of F. T. Tilton and C. Scott Boyer, "Why Quit When You're Losing" released by such greats as Chuck Leavell, who plays with the Allman Brothers Band, and the late Duane Allman. Some fine guitar work and nice vocals more than compensate for the vagueness of the lyrics. This record is a country-rockers delight.

Fine solo LP

Former Byrds drummer, Gene Parsons, has a solo LP - "Kindling" - and a fine one at that. Parsons demonstrates his multiple abilities -- singing quite well and playing better than a half-dozen instruments. There are several tracks on which he does it all, handling all instruments, vocals and harmonies. This Blue-Grass oriented album comes off with a rustic flavor that most anyone can enjoy.

NEW FACES ROUND UNC-W

Three new faces appeared on campus at the start of the new year. Mrs. Pat Hope replaced Mrs. Kathy Kiger, personnel officer in Mr. Price's office; Mrs. Susan White is the personnel office secretary, and Mrs. Chris Bobiak replaced Miss Betsy Parker in the Bookstore in the Pub.

Professors publish books, works, poems

"The Journal of Reading" will carry a six - article series by Dr. Saul Bachner concerning "Teaching Reading and Literature to the Disadvantaged" beginning in either April or October.

Dr. Antolin Gonzalez - del - Valle has signed a contract for publication of his new book, "Commercial Correspondence: Background and Form (Correspondencia comercial: Fondo y forma). The book should be available during the next school year.

A collaborative effort of Drs. Thad Dandel and Jack Levy, "Linear Bohr - Sommerfeld Electron Paths" will be published in "Journal of Chemical Education." The paper concerns the simplest atom, hydrogen, and the authors are hopeful that the insight will become a standard part of the introduction to atomic theory.

"Lion and the Lamb," a poem by Dr. Marie Powles, is included in the Winter/Spring issue of "Orphic Lute."

Math Computer Science tutoring offered

The Mathematics Department, along with the Math Club, is again scheduling a tutoring program for students in mathematics and computer science classes. Students taking CSC 205, CSC 211, CSC 212, and MAT 101, MAT 102, MAT 111, MAT 112, MAT 121, MAT 211, MAT 212 and MAT 225 may benefit from the program.

The schedule is as follows:

Mike Salmon (Computer sci- and Math)
7 - 9 p.m.
Monday, Wednesday
user room in computing center
Barbara English (Math)
3 - 4 p.m.
Monday, Wednesday
room C - 204
Kathy Payne (Math)
1:30 - 2:30 p.m.
Wednesday
12:30 - 1:30 p.m.
Monday
room C - 206

Students needing assistance other than from the program are encouraged to see their instructors during office hours and take advantage of the service.

Any student interested in hiring a tutor in mathematics can usually find a tutor from the Math Club. Interested students can inquire at the Mathematics Office.

A collaborative effort of Drs. Thad Dandel and Jack Levy, "Linear Bohr - Sommerfeld Electron Paths" will be published in "Journal of Chemical Education." The paper concerns the simplest atom, hydrogen, and the authors are hopeful that the insight will become a standard part of the introduction to atomic theory.

"Lion and the Lamb," a poem by Dr. Marie Powles, is included in the Winter/Spring issue of "Orphic Lute."

classified

Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are urged to put their classified ads in the SEAHAWK free -- FREE, ie, no charge. Let us give you a break.

● FOR SALE

STEREO UNIT: 8 track tape player, AM-FM radio and turn table. $200. Call 799-1586; ask for Dean.

WATERBEDS: New king size beds. $25. Also beanbags. Call Herbie at 791-9325.

1969 MOBILE HOME: 12 x 65 foot, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, central air conditioning. For appointment, call between 6 and 8 p.m. at 285-3747.

PORTABLE T.V.: Sears silver-tone 19 inch screen with VHP and UHP antennas. Excellent condition physically and mechanically. $50.

LADIES WETSUIT: 2 piece, 1/4" women's small to medium wetsuit in good condition. Ask for Debbie at 791-9108.

NURSING UNIFORMS: New! Never been worn; size 6 (28). Ask for Betsy at 799-0595.

35 mm CAMERA: Want to buy Pentax, Miranda, etc. See F. Allen in room 115, Hoggard Hall.

MUSIC BOOK: Music literature book for sale. Call 791-4483.

GENETICS BOOK: Used only one day being sold for $6.50. See John Wilkins in the Pub between 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

PAPERS TYPED: 50¢ for the first five pages; 40¢ for each page thereafter. Dial 458-8768.

MUSICIANS & VOCALISTS: Need you to play with band with a wide variety of music for clubs in the area. Contact Barry Langston, Country Club Apartments, 50/27 apt. 17.

SEWING & ALTERATIONS: Call 799-3531.

STEREO COMPONENTS: Most major brands! 20 - 50% off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

● WHEELS

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: power steering and radio. Only $1000. Dial 799-3765.

61 MITTY MITE JEEP: American Motors, V-4, air cooled engine, 4 wheel drive, independent suspension, aluminum body. Excellent condition. Call 675-0301 (ext. 64) daily until 4 p.m.; 791-0587 on nights and weekends.

HONDA 305 CC: Rebuilt motor; runs good. Must sell. $175. Call 763-6624.

53 "OLD FAITHFUL" CHEVY: Lively enough to get you anywhere in town. Inquire at 762-4886 in the evenings after 6 p.m., and in the mornings before 9 a.m. One car owner!

1961 MIGHTY MITE JEEP: American Motors jeep, marine surplus, aluminum body, V-4 aluminum air-cooled engine, 4 wheel drive, independent suspension, 4 speed with spare transmission. Good condition. Call 791-0587 after 5 p.m. or 686-0301 (ext. 64) between 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

● RIDES

LEGALLY BLIND WOMAN needs ride to classes (M-W-F 8:30) spring semester. Willing to pay for service. Lives one block off of Highway 132 on Mockingbird Lane in Long Leaf Hills. Needs return ride any time after 9:30 a.m. Call Mrs. Ashley at 791-1736.

RIDE NEEDED to Western Carolina any weekend. Will help.

RIDE NEEDED ANY WEEK-END to Western Carolina. Will help pay for gas. See Susan in room 102 in the residence hall.

GOING UP HIGHWAY 74 as far as Rockingham on Friday afternoons. Contact Steve in room 316 in the residence hall. Help pay for gas.

● WORK

MALE HELP: Bellamy drug company at 3806 Oleander Drive needs packer in shipping department to work on Monday - Friday from 2 - 5:30 p.m. Ask for Mr. Sistrunk.

FEMALE HELP: Representatives needed for Cameo Custom Fit Bras. Work own hours and earn $5. and up per hour. Apply at Salon de Frey Salon and Boutique, Phone 791-6618, and ask for Mr. Whitman.

OPENINGS FOR REPORTERS: THE SEAHAWK newspaper is looking for reporters for the spring semester. Leave name and phone number or dorm number on the bulletin board on the office door, or ask someone in the office.

● PLACES FOR RENT

BEDROOM AND BATH: In Hanover Heights area with kitchen privileges. Call 791-8330.

TWO BEDROOM APT: For sub-leasing effective Jan. 1. Furnished Apt. #5 at the Country Club Apartments at 5026 Hunt Club Road. For information call 799-2878.

WANTED: Roommate to share 2 bedroom apartment in University Arms, across from campus. No deposit, share rent and electricity. Call Greg anytime 799-5954 or 791-9758.

BEACH HOUSE: Roommate needed for place at Wrightsville Beach. Sound, $52.50 a month includes utilities. Call 256-4196.

TWO BEDROOM COMPLEX: Roommate needed at University Arms Apartments to share one large bedroom with another girl. Deposit already paid; electric bill split three ways. $55. per month per girl. Dial 791-9379 around noon or after 10 p.m.

BEDROOM AND BATH: With kitchen and full household privileges. Ideal for one or two students with ideal study conditions and good location. call 791-7611 after 5 p.m. or 763-9971 (EXT. 687) between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

TWO GIRLS NEEDED: To share apartment at 405 North Lumina Avenue, Wrightsville Beach at $75 a month. Three bedrooms on sound -- great porch. Contact B. J. Ward at 256-3628.

ROOMATE NEEDED: $55-60 per month for three bedroom apt. at Wrightsville Beach including utilities. Available Feb. 1. Call John, Billy, Bennie at 256-4433.

ROOMATE NEEDED: Two bedroom apt. across from the campus. Call Greg at 799-5954 or 791-9758.

Dr. Deas' recital set for March 28

Dr. Richard Deas' piano recital scheduled for Jan. 20 was postponed until March 28 at 8 p. m. in Kenan Auditorium due to the energy conservation measures in effect at the university. The Robeson County Music Club and the Music Committee of the Robeson County Public Library presented Dr. Deas in recital Jan. 13. His program included Bach, Schubert, Lees, Liszt and Chopin.

Typist, steno needed

Applications for two positions, typist 1 and steno 2, in the personnel office are being accepted. See Mrs. Kiger in room 105 of the Alderman Administration Building.

Research grant given to junior

Jinks Whittington, a junior physics major at UNC - W, has been awarded a research grant by the North Carolina Academy of Science for a project entitled, "A Study of the Sun and Other Related Phenomena."

Whittington's research will be conducted under the supervision of Rolla C. Nelson, assistant professor of physics at the university.

AQUA WORLD inc.

Professional
Diving
Instruction

N.A.S.D.S.
Approved

*Classes Now Open

- * Basic & Open Water Certification
- * 4 to a Class
- * Individual Instruction
- * Private Pool (no pool fee)
- * 3 Open Water Dives
- * $50.00-total cost!

AIR - SALES - RENTALS
CHARTER - REPAIRS

791-3976

5425 WRIGHTSVILLE AV.

Holsen THRIFT STORE

1055 S. College Road

(next to Sav-A-Lot)

BELOW RETAIL PRICES

ON

Breads, Cakes, Rolls, Donuts

NOT A SKIN FLICK, but a comedy-western starring James Garner, who although not a Puritan, believes in keeping his shirt on. Lou Gossett, one of the country's fastest rising male black performers, co-stars in the story of a pair of pre-Civil War bunco artists who bilk slave owners across the southern United States. (Shown Tuesday, January 26, 8 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium.)

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

Entire Stock of VERDE
* High Fashion
SHOES reduced 30%
Wellington Lee SHOES

MARKET PLAZA SHOPPING CENTER

"It's a must...Service a pleasure"

GARNER KEEPS HIS SHIRT ON IN 'SKIN GAME'

"Skin Game" sounds like, but definitely isn't, a skin flick!

"Nope!" grins James Garner off-handedly. "I believe in keeping my shirt on. I'm far from being a puritan, but I don't go for all this nudity business. It's pretty obvious that when a producer finds he has a bomb in the making, he hires a girl to take her duds off and puts the footage in reel one. They call it insurance. I call it a cop-out."

Garner's co-star in Warner Bros.' comedy-western, is Lou Gossett, one of the country's fastest-rising black actors. He has been acting since his final day of high school, when he landed a major role in the Broadway production of "Take A Giant Step."

He starred in the television series "The Young Rebels," and has received a number of drama awards for his stage work.

In "Skin Game," Garner and Gossett play a pair of pre-Civil War bunco artists who bilk slave owners across the southern United States. Gossett poses as Garner's slave, allowing himself to be sold to the highest bidder, and then escaping to rejoin his partner and pull the same dodge in the next town they pass through. The ruse is extremely profitable until they start running into former customers.

The Technicolor film co-stars Susan Clark, Brenda Sykes, Edward Asner and Andrew Duggan, and was directed by Paul Bogart.

HOTLINE

CRISIS LINE aids callers for 3rd year

763-3695

CRISIS LINE, a "hotline" and not a drug or suicide line, will celebrate its third anniversary January 29. Organized under a committee with the New Haven Drug Abuse Committee, Incorporated, the first director, who was a member of the Crisis Line committee, was Ms. Susan Gustafson.

Funded by UNITED WAY, the hotline is a 24 hour a day confidential crisis intervention phone service manned by anonymous volunteers. It has a very comprehensive listing of available community services and general information. Location of the CRISIS LINE room is a secret.

The total number of calls for the past three years has steadily risen from 3,778 in 1971 to 4,754 in 1972 to 5,104 for 1973. Average calls per month has gone from 314 to 384 to 425 in the past three years.

The largest number of calls is in January, October and during the summer. A lot of "depression" calls are not received during the holidays; a large number of "depression" calls are received normally throughout the year.

There are always a large number of hang-ups -- often people trying to get up the nerve to talk to the volunteer on the other end of the line. OPEN HOUSE has become the line's most-used referral. It has been estimated that over 50% of the callers are under 21.

Volunteers for the service are trained twice a year with 6 week training on the roles continuously. Eight hours of work is required for a month. The next class begins Feb. 28.

Speaking of numbers, the number to call is 763-3695.

Publication date moved

Beginning with the next edition of the SEAHAWK newspaper, the paper will be published on Fridays instead of the regular Wednesdays. This is so the staff can work around their class schedules.

Deadline for information to be published in any edition of the paper will be the Friday before publication, or Monday at the latest.

UNC-W nurse heads service

Mrs. Phoebe Hood, family nurse practitioner associated with the campus infirmary in the resident hall, has been named chairman of the newly announced Women's Consultant Service, an adjunct to CRISIS LINE.

The service began in mid-December, announced CRISIS LINE, which will celebrate its third anniversary on Jan. 29. The Women's Consultant Service acts as a back-up to the Crisis Line Volunteer, who may either confer with them or refer a call directly to them.

The group has taken Crisis Line training in listening and communication skills. In addition, they attend a training course in the area of women's needs and the services available to them. They have current information regarding medical facilities, including abortion clinics, pregnancy testing, adoption, signs of cancer, V.D., contraception, legal rights and aids, La Leche and La Maze classes among other information.

"The Women's Consultant Service does not intend that its members be 'experts' in any of the above mentioned areas, but feels they have compiled in-depth information to share," Carolyn Gruelle, CRISIS LINE director states.

MALES:

don't read this!
see page 10

seahawk

see inside info on home beer brewing

February 1, 1974

sixteen pages

pot-shots at human foibles, frailties

Wit and fun: Thurber's potpourri

"A Thurber Carnival," the New York Revue hit in which the wit and fun of the late James Thurber's famous cartoons and stories are brought to life on the stage, will be presented at Kenan Auditorium on Tuesday, Feb. 5 at 8 p.m.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1974

KENAN AUDITORIUM

8 p.m.

Coming from Dallas, Tex., the Alpha-Omega Players, will frolic through 16 Thurber sketches derived from the humorist's many stories, cartoons and conceits that delighted Americans in books and in the "New Yorker Magazine" for more than 30 years.

Included in the urbane potpourri is the classic tale, "The Night the Bed Fell In," as well as a skit in which a murder-mystery addict proves that Lady Macbeth couldn't have committed those homicides, and the saga of how Mr. Preble tries to rid himself of his wife -- after he has asked his secretary to run away with him and she has casually said, "All righty."

Kenneth Latimer is directing the anthology of a great humorist's deceptively casual pot-shots at human foibles and frailties. This will mark the second appearance of the group (Dawn Couch, Jem Graves and Linda and Larry Evans) in Wilmington. Tickets are $2.50 and will be available at the door.

Not feasible as a freak

LAWRENCE, Kan. (IP) -- Commenting on the Free University's heyday on the University of Kansas campus, Arthur Skidmore, assistant professor of philosophy and former advisor to Free University, said, "the pool of idealistic students here has shrunk. It is no longer feasible with the economy the way it is for students to be half in school and half out."

"They have to make up their minds whether they are going to be full-time revolutionaries or full-time students. The Free University is an anarchic organization having an anarchic function, destroying the academic bureaucratic structure that separates students from teachers," he continued.

"I can foresee how students can go through an authoritarian institution like this and not delight in learning for its own sake because they never have been confronted with it. Unless students are exceptionally mature people, they will tend to confuse the tokens of education for education itself."

Student evaluation is valid means

BUFFALO, N. Y. (IP)-- Student evaluation of instructors is a valid means of measuring teacher effectiveness. This is one of the findings of a study conducted by Dr. Peter K. Gessner, associate professor of pharmacology at the State University of New York at Buffalo.

The study found that a higher number of student ratings of the instruction they received in a particular area, the higher the class score relative to the nationwide norm in that area. According to Dr. Gessner, "This suggests that both student ratings and class performance on national normative examinations are valid measures of teaching effectiveness."

The group used for Dr. Gessner's study was a class of 119 sophomores taking a one-semester basic science course in the medical school; the students were medical students. The course was taught by 10 faculty members, each of whom was solely responsible for instruction in one or more of the 23 subject areas of the course. This situation allowed data for the study to be collected under controlled conditions, since all the faculty members were rated by the same group of students.

"We really don't know what good teaching is," Dr. Gessner said, "but if the students say it is good, it means they like it, and if class performance on examinations is high it means they learned something. If both of these results are in the same way related to how well the teaching is done, then they should parallel each other, which was the case with this study."

Student ratings of teacher effectiveness were obtained by means of a questionnaire completed anonymously by the students at the last lecture session of the course. Students were asked to use a three-point scale of "good," "satisfactory," or "unsatisfactory" to rate each of the subject areas covered during the course with regard to content, context, organization and presentation. The results of the rating were then converted to a numerical scale.

To insure that the relationship between student evaluation and class performance was a viable one, Dr. Gessner investigated other variables which might have affected the results. He investigated the data to determine if material was remembered better because it was taught later in the course, or if the amount of time and emphasis devoted to a subject influenced the results. The answer was "no" in both cases, leaving teaching effectiveness as the only common factor in the outcome.

Coeds "bet" points on courses

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (IP)-- Colorado College has inaugurated a unique registration system in which students "bet" to choose their classes. Under the system, every student is arbitrarily assigned 90 points, 10 for each course he is expected to take during the academic year. But a student can bet his points any way he wants.

A student is placed in a class according to the number of points he bets on it. If the student wishing to take the course exceeds the size limitation, the students who have bet the most points for the class are enrolled. The others are placed on a waiting list.

If, for instance, a student wants to be absolutely sure of getting into a popular class, he can theoretically bet all 90 of his points on that course and risk being on a waiting list for the other eight.

Each student registers only once a year; however the trend is for students to constantly drop and add courses. Under the Colorado College system, students can add or drop courses at any time during the year up through the second day of the block in which the course is given. As a result, the Registrar's Office points out it a worthwhile process.

Class sizes are usually restricted, but a student placed on a waiting list frequently has an opportunity to get into the class of his choice. When he drops a class to add the one he originally wanted, a chain reaction is often touched off, with a series of students changing courses.

"Frankly Speaking"

by Phil Frank

"THEN WE'RE AGREED - TO SATISFY ALL THE DEMANDS OF THE VARIOUS GROUPS FOR REPRESENTATION ON THE COMMITTEE, WE MUST SEEK A GAY, MILITANT, JEWISH, FEM LIBBER WITH BLACK & CHICANO PARENTAGE!"

letters

Dear Youth/ Student:

In recent years you have been able to avail yourselves of low cost transatlantic youth or student fares, originally available to youths 12 to 29, and to students 12 to 29. Because of the United States Civil Aeronautics Board pressure to discontinue both fares due to their "discriminatory nature," the youth fare eligibility was changed so that only youths 12 to 23 were eligible for the fare in 1973 and the student fare for transatlantic flights was withdrawn entirely.

At the end of November 1973, the board rejected a fare package which the world's transatlantic airlines submitted for approval, and singled out youth fares as, totally unacceptable because of their "discriminatory" nature. The board ordered the cessation of youth fares effective December 31, 1973. This action was taken in spite of the fact that the United States Senate has, on November 5, 1973, passed a bill authorizing airlines to file for special fares for the young and the aged. This bill is pending in the House of Representatives, and we urge you to write your Congressional Representative asking that he/she support the concept of reduced rate air travel for the young and the aged.

If you are uncertain as to the name and address of your Congressman, call the Board of Elections - voter information listed in the directory.

Your prompt action on this matter is essential.

Yours sincerely,

SOFA
European Student Travel Center,
Ltd.

(signed) Ab Reig
President

seahawk

published weekly on wednesdays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5 p.m. on the thursday before wednesday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 781-8855.

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

editor: both hicks
associate editors: barry asbury,
j.k. mihleman
advertising director: barry asbury
business manager: alan murphy
sports editor: robert maxey
greek lines: rocky moore

photographic staff: roberta aldrer,
nauma dozier,
neal huntley

supportive staff: sharon david,
anne nesbit,
darlene pearsall
artwork: anne nesbit

LETTERS SHOW OPPOSITION TO USING DOGS

WASHINGTON (AP) -- In letters to Congress, the American public has sent a howl of protest over proposed military experiments that would subject thousands of beagle puppies to poisonous fumes.

Representative Les Aspin, Democrat from Wisconsin, started the controversy in July by disclosing that the Air Force was planning to de-bark 200 young Beagles and force them the breath aviation fumes.

Since then, Aspin aides, say, they've received thousands of letters "more than we get on any other subject."

The number is sure to grow after Aspin's latest revelation that the Army is purchasing 200 pups for poison gas testing.

A 13-year-old girl from Cary, N. C., wrote Rep. Gary E. Studd, D - Mass., what she would like to tell the Air Force: "Because of your pig-headed, stupid and idiotic mind you will probably cause the death of many beautiful, innocent dogs."

She added a rather delicate reference to what she would like the puppies -- all 200 of them -- to do on the Air Force's front porch.

A 15-year-old boy from Chicago painstakingly typed a letter to Studd asking, "What would they do if there wasn't no dogs; would they kill him?"

He attached a postscript, "Excuse my typing, it is my second time."

Air Force Secretary John L. McLucas is now the target of the letters protesting the action by the American Institute for Protection of Animals and other organizations.

Somewhere among all his Watgate mail, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N. C., has a letter from a constituent in Raleigh asking him to see what he can do for the puppies.

Sens. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., and Jesse A. Helms, R-S. C., have all been on the receiving end of letters, as has Mrs. Lyndon Baines Johnson, widow of the late president.

The Pentagon has not yet put its tail between its legs, but it apparently is reconsidering. At first, the Air Force described the project as necessary to determine the effects of aviation pollutants on people.

The one question voiced by almost every letter is "Why beagles?" Studd says no one would ever have noticed if the experiment had called for guinea pigs.

MEMBER

"OH, ALL RIGHT—TAKE 'EM! THIS PRESIDENT DOES NOT DEFEY THE LAW!"

SHORTS FROM CPS

Injected contraceptive approved;
low on toilet paper; Cuban invasion fails;
Nixon a criminal?

Congress Ms.

fight approval

Depo - Provera, a contraceptive drug given by injection once every three months, has been approved by the Food and Drug Administration for certain women.

The women for whom the drug has been approved include those who "refuse or are unable to accept the responsibility demanded by other contraceptive methods, are incapable or unwilling to tolerate the side effects of conventional oral contraceptives, or have used other methods which have repeatedly failed."

Possible permanent infertility, breast tumors and heavy or irregular bleeding during menstruation are the reported risks of Depo - Provera. The drug was given on an experimental basis last year to poor and mentally retarded women in Tennessee. According to the National Welfare Rights Organization these indigent and institutionalized women were not advised of the side effects and yet are those for whom the drug was approved.

The Welfare Rights Organization, the Center for Law and Social Change, and Congresswomen Shirley Chisholm, Yvonne Braithwaite Burke, Cardiss Collins and Barbara Jordan have joined in protesting the action taken by the Food and Drug Administration.

Consumers hoard

toilet tissue

Scott Paper Company has had to begin allocating toilet papers after almost a month of panic buying and hoarding by consumers who believed there was a shortage of toilet tissue.

"We had adequate output to meet the requirements of our customers," a Scott spokesman said. "Because of abnormal purchasing, our inventories have virtually been depleted, principally in toilet paper, and if women will use up their home inventories we can get back to normal."

Apparently, men have been using sandpaper or some equally masculine substance,

CIA sponsors

Cuban invasion,
Castro's death

In late 1964 and '65, the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) set in motion a secret plan to combine the assassination of Castro with a second invasion of Cuba by its exiles. The invasion, according to an article by Tad Szulc in Esquire, was to have been launched from bases inside Costa Rica and Nicaragua, with some infiltration training taking place in the Dominican Republic.

Szulc claims that the landing called for 750 armed Cubans to invade the island after it was thrown into chaos by a scheduled assassination of Castro. This attack would mark the violation of the guarantee of Cuba's sovereignty given by the United States at the time of the Cuban missile crisis.

The assassination-invasion plan had to be cancelled "when a rebellion unexpectedly erupted in the Dominican Republic in April 1965." The designated assassin, Cuban physician Rolando Cubela was captured by Castro, along with a small arsenal furnished to the doctor and his associates by the CIA.

"My information, based on recent interviews with men who participated in the endeavor," writes Szulc, "is that during a period of about six months in 1964 and 1965, the CIA disbursed $750,000 monthly for the operation, and that some $2 million in these funds remains unaccounted for. Subsequently there are mysterious shootings and deaths among Miami Cubans involved in the stillborn invasion."

Criminal act not necessary

John Doar, special attorney appointed by Congress to head up the impeachment committee inquiry, said that President Nixon could be impeached -- even if the President has not committed a criminal act.

Doar's position on what constitutes an "impeachable offense" will be the key one in determining whether Nixon can survive in office.

WHERE THERE ARE HEARTS, THERE ARE FLOWERS.

Valentine's Day, or Love Day as we like to call it, is a happy day for us. We find ourselves enveloped by an aura of romance, affection, devotion, and fondness, because so many people wish to express these feelings with flowers.

Sophia V. West
FLORIST

5123 Market Street
Phone 791-5795

Wilmington, North Carolina 28401

WARNING!

This Gas Tank Protected By GAS GARD

Gas Gard looks like a cone-like metal spring for a simple reason. That's what it is. But in months to come, it could be one of your most valuable possessions. When installed properly, Gas Gard will stop gas theft. How? It stops siphon hoses from reaching your gas tank! All it needs is to be screwed down into your car's gasoline pipe. It needs no key and is adjustable to fit all American cars and most foreign cars. All of this protection for less than $3.00. What a small price to pay with the price and scarcity of gasoline the way it is! Ask only for the original GAS GARD at the following service stations:

College Acres Texaco-College Road

East Coast Oil Company-Market Street

The Oasis-Market Street & Princess Place

William Brothers Texaco-Market Street

McQueen Amoco-3rd Street, downtown moral objectors

COURT RULES QUAKERS EXEMPT FROM TAXES

(CPS) -- United States District Court Judge Clarence Newcomer ruled on December 31 that the Internal Revenue Service could not collect 51.9 per cent of the taxes of two members of the Quaker faith which went to the support of the U. S. military establishment. Newcomer based his decision on the principle that forcing Lorraine Cleveland and Leonard Cadwallader to finance a military effort that they opposed on religious grounds as well as moral grounds was a violation of their rights of free exercise in religion.

The ruling was in response to a 1970 suit filed by the two with the support of their employer, the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC). The IRS was asked by the committee to return the sum equivalent to 51.9 per cent of Cleveland and Cadwallader's withholding tax. When the IRS refused, the suit was filed.

A key point in Judge Newcomer's ruling was that "support of war including paid taxes in time of peace," an interpretation which allows withholding of taxes used for the military even when the U. S. is not not actively engaged in military conflict.

"This leaves us free to deal with the government as individuals," Cleveland said. She said that in the past, she had been frustrated in efforts to withhold financial support of the military because of the fact the government got its share of her money before she did. "All I could do was write letters of protest," she explained. She admitted she was not positive of winning her case, although she felt the suit was based on "good grounds." She stated, "I had no clear idea of what the outcome would be."

Cleveland said she and Cadwallader were the only two AFSC employees who had arranged for part of their taxes to be withheld from the government, and that she knew of no similar cases elsewhere. Newcomer, however, by his ruling, opens the way for future requests for employees to withhold taxes for the military budget.

the cage:

to be presented by the SGA, assisted by the Drama department and the sociology club on Thur., Feb. 21 at 8pm in Hanover Hall (gym). Tickets ? CHEAP!!! watch for more info....

Student Union Program Board

Members sought to plan activities

by kathi beall

Students interested in working as part of a five-member Student Union Program Board should make a written application to Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, in the Pub by Feb. 6

"We realize that the deadline is short," stated Ms. Moore, "but it is imperative that the board begin work as soon as possible."

Applications, which should include students' names and how they can be contacted, may be given to Ms. Moore, slipped under her office door or left in her mailbox in the Pub.

Ms. Moore just received word last week that limited funding from the Student Union fees paid by each full-time student will be available for the low-cost innovative activities and programs to expand and complement activities already being provided by the Student Government.

Up until now Student Union fee money has been used exclusively to operate the Student Union (Pub) and pay the salary of the director of student activities. Accents for programs and activities will be placed on these things with general interest. Most events will hopefully be free of admission charges according to Ms. Moore. Additional guidelines and plans will be made by the program board.

Students with ideas and suggestions are also welcomed to contact Ms. Moore. It is hoped that a number of bike rallies, etc., may soon be provided.

Ms. Moore assures that the SU Program Board will not compete with services already provided by the Student Government.

"With some funding available, the main factors are manpower and time. We've got to get going as soon as possible," Ms. Moore urges.

HOMECOMING EVENTS SLATED FOR 10 - 16

UNC - W's Homecoming Week will be February 10 - 16. Many exciting activities have been planned for the week culminating with the crowning of the Homecoming Queen during half time festivities on Saturday night in Hanover Hall. If your club is interested in sponsoring a nominee for the court and the queen, fill out the application below and turn it in to Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, in her office in the Pub. Deadlines for applications is noon February 8.

Payne's

Robert Maxey
shows off a Campus blazer. bottle by Archies Original flare slacks by Beru shoes by Verde
and shirt by Sero.

Available at

Payne's

Downtown, Hanover Center.
& Long Leaf Mall

APPLICATION FOR HOMECOMING COURT *

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

SPONSOR _____ MAJOR _____

SPECIAL INTERESTS _____

* please include picture with application

Cupid has shot his little arrow.
Now, Valentine, the DIAMONDS are up to you.

Gurr Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler and Silversmith
212 North Front Street

Coach Donahue stresses skills, attitudes

...sore subject

by Linda Houghton

"Physical education can contribute to a person's growth in many areas of life," asserts Janet Donahue, newest member of the physical education department at the university.

Deeply involved in sports, Miss Donahue is particularly "concerned that people develop movement skills as well as fitness. I think the primary goal at the college level is to develop skills and attitudes for lifetime involvement in fitness."

Before settling at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, Jan Donahue traveled throughout the United States. She lived in Chicago until her late teens, then moved to Atlanta. Fairly certain of a career stemming from her vivid interest in athletics, she entered Miami University at Ohio as a P. E. major. After completing a year of graduate study at the University of North Carolina at Greenville, Jan taught for a short while at Bowling Green State University in Ohio.

However, the mild climate and the close friends she found in North Carolina proved too strong a temptation, and she finally located in Wilmington, which she feels is "great."

Besides coaching the girls' intercollegiate basketball team, the first at the university, Miss Donahue finds time to participate in many sporting activities, of which her favorites are tennis and camping. Last year she converted an old van into a camper. Now that she lives at the beach, the van stands idle.

In terms of the courses she instructs, Jan Donahue emphasizes the grasp of concepts rather than specific facts, and encourages discussions and debates over lectures. Her freshness and interest in the students adds enjoyment to what has often been stereotyped as a sore subject.

Coach Donahue, the Seadoves Coach, listens while official Larry Honeycutt tries to explain his last call.
(photo by Neal Huntley)

The PUB

hours

MON - THURS	8a.m. - 10p.m.
FRIDAY	8a.m. - midnight
SATURDAY	2p.m. - midnight
SUNDAY	2p.m. - 10p.m.

• ping pong, pool, TV,
• foosball, chess, cards,
• checkers

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

LOCATED in HINTON-JAMES BLDG.

8a.m. - 3:30p.m.

• textbooks

• supplies

UNC-W imprinted
gifts & clothing

Homecoming parade route

The Homecoming Parade is scheduled for Friday, Feb. 15. The route runs from the Kenan Auditorium parking lot to the tennis courts across from Hanover Hall. Clubs interested in entering a float should contact Charlie Berg or Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, in her office in the Pub. Prizes will be awarded.

THE DESERT BOOT

in styles & sizes for Dudes & Chicks

Su-Ann SHOES

Seadoves scalp squaws, cripple camels

by peggy stiles

The coin toss! Heads or TAILS !!! Seadoves huddle together to plan strategy in the game against the Pembroke Squaws. (photo by neal huntley)

The Squaws saw their biggest lead of the game when they held a 25-15 command in the third quarter. The Seadoves converted numerous turnovers, however, to gain valuable points, ending the third quarter, 28-25, in favor of the Squaws.

The fourth quarter was a whole new ballgame. The fast pace and precision shooting kept the crowd on their feet. With 5:40 remaining, the Seadoves were within two at 30-28.

At the foul line, Gwynn Hawes went two for two and tied it up, 30 all. With 4:41 left the Seadoves took the lead for the first time, edging 32-30.

In the last four minutes of the game the Seadoves sank nine points with great maneuvering and skill on the part of Sheila Bowles and Gwynn Hawes.

The game ended with a home court victory for the Seadoves, 41-33. Coach Donahue commented: "When they finally got it together, confidence and conditioning seemed to make the difference."

The lead scorer was Sheila Boles with 15 points. Others were Gail Lanier, Gwynn Hawes, Brenda Knowles each with 6, and Toni Bryant and Sharon Norris with 4.

The UNC-W Women's Varsity Basketball team hosted the women of Pembroke in Hanover Hall Jan. 21, which resulted in a Seadove victory, 41-33.

The first quarter ended with the Pembroke Squaws ahead, 12-5. The Squaws biggest lead of the first half was the 21-13 at half-time score.

According to Coach Jan Donahue, instructor in the UNC-W Department of Physical Education, a couple of quick baskets by Brenda Knowles kept the Seadoves going in the first half. This gave the girls the boost they needed.

"All in the FAMILY"

Pembroke--Doug Eller of Pembroke State will be top-seeded in the men's division and Cindy Corey of Chapel Hill will be no. 1 seed in the women's division in the PSU Open Indoor Tennis Tournament Friday, Saturday and Sunday (Feb. 1-3) here in Jones Physical Education Center.

In the doubles division the Corey FAMILY of Chapel Hill is top-seeded in both divisions. John Corey and his son Mike, of Chapel Hill High School, are rated tops in men's doubles, while John Corey's two daughters, Cindy and Wendy, are ranked NO. 1 in women's doubles.

Making it completely a family affair, mother Jan Corey is the seventh seed in women's singles. Thus there will be alot of Corey's on the PSU campus this coming weekend.

Another family, which will be much involved is that of Rev. Jim Bailey of Lumberton. His son, 16 year-old Herbie, who is a member of the Lumberton High tennis team, will join his dad in playing in the singles and they will team up in the doubles. Rev. Bailey's 15 year-old daughter, Kitsy, will also compete in women's singles.

Gail Lanier dribbles past a Campbell Camel during a home game in which the Seadoves won 47-45. (photo by neal huntley)

- ATTENTION -
GRADUATES or SENIORS
who will graduate before August 1974
A Nation-wide Company offers
Job Opportunity for:

- 1) Part-time employment while in school and full-time after graduation
- 2) No experience required
- 3) Excellent compensation
- 4) Schedule work around your classes
- 5) Begin immediately

CONTACT: Mr. Tom Henson
 Phone (919) 237-6092
 or
 P.O. Box 105
 Wilson, N. C. 27893

"Come, come, let us drink the Winner's Good Health. 'Tis the Cass, not the Coffor, that holds the true wealth." 17th century London street song

"Our Beverage Prices Are Beautiful"
 WE NOW CARRY THE COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art Inc.
 HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE and HOPS SHOP

Terry and Marty Pridgen
 2342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

The second clash between UNC -W and Campbell College occurred Jan. 24 in Hanover Hall resulting in a home court victory for the Seadoves, 47 - 45.

A close first quarter ended favoring the visitors with a one point lead of 8 - 7; this was the only Campbell lead of the game. First half ended with the Seadoves in favor, 17 - 16.

An action-packed third quarter kept the 'doves ahead by five points, 34 - 29, being the biggest lead of the game for the girls of UNC - W.

Campbell College came back in the fourth with a fight, bringing their score up to 46 - 45, still in favor of the Seadoves. In the last six seconds of the match, a foul during the jumpball put Toni Bryant on the foul line. Time ran out on the Campbell Squad after the foul shot, giving the 'doves a victory of 47 - 45.

In a skirmish last week the teams battled it out on Campbell's court where the UNC -W squad lost by 23 points. Thursday night, however, proved the Seadoves were capable of making a comeback.

Mike Cherry shoots two against the Hampton Pirates. Cherry still leads the district in scoring with an average of 24.2.

Rikk Alessi tries to elude a Hampton player. The Seahawks captured a home district win over the Pirates, 85-76. (photo by Zack Sessions)

HAWKS edge BEARS

by wayne steele

In an exciting game, UNC-W defeated the Bears of Shaw University 72-67 in a district 29 basketball game Wednesday night in Hanover Hall.

Mike Cherry, who hit six out of eight shots in the second half, led the scoring with 22 points. Other leading scorers were Willie Jackson with 16 and David Prince with 15.

Shaw started off the game with hot shooting and built up a 6 point lead at 16-10. The Seahawks fought back and took the lead for the first time at 22-20 on a basket by Jackson.

The Hawks opened up a 5 point lead at 27-22 with 6:40 left in the half but Shaw managed to stay close. The first half ended with the Hawks on top, 39-35.

Neither team could break the game open in the second half as both teams were hitting good percentages. With a lead of 55-50, UNC-W began looking for good shots while playing a slow-down game.

The Hawks, who hit 63% in the second half, stretched their lead to 8 at 66-58 with 2:45 to play. The Bears then pulled within 4 but two quick baskets by Rikk Alessi put the game out of reach with a minute left.

Shaw tried another come-back but time ran out on them and UNC-W won 72-67. It was the Seahawks fourth victory in the district against only one loss.

ELON STUNS SEAHAWKS

by robert maxey

The Fighting Christians of Elon handed the Seahawks their first home loss this season, 79-66. The Christians took an early lead before the Seahawks went ahead by one, 15-14. In the next five minutes both teams exchanged the lead several times. With 8:35 showing on the clock in the first half the Seahawks had mounted up their largest lead of the game, 27-22, but the lead was short lived as Elon dumped 3 baskets to take a one point lead 28-27. The Hawks gained the lead for the last time, 29-28. At half time the hawks went to the dressing room trailing by 5, 40-35.

It was 4 min. before UNC cold shooting Seahawks scored in the second half. Before Cherry's basket the Christians had scored ten points to leave the Hawks trailing by 15, 50-35. The Seahawks could never make up the deficit. Cherry and Lynn both got into foul trouble and the coach took them out of the game.

Two foul shots by Robinson pulled the home club within 10, 68-58; however Elon capitalized on Seahawk errors and raised the score to enjoy their largest lead of the night, 19 points, 77-58.

The Seahawks dreams of victory and the hope of a 3 game winning streak at home diminished as Elon up their record to 14-5 at the disposal of the Seahawks, 8-5, 5-1 in the district.

Why do some people think Bud. is sort of special?

Go ahead and find out why!

(Brewing beer right does make a difference.)

DISTRICT 29 STANDINGS UP TO JANUARY 26

SCHOOL	DISTRICT		ALL GAMES
	W	L	W	L
Virginia State	7	0	14	1
Methodist	6	0	8	2
UNC-W	5	1	8	5
Pembroke	3	1	12	4
ACC	2	1	5	10
Christopher Newport	5	3	11	5
Virginia Wesleyan	3	2	10	4
Lynchburg	3	2	9	6
Norfolk State	3	2	7	9
Elizabeth City State	2	3	5	9
Shaw	2	4	8	9
Hampton Institute	2	7	5	8
St. Andrews	1	6	6	14
Campbell	0	3	6	14
NC Wesleyan	0	9	2

When you say Budweiser, you've said it all!

ANHEUSER-BUSCH, INC. • ST. LOUIS

CHERRY Ahead

by robert maxey

According to the latest press release our very own Sgt. 2in. senior from Aboskie, N.C., Mike Cherry, still leads the NAIA District 29 in the scoring race with an average of 24.2 points per game.

The cool-shooting basketball marksman also ranks fourth in field goal percentage for the district, hitting 112 of 195 attempts for a 57.4 %.

Runner-up to Cherry in scoring is Glen Wendley from Elizabeth City State who is scoring 23.4 points per game. Wendley is also second in the district in rebounding with 16 recoveries per game preceded by Wayne Britt of Hampton Institute with 17.1 rebounds per game.

Third in scoring is Va. State's Linwood Johnson with 23.3, followed by Gene Cunningham with 21.1 from Norfolk State, and Pembroke's Alphonzo McRae and Norfolk State's Peter Mitchell with averages of 20.3 each.

Cherry is a big reason why the Seahawks stand a good chance of reaching the district playoffs for the first time ever this season.

SEAHAWKS BASKETBALL TEAM

SCHEDULE

Feb 4 South Eastern Way

Feb 9 Coastal Carolina "

Feb 14 Wayne Community
Way

"Kiss my foot !!!" exclaims Frosty Frazier to Charles Griffin. Both are members in the Karate club under the instruction of sealar Jerry Hobbs. (photo by roberta allred)

KARATE CLUB

by debra grasty

Are you tired of being bothered by that bully down the street? If so you need to look into the Karate club located right here on campus.

Moto buryu, one of the many styles of karate is being taught this semester under the instruction of well trained Jerry Hobbs.

Hobbs is a senior majoring in history at UNC-W. He has earned 19 black belts over a period of 12 years. Several of these black belts he acquired so that he could instruct others.

Several Japanese traditions are practiced by the karate club. Such as, wearing the uniform known as a gee, practicing Katas which are exercises with 54 movements, and wearing no shoes.

Karate, which is mostly kicking and striking, is used as a self-defence means but it can also be enjoyed as a sport.

The club is open to both men and women but Hobbs adds, "The women tend not to last the entire semester because of the scrapes and bruises."

The club meets at 4:00pm in the gym.

Pirates, HAWK's Treasure!

by robert maxey

With four ties and the lead changing hands four times the Seahawks surged ahead in the last seven minutes to defeat the Hampton Institute Pirates, 85-76. The Hawks took a quick and early lead, leading by as much as 9. 13-4 before the Pirates came alive and that they did as they held the lead briefly by one, 22-21. With the lead back in the Seahawks palms, they were able to build up a seven point spread, 29-22. The Hawks watched as the Pirates sunk three baskets and one from the freethrow to tie the game up 29 all. A basket by Cherry put the Seahawks back in the lead. Again the score was tied and the visiting team from Hampton went ahead by two until a basket by Jackson tied it up at half-time, 34-34.

The Pirates were first to score in the second half but the Hawks came back to build a 5 point lead. The struggling Pirates resumed the lead by one, 51-52, before Dobson's 2 buckets and a bucket by Jackson put the Seahawks ahead for good. The Hawks went on to build up a 16 point lead, 75-59, the largest lead of the night. The Pirates fought back hard but time was in the Seahawks favor. The final score was 85-76.

Love Is
A Giving
Thing

When you give a perfect Keepsake, backed by our written guarantee, you can be sure there is no finer diamond ring. Every Keepsake is permanently registered and protected against loss.

Keepsake

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accoutur Center

28 N Front St • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

Pizza Buffet Mon & Tues Night

all the delicious pizza and salad you can eat

$1.75

Snoopy's Diet Buster

all the delicious pizza and salad you can eat

$1.40

11:00 to 2:00 Mon. - Sat.

entertainment
Fri., Sat., Sun.
nights

Wed. nite is Family nite.

.50 off on every
Family Size Pizza

Snoopy's
PIZZA PARLOR
Where The Good Times Are
NORTH 17 SHOPPING CENTER

 VARSITY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Jan. 30	High Point	home
Feb. 2	Shaw	away
Feb. 4	Methodist	away
Feb. 6	Campbell	home
Feb. 11	Pembroke	home
Feb. 13	ACC	away
Feb. 16	Guliford	home
Feb. 18	Campbell	away
Feb. 21	Fion	away
Feb. 23	Pfeiffer	away
Feb. 25	Francis Marion	home

Seadove Schedule

February 1	ECU	away
February 4	PSU	away
February 9	FMC	away
February 12	USC	away

'Sleeper' - highbrow & slapstick

by spence foscue

The day that television becomes unenamored with commercial necessity, Nielson appeal, and bungling corporate dealings; when the medium finally slides seductively out of its "cool" pants of boorishness and quits oiling so prolifically the censor scissors -- this is the day Woody Allen movies will be shown.

Woody Allen is a paradox of the times; a lone, non-gayish gunfighter armed with a gag loaded with slapstick. In "Sleeper" Allen tosses away and disregards most of the rules of comedy filming and rewrites the rest. In a movement away from his previously very humorous but stickily sterile, "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Sex..." Allen finds a happy medium between high-brow humor and pure slapstick. Allen is a master of comedy for all classes, comedy for all ages and comedy for all comedians. A construction worker would be equally at ease with "Sleeper" in front of him as the most hardened freak. In terms of hilarity they would probably be rolling on the aisles together. It's that damned funny a movie.

To describe every gag Allen uses would be endless, for the viewer is subjected to them with profligance of a succession of All punches and with just as much sting.

His characters are all minors along -- side him. His wimpish, peeved appearance is played down brilliantly, heightening his intelligence and fickle-like tongue. Indeed, Allen is a narcissistic, satirical madman, who sometimes loses control of himself and the gags he furiously tosses at the viewer.

In short, Woody Allen is back with a fresh breath of Jewish humor. It's a comedy for anyone -- one that revolves around standard comedy film-making and Allen's best elements: sex, food, science, dirty politics and sex -- here's hoping it makes tv.

Julie Christie Attended Few Seances For The Movie Role

Julie Christie, the ravishingly beautiful English actress who knocked the cinematic world for a loop with her stunning performance in "Darling" several years ago, winning every possible prize there was to win, has in 1973 run the gamut from Chekhovian restlessness in the Standing Room Only Broadway revival of "Uncle Vanya" to Daphne du Maurierian terror in "Don't Look Now."

In her new film, which is being released in the United States by Paramount Pictures, Miss Christie portrays a grief-stricken young mother mourning the accidental death of her child. In the tantalizingly Gothic events that follow, she becomes obsessed with messages from beyond the grave brought to her by two elderly and sinister women she encounters in Venice.

This milieu of other-worldly spirits is a foreign one for the actress. "Laura is not the sort of person I would know," she confesses in an interview taking place on the island of Giudecca, not far from San Marco Square where she is staying while on location in Venice for the film.

"She's not the sort of person I would be friends with either," she adds. "She's far more susceptible to strange, rather alien forces than I would ever be." But then she laughs and says that she can be easily scared.

To prepare for her role in "Don't Look Now," the blonde actress went with her director, Nicolas Roeg, to a few seances. "It was interesting and I would have liked to have attended more and really gone into it," she explains. "But I didn't have the time, really. I went with an open mind -- open to anything that might happen. I enjoyed it. And I must admit I was quite scared when I thought I heard voices. But then as I said, I'm easily scared anyway."

Miss Christie has nothing but praise for Roeg, who as one of Britain's foremost cinematographers lensed several of the actress's earlier films, John Schlesinger's "Far From the Madding Crowd," Francois Truffaut's English-language effort, "Fahrenheit 451," in which she played dual roles, and the remarkable "Petulia." The Richard Lester movie that may turn out to be the definitive film about the Sixties.

She took on her co-starring assignment in "Don't Look Now" (she plays opposite Donald Sutherland) simply because Roeg was going to be directing it. "I just read a note from Nic and I said to myself, 'I don't need to bother to read the script, I'll just say yes.'"

Julie Christie is as yet unaware of the terrifying fate that awaits her when she comes under the strange power of psychic force in Paramount Pictures' "Don't Look Now."

what's in the

This week will prove very upsetting; not only will everything go wrong, but NOTHING will go right. (Just this week's horoscope should tell you that much.)

SEE SEE SEE
RALEIGH AD
...PAGE 10...

ALL DELUXE
MANOR
DOWNTOWN
762-2935

NOW SHOWING

PAUL NEWMAN ROBERT REDFORD

ROBERT SHAW

IN A BELL-PHILIPS PRODUCTION OF A GEORGE ROY HILL FILM
THE STING
A RICHARD D. ZANUCK/DAVID BROWN PRESENTATION

...all it takes is a little Confidence.

Written by DAVID S. WARD • Directed by GEORGE ROY HILL
Produced by TONY BILL and MICHAEL & JULIA PHILLIPS
Music Adapted by MARVIN HAMMUSCH

TECHNICOLOR® A UNIVERSAL PICTURE
ORIGINAL SOUNDTRACK AVAILABLE EXCLUSIVELY ON MCA RECORDS AND TAPES

Features
1:30
4:00
6:30
9:00

HELD OVER!

2nd Fun Week
Next: "Serpico"

1:30-3:30-5:30
7:30-9:30

WOODY ALLEN TAKES A NOSTALGIC LOOK AT THE FUTURE. (PG)

Cinéma 1&2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES
Olander Drive 799-3950
Shows 2-4-6-8-10

NOW SHOWING

STREISAND & REDFORD TOGETHER!

THE WAY WE WERE

COLUMBIA PICTURES AND RASTAR PRODUCTIONS Present
A RAY STARK-SYDNEY POLLACK Production (PG)

Next: "Cinderella Liberty"

In the Love Story of the year!
See it with someone you love!
Delightful in Color

HELD OVER 2nd Week 2:00-4:00-6:00-8:00-10:00

JULIE CHRISTIE DONALD SUTHERLAND

"DON'T LOOK NOW"

In Color Prints by Movielab A Paramount Picture (R)

ALL SEATS $1.00 til 2:30
IN ALL 4 CINEMAS EXCEPT SUNDAY
NEXT: "Jesus Christ Superstar"

A-H
T-H-R-I-L-L-E-R 796-5710
N-O-W SHOWING

LONG LEAF
Cinéma 1&2

1st Show at 2:00 LONG LEAF MALL - SHIPYARD BLVD. N-O-W

TWIN BELLY BUSTER--LAUGH HITS!
COME IN ANYTIME...LAUGH ALL THE TIME!
2 Big Fun Movies for the Price of ONE

Trinity's back in the saddle again and still horsing around.

A DOUBLE BARREL OF "TRINITY" FUN!

Joseph E. Levine Presents
"They Call Me Trinity"
at 3:50-7:40

AND
Joseph E. Levine Presents
"Trinity Is Still My Name"
at 2:00-5:10-9:40

Take legends with salt grain

by ellis hankins

The first thing that strikes one about Dr. Larry Usilton of the history department is his quiet, articulate manner, tinged with a hint of subtle amusement.

His youthful appearance is enhanced by the boyish haircut. He enjoys sports, and occasionally joins some of the other young faculty members for a little basketball.

The influence of a close association with one of his undergraduate professors makes him able to appreciate the importance of good relations between a professor and his students.

"I think that my students should feel free to call on me," Dr. Usilton says. "There is an inevitable rift between teachers and their students, but it should be made as narrow as possible."

As a historian, the sensationalism of Erich Von Daniken, Thor Hyerdahl and others like them do not impress Dr. Usilton. "You have to approach these things carefully."

But legends like those of Atlantis sometimes prove true, he was quick to point out. "There is always a kernel of truth in legend, but it must be taken with a grain of salt."

Do historians ever feel the urge to go out and make a great discovery? "That is the dream of every historian," he said like a child embarrassed that his secret is out.

DR. LARRY USILTON

The future may see publication of some of Dr. Usilton's work, most notably concerning monasticism in medieval England.

Said Dr. Usilton with a sly grin: "Maybe eventually I'll write a book. Who knows?"

GIRLS ARE NO. 1

NEW YORK--Next time you're engaged in a debate on female versus male superiority, here's some ammunition for use by women only:

*At the ages of 2, 3, and 4 the average IQ -- intelligence quotient -- is higher for girls than for boys.

*From school age to adulthood, females rank significantly higher on intelligence tests than males.

*From infancy to adulthood, the female superiority in verbal or linguistic functions is marked and consistent.

*Girls of preschool age have a larger vocabulary than boys.

*Girls on the average begin to talk earlier than boys.

*Girls begin to use sentences earlier than boys, and tend to use more words in sentences.

*Girls tend to read earlier and make more rapid reading progress than boys.

*Girls learn foreign languages much more rapidly and accurately than boys, a difference that is maintained throughout life.

The above facts and others, revealed by objective scientists, were cited at the First National Conference on Business Opportunities for Women by Marion Corwell on the public relations staff of Ford Motor Company.

If women are so smart, how come more aren't in the executive suite?

One reason, said Ms. Corwell, is a certain kind of man in the place where the promotion lever is controlled. An insecure male. "It takes a well-adjusted, secure man not to fear the threat of an intelligent, competent female," Ms. Corwell said.

Health center closed for lunch

Beginning Monday, Feb. 4, the infirmary will be closed from 11:45 - 12:15 for lunch. The Student Health Center will still open at 9 a. m. and remain open, with a break for lunch, until 2 p.m. on Mondays through Fridays.

All full-time students are eligible for its services. The center is located off the dorm lobby.

CRISIS
LINE
763-3695

DOGFOOD KEEPS YOUR NOSE WET

by darlene pearsall

Recently, students at a northern university have been eating dogfood. They wish to test its nutritional value by eating it for a month. You may ask, "What is so novel about this? The cafeteria has been serving it for years." But just think of the possibilities if the idea became popular.

"Pass the Gravy Train" would become a common campus phrase. Beer and pretzels would give way to beer and dog biscuits.

It has relatively few calories so it is a great sloution for dieting. You'd have many flavors to choose from -- ranging from horsemeat to hamburger. You could eat it dry or with gravy.

gravy...with cheese or without. You could even carry it along with you for a light snack between classes -- in either bags, boxes or cans.

The youth of America have never really cared for vegetables. So why not eat a thoroughly balanced meal of dogfood? It is pre-prepared so you save time in not having to cook. And you'd never again need Tums, Roloids or Femiron.

It has been proven that too many eggs are bad for you due to the high cholesterol. Fish often contain mercury. Poisonous mushrooms are often found on the market. Have you ever heard anything against dogfood?

Besides, dogs remain far healthier than most humans. It must be their diet.

So the next time you are hungry and can't decide what to eat, choose a nice can of dogfood. It's guaranteed to keep your eyes sparkling, your coat glossy and your nose wet.

YUM.

Wachovia

Can we direct you
to someone who traffics
in Raleighs?

World-famous
Raleigh
quality at economy
prices

The New Raleigh LTD.

Priced as low as $62.95, the LTD touring cycles are built to the same exacting standards that made the Raleigh name famous the world over. Available with Sturmey-Archer 3 speed AW hubs with trigger control and caliper hand brakes -- or coaster hubs with safety foot brakes. We have a selection of colors. Come in and look them over.

RALEIGH
THE BICYCLE FIT FOR YOU.

Call

See 'em at

799-5770 LIFE CYCLES

Community Shopping Center 4209 Oleander Drive.
Across From Cape Fear Ford

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

BREW YOUR BEER

(CPS) -- Ever since the ancient Egyptians handed down their original recipe, people have been brewing beer. Today it is possible for everyone to brew cheap, organic beer in their own kitchens for as little as three cents per bottle.

As with any other endeavor, home brewing is not a foolproof task, sometimes the product is less than potable. Once the initial investment has been made as far as necessary equipment is concerned, and a couple of batches have been brewed, it will be hard to revert to the commercially chemical-laden and a watery variety.

To begin the operation the brewer needs a brewer hydrometer, which indicates when the sugar has become alcohol and the beer is ready to be bottled; a sacchrometer serves the same purpose but has an extra scale which measures the alcoholic percentage of the brew. Other necessary items include an adjustable bottle capper, bottle caps, a crock or plastic trash can, a rubber syphon and a supply of beer or soft drink bottles. Do not get the twist - off top variety because they cannot be capped with conventional bottle caps.

ed with conventional bottles caps. The total outlay for the equipment, excluding the bottles, will be under $15. The bottles can usually be obtained from grocery stores or from bar owners; other possibilities might be to contact garage sales or ranshack old sheds.

The supplies will last indefinitely, and replenishable supplies are a brewer's yeast, white sugar and a malt extract syrup. Although some brewers vouch for the yeast, it is advisable to purchase it from any wine or beer supply store and the malt syrup can be bought at any supermarket.

The following recipe is for an eight batch, although the recipe can be divided or multiplied depending on the size of your crock or trash can. For the eight gallon batch eight gallons of water, eight pounds of sugar, a packet of brewer's yeast and a three-pound can of malt are needed. For stouter beer, add a couple more pounds of sugar; for weaker beer use up to two pounds less sugar.

Purists insist the eight gallons of water be boiled first, but palatable beer can be made from tap water. Take a half gallon of water, bring it to a boil; add sugar and boil the mixture until it is a thin, clear syrup. Dissolve the malt syrup in a quart or so of hot water (this makes it easier to add to the crock.) Add both the sugar and malt syrups to the crock and stir thoroughly.

At this point enter the sacchrometer to find the content of alcohol in the beer.

Dissolve the yeast in a half cup of warm water, add it to the crock. Caution: Be sure the water in your crock is below 90 degrees Fahrenheit or the yeast will be killed. Stir the mixture again thoroughly. Insert the hydrometer and tie a plastic covering firmly around the crock and let it stand 7 - 12 days. Check the hydrometer periodically and when it has reached its red line or reads one half per cent, the beer is ready for bottling.

Use the rubber syphon to transfer the beer from the crock to the bottles. Cap it immediately and put it in a cool and dark place for about two weeks: the longer it ages, the better its flavor will be.

Care must be exercised when pouring a bottle of home brew because of a slight, harmless sediment that forms on the bottom of the bottle. The beer should be poured slowly, the entire bottle at once, in order not to disturb the residue.

The yeast at the bottom of the crock can be scraped out and saved in a tightly sealed covered jar and refrigerated for use in future batches. It can be reused time and time again.

Purists also insist that the crock and the bottles should be washed and boiled thoroughly, but a good scrubbing is sufficient for the bottles. The crock, however, should be sterilized to prevent bacteria from attacking the yeast.

The legality of beer - making is questionable. A Statute in the Internal Revenue Code, Section 5222 (a), (2) (B) says, "No mash, wort or wash fit for distillation shall be produced. . . ." It adds that an exception to this prohibition will be allowed in the case of an "authorized brewery." Yet home - brewing kit merchandisers are springing up all over the country and operating without any problems. According to the owner of one store in Montana no one has ever been arrested for making, brewing, selling, buying or using a home - brew kit.

To make the matter even more confusing, the IRS has another statute that reads "taxes are due immediately on production" of any beer or liquor made by anyone except an authorized brewery. (Section 5054, (a), (3))

Although people take a risk making their own beer, it turns out to be not as much of a risk as they might think and well worth the effort as millions of home-brewers can testify.

RENT SAVERS SPECIAL

ANYONE BUYING A MOBILE HOME FROM MOBILE HOME BROKERS

DURING THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY

WILL RECEIVE $100 OFF THE PRICE OF THE HOME

BY PRESENTING A RECEIPT FOR LAST MONTH'S RENT!

MOBILE HOME BROKERS

5550 Carolina Beach Road

Phone 799-4792

"YES, THE PAPER will come out on Wed. or Thur., or Fri. would you believe the second Tuesday of next week!" stated a confussed and tired Editor Beth Hicks.

Seeing paper read rewards Hawk editor Beth Hicks

by layne lockamy

Student profiles will be a regular SEAHAWK column in which a different student will be interviewed each week. Conducting their first interview can be a frightening experience.

I finally chose my first victim, Beth Hicks, new editor of the SEAHAWK newspaper. When I learned that she spends most of her time in the office in the Pub, I proceeded to track her down.

Beth was rearranging the office and soon had me engaged in the activities. I finally convinced her I was not a roving janitor but more of a roving reporter.

The entire interview took place while Beth enthusiastically worked on the next week's edition of the paper.

Having lived in Wilmington for close to eight years, she assumed the position of editor-in-chief in late December. When asked how long she had been involved in journalism, she replied, "I have worked on some aspect of journalism since the fifth grade when I published my own classroom magazine."

Since that time she has experienced many facets of the field which include art editor for three years and assistant editor of the New Hanover High School paper.

Journalism has always been a big part of Beth's life, if not her whole life, although she does admit, "Between junior high school and high school I forgot that journalism meant working on a newspaper."

During her senior year in high school and on up until this past December, she had worked for the Star-News Newspaper, Incorporated, as the bridal editor, and was soon assigned features.

She resigned from the Wilmington newspaper to accept the position with the SEAHAWK. This is a demonstration of her loyalty and devotion to the paper. "Then there's the money aspect," she laughs.

Beth's life goal it to be another William F. Buckley. When asked what she considers the most rewarding aspect of journalism, she replied, "The finished copy, and seeing it read. The worst part would have to be seeing the paper used as fish wrap."

Her hobbies include art, writing and a "good afternoon with friends."

Beth Hicks is doing an excellent job with the campus newspaper and she is an asset to the school. She obviously enjoys her work and finds many rewards in it.

If anyone would like to contribute to the SEAHAWK, please drop by the office in the Pub and contact someone on the staff.

(Ed. note: What a "twist" to be the interviewee instead of the interviewer.)

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.

Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings — as an Air Force pilot or navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

SGT. JERRY T. LEWIS
4010 Oleander Drive,
Wilmington, N. C.
Phone: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

SIGMA ALPHA BETA SETS RUSH DINNER

Sigma Alpha Beta, professional business fraternity will have a RUSH dinner at Balentine's Cafeteria Thursday night, Feb. 8. Attendance is by invitation only. Speaker for the evening will be John Richardson of the National Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi.

See a member of the fraternity for an invitation. Time will be 6:30 p.m.

APO plans rush Feb. 5

Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity on campus, will hold RUSH on Feb. 5 at 8 p.m. in the upstairs of the Pub. Everyone may attend. Contact Jan Storey or Phil Rackley.

Cardboard serves for decor, storage

Dorm rooms are often rather bleak; bare walls, simple furnishings, limited closet and storage space. Cardboard wardrobe and utility cartons, like those available from U-Haul dealers, can fulfill a dual role by providing extra storage space and serving as attractive decorator accessories.

The wardrobe cartons are about 45 inches high and two feet square. They live up to their name as an extra closet. They have a metal bar inside for hanging clothes and fold-down flap for easy access. It is a good place to store out-of-season or special event clothing that won't fit into the packed closet, and it costs only $3 to $4.

The utility cartons are an 18-inch cube and can be used as bedside stands or several can be arranged to make a bookcase or display at the cost of less than a dollar a piece.

Although the cartons may have a snappy design printed on them, they can be decorated to suit one's own taste. Cover them with contact paper, fabric or paint, or cover them with posters and turn them into gigantic photo cubes.

The cartons can be used year after year. Just pack the rest of your things in them and take off for a summer job or home.

The wardrobe and utility cartons are available from many of the 16,000 U-Haul dealers across the country. They also have tape for assembling the collapsible cartons, and of course, do-it-yourself moving equipment for transporting all the paraphernalia at the end of the school year.

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry

Bags

Candles

Handmade Spreads

Embroidered Dresses

Belts

Leatherwork

Mexican Handicraft.

Headgear

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

DIRTY HARRY

AN ANGRY, LOVER who abhors cruelty, Clint Eastwood is a complete pushover for kindness and consideration. "Spaghetti Westerns" have given him a screen reputation for violence.

CLINT EASTWOOD:

Winner of the "World Film Favorite" Award, Clint Eastwood is the international top boxoffice attraction. In real life, Eastwood is an animal lover who abhors any kind of cruelty, a complete pushover for kindness and consideration.

But he's got a screen reputation for violence that grew out of his tough roles in such "spaghetti westerns" as "A Fistful of Dollars" and "For a Few Dollars More," in which his ruthlessness made him a disreputable but admired kind of movie hero.

With his enormous success in those rules, he kept the ruthless image when he resumed making pictures in America. He was a tough cowboy, or a tough soldier, or a tough deputy sheriff, and right now he's a tough police detective in "Dirty Harry," opening ... at the ... Theatre. Eastwood plays the role in this action-suspense drama, the epithet indicating that Harry always gets the worst jobs on the force. This time he's after a maniacal killer who has vowed to murder one person a day until sufficient ransom is paid.

A PUSHOVER

Gradually, Eastwood probably will water down his brutal image as his emerging success as a director becomes recognized as much as his original success as an actor who played tough-guy roles.

Starring with him in "Dirty Harry" are Harry Guardino, Reni Santoni, Andy Robinson, John Larch and John Vernon as The Mayor. Filmed entirely on location in San Francisco, the Technicolor feature is a Warner Bros.-Malpaso Company Production, and is the latest in a series of four films made by Eastwood and director Don Siegel.

Ghosts topic of lecture series

BASSOON, OBOE MUSICIANS NEEDED

by mary jones

Do you play the oboe or the bassoon? Do you know anyone who does?

The UNC-W Community Orchestra has a great need for oboe and bassoon players for an upcoming concert, according to Dr. Richard Deas, chairman of the music department.

The orchestra practices every Tuesday night from 7:30 - 9:30 p. m. with UNC-W students, people from the professions and business world, and high school students making up the orchestra.

The orchestra was organized three years ago when two housewives, new to Wilmington and looking for an outlet for their musical talents, suggested that an orchestra be formed.

The two violinists went to Dr. Deas and William Adcock of the university's music department and asked for assistance in organizing the orchestra. The group has been performing for Wilmingtonians since then.

The first concert for the spring semester will be presented Sunday, Feb. 24 at 3 p.m.

The full orchestra will present Handel's "Suite for Orchestra (From the Water-music)," a lively, spirited group of dances.

Two contemporary pieces, Shostakovich's "Festive Overture" and Reigger's "Dance Rhythms" will also be presented by the full orchestra.

North Carolina ghosts will be the topic of a lecture given by Nancy and Bruce Roberts Thursday night, Feb. 7, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of King Hall (Education-Psychology Building) on the UNC-W campus.

This will be the first in a series of four lectures sponsored by the University Lecture Series. Admission is free.

The Roberts, a husband and wife team, have collaborated in writing a number of books on North Carolina, three dealing specifically with ghosts.

Their books are well known and have received critical praise for a skillful blending of photography and prose. The Roberts often delve into some interesting fact or legend about the Carolinas.

Bruce Roberts, a prize-winning photographer, is perhaps best known for his photographs of Southern scenes. He is a New York native and now lives in Charlotte.

Nancy, his wife, capably handles the writing that complements her husband's photographs. Her interesting prose style is a combination of history, customs, character sketches and current facts about North Carolina and its people.

Among their books are: The Face of North Carolina: Ghosts of the Carolinas; David: Where Time Stood Still; The Godliest Land; North Carolina: and The Carolina Gold Rush; America's First.

Other speakers in the series include Professor Jack Dermid, who will give a wildlife lecture with slides Thursday, Feb. 21 at 8 p. m. in the Randall Library Auditorium.

Dr. Marie A. Powles, a member of the English department faculty, will present a reading of her poetry Thursday night, Feb. 21, in the Randall Library Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Dr. Sarah Immerwahr, an archeologist and professor at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, will present a slide lecture Thursday, April 4, at 8 p.m. in the Randall Library Auditorium. She will discuss an island in the Aegean that has been considered a possible site for the lost continent of Atlantis.

AQUA WORLD inc.

Professional
Diving
Instruction
N.A.S.D.S.
Approved

- Classes Now Open
- Basic & Open Water Certification
- 4 to a Class
- Individual Instruction
- Private Pool (no pool fee)
- 3 Open Water Dives
- $50.00-total cost!

AIR - SALES - RENTALS
CHARTER - REPAIRS

791-3976

5425 WRIGHTSVILLE AV.

RALEIGH

MUNCHY'S

GRILL

"We'll make you a sandwich you can't refuse!"

EAT HERE OR TAKE OUT

PIZZA
Dough 25¢

OPEN 11:41
EXCEPT SUNDAY

SANDWICHES
BEVERAGES

1313 South College Road (next to Cleopatra Gift Shop)

call 791-9980 to order

Yes

Wachovia

Harley Jones, Treasurer of DU, is a serious individual when it comes to the finances of DU. Often working with a tight schedule of payments, He has pulled DU through trying times. He is an Education major who plans to go on to Grad school. He is an avid coin collector and feels the fraternity has offered him "a lot of good times and a lot of good relationships."

TKE LINES

Formal Rush is now over for Tau Kappa Epsilon. However, we will be rushing until February 15. All interested persons are urged to come by the house at 4507 Wrightsville Ave. or get in touch with any brother.

A dynamic band party with music provided by "Lush", highlighted a great Rush Week. Also in the past week, the brothers and their dates enjoyed an oyster roast with plenty of oysters and beer for everyone. Coming up in March is our annual ski trip to the mountains. This trip has been a favorite event for the brothers in recent years.

TKE participated in a drive this past weekend for the North Carolina Society for Autistic Children, with the purpose of raising money to send these mentally handicapped children to summer camp. Thanks go to Linwood Carter for organizing the fraternity's part in the drive.

Another upcoming event is the annual Inter-Fraternity Council basketball tournament. Our basketball team is going into this tournament hopeful of coming out with another win for TKE. Also this semester is a statewide softball tournament in Raleigh, with all TKE chapters in the state participating.

In 1970, Sigma Phi Kappa, a local fraternity on campus was officially chartered as a chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon. This year marks our third year as a national fraternity, and the membership of over 100 members. Much to our honor is proud of this fact, and hopes to make Tau Kappa Epsilon an even greater fraternity than it is today.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

A.P.O. is having a clean up of Court Yards, Feb 2d, in Chem Physics Bldg. They are working on the car smash for Home Coming. They have elected a new sweet heart, Virginia Bradshaw (Freshman), majoring in medical technology.

birth defects are forever unless you help.

March of Dimes

THIS SPACE CONTRIBUTED BY THE PUBLISHER

JERRY & IKE SAY

THE FACTS ARE:

YOU SAVE MONEY!

Let us show you how you can actually live better for less in one of these beautiful new 1974 model mobile homes. We have over 30 models awaiting your inspection. Come in and see them today.

LIKE NEW 1969 MOBILE HOME. 12 FEET WIDE, 2 BEDROOM. WASHER, CARPET. LOW DOWN PAYMENT. $59.89 MONTH ON APPROVED CREDIT.

TOTAL PRICE $3195.00
Tax Included

1974 TOTAL ELECTRIC. LATEST THING IN MOBILE HOME LIVING. 12 FEET WIDE, 2 OR 3 BEDROOM. CARPETED THROUGHOUT. ANY DECOR AT NO EXTRA COST!

ONLY $5695.00
Plus Tax

ON THE SALES CENTER FINANCING! ONE HOUR!

Special Order At No Extra Cost

SET UP INCLUDES

- BLOCKS
- STEPS
- ANCHORS
- ELECTRICAL HOOK UPS
- STRAPS
- WATER & SEWER HOOK UP

ASK ABOUT THE ONE YEAR LAY-AYAW PLAN.

OPEN FROM 9 A.M. TO 9 P.M. MONDAY THRU SATURDAY
SUNDAY 1 P.M. TILL DARK

5550 Carolina Beach Road

Phone 799-4792

John Trowlbridge, secretary of DU, is an amazing individual. Also serving as installation chairman, John has been the communicative link between the international and the local chapter of DU. John is largely responsible for coordinating and planning all social and ritual events relating to the installation of the Wilmington chapter. John feels the fraternity has been a rewarding experience.

A dream come true

instant bread.

When money is the reason you're looking for a job, take a look at Manpower's temporary jobs. Assignments to fit your schedule. Paychecks for time worked are mailed weekly. There's a variety of work available. Secretarial. Typing. Clerical. General industrial. Skilled and semi-skilled. Data Processing. Sales. Technical. If you've worked before, are ready to work for a while again and you're thinking of coins—not a career—call Manpower.

1036 South College Road
Wilmington, N.C. 28401
919-791-5515

MANPOWER®
your instant bread people.

An Equal Opportunity Employer

This week marks the beginning of a long awaited dream of all Wilmington DU's. After six long years they will receive their charter and will be recognized as a chapter of Delta Upsilon.

On Friday there will be a general orientation meeting at 7:45. Rite One begins at 8:30 in King Auditorium. This will be followed by an Chapter Executive Meeting.

On Saturday Rite Two will begin at 1:45 p.m. This will be followed by a reception in the Pub. The installation banquet will be held at the Timme Hilton at 6:30. The installation Ball will be held in the Timme Hilton also.

Hail Delta Upsilon!

Tuxedos are required for the DU Banquet

Jim Herren, V.P. of DU, is a man about campus. Jim has been involved in numerous campus activities since his arrival two years ago. Highly entergetic, he often takes on responsibilities that others will not. Presently, he is serving on the homecoming committee. He has served in the student government association and is a member of several other clubs on campus.

David Smith, President is an elusive individual. He often runs his chapter meeting with a Johnny Carson flair and with good results. A former president of the Chess Club, he is a History major who plans to tour the country by motorcycle after graduation. He is an excellent tennis player and does well in many other sports. He feels the fraternity has been "a study in social deviancy."

Corky Hancovich, Chapter Relations Secretary, and Former V.P. of DU, is a great troubleshooter for fraternity affairs. He has a great working knowledge of fraternities. He was a former delegate to two provincial conventions. He served in numerous other positions within the fraternity for the past two years, always maintaining some element of responsibility.

OPEN 10am 'till 6pm

FOURTH CORNER

4405 wrightsville ave.

SALE!

1 GROUP JEANS 1/3 OFF

1 RACK SHIRTS 1/2 PRICE

ALL FALL SHIRTS & TOPS 1/3 OFF

1 TABLE OF BELTS $2

values to 7.50

See Dr. Wagoner on his bi-cycle! See how you, too, can get skinny! See how surfers surf! ... in next week's edition

seahawk

About all we can tell you is that next week is homecoming week ... see related editorial on page three.

volume XVI number 19

February 8, 1974

twelve pages

happy (early) Valentine's Day, you devils!

inside

- NEW DORM, GYM PLANS
- SEAHAWKS RATE #2
- the cage is coming...
- applications applications
- the gadfly
- DOCTOR ZHIVAGO

NEEDED

BADFINGER

at

unc-w

feb. 15

8pm

hanover hall

letters

TENNIS PLAYERS HARASSED?

Editor:

Upon hearing very distressing news from two close friends of mine I decided this letter would be necessary in order to inform students, faculty and others interested in the welfare of the UNC-W campus on just one link in a chain of harassments, irritations and unnecessary embarrassments that many citizens, students and non-students have been forced to endure due to the lack of tact, credibility, and the sheer inability to communicate by the honorable campus police of UNC-W.

During the last week of January, my friends decided to play tennis though neither is a student. In the late afternoon they parked their car on the pavement, yet not in the customary order of parking on the South-40 parking lot. Their lack of knowledge of the parking order could possibly be given to the fact that there was only one car in the parking lot other than their own at the time, there are no lines painted in that lot to designate parking order, and these people had not seen the parking lot during a crowded time of the day. They left their car on the pavement and began to play tennis, but quit and walked towards their car when they noticed two campus police who were closely inspecting it. When the police realized the two as the owners of the car, they immediately set upon them with grossly violent and boisterous verbal tones, which did not run short of repeated threats of jailing and interminable ostracism from this taxpayer owned campus. Needless to say, my friends didn't put up resistance when met by such threats which included many vulgarities as well as the threat of arrest if ever seen on campus again. At this point some readers may laugh at what seems to be a trivial complaint but assuredly the laughers have never had their turn at having to suffer such defamation face to face from two men who wear badges and pistols, and earn their salaries from the taxpayers.

My writing of this letter was not motivated by intentions of condemning the campus police for their actions, but more importantly to make people aware of an incident which is characteristic of many incidents which go on unnoticed frequently. Although my two friends have long hair I can't imagine this as an excuse for the stand taken by the police. I'm quite sure also with the growing number of students and their cars on campus the police have quite a job cut out for them. This is no excuse though because these men were hired to do a job which should show the results of the maturity that their age, position and responsibility should allow them. I ask no action to be taken against the men; I only ask students and faculty to be aware of incidents such as these and when they occur, let it be known so that eventually others will not have to suffer this intolerable abuse.

(signed) Jerry Powell

I feel that your printing of this letter would be a step in the right direction.

Editor's note: A step in what direction?

The Gadfly

by david crews

Sitting here writing this, rather trying to write something since I promised the editor something, I am suddenly struck with a bad case of "beginning semester blahs" -- a none too rare disease of this particular period. It is a singularly democratic illness striking without regard to race, creed or beer intake.

Think about it my fellow scholars: what have we to look forward to until March 3rd? ... theme papers, quizzes, and parking tickets. And screwy weather combined with the university policy never to open a window regardless, resulting in two conditions, 1. freezing, and 2. burning. I suppose the university plant operates on the theory that on the average you're comfortable.

What about those six books you've got to read for Introductory Elementary Breathing? You know, the six volumes that cost fifteen bucks or the equivalent of thirty drafts. Have you started them yet friend? Shouldn't have asked, right? What about that quiz in Great World Blunders that you bombed so badly you could add another chapter to the text? And you've got to have it to graduate.

Or maybe you've found out your trip to Daytona Beach is cancelled due to the current fiasco in the fuel industry.

Or maybe since we've had such balmy weather of late you forgot to put anti-freeze in your heap, and this morning you went out into the twenty-some-degree sunrise and found your car's engine a fatality to certain laws of physics and chemistry. A trip to your smiling mechanic lets you in on why he's smiling.

Oh yes, gentle reader, life is full of such surprises and barring broken arms, disasters financially, or being bounced by the editor because the copyist can't read this nervous scratching, I will return to remind you of other bundles of joy that exist on the campus.

"Frankly Speaking"

by Phil Frank

"THIS IS A MODERN LOVE SONG ABOUT A WOMEN'S LIBBER AND A MEMBER OF THE S.D.S. WHO MEET AT A 'FREE POLITICAL PRISONERS' RALLY, GET BUSTED ON A FRAMED DRUG CHARGE AND ARE MARRIED BY FR. BERRIGAN IN PRISON."

On other college campuses

Wants Zero Crime Rate

DETROIT Mich. (IP) -- Wayne State University's Public Safety Director William McDaniel has announced yet another innovation in the continuing effort to maintain a safe campus -- a broad program of television surveillance. Closed-circuit television cameras are mounted atop university buildings and monitored at Public Safety headquarters.

Signs have been posted throughout the campus area proclaiming: "For your protection this area is being monitored by WSI Public Safety Department TV cameras 24 hours per day." McDaniel estimates cost of the closed-circuit units at approximately $50,000. The cameras rotate 360 degrees and Public Safety monitors are able to control vertical sweep and distance enabling them to zoom in for close-ups.

The cameras McDaniel says, should be an important form of crime control. "Although crime is down for a third straight year and Wayne's campus continues to be one of the safest areas of the city, we won't be satisfied until the crime rate is zero."

"The Listerine Effect"

NORMAN, Okla. (IP) -- A teaching method developed by the University of Oklahoma's Department of Psychology causes what one teaching assistant calls "the Listerine effect" on students.

"The students didn't like the method because they had to work so hard, but they wanted more courses using this system because it had done so much good," says Jack Nation, a graduate student coordinator for introductory psychology classes.

The method, Programmed Achievement, was designed to aid undergraduate students in the introductory "core" courses traditionally offered in massive lecture sessions with little opportunity for questions.

With PA, the students are forced to understand the material for in addition to mid-term and final exams, they are required to score 90% or better on weekly quizzes or face the drop of a

Free Shows

FREE MOVIES! FREE MOVIES! (YEP, THAT IS EXACTLY WHAT YOU JUST READ...) FREE MOVIES!

Free movies will be shown February 14, next Tuesday, in the Pub. Movies shown include "The Birds, House of Wax; W. C. Fields; The Three Stooges; Abbott and Costello." The movies will run for approximately six hours, beginning at 6:30 p.m. and running until finished.

Bring a blanket, some popcorn and something to drink.

FREE MOVIES! FREE MOVIES! (YEP, THAT IS WHAT YOU JUST READ...) FREE MOVIES!

letter-grade for the semester mark. If necessary, the students are given three tries to reach the 90% mark on quizzes testing the same concepts before the penalty is applied.

"With this system there is no such thing as 'cramming,' claims PA coordinator and Jordanian graduate student, Nabil Haddad.

Though PA was designed to benefit students, professors gain benefits from the method as well in that he is not bogged down with a lot of small questions to grade while at the same time trying to prepare lessons and deliver lectures. The professor faced with a full house receives reinforcement and he gives a turn, better instruction.

Comparing classes taught with PA methods to more conventional non-PA groups, the study indicated that PA students achieved substantially higher grades on exams and performed better on unannounced retention tests.

seahawk

published weekly on fridays by students of the university of north carolina at wilmington. deadline for articles and announcements is 5pm on the monday before friday publication. our office is located downstairs in the student services building on the unc-w campus. phone 791-8055

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

editor: beth hicks
associate editors: barry asbury
j. k. muhlenman
advertising director: barry asbury
business manager: alan murphy
sports editor: robert maxey
greek lines: rocky lane moore
news editor: eugene mckinney photographic staff: roberta alread

nauma dozier
neal huntley
zack sessions
supportive staff: linda houghton
layne lockamy
anne nesbit
darlene pearsall

MARSHALL
THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

editorial

DON'T BLAME US!

Dear Readers:

If you have noticed that with Homecoming Week upon us next week there is no information on activities for the week except for the concert and the dance, that is because there is not any. The reason for this is that the people in charge of the festivities have not furnished us with a schedule. We regret this unfortunate matter but while it is our job to put out a newspaper, it is not our job to read peoples' minds to find out when they have a story for us. We have repeated more than frequently that anyone having a story for us must have it in by Monday afternoon and it must be written legibly (which most are not).

We of the Seahawk would like to thank the committee chairman who had the foresight and the thought for students to supply us with information regarding Homecoming Week. If you cannot get info on Homecoming Week, please do not blast or damn the Seahawk. We have made efforts to get up with the persons in charge of events for scheduling. If Homecoming seems to be a secret, don't blame us. We tried.

"I DON'T KNOW HOW TO BREAK THIS TO YOU, HUGH, BUT.....WELL, REMEMBER HOW DISAPPOINTED YOU WERE LAST CHRISTMAS WHEN YOU FOUND OUT THERE ISN'T ANY SANTA CLAUS....."

SHORTS FROM CPS

CONTESTANTS' MEASUREMENTS QUESTIONED; FDA ORDERS EXAMINATION; NARC PROSECUTED

SHOULD GUYS HAVE TO MEASURE?

A 17-year-old California high school girl has been suspended from school for five days after she interrupted a program designed to entice contestants into entering the annual Miss California Pageant.

Zoe Joyner, a student at Pacifica High School, was among 25 young women who listened to promotional speeches made by the current Miss California, the current Miss Pacifica and Pacifica's Mayor Aubrey Lumley, all of them extolling the virtues of entering a beauty contest.

Without warning Ms. Joyner stood up, looked the mayor in the eye and announced: "Since the important thing about a woman is her measurements, hey about you (mayor) telling us the measurement of your penis, so we'll know if you are worth listening to."

A startled hush fell over the audience. Ms. Joyner then walked forward and handed the mayor a tape measure.

Asked later to explain her actions, the high school girl stated, "I have extremely strong feelings about this. They don't ask men to line up and compare themselves."

produced safely. Independent consumer reports have advised against the purchasing of canned mushrooms or canned mushroom products for at least a year.

RIGHT TO PROSECUTE NARC QUERIED

The federal government has challenged California's right to prosecute a United States narcotics agent for homicide.

The government, arguing in California Appellate Court, has stated that the state has no right "to try a federal agent in the proper discharge of his federal duty."

Lloyd N. Clifton, the agent, was indicted for second degree murder last January after he shot an unarmed 24-year-old suspect in the back during a San Francisco drug raid.

A companion of the victim said that they became "petrified" when they saw 19 long-haired men running toward their cabin with guns.

Clifton, one of the plain clothes agents, said he shot the youth in the back "to prevent him from escaping." Charges against the victim's companion were dropped.

Yes

Wachovia

SEE SEE SEE
RALEIGH AD
...PAGE 10...

MUSHROOMS DANGEROUS FOR A YEAR

The Food and Drug Administration has ordered a nationwide examination of canned mushrooms after five manufacturers had to recall products that were contaminated by a botulism-producing spore.

The FDA advises consumers to watch for abnormal swelling or leaking cans and to report any of these conditions to the agency.

Oddly enough, even though it has called for a nationwide examination, the FDA states that mushrooms are now being

WHERE THERE ARE HEARTS, THERE ARE FLOWERS.

Valentine's Day, or Love Day as we like to call it, is a happy day for us. We find ourselves enveloped by an aura of romance, affection, devotion, and fondness, because so many people wish to express these feelings with flowers.

YOUR EXTRA TOUCH FLORIST

Flowers of Distinction

by Sophia
Sophia V. West
FLORIST

5123 Market Street Phone 791-5795
Wilmington, North Carolina 28401

Belk Beery

If there's a wedding in your future you don't want to miss our

"THE LOOK OF LOVE"

Bridal Fashion Show

Narrated by Libby Dalton, Belk-Beery Fashion Coordinator

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 14th

8:00 P.M.

IN THE MAIN BALL ROOM OF THE
WILMINGTON HILTON . . . 301 N. Water Street

Drawing for door prizes and a reception will follow the show

ADMISSION BY COMPLIMENTARY TICKET available in any of these departments

- SILVER
- BETTER FASHIONS
- GIFT SHOP
- STATIONERY
- SPORTSWEAR
- PORTRAIT STUDIO

BADFINGER and BARNABY BYE return to UNC-W campus

2180 FTE

In order for the university to obtain its proper share of operating funds from the state and in order to so and in order to simplify that process, the term "FTE Student" had been devised. This FTE (full time equivalent student) is derived in the following manner:

Student w/ 12 or more hrs. per semester equals one FTE.

Nine to 11 semester hours equals 3/4 FTE.

Six to eight semester hours equals 1/2 FTE.

Five or less semester hours equals 1/4 FTE.

Presently, there are 2,180 FTE students on campus made up of 2,413 actual students.

badfinger :SECOND WONDER FROM LIVERPOOL

The homecoming concert for the spring semester will be on Friday, February 15 at 8 p.m. in Hanover Hall and will feature from England, BADFINGER, and from the United States, Barnaby Bye. Tickets are $3.00 in advance and $4.00 at the door.

With the exception of the BEATLES, BADFINGER has emerged as the most important group to come out of Liverpool. This has clearly influenced BADFINGER's music, though it has its own distinctive sound. The group was discovered by no less than the BEATLES' own Paul McCartney whose enthusiasm for the group soon infected the rest of the BEATLES.

The group was subsequently signed up with Apple Records, and at the time was the only other group besides the BEATLES to record on the Apple label.

BADFINGER got their start with a hit from their soundtrack for the movie, "The Magic Christian;" the hit was "Come and Get It." The national hit proved to be only a prelude to what was to follow.

With the release of "No Dice," their second album, the group began to receive the attention they so richly deserved; the album received excellent reviews from fans and critics alike.

Their second hit single, "No Matter What" only helped to increase their popularity. Ironically, one of their biggest successes came when Harry Nilson recorded their song, "Without You," which in turn was Nilson's biggest hit.

BADFINGER's association with the BEATLES continued when George Harrison asked them to play in his Bangla Desh benefit concert. Harrison produced part of their third album, "Straight Up," but was interrupted with his own concert. A young lad of auspicious talent, Todd Rungron, finished the job of production, which met even more success than "No Dice."

The two singles, "Day After Day" and "Baby Blue" culled from the album proved to be their biggest hits to date.

barnaby bye 'quite good'

BARNABY BYE, making the entire tour with BADFINGER, is composed of New York's most prominent groups, and found in the impetus of the New York cast of "Hair."

They were soon discovered and brought into the studios by Atlantic Records founder and super-producer, Ahmet Ertegun. Vocals are outstanding and the harmonies are comparable to the Beach Boys and Tranquility. Instrumentally they are quite good, displaying a special talent on the mellotron and the moog. Their first album, "Room to Grow" can be found at McGrath's and Record World.

Chairman Wants 2

by earl vaughan

Barry Asbury, UNC-W Dance Committee chairman, would like to have two dances a month for the students, offering as wide a variety of music as possible.

He'd like to. But he can't. The reason he can't is money, or to use a current term, a "shortage of it."

Asbury's hopes are somewhat cramped by a $200 budget, up from $1600 last year. That's a problem - to get what Asbury rates as a "good band" you've got to dish out about $600.

Of course there are cheaper groups but Asbury is concerned about quality. "I can get rock bands at $200-300, but lots of people on campus don't like that kind of music," he stated.

Despite the problems in faces, Asbury has been able to line up for Homecoming Dance on Feb. 16, what sounds like a fine group.

"We're having an 11-piece all black, soul band," he said. "They just finished a performance at the Embers Club and got a good review from the manager there."

Plans for events after homecoming haven't firmed up yet, but Asbury promises "at least one beer bust" and possibly two before school ends.

Asbury is pleased to see an increase in attendance at the dances this year. He credits the climb to increased publicity.

And the dances deserve a good turnout because much effort goes into putting one together. As Asbury put it, "It's a lotta work."

Greetings Bride-to-be

For a perfect and "heavenly" wedding, you are cordially invited to come in and let us show you why this is such a popular shopping spot with smart brides

MADE MOISELLE
Shoppes

"We are big enough to serve you and small enough to know you"

22 North Front Street

WILMINGTON

RALEIGH

NEW BUILDINGS

by eugene mckinney

Continued expansion and progress is what the near future appears to hold for the of North Carolina at Wilmington the construction of a new dormitory, a general stores have been approved.

With a capacity of 200, existing one. Designed by local architect Leslie N. of similar design and height million dollar air-conditioned building in mid-summer with an expected completion date of fifteen months from the initial ground breaking.

The new 15,000 square foot general stores warehouse will be located directly behind the existing security and maintenance building. At a cost of $240,000 it will house general university storage, new security offices and a central storage for audio-visual aids.

The new Physical Education complex will attach to and extend from the existing gym's main entrance, should prove to be the most exciting of the new additions. It will house three classrooms, one lecture hall, conference rooms, faculty and secretary offices. A full size AAU swing pool and a separate diving competition pool with spectator seats will also be included.

The most exciting part of the new P. E. complex is the main arena. Centered with a basketball court, the area will tentative upper level seating capacity of 8,000. The State of North Carolina cannot provide the four to five hundred thousand dollars in additional funds needed to include the upper level seating, but two hundred thousand dollars has been raised, and the Board of Trustees is very optimistic about obtaining the remainder. The expected completion date for the complex is January 1976.

These new buildings, along with the expected May 15 completion of the new Marine Science Building, are indicative of the expected future growth rate of Wilmington and UNC-W.

Yes

Wachovia

Just fill out this application...

by darlene pearsall

As a freshman, I found it difficult to believe that you had to fill out an application for everything from filling the position as editor to running for homecoming queen. Perhaps it is an extremely systematic and logical method, but what ever happened to the "good 'ole fashioned" approach of personal contact? Eventually, the application method could get out of hand.

For example:

"Well, class, we have a test scheduled for next week. To be eligible, you must fill out an application and have it returned in three days. If you don't you will not be allowed to take the test, and thus receive a zero." A broad smile crosses his face, "Glad a good day."

Or:

"Hi there, sweetie. I hear there's a great band in town. What are you doing tomorrow night?"

"Are you asking me for a date?"

"That's right!"

"Well, fill out an application stating your age, height, the make and model of your car, the precise time and location of which the date will take place, and specifically stating your intentions. Oh, and don't forget an 8 x 10 glossy. Mail the whole thing to my mother."

Or:

You go to a certain vending machine for a drink. You insert a coin. Immediately an application drops out requesting your name, weight, present financial status and two credit references.

what's in the
's

WINNER OF 6 ACADEMY AWARDS!
METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER PRESENTS
A CARLO PONTI PRODUCTION
DAVID LEAN'S FILM
OF BORIS PASTERNAK'S
DOCTOR ZHIVAGO
IN PANAVISION AND METROCOLOR
FEBRUARY 12 8 p. m.

Cupid has shot his little arrow. Now, Valentine, the DIAMONDS are up to you.

GURR Jewelers
Wilmington's Fine Jeweler and Silversmith
212 North Front Street

WINNER OF 6 ACADEMY AWARDS!
METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER PRESENTS
A CARLO PONTI PRODUCTION
DAVID LEAN'S FILM
OF BORIS PASTERNAK'S
DOCTOR ZHIVAGO
IN PANAVISION AND METROCOLOR
FEBRUARY 12 8 p.m. KENAN AUDITORIUM

- ATTENTION -
GRADUATES or SENIORS
who will graduate before August 1974
A Nation-wide Company offers
Job Opportunity for:

- 1) Part-time employment while in school and full-time after graduation
- 2) No experience required
- 3) Excellent compensation
- 4) Schedule work around your classes
- 5) Begin immediately

CONTACT: Mr. Tom Henson
Phone (919) 237-6092
or
P.O. Box 105
Wilson, N. C. 27893

ACTION WITH THE PEACE CORPS AND VISTA

Make the move now that will give meaning to your life!

We have openings now in this country and overseas for qualified persons who want to help others in a meaningful way. There are 700 programs in 30 states and 60 foreign countries around the world where your skills and experience are needed. Living allowance, medical care, transportation costs are provided. Your reward will be doing something that makes sense today.

We need:

SOCIAL WORKERS NURSES

HOME ECONOMISTS AGRICULTURISTS

MATH/SCIENCE MAJORS
MANY, MANY OTHERS

To learn if you qualify call VISTA or the Peace Corps. You will be contacted by a former volunteer who will explain in personal terms his own experience as a volunteer or talk with representatives at THE PUB on February 11th, 12th, & 13th, 9a.m.-4p.m.

UNC-W Wind Ensemble

by barry asbury

Yes, everyone, there is a UNC-W Wind Ensemble. All the beautiful music, along with the loud banging, squeaks and sour notes, blend harmoniously (except where the composition is not supposed to sound harmonious) into a concert for everyone to come and enjoy, marvel, sleep, or whatever audiences do at concerts FREE of charge. You don't have to be a music major or be smart in music to enjoy a concert by the school Wind Ensemble. (I ought to know) All you have to do is let yourself enjoy it. How many people can play a keyboard like Rick Wakeman or sing like Mick Jagger? Yet many get really into rock music. How many people will not come to concerts (except rock) just because they think it's not the popular thing to do. And I hope no one comes up with this "I don't like it" garbage without coming to at least one concert because that attitude has about the same effect on me that Exlar does.

The school Wind Ensemble is certainly nothing like the Rolling Stones and by far not near as great as the New York Philharmonic Orchestra and makes no claim to be. However, it does offer a performance that will come as close as possible to appealing to everyone's taste. Directed by William Adcock (who by the way is a very admirable conductor and reed player) the Wind Ensemble presents its Fall Concert on Monday night, February 11th at 8:00

P.M. in the Sarah Graham Kenan Memorial Auditorium.

The selections that Mr. Adcock has chosen for the concert, as I mentioned earlier, are in a broad range of enjoyment. In other words, if you can't appreciate everything on the program, there's bound to be one or more that you wish to enjoy. Among them are two compositions by Alan Hovhaness, who is a contemporary American composer who makes use of the Armenian mode of the 16th century. The chord structure (or the sound thereof) will remind the layman somewhat of music from "Fiddler on the Roof". However, don't come expecting to hear "I'll Be a Rich Man" because you won't. Just listen for the resemblance. Herbert Blomstedt's composition "Spectrum" is also on music is the true reality

WILLIAM "the fish" ADCOCK, CONDUCTOR

the program. The best way to characterize this one is to say that it's a one movement (by the way - asking if it is bowel is a very old joke) highly polyphonic work for concert ensemble and mixed media-pre-recorded tape.

The tape is made up of electronic sounds, which can be produced by synthesizer or generator and have the source of a piano and "white noise". The middle section of the work is dominated by the electronic sounds. Then there is "A Short Ballet For Awkward Dancers" written by Herbert Hazelman, director of the Greensboro School Band in Greensboro, N.C. which includes some peculiar names for movements such as "March for Two Left Feet", "Waltz for People With Slipped Disks", "Twelve tone Rag", and "Four Footed Galop". This work is pure satire and should be taken with tongue-in-cheek. Lastly is the "Pop Portion" of the concert. In this part the Wind Ensemble will play Grand Prix by John Calavas, which is a contemporary concert march with the flavor and drive of the "Shant" sound; "Jeanette", a pretty rock ballad by Bill Holcombe, and "Where It's At", a hard driving piece that utilizes every section of the band.

Mr. Adcock and the Wind Ensemble have worked hard to produce a concert for students, faculty, towners, anyone. You can't go wrong with a Free concert on a Monday night at 8:00 P.M. in Kenan Auditorium. You might even realize that there is some form of music besides rock.

FIG 3 M. SHYTEERS of the percussion section practice a difficult part for the upcoming concert.

concert February 11

AQUA WORLD INC.

Professional Diving Instruction

N.A.S.D.S. Approved

- * Classes Now Open
- * Basic & Open Water Certification
- * 4 to a Class
- * Individual Instruction
- * Private Pool (no pool fee)
- * 3 Open Water Dives
- * $50.00-total cost!

AIR - SALES - RENTALS
CHARTER - REPAIRS

791-3976

5425 WRIGHTSVILLE AV.

JEWELERS INC.

FOR TWO

Diamond wedding trio with lovely leaf shaped design $225.

*Req. $300
Matching starburst style diamond wedding set. $275.

Attractive 14k gold trio with sparkling diamonds. $400.

Buy Now While Selection is Best

Convenient Credit • Low Payments

"Wilmington's Largest Diamond Importers"

Reed's

27 NORTH FRONT STREET

Wilmington • Whiteville • Jacksonville.

It's working

Thanks to you

The United Way

advertising contributed for the public good.

© The United Way of America 1973.

IT'S TAKE A BREAK TIME as others practice for the concert scheduled on Monday, February 11th at 8:00pm in the Sarah Graham Kenan Auditorium. Admission is FREE.

RECORD

WORLD

Discover
New Dimensions

*NEW RELEASES
*BRITISH IMPORTS
*JAZZ
*SOUL
*GIFT CERTIFICATES
*GOOD MUSIC!!!!

761-7043

*ASK ABOUT OUR
BAKER'S DOZEN

Long Leaf Mall

JESUS CHRIST SUPERSTAR

SELECT "SUPERSTAR" LOCATIONS FOR EFFECT

Biblical locations were not used in the Norman Jewison film, "Jesus Christ Superstar," screen version of the Andrew Lloyd Webber-Tim Rice rock opera, a Universal Pictures and Robert Stigwood presentation which comes to the Theatre.

Asked why he had chosen to film in Israel since he placed dramatic backgrounds ahead of biblical sites, director Jewison replied:

"Because I felt an organic connection rather than an actual one should be established between the cast and myself with the land where Jesus actually walked. It is that simple. The way we filmed it in Technicolor and Todd-AO 35 was very Superstar; the where we filmed it was very Jesus Christ; and we needed that balance."

More than 30 locations were selected in which the 28 distinct musical scenes were filmed. A 78-piece symphony orchestra was used in the final music scoring.

Ted Neeley, Carl Anderson, Yvonne Elliman and Barry Dennen star in the film which was produced by Jewison and Robert Stigwood, from a screenplay by Melvyn Bragg and Jewison. Rice wrote the book and lyrics while Webber did the music for the rock opera. Andre Previn conducted the music for the film, and Patrick Palmer was associate producer.

SOUNDS HEIGHTEN DRAMA IN "JESUS CHRIST SUPERSTAR"

To a greater degree than in most motion pictures, sounds heighten the drama in the Norman Jewison film, "Jesus Christ Superstar," screen version of the rock opera by composer Andrew Lloyd Webber and lyricist Tim Rice, which comes to the Theatre.

Ted Neeley, as Jesus, wearing a crown of thorns, carries the cross to which Roman soldiers will tie and nail him in the Norman Jewison Film, "Jesus Christ Superstar," a musical presentation by Universal Pictures and Robert Stigwood photographed in Technicolor and Todd-AO 35.

THE STING

Robert Earl Jones and Robert Redford, two con men, are amazed at the haul from "The Switch" in the Bill/Phillips production of a George Roy Hill film, "The Sting," a Universal picture in Technicolor.

NEWMAN LOVES THE 30's, YEARS OF "THE STING"

Nostalgic about the 1930's? So is Paul Newman, born too late to remember much about the decade, who plays a 1930's con man in Universal's "The Sting," a George Roy Hill film in Technicolor coming to the Theatre.

"I love the Thirties, the whole depression period, and I always have," says Newman, whose fellow stars in the Bill/Phillips production are Robert Redford and Robert Shaw. "It was a decade of crisis for the nation, and a lot of artists, particularly writers, were stirred to serious thought by the events that took place. Lillian Hellman, Clifford Odets and John Steinbeck were writing then."

Features
1:30
4:00
6:30
9:00

HELD OVER

PAUL NEWMAN ROBERT REDFORD

ROBERT SHAW

IN A BILL/PHILLIPS PRODUCTION OF A GEORGE ROY HILL FILM
THE STING

A RICHARD D. ZANUCK/DAVID BROWN PRESENTATION

...all it takes is a little Confidence.

Written by DAVID S. WARD Directed by GEORGE ROY HILL
Produced by TONY BILL and MICHAEL J. JULIA PHILLIPS Music by MARVIN HAMLISCH TECHNICOLOR® A UNIVERSAL PICTURE ORIGINAL SOUNDTRACK AVAILABLE EXCLUSIVELY ON MCA RECORDS AND TAPES

CRISIS LINE
763-3695

NOW SHOWING
at 1:20-3:30-5:40-7:50-10:10

A PARAMOUNT RELEASE
DINO DE LAURENTIS

AL PACINO
"SERPICO"

PETER MAAS
WALDO SALT
NORMAN WEXLER
MARTIN BRENNAN
SIDNEY LUMET
MIRIS THEODORAKIS
R

OLEANDER Cinema 1&2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

Oleander Drive 799-3950

NOW SHOWING

Shows 2-4-6-8-10

STREISAND & REDFORD TOGETHER!

THE WAY WE WERE

COLUMBIA PICTURES and RASTAR PRODUCTIONS Present
A RAY STARK-SIDNEY POLLACK Production PG

Next: "Cinderella Liberty"

In the Love Story of the year!

See it with someone you love!

Delightful in Color

2:00-4:00-
6:00-8:00-10:00

and now the film...
A NORMAN JEWISON Film

"JESUS CHRIST SUPERSTAR"

NOW SHOWING!

A Universal Picture Technicolor®

LONG LEAF Cinema 1&2

799-5710

LONG LEAF MALL - SHIPYARD BLVD.

N-O-W
HELD OVER!

TWIN BELLY BUSTER--LAUGH HITS!
COME IN ANYTIME...LAUGH ALL THE TIME!

2 Big Fun Movies for the Price of ONE

Trinity's back in the saddle again and still horsing around.

A DOUBLE BARREL OF "TRINITY" FUN!

Joseph E. Levine Presents

"They Call Me Trinity"

AND
"Trinity Is Still My Name"

An Arco Embassy Release

3:35-7:40

1:30-5:35-9:40

HAWKS SPOT PANTHERS

by robert maxey

With their best shooting night of the year, UNC-W TROUNCED the Panthers of High Point 99-81 in basketball action Wed. night in Hanover Hall despite the great 40-point performance by the Panther's Pete Collins.

"The first half was the worse half I have ever seen," commented coach Gibson on a half that was full of Seahawk errors. The Hawks got into foul trouble early, but it did not interfere with the latter performance of the Hawks. The Panthers took an early lead and hung on to it the entire half with the Seahawks at one time trailing by 11, 25-14. Towards the end of the first half the Hawks got within 3, 37-34, but at the half the Panthers had a 44-38 advantage.

The second half the Seahawks put a little excitement into it when a quick break by Cherry found the game tied up 44 all. Once again the Panthers resumed the lead but a basket by Dobson brought the score even. A few seconds later a bucket by Jackson found the Hawks in their first lead of the game, 52-50. From then on it was the Seahawks game all the way. The Seahawks lead grew larger and larger, as much as 21 points, 90-71.

The Hawks, led by Jackson with 24 points and Cherry with 20 points, hit an outstanding 68% of their shots. "This is the first time we have beaten Highpoint in my three years of coaching here. The team gave a supreme effort in the last ten minutes of the game. Dobson had a very good game as well as Sam Robinson who really got in on the action and blocked 6 shots. Alessi had one of his best floor games," commented a jubilant coach Mel Gibson.

Referring to the Panthers highscorer who racked up half the points for Highpoint, Gibson smiled and said with gladness and relief, "I'm glad that I won't be seeing Collins again. I guess I ought to go and kiss that guy good-bye III!"

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

basketball belles

by peggy stiles

The UNC-W athletic department has created a Women's Varsity Basketball team which will be playing other colleges.

An organizational meeting in Oct. established a group of ladies interested in an intercollegiate sport in addition to tennis. After a few practice sessions it was decided that basketball instead of volleyball was to be the sport played.

After this decision, the group obtained membership in the North Carolina Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women. Obeying the rules of NCIAW, practice did not begin until Nov. 15, 1973.

Miss Jan Donahue, a faculty member of the UNC-W Department of Physical Education, is the team's coach. Miss Donahue, a native of Illinois, is a graduate of Miami of Ohio and obtained her master's degree at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. This marks her third year in the coaching and teaching ranks.

The 12-member team has approximately 9 girls who played in highschool. Each member is quite serious about the game and is a dedicated, hard-working athlete.

The tentative starters are Gwynn Hawes at center, Gail Lanier at pivot, Sheila Boles and Toni Bryant at wing, and Debbie Kelso at the point guard.

Other members of the team include Julie Barden, Diana DeLeon, Kathi Keston, Brenda Knowles, Martha Richardson, Sharon Norris, and Shelly Groce. The manager of the team is Debbie Warner.

The team will play a seven-game schedule against such teams as Campbell, Pembroke, USC at Conway, ECU, and Francis Marion.

February 21, 22, 23 the UNC-W Women's Varsity Basketball team (referred to as the Seadoves) will participate in the NC State Basketball Tournament to be held in Raleigh, N.C.

"THE CRANES ARE FLYING"

Cannes Film Festival Winner:
"Best Picture"-"Best Director"
"Best Actress" For the first time on television!

The unforgettable love story from Russia, of two young people desperately trying to cling to hope amidst the brutality of World War II. Created during the post-Stalin years of the Russian film renaissance. (Made possible by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.)

Next week: "Ballad of a Soldier."

HUMANITIES FILM FORUM
9:00 TONIGHT
CHANNEL 39

PBS PUBLIC BROADCASTING SERVICE

JV's 4-3

by robert maxey

The UNC-W JV Seahawks soared to their fourth victory of the season over rival team Mt. Olive, 77-62.

The JV attack was lead by Greg Kemp who racked up a sizzling 35 points for the home standing Seahawks.

The Seahawks never relinquished the lead but the Mt. Olive Trojans did narrow in twice in the first half. At the start of the game the Seahawks held on the lead by two, 8-6. The Seahawks then gained an eight point lead, 24-16 before the Trojans scored 6 straight points to bring them trailing the Hawks by only 3, 25-22. The Seahawks battled back to enjoy their largest lead of the half at half-time, 31-22.

The JV Seahawks never in doubt of the future of the game went on to build up large mounting leads. With 8:21 remaining in the game the Hawks were ahead 55-36. However, the largest lead came with only 52 seconds showing on the clock. The Seahawks had a 20 point lead 75-55. The Trojans tried in vain to even the score, scoring 7 straight points to end the game 77-62.

Coach Tracy James commented that he thought the defense did real well. Besides the 35 points made by Kemp, Keith Yow was the only other Hawk in double figures with 14.

Varsity Basketball Schedule

Feb. 11	Pembroke	home
Feb. 13	ACC	away
Feb. 16	Gulford	home
Feb. 18	Campbell	away
Feb. 21	Fion	away
Feb. 23	Pfeiffer	away
Feb. 26	Francis Marion	home

SEAHAWKS ARE NO. 2

5-1

METHODIST MONARCHS NO. 4

UNC-W SEAHAWKS NO. 2

V.A. STATE TROJANS NO. 1

by robert maxey

PEMBROKE BRAVES NO. 3

The race is on!! NAIA District 29 championship playoffs promises to have great competition. The leaders as of Feb. 2 are Virginia State, 7-1, UNC-W, 5-1, Pembroke, 4-1, and Methodist, 6-2. REAL excitement ahead!!!

DISTRICT 29 STANDINGS UP TO February 2

SCHOOL	DISTRICT		ALL GAMES
	W	L	W	L
Virginia State	7	1	15	3
UNC-W	5	1	9	5
Pembroke	4	1	13	4
Methodist	6	2	9	4
Lynchburg	5	2	11	5
Norfolk State	4	2	9	6
Christopher Newport	5	3	6	12
ACC	3	3	11	5
Virginia Wesleyan	3	3	7	11
Elizabeth City State	2	5	5	12
Shaw	3	8	8	10
Hampton Institute	1	3	8	11
Campbell	1	6	5	11
St. Andrews	0	10	2	16
NC Wesleyan

Norfolk State's Spartans brought an abrupt halt to the Virginia State Trojan's unbeaten streak through District 29 Saturday with a resounding 106-92 win at Norfolk. The Trojans remains in the number one position with the Seahawks of UNC-W in a close second.

The Seahawks which are 5-1 in the district and 9-5 overall, has its only district loss to third place Pembroke.

Pembroke, the defending NAIA District champions.

will match their 4-1 district mark against the Seahawks on Feb. 11 at Hanover Hall. An action packed game is expected.

The Methodist Monarchs have had a taste of the Pembroke Brave's power. The Braves wore the crown as they handed the Monarchs their first district loss Sat. night, 82-65. The fourth place Monarchs also lost at the hands of another district foe. ACC. to hold a 6-2 district record.

The Seahawk schedule does not include a game against the number one Trojans of Virginia State. There is a great possibility that the Seahawks will make the playoffs. The four top teams in the district has a chance at the tournaments and the NAIA District 29 championship.

The Seahawks need your support for their bid for the championship!!! The race is on!!!!

J V SCHEDULE

February 9 FMC away

February 12 USC away

"Come, come, let us drink
the Vintner's Good Health.
'Tis the Cask, not the Coffer, that
holds the true wealth."
17th century London street song

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"

WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Pidgeon
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.

Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings — as an Air Force pilot or navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

SGT. JERRY T. LEWIS
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N. C.
Phone: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

'Surprise people / Serve
MICHELOB.

MICHELOB.

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

come
as you are!

Where pizza is always
in good taste?

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

3617 Market Street

WRITTEN IN PRISON about prison and performed by an all ex-convict company, "The Cage," a three-part program including a question and answer session and classroom visitations, will be presented by the Student Government Association in collaboration with the Sociology Club and the UNC - W Drama Department on February 21 at 8 p.m. in the gym.

THE CAGE: the jailbirds break out

"The Cage," written in prison about prison and performed by an all ex-convict company will appear at the Hanover gym on February 21 at 8 p.m. Tickets are $1.00.

The three-part program begins when the cast comes onto campus in the afternoon.

and dinner with students and faculty. Following the evening performance of the 80 minute explosive one-act drama, the actors quickly change into their own clothes and return to the stage for a candid question/answer confrontation with the audience.

The cast does not rely completely on their prison experience. They are highly trained, skilled and disciplined actors who received training under a Federal grant, having performed before members of Congress, the Chief Justice's Commission on Crime this spring in Hawaii; in New York, Philadelphia and San Francisco theaters and in some 400 campuses across the states, Alaska, Hawaii and Canada. They now have three casts on tour and will perform in Germany, Sweden, Denmark, Israel and France this fall.

Written by 38-year-old Rick Cluchey while serving a life sentence at San Quentin for armed robbery and kidnapping, the play was first produced professionally in 1965 by the San Francisco Actor's Workshop, now incorporated into New York Lincoln Center.

Its taut relevancy and emotional impact has earned it unanimously rave reviews and leaves audiences stunned by its raw imagery.

This production is jointly sponsored by the Student Government Association, the Sociology Club and the Drama Department at UNC-W. Tickets can be purchased from any member of the Sociology Club, from Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities in her office in the Pub, or at the door.

Bring a blanket for a close seat!

the cage:

FEBRUARY 21

8 p.m.

HANOVER HALL

1974 Miss Wilmington sought

The Wilmington Jaycees are in preparation for the annual Miss Wilmington Pageant, and are in need of contestants. The pageant will be held March 30 in Kenan Auditorium at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

Contestants must be between the ages of 18 and 28, single, never before married and been a resident of New Hanover County for at least six months, except college students who need not be residents. Any girl interested in competing should contact Al Sholar at 763-8663 or 791-8269, or write: Wilmington Jaycees, Miss Wilmington Pageant, P. O. Box 3171, Wilmington, N. C. 28401.

The pageant offers prize, experience and fun to all who participate. Miss Wilmington receives anywhere from $500 to $1000 in gifts from local merchants as well as a $300 scholarship for schooling at the university of her choice.

and second prize receive $200 and $100 scholarships respectively.

The pageant, a preliminary to the Miss America Pageant, accepts speeches or sketches instead of a talent. Fifty percent of the competition is based on talent; 25% each on evening gown and bathing suit competition.

February 23 has been set as the cut-off date for entries.

car bash

A "car bash" will be sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity on Friday, Feb. 15 from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Two complete cars will be furnished for students and faculty to demolish for 25¢ a bash or five for $1.00.

The cars will be moved at 3 p.m. to the site of the bonfire near the tennis courts to be held later in the evening. Everyone is urged to come over and have a bash!

Lost and Found

Lost and Found items can best be located by contacting Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, in her office in the Pub.

Articles in the office include a pair of sunglasses, a watch, numerous sets of car keys, notebooks and textbooks, specifically "The Heart of Hebrew History." Someone also lost a pipe.

UNC-W WIND ENSEMBLE in concert MON., FEB. 11th

8:00 P.M.

Sarah Graham Kenan Auditorium

(see story on page 6)

Take a tip from Raleigh about bicycle safety.

Don't "hitch" on a bike. Holding on to another moving vehicle while riding a bicycle causes most of the fatal cycling accidents. Ride safe. Get a new book of 12 more safety tips free from your Raleigh Dealer.

Call

799-5770

See 'em at

LIFE CYCLES

Community Shopping Center 4209 Oleander Drive
Across From Cape Fear Ford

Bahá'u'lláh THE GLORY OF GOD

Bahá'u'lláh is the latest in the succession of Divine Messengers sent by God since the beginning of man's existence. He is the Promised One of all religions. His coming ushers in the Age of Fulfillment mentioned in all the prophecies of the past. Bahá'u'lláh brings God's Plan for world peace, world justice and world unity.

FOR INFORMATION:

Bahá'í Faith

call 791-6264

or 256-2802

classified

Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are urged to put their classified ads in the SEAHAWK free -- FREE, ie, no charge. Let us give you a break.

● FOR SALE

STEREO UNIT: 8 track tape player, AM-FM radio and turn table. $200. Call 799-1586; ask for Dean.

WATERBEDS: New king size beds, $25. Also beanbags. Call Herbie at 791-9325.

1969 MOBILE HOME: 12 x 65 foot, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, central air conditioning, or appointment 6 and 8 p.m. at 285-3747.

PORTABLE T.V.: Sears silhouette 19 inch screen with VHP and UHP antennas. Excellent condition physically and mechanically. $50.

STEREO COMPONENTS: Most major brands! 20 - 50% off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

TYPING: Call the professional. All varieties of typing including manuscripts, resumes, term papers and dissertations. 75¢ a page for double spaced typing. Price includes grammar, punctuation and spelling corrections. Call Kathy after 4:30 p.m. at 791-5541 or 799-4385.

SKY DIVING LESSONS: To be taught this spring. Course enrollment now through March. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinols after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

SEWING & ALTERATIONS: Call 799-5531.

TEXTBOOKS FOR SALE: Psychology 105 book and workbook, both for $8. P.E. foundations book for $2. Other texts, too. Cheap. Call 762 - 0035 after 6 p.m. Ask for Beth.

CUSTOM LEATHER WORK: Call 763 - 4371 anytime.

RED IRISH SETTERS: Pups, AKC registered, wormed and shots. Five generation pedigree with the Field Dog Stud Book Certified Pedigree. Can be seen at Albert Joyner's residence, 2511 Wrightsville Avenue, or call 762 - 4742 or 443 - 3010, Rocky Mount.

NEED DIVING GEAR? Have just obtained U. S. divers dealership for 1974. Very low mark - up, terrific savings. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinols after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

GENETICS BOOK: Used only one day being sold for $6.50. See John Wilkins in the Pub between 9:30 - 11:30 a. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

PAPERS TYPED: 50¢ for the first five pages; 40¢ for each page thereafter. Dial 458-8768.

MUSIC BOOK: Music literature book for sale. Call 791-4483.

NURSING UNIFORMS: New! Never been worn; size 6 (28). Ask for Betsy at 799-0595.

35 mm CAMERA: Want to buy Pentax, Miranda, etc. See F. Allen in room 115, Hoggard Hall.

LADIES WETSUIT: 2 piece, 1/4" women's small to medium wetsuit in good condition. Ask for Debbie at 791-9108.

1958 TRAILER FOR SALE: Two bedroom, will take offer. Contact David Harris at the Residence Hall, room 332.

● WHEELS

71 VEGA: Red with black top, 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

1972 VW VAN: Rear seat opens to bed; radio; carpeting and curtains. Good condition. $2850. Call Ned Martin at 791-4330 (ext. 321) from 9-5 weekdays.

1961 MIGHTY MITE JEEP: American Motors jeep, marine surplus, aluminum body, V-4 aluminum air-cooled engine, 4 wheel drive, independent suspension, 4 speed with spare transmission. Good condition. Call 791-0587 after 5 p.m. or 686-0301 (ext. 64) between 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

1967 MG: Red convertible w/ black top, 32 - 35 miles per gallon; new interior, new tires and new battery. Good condition. Call 285 - 4773 after 5 p.m. on the weekdays.

HONDA 305 CC: Rebuilt motor; runs good. Must sell. $175. Call 763-6624.

53 "OLD FAITHFUL" CHEVY: Lively enough to get you anywhere in town. Inquire at 762-4886 in the evenings after 6 p.m., and in the mornings before 9 a.m. One car owner!

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: power steering and radio. Only $1000. Dial 799-3765.

1967 DODGE POLARA: Good condition white polara with automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes and air conditioning. Contact Wayne Barbee in the Residence Hall, room 424.

● RIDES

LEGALLY BLIND WOMAN needs:

F 8:30 spring semester. Willing to pay for service. Lives one block off of Highway 132 on Mockingbird Lane in Long Leaf Hills. Needs return ride any time after 9:30 a.m. Call Mrs. Ashley at 791-1736.

RIDE NEEDED ANY WEEK-END to Western Carolina. Will help pay for gas. See Susan in room 102 in the residence hall.

Would like a ride to Kentucky at Spring break (March 1st). Preferably Berea or Lexington. Contact Gary Coburn Dorm 411

● WORK

MALE HELP: Bellamy drug company at 3806 Oleander Drive needs packer in shipping department to work on Monday - Friday from 2 - 5:30 p.m. Ask for Mr. Sis-trunk.

WANTED: Student to work part-time or full time selling radio advertisement. Contact Bryan Cook at WVBS AM & FM, Burgaw, N.C. Call 259-4734.

OPENINGS FOR REPORTERS: The SEAHAWK newspaper is looking for reporters for the spring semester. Leave name and phone number or dorm number on the bulletin board on the office door, or ask someone in the office.

MUSICIANS & VOCALISTS: Need you to play with band with a wide variety of music for clubs in the area. Contact Barry Langston, Country Club Apartments, 50/27 apt. 17.

PART - TIME FEMALE: To work at Modern Bridal and Formal Shoppe from 4 - 7 p.m., Mon - Sat. Contact Mrs. Glenn. 799 - 5730.

● PLACES FOR RENT

BEDROOM AND BATH: In Hanover Heights area with kitchen privileges. Call 791-8330.

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER PRESENTS
A CARLO PONTI PRODUCTION
DOCTOR
DAVID LEAN'S FILM
OF BORIS PASTERNAK'S
DOCTOR
ZHIVAGO
IN PANAVISION® AND METROCOLOR

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club
APARTMENTS
Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Wall-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls.
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining.
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen area.
- Newest range, refrigerator, garbage disposal.
- Individually-controlled air conditioning.
- Large swimming pool. Central laundry facilities.

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished$135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished$149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished$160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished$185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT ...

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

Taking off? Take us up.

There's a place for you on Piedmont. For a weekend of fun, a game out of town, a quick trip home, whatever - there's a Piedmont jet or propjet flight to fit your plans. With personal, thoughtful service always. Piedmont - serving over 75 cities including Chicago, New York, Washington, Norfolk, Atlanta, Memphis. Call us, or your travel agent. We've got a place for you.

Piedmont Airlines

New direction paved for VTC

by paula willis
chairman.

February 11, 12 and 13 will mark a new direction for the video tape committee, and hopefully for the entire campus. Since the beginning of video, there has been a sincere wish for the administration to use the equipment for educational purposes. Many schools already employ this method of teaching and all unanimously agree on the refreshing effectiveness of it.

Now, with the cooperation and financial support from the sociology department, "Growing Up Female" will be shown.

"Growing Up Female" is a program concerned with the roles of women in today's society and the gripping influence of the male-oriented environment. This is something for all of UNC-W's people. The viewing will be shown in the cafeteria lobby from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Feb. 11 and 12, and in the Pub from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Feb. 13.

Up to date, the programs shown have been comedy such as "Chicken Little, part 1 and part 2," and "Reefer Madness." April 1 brings us, without a doubt, the mad-capers of satire, "National Lampoon." This program is being sponsored by the Budweiser Distributor.

The video tape committee hopes to continue with such entertainment, yet the group also strives to be instructive and finally self-supportive.

will put in a bid on a camera. With a camera, self-sufficiency would be guaranteed through the creation of commercials, campus news and even student written and student produced programs. The committee won't guarantee you anything but some of the most satisfying hours on the campus. Interested?

Leave your name in the Student Activities Office, or in the committee's mailbox in the Pub. Better yet, why not join the group every Friday at 2:30 p.m. in the lobby of the Pub?

Everyone has something to give, and the video tape committee has something worth giving to.

PARKING VIOLATION

PROVINCE OR STATE

AUTOMOBILE
LICENSE NUMBER

TIME

MAKE OF AUTOMOBILE

This is not a ticket, but if it were within my power, you would receive two. Because of your Bull Headed, inconsiderate, feeble attempt at parking, you room for a 20 mule team, 2 elephants, 1 goat and a safari of pygmies from the African interior. The reason for giving you this is so that in the future you may think of someone else, other than yourself. Besides I don't like domineering, egotistical or simple minded drivers and you probably fit into one of these categories.

I sign off wishing you an early transmission failure (on the expressway at about 4:30 p.m.). Also, may the Fleas of a thousand camels infest your armpits.

WITH MY COMPLIMENTS

WHERE WERE YOU when the lights went out? Students cohort in zany antics in the residence hall after the blackout.
(photo by neal huntley)

"Great Decisions" offers opportunity

Residents of the Wilmington area are urged to join a "Great Decisions" discussion group that will meet weekly on the campus of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington for eight weeks beginning next Tuesday, Feb. 12 at 7:30 p.m.

Sponsored nationally by the non-partisan Foreign Policy Association, "Great Decisions" is an annual study-discussion program offering the public an opportunity to learn, discuss and speak out on some of the vital foreign policy priorities of our time.

The group will meet in the conference room of the William Madison Randall Library. Several members participate in the discussions.

There is no charge for participating in the sessions, other than $3.00 for the purchase of a specially prepared booklet providing information to stimulate thought wishing to join may attend the initial session without prior enrollment, but booklets may be obtained in advance at the UNC-W Office of Continuing Education, room 119 of the Alderman Administration Building.

Homecoming Dance

(Come to the hop!)

★ Starring:

"The Dynamic Upsetters"

★ in the back gym
★ following the game
★ SATURDAY NIGHT
★ FEBRUARY 16

check shoes at door
no alcohol

SOLITAIRE REFLECTIONS

CAMINO
$250-$1,000
WED. RING $50.00

Keepsake

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

28 N Front St • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

EARLY EATERS

FIRST 45 MINUTES
OF EACH MEAL

SPECIAL

A COMPLETE MEAL

ONE MEAT-choice of chicken, chopped steak
crab patty, or fish

SALAD
ONE VEGETABLE
BEVERAGE OR BREAD

$1.35

LUNCH 11:00 - 2:15

DINNER 4:45 - 8:00

Valentines
BUFFET
Long Leaf Mall
SERVING CREATIVE FOODS

Happy belated Valentine's Day you little devils!
See inside info on the schedule for today's and tomorrow's homecoming events

seahawk

Welcome back to the campus alumnus...
alumna? alumnae?
alumni? - - Hell! "Old Timers!"

February 15, 1974

sixteen pages

HOME COMING

LETTERS

Oh, God if only....

To the Editor:

It was noted with interest that in the February 1, 1974 edition of "The Seahawk" in the article, "Letters Show Opposition to Using Dogs," that "Sen." Jesse Helms was referred to as R., S., C. To that may I say, "Oh God if it were only true."

B. W. McCARTY

Sick of "SICK"

To the Editor:

A brief discussion I recently had with Mr. Gaskins, who perpetually smirking "lady in the bookstore," really bothered me.

What instigated the discussion evolved from the magazine rack. As I was leafing through some literature I suddenly realized that the conglomeration of Good-Housekeepings, Stag and Playboy-type magazines on the rack are identical to the racks in Parker's (Food Store) and Eckerd's (Drug Store). My thought was this: Why can't a university worthy of the name have magazines geared to those other than the lower-working class type? I am not knocking the working class per se; understand my point is the caliber of literature in a university system would seem to differ from a supermarket or drug store setting. If this is agreeable, a priori, then let's move to the point of my discontent.

As I was speaking to Mr. Gaskins, I stated to this effect: "Can't we replace such rubbish as for example, with something having more human value?"

She replied, "Those magazines are bestsellers on this campus."

I almost barked -> but why else would they be stocked month after month? Should I take the rash deduction and say perhaps their sale is indicative of the college mind?, or at least, those who habit the bookstore area?

I'll leave that to you. I will add, the paperback rack is in the same vein. No surprise I suspect. Somehow a little Camue (sp?) or Schopenhauer (?), (russian) would be an improvement over Mickey Spillane.

What is needed? Ideas! for those who read with and taste could coordinate with professors, with Mr. Gaskins, Linda Moore, or your own experience -- wherever and who(m)ever you care to find ideas.

I suppose this will just set in the paper, rather than in people's thought - change in this case would cause money (possibly) and effort (positively). My last thought: that if the magazines and paperbacks in the bookstore are any indication of the taste people have in UNC-W, this strikes me as a real joke.

Peter Venerable

Let "us" select

To the Editor:

Last semester the editors of the SEAHAWK often made reference to the apathetic attitude of the student body. . . and everyone reads and smiles and throws the SEAHAWK away.

I don't claim to be an exception, and have wallowed in apathy just like so many others. However, one thing seems, to have infiltrated the conversation of every social strata I've encountered. Freaks or TKE's, cowboys or plowboys, all have voiced disappointment in the concerts. It's an unquestionable fact that with a student body as diversified as that of UNC-W, someone is going to be unhappy. But it's apparently safe to say last semester everyone was unhappy.

Now don't misinterpret this letter to be down on the concert committee, even though they must take the blame for last semester's blunders. I'm sure they were well intentioned, however, things just didn't work out right.

So where do we go from here? What does it take to have a good concert? I don't have the answer, but do offer a suggestion. Why not a popular selection of the artists? The concert committee could publish a list of those bands available, and let the student body decide who they want. If a clear majority is not present, then let the committee make the decision.

I don't know. Maybe now people will write and say the concerts were great, and my roommates and myself will be pelted daily with garbage and kicked violently by platform heels. Or maybe the idea suggested will catch fire and make it all better. But whatever happens, at least we've done our little part to distinguish us from the apathetic crowd. And it feels good. Thanks.

RAY STURZA
GREG CORBETT
JAY TILLEY

Residents, Kanadu North

Editor's note: For those of you who are new freshmen or second semester transfers, the SEAHAWK in conjunction with the concert committee, ran a from in the newspaper for students to fill out indicating their choice of a band. They were asked, however, to keep in mind that such greats as Cat Stevens, James Taylor and others are out of the concert committee's price range.

Below is that same form. I am curious to see just how many will take the time and the effort to fill it out and bring it by the office located in the Pub, I can't recall one form brought by last semester.

Oh, and thanks for writing. Ray Sturza, Greg Corbett and Jay Tilley. I need more like you who give a happy damn about things on campus.

"Frankly Speaking"

by Phil Frank

'YOU'VE GOT TO HELP ME WITH THIS LAPSE OF MEMORY - I CAN'T REMEMBER WHERE I HID MY STASH!'

star-spangled dummer?

An Ode to an Era

reprinted from the WILDCAT newspaper at New Hanover High School

"Oh say can you see by the dawn's early light?" When is dawn? Now it's an hour later, and if you want to see you have to turn on a light, or run over little kids waiting for the bus. "What's so proudly we hailed, at the twilight's last gleaming." Dust, smog, and pollution, it is a miracle you can see your hand in front of your face. "Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight." The perilous fight at the gas tanks to see who gets the most gas. "Gave proof through the night, that the flag was still there." Not much more than the flag with riots and "peaceful" demonstrations, and junkies struggling for a fix. "Oh, say does that star spangled banner yet wave," yes, over filth, poverty, drugs, disease and lust. "O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave." You would have to be brave to venture out of the house after dark.

Yet through out all of the misery, drudgery, and cynicism today, there still rises hope. For only you can restore America to what it once was. "It's good crowned by brotherhood, from sea to shining sea."

WANTED FOR SEDITION, CRIMINAL ANARCHY, VAGRANCY, AND CONSPIRING TO OVERTHROW THE ESTABLISHED GOVERNMENT.

Desecres Poorly. Said To Be A Carpenter By Trade, Ill-scrubbed, Has Visionary Ideas, Associates With Common Working People, The Unemployed And Bums.

Alias--Believed to be a Jew

Alias-- 'Prince of Peace' King of the Jews' 'Son of Man' 'Light of the World', etc., etc.

Professional Agitator

Red Beard, marks on Hands and Feet-- The Result of Injuries Inflicted By an Angry Mob Led By Respectable Citizens and Legal Authorities.

WANTED

Jesus Christ

seahawk

 CONCERTS **

List groups you would like to see at UNC-W. Keep in mind that "greats" are out of the question.

return form to seahawk office in pub

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

editor: beth hicks
associate editors: barry asbury
j. k. muhlman
advertising director: barry asbury
business manager: alan murphy
sports editor: robert maxey greek letter: pecky lane moose
news editor: eugene mckinney

photographic staff: roberta alred
nauma dozier
neal huntley
rack sessions
supportive staff: linda houghton
layne lockamy
anna nasbit
darlene pearsall

"Sorry, if you fellows want windfall profits, you'll just have to go into politics"

Campus police drive Cadillac; Kissinger no. 1

Knows students

One University of Oregon professor takes pride in the fact that he can call each of the 190 students in his lecture section by name. At the beginning of the term, he took individual photos of the students, mounted them on a large board and memorized the names and faces.

Events telephoned

When several members of the Allegheny College in Ohio swimming team came down with a 24-hour virus, the coach decided that it would be best if the team didn't travel to a cross-state meet with Kenyon College. In a gas-saving agreement between the two coaches, the events were held by telephone, with stop-watch times compared at the end of the afternoon to determine the winner.

Cops' Cadillac

A pale blue 1965 Cadillac was an unlikely addition to the fleet of vehicles of the University of Pennsylvania police who picked it up for $500 at a state confiscated-property auction.

COED dorm eliminated

Room-by-room coed dorm living will be eliminated at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill next fall. Dean of Student Affairs there said there had been no particular complaints from students or parents but he feels the plan, which is now in effect, is a good one.

fect on one floor has the potential for adverse publicity.

Raid uncovers marijuana

A January raid in a dorm room and parking lot at Kent State University netted officers 52 pounds of marijuana worth over $16,000, a large quantity of pills, a machine gun, a semi-automatic pistol, ammunition and nearly $2,000 in cash.

Heroin traffic shifts

Some reports from New York claim the heroin traffic is shifting to the high school age, as high schoolers are not covered the new, tougher drug laws there.

"REDSKINS" racist name

The American Indians Rights Association, an Ohio group, has been picketing some of the athletic contests of Miami University in the state. The group claims the team's nickname, "The Redskins," is "racist and derogatory."

Kissinger voted no. 1

Secretary of State, Henry Kissinger, was voted "the most favored man in politics" by the 1973 visitors to Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum in London.

Kissinger won the honor by beating out Israeli Premier Golda Meir, who finished second.

President Nixon was not forgotten, however, as he was voted the "most hated and feared man," edging out both Adolph Hitler, who finished in second place, and Jack the Ripper, who came in third.

Depression?

For those who feel that a severe depression is on its way with complete governmental collapse just around the corner, there is hope.

For just $312, you can send away for 12 cases of emergency food in lamented cans, safe from insects, fallout, rain-idity and "anyone not armed with a can opener for years to come." The survival kit, "Lancello Reserves," also opts with a hand-operated grain mill and a cookbook.

The company accepts both Master Charge cards and Bank Americard in spite of advertising that the government is on verge of a collapse because it is $467 billion in debt with only $311.7 in gold reserves.

Keep on stompin' In a lace-'em-up-the-front, great big, marshmallow-soled shoe for Guys and Chicks from Dexter. To groove along with your favorite jeans.... or whatever....

DEXTER

SU-ANN SHOES

DOWNTOWN

LONG LEAF MALL

Corner of Front & Princess

Nightly Until 9 P.M.

SEE SEE SEE
RALEIGH AD

---PAGE 10---

Phi Kappa Phi

Front Row (Left to Right) Kevin Delancey, Dennis Esselman, Terry Edwards, Joe Herrins, Back Row (Left to Right) Steve Hutton, Jack Hooks, Hadden Clark, Dennis Williams, Tim Blades

YOU CAN GET ALONG WITHOUT IT

A Fraternity, that is.

Despite what fraternity men have told during fall Rush Week, life at U.N.C.-Wilmington can be survived without fraternal affiliation.

You Can:

Study,
Make friends,
Enjoy College
All without Greek reinforcements.
UNC-W is a school with growing traditions and one of those traditions seems to be peddling a bill of goods to entering freshmen.

Not that DU is above that sort of thing. We aren't. We'll be telling you that you simply can't get along without a house, that college isn't a college as an independent, etc., etc.

But don't be too harsh on us, fraternities do help. They give you contact with upperclassmen you'd otherwise miss, they give you a place to party and people to party with, they give you a group to belong to, they give you an easy source of friends.

Maybe none of this is for you; if not, fine. Just be sure you make up your own mind and take what all of us say with a grain of salt.

If You decide to look at fraternities, come over to the DU House.

We think we've got a lot to offer.

We think that as far as fraternities go, the DUs are one of the best. We told you that fraternities aren't all they're cracked up to be.

And we also told you they can be a help, a good thing in their place.

Make up your own mind.

If you decide that fraternities are worthwhile, we hope we'll get a chance to meet you and tell you more about Delta Upsilon.

We've tried to be fair, and minimize the BS.

But come over and see for yourself. We're looking forward to meeting you, and sincerely think you'll like the DU House.

Come on over and meet Us

We're having open house all week

DELTA UPSILON

For information and rides call 799-1268

SATURDAY

9 a. m.	Former athletes Golf tournament
3:30 p. m.	Former athletes dinner
5:30 p. m.	Alumni Basketball game
7:30 p. m.	Homecoming game
half time	Queen's ceremony
after game	Dance in gym

Holsum

THRIFT STORE

1055 S. College Road

(next to Sav-A-Lot)

BELOW RETAIL PRICES
ON

Breads, Cakes, Rolls, Donuts

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

SUPER SAVER NOVA-10

Headset On A Budget

A truly amazing buy at this price! Our lowest-priced phones pamper your ears with full-range stereo quality you just wouldn't expect at this price! Has vinyl headband, 50-15,000 Hz. With 10' coiled cord. 4-16 ohms.

• 2" Transducers For Excellent Sound!

50% OFF $4.97

Radio Shack®

A TANDY CORPORATION COMPANY

For your convenience.... WE'RE OPEN

Mon - Fri 10-9 Sat 10-6
AZALEA PLAZA MARKET PLAZA
1405 Floral Parkway Market & Kerr Sts.
791-0601 799-2693

LONG LEAF MALL

S. College Rd. & Shipyard Blvd.

799-5954

MOVIE RATES FIRM

Movie rates for the films shown in Kanan Auditorium every week will be enforced, according to Raleigh Todd, Chairman.

Season ticket holders will not be charged admission; UNC-W students with I.D.'s will be charged 50¢; general admission and students with no I.D. will be charged $1.00.

UNC-W students must have their I.D.'s with them to receive students' rates to all Fine Arts events. There will be no exceptions made.

Yes

Wachovia

Tau Kappa Epsilon would like to dedicate this column to a very special person in our fraternity life. She has been active in all functions of the fraternity, as well as being a good friend to each one of us in TKE. Linda Ann Nussman is this person, and the brothers hope that this article will represent to her a small token of thanks for the many hours she has dedicated to Tau Kappa Epsilon. Aside from the fraternity, Linda is active in a variety of activities. She is currently a Physical Education Major, and hopes to attend graduate school after graduation with an ultimate goal of teaching college level physical education or working some form of recreation. Currently she is employed by Justin's II where she works as a sales clerk.

Her hobbies include an unbelievable variety of interests such as guitar and other forms of music, writing, sports, including archery, tennis, swimming waterskiing and paddleball. Linda also loves travel, especially with friends and hopes to be able to tour the United States after completing her formal education.

This article comes far from being able to express our love for Linda. But we want to thank her for all the hard work she has put into TKE, and wish her the best of luck on all her future plans.

There is, I believe, too much jealousy between Greek social fraternities on campus. Granted competition and rivalry are good elements in moderation, but the extremes to which the Greek letter fraternities sometimes harass each other is uncalled for. Its good to feel that you're #1, but its another thing entirely to push it off onto someone else or some other organization.

Recently one member of a Greek letter society went to another frat house. He was not greeted properly at the door. Later that evening he was harassed by other members of that fraternity. He became bitter over the incident and many of his own fraternity brothers sympathize with his feelings. Resentments over such incidents coupled with traditional rivalries tend to increase the competitive spirit beyond what it should be.

All Greeks should be more courteous to brothers of other organizations. Good sportsmanship and fair play should be cultivated in interfraternity affairs, otherwise hard feelings will continue.

Nancy Pugh was selected to represent the business fraternity, Sigma Alpha Beta, and the business club as their candidate for homecoming Queen. Nancy is a business major, and is presently active in the business club and the SGA. All members of Sigma Alpha Beta and the business club earnestly solicit your support in electing Nancy Pugh as homecoming Queen.

RUSH DELTA Upsilon

Delta Upsilon will hold its formal rush next week. DU has initiated a new program called Perspective '74' which will highlight this years rush. Two delegates to our Province Convention will be traveling to Gainesville, Florida for leadership training under the Perspective '74' program. Much is expected from these men this coming year.

Delta Upsilon at UNC-W, is the newest chapter of DU in the United States. It is now two weeks old. Due to installation our rush was delayed. But next week we will be looking for good men who are willing to work with our brothers in making DU the best and strongest fraternity on UNC-W. This is no easy goal! since UNC-W is a school of growing traditions and much needs to be done.

Special events call for a Wet and Dry rush with a Pig Roast as the main event of the week. Interested students are invited to participate in all events. Call

For many people, Barbara Branch needs no introduction. The brothers of Delta Upsilon know her to be a wonderful person. Her many friends of course will support her in the homecoming election. But how can one convey the feeling she is most deserving to those who have not met her?

There are a few things that I can tell you about Barbara. She is a Soph majoring in sociology. She has served as a past varsity cheerleader for UNC-W.

She is a capable civic leader, as demonstrated when she organized a Halloween party for underprivileged children and gathered food for a needy family this past Christmas. She doesn't need to be prodded into action. She is not afraid of hard work.

Her interests include skiing, music, and reading. Barbara is herself an interesting person, who gives much of her time to other people. If sincerity and genuine feelings for people count then I know you will vote for Barbara for Homecoming Queen. Thank You.

Homecoming representative for Pi Kappa Phi this year is Kathy Jo Teer. She is 19 years old, a soph - majoring in French. A Chapel Hill native, she plans to be a buyer of European fashions, work for the government as a Foreign correspondent or in a Foreign embassy upon graduation. She is an active participant in school affairs. Because of her outgoing and vibrant personality, she became president of the Little Sisters of Pi Kappa Phi. Her outstanding qualities have enabled her to excel in such areas as music, sewing and athletic events.

CRISIS
LINE
763-3695

PUZZLEBOX CONTEST

will be removed or resign on and will be replaced by Entries accepted until Originality

& neatness counts. Big prize.

The Richardson Corporation Insurance

501 Carolina Power & Light Building

763-5445

Budweiser.

KING OF BEERS.

'When you say
Budweiser,
you've said it all!

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

BEAT the OIL CRISIS

Buy Your FIAT or SUBARU

at AMERICAN IMPORTS and get your OIL CHANGED

FREE! ! !

when WE SERVICE your FIAT or SUBARU at 6,000 12,000
18,000 and 24,000 MILES

PLACE YOUR ORDER
NOW! ! !

OFFER GOOD thru FEB. 28th

AMERICAN IMPORTS
1529 S. COLLEGE RD.
791-2137

OPEN TILL 9:00 pm.

surfer rides 'em into top five district

GIVES UP CHAMPIONSHIP

by layne lockamy

Ninth place in the East Coast Surfing Championship was quite an honor for Bob Keely, a freshman math and physics major from Ocean City, New Jersey. Bob chose, however, to give up his championship to attend UNC-W.

Bob explains: "After placing among the top ten in Hatteras on December 12, 1973, I was entitled to go to California and compete. If I had done that, I would have missed too much school this semester. I would also have to give up my scholarship," the Eastern Surfing Association. Bob placed among the top five in his district last summer.

The East Coast is divided into five districts. In each district an annual surfing contest is sponsored by the Eastern Surfing Association. Bob placed among the top five in his district last summer.

Winners from each district compete in Hatteras, North Carolina. The top ten winners from there then compete in California.

Bob is tired of the contest hassle. He explains: "I have given up competitive surfing as a life style." He remarked that it is hard to get to the beach since he does not have a car. He also gives the reason that there is not that much good surf around here. "It's o. k., though," he says.

When asked what he liked best about surfing, he replied, "It has a good feeling. It just really feels good. I have been surfing for about five years. I've won a few local awards around Ocean City also."

Though Bob answered each of the questions proposed to him quietly and slowly, his friends in the dormitory (where he resides) have nicknamed him, "Crazy Bob", because of his outward personality.

Bob chose to attend school at UNC-W because "It is near the ocean." His feelings about the school are, "It is nice here because it is small and I like the personal attention you can get. I have everything I want here except a good place to eat. The cafeteria food is really lousy."

Though Bob Keely finds the school competent academically, he does feel that a few more activities are needed. He comments, "The gym should be open on weekends. This is a suitcase school but some of us like to stick around on the weekends and play volleyball. Also we need more beer parties which by the way, have been outlawed in the dorm."

His hobbies include playing bass guitar, surfing, skate boarding and, he adds wide-eyed, "I like meeting people."

badfinger

hanover hall
8pm

by paula willis

Tonight, at 8 p.m., BADFINGER and America's Barnaby Bye, will appear in concert at Hanover Hall.

BADFINGER, nurtured by the BEATLES on the Apple label - creating their own music - their own sound - but learning and growing by their work with them, already have a history few groups can match.

Their music bears many of the same infectious qualities as that original quartet. Check the production credit on BADFINGER's, "Straight Up" album - you'll find George Harrison.

In turn, BADFINGER, has made their own contributions to the BEATLES. Check the album credits on George Harrison's "All Things Must Pass" and John Lennon's "Imagine."

BADFINGER recorded four great albums while on the Apple label - "Magic Christian," featuring the single, "Come and Get It," "No Dice," which at the time, Rolling Stone called one of the best albums of the year, featuring "No Matter What," and their third album, "Straight Up," presents the hits "Baby Blue" and "Day After Day." The latest and last release for Apple is "Ass," displaying some of the group's best work to date.

"Ass" is the end of an era for BADFINGER. Apple and the group have evolved in different directions, each to follow their own paths. BADFINGER's future is now with Warner Brothers; a national tour in February, and a new album. BADFINGER, already with a past few groups can match, is only just beginning.

BADFINGER and Barnaby Bye, in concert, at 8 p.m. in Hanover Hall - homecoming '74 - a really nice concert.

MUNCHY'S
25¢ draught beer

We Deliver Our Food
6:00-10:30 Monday-Saturday
50¢ extra

OPEN 11 'til 11
EXCEPT SUNDAY

1313 South College Road
(next to Cleopatra Gift Shop)

call 791-9980 to order

Trumpet players
(HOWARD TALLEY) ought to look at themselves before throwing stones!

paid advertisement

"The Caretaker" held over thru Feb. 18

by peter smith

Because of unusually high interest in its production of Harold Pinter's fascinating play, "The Caretaker," the University has scheduled an additional performance.

Under Anne Fitzgibbon's direction, the production will run from Friday, February 15 through Monday, February 18 in order to accommodate audiences in the Intimate S. R. O. Theater in the Kenan Hall. Curtain time is 8:15 p. m.

"The Caretaker" has been called by critic, Clifford Leach, an experience of compelled, undeviating attention for audiences. One reason for the play's hypnotic hold is its substitution of a suspenseful atmosphere for a conventional plot.

Pinter says he has written a play "about three people in a room."

The three male characters are involved in a struggle for dominance that is, by turns, grim and absurd.

Davies, a small-minded, conniving tramp played by Ed Danilowicz, is invited into a room in a derelict house by Aston, a strangely laconic and withdrawn young man played by Lewis Musser.

The tramp's presence in the room is challenged by Mick, Aston's extroverted brother, played by Neal Bell. All three characters are cloaked in a mystery which keeps them audience guessing at their intentions and motivations.

Pinter's succinct style distills unexpected humor from the most banal dialogue. And even the pauses in the dialogue crackle with surprising tension as the characters seem to be maneuvering for the upper hand.

Anne Fitzgibbon and cohorts would like to introduce you to the amazing world of Harold Pinter. Reservations for this encounter may be made by calling 791-4330, ext. 332, from 1 to 5 p. m. on weekdays.

As is the custom with University Theater productions, students will be admitted free of charge.

FEBRUARY 22-24

Eccentric Miss Brodie

by peter smith

"The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie" the internationally successful stage and screen hit, will be the Thalian Association's next production at Second and Orange Streets, on Feb. 22-24.

Jay Allen's brilliant adaptation of Muriel Spark's novel, set in Scotland during the '30's, deals with an eccentric teacher at odds with the conservative policies of the private school in which she teaches.

Vanessa Redgrave in London, Zoe Caldwell on Broadway and Maggie Smith in the film version, all won awards for their bravura performances of what has generally been regarded as one of the great roles of the modern theater.

Claudia Madeley, who has already earned two Thalian acting awards for her roles in "Come Back Little Sheba" and "Auntie Mame," will play the challenging title role for the Thallians.

"The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie" has been hailed as "the most delicately balanced of moral comedies" by NEWSWEEK magazine.

Audiences are asked to decide whether its intensely romantic heroine is an imaginative and dedicated teacher or merely a selfdeluding spinster who searches for various fulfillment through her students.

Other leading roles in the cast of 30 include Leslie Jordan, Anne Campbell, Roxanne Aram and Penny Pridemore as "the creme de la creme," Miss Brodie's special students.

Frank McNeill and John Johnson portray teachers who are susceptible to Miss Brodie's charms while Patrice Haines as the school's headmistress seeks reasons to dismiss Brodie.

Curtain time for all performances is 8:30 p. m. Reservations may be made by calling 782-4332 weekdays from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

crisis?
763-3695

AQUA WORLD inc.

Professional
Diving
Instruction
N.A.S.D.S.
Approved

- Classes Now Open
- Basic & Open Water Certification
- 4 to a Class
- Individual Instruction
- Private Pool (no pool fee)
- 3 Open Water Dives
- $50.00-total cost!

AIR - SALES - RENTALS
CHARTER - REPAIRS

791-3976

5425 WRIGHTSVILLE AV.

Taking off? Take us up.

There's a place for you on Piedmont. For a weekend of fun, a game out of town, a quick trip home, whatever - there's a Piedmont jet or propjet flight to fit your plans. With personal, thoughtful service always. Piedmont - serving over 75 cities including Chicago, New York, Washington, Norfolk, Atlanta, Memphis. Call us, or your travel agent. We've got a place for you.

Piedmont Airlines

Cinema 1&2

ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

Oleander Drive 799-3950

NOW SHOWING

Shows 2-4-6-8-10

STREISAND & REDFORD TOGETHER!

THE WAY WE WERE

COLUMBIA PICTURES INC. PACTOR PRODUCTIONS Present A RAY STARR - SYDNEY POLLACK Production PG

See it with someone you love!

Delightful in Color

2:00-4:00-6:00-8:00-10:00 and now the film... A NORMAN JEWISON Film

"JESUS CHRIST SUPERSTAR"

NOW SHOWING!

HELD OVER 2nd WEEK

A Universal Picture - Technicolor®

LONG LEAF Cinema 1&2

799-5710

LONG LEAF MALL - SHIPYARD

If you enjoyed "The Way We Were", you will LOVE! this movie! A movie for every woman who thinks she can never fall in Love again! James Cann and Marsha Mason

"CINDERELLA LIBERTY"

1:30-3:30-5:30-7:35-9:40 (R)

Picture pretty...

nine lassies vie for tiara

Roberta Allred

Roberta Gall Allred is the SEAHAWK candidate for homecoming queen. A freshman majoring in history Miss Allred enjoys photography, swimming and needlepoint, and became a cheerleader this semester. She is a native of Randelman, N. C.

Virginia Bradshaw

A freshman from Clinton, Virginia Lee Bradshaw is studying medical technology. Miss Bradshaw is being sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega.

Linda Nussman

Water skiing, writing and playing the guitar are hobbies of Linda Nussman, sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. Miss Nussman is a physical education major at the university.

Kathy Teer

Phi Kappa Phi is sponsoring Kathy Jo Teer, a native of Chapel Hill, majoring in French. Her special interests include sewing, playing the piano and baritone ukelele. She opts for a career in fashion merchandising.

a crown of a heart of a queen in all

sweet

Brenda Baker

Sponsored by the cheerleaders, Brenda Lucille Baker is a freshman majoring in physical therapy. From Wilmington, Miss Baker lists her hobbies as sailing, swimming, camping and cheering.

Barbara Branch

Sweatheart for Delta Upsilon Fraternity, Barbara Lee Branch is a sophomore majoring in sociology. Living at Wrightsville Beach, Miss Branch enjoys water sports, reading and dancing.

Nancy Pugh

A junior majoring in business, Nancy Elizabeth Pugh, is Sigma Alpha Beta's choice for homecoming queen. An avid sports fan, Miss Pugh enjoys traveling, cycling and cooking. She serves as the Student Government Secretary/Treasurer; secretary of the business club, and is a representative to the North Carolina Student Legislature to be held in Raleigh in March.

Ellen Hall

Ice skating, snow skiing, swimming and horseback riding are special interests of Barbara Ellen Hall, who is being sponsored by the Residence Hall students. A sophomore from Graham, Miss Hall is majoring in elementary education.

ms her head,
ne smile

1974 Miss Wilmington sought

The Wilmington Jaycees are in preparation for the annual Miss Wilmington Pageant, and are in need of contestants. The pageant will be held March 30 in Kenan Auditorium at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

Contestants must be between the ages of 18 and 25, single, never before married and been a resident of New Hanover County for at least six months, except college students who need not be residents. Any girl interested in competing should contact Al Scholar at 763-8663 or 791-8269, or write: Wilmington Jaycees, Miss Wilmington Pageant, P. O. Box 3171, Wilmington, N. C. 28401.

There's more to cycling than a bicycle. And your RALEIGH dealer has more of the things that make cycling safer and more fun.

LIFE CYCLES
4209 Oleander Drive
Community Shopping Center
Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

STATUS?

not another orange crate

by darlene pearsall

Cars have always served as status symbols. Now, during the energy crisis, they still do, but their roles have changed a bit from the past. The status-symbol cycle no longer concerns prices but, instead, works with different numbers. For example, the Cadillac, with 15 miles to the gallon is at the bottom of the list. Middle-sized cars rank second with approximately 25 miles to the gallon, and the Volkswagen, with about 30 miles to the gallon, has never had it so good in popularity for dependability.

For instance, have you ever seen a VW parked on the side of the road because it ran out of gas? Of course not. If you ever did run out of gas, you could always carry the car home.

With increasing emphasis on gas mileage, large cars are rapidly becoming obsolete. Just recently, I noticed a car sale in the newspaper -- "Two Cadillacs for the price of one. Buy one now, and get the second free."

On campus yesterday, I heard a station-wagon-driver desperately cry she would give anything for a few gallons of gas. (Interested guys can contact her at 763-2401.)

Thus, large cars are losing their status not only for themselves but also for their owners. One guy I know fell deeply in love with a girl simply because she owned a Volkswagen -- "Wow! You have a Volkswagen! Can I ride in it? I've only got a Monte Carlo. But this is true class. Will you take me for a ride? Huh? Will you? Will you? Huh?"

And, of course, everyone must be aware of the man who drove into a gas station, bought one gallon of gas, poured it all over his car, and set fire to it. He made the six o'clock news and was applauded by millions.

Now that's the way to use a car for instant status!

THROW THE BUM OUT!

THIS MAN IS ARMED, DANGEROUS
AND IN OFFICE.
HELP REMOVE HIM.

NATIONAL IMPEACHMENT

- ★ impress upon congress that the will of the people is to disinherit nixon!
- ★ get together busloads or a delegation of friends
- ★ come for a day or as long as you can
- ★ gather on the sidewalk in front of the white house 10AM, march up Pa. Ave. with banners to the Capitol.
- ★ spend an afternoon lobbying
- ★ evenings of music, discussion. come to Washington and

Join US! throw the bum out!

national campaign to sponsor: impeach nixon

1404 "M" Street NW
Washington, DC 20005
202-659-1118

classified

Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are urged to put their classified ads in the SEAHAWK free -- FREE, i.e. no charge. Let us give you a break.

● FOR SALE

STEREO UNIT: 8 track tape player, AM-FM radio and turn table. $200. Call 799-1586; ask for Dean.

WATERBEDS: New king size beds. $25. Also beanbags. Call Herbie at 791-9325.

1969 MOBILE HOME: 12 x 65 foot, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, central air conditioning. For appointment, call between 6 and 8 p.m. at 285-3747.

PORTABLE T.V.: Sears silvertone 19 inch screen with VHP and UHP antennas. Excellent condition physically and mechanically. $50.

STEREO COMPONENTS: Most major brands! 20 - 50% off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

Typing: Call the professional. All varieties of typing including manuscripts, resumes, term papers and dissertations. 75¢ a page for double spaced typing. Price includes grammar, punctuation and spelling corrections. Call Kathy after 4:30 p.m. at 791-5541 or 799-4385.

SKY DIVING LESSONS: To be taught this spring. Course enrollment now through March. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinois after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

SEWING & ALTERATIONS: Call 799-5531.

TEXTBOOKS FOR SALE: Psychology 105 book and workbook, both for $8. P. E. foundations book for $2. Other texts, too. Cheap. Call 763 - 0035 after 6 p.m. Ask for Beth.

CUSTOM LEATHER WORK: Call 763 - 4371 anytime.

RED IRISH SETTERS: Pups, AKC registered, wormed and shots. Five generation pedigree with the Field Dog Stud Book Certified Pedigree. Can be seen at Albert Joyner's residence, 2511 Wrightsville Avenue, or call 762 - 4742 or 443 - 3010, Rocky Mount.

NEED DIVING GEAR?: Have just obtained U. S. divers' dealership for 1974. Very low mark - up, terrific savings. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinois after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

GENETICS BOOK: Used only one day being sold for $6.50. See John Wilkins in the Pub between 9:30 - 11:30 a. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

PAPERS TYPED: 50¢ for the first five pages; 40¢ for each page thereafter. Dial 458-8768.

MUSIC BOOK: Music literature book for sale. Call 791-4483.

NURSING UNIFORMS: New! Never been worn; size 6 (28). Ask for Betsy at 799-0595.

35 mm CAMERA: Want to buy Pentax, Miranda, etc. See F. Allen in room 115, Hoggard Hall.

LADIES WETSUIT: 2 piece, 1/4" women's small to medium wetsuit in good condition. Ask for Debbie at 791-9108.

1958 TRAILER FOR SALE: Two bedroom, will take offer. Contact David Harris at the Residence Hall, room 332.

● WHEELS

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 46,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

1972 VW VAN: Rear seat opens to bed; radio; carpeting and curtains. Good condition. $2850. Call Ned Martin at 791-4330 (ext. 321) from 9-5 weekdays.

1961 MIGHTY MITE JEEP: American Motors jeep, marine surplus, aluminum body, V-4 aluminum air-cooled engine, 4 wheel drive, independent suspension, 4 speed with spare transmission. Good condition. Call 791-0587 after 5 p.m. or 686-0301 (ext. 64) between 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

1967 MG: Red convertible w/ black top. 32 - 35 miles per gallon; new interior, new tires and new battery. Good condition. Call 285 - 4773 after 5 p.m. on the weekdays.

HONDA 305 CC: Rebuilt motor; runs good. Must sell. $175. Call 763-6624.

53 "OLD FAITHFUL" CHEVY: Lively enough to get you anywhere in town. Inquire at 762-4886 in the evenings after 6 p.m., and in the mornings before 9 a.m. One car owner!

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: power steering and radio. Only $1000. Dial 799-3765.

1967 DODGE POLARA: Good condition white polara with automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes and air conditioning. Contact Wayne Barbee in the Residence Hall, room 424.

● RIDES

LEGALLY BLIND WOMAN needs ride to classes (M-W-F 8:30) spring semester. Willing to pay for service. Lives one block off of Highway 132 on Mockingbird Lane in Long Leaf Hills. Needs return ride any time after 9:30 a.m. Call Mrs. Ashley at 791-1736.

RIDE NEEDED ANY WEEK-END to Western Carolina. Will help pay for gas. See Susan in room 102 in the residence hall.

Would like a ride to Kentucky at Spring break (March 1st). Preferably Berea or Lexington. Contact Gary Coburn Dorm 411

● WORK

MALE HELP: Bellamy drug company at 3806 Oleander Drive needs packer in shipping department to work on Monday - Friday from 2 - 5:30 p.m. Ask for Mr. Sis-trunk.

MUSICIANS & VOCALISTS: Need you to play with band with a wide variety of music for clubs in the area. Contact Barry Langston, Country Club Apartments, 50/27 apt. 17.

OPENINGS FOR REPORTERS: The SEAHAWK newspaper is looking for reporters for the spring semester. Leave name and phone number or dorm number on the bulletin board on the office door, or ask someone in the office.

● PLACES FOR RENT

BEDROOM AND BATH: in Hanover Heights area with kitchen privileges. Call 791-8330.

1964 VW106,000 mi-engine rebuilt at 80,000, new front end at 100,000. Body fair-green $500. Terry Workman Terry Workman, 502 M, Lumina basement after 5:00

WOULD you like to Save GAS? Join our car pool from Jacksonville. Call: 3436704 Dan, 4550502 Ronald, 3536977 Helen

FOR SALE: surf board 6'2" Cork: Ca-roll Spacestick, 1 yr old. $70 7915013 Bill.

FOR SALE: 8' solid pine bar w/ 3 stools $75 over 25 yrs old. 7916113 1968 Rambler - full power asking $750, but make an offer! 7915113

FM-AM receiver & turntable 8 track 2-4 channel switch 20rig, & 2 comm. speakers. $100 rm. 322

AM-FM receiver & turntable 4 speakers 2-4 channel switch $220 new sell $130 perfect condition rm. 317

birth defects are forever. unless you help.

THIS SPACE CONTRIBUTED BY THE PUBLISHER

Homecoming Dance

(Come to the hop!)

★ starring:

"The Dynamic Upsetters"

* in the back gym
* following the game

* SATURDAY NIGHT
* FEBRUARY 16 *

check shoes at door
no alcohol

BRAVES WEAR FEATHERS

by robert maxey

The Braves of Pembroke left their wigwams Monday night to go on the warpath against the UNC-W Seahawks. The war ended with a blaze of excitement and all would have been complete had not the Seahawks come up on the short end 71-70.

The Seahawks took an early lead in the game getting as far ahead as 8, 14-6. With 0:37 remaining in the first half the Braves grabbed a one point lead, 23-22. Sam Robinson pulled his fourth foul with 2:43 remaining and the Hawks trailing by six, 26-32, the largest advantage the Braves held in the first half. The Seahawks retired to the dressing room trailing the Braves 36-32.

The second half found the Seahawks with strengthen wings as they struggled to combat the Braves attack. A basket by Cherry tied the game 40 all. AN all out attack by the Braves found them in an eleven point lead with only 9:31 remaining in the game, 59-48.

With 6:19 remaining Sam Robinson and Pembroke player became involved in a scuffle after a jump ball. Both teams got into the action and a full out rage and fight broke out which delayed the action of the game for five minutes. The score was 59-51 with Pembroke still in the lead. The Pembroke player involved, Barry O'Brien, was tossed out of the game by the officials and the Seahawks were awarded two free throws. Rikk Alessi took the two foul shots and connected on the first and missed the second of the two. A quick basket by Cherry cut the lead to six, 59-53.

The Seahawks fought extra hard and came within 2, 60-58, but the Braves returned with a basket. Every time the Seahawks shot two the Braves shot two. With 32 sec. Cherry scored to cut the Braves advantage to 3, 71-68. And a basket by Jackson with 20 seconds remaining left the SEAHAWKS trailing by only one, 71-70. The Seahawks got their last chance at victory when Pembroke star Al McRae was called on a traveling violation with only eight seconds left. The last gleam of victory for the Hawks diminished only with the final buzzer when a pass from Dobson to Prince and a shot which fell short of the goal by Prince ended the game and brought upon the Hawks their second district and second home loss of the season.

The Seahawks were lead by a 26 point performance by Cherry. Willie Jackson had 18 and little Rikk Alessi was fired up for 13.

Disappointed Coach Gibson had very little to say except that he knew the team gave it everything they had and a little more!

VARSITY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Feb. 16	Gulford	home
Feb. 18	Campbell	away
Feb. 21	Elon	away
Feb. 23	Pfeiffer	away
Feb. 25	Francis Marion	home

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.

Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings — as an Air Force pilot or navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

SGT. JERRY T. LEWIS
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N. C.
Phone: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

HAWKS CLAIM CROWN

by robert maxey

The UNC-W Seahawks posted a big 95-76 victory over the Methodist Monarchs in an away game last Mon. night. The Hawks went ahead early, 16-9 the largest lead of the first half, but the Monarchs came back strong to tie the game with only 7:35 left in the first half, 29 all. A basket by Cherry put the Seahawks back in control. The Seahawks gained a 4 point lead before it was cut to one, 41-40, with 2:10 remaining. When the two teams retired to the dressing room at half-time the Monarchs enjoyed their first and only lead of the game as the Seahawks trailed by one, 44-43.

When second half play resumed the Seahawks once again bounced out ahead, never again surrendering the lead. The Hawks held a small five point lead, threaten when the Monarchs trailed by one with 12:00 remaining in the game, 61-60.

In the last ten minutes the Seahawks got them selves together and forced alot of turnovers, Mike Cherry stole the ball six times. With less than a minute on the clock the Seahawks got their largest lead of the evening 21, 95-74. A final basket by Methodist brought the final score to 95-76 and a sixth district win for the Seahawks. The Monarchs were handed their third district loss.

Five Hawks finished in double figures. Mike Cherry, the leading scorer in NAIA District 29, took top scoring honors with 22. Hot shooting Dave Prince and sharp shooting Willie Jackson had 20 each. Ernie Lynn had 13 and Sam Robinson rounded out the double figures with 10.

Coach Gibson pleased with the game commented, "We didn't play good defense in the first half nor in the first ten minutes of the second half however, the shooting was very good. I want them to lean more on defense! Mike Cherry had his usual good game. Sam Robinson gave us a big lift as well as David Prince."

photo by roberta allred

SEAHAWK PLAYER, WILLIE JACKSON, shoots two on a quick break while two Monarch players look on with bewilderment. UNC-W defeated Methodist at Methodist, 95-76.

it's the
real thing

Wilmington Coca-Cola Bottling Works
Incorporated
Wilmington, N. C. 28401

go
seahawks

LAST WEEK'S RESULTS (Feb. 4-3)

CAMELS CRUSHED

The Seahawks of UNC-W raised their record to 7-1 in district play while tying the Virginia State Trojans for first place by defeating the Camels of Campbell College by a score of 86-69 in a home game.

After the game was only a few minutes old it was evident that the Seahawks would walk away with an easy victory. With only six minutes gone in the game the Seahawks had a 12 point advantage, 21-9, and fresh young troops replaced the regular starters for the Seahawks.

The Camels trailed by as much as 19 points, 39-20, but the half ended with lead cut to 12, 46-34.

The second half was just as bad for the visiting Camels.

Unable to recover from such a deficit, they saw the power that the Seahawks possessed to make them the number one team. The Seahawks greatest lead was 27, 84-57. A last minute desperate attempt by Campbell earned them 12 additional points to the Seahawks 2 points to finish the game, 86-69.

Willie Jackson led the Hawks in scoring with 28 points followed by Cherry's 21 and Prince's 12.

ACC 75, High Point 74 (overtime)
ACC 83, Pfeiffer 80
Campbell 83, Lenoir Rhyne 74
UNC-W 85, Campbell 69
Virginia Wesleyan 78, Christopher Newport 87
Christopher Newport 87, NC Wesleyan 67
Shaw 72, Elizabeth City State 67
Virginia Union 79, Elizabeth City State 77
St. Paul's 85, Elizabeth City State 83
St. Augustine's 79, Elizabeth City State 77
Norfolk State 96, Hampton 87
Randolph-Macon 89, Hampton 80
Washington & Lee 97, Lynchburg 67
Lynchburg 82, St. Andrews 72
UNC-W 95, Methodist 76
Methodist 81, St. Andrews 72
Methodist 96, Virginia Wesleyan 76
UNC - Greensboro 86, NC Wesleyan 82 (overtime)
Norfolk State 91, St. Augustine's 76
Norfolk State 61, Winston-Salem State 60
Fayetteville State 65, Pembroke 54
Pembroke 88, UNC-Ashville 67
Livingstone 83, Shaw 78
Virginia Wesleyan 86, St. Andrews 72
Virginia State 95 NC Central 93 (overtime)
Virginia Union 122, Virginia State 81

DISTRICT 29 STANDINGS UP TO February 2

SCHOOL	DISTRICT		ALL GAMES
	W	L	W	L
UNC-Wilmington	7	1	11	5
Virginia State	7	2	16	4
Lynchburg	6	2	12	5
Methodist	8	3	11	4
Norfolk State	5	2	12	6
ACC	5	2	9	12
Pembroke	4	2	14	5
Christopher Newport	6	4	15	6
Virginia Wesleyan	5	4	13	6
Elizabeth City State	3	5	7	13
Shaw	3	5	6	13
Hampton Institute	3	9	9	12
Campbell	1	4	9	12
St. Andrews	1	9	5	14
N.C. Wesleyan	0	12	2	19

SHEILA BOLES

Boles Leads Doves

Sheila Boles is a Fayetteville native who is currently the lead scorer of the UNC-W Seadoves basketball team.

Sheila played basketball for Fayetteville's Seventy-First High School, where she was an All-Pioneer Conference performer three of her four years.

So far this season, she

LITTLE RIKK PLAYS BIG

by wayne steele

photo by roberta allred

Just to look at Rikk Alessi, you would not think he is a college basketball player. To watch him play is another thing.

Standing 5ft. 8in., Rikk is the smallest player on the court, yet he plays as BIG as anyone. At the point-position, he directs the Seahawks offense.

Rikk, a sophomore, is a native of Steubenville, Ohio. He is majoring in business management and wants to go to law school after he graduates.

He really enjoys going to school here. "I love the beach and I usually keep myself busy by being with people and just having a good time."

"I really hope we make the playoffs. All of the players feel we are the BEST team in the district and we know we can win," he says.

Coach Gibson thinks highly of Rikk. "He leads the team in assists and is an exceptional floor leader. What he lacks in height he makes up with quickness and passing."

says Gibson. Alessi is also on the Seahawk baseball team. In high school, he played three sports lettering four years in basketball and baseball, and three years in football.

Rikk has become a great asset to the Seahawk basketball team. His determination has helped lead UNC-W to its best season ever!!

Drink and be merry What the morrow brings
No mortal knoweth Wherefore toil or run?
Spend while they mayest eat, for on present things
Thy hopes and wishes life and death are one
One moment grasp life's goods to thee they fall
Dead thou hast nothing and another all

— Pederas (Goldwyn Smith Jr.)

"Our Beverage Prices Are Beautiful"

WE NOW CARRY THE COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine-Art, Inc. HOME WINE MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE and HOPS SHOP

Terry and Marty Pridgen 3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-8675

don't hang ten on my wave!

"SEA" it for yourself

"A Sea for Yourself," is a full length color film showing the best surfers in the world riding the best waves. The film features such surfing greats as Barry Kanaiakupuni, Gerry Lopey, Rory Russell, Jeff Hakman and UNC-W's own Doug Meekins.

The film was shot in Hawaii, California, Peru, Australia and North Carolina. North Carolina is well represented with shots from Atlantic Beach and Cape Hatteras.

Music for the film is an original score from nine professional groups from California. Two double albums featuring the soundtrack will be given away as door prizes at the showing.

"A Sea for Yourself" took three years to film and produce, providing an enjoyable evening of entertainment for all. It is a film for those who get high on the ocean, good photography and the art of surfing; it'll leave you feelin' good.

The film is scheduled to run Friday evening, February 28 at 8 p.m. Admission is $2.00 at the door. The film will be shown in King Auditorium.

When it is extremely late at night and your editor is tired, but still hanging in there and sweating and pasting it out, and setting copy... what it all boils down to is this... it's late, I couldn't find a thing to fill in this space, so that's the breaks and this is what is commonly referred to as a filler.

the gadfly

St. Christopher cringes

Shift to low gear!

by david crews

If you drove to school this morning you have my sympathies; I, too, was part of the mechanical horde that swept down upon the parking lot prepared to do battle with fellow students and campus police for that halloved piece of real estate, the parking space.

What is it that turns a mild-mannered scholastic into a profanely swearing, slaving, blood thirsty pilot of a small sports car in a mere twenty minutes? Well, the tale I am about to relate is not quite a pleasant one but then, Alfred Hitchcock would be hard pressed for a more bone-chilling plot than that of the early morning drive to class.

In the early morning you truck out to your faithful chariot lugging slippery books weighing about as much as a small anvil. The road in front of your apartment is deserted. You start your car and attempt to get on the highway. I emphasize "attempt" because suddenly cars emerge from side roads, driveways and seemingly out of the bushes. Eight-thirty creeps closer on your Mickey Mouse. Finally, a small opening, and taking your life into your hands, you roar out onto the street with it. Your voyage has begun.

An old lady on her way to an early appointment with her optometrist pulls her Cadillac out in front of you. Throwing on the binders you come to a screeching halt behind her and the twenty other cars lined up before a red light. You feel a small tightening in the pit of your stomach.

You know that being caught behind one stoplight will mean getting caught by every stoplight on the route to school. Wilmington traffic engineering has cleverly arranged this so motorists will become discouraged, pull over beside a parking meter and insert coins. From there the motorist will either proceed to a pub (if he can find one) or to a druggist for tranquilizers. Of course, the parking meter will either fail to register any time, so our friend will get a parking ticket (consequently causing him to pay an additional $1.00 for parking beside the meter), or he will find an open pub and forget cars, stoplights and parking meters.

When the stoplight finally turns green each car pulls up to it, stops for a moment and then proceeds. No one seems to know the reason for this curious ritual but it will cost you even more time as you foolishly attempt to get to the next light before it turns red.

Your moment comes, without stopping, you roar through the green light getting crazy stares from onlookers. By Jove, it looks like you might make it; the next light is still green. A brief flash of yellow -- then glaring red. Oh well, you've gone almost five thousand miles without a brake job.

Getting going again, you pass a '63 Ford painted black with a doghouse or something on the hood and the rear end jacked-up high enough to see all the parts underneath. Immediately after passing you hear a rambling from behind, and with the sound of a 747 taking off, the Ford passes, barely missing your front bumper as it cuts back in front of you. It may be a hallucination caused by the gas fumes but you think you see the St. Christopher on your key chain cringe.

Hemmed in on all sides by secretaries, clerks and obvious maniacs who are perhaps even later than you are yourself, you sweep down College Road -- through the stoplight finally, and enter the last stage of the trip, finding a parking spot.

Hunting through the lines of parked cars you think you see an empty space. (Ah, could it be?) Just as you start to turn into it you see a Honda Civic parked in one corner of the space. What you are thinking is not publishable.

So, you park on the grass and truck off to class. In twenty minutes and four miles, that thin veneer of civilization has been sloughed off and it is now an animal that snarls its way to class.

Well, take comfort, though small it may be, that there are others worse off than the car commuter. After all, at least when it rains you get wet to your car or from your car to class. And if things really get bad you can put Frank Zappa on the tape deck, roll the windows down and freak out, to say nothing of down out, most of the other traffic.

The cyclist, however, has no protection except quick reflexes and wit to watch out for himself. Well, more on that next week.

Fourteen labs included

by eugene mckinney

The new marine and earth sciences building slated for completion this May will likely prove to be one of the most interesting buildings on campus.

THREE-STORY BUILDING TO BE LARGEST

At a cost of $1,570,000, the three-story building will be the largest at the unusual manner. Semi-permanent partitions will be used for all interior walls with the exception of stairwells, the elevator shaft and other facilities of a permanent nature. These "real wall-like" partitions will allow almost overnight change in the size of any classroom, lab or office if the need arises, while causing a minimum of disturbance to faculty and students.

SIX FACULTY LABS

The 12 marine scientists on the faculty and those now active in research are thrilled to hear of the six large faculty research labs containing all new equipment.

14 TEACHING LABS

No doubt many will join the ranks of the already 200 marine biology majors after being impressed by the planned layout of 14 teaching labs, two seminar rooms, four large lecture rooms, modern herbarium and range for plants and animals, large salt water display aquarium in the lobby, and general scientific environment that the new building promises to have.

RECOGNITION

Those of the faculty and staff whose thoughts have gone into this project deserve recognition for what should prove to be a tremendous asset for all present and future marine biology and earth science majors.

Lost and Found

Lost and Found items can best be located by contacting Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, in her office in the Pub.

Articles in the office include a pair of sunglasses, a watch, numerous sets of car keys, notebooks and textbooks, specifically "The Heart of Hebrew History." Someone also lost a pipe.

FIGHT THEM ALL...

Heart Attack
Stroke
High Blood Pressure
Rheumatic Fever

GIVE...SO MORE HEART FUND WILL LIVE

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry

Handmade Spreads

Belts

Bags

Embroidered Dresses

Leatherwork

Headgear

Candles

Mexican Handicraft

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

ATLANTIS seeks entries

ATLANTIS, the liberal arts magazine of the university, is now accepting manuscripts for publications in the spring issue. Deadline for submissions is set for March 22.

Students interested in submitting fiction, poetry or essays can do so at either the ATLANTIS office located in the Pub (ATLANTIS shares an office with the SEAHAWK), or in the English Department office upstairs in Kemah Hall.

The editors would prefer typed manuscripts but will accept any legible contribution. Manuscripts not used in the publication will be returned to the English Department Office and can be picked up after the first of April.

Entries in last semester's University Poetry contest:

not currently being considered for publication can also be claimed in the English Department Office.

The editors of the ATLANTIS also stated they would welcome suggestions, constructive criticism or help. Office hours are on Tuesdays from 10 a. m. to 2:30 p. m., and Thursdays from 9 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.

This issue of the magazine is scheduled to be distributed on campus the last week of April.

Students are urged to submit their material early so that the staff will be able to give an appropriate amount of time to the evaluation and selection of material for the ATLANTIS.

FRI DAY

3:30 p. m. Parade
9 a. m. - 4 p. m. Car Bash
6:30 p. m. - 7:30 p. m. Bonfire
7 p. m. until Alumni dinner/dance
8 p. m. BADFINGER
8:15 p. m. "The Caretaker"

nixon goes down drain

WATERGATE: good name for sewer system?

by harry stallings

Look out Walter Cronkite and Ann Landers, your careers are in jeopardy. For news, art, advice, humor, and other "American Graffiti," UNC-W's male restrooms have few rivals.

The words of wisdom recorded on our hallowed bathroom walls may well serve to inform future students what campus life is really like.

Discover what the fraternities are in to and what they really do in their spare time. Learn a new definition of brotherhood.

Observe modern art and find out where you can have a good time. One male student loves a certain varsity basketball player and thinks he's the greatest.

In the national news, Watergate is fast becoming a good name for a sewer system, while Nixon's popularity is going down the drain.

In ancient Rome and Pompeii, the casual scribbles found on walls help to determine life style, language, dialect, dates, and historical events of these early civilizations.

Today in the United States

however, not many archaeologists would want to study the society referred to by obscene drawings, dirty poems, and slanderous remarks.

Look to television and newspapers for news and express your opinions through your congressmen, not your bathrooms. Americans unite and keep that stuff off the wall.

HOMECOMING

"I love you for what you are,
but I love you yet more for what you are going to be..."
—Carl Sandburg

SONATA
200-$1000
WED. RING
$75.00

APOLLO
$350-$1000
WED. RING
$150

Love Is
A Giving
Thing

When you give a perfect Keepsake, backed by our written guarantee, you can be sure there is no finer diamond ring. Every Keepsake is permanently registered and protected against loss.

Keepsake

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

28 N Front St • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 762-0786
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
AT HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

Chosen but once and cherished forever, your engagement and wedding rings will reflect your love in their brilliance and beauty. Happily you can choose Keepsake with complete confidence because the guarantee assures perfect clarity, precise cut and fine, white color. There is no finer diamond ring.

Keepsake

T.M. Reg. A.H. Pond Co.

HOW TO PLAN YOUR ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING

Send new 20 pg. booklet, "Planning Your Engagement and Wedding" plus full color folder and 44 pg. Bride's Book gift offer all for only 25¢. 5-74

Name (Please Print)

Address

City

State Zip

KEEPSAKE DIAMOND RINGS, BOX 90, SYRACUSE, N.Y. 13201

THE CAGE

death's representative

FEBRUARY 21

8 p.m.

HANOVER HALL

"The Cage," an explosive survival drama written inside San Quentin by Rick Cluchey who researched it during 12 years of imprisonment will be performed at 8 p.m. in Hanover Hall on Thursday, February 21. Tickets, only $1.00, can be purchased from Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, or from any sociology club member.

The compelling 80 minute one-act play is performed by ex-convicts, both on parole and off, and sets four characters in motion around a toilet bowl, acting out liturgical and legal fantasies with often hilarious but ultimately lethal effect.

Although it describes the horror and brutality of prison life, the play is not primarily a call for prison reform or a protest against the injustices of the American judicial system. Instead, it is an intricate and profound statement about the mythic structures of society, which we create and to which we give obeisance, in order to hide from the ugly truths about ourselves. Of the sick and desperate need for revolutionary change, "The Cage" is clear and poignant testimony.

Author Cluchey and Ken Whelan, his partner in the Barbwire Theater that they formed after being released and following nine years of active participation in the San Quentin Drama Workshop, consider the play a work in progress. It has changed during three national tours with the political climate of the states, incorporating new references to such major national instances as Attica and the Marin County Courthouse shootout that began to bring Angela Davis into national prominence.

Whelan, who has acted

the 'Jesus freak' role of Hatchett in dominating the four-walled cage, explains its purpose as 'trying to show the consequences of caging people who have problems, to show how this aggravates and magnifies the problems. There are no heroes.'

In plot and action, "The Cage" is as earthy as anything on or off Broadway. In this taut, relevant drama that touches on moral, religious and social issues, where the thin line between fantasy and reality is reminiscent of the absurdist plays of Genet. Pinter and Beckett, Hecchett shouts, "This is not a cell. Cells represent life. Cages represent death! Understood?"

Allegorically reflecting society as a whole, "The Cage" makes an intellectual, dynamic and abstract statement of which the prison is only a microcosm.

"The Cage" is the first drama to be written and performed by the new professionals: men who know what they're talking about because they've been there and they've lived it.

WE'VE HAD A FACELIFT!

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

STUDENT SERVICES BLDG.

8 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

seahawk

university of north carolina at wilmington

February 22, 1974

twelve pages

PI KAPPA PHI walked or rather, rode, away with First Place in the Homecoming Parade held Friday, February 15, following a route from the gym to Kenan Auditorium and back again. The fraternity sponsored a "Band Wagon" of bawdy musicians.

Jon Baker steals the show as leads the Pi Kappa Phi "band wagon" in the 1974 Homecoming Parade held Friday afternoon.

page photos by neal huntley

Virginia Bradshaw

Crowned at half time amidst modest smiles and innocent tears, Miss Virginia Bradshaw, Alpha Phi Omega's candidate, will reign as the 1974 Homecoming Queen.

*a crown of beauty adorns her head,
a heart of gold, sunshine smile
a queen to reign
in all our hearts*

First runner-up for the coveted Homecoming Queen title was secretary/treasurer of the Student Government Association, Nancy Pugh.

Second runner-up for Homecoming Queen, Ellen Hall, sponsored by the Residence Hall Student Government Association, smiles in the cool weather while Zak Sessions proudly chaperones her down the parade route.

"DON'T LAUGH, WE'RE SAVING GAS" reads the sign held by the second place winners in the Homecoming Parade. The SEAHAWK newspaper tied for second place with, Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, who used a theme of "Kill the Quakers." In the back is the Seahawk candidate for Homecoming Queen, Roberta Allred.

THE CAGE

death's representative

FEBRUARY 21

8 p.m.

HANOVER HALL

"The Cage," an explosive survival drama written inside San Quentin by Rick Cluchey who researched it during 12 years of imprisonment will be performed at 8 p.m. in Hanover Hall on Thursday, February 21. Tickets, only $1.00, can be purchased from Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, or from any sociology club member.

The compelling 80 minute one-act play is performed by ex-convicts, both on parole and off, and sets four characters in motion around a toilet bowl, acting out liturgical

and legal fantasies with often hilarious but ultimately lethal effect.

Although it describes the horror and brutality of prison life, the play is not primarily a call for prison reform or a protest against the injustices of the American judicial system. Instead, it is an intricate and profound statement about the mythic structures of society, which we create and to which we give obeisance, in order to hide from the ugly truths about ourselves. Of the sick and desperate need for revolutionary change, "The Cage" is clear and poignant testimony.

Author Cluchey and Ken Whelan, his partner in the Barbwire Theater that they formed after being released and following nine years of active participation in the San Quentin Drama Workshop, consider the play a work in progress. It has changed during three national tours with the political climate of the states, incorporating new references to such major national instances as Attica and the Marin County Courthouse shootout that began to bring Angela Davis into national prominence.

Whelan, who has acted

the 'Jesus freak' role of Hatchett in dominating the four-walled cage, explains its purpose as "trying to show the consequences of caging people who have problems, to show how this aggravates and magnifies the problems. There are no heroes."

In plot and action, "The Cage" is as earthy as anything on or off Broadway. In this taut, relevant drama that touches on moral, religious and social issues, where the thin line between fantasy and reality is reminiscent of the absurdist plays of Genet.

Pinter and Beckett. Hatchett

shouts, "This is not a cell. Cells represent life. Cages represent death! Understood?"

Allegorically reflecting society as a whole, "The Cage" makes an intellectual, dynamic and abstract statement of which the prison is only a microcosm.

"The Cage" is the first drama to be written and performed by the new professionals: men who know what they're talking about because they've been there and they've lived it.

WE'VE HAD A FACELIFT!

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

STUDENT SERVICES BLDG.

8a.m. - 3:30p.m.

seahawk

university of north carolina at wilmington

February 22, 1974

twelve pages

PI KAPPA PHI walked or rather, rode, away with First Place in the Homecoming Parade held Friday, February 15 following a route from the gym to Kenan Auditorium and back again. The fraternity sponsored a "Band Wagon" of bawdy musicians.

Jon Baker steals the show as leads the Pi Kappa Phi "band wagon" in the 1974 Homecoming Parade held Friday afternoon.

page photos by neal huntley

Virginia Bradshaw

Crowned at half time amidst modest smiles and innocent tears, Miss Virginia Bradshaw, Alpha Phi Omega's candidate, will reign as the 1974 Homecoming Queen.

*a crown of beauty adorns her head,
a heart of gold, sunshine smile
a queen to reign
in all our hearts*

First runner-up for the coveted Homecoming Queen title was secretary/treasurer of the Student Government Association, Nancy Pugh.

Second runner-up for Homecoming Queen, Ellen Hall, sponsored by the Residence Hall Student Government Association, smiles in the cool weather while Zak Sessions proudly chaperones her down the parade route.

"DON'T LAUGH, WE'RE SAVING GAS" reads the sign held by the second place winners in the Homecoming Parade. The SEAHAWK newspaper, tied for second place with Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, who use a theme of "Kill the Quakers." In the back is the Seahawk candidate for Homecoming Queen, Roberta Allred.

To the Editor:

week sure blew that theory to hell!

I had thought the do-do bird was extinct... Peter Venable's letter last

Karen Crews

the gadfly

Criticism of books, magazines said in poor taste

O. K. So I lied. I said that the bicyclists' plight would be looked into this week at the risk of getting a black eye for the effort from slightly deranged motorist. Well, for another week those unknown heroes on two wheels will have to remain unknown. I have a gripe which can't be kept for another week.

Every week I track down a copy of the SEAHAWK in order to find out what's happening on campus and to read my own column. It isn't pure unvarnished vanity that prompts me to do so. You see, there is a difference in seeing your words scribbled out on a pad and seeing them in a real newspaper. Sometimes, however, there is a more basic difference when the poor copyist cannot decipher what the sanskrit scribble means and bravely plunges on inserting whatever it looks like that thing might have been. So far a masterful job has been done, and I probably haven't blinded more than two or three people. (Not counting a long line of teachers.)

Apparently Mr. Venerable's letter last week did not enjoy an equal measure of success in transfer from script to print. Perhaps the copyist had done my column first and was suffering from a slight disorientation. There could be no other explanation, except one, for such a peculiar disregard for grammar and punctuation. However, the content was as disturbing as the form.

The Bookstore has a somewhat different selection from Eckerd's (I think you probably know by now that Eckerd's is a drugstore and Parker's is a foodstore). Neither of these stores have a room filled with a collection of books that contain knowledge and facts that cover such an amount of human experience as to be almost incomprehensible to anyone who stops and thinks about it. The Bookstore is to be praised for providing the space for such a diverse representation of interests.

Mr. Venerable seems to take particular exception to Sick, Good-Housekeeping and Playboy-type magazines. Magazines of political and social satire such as Mad, Cracked and National Lampoon have always been a part of a thinking university atmosphere. Playboy publishes articles of the highest caliber by men and women who are experts in their fields. The Playboy Foundation and the Playboy Forum have had a definite effect on the philosophy of today toward social and political changes. When the day comes that such a publication is banned from bookstores because it also contains nudes and risque jokes, then the intellectual community had better prepare for hard days.

My last comment is that if you find the paperbacks and magazines in the UNC-W Bookstore a joke, I find such poor criticism of these publications a joke also and one in poor taste.

Homecoming beauties:

PICK UP PHOTOS

The girls on the homecoming court who would like to have the pictures that ran in the newspaper are asked to come by the office located in the Pub to claim them before Wednesday, February 27.

"We decided on a motto, Mr. Simon"

STUDENTS' SUGGESTIONS

Dan Hicks & the Hot Licks, POCO, Rare Earth, J. Geils Band

For those of you who only pick up the Seahawk newspaper every other issue or every once in a while or when a friend hands you a copy, last week in a letter to editor, three residents of Xanadu North, Jay Tilley, Greg Corbett and Ray Sturza wrote asking that the students at the university have more of a voice in who comes to UNC-W as far as concerts go.

A two-column by three inch form was published giving the students the opportunity to speak up, and surprisingly enough, the students did bark... the staff is swimming through a stack of these forms, filtering the results.

Students requested such groups and vocalists as Neil Young, the Goose Creek Symphony, Z Z Top, Joe Walsh, Styx, Traffic, the Doobie Brothers, Steely Dan, Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, Anthrodite's Child, Marshall Tucker, Frampton's Camel, Hot Tuna, Eric Anderson, Atlanta Rhythm Section, Wishbone Ash, Linda Ronstadt, Merl Haggard, Free, Tranquility, MacKendree Spring, Queen, Mott the Hople, Poco, Steve Miller Band, Dan Hicks and the Hot Licks, Dr. John, J. Geils Band, DeFranco, the American Showmen, Mother Earth and George Carlin.

Wes Knappe, chairman of the concert committee, looked over the list of groups and commented that "greats" such as Judy Collins, John Denver, Rare Earth, Ann Murphy, Santana, David Cassidy, the Jackson Five, the Osmond Bros., and Carol King were out of the question.

Obviously, the student body does not realize that such people cost anywhere from $15,000 - $25,000 and more for a night's stand, plus many ask for a certain percentage of the money taken in from tickets or what is referred to as "the gate."

The Seahawk staff does not think the concert committee has done such a terrible job of getting artists here, but rather a damn good job considering we have had Billy Preston, Yes, Tranquility and a score of others at campus.

Oh, yes... a couple of people even suggested Badfinger...

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

editor: beth hicks
associate editors: barry asbury
J. K. Muhleman
advertising director: barry asbury
business manager: alan murphy
sports editor: robert maxey
news editor: eugene mckinney

photographic staff: roberta alred
nauma dorier
neal huntley
zack sessions
supportive staff: linda houghton
layne lockamy
anne nesbit
darlene pearall

DERMID AROUSES INTEREST

by ellis hankins

Jack Dermid is the type of person who can arouse a listener's interest in his subject by parcelling out his vast store of knowledge one piece at a time.

His subject on Tuesday, February 26, will be on wood ducks, when he presents a lecture at 8 p. m. in King Hall of the Education/Psychology Building.

The lecture, "Adventures with Wood Ducks," will be illustrated with color slides from Dr. Dermid's personal collection and a seven-minute movie he has filmed entitled "Wild-life Babies." There is no admission charge.

Having collaborated with Eugene Hester in writing "The World of the Wood photography more challenging

Duck," published in 1973, Dermid is well-versed in his subject.

Wood ducks are birds of the woods and river bottom lands. The elegant plumage of the male makes him one of the most beautiful birds of North America, in Dermid's opinion.

A turn of the century shortage of numbers brought on mainly by market hunting was rectified by proper management and protection. The bird is now plentiful again.

Dermid is an accomplished and widely recognized photographer of wildlife. Before joining the UNC-W faculty in the biology department, he was the editor of "Wildlife in North Carolina," the monthly publication of the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission.

Hunting, fishing and camping have always appealed to him, he says, and in high school he picked up photography as a hobby. This eventually led him into wildlife photography.

"I soon found that photography and observation were more challenging than hunting," Dermid said.

After obtaining a B. S. degree in biology from North Carolina State University in Raleigh, and a Master's Degree in Game Management from Oregon State University, he continued with the photography and has provided illustrations for a number of wildlife books.

Jack Dermid is currently teaming with others on a book about reptiles and amphibians of North Carolina and Virginia, for which he will provide the photographs. He is also contributing a chapter to a book of photographs entitled, "The Wild Places." The subject of the book is wildlife in the Carolina low country.

LECTURE ON "WOOD DUCKS" TUESDAY, FEB. 26

8 P. M.

KING HALL

Breach of contract

CONCERT COMMITTEE SEEKS SUIT AGAINST BADFINGER

The concert committee at the university is taking legal action against Badfinger for "breach of contract" for the cancellation of a concert scheduled for February 15, according to committee chairman, Wes Knappe.

"We were not informed of the cancellation until 5:30 p. m. Thursday evening (Feb. 14) on the night before the concert. It was totally irresponsible on their part," Wes Knappe asserts. "We had been in day to day touch with the group's management to make sure the date was solid. I simply could not believe it when they cancelled. The notice was so short we could not even begin to find another act as a replacement. A month's work down the drain, and the concert all but sold out. Badfinger is not going to get away with it this time," Knappe said.

Todd Rundgren will appear as scheduled on March 6 at Brodgen Hall. The concert will take place over the university's spring break, but committee chairman Knappe explains: "We tried to schedule the concert for the end of March, but this date was virtually the only date we could get. Eighty per cent of the students on campus are from New Hanover County, so the vast majority will be in Wilmington for the concert. I personally know a great number of people who will come back early just for the concert. I know that some people are unhappy about the date, but this is the only chance we will get to have Todd Rundgren in Wilmington. Rundgren's popularity was the motivating factor.

The concert promises to be one of the best and certainly the most unique concert ever in Wilmington. Rundgren is bringing his own lights, sound system and stage, the stage being specially built for the tour.

It is an artistic, elaborate, electronic affair something on the scale that Alice Cooper used last year.

Wes Knappe said that 3-5 electricians were going to be hired just to get the thing set up. The contract required that the roadies be allowed at least seven hours set-up time before the show. To top everything off, Todd Rundgren is scheduled for a two-hour show.

The concert will be the likes that no one has ever seen before. Knappe claims, and for a modest 500 increase over student tickets for Badfinger, the show promises to be as much of a spectacle as a concert.

Peter Sellers
as Albert T. Hopnagel, Hospital Administrator, in
"Where Does It Hurt?"
Only where you laugh.
R IN EASTMANCOLOR - FROM C CINEPAMA RELEASING
February 26 8 p. m.
Kenan Auditorium

RALEIGH

Spring — things to do:
Cut the grass
Trim the hedge
Buy a diamond

GURR Jewelers
Wilmington's Fine Jeweler and Silversmith
212 North Front Street

EARLY EATERS SPECIAL

FIRST 45 MINUTES
OF EACH MEAL

A COMPLETE MEAL

ONE MEAT—choice of chicken, chopped steak
crab pattie, or fish

SALAD
ONE VEGETABLE
BEVERAGE OR BREAD

$1.35

LUNCH 11:00 - 2:15

DINNER 4:45 - 8:00

Balentines
BUFFET
Long Leaf Mall
SERVING CREATIVE FOODS

birth defects are forever unless you help.

March of Dimes

TODD RUNDGREN: music evokes emotions

by jon greene

Todd Rundgren is among the most talented and versatile people in popular music today. An excellent musician on a variety of instruments including guitar, saxophone, organ, piano and various synthesizers, Rundgren is also an accomplished composer and vocalist, and he is, among the rarest of things -- a rock 'n roll humorist -- his humor ranging from musical slapstick to the most complex musical comedy.

Rundgren began his musical career in neighborhood bands in his native Philadelphia, and gradually he put together "Naz," a group, who with a combination of instrumental flash, beautiful harmonies and melodically rocking songs, looked and sounded English. They produced three excellent albums which did not get the success they deserved though all were critically acclaimed. Naz was a few years ahead of its time, and eventually split up by joining the Buffalo Springfield a giant that should've been but wasn't.

After the much lamented demise of Naz, Rundgren produced and engineered for several bands until the release of his first solo album, "Runt." He got his first title hit with "We Gotta Get You a Woman." The album abounded with good songs performed well and displaying his natural and sometime sardonic sense of humor. Released about a year later, his second album, "Runt: Ballad of Todd Rundgren," a definite improvement over the previous one and indicative of the direction he would follow with "Something, Anything."

Considered by many critics as one of the best rock albums ever produced, "Something, Anything," produced Rundgren's second hit, "I Saw the Light," and his biggest hit to date, "Hello, It's Me,."

"Wizard, a True Star," his next album, is a combination of previous directions, and introduced Rundgren's talents on the moog synthesizer to add electronics' sounds and concepts to his music.

Both happy and sad, his music evokes laughter and sympathy, but always gentle and trusting in people's basic instincts.

In concert, Todd Rundgren is both a serious musician and entertainer... he possesses one of the rarest and most elusive qualities in popular music today -- stage presence. His spontaneous wit and rapor with the audience make him a treat to watch. His use of flash costumes do not hide but only magnify his basic nature; his great desire to entertain visually and musically. He works well with his band, Utopia, which features drums, guitar, bass and three keyboardists playing a variety of keyboards. Rundgren has now joined the ranks of the superstars -- touring alone -- without an opening act. Instead he plays for two hours.

The Todd Rundgren concert promises to be a concert like has never been on campus before -- and won't be seen here again.

Student tickets are only $1.50 and may be purchased in the Pub. During spring break tickets can be purchased at Record World, I.D. required with purchase.

MARCH 6 8 p.m. BROGDEN HALL

Governor's wife explains work of volunteers

Mrs. James Holshouser, wife of the North Carolina Governor James Holshouser, will be the guest of the Cape Fear Voluntary Action Center (VAC) in Wilmington, Monday, February 25. Mrs. Holshouser, who has long been interested in volunteer affairs, will assist VAC in explaining and publicizing the concept of "voluntarism."

The highlight of her visit will be a program at the Wilmington Hilton on Monday evening starting at 7:30 p.m. The Cape Fear VAC cordially invites everyone to come out and meet the governor's wife. No tickets or reservations are needed.

Mrs. Holshouser will give an address on the importance of volunteer action. Following this will be a slide show depicting volunteer needs and availabilities.

Mrs. Saralei Farner, director of the National Volunteer Awards Program of the National Center for Voluntary Action, will also be present to assist Mrs. Holshouser in presenting a national award to the Wilmington School Community Assistance Program (SCAP). Accepting the award for SCAP will be Mrs. Peter Zack and Mrs. Lamar McIver.

Refreshments will be served after the presentation, and those attending will be able to meet and exchange ideas with Mrs. Holshouser and other leaders in the community's volunteer affairs.

come as you are!

Where pizza is always in good taste!

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR
3617 Market Street

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

CRISIS
LINE
763-3695

Win 25 clams fast

Do you want to turn your artistic talent into a fast twenty-five clams?

Then submit an entry to the competition to design a pennant for the marine science program.

"The University of North Carolina at Wilmington is continually seeking ways to involve students in its various programs and when the suggestion was made that the UNC-W Marine Science Program could use some distinguishing symbol to identify its boats and other gear, the idea was enthusiastically endorsed by Chancellor Wagoner," reported Dr. Louis Adcock, a member of the Environmental Studies Steering Program who originated the idea.

"The competition continues a tradition of student involvement in this sort of activity," Dr. Adcock added. "The school colors and the seahawk emblem are entirely student work. The words to the alma mater were written by a student, and our former college seal and motto were both student-originated," said Dr. Adcock.

Dr. Adcock also stated that the month-long competition is open to all UNC-W students, and that Claude Howell, Chairman of the Art Department, had agreed to serve as the head of a three-member jury to select the winning entry. Other judges include Mrs. Robert Millnor, director of St. John's Art Gallery, and Peggy Hall, former director of the art gallery.

Entry blanks are available in the SEAHAWK office in the Pub. The design should be at least 8 1/2" x 10" drawings suitable for display as a pennant -- in color dealing with Marine Science. Entries should be turned in to the Seahawk office. The competition will run from March 15 - April 15.

Bahá'u'lláh
THE GLORY OF GOD

Bahá'u'lláh is the latest in the succession of Divine Messengers sent by God since the beginning of men's existence. He is the Promised One of all religions. His coming ushers in the Age of Fulfillment mentioned in all the prophecies of the past. Bahá'u'lláh brings God's Plan for world peace, world justice and world unity.

FOR INFORMATION:

Bahá'í Faith

call 791-6264
or 256-2802

Mike Church - literary master

by layne lockamy

Mike Church, a graduating senior and English major from the Wilmington area, has been chosen the new editor for the spring issue of the student liberal arts magazine, ATLANTIS.

Mike has won more literary contests on the UNC-W campus than any other student.

His literary achievements began in 1972 when he tied for first place in the Jessie Rehder Short Story Contest held every spring for his short story, "Cats Belong on the Floor." He tied for first place with Ken Keffer.

The following fall semester Mike won first place in the University Poetry Contest for his poem, "Dusk," in the spring of 1973 he received an honorable mention in the Jessie Rehder Short Story Contest for "If From the Public Way You Turn Your Steps."

During the fall 1973 he won second place in the University Poetry Contest for his poem, "Dancing." Mike plans to enter the Jessie Rehder Short Story Contest again this spring.

His greatest achievement, however, may be his novel, "Youth at the Fountain," which he has just completed. Mike worked on the novel under the Multiple Abilities Program and completed the work in two semesters.

Though "Youth at the Fountain" is complete, he is revising it chapter by chapter with the intentions of submitting it for publication.

Mike is surely well-qualified for his new position with the ATLANTIS. The UNC-W student liberal arts magazine was organized in the spring 1970 with the first publication appearing in 1971. Since then ATLANTIS has been published twice yearly by the students.

When asked what his plans for the magazine were, Mike answered, "Last semester I was poetry editor for ATLANTIS. Now that I am editor-in-chief we hope to publish more copies of the ATLANTIS than last semester and get the magazine a little earlier."

Mike began his college career as a chemistry major, which he followed through for two years. He changed to English because of "literature."

He explains: "I've never given much thought to what I enjoy most about literature or writing. I just do it. When I was a junior in high school, one of my English teachers gave the class an assignment of writing a short story. I enjoyed doing it so I've been writing ever since."

After graduation he plans to attend a graduate school, although he has not yet selected a school.

Mike Church's other interests, besides literature and writing, consist of water sports such as surfing.

MEMORY: A small boat breaking up in a storm sea

What impetuous twist of fate
Now destined to eternal wait
The impromptu second caught
And imprisoned in a land of thought?
It yet still stands on lofty heights, impossible angles in greens and whites,
That long-long past came crashing down
On bitter cold hard callous ground
And swept away from day to day.
Not only those on tempest tossed
But of course the dear and lost
Remain refugees from time
And languish deep within my head
On memory's golden traitor's bed.

Michael Church

Renowned pianist performs Monday

by mary jones

Murray Perahia (Per-ah), the first American pianist to win the Leeds International Piano-forte Competition, will perform Monday, February 25 at 8 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium.

The concert is the first this semester in the University Music Series. UNC-W students will be admitted with identification cards.

The program will consist of Schumann's "Fantasietucke, Opus 12," Mozart's "Sonata No. 17 in D Major," and Chopin's "Sonata in B Minor, Opus 56."

Perahia began playing the piano at the age of six when he studied with Jeanette Hafen. Since then he has studied with Authur Blazam and Miwczyslaw Hecazowski, and he was graduated from the Mannes College of Music.

The twenty-seven-year-old pianist has performed with the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra in London, played at Queen Elizabeth Hall, and been featured on British Broadcasting Company National Television.

He has also performed with the New Philharmonia, the English Chamber Orchestra and the BBC Symphony.

In the United States, Perahia has played at Carnegie Hall, Lincoln Center and the Kennedy Center. He has performed with several orchestras including the New York Philharmonic and the St. Louis Symphony.

Perahia recently signed with Columbia Records and released one album this

After his performance at the university, Perahia will leave for Washington D. C. to present a solo recital at the Kennedy Center. From there, he will go the New York to perform with the New York Philharmonic.

Peter Sellers
as Albert T. Hopnagle, Hospital Administrator, in
"Where Does It Hurt?"
Only where you laugh.

IN EASTMANCOLOR - FROM COLUMBIA RELEASES

February 26 8 p.m. Kenan Auditorium

Payne's

Karen McLure

shows off a yellow & blue checked pantsuit

by Joshua Tree.

Available at

Payne's

Downtown, Hanover Center
& Long Leaf Mall

LOVE COMES IN TWO'S

FAIRHAVEN $250.00
WED. RING $87.50

JUDS $450.00
WED. RING $150.00

Keepsake
matching engagement and wedding rings.
Perfect diamonds, set in 14 karat gold, guaranteed and protected against loss.

Keepsake
JEWELERS & ACCUTON CENTER

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS & ACCUTON CENTER

28 N Front St • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

SHORTS FROM CPS

Bringing C44

A coin-operated "mini computer" has been installed for student use in the library at the California State University at San Diego. The desk top model has a cathode ray display, a 32,000 bit storage capacity and the capability of performing 196 different functions at lightening speed. Students can either design their own program or select a pre-coded card for one of over a 100 common programs already available. 25¢ buys a student seven minutes of time on the device.

Although the mini computer has uses for all students, it appears the device's largest number of customers are from the math and engineering departments, according to the library's administrator.

Absurd Illegality

In a legal decision with potentially far-reaching implications for some colleges and universities, mandatory dormitory living rules for particular classifications of students were declared unconstitutional. The judgement was given in U. S. District Court on January 28 in a suit by two students against the University of South Dakota.

The students argued that a university rule which requires unmarried freshmen and sophomores to live in campus dorms infringed on their right to personal privacy. In its defense, the university contended that the rule was for the purpose of "broadening and enriching" the educational experience.

The judge ruled that while there may be a valid argument that the rule has beneficial educational purposes, the rule had not been administered in such a manner. For example, some students had been excused from having to live in the dorm due to a financial situation. This negated the university's argument.

In the South Dakota case, the judge found that the rule appeared to have a primarily financial purpose -- to insure the capability of repaying -- of the university's dorm bond indebtedness. To require only some students, and not all, to help with the burden is "unreasonable and arbitrary," the judge said.

wood ducks, lost colony, topics of series

by debra grasty

The University Lecture Series, sponsored by the Fine-Arts Lecture Committee, is composed of faculty and students.

Purpose of the series is to give students an opportunity to hear lectures given by experts in their respective fields. Topics chosen are not only scholarly but also of general interest.

Because of a lack of funds last year, the committee was not active. Two years ago, funds were provided by the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill with the resulting series very successful. Four speakers lectured on an array of topics covering poetry, archaeology, folk music and fiction. Dr. James Collier, a member of the English department faculty and chairman of the Fine Arts-Lecture Committee, has discussed the 1974-75 series with the Student Government Association, and has requested approximately five hundred dollars for the series next year to sponsor the lectures.

Free to students and the public, the lectures offer an opportunity for communication between campus and city.

First speakers on the lecture series list were a tremendous success; Nancy and Bruce Roberts spoke to a crowd of over 500 students and citizens on ghosts.

Next speaker for the series is professor Jack Dermid, who will give a wildlife lecture with slides at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 26 in King Hall of the Education/Psychology Building.

Professor Dermid has recently published a book, "The World of the Wood Duck," and he contributed a chapter to "Wild places,"

Dr. Eric A. Fowler, associated with the English department faculty, will discuss poetry and read her own works at 8 p.m. on Thursday, March 21 in Randall Library auditorium.

An archeologist and professor at UNC-CH, Dr. Sten Immerwahr, will present a slide lecture on Thursday, April 4 at 8 p.m. in King Hall. Dr. Immerwahr will discuss the island of Thera, a possible site for the lost colony of Atlantis.

"NEW BOOK DAY"

Tuesday has been designated "New Book Day" at the William Madison Randall Library. Additions to the collection will be placed on the shelves adjacent to the recreational reading, and unless checked-out, will be available for examination for at least one week before they are transferred to the stacks.

COOPER GETS JOB

Lenox G. Cooper Jr., director of library services, has been named Chairman of the Library Advisory Committee of the Cape Fear Council of Governments. The committee is composed of librarians, government officials and other representatives from Brunswick, Columbus, New Hanover and Pender Counties.

FILLER(mi/er) A substance used to cover over holes in wood, concrete, earth, ect.

Filler is also a synonym such as "Fill'er up, Mac." Or it can be used as a slang newspaper word, along with such words as 'morgue', 'masthead', 'paste-up' and 'copy', and in this case it is used to cover blanks in the 'sheet' (for an example read this definition.).

ECU WINS FEST

GREENVILLE-- East Carolina University was the top campus in the country in a recently completed Miller Brewing Company, "Pick-em-up" contest. The contest was used by the brewing company to promote their claim that they are the only national brewery to use recyclable containers for all their products.

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Wall-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, hall.
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining.
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen area.
- Hotpoint range, refrigerator, garbage disposal.
- Individually-controlled air conditioning.
- Large swimming pool. Central laundry facilities.

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished $135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished $149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished $160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished $185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT ...

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street.

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive, Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

Peter Sellers

as Albert T. Hopfnagel,
Hospital Administrator, in

"Where Does It Hurt?"

Only where you laugh.

HEMDALE presents A JOSEF SHAFTEL PRODUCTION. "WHERE DOES IT HURT?" starring PETER SELLERS • JO ANN PFUG • RICK LENZ • HAROLD GOULD. Screenplay by ROD AMATEAU & BUDD ROBINSON. Based on the story "The Doctor" music by KEITH ALLISON, executive producer JOSEF SHAFTEL, produced by BILL SCHWARTZ & ROD AMATEAU, directed by ROD AMATEAU.

IN EASTMANCOLOR • FROM CINERAMA RELEASING

FEBRUARY 26 8 P. M. KENAN AUDITORIUM

THE TRANSPLANT

Being vain beyond words
I seek a looking glass in which to view myself approved, touched up just like I want to be.

That would be a good deal but unreal compared to what I know about myself and others whose vision is better going than coming back.

Reflections do not lie until some artisan dissatisfied with age and time and what life does to steal the fire once in the eye paints a mask to hide desire.

Fashioned in a Godly frame, the Word from God describes me as I am; distraught, confused, and lost along the way from where I am to where I want to be.

The Spirit who is Holy comes interpreting over the shoulder the real me in the light of our Father's love and loving what he sees frees me to love the image too.

The Reverend Milton Boone
Campus Minister

The Reverend Milton Boone, campus minister at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, knows not an office to confine him. but can be found around the grounds eager to talk, to listen to you. Look for "The Transplant" each week in the Seahawk newspaper.

Baha' i Faith group studies God's word

by austin bowden

Members of the faith Baha'i Faith on the campus are forming a group through which the principles of the oneness of God, the oneness of religion, and the oneness of mankind may be shared with others.

These principles can save men and women from the hatreds, corruption, pessimism and the materialism of our chaotic age.

Followers of the faith believe that God has revealed His word in each period of history through a chosen individual. This manifestation of God re-states in every age God's purpose and will. Abraham, Moses, Krishna, Buddha, Zoroaster, Christ and Muhammad were manifestations of God. Each gave man divine teachings to live by.

The Manifestation of God for our time, members of the Baha'i faith believe, is Baha'u'llah, through which God has renewed religion and has given teachings through which all people may be united in love and unity.

Purpose of the Baha'i Club will be to promote a greater understanding of God's plan for mankind, and everyone is encouraged to join or to come to the meetings for open discussions. Subjects such as the oneness of religion, the elimination of prejudice, the equality of men and women, the essential harmony of science and religion and the unity of mankind will be discussed in meetings to be announced.

For information call 256-2802.

Rare books offer rare treat in library

by harry stallings

Located on the second floor of the William Madison Randall Library is a room few students are familiar with -- the Helen Hagan Rare Book Room.

Containing first editions rare early editions and works by North Carolina authors, the room is named for Helen Hagan, the former head librarian at the university.

Among works written by North Carolina writers is a small collection by Robert Ruark, a Southport native. Other N. C. authors represented are Jessie Redder, Manly Wade Wellman and Iggles Fletcher.

Some of the older materials on display include several land deeds over 200 years old. There are also some copies of the North Carolina Statutes from the 1940's and the 1950's.

One of the more valuable books is a facsimile edition of the "Gutenberg Bible," published in 1454, the first book ever to be printed on movable type.

Another interesting facsimile edition is the "Norton Facsimile of the First Folio of Shakespeare," a collection of William Shakespeare's plays, reproduced from the original printed in London in 1623.

Also on display are old books, some in poor condition, autographed books, first editions and papers of some former North Carolina governors.

Because of their nature, all the materials in the room are kept in locked cases to assure safekeeping. All the books are listed on the card catalog, and assistance can be given by a librarian.

The collection in the Helen Hagan Rare Book Room may be small due to a lack of money for purchases, but it is truly a valuable addition to the library and rare treat to visit.

Orchestra plays Sunday

by mary jones

The UNC-W Community Orchestra, under the direction of William Adeock, will present a concert on Sunday, February 24 at 3 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium.

The concert is the second of three concerts scheduled by the orchestra for the 1973-74 school year.

The program will open with Handel's "Water Music."

Parts of this work were composed by Handel in 1717 to be performed before the English king, George I. Published in 1741, the work consisted of 25 movements.

The orchestra will perform Sir Hamilton Harte's arrangement of the "Water Music" which includes six movements. These are lively dances, which lead into brilliant finale, depicting the pomp and pageantry of royalty.

Second piece in the concert, Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," will be performed by the orchestra strings.

The title which means "A Little Night Music," suggests that it was written mainly for entertainment. This work is light, simple, and unsophisticated, dispa and unsophisticated, displaying the Mozartean grace and charm.

After an intermission, the strings will perform again with Arensky's "Variation on a Theme of Tchaikovsky."

The full orchestra will then play the contemporary Shostakovich's "Festival Overture," a very lively composition.

The program will close with Wallingford Riegger's "Dance Rhythms."

A native of South Albany, Georgia, Riegger worked with dancers in the nineteen hundreds. His "Dance Rhythms" is a serious work with sharp rhythms and dissonance. The final concert for this season will be April 21, when a children's concert will be presented.

4th GREAT & FINAL WEEK

STREISAND & REDFORD TOGETHER!

IN THE LOVE STORY OF THE YEAR! SEE IT WITH SOMEONE YOU LOVE! DELICIOUS! IN COLOR RATED PG

Don't miss it. We cannot hold it any longer!

Shows

2:00-4:00-6:00-8:00-10:00

Oleander Drive

NEXT: "McQ"

OLEANDER Cinema 1&2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

N-O-W

799-3950

GREAT NEW SUPER FUN-LAUGHS FOR EVERYONE! WITH THAT SUPER FAMILY FUN STAR DEAN JONES AT HIS FUNNIEST!!!! Rated G

mr. super visible and his vanishing dog!

1:30-3:05-4:40-6:15-7:50-9:20

Oleander Cinema 1&2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

THE BEATLES in "A HARD DAY'S NIGHT"

(G) Passes not Good All Seats $2.00

BEST MYSTERY MOVIE OF THE YEAR!
N-O-W at 2-4-6-8-10

--AIN'T NOTHING FUNNY.....

AND YOU'LL BE SCARED TO LAUGH WHEN YOU SEE

The Laughing Policeman

Walter Matthau*Bruce Dern*Lou Gossett
For Rough Excitement in Color!

LONG LEAF Cinema 1&2

N-O-W LONG LEAF MALL-SHIPYARD BLVD.

1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

"THE TALL BLOND MAN WITH ONE BLACK SHOE"

Rated (PG)

This is a good movie, worth seeing. The kind of story that might have been written by Howard Hunt or Gordon Liddy if they had a sense of humor. —ABC-TV

ALL SEATS $1.00 TIL 2:30 EXCEPT SUNDAY

tricks 'o the trade

Banks loan money?

by Jay Hilley

Students who wish to borrow money may find it hard to do. No bank, regardless of their claim, likes to loan money to a student.

A student can borrow money from a bank (for school related purposes) through the school, but not on his own.

Robert W. Helms, a representative of First

Union National Bank, informed this writer during a phone conversation. "We do not give loans to students, and neither do any of the other banks."

This came as a shock. With all the advertising slogans going around now, by some of the banks, the impression is given that banks loan money to students who can sign their names.

Instead, Mr. Helms explained the process student go through to borrow money for school, the way it actually is.

Students apply for a loan at the school they attend. This can be done through the financial aid office.

Applications from all over the state are sent to Raleigh where they are approved or disapproved. Then all the banks pool a lump sum of money to cover all the loans.

It was refreshing to talk to someone who spoke realistically about student loans. There is more involved than just signing a name and having money handed to one.

College students need the services banks offer; saving, borrowing saving, borrowing, or opening a checking account. It seems the best bank to go to would be the one that doesn't B.S., and we all know what that means.

The daily bulletin, formerly called, "Today," is being published twice weekly in lieu of the paper shortage. Published by the Office of Student Affairs, the flyer is now called, "Today, Tomorrow and the Day After." To submit information call extension 219.

MOVIE RATES FIRM

Movie rates for the films shown in Kanan Auditorium every week will be enforced, according to Raleigh Todd, Chairman.

Season ticket holders will not be charged admission; UNC-W students with I.D.'s will be charged 50¢; general admission and students with no I.D. will be charged $1.00.

UNC-W students must have their I.D.'s with them to receive students' rates to all Fine Arts events. There will be no exceptions made.

SEE SEE SEE
RALEIGH AD
...PAGE 10...

"Frankly Speaking"

by Phil Frank

'OTHER THAN THE OBVIOUS ONE, WHAT REASONS DO YOU HAVE FOR SEEKING A DEGREE IN ANIMAL HUSBANDRY?'

PRESIDENT WHO?

NO-NO'S

Those of you who are not "fortunate" enough to be living at the dorm have probably found a quaint, comfortable little apartment near by and are living in peace, solitude and happiness -- that is until your parents come to visit.

Many students never go through the ordeal of having their parents visit them. Instead they go visit their parents -- just to let them know they're alive and well; and college life hasn't turned them into 'long-haired pinko communistic hippies.' It's similar to a semi-annual visit to the dentist.

For those who do receive visits from their parents, however, I feel I should warn you of the six things you should never say.

It all begins when your parents walk in the door

(1) "Why don't you sit down on this bean bag chair? It's really comfortable." (Result: parent aims for the chair, crashes down to the floor, and starts to complain of back trouble.)

(2) "What do you think of my new boyfriend?" (Result: Mother begins to cry, and father says, "We tried so hard to raise you right. Where did we go wrong?")

(3) "Do you mind if I smoke?" (Result: Parents get sweaty palms, enter the first stage of shock, and nervously cry, "Smoke what?")

(4) "Would you like something to drink? A beer perhaps?" (Result: Father mumbles, "my child -- the alcoholic.")

(5) "It's getting kind of cold in here. I think I'll turn up the heater." (Result: Father removes miniature American flag from pocket and begins waving it while firmly stating, "Our great leader, President Nixon, feels all Americans should unite and keep their thermostats at 68 degrees.")

(6) President who?

by Darlene Pearsall

Yes

Wachovia

The Richardson Corporation
Insurance

501 Carolina Power & Light Building

763-5445

The Prime of Miss

Jean Dröle

Presented by THALIAN ASSOC.

at 2nd & Orange Sts.

8:30 PM
Feb. 22-24

RECORD

WORLD

Discover
New Dimensions

*NEW RELEASES
*BRITISH IMPORTS
*JAZZ
*SOUL
*GIFT CERTIFICATES
*GOOD MUSIC!

791-7043

*ASK ABOUT OUR
BAKER'S DOZEN

Long Leaf Mall

Classifieds

* Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are urged to put their classified ads in the SEAHAWK free -- FREE, i.e. no charge. Let us give you a break.

personal

STEREO UNIT: 8 track tape player, AM-FM radio and turn table. $200. Call 799-1586; ask for Dean.

WATERBEDS: New king size beds, $25. Also beanbags. Call Herbie at 791-9325.

1969 MOBILE HOME: 12 x 65 foot, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, central air conditioning. For appointment, call between 6 and 8 p.m. at 285-3747.

PORTABLE T.V.: Sears silver-tone 19 inch screen with VHP and UHP antennas. Excellent condition physically and mechanically. $50.

STEREO COMPONENTS: Most major brands! 20 - 50% off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

TYPING: Call the professional. All varieties of typing including manuscripts, resumes, term papers and dissertations. 75¢ a page for double spaced typing. Price includes grammar, punctuation and spelling corrections. Call Kathy after 4:30 p.m. at 791-5541 or 799-4385.

SKY DIVING LESSONS: To be taught this spring. Course enrollment now through March. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinois after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

SEWING & ALTERATIONS: Call 799-5531.

TEXTBOOKS FOR SALE: Psychology 105 book and workbook, both for $8. P. E. foundations book for $2. Other texts, too. Cheap. Call 762 - 0035 after 6 p.m. Ask for Beth.

CUSTOM LEATHER WORK: Call 763 - 4371 anytime.

RED IRISH SETTERS: Pups, AKC registered, wormed and shots. Five generation pedigree with the Field Dog Stud Book Certified Pedigree. Can be seen at Albert Joyner's residence, 2511 Wrightsville Avenue, or call 762 - 4742 or 443 - 3010, Rocky Mount.

NEED DIVING GEAR?: Have just obtained U. S. divers dealership for 1974. Very low mark - up, terrific savings. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinois after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

GENETICS BOOK: Used only one day being sold for $6.50. See John Wilkins in the Pub between 9:30 - 11:30 a. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

PAPERS TYPED: 50¢ for the first five pages; 40¢ for each page thereafter. Dial 458-8768.

MUSIC BOOK: Music literature book for sale. Call 791-4483.

NURSING UNIFORMS: New! Never been worn; size 6 (28). Ask for Betsy at 799-0595.

35 mm CAMERA: Want to buy Pentax, Miranda, etc. See F. Allen in room 115, Hoggard Hall.

LADIES WETSUIT: 2 piece, 1/4" women's small to medium wetsuit in good condition. Ask for Debbie at 791-9108.

1958 TRAILER FOR SALE: Two bedroom, will take offer. Contact David Harris at the Residence Hall, room 332.

FOR SALE: surf board 6'2" Corky Carroll Sparestick, 1 yr old. $70 7915013 Bill.

FOR SALE: 8' solid pine bar w/ 3 stools $75 over 25 yrs old-7916113

1968 Rambler - full power asking $750, but make an offer! 7915113

FM-AM reciever & turntable 8 track 2-4 channel switch 20r/g. & 2 comm. speakers, $100 rm. 322

AM-FM reciever & turntable 4 speakers 2-4 channel switch $220 new sell $130 perfect condition rm. 317

FUR COAT: a '20's classic for $25. firm. Good condition in size 8. Must be seen to be appreciated. Call 763-8714.

BLACK VELVET COAT: Long, warm coat with character and class -- excellent condition -- $25. firm in size 10-12.

JAPANESE MINK COAT: Another classic -- excellent condition -- $50. firm. Size 10-12. Call 763-8714.

MOTORCYCLE HELMETS: Two helmets, male and female for sale -- $10 or make offer. Size medium. Dial 763-8714.

OAK BARRELS: Best offer for these large and small barrels. Call 763-8714.

SURFBOARD: 7' 2", 19" wide semi-gun board built strictly for Puerto Rico and reef type breaks. $50 or best offer. Dial 763-8714.

for sale

1967 MG: Red convertible w/ black top. 32 - 35 miles per gallon; new interior, new tire and new battery. Good condition. Call 285 - 4773 after 5 p.m. on the weekdays.

1964 VW106,000 mi-engine rebuilt at 80000, new front end at 100,000. Body fair-green $500. Terry Workman, 502 M. Luma basement after 6:00

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: power steering and radio. Only $1000. Dial 799-3765.

1972 VW VAN: Rear seat opens to bed; radio; carpeting and curtains. Good condition. $2850. Call Ned Martin at 791-4330 (ext. 321) from 9-5 weekdays.

1972 VEGA: Panelwagon with 28,000 miles in excellent condition. $1700. Call 762-6144

1968 FORD LTD: Station wagon with power steering and brakes, air conditioning and new tires. In great shape. $995. Call 256-2526 or 256-2227.

1961 MIGHTY MITE JEEP: American Motors jeep, marine surplus, aluminum body, V-4 aluminum air-cooled engine, 4 wheel drive, independent suspension, 4 speed with spare transmission. Good condition. Call 791-0587 after 5 p.m. or 686-0301 (ext. 64) between 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

1967 DODGE POLARA: Good condition white polara with automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes and air conditioning. Contact Wayne Barbee in the Residence Hall, room 424.

1971 MGB ROADSTER: New radials, new paint job - 21,000 miles - very clean. $2195. After 5 p.m. call Lamar at 762-2389.

HONDA 305 CC: Rebuilt motor; runs good. Must sell. $175. Call 763-6624.

53 "OLD FAITHFUL" CHEVY: Lively enough to get you anywhere in town. Inquire at 762-4886 in the evenings after 6 p.m., and in the mornings before 9 a.m. One car owner!

1961 CADILLAC: Excellent shape with all accessories, power steering, brakes, air conditioning. Best offer: 799-4738, or contact at Dorm room 223 anytime. Ask for James.

for rent

BEDROOM AND BATH: in Hanover Heights area with kitchen privileges. Call 791-8330.

FIGURE EIGHT ISLAND: Room and board on Figure 8 Island with small salary to congenial girl willing to do light housework. If interested, call Sylvia Blanford at 686-0369 or 791-8790.

wanted

MALE HELP: Bellamy drug company at 3806 Oleander Drive needs packer in shipping department to work on Monday - Friday from 2 - 5:30 p.m. Ask for Mr. Sis-trunk.

MUSICIANS & VOCALISTS: Need you to play with band with a wide variety of music for clubs in the area. Contact Barry Langston, Country Club Apartments, 50/27 apt. 17.

OPENINGS FOR REPORTERS: The SEAHAWK newspaper is looking for reporters for the spring semester. Leave name and phone number or dorm number on the bulletin board on the office door, or ask someone in the office.

rides

Would like a ride to Kentucky at Spring break (March 1st), Preferably Berea or Lexington. Contact Gary Colburn Dorm 411

WOULD YOU LIKE TO SAVE GAS? Join our car pool from Jacksonville, Call: 343-6704 Dan, 4550502 Ronald, 3535977 Helen.

RIDE NEEDED ANY WEEK-END to Western Carolina. Will help pay for gas. See Susan in room 102 in the residence hall.

"Most of them are on filthy drugs which rot their minds, you know. They won't be able to last out much longer."

Peter Sellers

as Albert T. Hooper, Hospital Administrator, in

"Where Does It Hurt?"
Only where you laugh.

© 1974 BY PETER SELLERS. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

RALEIGH

A FAMILY OF RACERS

Raleigh makes the popular lightweight 10-speed Record model for everybody in the family. Even a youngster who isn't quite ready for a full-size cycle. The Raleigh Record 24 is a scaled down version with an 18" frame and 24" wheels. It's one 10-speed you don't have to grow up for. And nobody knows more about making racers than Raleigh, because Raleigh has been making international competition winners for decades. See the Record family at your Raleigh dealer, who also features the Raleigh CustomSizer™, the amazing machine that guarantees a perfectly fitting bicycle.

RALEIGH

Call

See 'em at

LIFE CYCLES

4209 Oleander Drive

Community Shopping Center

Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

★★★★
VARSITY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

FEB. 23 PFEIFER Away

FEB. 25 FRANCIS MARION
Home

Drink and be merry. What the morrow brings
No mortal knoweth: Wherefore toil or run?
Spend while they mayest, eat, fix on present pleasures:
Thy hopes and wishes: life and death are one.
One moment grasp life's goods:
to thee they lack.
Dead, thou hast nothing, and another all.

— Peder Bredes
(Goldwyn Smith II.)

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art, Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Pridden
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.
Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings — as an Air Force pilot or navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

SGT. JERRY T. LEWIS
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N. C.
Phone: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

(photo by robert maxey)

bulldogs' bark buried

by robert maxey

The Seahawks knocked ACC out of tournament contention by defeating the ACC Bulldogs 76-71 in district action on Wed. Feb. 13. The game, which had an exciting climax, had also a big emotional factor involved. ACC needed the victory to better their chances in making the playoffs.

The Seahawks gained an early lead. A layup by Keith Yow with 8:15 remaining in the first half gave the Seahawks their largest lead of the first half, 24-16. But by half time the Seahawks margin had been narrowed to only three as the Bulldogs trailed, 38-35.

The second half the Bulldogs bite was felt as they came close several times in taking unsuccessfully the lead. With 19:35 showing on the clock in the second half the Bulldogs came within one, 42-41. The Seahawks rallied to gain their largest lead of the night, 52-43. The determined Bulldogs fought back rolling off 8 straight points to bring them again within one of the Seahawks, 52-51, with only an eleven minute game remaining.

With 8:14 left the Seahawks once again took a leading command when David Prince was fouled in the act of shooting. The ball found its goal and David shot and made the charity point to give the Hawks a 61-53 advantage. With 4:15 remaining and the game still very much in doubt, 67-63, Mike Cherry leading scorer for the Hawks twisted an old ankle injury and was removed from the game. The Bulldogs threatened! The Atlantic Christian College team came within two with only two and one half minutes left in regulation time.

Mike Cherry returned to the game with a bandaged ankle with 2:03 left and the Hawks in an uncomfortable 71-67 lead. A steal by Rik Alesli led a Hawk victory with only a minute remaining and two foul shots by Cherry with 4 sec. brought a defeat to the Bulldogs, 76-71.

Prince led the Seahawk attack with 23 points, followed by Cherry's 20 point performance.

Ernie Lynn had 12 and Jackson 10 to round out the double figures for the Hawks.

"We were able to get the ball more inside this game. We didn't do this against Pembroke which told us in the final outcome of that game. I was disappointed with our rebounding! We have been out rebounded in the last five games. They (ACC) got alot of baskets on the offensive rebounding boards." commented Coach Gibson on his overall view of the game.

INTRAMURAL TOURNAMENT

by robert maxey

Intramural basketball season is over but tournament action still remains. The tournament, which will be held February 26-28, will be a double elimination series. The tournament will consist of eight teams, the three top teams of the White League and the Green League, and the two top teams of the Gold Leagues. These teams were chosen on the basis of their records during regular play. The final league standings are:

	GOLD LEAGUE
	W	L
PI Kap B	8	3
Cupjocks	8	3
Nets	6	5
Engr	6	5
Minnow	5	6
DU	1	10

(con't on pg. 11)

There's more to cycling than a bicycle. And your RALEIGH dealer has more of the things that make cycling safer and more fun.

LIFE CYCLES
4209 Oleander Drive
Community Shopping Center
Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

Yes

Wachovia

QUAKERS QUAKE HOMECOMING

by Robert Maxey

The Guilford Quakers put a damper on UNC-W homecoming activities by squeaking past the Seahawks in the waning three minutes, 83-81. The Quakers are the National defending champs of the NAIA.

The impressive Hawks played an aggressive first half and walked away with a 6 point lead 45-39 at half-time. In the first half the Seahawks were in control of the helm, flying over calm seas. The Seahawks managed to gain a 14 point lead 23-15 for their largest lead of the first half. With 29 sec. remaining the Quakers cut the lead to 10, trailing the Hawks 45-35, and by half-time the Quakers only trailed by six, 45-39.

During half-time the cheerleaders chose basketball player Rick Brock as cheerleader sweetheart. Virginia Bradshaw was crowned homecoming queen 1974. First runnerup was Nancy Pugh and Ellen Hall received second runnerup honors.

The second half the Quakers moved within 4, 49-45 of the Hawks with 17:11 left in the game. The Seahawks poured in the baskets to gain their largest lead of the evening, 18 points 70-52, with 11:25 left on the clock. The next 4 min. and nine seconds the sea got choppy and the Hawks went blank in scoring while the Quakers scored 14 straight points to trail by four, 70-66, with 7:16 on the clock. What once looked like an easy Seahawk victory turned into a chaotic nightmare for the Hawks. With 3:51 left the Quakers tied the game up 76 all and with 3:03 remaining the Quakers captured their first lead of the game, 78-76. The Quakers largest lead was four, 80-76 with 1:19 remaining before Guilford could claim victory.

The Hawks came within one, 80-79, but another basket and a successful foul shot sealed the victory for the Quakers. The Seahawks trailing by four, with 21 seconds remaining tried to bring the game home but the Hawks came up on the short end to spoil a homecoming win, 83-81.

The Seahawks had four cagers in double figures. Mike Cherry paced the Hawks with 26 while Willie Jackson came up with 24. David Prince scored 15 points and Ernie Lynn put in 10 points for the Hawks.

UNC-W 76, ACC 71
Pembroke 79, ACC 61
Catawba 83, Campbell 71
Elon 81, Campbell 80
Hampton 73, Campbell 67
Christopher Newport 67, Methodist 66
Lynchburg 90, Christopher Newport 80
Madison 76, Christopher Newport 46

Norfolk State 88, Elizabeth City State 85
Hampton 105, St. Paul's 83
Greensboro 79, Lynchburg 76
Hampden-Sydney 91, Lynchburg 88
Bridgewater 77, Lynchburg 75

Methodist 80, NC Wesleyan 67
Greensboro 74, Methodist 69
Virginia Wesleyan 76, NC Wesleyan 59
St. Andrews 75, NC Wesleyan 67
Delaware State 70, Norfolk State 68
Pembroke 71, UNC-W 70
High Point 55, Pembroke 52
Barber-Scotia 74, Shaw 71
Shaw 102, Livingstone 86
St. Paul's 80, Shaw 71
UNC-Greensboro 68, St. Andrews 53
Randolph-Macon 83, Virginia State 77
Virginia State 80, Virginia Union 70
Guilford 83, UNC-W 81

Intramural tournament con't from pg. 10

WHITE LEAGUE

	W	L
Jocks	12	1
Wammer Jammers	10	3
Ballers	9	4
TLN	5	8
Pi Kap A	4	9
AAA	4	9
TKE	1	12

Top seeds went to the Jocks who sported a 12-1 record in the White League and the Majors who finished with a 12-2 record in the Green

GREEN LEAGUE

	W	L
Majors	12	2
Cougars	11	3
Faculty	9	5
Jokers	8	6
Midnight Riders	7	7
Bombers	5	8
SAB	3	11
Studs	1	13

League. Good luck to all the qualifying teams. Your participation in Intramural Basketball has made it a most successful season.

DISTRICT 29 STANDINGS UP TO Feb. 16

SCHOOL	DISTRICT W L	ALL GAMES W L
Virginia State	8 2	17 5
UNC-W	8 2	12 7
Lynchburg	7 2	13 9
Pembroke	6 2	16 8
Norfolk State	6 2	13 7
Methodist	9 4	12 7
Virginia Wesleyan	6 4	14 6
Christopher Newport	7 5	16 8
ACC	5 4	9 14
Shaw	4 5	7 15
Elizabeth City State	3 6	7 16
Hampton Institute	4 9	11 12
St. Andrews	2 9	7 14
Campbell	1 5	9 15
NC Wesleyan	0 15	2 22

Short story writers submit to Contest

by Mike Church

Cash awards totaling more than $200 will be presented to the winners of the fifth annual Jessie Rehder Short Story Contest held this spring.

The contest is open to all students of UNC-W. Each entrant may submit two short stories.

Five prizes will be awarded to the winning short stories: first - $100; second - $50; third - $30, and two honorable mentions of $10 each.

Deadline for submissions will be Friday, March 15 at 5 p.m. Entries should be turned in at the English Department office.

Winners will be announced the following Thursday at an 11:30 a.m. reception for all contestants held by the North Carolina Junior-Senior in the library conference room.

This competition was established in 1970 in memory of Miss Jessie Clifford Rehder, a native of Wilmington, who was a noted writer and educator.

Leigh Eaton, editor of the liberal arts magazine, the ATLANTIS, was last year's winner for her story, "Father's Campaign." Fred Durt won second place for "The Prisoner" and first honorable mention for "Waiting."

Third place was awarded to "Go Kick a Rock" by Louise Whittington.

Ben Clayton received second honorable mention for "Cleanse the Temple" and Mike Church's "If From the Public Way You Turn Your Steps" was given third honorable mention.

The contest is sponsored annually by the UNC-W English department, and funded by the Jessie Rehder Memorial Fund.

Budweiser

PRESENTS

TONIGHT,
EVERY NIGHT,
ON RADIO

THE CBS RADIO MYSTERY THEATER

Brand-new radio drama just like it used to be: great! A different show every night. Produced by Hi Brown who did "Inner Sanctum," "Thin Man" and many others. E. G. Marshall is the host.

WMFD - AM 630 kh. 10:07 P.M.

ANHEUSER-BUSCH, INC. ST. LOUIS

PEANUTS

PEANUTS

NEWS

Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity at the university, is sponsoring a beach clean-up at Wrightsville Beach March 16, starting at 10:30 a.m. and running until finished.

The fraternity will clean up the beach area from Johnny Mercer's Pier to the Crystal Pier, beginning with Mercer's and working toward Crystal.

The clean-up will be followed by a cook-out for the APO brothers and pledges at Phil Rackley's home.

Using the best clean-up techniques known to man, the fraternity will be picking up cans, bottles, paper, tires and anything else they can find.

Delta Upsilon Fraternity is host to the Phi Mu Sorority at a formal Rush function this Saturday at 6:00. The DU's have provided a better than 100 pound pig. This barbecue will be the grand finale for a week of rush which began this past Tuesday. All students interested in joining either the DU fraternity, DU little sisters club, or the Phi Mu sorority is invited to attend this function. For the DUs this marks the end of the first week of a two week Rush.

This is an excellent opportunity for non-fraternity people to meet with DU's and Phi Mu's to learn about the greek system.

Tau Kappa Epsilon would like to recognize six young men pledging TKE this semester: Burlington, N.C. Dennis Steele of Washington, N.C. ester, Tom Rhyme of Charlotte, N.C. Alan Dixon of and Bobby Williams and Mike Stafford, both of Wilmington. These young men show great promise as prospective brothers and we hope that they will soon enter into the bond of brotherhood of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

This past weekend highlighted homecoming with a party at the house. It was a great time for everyone who attended. We urge anyone interested in coming over to one of our social functions to contact any brother or call 791-9818.

T.K.E. would like to extend our congratulations to Virginia Bradshaw on her election to homecoming Queen. We wish her our very best, and hope that her reign will bring her many fond memories of UNC-W for years to come. Congratulations also go to Jo Hilton, our previous homecoming Queen, and wish to her also the best of luck in all her future endeavors.

RUSH CONTINUES AT DELTA Upsilon FOR ITS 2D BIG WEEK

Lindisfarne Roll on Ruby Famous Charisma Label CAS 1076 (English import)

Lindisfarne has been making albums in England for the past four years with three earlier, more or less, unsuccessful albums on their record. These first three albums -- "Nicely Out of Tune" (1970); "Fog on the Tyne" (1971), and "Dingy Dell" (1972), managed to reach America mainly through the import market.

These three albums are available as "The Lindisfarne Collection," a special import package of the three records by Jem Records Union, New Jersey.

Now, with several group changes and much sound improvement, Lindisfarne launches its fourth album, not counting their live album, Roll on Ruby, on the American public. With luck this album will easily be distributed on the American market as well as become a bestseller.

Members of the group are Allan Hull and Ray Jackson, (the only original members), along with Kim Cradlock, Charlie Harcourt, Tommy Duffy and Paul Nichols. Although the group has changed within the past year and a half, the group members communicate on record as if they had been playing together since the band started.

The album is put together with a variety of sound, moving from a country type rock to pure rock 'n' roll, and sometime inbetween the two.

The first two songs, "Taking Care of Business" and "North Country Boy," both utilize the forms of country and rock music accented by the harp, organ and mandolin which give Lindisfarne its different sound.

"Steppen Wolf" and "When the War is Over" are two more very interesting works on the release. However, as on any album today, a few bad cuts are included. These are easily overlooked when the overall quality of the work is realized.

All in all, this album should be on the charts very soon and make the talents of Lindisfarne audible to everyone. What more to say, but, "Roll on Ruby," and anyone else interested.

PORSCHE
AUDI

See the '74 Porsche and Audi on Display

University Porsche Audi

SALES • SERVICE • PARTS

3302 Market Street Phone 763-5473

SALES DEPT. OPEN Mon.-Fri. 8 a.m.-7 p.m. — Sat. 8 a.m.-3 p.m.

seahawk

University of North Carolina at Wilmington

March 11, 1974

Twelve pages

YESSIR' ... WELCOME BACK FROM SPRING BREAK, THE TODD RUNDGREN CONCERT, AND FUN! FUN! FUN! TO -- EXAMS... STUDYING... WORRYING ABOUT GRADES...
THE GAS SHORTAGE... THE ENERGY CRISIS... GRADUATION (WILL THAT DARN GOWN FIT?)... THE BEGINNING OF THE SUMMER... SUMMER SCHOOL... OH, WELL...
WASN'T THE SPRING BREAK NICE?... CAN'T WAIT 'TIL EASTER...

Paper comes out 22nd

Because the Seahawk newspaper was published on March 7, March 11, the paper will not be published again until Friday, March 22. There were several events that needed to be published on or before the 11th, and since there was no one here before the 11th to read the paper, there wasn't much need or much sense of a paper being published before the 11th during the holidays, now was there? Look for the newspaper in the regular places next Friday.

Read this

Did you know that...

*The greatest living linguist is probably—George Schmidt of the United Nations Translation Department in New York City, who can speak fluently in 30 languages and can translate an additional 33?

*In English the most frequently used letters are in order: e, t, a, o, i, n, s, h, r, d?

*In written English, the most frequently used words are in order: the, of, and, to, a, in, that is and I. The most used word in conversation is I.

*The most overworked word in English is the word jack, which has 10 main substantive uses with 40 sub-uses and two verbal uses?

*The most difficult tongue twister is deemed to be "The sixth sick sheik's sheep's sick" -- especially when spoken quickly?

*The palm for the most determined attempt to be last in the telephone directory must now be awarded to Zachary Zzzzro of San Francisco. He outdid the previous entrant who was a mere Zeke Zzzzypt of Chicago?

*The smallest handwritten book in the world -- "Poems by Edgar Guest" -- was written in 1942 by Burt Randle. It is less than 1/8 of an inch square and is held by a metal clip?

The facts and figures above were supplied by the "Guinness Book of World Records."

MADELLA
- THE GAZETTE OF THE SEAHAWK -

"NO, NO—THIS LANE IS WAITING IN LINE FOR GAS! YOU WANT THE TRAFFIC JAM—THAT'S TWO LANES OVER!"

the gadfly

YOUR FOUR WHEELS FOR TWO...

by david crews

Last night I had an awful dream. I was the 622nd car in line for gas from the last station in Wilmington that would have any gas until next month. I had gotten up at 2 a.m., driven like a madman to the station and managed to get in line. Now as I finally pulled up to the pump, the needle collapsed against the empty mark, the attendant shakes his head and waves me away.

Creeping away from the station in the foggy gloom I see a lighted sign flashing ahead. Seeing a long line of cars I pull into the slow parade, sure that I am in a gas line. But such is not the case, for now I can read the sign.

"Trade in your useless heap. A real bargain. We swap even; your car for a bicycle." A steady stream of people wobble off uncertainly on their new wheels. In the background, the red glow of a blast furnace reveals a monster machine turning the four-wheeled American Dream into a two-by-two bale of scrap. Against my will I find myself turning over the keys to me beloved little chariot and pedaling slowly away.

I awoke, breathing hard, my heart pounding, feeling a touch of terror. Across town some biker was having the same dream, smiling to himself and muttering, "Aha, at long last -- revenge!"

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

Published on Fridays by students at the university of north carolina at wilmington, deadline for publication is monday before the friday publication. our office is located downstairs in the pub. telephone 791-8055.

editor: beth hicks
associate editors: barry asbury
j. k. muhlen
advertising director: barry asbury
business manager: alan murphy
sports editor: robert maxey
news editor: eugene mckinney

photographic staff: roberta alred
nauma dozier
neal huntley
zack sessions
supportive staff: linda houghton
layne lookany
anne nesbit
darlene pearsall

As an alternative to the disadvantage of owning a car crippled with exhaust emission control, ultralight bumpers, beepers connected to everything and absurd gas mileage, the bicycle is finding itself a new group of friends. The kids don't get bicycles anymore for Christmas, daddy does.

The bicycle is a much simpler machine than the car with nothing mysterious happening under the hood. You can smile as you pedal past the long line of poor cars addicted to the bad habit of guzzling gas. The cost of a bicycle is enticing too. For a hundred dollars you can get a well-balanced, lightweight, sturdy and relatively obedient machine. Upkeep is minimal. Of course, every now and then the gears need adjusting, what machine is perfect?

However, before you use the last few gallons of gas in your chariot to scoot down to your local bike shop, stop and think. Even if you think your car would make a better chicken coop than conveyance, consider the following before you put out your last belt of wampum for a gas-free trip.

Are you a hardy spirit that laughs at the elements? Can you spit in the face of death? Several times if necessary? Most of the supposed bike routes around Wilmington are suitably pedal along, every once in awhile diving for the ditch in order to preserve life and limb. And once you purchase a bike, you will find it rains a lot and that it's usually too hot or too cold.

Before I depart let me cheer you with this. Do you think that the government will permit bicycles to enjoy a remarkable amount of freedom from regulations? Of course not.

No doubt there will come to pass safety laws concerning safety and crashability. Imagine a two hundred pound bicycle with five mph bumpers, seat belts, front and rear electric turn signals, air bags and permanent training wheels. Of course you will have to pay for state and city tags in addition to obeying bicycle speed limits.

For those of you who are adventurous sorts, this is the time to own a bicycle. This is the short, lawless period of enjoyment before legislation takes the danger and the fun out of bicycling as it already has with driving.

"IF WE DON'T HAVE RATIONING, SOMEONE IS GOING TO HAVE ONE HELL OF A LOT OF MONOPOLY MONEY!"

SHORTS FROM CPS

Alice Cooper fans help less

Few individuals leaving an Alice Cooper concert stopped to help a girl with a flat tire. Several weeks later, the same girl in the same predicament found many more helpers from passers-by who had just attended a youth religious speech.

It was a psychology experiment in "helping behavior" conducted by a doctoral candidate at the University of Washington. The experimenter says she isn't sure if the different responses can be attributed to the different moods created by the events or to the personal tendencies of those choosing to attend the respective happenings.

RALEIGH

Kissing bandit plagues students

The University of Washington at Seattle has recently been plagued with a "kissing bandit," a man who has been running up to women and asking for a kiss.

Most of the incidents have taken place on stairwells on the campus. One of the women the man asked for a kiss surprised him by kissing him. He reportedly said, "At least you'll talk to me when no one else will," and fled when another person approached.

But he got a different response from another woman who yelled, "What in the hell are you doing?" then chased him, aided by three other women.

The man has been known to the police department for about three months, popping up sporadically, until Feb. 4 when four incidents of kissing banditry occurred.

Buckley worked as spy for CIA

Columnist William F. Buckley has admitted that he was once a spy for the Central Intelligence Agency, the CIA.

In a rare moment of candor, Buckley said he worked as a "deep cover" agent for the CIA in Mexico during a nine-month period in 1951.

The question of Buckley's CIA connections came up at the press interview when the columnist was asked about his friendship with Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt. Buckley explained that Hunt and he "became very good friends while working on the same assignment for the CIA in 1951."

Buckley is the godfather for all three of Hunt's children, and is acting as executor for the estate of Hunt's late wife who was killed in an airline crash 13 months ago.

Erotic film confiscated

Confiscation of an erotic film by the university president at the University of Wyoming at Maramba has led students to consult with the American Civil Liberties Union, or ACLU.

The school's student senate retained the ACLU after President William Carlson confiscated the film, showing ing at the Erotic Film Festival on January 30. The president claimed the film was in violation of a 1971 Wyoming Obscenity statute and reportedly locked it in a vault.

Carlson has so far refused to meet with lawyers and student administration negotiation committee, saying the matter was still within the confines of the university. The committee is trying to formulate a policy on student rights, concerning freedom from censorship and prior restraint of student-sponsored events. Also to be resolved is who controls the student union building where the film was shown.

The Richardson Corporation Insurance

501 Carolina Power & Light Building

763-5445

Spring — things to do:
Cut the grass
Trim the hedge
Buy a diamond

GURR Jewelers

Wilmington's Fine Jeweler and Silversmith
212 North Front Street

Lecture tonight

BLACK AWARENESS WEEK

by cora jones

Wanta Wazuri, the only Black organization at UNC-W, is presenting a week of Black Awareness March 10 - 16.

During the month of March, an exhibit will be displayed in the lobby of the William Randall Library, featuring examples of the cultural background of the Black people. Items will be furnished by the "Cult" located on Front Street in downtown Wilmington.

Black Awareness will be observed the entire week with emphasis placed on Monday and Saturday, when both programs will be held in Kenan Auditorium.

The first program, beginning at 8 p.m. Monday night, will give students, faculty members and the Wilmington community an opportunity to get acquainted with Wanta Wazuri, its purpose and its members. Speaker for the evening will be Thelma Yarborough, history instructor at the university, who received a B.S. degree at D.C. Teachers' College and an M.A. degree at Memphis

State University. In addition to her busy schedule, Miss Yarborough is working with the Open House program located on Market Street, and she is an art appreciation instructor at the Community Art Center on Second and Orange Streets. Miss Yarborough will speak on the "Origins of Black History Week."

The week will end with a local jazz group, Music

Attractions Unlimited, who will play Saturday at 8 p.m. The group will play Black music from the mid '30's to today, ranging in part from jazz, to rock and roll and modern Black music.

Wanta Wazuri extends an open invitation to all interested persons. There will be no admission to either of the attractions.

CRISIS LINE begins six-weeks training

CRISIS LINE, a 24 hour crisis intervention telephone service, is beginning a new volunteer training class on Thursday, February 28. Classes will meet at 7:30 p.m. at St. James Episcopal Church library at Dock and Market Streets. The course, running for six weeks with five Thursday classes and one Saturday workshop, is open to people of all ages and sexes. For further information call Carolyn Gruelle, Director, at 762-8860 or CRISIS LINE, 763-3695.

Sponsored by the New Hanover Drug Abuse Committee and funded by United Way, CRISIS LINE has been operating for three years. With a steadily increasing number of calls each year, last month the line received 520 calls.

CRISIS LINE training is done by a team which includes professionals with expertise in areas vital to the line's functioning of active listening and referral service. The work is volunteer and the workers remain anonymous.

A volunteer for the line has the opportunity of joining the newly organized service, Women's Consultants. Details will be available at the first class.

"Frankly Speaking"

by Phil Frank

"GEE, I THOUGHT TELLING WAR STORIES WAS SUPPOSED TO BE FUN!"

MOVIE RATES FIRM

Movie rates for the films shown in Kenan Auditorium every week will be enforced, according to Raleigh Todd, Chairman.

Season ticket holders will not be charged admission; UNC-W students with I.D.'s will be charged 50¢; general admission and students with no I.D. will be charged $1.00.

UNC-W students must have their I.D.'s with them to receive students' rates to all Fine Arts events. There will be no exceptions made.

funds for writers

ATLANTA, Ga. -- Aspiring young Southern newspaper men and women in need of financial assistance attend the last two years college have until May to apply for the Ralph McGill Scholarship Fund grants for the 1974-1975 academic year.

The scholarship fund was created to honor the late Ralph Emerson McGill, publisher of the Atlanta Constitution.

The Fund's Advisory Committee has stipulated that grants will be made in the amounts not to exceed $1,500 for a full academic year of college for each recipient. Awards will be based on journalistic interest and aptitude plus need.

Grants are available to qualified young men and women whose roots lie in the fourteen Southern states. The Advisory Committee will also act as the selective committee. Applicants must show an "abiding interest" in newspaper writing and editing, and successful applicants must convince the committee that they are determined to make journalism a career.

Applications may be obtained from the Ralph McGill Scholarship Fund, Box 4689, Atlanta, Georgia, 30302.

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry

Bags

Candles

Handmade Spreads

Embroidered Dresses

Belts

Leatherwork

Mexican Handicraft.

Headgear

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

CRISIS
LINE
763-3695

Yes

Wachovia

Deadline todayArtists prepare for showing

The Twelfth Annual Lower Cape Fear Art Exhibition will be held at the university March 18 through April 12. Deadline for submitting entries is today.

The multi-media show is open to all persons living in, or native of, the Lower Cape Fear area encompassing New Hanover, Bladen, Brunswick, Carteret, Columbus, Cumberland, Duplin, Onslow, Pender, Robeson and Sampson counties.

Each artist may submit a maximum of four works, only two of which may be in one medium. Work done in class or under the supervision of an instructor and works shown in any public exhibition before 1971 are not eligible for the competition.

Paintings in any medium, prints, drawings and sculpture may be submitted. Paintings must be framed with screw eyes and wires removed. Prints and drawings must be matted and backed. All works are to be hand delivered to the Art Department at UNC-W in Kenan Hall, and must be picked up within two weeks of the end of the exhibition. Out-of-town artists may contact the UNC-W Security Office.

Moussa Domit, acting director of the North Carolina Museum of Art will be the juror. First prize is $100, second $75, third $25. Artists will be notified of the decision of the juror by a checked report slip which will be attached to each label attached to each entry. The labels are available in the Art Department.

All works to be sold must include price on entry card and label; the university will take out 10% for items sold as a commission. The show will be open to the public Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. March 18 through April 12.

Travel abroad: London, Paris Brussels

Students thinking about the summer and how to combine travel and study should consider the program being offered by the political science department at East Carolina University in Greenville. Students will travel in Western Europe, including Bonn, Amsterdam, Brussels, Paris, London, Copenhagen and Stockholm, and will receive nine easily transferable quarter credits.

Almost one hundred students have enjoyed the program; now almost six years old.

Leaving on May 29, the group will be meeting with leading personalities in government, politics, business and labor management.

To enable broad participation, the course will be offered on a shoestring budget, six weeks in Europe for $825. For further details and applications, contact the instructor, Dr. Hans H. Indori, P. O. Box 2752, E. C. U., Political Science Department, Greenville, N. C. 27834, or call 758-6030.

tennis anyone?

a part of human nature...

by darlene pearsall

Now that warm weather is frequent and the spring break has approached, tennis once again grows in popularity. After playing only one game, however, I have decided that I've finished for the season.

Before the game, I tried to psyche myself into a winning mood. I thought of the great tennis match between Billy Jean King and Bobby Riggs, and how easy it all looked on television. One simply darts from one side of the court to the other while running back and forth ever so often.

While playing, however, I soon realized just how large that court was. By the time I made it over to the right side, my partner had hit the ball over to the left. "It's just not fair," I cried, "If only you'd let me hit it just once..."

Becoming tired of perpetually mumbling profanities, I turned to such old stand-bys as "You cheated!" or "Let me serve again. That last time shouldn't count; the ball was dirty." And of course, there was the oldie but goodie, "No fair. My shoelace came untied."

When these failed, I resorted to actual threats of physical violence. "Keep that up and I'm going to jump over the net and give you a black eye." I felt a deep sense of relief when my partner laughed at the threat, because, (1) he weighed at least fifty pounds more than me, and (2) although I've tried jumping over the net - I've never quite made it.

Finally, towards the end of the game, my partner became sympathetic and aimed the ball in my direction. I lost. It just seems to be a part of human nature that when you are standing out in the open and a heavy ball comes flying your way, you duck.

LOVE COMES IN TWO'S

FAIRHAVEN $250.00
WED. RING $87.50

JUDD $450.00
WED. RING $150.00

Keepsake

Mills INC.
Keepsake JEWELERS & Accutron Center

28 N Front St • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

THINK ABOUT YOUR FUTURE!

OWN YOUR OWN HOME $73.29 month

(or get a roommate - $36.65 a month each)

BEING A STUDENT SHOULDN'T KEEP YOU FROM OWNING YOUR OWN HOME. MOBILE HOME BROKERS OFFERS A NEW 12' by 46' TWO BEDROOM AMERICAN MOBILE HOME FOR AS LOW AS $73.29 A MONTH. WE KNOW THAT WHILE YOU'RE IN SCHOOL MONEY IS TIGHT. THAT'S WHY WE WANT TO LET YOU IN ON WHAT MANY OTHERS ARE FINDING OUT EVERYDAY. YOU CAN OWN A MOBILE HOME FROM MOBILE HOME BROKERS FOR MUCH LESS THAN WHAT YOU'RE PAYING FOR RENT RIGHT NOW! AND WHILE YOU'RE SAVING MONEY NOW, IF YOU EVER DECIDE TO SELL YOUR MOBILE HOME, YOU'LL HAVE EQUITY FOR RESALE VALUE.

SAVING AND INVESTING YOUR MONEY AT THE SAME TIME! HOW DO YOU BEAT A DEAL LIKE THAT?

See Bill Littleton, Steve Stevens, or Gerald Whitman

MOBILE HOME BROKERS

5550 Carolina Beach Road

Phone 799-4792

gallery is artists' home

originally a bawdy house

by gregg corbett

The large, white, two-story building situated just south of Holly Ridge, North Carolina, was originally a bawdy house, built in the early forties to service a shortlived United States Army training base.

Now Topsail Art Studios, it serves as both the gallery-showroom and residence for three artists and their families.

Al and Lee Leach, both in their late thirties, are a husband and wife team specializing in metal sculpture. Frans Van Baars, also in his late thirties, is an internationally recognized Sea Painter.

Artists are reportedly interesting people -- and these artists are no exception.

Van Baars was born in Harlingen, Holland, son of a Master Mariner. He has spent more than sixteen years with the Dutch Merchant Marine and the United States Navy.

A graduate of the Ivy School of Professional Arts, he has received over forty awards in open exhibit and is now represented in permanent collections throughout the states as well as Holland, Denmark and Australia.

Lee Leach has come a long way from the West

Virginia coal fields where he was raised. Working a number of trades -- including coal mining, auto mechanics and bricklaying, he feels his varied background has served to stimulate his creativity and substantially increased his appreciation and awareness.

Al Leach has over twelve years experience in the advertising business, and aside from being a productive artist and art teacher, she must play the role of housewife and mother.

"I am monetarily minded enough that I must feed my family," says Lee, "and I like to look upon my work as the challenge to survive."

Lee spends as many as thirty-eight weeks on the road, travelling from show to show.

The three artists feel that living and working together is beneficial -- sharing a common goal and using the "interchange of ideas."

Moving from an over-exposed and crowded city, they hope to become part of the new cultural renaissance in the South.

"We invite requests to show or lecture, and we would be more than happy to do anything which will promote interest, art-wise, in this area."

Topsail Art Studios, located on Ocean Highway (highway 17) approximately one mile south of Holly Ridge, is open daily to the public free of charge.

JACK LITTLE...
trickster
in pool
April 1 Pub
watch for info

Book defines sexuality

grad' works in office

Bonnie T. Wiley, a December cum laude graduate of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, has been appointed University Recruiter and Admissions Counselor in the Office and Admissions and Registration.

SEX ALPHABET -- a 48 page, pocket-size dictionary discussing the basic aspects of sexuality and contraception for teenagers and pre-teens, is available through Planned Parenthood. The book contains 56 alphabetical entries from "adolescence through masturbation to withdrawal" and includes a glossary of slang and vernacular.

For more information, contact: Planned Parenthood Foundation of America, Incorporated, 810 Seventh Avenue, New York, New York, 10019. Refer to the name "Sex - Alphabet" and its publication number, 1429.

SEE SEE SEE
RALEIGH AD
...PAGE 10...

YOU'VE BEEN READY NOW WE ARE!

FOOTBALL

AIR HOCKEY

POOL

PIN BALL

PADDLE BATTLE

SNACK BAR

(Sandwiches, Ice Cream, Pop Corn, Drinks)

CAP'N HAL'S FOOTBALL PARLOR

3901 Wrightsville Avenue

(Audubon Center near corner of Wrightsville Avenue & Floral Parkway)

Try to beat the pro

by Kathi Beall

Only sixteen students will have an opportunity to vie for the UNC-W pocket billiard championship with the winner receiving a chance to compete against Jack White, internationally famous pocket billiard and trick shot artist.

White will be on campus Monday, April 1 to perform two exhibitions, each two hours long, at 1 p. m. and 6 p. m. His appearance is being sponsored by the Student Union Program Board.

Sign-ups for the championship will begin Wednesday, March 13 at 8 a. m. in the office of the Director of Student Activities. Questions should be directed to Jo Hilton, project chairman, and may be left for her on the Student Union Program Board bulletin board adjacent to the mailboxes in the Pub. Because of the limit on participants in the program, only good billiard players are asked to sign up.

White, who hails from California, is a product of a family in the billiard supply business for 57 years and was first introduced to the game at the "ripe age of 8." He is the world's youngest touring professional and holds the high run in the snooker -- a perfect game -- 147 points, and the high run in three-cushion billiards -- 12, as well as the high run in pocket billiards -- (319 runs in New York).

He has been featured in numerous magazines and has appeared on many top television shows. He received a "Doctor of Poolology" plaque from the University of Notre Dame in 1970 and is the only player ever to be invited to the White House in Washington, D. C.

There will be no admission charge to see the billiard exhibitions, but student-I.D.'s will be required. The shows will take place in the Pub game room, and from all indications, White's performance will be lively.

The exhibition is the first activity to be brought to the students by the SU Program Board, which is attempting to bring low-cost and wide-interest activities and programs to the campus. Students with ideas for additional activities are urged to drop them in an envelope provided for the purpose on SUPB bulletin board in the Pub, or to contact one of the members -- Kathi Beall, Sarah Bell, Pat Dunlap, Jo Hilton, Paul Laird, Debbie Lewis, Steve Martin or Craig Parker.

AQUA
WORLD INC.

Professional
Diving
Instruction
N.A.S.D.S.
Approved

- Classes Now Open
- Basic & Open Water Certification
- 4 to a Class
- Individual Instruction
- Private Pool (no pool fee)
- 3 Open Water Dives
- $50.00-total cost!

AIR -- SALES -- RENTALS
CHARTER -- REPAIRS

791-3976

5425 WRIGHTSVILLE AV.

Jessie Rehder honored with contest

by mike church

Jessie Rehder is remembered for many things. She is remembered as a leading player on a Wilmington high school's state championship girls' basketball team.

She is remembered as a writer, as a teacher, and as the first woman to receive tenure in the English department at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

But she is remembered best by those who knew her -- her students, her associates and her friends, as a warm, sympathetic, dedicated and fascinating person.

Miss Rehder was dedicated to writing and to her students whom she taught creative writing, and so it is fitting that each spring Jessie Rehder is remembered with an annual short story contest for the students at UNC-W.

Open to all students at the university, the contest is funded by the Jessie Rehder Memorial Fund which was begun last spring for the dual purpose of a memorial to Miss Rehder and to encourage creativity.

Stories should be submitted to the English department by March 15.

Jessie Clifford Rehder was graduated from Randolph

Macon Woman's College and received an M. A. degree in English from Columbia University.

As an undergraduate she was editor of the Tattler, a literary magazine, and she also published a book of poems, "East Wind's Back."

This was only the beginning of a literary career which included such short stories as "The Surgeon," two textbooks, "The Story at Work" and "The Young Writer At Work," and perhaps her best known work, "Remembrance Way," a novel published in 1956.

Miss Rehder was also involved in helping her students publish their works. She edited the "Chapel Hill Carousel" and in 1962 she initiated the publication, "The Young Writer in Chapel Hill," both magazines encouraged young writers.

Those who knew Jessie Rehder say that she would have approved of a fund in her name to encourage creative writing and to sponsor a short story contest for students.

And who knows, perhaps the contest will help launch a literary career such as Jessie Rehder's.

it's the
real thing

Wilmington Coca-Cola Bottling Works
Incorporated
Wilmington, N. C. 28401

Taking off? Take us up.

There's a place for you on Piedmont. For a weekend of fun, a game out of town, a quick trip home, whatever—there's a Piedmont jet or propjet flight to fit your plans. With personal, thoughtful service always. Piedmont—serving over 75 cities including Chicago, New York, Washington, Norfolk, Atlanta, Memphis. Call us, or your travel agent. We've got a place for you.

Piedmont Airlines

RECORD

WORLD

Discover
New Dimensions

- *NEW RELEASES
- *BRITISH IMPORTS
- *JAZZ
- *SOUL
- *GIFT CERTIFICATES
- *GOOD MUSIC!!!!

791-7043

*ASK ABOUT OUR
BAKER'S DOZEN

Long Leaf Mall

DANCE - BEER BASH

featuring Benefit & Budweiser

sponsored by the Student Government Association

FRIDAY NIGHT

MARCH 15

9p.m.

in the pub

I. D. 's required

One guest only per I. D.

dance & beer compliments of budweiser

"THE BIG DIFFERENCE"

6 foot, 2 inch Willie racks up the points

by wayne steele

There's a BIG difference between last year's and this year's basketball team. One of the differences is Willie Jackson.

Willie, a 6ft., 2in. junior from Burgaw, is an outstanding long-range shooter. He is a transfer student from Spartanburg Junior College where he was an all-conference performer.

Playing at the guard position, Willie is averaging 16 points per game. His best game this season was against Campbell College in which he made 14 out of 17 attempts for a game high 28 points.

Willie was top recruit from junior colleges last spring. At Spartanburg he averaged 23.27 points per game and played in two all-star games. In one game he scored 45 points while hitting 22 out of 25 shots.

"Willie has helped us a lot," comments Coach Gibson. "We had trouble last year with teams playing a zone defence on us. Willie destroys a zone with his outside shooting."

"I love listening to music and having a good time," Willie says. He is a physical education major and wants to coach when he graduates.

In the summer he likes going to New York. "I enjoy playing at my father's home in Brooklyn. The competition is good because there are some great players from that area," he says.

Willie is an exciting player to watch. His great shooting ability and extreme quickness has made a big difference to the Seahawk basketball team.

The Surf Porsche

The Porsche 914.

See the '74 Porsche and Audi on Display

University Porsche Audi

SALES • SERVICE • PARTS

3302 Market Street Phone 763-5473

SALES DEPT. OPEN Mon. - Fri. 8 a.m. - 7 p.m. Sat. 8 a.m. - 2 p.m.

'74 BASEBALL

SCHEDULE

Mar. 2	N.C. State	away	1:30
Mar. 5	Florida State	away	3:00
Mar. 6	Florida State	away	3:00
Mar. 7	Florida State	away	3:00
Mar. 9	Baptist College at Charleston	away	2:00
Mar. 11	Gulford College	home	3:00
Mar. 12	Duke	away	2:00
Mar. 17	Yale	home	3:00
Mar. 18	Yale	home	3:00
Mar. 19	Western Connecticut State	home	3:00
Mar. 20	Western Connecticut State	home	3:00
Mar. 21	Dartmouth College	home	3:00
Mar. 22	Dartmouth College	home	2:00
Mar. 23	Yale	home	3:00
Mar. 25	East Stroudsburg State	home	3:00
Mar. 26	East Stroudsburg State	away	3:00
Mar. 27	Fayetteville State	home	3:00
April 1	Williams College	home	3:00
April 2	Williams College	away	2:30
April 4	UNC-Chapel Hill	home	3:00
April 5	N.C. State	home	7:30
April 6	Methodist College	away	3:00
April 8	Shaw	home	7:30
April 12	Stetson University	home	1:30
April 13	Baptist College at Charleston	home	7:30
	Stetson University	home	7:30
April 15	ECU	home	1:30
April 16	Methodist College	away	3:00
April 18	Fayetteville State	home	7:30
April 22	Francis Marion	away	7:30
April 24	Pembroke State	home	7:30
April 25	Campbell College	away	7:30
April 27	Virginia State	away	1:00
April 29	Gardner Webb College	home	7:30
May 1	Pembroke State	away	8:00
May 3	ECU	away	3:00
May 4	Campbell College	home	7:30
May 5	Shaw	home	7:30
May 15	16, 17 & 18 DISTRICT 29 TOURNAMENT	home	7:30

The Prince of basketball

by peggy stiles

David Prince is probably the most improved player on the UNC-W basketball team.

David is a 6ft., 3in. junior from Cope, S.C. Playing at a forward position, he carries a large portion of the rebounding and scoring load.

Averaging 13.5 points per game, David is consistently scoring in double figures. He also leads the team in rebounding with 7 per game and is second in blocking shots.

With a soft touch, David hits a good percentage of his shots. Against Atlantic Christian, he hit 10 out of 13 attempts from the floor and scored 23 points.

His great jumping ability allows him to play against opponents much taller than he is. "I like to drive in close to the basket to get an easy shot or draw a foul," says David.

In high school he averaged 25 points per game. In his senior year his team managed an amazing 23-2 record and won the district championship.

"This is UNC-W best season and it's great to be a part of it," David says. "To make the playoffs, we have to play every game as if it is DO OR DIE!"

"I would love to play professional basketball when I graduate, but I can always fall back on my major," David continues. He is majoring in recreation.

David's consistency has helped UNC-W a lot this year. The Seahawks are fortunate to have him returning to next season's basketball squad.

BOBBY O'DONNELL SETS UP TWO IN THE GAME between Elon before spring break...

INTRAMURAL TOURNAMENT

The women's intramural basketball tournament is already in progress. There are six teams involved which include Keeton, Penthouse 6, the Faculty, 4th floor, the 5th Floor Fillies, and the PE Majors.

As it stands now, the 5th Floor Fillies will play Keeton to determine the first and second places. The faculty will play the PE Majors to deterner between 4th Floor and Penthouse 6. These two winners will play for the third and fourth places.

Another sport in the planning stage is the intramural bowling. This is open to men and women and will be held at the Bowling Center. This is a single competition only. There are 35 people signed up to compete.

Budweiser.

KING OF BEERS

When you say Budweiser, you've said it all!

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

Where pizza is always in good taste

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

3617 Market Street

There's more to cycling than a bicycle. And your RALEIGH dealer has more of the things that make cycling safer and more fun.

LIFE CYCLES
4209 Oleander Drive
Community Shopping Center
Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility. Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings - as an Air Force pilot or navigator. After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more. Now is the best time to apply.

SGT. JERRY T. LEWIS
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N. C.
Phone: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

Drink and be merry. What the morrow brings. No mortal knoweth. Wherefore toil or run? Spend while they mayest, eat, fit on present things. Thy hopes and wishes: Me and death are one. One moment, grasp life's goods: to them they fall. Dead, thou hast nothing, and another at

— Pegasus (Geddy's Smith Jr.)

"Our Beverage Prices Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art, Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE and HOPS SHOP

Terry and Marty Frigden
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

formerly the Peter Serkin quartet talented, unusual Tashi plays Wednesday

by mary jones

Four young people, combining their musical talents to form a group called "Tashi," will perform in Kenan Auditorium on Wednesday, March 13 at 8 p. m.

"Tashi" is being sponsored by the University Music Series. Students will be admitted with their I. D.'s.

The program will consist entirely of the works of Brahms.

One piece, Brahms' "Horn Trio," will be performed by a violin, horn and piano. A friend of the group will appear as guest artist to play the horn.

The "Horn Trio" is very colorful and offers many unusual features. It opens quietly, producing a bleak, tragic feeling, but builds up to a lively finale.

"Tashi" performs music that works well with its instrumentation: a piano, violin, cello and clarinet.

Peter Serkin, who is pianist for the group, has performed for many other groups and ensembles, including the Toronto, Boston and San Francisco symphonies, the New York Philharmonic, and the Budapest, Guarneri and Galimier String Quartets.

Serkin has an interest for rarely heard music, as evidenced by his recordings on RCA, Columbia and Vanguard.

The violinist, Ida Kavafian, was born in Istanbul, Turkey, of Armenian descent. She performed as a soloist for the New York Chamber Orchestra at Philharmonic Hall's Mostly Mozart Festival last season, and has appeared frequently on television with other groups.

Ms. Kavafian is a student of Oscar Shumsky at the Juilliard School, and is preparing for her 1974-75 recital debuts in Paris and London.

Fred Sherry, who plays cello for the group, has performed with almost all of the leading new music groups. These include the Group for Contemporary Music, and the Contemporary Chamber Ensemble. He has also been a member of the Galimier String Quartet.

Stoltzman recently recorded "A Gift" with Peter Serkin and Bill Douglas on Orion Records.

Until recently, "Tashi" was known as the "Peter Serkin Quartet." "Tashi" is a Sanskrit word meaning "good fortune."

Brothers, Sisters needed

Recruits for a Big Brother, Big Sister Program are being sought. Orientation for interested persons will be held today, March 11, at 4 p. m. in room 217 of the Alderman Administration Building. No commitment at this meeting. Ask for more details from Dr. James Slager with the Counseling at Testing Center.

Don't read this

For those of you who missed the notice on page two, the Seahawk newspaper will not be published this Friday, due to the fact it was published Monday, March 11. Look for the Seahawk in all the regular places next Friday, March 22.

Scholarship bars females.

American college endorsements of "male only" Rhodes scholarship applicants may be illegal under the 1972 Education Amendment, according to a spokesperson for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, known as HEW.

Title IX of the Education Amendment bars sex discrimination by educational institutions receiving federal financial assistance.

HEW's office must now determine what constitutes "sex discrimination" when Cecil S. Rhodes's will set up the scholarship for men only.

An act from the British Parliament would be necessary to change the will stipulations.

tricks 'o the trade

BORED? NOT AT THE "CLUB"...

by jay tilley

If things continue to change at the present pace, it will not be long before the automobile becomes an obsolete means of transport-tation, and our main source of food will come from our own gardens.

If this ever evolves into reality, ask yourself - "Where could I live like this and still attend college?"

The answer is Country Club Apartments. It is easily within biking distance from the UNC-W campus, and believe it or not there is garden space available for residents who wish to grow their own - food, of course.

Besides these benefits, Country Club has recently added two new full-length outdoor basketball courts and is in the process of building a softball field.

If this does not offer enough activity and entertainment, then there is the tennis court and the swimming pool.

Gloria Todd manages the apartments. Her rapport with the tenants is unique. Instead of a dreaded landlady, she is a friend to virtually everyone who lives at Country Club. She informed me that everyone who lives at Country Club.

She informed me that students wishing to move into the apartments by the end of August, or the fall term, should apply for an apartment in April or May.

If you would like the privacy of living off-campus but still share a lot of the benefits of living on campus - Country Club may be just what you are looking for.

BLACK AWARENESS WEEK

march 10 - 16

apparel factory outlet

Misses' &
Jr. Miss
Denim JEANS

from $5.61

baggies
flares
bells

Men's Denim
Jeans

from $5.54

Hand Carved Belts - $6.97

10-6 sat. FREE PARKING 10-9 mon.-fri

4204 OLEANDER DRIVE

Jade East Motel

2101 So. Atlantic Ave. (A1A)
DAYTONA BEACH, FLORIDA

Tel. 804 - 252-8546

ON THE OCEAN

"World's Most Famous Beach"

TWO POOLS, COLOR TV, GAMEROOM

- We Are In The Middle of the Action -

"Come on down and LOUNGE around"

No Shoes Required - Sleep Late

Write or Call NOW!

Classifieds

* Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are urged to put their classified ads in the SEAHAWK free -- FREE, ie, no charge. Let us give you a break.

personal

STEREO UNIT: 8 track tape player, AM-FM radio and turn table, $200. Call 799-1586; ask for Dean.

WATERBEDS: New king size beds, $25. Also beanbags. Call Herbie at 791-9325.

1969 MOBILE HOME: 12 x 65 foot, 2 bedrooms, bath, central air conditioning. For appointment, call between 6 and 8 p.m. at 285-3747.

PORTABLE T.V.: Sears silver-tone 19 inch screen with VHP and UHP antennas. Excellent condition physically and mechanically. $50.

STEREO COMPONENTS: Most major brands! 20 - 50% off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

TYPING: Call the professional. All varieties of typing including manuscripts, resumes, term papers and dissertations, 75¢ a page for double spaced typing. Price includes grammar, punctuation and spelling corrections. Call Kathy after 4:30 p.m. at 791-5541 or 799-4385.

SKY DIVING LESSONS: To be taught this spring. Course enrollment now through March. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinois after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

SEWING & ALTERATIONS: Call 799-5531.

CUSTOM LEATHER WORK: Call 763 - 4371 anytime.

RED IRISH SETTERS: Pups, AKC registered, wormed and shots. Five generation pedigree with the Field Dog Stud Book Certified Pedigree. Can be seen at Albert Joyner's residence, 2511 Wrightsville Avenue, or call 762 - 4742 or 443 - 3010, Rocky Mount.

NEED DIVING GEAR? Have just obtained U. S. divers dealership for 1974. Very low mark - up, terrific savings. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinois after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

GENETICS BOOK: Used only one day being sold for $6.50. See John Wilkins in the Pub between 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

PAPERS TYPED: 50¢ for the first five pages; 40¢ for each page thereafter. Dial 458-8768.

MUSIC BOOK: Music literature book for sale. Call 791-4483.

NURSING UNIFORMS: New! Never been worn; size 6 (28). Ask for Betsy at 799-0595.

35 mm CAMERA: Want to buy Pentax, Miranda, etc. See F. Allen in room 115, Hoggard Hall.

LADIES WETSUIT: 2 piece, 1/4" women's small to medium wetsuit in good condition. Ask for Debbie at 791-9108.

1958 TRAILER FOR SALE: Two bedroom, will take offer. Contact David Harris at the Residence Hall, room 332.

FOR SALE: surf board 6'2" Corky Carroll Spacestick, 1 yr old. $70 7915013 Bill.

FOR SALE: 8 solid pine bar w/ 3 stools $75 over 25 yrs old 7916113
1968 Rambler - full power asking $750. buy make an offer. 7917113

FM-AM receiver & turntable 8 track 2-4 channel switch 2orlg. & 2 comm. speakers, $100 rm. 322

AM-FM receiver & turntable 4 speakers 2-4 channel switch $320 new sell $130 perfect condition rm. 317

FUR COAT: a '20's classic for $25. firm. Good condition in size 8. Must be seen to be appreciated. Call 763-8714.

BLACK VELVET COAT: Long, warm coat with character and class -- excellent condition -- $25. firm in size 10-12.

JAPANESE MINK COAT: Another classic -- excellent condition -- $50. firm. Size 10-12. Call 763-8714.

MOTORCYCLE HELMETS: Two helmets, male and female for sale -- $10 or make offer. Size medium. Dial 763-8714.

OAK BARRELS: Best offer for these large and small barrels. Call 763-8714.

SURFBOARD: 7' 2", 19" wide semi-gun board built strictly for Puerto Rico and reef type breaks. $50 or best offer. Dial 763-8714.

for sale

53 "OLD FAITHFUL" CHEVY: Lively enough to get you anywhere in town. Inquire at 762-4886 in the evenings after 6 p.m., and in the mornings before 9 a.m. One car owner!

1967 MG: Red convertible w/ black top. 32 - 35 miles per gallon; new interior, new tires and new battery. Good condition. Call 285 - 4773 after 5 p.m. on the weekdays.

HONDA 305 CC: Rebuilt motor; runs good. Must sell $175. Call 763-8623.

1964 VW106,000 mi-engine rebuilt at 80000, new front end at 100,000. Body fair-green $500. Terry Workman, 502 M. Lumina basement after 5:00

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: power steering and radio. Only $1000. Dial 799-3765.

1972 VW VAN: Rear seat opens to bed; radio; carpeting and curtains. Good condition, $2850. Call Ned Martin at 791-4330 (ext. 321) from 9-5 weekdays.

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

1961 CADILLAC: Excellent shape with all accessories, power steering, brakes, air conditioning. Best offer: 799-4738, or contact at Dorm room 223 anytime. Ask for James.

1968 FORD LTD: Station wagon with power steering and brakes, air conditioning and new tires. In great shape. $995. Call 256-2526 or 256-2227.

1972 VEGA: Panelwagon with 28,000 miles in excellent condition. $1700. Call 762-6144.

1961 MIGHTY MITE JEEP: American Motors jeep, marine surplus, aluminum body, V-4 aluminum air-cooled engine, 4 wheel drive, independent suspension, 4 speed with spare transmission. Good condition. Call 791-0587 after 5 p.m., or 686-0301 (ext. 64) between 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

1971 MGB ROADSTER: New radials, new paint job - 21,000 miles - very clean. $2195. After 5 p.m. call Lamar at 762-2383.

1967 DODGE POLARA: Good condition white polara with automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes and air conditioning. Contact Wayne Barbee in the Residence Hall, room 424.

wanted

 OPENINGS FOR REPORTERS: The SEAHAWK newspaper is looking for reporters for the spring semester. Leave name and phone number or dorm number on the bulletin board on the office door, or ask someone in the office.

Yes

Wadovia

for rent

BEDROOM AND BATH: In Hanover Heights area with kitchen privileges. Call 791-8330.

FIGURE EIGHT ISLAND: Room and board on Figure 8 Island with sm!! salary to congenial girl willing to do light housework. If interested, call Sylvia Blanford at 686-0369 or 791-6790.

rides

 WOULD you like to Save GAS?
* Join our car pool from Jacksonville. Call: 34-6704 Dan, 4550502 Ronald, 3533971 Helen COMFORTABLE ROOM: With kitchen privileges if needed. $15 per week includes utilities. Call Mrs. Cottle at 763-0289.

FOLDING BED: Three quarter bed for $30. Call 791-6388 or 686-0002.

P. A. SPEAKERS: Two custom P. A. column 4" 12" speakers in each. Also one 7" deep rogers dyna sonic snare drum, and a Motorola portable television set. Call 791-1429. Leave name and number.

SMALL REFRIGERATOR: Perfect for dorm room. $60. (Think how much you rent one for over a year.) See John at Unive. City Arms Apartments, 4903-A.

CRISIS LINE -
anytime
763 - 3695

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club
APARTMENTS
Luthwater Drive just off Market Street

- Well-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen area
- Major appliances, refrigerator, garbage disposal
- Individually-controlled air conditioning
- Large swimming pool. Central laundry facilities

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished $135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished $149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished $160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished $185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT ...

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Luthwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take a left onto Luthwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Luthwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

what's happenin'

MONDAY

- 4 p. m. -- Persons interested in working with the Big Brother/Big Sister program should meet with Dr. James Slager in 217 of the Alderman Administration Building. There is no commitment at the first meeting.
- 5 p. m. -- Artists should have work to be displayed in the Twelfth Annual Lower Cape Fear Art Exhibition turned in to the UNC-W Art Department.
- 8 p. m. -- Thelma Yarborough lectures for Black Awareness Week in Kenan Auditorium. Admission free.

TUESDAY

- 11:30 a. m. -- Student Senate meets in the upstairs Pub.
- 7 p. m. -- Phi Mu Fraternity meets at the home of Boni Jo Fries on Kenwood Avenue. Executive meeting at 6:30 p. m.
- 8 p. m. -- Fine Arts Committee presents the film, "Soldier Blue," in Kenan Auditorium.

WEDNESDAY

- 8 p. m. -- University Music Series will feature the Peter Serkin Quartet in Kenan Auditorium.

SATURDAY

- 8 p. m. -- Events for Black Awareness Week continue with a Black jazz band in Kenan Auditorium. No admission charge.

SUNDAY

- 3 p. m. -- UNC-W Music Department will present Doug Thornton on the viola in Kenan Auditorium.

Car keys found

Lost and found items can be best be located by checking with Ms. Linda Moore in her office in the Pub.

Items in the office include two knitted wool hats, sunglasses, p. scriptio, glasses, a ring, several sets of car keys including a Chrysler or Plymouth key, a couple of Volkswagen keys, a couple of General Motors' keys, a pipe, some mimeographed biology lab notes, some books, a lot of notebooks, a thermos, a shirt, a sport coat, a jacket and a ring.

Come by the office to claim what you may have lost, or bring what you find around campus.

THE TRANSPLANT

The clouds look like the end of the world today the way the preacher from my childhood pictured it.

We never waited for it, being busy sorting out beginnings, feeling daydreams incubate inside our soul, watching worlds and people die and live again.

The universe is young. Earth is just a child, and God has family interests far too dear to sacrifice an enterprise so pregnant with a promise.

Who knows where or when the end? My hands hold feathered time. Clouds and tearing storm will come again, then the sun.

by the Reverend Milton Boone
Campus Minister

The Reverend Milton Boone, campus minister at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, knows not an office to confine him, but can be found around the grounds eager to talk, to listen to you. Look for "The Transplant" each week in the Seahawk newspaper.

PIZZA HUT

NOON SPECIAL: Any small 10" Pizza with single ingredient $1.19

Good 11 am til 2 pm

SPAGHETTI IS HERE! $1.35

Fresh Crisp Salad 45¢
(to go - 50¢)

INTRODUCTORY SPECIAL

Take this buck to the 4016 Oleander Drive Pizza Hut and get a dollar off on any large Pizza Hut Pizza or 50c off on any small pizza.

PIZZA HUT UNRESERVED NOTE

PIZZA HUTS OF WILMINGTON

Limit 1 Pizza Hut
Dollar per pizza
Offer may be withdrawn at any time without notice.

Redeemable with the purchase
of any LARGE-SIZE PIZZA

at 4016 OLEANDER DR.

799-3650

3406 MARKET ST.
763-3418

Pizza Hut Pete
PIZZA HUT PETE

ONE PIZZA HUT BUCK

See inside for info on new and different courses being offered during the summer sessions. Pre-register on Monday, March 25.

seahawk

Check pages 6 and 7 to read what the candidates have to say. There are pictures of some of the candidates for those of you who can't read...

university of north carolina at wilmington

March 22, 1974

we care about
ENDANGERED WILDLIFE

NATIONAL WILDLIFE WEEK
MARCH 17-23 1974

SPONSORED BY THE NATIONAL WILDLIFE FEDERATION AND STATE AFFILIATES

to the editor

The 'young' Asbury is condemned

To the Editor;

I read with great interest the article on the mishaps and misfortunes of Barry Asbury. I would appreciate it, if you would publish the identity of the reporter of the controversial article. I have been talking with many of my distinguished peers, and there is a strong suspicion that young Asbury wrote the article himself. Let us hope the SEAHAWK is not guilty of such unprofessional bias.

Getting down to the "Asbury Gets Screwed" even if the secretary in the gym is guilty of the charges brought against her, there is no excuse for the young Asbury to sink to such an ill-mannered and "polite" level.

The administration, and Dr. Malloy in particular, is to be congratulated for the disciplinary measures taken. Asbury.

In closing, the SEAHAWK is to be condemned for trying to pass off an editorial in the disguise of a feature story. This is not the Hanover Sun, Ms. Hicks. In the future, please mark editorials as such. Thank you for your time, space and consideration.

Stephen W. Vallender

Editor's note: Alas! We have been discovered! The disguise couldn't have been all bad -- it was intended to be a news story, not a feature story. We tried but we couldn't do it. (Anybody wanna buy a used mask?) -- Ms. Hicks

SEAHAWK POLICY

By publishing the campaign stories and pictures of the candidates on pages 6, 7, and 8, the Seahawk newspaper is in no way endorsing these candidates. These students showed an interest in having their ideas published before elections on March 28 and 29.

better if we're all going to join our author on the mountain instead of doing something about solving the messes.

This criticism may be unfair. The writer of the letter may have done none of these things in mind. Hopefully he didn't.

Nevertheless, we need to be aware of the fact that certain things are wrong in the world today, and we need to be at the ready to do as much as we can to correct as much of the disorder as possible.

For if the day should come when we are unable to keep on the battling back then the line to the mountain of your choice forms on the right.

Editor's note: The article to which Earl Vaughn is referring to was not written by the editor, Beth Hicks, but by David Crews in his column, The Gadfly.

"We finally convinced him it's the only way to prove he'd never be involved in a cover-up..."

here we go...

COMPLAINMENT DIDN'T LOOK

by earl vaughn

In a recent edition of the Seahawk, editor Beth Hicks wrote an editorial in response to a letter complaining about the low intellectual level of the magazines offered in the student store.

The editor defended the bookstore, praising it for offering such a good selection with such limited space, and deriding the author of the letter for his "poor criticism of the books and magazines."

But let's take a closer look at the gripe put forward by the letter's author. A shortage of intellectual magazines on campus? That's a bit hard to grasp.

What about the library? The complainant has been looking hard for his intellectual publications.

Unfortunately, the author of the letter didn't stop at criticizing the selection of material in the student store. He went so far, though he tried to cover it up with "nice words," as to elevate himself to a level above that of the "working class per se."

A statement like that puts his intellect in question. Obviously, the author has never heard of common sense, something which certain members of the "working class per se" have a lot of, mostly gained from the experience of life and not from reading "intellectual magazines." Playwright George Bernard Shaw (heard of him?) had a pretty high regard for common sense. He summed up his view when he said, "Common sense is instinct. Enough of it is genius."

Since the author seems to have nothing to learn from the workers of the world, he'd probably like to go climb a mountain somewhere to be alone in his thoughts and contemplate life.

No doubt, that would be nice, but for anyone who cares about the world today, it is totally impractical.

There are few problems facing this globe. Some of them are an infraction, poverty, something called an energy crisis, and none of it is getting better. And it won't get

seahawk

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

Published on Fridays by students at the university of north carolina at wilmington, deadline for publication is monday before the friday publication. our office is located downstairs in the pub. telephone 791-8055.

editor: beth hicks
associate editors: barry asbury
j. k. mihleman
advertising director: barry asbury
business manager: alan murphy sports editor: robert marev news editor: eugene mckinnis

photographic staff: roberta alred
nauma dozier
neal hushley
zack sessions
supportive staff: linda boughn
layne lockamy
anne nesbitt
darien pearson

Proposed at the university has been a publications board composed of the vice chancellor of student affairs, the director of student activities, editors of the SEAHAWK, ATLANTIS and the FLEDGLING, and the advisors of the three student publications.

Duties of the proposed publications board would include:

1. To select students to fill any positions with the publications that carry salary, scholarship or course credit.

2. To set dates for accepting applications for those positions and for selecting students to fill positions.

3. To be the initial arbiter in disputes arising within the publications.

The proposed publications board was discussed at a meeting of the Student Affairs yesterday. Results of the meeting were not available at time of printing.

board urged

MARSHALL
LIVE CARICATURES
COURTESY THE CHANCE

"ONCE A CAMPUS REVOLUTIONARY, ALWAYS A CAMPUS REVOLUTIONARY!"

SHORTS FROM CPS

UNION FILES SUIT FOR BLACK RIGHTS

The American Civil Liberties Union has filed a one million dollar suit on behalf of a young black North Carolina woman who was sterilized without consent.

Elaine Trent, at age 14 was sterilized after giving birth to a son in a North Carolina hospital in March 1968.

According to the ACLU suit, Trent's grandmother, who can neither read or write, was asked to mark an "A" on a hospital consent form she did not understand. The irreversible sterilization was then performed without Trent's knowledge or consent, ACLU claims.

The 19-year-old woman was married last year but her husband now plans to leave because she cannot give him any children, the suit claims.

This is the second ACLU suit filed against the state of North Carolina regarding a sterilization operation performed on a minor.

A recent ACLU report cited in the suit indicates that the vast number of these operations are performed on young black women in the state.

STUDENTS ASK FOR CONDOMS

Students at Calhoun Hall at the University of Cincinnati are locked in a continuing struggle to persuade the university to allow condoms to be sold in that residence hall.

The battle between the residents and the university administration has been going on for two years now, and neither side is willing to give in to the other or to a compromise.

Calhoun Hall residents have formed a Calhoun Hall Condom Committee and are serious about getting a condom vending machine in the dorm. The group feels that easy access to the condoms will cut down on the incidence of venereal disease among residents and provide a method of birth control both simple and inexpensive to use.

Any vending machine, however, must be approved by the Sales and Solicitations Committee of the university, which keeps a strong foothold on their refusal of such a machine. The university committee feels that a condom machine would have little impact on venereal disease, and that students who want condoms can purchase them at any local business near the campus.

SCHOOL CHILDREN IDENTIFY WITH MCDONALD'S

Boasting more than 13 billion hamburgers sold, McDonald's has become the largest food outlet in America.

Selling more than $1.03 billion worth of food last year, the chain is ahead of the United States Army, now ranking second place as the largest food distributor in America.

A recent survey showed that 96% of American school children can identify with Ronald McDonald, placing him second behind Santa Claus -- and way ahead of Richard Nixon.

SEE SEE SEE
RALEIGH AD
...PAGE 10...

Master Instruction in
KARATE KUNG FU
JU-JITSU KEMPO
OPEN MONDAY-THURSDAY
FOR INSTRUCTION AND WORKOUT
$20.00 MONTH
SELF DEFENSE INSTRUCTION FOR MEN, WOMEN & CHILDREN
STOVER'S
ACADEMY OF SELF DEFENSE

John Stover, 4th Degree Black Belt
Community Shopping Center, Olander Drive
Call 791-6399 or 763-8083 for information.

SLAUGHTERHOUSE-FIVE

A Universal Picture in TECHNICOLOR

Aigner CLOGS
Sandler Weejuns
Bandolino Amalfi
ESPADRILLES
SUNSHINE

SHOE-SHAK
CANCELLATION SHOES
1051 South College Road

SONATA
$90-$1000
WED. RING
$75.00

APOLLO
$350-$1000
WED. RING
$150

Love Is
A Giving
Thing

When you give a perfect Keepsake, backed by our written guarantee, you can be sure there is no finer diamond ring. Every Keepsake is permanently registered and protected against loss.

Keepsake

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

28 N Front St. • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

john lehti

CARTOONIST JOHN LEHTI, creator of "Tales from the Great Book" featured in top newspapers in the United States and abroad for more than eighteen years, will be at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington on Monday night, March 25, at 8 p. m. in Kenan Auditorium. Students will be admitted free with their identification cards only.

RALEIGH

The Richardson Corporation
Insurance

501 Carolina Power & Light Building

763-5445

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

CARTOONIST TO LECTURE
MONDAY NIGHT

On Monday night at 8 p. m. the Fine Arts Committee at the university will present John Lehti, cartoonist, in a lecture demonstration program. There will be a small admission fee for the general public, and students at the university will be admitted with an I. D.

Born in Bay Bridge, Brooklyn, New York, Lehti was educated at the Art Student League, National Academy of Design, Beaux Art Institute and the Grand Central School of Art. In the 1930's he began his career as an illustrator and writer of western and detective stories. He saw the immense possibility in the newly innovated comic book format and in 1936 he plunged into the field.

He helped shape and develop the comic book format into the purely American art form of today. His "Crimson Avenger" has become a collector's item. Lehti was associated with the famous editor, Emil Gauvreau, who discovered Walter Winchell.

During World War II he served as staff sergeant in the 104th Infantry in Europe. After four years of Army life, he worked as a magazine editor and advertising artist. During the 1940's he was signed by William Randolph Hearst to create, write and draw a circus strip, "Tommy of the Big Top." He drew "Lassie" and the popular TV series, "Space Cadets," as well as "Flash Gordon" comic books.

Story-boards were created by him for the animated cartoon series, "Mighty Hercules." More recently, he created and supervised the production of an animated cartoon film series, based on the Sunday newspaper feature, "Tales from the Great Book," which has appeared for the last eighteen years in the top newspapers in the United States, South America, Mexico and Europe.

John Lehti lives in Goshen, N. Y., with his wife, Jean, two dogs, three cats and varying number of horses. He enjoys riding and golf.

For his outstanding work with "Tales from the Great Book," he was awarded the George Washington Bronze Medal Award from the Freedom Foundation, Valley Forge.

new courses offered this Summer

The purpose of summer school is for enrichment, to make up deficiencies and for innovation. New courses will be featured this session including Tropical Biology which will be taught in South America, French and Spanish courses for tourists; Analytical Chemistry in the Environment; Mass Communication in Society; a course in Anthropology entitled Topics in Marine Archaeology that will cover sunken ships and excavation of land sites, and again, nurses will go to Goldsboro for a five weeks training study. A course, Therapeutic Recreation, will be offered for the first time.

Students are urged to pre-register for summer session on Monday, March 25. As accurate a number as possible is needed in order to make plans for and experiment with new programs and courses. Students should especially note that registration for both of the summer sessions will be held at the same time as registration for the fall semester of 1974.

VOTE!

WILMINGTON FIRE TRUCKS RACED (25 minutes?) to the scene of a "mini-fire" staged at the UNC-W Residence Hall when some smart $*¢ threw a cherry bomb down the chute to the Dempsey Dumpster. Dorm life was disrupted for 45 minutes to an hour while more than 600 students, caught in the midst of changing clothes, stood in their pajamas in the cool night air. Streakers, half-streakers(?) and "mooners" were a highlight of the escapades.

Bahá'u'lláh
THE GLORY OF GOD

Bahá'u'lláh is the latest in the succession of Divine Messengers sent by God since the beginning of man's existence. He is the Promised One of all religions. His coming ushers in the Age of Fulfillment mentioned in all the prophecies of the past. Bahá'u'lláh brings God's Plan for world peace, world justice and world unity.

FOR INFORMATION:

Bahá'í Faith

call 791-6264
or 256-2802

JACK

CALL HIM EIGHT BALL

by Debbie Lewis

The internationally famous pocket billiard and trick shot artist, Jack White, will be appearing in the Pub on April 1 for two shows at 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. During one of the shows he will play the UNC-W billiard tournament winner.

Born into the game, Jack White hails from California. His family has been in the billiards supply company for 57 years. White became the youngest touring professional, having been introduced to the game when he was eight years old.

He has appeared as a professional instructor, and he introduced "Poker Billiard Clinics." White has appeared on numerous television shows and in magazines. He was awarded the "Doctor of Poolology" plaque from the University of Notre Dame in 1970. He has received a grand number of commendations for his performances including an invitation to play at the White House.

Jack White has been featured at many colleges and universities, and he has a year contract with the University of California at Los Angeles.

See this great man in the Pub April 1 at 1 p.m. or at 6 p.m. He is being sponsored by the Student Union Program Board.

trickster
in pool
April 1 Pub
watch for info

APRIL 1st WILL BE NO FOOL'S DAY when Jack White, internationally famous pocket billiard and trick shot artist, will challenge the university's tournament champion in a contest in the Pub. There will be two features, one at 1 p.m. and the second at 6 p.m. Jack White is being sponsored by the newly-formed Student Union Program Board.

RIDE ON!

*Tour America
on a
Raleigh
3-speed bicycle*

Raleigh 3-speed models are designed for the rigors of touring. Rugged frames and components, comfortable saddles and easy shifting hubs let you go places with ease. You'll find a wide choice of Raleighs too. And you're guaranteed a perfect fit with the Raleigh CustomSizer. Raleigh... a world of difference.

RALEIGH

LIFE CYCLES

4209 Oleander Drive
Community Shopping Center
Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

COME ON DOWN FOR YOUR FREE
'STREAK
FREAK' BUMPER STICKERS

SOUTHEASTERN RADIO
ELECTRONICS

Phone 791-7365

1002 S. COLLEGE ROAD

8:00-6:00 Mon - Fri

Elections To Be March 28 - 29

Elections for Student Government offices and individual class positions including class presidents, vice-presidents, secretaries, treasurers and senators will be held March 28 and 29. Booths will be set up in the cafeteria and the library, and I.D. cards will be needed to vote.

Persons interested in filling a position are asked to file a letter so stating their intentions with the Director of Student Activities Ms. Linda Moore, in her office in the Pub before March 25 at 4:30 p.m.

Constitution tests for all candidates will be given on Tuesday, March 26 at 11:30 a.m. in the upstairs Pub. The candidates will also be able to greet the student body at this time.

Keith Hales runs for SGA presidency

I, Keith Hales, would like to announce my candidacy for the office of President of the Student Body. Presently I am serving the position of Vice President of the Student Body, and from this position am better able to view objectively the problems facing Student Government, and hopefully, with this insight, be better able to deal with these problems.

I would like to urge any students interested in becoming involved with the SGA to please leave their nominating intentions with the Director of Student Activities, Ms. Linda Moore, in her office in the Pub before March 25. I would also like anyone interested in holding an appointed position to stop by the SGA office in the Pub and leave their names and the office they are seeking.

I ask all of you to please vote for me on March 28-29 so I can try to make the SGA into the organization it should be to better represent the student body as a whole.

Keith Hales
Candidate for President of the SGA

Mike McCombie is running for the vice-presidency of the SGA.

Robert Maxey has filed for the position of vice-president of the SGA.

EXHIBITION

Featuring

Internationally Famous

Pocket Billiard & Trick Shot Artist

JACK WHITE

The popular star of the pocket billiard game will devote his shows to a demonstration of billiard fundamentals, designed to show the beginner how to approach the game. He will also open his well-filled bag of trick shots.

White, one of the cleverest and amusing performers in the business, has many hats to his credit, of which perhaps the most spectacular is his high run of 318, established in Bangor, Maine.

Will Be Appearing

APRIL FOOL'S DAY

in the Pub

1 p.m. & 6 p.m.

Appeared On Numerous TV Shows

Featured In Top Magazines

World's Youngest Touring Professional

what you get when you call 800-424-8580 toll free.

ACTION is a growing movement of volunteers out to help people help themselves. It's the Peace Corps and VISTA, helping people overseas and right down the street. Please don't crawl under a rock. Get into ACTION today.

Advertising contributed for the public good.

Students announce intentions to run

As of Tuesday afternoon, March 19, the following students have filed for offices within the Student Government Association and for individual class offices. Elections will be held March 28 and 29 with booths set up in the cafeteria and the library. Nominations close Monday, March 25 at 4:30 p.m.

Keith Hales
Michael Jones

For Vice-President of the SGA, there are three candidates:

Robert Maxey
Mike McCombie
Brad Walls

Debbie Lewis runs unopposed for the office of Secretary of the SGA.

Rocky Moore has announced his candidacy for president of the senior class.

Steve Burnett has applied for the position of sophomore class president.

Robert Jones is running for junior class president unopposed.

There are two nominations for vice-president of the sophomore class:

Chuck Balser
John Gates

Candidate for secretary of the sophomore class is Beth Hicks.

Several people have filed for candidates as sophomore senators:

Tim Allison
Rufus Butler
Gary Coburn
David Crocker
Clay Fairley
Donpaui Ivers
Ricky Patton

For President of the SGA, two students have announced their candidacy:

What is SGA Doing?

Have you ever wondered what the SGA is doing? If you have, the SGA is not doing an important part of its job.

The SGA is supposed to represent the students. How can the government represent the students' views if the students don't know what the SGA is going on? How can the students know what is going on if they are not informed? It is the responsibility of the elected officials to keep their constituents informed or at least provide a means, easily accessible to ALL students, where by they may keep themselves informed. It is certainly not the place of the voter to be scrambling for bits and pieces of rumors of what is going on in their government. One conspicuous case of student elections. If you wished to seek office where would you sign up? What are the qualifications? When are the elections?

There are no posters, signs or bulletins of any kind to provide this necessary information to the prospective office seekers. How then, do our ballots get names on them?

There are two ways: The present official tells his or her buddy that elections are going to be held and they should sign up here, etc., etc. Then there are those concerned (and a little angry) few who diligently seek out the information -- hopefully in time to run.

I cannot promise what will be done to remedy this situation; I have many ideas on the subject. I will say this, however -- a vote for me is a vote for returning your government to you. Help me give you the power that is yours.

Gary W. Cuburn
Sophomore candidate for the Senate

Belonging...

Running for the vice presidency of the Sophomore class is Chuck Balser, who feels that students need a greater sense of belonging not only on campus but in the community.

"Since many students live off campus I feel it is vital that out students 'get it together' and become involved so changes that are needed can be effected. 'I hope to provide the leadership needed to reach this goal.'"

Policy

By publishing these particular campaign stories and pictures of the candidates, the Seahawk is not in any way endorsing these candidates.

GET OFF
YOUR ASS!

WINNER 1972 CANNES
FILM FESTIVAL
JURY PRIZE AWARD
Only American Film
to be so Honored

A GEORGE ROY HILL PAUL MONASH PRODUCTION
SLAUGHTERHOUSE
-FIVE

MICHAEL SACKS RON LEHRMAN VALENTI PERRELLI
A Universal Picture in "TECHNICOLOR"

Tuesday March 26 8 p.m.
Kenan Auditorium

OLEANDER
Cinema 2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

DOUBLE FEATURE
LATE SHOW
& EARLY SHOW!

THE BEATLES (G)

EARLY
SHOW
SATURDAY MORNING
at 10:00
A.M.

'YELLOW SUBMARINE'
& 'LET IT BE'

LATE SHOW FRIDAY & SATURDAY NIGHT
at 11:30 P.M.
Adults $2.00 Children under 12...$1.00

OLEANDER DRIVE — 779-3950

OLEANDER
Cinema 1&2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

N-O-W at 2-4-6-8-10 Those Wild "Trinity Boys" in all New Fast-Furious-Fun!
...One Hilarious Tail-Spin of FUN & LAUGHS!

2nd Smashing Week at 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30 South of Thunder Road' on the other side of Boggy Creek...Filmed in the Bootleg Hills of the South IN COLOR (PG)

CHARLES B. PIERCE'S

BOOTLEGGERS

LONG LEAF
Cinema 1&2

LONG LEAF MALL 799-5710 N-O-W
Shows at 1:30-3:35-5:40-7:50-9:55

AT #2

BURT LANCASTER

RATED (R)
He killed once...Will he do it Again? Excitement & Suspense filmed in Carolina!

Please See It From The Beginning!

N-O-W at 2-4-6-8-10

ONE OF THE MOST POPULAR
PICTURES OF OUR TIME!
HELD OVER FOR THE 2nd RECORD BREAKING WEEK!

Once you see

BILLY JACK

you'll not forget him.

TOM LAUGHLIN IS BILLY AND DELORES TAYLOR IS THE GIRL
• IN COLOR — RATED (PG) AT #1

ALL SEATS $1.00 UNTIL 2:30 EXCEPT SUN

ALL SEATS
MANOR
DOWNTOWN
747-7177

JON VOIGHT
in CONRANCE

One beautiful man.
His story is true.

STARTS THURSDAY
MARCH 28th

STUDENT DISCOUNT
CARDS AVAILABLE
IN MS. LINDA MOORE'S
OFFICE IN THE PUB!

Mike Jones applies as SGA president

Drink and be merry. What the morrow brings
No mortal knoweth. Wherefore toil or run?
Spend while they mayest; eat, fix on present things.
Thy hopes and wishes: life and death are one.
One moment grasp life's goods: to thee they fall.
Dead, thou hast nothing, and another all.

— Pallas
(Goldwyn Smith Jr.)

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine-Art, Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Pridden
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

To the students at UNC-W:

At this time I would like to announce my candidacy for the office of SGA President. I would also like to encourage each and every student to participate to the fullest extent possible, as a candidate or simply as a voter, in the upcoming elections. Apathy begins where participation ends.

Approximately $20 of the fees that every student pays each semester goes to the SGA. Therefore every student should have some voice in deciding where that money is to go. If elected, I can promise that every student who raises his voice on an issue will be heard. And he will receive an explanation as to why his particular recommendation was or was not followed.

The question is: will the average student make himself heard? I challenge each student to stop looking at the SGA from the outside. Instead, consider yourself one of its important elements. Only then can we begin to make the system work.

Oh yes! The system! The system of student government at UNC-W is basically sound. What is needed are minor changes that would streamline the operation. It needs to be more responsive to immediate issues. It needs to stop being a testing and practice field for debate team members and political science majors and get down to the business of actually "governing the student body." And this means you.

Without you, the individual, and without your participation, the SGA will fall prey to the small minority who will look out for their own interests at your expense. This is why almost all but a handful of concerts have been English heavy rock bands. This is why all the dances seem like mini-concerts. This is why there is no body to turn to when a professor screws you on a grade. It is time to wake up. It is time for UNC-W to grow up.

Since 1971, when I was a freshman, the student population of UNC-W has almost doubled. A new building has been added each year. Yet compared to Carolina or State we are still small. Small yes but not rinky-dink. And the difference is in attitude. We must have a positive attitude. Yes, we have grown. So we must kick off some of the small-time ways and search for ones that meet our present needs. At one time a small group could effectively run the SGA. But today a small minority can cope with the problems presented by an ever-increasing enrollment. We must all get into the act.

This is the basis, the foundation of my program, if elected: to insure that every student will have a voice and will be heard on issues of prime importance to him; and to encourage every student to use that power to participate.

If elected I will continuously strive for an "open door" policy -- open to come in and see what is happening. Open to hear complaints. Open to hear advice. Open to come in and do something. No dirty tricks. No back room politics. Everything above board and on the table.

If you believe as I do, that every student should know what and why, then I earnestly solicit your vote and support. Your vote has always counted; this time use it!

Sincerely yours,
Michael Jones

Candidate for the Presidency of the SGA

Clay Fairley has announced his candidacy for sophomore senator.

Seeking the vice-presidency of the sophomore class is John Gates.

Running for sophomore senator is Ricky Patton.

Nominated for sophomore senator is Rufus Butner.

More activities needed

by ricky patton

The University of North Carolina at Wilmington has a beautiful campus, and the college is definitely growing. In spite of this, there seems to be a lack of things to do here. I would like to see more activities of interest made available to students and more student support displayed in such activities. I feel that participation and general interest on and around the campus is essential in furthering the pride which our school and student body should have.

I am in favor of more weekend activities on campus, much like the dance last Friday night. There should be more opportunities for students to enjoy weekend life here on campus.

The student government is in charge of planning the budget for student activities. I think two important improvements can be made in this area. First, these plans should be made earlier in the year in order to have enough time to request the appearance of the groups and entertainers which the students want. Next, I feel that the budget could be planned more effectively. Cultural and educational programs are good, but if none of the students go to them they are a waste of money. The budget should be set up in such a way that it provides the students with entertainment in which they are interested, such as various rock concerts and dances. These activities would be more successful if they were publicized more widely. I do realize that our budget is limited, but the funds could probably be used more effectively.

I would also like to represent the students in decisions concerning the university. I would always be open to suggestions and ideas from the student body on any way in which obtaining an education would not only be essential, but also an enjoyable experience.

You only go around once in life.
So reach for all the gusto you can.
Even in the beer you drink.
Why settle for less?

When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

HAWKS BREAK LOSING STREAK

HOMESTAND VICTORY 7-1

The Seahawk nine broke up a five game losing streak by defeating the Guilford Quakers in our first home baseball game of the season, 7-1. In previous encounters the Seahawks dropped their first game against the North Carolina State Wolfpack, 3-2, a triple header to Florida State University. Second place national favorites in pre-season polls, and to Baptist College in Charleston.

Paul Fulton, the winning pitcher for the Seahawks, struck out nine and allowed the Quakers only seven safeties.

The Seahawks got things rolling with the first man at bat, Howie Edgerton, receiving a base hit in the first inning of play. Howie then stole second and a single by Robert Ivey drove in the first run. A double by Be Pitman brought in run number two. The Seahawks led at the end of the first inning, 2-0.

The second inning a base hit by Swain Smith and a steal set a man on second base, ready for the grand slam home run by Randy Ourt. Wolmack and Ivey got run number five and six to complete the second inning.

The Quakers threatened in the top of the sixth. With two outs and the bases loaded, a single was hit which drove in the Quaker's only run.

The Seahawks made their final run in the bottom of the eighth when Steve Gnou hit a triple and was driven home with a single by Greg Dalton.

Coach Brooks' Seahawk nine ended the game with seven runs allowing only one for the losers. The Seahawks are 1-5 in this seasons campaign.

HAWK NETTERS LOSE OPENER

The Seahawk tennis team lost their first tennis match of the season to St. Andrews, 8-1, on UNC-W courts Thursday, March 14.

Joe Goulding was the only Seahawk to score a victory in the singles division over St. Andrews player Tom Ager (6-4, 2-6, 7-5).

Other results were:

DOUG COWAN was defeated by Steve Barber 7-5, 6-2
DANNY CURRIE was defeated by Gary Fox 6-1, 6-3
PAUL DEMPSEY was defeated by Steve McAllister 6-1, 6-1
KEVIN PIACENZA was defeated by Mitch Mitchell 6-3, 6-1.

DOUBLES

GOULDING & VAIL was defeated by Fox & Finger, 6-7, 6-3, 6-3

PIAN PIACENZA & CURRIE was defeated by Ager & Mitchell, 6-4, 6-4

COWAN & DEMPSEY was defeated by McAllister & Gill-Ingham, 6-0, 6-0.

Capitalized names are for UNC-W students.

tennis schedule

Mar. 23	Campbell	HOME
Mar. 26	Methodist	away
Mar. 29	USC-Cunway	HOME
Mar. 30	USC-Sumner	HOME
April 2	NC Wesleyan	HOME
April 4	Pembroke	away
April 5	Francis Marion	HOME
April 16	St. Andrews	away
April 19	USC-Cunway	away
April 20	Francis Marion	away
April 23	ECU	HOME
April 25	Campbell	away
	Methodist	HOME

May 10 & 11 NAIA DISTRICT 29 TOURNAMENT

 denotes games at 1pm

*denotes games at 1:30

all other games will be played at 2 p.m.

golf schedule

Mar. 26	Campbell	HOME
Mar. 29	Pembroke	HOME
April 2	St. Andrews	away
April 5	Campbell	away
April 7
April 8	Charlotte Tournament	away
April 9
April 12	St. Andrews	HOME
April 16	Francis Marion	away
April 17	Atlantic Christian	away
April 19	Pembroke	away
April 23, 24, & 25	NAIA DISTRICT TOURNAMENT	To be announced

All games will tee off at 1pm except for a 12:30 game against AC.

FIVE

'Surprise people / Serve
MICHELOB.

MICHELOB
J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.

Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings - as an Air Force pilot or navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

SGT. JERRY T. LEWIS
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N. C.
Phone: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

WE REPAIR ALL AUDIO EQUIPMENT

-TOP LP'S - 8 TR. TAPES - CASSETTES - UNDERGROUND LP'S-

In the laidback atmosphere of everyday out-of-gasoline days, there now emerges a shop that wants your business and cares about you. If you have a sound or music problem, let us hear about it; maybe we can help. Our prices are reasonable & our advice is free.

We went into business to help satisfy you - not to make a million.

PERSONAL ATTENTION-SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

Sigma Sound

4406 WRIGHTSVILLE AVE.

DR. DEAS PERFORMS IN RECITAL

by mary jones

Dr. Richard Deas, chairman of the UNC-W music department, will present a recital on March 28 at 8 p. m. in Kenan Auditorium.

The program will consist of works of Bach, Schubert, Liszt, Chopin and Benjamin Lees. Dr. Deas will open the program with three of the preludes and fugues from Bach's "Well-Tempered Clavier," a work Bach composed to prove that a new system of tuning was possible.

The entire selection consists of forty-eight preludes and fugues, which are written in all of the twelve major and twelve minor keys.

One of Schubert's shorter sonatas will follow in the program. The "Sonata in A Major" contains three movements, each with its own set of highly lyrical themes. Three preludes by Benjamin Lees are included in the program in the third part of the recital. Lees, an American born in China, composed these preludes in 1962.

Three works from the Romantic Era will close the recital.

Franz Liszt's "Sonetto 104 del Petrarca" was composed in 1848 after Liszt was inspired by Petrarch's "Sonnet 104." Petrarch's sonnet tells of the anguish of a lover and Liszt depicts the tears and the sighs of the lover through his music.

One of Chopin's etudes will conclude the program. It, along with the "Revolutionary Etude," was written when Chopin, a Polish patriot, was depressed over the fall of Warsaw.

Dr. Deas began playing the piano when he was nine when he was a student at the Birmingham Conservatory of Music in Alabama.

He received his Bachelor's Degree from the University of New Mexico, and then went on to study at the Juilliard School in New York, where he studied under Lonny Epstein and received his Master's Degree.

After a stint in the Army, Dr. Deas received his doctorate degree from Columbia University.

He taught at the arts-oriented Bennett College in New York before coming to the University of North Carolina at Wilmington in 1970. During this time, he presented two recitals at Carnegie Hall.

In 1972, Dr. Deas

and an associate made a recording for the Candide label. The recording is made up of the works of Sarte, a rebel composer, who wrote "Pieces in the Form of a Pear" when critics accused him of not having a musical form.

The March 28 recital is one of several given each year by the university music faculty.

MARCH 28

WINNER 1972 CANNES FILM FESTIVAL JURY PRIZE AWARD Only American Film to be so Honored

A GEORGE ROY HILL-PAUL MONASH PRODUCTION

SLAUGHTERHOUSE-FIVE

"One of the most daring, original, and totally fascinating pictures ever made."

Rex Reed,
NY Daily News

starring MICHAEL SACKS · RON LEIBMAN · VALERIE PERRINE

Based on the novel by KURT VONNEGUT, JR. · Screenplay by Stephen Geller · Directed by George Roy Hill · Produced by Paul Monash

Music by Glenn Gould · A Universal Picture in TECHNICOLOR

UNIVERSAL PICTURES PRESENTS

TUESDAY MARCH 26 8 p. m. KENAN AUDITORIUM

Burnett runs

Freshman Steve Burnett, who has announced his candidacy for the presidency of the sophomore class will be distributing questionnaires about the university asking for support for his campaign and urging students to take the time and effort to show they do have an interest in UNC-W. The forms can be put in the boxes by Ms. Linda Moore's office in the Pub or in the specified box in the Residence Hall.

We've improved our Record.

The Raleigh Record for '73 has improvements and refinements. Already our most popular 10-speed cycle, the new Record will undoubtedly go on to new heights. See the new Record soon. And let us show you how we can guarantee that your Record will fit you perfectly with our exclusive Raleigh CustomSizer™. Raleigh... a world of difference.

RALEIGH

LIFE CYCLES

4209 Oleander Drive
Community Shopping Center
Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

CLASSIFIED

★ Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are urged to put their classified ads in the SEAHAWK free -- FREE, ie, no charge. Let us give you a break.

personal

STEREO UNIT: 8 track tape player, AM-FM radio and turn table, $200. Call 799-1586; ask for Dean.

WATERBEDS: New king size beds, $25. Also beanbags. Call Herbie at 791-9325.

1969 MOBILE HOME: 12 x 65 foot, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, central air conditioning. For appointment, call between 6 and 8 p.m. at 285-3747.

PORTABLE T.V.: Sears silhouette 19 inch screen with VHP and UHP antennas. Excellent condition physically and mechanically. $50.

STEREO COMPONENTS: Most major brands! 20 - 50% off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

TYPING: Call the professional. All varieties of typing including manuscripts, resumes, term papers and dissertations, 75¢ a page for double spaced typing. Price includes grammar, punctuation and spelling corrections. Call Kathy after 4:30 p.m. at 791-5541 or 799-4385.

SKY DIVING LESSONS: To be taught this spring. Course enrollment now through March. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinois after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

SEWING & ALTERATIONS: Call 799-5531.

CUSTOM LEATHER WORK: Call 763 - 4371 anytime.

RED IRISH SETTERS: Pups, AKC registered, wormed and shots. Five generation pedigree with the Field Dog Stud Book Certified Pedigree. Can be seen at Albert Joyner's residence, 2511 Wrightsville Avenue, or call 762 - 4742 or 443 - 3010, Rocky Mount.

NEED DIVING GEAR? Have just obtained U. S. divers dealership for 1974. Very low mark - up, terrific $anings. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinois after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

GENETICS BOOK: Used only one day being sold for $6.50. See John Wilkins in the Pub between 9:30 - 11:30 a. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

PAPERS TYPED: 50¢ for the first five pages; 40¢ for each page thereafter. Dial 458-8768.

MUSIC BOOK: Music literature book for sale. Call 791-4483.

NURSING UNIFORMS: New! Never been worn; size 6 (28). Ask for Betsy at 799-0595.

35 mm CAMERA: Want to buy Pentax, Miranda, etc. See F. Allen in room 115, Hoggard Hall.

LADIES WETSUIT: 2 piece, 1/4" women's small to medium wetsuit in good condition. Ask for Debbie at 791-9108.

1958 TRAILER FOR SALE: Two bedroom, will take offer. Contact David Harris at the Residence Hall, room 332.

FOR SALE: surf board 6'2" Cork, Carroll Spacestick, 1 yr old. $70 7915013 Bill.

FOR SALE: 8 solid pine bar w/ 3 stools $75 over 25 yrs old. 7916113 1968 Rambler- full power asking $750. buy make an offer: 7913113

F-M-AM reciever & turntable 8 track 2-4 channel! switch 2orig. & 2 comm. speakers. $100 rm. 322

AM-FM reciever & turntable 4 speakers 2-4 channel switch & $220 new sell $130 perfect condition rm. 317

FUR COAT: a '20's classic for $25. firm. Good condition in size 8. Must be seen to be appreciated. Call 763-8714.

BLACK VELVET COAT: Long, warm coat with character and class -- excellent condition -- $25. firm in size 10-12.

JAPANESE MINK COAT: Another classic -- excellent condition -- $50. firm. Size 10-12. Call 763-8714.

MOTORCYCLE HELMETS: Two helmets, male and female for sale -- $10 or make offer. Size medium. Dial 763-8714.

OAK BARRELS: Best offer for these large and small barrels. Call 763-8714.

SURFBOARD: 7' 2", 19" wide semi-gun board built strictly for Puerto Rico and reef type breaks. $50 or best offer. Dial 763-8714.

53 "OLD FAITHFUL" CHEVY: Lively enough to get you anywhere in town. Inquire at 762-4886 in the evenings after 6 p.m., and in the mornings before 9 a.m. One car owner!

1967 MG: Red convertible w/ black top. 32 - 35 miles per gallon; new interior, new tires and new battery. Good condition. Call 285 - 4773 after 5 p.m. on the weekdays.

HONDA 305 CC: Rebuilt motor; runs good. Must sell. $175. Call 763-6624.

1964 VW105,000 mi-engine rebuilt at 80000, new front end at 100,000. Body fair-green $500. Terry Workman, 502 M. Lumina basement after 5:00

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: power steering and radio. Only $1000. Dial 799-3765.

1972 VW VAN: Rear seat opens to bed; radio; carpeting and curtains. Good condition. $2850. Call Ned Martin at 791-4330 (ext. 321) from 9-5 weekdays.

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 46,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transission. Call 799-3066.

1961 CADILLAC: Excellent shape with all accessories, power steering, brakes, air conditioning. Best offer: 799-4736, or contact at Dorm room 223 anytime. Ask for James.

1968 FORD LTD: Station wagon with power steering and brakes, air conditioning and new tires. In great shape. $995. Call 256-2526 or 256-2227.

1972 VEGA: Panelwagon with 28,000 miles in excellent condition. $1700. Call 762-6144.

1961 MIGHTY MITE JEEP: American Motors jeep, marlin surplus, aluminum body, V-4 aluminum air-cooled engine, 4 wheel drive, independent suspension, 4 speed with spare transmission. Good condition. Call 791-0587 after 5 p.m. or 686-0301 (ext. 64) between 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

1971 MGB ROADSTER: New radials, new paint job - 21,000 miles - very clean. $2195. After 5 p.m. call Lamar: at 762-2389.

1967 DODGE POLARA: Good condition white polara with automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes and air conditioning. Contact Wayne Barbee in the Residence Hall, room 424.

wanted

★ OPENINGS FOR REPORTERS: The SEAHAWK newspaper is looking for reporters for the spring semester. Leave name and phone number or dorm number on the bulletin board on the office door, or ask someone in the office.

Yes

Wachovia

for rent

BEDROOM AND BATH: In Hanover Heights area with kitchen privileges. Call 791-8330.

FIGURE EIGHT ISLAND: Room and board on Figure 8 Island with sm?!) salary to congenial girl willing to do light housework. If interested, call Sylvia Blanford at 686-0369 or 791-6790

rides

★ WOULD you like to Save GAS?
★ Join our car pool from Jacksonville. Call: 3476704 Dan, 4550502 Ronald, 3536977 Helen

TRIVIA ***

JFK

"Now the trumpet summons us again-- not as a call to arms, though arms we need-- not as a call to battle, though embattled we are-- but a call to bear the burdens of a long twilight struggle, year in and year out 'rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation'-- a struggle against the common enemies of man; tyranny, poverty, disease, and war itself."
-JFK Inaugural Address

CRISIS LINE - anytime 763 - 3695

COMFORTABLE ROOM: With kitchen privileges if needed. $15 per week includes utilities. Call Mrs. Cottle at 763-0289.

FOLDING BED: Three quarter bed for $30. Call 791-6388 or 686-0002.

P. A. SPEAKERS: Two custom P. A. column 4" 12" speakers in each. Also one 7" deep rogers dyna sonic snare drum, and a Motorola portable television set. Call 791-1429. Leave name and number.

SMALL REFRIGERATOR: Perfect for dorm room. $60. (Think how much you rent one for over a year.) See John at University Arms Apartments 4903-A.

AQUA WORLD

Professional Diving Instruction

N.A.S.D.S. Approved

- Classes Now Open
- Basic & Open Water Certification
- 4 to a Class
- Individual Instruction
- Private Pools (no pool fee)
- 3 Open Water Dives
- $50.00-total cost!

AIR - SALES - RENTALS
CHARTER - REPAIRS

791-3976

5425 WRIGHTSVILLE AV.

University Arms APARTMENTS

WALKING DISTANCE FROM UNC-W

All electric living with GE appliances; range, dishwasher; disposal and refrigerator, individually controlled heating and air conditioning, luxurious shag carpeting, private patios, beautiful swimming pool!

1, 2 & 3 Bedroom Apts. FURNISHED or UNFURNISHED Starting at $140.

CALL 791-8674 OR 762-0366

OR
SEE RESIDENT MANAGER HAROLD GREENE MANAGEMENT

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON's own Homecoming Queen, crowned less than a month ago during the game in Haver Hall. Miss Virginia Bradshaw, cut the ribbon at the grand opening of Wilmington's only Trophy Shop located in the Community Shopping Center. Miss Bradshaw was sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega Service Fraternity at the university.

Math Club Plans Dinner, Movie

On Thursday, March 28 the Math Club will have a "supper - movie" with a supper in the cafeteria from 5-6p. m. and a movie will be shown from 6-7:02 p. m. in the Physics lecture room upstairs in the Chemistry/Physics Building.

The movie, "The Search for Solid Ground," is a panel discussion in logic and their implications for mathematics.

All interested persons in the university community are urged to attend. There is no charge for the movie; cost of the meal is the usual cafeteria fee.

the price

"The price men pay for not getting involved in politics is being governed by men worse than themselves." - Plato.

OH NO.
I THOUGHT
7-ELEVEN®
WAS HERE!

7-ELEVEN®

We are REALLY just next door.
4714 COLLEGE DRIVE

Look for a surprise on April Fool's Day! (that's Monday, stoooge!)

seahawk

See inside for campaign platforms of the candidates. By publishing the stories, the Seahawk is in no way endorsing the candidates. We do, however, urge you to exercise your right to the vote.

university of north carolina at wilmington

March 29, 1974

eight pages

sponsored by the "Emperor Wears No Clothes Committee" in Washington D. C.

No Clothes Committee" in Washington D. C.

sponsored by the "Emperor Wears

No Clothes Committee" in Washington D. C.

sponsored by the "Emperor Wears No Clothes Committee" in Washington D. C.

sponsored by the

sponsored by the "Emperor Wears

No Clothes Committee" in Washington D. C.

No Clothes Committee" in Washington D. C.

SUPER STREAK!

Now it's time to get everything out in the open!!!

On April 1, campuses across the country will streak to the tune of:

THE EMPEROR WEARS NO CLOTHES!

This is it Kids!!!

The ultimate streak -- SUPER STREAK!!

Fellow Streakers, we have nothing to lose but our clothes.

This is our chance to lay bare all the facts; to get at the naked truth!

Wear Nixon masks, crowns, and tennis shoes. If you're modest, a royal purple robe is appropriate.

STREAK FOR IMPEACHMENT!! And remember the words of our immortal poet:

"Even the President must stand naked!!!"

APRIL 1

Bob Dylan

sponsored by the "Emperor Wears

"Emperor Wears No Clothes

APATHETIC?

I don't really know who wrote the letter to the Seahawk about how apathetic the student body and the student newspaper is. After a rousing denunciation of apathy, the writer signed himself or herself, "anonymous." Perhaps they were just joking. Or perhaps they were unintentionally hit on the reason for apathy on this campus and the general attitude of people today. They lack any feeling of individual responsibility or identity. Too many people on campus apparently feel anonymous.

I have yet to figure out why some people here at UNC-W feel that this campus is like some exotic store, where for a fee, everything is to be furnished including controversy. Well, my friends, this campus can only offer what any other university can offer -- opportunity. The student body, and that is you, is going to be the major factor in determining what kind of school we have.

In a column or so back Peter Venable and I exchanged a few words about the magazine rack at the bookstore. I felt that his letter to the editor was ill-written and poorly thought out. He, in turn, defended his position. I still feel he is expecting a bit too much but I won't go into that now as it's not relevant to this particular column. What I will say is that while I may not agree with Mr. Venable I cannot help but admire his concern for the quality of life at the university. Unfortunately, it would appear that no one else cared enough about it to enter our little argument and I am sure that Mr. Venable was disappointed as I was.

Where are the thinkers that make a college a college? The major problem seems to be that no one realizes or cares enough to see that UNC-W will never be a true university until the student body becomes self-aware. At present we have a sort of breathing corpse, a vegetable that goes through all the form without any substance. The absolute basic requirement for controversy is thought, and that requirement seems to be met by a pitifully small number of students. You can have thunderous arguments and dandy fights without thought but not much in the way of constructive controversy.

More professors here do their best to sus-

ATTENTION ALL CANDIDATES

Whether you win or lose, you are invited to a brainstorming session on the Student Government Association and its problems, strengths and weaknesses, and on the goals the SGA should set for next year.

Your ideas will probably never get a better hearing than at the meeting, which should consist of everyone interested in what becomes of the university.

The meeting will be held Friday, April 5 at 7 p. m. in room 102 of the Business Building. The meeting will run to 9 p. m. or so.

seahawk

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

Published on Fridays by students at the university of north carolina at wilmington, deadline for publication is monday before the friday publication. our office is located downstairs in the pub. telephone 791-8055.

editor: both hicks
associate editors: barry asbury
j. k. muleman
advertising director: barry asbury
business manager: alan murphy
sports editor: robert maxey
greek lines: rocky lane moore
eugene mckinney

photographic staff: roberta alred
nauma dozier
neal huntley
zack sessions
supportive staff: linda houghton
layne lockamy
anne nesbit
darlene pearsall

WHO CARES?

tain the dim flickers of intelligence they occasionally see in their classes. No doubt they hope they can make it live past the classroom doors where it will go out and make an impression on the chaotic world. The rate of success they enjoy is rather low.

The fault does entirely lie within the students either. No one wants to defend the students these days. It would seem that one must either be apathetic or a radical, a Joe College or a bomb tosser. Most of us don't fall into either category. Unfortunately, the concerned student who wishes to do some real good is not given much attention.

What do the clubs do beside elect officers and have their pictures put in the paper or annual? What do the fraternities and sororities do other than make Milwaukee famous? Who knows what mysterious things occur in student government? Bet you didn't know we even had a student government.

At present there is no common meeting ground for the student body. The parking lot is a constant game of musical parking places. And except for the students who live in them no one seems aware that the dorm exists. (Did you know that it was reported that the girls' floor in the dorm here was streaked by "five students from another college? Even I had a hard time believing we are that apathetic.) Perhaps if there was a nice quiet dingy little place on campus or very close by where one could discuss the problems of the world over a draft...? Oh well, a pipe dream as no one cares enough to try to bring the thing about...

Just remember Friend when you go up to receive your sheepskin and walk away feeling somehow cheated in your college education, blame no one but yourself. It's your school, your education and your life.

Well, it is past midnight, I'm tired and there's a cold glass or two of wine left in the refrigerator. So who cares anyway. Anonymous?

the gadfly

church group sponsors

"revolution"

Ready for a change from the drudgery of term papers, exams, streakers, love quarrels, school life and life in general? Then try Jesus!

The youth of Lake Forest Baptist Church are sponsoring a "One-Way Revolution" revival from March 31 thru April 5 at 7:30 p. m. The services are designed to meet the spiritual needs of all ages, races and religions. They will be filled with music and with a message of interest to all.

The evangelists will be the Rev. and Mrs. Tommy Winders from Tupelo, Miss. Rev. Winders has preached and conducted crusades throughout the United States in sixteen states. His wife, Diane, has recorded a solo album entitled, "Reach Out to Jesus."

Youth coordinator for the revival, Belinda Foss, invites everyone to attend the revival beginning Sunday and running through Friday at the Lake Forest Baptist Church located at the corner of Lake Shore and Lake Branch Drives.

A group of streakers heads through the back door of Lee during the first streak, about two weeks ago. Another streak is planned for tomorrow night, when a group of "nekkid runners" will attempt to break the world record. The university will make no move to interfere, so long as the runners stay on campus.

by Howard Barnett

Streakers who stray onto Hillsborough Street, Western Boulevard, or Pullen Road may be subject to arrest by Raleigh Police for indecent exposure, according to Dean of Student Development John Poole.

This is the policy on streaking taken by the Raleigh police department. In addition, those who come close enough to be seen from those streets will be subject to the same penalties.

"Anyone streaking within the confines of the university will be the concern of the university and the security office, however," said Poole. "Students streaking on campus will not be arrested by campus security unless someone files a formal complaint."

■ Poole added, however, that, to his knowledge, no complaint had been filed with the security office during the previous streaks.

Poole stressed the fact that the Raleigh police department has the authority to come onto the campus any time they feel it necessary, but added, "They have agreed with us to stay off the campus until they are called on."

"I think the thing to stress is that streaking is good-natured fun," said Poole, "and this university, as well as many others, has sort of looked upon it in that regard as long as it is confined locally within the university late at night, then really, it only involves students... but if they do leave the university confines, they will be subject to arrest for indecent exposure."

STEVE HOBBS REPRESENTS STUDENTS

Realizing there is a great communications loop-hole at the university, sophomore Steve Hobbs has announced his candidacy for the office of President of the Junior Class.

In the next year, the candidate would like to see boxes set up around campus for students to put complaints and ideas in, and he would like to see an article in the Seahawk newspaper at least once a month.

"I am not the typical politician who will promise a lot of things except that I will do the job to the best of my ability by representing my constituents," the sophomore said.

With student government experience in his favor, Hobbs feels he is qualified for the job.

One idea he would like to see developed would be a student and faculty appeal board, where a student who feels he has been "cheated" by a professor may air his or her complaint.

"So many people feel that they 'get the short end of the stick' when grades are given. They may be right when they claim the professor has a personal grudge against them and they are given a lesser grade because of this.

"My idea is to have the student appeal the decision of the professor to a student-faculty committee designed to cover these problems.

"Students on the committee would be elected from each class. To get the faculty involved would probably be the biggest problem in setting up such a committee."

Hobbs claims his purpose of such a committee is for students to have the right to appeal their pleas to a committee with the power to investigate such complaints and take action on the matter, i.e. through discussion with the student and professor, the problem could possibly be solved.

Another point the sophomore brought up is that the university owns the grand Wyche home next door to the Chancellor's home on Market and 18th Streets, and at the present, the home is vacant.

At one time the home was to be used as a faculty club, but due to a lack of funds, the club was never set up. What Hobbs proposes is that the house be opened for clubs and organizations at the university to use for formal dances and other functions.

GET OFF
YOUR ASS!

THE TRANSPLANT

Have'n't seen you someplace before? She said: the distance in your eye suggests a common ground where once our goings crossed and moved on hoping to forget the way we came for fear of going back against our will to face the shame of where we'd been.

Now that you mentioned it, I said we could have met in Genesis where I measured my humanity against the will of God, ego-streaking through His Eden, soon forgetting where the boundary was between a garden and the wilderness of the world.

But in the here and now of yesterday my year torn temple leaned against His temple wall and prayed with tears 'God be merciful to me'. Then love reached out to touch my hand and garden fell into place within my wilderness. Perhaps you saw me there.

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

RALEIGH

Taking off? Take us up.

There's a place for you on Piedmont. For a weekend of fun, a game out of town, a quick trip home, whatever—there's a Piedmont jet or propjet flight to fit your plans. With personal, thoughtful service always. Piedmont—serving over 75 cities including Chicago, New York, Washington, Norfolk, Atlanta, Memphis. Call us, or your travel agent. We've got a place for you.

Piedmont Airlines

The Richardson Corporation Insurance

501 Carolina Power & Light Building

763-5445

Payne's

Kathy Teer
stuns our photographer by modeling a long party dress
by Nancy B.

Available at

Payne's

Downtown, Hanover Center
& Long Leaf Mall

LOVE COMES IN TWO'S

FAIRHAVEN $250.00
WED. RING $87.50

JUDD $450.00
WED. RING $150.00

Keepsake

Mills INC.
Keepsake®
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

28 N Front St : 763-6311
Hanover Center : 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall : 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

BILLY "the unc-w KID" vs. JACK WHITE

trickster
in pool

by debbie lewis

April 1

Pub

Jack White, the famous trick shot artist and "Doctor of Poolology" will be appearing on the university campus in the Pub on Monday, April 1 at 1 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Performing with the style and efficiency that won him numerous awards and prizes, including the "Doctor of Poolology" plaque from the University of Notre Dame in 1970, White is quite an entertainer. He has traveled extensively to universities and college campuses to perform his tricks and reveal his secrets to the game.

Billy Peterson, winner of the recent Student Union O Pool Tournament, will play White during one of his shows.

The Student Union Program Board sponsored the all-student tournament in addition to White's engagement. SUPB asks that everyone attend. I.D.'s will be required at the door. Soory, but no guests allowed.

This is the first event sponsored by the newly-formed SUPB and good support of White's shows could mean a variety of other activities for UNC-W students.

LET'S HEAR IT FOR NIXON!

by darlene pearsall

Everyone seems to enjoy slandering Richard Milehouse Nixon. Its become a national hobby. I wish to take this opportunity to do just the opposite - I want to point out his many good features.

Yes

Wachovia

First of all, we should thank Nixon for introducing us to an energy crisis. Isn't it amazing that up until now we didn't seriously realize that one was on the way? Now we can give gasoline its appropriate status in todays' society. We can snuggle up to our fellow man as we turn the thermostat down to 68. And we can ponder on the problem of over population each time we turn off the lights.

Secondly, we should remember what a friendly president he is, what other president in the U.S. has had the "palsy" title of "Tricky Dicky". Doesn't that serve to capture his warmth and zest? When Americans don't wish to call him that, they find a few other names for him -- one of which is Mr. Nixon. Never President Nixon but instead Mr. Nixon. That's really putting him down there with the American populace. Just listen to the news one evening - it's always "Mr." Did you ever hear reference to a Mr. Kennedy or a Mr. Mr. Johnson? Of course not.

Now lets consider what our great leader is doing for our vocabulary. Before Nixon's administration how often did you use the word "inflation" or "watergate" or even "Bebe Rebozo"?

Thanks to Nixon, bugging devices have increased in popularity. The American dollar has never had it so good. Americans have more dollars now -- not more money just more dollars -- all because its worthless.

Finally we should sympathize with Mr. Nixon for his recent streak of bad luck. After all, he's misplaced 18' of tape, one tax report, and one vice-president.

So America, lets hear it for Nixon! Where the country be without him?

TRIVIA
by jkm

happy
New Year

Greetings Bride-to-be

For a perfect
and
"heavenly"
wedding you are cordially invited to come in
and let us show
you why this is such a popular shopping spot
with smart brides

MADEMOISELLE
Shoppes

"We are big enough to serve you and small enough to know you"

22 North Front Street

WILMINGTON

January 22 at midnight marked the end of the Year of the Ox and the beginning of the Year of the Tiger for some 435,000 Americans of Chinese Heritage.

Chinese New Year occurs between January 21 and February 19 and is highlighted by the Dragon Parade. It was first observed in the U.S. in the 1850's when large numbers of Chinese arrived on the West Coast, many escaping the horror and brutality of the Opium Wars, or lured away by the newly discovered gold. The Chinese have always chosen to maintain their own customs and traditions and are proud of their heritage.

The Chinese calendar is based on a chronology dating back to the 27th century B.C. Twelve animals are associated with the calendar and were selected according to how they finished a cross-country race. In order they are: rat, ox, tiger, hare, dragon, serpent, horse, ram, monkey, rooster, dog, and boar.

During the Han Dynasty (206 B.C.-220 A.D.) the calendar was revised into sixty-year cycles, each year designated by a combination of one of the animals with an element, but the is called only by the animal name. Since their calendar does not have the division of B.C. and A.D., this year is 4672.

Take a tip from Raleigh about bicycle safety.

Don't "hitch" on a bike. Holding on to another moving vehicle while riding a bicycle causes most of the fatal cycling accidents. Ride safe. Get a new book of 12 more safety tips free from your Raleigh Dealer.

LIFE CYCLES

4209 Oleander Drive
Community Shopping Center
Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

"Threepenny Opera" "It's a dog-eat-dog world"

"The Threepenny Opera," the famous musical play which combines the disillusioned mood of the pre-Nazi Germany with a colorful setting amidst the criminal underworld of the 19th century London, will be the University Theater's final offering of the season, playing April 5-7 at the S. R. O. Theater in Kenan Hall.

Neal Bell, director of last year's "Ubu Roi" and "Spoon River Anthology," has chosen Lewis Musser, Anne Fitzgibbon, Flynn Risenbark, Vicki Daum, Leslie Jordan and Suzanne Howell for leading roles in Kurt Weill and Bertolt Brecht's musical, which takes a cynical, but entertaining look at the activities of various pickpockets, beggars and prostitutes.

In 1928 the innovative German playwright Bertolt Brecht was attracted to John Gay's 18th century ballad opera, "The Beggar's Opera" because he felt the dog-eat-dog world of the gangster Macheath -- alias "Mack the Knife," could serve as an ironic reminder of contemporary amorality.

Brecht set his version in the London of 1837, just prior to Queen Victoria's coronation, but his collaborator, Kurt Weill, composed a score heavily influenced by the jazz and popular songs of the '20's.

"I write for today. I don't give a damn about posterity." Weill once said. In fact, he abandoned a career as a composer of a tonal music to devote his talents to creating popular musical theater pieces.

Happily, his originality has won him a greater and more enduring reputation than he possibly could have earned as a member of the avant garde.

Marc Blitzstein's brilliant English adaption of Brecht's book and lyrics made "The Threepenny Opera" one of off-Broadway's longest-running hits. Blitzstein's memorable lyrics and Weill's jaunty music for the "Ballad of Mack the Knife" spread across the United States in best-selling records by Bobby Darin and Louis Armstrong.

"Mack the Knife" and his accomplices will be on view at 8:15 p.m. Call 791-4330, extension 332 on weekday afternoons for reservations.

OLEANDER Cinema 2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRE

B-I-G LATE SHOW

Fri. & Sat, Nights at 11:30 P.M.
This film is going to scare the yell out of you!

WARNING!
The Sexual Transformation of a Man into a Woman will actually take place before your very eyes!

this film is filled with SHOCK!
AFTER SHOCK!
AFTER SHOCK!

DR. JEKYLL & MR. HYDE

RALPH BATES Co-Starring MARTINE BESWICK
GERALD SIM • LEWIS RIANDER • COLOR

ALL DELUXE MANOR
DOWNTOWN 1-3-5-7-9
762-2935

NOW SHOWING

JON VOIGHT IS
"CONRACK"
One beautiful man. His story is true.

PG-13 PAMAMUSIC COLOR BY DELUXE

I want all of you to take a real long look at me. That shouldn't be any hardship because I'm handsome. Moreover, I have a penetrating wit, a fanciful imagination and my eyes are bluer than Paul Newman's."

20th Century Fox presents A MARTIN RITT/IRVING RAVETCH PRODUCTION
Also starring PAUL WINFIELD and HUME CRONYN

STUDENT DISCOUNT CARDS ARE AVAILABLE
IN MS. LINDA MOORE'S OFFICE IN THE PUB
AND IN THE LIBRARY.

SUPB helps clubs raise funds

A country hoe-down featuring the East Carolina Cloggers will be given by the Student Union Program Board on April 26. Clubs at the university are asked to participate by setting up concession stands and booths with all proceeds being the profits of the particular club.

For further information contact Paul Laird in room 204 of the dorm, or see Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Activities, in her office in the Pub. Deadline for getting a booth together and contacting the persons above is Friday, April 5.

OLEANDER DRIVE - 799-3930
OLEANDER Cinema 1&2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

N-O-W at 2-4-6-8-10

WHO WILL SURVIVE?
SWAMP BEHIND-HELL AHEAD!

Starring
Cecilia Jennings
Playmate of the year!
She is UNTAMED and DEADLY.

GATOR BAIT

HALF ANIMAL ALL WOMAN

An outrageously beautiful new film with John Mills, Academy Award Winner in his triumphant return!

DECEMBER LOVE

CAROL WHITE JOHN MILLS
STUART WILSON

N-O-W at 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

LONG LEAF Cinema 1&2
LONG LEAF MALL — SHIPYARD BLVD.
799-5710

N-O-W at 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

The TREASURE of JAMAICA REEF

Great Family Entertainment! Rated (G)

HELD OVER FOR 3rd SMASHING WEEK!

ONE OF THE MOST POPULAR PICTURES OF OUR TIME!

SHOWS at 2-4-6-8-10

BILLY JACK

IN COLOR (PG)

ALL SEATS $1.00 UNTIL 2:30 EXCEPT SUNDAY

RECORD WORLD

Discover
New Dimensions

- NEW RELEASES
- BRITISH IMPORTS
- JAZZ
- SOUL
- GIFT CERTIFICATES
- GOOD MUSIC!!!!!!

791-7043

Long Leaf Mall

- *ASK ABOUT OUR BAKER'S DOZEN

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Well-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen area
- Hotpoint range, refrigerator, garbage disposal
- Individually-controlled air conditioning
- Large swimming pool, central laundry facilities

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished.....$135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished...$149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished.....$160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished...$185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT ...

Country Club APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Ramblall Drive. Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

Hawks

by Robert Maxey
The Seahawks of UNC-W easily swept a double header against visiting Western Connecticut State on March 19-20.

Southpaw Randy Prosser was the winning pitcher for the Seahawks in the first of the two games. Prosser gave up 12 hits and walked six for the 11-3 victory. Carl Lancaster led the Hawk hitting attack with a triple and a pair of Pemroke-- Sam Todler, A Methodist College sophomore from Hope Mills, hurled a no-hit, no-run game against Lynchburg Saturday to win NAIA District 29 "Baseball Player of the Week" honors in the 12-team district.

A

The victory for Toler was his third against no defeats this campaign. He struck out five and walked three. He blanked Lynchburg despite the fact that his teammates committed three errors behind him.

Toler's pitching has helped Methodist get off to the fastest start of any district team with a 2-0 district record and an overall 8-3 mark.

Virginia Wesleyan, which has a 5-1 record, was led to three wins in four tries during the week by center fielder Earl Jordan. He had seven hits in 13 appearances for a .539 average, driving in two of Va. Wesleyan's three runs in the sweep of a twin bill against N.C. Wesleyan and also having an RBI against Virginia State. UNC-Wilmington won five of six during the week. One of its stars was right fielder Bo singles. The Seahawks only led by one run, 2-1, up until the fifth inning when Carl Lancaster started the inning with a triple. Steve Ganoce had a double and Warmack singled. Western Connecticut gave up five walks as the Hawks scored four runs in the bottom of the fifth. The Seahawks also had an impressive eighth inning when four additional runs were scored.

sweep

BO

Pittman who hit a grand slam homer and a double to drive in five runs as the Seahawks beat Dartmouth 8-2 Friday.

Atlantic Christian, capturing three of four during the week, was led by left fielder Larry Moser with six hits in 13 series

In the second meeting the Seahawks once again proved themselves against the Conn. team defeating them 10-0. The Seahawk victory went to freshman Mike Robbins who gave up eight hits and five walks. Bo Pittman had three singles and a double to lead in the scoring department.

The finale of this game brought the Seahawks to a 5-7 record.

HOMER

appearances for a .462 average. One of those hits was a double. He had three RBIs during the week. Another Bulldog player, catcher Donnie Koonz, hammered three doubles and a triple for a .333 hitting week and drove in five runs.

SPORTSCORES baseball

Catawba 6-5, Atlantic Christian 3-6

Atlantic Christian 3-2, Bryant 2-0

Campbell 5, Shaw 3

Glassboro State 7, Campbell 6

Campbell 5, High Point 2

Lynchburg 7-6, NC Wesleyan 0-5

Methodist 5-7, Lynchburg 0-0

Methodist 11-6, St. Andrews 1-0

Virginia Wesleyan 1-2, NC Wesleyan 0-1

Eastern Connecticut 4-2, Norfolk State 1-1

Duke 5-5, Pembroke 0-6

Pembroke 7, Va. Tech 3

North Carolina 7, Pembroke 3

Eastern Michigan 3-2, Pembroke 0-4

Eastern Michigan 3, Pembroke 1

Westfield 4-1, Va. State 3-3

Va. Wesleyan 3-2, Va. State 1-1

Yale 5, UNC-W 2

UNC-W 11, Western Connecticut 3

UNC-W 10, Western Connecticut 0

UNC-W 4, Dartmouth 1

UNC-W 8, Dartmouth 2

UNC-W 1, Yale 0

Wachovia

it's the
real thing

Wilmington Coca-Cola Bottling Works
Incorporated
Wilmington, N. C. 28401

apparel factory outlet

Misses' & Jr. Miss Denim JEANS

from $5.61

baggies
flares
bells

Men's Denim Jeans

from $5.54

Hand Carved Belts - $6.97

10-6 sat. FREE PARKING 10-9 mon.-fri

4204 OLEANDER DRIVE

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

HAWKS SPLIT WITH YALE

by robert maxey

The Seahawk baseball team split a double header with the Yale Bulldogs. In the first meeting the Hawks had their stuff together as they wacked the Bulldogs a hard blow defeating them 12-3. The Seahawks with two runs in the first inning had an action packed second inning when the first three UNC-W men were fanned to first. Edgerton took the fourth consecutive walk while Randy Ourt came in for the run. A double by Steve Ganoce, a single by Robert Ivey and a triple by Bo Pittman brought in five more runs. Latter Pittman and Greg Dalton also scored. Ourt and Smith struck out and Edgerton flew out to end a fantastic eight run inning. The Seahawks other two runs came in the bottom of the third and the fourth.

Paul Fulton, the winning pitcher, has two wins to his account and no losses. Steve Ganoce, paced the Seahawk nine with a pair of doubles and a single in five times at bat to bring in five runs.

The second meeting of the two teams appeared at first to be a repeat performance for the Seahawks. Two runs were scored in the first inning. Steve Ganoce singled and then stole second and third bases. A single by Ivey drove Steve in for the first run. Ivey also scored a run. The Seahawks limited the Yale opponents to four batters per inning until the eighth when the Bulldogs exploded for the win.

Pitching for the Seahawks was freshman Thurston Watkins who struck out the first two Bulldogs in the eighth inning. Watkins then walked the next Yale player and the next singled. Thurston's fifth man up to bat hit the ball down the third base line and third baseman, Greg Dalton, threw the ball wild to first baseman, Ganoce. Two runs were scored and the batter made third base. The Yale Bulldogs went on to score three more runs in the eighth to get revenge on the Seahawks who lost 5-2. This brought the Seahawks to a 2-7 record overall. The Hawks will face first NAIA District 29 action on April 6.

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.

Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings — as an Air Force pilot or navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

SGT. JERRY T. LEWIS
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N. C.
Phone: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

Steve Ganoce bangs a double for the Seahawks in their victory against the Yale Bulldogs. (photo by roberta allred)

AQUA WORLD INC.

Professional Diving Instruction
N.A.S.D.S. Approved

- Classes Now Open
- Basic & Open Water Certification
- 4 to a Class
- Individual Instruction
- Private Pool (no pool fee)
- 3 Open Water Dives
- $50.00-total cost!

AIR — SALES — RENTALS
CHARTER — REPAIRS

791-3976

5425 WRIGHTSVILLE AV.

BASKETBALL ROUND-UP

by wayne steele

UNC-W has finished its best season ever. The Seahawks had nine wins and only two losses against district opponents and posted a 14-10 record overall. In the first game, the Hawks lost to Pembroke 66-58 despite a 22 point performance by David Prince.

Outstanding performer for UNC-W this season was All-American candidate Mike Cherry. Mike scored 20 or more points in 17 games and finished with a 22 point average.

Cherry also led the team in field goal percentage, shooting at a 53.3 mark. Willie Jackson hit 52.5 per cent and averaged 16 points. The Seahawks were probably the best shooting team in the district.

One of the Hawks' weaknesses this year was rebounding. They were out-rebounded in all but 5 games. Prince led in that category with seven per game.

In the center position, Ernie Lynn, an excellent shooter, received back-up support from two freshmen—Keith Yow and Sam Robinson. Yow was a part-time starter and Robinson led the squad in blocking shots.

Rikk Alessi proved to be a capable floor leader. He is an outstanding ball-handler and passer. At the point position, he led in assists and was second in steals.

The Seahawks will lose seniors Dick Brock, Greg Kemp, and Mike Cherry, but they have 12 players returning plus numerous recruits. It appears Coach Gibson may have starter a winning tradition at UNC-W.

Why do some people think Bud is sort of special?

Go ahead and find out why!

(Brewing beer right does make a difference.)

Master Instruction in
KARATE KUNG FU
JU-JITSU KEMPO
OPEN MONDAY-THURSDAY
FOR INSTRUCTION AND WORKOUT
$20.00 MONTH
SELF DEFENSE INSTRUCTION FOR MEN, WOMEN & CHILDREN
STOVER'S
ACADEMY OF SELF DEFENSE

John Stover, 4th Degree Black Belt
Community Shopping Center. Oleander Drive
Call 791-6399 or 763-8083 for information.

When you say Budweiser., you've said it all!

ANHEUSER-BUSCH, INC. • ST. LOUIS

BRAD WALLS SAYS...

Fellow students,

My name is Brad Walls and I am running for Student Body Vice President. I have been in the Senate since 1971 and have served as a freshman, sophomore and junior class senator. In these three years I believe I have learned a great deal more about the Senate and the needs of the students at UNC-W.

Students, this is your chance to vote for the students you want to represent you in the Senate and the Student Body Offices --- so get out and vote today if you didn't do so yesterday.

Brad Walls,
Candidate for Student Body
Vice President

STROUD ADDRESSES

STUDENTS

James Stroud, candidate for District Attorney in the Democratic Primary, May 7th addressed the brothers of the Delta Upsilon fraternity this past week. Mr. Stroud delivered a 30 minute lecture on problems affecting both Wilmington and North Carolina as a whole. Mr. Stroud presented the first of a series of lectures that DU has incorporated into its development of academic incentive for the fraternity.

Some topics covered concerned organized crime in Wilmington as well as North Carolina. He stated, "Organized crime had its impetus in the black community. He pointed out that regional crime, involved narcotics (drugs), and professional gambling. He indicated professional gambling was an important source of revenue for organized crime in North Carolina. Two more important sources of revenue for organized crime is distribution of stolen goods and cigarette smuggling.

James Stroud reiterated the fact that he is "not an alarmist" however, he believes there is much that needs to be done now to cope with the growing trend of organized crime in the state. Mr. Stroud told the fraternity of a young black Wilmington College graduate who was addicted to heroin in jail on charges. He is a Vietnam veteran who had never tried drugs during his entire tour of service, not that they weren't available, but he had remembered the cautions of his parents and other members of his community. However, he returned to a community that had somewhat changed its attitude since he left, a community where young black teenagers achieved some sort of status by carring heroin cookers. Being older, he mixed with different people and was encouraged to smoke pot, later acid, and even later heroin. Eventually, he became addicted. This college graduate; however, was made of a stronger fiber than most heroin addicts in the black community. When he discovered his addiction, he turned himself over to the narcotics squad here in Wilmington. He worked as an undercover agent for nearly four months which climaxed in a drug shakedown.

Commenting again on the effectiveness of the present D.A., office, he indicated that the law enforcement was too diversified and that it seemed to go in 20 different directions. He felt it was the D.A.'s responsibility to channel their efforts effectively. He personally doesn't think the present D.A. is doing anything.

He stated he does not favor consolidation of the Sheriff's Department with the police Department; however, he does believe they should share the same building, thus eliminating duplication of records.

When he was questioned about possible muck-raking, he said he believed his opponent would never slander him; nevertheless, he expected some harassment from his opponent's supporters. One example he was aware of was claims that he was a racist. He stated, "nothing could be further from the truth."

What turned out to be the anecdote of the evening began as a simple question. Mr. Stroud was asked, "What would be his stand on the first case of streaking he would have to prosecute." Laughing, he replied, "That depends on whether he can get a Streaking for Stroud campaign started." More seriously, he added he would prosecute it like any other case. Indecent exposure is an obvious violation of the law, the maximum sentence of which is 2 years. He attacked the press for overpublicizing and thereby encouraging something resulting in more than 17 much publicized arrests.

James Stroud did not pull any punches during his lecture. He took definite stands against the use of drugs of any sort. For this reason, he impressed many brothers. He indicated that his opponent was unwilling to endorse the kind of legislation he felt was vital at this moment, legislation which if enacted, would help prevent Wilmington and N.C. from accumulating some of the problems that New York has. He mentioned corruption in the criminal prosecution system. When asked if he thought the Wilmington Police Department might be corrupt, he replied positively that he thought not.

When rape was brought up as a subject of discussion, he explained cases of which he was familiar and expressed his sympathy to the victims and his own mixed feelings towards some of the lenient penalties that were meted out during a recent case of rape in Wilmington.

What turned out to be the anecdote of the evening began as a simple question. Mr. Stroud was asked "what would be his stand on the first case of streaking he would have to prosecute?" Laughing he replied, "that depends on whether I can get a streaking for Stroud campaign started. More seriously, he added he would prosecute it like any other case. Indecent exposure is an obvious violation of the law, the maximum imprisonment of which is 2 years. He attacked the press for overpublicizing what otherwise would die down, if ignored.

His concluding comment for the evening was a request to get more young people involved in his campaign. He feels that college students are often left out of political activities. He would like to see them more involved and offers his campaign as a chance for them to do so.

JUST ARRIVED!

In orange and brown

Comes in four colors—
orange, green, red, & royal blue

In school colors—
green & gold

White gym shorts trimmed in green or red

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE
STUDENT SERVICES BLDG.

RALEIGH

A FAMILY OF RACERS

Raleigh makes the popular lightweight 10-speed Record model for everybody in the family. Even a youngster who isn't quite ready for a full-size cycle. The Raleigh Record 24 is a scaled down version with an 18" frame and 24" wheels. It's one 10-speed you don't have to grow up for. And nobody knows more about making racers than Raleigh, because Raleigh has been making international competition winners for decades. See the Record family at your Raleigh dealer, who also features the Raleigh CustomSizer™, the amazing machine that guarantees a perfectly fitting bicycle.

RALEIGH

See 'em at

LIFE CYCLES

4209 Oleander Drive

Community Shopping Center

Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

seahawk

Swearings in for new SGA offices will be Tues, 4-9-74
in upstairs Pub, at 11:30.

University of North Carolina at Wilmington

April 9, 1974

twelve pages

R.P.V.P.
THE COLE PORTERS

starring

Jack & Sally Jenkins

(SEE STORY ON PAGE TWELVE)

Man: the greatest enemy of Nature

(reprinted from the Technician of N.C. STATE UNIVERSITY)

by Charles Balducci

...the ability of our land and water to support wildlife is a good indicator of the capacity for meeting the basic needs of Man.

The composition and condition of our fish and wildlife populations serve as a barometer of the quality of the environment for Man.

He too must have clean water, fertile fields, and healthy forests. Wise use of our nation's land and water resources, consequently, is in the interest of Man as well as the fish and wildlife he enjoys.

OUR FISH AND WILDLIFE are highly sensitive to environmental change. When we alter stream temperature or flow, drain wetlands, channel natural water-courses, clear forests or make other changes that limit their food, water, or shelter, we find that fish and wildlife are immediately affected.

Nearly every wild fish, bird or mammal has a comparatively narrow range of environmental elements that determines its survival. These may be divided broadly into food, water, and cover. But every species need for each of these essentials differs to some degree from those of others.

Some desert animals, like the kangaroo rat, require little or no obvious water supplies; they have become adapted through evolution to obtain their moisture requirements directly from the plants they eat and digest.

On the other hand, the wood duck, Canada goose, otter, beaver, and other waterfowl and aquatic mammals found throughout the state need an abundance of water—not only for drinking but as part of their cover requirements and to promote the growth of their fundamental foods.

THE CLIMATE, TOPOGRAPHY and geology of a given area are important influences on the composition of the plant community which provides wildlife food and cover. The nature and abundance of the plant community, in turn, govern the kinds of wild animals that the area can support.

You wouldn't expect to find the diligent beaver busily building dens and dams on a secluded stream threading its way through a pine forest, for the beaver depends on the hardwoods for this food and lodging. Nor would you expect to find the elusive eastern wild turkey scratching the woodland floor for nuts and berries unless, of course, you are in a mature oak-hickory and beech forest.

The anatomy of man-made changes in the plant community need not be destructive of wildlife in general, although they may alter radically the composition of the wildlife population.

CLEARING AN ISOLATED woodlot and replacing it with corn will eliminate gray squirrels but may improve conditions for pheasants, quail, and doves. Flooding the entire cornfield would drive these birds out and create useful habitat for numerous species of waterfowl and aquatic mammals. Altering or maintaining the environment to favor the needs of certain wild species, in fact, is a basic technique of wildlife management.

Some environmental changes, nonetheless, may be extremely damaging to all of our wildlife. Pervasive environmental pollution, repeated uncontrolled forest fires, and certain farming and forestry practices that destroy soil fertility and the diversity of the plant community, can create wildlife wastelands unlike the pristine condition of nature's own handiwork.

The transformation of America from wilderness to a largely urban dominated landscape has brought about great changes in the composition of native wildlife. These changes have been brought about by alterations in the plant community. The role of sport hunting during this metamorphosis of our nation has been instrumental in preserving and strengthening existing wildlife resources.

The ivory-billed woodpecker, the sea mink, and others that never were hunted extensively eventually became extinct, while the white-tailed deer, the bob-white quail, and others that have been hunted intensively are among our most abundant species. Few of the rare and endangered birds and mammals ever were hunted. Most are victims of pollution, land filling and clearing and other massive man-made environmental changes that have destroyed one or more essential elements in their habitat.

SPECIES LIKE THE Eastern cougar and the Southern bald eagle, which require habitats supplied only by the wilderness, inevitably declined from our North Carolina forests. But their places usually were taken by other species better adapted to an environment shaped by man, but like the starling, not always as well liked by Man.

The National Wildlife Federation recently disclosed that an estimated 40 different species and sub-species of mammals and birds vanished in the past 150 years from the North American continent alone. And presently there are yet another 109 animals on the endangered species list.

WHEN THESE ANIMALS begin to disappear from a given area, in spite of legal protection, it is a strong and positive indication that something is wrong with the environment. The effects on us as human beings, therefore, may extend far beyond the loss of aesthetic and recreational values.

Indeed, the basic needs of wildlife, for survival, are essentially the same as those of man.

Barricaded from nature by concrete and brick, even the most urban oriented citizen who rarely ventures from the walls of modern cities needs a constant supply of uncontaminated water from our lakes and streams, meat from our ranches and rangelands, produce from our farms, fish from our seas and coastal estuaries, and paper pulp from our forests.

The lands and waters of our state that produce these commodities also harbor the bulk of our wildlife. The ability of our land and water to support fish and birds and mammals is a good indicator of their capacity for meeting the basic needs of Man.

MOST AMERICANS are only now beginning to recognize their close spiritual and physical bonds with the natural world. A sign of this is found in changing attitudes toward swamps, marshes, and tidal estuaries. Until recently, these wetlands of our eastern shores, cherished only by sportsmen and naturalists, were generally considered worthless until drained or filled. Unfortunately too many people still consider that their highest economic use is to serve as dumping grounds for the solid and liquid wastes of cities and industries.

Marshes that once teemed with songbirds, shorebirds, waterfowl and a variety of mammals, now with their waters clouded by noxious bacteria and algae, support little but starlings and rats. And may wetlands have disappeared completely under the avalanche of human expansion.

So what?

ARE NOT HOUSING and factory sites, airports and highways, and even conventional dumps more valuable to people than a few ducks, herons, muskrats, and songbirds? Perhaps in a few, but the tenor of the times make clear that people are concerned and are seeking effective ways to halt the accelerating destruction of their environment.

Man's recognition of the need to save his wildlife—may indeed save himself.

photo by Balducci

North Carolina's largest natural lake—Lake Mattamuskeet National Wildlife Refuge—Hyde County, N.C. According to some authorities, the lake, along with other small lakes of the coastal plains, was formed by a shower of meteors.

seahawk

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY:
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

Published on Fridays by students at the university of north carolina at wilmington, deadline for publication is monday before the friday publication. our office is located downstairs in the pub. telephone 791-8055.

editor: beth hicks
associate editors: barry asbury
j. k. muleman
advertising director: barry asbury
business manager: alan murphy
sports editor: robert maxey
greek lines: rocky lane m. ore
news editor: eugene mckinney

photographic staff: roberta alred nauna bozier neal humtley
zack sessions
supportive staff: linda houghton
layne lockamy
anne nesbit
darlene pearsall

"GET OFF MY BACK!"

the gadfly

PRE-REGISTRATION BLUES

Well, friends, here we are again. Another issue of the Seahawk clutched in your hands you are no doubt wondering what burning issue I am going to fan. I don't know if I should say burning issue or not. Smoldering might be a more appropriate word.

Whatever the degree of involvement we may have in individuality on this campus there is one thing we all share. Pre-registration. There are times when I think streaking, panty-raids, protests, and controversy are light exercise compared to the rigors of pre-registration. One of the reasons for the lack of constructive controversy on this campus may well be exhaustion from going through such a trial.

Having bumbled around the corridors of bureaucracy I am somewhat accustomed to the pitfalls of the redtape jungle. Still my curiosity is stirred to wonder just how many secretaries labor in tiny offices filing many forms that will never be used. This college knows or at least has, more facts about you than your parents.

Of all the curious rituals computer oriented processes have formed, none are more frustrating than that of pre-registration. I will not go into disgusting detail here, but I will reveal a few of the more curious new traditions of this now firmly entrenched complication of academic life.

First of all, there is that well known phenomenon, the line. As one of our english-speaking friends say, the queue. Every phase of pre-registration is preceded by a line. This line is usually composed of individuals who think they are in the line for A-K or for French or Calculus only to find, after waiting three hours in the rain, that this is actually the line for L-Z German or English I. Small wonder the suicide rate on college campuses is so high. After all, there is no waiting line.

Once you get your cards from the registrar, you can go get your advisor to fill in all the blanks for classes. Of course, you will have to wait to see him or her because of the ever present line. At this point you begin to wonder if it is really worth it. After all, the line is quite short over at the VISTA booth.

Finally, the advisor places official sanction on the next phase of your labors and you go out to track down department secretaries to sign your cards. Here you become extremely familiar with the campus layout because you are not going to have all your course departments in the same building. So you walk from building to building beginning to feel like a wandering Jew.

Now for a real neat surprise! All the department offices are not where logic or common sense would seem to dictate. You will find this out if you take certain drama, art, or sociology courses. I will now reveal a little known fact. These departments would appear to be in this building of business. However, to keep some fun in things, I won't reveal which floor.

At long last, all your cards are signed so you truck back to the Administration building to join the line to the registrars office. While waiting, you and your fellow victims tell each other tales of daring-do or great acting performed in order to get in certain classes. ("I told her I only had a year to live so she let me in World Masterpieces") arriving at the head of the line you find that A-K and L-Z have been reversed since you left.

So you think the worst is over. Sitting there, reading this, you chuckle grimly. Well next fall you will find your master computer card has been bent, spindled, or mutilated. The course requirements for your major have been changed. All is not hopeless, however. No matter what happens, the bill for your tuition and fees will arrive promptly to your correct address unless the post office loses it. Such thoughts are enough to make one look forward to exams.

There's more to cycling than a bicycle. And your RALEIGH dealer has more of the things that make cycling safer and more fun.

LIFE CYCLES
4209 Oleander Drive
Community Shopping Center
Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

Yes
Wachovia

SONATA
200-$1000
WED. RING $75.00

APOLLO
$350-$1000
WED. RING $85.00

Love Is A Giving Thing

Mills
Keepsake
JEWELERS & Accutron Center

28 N Front St • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

The Richardson Corporation
Insurance

501 Carolina Power & Light Building
763-5445

interested in government?

A representative from the Civil Services Commission will be on campus April 9, 1974 from 10:00 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. in the Student Services Building (Pub) to answer questions concerning employment with the Federal Government. This should be of interest to all students, especially since the Federal Government each year employs more than 15000 well qualified college graduates for rewarding careers in a wide range of professions and occupations.

The government recruits college graduates for two basic categories: Administratively oriented positions and specialty professions such as physics, mathematics, engineering, the physical sciences, accounting, or auditing.

The first category includes positions ranging from electronic data processing to personal management and are filled through the Federal Service Entrance Examination. About one half of the positions for which the government recruits college graduates each year is filled through this exam. College seniors who will complete degree requirements within nine months, as well as graduates, are eligible to compete in the FSEE regardless of academic majors.

College graduates in the sciences, math, engineering, and other specialties, are not required to take a written test, but are evaluated according to education and experience. These individuals may, however, also apply to take the written test if they so desire.

Beginning salaries range from $8055 to $12167 and Federal agencies will be recruiting at colleges across the nation looking for topnotch graduates to fill responsible and challenging positions in a wide range of professions and occupations in the Federal service.

Burroughs Wellcome Co., a pharmaceutical company, will be interviewing on campus April 13. There are a few interview vacancies remaining. If you are interested in interviewing this company, please get in touch with the placement office in A-113

Charles Smith —
the new Student Nurses Association of North Carolina president for District nine.

Charles S. Smith of UNC-W won election to the presidency of the Student Nurses Association of North Carolina (SNA) at the 25th annual convention of the group last weekend in Greensboro. He is the first male to ever hold that office and the first UNC-W student to ever hold a position on the state level.

Smith and 13 other representatives from UNC-W attended three days of get togethers, seminars, caucuses, and meetings. Connie Carter, local SNA president, was a voting delegate at the convention. Also attending were Kathi Beall, Joe George, Chuck R. Smith, and Miss Mary Alice Whitfield, associate professor of nursing, and local and district 9 SNA advisor.

Charles will represent SNANC as one of its two voting delegates at the national convention in Salt Lake City, Utah in late April along with newly elected first VP Allen Kaylor of East Carolina University.

Charles is a first year nursing student in the James Welker Memorial Association Degree Program here and he has also completed the requirements for graduation with a degree in French. He works as a male nursing assistant at New Hanover Memorial Hospital.

Among his interests are dancing and drama, art, and writing poetry. But first and foremost, states Clark, "the interest is nursing."

Smith expressed delight that UNC-W and district 9 fared as well. "Our local SNA, along with those of Fayetteville Technical Institute, Hamlet Hospital School of Nursing, James Sprunt Institute, and Southern Community College make up District 9, which had three officers elected to state positions. Along with the presidency, Midge Embry of UNC-W was elected to the nominating committee and Stella Simpson of Hamlet was chosen treasurer."

lost

Missing something? Why not stop by Ms. Linda Moore's office in the Pub? She has an assortment of lost and found articles including a wide array of notebooks, textbooks, keys, class rings and rings, a Thermos, bottle, an umbrella and a missing hat.

THE TRANSPLAN

Concern will turn the heart
one side to hear what's passing by

Curiosity tunes the eye to photograph and keep what's passing by

Caring shapes the Word that stands on tip

that stands on tip
to be heard
Miltone Boone
Campus Minister

TRIVIA God's Greatest Messenger---March by jkm

All the angels and archangels are messengers of God, but the Archangel Gabriel has had the most important assignments. Four times he has brought man news of the coming of the Lord. Twice he explained to Daniel the meaning of visions about the Messiah (Daniel 8:26; 9:21). He appeared to Zacharias to announce the birth of John the Baptist, the forerunner of the Christ (Luke 1:11-20). Most important, he announced to a Hebrew girl that while still a virgin she would be the mother of the Lord Jesus.

Saints are usually honored on the day of their death, but since Gabriel never died, his day is the one he spent the day of his fourth and greatest assignment. The name Gabriel means "man of God".

March 24 is called the Annunciation of the Virgin Mary. It should really be the Annunciation "to", for it celebrates Gabriel's appearance to her to announce that she was to be the mother of Jesus. It was celebrated very early, but the date was not set until the fourth century after the date of Christ's birth was set.

Annunciation usually falls during Lent and is often a fast day. If it occurs on Maundy Thursday or Good Friday it is transferred to a date after Easter.

Greetings, Bride-to-be

For a perfect
and
"heavenly"
wedding you are cordially invited to come in
and let us show
you why this is such a popular shopping spot
with smart brides

MADEMOISELLE
Shops

"We are big enough to serve you and small enough to know you"

22 North Front Street

WILMINGTON

HEDRICK SEEKS

N.C. JUDGESHIP

Judge R.A. (Fred) Hedrick of the North Carolina Court of Appeals should be an inspiration to all of us. As a member of the second highest court of the state of North Carolina, he carries a full work load along with the other members of the Appellate Court despite the fact that he is totally blind. Judge Hedrick is now a candidate for one of the seats on the North Carolina Supreme Court subject to the Democratic Primary in May. Hedrick is seeking the seat which will be vacated by the retirement of Associate Justice Carlyle Higgins. Judge Hedrick is a native of Iredell County and a brother of Charlotte Attorney Philip R. Hedrick. Blinded in an accident when he was 16, Hedrick continued his schooling at the state school for the blind in Raleigh and subsequently graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the UNC Law School where he established an outstanding record.

Judge Hedrick returned to Statesville in 1949 and began his practice of Law, where he developed his practice in to a large one as a trial attorney. He was elected as solicitor of Iredell County Criminal Court and held that position for several years. In 1958 he was elected Judge of Iredell County Criminal Court and held that position until he was elevated to the North Carolina Court of Appeals in 1970.

He was an outstanding vocalist as part of the University of North Carolina Glee Club and choral groups during his college years, he has appeared as vocalist on national radio programs and is called upon to sing at civic functions, funerals, and weddings.

He is a member of the North Carolina Bar Association and the American Bar Association. He is past president of the Iredell County Bar Association and the twenty-second Judicial District.

He is a Presbyterian, is married to the former Patricia Owen of Thomasville and they have four children.

He has served the Democratic Party as precinct chairman, president of the Iredell County Young Democrats and Member of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Judge R.A. Hedrick

PEANUTS
Joe College was getting on in years.

Where had the time gone?

It was hard to believe that he had a son old enough to graduate from High School.

Joe Junior College.

SUMMER IN SEVILLE SPAIN

Openings are still available for the UNC Year at Seville (Spain) program.

Under the program, now in its second year, undergraduate or graduate students spend a full academic year at the University of Seville, in sunny, southern Spain.

Although participation in the program involves juniors, it is open to all unders open to all undergrads or grad students. It is not necessary to be a Spanish major to take part in the program, administered by the Department of Romance Languages at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

For further information and an application, write to

UNC YEAR at SEVILLE
239 Day Hall
UNC - Ch
Chapel Hill, N. C. 27514

It's working

Thanks to you

The United Way

advertising contributed for the public good.

© The United Way of America 1973.

SGA ELECTION RUNOFFS

The run-off elections are being held today in the cafeteria from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Students must have 1 D's to vote.

The run-offs are between Keith Hales and Rocky Moore for SGA president, and Steve Hobbs and Robert Jones for president of the Junior class.

Now you can protect yourself against muggers, rapists and worse with this amazing new whistle. Wear it as a necklace or carry it as a key chain. Its long-range penetrating shrill brings help in a hurry. The next dark night (that's tonight!) you'll feel a lot safer just knowing you have the greatest protection in the world. Gives obscene phone callers a shrilling earful, too. GET IT BEFORE YOU HAD IT!

COME IN OR MAIL HANDY COUPON

Yes! I want to be saved! Send me _____ London-Like Whistles
_____ Key Chain _____ Necklaces _____ Number _____ Chrome _____

I enclose $3.00 for each London-Like Whistle. I understand that if I am not totally satisfied, I will receive a complete refund if returned in 10 days.

Family Jewels Ltd.
3431 West Villard Avenue
Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53209

NAME _____
STREET NUMBER _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

Taking off? Take us up.

There's a place for you on Piedmont. For a weekend of fun, a game out of town, a quick trip home, whatever—there's a Piedmont jet or propjet flight to fit your plans. With personal, thoughtful service always. Piedmont—serving over 75 cities including Chicago, New York, Washington, Norfolk, Atlanta, Memphis. Call us, or your travel agent. We've got a place for you.

Piedmont Airlines

Bahá'u'lláh

THE GLORY OF GOD

Bahá'u'lláh is the latest in the succession of Divine Messengers sent by God since the beginning of man's existence. He is the Promised One of all religions. His coming ushers in the Age of Fulfillment mentioned in all the prophecies of the past. Bahá'u'lláh brings God's Plan for world peace, world justice and world unity.

FOR INFORMATION:

Bahá'í Faith

call 791-6264
or 256-2802

Steve McQueen and Dustin Hoffman are French convicts bound for Devil's Island in the Allied Artists release "Papillon," scheduled to open in December (1973). Directed by Academy Award-winner Franklin J. Schaffner, the film is based on the late Henri Charrière's best selling autobiography, "Papillon," a harrowing story of the souls and relationships of men caught in the mania of a dehumanized institution. The book has sold over 17 million copies worldwide and 5 million copies in the United States alone.

Dustin Hoffman

There's no easy way for Charlie Nelson to become Dr. Nelson.

But there is a way to make it somewhat easier. Our way. The Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program. It won't soften the demands of your professors, or those you make upon yourself—but it may free you from those financial problems which, understandably, can put a crimp in your concentration.

If you qualify, our scholarship program will cover the costs of your medical education. More, you'll receive a good monthly allowance all through your schooling.

But what happens after you graduate?

Then, as a health care officer in the military branch of your choice you enter a professional environment that is challenging, stimulating and satisfying.

An environment which keeps you in contact with practically all medical specialties. Which gives you the time to observe and learn before you decide on your specialty. Which may present the opportunity to train in that specialty. And to practice it.

You may also find some of the most advanced medical achievements happening right where you work. Like at the Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, Texas, long noted for its Burn Treatment Center. Or the home of Flight Medicine, the famed Aerospace Medical Division, also in San Antonio. Or the National Naval Medical Center in Bethesda, Maryland, recognized worldwide for its work in Medical Research.

And if you've read this far, you may be interested in the details. Just send in the coupon and we'll supply them.

Armed Forces Scholarships
Box A
Universal City, Texas 78148
Z-CN-44

I desire information for the following program: Army ☐
Navy ☐ Air Force ☐ Medical ☐ Osteopathic ☐ Dental ☐ Veterinary ☐ Podiatry ☐ Other (please specify) _____

Name _____ (please print)
Soc. Sec. # _____
Address _____
City _____
State _____ Zip _____
Enrolled at _____ (school)
To graduate in _____ (month) (year) (degree)
Date of birth _____ (month) (day) (year)

*Veterinary not available in Navy Program.

Papillon

Escape Vehicle

It is nice to see French Guiana again. The French may have shut down the infamous penal system they used to maintain there, but it still flourishes there as a country of the mind, a Disneyland for masochists, in the imagination of movie-makers. For them the guards will always and universally be sadistic brutes, the prisoners either nice guys or people doing time for bad raps.

Some—like Henry Charrière (Steve McQueen), whose nickname, Papillon (Butterfly), is symbolized on his chest—are endlessly obsessed with plans for escape. Others, like Louis Degas (Dustin Hoffman), try to get away by going along. Still others are on hand to demonstrate by their dramatically timed deaths just how difficult both courses are. Much suspenseful, if highly stylized, drama results from the interaction of these characters with one another and with hell on earth. Devotees of the prison-and-escape genre will enjoy anew such tradition-blessed plays as the smuggled weapon bit, sundry chases through jungle and swamp, the operation-without-anesthesia scene, and of course the solitary-confinement sequence.

Unfortunately, Director Schaffner's natural taste is for the big, expensive canvas. The slickness of his work vitiates any attempt to take "Papillon" with entire seriousness. Prison life is more picturesque than genuinely horrifying, and the escapes into the world outside are seen through a National Geographic lens brightly. Everywhere the squalor seems to have been painted on carefully but obviously, like McQueen's old man's makeup at the end of the picture.

Still, McQueen works hard and almost manages to triumph over his star presence, while Hoffman submerges himself eccentrically and amusingly in his cowardly role. Papillon inevitably refers us to old movies rather than to reality. Audiences whose expectations do not exceed their grasp will find it a much more comfortable vehicle of escape than any that McQueen & Co. discover on the island.

Steve McQueen

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

ARMED FORCES HEALTH CARE
DEDICATED TO MEDICINE AND THE PEOPLE WHO PRACTICE IT

Streaking in Reverse

DISSENT has often flowered at Antioch College in Yellow Springs, Ohio, a campus well-spring of antiwar activism in the 1960s. So it was perhaps predictable that "streking" at Antioch would be done with a difference.

The other day a crowd gathered on campus to witness the appearance of a streaking student. The student was fully clothed. The crowd was naked.

—R.L.B.

gort

Are you th' president of General Mobiles?

Right! Now get to the point, son! I'm a busy man!

All your new models are DEFECTIVE! You'll have to call in ALL th' cars you've sold & have th' defects corrected at your expense!

YOU'RE INSANE! We've already sold 250,000 autos! JUST THINK OF THE COST! Come with me!

To call in all my autos is ridiculous! Sure, we're HUMAN, and there may be a couple bugs here & there...

White

VS.

GOD

While on campus, Jack White played several students in pocket billiards including star basketball player Willie Jackson, David Walsh, and our very own campus Billiard pocket champ Billy Peterson. They all played well against this pro billiard wizard but none could beat him!

All the top professionals said that they only knew one person that could beat him and Jack White hasn't met up with him YET--and that's God. All that saw him perform here on campus would probably have to concede that its true. See related story, Jolly Jack the Billiard Giant on page 10.

STUDENT I.D.'s NEEDED FOR ACTIVITIES

To determine the quality point averages for a semester or for the total time at the university do the following:

Add the number of quality points earned so far; each letter grade represents a set number of points. At the university, the system is:

- A - 4 points
- B - 3 points
- C - 2 points
- D - 1 point
- F - 0 points

Divide by the total number of course hours taken.

CRISIS LINE -
anytime
763 - 3695

NEW MUSIC COURSES FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

New courses in the Music Department have been announced by the chairman of the department, Dr. Richard Deas.

Courses added will include Music 105, Rudiments of Music - a general survey of the basic materials of music designed for Elementary Education students, Public School Teacher Certification, music students who wish to prepare for Music Theory 101, and for students who want to increase their knowledge of music.

Music 134, Choral Workshop, is a survey of choral literature of all periods. Richard Steen will instruct this course and the above mentioned.

Class Piano: Music 151 carries the prerequisite of the consent of the instructor, and is recommended for all music majors who have not passed the piano proficiency exam. The course includes three hours of lab work per week. Dr. Deas will teach the course.

Fred McAfee will teach Electronic Music, Music 303, which carries five lecture-laboratory hours a week with accumulative credit. It will be a basic course in synthesizer techniques utilizing the Synth AKS with touch-sensitive keyboard and computer memory bank. Students must have the consent of the professor to enroll in the course.

ALL DELUXE MANOR

NOW SHOWING

DOWNTOWN
762-2935

1-3-5-7-9

JON VOIGHT IS "CONRACK"

One beautiful man. His story is true.

PG

PANAVISION®
COLOR BY DELUXE®

I want all of you to take a real long look at me. That shouldn't be any hardship because I'm handsome. Moreover, I have a penetrating wit, a fanciful imagination and my eyes are bluer than Paul Newman's."

20th Century Fox presents A MARTIN RITT/IRVING RAVETCH PRODUCTION
Also starring PAUL WINFIELD and HUME CRONYN

Discount Cards for Students can be picked up in Ms. Linda Moore's office, the library, and the lobby of the Administration Building.

Budweiser. KING OF BEERS®

'When you say
Budweiser,
you've said it all!

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

OLEANDER DRIVE - 799-3950

OLEANDER Cinema 1&2

ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

N-O-W Showing at 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

George Glenda
Segal Jackson

A Melvin Frank Film
A Touch Of Class

Avco Embassy Release Technicolor® Panavision®

5 Academy Award

Nominations

Escape Is Everything!

N-O-W SHOWING

at 1:40-4:20-7:00-& 9:40

ALLIED ARTISTS presents
STEVE DASTIN
McQUEEN HOFFMAN
in a FRANKLIN J. SCHAFNER film
PAPILLON

PANAVISION® TECHNICOLOR®
ALLIED ARTISTS presents

LONG LEAF Cinema 1&2

LONG LEAF MALL - SHIPYARD BLVD.
HELD OVER 799-5710 2nd WEEK

The TREASURE of JAMAICA REEF

N-O-W
at 1:30
3:30
5:30
7:30
9:30

Great Family
Entertainment!

Rated
(G)

HELD OVER FOR 4th
SMASHING WEEK!

No Bargain Hour!

ONE OF THE MOST POPULAR
PICTURES OF OUR TIME!

Don't Miss It!
SHOWS at 2-4-6-8-10

Final Week Of

BILLY
JACK

ALL SEATS $1.00 UNTIL 2:30 EXCEPT SUNDAY

rocky moore speaks

May the best man win in the elections on April 9th. I further urge you as students to vote in this election since it is important to both Keith Hales and myself. I, personally, have put out a tremendous effort to meet with you in order to understand the issues as you see them.

The Student Government has lacked the energy to investigate student complaint. I feel this has been a great failure of the past administration.

I apologize for not talking with all to you, as I earnestly would like to know every student personally.

I feel I have done all that I was able, to convince you that I sincerely want to be your president. I have had many positions in the service with a great deal more responsibility than this job and I feel very capable of the office.

I thank all my friends who have helped me with my campaign for they are true friends. Thank you.

Rocky Lane Moore
SGA President Candidate

RIDE ON!

Tour America
on a
Raleigh
3-speed bicycle

Raleigh 3-speed models are designed for the rigors of touring. Rugged frames and components, comfortable saddles and easy shifting hubs let you go places with ease. You'll find a wide choice of Raleighs too. And you're guaranteed a perfect fit with the Raleigh CustomSizer. Raleigh... a world of difference.

RALEIGH

LIFE CYCLES

4209 Oleander Drive
Community Shopping Center
Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

FAIR AND FORTUNE

For a limited time only, (exactly two weeks) the prospect of FAIR AND FORTUNE eagerly awaits the opportunist. If you're dissatisfied with your present milieu, perhaps a rewarding career in yearbook editing is for you! High pay (if you can embezzle it) and personal satisfaction make this one of the fastest growing fields today. Act now and not only will you escape from the normal humdrum existence you are presently entrapped by, but also you will launch yourself into an exciting career in annual staff leadership.

To apply for this coveted position, all you need do is fill out the coupon below, or on a plain sheet of paper print a reasonable facsimile of the words "FLEDGLING EDITOR" and submit it to either Gwen Croom (Room 124 in administration) or slide it under the yearbook office door upstairs in the Pub.

Act now and you'll get your gutters and leaders retracted, a 9 X 12 rug, or a stand up Shetland Lewytt Vacuum Cleaner. But most of all, you'll have chosen the path that will lead you to FAIR AND FORTUNE.

(Dot along cutted line - Do not send entire ad.)

Yes, I am tired of my present environment, and long for the prospects of FAIR AND FORTUNE. Enroll my name as an interested student, so that like millions of others, I too can obtain a rewarding career in yearbook editing.

(Please print name in full)

(PHONE NUMBER)

S.G.A. ELECTION FINALS

Results of the elections held March 28 and 29 for offices in the Student Government Association are as follows.

There will be a run-off for the Presidency of the SGA between Keith Hales, presently the vice-president of the student government, and Rocky Moore. The run-off election is being held today.

In the first balloting, Rocky Moore took the lead with 95 votes. Keith Hales, a close second with 93; Mike Jones carried 72 votes, and Brad Walls received one write-in.

Elected vice-president of the student body was Brad Walls, who ran unopposed for the office.

Secretary of the Student Government Association was written in Donna Adams, a junior at the university.

There will be a run-off between sophomores Steve Hobbs and Robert Jones for the presidency of the Junior Class, Steve Hobbs came in first with 31 votes, and Robert Jones carried 29. Ed Stone received 13 votes.

Carol Moore was elected vice-president of the Junior Class. She was unopposed. Senators for the Junior Class include Lance Ferrell, Clark Sizemore, John Crawley, Teresa Hernandez and Donna Hocutt.

Rocky Moore was elected president of the Senior Class. He ran against Toje King for the position. Vice-president of the class is Linwood Carter, and Secretary is Donna Adams.

Senators for the Senior Class will be Mike Ellis, Pam Welch, Marian Saffo, Ken Jones and Herbert Walter.

Freshman Steve Burnett was elected president of the Sophomore Class for next fall, and vice-president will be John Gates. Running unopposed, Beth Hicks, will serve as Secretary for the Sophomore Class.

Senators representing the Sophomore Class will include Tim Allison, Rufus Butler, Clay Fairley, Ricky Patten and Gary Coburn.

Students are urged to vote in the run-off elections today. Booths are set up in the cafeteria area, down stairs, I.D.'s are needed to vote.

KEITH HALES SPEAKS

On April 9 you will again have a chance to vote for Student Body President, only this time your choice will be narrower. You will be able to choose either Keith Hales or Rocky Moore.

Rocky Moore is putting on a big campaign effort and you will be seeing his name everywhere, but don't vote for the name; vote for the person. I won't campaign in this manner, because I feel that you, the students, should vote for the most qualified and not the student who puts on the biggest show.

I offer you my experience from the last two years as both a Senator in SGA and vice president of the SGA. I also now hold the position of chairman of the Student Rights Committee for the State and could better respond to student needs on both a state-wide and campus basis than could my opponent. If elected I would represent all the students at UNC-W and would show no vested interest in any single group for their effort in getting me elected.

Looking at the record of past performance in SGA and around campus, I am sure that you, as students, will vote for Keith Hales for Student Body President.

Keith Hales
candidate for SGA Pres.

During the Easter holidays, the university library will observe the following hours:

The library will be open from 8 - 5 p.m. on April 11, 12 and 15. The library will be closed on the 13 and 14.

AQUA WORLD inc.

Professional
Diving
Instruction
N.A.S.D.S.
Approved

- Classes Now Open
- Basic & Open Water Certification
- 4 to a Class
- Individual Instruction
- Private Pool (no pool fee)
- 3 Open Water Dives
- $50.00-total cost!

AIR - SALES - RENTALS,
CHARTER - REPAIRS

791-3976

5425 WRIGHTSVILLE AV.

CLASSIFIED

* Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are urged to put their classified ads in the SEAHAWK free -- FREE, i.e. no charge. Let us give you a break.

personal

Lilly Whaley
Typing at home 791-2446

35 mm CAMERA: Want to buy Pentax, Miranda, etc. See F. Allen in room 115, Hoggard Hall.

PAPERS TYPED: 50¢ for the first five pages; 40¢ for each page thereafter. Dia. 453-6788.

CUSTOM LEATHER WORK: Call 763 - 4371 anytime.

SKY DIVING LESSONS: To be taught this spring. Course enrollment now through March. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinols after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

NEED DIVING GEAR? Have just obtained U. S. divers dealership for 1974. Very low mark - up, terrific savings. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinols after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

SEWING & ALTERATIONS: Call 799-5531.

for sale

SMALL REFRIGERATOR: Perfect for dorm room. $60. (Think how much you rent one for over a year.) See John at University Arms Apartments, 4903-A.

STEREO UNIT: 8 track tape player, AM-FM radio and turn table. $200. Call 799-1586; ask for Dean.

Set of York steel barbells Includes headstrap, wrist developers, dumbbells, iron shoes and instructions booklet. Total weight 150 lbs Contact Larry 218 Dorm

1969 MOBILE HOME: 12 x 65 foot, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, central air conditioning. For appointment, call between 6 and 8 p.m. at 285-3747.

PORTABLE T.V.: Sears silvertone 19 inch screen with VHP and UHP antennas. Excellent condition physically and mechanically. $50.

STEREO COMPONENTS: Most major brands! 20 - 50% off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

FOLDING BED: Three quarter bed for $30. Call 791-6388 or 686-0002.

GENETICS BOOK: Used only one day being sold for $6.50. See John Wilkins in the Pub between 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

LADIES WETSUIT: 2 piece, 1/4" women's small to medium wetsuit in good condition. Ask for Debbie at 791-9108.

NURSING UNIFORMS: New! Never been worn; size 6 (28). Ask for Betsy at 799-0595.

FOR SALE: surf board 6'2" Cork Caroll Sparestick, 1 yr old. $70 7915013 Bill.

FOR SALE: 2 solid pine bar w/ 3 stools $75 over 25 yrs old 7916113
1968 Rambler- full power asking $750 but make an offer. 7915113

F.M.-AM receiver & turntable 8 track 2-4 channel switch 20rig. & 2 comm. speakers. $100 rm. 332

AM-FM receiver & turntable 4 speakers 2-4 channel switch $220 new sell $130 perfect condition rm. 317

65 Chevrolet Impala 396 auto.-trans. Engin in good condition. Trans. rebuilt in Sept. Must Sell $300 Rm. 317 Dorm Charlie

1971 MGB ROADSTER: New radials, new paint job - 21,000 miles - very clean. $2195. After 5 p.m. call Lima: at 762-2389.

Waterbeds: new king size beds $30. Also beanbags call Herbie at 791-9325

SURFBOARD: 7' 2", 19" wide semi-gun board built strictly for Puerto Rico and reef type breaks. $50 or best offer. Dial 763-8714.

1964 VW108,000 mi-engine rebuilt at 80000, new front end at 100,000. Body fair-green $500.
Terry Workman, 502 M. Lumina basement after 5:00

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: power steering and radio. Only $1000. Dial 799-3765.

1972 VW VAN: Rear seat opens to bed; radio; carpeting and curtains. Good condition, $2850. Call Ned Martin at 791-4330 (ext. 321) from 9-5 weekdays.

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

1961 CADILLAC: Excellent shape with all accessories, power steering, brakes, air conditioning. Best offer: 799-4735, or contact at Dorm room 223 anytime. Ask for James.

1968 FORD LTD: Station wagon with power steering and brakes, air conditioning and new tires. In great shape. $995. Call 256-2526 or 256-2227.

1972 VEGA: Panelwagon with 28,000 miles in excellent condition. $1700. Call 762-6144.

WANTED

Wanted: salesman with experience clothing store weekends contact 763-8185

Three College girls would love to sub-let pour love to sub-let your 3-bedroom house or apt. from middle May to middle Aug. Preferably near the campus or the beach. If you can help us please write Dawn Petrea 314 Kenan Dorm., Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514

College Manor Apartments

- new tavern & clubhouse
- six month lease
- tennis courts
- full time social director
- summer recreational program
- convenient location from UNC-W

We have a special summer rate for students and teachers!

Contact resident manager for details.

College Road (Hwy 132)
Phone 791-3156

University Arms APARTMENTS

WALKING DISTANCE FROM UNC-W

All electric living with GE appliances; range, dishwasher; disposal and refrigerator, individually controlled heating and air conditioning...luxurious shag carpeting, private patios, beautiful swimming pool!

1, 2 & 3 Bedroom Apts.

FURNISHED or UNFURNISHED

Starting at $140.

CALL 791-8674 OR 762-0366.

OR SEE RESIDENT MANAGER
HAROLD GREENE
MANAGEMENT

Charlton Heston

Yvette Mimieux

James Brolin

Walter Pidgeon

Rosalind Grier

Susan Dey

Jeanne Crain

Leslie Uggams

One of these people is a maniac with a bomb.

All of them are being

SKYJACKED

MGM Presents

CHARLTON HESTON YVETTE MIMIEUX

in "SKYJACKED"

Co-Starring JAMES BROLIN - JEANNE CRAIN - ROOSEVELT GRIER - WALTER PIDGEON - LESLIE UGGAMS

Screenplay by STANLEY R. GREENBERG - Based Upon the Novel "SKYJACKED" by DAVID HARPER

Produced by WALTER SELTZER - Directed by JOHN GULLERMIN in association with MGM

Kenan Auditorium

Tuesday, April 9 - 8:00 p.m.

Admission 50¢ $1.00 without I.D.

JOLLY JACK

by robert maxey

THE BILLIARD GIANT

Jack White, world famous pocket billiard professional, entertained a spell-bound audience in the Student Affairs building on Monday, April 1. He was no April fool joke as he demonstrated some of his amazing trick shots. He added a spice of humor to his exhibition which kept his audience laughing throughout his performance. Jack White's talent came natural to him. His father was a world champion, and his uncle was also an exceptional player. White has visited the White House three times giving exhibitions before presidents Kennedy, Johnson, and Nixon. He also gave an exhibition at Buckingham Palace, and a bull was killed in his honor at Colombia. He has been to 123 countries in his life and, while on tour this year, he has already visited 14 countries and 34 states.

He started shooting exhibitions 18 years ago and now makes a gross income of $517,000 a year. The most coins won in one night was $27,000 which took him 4 1/2 hours. His cue stick, given to him, has an expected value of $400. When asked where one could obtain a cue stick like his, he replied, 'You can get it special at the Bookstore. Of course, mine is blessed by the Pope.'

What makes comedian-billiard player Jack White so unique is how he interacts with the students while performing.

He takes the stiff formality out of the air and allows anyone to express himself. One student wanted to know the difference in pool and billiards. Jack's reply was, 'Pool is played in the den of iniquity and pocket billiards are played at UNCW.' He claims to be the only professional with a degree in Poolology granted to him by Notre Dame.

Another student asked if he was planning to write a book about his life. 'Yes, I am planning to write a book, but I'm planning to wait till I die,' he retorted. Jack White, while getting ready to shoot, was asked what kind of table he practiced on. His sarcastic answer was, 'the supper table!' Then patting his stomach, he continued, 'This is all sirloin. It's no bologne. Seriously, I don't own a table at home. Everyone should be able to adjust to any table. Never give the excuse that the table is crooked.' He shot and missed! 'Boy', what a crooked table!' he exclaimed.

His trick shots were fantastic. He demonstrated his Roller Coaster shot, Johnny Carson Special, and The Hidden Eight Ball. In the latter, six balls surrounded the eight ball and a handkerchief was placed over the balls so that he could not see the balls. The students told him what pocket they wanted the eight ball to go in and he obliged. To add excitement to his act he told students that if he missed a shot he would give each of them $100 and a trip to the Bahamas. He never missed!

He has played many celebrities and professional pool players. Among the celebrities, he states the Mickey Rooney is the best of the men followed by Greg Morrison of Mission Impossible and Jackie Gleason. The best female player is actress Gail Fisher of Mannix followed by Joey Heatherton and Debbie Reynolds. He stated that he lost to Joey Heatherton because he kept passing. He'd rather watch her play!

Willie Jackson exclaims, "O.K. Jack, Give Me a turn." "Rack 'em up, Willie." Jack White replies. (staff photo by Neal Huntley)

Jack White hits a covergirl pose for a Seahawk photographer. (staff photo by Neal Huntley)

BASEBALL RESULTS

Astoria Christian 5-2, N.C. Wesleyan 4-1
Atlantic Christian 6, Guilford 4
Virginia Wesleyan 6-0, Atlantic Christian 4-7
Campbell 2, Muskingum 1
Eastern Michigan 9, Pembroke 7
N.C. State 11, Pembroke 1
Pembroke 8-6, Williams 0-0
UNC-W 6, Fayetteville State 1

BASEBALL STANDINGS

	DISTRICT		ALL GAMES
	W	L	W	L
Methodist	2	0	8	3
Campbell	1	0	8	5
UNC-W	1	0	8	7
Atlantic Christian	4	1	8	3
Virginia Wesleyan	4	1	6	2
Lynchburg	1	1	2	2
Virginia State	2	2	4	4
Pembroke State	0	0	5	8
Norfolk State	0	0	1	3
Shaw	0	1	0	4
St. Andrews	0	3	0	7
N.C. Wesleyan	0	4	0	6

PORSCHE
AUDI

See the '74 Porsche and Audi on Display

University Porsche Audi

SALES • SERVICE • PARTS

3302 Market Street Phone 763-5473

SALES DEPT. OPEN Mon.-Sat. 9 a.m. - 7 p.m. - Sat. 8 a.m. - 3 p.m.

HAWKS COP SERIES

by robert maxey

The UNC-W baseball team defeated visiting Williams College April 1 and April 2 in a double header to win their 7 and 8 straight victory.

On April 1 the Seanaak nine came from behind to gather their first victory over Williams 9-6. Trailing, 5-2, the Hawks managed six runs in the bottom of the fourth to take the lead away from the Massachusetts team. Three hurlers for Seahawks went to the mound. Lefty Paul Fulton pitched the first three innings giving up five runs. Mike Robbins who worked the three middle innings only gave up two singles. Duke Anderson finished the remaining innings and the seventh inning a run scored by Williams College off of an error.

Carl Lancaster and Bill Warmack each drove in a pair for the Hawks.

April 2 the Seahawks handed Williams College their second loss 13-4. Thurston Watkins, Carroll Bickers and Ricky Jones shared the mound. Thurston gave up two hits in the top of the second, Carroll Bickers fanned two and struck out two in the middle frames. Rick Jones ran into some trouble as Williams College staged a comeback attempt in the top of the seventh trailing 9-0. Williams College got four base hits and one walk to drive in four runs.

The Seahawks got six runs in the first inning when powerhouse Bill Warmack wacked the ball for a triple driving in three runs. Warmack led in hitting with a triple, a single and three RBIs. Swain Smith had two RBIs for the winners.

The Seahawks now boast a 10-7 overall record.

Susan Creech demonstrates her skill in trick pool shooting with a little assistance from Jack White. (staff photo by Neal Huntley)

tennis schedule

April 16	* St. Andrews	away
April 19	USC-Conway	away
April 20	Francois Marion	away
April 23	ECU	HOME
April 25	Campbell	away
	Methodist	HOME

May 10 & 11 NAIA DISTRICT 29 TOURNAMENT

 denotes games at 1pm

* denotes games at 1:30

all other games will be played at 2 p.m.

TRAINER: DOUBLE DUTIES

by wayne steele

AS student athletic trainer, Scott Kennedy has double duties here at UNC-W.

Scott serves as student trainer for both the basketball team and the baseball team. This is his second year as trainer since transferring from Wingate Junior College.

His job keeps him busy throughout the year. He takes care of injuries to players as well as the pre-game preparations consisting of taping and well-being of the athletes.

Last year Scott handled the job alone, but this year he is the assistant trainer for Tracey James. Mr. James was the athletic trainer for the Carolina Cougars.

Scott came to UNC-W when Coach Gibson offered him the job of manager of the basketball team. He was manager and statistician in high school and began his athletic training at Wingate.

Scott is a senior majoring in health and recreation. He plans to go to graduate school at Indiana University and become certified with the National Athletic Trainer Association.

ional Athletic Trainer Association.

"The field of sports medicine is wide open," Scott replies. "I feel there is a need for more certified trainers in coordination with sports as a whole."

As a student trainer, Scott Kennedy is learning and performing his duties at the same time. UNC-W is fortunate to have someone as dedicated as he is.

baseball

SCHEDULE

away 3:00	April 8	Shaw
home 7:30	April 12	Stetson University home 1:30	April 13	Baptist College at Charleston home 7:30		Stetson University home 1:30	April 15	ECU
away 3:00	April 16	Methodist College home 7:30	April 18	Fayetteville State away 7:30	April 22	Francis Marion home 7:30	April 24	Pembroke State away 7:30	April 25	Campbell College away 1:00	April 27	Virginia State home 7:30	April 29	Gardner Webb College away 8:00	May 1	Pembroke State away 3:00	May 3	ECU
home 7:30	May 4	Campbell College
home 7:30	May 5	Shaw

May 15, 16, 17, & 18 DISTRICT 29 TOURNAMENT

VILLAGE INN
WHERE PIZZA IS ALWAYS
IN GOOD TASTE!

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

3617 Market Street

SKYJACKED

PG METROCOLOR
PANAVISION® MGM

RALEIGH

Master Instruction in
KARATE KUNG FU
JU-JITSU KEMPO
OPEN MONDAY-THURSDAY
FOR INSTRUCTION AND WORKOUT

$20.00 MONTH

SELF DEFENSE INSTRUCTION FOR MEN, WOMEN & CHILDREN
STOVER'S
ACADEMY OF SELF DEFENSE

John Stover, 4th Degree Black Belt

Community Shopping Center Olander Drive

Call 791-6399 or 763-8083 for information.

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.

Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings — as an Air Force pilot or navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

SGT. JERRY T. LEWIS
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N. C.
Phone: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

Yes

Wachovia

submit to Contest

Win 25 clams fast

Do you want to turn you: artistic talent into a fast twenty-five clams?

Then submit an entry to the competition to design a pennant for the marine science program.

"The University of North Carolina at Wilmington is continually seeking ways to involve students in its various programs and when the suggestion was made that the UNC-W Marine Science Program could use some distinguishing symbol to identify its boats and other gear, the idea was enthusiastically endorsed by Chancellor Wagoner," reported Dr. Louis Adcock, a member of the Environmental Studies Steering Program who originated the idea.

"The competition continues a tradition of student involvement in this sort of activity," Dr. Adcock added. "The school colors and the seahawk emblem are entirely student work. The words to the alma mater were written by a student, and our former college seal and motto were both student-originated," said Dr. Adcock.

Dr. Adcock also stated that the month-long competition is open to all

UNC-W students, and that Claude Howell, Chairman of the Art Department, had agreed to serve as the head of a three-member jury to select the winning entry. Other judges include Mrs. Robert Milliner, director of St. John's Art Gallery, and Peggy Hall, former director of the art gallery.

Entry blanks are available in the SEAHAWK office in the Pub. The designs should be at least 5" x 10" drawings suitable for display as a pennant -- in color dealing with Marine Science. Entries should be turned in to the Seahawk office. The competition will run from March 15 - April 15.

SAB Elections

Sigma Alpha Beta, business fraternity at the university, held elections for officers for the coming year March 28. Newly elected officers include Steve Ezzell, president; Leon Walker, chancellor; Wally Loyless, senior v.p.; Jim Wofford, v.p. pledge education; David Howell, v.p. professional activities; Breck Newber as secretary, Rick Harris as treasurer and Mike Prevatte as historian.

The fraternity, as a whole would like to congratulate the officers and wish them luck through the ensuing year.

The Computing Center will be open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. on April 10 through the 12, and will be closed for the Easter holidays on April 13 - 15.

RSVP-The Cole Porters

APRIL 16

Cole Porter, whose musical magic has enchanted millions of people for over five decades, is the subject of the new musical, "R. S. V. P. - The Cole Porters," which will be presented by the university's Fine Arts Committee this evening. Curtain time is 8 p.m. in the Sarah Graham Kenan Auditorium.

The 1920's! They called them the Lost Generation, that galaxy of extravagant talents that burst over Europe and America after World War I. Noel Coward... F. Scott Fitzgerald... Ernest Hemingway... Elsa Maxwell... their parties were legendary, their music brilliant, their ideas shocked a generation into a new way of life. And through this world moved Cole and Linda Porter, captivated with their charm, illuminating with their wit, and immortalizing the spirit of their age in music.

The unforgettable era, which left an indelible impression on an entire generation and continues to fascinate their heirs, has inspired another vehicle which will undoubtedly serve to further the legend; a new musical -- "R. S. V. P. - The Cole Porters."

Cole Porter's genius dominated the popular music and theater world of the 1920's, 30's, 40's and into the 50's. A list of his 670 songs reads like the social register for music: "In the Still of the Night; Begin the Beguine; Night and Day; Just One of Those Things; From this Moment On," and on and on and on...

Today he is remembered as one of America's greatest composer-lyricists, but in the 1920's he and his beautiful wife, Linda, were best known as leaders of the International Society. Members of nobility, the very privileged, and "the society of achievement" dressed the lavish salons of their Venetian Palace and their New York apartment in the Waldorf Towers.

"R. S. V. P. - The Cole Porters" can't really be called a biography or musical revue. Rather, it provides the sort of intimate acquaintance you would expect to make if Cole and Linda Porter themselves should return to host one last, dazzling evening of music, laughter and conversation.

The emphasis is definitely on the 1920's even though most of the thirty songs in the show were created in the '30's, '40's and '50's. Two songs will be heard by the public for the first time, "We Shall Never Be Younger," which was originally written for Cole Porter's greatest musical, "Kiss Me Kate," but was never used in the show, and "Goodbye Little Dream, Goodbye," which was written for the 1936 Frad Astaire movie, "Born to Dance," but was dropped from the score.

The new musical stars the husband and wife team, Jack and Sally Jenkins. This musical is the couple's second major tour, the first being in 1972 when they toured nationally starring in "I Do! I Do!" All of Cole Porter's great music is being arranged and orchestrated by Mac Frampton who as star of Mac Frampton and Ensemble, was the sensation of 1973 on college and university campuses and to concert-going audiences all over the United States and Canada.

"R. S. V. P. - The Cole Porters" seems the sort of tribute to Cole Porter's genius that he himself might have chosen... bright, witty, irreverent, sophisticated and thoroughly unsentimental.

Reservations and tickets may be obtained at the box office in Kenan Auditorium or by calling 791-9695 between 2 and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

TUESDAY

9 a.m. -- Run-off elections will be held in the cafeteria until 3 p.m. I.D.'s are required to vote.

11:30 a.m. -- Newly elected officers in the SGA will be sworn in at the meeting of the Senate upstairs in the Pub.

5:30 p.m. -- Phi Mu's Rush Picnic will be held at the home of Sherry Southerland on 29th St.

6:30 p.m. -- "Ancient America Speaks" is being sponsored by the Church of Jesus Christ and the Latter Day Saints in the upstairs Pub.

8 p.m. -- A new musical, "R. S. V. P. - The Cole Porters" will be presented at 8 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium.

April 16

The Church of Jesus Christ and the Latter Day Saints is sponsoring "Ancient America Speaks" at 6:30 p.m. tonight in the Pub upstairs. Everyone is welcome.

12

PAIRS OF PANTYHOSE

$3.29

FAMOUS BRAND IRREGULARS FROM OUR WORLD FAMOUS HOSIERY MILLS. MICRO PANTY
WITH SHEER PLAIN KNIT LEGS. STYLE NO. 07401

Rolane
Sales
Outlets

Corner of 7th & Greenfield Streets

MON.-SAT 9:00-5:30

FREE PARKING

3-20-N

CAN YOU CHUG BEER?
ENOUGH TO WIN A DRINKING CONTEST?
SEE PAGE SEVEN...

seahawk

EXAMS ARE CLOSE. THE SEAHAWK HAS BEEN KIND ENOUGH TO PRINT
THE SCHEDULE ON PAGE
TWELVE.

University of North Carolina at Wilmington

April 19, 1974

twelve pages

The EARL SCRUGGS Revue

IN CONCERT

thursday april 25 hanover hall

GREEN GRASS CLOGGERS.....inside....

THE AMERICAN SONG FESTIVAL

an international songwriting competition

What is it? The beginning of a new era in music—the first annual international songwriting competition for both amateurs and professionals.

The Festival will be crowned with a series of concerts to be held at the prestigious Saratoga Performing Arts Center, Saratoga Springs, N.Y., where winning songs will be performed by today's most popular entertainers. TV coverage of the Festival finale is planned. An album of the Festival's Best Songs will be released internationally.

WHAT KIND OF SONGS? There are six categories for both amateur and professional: Rhythm and Blues/Soul/Jazz; Rock; Country & Western; Popular; Folk; and Gospel/Religious. A song may be entered in more than one category. Amateurs compete against amateurs. Professionals against professionals. (Songwriters currently members of performing rights organizations: ASCAP, BMI, SESAC or their foreign counterparts will be considered professional.)

HOW ARE WINNERS PICKED? Each song entered will be listened to by experts from the music industry. Thirty-six semi-finalists' songs will be chosen (three from each professional and amateur category). These then will be judged by an international jury comprised of eminent composers, publishers, artists and other representatives of the recording and broadcast industries.

PRIZES: Total cash prizes of $128,000 will be awarded. Each of the 36 semi-finalists will receive $500 cash and be the guest of the Festival for the August 30, through September 2, 1974 finals.

Twelve finalists (a winner from each category, each division) will receive an additional $5000.

The composers of the Best Amateur and Best Professional song will each win an additional $25,000. The Laurel Award for best song of the Festival will be a concert grand piano in addition to cash prizes of $30,500.

HOW TO ENTER: Start now. Enter as many songs as you wish for an entry fee of $10.85 per song. ($13.85 outside the USA and Canada.) Send the application below with $10.85 for each song to the American Song Festival. Applications must be postmarked no later than April 15, 1974.

You will receive the Official Festival Entry Kit, ASF Cassette by Capitol, entry form, and Songwriters' Handbook. This valuable book includes important information every songwriter should know; copyright laws, publishing, selling your songs, etc.

Record your song on the blank cassette and return. Instrumental and lyrical songs are accepted. You don't have to be able to write music—recording the cassette is enough. Elaborate production is not necessary. The song is what counts.

IMPORTANT FACTS: You do not relinquish ownership of a song by entering the Festival. All rights remain with the entrant.

The Festival is a competition, not a music publishing organization. Prizes are not tied to publishing contracts. Songs previously recorded and released commercially are not eligible for entry.

CLOSING DATES: Application for entry must be postmarked no later than April 15, 1974. The recorded cassette and entry form must be returned postmarked no later than June 3, 1974.

Enter now—fill out and mail the coupon today.

$128,000 in cash prizes

ENTER NOW

The American Song Festival
P.O. Box 57, Hollywood, CA 90028

Enclosed is my ☐ check ☐ money order entry fee of _____ made payable to the American Song Festival. ($10.85 each—outside U.S. & Canada $13.85 each.)
Please send _____ Official Festival Entry Kit(s) to:

NAME _____
(PLEASE PRINT)
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

seahawk

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

Published on Fridays by students at the university of north carolina at wilmington, deadline for publication is monday before the friday publication. our office is located downstairs in the pub. telephone 791-8055.

editor: beth hicks
associate editors: barry asbury
j. k. muleman
advertising director: barry asbury
business manager: alan murphy
sports editor: robert maxey
greek lines: rocky lane more
news editor: eugene mckinney

photographic staff: roberta alred
nauma dozier
neal huntley
zack sessions
supportive staff: linda houghton
layne lockamy
diane nestor
darlene pearsall

SPECIAL!! date extended to may 15

Wildflower preserve established

by eugene mckinney
news editor

A ten acre tract of land intergrated with the UNCW Nature Trail has been officially designated as a wildflower preserve. The project, just recently started, and which will involve continuous development, has as its purpose the prevention of possible extinction of native wildflowers.

Plants are already being brought in and a future want list is being prepared. To qualify for this list a plant does not necessarily have to be a currently endangered species. With Southeastern North Carolina building up so rapidly, many of the native wildflowers are approaching the category of endangered because of the loss of natural habitat.

A Master Plan will be kept to insure proper spacing and location of all flowers. Planned labeling of the plants and trees will help the novice botanist enjoy his excursion along the winding paths and across the rustic bridges.

Mrs. Herbert Bluethenthal of Wilmington, who donated the necessary funds, is the woman originally responsible for the project which is a memorial to her husband.

The executive committee, those responsible for the ultimate direction of the preserve, consists of Dr. Sieren, chairman; Dr. Plyler, Dr. Brauer and Charles Humpreys, Dr.

Sieren also chairs the ten member Citizens Advisory Committee.

The Wildflower Preserve is open to all students and to the public. Botany classes are expected to make extensive use of it with numerous field trips. Local garden clubs and local community groups are also expected to enjoy this latest addition to the UNCW campus.

S.G.A. ELECTION FINALS

Results of the runoff elections are as follows. Rocky Lane Moore with 136 votes will serve as Student Government Association president for the 1974-75 school year. His opponent, the outgoing SGA vice-president, Keith Hales, received 89 votes.

For Junior Class president, Steve Hobbs is accredited with 53 votes, and Robert Jones received 20. Steve Hobbs carried approximately 75% of all ballots cast in the Junior Class elections.

Officers in the SGA, class officers and senators were sworn in at the regular Senate meeting held Tuesday in the upstairs Pub.

CLUB NEEDS POLES

The Rowing Club is looking for second-hand tin or aluminum sheeting, lumber and/or support poles (inexpensive) for a badly needed shelter, contact Tom Raines in room 235 of the Residence Hall.

"I love you for what you are,
but I love you yet more for what you are going to be..."

—Carl Sandburg

DORM ASSISTANTS SOUGHT

Openings for resident assistants (men and women) have been announced by the Student Affairs Office. In a new approach for selection, a full day workshop will be held Saturday, May 4. At this time, with the assistance of the Drama and Speech Department, situational video tapes will be used to help in the selection of RA's for the 1974-75 school term. The workshop will be followed by interviews with the Student Affairs Office at a later date.

Preliminary criteria for selection include: (1) overall 2.0 quality point average, (2) ability to relate well with a variety of personalities, (3) willingness to participate in service training sessions as well as regular staff sessions with the head resident and the entire student affairs staff, (4) agreement to remain in the residence hall through closing times at vacation periods and at the end of each semester.

Interested students are requested to sign up for the May 4 workshop in the Student Affairs Office, room 113, Alderman Administration Building. Deadline is April 26.

circle K

Circle K, one of the largest service organizations in North Carolina and across the United States and Canada, is having a reactivation/membership drive on the UNC-W campus.

Meetings are held Monday evenings at 7 p.m. upstairs in the Pub. Lieutenant Governor for the southeastern district area, Tom Knight, presides over the meetings and discusses the foundations and goals of the baby brother of Kiwanis and big brother to the Key Club at High Schools.

LOVE COMES IN TWO'S

FAIRHAVEN $250.00
WED. RING $87.50

JUDD $450.00
WED. RING $150.00

Keepsake

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

28 N Front St • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9 P.
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

The Richardson Corporation
Insurance

501 Carolina Power & Light Building

763-5445

Chosen but once and cherished forever, your engagement and wedding rings will reflect your love in their brilliance and beauty. Happily you can choose Keepsake with complete confidence because the guarantee assures perfect clarity, precise cut and fine, white color. There is no finer diamond ring.

Keepsake

T.M. Reg. A. H. Pond Co.

HOW TO PLAN YOUR ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING

Send new 20 pg. booklet, "Planning Your Engagement and Wedding" plus full color folder and 44 pg. Bride's Book gift offer all for only 25¢. 8-74

Name _____ (Please Print)
Address _____
City _____
State _____ Zip _____
KEEPSAKE DIAMOND RINGS, BOX 90, SYRACUSE, N.Y. 13201

Find your Keepsake Jewellers in the Yellow pages or dial free 800-243-6000. In Conn. 800-582-6500.

Office goes unnoticed by students

by eugene mckinney
news editor

Because of no direct contact with present students, the Office of Institutional Research goes unnoticed by most UNC-W students even though it greatly affects them in their daily campus lives. Reporting directly to the Chancellor's office, the department is responsible for collecting and analyzing data concerning the college. Merging the knowledge of statistics with the speed and accuracy of the computer, the office implements and carries out various studies and organizes questionnaires for students and faculty, and is responsible for follow-up questionnaires concerning employment and graduate work.

Bob Fry and his staff are currently working on a Modeling-Simulation study. This mathematical model designed for colleges takes in such factors as enrollment, trends, course preferences, faculty costs, department costs, library needs of departments and many other elements in order to obtain a final output of the cost per credit hour of the various academic departments on campus. This aids in the proper allocation of university resources such as space, faculty and funds. Although having to look five to seven years into the future this office has to determine just where the demand for courses will be, so that the proper departments will be ready for the students.

Polling the community is being done through the Office of Institutional Research on the other campuses of UNC. This polling has revealed dissatisfaction of past students with certain courses because of their having no relation to the real world work environment. Compiled at UNC Chapel Hill, these studies effect the entire university system.

The office is not intended to be the perfect answer to all faculty and students needs -- the polls and model mentioned help to bring out trends and relative costs, not specifics. They do play a very important role in the only scientific way to anticipate student needs.

For those who will be graduating soon, Bob Fry emphasizes the need and importance of accurate responses to questionnaires from his office in order to provide better services to present freshmen and sophomores and to all future students.

statistics aid UNC-W

Fraternity membership rises

TUCSON, Ariz. (I.P.)-- Since the Vietnam cease-fire, fraternity and sorority membership at the University of Arizona has increased 15 to 20 per cent, reports Mary Jane Crist, assistant dean of students.

Dean Crist, however, attributes the rising interest in Greek life to stronger senses of identity in today's students. Equipped with a strong identity, today's student can say, "It's not detrimental to my individuality to belong to a group association," Ms. Crist explains.

Moreover, she affirms that "It's reality that when you graduate you have to belong to some type of group association. That's just reality hitting you right smack in the face, and today's student says, 'I've got to learn to function in an association.'"

Phi Mu sorority recently joined Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity in its recolonization efforts at the university. Dean Crist says that to her knowledge, no fraternity or sorority has ever gone through recolonization before, indicating the current rebirth in interest. In fact, she adds,

"every fraternity pledged enough men last fall to more than fill their chapter houses."

The average size of the Greek organizations rose from 50 to 60, and is expected to increase to between 65 and 90 by the end of formal spring rush activities, she comments. If Dean Crist's expectations are realized, sorority membership at the university may meet the 1000 plus figure reached during peak Greek popularity in 1966-67, though the campus today has one less sorority than it did seven years ago.

ART PROFESSOR

PRESENTS WORK

Mike Goins of the art faculty at the university will be conducting jewelry making workshops for directors of parks and recreation from throughout North Carolina in Raleigh on April 22 and 23. The Fayetteville Museum of Art will feature a show of jewelry crafted by Goins April 21-May 15.

MANSFIELD PRESENTS

PAPER AT SOCIETY

Bill Mansfield, research assistant at the Institute for Marine Biomedical Research, presented a paper entitled "Age Dependence of Seizure Patterns in Mice Exposed to Heliox Atmosphere," at the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology which met in Atlantic City April 9.

DEADLINE IS

5 PM MONDAY

Students and faculty are reminded that the deadline for articles for the Seahawk is on Monday at 5 p.m. before the the desired Friday publication date. Information can be turned in to staff members in the office in the PA or tacked to the office door.

Payne's

Robert Maxey

models

baggy pants by Male a western shirt by Accent
shoes by Verde
and belt by Tex. Tan.

Available at

Payne's

Downtown, Hanover Center
& Long Leaf Mall

crisis? 763-3695

Take a tip from Raleigh about bicycle safety.

Don't "hitch" on a bike. Holding on to another moving vehicle while riding a bicycle causes most of the fatal cycling accidents. Ride safe. Get a new book of 12 more safety tips free from your Raleigh Dealer.

LIFE CYCLES

4209 Oleander Drive

Community Shopping Center

- Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

CAN YOU -- clap your hands? stomp your feet? buck and wing? tap your toes? grin just a smidgen? Join in with the FLATLAND FAMILY BAND for a rollicking, driving, "ain't - we - havin' - a - good - time" evening in the back of the gym next Friday night at 8:30 p. m.

Yes

Wachovia

"Ain't it fun?" music

Formed four years ago, the Flatland Family Band, consists of six of the original members. The nucleus of the band is a real family, consisting of two sisters and their husbands, Linda and Mike O'Conner and Carolyn and Skeet Creekmore. Two long time friends, Bill Joyner and Stan Riggs, complete the group.

What originally began as a weeknight get together of family and friends erupted into an active old time and early bluegrass band. The group has played extensively in the North Carolina and Virginia area at contests, festivals, clubs, benefits, shows and parties.

own to many of the bluegrass favorites.

The members of the band take a special pride in preserving a bit of the American "grass roots" heritage in their music. Perhaps their greatest goal, however, is in preserving a way of enjoying oneself and life in general. This is music for the people by the people, young and old, rich and poor. If you can clap your hands, stomp your feet, buck and wing, tap your toes or just grin a little, then you're the kind of people they're pickin' for.

Instrumentally, the band features Mike on fiddle and vocal, Linda on guitar and vocal, Skeet on banjo, guitar, spoons and vocal, Carolyn on autoharp, Bill on Banjo and guitar, and Stan on bass.

Musically, the band sticks close to tradition--all old time tunes, particularly those of the rollicking, driving -- "ain't-we-havin'-a-good-time" variety. In addition, they also enjoy adding a twist of their 'Surprise people /

Serve

MICHELOB.

MICHELOB.

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

april

26

8:30 pm

gym

RALEIGH

Master Instruction in
KARATE KUNG FU
JU-JITSU KEMPO
OPEN MONDAY-THURSDAY
FOR INSTRUCTION AND WORKOUT
$20.00 MONTH

SELF DEFENSE INSTRUCTION FOR MEN, WOMEN & CHILDREN

STOVER'S
ACADEMY OF SELF DEFENSE

John Stover, 4th Degree Black Belt
Community Shopping Center, Oleander Drive
Call 791-6399 or 763-8083 for information.

girls!

put this in your purse before they get in your hair!

The earth shattering noise from this purse-fitting horn gives you the protection you've been looking for against muggers and rapists. Just snap two penlight batteries into this amazing new Vigilant Alarm and you're ready. No wires required. Complete package includes super simple instructions showing how the Alarm can also be easily installed on windows or doors. GET VIGILANT BEFORE THEY GET YOU.

SUPPLY LIMITED . . . MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY!

Send me _____ of Vigilant Burglar Alarms
I enclose $3.00 for each Vigilant Alarm.
I understand that if I am not totally satisfied, I will receive a complete refund if returned within 10 days.

Family Jewels Ltd.
3431 West Millard Avenue
Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53208

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

CITY _____

STATE _____

ZIP _____

Office goes unnoticed by students

by Eugene McKinney
news editor

Because of no direct contact with present students, the Office of Institutional Research goes unnoticed by most UNCW students even though it greatly affects them in their daily campus lives. Reporting directly to the Chancellor's office, the department is responsible for collecting and analyzing data concerning the college. Merging the knowledge of statistics with the speed and accuracy of the computer, the office implements and carries out various studies and organizes questionnaires for students and faculty, and is responsible for follow-up questionnaires concerning employment and graduate work.

Bob Fry and his staff are currently working on a Modeling-Simulation study. This mathematical model designed for colleges takes in such factors as enrollment, trends, course preferences, faculty costs, department costs, library needs of departments and many other elements in order to obtain a final output of the cost per credit hour of the various academic departments on campus. This aids in the proper allocation of university resources such as space, faculty and funds. Although having to look five to seven years into the future this office has to determine just where the demand for courses will be, so that the proper departments will be ready for the students.

Polling the community is being done through the Office of Institutional Research on the other campuses of UNC. This polling has revealed dissatisfaction of past students with certain courses because of their having no relation to the real world work environment. Compiled at UNC Chapel Hill, these studies effect the entire university system.

The office is not intended to be the perfect answer to all faculty and students needs -- the polls and model mentioned help to bring out trends and relative costs, not specifics. They do play a very important role in the only scientific way to anticipate student needs.

For those who will be graduating soon, Bob Fry emphasizes the need and importance of accurate responses to questionnaires from his office in order to provide better services to present freshmen and sophomores and to all future students.

statistics aid UNC-W

Fraternity membership rises

TUCSON, Ariz. (I.P.)-- Since the Vietnam ceasefire, fraternity and sorority membership at the University of Arizona has increased 15 to 20 per cent, reports Mary Jane Crist, assistant dean of students.

Dean Crist, however, attributes the rising interest in Greek life to stronger senses of identity in today's students. Equipped with a strong identity, today's student can say, "It's not detrimental to my individuality to belong to a group association," Ms. Crist explains.

Moreover, she affirms that "It's reality that when you graduate you have to belong to some type of group association. That's just reality hitting you right smack in the face, and today's student says, 'I've got to learn to function in an association.'"

Phi Mu sorority recently joined Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity in its recolonization efforts at the university. Dean Crist says that to her knowledge, no fraternity or sorority has ever gone through recolonization before, indicating the current rebirth in interest. In fact, she adds,

"every fraternity pledged enough men last fall to more than fill their chapter houses."

The average size of the Greek organizations rose from 50 to 60, and is expected to increase to between 65 and 90 by the end of formal spring rush activities, she comments. If Dean Crist's expectations are realized, sorority membership at the university may meet the 1000 plus figure reached during peak Greek popularity in 1966-67, though the campus today has one less sorority than it did seven years ago.

ART PROFESSOR

PRESENTS WORK

Mike Goins of the art faculty at the university will be conducting jewelry making workshops for directors of parks and recreation from throughout North Carolina in Raleigh on April 22 and 23. The Fayetteville Museum of Art will feature a show of jewelry crafted by Goins April 21-May 15.

MANSFIELD PRESENTS PAPER AT SOCIETY

Bill Mansfield, research assistant at the Institute for Marine Biomedical Research, presented a paper entitled, "Age Dependence of Seizure Patterns in Mice Exposed to Heliox Atmosphere," at the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology which met in Atlantic City April 9.

DEADLINE IS

5 PM MONDAY

Students and faculty are reminded that the deadline for articles for the Seahawk is on Monday at 5 p.m. before the desired Friday publication date. Information can be turned in to staff members in the office in the Pub or tacked to the office door.

Payne's

Robert Maxey
models

baggy pants by Male
a western shirt by Accent
shoes by Verde
and belt by Tex, Tan.

Available at

Payne's

Downtown, Hanover Center
& Long Leaf Mall

crisis? 763-3695

Take a tip from Raleigh about bicycle safety.

Don't "hitch" on a bike. Holding on to another moving vehicle while riding a bicycle causes most of the fatal cycling accidents. Ride safe. Get a new book of 12 more safety tips free from your Raleigh Dealer.

LIFE CYCLES

4209 Oleander Drive

Community Shopping Center

Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

CAN YOU -- clap your hands? stomp your feet? buck and wing? tap your toes? grin just a smidgen? Join in with the FLATLAND FAMILY BAND for a rollicking, driving, "ain't - we - havin' - a - good - time" evening in the back of the gym next Friday night at 8:30 p. m.

Yes

Wachovia

"Ain't it fun?" music

Formed four years ago, the Flatland Family Band, consists of six of the original members. The nucleus of the band is a real family, consisting of two sisters and their husbands, Linda and Mike O'Conner and Carolyn and Skeet Creekmore. Two long time friends, Bill Joyner and Stan Riggs, complete the group.

Instrumentally, the band features Mike on fiddle and vocal, Linda on guitar and vocal, Skeet on banjo, guitar, spoons and vocal, Carolyn on autoharp, Bill on banjo and guitar, and Stan on bass.

What originally began as a weeknight get together of family and friends erupted into an active old time and early bluegrass band. The group has played extensively in the North Carolina and Virginia area at contests, festivals, clubs, benefits, shows and parties.

Musically, the band sticks close to traditional old time tunes, particularly those of the rollicking, driving -- "ain't-we-havin'-a-good-time" variety. In addition, they also enjoy adding a twist of their own to many of the bluegrass favorites.

The members of the band take a special pride in preserving a bit of the American "grass roots" heritage in their music. Perhaps their greatest goal, however, is in preserving a way of enjoying oneself and life in general. This is music for the people by -- the people, young and old, rich and poor. If you can clap your hands, stomp your feet, buck and wing, tap your toes or just grin a little, then you're the kind of people they're pickin' for.

Surprise people / Serve MICHELOB.

MICHELOB.

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

april 26

8:30 pm
gym

RALEIGH

Master Instruction in
KARATE KUNG FU
JU-JITSU KEMPO
OPEN MONDAY-THURSDAY
FOR INSTRUCTION AND WORKOUT
$20.00 MONTH

SELF DEFENSE INSTRUCTION FOR MEN, WOMEN & CHILDREN

STOVER'S
ACADEMY OF SELF DEFENSE

John Stover, 4th Degree Black Belt
Community Shopping Center Oleander Drive
Call 791-6399 or 763-8083 for information.

girls!

put this in your purse
before they get in
your hair!

The earth shattering noise from this purse-fitting horn gives you the protection you've been looking for against muggers and rapists. Just snap two penlight batteries into this amazing new Vigilant Alarm and you're ready. No wires required. Complete package includes super simple instructions showing how the Alarm can also be easily installed on windows or doors. GET VIGILANT BEFORE THEY GET YOU.

SUPPLY LIMITED . . . MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY!

Send me of Vigilant Burglar Alarms I enclose $3.00 for each Vigilant Alarm. I understand that if I am not totally satisfied, I will receive a complete refund if returned within 10 days.

Family Jewels Ltd.
3431 West Villard Avenue
Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53208

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

THE GREEN GRASS CLOGGERS FROM GREENVILLE

Will clog to the bluegrass beat of the Flatland Family Band Friday night in the back of the gym

Yes

Wachovia

GREEN GRASS CLOGGERS: april 26

8:30 p.m. gym

Your Vote For
CHARLIE JOYCE
For COUNTY COMMISSIONER
 WILL BE APPRECIATED

— LET'S JOIN HANDS —

☒ CHARLES A. (Charlie) JOYCE

- I'M OFFERING MYSELF TO THE PUBLIC AS AN INDIVIDUAL, NOT A POLITICAN.
- I'M OPPOSED TO "STUDIES" & "SURVEYS" THAT WASTE TAX MONEY.
- OVER 15 YEARS EXPERIENCE IN BUSINESS AND ABILITY TO CONTROL FINANCES. CONTROLLING OUR TAX MONEY IS ESSENTIAL.
- I BELIEVE IN GIVING THE AVERAGE MAN A FAIR BREAK.
- I FAVOR QUALITY EDUCATION, ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND DRAINAGE IMPROVEMENTS.
- VOTE IN THE MAY 7 REPUBLICAN PRIMARY!

"Some People Will Believe Anything That Is Whispered To Them"

Paid Political Ad

GET YOUR OVERALLS ON

"Hoo-down!" will square off and promenade on campus Friday, April 26, beginning at 8:30 p. m. in the back of the gym. Food and game booths will be set up by various clubs and organizations on campus, and will begin operation at 6:30 p. m.

Featured at the dance will be the FLATLAND FAMILY BAND, winners of honors in Mecklenburg, Grayson County, Granite Quarry and Union Grove Fiddlers Convention. A group of sixteen young dancers from Greenville, the Green Grass Cloggers, will be on hand for foot-stompin'.

"Hoo-down!" is being sponsored by the Student Union Program Board, who brought Jack White to the pool tables in the Pub less than two weeks ago. Board members invite you to get into your overalls, get on your red bandanas and, "Y'all come, ya hear!"

CLOGGING 'n BLUEGRASS...

As bluegrass music becomes more popular these days, so does clogging, a fast foot-stomping dance that was originated to accompany the gay pace of old-time and bluegrass music. Clog groups are native to the southern Appalachia region and consist of four to eight couples wearing tap shoes, forming intricate patterns while stomping and shuffling in unison, and beating out a driving rhythm to the music. This ethnic dance is quite infectious and inspires enthusiasm among audiences of all ages and backgrounds.

The Green Grass Cloggers are a college-aged group from Greenville in the flatlands of North Carolina. The group is unique among clogging teams because they are self-taught and independent of any form of sponsorship. They adhere basically to traditional square dance figures with innovations and steps of their own.

and were featured in an hour documentary entitled "Bluegrass Roots." The team dances for dances, clubs, parties, benefits, colleges and universities, including Rutgers University in New Jersey.

Cloggers are interested in traveling and spreading clogging into more parts of the United States. Persons interested in contacting them should write The Green Grass Cloggers, P. O. Box 7001, Greenville, N. C. 27834.

POET-IN-RESIDENCE FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHAPEL HILL, MS. CAROLYN KIZER will hold a poetry-reading Thursday evening, April 25 in the library auditorium and a workshop on Friday.

POETRY READING SET

by mary jones

Carolyn Kizer, noted poet and teacher, will give a poetry reading on Thursday, April 25 at 8 p.m. in the library auditorium. With a poetry workshop to follow on Friday. Time and place for the workshop will be announced at a later date.

The poetry reading and a reception afterwards are open to students, faculty and the public free of charge. The workshop is open to students who either would like to have Ms. Kizer evaluate their poetry or are interested in listening to the evaluations of others' writing.

Ms. Kizer received a B.A. degree from Sarah Lawrence College and studied with Theodore Roethke and Stanley Kunitz at the University of Washington. Besides holding a position as Poet-in-Residence at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, she has been a visiting professor of Literature at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., and has served as acting director of the graduate writing program at Columbia University.

Ms. Kizer's poetry reading and workshop are being sponsored by the English Club and the liberal arts magazine, the "Atlantis," at the university.

Capable of drinking someone under the table? In a joint effort, WHSL radio station and the Village Inn Pizza Parlor on Market Street are sponsoring a beer drinking contest Saturday, April 20, at the Village Inn.

There is an entry fee of $2.50, and contestants are asked to be at the pizza parlor by 2:30 p.m. The drinking begins at 3 p.m.

First prize is a month's supply of king size pizzas, and second and third places will receive pizza prizes.

RECORD

Discover
New Dimensions

- *NEW RELEASES
- *BRITISH IMPORTS
- *JAZZ
- *SOUL
- *GIFT CERTIFICATES
- *GOOD MUSIC!!!!

781-7043

*ASK ABOUT OUR
BAKER'S DOZEN

Long Leaf Mall

WORLD

The Green Grass

OLEANDER DRIVE — 799-3950

OLEANDER
Cinema 1&2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

2nd GREAT WEEK

NO BARGAIN HOUR & PASSES NOT GOOD!
ADULTS...$2.50 Children under 12...$1.00
SHOWS AT 2:00-4:40-7:20-10:00

ROBERT REDFORD

MIA
FARROW

PG-13

NOW SHOWING 3rd GREAT WEEK
Shows at 1:30-4:10-6:50-9:30

STEVE DUSTIN
McQUEEN HOFFMAN
PAPILLON

PG

LONG LEAF
Cinema 1&2

LONG LEAF MALL — SHIPYARD BLVD.

Now Showing! 799-5710

Shows at 2:20-4:40-7:00-9:20

BEST PICTURE OF THE YEAR!
WINNER OF 7 ACADEMY AWARDS!

PAUL NEWMAN · ROBERT REDFORD
ROBERT SHAW
A GEORGE ROY HILL FILM
THE STING

TECHNICOLOR • A UNIVERSAL PICTURE PG-13

NOW SHOWING! HELD OVER 2nd GREAT WEEK!
Shows at 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

where the lilies bloom

G GENERAL AUDIENCES
All Ages Admitted

ALL SEATS $1.00 UNTIL 2:30 EXCEPT SUNDAY
IN THREE CINEMAS

DR. LOUIS ADCOCK RECEIVES APPOINTMENT

Dr. Louis H. Adcock, associate professor of chemistry at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, has been selected as a consultant to the Citizens' Workshop on Energy and the Environment (CWEE), a nationwide program sponsored by the Oak Ridge Associate Universities under the auspices of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Dr. Adcock was selected for the position in auditions held last summer at Oak Ridge where he was the only North Carolinian among the 27 scholars selected to participate in a special three-week program on "Trace Analysis for Environmental Pollutants" sponsored by the United States Atomic Energy Commission's Division of Nuclear Education and Training.

According to Dr. Adcock, the CWEE was established in 1973 to make people aware of the energy crisis even before the crisis was made aware to the public.

"Although most people became painfully aware of the energy situation when they queued up to buy gasoline, many of them feel that the crisis has been alleviated with the lifting of the oil embargo and have begun to lapse into their old habits of consumption," he explained.

"This is not necessarily true. Authorities estimate that at the present rate of consumption, our resources will be depleted in approximately 500 to 600 years."

Dr. Adcock performed his first duties for the

Dr. Adcock performed his first duties for the CWEE this past week when he traveled to Memphis, Tennessee, and Little Rock, Arkansas, to address civic and school groups, accompanied by Dr. John Yegge of the Oak Ridge Associate Universities.

Their presentation consisted of lectures on energy use and abuse and the crisis that could result if resources are not properly managed, followed by an audience participation "game."

The game involved the use of an energy simulator (an outsized desk top computer) programmed to show available fuel supplies, current rate of consumption and changes in environmental quality associated with the consumption of resources. Through the use of the lapboards, the audience was able to manipulate the simulator to try to maximize the time the nation's resources will last.

UNC-W GRAD ELECTED VICE-PRESIDENT

RAYMOND RICHARD
Former TKE

Raymond R. Richard, a 1965 graduate of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington and member of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity and Collegiate Civitans, has been elected assistant vice-president of Wachovia Bank and Trust Company in Greenville.

Richard joined Wachovia in 1967 at Wilmington as a proof transit clerk. He transferred to Winston-Salem in 1969 and served as supervisor, Special Services Unit and manager of POD Control Unit before moving to Greenville in 1973 as check collection manager, his present position. He was elected banking officer in 1972.

A native of Charleston, S. C., he is married to Frances C. Richard.

hike, bike set

Join in the Hike/Bike for the benefit of the retarded scheduled for Saturday, April 27 at 9 a. m. at Emple Park behind Sears and Roebuck Company. The Hike/Bike is being sponsored by the National Association for Retarded Citizens for the Benefit of Mentally Retarded Children and Adults. Calvin Hall of the Dallas Cowboys is national chairman.

For more information call 791-3323.

CRISIS LINE - anytime

763-3695

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

FAKE AND FORTUNE

For a limited time only, (exactly two weeks) the prospect of FAME AND FORTUNE eagerly awaits the opportunist. If you're dissatisfied with your present milieu, perhaps a rewarding career in yearbook editing is for you! High pay (if you can embezzle it) and personal satisfaction make this one of the fastest growing fields today. Act now and not only will you escape from the normal humdrum existence you are presently entrapped by, but also you will launch yourself into an exciting career in annual staff leadership.

To apply for this coveted position, all you need do is fill out the coupon below, or on a plain sheet of paper print a reasonable facsimile of the words "FLEDGLING EDITOR" and submit it to either Gwen Croom (Room 124 in administration) or slide it under the yearbook office door upstairs in the Pub.

Act now and you'll get your gutters and leaders retracted, a 9 X 12 rug, or a stand up Shetland Lewytt Vacuum Cleaner. But most of all, you'll have chosen the path that will lead you to FAME AND FORTUNE.

(Dot along cutted line - Do not send entire ad.)

Yes, I am tired of my present environment, and long for the prospects of FAME AND FORTUNE. Enroll my name as an interested student, so that like millions of others, I too can obtain a rewarding career in yearbook editing.

(Please print name in full)

(PHONE NUMBER)

AQUA
WORLD inc.

Professional
Diving
Instruction

N.A.S.D.S.
Approved

- Classes Now Open
- Basic & Open Water Certification
- 4 to a Class
- Individual Instruction
- Private Pool (no pool fee)
- 3 Open Water Dives
- $50.00-total cost!

AIR - SALES - RENTALS
CHARTER - REPAIRS

791-3976

5425 WRIGHTSVILLE AV.

CLASSIFIED

* Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are urged to put their classified ads in the SEAHAWK free -- FREE, i.e. no charge. Let us give you a break.

personal

Lilly Whaley
Typing at home 791-2446

35 mm CAMERA: Want to buy Pentax, Miranda, etc. See F. Allen in room 115, Hoggard Hall.

PAPERS TYPED: 50¢ for the first five pages; 40¢ for each page thereafter. Dial 458-8768.

CUSTOM LEATHER WORK:
Call 763 - 4371 anytime.

SKY DIVING LESSONS: To be taught this spring. Course enrollment now through March. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinois after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

NEED DIVING GEAR? Have just obtained U. S. divers dealership for 1974. Very low mark - up, terrific fanings. Contact Pierre Bonnesucelle de Lespinois after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

SEWING & ALTERATIONS:
Call 799-5531.

for sale

SMALL REFRIGERATOR:
Perfect for dorm room. $60. (Think how much you rent one for over a year.) See John at University Arms Apartments, 4903-A.

STEREO UNIT: 8 track tape player, AM-FM radio and turntable. $200. Call 799-1586; ask for Dean.

Set of York steel barbells includes headstrap, wrist developers, dumbbells, iron shoes and instructions booklet. Total weight 150 lbs. Contact Larry 218 Dorm

1969 MOBILE HOME: 12 x 65 foot, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, central air conditioning. For appointment, call between 6 and 8 p.m. at 285-3747.

PORTABLE T.V.: Sears silver-tone 19 inch screen with VHP and UHP antennas. Excellent condition physically and mechanically. $50.

STEREO COMPONENTS:
Most major brands! 20 - 50% off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

FOLDING BED: Three quarter bed for $30. Call 791-6388 or 686-0002.

GENETICS BOOK: Used only one day being sold for $6.50. See John Wilkins in the Pub between 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

LADIES WETSUIT: 2 piece, 1/4" women's small to medium wetsuit in good condition. Ask for Debbie at 791-9108.

NURSING UNIFORMS: New! Never been worn; size 6 (28). Ask for Betsy at 799-0595.

FOR SALE: surf board 6'2" Corky Carroll Sparestick. 1 yr old. $70 7915013 BHL.

FOR SALE: 8' solid pine bar w/ 3 stools $75 over 25 yrs old 7916113
1968 Rambler - full power asking $750, but make an offer! 7915113

FM-AM receiver & turntable 8 track 2-4 channel switch 201g, & 2 comm. speakers. $100 rm. 322

AM-FM receiver & turntable 4 speakers 2-4 channel switch $220 new sell $130 perfect condition rm. 317
65 Chevrolet Impala 396 auto.-trans. Engin in good condition. Trans. rebuilt in Sept. Must Sell $300 Rm. 317 Dorm Charlie

1971 MGB ROADSTER: New radials, new paint job - 21,000 miles - very clean. $2195. After 5 p.m. call Lamar at 762-2383.

Waterbeds: new king size beds $30. Also beanbags call Herbie at 791-9325

SURFBOARD: 7' 2", 19" wide semi-gun board built strictly for Puerto Rico and reef type breaks. $50 or best offer. Dial 763-8714.

1964 VW106,000 mi-engine rebuilt at 80000, new front end at 100,000. Body fair-green $500.
Terry Workman, 502 M. Luma basement after 5:00

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: power steering and radio. Only $1000. Dial 799-3765.

1972 VW VAN: Rear seat opens to bed; radio; carpeting and curtains. Good condition. $2350. Call Ned Martin at 791-4330 (ext. 321) from 9-5 weekdays.

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

1961 CADILLAC: Excellent shape with all accessories, power steering, brakes, air conditioning. Best offer: 799-4735, or contact at Dorm room 223 anytime. Ask for James.

1968 FORD LTD: Station wagon with power steering and brakes, air conditioning and new tires. In great shape. $995. Call 256-2526 or 256-2227.

1972 VEGA: Panelwagon with 28,000 miles in excellent condition. $1700. Call 762-6144.

WANTED

Wanted: salesman with experience clothing store weekends contact 763-8185

Three College girls would love to sub-let your 3-bedroom house or apt. from middle May to middle Aug. Preferably near the campus or the beach. If you can help us please write Dawn Petrea 314 Kennan Dorm., Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514

College Manor Apartments

- new tavern & clubhouse
- six month lease
- tennis courts
- full time social director
- summer recreational program
- convenient location from UNC-W

We have a special summer rate for students and teachers!

Contact resident manager for details.

College Road (Hwy 132)
Phone 791-3756

lost

Lose something? See if Ms. Linda Moore has confiscated it among a vast assortment of items in her office in the Pub. With a cash register and a little time, she could go into business for herself auctioning off class-rings, watches, a pipe, sunglasses, an assortment of textbooks and notebooks, and possibly a few rings of car keys to Plymouths, Chryslers and General Motors cars.

CRISIS LINE
763-3695

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Wall-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls.
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining.
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen area.
- Heatpump range, refrigerator, garbage disposal.
- Individually-controlled air conditioning.
- Large swimming pool. Central laundry facilities.

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished $135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished $149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished $160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished $185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 5 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT...

Country Club APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

EARL SCRUGGS- BLUEGRASS KING

UNC-W students that missed the Fiddlers Convention in Union Grove over the Easter holidays should not be too disappointed for the best is yet to come. The final concert for the 1973-74 school year will feature none other than the EARL SCRUGGS REVIEW.

The name Earl Scruggs is synonymous with good music. Having made up the better half of a successful bluegrass duo known as Flatt and Scruggs for over 15 years, it came as a shock when the two split and went their separate ways. It was a daring move.

The two were at the height of popularity having just scored the soundtrack for the movie, "Bonnie and Clyde," and Earl's "Foggy Mountain Breakdown," the tune everyone claps to at the Wit's End at Wrightsville Beach, had just become the number one song in the country charts.

excellent job with the vocals whether it demands rock, blues or country. Together they have no equals and live performances always send critics rushing to Webster's for new superlatives.

Thursday, April 25, students will have a chance to witness a collection of musicians displaying a rare moment of instrumental prowess and producing some of the best foot-stomping music that has ever been

The finest Old Time and Bluegrass Music

In fact, "Foggy Mountain Breakdown" was the only bluegrass number to make the top position in the country charts. But Earl Scruggs had always to experiment with new types of music and explore new directions while Flatt was happy doing what he had done for the past 15 years.

Earl Scruggs left and formed what critics hailed as the most formidable instrumental group today. Earl Scruggs is considered generally the world's greatest living bango picker. His son Randy is considered the world's greatest living flat top guitar player and Vassar Clemets has no peer on Fiddle.

Gary Scruggs plays electric guitar and harmonica and does an

The new sound ranges from rock to blues to bluegrass. Earl Scruggs' new direction has led him to record with Bob Dylan, Linda Ronstadt, the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, Tracy Nelson, the Byrds and Arlo Guthrie. That is a strong line-up by anyone's standards.

Today the group plays mostly on college campuses, making up approximately 90% of their engagements. He has performed at Chapel Hill, Duke and last year "on campus" at State he simply blew all the other big names off the stage.

heard in Hanover Hall. Student price is $3.00 -- cheap! -- or four bucks at the door. General admission tickets can be purchased for $4.00 in the Pub.

*
* VETERANS *
* URGED *
* TO *
* ATTEND *

Last April 9th, the Veteran's Association at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington held its first meeting. Only 25 of the campus' 350 veterans attended. It is hoped that the group will grow in excess of 50 by next fall.

Purpose of the association is to promote cooperation and association in VA programs at the university. The organization will greatly facilitate in passing on information to veterans on campus.

Many veterans are not aware of all alternatives and opportunities open to them for tuition assistance, dental care, veteran loans, and it is hoped that the meetings would help make the veterans on campus aware of these benefits. The organization has great potential as a service and social organization.

All veterans or reservists in any way connected with the service are urged to attend the meetings. Next scheduled meeting is April 23 at 11:30 a.m. in King Hall (Education/Psychology Building).

Re-Elect

W. ALLEN COBB
DISTRICT SOLICITOR

CAPABLE • EXPERIENCED • INTEGRITY

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility. Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings -- as an Air Force pilot or navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

SGT. JERRY T. LEWIS
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N. C.
Phone: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

We've improved our Record.

The Raleigh Record for '73 has improvements and refinements. Already our most popular 10-speed cycle, the new Record will undoubtedly go on to new heights. See the new Record soon. And let us show you how we can guarantee that your Record will fit you perfectly with our exclusive Raleigh CustomSizer™. Raleigh... a world of difference.

RALEIGH

LIFE CYCLES

4209 Oleander Drive
Community Shopping Center
Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

SEASON IN HOMESTRETCH

Pembroke--Chip Perky, a freshman pitcher for Lynchburg College hurled a one-hit shutout over Va. Wesleyan last Thursday and struck out eight to win NAIA District 29 "Baseball Player of the Week."

The win gives Perky, a Lynchburg native, a record of 3-1. His Hornet teammates supported him with an explosive attack which helped Lynchburg steamroll to a 15-0 victory in the second game of a twin bill. Va. Wesleyan won the openers 5-4.

Perky's one-hitter was one of the fine pitching performances in the district during the week.

Methodist's Wayne Gooch, a freshman from Durham, threw a three-hitter at Erskine as the Monarchs triumphed 6-0. He fanned five. Gooch then beat Furman 3-1, fanning seven, to run his record to 7-0. Until Furman scored on him, the Methodist star has gone 26 innings without yielding a run.

Pembroke State's All-American ace, Ron Norman, continued to get hotter with the weather. He set anew school record for career shutouts by blanking

East Carolina 3-0 on a three-hitter in which he struck out 12. Norman now has 12 shutouts in his four years at PSU. The 6-1 left-hander, who has been attracting at least 10 major league scouts each time he huris, has skein going of 19 scoreless innings in a row. He has fanned 70 in 48 innings this spring.

This week the district teams get down to really serious business by beginning a series of contests against one another as the season enters its homestretch.

baseball SCHEDULE

April 22	Francis Marion	away	7:30
April 24	Pembroke State	home	7:30
April 25	Campbell College	away	7:30
April 27	Virginia State	away	1:00
April 29	Gardner Webb College	home	7:30
May 1	Pembroke State	away	8:00
May 3	ECU	away	3:00
May 4	Campbell College	home	7:30
May 5	Shaw	home	7:30

May 15, 16, 17, & 18 DISTRICT 29 TOURNAMENT

HOLIDAY DILEMMA

by Robert Maxey

The Easter holidays brought bad news for the baseball team of UNC-W. After early season losses the Seahawks won eight consecutive victories before falling to North Carolina State. After State the Seahawks defeated NAIA District foe Methodist, 9-3.

On April 8 the Seahawks visited Shaw University only to be turned around because of rain.

Then the holidays began and the Seahawks lost three straight games. The first game was against Stetson University on Good Friday. However it was not double match against Baptist College and Stetson.

The Hawks found themselves in a double dilemma losing first to Baptist 8-0 and again to Stetson 6-0. After these a good day for the Seahawks who fell prey to the Hatters, 6-2. The next day the Seahawks at Brookfield faced a losses the Seahawk record stands at 11 wins and 11 losses.

BASEBALL STANDINGS (through April 13)

	DISTRICT		ALL GAMES
	W	L	W	L
Campbell	5	0	17	5
UNC-W	2	0	11	11
ACC	5	2	9	4
Va. Wesleyan	8	4	11	5
Methodist	4	3	17	6
Lynchburg	4	6	10	5
Va. State	4	6	7	10
Norfolk State	1	2	2	5
St. Andrews	1	5	1	12
N.C. Wesleyan	1	7	1	11
Pembroke	0	0	9	9
Shaw	0	3	0	8

Tennis Team Triumphs

The UNC-W Seahawk tennis team won its fourth victory of the year by defeating the University of South Carolina at Conway, 6-3.

The Seahawks have seven losses on their record but will be trying to up their record when they visit Francis Marion today.

RESULTS

JOE GOULDING lost to Booth 6-3, 4-6, 6-4; ROBERT VAIL lost to Duerk, 6-4; 6-2.

KEVIN PIAACENZA lost to Sanders, 6-0, 6-4.

DANNY CURRY def. Lamb, 6-4, 7-5.

DOUG COWAN def. Green, 6-4, 6-0.

PAUL DEMPSEY def. Benton, 7-6, forfeit.

DOUBLES

GOULDING & VAIL def. Booth & Sanders, 6-4, 7-5.
PIACENZA & CURRY def. Duerk & Lamb, 1-6, 6-1, 6-4.
COWAN & RICHARDSON def. Green & Tyler, 7-6.

tennis schedule

April 19	UNC-Conway	away
April 20	Francis Marion	away
April 23	ECU	HOME
April 25	Campbell	away
	Methodist	HOME

May 10 & 11 NAIA DISTRICT 29 TOURNAMENT

 denotes games at 1pm

* denotes games at 1:30

all other games will be played at 2 p.m.

SPORTSCORES

BASEBALL RESULTS

(GAMES APRIL 7-13)

Campbell 10, St. Andrews 1
Campbell 11-11, Washington & Lee 4-2
Campbell 7, Baptist 0
Bridgewater 7-1, Lynchburg 2-5
Va. Wesleyan 5-0, Lynchburg 4-15
Methodist 7, Va. Wesleyan 6
Methodist 6-1, Erskine 0-0
Methodist 5-3, Furman 3-1
Norfolk State 9, Va. State 0
Va. State 2, Norfolk 1
Francis Marion 5, Pembroke 3
Pembroke 8, Washington & Lee 0
Pembroke 3, ECU 0
St. Augustine 2, Shaw 1
A&T 10, Shaw 1
Va. Wesleyan 9-3, St. Andrews 3-0
Va. State 3-1, Hampden-Sydney 0-3
Stetson 9, UNC-W 1
Baptist 5, UNC-W 0
Stetson 8, UNC-W 0

OPEN HOUSE seeks volunteers; sponsors free concert

OPEN HOUSE is seeking volunteers to train as staff workers. What is OPEN HOUSE? It is a multitude of things, but it is mostly people working to have a "free space" in the city for people with problems.

Problems are strange things; some are serious, some are not, but to the individual dealing with them, all problems are important. The sad thing is that too many people are not skilled in "dealing" with their own problems, thus one of the reasons for OPEN HOUSE.

Other services such as the free medical clinic or crashing facilities could be listed, but they won't be.

What can YOU do? Look for an OPEN HOUSE staff worker in the lobby of the Pub and cafeteria to obtain an application or to talk further about the "house."

Also an afternoon of good music will be sponsored by OPEN HOUSE on April 26 from 1:30 - 4:30 p.m. in front of the Psychology/ Education Building. Like so many of the good things offered by the HOUSE, the concert is free.

PHI MU to hold dance May 4th

Phi Mu Fraternity, one of two Greek social organizations for women at the university, will hold their second annual Carnation Ball on Saturday, May 4, at the Cape Fear Lodge Number

Two. Beginning at 9 p.m., the dance will feature the local band, Benefit.

The Phi Mu sisters are selling tickets for a gasoline "give-away". Tickets, selling for 50¢ or by books for $2.00 with five tickets, can be purchased from the Phi Mu's. First prize is 20 gallons of gasoline, second prize - 10 gallons, and third prize - 5 gallons.

The Carnation Ball, open to friends of the fraternity as well, will cost $4.00 per person or $7.00 per couple.

LET'S GET TOGETHER

EXAMS CLOSE; DATES LISTED

Friday
May 3 Last day of classes

Monday
thru
Tuesday
May 6-7 Final exams

Wednesday
May 8 Reading day

Thursday
thru
Friday
May 9-10 Final exams

Monday
thru
Wednesday
May 13-15 Final exams

Wednesday
May 15 Spring semester ends

Sunday
May 19 Commencement

STUDY LAMPS

WRITING MATERIALS

TAPE & MENDING MATERIALS

POSTER

PAPER BACKS

magazines

TEXTBOOKS & other minor articles

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

STUDENT SERVICES BLDG.

what you get when you call
800-424-8580 toll free.

ACTION is a growing movement of volunteers out to help people help themselves. It's the Peace Corps and VISTA, helping people overseas and right down the street. Please don't crawl under a rock. Get into ACTION today.

Advertising contributed for the public good.

seahawk

University of North Carolina at Wilmington

April 26, 1974

twelve pages

JESUS ROCK FESTIVAL

IN CONCERT

THE BRIDGE

sunday

4 p.m.

front of pub

STUDENT BLASTS S.G.A.

Dear Sirs:

Those people who have been able to review the proposed S.G.A. budget for the 1974-75 school year must certainly appreciate the tremendous task which Mr. Moore and company have accomplished. In the short span of two weeks, they have succeeded in doing what Mr. Nixon et al., required five years to accomplish. Never before have I seen a budget so carefully padded to insure that the students gained nothing while those holding the purse-strings protected their own interests.

As one glances down the proposed budget sheet, it seemingly becomes apparent that Mr. Moore has made a diligent attempt to save us all money, a proposal which would seem to be worthy of a hearty "Bravo!" This, unfortunately is not the case. Our Student Activities Fee hasn't been reduced, but through a mismanagement of money, we'll be getting less than we do now, a situation which cannot be permitted to worsen. Those organizations which do make an honest attempt to provide the students with some form of entertainment have fell victim to a prophylactic type budget, while the S.G.A. hierarchy has not only obtained what they requested, but in at least one instance have exceeded such. As an example, there is the proposed allocation of one hundred dollars in additional funds provided for the N.C.S.L. (North Carolina Student Legislature - ed.), an organization to which Mr. Moore and a few other members of his regime belong. Mr. Moore. I would appreciate your telling us what the "N.C.S.L." does for the students on this campus to warrant another hundred dollars!

I realize that this is traditionally the duty of the Finance Committee to formulate a workable collection of funds, and were such the case this year, it would probably be that the committee which I would be lambasting. However, this year is a deviation from the norm, for Mr. Moore's sincere enthusiasm and ambition (which in itself I have nothing but praise for) have led him into areas where he quite simply shouldn't be treading.

I would like to wish Mr. Moore the best of luck during his term (feeling that he will need a great deal of it) but I think he should also be forewarned. Unless he becomes a bit more conscientious about the direction in which he proceeds, it may be necessary to place a prophylactic around Mr. Moore's Regime.

Respectfully,
Thomas M. Bulfinch

ENJOYS
BULL EDITION

To the Editor:

I enjoyed the BS edition of the Seahawk far more than I have any of the regular editions of the paper. At least there was something in the Squaw Seashit to read!

Teresa Hernandez

Be in
the movies!

The Educational Television network will have equipment and crew at the Institute for Marine Bio-Medical Research for one week beginning June 3. While they are here, they would like to do some additional shows featuring UNC-W. Anyone who has suggestions for programs suitable for televising is urged to contact Gwen Croom in room 124 of the Administration Building so that arrangements can be made for filming.

UNEMPLOYMENT

KEEP I.D. CARDS

All students returning to the university in the fall are reminded not to destroy their current identification cards as these cards are permanent as long as the person is a student at UNC-W. The cards will be updated in the fall with a color coded sticker at each registration.

Replacement charge for an I.D. is $3.00.

A special summer identification card is being prepared, and will be distributed from the Student Affairs Office at the beginning of the first summer session.

seahawk

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

Published on Fridays by students at the university of north carolina at wilmington, deadline for publication is monday before the friday publication. our office is located downstairs in the pub. telephone 791-8055.

editor: beth hicks
associate editors: barry asbury
j. k. muhleman
advertising director: barry asbury
business manager: alan murphy
sports editor: robert maxey
greek lines: rocky lane moore
news editor: eugene mckinney

photographic staff: roberta alred
nauma dozier
neal huntley
zack sessions
supportive staff: linda houghton
layne lockamy
anne nesbit
darleah pearsall

CAFETERIA SURVEY

Each year the staff and management of the UNC-W cafeteria conduct a survey to determine what needs to be done concerning foods and policies, and to give the students eating in the cafeteria a chance to criticize and commend the staff, management and food.

Results of the survey, made in December, 1973, are as follows.

The most frequent criticism received was that the food is sometimes cold, juices should be colder and the desserts are dry. To alleviate these problems, the management has taken steps to produce portable heating cabinets to keep food hot from the kitchen to the serving line, and infra red lights are on the hot food line.

Favorable comments include: "Salt and pepper shakers are clean and full; soups are very good; attendants very nice, and milk is good and cold."

Other items on the survey include foods preferred by the students.

French toast, scrambled eggs, sausage are the preferred entrees for breakfast, with the least preferred being soft-boiled eggs and ham slices.

Preferred entrees for lunch include submarine sandwiches, cheeseburgers and pizza, while students indicated they least liked chicken croquettes and chicken fricassee.

For dinner, students preferred broiled steak, fried shrimp and baked ham, and they did not desire baked fish, crab cakes or liver with bacon.

Favorite juices among the students included orange, grape and apple. Least preferred juices are apricot, pineapple and prune.

Salads enjoyed by students eating in the cafeteria include tossed, lettuce and tomato and deviled eggs, while the survey shows they have no appetites for stuffed prune salad or peach date nut salad.

Ice cream, brownies and chocolate cookies are at the top of the list for preferred desserts. Least preferred include orange bavarian and two-tone pudding.

blow the whistle on rape

Now you can protect yourself against muggers, rapists and worse with this amazing new whistle. Wear it as a necklace or carry it as a key chain. Its long-range penetrating shrill brings help in a hurry. The next dark night (that's tonight!) you'll feel a lot safer just knowing you have the greatest protection in the world. Gives obscene phone callers a shrilling earful, too. GET IT BEFORE YOU HAD IT!

COME IN OR MAIL HANDY COUPON

Yes! I want to be saved! Send me _____ London-Like Whistles
 _____ Key Chain _____ Necktie (Number) _____ Chrome _____

I enclose $3.00 for each London-Like Whistle. I understand that if I am not totally satisfied, I will receive a complete refund if returned in 10 days.

Family Jewels Ltd.
 3431 West Villard Avenue
 Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53208

NAME _____
 STREET NUMBER _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____
 CITY _____

SONATA
 90-$1000
 WED. RING
 $75.00

APOLLO
 $350-$1000
 WED. RING
 $150

Love Is A Giving Thing

When you give a perfect Keepsake, backed by our written guarantee, you can be sure there is no finer diamond ring. Every Keepsake is permanently registered and protected against loss.

Keepsake

Mills INC.
Keepsake JEWELERS & Accuturn Center

38 N Front St • 763-6311
 Hanover Center • 763-0736
 Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
 at HANOVER CENTER
 & LONG LEAF MALL

Grade reports mailed

Grade reports at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington are mailed to students and to the parents of students under 18 years of age at the end of each semester.

CRISIS LINE
763-3695

EULOGY

When I first came to college, I knew who I was, I thought I knew it all...

I got my student number and spent a few hours registering. I never realized there was so much to know...

In class they talked about things I really didn't care about, but as one prof said, "knowledge is knowing!"...

Without my old friends or parents to relate to, I got sorta lonely, turned to Jesus, and searched for a spouse...

Now I'm happily married with a degree, a new company, and a baby girl... College wasn't so bad.

The white man captured and dragged naked into the savage world of the Sioux Indians.

The hostile Indians force the first white man they have ever seen to become a horse or die.

The torture of the white man as he fights to become an Indian warrior.

The strange ritual of love between the Indian Princess and the white man.

The white man becomes an Indian Chief in the savage battle between rival tribes.

The plunder of an Indian village by their blood enemies.

TUESDAY APRIL 30 8 p. m. KENAN AUDITORIUM

RICHARD HARRIS as "A MAN CALLED HORSE"

Also Starring DAME JUDITH ANDERSON Co-Starring JEAN GASCON
 MANU TUPOU Introducing CORINNA TSOPEI

Produced by SANDY HOWARD Screenplay by JACK DEWITT Directed by ELLIOT SILVERSTEIN
 A SANDY HOWARD Production Music by LEONARD ROSENMAN PANAVISION® TECHNICOLOR®
 A NATIONAL GENERAL PICTURES RELEASE
 A CINEMA CENTER FILMS PRESENTATION

NO 'GOSPEL SING' - a lot of rock, a little folk, a smidgeon of country...

Far from the traditional 'Gospel Sing' with its emasculated tenors, iridescent sportcoats and patent leather shoes, a Jesus Rock Music Festival features open air, blue jeans, long hair and good, down-to-earth music. A lot of rock, a little folk and a smidgeon of country -- that's the note of "The Bridge" who will be performing on Sunday afternoon, April 28 in front of the Pub at 4 p. m.

Old clothes, bare feet, hand clapping, foot stomping and shouting, "Praise the Lord" are all welcome.

THE BRIDGE is a rock group with a love for a special kind of music -- Jesus music. Their special talent for this type of music is displayed in their two albums, "Just For You," and "Hallelujah,"

Originally from the West Coast, THE BRIDGE has helped bring the Jesus Revolution to this part of the country. The group consists of two girls and five guys:

Lucky Anderson lead guitarist, banjo
John Emmert drums
Skip Anderson rhythm guitar
Allen Brewer bass
Carolyn Emmert percussion
Charlie Angel keyboards
Mary Lou Simmons flute, percussion

THE BRIDGE has played Jesus Festivals all across the United States,

The festival at the university is being sponsored by the UNC-W Christian Fellowship. The fellowship invites everyone to the "fellowship" meetings on Wednesdays at 7:30 p. m. in the Pub.

VILLAGE INN
WHERE PIZZA IS ALWAYS
IN GOOD TASTE!

A wide variety in three different slices.

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR
3617 Market Street

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

RALEIGH

Vote To RE-ELECT

B. D. (Bennie)
SCHWARTZ

to the
N.C.
House

CAPABLE-EFFECTIVE-EXPERIENCED

(Paid Pol. Adv.)

guitarist found

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. -- An autopsy is scheduled to determine the cause of death of Vinnie Taylor, lead guitarist of the singing group, "Ghana-Na". Police say the 25-year-old Taylor was found unconscious in his room following a performance Friday at the University of Virginia.

DEADLINE IS
5 PM MONDAY

Students and faculty are reminded that the deadline for articles for the Seahawk is on Monday at 5 p. m. before the desired Friday publication date. Information can be turned in to staff members in the office in the Pub or tacked to the office door.

CAN YOU -- clap your hands? stomp your feet? buck and wing? tap your toes? grin just a smidgen? Join in with the FLATLAND FAMILY BAND for a rollicking, driving, "ain't - we - havin' - a - good - time" evening in the back of the gym next Friday night at 8:30 p. m.

RICHARD HARRIS
as "A MAN CALLED HORSE"

PARAMOUNT PICTURES PRESENTS
A CINEMA CENTER FILMS PRESENTATION

TUESDAY APRIL 30
8 p. m.
KENAN AUDITORIUM

"Ain't it fun?" music

Formed four years ago, the Flatland Family Band, consists of six of the original members. The nucleus of the band is a real family, consisting of two sisters and their husbands, Linda and Mike O'Conner and Carolyn and Skeet Creekmore. Two long time friends, Bill Joyner and Stan Riggs, complete the group.

What originally began as a weeknight get together of family and friends erupted into an active old time and early bluegrass band. The group has played extensively in the North Carolina and Virginia area at contests, festivals, clubs, benefits, shows and parties.

own to many of the bluegrass favorites.

The members of the band take a special pride in preserving a bit of the American "grass roots" heritage in their music. Perhaps their greatest goal, however, is in preserving a way of enjoying oneself and life in general. This is music for the people b. the people, young and old, rich and poor. If you can clap your hands, stomp your feet, buck and wing, tap your toes or just grin a little, then you're the kind of people they're pickin' for.

Instrumentally, the band features Mike on fiddle and vocal, Linda on guitar and vocal, Skeet on banjo, guitar, spoons and vocal, Carolyn on autoharp, Bill on banjo and guitar, and Stan on bass.

Musically, the band sticks close to traditional old time tunes, particularly those of the rollicking, driving -- "ain't-we-havin'-a-good-time" variety. In addition, they also enjoy adding a twist of their

Yes

Wachovia

EQUAL JUSTICE UNDER THE LAW

In too many instances the outcome of a criminal case in the courts depends on who a defendant is or is not or which attorney he has. Is that justice?

Many defendants in criminal cases do not get the speedy trials they are entitled to because of the heavy backlog of cases caused by inefficiency and lack of concern in the District Attorney's office. Is that fair?

Law abiding citizens are not having THEIR rights protected because the District Attorney is not enforcing the law strictly in the courts. Is that right?

Vote for a man who answers the above questions with a loud and clear "NO"! Elect Jay Stroud District Attorney on May 7th in the Democratic Primary - elect a man of action who will bring court reforms.

VOTE FOR JAMES T. (JAY) STROUD
FOR DISTRICT SOLICITOR (ATTORNEY)

PAID BY THE STROUD FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY COMMITTEE

april 26

8:30 pm

gym

AQUA
WORLD inc.

Professional
Diving
Instruction

N.A.S.D.S.
Approved

- Classes Now Open
- Basic & Open Water Certification
- 4 to a Class
- Individual Instruction
- Private Pool (no pool fee)
- 3 Open Water Dives
- $50.00-total cost!

AIR - SALES - RENTALS
CHARTER - REPAIRS

791-3976

5425 WRIGHTSVILLE AV.

THE GREEN GRASS CLOGGERS FROM GREENVILLE

Will clog to the bluegrass beat of the Flatland Family Band Friday night in the back of the gym

Yes

Wachovia

GREEN GRASS CLOGGERS: april 26

8:30 p.m. gym

Your Vote For
CHARLIE JOYCE
For COUNTY COMMISSIONER
WILL BE APPRECIATED

LET'S JOIN HANDS

☒ CHARLES A. (Charlie) JOYCE

- I'M OFFERING MYSELF TO THE PUBLIC AS AN INDIVIDUAL, NOT A POLITICAN.
- I'M OPPOSED TO "STUDIES" & "SURVEYS" THAT WASTE TAX MONEY.
- OVER 15 YEARS EXPERIENCE IN BUSINESS AND ABILITY TO CONTROL FINANCES. CONTROLLING OUR TAX MONEY IS ESSENTIAL.
- I BELIEVE IN GIVING THE AVERAGE MAN A FAIR BREAK.
- I FAVOR QUALITY EDUCATION, ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND DRAINAGE IMPROVEMENTS.
- VOTE IN THE MAY 7 REPUBLICAN PRIMARY!

"Some People Will Believe Anything That Is Whispered To Them"

Paid Political Ad

GET YOUR OVERALLS ON

"Hoedown!" will square off and promenade on campus Friday, April 26, beginning at 8:30 p. m. in the back of the gym. Food and game booths will be set up by various clubs and organizations on campus, and will begin operation at 6:30 p. m.

Featured at the dance will be the FLATLAND FAMILY BAND, winners of honors in Mecklenberg, Grayson County, Granite Quarry and Union Grove Fiddlers Convention. A group of sixteen young dancers from Greenville, the Green Grass Cloggers, will be on hand for foot-stompin'.

"Hoedown!" is being sponsored by the Student Union Program Board, who brought Jack White to the pool tables in the Pub less than two weeks ago. Board members invite you to get into your overalls, get out your red bandanas and, "Y'all come, ya hear?"

CLOGGING 'n BLUEGRASS...

As bluegrass music becomes more popular these days, so does clogging, a fast foot-stomping dance that was originated to accompany the gay pace of old-time and bluegrass music. Clog groups are native to the southern Appalachia region and consist of four to eight couples wearing tap shoes, forming intricate patterns while stomping and shuffling in unison, and beating out a driving rhythm to the music. This ethnic dance is quite infectious and inspires enthusiasm among audiences of all ages and backgrounds.

The Green Grass Cloggers are a college-aged group from Greenville in the flatlands of North Carolina. The group is unique among clogging teams because they are self-taught and independent of any form of sponsorship. They adhere basically to traditional square dance figures with innovations and steps of their own.

and were featured in an hour documentary, entitled "Bluegrass Roots." The team dances for dances, clubs, parties, benefits, colleges and universities, including Rutgers University in New Jersey.

Cloggers are interested in traveling and spreading clogging into more parts of the United States. Persons interested in contacting them should write the Green Grass Cloggers, P.O. Box 7091, Greenville, N. C. 27634.

lost

Lose something? See if Ms. Linda Moore has confiscated it among a vast assortment of items in her office. In the Pub. With a cash register and a little time, she could go into business for herself auctioning off class-rings, watches, a pipe, sunglasses, an assortment of textbooks and notebooks, and possibly a few rings of car keys to Plymouths, Chryslers and General Motors cars.

Bahá'u'lláh

THE GLORY OF GOD

Bahá'u'lláh is the latest in the succession of Divine Messengers sent by God since the beginning of man's existence. He is the Promised One of all religions. His coming ushers in the Age of Fulfillment mentioned in all the prophecies of the past. Bahá'u'lláh brings God's Plan for world peace, world justice and world unity.

FOR INFORMATION:

Bahá'í Faith

call 791-6264
or 256-2802

SENIORS

Do something meaningful!

Please send me current information and an application

Name ☐ Single ☐ Married

Permanent Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Graduation Date _____ Major _____

FOLD

ACTION
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20525
OFFICIAL BUSINESS

POSTAGE & FEES PAID
ACTION

VISTA/PEACE CORPS

Parts of ACTION

ATTN. OFFICE OF RECRUITMENT
AND COMMUNICATIONS
WASHINGTON, D. C. 20525

The Green Grass

OLEANDER DRIVE — 799-3950

OLEANDER
Cinema 1&2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

HELD OVER 3rd Week

NO BARGAIN HOUR & PASSES NOT GOOD!
ADULTS...$2.50 Children under 12...$1.00
SHOWS AT 2:00-4:40-7:20-10:00

ROBERT REDFORD
and MIA
FARROW

ORIGINAL SOUNDTRACK AVAILABLE ON PARADE RECORDS AND GRT TAPES

PG-13 A Paramount Picture
in Color Print by Mowbray

NOW SHOWING! HELD OVER 4th Week
Shows at 1:30-4:10-5:50-9:30

ALLIED ARTISTS presents
STEVE DUSTIN
McQUEEN HOFFMAN
a FRANKLIN J. SCHWARTZ film PAPILLON

LONG LEAF
Cinema 1&2

LONG LEAF MALL — SHIPYARD BLVD.
799-5710

HELD OVER 2nd Week

Shows at 2:20-4:40-7:00-9:20

BEST PICTURE OF THE YEAR!
WINNER OF 7 ACADEMY AWARDS!

PAUL NEWMAN · ROBERT REDFORD
ROBERT SHAW

A GEORGE ROYHILL FILM
THE GING

TECHNICOLOR • A UNIVERSAL PICTURE PG-13

NOW SHOWING!

Shows at 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

BUTCH & THE KID ARE BACK!

Just for the fun of it!

PAUL NEWMAN
ROBERT REDFORD
KATHARINE ROSS

"BUTCH CASSIDY AND
THE SUNDANCE KID"

"Panavision" • Color by DeLuxe

ALL SEATS $1.00 UNTIL 2:30 EXCEPT SUNDAY
IN THREE CINEMAS

A man called "Horse" becomes an Indian warrior in the most electrifying ritual ever seen!

"A MAN CALLED HORSE" is an extraordinary story about a most extraordinary man. It stars Richard Harris and is perhaps the first motion picture to treat the American Indian in every detail of his life with unparalleled accuracy. Sharpened to a cutting edge with authenticity, "A MAN CALLED HORSE" is definitely a film of the '70's... a motion picture that takes its strength by "telling it like it was."

Richard Harris portrays an English lord who has turned away from the aristocratic society of 1825. He is captured by Sioux Indians and made a beast of burden, undergoing enormous mental and physical tortures to prove his manhood in their savage culture. It is a powerful role, and Harris refused a double in the potentially dangerous scenes because it would take away from the film's impact. Harris is dragged naked, tied to a horse, hoisted twelve feet in the air for the controversial Sun Vow sequence, and endures physical violence during the fierce battle sequences. For Harris (whose films include "Camelot," "Mutiny on the Bounty," "This Sporting Life" and "The Guns of Navarone"), the National General Pictures' release of "A MAN CALLED HORSE," which provides the most demanding role of his career.

Dame Judith Anderson, whose performances as "Medea" and Lady Macbeth have electrified audiences throughout the world, makes her first screen appearance in seven years as Buffalo Cow Head, and her role requires her to speak only in Sioux, which Dame Judith learned with the aid of a tape recorder and a language instructor. "My character was such a challenge," she says, "this old harriidan—a savage, yes, but strong, and tragic, too."

Jean Gascon, known as Canada's "Mr. Theatre," makes his screen debut in "A MAN CALLED HORSE." He is founder of the National Theatre School of Canada and chairman of the Canadian Theatre Center. He portrays a crippled mixed-blood captive of five years who has undergone the torturous Sioux vengeance. Manu Tupou, scion of the ruling family of the Fiji Islands, who played the prince in "Hawaii," portrays the Sioux Chief Yellow Hand, a man of instinctive wisdom and bold fortitude.

The former "Miss Greece" and "Miss Universe" of 1964, Corinna Tsopei plays her first major role in "A MAN CALLED HORSE," as Running Deer, the Indian maiden who brings meaning to Harris' life. The use of relatively unknown screen faces in "A MAN CALLED HORSE" intensifies the personal drama and authenticity.

Producer Sandy Howard assembled a gallery of talented, creative individuals to insure that "A MAN CALLED HORSE" would not be just "another Western or Indian picture." Members of the Rosebud Sioux Reservation appear in featured roles, and two hundred members of the tribe worked behind the scenes to make the tepees, costumes, and the weapons, all created with precision to detail and authenticity. "A MAN CALLED HORSE," therefore, is not just another Hollywood version of the Indian legend, but the Indians' own statement of their trials.

Dorothy M. Johnson (whose books include "The Hanging Tree" and "The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance") wrote the novel from which Jack DeWitt adapted his screenplay for "A MAN CALLED HORSE." DeWitt is an authority on the history and lore of the Indian, and thoroughly researched all details of his subject before his final script was written. Historian-archaeologist Clyde Dollar was also assigned to make certain that every detail was precise and authentic for the time period of the motion picture.

Director Elliot Silverstein is the man who turned "Cat Ballou" into one of the most acclaimed pictures of the decade, and prior to his directorial debut in motion pictures guided hundreds of television shows, including "Dr. Kildare," "Route 66," "Naked City," and "The Nurses." He is described as among the "new breed" of film directors, sweeping aside old concepts and techniques to make maximum use of the motion picture screen.

Robert Hauser, whose last assignment was "The Odd Couple," fused the colors and moods of the Indian people in his job as cinematographer. Leonard Rosenman's music incorporates many of the old Indian sounds, an enormous challenge since there were no stringed instruments. He used chiefly flutes, whistles, drums and Indian voices in his musical score to give the production a "truth sound" of thundering proportions. "A MAN CALLED HORSE" is a totally authentic motion picture, a statement of the courage, discipline and savagery of the Indians as they were prior to the white man's plundering of their birthrights.

Showing Tuesday, April 30, "A Man Called Horse," is probably one of the best films to be shown at the university this year.

n.c.s.l. seeks members

Persons interested in working with the North Carolina Student Legislature for the 1974-75 school year are urged to attend a meeting and interview Tuesday, April 30, at 7 p. m. in the Student Government Association office, room 105 in the student services building, better known as the Pub.

hike, bike set

Join in the Hike/Bike for the benefit of the retarded scheduled for Saturday, April 27 at 9 a. m. at Emple Park behind Sears and Roebuck Company. The Hike/Bike is being sponsored by the National Association for Retarded Citizens for the Benefit of Mentally Retarded Children and Adults. Calvin Hall of the Dallas Cowboys is national chairman. For more information call 791-3323.

POP CONCERT

The UNC-W Wind Ensemble will present a pop concert on Sunday afternoon beginning at 3 p. m. on the portico in front of Kenan Auditorium.

apparel factory outlet

LADIES

Mix or Match Coordinating Sets

JACKETS ONLY $6.01 SHORTS ONLY $4.41

SLACKS ONLY $7.62

10-6 sat.

FREE PARKING

10-9 mon.-fri

4204 OLEANDER DRIVE

it's the real thing

Wilmington Coca-Cola Bottling Works
Incorporated
Wilmington, N. C. 28401

The Richardson Corporation Insurance

501 Carolina Power & Light Building

763-5445

Classifieds

 Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are urged to put their classified ads in the SEAHAWK free -- FREE, is, no charge. Let us give you a break.

personal

Lilly Whaley
Typing at home 791-2446

35 mm CAMERA: Want to buy Pentax, Miranda, etc. See F. Allen in room 115, Hoggard Hall.

PAPERS TYPED: 50¢ for the first five pages; 40¢ for each page thereafter. Dial 458-8788.

CUSTOM LEATHER WORK: Call 763 - 4371 anytime.

SKY DIVING LESSONS: To be taught this spring. Course enrollment now through March. Contact Pierre Bonnesucille de Lespinols after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

NEED DIVING GEAR?: Have just obtained U. S. divers dealership for 1974. Very low mark - up, terrific $avings. Contact Pierre Bonnesucille de Lespinols after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

SEWING & ALTERATIONS: Call 799-5531.

for sale

SMALL REFRIGERATOR: Perfect for dorm room. $60. (Think how much you rent one for over a year.) See John at University Arms Apartments, 4903-A.

STEREO UNIT: 8 track tape player, AM-FM radio and turn table. $200. Call 799-1586; ask for Dean.

Set of York steel barbells includes headtrap, wrist developers, dumbbells, iron shoes and instructions booklet. Total weight 150 lbs. Contact Larry 218 Dorm

1969 MOBILE HOME: 12 x 65 foot, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, central air conditioning. For appointment, call between 6 and 8 p.m. at 285-3747.

PORTABLE T.V.: Sears silvertone 19 inch screen with VHP and UHP antennas. Excellent condition physically and mechanically. $50.

STEREO COMPONENTS: Most major brands! 20 - 50% off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

FOLDING BED: Three quarter bed for $30. Call 791-6388 or 686-0002.

GENETICS BOOK: Used only one day being sold for $6.50. See John Wilkins in the Pub between 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

LADIES WETSUIT: 2 piece, 1/4" women's small to medium wetsuit in good condition. Ask for Debbie at 791-9106.

NURSING UNIFORMS: New! Never been worn; size 6 (28). Ask for Betsy at 799-0595.

FOR SALE: surf board 6'2" Corky Carroll Spacelick, 1 yr old. $70 7915013 BHL.

FOR SALE: 8' solid pine bar w/ 3 stools $75 over 25 yrs old. 7916113 1968 Rambler - full power asking $750, but make an offer! 7915113

FM-AM reciever & turntable 4 speakers 2-4 channel switch 2orlg. & 2 comm. speakers. $100 rm. 322

AM-FM reciever & turntable 4 speakers 2-4 channel switch & $220 new sell $130 perfect condition rm. 317

65 Chevrolet Impala 396 auto.-trans. Engin in good condition. Trans. re-built in Sept. Must Sell $300 Rm. 317 Dorm Charlie

1971 MGB ROADSTER: New radials, new paint job - 21,000 miles - very clean. $2195. After 5 p.m. call Lamar at 762-2389.

Waterbeds: new king size beds $30. Also beanbags call Herbie at 791-9325

SURFBOARD: 7' 2", 19" wide semi-gun board built strictly for Puerto Rico and reef type breaks. $50 or best offer. Dial 763-8714.

1964 VW106,000 mi-engine rebuilt at $8000, new front end at 100,000. Body fair-green $500. Terry Workman, 502 M, Lu-mina basement after 5:00

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: power steering and radio. Only $1000. Dial 799-3765.

1972 VW VAN: Rear seat open to bed; radio; carpeting and curtains. Good condition. $2850. Call Ned Martin at 791-4330(ext. 321) from 9-5 weekdays.

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

1961 CADILLAC: Excellent shape with all accessories, power steering, brakes, air conditioning. Best offer: 799-4738, or contact at Dorm room 323 anytime. Ask for James.

1968 FORD LTD: Station wagon with power steering and brakes, air conditioning and new tires. In great shape. $995. Call 256-2526 or 256-2227.

1972 VEGA: Panelwagon with 28,000 miles in excellent condition. $1700. Call 762-6144.

WANTED

Wanted: salesman with experience clothing store weekends contact 763-8185

Three College girls would love to sub-let your 3-bedroom house or apt. from middle May to middle Aug. Preferably near the campus or the beach. If you can help us please write Dawn Petrea 314 Kenan Dorm., Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514

College Manor Apartments

- new tavern & clubhouse
- six month lease
- tennis courts

- full time social director
- summer recreational program
- convenient location (from UNC-W)

We have a special summer rate for students and teachers!

Contact resident manager for details.

College Road (Hwy 132)
Phone 791-3156

"Frankly Speaking"

by Phil Frank

"WHAT A DISAPPOINTING SKI WEEKEND LOUISE - THE BLIZZARD STILL HAS US SNOWED IN!"

SUMMER JOBS

MUST BE 18 OR OVER

If you are socially oriented, clothes conscious, a good conversationalist, or athletically inclined then we have marketing and public contact jobs for you. Complete training at company expense.

1. OPPORTUNITY TO TRAVEL
2. PLEASANT WORKING CONDITIONS
3. CO-ED WORKING CONDITIONS

Those students who show potential will be trained in all phases of marketing and personnel control. Con-Qualified applicants can earn---- $600 mo.

For interview call -
9:30 AM-1:30 PM

Charlotte Office
704-333-1504

Fayetteville Office
919-483-6381

Charleston, S.C. Office
803-747-3557

The TRYON Co., Inc.

University Arms APARTMENTS

WALKING DISTANCE FROM UNC-W

All electric living with GE appliances; range, dishwasher; disposal and refrigerator, individually controlled heating and air conditioning, luxurious shag carpeting, private patio, beautiful swimming pool!

1, 2 & 3 Bedroom Apts.
FURNISHED or UNFURNISHED
Starting at $140.

CALL 791-8674 OR 762-0366

OR

SEE RESIDENT MANAGER
HAROLD GREENE
(MANAGEMENT)

DEPT. OFFERS PROGRAM

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology at the university, in cooperation with the Archaeology Division of the North Carolina Division of Archives and History, will offer a unique experience in archaeological instruction this summer.

Staffing consists of five full-time personnel and a number of consultants. Primary emphasis will be given to the location and mapping of underwater wrecks along the North Carolina coast between Cape Hatteras and Cape Fear. Some land archaeology will be conducted at Fort Fisher, a Confederate Civil War Fort. Preservation and interpretation of recovered artifacts will constitute the third facet of the program.

The field course will carry six hours of undergraduate credit.

To be eligible for the program a student must:

- (1) Previous archaeological experience desired but not required,
- (2) Must have proof of completion of recognized SCUBA training course,
- (3) Must submit a certificate of medical fitness for diving. Forms will be furnished for applicants.

Tuition and fees for North Carolina residents will be $184 and non-residents will pay $640.

Students will be responsible for their food and housing. Personal diving equipment should be provided by the students; however, a limited amount of gear is available.

For additional details and application forms, contact either:

Dr. John H. Scalf Jr.,
Chairman
Dept. of Soc. and Anthro.
UNC-Wilmington
P. O. Box 3725
Wilmington, N. C. 28401

APO helps groups

The brotherhood of Upsilon Nu chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity at the university, returned from an early March break to attempt a clean-up of a lengthy section of Wrightsville Beach.

Rain forced a rescheduling but on the second attempt, held March 22, all things went well.

The following day, Lambda pledge class of the organization held a car wash for the American Cancer Society; the car wash was a success. One week later, a handful of the brothers collected close to $200 in one afternoon for the Easter Seals Society.

It was just another week before the fraternity helped with the Pre-Azalea Festival Clean-up by policing a stretch of Highway 132. That same day a small group of brothers and alumni attended the Section 80 conference at Fayetteville State University.

Highlights included the re-election of Tommy Hodges, an Upsilon Nu chapter charter member, to the position of Sectional Alumni Representative, and the receiving of certificates for membership increases in 1972 and for the fraternity's fifth anniversary celebration.

The Rock-A-Thon was held during the 1974 Azalea Festival at the Hanover Shopping Center with proceeds going to the Peace Corps School Partnership Program. Brothers will man a booth and doors at the Student Union Program Board's Hoedown in the back of the gym.

Seven new members were initiated into Alpha Phi Omega April 8. The new brothers are Bob Browning, Rufus Butler, Kent Flowers, Jeter Griffin, Paul Laird, Steve Martin and Steve Everhart.

Master Instruction in
KARATE KUNG FU
JU-JITSU KEMPO
OPEN MONDAY-THURSDAY
FOR INSTRUCTION AND WORKOUT
$20.00 MONTH

SELF DEFENSE INSTRUCTION FOR
MEN, WOMEN & CHILDREN

STOVER'S
ACADEMY OF SELF DEFENSE

John Stover, 4th Degree Black Belt

Community Shopping Center

Oleander Drive

Call 791-6399 or 763-8083 for information.

REPRESENTATIVES FROM YOUR UNITED STATES
AIR FORCE WILL BE ON CAMPUS WEDNESDAY
MAY 1,
IN THE PUB. OFFICERS TRAINING SCHOOL TEST
WILL BE GIVEN FRIDAY
MAY 3.

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility. Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings — as an Air Force pilot or navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

SGT. JERRY T. LEWIS
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N. C.
Phone: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

Re-Elect

W. ALLEN COBB

DISTRICT SOLICITOR

CAPABLE • EXPERIENCED • INTEGRITY

RIDE ON!

Tour America
on a
Raleigh
3-speed bicycle

Raleigh 3-speed models are designed for the rigors of touring. Rugged frames and components, comfortable saddles and easy shifting hubs let you go places with ease. You'll find a wide choice of Raleighs too. And you're guaranteed a perfect fit with the Raleigh CustomSizer. Raleigh... a world of difference.

RALEIGH

LIFE CYCLES

4209 Oleander Drive
Community Shopping Center
Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

FULTON: "Player of the Week"

Pembroke--Paul Fulton, UNC-Wilmington's junior left-hander from Jacksonville, N.C., pitched a no-hitter, no-run game against East Carolina last week to win NAIA District 29 "Baseball Player of the Week."

It was a seven-inning second game of a twin bill. UNC-W also won the other game 3-2.

ACC EDGED OUT

The Seahawks of UNC-W posted their third district win of the season by defeating Atlantic Christian College last Thursday night here at UNC-W by a score of 2-1.

Dave Clemmons, a sophomore, was at the mound for the victorious Seahawks while Richard Arthur carried the loss for ACC.

The Seahawks got their only two runs in the bottom of the first inning. Howie Edgerton reached first base and Steve Gano hit putting himself on first while Howie arrived safely on second. The next batter up Robert Ivey was out when he was hit by his own batted ball. BO Pittman came to bat and knocked Fulton has a 4-1 record for the season and has been a key hurler for the Seahawks who have a 4-0 district record and 15-11 overall mark.

Another standout was catcher Jay Cline of Campbell's district leaders. The Camels won their only district contest of the week by routing a tough ACC 14-2.

the ball down the third base line. Third baseman threw the ball wide to the first baseman and Edgerton came home for the first run. Greg Dalton now up to bat brought in Gano for the last Seahawk run.

In the top of the third the Bulldogs threatened when they scored their one and only run of the evening. After the third inning it, the ball game became a pitching contest between Clemmons and Arthur.

The Seahawks are now standing with a 15-11 overall record and a 3-0 district record. The Seahawks will clash again with ACC in Bulldog country on Tuesday, May 7.

In the four games that Campbell played, Cline increased his consecutive hitting streak to 16 games. He is hitting .317 for the season and has 33 runs batted in. During the week he hit .357 and drove in six runs plus picking off three base runners and throwing out two trying to steal second.

ACC pulled the surprise of the week by blanking Pembroke State 7-0 and pinning the defeat on All-American Ron Norman. Norman yielded five of the runs, only one of which was earned, struck out nine and walked two.

Hero for ACC was southpaw Dallas Arthur, who outdueling Norman by scattering seven hits, fanning eight and walking four. Virginia Wesleyan's giant righthander, 6-5, 210-pound Gene Hassell, blanked Lynchburg 1-0 on Easter Monday on a three-hitter. He fanned five in running his record to 5-0. Hassell is a sophomore from Suffolk, Va.

photo by neal huntley

THESE LAZY FEMMES ARE IN REALITY THE SUPER JOCKS ON CAMPUS. FROM LEFT TO RIGHT: MARY ALDA BYERS, JO HILTON, PAM MATHEWS, KATHI KEETON AND ROBIN STARRY. NOT PICTURED ARE BRENDA MOSS, TOM BRYANT AND PAULA WILLIS.

BASEBALL STANDINGS (through April 21)

	DISTRICT		ALL GAMES
	W	L	W	L
Campbell	6	0	19	7
UNC-W	4	0	15	11
Pembroke	2	1	11	10
Va. Wesleyan	9	5	13	9
ACC	6	4	10	7
Norfolk State	3	2	4	5
Lynchburg	5	4	14	6
Methodist	5	5	19	11
Va. State	7	7	10	15
N.C. Wesleyan	1	6	4	12
Shaw	1	7	1	11
St. Andrews	1	7	2	15

MONARCHS

DETHRONED

6-3

The Seahawks of UNC-W are off to a good start in the district by bringing a second district victory home when the Hawks defeated the Methodist Monarchs 6-3 on a road game. Ricky Jones was a credited the Seahawk victory.

Duke Sanderson started on the mound giving up two hits in five innings but in the sixth he ran into some trouble as the Monarchs rallied to knot the score 3-3.

Mike Robbins, a righthanded freshman took over the mound but ran into trouble himself in the eighth. Ricky Jones then took over as pitcher with the bases loaded. Jones then disposed of the Monarch threat.

The Seahawk victory brought the club to a 14-11 overall record and a 2-0 District 29 NAIA record.

5th GOLF TITLE?

Pembroke--Campbell's powerful golf team, which has won the NAIA District 29 championship all four years since Har-grove Davis became coach in 1970, will seek a fifth straight title here at Willow Springs Country Club when the two-day 36-hole tourney is held Wed. and Thur. (April 24-25).

The Camels this season have an 11-1 record, and Coach Davis says, "Our team is pretty much on par with the 1970 team which won the national NAIA championship." Only team to beat the Camels was N.C. State which did it by one point on an extra hole.

Campbell's golf success has been impressive to say the least. The Camels were second last year in the nationals, third in '71 and fifth in '72.

The team leader for Campbell is Larry Hodges, senior from Fayetteville, who has a best score of 67 and an average of 71.5. Next is Jim Wheeler, junior of Jackson who has a 73.6 average, while third is Jerry McGraw, a senior of New York who has a 73.7 average.

Among rivals, Atlantic Christian, which lost to Campbell, appears to have the best chance. The Bulldogs' best players are Tom Barnes and Carey Pittman, UNC-Wilmington, also beaten by Campbell, is led by Billy Peterson of Wilmington. Pembroke State's best players at the moment are Jeff Tedder of Fairmont and Phil Woodruff of Raleigh.

The winning team and tourney medalist qualify for the nationals, being held the first week in June this year at Aberdeen, S.D. Top five finishers automatically win all-district honors.

Why do some people think Bud is sort of special?

Go ahead and find out why!

(Brewing beer right does make a difference.)

When you say Budweiser., you've said it all!

ANHEUSER-BUSCH, INC. • ST. LOUIS

EXAMS

	9:00 - 12:00	2:00 - 5:00	7:00 - 10:00
Monday May 6	8:30 MWF classes	10:00 T Th classes	Monday night classes
Tuesday May 7	9:30 MWF classes	3:30 T Th classes	Tuesday night classes
Wednesday May 8	Reading Day	Reading Day	Reading Day
Thursday May 9	10:30 MWF classes	2:00 T Th classes	Thursday night classes
Friday May 10	12:30 MWF classes	8:30 T Th classes
Monday May 13	1:30 MWF classes	2:30 MWF classes
Tuesday May 14	3:30 MWF classes	12:30 T Th classes
Wednesday May 15	11:30 MWF classes	4:30 MWF classes	Wednesday night classes

DORM ASSISTANTS SOUGHT

Openings for resident assistants (men and women) have been announced by the Student Affairs Office. In a new approach for selection, a full day workshop will be held Saturday, May 4. At this time, with the assistance of the Drama and Speech Department, situational video tapes will be used to help in the selection of RA's for the 1974-75 school term. The workshop will be followed by interviews with the Student Affairs Office at a later date.

Preliminary criteria for selection include: (1) overall 2.0 quality point average, (2) ability to relate well with a variety of personalities, (3) willingness to participate in in service training sessions as well as regular staff sessions with the head resident and the entire student affairs staff, (4) agreement to remain in the residence hall through closing times at vacation periods and at the end of each semester.

Interested students are requested to sign up for the May 4 workshop in the Student Affairs Office, room 113, Alderman Administration Building. Deadline is April 26.

The Surf Porsche

The Porsche 914.

See the '74 Porsche and Audi on Display

University Porsche Audi

SALES • SERVICE • PARTS

3302 Market Street Phone 763-5473

Breakfast planned

Arthur Hansen, a Norwegian minister and world missionary will speak at a prayer breakfast in the cafeteria on Saturday morning, April 27 at 9 a. m.

Rev. Hansen will speak on the "Jesus Movement Around the World." Special music will be provided by Mike Hallett and Sheri Campbell.

The breakfast meeting, sponsored by the UNC-W Christian Fellowship, is open to the public.

Keep
on Krashing

The Smokers, previously known as Keeton's Krashers, smoked the other teams in womens intramural volleyball. They went undefeated during their season with a 10-0 record to cope the championship. These femmes were also undefeated in intramural basketball to win that championship under the name of Keeton's Krashers. The girls that played on these teams were: Kathi Keeton, Robin Starry, Jo Hilton, Pam Mathews, Mary Alda Byers, Brenda Moss, Toni Bryant, and Paula Willis. Congrats are in order. Keep on Krashing and smoking girls!!!

There's more to cycling than a bicycle. And your RALEIGH dealer has more of the things that make cycling safer and more fun.

LIFE CYCLES

4209 Oleander Drive
Community Shopping Center
Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

seahawk

university of north carolina at wilmington

May 3, 1974

sixteen pages

INDIAN AT UNC-W?

see inside...

Mr. Buttke lit sparks from SGA senate

To Mr. Buttke:

It is good that students are interested in school matters and voice their opinion -- but my advice to you is that you get your facts straight before you go around blowing your horn.

Mr. Buttke, I have one question for you, "If you are so interested in the SGA why haven't you run for a Senate position?"

Respectfully,
A Senate Member

At this time I would like to straighten out some of your so called facts. 1. Mr. Moore is not a member of the North Carolina Student Legislature (NCSL), and 2., Mr. Moore is not a voting member of the Finance Committee, but only an ex officio member, and also there is no member of the Finance Committee that is a member of NCSL.

Mr. Buttke if you would look back at the last two administrations, (Bill Brooks and Bill Renn), you would notice that they went into the red during the spring semesters and Mr. Moore was only attempting not to follow in the footsteps of the two preceding administrations.

If the various publications would stay within their budgets the extra holding back of money would not be necessary. One sound example of this is the Fledgling which has gone in the red for the past two years.

Dear Students:

I would like to thank everyone who supported me in my successful campaign for Junior Class President. During the 1974-75 year, I promise to work to the best of my ability for the students. If anyone has a question concerning my position, the student government, or the college, then please stop me so we can discuss your question.

I have done some inquiring in regards to the Wyche house. The Kenan Family donated the house to the college; but it needs a lot of work done to it. It would cost us approximately $40,000 to renovate the house to be able to hold the first function. Unless the student body comes up with this money, we can, for most practical purposes, forget having this house used for student activities. Why does the state not pay for the renovating expenses? The state does not pay for any building or repairing of any building unless it will be used for some educational purpose.

Presently, the Student Senate is working on the 1974-75 budget. As of this time, only

To the Editor:

Let me start off, first of all by thanking the Lord Jesus for the "Bridge" concert last Sunday afternoon. The weather was beautiful, the people were beautiful; in all it was just another of those beautiful days "that the Lord hath made!" Hallelujah!

For some people it was just a good show. But at the expense of undermining the extremely fine musicianship, if that's all you got out of it you missed the point. What was being presented was not so much a bunch of kids playing rock -- but the Lord Jesus Himself. Jesus said that whenever two or more are gathered in His name, He is there in the middle of them! And I know without a doubt that He was there last Sunday!

Jesus is not just a myth or some ancient historical tradition. He is real! Alive and kicking today! and one day soon He is coming back! Jesus is not some far away figure or idea. But a real person that you can get to know personally, and individually. I'm not talking about religion because it is just a search for God. Sometimes you'll find Him that way, sometimes you won't. What I'm talking about is a living, working relationship with a Person as real as the one standing next to you. Paul says that all you have to do is believe with all your heart and use your mouth to tell everyone that Jesus is real.

Jesus said, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and eat with him, and he with me." Paul quotes the Old Testament in saying that "the ear has not heard and the eye has not seen the things that God has prepared for those who love Him." I thank Him that Jesus has come into my life and I pray that you, too, will come to know Him. What's really cool is that He loved you 2,000 years ago when He died for you; He loved you when He rose from a grave, and He loves you right now, whether you accept it or not, or don't care.

If we could forget about peace and love and all those high ideals -- the anti-war movement said they advocated, and stop and think about from whom those good things come then peace and love will take care of themselves.

God isn't dead; He isn't even sick. Get to know Him and find out.

Sharing His love,
Mike Jones

Message from Hobbs

Steve Hobbs

Thanks

To whom it may concern:

Many thanks to the dorm student who found and turned in my wallet.

Eddie Boylan

SENIORS

Do something meaningful!

Please send me current information and an application

Name ☐ Single ☐ Married

Permanent Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Graduation Date _____ Major _____

FOLD -

ACTION
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20525
OFFICIAL BUSINESS

POSTAGE & FEES PAID
ACTION

VISTA/PEACE CORPS
Parts of ACTION

ATTN. OFFICE OF RECRUITMENT
AND COMMUNICATIONS
WASHINGTON, D. C. 20525

editor: beth hicks
associate editors: barry asbury
j. k. muhleman
advertising directors: barry asbury sports manager: alan murphy
sports editor: robert maxey
greek lines: rocky lane more
news editor: eugene mckinney

photographic staff: roberta alred
naunia dozier
neal huntley
zack sessions
supportive staff: linda houghton
layne lockamy
anne nesbitt
carlisle pearson

seahawk

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Educational Advertising Services, Inc.
360 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017

Published on Fridays by students at the university of north carolina at wilmington, deadline for publication is monday before the friday publication.
our office is located downstairs in the pub. telephone 791-8055.

Editorships Open For Fall '74

Editorships for the three publications—the Atlanta liberal arts magazine, the Fledgling yearbook, and the Seahawk newspaper, are open. Current editors interested in the positions must re-apply.

Applications should be addressed to the Publications Board. Students interested in the positions should see the advisors immediately.

Advisors for the

Atlantis are Drs. James Collier and Juanna Corbett in the English Department, and Mike Goins in the Art Department. Advisor for the Seahawk is Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, and persons interested in the yearbook editorship should talk to Gwen Croom in the Administration Building.

"Lamonite Generation" captures paleface

Brigham Young Indians backed by a smattering of Polynesian and Mexican-American talent are out to capture "paleface" and all other ethnic audiences in a two hour program to be held in Kenan Auditorium at the university on Tuesday, May 14 at 8 p.m.

Tickets are on sale for $1.00, student price, and $2.00 for general public and adults. Tickets can be purchased from Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, in her office in the Pub.

The "Lamonite Generation" will present a program of contemporary music and dance blended carefully with traditional Indian, Polynesian, and Mexican numbers as well as contemporary Indian scores written by the Brigham Young University Indian students—such as "Walk in Beauty; Desert Flower, and Go My Son."

The non-Indian selections were learned from the Polynesian and Mexican students, who believe they are related to the American Indian, a theory advocated by Thor Heyerdahl of the Ra II fame and Kon Tiki.

The "Lamonite Generation" recently returned from a seven-week tour of Canada, the Mid-west and Texas, where their two hour contemporary and traditional entertainment extravaganza resulted in a 60-minute television show in Oklahoma City that was syndicated on more than 350 television stations in the West and Mid-West.

The group already has a tentative invitation to participate in the Llangollen, Wales, international eisteddfod, and should funds become available, they plan to tour abroad as representatives of the United States. The troupe has also received numerous invitations to perform in various parts of the states and in Canada.

KEEP I.D.

Students returning to the University of North Carolina at Wilmington in the fall for the fall semester 1974 are reminded to keep their current identification cards in their possession.

There will be a charge of $3.00 for replacing these cards. The cards will be updated in the fall with a color coded sticker similar to the sticker placed on the backs of the cards for the spring semester.

Students attending the summer sessions at the university should go by the Office of Student Affairs in the Alderman Administration Building for a summer identification card.

RALEIGH

The Richardson Corporation
Insurance

501 Carolina Power & Light Building

763-5445

Yes

Wachovia

Taking off? Take us up.

There's a place for you on Piedmont. For a weekend of fun, a game out of town, a quick trip home, whatever—there's a Piedmont jet or propjet flight to fit your plans. With personal, thoughtful service always. Piedmont—serving over 75 cities including Chicago, New York, Washington, Norfolk, Atlanta, Memphis. Call us, or your travel agent. We've got a place for you.

Piedmont Airlines

LOVE COMES IN TWO'S

FAIRHAVEN $250.00
WED. RING $87.50

JUDO $450.00
WED. RING $150.00

Keepsake

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

28 N Front St
Hanover Center
Long Leaf Mall

763-6311
762-0736
799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

Recall . . .

your prof?

theater productions?

'73 -

'74

home coming?

a storm?

concerts?

"rented"
tables

staff?

frat rivals?

THE GRADING SCALE...

1. YOU HAVE A COPY OF THE TEST? DID YOU HAVE AN I.Q. OF 150? YOU LAUGHED AT HIS JOKES? YOU WORE A SHORT DRESS...

2. THE 'B' USUALLY GOES TO STUDENTS WHO SHOULD HAVE GOTTEN AN 'A'.

3. AH YES THE 'C' GIVEN TO THE BLEND IN STUDENT. THE STUDENT WHO YOU COULDN'T REMEMBER.

4. THIS GRADE GOES TO THE LAD WHO DIDN'T AGREE, OR THE STUDENT THAT LOOKED TOO DIFFERENT TO SERVE HIM RIGHT.

5. THIS STUDENT DIDN'T REALLY EXIST. HE WAS ZERO, HE DIDN'T TRY, HE DIDN'T CARE, HE DIDN'T...

The Blandies by Ray Bland have a nice summer!

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

Shoney's SOUTH, INC.

BIG BOY
RESTAURANT
OF WILMINGTON

WHERE FAMILY DINING IS FUN

"GO ORDER ANYTIME"

BREAKFAST 7 A.M. TIL

SEAFOOD • STEAKS • CHICKEN
DELICIOUS SANDWICHES • SALADS

CALL  763-5456

4006 MARKET STREET

GURU VISITS CAMPUS

"And then there is a primordial vibration, which is of course the highest and most beautiful vibration of all. One vibration is vibrating, that's why all vibrations are vibrating.

"I don't want to remove you from your house. I just want to take you up in a helicopter and let you see how your house looks.

"If your vision can become perfect, your area of coverage will become infinite, and if that covered area becomes infinite, naturally God that is infinite -- you will be able to see Him."

Guru Maharaj Ji

Guru Maharaj Ji's knowledge teaches us how to meditate on the source of peace and love inside us. It is not the sort of knowledge we can find in libraries, for it is the direct experience of something within us, not a theory. That is why Guru Maharaj Ji literally shows us how to see the soul, how to bathe in its purifying and health-giving light... The Knowledge is shown to people by close disciples of Guru Maharaj Ji known as mahatmas. It is revealed free of charge to those who come with an open heart. For further information, call Kathy at 763-1352, Paula at 686-0362 or Jim at 1-458-8730.

"This thing that is within inside of us, it does not mean a change of religion. You can be a Christian and still follow it; you can be a Hindu and still follow it; you can be anybody following any religion of any class, creed, color, or nationality, coming from the North or South Pole, coming from underwater, underland, overland, anywhere. If you are a human being, that is good enough for you to realize this Knowledge."

Guru Maharaj Ji

The "Premies" of Wilmington will present the film, "Who is Guru Maharaj Ji," in approximately five weeks on the university campus. Watch for details.

Vote To
RE-ELECT
B. D. (Bennie)
SCHWARTZ
to the
N.C.
House

CAPABLE-EFFECTIVE-EXPERIENCED
(Paid Pol. Adv.)

GET OFF
YOUR ASS!

Payne's

Roberta Allred
models
a blue dotted skirt outfit by JODY.

Available at

Payne's

Downtown, Hanover Center
& Long Leaf Mall

Can we direct you
to someone who traffics
in Raleighs?

World-famous
Raleigh
quality at economy
prices

The New Raleigh LTD.

Priced as low as $62.95, the LTD touring cycles are built to the same exacting standards that made the Raleigh name famous the world over. Available with Sturmey-Archer 3 speed AW hubs with trigger control and caliper hand brakes -- or coaster hubs with safety foot brakes. We have a selection of colors. Come in and look them over.

RALEIGH
THE BICYCLE FIT FOR YOU

LIFE CYCLES

4209 Oleander Drive

Community Shopping Center

Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

last hope

LAST CHANCE! LAST CHANCE! Last chance for what?

Have you lost, or better yet, are you lacking one white sweater? a tennis racket? a couple of textbooks? valuable notebooks complete with notes? a Thermos bottle? car keys? earrings? ink pens? a pair of glasses? sunglasses for this summer?

Contact Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, in her office in the Pub.

DJ-OK

Jay Howard, local deejay, is available for record hops. Howard owns a collection of records dating from the 50's to the present.

Because of a clause in a contract with WGNI, a former employer, the disc jockey cannot work in broadcasting until November, when he will return to broadcasting with WKLM.

Contact Jay Howard at 762-5646.

DILEMMA

To determine the quality point averages for a semester or for the total time at the university do the following:

Add the number of quality points earned so far; each letter grade represents a set number of points. At the university, the system is:

- A - 4 points
- B - 3 points
- C - 2 points
- D - 1 point
- F - 0 points

Divide by the total number of course hours taken.

EXAMS

	9:00 - 12:00	2:00 - 5:00	7:00 - 10:00
Monday May 6	8:30 MWF classes	10:00 T Th classes	Monday night classes
Tuesday May 7	9:30 MWF classes	3:30 T Th classes	Tuesday night classes
Wednesday May 8	Reading Day	Reading Day	Reading Day
Thursday May 9	10:30 MWF classes	2:00 T Th classes	Thursday night classes
Friday May 10	12:30 MWF classes	8:30 T Th classes
Monday May 13	1:30 MWF classes	2:30 MWF classes
Tuesday May 14	3:30 MWF classes	12:30 T Th classes
Wednesday May 15	11:30 MWF classes	4:30 MWF classes	Wednesday night classes

PEANUTS

Wilmington's Best Selection of Small Cars

at discounted prices!

MUSTANG II
the luxury small car

PINTO for basic economy

THE CLOSER
YOU LOOK, THE BETTER
WE LOOK

CAPE FEAR FORD

4222 Oleander Drive

799-4060

Home Of The little profit

"Ain't it fun?"

one guest per i.d.

8:30 pm - 12:30 pm

FRIDAY NIGHT MAY 3

in the PUB

Pagan Dance

to a dance

* fling your bods to the beat of...

FINAL FLING!!

* what you've been waiting for!!

* THIS IS IT!
* the SGA has done it!!

President Speaks

Much enthusiasm is already evident in all areas of school activity. Students are concerned about student government as demonstrated by the increased number of students running for Student Government Offices. Attendance at the new Senate meetings has been at a record high. Additionally, there are many new special interest groups emerging on campus that are demanding attention from the Student Government Association.

There will be a $2.00 increase in student activity fees next year. Still, UNC-W students on an average will pay less than other students on similar campuses. This will allow more money to be spent on student activities. Much of the budget has been allocated to the concert committee, dance committee, Fine Arts Committee, and the Music & Lecture Series.

As many as six concerts and eight dances are presently planned. More than 10 lectures including the return of such greats as Jack London. Additionally, the Music Series will present five or more concerts. This compares with the three concerts and three dances that were held this past year. Also thirty first-rate movies such as "The Sting" and "Jesus Christ Superstar" are slated to be shown next year.

The Senate has been very busy and is actively looking into ways for improving our food services in the cafeteria, possible increases in sports activities, additional parking places for motorcyclists, more activities for students, longer hours for the gym and library, among many other things. The constitution is being rewritten and a By-laws committee has been set up to begin work next Fall. Much work remains to be done.

Beginning next Fall the student government office will be open forty hours a week to receive suggestions and complaints from students. All of these suggestions will be referred to committees for consideration. We look forward to hearing from you next fall.

The time has come for Wilmington students to begin taking more pride in their University. I hope you will join me in making UNC-By-the-Sea a college to be proud of.

I want to congratulate all Seniors and wish them Godspeed as they begin their careers or graduate work. Much thanks to all 1973 Seniors. I hope your memories of UNC-W will be fond ones for many years to come.

National Cheerleaders Association has chosen the University of North Carolina at Wilmington as one of 14 hosts for the associations' summer cheerleading clinics.

Other colleges and universities chosen include the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, Old Dominion University in Virginia, the University of Georgia at Athens, Georgia Southern College, the University of South Florida, Columbia College in South Carolina, Furman University in South Carolina, Rollins College in Florida, Jacksonville University in Florida, the University of West Florida, Randolph-Macon Women's College in Virginia and Campbell College in Bales Creek.

High school cheerleaders will be at the university on August 12-15.

Greetings Bride-to-be

For a perfect
and
"heavenly"
wedding you are cordially invited to come in
and let us show
you why this is such a popular shopping spot
with smart brides

MADEMOISELLE
Juppe

"We are big enough to serve you and small enough to know you"

22 North Front Street

WILMINGTON

CRISIS LINE - anytime

763-3695

OLEANDER DRIVE - 799-3950

OLEANDER
Cinema 1&2
ROCKING CHAIR THEATRES

4th GREAT & FINAL WEEK!

NO BARGAIN HOUR & PASSES NOT GOOD!
ADULTS...$2.50 Children under 12...$1.00
SHOWS AT 2:00-4:40-7:20-10:00

Paramount Pictures presents
ROBERT REDFORD
and
MIA
FARROW

ORIGINAL SOUNDTRACK AVAILABLE ON PARAMOUNT RECORDS AND BXT TAPES

PG A Paramount Picture
In Color Print by Moviast

NOW SHOWING
2:00-4:20-6:40-9:00

Sooner or later—someone you know will tell you to see
"WALKING TALL"
...unless you tell them first.

RE

LONG LEAF
Cinema 1&2

LONG LEAF MALL — SHIPYARD BLVD.
799-5710

3rd BIG WEEK!

Shows at 2:20-4:40-7:00-9:20

BEST PICTURE OF THE YEAR!
WINNER OF 7 ACADEMY AWARDS!

PAUL NEWMAN • ROBERT REDFORD
ROBERT SHAW

A GEORGE ROY HILL FILM
THE STING

TECHNICOLOR® A UNIVERSAL PICTURE PG

HELD OVER FOR THE 2nd SMASHING WEEK!
1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

BUTCH & THE KID ARE BACK!

Just for the fun of it!

PAUL NEWMAN
ROBERT REDFORD
KATHARINE ROSS

"BUTCH CASSIDY AND
THE SUNDANCE KID"

Paravision® • Color by DeLuxe®

PG

ALL SEATS $1.00 UNTIL 2:30 EXCEPT SUNDAY
IN THREE CINEMAS

Many Branches of Medicine Investigated Before Filming Began on 'The Exorcist'

In his 1923 essay, "The Neurosis of Demonic Possession in the Seventeenth Century," Sigmund Freud paved the way for much of this psychiatric analysis. In his opinion the Devil is a father substitute for those who "never have any luck... (or are) too poorly gifted, too ineffective to make a living and belong to that well-known type, the eternal suckling... Unable to tear themselves away from the joyous haven of the mother's breast, (they) hold fast all through their lives to their claim to be nourished by someone else."

Before shooting the film version of "The Exorcist," director William Friedkin and novelist-producer William Peter Blatty investigated such recent branches of medicine as psychosurgery, arteriography and pneumoencephalography. None of these methods of diagnosing and treating brain damage existed in 1949, when the actual case fictionalized by Blatty occurred in Mt. Rainier, Maryland. It is quite conceivable, according to both men, that such subsequent medical tools could have obviated that exorcism. Arteriography might have enabled physicians to discover a broken artery within the 14-year-old-boy's brain, and psychosurgery might have successfully treated his "possession."

Dr. Stanley Krippner, now director of the Miami-Dade Dream Laboratory, and Dr. Arthur Hastings, have postulated a theory of "Expectancy Set" that could explain not only cases of possession but other poltergeist phenomena. Summarized as "the readiness of an organism to make a particular response," the theory claims that "ghosts can be created by an expectancy set" if an individual's state of mind is sufficiently heightened to permit the misvaluation, distortion or misperception of natural phenomena. To illustrate the thesis, the doctors propose this simple experiment; "while walking home some dark evening, imagine that you are being followed. You will begin to notice noises behind you, sounds from bushes along your path, and dogs beginning to bark at shadows in back of you. The faster you walk, the worse it gets."

For all these research advances, however, many scientists concede that "unreal" spirits remain a distinct possibility. Teilhard de Chardin, the Jesuit philosopher-paleontologist, once proposed that matter and spirit are but differing aspects of something else, some third fundamental reality in which matter and spirit commune. Modern physicists now seem to lean toward a similar view as they learn more about the perplexing atom. The neutrino, for example, is known to be capable of speeding through a planetary thickness in a flash, yet it has no mass and no electrical charge. Lacking the fundamental properties of matter, the neutrino remains a ghost discovered by modern science.

LINDA BLAIR as Regan is disturbed by an unknown force and ELLEN BURSTYN as her mother tries to calm her down in this scene from William Peter Blatty's "The Exorcist"

SUMMER JOBS

MUST BE 18 OR OVER

If you are socially oriented, clothes conscious, a good conversationalist, or athletically inclined then we have marketing and public contact jobs for you. Complete training at company expense.

1. OPPORTUNITY TO TRAVEL
2. PLEASANT WORKING CONDITIONS
3. CO-ED WORKING CONDITIONS

Those students who show potential will be trained in all phases of marketing and personnel control. Qualified applicants can earn-----

$600 mo.

For interview call-
9:30 AM-1:30 PM

Charlotte Office
704-333-1504

Fayetteville Office
919-483-6381

Charleston, S.C. Office
803-747-3557

The TRYON Co., Inc.

We've improved our Record.

The Raleigh Record for '73 has improvements and refinements. Already our most popular 10-speed cycle, the new Record will undoubtedly go on to new heights. See the new Record soon. And let us show you how we can guarantee that your Record will fit you perfectly with our exclusive Raleigh CustomSizer™. Raleigh... a world of difference.

RALEIGH

LIFE CYCLES

4209 Oleander Drive
Community Shopping Center
Across From Cape Fear Ford 799-5770

University Arms

APARTMENTS

WALKING DISTANCE FROM
UNC-W

All electric living with GE appliances; range, dishwasher; disposal and refrigerator, individually controlled heating and air conditioning, luxurious shag carpeting, private patios, beautiful swimming pool!

1, 2 & 3 Bedroom Apts.

FURNISHED or UNFURNISHED

Starting at $140.

CALL: 791-8674 OR 762-0366

or

SEE RESIDENT MANAGER
HAROLD GREENE
MANAGEMENT

SEE THE MUMMY!
Go on a "Terror Trip!"
Scream with Boris Karloff!! Spooks!

in pub
Free!

Horror Shows

Tuesday May 7 7-10 p.m.

Horror...

Horror...

Classifieds

* Advertise now or forever hold your peace. Students, faculty and staff are urged to put their classified ads in the SEAHAWK free -- FREE, i.e. no charge. Let us give you a break.

personal

Lilly Whaley
Typing at home 791-2446

35 mm CAMERA: Want to buy Pentax, Miranda, etc. See F. Allen in room 115, Hogard Hall.

PAPERS TYPED: 50¢ for the first five pages; 40¢ for each page thereafter. Dial 458-8768.

CUSTOM LEATHER WORK:
Call 793 - 4371 anytime.

SKY DIVING LESSONS: To be taught this spring. Course enrollment n.w. through March. Contact Pierre Bonnesueille de Lespinois after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

NEED DIVING GEAR? Have just obtained U.S. divers dealership for 1974. Very low mark - up, terrific savings. Contact Pierre Bonnesueille de Lespinois after 5 p.m. at 256 - 3971.

SEWING & ALTERATIONS:
Call 799-5531.

for sale

SMALL REFRIGERATOR:
Perfect for dorm room. $60. (Think how much you rent one for over a year.) See John at University Arms Apartments, 4903-A.

STEREO UNIT: 8 track tape player, AM-FM radio and turn table. $200. Call 799-1586; ask for Dean.

Set of York steel barbells includes headtrap, wrist developers, dumbbells, iron shoes and instructions booklet. Total weight 150 lbs. Contact Larry 218 Dorm

1969 MOBILE HOME: 12 x 65 foot, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, central air conditioning. For appointment, call between 6 and 8 p.m. at 285-3747.

PORTABLE T.V.: Sears silvertone 19 inch screen with VHP and UHF antennas. Excellent condition physically and mechanically. $50.

STEREO COMPONENTS:
Most major brands! 20 - 50% off! All fully guaranteed! Call 799-1696 after 6 p.m.

Grade reports mailed

Grade reports at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington are mailed to students and to the parents of students under 18 years of age at the end of each semester.

GENETICS BOOK: Used only one day being sold for $6.50. See John Wilkins in the Pub between 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

LADIES WETSUIT: 2 piece, 1/4" women's small to medium wetsuit in good condition. Ask for Debbie at 791-9108.

NURSING UNIFORMS: New! Never been worn; size 6 (28). Ask for Betsy at 799-0595.

FOR SALE: surf board 6'2" Corky Carroll Spacelick, 1 yr old. $70 7915013 BILL.

FOR SALE: 8' solid pine bar w/ 3 stools $75 over 25 yrs old 7916113
1968 Rambler - full power asking $759, but make an offer: 7915113

FM-AM receiver & turntable 8 track 2-4 channel switch Zorig, & 2 comm. speakers. $100 rm. 322

AM-FM receiver & turntable 4 speakers 2-4 channel switch $220 new sell $130 perfect condition rm. 317

65 Chevrolet Impala 396 auto.-trans. Engin in good condition. Trans. rebuilt in Sept. Must Sell $300 Rm. 317 Dorm Charlie

1971 MGB ROADSTER: New radials, new paint job - 21,000 miles - very clean. $2195. After 5 p.m. call Lamar at 762-2383.

Waterbeds: new king size beds $30. Also beanbags call Herbie at 791-9325

SURFBOARD: 7' 2", 19" wide semi-gun board built strictly for Puerto Rico and reef type breaks. $50 or best offer. Dial 763-8714.

1964 VW109,003 mi-engine rebuilt at 80000, new front end at 100,000. Body fair-green $500.

Terry Workman, 502 M, Lumina-basement after 5:00

69 OLDSMOBILE CUTLASS: power steering and radio. Only $1000. Dial 799-3765.

1972 VW VAN: Rear seat opens to bed, radio; carpeting and curtains. Good condition. $2850. Call Ned Martin at 791-4330 (ext. 321) from 9-5 weekdays.

71 VEGA: Red with black interior. 4 speed with 48,000 miles. Excellent condition. Dial 799-3066.

65 OLDSMOBILE: Station wagon with power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission. Call 799-3066.

1961 CADILLAC: Excellent shape with all accessories, power steering, brakes, air conditioning. Best offer: 799-4738, or contact at Dorm room 223 anytime. Ask for James.

1968 FORD LTD: Station wagon with power steering and brakes, air conditioning and new tires. In great shape. $995. Call 256-2526 or 256-2227.

1972 VEGA: Panelwagon with 28,000 miles in excellent condition, $1700. Call 762-6144.

WANTED

Wanted: salesman with experience clothing store weekends contact 763-8185

Three College girls would love to sub-let your 3-bedroom house or apt. from middle May to middle Aug. Preferably near the campus or the beach. If you can help us please write Dawn Petrea 314 Kenan Dorm., Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514

College Manor Apartments

- new tavern & clubhouse
- six month lease
- tennis courts

- full time social director
- summer recreational program
- convenient location from UNC-W

We have a special summer rate for students and teachers!

Contact resident manager for details.

College Road (Hwy 132)
Phone 791-5156

"Frankly Speaking"

by Phil Frank

"THE ONLY NEW ACQUAINTANCE TOM MADE ON SKI WEEKEND WAS A PINE TREE DOING 40 MILES PER HOUR!"

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Wall-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls.
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining.
- Attractive low separating living-kitchen area.
- Hospital camp, refrigerator, garbage disposal.
- Individually-controlled air conditioning.
- Large swimming pool. Central laundry facilities.

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished $135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished $149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished $160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished $185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 9 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT ...

Country Club APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

ATHLETE'S FEATS

The 1973-74 school year is about to come to an end. It is time for all of us to look back at the year and evaluate our achievements and acknowledge our errors. UNC-W can be proud of the athletic department and the many accomplishments of its athletes. This was a most successful year in the realm of sports at UNC-W. We can boast of the many firsts that were produced here at the mighty home of the Seahawks and all students whether an athlete or an avid fan can be proud of himself for his participation or his patronage to the games this year.

Girl's Tennis

The girls tennis team started the sports season off this year. Girls tennis only in their second year at the university displayed a 6-3 record compared to last years 5-2 record. The girls best matches of the year were played against Meridith and Campbell. Both of these games were won by a narrow margin, 5-4. In the Meridith game the number two doubles decided the outcome and the number three doubles sewed up the victory against a strong Campbell team. April 5-7, three girls from the tennis team represented UNC-W in the state tournament held in Chapel Hill. These girls were JONE SWART, GWEN HAWES, and MARTHA RICHARDSON. Jone and Gwen made up the number one double team. The girls tennis team is very good to say the least but Coach Jane Batson feels they have the potential to do even better and maybe they will prove her right next year.

resented UNC-W in the state tournament held in Chapel Hill. These girls were JONE SWART, GWEN HAWES, and MARTHA RICHARDSON. Jone and Gwen made up the number one double team. The girls tennis team is very good to say the least but Coach Jane Batson feels they have the potential to do even better and maybe they will prove her right next year.

Soccer

"One must go into a game with the positive attitude about winning!" stated Coach Lane about the soccer team. "We are very competitive and we are out to win," he continued.

For the first time in

UNC-W history the soccer team made the NAIA District 29 playoffs. The team's record of 5-2-3, had seven freshmen, six sophomores, two juniors and only one senior. The biggest problem for the team at the beginning of the season was the adjustment that everyone had to make with each other because most had never played together.

The most outstanding games of the season was against Lynchburg in the finals. What this game so remarkable was the fact that it took 10 overtimes or 2hrs. & 19min.

before Lynchburg could claim victory over the tough Seahawk team. This game was the longest game in NAIA history. Lynchburg after defeating the Seahawks, 1-0, went on to win the district championship by upsetting Campbell 2-1.

At the end of the season, post season honors went to freshman TIM WILLETT. First Team All District as goalie. Tim was also nominated to try out for the Olympic Soccer Team. Tim was recognized in Sports Illustrated, "Faces in the Crowd" He was mentioned for his outstanding game against Lynchburg in the tournament. He had a remarkable 47 saves against Lynchburg.

Other outstanding soccer players were GENE

and team all district back, HAL GORDON second team all district back, and DAVID WYCHEL, who also made second team all district as a forward.

Next year David Wychel and Tim Willette will be co-captains. Their next season looks real bright as all but one will return next year to kick off to another winning season and perhaps a championship.

TIM WILLETT and DAVID WYCHEL will serve as co-captains on next years soccer team. Tim was recently nominated to try out for the U.S. Olympic Soccer Team. (photo by Roberts Allred)

Girl's Basketball

With the end of soccer, basketball got on the way for the girls as well as the lasses. For the first time ever at UNC-W girls basketball invaded the campus. The lady Seahawks, nicknamed the Seadoves, were coached under the direction of Coach Janet Donahue. The aggressive femmes had a 4-7 record. Despite the number of losses the team still had a very good season when one takes in the amount of injuries the young team had.

Captain SHELIA BOLES, high scorer for the team was out for several games due to an ankle injury.

GAIL HANER was the most aggressive rebounder on the squad. Other standouts for the Seadoves were GWEN HAWES, SHARON NORRIS, TONI BRYANT, and SRENOA KNOWLES.

One of their best games was a home game against Campbell in which the Seadoves came from behind to win by one, 47-45. The team has a 14 game schedule next year. The girls will play their first game of the season on December 10. All girl watchers are cordially invited!

You only go around once in life.
So reach for all the gusto you can.
Even in the beer you drink.
Why settle for less?

When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer.

SHELIA BOLES DISPLAYS her trophy, a cast. She was high scorer for the Seadoves this year. (photo by neal huntley)

JV Basketball

Junior Varsity basketball was also a first at UNC-W. The program, initiated by Coach Mel Gibson, was comprised of freshmen and sophomores. Coach Tracy James, trainer and assistant coach for the varsity was head coach for the J.V.'s. The team played a 10 game schedule doing quite well for a first year team.

Varsity Basketball

In Varsity basketball there is no doubt that the Seahawks club had its best season ever. The Seahawks were 9-2 in the district while posting a 14-10 overall record. The basketball team made it to the District NAIA 29 playoffs but lost to rival team Pembroke 66-58.

The most outstanding performer for the Seahawks this year was All-American candidate MIKE CHERRY. Mike scored 20 or more points in 17 games and finished the season with a 22 point average. Cherry also led the team in field goal percentage, shooting at a 53.3 mark.

"WATCH IT BUSTER!" exclaims All-American Candidate Mike Cherry, (photo by Roberta Allred)

can't from page 12

WILLIE JACKSON, another Seahawk standout, was second in field goal percentages, shooting a 52.5% and averaging 16 points per game.

In the center position, ERNIE LYNN, an excellent shooter, received back-up support from freshmen KEITH YOW and SAM ROBINSON. Robinson led the squad in blocking shots.

WILLIE JACKSON DOES what he knows bestSCORE! (photo by Roberta Allred)

Cheerleaders

One thing that appeared different to most fans were the cheerleaders. Of course we had the sweet, dimpled face, loud mouth girls we always have at UNC-W but attraction when male cheerleaders took to the floor with a variety of stunts. These male cheerleaders enjoyed cheering and felt that by their participation the school as a whole was better represented.

Led by co-captain JERRY DIXON, the other male cheerleaders were TIM WILLETTTE, CRAIG MOORE, JERRY CORE, LEONARD SIBLING, LINWOL CARTER, and BUNNY CARR. These guys are of course the lovely ladies around UNC-W students to a greater school spirit and school pride.

PAM YOUNG AND TIM WILLETTTE demonstrate a stunt for VICTORY. Tim is among seven other guys who served on the first male cheering squad. (photo by Roberta Allred)

Baseball

The Seahawk baseball team, which got off to a bad start has now picked up a great deal of momentum winning against district opponents, the games that count most! The Seahawks are 7-1 in the district and are 18-14 overall. The Seahawks outstanding games were against district foe Pembroke who couldn't pluck our feathers but were ambushed as the Seahawks won 7-1. Another outstanding game was against Camp Hill who are presently the leaders in the district. The Seahawks landed them their only district loss by defeating them by one run 10-9.

The Seahawks main strength is the fact that Coach Brooks can alternate pitchers because of the Seahawks good pitching staff.

The Seahawks also have a good solid hitting team. UNC-W's diminutive center fielder HOWIE EDGERTON paces the district in both runs scored with 24 and hits with 39. Another outstanding player is third baseman GREG DALTON who ranks second in the district for runs batted in, 20. The Seahawk baseball team is presently in second place but their is still alot more district action remaining.

Men's Tennis

Men's tennis under the direction of Coach Honeycutt are not faring so well this year. The team has 11 losses and only five victories. Regular season ends soon and the team will play in the NAIA District 29 tournament at St. Andrews. Number one singles for the tennis team is JOE GOULDING followed by DANNY CURRY. These two are also the number one double team for the SEAHAWKS.

Intramurals

Intramurals is also a very important part of the athletic department. Under the direction of Coach Warner, the program has been a great success.

Beginning in the fall semester intramurals offered tag football, cross country, pin-ups-kick, women's bowling and basketball for men. During the spring semester there were such sports as basketball for women, men and women's volleyball, men's softball, men's bowling, foul shooting, and billiards. This years program was much larger than last years with an increase by 150-200 students. Men's volleyball increased from 10 teams to 16 teams.

This year there was an added interest from such clubs as Sigma Alpha Beta, Business Club, and Wamtu Wazuri. The high point was a greater participation from the liberated sex.

The greatest difficulty has been the lack of competent officials on a consistent basis. The Intramural program expects that in future years events will

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.

Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings - as an Air Force pilot or navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

SGT. JERRY T. LEWIS
4010 Oleander Drive
Wilmington, N. C.
Phone: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

CAN YOU AFFORD the MAINTENANCE?

- There comes a time in the lives of machinery, automobiles and in the courts, when the wear and tear have been just too much. If its a car or a piece of machinery, you just can't afford the bills any more and you trade.
- When the backlog of criminal cases exceeds 400, when justice is administered on the basis of who you know, and your attorney knows, the court system has gotten old and worn.
- Can you afford to maintain a rusty, inefficient time consuming court system? Isn't it time for a new one?
- Elect Jay Stroud District Attorney in the May 7 Democratic primary. He'll initiate procedural reforms in the courts, reduce the backlog of criminal cases, and get the system moving with equality and fairness to everyone. You can't afford not to.

VOTE FOR JAMES T. (JAY) STROUD
FOR DISTRICT SOLICITOR (ATTORNEY)

PAID BY THE STROUD FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY COMMITTEE

can't from pg. 13
include activities where there would be a conservative effort to involve married students in co-recreational activities. That in the future there will be an attempt made to involve co-ed teams such as badminton doubles and volleyball teams consisting of four men and four women. The intramural program would like to thank all those that participated in making it such a success.

Wrestling was among many activities in the intramural program this year. In background Coach Warner, director of intramurals looks on. (photo by Paul Maxey)

This has been a BIG year in all areas of sports at UNC-W. It has been an exciting year, a fun year, a year full of victories and a HOPE that all Seahawks will continue to make the Seahawk name go to fear in competition.

In closing I would like to say that I enjoyed working as sports editor of the Seahawk. It has been great fun watching the Seahawk teams in tough competition.

Sometimes we have lost bitter and other times we were defeated by small margins but my greatest joys came when I saw victory not only on the faces of the teams but on the proud faces of the students that attended the games. It is now up to the teams will again have the support of the student body together in spirit, together in VICTORY!

Budweiser.

KING OF BEERS®

'When you say
Budweiser,
you've said it all!

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

girls!

put this in your purse
before they get in
your hair!

The earth shattering noise from this purse-fitting horn gives you the protection you've been looking for against muggers and rapists. Just snap two penlight batteries into this amazing new Vigilant Alarm and you're ready. No wires required. Complete package includes super simple instructions showing how the Alarm can also be easily installed on windows or doors. GET VIGILANT BEFORE THEY GET YOU.

SUPPLY LIMITED. MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY!

Send me 1 of Vigilant Burglar Alarms. I enclose $2.00 for each Vigilant Alarm. I understand that if I am not totally satisfied, I will receive a complete refund if returned within 10 days.

Family Jewels Ltd.
3431 West Villard Avenue
Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53208

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

RECORD

WORLD

Discover
New Dimensions

- *NEW RELEASES
- *BRITISH IMPORTS
- *JAZZ
- *SOUL
- *GIFT CERTIFICATES
- *GOOD MUSIC!!!!

781-7043

*ASK ABOUT OUR
BAKER'S DOZEN

Long Leaf Mall

FAKE AND FORTUNE

For a limited time only, (exactly two weeks) the prospect of FAKE AND FORTUNE eagerly awaits the opportunist. If you're dissatisfied with your present milieu, perhaps a rewarding career in yearbook editing is for you! High pay (if you can embezzle it!) and personal satisfaction make this one of the fastest growing fields today. Act now and not only will you escape from the normal humdrum existence you are presently entrapped by, but also you will launch yourself into an exciting career in annual staff leadership.

To apply for this coveted position, all you need do is fill out the coupon below, or on a plain sheet of paper print a reasonable facsimile of the words "FLEDGLING EDITOR" and submit it to either Gwen Croom (Room 124 in administration) or slide it under the yearbook office door upstairs in the Pub.

Act now and you'll get your gutters and leaders retracted, a 9 X 12 rug, or a stand up Shetland Lewytt Vacuum Cleaner. Put most of all, you'll have chosen the path that will lead you to FAKE AND FORTUNE.

Yes, I am tired of my present environment, and long for the prospect of FAKE AND FORTUNE. Enroll my name as an interested student, so that like millions of others, I too can obtain a rewarding career in yearbook editing.

(Please print name in full)

(PHONE NUMBER)

Ancient Rites of Exorcism Date Back to Early Egypt

Since man first believed in demons, he has also believed that these malignant forces can take possession of him. And since man's earliest conviction that he could control his fate, he has conducted rites of exorcism to purge evil from those possessed.

Exorcisms date as far back as ancient Egypt but did not flourish until the Middle Ages. Because pagan influences gradually perverted the ceremony, its uses and techniques were regulated by the Roman Catholic Church with the 1614 publication of the "Rituale Romanorum." Since then, exorcisms have largely been performed in secrecy, and reported modern instances are rare.

Perhaps the most widely publicized exorcism in 20th-century America occurred in 1949, when a Jesuit priest expelled a demon from a 14-year-old boy living in Mt. Rainier, Maryland.

The boy's possession was first noted in a series of mysterious manifestations — scratching and marching sounds under his bed, furniture sliding across his room, the tilting of a chair on which he sat, the levitation of objects about him. When these witnessed phenomena were accompanied by livid red eruptions on the boy's

ELLEN BURSTYN as Chris MacNeil comforts her daughter, Regan, portrayed by LINDA BLAIR, in this scene from William Peter Blatty's "The Exorcist," directed by William Friedkin, which opens based on Blatty's best-selling novel, also stars Max von Sydow, Lee J. Cobb, Kitty Winn, Jack MacGowan and Jason Miller.

JASON MILLER as Father Karras and MAX VON SYDOW as Father Merrin perform the rites of exorcism on LINDA BLAIR as Regan in William Peter Blatty's "The Exorcist" diagnoses and treatments of supposed cases of possession. For the moment, however, science has not found a completely plausible explanation for the strange incidents surrounding the adolescent boy in Mt. Rainier, Maryland.

While still a student at Georgetown University, William Peter Blatty read of the unusual episode and became fascinated with the subject of diabolical possession.

After the May 3 edition of the Seahawk newspaper, the editors and staff of the campus weekly publication will be taking a vacation before putting together the first edition of the Summer Seahawk, a community service as well as campus newspaper, and the freshman edition.

Look for the Summer Seahawk on campus and in local businesses in the Wilmington area on and after May 31.

CRISIS
LINE
763-3695

body, his parents consulted numerous medical and religious authorities, but no explanations or cures could be found for the increasingly frequent horrors.

After obtaining permission from his archbishop, a priest conducted nearly 30 rites of exorcism over the next two months. While the religious ceremonies were being held, the boy would curse, fight and kick those around him.

Finally, after reading of a similar case 75 years earlier in Wisconsin, the officiating priest forced the boy to wear a chain of religious medals and hold a crucifix in his hand during the exorcism. The boy responded with greater violence than ever, and five Alexian Brothers were necessary to constrain the youngster's nearly super-human strength. Following an especially severe spastic bout, the demon announced himself through the boy's lips and then departed.

Today, that boy is a happily married 38-year-old man with no recollection of the three months in which the demon took command of his body — if in fact that is what happened. The priest's account, now lodged in official Roman Catholic archives, evidences no doubt that the boy was diabolically possessed. Modern science, however, has a battery of possible explanations and cures that might have alleviated the youngsters suffering.

As far back as 1583 the Church has recognized that most cases of possession probably allow a psychiatric explanation, and the "Roman Ritual" cautions against misinterpreting psychotic or neurotic symptoms as justification for exorcism. In addition, recent research in such new fields as psychosurgery, arteriography and parapsychology may lead to successful

apparel factory outlet

Best Prices In Town!

JEANS

For The Entire Family
MENS MISSES
BOYS GIRLS
KIDIE BOY KIDIE GIRL

MENS'

Short Sleeve Knit Shirts
S-M-XL

mon. fri 10-9

FREE PARKING

4204 OLEANDER DRIVE

$219

10-6 sat.

CHANCELLOR ORDERS INQUIRY

At the request of Chancellor William H. Wagoner, the chairman of the Faculty Advisory Committee to the Chancellor, Dr. Harold Hulon, has appointed a subcommittee to examine problems in communication among the administration, faculty and students.

As the first step in its investigation, the subcommittee is submitting the following questionnaire to the faculty, administration, and student body in order to determine the extent of the communication problem and the specific areas in which problems exist.

After the results of this preliminary survey have been recorded, the subcommittee will schedule hearings. Until that time, individual members of the subcommittee will be available to all students, faculty and administrators who wish to consult with them confidentially.

Members of the subcommittee are Rolla C. Nelson, chairman; Elizabeth Pearsall and Glenn R. Long.

Questionnaires should be turned in to Rolla C. Nelson in the Physics Department by May 6.

(Please return the questionnaire to Rolla C. Nelson, Department of Physics, by May 6.)

1. Are there problems in communication on campus?
no some quite a few many
2. If so, in what areas do problems in communications occur most frequently?
administration-faculty faculty-student administration-student
3. If possible, cite specific instances of lack of communication. (Use back of sheet if necessary.)

4. What is your classification?
faculty administration student

Signature _____ (optional)

DEADLINE IS

5 PM MONDAY

Students and faculty are reminded that the deadline for articles for the Seahawk is on Monday at 5 p. m. before the the desired Friday publication date. Information can be turned in to staff members in the office in the Pub, or tacked to the office door.

THINK ABOUT YOUR FUTURE!

OWN YOUR OWN HOME $73.29 month

(or get a roommate - $36.65 a month each)

BEING A STUDENT SHOULDN'T KEEP YOU FROM OWNING YOUR OWN HOME. MOBILE HOME BROKERS OFFERS A NEW 12' by 46' TWO BEDROOM AMERICAN MOBILE HOME FOR AS LOW AS $73.29 A MONTH. WE KNOW THAT WHILE YOU'RE IN SCHOOL MONEY IS TIGHT. THAT'S WHY WE WANT TO LET YOU IN ON WHAT MANY OTHERS ARE FINDING OUT EVERYDAY. YOU CAN OWN A MOBILE HOME FROM MOBILE HOME BROKERS FOR MUCH LESS THAN WHAT YOU'RE PAYING FOR RENT RIGHT NOW! AND WHILE YOU'RE SAVING MONEY NOW, IF YOU EVER DECIDE TO SELL YOUR MOBILE HOME, YOU'LL HAVE EQUITY FOR RESALE VALUE. SAVING AND INVESTING YOUR MONEY AT THE SAME TIME! HOW DO YOU BEAT A DEAL LIKE THAT?

MOBILE HOME Brokers

See Bill Littleton

Steve Stevens

5550 Carolina Beach Road

Phone 799-4792

freshman seahawk

university of north carolina-wilmington

SPECIAL EDITION EXCLUSIVELY FOR FRESHMEN

UNC-W ORIENTATION

WELCOME FRESHMEN

RECEIVED
JUN 25 1974

WILLIAM MADISON RANDALL LIBRARY

LINE
BY THE SEA

CHANCELLOR ORDERS INQUIRY

At the request of Chancellor William H. Wagoner, the chairman of the Faculty Advisory Committee to the Chancellor, Dr. Harold Hulon, has appointed a subcommittee to examine problems in communication among the administration, faculty and students.

As the first step in its investigation, the subcommittee is submitting the following questionnaire to the faculty, administration, and student body in order to determine the extent of the communication problem and the specific areas in which problems exist.

After the results of this preliminary survey have been recorded, the subcommittee will schedule hearings. Until that time, individual members of the subcommittee will be available to all students, faculty and administrators who wish to consult with them confidentially. Members of the subcommittee are Rolla C. Nelson, chairman; Elizabeth Pearsall and Glenn R. Long.

Questionnaires should be turned in to Rolla C. Nelson in the Physics Department by May 6.

(Please return the questionnaire to Rolla C. Nelson, Department of Physics, by May 6.)

1. Are there problems in communication on campus?
no some quite a few many
2. If so, in what areas do problems in communications occur most frequently?
administration-faculty faculty-student administration-student
3. If possible, cite specific instances of lack of communication. (Use back of sheet if necessary.)

4. What is your classification?
faculty administration student

Signature _____ (optional)

DEADLINE IS

5 PM MONDAY

Students and faculty are reminded that the deadline for articles for the Seahawk is on Monday at 5 p.m. before the the desired Friday publication date. Information can be turned in to staff members in the office in the Pub, or tacked to the office door.

THINK ABOUT YOUR FUTURE! OWN YOUR OWN HOME $73.29 month

(or get a roommate - $36.65 a month each)

BEING A STUDENT SHOULDN'T KEEP YOU FROM OWNING YOUR OWN HOME. MOBILE HOME BROKERS OFFERS A NEW 12' by 46' TWO BEDROOM AMERICAN MOBILE HOME FOR AS LOW AS $73.29 A MONTH. WE KNOW THAT WHILE YOU'RE IN SCHOOL MONEY IS TIGHT. THAT'S WHY WE WANT TO LET YOU IN ON WHAT MANY OTHERS ARE FINDING OUT EVERYDAY. YOU CAN OWN A MOBILE HOME FROM MOBILE HOME BROKERS FOR MUCH LESS THAN WHAT YOU'RE PAYING FOR RENT RIGHT NOW! AND WHILE YOU'RE SAVING MONEY NOW, IF YOU EVER DECIDE TO SELL YOUR MOBILE HOME, YOU'LL HAVE EQUITY FOR RESALE VALUE. SAVING AND INVESTING YOUR MONEY AT THE SAME TIME! HOW DO YOU BEAT A DEAL LIKE THAT?

See Bill Littleton Steve Stevens

5550 Carolina Beach Road

Phone 799-4792

freshman seahawk

university of north carolina-wilmington

SPECIAL EDITION EXCLUSIVELY FOR FRESHMEN

UNC-W ORIENTATION

WELCOME FRESHMEN

RECEIVED
JUN 25 1974

WILLIAM MADISON RANDALL LIBRARY

LINE
BY THE SEA

SEAHAWK rewards staff with scholarships

Run on "student power," the staff of the SEAHAWK newspaper likes to think that the campus paper is the voice of the students at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

However, the staff could be wrong, and that is why we employ the "open door" policy: our door is always open and our ears are always ready to take on the ideas, dreams, beliefs and even criticisms of the student body.

With a remarkably small staff, the newspaper manages to come out and

be distributed weekly. Persons with or without a flair for art, writing, photography, design are asked to come by and contribute what they can. There are always openings on the staff, and our outstanding staff members are rewarded with a scholarship.

Through advertising, the students at the university receive special discounts and deals from the local advertisers. In the first edition of the newspaper students will find a coupon entitling them to free food.

The advertising manager, Bai

Asbury, spends time, effort and money locating the businesses around the area that welcome students and are ready to assist them. Other staff members, Beth Hicks, the editor; Neal Huntley, Nauma Dozier, Roberta Allred, J. K. Mahlehan, Robert Maxey, sports editor; Alan Murphy, business manager; Marion Gibson, Anne Nesbitt, artist;

Darlene Pearsall, Rocky Lane Moore, Sharon Davis, and our advisor, Ms. Linda Moore, all work diligently to produce an effective, outstanding and news-worthy weekly campus newspaper.

Come by and see us.

55 agencies seek eager volunteers

Want to do "something?"
Want to grow, not just exist?
Want to help people?
Want help deciding on a career?

These questions and many others may be answered with involvement in a volunteer program. Approximately 55 area agencies have requested help in a vast assortment of situations. Whether you decide to assist the handicapped, elderly or children, to work with a group or just one individual, to be an assistant or leader, to help with academics or recreational activities: the choice is yours.

Working in conjunction with the downtown Lower Cape Fear Voluntary Action Center, Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, is able to give students detailed information on opportunities in and around Wilmington.

Library emphasizes service to students

Service to students is emphasized at the William Madison Randall Library, a spacious and inviting facility, which opened in January '69. To serve the students by providing material supportive to their individual study programs and to help them develop skill in using the library resources are the primary goals of the library staff.

With a seating capacity of 600 spaced throughout the comfortable, two-story building, the floor plan is designed in such a way as to create an appealing atmosphere in which the readers and books are pleasantly intermingled. In addition to traditional seating, numerous individual seating and study carrels are provided, as well as small group study rooms and comfortable lounge furniture.

"A large amount of time is not required," stresses Ms. Moore. "As little as an hour a week, for instance, would be most welcome. Campus clubs or organizations could arrange a one-time project to suit members needs and interests.

Check out the variety of opportunities available by contacting Ms. Moore in her office in the Pub, or by calling Mrs. Sue Colson, Director of the Voluntary Action Center, 814 First Union Action Center, 814 First Union Building, 762-9611.

Copying service is available through two coin-operated copiers - one for duplicating printed matter, and the other for processing microfilm. Another feature of the building is a listening center, available for classroom assignments or for personal use.

The library collections, growing rapidly, now total over 100,000 volumes with more than 50,000 government documents and a variety of periodicals and indexes. Staff members are eager to answer questions and to assist students in gaining maximum benefit from library resources.

chess is on the rise!

The UNCW Chess Club is composed of both men and women who want to better themselves at a highly competitive and intellectual sport. Much emphasis is placed on new class openings and different attacks which are taught by the club's more advanced players.

Also, a chess "team" is being organized so that players may be sent to inter-collegiate tournaments in the Southeastern United States.

Any interested student wanting to learn the game or more about the game is urged to attend the meetings. Contact the president, Alan Ghazel, at 791-6747. Other officers include Steve Burnett, Martin Sondey and Tim Allison.

rocky says:

On behalf of the Student Government Association (SGA), I would like to welcome all incoming freshmen to UNC-W. UNCW is a school of growing traditions. Traditions that have their beginnings with Wilmington College and traditions that you will help develop in the future.

Much enthusiasm was evident this past year in all areas of school life. Students are concerned about student government as shown by the increased number of students running for SGA offices. Attendance at the new Senate meetings has been at a record high. Also there have been a number of special interest groups that emerged to add to a growing list of clubs' and fraternities.

Becoming involved is the key factor to an interesting and active social life as well as influential academic life. Involvement does not include just your friends. It includes the faculty, the administrative staff, and student government. The SGA is comprised of students like yourself who have volunteered their time and services to the benefit of their fellow students and the university. They would be willing to talk to you about it and invite you to become a member of the SGA.

You may want to compete for an elected position in SGA. There will be an election in the fall for Freshmen Class officers: president, vice-president, secretary, and five senators. Additionally there are numerous positions open on such committees as Fine Arts Committee, Concert Committee, Dance Committee, Video-Tape Committee, and Music and Lecture Series. There are staff positions available on the Seahawk (University Newspaper), Fledgling (Yearbook), and Atlantis (Literary Magazine). Additionally, The SGA office needs volunteer typists and people who want to get involved with administration. This includes a general business manager, program coordinator, and individuals to help with the Student Handbook, Student Directory, and student housing brochure.

It doesn't end there however. New committees are being formed every week to investigate ideas which you as student contribute. Ideally, student government is responsive to student needs, but unless there is some feedback, the system breaks down. Let us know how you feel. If you want to become involved, there is plenty to do.

if you get hurt

In case of an emergency at the university between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Monday through Friday, the university nurse should be contacted at extension 339. Ms. Hood's office is located adjacent to the main lobby of the residence hall.

At all other times, the Wilmington Health Associates should be contacted at 763-8251. These doctors are on contract with UNC-W.

Of course, in case of serious injury requiring immediate attention, the injured person should be taken to New Hanover Memorial Hospital as quickly as possible. A private car, UNC-W campus security vehicle or the Rescue Squad can be contacted for aid. Be sure to call the Wilmington Health Associates and ask that a physician meet the student at the emergency room. Otherwise, an emergency room fee will be charged.

Students given free medical treatments

Open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. - 2 p.m., the Student Health Center has a family nurse practitioner, Ms. Hood, at disposal, and a physician is on call 24 hours a day.

Students enrolled for five or more credit hours per semester is eligible for treatment of illness or any type problems. The center is located adjacent to the main lobby of the residence hall.

Bookstore offers all school supplies, gifts, magazines

The University Bookstore, located in the Student Services Building, (Pub) stocks required textbooks, varied interest books, art and general school supplies, as well as examination blue books, Campus clothing and gift items are also available. The bookstore is open between the hours of 8 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., Monday - Friday.

Upon presentation of a University I.D. card, the bookstore will cash small checks for students.

Grades mailed

Grade reports at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington are mailed to students and to the parents of students under 18 years of age at the end of each semester.

CRISIS LINE

763-3695

anytime

freshman seahawk

the freshman seahawk is published especially for freshman orientation by the uncw student affairs staff.

this issue was compiled and coordinated by ms. linda moore, director of student activities, and edited by kathi beall, mast head design by bert beall.

Financial Aid Office provides money for students' education

There are many different ways a student can earn money for his education. Larry Crowder, the Student Financial Aid Director, is the best source for this information. He has ideas as well as application blanks for the aid programs listed below. Stop in and see Mr. Crowder any time!

SCHOLARSHIPS: Scholarship awards are given to students who demonstrate financial need, character, leadership and scholarship. These awards may be made by the institutions or by outside organizations. Several student positions on the SEAHAWK and FLEDGLING staffs and in the Student Government are rewarded by scholarships.

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY GRANTS: Educational Opportunity Grants provide financial aid to students of exceptional financial need, who, for lack of financial means of their own or of their families, would be unable to enter or remain in this institution without such assistance. Students who qualify may be eligible for a grant of up to $1000 per year.

NATIONAL DEFENSE STUDENT loans: Students who can demonstrate financial need and who are taking at least a half-time course loads may borrow up to $1000 each academic year up to $5000. The repayment and interest periods begin nine months after a student ends his studies. The loan bears interest at three per cent per year. Prior to graduation or other discontinuation of studies, borrowers in the program are expected to have exit interviews with the Financial Aid office to establish a repayment schedule.

BASIC OPPORTUNITY GRANTS: The Basic Opportunity Grant Programs, more commonly known as Basic Grants, is a new program of student financial aid. This program provides for grants of $1400 (less the expected family contribution) for all eligible students to assist them in meeting educational costs.

In order for a student to receive a Basic Grant, he must have been accepted for enrollment in, or be in good standing at, an eligible institution of higher education. Also, he must be enrolled on at least a half-time basis.

Applications for the Basic Grant may be obtained in the Department of Financial Aid or from a high school guidance counselor. Instructions and some program regulations and procedures can be found in the application.

COLLEGE WORK-STUDY: Students from low-income families are eligible to apply for employment in on-campus jobs under federal work-study programs. Students may work up to fifteen hours weekly while attending classes full-time. Summer employment is also provided off-campus for students who show evidence of financial need. The student is expected to save 80 per cent of his earnings for college expenses during the following year.

COLLEGE FOUNDATION, INC.: Under the Federal Guaranteed Loan, North Carolina students are eligible to borrow up to $7500 for undergraduate study and this maximum may be extended to $10,000 for those who wish to borrow for graduate and professional study. The annual percentage rate is seven per cent simple interest. Upon termination of enrollment, each borrower is allowed at least nine months grace before repayment begins.

PROSPECTIVE TEACHER LOANS: Recipients are eligible to receive $600

per academic year when enrolled in a full-time teacher education program. Repayment may be made by teaching in North Carolina schools after graduation. Application must be made by March 1 of the year of expected fall enrollment.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT: Students may apply for employment on-campus under state-supported work assistance programs. Students may work up to ten hours weekly under these programs if they are enrolled full-time.

ATHLETIC AWARDS: Athletic awards in varying amounts are available to qualified students who participate in intercollegiate basketball and baseball. For information, see the Director of Athletics.

For information on all aspects of financial aid, Crowder is the man to see.

One of three fraternities at the university, the DU's extend a warm welcome.

Career, placement services available to students

The Career Planning and Placement Office, located in Room 113 of the Administration Building, is designed to assist students in identifying and implementing their career goals from the freshman year through graduation.

This office also co-ordinates and arranges job interviews between seniors and employer representatives that are scheduled for campus visitations. If there is a particular company or firm that is not scheduled to send a representative to the campus, upon the request of students, efforts will be made to contact that particular employer. Therefore, seniors interested in securing employment should contact this office early in the academic year and make appointments for job interviews.

Employment opportunities for other students at the University are also available through this office ranging from part-time to full-time positions. Students that are interested in gaining employment should register with the office, listing the type of work desired, special skills, qualifications and hours available for work.

Office serves vets

Office for veterans' affairs, located in room 113 of the Alderman Administration Building, will be set up in the gymnasium to certify veterans and the dependents of veterans during registration on January 7 and 8.

In order to receive benefits, veterans must apply each academic term for which they are registered. Veterans are also reminded that it is their sole responsibility to contact the campus office in case of any change in their academic standing.

Use of computing center urged for individual, classes

The Computing Center, located on the second floor of Hoggard Hall, is equipped with a high-speed multi-leaving terminal transmitting at 600 cards per minute and receiving at 600 lines per minute. A card punch and a plotter are also attached. The UNC-W terminal is connected to the Triangle Universities Computation Center by a dedicated telephone circuit.

The university has access to the full resources of TUCC's IBM 370/165 computer, including two million bytes of core storage and 800 million bytes of online storage. In addition, TUCC has 8 setup disk drives and five tape units. This system supports all standard languages and many special purpose processors.

The university has several conversational terminals located on campus that are connected to TUCC through a unique software interface. CPS, BASIC and APL are available to faculty and students through these machines.

The university encourages the use of the center for individual and class projects. Key punches, references material and assistance are available to students and faculty in the User Room.

The Computing Center has a Xerox copy service available to all faculty and students. Material to be copied should be left with the Dispatcher in the User Room.

The FLEDGLING lives!

The story you are about to read is true. The names have been changed to protect the innocent. My name is Darlene Pearsall. I work for the FLEDGLING.

At the beginning of the academic year, if you will recall, the yearbook staff was reported to be in complete havoc. Now, however, I am happy to report that after working seriously for more than a semester, the staff is no longer in complete havoc. It's only in half-a-havoc.

The staff is interested in finding new people and new ideas in order to complete the annual. The office is located upstairs in the Pub - we haven't been evicted yet. If you would like to join the staff, donate ideas, take pictures or just be a nag, let us know. Leave your name, finger prints or a lock of hair in the office, and we'll hunt you down. Past experience in the field is not needed. All we require is that you know how to read, write and count to ten.

Our fearless leader is Tom Buttkie. (He has a long list of other aliases, but I won't list those.) We have two photographers, Nick Lanier and Galen Harris. You've probably seen them roaming around campus; look out! The cameras are always loaded. They specialize in porno pics, but the staff is trying to mend their ways so that the annual will receive a GP rating.

The rest of the staff is equally as deranged: Carolyn Bordeaux, Woody Dayton, Sheila Covil, Pam Gurganous, Keith Hales, Debra Lewis and Cheryl Brown.

Stop by the office anytime - day or night. We won't be there anytime - day or night - but stop by anyway. Don't worry-we don't charge admission.

UNC - W*

students

THAT'S HOW I JUDGE PAIN,
LUCILLE... THAT'S HOW I DECIDE WHETHER OR NOT I SHOULD DO SOMETHING...

THIS IS IT!

* a school of many facets...

"Ain't it fun?"

THE GRADING SCALE...

what you've been waiting for!!

1. YOU HAVE A COPY OF THE TEST? DID YOU HAVE AN I.Q. OF 150? YOU LAUGHED AT HIS JOKES? YOU WORE A SHORT DRESS...

2. THE 'B' USUALLY GOES TO STUDENTS WHO SHOULD HAVE GOTTEN AN 'A'.

3. AH YES THE 'C' GIVEN TO THE BLEND IN STUDENT. THE STUDENT WHO YOU COULDN'T REMEMBER.

4. THIS GRADE GOES TO THE LAD WHO DIDN'T AGREE, OR THE STUDENT THAT LOOKED TOO DIFFERENT TO SERVE HIM RIGHT.

5. THIS STUDENT DIDN'T REALLY EXIST. HE WAS ZERO, HE DIDN'T TRY, HE DIDN'T CARE, HE DIDN'T...

SNA broadens nursing experience

The Student Nurse Association of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington was organized in the fall of 1967 and became a member of the Student Nurse Association of North Carolina. The purpose of SNA is to

PE Majors' club active

Open to all physical education majors, the Physical Education Majors' Club enables students to become more familiar with and to take part in the state and national physical education associations, and through club activities grow professionally. See Butch McDaniels, president, or Dr. Miller in the physical education department for more information.

Karate Club objective told

The objective of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington Motobury Karate Club shall be "to promote and encourage the continued practice of the Motobury style of instruction, to maintain a high degree of professionalism in the martial art of karate, to discourage karate styles which do not maintain a high degree of professionalism, to instill in its members a spirit of effort, to cultivate sincerity, to respect courtesy, and to develop men strong in body, mind, and heart promote high educational and professional standards among student nurses and to serve as a channel of communication between the student nurse and various units of graduate professional nursing organizations.

Some of the activities of the club have included a "Get-Acquainted Party" given by second year students to honor the freshmen students, caroling at Christmas time at New Hanover Memorial Hospital and attendance at the state convention in Winston-Salem.

In 1969 the SNA initiated the Big Sister Program for freshmen nursing students. The objective was to give encouragement to each little sister and to help make the nursing program more than attending classes and working in the hospital.

through the true spirit of the art--SELF DEFENSE. Any major who meets school requirement for enrollment is eligible for membership. There shall be admission periods at the beginning of each semester.

The Student North Carolina Association of Educators is the professional association for college and university students preparing to teach. The responsibility of the Student NCAE

APO is fraternity with 'real meaning'

Alpha Phi Omega is the National Service Fraternity for college and university men. Its purpose is "to assemble college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop Tabulating quality points?

To determine quality point averages for a semester or for total time at the university, do the following:

Add the number of quality points earned so far: each letter grade earns a set number of quality points. At the university the system is:

- A - 4 points
- B - 3 points
- C - 2 points
- D - 1 point
- F - 0 points

Divide by the total number of courses taken.

SNCAE provides growth opportunities

program to its individual members is to provide opportunities for (1) personal and professional growth; (2) development of leadership skills; (3) understanding of the history, ethics,

Leadership, to promote Friendship, to provide Service to humanity, and to further the freedom that is our national, educational and intellectual heritage." Upsilon Nu Chapter at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington received its charter in May, 1969.

Alpha Phi Omega's well-rounded program of service projects, as well as social events, makes it a fraternity with real meaning. The last two years have found the fraternity engaging in a local "Rock-A-Thon" producing money for Easter Seals. Previously our A.P.O. branch has given its services to obtain finances for some new books for the UNC-W library. Among the social highlights of the year are the chapter banquets and parties.

Membership in Alpha Phi Omega shall be open to men of all races, colors, creeds, irrespective of their course of study or other fraternal affiliation, upon the approval of the respective college chapter and after fulfilling the membership requirements prescribed by the National Fraternity and by that chapter.

and programs at local, state and national levels, and (4) participation in professional activities at local, state, and national levels.

I.D.'s needed

STUDENT IDENTIFICATION CARDS WILL BE MADE ONLY ON JANUARY 7 - 11 FROM 8 A.M. - 5 P.M. IN THE STUDENT AFFAIRS OFFICE, 113 OF THE ALDERMAN ADMINISTRATION BUILDING.

THESE I. D. CARDS ARE MANDATORY FOR CHECKING OUT BOOKS FROM THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY. FOR ADMITTANCE TO BASKETBALL GAMES AND ALL OTHER SPORTS, FOR CAMPUS ELECTIONS, THE BOOKSTORE AND STUDENT ACTIVITIES SUCH AS DANCES AND CONCERTS, IF YOU LIVE IN THE DORM YOU WILL NEED THE I. D. FOR THE CAFETERIA.

FUTURE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL teachers taught special classes during the afternoons for local children with reading problems. They learned by teaching and were rewarded as they watched the children's progress.

TKE oldest social frat

Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity is the oldest social fraternity on campus. Our international fraternity has over 300 chapters with many in North Carolina, including one at nearby Pembroke State.

Our chapter, Mu Chi, is very sports

'Pub' serves student needs

Governed by the Student Government and the Director of Student Activities, the "Pub" is a flexible, multi-purpose building here to serve student needs. It contains the Bookstore and the offices of the Student Government Association, ATLANTIC, FLEDGLING, SEAHAWK, and the Director of Student Activities.

Two recreation areas provide room for meetings, parties, and casual get-togethers. Pool, ping-pong, television, football, chess, and checkers are available, along with a stereo system to play records or tapes brought in. Several bulletin boards, a display case, and club mailboxes provide a means of communication.

conscious, and very active in school functions. Programs for the year include campouts, a ski weekend, beach weekend, water skiing parties, cook-outs, concerts and band parties.

The brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon invite all men and women to come by our houses at 4505 and 4507 Wrightsville Avenue and live with the men of TEKE.

Wantu Wazuri welcomes freshmen

The Wantu Wazuri club of the University of N. C. at Wilmington, expresses a most sincere welcome to all incoming new students. We would invite you to become a part of our organization.

Our purpose is to provide Representation for Blacks on campus, to promote cultural programming which would add to the general cultural atmosphere of our campus and promote social entertainment.

We are looking forward to meeting you in the near future. Drop in on the club meetings every Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. in the Kenan Building, room 121.

Jacqueline McCrae
President
Carolyn Harrington
Sec.

Psych meetings feature programs

The purpose of the Psychology Club is to further the interest of psychology. In connection with this aim, the meetings feature programs with invited guest speakers.

At present, membership in the club is open to those students who are interested in the field of psychology.

One of the important projects is to help build up the selection of psychological periodicals in the Randall Library.

2nd year for History club

The History Club is in its second year of existence at UNC-W. The purpose of the club is to engender greater interest in history and its values among students, history majors and non-history majors, through a program of lectures, field trips and other activities. Membership is open to all students at UNC-W.

Debaters participate, sponsor tournaments

Giving students experience in public speaking, argumentation and research, the University Debate Team participates in a number of tournaments each year, and during the spring hosts a tournament for high school debaters.

Financed through the Student Government Association, the debate team has openings for novice or experienced debaters. Membership is open to all students with no experience necessary. Contact Betty Jo Welch in room 201 of the Kenan Building.

Soc majors urged to join

The purpose of the Sociology Club is to further the interest of Sociology, with particular emphasis on perspective sociology majors. The club will also serve as a means for students to learn about post-graduate opportunities and to acquaint themselves with the various aspects of sociology, sociological research, and sociological applications.

ROWING CLUB

The Rowing Club was organized to create interest in the sport of rowing and to compete in intercollegiate and other types of regattas. This fall, with money allotted from the Student Government Association and donated from businesses in the Wilmington area, the club will build a shelter along the Inland Waterway and repair the boats in order to be ready for the spring intercollegiate rowing season.

Kent Flowers serves as president of the organization. Other officers include Robert Browning and Tom Raines. Advisor for the group John M. Anderson.

NOT ALL CAMPUS LIFE IS STUDY! STUDY! STUDY! as obviously portrayed by these students enjoying an evening of friends, fun and a six-pack in the Residence Hall on a Saturday evening.

Panhellenic coordinates campus women's frats

The UNC-W Panhellenic Association wishes to extend a hardy welcome to all incoming students. The Association is made up of the two campus letter women's fraternities, Zeta Tau Alpha (ZTA) and Phi Mu (OM). Through Panhellenic, both sororities coordinate their common activities and regulations to promote their aims and interests.

Zeta Tau Alpha is an international women's fraternity, founded in 1898. Zeta Tau chapter here at UNC-W became affiliated nationally in 1969 and has gained much recognition since. Not only are there service projects, but also social, both of which can bring much personal satisfaction.

Phi Mu Fraternity was the first local women's fraternity on campus.

Love, honor, and truth are the ideals of Phi Mu and these qualities are exemplified by the sisters on campus.

Chemistry club welcomes members

The Chemistry Club is composed of all interested UNC-W students. Its purpose is to help students learn about post-graduate opportunities and acquaint them with the various aspects of chemistry: chemical research, and chemical applications. Last year (72-73) interested students observed the practical aspects of chemistry through tours of local plant facilities, including Hercules and the General Electric Co.

Project Hope is the national philanthropy of Phi Mu. Our "Washboard Band" is very unique and does its share in raising funds for the project's ship, the HOPE.

Sigma Alpha Beta operates as a business corporation

Sigma Alpha Beta, only professional fraternity on campus, was organized in the spring of '73. The fraternity is seeking affiliation with Delta Sigma Pi, an international professional business fraternity.

To help members develop professionalism and to help members understand the organization of a large business are the purposes of the fraternity. Two meetings are held per school month; a breakfast or dinner meeting paid for from fraternity fund funds, held on the second Tuesday of the month, and the other meeting being held on the fourth Thursday of each month at 11:30 a.m. in room 112 of the Isaac Bear Hall to conduct business. The dinner meetings feature a guest speaker from the financial community.

ents to function in the business campus community. Membership is open to all students pursuing a career in business, have attained 27 hours of university credit and have a 2.5 quality point average.

Anyone planning to seek a career in business is encouraged to consider joining Sigma Alpha Beta. As graduation approaches and job prospects arise, extra curricular activities will become important. Prospective employers will ask about college activities.

Since Sigma Alpha Beta is a business fraternity, we'll have something in common, so let's get together and talk over the advantages of being a member of the fraternity.

variety

The Student Union Program Board, SUPB, is a program set up by the Director of Student Activities, Ms. Linda Moore, to provide low cost entertainment to the student.

We hope that all incoming freshmen will come by Ms. Moore's office and ask about SUPB. We invite any new enthusiasts to join us. We are planning on having a table in the Pub during orientation for further information.

COLLEGE: where you gain direction

Counseling and Testing services are available to all University of North Carolina at Wilmington students without charge. Counseling is designed to assist students who have questions concerning their educational-vocational training or problems which prevent them from realizing their potential. Counseling involves confidential interviews with a professional counselor and use of psychological tests when appropriate.

Appointments for interviews may be made by visiting the Center in Room 217 of the Administration Building or by phoning ext. 242.

The Counseling and Testing Center also administers group testing programs. These include entrance exams, freshman tests, placement tests and tests required by professional and graduate schools.

Delta Upsilon goes national

Delta Upsilon, formerly known as Delta Epsilon, has made great strides this year. With installation imminent and affiliation with a great international fraternity certain, the fraternity is planning to spend several thousand dollars in the process for a band and formal dinner affair. This is the result of six years of hard work on the part of the brotherhood.

Delta Upsilon Fraternity was thought to help the school grow as it has also grown this past year. Over $300. was raised for the outdoor bulletin board for the campus by the group and seven other organizations and clubs. Additionally, the little sisters of DU are equally as active having had a party for underprivileged children on Halloween.

Community service is not a priority, although DU's pledge themselves to one project per semester. The organization is at first a social fraternity with the attributes as such. Many different people find fulfillment in the DU brotherhood. Some find challenges in leadership and others simply find lifetime friendships.

Meetings are formal and by-laws are strict. DU does not hide behind veils of secrecy, however, meetings are closed. Any brother will proudly relay the history of the fraternity to any interested persons.

Delta Upsilon does not consider itself the answer to world problems, but the organization is concerned with what it can offer a student in the way of broadening his education. A college education, important as it is, is no substitute for experience in dealing with people in a social setting. Ask any fraternity brother.

The fraternity is glad to be joining the two other fraternities as a full-fledged chartered fraternity. It is proud of the fraternal tradition that has preceded it as exemplified by the other fraternities, and it will welcome new charter groups to petition on campus that follow in DU's wake.

This does not alter the fact that the brothers of Delta Upsilon are consciously aware of the university's coming of age, and we are schooling our members to take a leading role in making the University of North Carolina at Wilmington a school to be proud of and respected.

Working as a member of Sigma Alpha Beta prepares business stud-

BOOKSTORE

T's

Supplies

Posters

Books

DOWNSTAIRS IN THE PUB

Boone functions as religious outreach

Milton Boone is Campus Minister at UNC-W as a Christian resource person to students, faculty and staff. Working through a board of directors known as United Christian Campus Ministry, Boone functions as an outreach of the churches in the Wilmington area challenging people to live out the Christian Gospel in an academic community.

Our minister is a listener who shares your religious interests and personal concerns with understanding. He is on campus Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays.

He has no office to hide him, and functions best on the sidewalk, under a tree or behind a cup of coffee. He'd like to meet you.

REV. MILTON BOONE, minister on campus Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, doesn't hide behind an office door.

Wind ensemble lends instrumental experience

The Wind Ensemble is organized each semester in order to provide instrumental music experience for those students who desire it. Membership is open to any student who has had instrumental experience, with the approval of the director, and any participant may earn credit. The Wind Ensemble and its smaller ensembles regularly provide music for University functions, civic groups, church groups, and radio and television.

Participation by non-music majors may be supplemented by private lessons, also for credit. Participation in either a vocal or instrumental organization is required of all music majors.

The University Wind Ensemble presents at least two concerts a year and participates in the large stage productions of the Music and Drama Departments.

Faculty and student recitals and special senior recitals are presented by the music department free of charge. The public, and especially all students, are invited to attend.

PE Dept. sponsors mens', womens' intramurals

The Physical Education Department organizes and administers the intramural activities for both men and women each semester. This past year, competition was open in frisbee tossing, surfing, and horseshoe throwing, as well as the usual campus sports. Watch for the announcements!

COUNCIL REGULATES FRATERNITY ACTIVITIES

The Inter-Fraternity Council is a coordinating body composed of representatives from the three general fraternities on campus. It has the responsibility of regulating rush, pledging, membership, and other areas where all fraternities are directly involved and representing the interest of members before the administration.

The I.F.C. also organizes athletic competition, joint parties, and sponsors trophies in athletics and scholarship.

Club encourages interest in math

The purpose of the Mathematics Club is to encourage greater interest in mathematics and its values among students, regardless of major, through a program of lectures, films, and other activities. The Club is also designed to create a closer fellowship among those students and faculty who have similar interests in Math. Membership is open to all UNC-W students, alumni, faculty, and staff.

S.R.O.

This will mark the 16th season of the S.R.O. Straw-Hat Theatre which operates as the artistic and cultural outlet during the summer months on the campus of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

In the summer of 1959, the first of the S.R.O. Straw-Hat Theatre productions was mounted in the Old Isaac Bear Building on Market Street, the original home of Wilmington College.

During the summer of 1968, summer stock was originated on campus with six productions being presented in a six-week period, approximately from July 1 through August 10.

This season, as in the past three, seven productions will be staged beginning June 25 and ending August 11. Try-outs for the 1974 season, held on June 4 and 5, were open to all students of UNC-W and residents within the area.

Since its inception, it has presented original, Broadway, classic and musical plays. This program exposes students of UNCW and other branches of the consolidated university to the unique educational experience of working under summer stock and professional conditions.

The program this year will offer as its first production, from June 25 through 30, in Kenan Auditorium, the mad musical entitled "A FUNNY THING HAPPENED ON THE WAY TO THE FORUM." This was presented four summers ago and is being repeated due to popular demand.

All plays start at 8:30 p.m. and run nightly, except Monday, throughout the season.

Season tickets are now on sale and will be offered during the first week's production at the box office. Individual tickets may also be purchased at the box office. Reservations may be made in advance by calling the box office in the Sarah Graham Kenan Memorial Auditorium from 2-5 p.m. Monday through Friday at 791-9695, and by calling 763-7922 on Saturday and Sunday.

Pi Kappa Phi prides itself in being a 'very personal fraternity'

The brothers of Pi Kappa Phi wish to extend a cordial welcome to all new students, both freshmen and transfers, at UNC-W. We hope that you will consider Pi Kapp as well as the other fraternities when you return in the fall.

Pi Kappa Phi National Fraternity was founded on December 10, 1904 at the College of Charleston in Charleston, South Carolina. The national headquarters are in Charlotte, North Carolina with chapters throughout the United States.

The UNC-W chapter, Gamma Theta, was installed on February 28, 1968, the first national fraternity on campus. Since then, Gamma Theta has twice received Pi Kappa Phi's highest chapter award, Grand Master Chapter, Scholastically, Pi Kapps have won three of the last four IFC scholastic trophies. Athletically, the Gamma Theta Raiders have excelled in both IFC and intramural sports. Pi Kapps serve the community through their annual Christmas and Easter parties for underprivileged children. Social activities include Beach Weekend at Ocean Drive, Rose Ball, and Ma Keel party.

While a closely-knit group of people, Pi Kappa Phi prides itself in being "a very personal fraternity". The Pride of the South invites you to come by the house at 122 Yorktown Dr. or call 762-9422. We wish you well at UNC-Wilmington!

UNC-W BOASTS ACTION PACKED athletic seasons, be it soccer, wrestling, basketball, golf, or baseball.

Atlantis publishes student writing, art

ATLANTIS, the UNC-W student literary magazine, is published twice a year. It features short stories, poems, essays, and art work by students at UNCW.

All UNC-W students are invited to work with the magazine. It offers a particularly interesting extracurricular activity because it involves direct contact with the creative efforts of other students on this campus.

All students are invited to submit material for publication. Likewise, all students are invited to join the ATLANTIS staff and help select the material that is to be published.

Working with the magazine involves selection - reading the stories, poems, and essays students have submitted and deciding which will be published. Students are also needed to help with the art work - choosing pictures to be printed, arranging layout, etc.

During the four years of its existence, ATLANTIS has attempted to set a high standard for quality. The magazine has achieved acceptance among the student body and is supported by a grant from the Student Government Association. For the past two years, it also has received a grant from The North Carolina Arts Council to be used for promotional purposes.

This spring, the ATLANTIS staff used a portion of the Arts Council grant to finance a speaker on campus. Carolyn Kizer, a nationally known poet, gave a public poetry reading in April.

The reading was followed by a poetry workshop the next day. During the workshop, Miss Kizer read and discussed poems written by UNCW students. The magazine also uses the Arts Council grant to help finance literary contests on campus.

The magazine is distributed free to UNCW students and is sold to the public through local bookstores. Copies are also sent to college libraries and to the staffs of other student literary magazines throughout the state.

Orchestra gives four concerts

The UNC-W Community Orchestra seeks to give citizens as well as students the opportunity to use their musical talents in a cooperative endeavor. Four concerts are given during the school year.

Rehearsals are held each Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 9:30. UNC-W students receive on credit hour per semester. Interested students should contact William Adcock in Kenan Hall, Room 116, for information on auditions.

The University competes each year in soccer, basketball, baseball, golf, tennis, and wrestling. Baseball games are played at Brook's Field and basketball games are played in Hanover Hall.

All regularly enrolled students of the University who have paid the appropriate general fee are admitted without charge to all regular varsity games. Students are urged to support the University teams by attending home games and matches and sitting in the regular cheering section.

Health coverage recommended

Anyone not having health and accident insurance is strongly urged to consider the coverage plan available under the Student Hospitalization and Surgical Insurance Plan. All students are eligible to participate, at a cost of $18.00 per half year, and receive coverage 24 hours a day through August 1974. Applications are available in the Student Affairs Office in room 113 of the Alderman Administration Building.

Singers earn credit in vocal ensembles

The University of North Carolina at Wilmington Mixed Chorus is organized each semester in order to provide vocal musical experience for those students who desire it. Membership is open to any student in the University, with the approval of the director, and any participant may earn credit.

The University Mixed Chorus and its smaller ensembles regularly provide music for University functions, civic clubs, church groups, radio and television. The small ensembles or groups depend on the composition and interest of the complete mixed chorus.

Participation by non-music majors may be supplemented by private lessons also for credit. Participation in either a vocal or instrumental organization is required of all music majors.

The University Mixed Chorus presents at least two concerts a year and participates in the large stage productions of Music and Drama Departments. In addition, the University Mixed Chorus and its smaller groups have acted as ambassadors to many of the high schools in the surrounding area.

WELCOME BACK

seahawk

To UNC By the Sea

volume xvii, number 1

august 28, 1974

twelve pages

INSIDE THIS WEEK:

AT RIGHT...

SOME UNC-W STUDENTS ARE ALL WET.

2

Next Week -

BELOW...

GET THE MOST OUT OF YOUR TEXTBOOKS.

ABOVE...

BOOKSTORE FLESH MAGAZINES CAUGHT WITH THEIR PANTS DOWN.

FLESHY MAGS DESERT BOOKSTORE

Students may no longer purchase copies of PENTHOUSE, PLAYBOY, PLAYGIRL or VIVA on campus in the student store.

The decision to remove the four from the bookstore magazine rack came last week initially from Col. James K. Clark, Director of Auxiliary Services, and was upheld by James A. Price, Jr., Vice Chancellor for Business Affairs, and Dr. William H. Wagoner, Chancellor. In talking with a SEAHAWK representative, Col. Clark stated that the magazines might be outside the image that should be maintained by the University.

"We are simply exercising some selection in merchandising," he said. The Chancellor concurred.

"With the luxury items-- those not necessary to the educational process-- we have some responsibility in selection," Dr. Wagoner stated.

Clark also expressed concern over the fact that the "covers are becoming less and less discreet." Neither he nor the Chancellor consider the move a step toward censorship, as Dr. Wagoner states, "I don't want to get in a censoring fight."

The magazine question is not an easy one to solve, both men agree, and in operating a relatively non-profit, tax-free store on state property with tax money, certain standards must be met.

Paperbacks and other magazines are not being discontinued at this time.

The covers seem to be the real villains, as Clark says, "What's underneath the covers of a book is one thing -- what's on the cover is entirely different."

In some stores, such magazines are sold from underneath the counter, but that is not feasible here. Lack of space is one factor, and really, according to several local convenience store sources, this type of merchandising is a lot more trouble. And, as Clark states, "If we're so embarrassed by it or ashamed of it, I would hope we wouldn't sell it at all."

Service News Company, suppliers of magazines and paperbacks for local stores, provided THE SEAHAWK with a number of alternative locations where students could purchase the magazines.

PLAYBOY and PENTHOUSE are available at Zip Marts, 7-11 Stores, and Wulff's News Stand downtown.

Seven-Eleven Corporate Headquarters in Dallas, Tex., does not authorize its stores to carry PLAYGIRL and VIVA, both geared for female readers.

PLAYGIRL may be obtained at Zip Marts, those

Representative of service news boxes doomed magazines for departure.

most convenient to UNC-W being the University Drive branch and the store at E. Kerr Avenue and Wilshire; at Henriken's in Hanover Center; at Wulff's downtown; at Kwik Pik locations; and at Newell's on Wrightsville Beach.

VIVA may be a little harder to find. It doesn't sell as well, so fewer stores carry fewer copies. VIVA may be obtained at the E. Kerr Ave. Zip Mart; at Kwik Paks; at Wulff's; and at Farm Fresh locations.

FOR MORE juicy tidbits about the rag bag, refer to page 4 editorials.

Playgirl couple bid adios.

'what's between the covers is one thing'

Paperbacks remain.

GET 'EM WHILE THEY LAST

Textbooks *
Notebooks *
PENS *

Bookstore
in The Pub

*And other vital school supplies

THE HUT

formerly Munchy's

13 So. College Rd.

SANDWICHES

PIZZAS

SUBMARINE STEAKS

ROAST BEEF

HAPPY HOUR

MON. - THUR.

9 - 12 p.m.

BEER

PITCHER $1.00

GLASS 25¢

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO SHOW UP FOR

WACHOVIA-SEAHAWK DAY

FREE HOT DOGS ☆ LIVE BAND ☆ FREE SOFT DRINKS

REGISTRATION FOR TWO 10-SPEED BIKES

(REGISTRATION TO CONTINUE THROUGH FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6)

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 28 3:00 TO 7:00 P.M.

WACHOVIA UNIVERSITY OFFICE PARKING LOT

530 SOUTH COLLEGE ROAD

DIRECTLY ACROSS FROM CAMPUS

EDITORIALS

The Gadfly:

welcome back, fellow scholars

A Clerk ther was of Oxenford also
That unto logik hadde longe ygo.
As lene was his hors as is a rake,
And he was nought right fat, I undertake,
But looked holene, and there to soberly.
Ful threadbare was his overste courtsey.

... For him was lever have at his beddes head
Twenty books, clad in blak or reed,
Of Aristotle and his philosophye
Than robes riche, or fithele or gay pantrye.

- Chaucer

Tearful farewell

PLAYGIRL and PLAYBOY have been notoriously faithful companions of tired publications staffs taking breaks on hectic deadline nights.

THOUGH SAD to see 'em go, we are at least consoled by the fact that the Fabulous Four Fleshy Favorites may be purchased at reasonably convenient locations.

It would be easy to scream CENSORSHIP until our voices cracked, and easier still to skirt the issue without reporting it at all. We may disagree with the decision, and we may begrudge the small inconvenience.

But all things considered, we aren't too put out. In the past few years, at least, the "Big Boys" have not even attempted to lay a glove on the sovereignty of student publications... even when they considered certain things to be in bad taste.

As long as we continue to agree, to disagree, to cooperate, and to exchange ideas, we can be sure that we all will live, learn, and grow together.

Man's world

HOW MANY TIMES have we heard the phrase, "It's a man's world"? All along, women were being convinced that the world was opening up. Hate to burst the bubble, but...

THROUGH QUERIES concerning another story in this issue of THE SEAHAWK, we discovered that Seven-Eleven stores are not authorized to carry PLAYGIRL and PLAYBOY, the two women's magazines that approach PLAYBOY and PENTHOUSE in intent. A quick call to the district office of the convenience store chain revealed that this policy is not a local one, but stems from the corporate headquarters in Dallas, Texas.

WHEN THE SEAHAWK asked why the men's magazines were carried and the women's were not, the reply was that space limitations prevented the stores from carrying but a few titles of any type. There are several sports magazines, some news magazines, humor, men's (P & P), and, inevitably, some women's titles.

IF WE WANT MAGAZINES that appeal to women (brace yourself) we can always run for the nearest copy of TV SCREEN or LADIES HOME JOURNAL.

TELL US NOW, should we really thank heaven for you-know-what...

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on thursdays for friday distribution, all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on monday for publication on thursday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief
robert maxey, advertising director
john wilkins, music editor
sheryl moore, photographer
ms. linda moore, adviser

MEMBER

It's that time again you seekers of knowledge. Time to stand in line. Time to fill out endless forms in triplicate. Time to change your major again. Time to get up for 8:30 classes. Time for that experience known as the college experience.

As you shuttle back and forth across the pine cone covered campus in the process of drop-add try not to think of the summer gone, but rather of the fall to come. After all, the Olympia doesn't close when school opens. So, you see, things could be worse. There are things to look forward to.

For instance, there is the thrill of going to your new classes for the first time. Imagine the air of mystery it will give you when the professor finds you're not on the roll.

Buying the books for your classes will give you a chance to meet people as you wait in the bookstore. Like the Clerk of Oxenford you will find your savings quite diminished after buying all the necessary tomes. As you kiss your dreams of a quad set-up for your stereo goodbye you at least have the consolation of knowing that carrying all that heavy knowledge around will give you a great set of muscles.

It won't take long to get into the routine. Hating Mondays. Praying for Fridays. Having the free beer busts fall on the night before your first exams.

Welcome back fellow scholars. May the computer have mercy on your course cards.

--The Gadfly

Rocky Says:

UNC by the sea - for friends

Greetings fellow students:

Now that summer is drawing to an end, we can take time to reflect on the progress that Student Government has made up to this point. I am happy to report that much has been accomplished this summer in your absence.

1974-75 promises to be a good year for our school. But to insure our success we have to put more into it than mere superficiality. We need to have a sincere depth of feeling for it.

Our college years are special. They will provide a source of memories for years to come. With so much going on in the hearts and minds of students, it is the responsibility of the SGA to provide them with good concerts, dances, and Homecoming events. We owe it to ourselves to open every avenue of self-expression and interest.

Not long ago, a young lady told me that she loved this school. I believe that she meant the people at UNC-W that she had come to know. How important are the social events that bring our students together!

As this year begins, instead of allowing arguments, self-interest, greed, or jealousies to take hold of us, let us give special consideration to others. Let us pull together to make UNC by the sea a proud school, a school of friends, and a school to remember long after we have begun our chosen careers.

Rocky Lane Moore
SGA President

THE TRANSPLANT

by
Milton Boone
Campus Minister

Like grandpa had a way with dogs,
God has a way with folks, knowing when to speak
and when to pay no mind.

Days I want to sleep.
I want the world to pass me by,
ask no favor or fancy trick,
just let me be.

But then,
a footstep in the yard,
a breath of Spirit from the field.
Someone called my name.

I can't stay here.
The weather's changing in my soul,
A new day's stroking on my mind,
I've got to go.

NEWS & FACES

Rep serves student vets

Cape Fear Technical Institute will share with UNC by the sea the services of Michael J. Kelley, one of 35 Veterans Education and Training Representatives (Vet-Reps) assigned to the Winston-Salem Regional Office of the Veterans Administration.

UNC-W Dean of Students Ralph H. Parker, who is also the campus veterans coordinator, said the new "Man-on-Campus" program initiated by the VA earlier this month is an effort to improve services to veterans through the establishment of a direct communications link with the Regional Office.

Kelley's primary responsibility will be to facilitate prompt and accurate payments to veterans attending school. In addition, he will be prepared to discuss the full range of benefits provided by the VA, including compensation and pension, hospitalization and medical services, home loans, insurance, and others.

Kelley served as a Russian linguist in the USAF from 1968 through 1972. He recently completed his BA degree in history at Wake Forest University after studying in the East European Language Program at Syracuse University.

Dean Parker will continue to coordinate the veterans' program and will retain the responsibility for certifying veterans' eligibility for benefits.

Kelley will be on campus three days a week, and at CFTI the other two days.

Michael J. Kelley - Vet - Rep

New man for new job puts new life in dorm

"I view students as adults capable of governing their own living area," states Dave Robertson, who occupies a newly created position as Assistant Dean for Residence Life.

Actually, it is evident that Dave is much more than an occupant.

Formerly, the dorm's "Head Resident" was a sort of part-time building manager. With the creation of this new position, the Student Affairs office has added a vital dimension to residence hall living. "I'll be here all the time for the students," Dave says.

decide on the use of the money."

Dave has some ideas for "splicing up" the dorm situation - co-ed intramurals, fixing up the lounges so that they become places to lounge rather than bike storage facilities - but he adds, "I see myself not as saying what to do, but as helping students become involved in making their own plans."

Robertson and his wife Karen recently moved to Wilmington from Athens, Ga., where he received his Master's Degree in student personnel in higher education from the University of Georgia.

all the time for the students."

Dave and Karen both graduated in '71 from Le-noir-Rhyne College with BA degrees in sociology and elementary education, respectively. Dave spent a year and a half teaching before beginning graduate school.

Karen will be teaching at Wrightsville Beach School this year.

DAVE ROBERTSON

Choir provides challenge for student vocalists

As you enter college, should you be looking for a "change of pace" from your academic studies, a challenge in expressing yourself creatively, and a sure way to meet and make lasting friends with whom you will share great common experiences, then you should continue reading this column.

As director of the UNC-W Concert Choir, I am continually searching out alive young adults with an ardent desire to commit themselves to the discipline of choral singing. For a commitment of four hours per week, you can fulfill yourself in the ways listed above far beyond the work that you invest.

In its Christmas concert this past December, the UNC-W Choir, augmented by the Wilmington Oratorio Society and Orchestra, featured a 250th anniversary performance of Bach's Magnificat before a capacity audience in UNC-W's Kenan Auditorium. Other performances by the Choir and Chamber Singers included appearances at various conventions during the year, and performances on television, and before an audience of 3,500 people at commencement festivities which featured an address by NBC's David Brinkley.

As a culmination of its varied activities, the UNC-W Concert Choir successfully completed an extensive 2000 mile, 10 day tour throughout the South. Concerts were presented in eight cities as the Choir travelled the Gulf and Atlantic coasts from North Carolina to the tip of Florida and back again.

To become a member, contact me in KENAN HALL room #115 on or before Thursday, August 29.

RICHARD S. STEEN
UNC-W CONCERT CHOIR

"...helping students become involved in making their own plans."

Also for the first time, students living on campus will have some funds available to them for activities, fixing up lounges, or other things to improve dorm life. "I'd like to see the students here form some sort of governing body to

*Head
The Squawk*

PUB

WEEKDAYS	8am - 10pm
FRI	8am - MIDNIGHT
SAT	2pm - MIDNIGHT
SUN	2pm - 10pm

LIFE CYCLES

PRE-INVENTORY CLEARANCE SALE!

Regence of France
Normally $125.00
Now Only $99.95

The unique store that offers the finest in bicycles, parts, and accessories; plus a complete repair shop.

MOTOBECA

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER
4209 OLEANDER DRIVE ACROSS FROM CAPE FEAR FORD COMPANY

Students dive for

RESTORATION & PRESERVATION

The only field school in existence dedicated to teaching in the field of marine archaeology, conducted at UNC-W over the summer sessions, centered its study on the many blockade runners wrecked along the Carolina coastline and focused in and around Ft. Fisher, New Inlet and south-east of Baldhead Island.

The two women and twenty men students involved in the five-week study concentrated their efforts on the "Ella," the "Modern Greece," and what is believed to be the "Condor."

The "Condor" is of special historic interest in that when the ship approached Fort Fisher, she was carrying daring Confederate spy Rose O'Neal Greenhow, as well as badly needed supplies for the Confederate Army. Hoping to round New Inlet to the mouth of the Cape Fear River, the Condor's captain panicked and swung the ship around, running it aground after realizing he was facing an enemy blockader mistaken for a light above Fort Fisher.

Rose Greenhow was lost in the struggle to get to shore, and the "Condor," on its maiden voyage, sank carrying needed supplies for the Confederacy.

Studying such historical wrecks has given George Harrison of Illinois, a graduate of Marquette University with a degree in archaeology, the archaeological "jewels" not to be uncovered in land findings. Stating that the course was giving him an excellent background in marine archaeological techniques, Harrison claimed such work called for close attention and slow precision. "There's no need to hurry when those vessels have been here for over 100 years. They'll wait. They're not going anywhere."

From Syracuse, N. Y., Rick Murphy joined the group, coming from a field school of archaeology in Syracuse. He is aiming for his doctorate in marine archaeology.

Closer to home, Dennis Daley of Durham, who enjoys diving and custom boat building, describes himself as a Civil War buff and believes that as the course develops, more students will realize the value of this particular type of study.

Visiting professor from story by beth hicks

photos by kelli

DR. SCALF

AT THE DIVING SITE

asure of history'

Concentrate on sunken blockade runners

Western Carolina University, Dr. John Dorwin, directed the program initially drawn up by Dr. John Scalf, chairman of UNC-W's combined departments of sociology and anthropology, together with Dr. Steven Gluckman, state archaeologist.

Dr. Scalf pinpointed the primary goals of the study as introducing the students to field techniques and to an understanding of marine archaeology as well as a taste of land study.

Activities included in the field study incorporated the students' swimming and diving skills with historic research and preservation of the items taken from the land and sea. All 22 students were certified divers. They worked with Leslie Bright at the Fort Fisher Preservation Lab, using various techniques to restore and protect artifacts.

Emphasis, according to Dr. Dorwin, is on teaching and learning rather than working on research and collecting data.

"It takes 12 times as many man hours to do the job in the water as on the land," Dr. Dorwin said, stressing also the need for students to apply archaeological techniques learned as well as being aware of them. Perhaps the most hampering of the study came from having to work within the limitations of weather conditions and visibility.

Students participating in the program were required to pay at least $100 plus regular tuition, and some paid an additional activity fee. The field study was also backed by grants from the state and funding from the University.

It is hoped that the summer field school will move to a yearly program in two to three years.

TOM RAINES

Calendar —

Wednesday, August 28

- 1) Classes start
- 2) At Wachovia, 3-7 p.m.
Hot dogs, live band, soft drinks, bike give-away.
- 3) At NCNB (thru Aug 30), registration for free bikes

Thursday, August 29

Seahawk Staff Meeting
3:30 p.m. in pub.

here's what's happenin'

MUCH THANKS TO:
HAL DAVIS, WHO DID
LOTS OF TYPING AND LEG WORK, AB, WHO PRINTED THE PHOTOS, AND MR. STEEN, WHO ENDURED THE LAST FEW MINUTES OF DEADLINE...

Monday - Tues., Sept. 2, 3

7:30 p.m. University
Theatre 2youts in S.R.O.

Thursday, Sept. 5

"Going Surfing" a film by Bud Brown, in the pub at 7:30 & 9:30 p.m.
Bring a seat. Price $2.

Friday, Sept. 6

FIRST FREE BEER BUST
8:30 p.m. in Pub
T.G.I.F.

Tuesday, Sept. 10

Flick "Welking Jell" Kwan
Aud. 8 p.m.

SONATA
$300 to $3000
WED. RING
$100

MARINA
$300 to $3000
WED. RING
$100

JUDO
$300 to $3000
WED. RING
$200

Give the gift
of love

A perfect Keepsake diamond backed by our written guarantee of perfect quality, fine white color
and correct modern cut. Come in today to see our exciting collection of Keepsake Diamond Rings.

Keepsake®
REGISTERED DIAMOND RINGS

Mills INC.
Keepsake®
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

26 N Front St. • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 765-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

hi there, Big Boy

MY NAME IS KATHI, I'M THE SEAHAWK EDITOR
AND MY OFFICE IS IN THE PUB.

IF I SEEM A BIT AT LOOSE ENDS, IT'S NO
SURPRISE. YOU SEE, IT'S ALREADY LATE
AUGUST AND I DON'T HAVE A SPORTS EDITOR
YET, I DON'T EVEN HAVE A SPORTS WRITER.

I NEED YOU, AND YOU, AND YOU.

GOT TALENT? I'VE GOT A PLACE FOR YOU.
NEED SOME MONEY? THE PAY AIN'T THE
GREATEST, BUT AT LEAST IT'S STEADY WORK.

TRY IT; YOU'LL LIKE IT, COME ON OVER AND
SEE ME SOMETIME, SOON.

Do Something Important-
Volunteer!

*A disadvantaged youth,
A handicapped teenager,
A lonely senior citizen
All welcome YOUR help.*

For Details: Mrs. Linda Moore

Director of Student

Activities in Pub

MUSIC

by: John Wilkins

This summer has been exceptionally fine in the albums and concerts presented. Many new groups that evolved and many of the older groups came up with exciting new albums and material. As for concerts, the summer of '74 should be remembered for its quantity as well as quality.

New groups such as KISS and THE OZARK MOUNTAIN DAREDEVILS made their nationwide debuts and acquired a successful following. The older groups also came on stronger, with WET WILLY, ALLEMAN BROTHERS, and other American groups having success both record and concert-wise.

English groups also prospered much during the summer. With the arrival of MAGGIE BELL, and MOTT THE HOOPLE and BOWIE continuing earlier successes, the British Invasion proved as strong as ever.

Highlighting the summer was the appearance of two superstars, DYLAN and CLAPTON. Both, after taking some time off, came out of hiding to find endless crowds awaiting them. DYLAN'S concert in Charlotte was a sell-out with CLAPTON'S Greensboro concert reporting a record crowd.

With the end of the August Jam in Charlotte, the summer music scene has ended with the fall, school, and more concerts and records to come.

The reunion of CROSBY, STILLIS, NASH and YOUNG begins this month and could be the biggest thing to happen in the music world this year.

New albums can be expected by LED ZEPPELIN, T. REX, DEEP PURPLE and many other well known bands with new groups occasionally being made or broken.

Could be that the fall may top the summer music scene after all.

Rock out!

KARTOOONZ

HELP WANTED for 75 fledgling

Copywriters, layout designers, and photographers for the 1975 FLEDGLING yearbook staff. Previous experience helpful, but not required. Applicants must be dependable, dedicated, hard-working individuals who do not require a great deal of rest. Photographers must be experienced in darkroom procedures. Some scholarship assistance is available. If you are interested in recording tomorrow's memories, contact Mrs. Croom in Alderman 124 or leave name and telephone number with Ms. Moore in James (Pub) 103. You may also contact Debbie Lewis, editor, at 253-5135 or in the Fledgling office at 791-8055.

A meeting of interested students is to be announced in the next Seahawk.

"IF I LOSE YOU, LOOK FOR ME IN MS. MOORE'S OFFICE IN THE PUB. OK?"

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry

Bags

Candles

Handmade Spreads

Embroidered Dresses

Belts

Leatherwork
Headgear

Mexican Handicraft.

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Wall-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertainment
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen area
- Hot/pot range, refrigerator, garbage disposal
- Individually-controlled air conditioning
- Large swimming pool. Central laundry facilities.

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished.....$135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished...$149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished.....$160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished...$185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 5 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT...

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive, Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

H E L P !

THE 2247 WRIGHTVILLE AVE. NEEDS ADDITIONAL STAFF MEMBERS.

COME TO THE STAFF MEETING
THURSDAY, 3:30 P.M. in Pub.

* The Creek

WHAT'S SO GREAT ABOUT "THE CREEK"?

SEE FOR YOURSELF!

"HAPPY HOUR" every afternoon from 5 til 7 exclusively for residents and their guests.
Private membership to club which houses a bar, billiard room, juke box, and sunken conversation pit with fireplace.

Efficiency 1, 2 & 3 bedroom air conditioned units.
Modern, fully equipped all-electric kitchens.
Wilmington's only all-adult community.
Lemon yellow, lime green, and chocolate brown carpeting.
Planned social activities with live bands.

Rent from $140 with a $50 security deposit.
No children. No pets.
Pool parties, cookouts, etc., for all.
Balcony, patio, and porch.
Three laundry centers.
Sculptured pool.
Free cable TV.
Tennis court.

Now Leasing

2247 Wrightville Ave.

763-5492

Open Daily 9-6 Sunday 1-6

Fine arts films set

HURRY ON OUT FOR YOUR SEASON TICKET.

LESS THAT 10¢ FOR EACH
FUN-FILLED EVENING!!!

- | | |
|----------|---|
| Sept. 10 | WALKING TALL |
| Sept. 16 | PAPER MOON |
| Sept. 23 | JACK LONDON |
| Sept. 30 | THE GODFATHER |
| Oct. 3 | "AN EVENING WITH TEVYE" -- Jerry Jarrett |
| Oct. 8 | JESUS CHRIST SUPERSTAR |
| Oct. 22 | CLOCKWORK ORANGE |
| Oct. 28 | THE LAST PICTURE SHOW |
| Oct. 31 | TALES FROM THE CRYPT and BLUEBEARD |
| Nov. 4 | HIGH PLAINS DRIFT, JR. |
| Nov. 11 | "PILGRIMAGE TO MECCA" |
| Nov. 19 | ROMEO AND JULIET |
| Dec. 3 | LIFE AND TIMES OF JUDGE ROY BEAN |
| Dec. 13 | GODSPELL |
| Jan. 13 | THE WAY WE WERE |
| Jan. 21 | THE MAN WHO LOVED CAT DANCING |
| Jan. 27 | THE WAR BETWEEN MEN AND WOMEN |
| Feb. 3 | EXECUTIVE ACTION |
| Feb. 11 | EASY RIDER |
| Feb. 24 | FIVE EASY PIECES |
| Mar. 11 | DAY OF THE JACKAL |
| Mar. 17 | DELIVERANCE |
| Mar. 24 | AMERICAN GRAFFITI |
| Apr. 7 | SAVE THE TIGER |
| Apr. 15 | MAN IN THE WILDERNESS |
| Apr. 21 | LITTLE BIG MAN |

These are live performances held in Kenan Auditorium.

Season tickets for the movies are: Students with ID $2.50; General Public and Faculty $5.00. Single admission prices are Students with ID $.50, Faculty and students without ID $1.00.

All movies are shown in Kenan Memorial Auditorium at 8 p.m.

SMOKING ... FOOD ... DRINKS ... are prohibited in the auditorium.

Health insurance wise student move

The university offers a student accident and sickness group insurance plan at a rate of $28.50 per student for the entire twelve month academic year (August 24, 1974 to August 24, 1975).

The plan, though optional, is recommended as an excellent supplement to the University Health Service. The plan provides year-round coverage at home or at the university, and during vacation periods. For applications and information, contact the Student Affairs Office, Room 118 of the Alderman Building.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

first meeting

Monday September 9, at 7:30

at

WILMINGTON BAPTIST ASSOCIATION BUILDING
(across the road from the campus)

ALL STUDENTS WELCOME

Fri. Sept. 6 8:30 P.M. in the Pub

FALL Mixer

Featuring

BANGA

SOUTHPAW

! = AND !

FREE BUD

Sponsored by:

SGA DANCE COMMITTEE

and

BUDWISER of Wilmington

PLEASE NOTE: ONLY Students

with a Fall '74 I.D. Decal and their dates will be admitted to this dance.

NO ADMISSION CHARGED

WHAT'S NEW

photos by neal huntley & sheryl moore

A LONESOME HALLWAY before occupation.

THE UNVEILING moving was tricky between showers.

WRESTLING heavy cartons part of job.

ON CAMPUS?

THE BUILDING grounds work still not completed, as evidenced by trashpile.

CONFERENCE ROOM Good for seminar classes.

NEW LAB no formaldehyde odor yet.

the marine science building

Students entitled to medical care

All students (commuters as well as residents) taking six hours or more have paid the medical fee entitling them to 24-hour medical attention in case of illness or accident. The Student Health Center, located in the main lobby of the residence hall is staffed by the university nurse between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday through Friday. After those hours and on weekends, students in need of medical attention should call the Wilmington Health Associates (763-8251) IDENTIFYING THEMSELVES AS UNC-W STUDENTS.

The physician on call will, in most cases, meet the student at the emergency room of the hospital and perform any necessary treatment. All services provided by the Wilmington Health Associates are covered. However, students are responsible for the emergency room fee, all prescription drugs, x-rays, all surgery and medical specialists or other doctors to whom the student may be referred from one of the physicians of the Wilmington Health Associates. Inpatient hospital costs must be borne by the student through the student health insurance policy or through his or her family health insurance policy.

Mother's In Town

The MOTHER EARTH NEWS is a bi-monthly devoted to Grassroots Ecology, Organic gardening, family homesteads, sparkling blue water, far places, doing more for less, working for the fun of it, puppy dogs, fluffy clouds and all other facets of the joyous good life for everyone, everywhere.

All 28 issues now available ... take your pick. Articles like 'Living high on $6,500 a year ... home canning and freezing ... organic gardening ... survive in the city ... wind engines ... shoe a horse ... natural pest control ... solar power ... natural childbirth ...' and many many more.

The MOTHER EARTH NEWS is the how-to manual for anyone interested in country living, ecology and personal independence. The MOTHER EARTH NEWS is now available in the Health Foods department of Henriksen's.

Henriksen's Pharmacy

Hanover Center

The Health Food & Natural Vitamin Store

A Drinking Song

Wine comes in at the mouth;
And love comes in at the eye;
That's all we shall know for truth
Before we grow old and die.
I lift the glass to my mouth
I look at you, and I sigh.

-William Butler Yeats

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"

Wine Art, Inc.

HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

3342 WRIGHTSVILLE AVE.

791-9675

UNIVERSITY THEATRE

TRYOUTS

GARCÍA LORCA'S

BLOOD WEDDING

(BODAS DE SANGRE)

SRO THEATRE

7:30 PM

MONDAY-TUESDAY

SEPTEMBER 2 AND 3

ALL UNC-W STUDENTS ARE WELCOME AT THESE OPEN TRYOUTS.

seahawk

volume xvii, number 2

september 4, 1974

eight pages

WHAT'S ON CAMPUS?
NEW

See Related Photo and Cutline on Page 6.

Foundation awards $75,000 to construct greenhouse

The Kresge Foundation has awarded $75,000 to UNC-W to finance construction of a greenhouse facility—a structure of prime importance to the developing program in the marine sciences on campus.

The award was announced jointly by William H. Baldwin, President and Trustee of The Kresge Foundation, and Chancellor William H. Wagoner on August 23.

In making the announcement Chancellor Wagoner said, 'This generous grant from The Kresge Foundation will not only benefit the university in its efforts to develop a program of excellence in marine sciences and oceanography, but will also have an important impact on the entire coastal region. Bound to the sea both culturally and regionally, this area is rapidly developing in terms of industry and population.'

'We believe that commercialization can be directed in such a manner as to prevent the total and unthinking destruction of our coast that has been experienced in other areas. This outside support of our efforts to protect these ecological resources as a natural laboratory will mean much not only to our present students, but also to those who study in the future.'

The greenhouse facility will complement the university's new Marine Science and Oceanography Building. The State of North Carolina has fully funded construction of the $1.6 million structure which houses the Program in Marine Sciences, the Environmental Studies Curriculum, and the Departments of Biology and Earth Sciences.

The proximity of the university to numerous coastal zone resources, including barrier islands, lagoons, the Cape Fear River, salt marshes, and the Inland Waterway, provides an excellent natural laboratory for students and researchers in the marine sciences. Because it is ideally situated for field research, the curriculum and research at UNC-W have been primarily in this effort; and field equipment, microscopes, herbarium and range hardware presently owned by the university provide the physical equipment for excellent training in this aspect of marine sciences.

However, university-based study capabilities are limited; and for this reason the greenhouse facilities are vital to the continuing development of the Program in Marine Sciences. Such a facility will allow plants from salt marsh and dune environments to be cultured on campus for year-round supply to the teaching and research laboratories and will allow student and faculty research activities to be carried on under controlled greenhouse conditions. In addition, the greenhouse will provide capabilities for studying other varieties of coastal flora not indigenous to this area.

The Kresge Foundation, established by Sebastian S. Kresge in 1924, is a private trustee corporation whose stated purpose is to promote the well-being of mankind. The Foundation principally makes grants to well-established accredited institutions operating in the fields of four-year college and university education, health care and related services, conservation, music and the arts, and care of the young or old.

Since its founding, The Kresge Foundation has made appropriations in the amount of $17,664,704 to deserving projects.

WACHOVIA TREATS STUDENTS TO 2000 DOGS, 3300 DRINKS*

by Jean Marlowe

How many hot dogs can a crowd of college students eat on a hot, sunny, August afternoon?

That might have been the question Wachovia Bank's University Office wanted to find out the answer to last Wednesday when they hosted an open-house weiner roast from 3 to 7 p.m. to welcome UNC-W students and faculty back to campus for the new fall term.

'Wachovia-Seahawk Day,' as it was billed, proved again that college students can eat enormous quantities of hot dogs without showing any ill effects.

Two thousand hot dogs, in fact—along with 40 pounds of chili and 3300 drinks, according to Joseph W. Dixon, manager of the University Office. 'And Gus Dukas of White Front Breakfast House, who was in charge of the hot dogs, had to go back three times for more slaw,' Dixon said, in an incredulous tone.

Dixon estimated that about 1100 people came, ate and listened to the rock music of 'Benefit,' a local band.

Inside the bank, visitors could register for two free ten-speed bikes. Registration will continue through September 6 at the University Office.

Students, faculty and members of the administration staff made up the bulk of the crowd. Guests included Dr. William H. Wagoner, Chancellor of the University.

Dr. William Malloy, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, who helped with arrangements for the event, said, 'We appreciate what Wachovia has done.' Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities, also spoke enthusiastically about the party. 'The kids think it's great!,' she said.

Dr. Richard Deas, Chairman of the Music Department, and Dr. Richard Steen, were seen listening intently to the rock band.

Other members of the faculty, seen in various stages of eating hot dogs, included Walter Allen of the History Department, Robert Appleton, Professor of Business, and Dr. Jim Slager, Psychological Counselor in the Counseling and Testing Center.

William H. Joyner, city executive for Wachovia in Wilmington, and his family enjoyed the food and festive atmosphere, as did Alex S. Hall, Retail Banking Officer for the city.

The students—all of whom seemed tanned and relaxed in their shorts or jeans, t-shirts and bare feet—seemed unanimous agreement that the bash was a good idea from their point of view. They seemed to relish the hot afternoon sun and beach-like atmosphere. Most of them are already users of bank services.

Terry Bradshaw, for example, uses a checking account, and he keeps two savings accounts for money he earns during the summer, he said. 'I have a car, and that is expensive,' said Terry, a freshman from Wilmington.

Tim Powell, a junior biology major from Burgaw, and Nina Markham, a junior in environmental studies from Elizabeth City, agreed that they like good service and convenience in their bank. 'Wachovia is in a great location for students,' Tim said, 'We're all the time needing to cash checks.'

John Hostettler, a Granite Falls native who is a senior in geology, said he likes to use checks for receipts. 'Then I know how I've spent my money,' he explained. He also has savings accounts, he said.

Page Campbell, a senior biology major from Hendersonville, said she keeps a savings account because 'I want to save, though I'm not always able to.' Page explained that she works part-time in the marine biology lab and likes to put away part of her income when possible. 'I also have a checking account,' she said.

Like Page, Peggy Clark works and likes to save. Peggy is originally from Ohio but is now a resident of Wilmington. She is a sophomore majoring in marine biology.

David Smith, an accounting major from Jacksonville, uses his checking account to keep track of the bills he's paid and his rent.

Bobbie Fountain, also from Jacksonville, has a savings account but no checking account. An elementary education major, Bobbie works part-time.

Common Cause to Meet

The Wilmington chapter of Common Cause will present a forum in the Education building Sept. 10 at 8 p.m. Common Cause is an organization founded by John Gardner which functions pri-

* & 40 lbs. chili

Donald Trott of Jacksonville and Helen Pantazis of Durham stretched back in the sun and agreed that both checking and savings accounts are a good idea. Helen is a freshman psychology major, and Donald is a sophomore majoring in business.

Like the students he spent the afternoon chatting with, Joe Dixon, manager of the bank, enjoyed the day. 'Students are very important to us,' Dixon explained, 'and we take them very seriously. They're one of the best investments we can make. They're the leaders of tomorrow, and we want to start serving them the best way we know how today.'

'Wachovia-Seahawk Day' was designed to let the students know exactly that.

Do Something Important—Volunteer!

*A disadvantaged youth.
A handicapped teenager.
A lonely senior citizen.
All welcome YOUR help.*

For Details: Mrs. Linda Moore
Director of Student
Activities in Pub

THE 4TH CORNER

- TOPS & BOTTOMS
- LEATHERCRAFTS
- JEWELRY
- WATERBEDS
- INCENSE & OILS
- HEADGEAR

4405 WRIGHTSVILLE AVENUE
WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA 28401
PHONE (919) 791-9325

Topics for discussion will include the issues which Common Cause has been working on in the Congress. Their main efforts have been on campaign financing, but considerable work has been done on congressional reform, equal rights amendment, and tax reform.

Leading the discussion will be Ann McBride from the national CC office and Hugh Spitzer, chairperson of CC/Alabama. All those interested are cordially invited to attend and participate in the informative discussion.

STUDENTS ENJOY WACHOVIA-SEAHAWK DAY

PHOTOS BY NEAL HUNTLEY

A -- On the sidewalks, in sun or in shade, students gathered to groove on the music, feast on the hot dogs, and keep cool with Pepsi and Coke.

B -- Wachovia staff members kept thirsts quenched very efficiently and cheerfully.

C -- "Benefit" had a great day, as did hoardes of UNC-W students, faculty, and Wachovia staff members.

D -- The chow line never wanted for ravenous fun-seekers, as students found Wachovia-Seahawk Day a great chance to enjoy eating, drinking, listening to good music, and just talking with each other.

E -- Even as the afternoon wore on, the folks kept right on -- hot dogs, Cokes, music, and conversation are a pretty sure bet to draw a crowd.

FLEDGLING

STAFF MEETING
SEPT-5, 6-8 P.M.
UPSTAIRS PUB

ALL INTERESTED PEOPLE INVITED

The Editor will be in the office for those unable to attend the 6-8 meeting from 2:30 - 3:30 on that same day.

Reed's
JEWELERS
27 NORTH FRONT STREET
WILMINGTON, N.C. 28401

UNC-W
CLASS RINGS

men's $95.00

ladies' $60.00

come
a you are!

Where pizza is always
in good taste?

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR
NOON BUFFET
11:30-1:30
3617 Market Street

EDITORIALS—

The Gadfly: What's the big idea?

... more on Playboy, censorship

Last week as you may remember, I indulged in a simple short paean to the innocent joys of returning to the college life with an assist from G. Chaucer. It was a short lived euphoria. There on page two of the SEAHAWK I encountered a very depressing article.

PLAYBOY, PLAYGIRL, PENTHOUSE and VIVA are no longer available to us on campus. That in itself is no great loss, but the implications of the action taken by Col. Clark are quite unpleasant.

I hope no dormies are killed crossing College Rd., to the Zip Mart in quest of one of these flesh magazines. The rest of us will forage for ourselves although, as the article stated, those readers of VIVA may feel a bit pinched. Be these inconveniences as they may, there are more weighty problems.

I am greatly interested in Col. Clark's views on what image a university should have. I had always thought that a university was a place where all views of life could be examined, a place where more than the average or accepted view of the state of things could be explored by those who were interested in knowledge. Universities are supposed to be peopled with those who are seeking maturity, a greater knowledge of themselves and the world around them. In that context, the now absent publications are not merely luxuries, but a part of the learning experience.

If UNC-W were a high school then perhaps the explanation that we were being saved from indiscreet magazine covers might be valid. UNC-W is not a high school although it might as well be one if the university refuses to accept the maturity of its students.

Col. Clark and the Chancellor may not consider their move censorship. The American Heritage Dictionary defines a censor as "an official examiner of printed or other materials who may prohibit what he considers objectionable."

While the American Heritage Dictionary is not my favorite dictionary, having a tendency toward quantity not quality, I think its definition would encompass the university's action. No one but Humpty Dumpty is entitled to switch the meaning of words to suit himself.

The whole situation is reduced to absurdity by the removal of magazines which contain excellent articles only to have such books as THE HAPPY HOOKER. The "explanations" for the situation certainly don't help.

I am left amazed by Col. Clark's statement, "What's underneath the covers of a book is one thing... what's on the cover is entirely different."

In the context in which it is used this is an extremely hypocritical statement. It leaves me wondering if "The Story of O" and "Autobiography of a Flea" would be acceptable at UNC-W if they came in cute little covers.

I don't think that Dr. Waggoner will have to worry about a censorship fight. As apathetic as most students are here, he should worry about keeping them awake long enough to get from one class to another. Indeed, if the student body were not so apathetic this sad little affair might never have happened.

I do not mourn the passing of these magazines from this campus, but the manner of their passing makes me feel uneasy. I hope this type of "selection in merchandising" does not spread to the classroom.

— The Gadfly

(Editor's note: Amen!)

THE TEXT RIP-OFF

The point is made in an unsigned letter to the editor this week that textbooks are too costly to change every year. This makes resale and buying used copies impossible and puts an added financial strain on virtually every student.

It is not unreasonable to ask of our professors to simply add the most recent developments in their fields to their lectures, rather than expecting us to continue to support textbook publishers and their dependents with so many of our hard earned dollars.

If a student could count on selling some of his texts at the end of the semester, he might be able to afford the books for his next semester... if he can buy a few used texts for his new classes.

The "new textbook rip-off" is wasting thousands of student dollars. It is time and trouble for bookstore, students, and faculty alike. And it's damned unnecessary.

Thank you, WACHOVIA

Last Wednesday's Wachovia-Seahawk Day was a delight for students, faculty, staff, and families. Well planned, prepared for, and executed, it was glowing proof that community and university can cooperate to achieve mutual benefits.

With the number of people gathered, it was inevitable that an accident would occur, but when the table with the "fixins" for the hot dogs collapsed it took branch bank manager Joe Dixon and his staff only seconds to replenish the supplies of mustard, ketchup, chili, onions, and slaw, and continue to feed hundreds of ravenous students.

It was a great day. The sun was shining, there was plenty to eat and drink, and "Benefit!" added good music to the afternoon festivities.

We'd like to thank Joe Dixon and all the Wachovia Bank folks. They are good neighbors, and it's nice to know that they like and respect college students. They rate pretty highly with us too.

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on tuesday for wednesday distribution. all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on monday for publication on thursday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief
robert maxey, advertising director
john wilkins, music editor
sheryl moore, photographer
ms. linda moore, adviser

ATTENTION FRESH MEN

If you have had any experience with Student Government, then you are a prime candidate for an SGA position. Freshmen have much to offer UNC-W in the way of new ideas and incentives for the general student body. As an elected officer or senator representing the freshman class, you will have much voice in Student Government affairs. The SGA is a valuable learning experience.

Editor's note: The following letter was found tacked to the SEAHAWK door. Although it is STRICTLY against our policy to run unsigned letters (though we will withhold names if requested to), the point made in the letter is well RIP-OFF. For more on costly textbooks, see THE TEXT RIP-OFF, an editorial on this page.

STUDENTS INTERESTED IN SAVING MONEY

We, the students of UNC-W, feel that the instructors of UNC-W should be required to keep a text book for a course for two years. The present cost of books and supplements are so expensive that it is very costly to buy new books for every course every semester. We can't sell our old books because they are no longer used. We feel that by using the same textbook for two years, the students and the University would save money. This would allow students to resell and buy used books. If it is necessary that a textbook be changed for some reason, then instructors should submit a request to the proper authorities.

Rocky Says:

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome all students enrolled for the first time at UNC-W. As an entering student, you will discover new ideas, incentives, and purposes for your lives, but more importantly, you will learn an appreciation and understanding for others as they, too, pursue their new-found goals.

College is a time of growing; and, as in any growth process, it is a mixture of pain and happiness. Pain, because new ideas which change you and your world sometimes hurt, and it takes time to adjust to them. Happiness, because there are friends, professors, and counselors to help you adjust.

It is a time for meeting the minds and of great personal challenge. No one person remains the same after attending UNC-W. He is not the same person when he leaves. He is a better person.

Let me encourage you to reach out, become involved, ask questions, and learn to participate. For many students, involvement is purely intellectual or academic; others need more than simply a strict learning situation. They are concerned with personality growth, self-identity, and self-respect; but whatever your interest, you will find the university willing to assist.

I remind you that in order to do the best possible job, we will need your help and support.

Best wishes for a successful school year.

Rocky Lane Moore
Student Body President

Study hints:

GET MOST FROM TEXTS

From AAP Student Service

A textbook, properly used, can be invaluable to you in any course. It can make the course easier for you; it can add to the knowledge you gain in the classroom as well as prepare you for classroom work; it can and should serve as a permanent resource book for you after the course itself has been completed. The following six steps have proved to be successful in using textbooks, and they can easily be applied to any assignment.

1. Survey the entire book
2. Read for the main ideas
3. Question yourself as you read
4. Underline and make margin notes
5. Use study guides
6. Review systematically

SURVEY THE ENTIRE BOOK

Before you read your textbook, make a brief survey of the author's method and intention so you understand how he has ordered his materials.

READ THE PREFACE carefully to acquire a sense of the author's major purpose in writing the book, his approach to the materials, and the structure he is following.

SCAN THE TABLE OF CONTENTS to grasp the organization and scope of the book.

As you read particular chapters, review the table of contents to remind yourself of the larger context the author has in mind.

READ THE CONCLUDING chapter or final paragraphs of the book. The author will often stress and summarize those major points that he has demonstrated specifically in individual chapters.

GLANCE AT THE BOOK as a whole and at the apparatus that supplements the text: chapter headings and summaries, reading suggestions, quizzes, chronologies, discussion questions, graphs, pictures and diagrams. In a short time you will have a sense of the author's overall techniques which will help you read the book more profitably.

Before you read a chapter in the text, SURVEY THE AUTHOR'S MAIN IDEAS. Read whatever headnotes or summaries appear in the chapter. They provide a clue to all of the main concepts that the author is stressing, and they serve as a handy outline.

EXAMINE THE HEADINGS and sub-headings of the chapter to gain a sense of its main ideas, organization, and direction. The arrangement of these headings often will suggest which topics are primary and which are subordinate.

READ FOR THE MAIN IDEAS

The author is trying to convey a central concept in any given chapter of his book.

VAC to sponsor campus

The Voluntary Action Center and several area service agencies concerned with providing help for the handicapped will have exhibits on campus next week to highlight their "Learn About the Handicapped-Care About the Handicapped" campaign.

Located in various lobby areas around campus, each booth will explain the services one agency provides, and the opportunities available for volunteers to help in this effort.

The booths will also be displayed at Long Leaf Mall on Saturday, Sept. 7, and in various downtown banks Sept. 16 through 20.

and you should concern yourself with that concept rather than worry excessively about details. By concentrating on the main idea, you will find that facts and supporting evidence are much easier to remember. Periodically ask yourself what the author is trying to say in a particular section of a chapter.

COORDINATE YOUR CLASS NOTES WITH YOUR reading. Good lectures or class discussions should further illuminate the perceptions you have derived from your reading. Keep full, legible, and accurate lecture notes. Like your textbook, lecture notes will serve as a basic part of your knowledge in later years, and you will find yourself returning to them for guidance.

READ YOUR ASSIGNMENT before the class discussion. Not only will this technique make cramming for examinations unnecessary, but it will also give you confidence in your own ideas. If you wait until the professor and other students discuss an assignment before you read it, you will lose faith in yourself as an independent played at Long Leaf Mall on Saturday, Sept. 7, and in various downtown banks Sept. 16 through 20.

(continued on page 8)

"handicapped" displays

Since many people seem to have a desire to help a handicapped person, but feel awkward or apprehensive doing so, the Voluntary Action Center is sponsoring a free workshop on Wednesday, Oct. 2 to give prospective volunteers some initial orientation and training in this area. Dr. James Slager, a psychological counselor and member of the psychology department at UNC-W, is coordinating the workshop. Brochures about this will be available at the exhibit booths.

The Cape Fear Voluntary Action Center provides a placement service for anyone interested in volunteer work. The UNC-W branch of the office is located in the Student Activities Office in the Pub. For more information on working with the handicapped, or for information on volunteering in general, contact Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities.

NCNB

Welcome
Students

savings checking

24 hour banking

GENERAL BANKING

NEEDS

502 SO. COLLEGE RD.

right across from UNC-W at the stoplight

HOGGARD HALL

Hopefully, Don Trivette, Director of the Computer Center, will forgive our front page fun this week. But honestly, we couldn't resist after hearing via the grapevine that the secretaries in Hoggard Hall were referring to the building as Trivette Hall.

Remodeling over the summer saw the Computer Center spread out to take over several new offices and classrooms on the second floor of Hoggard. So really, it still is Hoggard Hall. (photo by paul walker)

TRANSCENDENTAL MEDITATION: FASTEST GROWING STUDENT MOVEMENT

Note: John Finkle, a teacher of TM, will give a free public lecture on this easily learned technique in the upstairs Pub on Wednesday, Sept. 4th (Today!) at

It's time to choose your rings

SOLAND $300 to 3000
WED. RING $100
POLYNESIA $300 to 3000
WED. RING $200
Keepsake assures perfect clarity, fine white color and precise cut.

Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

28 N Front St • 763-8311
Hanover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

4 p.m. and again at 7:30 p.m.)

by John Finkle

Are you using all your creative potential? Or are you, like most of us, wasting 95% of your full promise? Transcendental Meditation--an easy, natural technique of deep relaxation--is unlocking latent powers for almost half a million people across the country, with 10-20,000 new enthusiasts discovering its benefits every month.

From campuses here and in 60 other countries, people practicing this technique for 15 minutes morning and evening report peak experiences in creative intelligence, mind expansion, energy and improved human relationships that sound almost too good to be true.

From Yale University, for example, these are quotes from men who had been meditating four to thirteen months:

"As soon as I started TM, I felt as if someone had lifted a cover from my eyes or had let me hear something beautiful. I was in a euphoric state for weeks. After about three months of meditating, I tried marijuana again. (This student had been into drugs for four years before he tried TM.) It had a very dulling effect on my mind. Now I am engaged in a lot of activities. I don't seem to be taxing my resources, yet I'm occupied from 8 in the morning 'till 2 or 3 the next morning. I used to be uptight, nervous, always yelling at people. I haven't felt that way for many months."

"...Meditation has provided a unification and direction of my studies and has increased my creativity... given me an integration of myself... It also provides a context into which I can fit all my different studies. I can take a philosophy course and see that Heidegger was probably aware of consciousness expansion, or have the direct experience of what is mentioned in a poetry class about Blake. It never used to happen."

"...I am reading faster... I got depressed over the incredible reality of existentialism and decided I have to find a way out. TM has provided a new depth of life... the actual experience of sitting to meditate morning and evening is a nice rest. It calms me down, is pleasurable. Since I've been meditating my work is better...."

"There's been a quantum increase in the quality of my life since I started meditating. I feel that in the clarity of my thinking, the enthusiasm with which I approach my work, the amount of myself I can give to my students (the interviewee is a biology instructor) and everyone I interact with, all have increased many times. I often feel calmness in tense situations. And it's all due to TM. Before I started, I was thinking of dropping out."

What exactly is TM? With all these beneficial side effects, surely it must be something more than just a natural technique for deep relaxation! Well, it is certainly that--and scientifically proven. At medical schools and psych labs students have been monitored for physiological effects during TM. The restfulness received is twice as deep as that received at the deepest point of a full night's sleep, although the mind remains highly alert. A study at U.C.L.A. showed a mean decrease in respiration in this "wakeful hypometabolic state" as well as increased galvanic skin resistance (an indication of relaxation)--both responses (continued on page 8)

Payne's

Miss Debbie Ballard, of Wilmington, sports short-waisted cord jacket, cord flares, and a western shirt, all by Levi Strauss and Co. San Francisco, Cal. Denim shoes by 44 West.

Available at

Payne's

Downtown, Hanover Center
& Long Leaf Mall

Professional
Uniform
Center
THE TOTAL IMAGE CO.
Complete Range
of Sizes

READ NEW HANOVER MAIL ORDER
GLEN MEADE PLAZA
762-9898

MUSIC

by: John Wilkins

Zinc Alloy & the Hidden Riders of Tomorrow or A Creamed Cage In August

MARC BOLAN & T. REX

T. Rex BLNA-7751 (import)

In 1970 MARC BOLAN made his first big attempt to become a rock star in the United States. Four years later he still has this great feat in mind, but in reality he has gained little ground.

With the release of his first Reprise album, T. REX, BOLAN's "Ride A White Swan" never achieved the foothold he needed in the States. Therefore, his later albums lacked the solid base that was a must for their success.

The second Reprise album, ELECTRIC WARRIOR, gave BOLAN a more solid foundation with "Bang A Gong" hitting high on many radio station charts. Then the SLIDER LP came out and BOLAN was hit hard by critics who must have listened to the album knowing beforehand what they were to write.

With revenge in mind, the last T. Rex album, TANX, was released and it was realized that BOLAN was a serious musician. This album was geared more to the musical than the lyrical aspect of song writing and helped BOLAN's prestige much in the musical world.

Now, with the new ZINC ALLOY album soon coming out in the States, Bolan will once again lose some of the prestige he has fought so hard to gain.

The most noticeable mess-up on the album is the emphasis on back up vocals. At this time, the popular English trend seems to be groups of soul sisters as backing vocalists. When done the right way, this can give an album such a dynamic sound that without them the album would be lost in the racks. In the case of ZINC ALLOY, the backup vocals cover up certain musical qualities of the songs as well as hide BOLAN's guitar work. Apparently, the girls have not worked with BOLAN long enough to know what hurts and helps his music. Maybe by the next album they will have this knowledge.

Side I begins with "Venus Loon" and "Sound Pit," which reflect to the Metal Guru and Telegram Sam of the SLIDER LP. These songs are really not worth your while, in relation to TANX, and could easily have been discarded. The songs "Explosive Mouth" and Teenage Dream," however, can be compared to any of BOLAN's work up to this time.

"Teenage Dream" is the single released from the album. The song, though it is the best one on the album, is not as good as could be expected from BOLAN. In fact, it is not even top 40 material and is less likely

KARTOOONZ

PEANUTS

OKAY, SCHOOL SUMMER IS JUST ABOUT OVER!

YOU'VE HAD YOUR REST... NOW YOU'D BETTER WATCH OUT!

THIS YEAR I'M GONNA BRING YOU TO YOUR KNEES!

* SIGH *

the DROPOUTS

HOW DO YOU EXPLAIN THE FACT THAT UNDER YOUR ADMINISTRATION THIS NATION IS 50 YEARS BEHIND IN EVERYTHING!?

SIMPLE, EUPHORIA...

-I'M A NOSTALGIA BUFF!

FRANKLY SPEAKING... by phil frank

COLLEGE MEDIA SERVICES-BOX 9411-BERKELEY, CA 94709

to make radio than the other songs on the album. Lyrically the song is based on "Whatever happened to the teenage dream" and maybe BOLAN's life and views when he was younger. Musically BOLAN has added a string section which contributes to the smoothness of the song.

Side II is where the back up girls take over. Both "Liquid Gaag" and "Carmel Smith" could have been much better songs if the backup vocals had been sung and not screamed. After these two songs, "Spanish Midnight" is like the calm after a storm and then BOLAN does what he does best. And that is ROCK.

If a single is put out in this country it should be one of the last three songs on this side. "Interstellar Soul" and "The Leopards Featuring Gardenia and the Mighty Slug" are both powerful songs and fair examples of the type of music BOLAN writes. Though the lyrics are simple in the songs, the music is the most complex BOLAN has attempted up to this time.

For the average record buyer, this album should be overlooked, but for a collector, the album easily represents a change in BOLAN's music. What direction he takes will only be known in the future.

Til then, Rock out.

Budweiser.

KING OF BEERS.

'When you say
Budweiser,
you've said it all!

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry

Bags

Candles

Handmade Spreads

Embroidered Dresses

Belts

Leatherwork
Headgear

Mexican Handicraft.

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

TRANSCENDENTAL MEDITATION

(continued from page 6)
more marked than in a full night's sleep. There were profound reductions in oxygen consumption and a dramatic decrease in blood lactate (a biochemical indicator of anxiety) and a 25 percent decrease in the workload of the heart. Most excitingly, the EEG measurements correlated with this state are unique. During TM the brain waves become highly ordered and synchronized. The chaotic, shifting frequency distribution characteristic of waking consciousness is replaced by a more orderly and simplified pattern of waves that expand from localized areas of the brain to cover the whole cortex. The left and right cerebral hemispheres become synchronized in frequency and phase, suggesting a functional expansion of the potential of the mind. The orderliness, "synchrony and other features of the brain waves imply a profound harmonizing effect within both the deep inner brain (the thalamus) and the conscious thinking area (the cortex) and their mutual interaction. This may account for the metabolic effects of TM, which seems to provide a rest deep enough to remove all stresses and strains from the nervous system, and also for the profound tendency to bring about a pattern of improvement in higher brain functions which can be described as greater orderliness in the thinking process.

Practitioners of TM claim it is a perfectly natural state of consciousness. In meditation the mind is simply allowed to follow its natural tendency to seek a very deep state of rest while remaining keenly alert. This restful alertness, they say, is a fourth major state of consciousness, beyond sleeping, dreaming, or waking, a state of consciousness, that most people have never learned to experience at will even though it is perfectly natural. TM is not a religion, not a philosophy, not a form of self-hypnosis. There is no forced control of the mind, no tape recordings, electronic gear, or strange body postures or chants. TM, they say, is as American as apple pie.

TM is always taught privately to the individual by instructors trained for many months and employed by the International Meditation Society. It is a technique based on personal experience, in which a person is shown how to direct the attention toward the "source of thought," described as an "inexhaustible reservoir of creative intelligence and energy." The technique is easily learned in a few hours and results, which are cumulative, leading to a state of "full mental potential," are felt from the very first time.

ID's validated

New ID cards and validation stickers are available in the Student Affairs Office, Alderman 113, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

(continued from page 5)

reader. Read the material regularly and discuss it in class so that you are constantly testing your ideas. Your verbalization of reading material will reinforce it in your mind.

SUMMARIZE: WHATEVER YOU HAVE READ. After finishing a page, restate the main ideas in your mind and then glance back to see if you are correct. Before closing your text, repeat the major points of the material you have just read. See if you can jot down the central ideas in the section you have just completed. If you can, you will find that most of the supporting details will return to you rather easily. In addition, when you resume your reading the next day, your brief review will serve as an encouragement to begin the next assignment. By noting the major points of your reading, you will find that your preparation for an examination is a relatively simple matter.

GET MOST FROM TEXTS

INTRAMURALS OPEN

Intramurals for the 74-75 season have now officially opened up, with the return of the popular sport of flag football for the men. Besides this type of competition, there are several other activities to be included in the intramural program this year.

Along the line of team sports, there will be basketball, softball, and volleyball. For the individual who may prefer to work alone there will be pool, ping pong, tennis, bowling, and surfing.

The majority of the activities are held on the campus ground, but if the facility is not available at UNC-W, it is held at another site where equipment will be available.

Posters are usually hung in the different buildings around campus to notify one when and where registration will be held for a particular sport.

To meet the qualifications, one must only be a student of UNC-W and really want to play.

"We urge more girls as well as boys to participate in this year's intramural program to make it the biggest and best yet," said Coach Dave Warner.

TO BE CONTINUED NEXT WEEK

("How to Get The Most Out of Your Textbooks," appearing here in three installments, is the first of a new series of AAP STUDENT SERVICE articles designed to help college students improve their use of study time and learning materials. A complimentary complete copy will be sent to you if you write to AAP STUDENT SERVICE, Association of American Publishers, Inc., One Park Avenue, New York 10316.)

A Drinking Song

Wine comes in at the mouth;
And love comes in at the eye;
That's all we shall know for truth
Before we grow old and die.
I lift the glass to my mouth
I look at you, and I sigh.

-William Butler Yeats

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"

Wine Art, Inc.

HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

3342 WRIGHTSVILLE AVE.

791-9675

Fri. Sept. 6 8:30 P.M. in the Pub

FALL Mixer

Featuring

BEANCA

SOUTHWEST

FREE BUILD

Sponsored by:

SGA DANCE COMMITTEE

and

BUDWEISER of Wilmington

PLEASE NOTE: ONLY Students

with a Fall '74 I.D. Decal and their dates will be admitted to this dance.

NO ADMISSION CHARGED

seahawk

volume xvii, number 3

september 11, 1974

eight pages

WHEN WILL IT END? WHERE WILL IT LEAD? AFTER THE FIRST ARTICLE ON THE MAGAZINE FIASCO, SOME PEOPLE SAID WE WEREN'T STRONG ENOUGH IN OUR EDITORIAL STAND. AFTER THE GADFLY'S COLUMN LAST WEEK, WE HAD EVEN MORE SAY TO US, "DON'T GIVE IN," FOR MORE EXPLORATION, SEE FROM THE NEST ON PAGE FOUR, AND TUNE IN NEXT WEEK FOR MORE COMMENTS. . . FROM PLAYGIRL'S MANAGING EDITOR ROBIN TUCKER, FROM STUDENTS, AND... WELL, PLENTY OF SURPRISES IN STORE.

Weitz begins lectures in Judaic studies

Two series of public lectures — "Great Trials in World History" and "Lives That Enlighten and Ennoble Our Lives" — will be the first offerings under the newly established Resident Lectureship in Judaic Studies at UNC-W.

Dr. Martin M. Weitz, Rabbi of Temple of Israel in Wilmington, will serve as lecturer in residence for the series which is being cosponsored by the UNC-W Office of Continuing Education and a number of patrons from the community.

The "Great Trials in World History" series will meet for eight weeks in Isaac Bear Hall, Room III, beginning September 10. The featured topic for the first lecture will be "The Trial of Socrates—Athens" in which Dr. Weitz will delve into the verdict of history and its significance.

Other lectures in the series and their dates include:

September 24 "The Trial of Jesus—Jerusalem" (What are the "Facts and the Myths?") The variety of interpretations, past and present, on the historicity of Jesus and the authenticity of the "Crucifixion" Saga, with contemporary analysis of recent works such as "The Passover Plot.")

October 8 "The Talmud on Trial—Paris and other cities" (The events of 1240 and 1520 with focus on Pfefferkorn, a converted Jew, and Reuchlin, a Christian humanist, who took opposite views at the trial.)

October 15 "The Trial of Galileo—1633—Rome" (The saga of a seventy year-old scientist who first was welcomed to Rome for his discoveries and later incorporated by the Inquisition for "heresy.")

October 22 "The Trial of Baruch Spinoza—1656—Amsterdam" (Why Amsterdam Jewish leaders decided on this course and what it did to the "God-intoxicated" man. Why it was a confrontation of God-concepts, past, present, and future.)

October 29 "The Trial of Alfred Dreyfus—1894—1899—Paris" (How it portrays the emancipated Jew in Western Europe and relates to modern Anti-Semitism. How it affected Herzl, while a journalist in Paris, for contemporary challenges.)

November 5 "The Trial of John Thomas Scopes—Dayton, Tennessee" (How did Darrow-Bryan's legal confrontation make this a world arena and why? How were science and religion involved in "interpretations of Evolution?" Who won what and what happened to Scopes himself?)

November 12 "The Adolph Eichmann Trial—1961—Jerusalem" (The saga of the Six Million reflected in this unique trial in Jerusalem with interpretation of the volume by Gideon Hausner, Attorney General for Israel, who conducted the trial and wrote the book JUSTICE IN JERUSALEM.)

The "Lives That Enlighten and Ennoble Our Lives" series, described by Dr. Weitz as a "Jewish 'Profiles in Courage,'" will meet in Bear Hall, Room III, beginning September 12. The first lecture is entitled "Moses and Isaiah: Prototypes for Prophecy."

Other lectures in the series and their dates are: September 19 "Jesus and the Unknown Teacher of Righteousness"

October 3 "Maimonides and Spinoza: Heretics and Heroes"

October 10 "Freud and Einstein: Worlds Within and Without"

October 24 "Leo Baeck and Martin Buber: Spokesmen for Our Generation and for Dialogue Today"

October 31 "Nelson Glueck and Maurice Elendradh"

November 7 "Ben Gurion and Golda Meir" (Founding Fathers of modern Israel and their significance to Jewry and the world)

Both lecture series are open to the general public without charge. No college credit will be given for participation in the series. Persons desiring further information should call or write the Office of Continuing Education or Dr. Martin Weitz at UNC-W, 791-4330.

Dr. Weitz, a native of Denver, Colorado, holds the Ph.D., D.D., and D.H.L. degrees from Hebrew Union College and the University of Cincinnati and honorary degrees from Hebrew Union College, Northern Colorado University and Lincoln University. He has served congregations in Wisconsin, Iowa, New Jersey, Arkansas, Maryland and New York and has held resident lectureships at Drake University, the State University of New Jersey—Rutgers, the Manhattan Center of New York Institute of Technology and Lincoln University.

Activities Office to sponsor student leadership workshop

The Student Activities Office will once again sponsor a leadership workshop for anyone interested in learning or increasing their leadership skills. This year's workshop will be held Friday, Sept. 20 from 7 to 10:30 p.m., and Saturday, Sept. 21 from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

Students attending the six hours of discussion and evaluation will examine such topics as the traits of successful leaders, motivational techniques, decision-making skills, the self-confidence aspect, interpersonal relationships, and understanding "the system." Saturday morning's session will continue, not duplicate Friday evening's.

Contact Ms. Linda Moore in her office in the Pub for more details. Interested students are asked to sign up with Ms. Moore before Thursday, Sept. 19.

NTE test dates set

College seniors preparing to teach school may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of the four different test dates announced this week by Educational Testing Service, a nonprofit, educational organization which prepares and administers this testing program.

New dates for the testing of prospective teachers are: November 9, 1974, and January 25, April 5, and July 19, 1975. The tests will be given at nearly 500 locations throughout the United States, ETS said.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and by several states for certification or licensing of teachers. Some colleges also require all seniors preparing to teach to take the examinations.

On each full day of testing, prospective teachers may take the Common Examinations which measure their professional preparation and general educational background and an Area Examination which measures their mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, or their colleges, for specific advice on which examinations to take and on which dates they should be taken.

The Bulletin of Information for Candidates contains a list of test centers, and information about the examinations, as well as a Registration Form. Copies may be obtained from college placement officers, school personnel departments, or directly from National Teacher Examinations, Box 911, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Walk-to-work carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen areas
- Heat-pump range, refrigerator, garbage disposal
- Individually-controlled air conditioning
- Large swimming pool. Central laundry facilities.

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished $135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished $149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished $160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished $185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT...

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive, take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

THE
4 TH.
CORNER

4405 WRIGHTSVILLE AVENUE
WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA 28401
PHONE (919) 791-9325

- TOPS & BOTTOMS
- LEATHERCRAFTS
- JEWELRY
- WATERBEDS
- INCENSE & OILS
- HEADGEAR

Professional Uniform Center
THE TOTAL IMAGE
Complete Range of Sizes
762-9898

Exhibits highlight VAC's 'Care about handicapped' campaign

Fifteen exhibits are now displayed on campus to highlight a "Learn about the Handicapped" campaign sponsored by the Voluntary Action Center and area service agencies. Each booth explains the services one agency provides, and the opportunities available for volunteers to help with that effort.

Students, faculty and staff are encouraged to visit the booths and give some thought as to how their talents and abilities may best be utilized in serving Wilmington's mentally, physically, or socially handicapped citizens. The lobby of the Pub has three booths; the education-psychology building, the residence hall, Kenan Hall, and Hoggard each contain two; and the gymnasium, library, and cafeteria lobbies each have one. These exhibits will move to the No. 11 Shopping Center this Saturday, and will be on display in various downtown banks next week through Friday, Sept. 20.

Since many people seem to have a desire to help a handicapped person, but feel awkward or apprehensive doing so, the Voluntary Action Center is sponsoring a free workshop on Wednesday, Oct. 2 to give prospective volunteers some initial orientation and training in this area. Dr. James Slager, a psychological counselor and member of the psychology department at UNC-W, is coordinating the workshop. Brochures about this will be available at the exhibit booths.

The Cape Fear Voluntary Action Center provides a placement service for anyone interested in volunteer work. The UNC-W branch of the office is located in the Student Activities Office in the Pub. For more information on volunteering in general, contact Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities.

APO SPONSORS FALL RUSH

Since 1925, Alpha Phi Omega has been the one persistent service oriented organization on college campuses. It is a student organization national in scope, but campus-oriented in action.

It is unique in being a true fraternity in fellowship, but one inclusive in membership, respecting each man's right to be proud of his race, his color, his religion, his political preferences and his national origin. We believe that serving mankind is an enriching complement to a college education.

Alpha Phi Omega is a service fraternity. Though a diverse fraternity, we are united in our diversity. We all share the common goals of Leadership, Friendship, and Service. We like to think service to the chapter comes after service to our fellow man-on campus, in the community, and in the nation.

On September 16 & 17, APO will hold its Fall Rush for any interested male student. Beginning at 7:30 in the upstairs room of the Student Services Building, the brotherhood will be available for further explanation of our fraternal goals. APO is looking forward to meeting you at this time.

Rick Deasy, APO

The Research Committee of UNC-W invites all seniors interested in research to put an original research project to discuss this project with the chairmen of their major departments.

Upon the approval of a faculty sponsor who is willing to guide a student research, he may apply for a UNC-W Research Fellowship. There are six such fellowships available, and each carries a stipend (retroactive to the beginning of this semester) of one full academic year's tuition.

The prime consideration in evaluating qualifications of applicants are their creative potential and the scientific merit of their proposed projects; grades are not weighed heavily in selecting the winners. Application forms are available from department chairmen; completed application must be received by Professor Thad Dankel, Mathematics Department, by October 1.

Do Something

Important

Volunteer!

NURSING STUDENTS TO HOST SNA

MEMBERS FROM FOUR SCHOOLS

UNC-W Associate Degree in Nursing students will host the first 1974-75 meeting of district 9, Student Nurse Association of North Carolina, Saturday, 10 a.m. til noon, upstairs in the Pub.

help others to avoid crises, or to deal with them as they occur.

The executive board will meet at 10 with the general meeting beginning at 10:30. Luncheon will be provided at noon by the SNA Hospitality Committee.

The local SNA will host students and advisors from Fayetteville Technical Institute, Hamlet Hospital School of Nursing, James Sprunt Institute, and Southeastern Community College. Sampson County Technical Institute and Sandhills Community College have also been invited to participate.

Speakers will be Carolyn Gruelle of Crisis Line, Flo Stein of Open House, and a representative of Cape Fear Voluntary Action Center. They will discuss aspects of telephone and face-to-face crisis intervention and outreach services, and how students and graduate nurses may Hi Neighbor!

The Bookstore has some of the nicest

*Shirts,
*T-Shirts,
*and nighties
you ever did see.
Come see for ya' self.

Bookstore in The Pub

*and school supplies

Men & Women's Shoes

Pu Ann

Downtown

&

Long Leaf Mall

Reed's
JEWELERS
27 NORTH FRONT STREET
WILMINGTON, N.C. 28401

UNC-W CLASS RINGS

men's $95.00 ladies'
$60.00

EDITORIALS—

FROM THE NEST

You Can Take The Shirt Off My Back
As Long As It's Done Under Cover

BY KATHI BEALL

At first, I said to myself, Kathi, you're overreacting. So what if they've taken a couple of magazines off the bookstore rack.

Examining motives, re-examining, questioning myself and others (faculty, staff, and students), it became apparent. The recent move to banish Penthouse, Playboy, Playgirl, and Viva from the bookstore showed amazing poverty of intellect.

It is highly doubtful that the most chaste of Victorian schoolmarmms, if living in this era, would find the covers of all four magazines objectionable. And even if she did, we could always steer her away from the right hand wall where the magazines stand. Chances are, she'd miss the good parts anyway, since, if what we are lead to believe is the truth, the covers would steam up her prim and proper per glasses.

So my first point is that the covers are just NOT that indiscreet. Actually, PLAYGIRL is the only one of the four that I buy regularly. Here's the pitch—I reviewed the covers of the 1974 issues January through September. Of these eight issues (I've managed to misplace my June), only two covers even approach indiscretion. I would not pose before my family as on the cover of the January and Marc's? No? It is questionable. But as for the other issues, I would not consider it inappropriate (had I a body a little more beautiful and a little less chubby) to be caught in similar poses by a camera wielded by either of my grandmothers or parents. They just ain't naughty covers. Period.

Maybe the other three are much naughtier. But I rather doubt it.

The whole issue is rather cloudy. The reasoning behind the magazine removal is not sound. What next, we might ask.

The magazines in question are obviously not objectionable by community standards, or they would not be sold in so many local family-type stores. Why not here, then?

I really don't know. Maybe Col. Clark and Dr. Wagoner are embarrassed. Maybe they're getting pressure put on them from the "Outside."

Whatever the answer—and there's bound to be an answer, a regrettable decision has been made. We are not being dealt with fairly. No one asked us if we were offended; no one asked if we wanted protection from the alleged "indiscretion."

And as the sign in the bookstore says, use of the facility is limited to enrolled students, University employees, and their families. And I'd be willing to bet that the monthly sales of the four magazines quadrupled (at least) the number of complaints that anyone has gotten over the presence of the somewhat controversial four.

"Selection in merchandizing" is a cop-out. And so is this whole sordid episode. I was astounded when the gum and candy bars were taken out of the bookstore. Ditto the sunflower seeds. Shocked when the pantyhose were ripped off. The toothpaste disappearance left a nasty taste in my mouth. After the candles went out, the school was left in the dark. But now, I am completely nauseated.

Praise be I've only got one year left. If things get any worse, they'll pack me off to Cherry Hospital in a straight jacket.

Watch out kiddies, and careful what you buy. BIG BOTHER is watching you!!

Don't Touch That Dial

Yes boys and girls, UNC-W may soon face an on-campus radio station. Not only will it be representing a wide spectrum of progressive music, but up to the minute reports on campus, fraternal, and Baja activities as well. If you happen to find yourself interested and blessed by the charms of time, why not join in on the new age of radio?

Terry Ward

chess club seeks new members

The UNC-W Chess Club would like to extend its invitation to our newly arrived freshman class to its first meeting Tuesday, Sept. 17 at 3:00 p.m. upstairs in the Pub.

The Chess Club is mainly concerned with students who have any interest in playing or learning the game of Chess. Our club promotes competition for the campus students and sponsors tournaments for our local community. This helps our members in sustaining a greater expertise at the game of chess and at the same time offering a pleasant social atmosphere.

We will also hopefully establish certain channels of meeting other chess clubs who represent universities throughout the state.

Our first meeting will concern itself with adding new officers and finding an appropriate time to hold our future meetings. The club is only open to full-time or part-time students, and we extend also our invitation to the faculty of UNC-W.

If any student who is interested but cannot meet at this time due to schedule conflict, please leave note at the Chess Mail Box with your name and phone number. The box is at the Pub in back of Student Activities Office. We hope to see you there.

Alain Ghazal
President, Chess Club

Will There be a Student Directory?

No, unless unless all students will band together and work for a directory.

This year an accurate student directory is desired. The only possibility of having a directory will be for all people desiring a directory to fill out cards with their current address and phone number. These cards will be available in the Pub and boxes are provided to drop them in.

Whether you want a directory or not, take five minutes to give us this information so the ones who do want a directory can have one.

The deadline will be Sept. 15. Be serious about this matter and come by the Pub as soon as possible.

Anyone interested in helping with the directory as designer, suggestion maker, etc., please contact Betty. Phone 791-7095 after 6:00.

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on tuesday for wednesday distribution. all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on friday for publication on tuesday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief
robert maxey, advertising director
john wilkins, music editor
sheryl moore, paul walker, photographers
joyce creech, typist
ms. linda moore, advisor

COULD IT BE ?

There's something amiss in the Seahawk office, but I'm not 21 so they wouldn't let me in. And when I peeked in through the peepholes, can you imagine my amazement at what I saw? People typing, people talking, people actually walking around (HORRORS!) with all their clothes ON!!!! (photos by paul walker)

The Gadfly:

PARKING, APATHY... etc., ad nauseum

There are times when I am tempted to quit this column. This past week's experience with the apathy of the student body brought that temptation to its highest level so far. It would seem that most students here are merely degree seekers who don't really want a real education, just proof that they attended college for four years. Apparently nothing less than a beer shortage will cause the majority of the students on this campus to lose their cow-like placidity. Well, you and Col. Clark were made for each other.

There are, I tell myself, a faithful few out there who do care. So, I'll quit crying in my brew and get down to the business of this week's gripe, the parking problem.

As most of you intellectuals out there have probably noted, this is the era of Crisis and/or shortages. Well, we have a crisis caused by a shortage. Those of you who motor through the mechanized insanity of Wilmington's streets will find your sanity broken by the final straw of trying to find a place to park your heap.

Unless you arrive by 8 o'clock in the a.m. it is more than probable that you will be forced to park down by the new Marine Science building. If you feel compelled to park elsewhere, you may wander like the Flying Dutchman until some scholar reluctantly yields up his space.

Immediately, as you dart for the space, a Honda 50 motorcycle will appear in the freshly vacated area. Or maybe your car will stall just long enough so some other lucky soul will find rest. To say the least, it distracts one from academic pursuits when one's nerves are tighter than a two day drunk from trying to find some legal spot to hitch your beast. It's a bum deal for ten dollars.

So, you thought your troubles were over when you found that bit of hallowed ground. How wrong you were, you find out when you get ready to leave. At 12:30 the calm of the parking lots become bedlam as almost a horde attempts to pour itself through one spotlight on to College Rd.

The thin veneer of civilization acquired in class rapidly strips away to reveal the beast as drivers jockey for position. The lines lengthen, tempers grow shorter. Tomorrow maybe you'll take a taxi.

UNC-W has been fortunate to have its enrollment increase by about 11% this past year. Unfortunately, the traffic facilities have not grown with this increase. I do not speak here merely of parking lots, but also some method whereby the frustration of traffic jams may be avoided.

The addition of another spotlight at one of the other entrances would be of great value. I realize this simple solution is not so simple. No doubt, a study commission would have to be formed, formal drafts submitted to the proper authorities, etc. Still it might be considered. As it is, egress from UNC-W is almost as frustrating as trying to find a parking place. However, one must realize that once the student body has something else to worry about besides parking, they might become concerned with other matters, such as "selective merchandising" in magazines.

The Directors Company presents
RYAN O'NEAL
A
PETER BOGDANOVICH PRODUCTION
"PAPER MOON"

PG
Monday - Sept. 16 - 8 p.m.
Kenan Auditorium
A Paramount Release

PIZZA HUT

WELCOME BACK STUDENTS

NOON SPECIAL: Any small 10" Pizza with single ingredient $1.19
Good 11 am til 2 pm

TUESDAY IS FAMILY NIGHT

Small 10" - $1.29
Medium 13" - $2.29
Large 15" - $3.29

SPAGHETTI

Fresh Crisp Salad

INTRODUCTORY SPECIAL

Take this buck to the 4016 Oleander Drive Pizza Hut and get a dollar off on any large Pizza Hut Pizza or 50c off on any small pizza.

PIZZA HUT UNRESERVED NOTE
PIZZA HUTS OF WILMINGTON

Limit 1 Pizza Hut Dollar per pizza
Offer may be withdrawn any time without notice
SEPT. 30, 1974
ONE PIZZA HUT BUCK

Redeemable with the purchase of any LARGE-SIZE PIZZA
at 4016 OLEANDER DR.
799-3650
Pizza Hut Pete
PIZZA HUT PETE

BUSINESS FRAT RUSHES

Sigma Alpha Beta became the first professional fraternity organized on campus in the spring of '73. The fraternity is now seeking affiliation with Delta Sigma Pi, an international professional business fraternity.

To help members develop professionalism and to help members understand the organization of business are the purposes of the fraternity. These meetings are held per school month; a breakfast or dinner meeting paid for from fraternity funds, usually held on the second Tuesday of the month, and the other meeting being held on the fourth Thursday of each month at 11:30 a.m. in room 112 of the Isaac Bear Hall to conduct business.

The dinner meetings feature a guest speaker from the business community.

The organizational structure of the fraternity is patterned after a large corporation and the fraternity is operated in a business-like manner. During the year, however, several activities are planned that lead to a closer feeling of brotherhood among the members. Social events and participation in intramural football, basketball and softball head this list.

Working as a member of Sigma Alpha Beta prepares business students to function in the business community. Membership is open to male students pursuing a career in business, have attained 18 hours of university credit and have a 2.5 quality point average.

Anyone planning to seek a career in business is encouraged to consider joining Sigma Alpha Beta.

If you are interested in bettering your future as a businessman, stop by the business office in Isaac Bear Hall and leave your name with the secretary, Mrs. Price. The members will be glad to contact you and discuss any questions you might have.

Sigma Alpha Beta brothers work hard, have good times; but most of all, they are a part of something that will be a benefit to them in the many years after they leave our campus.

Rocky Says:

There is a feeling that this school doesn't measure up to the status of larger universities as voiced by some transfer students who would use UNC-W only as an economic stepping stone to something better. Some students, who plan to attend here for 4 years because they cannot transfer for one reason or another, also feel that UNC-W is a small school with small traditions and small goals. This article has nothing to say to them.

It is addressed to those people who truly love this school. Those who have found happiness, friends, and a free loving spirit. For it is they who have real feelings for the school.

You can tell who they are. Students who have UNC-by-the-sea bumper stickers are obviously proud of their school. Club officers, committee chairmen, those involved in making the best school just a little bit better. They care not just for academics or getting ahead, but sense some loyalty for their friends and the institution that brought them together.

I can't say why these people love UNC-W. I only know I'm glad they do. It is my belief that when they leave this school, they will take more with them than those who never participated or cared. But how can one explain that to them? How can you measure memories, happiness, growing together?

I personally feel that this school is special. I'm not talking about one club, fraternity or instructor. I mean everyone. I wouldn't trade UNC-W for anything.

Rocky Lane Moore
Student Body President

THE TRANSPLANT

by
Milton Boone
Campus Minister

Where did we lose the mystery, since first the name of God fell on our ears?
Did it prove too simple when we waded up and out of childhood's awesome years?

Have keepers of the mystery smothered every hope of something new?
Did priest and preacher brush away the cobwebbed vision holding life suspended over chaos and despair?

Where has it gone, the fire of Moses' bush that bared our sandaled feet to holy ground?
Did we deny too soon or long the miracle and, mystery being denied, perish in the land?

God help me through my unbelief,
Speak to me again the mystery.
Let me find a way beyond my wilderness, a new creation at my desert's edge to hold me awe-inspired before the great Unknown.

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

Vets may be due back Wages

Those students who were in the military during the period from October to December of 1972 may have some back pay coming. During that time, ex-President Nixon illegally blocked a pay raise according to a circuit Court of Appeals, and the court ordered retroactive payment to all veterans.

According to a UPI story, the Air Force and Marine Corps are endeavoring to pay veterans their back wages by utilizing their last known address. The Army and Navy, however, plan to require their veterans to file a claim, stating name, social security number, rank, current address, date of separation and duty station for the period involved. These claims may be filed with the Department of the Army or Navy in Washington, D.C.

Michael J. Kelley
Veterans Representative

LEWIS TO SING

Erv Lewis, a Christian folksinger, will be visiting Wilmington the weekend of Sept. 20, 21 and 22. Friday the 20th, Erv has agreed to perform and rap in the lobby of the dorm, starting around 7:30 p.m. Plan to be there. Saturday there will be a free concert in Kenan Memorial Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. Sunday Erv will be at Temple Baptist Church on Market St.

HAPPY

FRIDAY 13TH

TWO WHEELER DEALER
602 CAUSEWAY DR.
WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH 256-3520

Volunteer Openings

YWCA

Across highway from Long Leaf Mall.
Saturdays 9:30 a.m. til 1:30 p.m.
Recreation activities with school age children.

WILMINGTON BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

Across highway from college.
Tutoring reading with the Laubach method.

NEW HANOVER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Evenings
Work in clinic, nursery, children's ward, or as auxiliary aides.

YMCA

2710 Market Street
Mornings, Monday through Friday
Aid with handicapped swim program

OPEN HOUSE

610 Market Street
Get application from Ms. Moore.
4 hours per week requested
Be at the House to help visitors and callers cope with problems.
Training begins late September.

CRISIS LINE

Two 4 hour shifts each month.
Man phone line anonymously to help callers cope with variety of problems.
Training begins Sept. 19

JUVENILE SERVICES CENTER

Help with achievement testing and taking social histories of teenage delinquents.

FOR MORE DETAILS ON THESE &
OTHER OPPORTUNITIES,
SEE MS. LINDA MOORE, D. S. A.
IN THE PUB

LIFE CYCLES

PRE-INVENTORY CLEARANCE SALE!

Regence of France
Normally $125.00
Now Only $99.95

MOTOBEANE

The unique store that offers the finest in bicycles, parts, and accessories; plus a complete repair shop.

COMMUNITY SHOPPING CENTER
4209 OLEANDER DRIVE ACROSS FROM CAPE FEAR FORD COMPANY

SPARKS KIMONO MY HOUSE
Island ILPS 9272

SPARKS' new album, "Kimono My House," is their third album released in this country. In 1971 or 1972, they appeared on Dick Clark's show to promoted their first album and since then have more or less been absent from the American music scene. This new album proves that they are back and with the single from the album they should finally get some place besides a record store.

The album as a whole is good, but it does have its weak points. One such weak point is in the lyrics of "Amateur Hour" and "Talent Is An Asset," both of which are very good musically. In fact, the only thing that holds these songs into the album is the music.

The members of SPARKS are Russell Mael--vocals, Ron Mael on keyboards, Martin Gordon on bass, Adrian Fisher on guitar, and Dinky Diamond on drums. Producing the album is Muff Winwood, who, back in the 60's, was with the Spencer Davis Group. He's also Steve Winwood's little brother. The single from the album is "This Town Ain't Big Enough For Both Of Us," and has been played on radio stations in this area (believe it or not.) The song is good in every way and could possibly be the thing SPARKS needs the most. A hit. Following "This Town" are are also on this side and are two of the most unusual rock songs out today. Though most of the songs on this album are different than the ones on the first two albums, these two are similar to the early albums.

This album and group are not average at all but will more than likely be liked by everyone. It is music you can put your foot to or Rock-Out, whatever you like.

OTHER ALBUMS TO LOOK FOR

1969 VELVET UNDERGROUND with Lou Reed is a fantastic live album from a defunct group which will surely go down in Rock History. The double album set was recorded in Texas and San Francisco and is taped pretty well. STEREO REVIEW named it Best of the Month for August.

ALICE COOPER'S Greatest Hits and C'OSBY, STILL, NASH and YOUNG'S Greatest Hits are two other LP's to appear over the last month. Both contain previously released cuts so if you have their earlier albums you have the material. If not, these albums are a must for a collection.

: Next Week -- BAD COMPANY

KARTOOONZ

FRANKLY SPEAKING...by phil frank

© COLLEGE MEDIA SERVICES-BOX 9411-BERKELEY, CA 94709

Mon. - Sat.

10-9

791-7043

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry

Bags

Candles

Handmade Spreads

Embroidered Dresses

Belts

Leatherwork
Headgear

Mexican Handicraft

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

Netters to play 24 game series

The Seahawk basketball squad, under coach Mel Gibson, will open the 24-game season Friday, November 29, with participation in the Mars Hill College Tournament at Mars Hill.

The Seahawks also play at Mars Hill on Saturday night and travel to Charleston, S.C., Tuesday, December 3, to face The Citadel.

The Seahawks will open the home portion of the schedule in Hanover Hall on Friday, December 6, against Shaw University.

The Seahawks will play East Carolina University in Greenville Saturday, December 14. New additions to the schedule include a home and away series with Western Carolina University. The University of North Carolina at Asheville returns after a five-year absence to the UNC-W schedule.

Old rivals Elon, Guilford, Atlantic Christian, Campbell, Pembroke and High Point remain on the agenda.

"I feel this is the most attractive schedule we've ever faced," athletics director Bill Brooks said in releasing the slate.

"This is part of a serious effort to upgrade the schedule each year. In the near future, some of the NCAA Division I games will be played in Wilmington. We're excited about our growing basketball program."

Soccer Season Opens Friday

Athletic director Bill Brooks has released a 17-match schedule for the UNC-W soccer team in 1974.

The Seahawk soccer team, coached by Calvin Lane, will open the season Friday, September 13, with participation in the Pembroke Invitational Tournament at Pembroke.

The first home match for the 1974 Seahawks will be Saturday, September 28, against North Carolina Wesleyan College.

A total of seven of the matches will be played at home.

New teams on the UNC-W soccer schedule include Baltimore University, College of Charleston, and participation in the Harrisonburg Invitational in which some of the strongest soccer teams in the East will compete.

Intramurals seek Support

Students:

The intramural season began yesterday with participation in Flag Football -- this is just one of the many events scheduled for the 1974-75 university year.

I would like to call your attention to the fact that teams or individuals may participate in the program at no cost and only the trouble of having a roster turned in to the intramural office on the 2nd floor of Hoggard Hall.

In the past teams have participated from the Engineers Club, the Business Club, and the fraternities, as well as representation from the dormitory. Many teams come from off-campus students getting together and actively getting into the activities.

Some of the events will be tennis, badminton, flag football, volleyball, basketball, x-country, softball, golf, wrestling, bowling and pool.

Will you be so thoughtful to have a team from your group actively involved in this open recreation provided for all students?

May I suggest appointing one member to find out more details and have an individual or team in this year's program.

We do provide all necessary equipment such as balls, bats, jerseys officials and many other essentials.

David E. Warner, Jr.
Intramural Director

OFF THE HAWKS!

VARSITY SOCCER SCHEDULE

Friday, Sept. 13 Saturday, Sept. 14	Pembroke Invitational Tournament	Pembroke, N. C.
Friday, Sept. 20 Saturday, Sept. 21	HARRISONBURG INVITATIONAL TOURNAMENT	Harrisonburg, (UNC-W, Eastern Mennonite, Madison, Va. and William and Mary)
Wednesday, Sept. 25	Duke University	Durham, N. C.
Saturday, Sept. 28	N. C. Wesleyan College	Wilmington, N.C. **
Tuesday, Oct. 1	Atlantic Christian College	Wilson, N. C.
Friday, October 4	N. C. State University	Wilmington, N.C. *
Thursday, October 10	Pembroke State University	Wilmington, N.C. *
Saturday, October 12	High Point College	High Point, N. C.
Wednesday, October 16	St. Andrews College	Wilmington, N.C. *
Friday, October 18	Lynchburg College	Wilmington, N. C. *
Tuesday, October 22	The Citadel	Charleston, S. C.
Saturday, October 26	East Carolina University	Greenville, N. C.
Wednesday, October 30	Campbell College	Bute's Creek, N. C.
Saturday, November 2	Baltimore University	Wilmington, N. C. **
Tuesday, November 5	Methodist College	Wilmington, N.C. *
November 7 thru November 9	NAIA DISTRICT 29 PLAYOFFS	TBA

*Weekday home games 3:30 p. m.

Saturday home games 2:00 p. m.

MALIBU PALMS

NOW RENTING TO COLLEGE STUDENTS, GROUPS OF TWO AND THREES.

RENT 1 bedroom $145.00
2 bedroom $150.00
3 bedroom $170.00.

den apartments also available

3417 Wilshire Blvd.
phone 762-5542

office hours 10:00 to 6:00 daily weekends 1:00 to 6:00

Scuba Club

All persons interested in forming the UNC by the Sea Scuba Diving Club please come to the organizational meeting at 3 p.m. today or tomorrow upstairs in the Pub. Requirements for joining the club will be given and many ideas will be thrown out for discussion.

You must be a certified diver to join the club, but if you are interested, though you don't have certification, please come anyway.

WANTED - #12

Female roommate wanted.
College Manor Townhouse.
791-8465.

A Drinking Song

Wine comes in at the mouth;
And love comes in at the eye;
That's all we shall know for truth
Before we grow old and die.
I lift the glass to my mouth
I look at you, and I sigh.

-William Butler Yeats

"Our Beverage Prices Are Beautiful"

Wine Art, Inc.

HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS.

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

3342 WRIGHTSVILLE AVE.

791-9675

seahawk

vol. xvii number 4

september 18, 1974

eight pages

On Wednesday, October 2, 1974

UNC-W will ROCK.

Ladies and Gentlemen, The
University of North Carolina at Wilmington
Concert Committee Proudly Presents...

Billy Preston

MORE ON PAGE THREE

ESPert returns

On Monday, September 23, the Fine Arts Committee of UNC-W will open its fall lecture series with a return engagement of Jack London.

Mr. London, noted expert on psychic phenomena, will give a lecture demonstration in Kenan Memorial Auditorium beginning at 8:00 p.m.

Jack London has a background of years of successful appearances before leading civic, service and fraternal organizations. Known as the man who beats psychics at their own game, London is in constant demand by law enforcement agencies to lecture on the problems of differentiating between the true psychic and the fraudulent one.

Hundreds of people have said that seeing Jack London's program is the most valuable time that they have spent, because through his informative presentation, they have learned to protect themselves and their families against the wiles of the thieves and confidence-men who infest the periphery of the psychic world.

Mr. London has appeared on television with Johnny Carson, Mike Douglas and Merv Griffin. He has been a popular guest on "The Today Show," "Play Your Hunch," and has helped John Daly stump the experts on "What's My Line?"

In his talk, Mr. London answers such questions as: How do you separate fact from fantasy in ESP phenomena? Why is Astrology so popular today? Why is such a vast multitude of the intelligentsia involved in the Psychic Scene?

His tours have taken him halfway around the world, through Canada, the West Indies, Europe and the U.S. He was featured not long ago in the New Yorker magazine, and in addition he has authored "Psychic Vision," "Prediction" and "How to read Minds."

Several weeks ago, the Fine Arts Committee received a sealed treasure chest containing several predictions of events that will occur prior to his arrival in Wilmington. In his first performance in Wilmington, two years ago, he predicted the killings that took place at the Olympics and an airplane crash in Russia that killed over 500 people. The predictions will be made public at the close of Mr. London's performance. How accurate will he be? Come see.

A small general admission will be charged for this performance. Students with ID's will be admitted free of charge.

WANTED

Need Immediately--Live-in housekeeper to do light housework and cooking. Room, Board and small Salary. Would consider two college girls or young married Couple. Call 762-4111.

Male Student Needs Roommate Country Club Apts. Partially Furnished Call 799-7396 nights between 7:30--9:00.

Crisis Training Begins Thurs.

Crisis Line is starting a new volunteer training session on Thursday, Sept. 18. There will be five classes on Thursday nights, starting at 7:30 p.m., and one Saturday workshop. The classes will be held at St. James Church Library, 3rd and Dock Sts. Anyone interested in Crisis Line work is urged to attend. Volunteers should be 18 years of age.

SOME FACTS ABOUT CRISIS LINE:

---Crisis Line is a 24-hour-a-day crisis intervention telephone service, available to any person. Its function is to provide help to the individual in any kind of crisis, great or small, including giving of information on resources available for aid in this community.

---Crisis Line is a non-profit organization under direction of the New Hanover Drug Abuse Committee and funded by United Way.

---Crisis Line is 3 1/2 years old. It has had an increasing use each year. The average number of calls per month in 1974 is 705. This is an increase of almost 200 over 1973.

---Last year over 10,300 hours were donated by volunteers to this service. This includes the time given by the Training Team, composed of experienced and professional people.

---Crisis Line maintains a roster of approximately 85 volunteers of varied age, race, sex, and background. A warm, empathetic desire to help others is the most important asset of the volunteer.

Crisis Line: your friend

Volunteer Openings

YWCA

Across highway from Long Leaf Mall.
Saturdays 9:30 a.m. til 1:30 p.m.
Recreation activities with school age children.

WILMINGTON BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

Across highway from college.
Tutoring reading with the Laubach method.

NEW HANOVER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Evenings
Work in clinic, nursery, children's ward, or as auxiliary aides.

YMCA

2710 Market Street
Mornings, Monday through Friday
Aid with handicapped swim program

OPEN HOUSE

610 Market Street
Get application from Ms. Moore.
4 hours per week requested
Be at the House to help visitors and callers cope with problems.
Training begins late September.

CRISIS LINE

Two 4 hour shifts each month.
Man phone line anonymously to help callers cope with variety of problems.
Training begins Sept. 19

JUVENILE SERVICES CENTER

Help with achievement testing and taking social histories of teenage delinquents.

FOR MORE DETAILS ON THESE & OTHER OPPORTUNITIES, SEE MS. LINDA MOORE, D. S. A. IN THE PUB

Where pizza is always in good taste!

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

NOON BUFFET
11:30-1:30

3617 Market Street

University Arms

Come see what we have to offer...all electric living.
GE appliances, individually controlled air conditioning, shag carpet, patio, swimming pool...

1, 2 and 3
BEDROOM
APARTMENTS

Available FURNISHED or UNFURNISHED Resident Manager on site daily!
9 months leases
Phone 791-8574 or 762-0396
or go by and see Linda Taylor
4916B Pepps Lane
University Arms Apts.

Preston to play October 2

On Wednesday, Oct. 2, at 8:00 p.m. Hanover Hall, UNC-W will present Billy Preston in concert. The opening act will be Bob Seger who currently has a hit ala Chuck Berry called "Get Out of Denver."

Tickets go on sale Monday, Sept. 23, in the Pub. UNC-W students price will be $3.50, the same price that was charged 2 1/2 years ago. General admission will be $5.00.

Billy Preston's first entry in the pages of rock history must have been made at three years old, when he first climbed on the piano seat to reach for the keys. At six, he was running to the local church, by which time he had moved to Los Angeles from his home town, Houston, Texas, to play the organ. At ten, he played in the church working with James Cleveland and appearing with Mahalia Jackson on her show. In the same year, he took the part of W.C. Handy as a child actor in the film "St. Louis Blues" which starred Nat King Cole as the adult W.C. Handy.

In '62, Billy Preston joined what was supposed to be a gospel tour, but with Sam Cooke and Little Richard taking part, it inevitably turned out to be an explosive rock 'n roll tour. It was the first time Preston had ever played rock 'n roll, and he liked it. After the tour, Sam Cooke asked Preston to make an album on his (Cooke's label) "Sar Records"—it was appropriately called "Sixteen Year Old Soul."

By '65, Billy Preston had found himself a regular spot on a top rock 'n roll show, Shindig. He became the resident keyboard player with featured spots every now and then. During the Shindig days, Preston was spotted by Ray Charles who was appearing on the show. He took an immediate interest in Preston and asked him to make a record with him on Vee Jay records. Together they came up with "The Most Exciting Organ Ever" as well as another gospel album. A single was released called "Billy's Bag" which was a hit in Britain.

Billy's bag was clearly to play and be heard. So from '67 to '68, he went on tour with Ray Charles around the U.S. and Europe. It was at London's Festival Hall that George Harrison expressed more than just admiration for Preston. Phone calls were exchanged and before long Harrison asked Preston to come over to Apple to "meet the Beatles."

The Beatles, at that time, were recording "Get Back" and McCartney asked Billy to join in on electric piano. He also helped out on "Let It Be" and it was evident that there was an instant musical empathy between the Beatles and Billy Preston. The Beatles bought Billy's recording contract from Vee Jay Records and asked him to join Apple as a solo artist. Preston stayed with Apple for three years, during which time he made two albums, the renowned "That's The Way God Planned It" and the second, "Encouraging Words." Both albums were personally co-produced by George Harrison and Billy found himself dividing his time between England and the United States.

It was at this time that he met Bob Ellis. Bob took a great interest in Billy and became his personal manager. Both Bob and Billy decided that although they were flooded with record company offers they should choose a newer, younger company that would give them the freedom they needed. The decision to join A&M was an easy one.

Billy joined the A&M family and brought out his first album "I Wrote a Simple Song." Preston produced the record himself with help from George Harrison and David T. Walker on guitar, and arrangements by Quincy Jones.

By now the pages of rock history were bound in gold. "Outa-Space," a single from the first album, rocketed to the #1 position and was a million seller with a Gold Record. Preston's second album for A&M, "Muste Is My Life," featuring George Harrison on guitar, was released with another smash single "Will It Go Round in Circles." This also found its way to the #1 spot and another Gold Record for Billy Preston.

During the period of time when Preston was making his own personal contribution to the music industry, he was also constantly helping out other artists on their albums. He played on Sly Stone's last two albums, Barbra Streisand's album, Ringo Starr's albums, George Harrison's albums and Carole King's album, to name but a few.

Billy Preston has toured with the Stones also, and will be touring with the fall George Harrison tour.

Schedule set for freshmen voting

Any enthusiastic and school spirited Freshman who can maintain a 2.0 grade point average, who would like to become involved with the campus, and who is good at helping to make decisions that could quite possibly influence the lives of many students, should seriously consider running in the Student Government Association Freshman elections.

Complaints have been made as to the lack of things to do at this university, the lack of communication, and some other various things. "This should be the year for change in the Student Government, and judging from the enthusiasm that has already been demonstrated by the Freshmen class, this class, combined with many present Student Government members, should be a great asset to our university," said Rick Patton, elections board chairman.

The elected officers of the Student Government are one president, one vice president, one secretary, and five senators, all from each class; and the president, vice president, and secretary of the student body. In running for a Freshman class office, the prospective candidate must fill out a "Petition for Office," a form which is available on the door of the Student Government office, room S 105 in the Student Union building (the Pub), or on a bulletin board in the dormitory lobby. These forms should be turned in at the Student Government office before the deadline below. The schedule for Freshman elections is as follows:

Tuesday, Sept. 24—Freshman assembly (11:30 in King Hall auditorium)
Monday, Sept. 30—Deadline for filing petition
Tuesday, Oct. 1—Constitution exam (11:30 upstairs in Pub)
Wednesday, Oct. 2 and Thursday, Oct. 3—Elections in Pub and cafeteria.
The Freshman Assembly is mainly for the purpose of getting to know the candidates. Long speeches are not necessary, and actually not preferred. The Seahawk will publish campaign platforms in the paper, providing that the candidates have them in the Seahawk office (in the Pub) by Friday, Sept. 20. "If there are any questions concerning the elections, leave a note for me on the door of the Student Government office. I'll be glad to hear from any prospective candidates," Rick said.

Rowing Club to Meet

The UNC-W Rowing Club will hold a meeting to discuss when to solicit businesses for building a shelter this fall. Also, other methods of raising money for a boat and other equipment will be suggested.

It is hoped that this year we (the Rowing Club) can compete with other colleges in the spring rowing season. Anyone can join!
Meet in H-104 at 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 18.

Professional Uniform Center

THE TOTAL IMAGE CO.

Complete Range of Sizes

WEAR NEW HANOVER MEN, POSE

GLEN MEADE PLAZA

762-9898

Kingoff's
WILMINGTON'S LEADING JEWELERS

10 NORTH FRONT STREET • P. O. BOX 1802 • DIAL (919) 762-5219

Wilmington's Leading Jewelers for Fifty-five Years is proud to be headquarters for the official

UNC-W CLASS RINGS

ORDER NOW don't take any chances on gold price increase!

- CASH
- CHARGE
- LAYAWAY
- BANKCARDS

IF IT'S FROM KINGOFF'S, IT'S GUARANTEED

Baptist Student Union meeting sept. 23
Baptist Association Building
(across from school)

EDITORIALS

The Gadfly: HO-HUM

Once again I find myself taking up the pen against the spectre of censorship. Usually I am against going over the same old ground as it gets boring as "censored."

However, this time things are different. I can take the torture of plastic lecture hall seats, the chaos of pre-registration. I can always exercise my fluent censorable language in the parking lot. Such physical discomforts are a part of life and, though unpleasant, are bearable. This incident at the magazine rack is a completely different kettle of fish. And a rather smelly kettle.

Rocky Moore's column last week got a definite reaction on my part. Maybe Rocky has nothing to say to those who feel UNC-W is a small school with small goals and traditions, but I do.

This school was founded and developed to what it is now by people who really worked at turning a dream into a reality. From old buildings and very limited funds, UNC-W has grown into a school that has a growing reputation for the quality of its educational opportunities.

It does not impress me when some student complains about this or that while sitting on their spreading buttocks. The only ones who have the right to complain are those who are willing to do something besides generate hot air.

It takes more than going to class to make a worthwhile education. Over and over, the professors here try to show how classroom knowledge is relevant to the world beyond this campus. How many times have you been shown the results of censorship? How many times have you been shown that censorship, left to itself, never withers but grows? How many times, like proper kiddies, have you felt rightly indignant over the censorship of some piece of literature in a foreign country?

Well, here it is right at your university. That's right, your university. This institution belongs to those who contribute to it. Your fees entitle you to its use. Your participation in the learning process makes it yours truly.

What do you intend to do about the censorship at the bookstore? Wait and see if it will happen again? If you do, it will. Will you go so far as to actually write a letter to this newspaper expressing your view? Would you sign a petition requesting the reinstatement of the banished far to the bookstore?

It is to be hoped that you will. This newspaper alone can only bring events to your attention. This newspaper can, with your help, be the voice of the students, a medium of true communication between all members of this academic community.

I have seen no word from Col. Clark or the chancellor. I have seen no word from you. If no one but the writers of this paper are concerned then perhaps we waste our time with such columns as these. I have no intention of wasting my time.

cheerleaders and other people that work for and support their school are given financial backing.

Sincerely,
William H. Haey

To the Editor:

This is the last straw. After reading "Gadfly's" comments in his weekly column, I must agree that Colonel Clark's ridiculous decision to remove the magazines Playboy, Playgirl and Viva from the university bookstore degrades the university to the level of the average high school.

It seems highly ironic that the particular month the magazines disappeared from the shelves is one of the few times the covers have been relatively modest...indeed, one sees on and about campus, bare-chested guys and halter-topped females.

Come off it Col. Clark. What were you doing noticing the covers of Playboy, Playgirl and Viva, if you find them so extremely shocking in the first place? I suppose the next thing I will hear about will be the absence of National

FROM THE NEST

BY KATHI BEALL

Crazy, Absurd, Hang-up

In an attempt to discover precedents, problems, etc., concerning the removal of Playboy, Playgirl, et. al., from college bookstores, I have poured through hundreds of college press articles, bulletins, and reports. I've talked to students, to faculty and staff members, to people within and outside the community.

Ms. Robin Tucker, managing editor of Playgirl magazine, was astounded to discover that publication had been removed. She expressed amazement over the fact that the covers had been alleged "indiscreet."

She stated that her magazine had always strived for discretion. Beginning with the October issue of the magazine, she continued, the cover format will each month be a photo of a single male's head. So no more fault should be found with at least one of the unfavored four.

Ms. Tucker said she had heard of no other university with a similar problem.

At least one other school currently is plagued, however.

The June issue of the National On-Campus Report carries a story along the same lines.

At Chicago's Loyola University, a review board has "fixed the sale of Playboy magazine in the student-operated campus store." Apparently, complaints had been made about that magazine as well as "Cosmopolitan," which may be next in line. "National Lampoon," often offensive on sex and religion, "is still, apparently, fit reading for students of the Catholic school; it's still on the racks."

It has been several years since there was a similar problem at Purdue University. There, students turned out in mass to block off the store. They got their Playboy.

Primarily, when censorship appears on other campuses, it crops up after expletives are used in student publications with abandon. One school newspaper got into a bit of a spot for printing a cartoon of a nun masturbating. But there are really relatively few censorship struggles on campuses today.

Comments about what is happening on this campus are wide-ranging. "I guess they've got a reason," one student commented.

That was the most positive comment. The rest ran the gamut of "Absurd" to "They're crazy," to "They must have some hang-ups."

Even the students who do not read the magazines were offended, not by the mags themselves, but by the removal.

And, as one faculty member stated in a class (after a reference to Playboy), "I refer to Playboy much more often now than I did before it was ripped from the bookstore."

There you have it. I've learned in the past few weeks that there are a lot of people upset about the magazine fiasco. But as in many other segments of society, it's easier just to acquiesce. Regrettable, but true.

I don't exactly understand what's happening here. And I certainly don't like it. Maybe someday it will all become clear -- in a flash of blinding mental confusion. Until then, we'll have to be content to be ignored.

With the soccer schedule started and basketball beginning in the near future, the UNC-W Cheerleading squad has been formed. With all the talk about apathy last year, you would think that this group of people would receive support from the school this year. I do not believe there is any other group on campus that does as much to support and build school spirit. If you want to talk about people who care about their school, just take a look at this group. Last year they had to earn the money to buy material for their uniforms, and then make them. When they supported the basketball team on out-of-town games, they drove their own cars and paid for their gas. I guess they should be thankful that they were given six uniforms for the girls this year, but this is a pity when you think about the financial backing given to other groups that do not do nearly as much for the school.

I think it is about time for this school to realize what the cheerleaders do for this school, and support them. If there is a feeling that this school does not measure up to the status of larger universities, maybe it is because it doesn't. At least at other universities

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on tuesday for wednesday distribution. all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on friday for publication on tuesday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief
robert maxey, advertising director
john wilkins, music editor
sheryl moore, paul walker, photographers
joyce cressch, typist
ms. linda moore, advisor

QUOTH THE COLONEL, "NEVERMORE."

y Says:

should realizing Tuesday
got any to make all be Services that on how than
and. If voted should ing and interest finalized to the efforts cks, or variance y find azines ing, it dding

e read.

of the senators. I assure you they earned your vote this year.

I still have six student positions open on the Committee for Committees and Equal Employment Opportunity Committee both of which are faculty committees. If you are seriously interested in serving on one of these committees, please come by the SGA office and rap awhile.

NEWS IN CAPSULE

Board of Elections: The Bd. of Elections is preparing for the elections of the Freshmen class. Rumors are the Freshman class response is very strong and promising. They seem even more involved than last year's freshmen class.

Constitution Committee: The Constitution Committee continues to meet weekly revising the old by-laws of the school. The Chairman, Steve Hobbs, requests that students submit suggestions for revision through the SGA office.

NCSL: The North Carolina Student Legislature (NCSL) is the best voice representing the students in the state. If you are interested in legislative reform, then this could be your best avenue of approach. Our delegation is working on 1 or 2 bills which could directly influence students in this state.

Reason: NCSL is organizing a statewide lobby in Raleigh. It is entirely possible that our delegation could propose a bill that could become state law within a few years. Traditionally, 40% of the bills that are passed in the Student Legislature become law within 4 to 10 years. Contact Liz Buffington, if you are interested in becoming a member, or come by the SGA office.

Housing Committee: The housing committee continues to function. Most freshmen and transfer students were delighted to find an adequate listing of available student housing in the area. If someone is still looking for a new apartment, we still have a listing of vacancies in the SGA office. Revenue Committee: This committee seeks to supplement student activity fees by raising money on various projects, e.g. All profits from sales of UNC-by-the-sea stickers goes back into the student government account. This money in turn will be used in additional fundings later in the semester. Dance Committee: which has the biggest budget ever allocated at UNC-W, will attempt its first year at diversification of music. (Let us know your preferences.)

What's New: The radio station that was closed down four years ago has been revived to some degree by the new manager, Terry Ward. Terry has devised a method for bringing a student run radio service to the dorm, cafeteria, and Pub. What's more, the station will pay for itself in two years.

This is a meager beginning; however, it has all the potential of becoming FM within two years. Student Government will have few opportunities to receive a return on a small investment as they will this one. I wholeheartedly encourage the student body to support this effort.

by da-lene pearsall

It's that time again when most people consider changing their major. In other words, school is under-way. In order to aid inspired freshmen, worldly sophomores, aged juniors, and "don't-give-a-damn" seniors, departments ought to advertise. When the day finally comes, students will notice signs all over campus stating something like this:

Isaac Bear Wants You to Be a Business Major. It's the department most enjoyed by chauvinists everywhere. So, men, be sure and join now. And remember our motto about women: "Keep 'em barefoot and pregnant."

"How's Your Love Life?" The Nursing department is just asking to know. Learn important things. For example, if you noticed an injured body lying in the hall, how would you clean the wound? That's right!—Splat on it. If you didn't answer that right—learn now.

Why did Susan marry Steve? Did Ellen really have an abortion? Are Jim and Edward still seeing each other? Why does Melvin hate his own name? The answers to these and many other questions can be found only in the psychology department (written under the staircase.)

Do you want to learn many important things? Like spelling. Or punctuation. Or how to write? Then be an English major. You'll learn much. And they'll be things you can use later on in life. When you graduate from college...if you graduate from college...

Put some fun in your life. Spend a friendly four years with the P.E. department. It's especially equipped with:

- * air conditioning
- * wall-to-wall floors
- * old fashioned gym suits
- * athlete's foot in every shower
- * soiled towels
- * dirty socks
- * windows with bars

Move in now for the time of your life. It's located a few thousand feet from the dorm.

The Chemistry department—it's the real thing. Quench your thirst for knowledge by mixing acids and bases for a whole new sensation. Learn how to write equations.

Live: from the Barroom of The Shady Water Motel

Learn how to blow up buildings. Learn how to flunk-out.

The instant I first met her, I felt there was something different about her. She wasn't like the other girls I knew. Then, I realized what it was that made her so special—she was a Philosophy major. She knew how to ask questions and never give answers. Since she was so special, I gave her a diamond. Her only reply was, "What's this for?"

Being more of a man used to mean having 18-inch biceps, or driving faster than anybody else. Today, it means being strong enough to be gentle. So I'm a Biology major. And I treat my specimens as gently as I treat my own mother.

Biology—it's a great field to be in. (At least, that's what my mother says.)

Remember when you felt that all your life you would be stumbling over non-existent barriers. Then, there were the braces—for days, you held your lips tightly together not wanting to smile, wanting to die. Then your father told you how beautiful you were. That moment—nothing else mattered but pleasing him. So, you gave him the biggest grin you could muster. Braces and all.

Now you're all grown up and in college. And whenever your father offers advice on what to major in, you tell him where to go. You want to be independent. You want to be a Liberal Arts major.

FREEDOM TO READ

"Freedom to Read," a document supporting the principles of intellectual freedom, has recently been discovered by the Seahawk, thanks to a UNC-W faculty member who said that after reading it, we would understand why he "had bad vibes about the skin mags and the bookstore."

He sent us a copy of the article along with a note, "Perhaps it can be of use to you, since I am aware that the issue is not dead with the Seahawk."

"Freedom to Read" was originally issued in May 1953, by the Westchester Conference of the American Library Association. It was adopted in late June of the same year and was revised in 1972 by the ALA Council.

It has been endorsed by the ALA, American Book Publishers Association, Book Manufacturers' Institute, and the National Education Association.

The text in full may be read in the Seahawk office, or in Intellectual Freedom Manual, part 2, pages 14-19. Randall library call number:

Ref. Z711.4 .A57 1974

Excerpts have been printed here to attempt to shed some enlightenment after the intellectual brown-out of the magazine flasco.

"The freedom to read is essential to our democracy.

It is continuously under attack. Private groups and public authorities in various parts of the country are working to remove books from sale, to censor textbooks, to label "controversial" books, to distribute lists of "objectionable" books or authors, and to purge libraries. These actions apparently rise from a view that our national tradition of free expression is no longer valid; that censorship and suppression are needed to avoid the subversion of politics and the corruption of morals. We, as citizens devoted to the use of books and as librarians and publishers responsible for disseminating them, wish to assert the public interest in the preservation of the freedom to read.

"We trust Americans to recognize propaganda, and to reject it. We do not believe they need the help of censors to assist them in this task. We do not believe they are prepared to sacrifice their heritage of a free press in order to be 'protected' against what others think may be bad for them. We believe they still favor free enterprise in ideas and expression. We are aware, of course, that books are not alone in being subjected to efforts at suppression. We are aware that these efforts are related to a larger pattern of pressures being brought against education, the press, films, radio, and television. The problem is not only one of actual censorship. The shadow of fear cast by these pressures leads, we suspect, to an even larger voluntary curtailment of expression by those who seek to avoid controversy.

Such pressure toward conformity is perhaps natural to a time of uneasy change and pervading fear. Especially when so many of our apprehensions are directed against an ideology, the expression of a dissident idea becomes a thing feared in itself, and we tend to move against it as against a hostile deed, with suppression.

"We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures towards conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend. We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate, in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the readers to choose freely from a variety of offerings.

"We therefore affirm these propositions:

1) It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those which are unpopular or unpopular with the majority.

2) Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation contained in the books they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what books should be published or circulated.

4) There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.

To some, much of modern literature is shocking. But is not much of life itself shocking? We cut off literature at the source if we prevent writers from dealing with the stuff of life. Parents and teachers have a responsibility to prepare the young to meet the diversity of experiences in life to which they will be exposed, as they have a responsibility to help them learn to think critically for themselves. These are affirmative responsibilities, not to be discharged simply by preventing them from

Cont on Page 6.

Due to TECHNICAL DIFFICULTIES

LIFE

has been

Postponed Indefinitely

Please Stand By

HOBBS SPEAKS

On Tuesday, September 10, the Student Senate met for approximately 20 minutes. There were special committee reports with very little discussion. The two most important items on the agenda were the approval of a new Board of Elections Chairman, and secondly, the organization of the Homecoming Committee.

Rich Patton was nominated by President Rocky Moore to be the new Board of Elections Chairman. The position re-opened when the former chairman resigned. I am confident of Rich's future contributions because of my work experience with him on the Constitution Committee and in other phases of student activities.

The Homecoming Committee will soon start organizing our 1975 Homecoming. Chairman Tojle King asked for the full participation of all senate members, especially class presidents, standing committee chairmen, and all interested students. By starting early, the committee hopes to build enough enthusiasm to make this homecoming the best ever experienced at UNC-W.

The meeting adjourned with the understanding that the next meeting will be held on September 24 unless a special committee is called for September 17. During the next meeting, the treasurer will probably give a financial report of student funds for this academic year. I encourage all interested to attend this meeting at 11:30 upstairs in the Pub to insure that your ideas can be given every possible consideration.

Freshman Class elections have been scheduled for Wed., Oct. 2, and Thurs., Oct. 3. I want to personally encourage as many freshmen as possible to seek a position in our student government. We, the present members of the Student Government Association, welcome the participation of all interested students, and hope that you will consider giving of your personal time and leadership so that together we can assure each student a continuously improved college experience.

Steve Hobbs
Junior Class President

hi there, Big Boy

MY NAME IS KATHI, I'M THE SEAHAWK EDITOR
AND MY OFFICE IS IN THE PUB.

IF I SEEM A BIT AT LOOSE ENDS, IT'S NO
SURPRISE, YOU SEE, IT'S ALREADY LATE
AUGUST AND I DON'T HAVE A SPORTS EDITOR
YET, I DON'T EVEN HAVE A SPORTS WRITER.

I NEED YOU, AND YOU, AND YOU.

GOT TALENT? I'VE GOT A PLACE FOR YOU.
NEED SOME MONEY? THE PAY AIN'T THE
GREATEST, BUT AT LEAST IT'S STEADY WORK.

TRY IT, YOU'LL LIKE IT, COME ON OVER AND
SEE ME SOMETIME, SOON.

Reed's
JEWELERS

27 NORTH FRONT STREET
WILMINGTON, N.C. 28401

UNC-W
CLASS RINGS

men's $95.00

ladies'
$60.00

THE TRANSPLANT

by
Milton Boone
Campus Minister

Time
on campus drags through Sunday afternoons or assaults one from behind with the wages of procrastination spent.

Time
in history counts the years, noting rise and fall of presidents and Dow-Jones averages, remembering how it was
and never will again.

Time
with God
is dotting time, when freedom sweeps through Egypt land, and births her only child, and Resurrection strolls from the cemetery.

Who knows what time it is?

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

Campus rich in religious activities

The Christian Fellowship meets on Tuesday evenings in the upstairs Pub at 7:30. This is an informal "share" group that comes together for singing, prayer, Bible study and fellowship. It is non-programmed and non-denominational. Anyone is invited to come and participate.

The Baptist Student Union (BSU) meets on Monday evenings at 7:30 at the Wilmington Baptist Association Building across the road from the campus. The group, though sponsored by the Baptist denomination, is interdenominational in nature and outreach. Students and others meet to share in Bible study, discussion, and personal growth activities. Again, anyone is invited to participate.

Milton Boone, Campus Minister, is on campus five days a week, usually between the hours of 10:00 and 2:00. He is here to get acquainted, to share with students and others any personal concerns and to be a witness of Christian faith to the campus community. He will also acquaint students with the churches in the area. The campus minister has no special office, but works out of the Office of Student Affairs. You are invited to get acquainted with him at your convenience.

Freedom

(continued from page 5)
reading works for which they are not yet prepared. In these matters taste differs, and taste cannot be legislated; nor can machinery be devised which will suit the demands of one group without limiting the freedom of others.

6) "It is inevitable in the give and take of the democratic process that the political, the moral, or the aesthetic concepts of an individual or group will occasionally collide with those of another individual or group. In a free society each individual is free to determine for himself what he wishes to read, and each group is free to determine what it will recommend to its freely associated members. But no group has the right to take the law into its own hands, and to impose its own concept of politics or morality upon other members of a democratic society. Freedom is no freedom if it is accorded only to the accepted and the inoffensive."

music in your life

by john wilkins

BAD COMPANY
BAD CO
Svan Song SS 8410

As many times as I have heard this album, I am still amazed at how good it is and how much better it gets each additional play, I am examining it very carefully. I have yet to find one mistake. The vocals are fantastic. The music is fantastic. Even the label is fantastic.

To get to the group, it is possible to say that they are possibly or another four superstars collided to form an even brighter star, with most of the members coming from the defunct group, FREE. As you may remember, Free was an exceptional group out of the early '70's which never caught on very well here in the states. They had one hit single, "Alright Now," which did well for the group in late '70 or early '71. After that, not much was heard from the group and they finally broke up. Paul Rodgers' vocals can still remind you of his style with Free, yet the music gives them new dimensions.

The remaining member of the group is Mick Ralphs. His guitar work is by far some of the best he has accomplished, even when compared to his work on the MOTT THE HOOPLE L.P.'s. It may possibly be that years from now it will be his Bad Company days that will be remembered best and not his five years with Mott the Hoople.

The album is one of the first (if not the first) to appear on the Swan Song label. The label is owned by Led Zeppelin, and although a fairly new label, it has also signed another very promising artist, Maggie Bell. However, it will be sometime before Led Zep will appear on their own label due to contracts with Atlantic Records. As for now, Atlantic is the distributor for Swan Song. Another detail worth mentioning is the art work on the label itself. This is proof of how records are improving with time and must be seen to really be appreciated.

The album contains 34 minutes and 35 seconds of some of the best real rock out today. Side I begins with the single "Can't Get Enough," which was written by Ralphs and is currently hitting high on all radio station charts. "Rock Steady" follows and the title explains the song. "Ready for Love" is next and appeared on Mott the Hoople's first big album. ALL THE YOUNG DUDES. Alteration has, however, put new light on the song, making it much different from the Mott version.

Side I ends with "Don't Let Me Down" which was written by Ralphs and Rodgers. Rodgers' bluesy vocals plus Ralphs' excellent guitar work make this song one of the best on the LP. Doing back-up vocals on the song are SUE and SUNNY, who have also made quite a name for themselves backing Mott the Hoople.

"Bad Company" is the first song on Side II, and is written by Rodgers along with Simon Kirke who plays drums for the group. Once again Ralphs' guitar is the best part of the song as he soars to unbelievable heights. "The Way I Choose" and "Movin' On" are the next two songs, the latter being based on the group tourings. "Seagull" ends the side and is somewhat slower than the other songs on the LP. The lyrics of the song are some of the best on the album:

"Seagull you fly across the horizon/ Into the misty morning sun/ Nobody asks where you are going/ Nobody knows where you're from."

Later, the seagull is shot, leaving a moral for the listener, but this is for the individual to think about as the moral may differ with the person.

If there could possibly be a formula for a super group, it would go something like this:

- 1) Take a few members from a group similar to Free.
- 2) Add a guitar player from a heavy group like Mott the Hoople.
- 3) Place them on a label owned by one of the biggest groups in the world. And, you have Bad Company. It should be sometime before we see this type of gathering again. With their first album being this good, it will be interesting to see how much better Bad Company can get. Till then, ROCK-OUT.

Next Week: TRAFFIC--
When the Eagle Flies

KARTOOONZ

FRANKLY SPEAKING...by phil frank

© COLLEGE MEDIA SERVICES-BOX 9411-BERKELEY, CA 94709

RECORD WORLD

"Your Ears
Are Our Business"

Long Leaf
Mall

Mon. - Sat.

10-9

791-7043

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry

Bags

Candles

Handmade Spreads

Embroidered Dresses

Belts

Leatherwork
Headgear

Mexican Handicraft.

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

humor: s*x and the single student

Sure-Fire Clues

Now that classes are well under way, it's time to resume that age old game called "Will She or Won't She?" better known as "If I ask her out will she say 'yes'?" Despite what most males think, they are not doing all the work. For instance, there are five sure-fire clues to tell if a girl wants to date a particular guy:

1) There's the "hair curler." This girl can be seen curling and tangling her hair in an effort to get a guy's attention. She may sometimes get carried away and actually yank off a wiglet during class.

Above -- Note empty ring finger and see Mills ad below.

2) "Ring Maker"-- She forms a ring by wrapping string or paper around her left ring finger showing that it's completely bare. In more extravagant cases, girls have been known to break pencils around their finger and ask a guy to help remove the splinters.

At right -- This hair curler just got out of a four hour lab. Her hair hung straight down to her navel before class.

3) "Toe Wiggler"-- She entwines her toes around a chair, desk or any other seemingly stationary object.

4) "Dropper"-- She drops pencils, pens, or light-weight books at the feet of a near-by student. If this doesn't attract his attention, she may resort to heavy books, shoes, or the teacher's lectern.

It's time to choose your rings

BOLAND $300 to 3000
WED. RING $100
POLYMERIA $300 to 3000
WED. RING $200

Keepsake assures perfect clarity, fine white color and precise cut.

Keepsake
JEWELERS &
ACCUTON CENTER

28 N Front St. • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 762-0796
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

5) "Oral Manipulator"-- She delicately chews on pencils and pens. She can sometimes--but not always--be recognized by buck teeth.

Not all girls fit into one of these categories, of course. Some prefer to use the more casual method of having their name, address, and phone number written on slips of paper and dropping them from a helicopter hovering above the campus.

So guys, ask that girl out who you've known all the way back to last Wednesday. Or maybe all the way back to kindergarten. (Remember how sexy she looked in a diaper.) Guys, if you don't ask girls out, they may soon find something better to date. Attention: All rapists, muggers, and perverts please disregard the preceding article.

Oral manipulator -- See the buck teeth. Told you so.

Leadership workshop slated this week

The Leadership Workshop that will be held this weekend will focus on leadership qualities, decision-making skills, interpersonal relationships and communication skills. Sponsored by the Student Activities Office, the workshop will take place at the Harbor House Marine Sciences Center at Wrightsville Beach on Friday from 7 to 10:30 p.m. and on Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Contrary to previous announcements, attendance at Saturday's session dealing with communication skills does not depend on participation Friday night. The two sessions are independent of each other.

Anyone interested in attending one or both sessions should contact Ms. Linda Moore in her office in the Pub before Thursday, Sept. 19.

Students do not need to be officers or chairmen of any group to attend.

Math Club sponsors campus jewelry sale

Representatives of the Guy Britton Shows of New Jersey will be on campus Tuesday, September 24, to display and sell their line of fashionable jewelry. They will be located in the cafeteria lobby from 10 a.m. until about 4 p.m.

Last year their prices ranged from two to six dollars on most items and are expected to be in the same price range this year. This year while they are on campus, they will be sponsored by the UNC-W Math Club. If you are looking for the latest in fashionable jewelry or need a gift for some upcoming occasion, this will be an ideal time for you to get them at a reasonable price.

'Surprise people / Serve MICHELOB.

MICHELOB.

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

A Drinking Song
Wine comes in at the mouth
And love comes in at the eye;
That's all we shall know for truth
Before we grow old and die.
I lift the glass to my mouth
I look at you, and I sigh.

-William Butler Yeats

"Our Beverage Prices Are Beautiful"

Wine-Art, Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE and HOPS SHOP

3342 WRIGHTSVILLE AVE.
791-9675

SEE CENTERFOLD
R. 6,7

seahawk

USE IT AS A POSTER shock mom & dad

volume xvii number five

september 25, 1974

twelve pages

BOB SEGER

SEE PAGES 3, 10, 11

GODSPELL

SEE PAGE 2

GODSPELL!

Tonight thru Saturday

'Godspell' produced by youthful wizard

by emily hedrick

"Godspell," the rock musical that turns the Gospel according to St. Matthew into theatrical magic, is being brought to campus by a man whose organizational wizardry rivals Merlin himself.

Presented in association with the Fine Arts Committee, the production is playing nightly at 8:15 p.m. through Saturday in Kenan Memorial Auditorium.

Tickets for the highly acclaimed religious musical production are $2 - Students with ID, $5 - Adults. It is presented by Playmoore Productions, Ltd., the only non-Equity (actors' union) company in the country now touring with "Godspell."

Producer of the show, and the one who lent his name to the production company, is Jerry Moore, a 22-year-old wunderkind who had the dream of organizing a tour group, and - unlike many of us who dream - did it.

"Godspell" was written in 1971 by another ambitious dreamer, then-23-year-old Stephen Schwartz, and has been playing to sell-out audiences off-Broadway in

New York City continuously since that time.

It has been described as "a celebration," "a reaffirmation of faith in God and in man," and "a joyful religious trip." Moore's favorite phrase for it is "a jubilant rock of ages."

Utilizing a minimum of sets and props, the musical unravels its message through a series of vignettes, most of which act out the parables of Jesus. The action ranges from Jesus' baptism to his crucifixion, and ends with a reaffirmation of hope.

By nearly anyone's standards, "Godspell" is an extraordinary show, just as is the story of Playmoore Productions and how it came about.

Jerry Moore has always played against odds - and won. He's the type of person who manages to find 25 hours in a day. He doesn't know the word "can't." He managed a schedule at Catawba College, where he graduated in May, that would have maddened most students.

He is a fair-haired Taurus, an epicurean, and a young man who says precisely what's on his mind but who temper his honesty with an easy, frequent laugh. And he is a musician - a pianist and organist - who found over the years that he would rather organize and produce shows behind-the-scenes than perform onstage himself.

In his native Salisbury, where he grew up, he got involved in the Piedmont Players community theatre during the winter of his freshman year in college, when the group produced "Hello, Dolly!" It was then that he met and became friends with Scott Holmes, another Catawba freshman, who was playing the role of Cornelius and who later was to become Jesus in "Godspell."

Over the next few years, Moore and Holmes became familiar faces among the Salisbury theatre crowd, with both Piedmont Players and Blue Masque, the Catawba drama group. Moore, evolving as musical director of PP, helped stage "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown," "Once Upon A Mattress," "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum," and others. He directed "The Glass Menagerie" as his senior drama project.

In addition to his work at the theatre, Moore edited Catawba's yearbook two years, served as organist at Second Presbyterian Church, and earned his college expenses by playing organ at the local Holiday Inn six nights a week - occasionally joined by a popular young vocalist, Scott Holmes.

During this time, Moore also fought against relapses of several childhood ailments, and added numerous chapters to his voluminous mythical memoirs, "Jerry Goes to the Hospital." A birth defect caused him to be crippled, and 11 operations on his legs were required before he was 20. In high school he was in a body cast for 69 days in the middle of his sophomore year, and still graduated second in his class. Thanks to therapy and a lot of will power, he now walks perfectly.

Also during his tenure at Catawba he was introduced to the world of the New York theatre. Having spent a vacation in the city with a friend in 1971, Moore, who had seldom been away from Piedmont North Carolina, discovered the miracles of the Broadway stage, and those who cause those miracles to happen.

On the night of his graduation from college, Moore went to New York with his dream to put "Godspell" on the road with a young non-Equity company which would offer the show to smaller communities and colleges at lower rates than a big union-sponsored group. The national office agreed with him, and sent him back to North Carolina to raise $30,000 to back the endeavor.

It took him a total of three days. He was so successful that he had to give part of the money back, having exceeded the amount needed. His backers - "angels" as they are appropriately called in theatre circles - included several of his acquaintances from Piedmont Players who had come to know and admire his work. Moore himself bought into the company, which has been licensed to tour with the show in North Carolina and points south.

Auditions in New York for Playmoore Productions attracted nearly 300 actors, including, of course, Scott Holmes and two other Catawba alumni and original members from that 71 "Dolly" cast, David Hughes and Pam Harres. Moore had already had Holmes in mind for the vital role of Jesus, and Ms. Harres for choreographer and understudy.

In keeping things "all in the family," Moore's contracted Catawba drama teacher Hoyt McCachren to direct the show, and his old Catawba organ teacher Gilbert Pirovano of Charlotte as musical director. Pirovano, who was to play piano and organ in the production, assembled a small rock ensemble to back the company instrumentally. Cindy Gudge, another Catawba and Blue Masque-PP alumna, was hired as stage manager.

With his cast of ten - all of whom are NY based pros - Moore brought the show back home to Salisbury for opening night July 20. Playmoore's "Godspell" has been playing to packed houses ever since.

Moore says he has yet to get a flat refusal from any booker he has called.

And as far as he's concerned, the sky's the limit from now on.

While the members of the cast fluctuate - come and go, depending upon commitments in the New York area - "Godspell" has not lost its magic for Moore, or apparently for those who have seen it.

(Continued on page 12)

University Arms

Come see what we have to offer...all electric living, GE appliances, individually controlled air conditioning, shag carpet, patio, swimming pool...

1, 2 and 3
BEDROOM
APARTMENTS

Available FURNISHED or UNFURNISHED Resident Manager on site daily.
9 months leases
Phone 791-8874 or 782-0338
or go by and see Linda Taylor
4916B Pepsy Lane
University Arms Apts.

THE 4 TH CORNER

ONE STOP SHOP
almost
FOR A ALL YOUR SMOKING NEEDS!

4405 WRIGHTSVILLE AVENUE
WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA 28401
PHONE (919) 791-9325

Preston plays with biggies

Billy Preston travels in fast company--Beatles, Stones, and now the George Harrison tour set for later this fall. But it hasn't always been like that and there's no denying that the man has paid his dues for the success that he is currently enjoying. Billy Preston worked on his solo career as well as playing with Ray Charles before being discovered by the Beatles, George Harrison. Harrison brought him over to the studios while Beatles were recording and filming "Let It Be" and even made several appearances on the documentary film with them. He immediately became the first and only black artist to be signed to the Beatles' Apple label. Even with the publicity of his association with Apple Records and the Beatles generated, Preston seemed doomed to obscurity until Harrison asked him to play the Bangla Desh Concert at Madison Square Garden. There in one of the most electrifying performances ever recorded on film, Billy Preston brought the house down with his performance of "That's the Way God Planned It." He probably did. Billy Preston had played with the best--George Harrison, Leon Russell, Eric Clapton and Bob Dylan--and had held his own with no trouble.

From there success came quickly. Single hits such as "Will It Go 'Round In Circles," "Space Race," "I Wrote A Simple Song" and "Out of Space" followed in rapid succession. Currently, Preston has another top 5 single with "Nothing From Nothing."

Last autumn he toured with the Rolling Stones on their first European tour in years. No one tours with the Stones unless they ask you personally. His record session works read like Who's Who in Rock. But Preston is no dummy, it's taken him years to reach the height he's now achieved and he has no intention of letting it slip from his grasp. He has personally developed a stage show which combines some of the best lighting and sound around. OK--you all know that Preston is known for his showmanship but if you haven't seen him in the last six months then you haven't seen Billy Preston! His lighting now includes two 18 ft. lighting platforms and other special lighting like no artist that has ever been here before. His sound is done by Tycobra--which means he brings one of the best PA's around. Some of you may have seen a limited sample in Charlotte on July 13 when Preston shared the bill with other acts to follow so that the audience saw only a small portion of his show. On Oct. 2 at 8:00 in Hanover Hall, Preston won't have to limit his show for anyone and if you saw him before--here--and like him--you ain't seen nothing yet.

Tickets are on sale in the Pub and for UNC-W students and their guests are only $3.50 (limit 2 per ID). The ticket price is almost as amazing as Billy Preston's show--it's the same price that was charged two years ago. Don't ask how--lightning seldom strikes twice. Due to the fact that there is a large price break for UNC-W students, you will be required to present your ID when you purchase your ticket as well as at the door.

UNC-W was very fortunate to get Billy Preston back. He will be rehearsing with George Harrison up until two days before this concert and this is one of the few selected dates he will be playing before the Harrison tour. Who knows, maybe old G.H. himself will show up and play--now that would be some concert--dream on!

playmoore productions. ltd.

presents

GODSPELL

A Musical Based Upon
The Gospel According to St. Matthew

Southeastern USA
Tour

N.Y. Professional Cast

"A CELEBRATION
OF LIFE"

JUBILANT
ROCK
OF AGES"

General Admission
at Door

$5.00 Adults $4.00 Students

UNC-W students with I.D.
$ 2.00

Kenan Auditorium
8:15pm

TONITE THRU SATURDAY

Produced in association with the fine arts committee - UNC-W

BUY TICKETS NOW

Volunteer Openings

YWCA

Across highway from Long Leaf Mall.
Saturdays' 9:30 a.m. till 1:30 p.m.
Recreation activities with school age children.

WILMINGTON BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

Across highway from college.
Tutoring reading with the Laubach method.

NEW HANOVER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Evenings

Work in clinic, nursery, children's ward, or as auxiliary aides.

YMCA

2710 Market Street
Mornings, Monday through Friday
Aid with handicapped swim program

OPEN HOUSE

610 Market Street
Get application from Ms. Moore.
4 hours per week requested
Be at the House to help visitors and callers cope with problems.
Training begins late September.

CRISIS LINE

Two 4 hour shifts each month.
Man phone line anonymously to help callers cope with variety of problems.
Training begins Sept. 19

JUVENILE SERVICES CENTER

Help with achievement testing and taking social histories of teenage delinquents;

FOR MORE DETAILS ON THESE &
OTHER OPPORTUNITIES,
SEE MS. LINDA MOORE, D. S. A.
IN THE PUB

EDITORIALS

The Gadfly: Smell of burning books

ODOR OF CENSORSHIP

Well it's Fall again and the smell of burning books fill the air. Ah, yes, 'tis the season to censor.

There are times like the present when I wonder who decided to put the sapiens after homo. After reading some of the letters to the editor in the Star News concerning "The Curious Eye," I think there are some people who are still rated merely at the homo erectus stage.

How is it that a species that could produce Socrates, Cicero, Michelangelo, Beethoven and Lincoln, also produce such winners as Attila the Hun and Hitler? A quick poll of opinions on the whys and wherefores of censorship in this county will give you a good start on the answer to that question. Since time long forgotten, there have been those who feel that their religious beliefs, their moral values and their social values are the only ones for everyone. Those who opposed the majority or the more-powerful were persecuted for their position. It would seem time has changed human nature but little, if any at all.

Those who have little respect for beliefs not their own, or ideas not aligned with what they accept, are quick to censor. It seems strange, perhaps, but those who want censorship can rarely produce a logical argument for such an action. The pro-censorship crowd thrives on ignorance and emotional appeal without regard to any idea of rational thinking. These people can easily use freedom of speech and press to eradicate those same freedoms if they are not met with some opposition.

The censors would have us sometimes that we are forced to buy Playboy or read "The Curious Eye." No one in this country is forced to read "dirty" books or magazines. Those who feel they should not have to experience morally questionable material are not forced to do so.

These same people who strongly object to experiencing what they feel is morally improper are all too willing to see no one else has the choice of experiencing it either. To permit anyone to tell you what you cannot read is to imply the reverse side of the coin. Someday you may find yourself forced to read "acceptable" literature so you will think "proper" thoughts. I am afraid that those who censor will feel that much of the world's great literature is "improper."

Pandora's box has been opened once again. You cannot expect the ignorant and uneducated to close it. All too many people can be swayed by those who would use illogical, highly emotional arguments to push their arguments. Many, usually level-headed people, can be lead to foolish actions by those who twist religion, morals and patriotism out of their contexts and use them as tools of emotional control. This is a dangerous period in American history. With economic troubles and chronic shortages, the public is all too willing to listen to those who offer overly simplistic solutions for our social and economic problems. As a college student, you should know by now that such measures as censorship only aggravate the problem.

There are undesirable elements in our society. There is poverty, disease, moral depravity and ignorance. To hide our head in the sand and hope they will go away if we forbid them to be discussed is absurd to the extreme. To try to hide the facts from young people is equally idiotic. To meet the problems they will ultimately face we owe it to the young to see that they are well prepared to face the problems.

What would happen to someone who had never been isolated for a disease if they were suddenly exposed to the disease? More than likely they would contract it. The same holds for the uneducated mind.

To withhold the truth from people is to leave an area where misconception and false concepts can thrive. You are here at this university to learn the truth and it is up to you to see that truth, once learned, survives. Each one of us carries a piece of the potential mankind has for the future. Don't let it die in Silence.

HELL, NO. or why it never pays to rock the boat

There is perpetually talk around campus about the overwhelming student apathy. No one can deny its presence, and we can only hope to attempt to solve the resultant problems.

We have heard cries about this being a suitcase college. We've heard that there's a lack of enthusiasm because the sports program is "not strong" and that that is due to a lack of support. In other words, what we've heard are circular answers to a circular question.

We have another curve to toss into an already curved line. Maybe students have become like zombies in a coma because they've learned that caring only gives them hurt, and beating themselves against a brick wall leaves them with only a headache.

It has happened, time and time again, that students with problems go to professors, chairmen, administrators whose only answer is, "I'm sorry, there's nothing that can be done." It seems to us sometimes that the "people in authority" have lost sight of the fact that a university is an institution where students come to learn to grow, to transform energy and enthusiasm into higher aims and ambitions.

Have they forgotten that WE are what it's all about? Budgets, changes, proposals, meetings are important, but there's no such thing as all of that without US. And there seem to be fewer and fewer in high places to realize that.

When you know you're gonna lose. When you know it's all in vain. When you realize "nothing can be done" and "it's all been said before," it's hard to keep on trying. If you're already down, do you really want to do anything that puts you down anymore? If you are drowning, do you want someone to offer you a glass of water? If you know you can't swim, do you want to rock the boat?

Hell, no. No wonder there's apathy.

After attending the Leadership Workshop this past week-end, I would like to thank Linda Moore, Dr. Newton, Dave Robertson and Jim Slager for giving me a chance to become a better Seahawk staff member.

When asked by several people if I would like to attend the workshop, I said yes not knowing exactly what to expect once I was there. Knowing how most things go around this school, my expectations were few in number, but I was really impressed after the first night.

I was honestly very insecure in my position on the Seahawk, and I wondered if I was accomplishing what I, as a writer, was trying to say in my articles. Knowing that some things will never be fully understood, I am glad to say that at least a few make sense to me now.

I have always felt that the Seahawk staff, though few in number, is one of (if not the) closest organizations on campus. Because we do have our ups and downs, I feel the workshop has helped us greatly to improve on what we already had; plus, it gave me a new point of view on many of the things which have bothered me in the past.

If everyone who attended the workshop received half the benefit I believe I have, it could be called a great success. Once again, Thank You, Leaders.

John Wilkins
Music Editor
Seahawk

To the Editor:

As a veteran, I cannot understand how Col. Clark can continue this censorship of his, by whatever name he chooses to call it. Being a veteran himself, he should realize the time, effort, sacrifices and lives of veterans that have been expended to preserve the Constitution, especially the Bill of Rights. Since he has, on at least one occasion, sworn to protect and uphold the Constitution, perhaps he has reconsidered and would like to retract or modify his pledge to exclude freedom of the press.

Of course, one sees this same high-handedness by our county officials in the matter of "The Curious Eye." It is therefore safe to assume that having gotten by with it once, the self-appointed censors will strike again. I only wonder where.

Craig M. Parker
ex-USN, Viet Nam veteran

Dear Editor,

I am far from being a #3 stereotype "campus radical" but My God! Who designed those new plastic desks? DeSade? Who bought them? Did anybody over THERE try sitting in one before the desk was signed? An hour in one of those devices is more torturous than a day on the rack. Speaking of the rack, some mags in the bookstore offend me. "Brides" is a chauvinistic example of waste and blind tradition. "The True" has a photo of a pro-fighter on the cover. That concept of senseless violence for sport is disgusting. The "National Star" has a cover broadcast of "Those Wild Kennedy Boys." Talk about morbid nostalgic! Pictures of dead people offend me when they are exploited for some greedy publisher. Jesus, then we get to "Sports Affair."

(Continued on page 9)

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on tuesday for wednesday distribution, all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on friday for publication on tuesday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief
robert maxey, advertising director
john wilkins, music editor
sheryl moore, paul walker, photographers
joyce creech, typist
ms. linda moore, advisor

DEAR DARLENE

BY DARLENE PEARSALL

For instance, are you male or female?

Dear Darlene,
I'm a freshman and I need help. No one around here seems to care about me. Everyone ignores me. They all act as though I don't exist. When I ask people questions, they never answer. What should I do?

Dear Darlene,
I live in the dorm and I'm a little bit worried. Is it true that you can get pregnant if you do "it", just once?
Simply Curious

Dear Simple,
Before I can answer that question there is some information that I would require.

Dear Darlene,
I'm a male--6 ft. 4in. with blonde hair and blue eyes. I have a 4.0 average and everyone says that I have a great personality. My problem is that girls are always bothering me. They won't leave me alone for a minute. Even my female teachers have started to make passes at me. Help ME!!
Adam

Dear Adam,
Meet me at my place and we'll discuss the matter further.

Dear Darlene,
I'm flunking out of school. Help me! What's the proper thing to do?
Please don't sign my real name.

Dear Stupid,
Have you tried cheating?

Dear Darlene,
My roommate has started dating a guy that's a real louse. He's always hanging around our apartment and eating our food. Since my roommate doesn't know how to cook, I'm the one who must prepare all the meals. It's getting to be a strain. Any suggestions?
Tired

Dear Tired,
The next meal you prepare for them should be a spicy one. Why not add a generous portion of H_2SO_4 to the food. Then, your problem will be gone forever.

Have you got a problem?
You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write Dear Darlene in care of the Cherry Hill Mental Hospital.

PLAYBOY & OUI EARN RETAILERS
MORE PROFIT PER ISSUE THAN GOOD HOUSEKEEPING, READER'S DIGEST,
NATIONAL ENQUIRER,
LADIES' HOME JOURNAL,
REDBOOK, GLAMOUR,
SEVENTEEN, McCALLS, BETTER HOMES AND GARDENS,
HOT ROD, TIME AND NEWSWEEK COMBINED.

National average retailer profit from PLAYBOY and OUI: $1,368,466 per issue. Total combined profit from the other 12 publications indicated above: $1,332,665 per issue.

The point is obvious: For maximum magazine profits, feature your top money makers: PLAYBOY and OUI.

Distributed nationally by Independent News Company.

PRESTON!

Seahawk's Supervision for October

EDITORIAL

LEADERS LEARN TOGETHER

Some 40 students on campus participated in a student leadership workshop sponsored last weekend by the Student Activities Office.

As always, there were some who did not gain great benefit from the experience. But for the most part, the participants gained much from the workshop led by Dr. Jim Slager, psychological counselor in the Counseling and Testing Center. Slager was ably assisted by Ms. Linda Moore, Director of Student Activities; Dr. Darwin Newton, Director of the Counseling and Testing Center; and Dave Robertson, Assistant Dean of Students for Residence Life.

In large and small group settings, students discussed leadership and personality attributes, attitudinal affects, and communication. They talked, they listened, they reflected.

As in last year's workshop, each participant gained valuable insight about himself, those he works with, and communication and interpersonal techniques.

There was a major difference in this and last year's efforts. This year, the workshop showed a broadening and organization indicative of the hours of planning, evaluating and reevaluating that Slager and Ms. Moore must have done since the initial workshop they presented last fall. And this year, ideas were also contributed and hashed out with Newton and Robertson.

All participants in the workshop are to be congratulated for their desire to learn, grow, and improve their leadership potential.

When we've learned all there is to learn - or when we think we have - we're not leaders any more, but corpses.

(Photos by paul walker)

for sale

For Sale
Waterbed--double size
Complete with Frame
Call 762-2185
Best Offer

red.

$10.00

One surfboard--"Channel Island"--height 6 ft., 8 in.
Green deck and white bottom;
round tail

RIDES GOOD!

$75.00

contact: Michele Key 791-8327

For Sale:
2-piece surfer house wetsuit.
Long sleeves. Size medium and johns (with green trim around neck, armholes, and legs) size medium, also.
GREAT CONDITION!
$45.00

One life preserver vest for boating. Green with zipper down front. Reversible side

Art Supplies

- * Paint
- * Brushes
- * Canvas
- * Pens
- * Ink

Bookstore

in The Pub

*and school supplies

SONATA
$300 to $000
WED. RING
$100

MARINA
$300 to $000
WED. RING
$100

JUDD
$300 to $000
WED. RING
$200

Give the gift
of love

A perfect Keepsake diamond backed by our written guarantee of perfect quality, fine white color and correct modern cut. Come in today to see our exciting collection of Keepsake Diamond Rings.

Keepsake
REGISTERED DIAMOND RINGS

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

28 N Front St. • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

BEST PICTURE OF THE YEAR!

WINNER OF 3 ACADEMY AWARDS

The Godfather

Color by Technicolor® A Paramount Picture

SEPT 30 KENAN AUDITORIUM 8 PM

RIDE FIRST CLASS

on a

Gitane, Peugeot

Jeunet, Falcon

REPAIRS

BICYCLE SHOP

4 403

Wrightsville Ave.

Letters

(Continued from page 4)

Let's go out and splatter some squirrels with our semi-automatic self-loading sure-fire rim-fire .44 Magnum. Talking about warped and perverted values! Tell it! Who are they trying to fool? They freaked out and bitched about streaking, but calmly turned aside from dead students in Viet Nam and at Kent. I didn't see Time banned because a picture of Nixon was on the cover. Talk about obscene?

Now to get off campus and downtown. The local media have gone wild over a short story by Piri Thomas entitled "Alien Turi." The story is contained in a volume titled The Curious Eye (or The Third Eye). It is perhaps the finest example of narrative I have ever read. The author is an ex-con, reformed junkie and thief. He grew up in Harlem as a dark-skinned Puerto Rican. The story is centered around his childhood movement into an Italian section of town. It is very, very realistic. Is that why THEY want it censored as "ahem" obscene? When do WE get to see things as they are and decide for ourselves what is right? Are our values so weakly embedded by our parents and culture and so, well... SLACK...that They feel the slightest pressure on the bubble-surface will cause a (expletive deleted) - up?

"Don't look now/Don't heed the warning/It's really of no concern. Don't mind the sound/They're only just bombing/Anything left to burn. Isn't it about time/Isn't it about time we learned?"

William D. Gorges
and Stephen Stills

Vets to meet

UNC-W Veteran's Association meets at 11:30, October 1, at King Hall (Psych.-Ed.) Acceptance of the by-laws will be the main issue. All veterans please attend.

KARTOOONZ

FRANKLY SPEAKING... by phil frank

© COLLEGE MEDIA SERVICES-BOX 9411-BERKELEY, CA 94709

FRANKLY SPEAKING... by phil frank

© COLLEGE MEDIA SERVICES-BOX 9411-BERKELEY, CA 94709

ROCKY SAYS

"The men who try to do something and fail are infinitely better than those who try to do nothing and succeed." So wrote Floyd Jones in years gone by, but here today on the campus of UNC-W, we are faced with another question for freshmen. "Should I become involved?", and if I decide I want to be involved, "What do I have to offer?"

The answer to should is an emphatic "yes." Your talents are needed whether you have one or many. Leadership positions are available. What you have to offer is no different from any other person in Student Government.

There are no great personalities in SGA, only students like yourselves who are working for the benefit of the rest of us.

If indeed there was anyone special, it would be the student who sees something that needs doing and then goes about his way seeing it is done. We need more student leaders to file for offices in the Freshman Class. Something remains for the Freshman class to do. We eagerly wait to see who will do it.

Professional Uniform Center

THE TOTAL IMAGE CO.

Complete Range of Sizes

FLORIAN

ALL NEW DESIGNER SUIT SHOP

GLEN MEADE PLAZA

762-9898

Natural Vitamins Health Foods

HENRIKSEN'S PHARMACY is the nutrition headquarters for Wilmington. We stock Plus Natural Vitamins, Deaf Smith County Organic Whole Wheat flour, meat substitutes and much more!!!

Choose from our stock of books and magazines on nutrition, organic gardening and ecology. We offer the BEST!!!

Henriksen's Pharmacy

Hanover Center

THE TRANSPLANT

by
Milton Boone
Campus Minister

A DISPLACED PUPPY SNIFFS
THE BACKYARDS OF OUR STREET AND, WITH STIFFENED EAR, LISTENS FOR SOME GENTLE-EDGED VOICE TO LET HIM STAY AWHILE.

INDIAN SUMMER RESTS BESIDE THE ROAD
REMEMBERING SUN AND LAUGHTER OF JULY; AND NEVER KNOWING HOW TO SAY GOOD-BY,
POSTPONES DEPARTURE FOR ANOTHER DAY
WHEN AIR IS CHILLED AND LEAVES ARE GOLD OR DRY.

ALONG THE WAY FROM HERE TO THERE GOOD TIMES HINDER MOVING ON TO STRANGER PLACES, BUT WANDERING MAKES ONE ILL AT EASE AND SPIRIT
SEEKS A HOME: A STOPPING, STAYING
PLACE TO BE, WHERE LIFE CAN COME AND GO AT WILL AND NEVER LEAVE THE FATHER'S HOUSE.

Seger to open

at Oct. 2 concert

Quick, what have Steely Dan, Lynyrd Skynyrd and Bob Seger got in common? If you answered "They were all opening acts for UNC-W concerts before they made it big," then you've just won a free ticket to the next Beatle concert. Seriously folks, Bob Seger is going to be a big star—maybe bigger than the two groups mentioned earlier. Bob Talbert, the music critic for the Detroit Free Press, predicts that Seger is destined to be as big as Elton John and Leon Russell. Now, Talbert may have gotten a bit carried away—very, very few people ever make it that big—but there's no denying that Bob Seger is producing some of the best good time rock 'n' roll since Chuck Berry. One thing is for sure, Bob Seger is not a one shot overnight success. It has been a long way since the Bob Seger System produced "Ramblin' Gamblin' Man" to his first real hit "Get Out of Denver," a la Chuck Berry. This is Seger's "Seventh" album, and if you've never heard of him before you're never too old to learn. His music won't expand your consciousness but it sure will make you dance. When you combine Bob Seger and the Silver Bullet Band with Billy Preston— you've got a first class bill that will be tough to match much less top for the rest of the year—and all for $3.50—sure beats the usual Wednesday night at the Wreck Hall.

HEED THE WARNING!!!

NO SPECIAL RATE
ON STUDENT TICKETS
AT CONCERT DOOR
ANY MORE!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

There are no special rate student tickets at the door this year. Students have an opportunity to purchase tickets on campus in the Pub, usually from 9:30 till 3:30. Door sales are a hassle and student door sales never even pay for the amount it costs to print the ticket. Therefore, if you're too lazy to purchase the ticket in advance, you can expect to pay the full general admission "at the door" price—in this case, $6.00. Do us all a favor, buy them in advance. By the way, many students were unable to get tickets for Preston last time—buy them early or face the consequences. You have been warned.

INTRAMURAL SCHEDULE

ALL GAMES AT 4 PM

Wed, Sept 25
Th/9-26
M/9-30
Tu/10-1
W/10-2
Th/10-3
M/10-7
Tu/10-8
W/10-9
M/10-14
Tu/10-15
Th/10-17
M/10-21
Tu/10-22
W/10-23
Th/10-24

6 - 1
6 - 4
2 - 3
1 - 5
6 - 2
5 - 3
4 - 1
5 - 6
1 - 3
4 - 2
MAKE-UP
MAKE-UP
PLAY-OFFS
PLAY-OFFS
PLAY-OFFS
PLAY-OFFS

SU ANN Downtown & Long Leaf Mall

Stroffin' in the woods with connie

Then to the Lip of this peer earthen Urn
I learned, the Secret of my life
to learn:
And, Lip to Lip, it murmured
— "While you live,
Drink! — for once dead, you never shall return."
— Omar Khayyam
(Fitzgerald tr.)

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art, Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP
Terry and Marty Pridgen
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

TEAM ROSTER

- 1 - Dolphins
- 2 - Eatonites
- 3 - Jocks
- 4 - Business Majors
- 5 - TKE
- 6 - Goremeh

Reed's
JEWELERS
27 NORTH FRONT STREET
WILMINGTON, N.C. 28401

UNC-W
CLASS RINGS

men's $95.00

ladies' $60.00

music in your life

by john wilkins

TRAFFIC
WHEN THE EAGLE FLIES
ASYLUM - ISLAND 7E-1020

After Traffic's LOW SPARKS... LP and SHOOT OUT AT THE FANTASY FACTORY it is possible to say that it is time Traffic stood up to their standards and put out a really good album. Thank heaven that time has come and WHEN THE EAGLE FLIES is the LP.

For a brief history we can go back to 1967 when Steve Winwood left The Spencer Davis Group and began Traffic. Joining this first Traffic were Jim Capaldi, Chris Wood and sometimes Dave Mason.

The group's first LP, MR. FANTASY, came out in 1968 and gave the impression Traffic would become a really super group. Somewhere along the line, however, the public didn't get the message and it took a second album, TRAFFIC, before the group started to be recognized.

By this time Mason had moved on to bigger and better things and a very disillusioned Steve Winwood dissolved Traffic to hit big time with Eric Clapton, and you have it, Blind Faith.

Blind Faith turned out to be just that so Winwood bounced back to Traffic and put out one of the finest albums by the group, JOHN BARLEYCORN MUST DIE. After this the group experimented some and out popped the LOW SPARKS and SHOOT OUT LPs, both of which gained mixed reactions and some disappointed Traffic fans.

To those fans, the days of JOHN BARLEYCORN are back, and with them, many improvements. Musically, lyrically and vocally Traffic is once again reaching for the top.

The first song, "Something New," is a very appropriate song for this new album and new style. Winwood's vocals are perfect on this song with the lyrics giving them accent even more than on "Empty Pages" from the BARLEYCORN LP.

When you think you've found the key/the door just slips away/and you walk the floor/all night, until break of day Somewhere in your mind you know, that things will be alright/because all in life is equal/just like day and night/you said you couldn't leave me/after all that we'd been through/I believed you when you said/ we should both try something new.

"Graveyard People" and "Dream Gerrard" are really unusual songs with a touch of synthesizer added which counteracts their one fault, excessive length.

The best song on the LP is "Walking in the Wind." The lyrics are some of the deepest, most meaningful written by the group up to this time.

The prostitute is standing on the corner suffering so much pain to stay alive. She's so real, life itself bows down before her. She couldn't ever make that nine to five.

While the president is crying, crying in the White House
The prime minister's really got the blues
All the heads of state are busy playing cat and mouse cause you can see none of them have ever paid their dues.

I'm walking in the wind looking at the sky hanging on a breeze and I'm wondering why.

After this is "Memories of a Rock'n'Rolla, which tells the life story of a rock star. First as a young boy with no money. Then as a sparkling clothed star who spends money faster than he makes it and ending as an old man bumbling pennies.

After all this, the guy says, "And the music is so sweet that it makes me tap my feet. And the river rolls along like a never ending song." So it can't be all bad.

"When the Eagle Flies," the title cut, is the only bad cut on the album. Being based on ecology, this song could not save anything. The only good things about it are the lyrics and the fact that it is the last cut on the LP, making it easy to reject and not miss anything.

To sum up, Traffic is back. Get their new album. Listen to it until the grooves wear out. And maybe even ROCK - OUT.

STONE THE CROWS

Stone the Crows
Polydor 24-4019

Teenage Licks
Polydor PD-5020

For those of you who are industrious enough to really look for an album, these are two which are really worth the time. The group, which is no longer together, featured MAGGIE BELL on vocals, LES HARVEY on guitar and some of the best Rock-Blues of the early '70's.

The first of the two to be released was the Stone the Crows LP. It is a typical early '70's blues type LP and contains some really good original material. "The Touch of Your Loving Hand" is one such original cut on side one. The side also contains Josh White's "Blind Man" and the BEATLES' "Fool on the Hill" which can honestly be said to be some of BELL's best work.

The next album, Teenage Licks, was released in 1972. This album sways more to a rock format, but the blues is still a major influence. "Mr. Wizard," "Keep On Rolling," and "I May Be Right I May Be Wrong" are all original cuts and are, even today, classic examples of BELL's vocals. The album also contains a very bluesy version of DYLAN'S "Don't Think Twice" which should really be of interest to people who dig DYLAN and the blues style.

Although it is difficult to find these albums, it is possible when searching through discount racks.

NEXT WEEK: Roy Wood's Wizzard - INTRODUCING EDDY & THE FALCONS

Bob Seger may share spotlight

On Wednesday, Oct. 2, 1974, there will be a concert in Hanover Hall here on campus. The concert's main attraction is Billy Preston, but with Bob Seger and the Silver Bullet Band playing second billing, there is a possibility that the main attraction may somewhat share the spotlight. In 1968, you may well remember, Bob Seger had the hit single "Ramblin' Gambler" Man" and recently he has the single "Get Out of Denver" which is doing rather well.

It seems strange that nothing has been heard from Seger in this area until now, after some six years of absence. In Detroit (where Seger is from) he has, however, had at least an album a year to do rather well. The last album, SEVEN, is the LP from which the single is taken and is another attempt for Seger to become popular in more areas than his home town.

As for the band's style, it is nothing but Detroit Rock. Seger's vocals have been compared to those of Joe Cocker, Rod Stewart, Fogerty, and sometimes all three at once. Dennis Hunt of the Los Angeles Times went so far as to say the group was as powerful as Lynyrd Skynyrd and "one of the finest rock'n' roll bands around."

These statements in themselves give reason to believe that Bob Seger and the Silver Bullet Band may be somewhat more than second choice. It should well be worth the price of a ticket to find out.

Crisis Line:
your friend

RECORD
WORLD

"Your Ears Are Our Business"

Long Leaf Mall

Mon. - Sat.

10-9

791-7043

ANNOUNCING

1974

University Poetry Contest

1st Prize $50

2nd Prize $30

3rd Prize $20

All UNC-W Students are eligible to enter.

submit poems to:

Department of English

no later than

October 14, 1974

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry

Blouse tops

Bags

Shirts

Candles

Handmade Spreads

Embroidered Dresses

Belts

Leatherwork
Headgear

Mexican Handicraft.

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

GODSPELL

(Continued from page 2)
 "It's the kind of show that produces something new and different and exciting every night for me, and for everybody up there on the stage," says Moore, who still can't quite believe his good fortune. "We could go on indefinitely," he says.
 What happens to Playmoore Productions after "Godspell?"
 "That's a good question," muses Jerry Moore. "The backers are happy and completely satisfied so far, but I'm not in this business to get rich . . . I'm just having the time of my life, and doing exactly what I want to do more than anything I can possibly imagine.

"I'm living out a dream - and I want to perpetuate it as long as I can. Most people never get the chance to do that, you know. . ."

PUB

WEEKDAYS	8am - 10pm
FRI	8am - MIDNIGHT
SAT	2am - MIDNIGHT
SUN	2pm - 10pm

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club

APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Walk-in-closet carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining.
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen area.
- Hotpoint range, refrigerator, garbage disposal.
- Individually-controlled air conditioning.
- Large swimming pool. Central laundry facilities.

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished	$135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished	$149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished	$160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished	$185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT...

Country Club

APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

seahawk

volume xvii, number six

october 2, 1974

twelve pages

Jerry Jarrett

The 'Fiddler's' Tevye ---

SEE PAGE 3

COMMENTARY MAYBE THIS WILL HELP

For Students in academic "hot water"

BY KATHI BEALL

There is a great deal of confusion on campus concerning situations such as "academic probation" and "ineligibility to return."

When a student finally realizes that he is in academic "hot water," it is often too late for him to do much about it, or if it is not too late, he often does not know where to go to get needed help to avoid an educational crisis.

The student's first clue that he is in academic difficulty ought to be low grades. For example, a student who has taken 27-85 credit hours should have at least a 1.2 QPA to continue in school. If he has made more D's than C's, he'd better beware. Students who are unsure of their standing should check with the Registrar's office. If they feel that some sort of academic advising would be helpful, they might make an appointment to see their respective advisors. If they have not been assigned an advisor, the Registrar's office can fix 'em up.

Several other sources for help include: Mrs. Helena Cheek and Ralph H. Parker, Deans of Students, of the Student Affairs Office, and Drs. Darwin R. Newton and James

B. Slager of the Counseling and Testing Center.

Maybe the student waits for whistles and alarm bells to let him know there's trouble at the QP Corral. The main signal should be the words "INELIGIBLE TO RETURN" appearing on the grade report sheet sent out to the student's home. If there's ANY doubt, check that out.

If the "ineligible" is gained at the end of spring semester, the student may try to pull the old QP card during summer school. (A hint: unless you're a second Einstein, don't try to bring up the grade with Calculus if you've only completed K-3 arithmetic). An ineligible at the end of fall semester can probably be brought back to par by decent work during the spring.

Sometimes, the student's grades may fall way below requirements and he may be told he must cease and desist for a semester. If there are extenuating circumstances, the student may petition the admissions committee, headed at the present time by Dr. Haskell V. Hart, for readmission.

If the committee turns down the student: request, he may appeal to Chancellor William H. Wagoner, as a last resort.

Currently in the planning stage, according to Chancellor Wagoner, is an extension of services of the academic advisory program in which an advisor or dean would call the troubled student in for a "We've got to stop meeting like this" conference.

Often the problem is not that the student is goofing off (although this is sometimes the difficulty), but that he is in some area of concentration that he hates. (IE, someone who hates children should not expect to ace elementary ed, someone who is colorblind should not expect to come through art without scars, etc.).

Another positive step along these lines is for the student to go to the Counseling and Testing center for help along career counseling lines. In addition, now before the consolidated UNC Board of Governors is a proposal for a campus Career-Development Officer who would help students find the right major/career for them. The proposal, if approved by the Board, would probably go before the State Legislature when it convenes in January, 1975, and if approved there, would probably go into effect July 1, 1975.

There are problems and misunderstandings existing with the students and the University. Hopefully, the suggestions and plans outlined above will help students who find themselves close to or in academic straits.

Jarrett to bring character alive In "An Evening with Tevye"

Tevye in the person of actor Jerry Jarrett is bringing homespun wisdom and a lesson in humanities to college campuses around the nation.

Mr. Jarrett starred in "Fiddler on the Roof" on Broadway from 1968 to 1972. Jarrett stepped out of his role as Tevye, Jewish father of three daughters in the Broadway musical "Fiddler on the Roof," but the character lives on in his performance of "An Evening With Tevye."

He will be wearing the boots and beard of the historical dairyman on the stage of Kean Memorial Auditorium on the campus of UNC-Wilmington, Thursday evening October 3rd, beginning at 8:00 P.M.

Accompanying Mr. Jarrett on his tour is pianist James Roberts, a student of Manhattan School of Music.

Jarrett, a first generation Jewish-American, is interpreting the humor and warmth of some of the stories of Sholom Aleichem, from which the "Fiddler" story comes.

The Tevye stories, according to Jarrett, derive from a dairyman who with other Russian Jews living in a Jewish ghetto would come to market before Sabbath to sell his milk and buy enough supplies to see his family through the Sabbath. It was there, apparently, that Rabinowitz came to know the man who inspired his stories. It became a habit with the marketers to purchase a Tevye story before returning home.

Mr. Jarrett will be performing songs from "Fiddler on the Roof" including, "Fiddler How and Why?" "If I Were a Rich Man," "Ramblings of a Later Tevye," "Hodel," "The Bubble Burst" and "Sunrise, Sunset."

"An Evening With Tevye" is being sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee of UNC-W. General admission will be $2.50 and students with UNC-W IDs will be admitted free of charge.

For further information and group rates call 791-9395 between the hours of 3-5 P.M. Monday through Thursday.

Director of Admissions Murrie Lee also may be able to answer questions concerning readmission after academic suspension. (photo by sheryl moore)

University Arms

Come see what we have to offer...all electric living, GE appliances, individually controlled air conditioning, shag carpet, patio, swimming pool...

1, 2 and 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS

Available FURNISHED or UNFURNISHED Resident Manager on site daily! 9 months leases Phone 791-8874 or 762-0336 or go by and see Linda Taylor 4916B Pepps Lane University Arms Apts.

GET OFF
YOURS!

TWO WHEELER DEALER
602 CAUSEWAY DR.
WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH
256-3520

WHO'S WHO

nominations accepted thru Oct. 10

All members of the student body are requested to make nominations for membership in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. To be eligible, a nominee should be currently enrolled and should receive his degree by May, 1976.

The criteria for selection include (1) scholastic ability (2) participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities (3) citizenship and service to the university (4) potential for future achievement.

Membership in the 40 year old national organization entitles the student selected to use the special reference placement service maintained for exclusive assistance in seeking post-graduate employment or fellowships. In addition, each student receives a personalized certificate, local and national publicity and an invitation to participate in national student polls conducted periodically on major issues of the day.

A similar request to nominate students has been sent to each academic department. A committee composed of students, faculty and administration will make the final selection of the 37 students to be nominated for Who's Who.

Please bring your nominations together with data to back up your selection of candidates to the Student Affairs Office no later than October 10th.

Morrison clarifies concert policies

In order to clarify questions about the concert program this year, I have written this short article with the hopes that all students will now understand our situation.

First, we now have a concert manager under contract to provide the school with a minimum of five concerts during the 1974-75 academic year.

His responsibilities entail arrangements and expenditures for radio, television and newspaper advertising and publicity for all concerts chosen by the concert committee. All negotiations with acts and artists will also be handled by the concert manager.

With this acquisition of a concert manager the school will have five concerts guaranteed. Without this arrangement, the concert committee would have to resort to spending its entire $7,500 budget on one good concert and hoping for enough financial return from it to piece together a second, cheaper concert. Why cheaper? Well, after paying for your artists, booking agency, security, fire marshall, clean-up company, sound company, lighting crew, poster printing, radio, T.V. and newspaper advertising, and many other expenses, you are extremely fortunate to get your money back. Realistically, there couldn't be more than two or three concerts a year if your luck held out. We feel a concert manager under contract is by far the most logical solution to a much needed concert series.

Stephen Morrison

CUDA TO MEET

If there is any certified diver on campus, student faculty, or staff, who likes the idea of diving into 100+ ft. visibility, please come to the 3rd meeting of CUDA of Wilmington. The meeting will take place October 7 at 8:30 in the Wrightsville Bio-Marine Laboratory located next to Babies Hospital. Refreshments will be served.

The club's constitution has recently been reified by the Student Senate and we are now on official club of the University. We will be diving off the North Carolina coast very often and will also be making trips to Florida. The purpose of the club is to extend our knowledge of the theory and practice of safe scuba diving.

FLEA MARKET

412 So. 17th St.

7,000 RPM RECORDS

good condition

15¢ each or 10 for $1.00
plus tax

Honduras needs your ayuda

Spanish Club Representatives have collected $225 to help Honduras in trouble. They'd like to help more. Drop your contribution in one of the containers provided in the cafeteria, library or RUB. (photo by paul walker)

We already know that hurricane Fifi has left thousands of persons in a starving and diseased situation in Honduras. Now we can and must do something. The Spanish Club (Club de Espanol) in cooperation with the Honduran Embassy is sponsoring a collection for these people. Donation boxes will be placed in the Pub, Library and Cafeteria starting Friday, Sept. 27 through Friday, Oct. 4. Please give generously. Gracias.

THE STAND

HOTDOGS
any way you like 'em

LUNCH
PLATES
BAKED BEANS
CHILI

5311 MARKET ST.

Payne's

Find the dimension in fashion you have never met before. PAYNE'S, Kim Herring models a suede waist coat; Herman Phillips turtle-neck sweater; Lord Jeff

Mr. Natural Cords; Male U.S.A.
Wallabees; Clarks of England
Kid gloves; Gates Gloves

Available at

Payne's

Downtown, Hanover Center
& Long Leaf Mall

EDITORIALS —

The Gadfly:

Looking back over my last few columns I can detect signs of creeping pomposity.

If there is anything worse than thinking dirty, its thinking like a bureaucrat.

This week I am not going to rage against censorship. Aside from the fact that I am beginning to get bored with it there seems to be evidence that something might be done about it. On this campus at least.

There are rumors that the student government is actually going to look into the problem. All this time I had been convinced that all the student government did was distribute money and put a column in the paper telling us how nice it was to go to UNC-W. If the SGA actually does do something about the campus bookstore incident it may do alot to bring life to this otherwise complacent student body. The only favor I would like to ask of the SGA is that they do not make UNC-W's censorship question appear as assine at that of the local high schools. There is no reason why a logical, reasonable dialogue between student body and administration could not produce a satisfactory solution, acceptable to all.

Depending upon your sense of humor, you may cringe (or laugh) at the letters to the editor from distraught readers of the Wilmington

Star News. While I am heartily in favor of their use of the freedom of speech, (which is what I had thought this was all about) I cannot help being dismayed at the way they exercise this right. Those of you who are aware of what logical thinking is should check out the letters to the Star News. It is easy to see that the school system is suffering from an inability to educate on many levels.

It is this inability to actually talk to one another that causes many of the ridiculous situations the human race is constantly finding itself in. The forum for exchange of ideas in a rational manner becomes two soap boxes from which an eruption of derogatory adjectives fly.

Therefore, whatever action on censorship is taken on this campus let it be done in a manner suitable to a group of scholars and not a rabble of shouting fanatics. Not that there are any fanatics on this campus to shout.

CONCERT?

CONCERT!

CHUCK WHO?

Chuck Mitchell!

"Wonderful", you may say, "but who, when and where?"

Well, the Student Union Program Board has arranged to bring Chuck Mitchell, song writer, poet and guitarist, to UNC-W on Oct. 16-18 for 3 days of rap sessions, jam sessions, even classroom visits. Also featured is a concert.

END APATHY:

JOIN MUSHROOM I TODAY

I would like to solicit your aide in bringing an end to the apathy that has descended upon UNC-W. With the aide of each and every one of the students, as well as the faculty this can be accomplished. I propose a very simple way. I will label this policy "Mushroom I". It is very simple; you greet all the students that you see with a smile, good morning, hello, hi or any of the general pleasantries that you would extend to a friend or comrade (this is what one student should feel for another, a feeling of "Comrades in arms against apathy"). These students in turn will be warmed and stirred to repeat this act. As they meet each other they too will greet each other warmly, and then when we can greet each other we can then start to work and play together as a team. In other words, the fighting of friendship will mushroom into a feeling of positivity.

Tojle King
Sr. Class President

Has anything been resolved concerning the ban of Playboy, Playgirl and Viva from the racks of magazines in the university bookstore? Is there really a Colonel Clark? Where does this censor-stamping dude hang out? I have yet to run across him in the folds of the school crowd--students, administrators, faculty, staff--(Now c'mon Kathi! I know editors get desperate for fillers, but surely you didn't dream all of this up to get poor, unsuspecting pupils with plenty of studying to do to writly letters to the editor...)

For the past couple of weeks I have been enlightened and entertained by the controversy that is slowly, but surely, turning UNC-by-the-Sea into an over-rated secondary school. University officials and students can argue from now until Doomsday (or graduation, whichever comes first) over Playboy, Playgirl, and Viva, but does the arguing accomplish anything?

What does Colonel Clark think he is protecting us from? Has he been in the restrooms on campus lately? Grafitd has progressed from an interesting array of words and phrases to an entertaining display of art work.

It should be pretty obvious--and let me make this "perfectly clear"--that the students want the obscene threesome back in the bookstore! (By the way, has anyone considered sending Colonel Clark a subscription to any, one, or possibly all three, magazines?)

I say the magazines should be returned to the racks in the university bookstore, but then, what I say doesn't amount to a hill of beans without roughly 2,799 students to back me up.

Un-apathetically,
Beth Hicks

P.S. My Praises go the staff of the Seahawk who have been busting their typewriters, presses and type to make us all a little more aware of the absurdities that go on at UNC-by-the-Sea.

THE TRANSPLANT

by
Milton Boone
Campus Minister

Can anyone remember a pear tree blooming in September, and never wonder why?

"Blessed be the name of God forever and ever, to whom belongeth wisdom and might.

He changes times and seasons; he removes kings and sets up kings; he gives wisdom to the wise and knowledge to those who have understanding; he reveals deep and mysterious things, he knows what is in the darkness and the light dwells with him."

Daniel 2:20-22

Patience can recall the unexpected pleasure of it all, and God smiles.

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on tuesday for wednesday distribution. all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on friday for publication on tuesday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief
robert maxey, advertising director
john wilkins, music editor
sheryl moore, paul walker, photographers
joyce creech, margaret monroe, typists bobbie, tim willette, staff members
ms. linda moore, adviser

THIS IS GREAT.
FOUR YEARS OF COLLEGE AND I CAN'T GRADUATE...

...UNLESS I PASS
THIS TEST! IF ONLY
I COULD REMEMBER
THE CAPITAL OF URUGUAY~

R. SCHMIDT

SMELL of BURNING books

Seahawk photographer Paul Walker caught

Chestnut Street School in flames on Sunday afternoon

8 p.m. UMS presents Yuval Trio
Kenan Auditorium

8:30 p.m. CUDA - Scuba Club meeting at Wrightsville
Marine Bio-Med Lab

8 p.m. Kenan Aud.
Flick - "Jesus Christ Superstar"

14

YEARBOOK PHOTOS THIS WEEK

October 20
Theatre - "Blood Wedding" SRO Theatre

21

7 p.m. SNCAE Meeting K-103
Theatre - "Blood Wedding" SRO Theatre

Varsity Soccer
UNC-W at the Citadel

8 p.m. Flick -
"Clockwork Orange"

Kenan Aud.

22

8 p.m. Flick -

"The Last Picture Show" Kenan Aud.

4 p.m. Video Tape Committee Meeting
Upsstairs in Pub.

8 p.m. "An Evening With Tevye" -
Jerry Jarrett
Kenan Auditorium

4

3:30 p.m. Varsity Soccer
UNC-W hosts NCSU

5

Freshman Elections - Pub & Cafeteria

Last day to nominate students to Who's Who Student Affairs Office

3:30 p.m. Varsity Soccer
UNC-W hosts Pembroke State U.

10

Happy Columbus Day

Varsity Soccer - UNC-W at High Point

17

3:30 p.m. Varsity Soccer
UNC-W hosts Lynchburg

18

Theatre - "Blood Wedding" SRO Theatre

Theatre - "Blood Wedding" SRO Theatre

19

24

25

26

Varsity Soccer
UNC-W at ECU

State Meeting - NCSU

31 HAPPY HALLOWEEN!

8 p.m. Flicks -
"Tales from the Crypt" and
"Bluebeard" Kenan Aud.

CAST NOW REHEARSING FOR 'blood wedding'

The University Theatre now has Garcia Lorca's Spanish tragedy "Blood Wedding" in rehearsal. This is the University Theatre's opening play of the 1974-75 season. Later in the year Edward Albee's brilliant play "A Delicate Balance" and George Bernard Shaw's comedy "Candida" and a student production will complete the University Theatre season.

"Blood Wedding" has been produced by professional and amateur groups throughout the world winning singular acclaim for this play. This powerfully passionate modern tragedy ranks in tender pathos with "Romeo and Juliet." Its star-crossed lovers attempting to break the bonds of their Spanish society parallel the attempt of the Spanish people to struggle against the oppression of their homeland. Lorca has captured the Spanish desire to free natural human impulses whether they be personal or national or universal. The play speaks not only to Spain but to the entire world as indicated by the constant worldwide success of the play.

The University Theatre is an educational theatre striving to produce the best world theatre for the students and the community. This year's season brings three outstanding plays to Wilmington representing the theatre of Spain, England, and the United States. With the continued aid and support of the UNC-W student body, the SGA, and the people of Wilmington, the University Theatre will continue to produce outstanding contemporary and classical theatre.

The "Blood Wedding" cast includes Sharon Pierson as the Bride, John Simmons as the Groom, Penny Pridemore as the Mother, Lewis Musser as Leonardo, Linda Williams as the Wife, Janet Whitesides

as the Servant, Sherry Hill as the Mother-In-Law, Sharon Clark as Death, Sheryl Moore as the Neighbor, Joel Perry as the Father, David Brickley as the Moon, Pam Davis and Margaret Monroe as young girls and Wes Knappe, Dennis Smith, and Everett Lewis as Woodcutters.

"Blood Wedding" will open October 18 and play through October 21 in the S.R.O. Theatre in Kenan Hall on the UNC-W campus. The University Theatre is open to anyone who wants to participate as either a performer or as a good audience.

It's time to choose your rings

SOLAND $300 to 3000

WED. RING $100

POLYNERIA $300 to 3000

WED. RING $200

Keepsake assures perfect clarity, fine white color and precise cut.

Keepsake
REGISTERED & PATENTED

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

28 N Front St • 763-0311
Hanover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

LAST CHANCE: BUY PRESTON TICKETS

The Billy Preston-Bob Seger concert promises to be a rare treat following in the tradition of the Earl Scruggs Review and Wet Willie-Cowboy concerts. Special care was taken in the selection of both acts and each has something a bit different to add to the bill though musically they are both compatible. From the impeccable musical credentials of Billy Preston along with his showmanship to the get down and boogie music of Bob Seger; the show promises to be a good time from start to finish. The concert also takes on a new dimension in that it now becomes the most expensive and elaborate show ever staged by UNC-W.

Billy Preston was here approximately two years ago. Many students were unable to get tickets at the last minute due to the fact that the concert sold out. They missed one of the finest concerts ever staged here. Don't make the same mistake. Tickets are on sale in the Pub and are $3.50 in advance. Any tickets that are left to sell at the door carry one price—$5.00. Do us all a favor; buy them in advance. At present there is only one other concert planned for this semester. In the words of John Lennon, "A splendid time is guaranteed for all."

UNIVERSITY POETRY CONTEST

for 1974

1ST PRIZE $50

2ND PRIZE $30

3RD PRIZE $20

All UNC-W students may enter

Submit poems to:

DEPT. OF ENGLISH

no later than October 14, 1974

Crisis Line:

your friend

BICYCLE SHOP

GITANE
PEUGEOT
JEUNET

Sales & Service
4403 Wrightsville
Ave.

UMS PRESENTS YUVAL TRIO

YUVAL TRIO

The University Music Series will begin Oct. 7 at 8 P.M. in Kenan Memorial Auditorium featuring the Yuval Trio. UNC-W students are admitted free with ID.

Within the past few seasons, the Yuval Trio has emerged as one of Israel's foremost performing ensembles. Organized in 1968, the Trio made its debut in Israel in March, 1969. In March, 1970, just one year after their debut concert, the Trio was invited to perform before the Chamber Music Club of the Israel Philharmonic, giving them the honor of becoming the first Israeli group ever to perform for that august society. "A magnificent Trio, instrumentally first class, in whose playing one feels emotional and natural warmth with performances rich with romantic sweep and bravura."

Pianist, JONATHAN ZAK: Jonathan Zak was born in Tel Aviv, Israel; he studied there and in the Jerusalem Academy of Music before he became a scholarship student at the Julliard School of Music with Beveridge Webster and the late Edward Steuermann. After receiving his M.S. degree there, he became a member of the faculty at Louisiana State University where he stayed for four years. Mr. Zak has performed extensively as soloist, member of chamber groups and accompanist throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and also in London, Amsterdam and Brussels.

Violinist URI PIANKA: Uri Planka was born in Israel and received his primary musical education there. At the age of 16, he was accepted as a scholarship student with Ivan Galamian at the Julliard School of Music.

He has been concertmaster of the Israel Philharmonic since 1968. He has performed as soloist with all the orchestras in Israel including the Philharmonic, and performed often in chamber groups in Israel and abroad. In 1967 he participated in the Queen Elizabeth violin competition in Brussels and was one of the prize winners there.

Cellist SIMCA HELED:

Simca Heled was born in Israel and received his musical training there. He was the leader of the cello section of the Israel Youth Orchestra for seven years and served in this capacity on the Orchestra's tour to Europe and the United States. Later he became the principal cellist of the Ramat Gan Chamber Orchestra, with which he also appeared as soloist. He is now a member of the Israel Philharmonic and was recently appointed as principal of the cello section. He has appeared several times as soloist with the Israel Philharmonic and with the Israel Radio Symphony and has appeared throughout Israel in recitals and chamber concerts. He has also made many recordings for the Israel Broadcasting Service.

The trio appeared in the UMS two years ago and were so well received, they were re-engaged for this year's series.

The Trio has become one of the most sought after ensembles to emerge in many seasons.

An Amazing Film

JESUS CHRIST SUPERSTAR

Oct. 8

8pm

Kenan Auditorium

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.

Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings — as an Air Force navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

MSGT. JERRY LEWIS, USAF Recruiting Office
4010 Oleander Drive, Browning Plaza No. 2
Wilmington, NC 28401 PHONE: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry
Blouse tops
Bags
Shirts
Candles

Handmade Spreads
Embroidered Dresses

Belts
Leatherwork
Headgear
Mexican Handicraft.

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

Yearbook photos set Oct. 14 week

The Photographers to take pictures for the yearbook will be on campus the week beginning October 14 and will only be on campus for one week. All students are encouraged to come to the upstairs of the Pub during this time in order to have their pictures made for the Fledgling.

There is no required dress for the pictures, so come as you are.

Students helping kids

Be a big sister, brother

In the spring of 1974, a Big Brother/Sister Program was begun in New Hanover County, under the sponsorship of the Cape Fear Voluntary Action Center and directed by Rev. Joe Mann of Wesley-Memorial Church.

The program was started in response to requests by the Dept. of Social Services, Developmental Evaluation Clinic, Mental Health Center, Family Service Travelers Aid, and Family Court Counselors, who were looking for volunteers who would spend time building relationships with young, school-age children. Volunteers (men and women) were recruited and trained for this type of service in an initial pilot program. With publicity, in addition to agency referrals, single parents began to call for this type of aid for their children.

The great need for such a program in our area has been determined. An expanded program is hoped for.

This month the call is out for additional VOLUNTEERS (particularly men) who can offer some time and themselves to the life of a child, between 6 and 14 years.

It is a volunteer opportunity possible for working people and students because of flexible hours. Three evening training sessions will be held in October: A Big Brother/Sister is requested to spend: 2 to 3 hours per week with a Little Brother/Sister 2 hours one evening a month in a sharing session with other volunteers and the Director.

For further information, call: Cape Fear Voluntary Action Center 762-9611 Rev. Joe Mann 791-4092

"IF I CAN HELP JUST ONE--"

The UNC-W chapter of the Student North Carolina Association of Educators is now working to gain new members for the 1974-1975 school year. Membership is open to any interested student planning on entering the teaching field. Cost of membership is only $6.50/year which entitles you to many benefits. Among these are your subscription to Today's Education and North Carolina Education as well as a chance to participate in a truly professional organization. As a member you are also protected under the NEA DuShane Fund which provides legal expertise and financial support for lawsuits and/or living expenses.

The SNCAE works hand in hand with the North Carolina Association of Educators (NCAE) and the National Educators Association (NEA). Being a member of the SNCAE will give prospective teachers practical experience in developing leadership by providing opportunities for working together in a democratic way on the problems of the profession and the community. The SNCAE seeks to promote higher standards of preparation, to enhance the status of the profession, to bring teacher supply and demand into a reasonable balance, and to promote cooperation between future teacher chapters and student education associations.

Programs for the year have been planned to be both interesting and educational and will cover a wide variety of topics. They will include:

Oct. 21st--"Getting to Know Your Organization" (Mrs. Efrid (NEA) to speak on the organization)

Nov. 18th--"Mock Interview"--(Wallace West, New Hanover County Board of Education, to conduct a mock interview with a student to let you know what to expect when applying for a teaching position.)

Jan. 20th--"What Parents Expect of Teachers"--(panel of parents and what they want their children to get from the school system and the classroom teacher.)

Feb. 17th--"Children Speak Out"--(panel of students from the public schools to tell about what they hope to get from the educational system)

*March 21st--Spring Banquet--This is the highlight of the year. A dinner banquet for all SNCAE members, student teachers, supervising teachers, principals, etc.)

Officers for this year are: President- Pamela C. Welsh, Vice President- Kathleen Pierce, Secretary- Iris Rouse, and Treasurer- Elva Ann Hales. Faculty advisor is Mrs. Betty Stike.

Miss Welsh encourages all students thinking of entering the teaching profession to talk with her or Mrs. Stike about the organization and to pick up a membership blank from her or the secretary of the education department and get their name on the list for their magazine subscriptions. All meetings will be held in K-103 at 7:00 P.M. on the third Monday of each month. Everyone involved in SNCAE looks forward to seeing you at their next meeting - Oct. 21st.

See you there!!

Video Committee To Organize

There will be an organizational meeting of the Video Tape Committee Thursday, Oct. 3, at 4:00, upstairs in the Pub. All interested students are urged to attend.

for sale

For Sale
Waterbed--double size
Complete with Frame
Call 762-2185
Best Offer

One surfboard--"Channel Island"--height 6 ft., 8 in. Green deck and white bottom; round tail
RIDES GOOD! $75.00

For Sale:
2-piece surfer house wetsuit. Long sleeves. Size medium and Johns (with green trim around neck, armholes, and legs) size medium, also.
GREAT CONDITION! $45.00

contact: Michele Key
791-8327

One life preserver vest for boating. Green with zipper down front. Reversible side red. $10.00

1959 Ford six in good running condition. Reliable, economical transportation for school or work. Good tires, new starter and fuel pump, just passed inspection. $115.00 -- 763-3224

come as you are!

Where pizza is always in good taste!

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR
NOON BUFFET
11:30-1:30
3617 Market Street

JOHN DEERE BICYCLES

are recommended as the top buy in quality by Consumer Report!

1yr. warranty
Sales & Service
All parts available

Wilmington Lawn & Leisure
253 So. Kerr Ave. ph. 799-6359

Professional Uniform Center
THE TOTAL IMAGE CO.
Complete Range of Sizes

WEAR NEW
REMOVES BURN HOOF
GLEN MEADE PLAZA
762-9898

The New

music in your life

by John Wilkins

The Old

ROY WOOD'S WIZZARD
INTRODUCING EDDY AND
THE FALCONS
United Artists - UA-LA219-G

It can be said that Roy Wood has tried everything and introducing Eddy and the Falcons is the proof. After being with THE MOVE and then moving on to the ELECTRIC LIGHT ORCHESTRA, WIZZARD appears to be a step in the opposite direction. For Wood, this step could be one of his better concepts.

The members of the group are Rick Price - Guitar and vocals, Nick Pentelow - tenor sax, Mike Burney - Baritone and tenor saxes, Keith Smart-Drum, Charlie Grima - Percussion, Bill Hunt - Piano and Roy Wood playing anything and everything.

The album is obviously a reflection of Wood's first love, rock 'n' roll. The introduction prepares the listener for that sound of the '60's early '70's era, consisting of several very hip boppers talking about how cool Eddy is. The guy then pops up and says that Eddy even has a shirt like his (now how cool-oo-ool can you get). Then the crowds scream, the band is introduced, and "Eddy's Rock" begins. The song is a classic example of the Golden era, and, of course, there is no other way to start an album than with an instrumental.

The second song on side one, "Brand New '88," is about a guy, his car, maybe a date and most definitely the feel of a time when a hand on the boob was all expected. The Elvis-type vocal accentuates the feel, making it possible to sometimes even smell the hint of hotdogs and cruising around the Mijo. (Well, what did you expect me to say?)

"You Got Me Runnin'" switches to a Beach Boy type sound and then "I Dun Lots-a Cryin' Over You" returns to the Elvis-hiccup style. The last song "This is the Story of My Love (Baby)" is one of the better cuts featuring some really good sax. With the extra "doo-wha-la-la"s and "baby-baby"s, added, the song could have been used as a set standard for this type music back when the style was first becoming popular.

Side II begins with "Everyday I Wonder" which resembles Del Shannon to the point where it sounds more like Del Shannon than Del Shannon. "Crazy Jeans" and "Come Back Karen" follow with the latter being the best song on the LP. The vocals and lyrics make the song with such classic statements as "Oh I'm So Alone" and "I'll Mend Your Broken Heart, Just Like the One You Gave to Me" (pump pump pump).

Ending the LP is "We're Gonna Rock 'n Roll Tonight" making the album a complete rock 'n roll experience. The Jerry Lee Lewis piano ending and boogie incidentals between the songs give this side a slightly different ground than side I, improving side II to the same extent.

For those of you who like the nostalgic sound of the golden age of rock 'n roll, this is an LP to bleach your sox white. What is left to say but ROCK-ON. Or in this case, ROCK 'N ROLL-ON!

PHIL OCHS - as he appeared at Carnegie Hall

NEXT WEEK: Music For October With BRYAN FARRY, JOBRIATH and NEKTAR.

PHIL WHO?

The question often arises, "Whatever happened to, or what is so and so doing now?" PHIL OCHS is one such person in the music world that these questions can be asked about and unfortunately, are hard to answer.

For some people the first question would be, "Phil Who?" Phil Ochs was a folk-singer who began in the same circle that Bob Dylan evolved from. In the early 60's he, along with Dylan and others, was busy with the protest song, and in 1964 and 1965, two of his best protest albums came out (ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO SING and I AIN'T MARCHING ANYMORE). These albums contained protest songs about everything you could protest against. Some of the better of these songs were: "One More Parade", "Talking Vietnam", and "Too Many Martyrs" from the first LP; and "In the Heat of the Summer" and "Here's to the State of Mississippi" from the second.

Around 1966 the protest song faded away and with this, Dylan and the others changed to a more rock format. Ochs couldn't quite cope with the transformation and began his downfall.

Finally, he took a rest, only to pop back up in the late 60's to give the concert at Carnegie Hall which totally wrecked his career. By looking at the cover of the GREAT-EST HITS LP (see photo) the air of the concert can be seen with OCHS in a gold suit attempting to become the big rock star he was never cut out to be. After this concert, as the back of the cover concluded, "50 PHIL OCHS FANS CAN'T BE WRONG!" and OCHS was sure that that was all the fans he had left.

The LP itself was a good album. OCHS sang rock, folk, and country and western, and did all of them well. The thing was, that in a time such as those late 60's, no one would even think of doing a concert in a gold suit much less totally switching styles overnight.

After that last concert, OCHS quit again, this time for what was supposed to be for good. He did, however, do a concert in Canada which a live album was cut from that can now be found on A&M Records only as an import. His last really important achievement was last May when Dylan and he sponsored a concert in New York to raise money for refugees and political prisoners in Chile.

Now OCHS is once again absent from the music world, and music that he may have done will be missed. Maybe his next coming will be sooner than expected. Maybe his next coming will never be. Who knows?

RECORD

WORLD

ROCK

FOLK BLUEGRASS

POP JAZZ

CLASSICAL IMPORTS

BROADWAY

*Your Ears
Are Our Business*

*Long Leaf
Mall*

Mon. - Sat.

10-9 791-7043

TRIBUTE TO SEAHAWK SOCCER

Seahawks off to kick start

In what is proving to be the start of a big season, the UNC-W soccer team blitzed the Pembroke Invitational Tournament by defeating Methodist 1-0 on a goal by G. Rada, assisted by co-captain D. Wychel, and then proceeded to annihilate Pembroke in the Championship game, 7-3. S. Paul, L. Lindenschmidt, G. Borowski, G. Rada, T. Chance, and Nino Fleri each tallied a goal apiece with Fleri busting for two. Chosen to the All-Tourney team were backs H. Goodson and G. Borowski and forwards D. Wychel and G. Rada.

Next on the agenda, the Seahawks carted up to Harrisonburg, Va., for the Madison Invitational. Behind one goal and bewildered by the quickness of the Astroturf, the Seahawks needed one half to get organized before lowering the boom on Eastern Mennonite, 2-1, on goals by D. Wychel and N. Fleri. The next day they faced powerhouse Madison, fifth-ranked in the South, and who had last year humiliated the Hawks 10-0. The Hawks proved their first three wins were no fluke as they held Madison to a 1-1 tie. The Seahawks' lone tally coming in the first half from sophomore winger, S. Bittion. The UNC-W booters played tenacious defense as goalie Tim Willette came up with 15 saves and the defense bottled up an otherwise powerful Madison front line.

The Seahawks met their first defeat of the season to Duke, 4-0, as the Blue Devils just plain out-played the Hawks. Duke had 38 shots to UNC-W's 7 as Willette had 16 saves in a losing effort.

The Hawks meet N.C. Wesleyan Saturday at home in their first District match.

The Trophy

Awarded to the Seahawk Soccer Team for finishing first place in the Pembroke State Invitational Soccer Tournament. (photo by paul walker)

INTRAMURAL SCHEDULE

W/10-2	6 - 2
Th/10-3	5 - 3
M/10-7	4 - 1
Tu/10-8	5 - 6
W/10-9	1 - 3
M/10-14	4 - 2
Tu/10-15	MAKE-UP
Th/10-17	MAKE-UP
M/10-21	PLAY-OFFS
Tu/10-22	PLAY-OFFS
W/10-23	PLAY-OFFS
Th/10-24	PLAY-OFFS

ALL GAMES AT 4 PM

TEAM ROSTER

- 1 - Dolphins
- 2 - Eatonites
- 3 - Jocks
- 4 - Business Majors
- 5 - TKE
- 6 - Goremans

Then to the Lip of this poor earthen Urn
I learned, the Secret of my Life to learn:
And, Lip to Lip, it murmured — "While you live, Drink! — for once dead, you never shall return."
Omar Khayyam
(Fitzgerald trans.)

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful

WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art, Inc.
HOME WINE MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Priggen
1242 Weymouth Ave. 791 9073

YOU HAVE A
sm
PERSONAL BANKER
AT
WACHOVIA
RIGHT ACROSS
FROM UNC-W

Larry Gonzales, Gene Barowski, Ha' Goodson, and David Wychel were chosen for the All Tournament Team for Pembroke State Invitational Soccer Tournament. (photo by paul walker)

seahawk

volume xvii, number seven

october 9, 1974

twelve pages

HEY LITTLE GIRL
WANNA MAKE A LITTLE CANDY MONEY?

see inside for details on:

$6000 for East European Film Fest and Symposium

Wrestling Team Back

Super-Duper Musical Fold-out with suitable for framing photos of Chuck Mitchell on flip side

Musician - in - Residence!!!!

Rocky Says

and much, much more!!!!

UNC-W gets $6000 for East European film festival & symposium

During the weekend of January 30 and February 1 and 2, the University will host the first East European 'New Wave' Film Festival and symposium held in the United States. Mr. Robert Duckett of the philosophy department and Dr. Terry Rogers of the drama department announced that they have received a $6,000 grant from the North Carolina Humanities Committee for the project which is titled "Directors and Directions: Contemporary Humanistic Appraisals as Viewed Through East European 'New Wave' Films."

Duckett and Rogers are inviting a number of distinguished Czech and Polish directors to participate in the viewing, critical assessment and discussion of their film art. Academic humanities and scholars from Harvard, Columbia, Miami and American Universities will be invited in order to discuss the humanistic themes and aesthetics of the films. After the viewing of each film the guests will be invited to discuss the work. Each discussion will be open to the audience to participate in the dialogues to ask questions of a technical, aesthetic or philosophical nature. Admission is free and open to both the university and community.

The film genre is called 'New Wave' because it attempts to capture aspects of the influence of political and social structures upon the most significant and fundamental of human relationships in the family, among friends and upon ceremonies associated with birth, death and marriage. The films vividly portray a notion of individuality and isolation that is unique to East European directors.

Out of East Europe has emerged a new concept of estrangement, devoid of Marxist ideology, yet essentially humanistic in its orientation. It is against this "back drop" of individuality and estrangement that the film will be viewed and discussed.

MUSICIAN-IN-RESIDENCE FOR 3 DAYS

SUPB PRESENTS CAMPUS FIRST

The Student Union Program Board will sponsor an exciting "first" in their activity series this year - a professional musician in residence at UNC-W for three days. Chuck Mitchell, ex-husband of folk singer Joni, will arrive Wednesday, October 16 for Classroom visits, concerts, jam sessions, and informal talks with students. Coming with an impressive list of credentials and several letters of recommendation from other colleges, Chuck will offer UNC-W students a rare opportunity to informally meet a concert entertainer.

After receiving a B.A. Degree in English Literature from Principia College (Elsah, Illinois), Chuck first spent two years in the army, then four years as a staff writer for the Detroit Board of Education and the Great Cities Project. He began his professional singing career in 1964, becoming a full-time professional performer that next year. He has gained much summer stock and repertory experience, as well as amazing quite a number of college, club, and coffeehouse appearances. Chuck bills himself as a troubadour, and maintains an unusual variety of material: poems, songs, and pieces by Bertolt Brecht and Kurt Weill, T. S. Eliot, Gerard Manley Hopkins, Carl Sandburg, Shakespeare, Kurt Vonnegut, British novelty songwriters Flanders & Swann. He has show tunes from "Pippin's Rainbow" and "The Fantasticks" and a fresh collection of contemporary songs by famous and little-known writers, including himself. Mitchell's kind of one man show works because Mitchell is gregarious, garrulous, well-read, opinionated, and an enthusiastic listener and talker. Most he brings along the observations of a seasoned traveler who crisscrosses this country a dozen or more times a year.

Members of the Program Board will be escorting Chuck around campus for varied commitments during his stay. On Wednesday, Oct. 16, Chuck will appear in an English Class and a Music Class, among others, concluding his day with an informal concert in the dorm lobby at 7:30. Thursday's schedule includes visits to an English Class and an appearance at the Atlantis' Poetry Contest. Awards Thursday night's full length concert will be held in the Pub at 8:00 p.m. Friday's schedule includes 2 sociology classes. The Program Board also hopes to plan a jam session for musicians who would like to jam with Chuck. Craig Parker, co-ordinator of the Student Union Program Board, stressed that, like all SUPB activities, all of the above are free.

VETS TO MEET

Veteran's Association meeting 11:30 October 15, Tuesday, in King Auditorium. Main order of business will be the association by laws.

WHO'S WHO

nominations accepted thru Oct. 10

All members of the student body are requested to make nominations for membership in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. To be eligible, a nominee should be currently enrolled and should receive his degree by May, 1976.

The criteria for selection include (1) scholastic ability (2) participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities (3) citizenship and service to the university (4) potential for future achievement.

Membership in the 40 year old national organization entitles the student selected to use the special reference placement service maintained for exclusive assistance in seeking post-graduate employment or fellowships. In addition, each student receives a personalized certificate, local and national publicity, and an invitation to participate in national student polls conducted periodically on major issues of the day.

A similar request to nominate students has been sent to each academic department. A committee composed of students, faculty and administration will make the final selection of the 37 students to be nominated for Who's Who.

Please bring your nominations together with data to back up your selection of candidates to the Student Affairs Office no later than October 10th.

Crack our book and stretch your bucks.

Spend a little time studying a Piedmont schedule. Then plan a weekend. Out on the ski slopes, enjoying an out-of-town ball game, partying with someone special or soaking up the bright city lights. Or home with the folks. We've got a place for you. And a Weekend-Plus Plan to help stretch your funds. Just leave on Saturday and return before noon Monday. You'll save up to 50% on the return portion of your round trip ticket, and fly with confirmed reservations to any of over 75 Piedmont cities. For information, see your travel agent or call Piedmont. Take us up

A perfect Keepsake diamond backed by our written guarantee of perfect quality, fine white color and correct modern cut. Come in today to see our exciting collection of Keepsake Diamond Rings.

Keepsake
REGISTERED DIAMOND RINGS

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

38 N Front St. • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

University Arms

Come see what we have to offer...all electric living. GE appliances, individually controlled air conditioning, shag carpet, patio, swimming pool...

1, 2 and 3
BEDROOM
APARTMENTS

Available FURNISHED or UNFURNISHED
Resident Manager on site daily!
9 months leases
Phone 791-8874
or 762-0336
or go by and see Linda Taylor
4916B Pepsys Lane
University Arms Apts.

Credit granted for newspaper course

For the first time, students participating in the Course by Newspaper, "In Search of the American Dream," which begins Thursday in the Star-News, will be allowed to register for two hours of resident credit at The University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

Program coordinator, William H. Browder, director of continuing education at UNC-W, announced Wednesday that two hours of resident degree credit will be awarded to individuals completing the course and attending two contact sessions at the university. The credits earned may be used to satisfy either basic studies requirements of electives and will be awarded in History 291, Independent Study.

Prior to this year, persons enrolling for the Course by Newspaper on the Wilmington campus were granted extension credit through the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. "While this was an excellent means for teachers to earn certificate renewal credit," Browder said, "it prohibited participation by our students for any reason other than personal enrichment. Now they will have the opportunity to earn credit in the Department of History which can be applied toward their degrees."

Students helping kids

Be a big sister, brother

In the spring of 1974, a Big Brother/Sister Program was begun in New Hanover County, under the sponsorship of the Cape Fear Voluntary Action Center and directed by Rev. Joe Mann of Wesley Memorial Church.

The program was started in response to requests by the Dept. of Social Services, Developmental Evaluation Clinic, Mental Health Center, Family Service Travelers Aid, and Family Court Counselors, who were looking for volunteers who would spend time building relationships with young, school-age children. Volunteers (men and women) were recruited and trained for this type of service in an initial pilot program. With publicity, in addition to agency referrals, single parents began to call for this type of aid for their children.

The great need for such a program in our area has been determined. An expanded program is hoped for.

This month the call is out for additional VOLUNTEERS (particularly men) who can offer some time and themselves to the life of a child, between 6 and 14 years.

It is a volunteer opportunity possible for working people and students because of flexible hours. Three evening training sessions will be held in October. A Big Brother/Sister is requested to spend: 2 to 3 hours per week with a Little Brother/Sister 2 hours one evening a month in a sharing session with other volunteers and the Director.

For further information, call: Cape Fear Voluntary Action Center 762-9611 Rev. Joe Mann 791-4092

"IF I CAN HELP JUST ONE--"

Walter H. Allen, associate professor of history at UNC-W, will instruct the two contact sessions scheduled for Saturday, December 7, and Saturday, February 7, from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on the UNC-W campus.

If anyone is interested and missed the first lecture which ran in the Thursday, October 3, issue of the Star-News, Ms Gwen Croom (A-124) clipped the article and has it on file in her office and will be glad for them to borrow it or xerox it.

LOVE IS

Love is a giving thing,
so give the gift of love
... a Keepsake diamond ring.
Choose from perfect solitaires, beautiful matched sets and trios.
Modern and traditional settings in precious 14K gold. Keepsake, there is no finer diamond ring.

Keepsake
REGISTERED DIAMOND RINGS

Top to bottom—LADYLOVE, RACHEL, LADY VALLEY, BRITANNIA

Find your Keepsake Jewellers in the Yellow pages or dial free 800-243-9000. In Conn. 800-982-9600.

T&E Reg. A.H. Pond Co.

HOW TO PLAN YOUR ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING

Send new 20 pg. booklet, "Planning Your Engagement and Wedding" plus full color folder and 44 pg. Bride's Book gift offer all for only 35¢. R-74

Name _____ (Please Print)
Address _____
City _____
State _____ Zip _____

KEEPSAKE DIAMOND RINGS, BOX 90, SYRACUSE, N.Y. 13201

Volunteer Openings

YMCA

2710 Market Street
Mornings, Monday through Friday
Aid with handicapped swim program

WILMINGTON BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

Across highway from college.
Tutoring reading with the Laubach method.

NEW HANOVER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Evenings
Work in clinic, nursery, children's ward, or as auxiliary aides.

BIG BROTHER, BIG SISTER PROGRAM

Be a friend to a youth in need.
Hours are yours to schedule.
Any amount of time is O.K.
4 training sessions starting
Oct. 16th.

FOR MORE DETAILS ON THESE &
OTHER OPPORTUNITIES,
SEE MS. LINDA MOORE, D. S. A.
IN THE PUB

UNIVERSITY POETRY CONTEST

for 1974

1ST PRIZE $50

2ND PRIZE $30

3RD PRIZE $20

All UNC-W students may enter

Submit poems to:

DEPT. OF ENGLISH

no later than October 14, 1974

EDITORIALS

The Gadfly:

'BITE THE BULLET'

UNC-W's not-so-new collegiate game

Now that it's fall and the weather is turning cool it's time once again for our friendly energy people to proclaim a crisis. The price heating fuel and gas will, of course, skyrocket and perhaps we'll even have all the fun we had last year of waiting in line for gas.

Already we have been told that it's time to "bite the bullet" and sacrifice. The price of bullets will no doubt rise as a shortage of bittable bullets is discovered. All these little increases in the price of living will really dry up the old brew budget for us scholarly types.

However, no matter what the emergency there will always be someone who finds a way to survive it. There will be a few who will even find a way to make a buck (or two) out of adversity.

Consider the present "crisis" in morals. The removal of the four infamous flesh mags from the shelves of the UNC-W bookstore has proven a blessing from the local 7-11 and Zip Markets. Sales are up past their expectations as lusty collegians troop across College Rd. or through the woods to buy the latest in "indiscreet covers".

The local bookstores are all sold out of "The Curious Eye" and have dozens on order. If Sheriff Grohman intended to wipe out smut in New Hanover, maybe he should have legalized it. The "questionable" book trade is doing almost as well as bootleggers did during Prohibition.

Here on campus the current crisis seems to be trying to find a parking spot. Well, there is a solution to that too. First, what with fuel crisis and money crisis some of us are not going to be able to afford to drive to class. After Christmas the second part of the solution will take effect. Following the mailing of grades there will be a few less of us with reason to drive to school.

So, my fellow servants, there are apparently built-in controls for every emergency. The only problem is trying to live through the solutions.

STAB Mild Slash AT Sexism

BY KATHI BEALL

Being rather bored with you-know-who's little magazine fiasco, we're diverting attention this week to the age old battle of the sexes. Got your attention yet?

I thought so.

If the cash supply is low and the tummy starts to rumble it's nice to have him say, "Let's go out and get something to eat", ain't it, gals? It's even nicer if "out" had dim lights, good food and something iced and tingly to wash those hunger pangs away.

What's the big problem, then, if his tummy is the one grumbling and you're the one with the green tucked safely away in your fringed, not-always-so-liberated purse? If you want to be able to hear the sweet nothings he's whispering in your ear over the painful cries of his tum-tum, the best solution is to return the favor.

Face it - sometimes the VA, SS, or PAY checks are slow getting through. If you're too timid to take him back to your place (silly girl) and too cheap to invest in a little romantic soft music, dim lights, at least get him to Burger Lounge before he goes into a dead faint while parked at Lover's Leap. Wouldn't the humiliation of that be just too great?

Would you forgive him for intentionally letting you go hungry? Then don't expect him to think it noble or lady-like of you.

Down with sexism! If everybody will just be a "people", both sides will have won the battle.

ROCKY SAYS

What is it?

How does it affect you?

WHAT IS THE NORTH CAROLINA STUDENT LEGISLATURE?

The North Carolina Student Legislature is a viable, working model assembly which serves as a voice for the youth of North Carolina. This year will mark the 38th annual session of NCSL.

One of the earliest student law-making bodies of its type in the country, the student legislature first met, debated and discussed under the sponsorship of the N.C. State College forensic teams. The idea for a model legislature made up of student representatives was brought into being by Professor Edwin H. Page, who served as sponsor for the Assembly for several years. To date NCSL is the oldest continuous assembly of its type in existence.

Participants in the Student Legislature have written and supported legislation which at the time was considered radical, however, approximately 40% of the legislation passed has been enacted into law by the General Assembly.

HOW NCSL WORKS

The NCSL is modeled after the legislature of North Carolina, with each member school sending representatives to both the Senate and the House of Representatives. Through their experience there, delegates come to appreciate the concept of representative government and to realize the responsibilities of good government.

The NCSL convenes annually in Raleigh at a time designated by the Interim Council, seating one voting delegate from each school, meets monthly during the school year.

Dear Editor

I would like to make a comment on your paper, "The Seahawk". To be more exact, your column on page 4, "Hell No. Or Why it Pays to Never Rock the Boat".

I am a student(Male) from U.C.L.A., living in this gigantic city. I lived with my friend and his girl and stayed during your semester before summer, and have returned from my summer semester at U.C.L.A. to live here a while (about 2 months). I will surf as much as possible, unless a hurricane hits your beach, (which I doubt will happen), and go home.

Your paper is exactly like, or almost, like the U.S.C. Trojans Editorials which I receive by mail in Calif., although I don't go to U.S.C. Their paper is best in the state. This is truly a great write-up in your paper. I lived with my friend in the semester before summer and I saw some of the things he studied and sat in some of his classes and watched him study his damn brains out in a couple of courses only to fail. To my knowledge some of the eccentric, degenerated tests he had, I couldn't find 1/4 of the questions in some of his tests in his notes or his books! I even went to his advisor with him once, as they are called here, we call them counselors, to get some help or a little advice* (that word does substantiate a little with the word advisor)* only to get exactly what your paper said, "I'm sorry there's nothing that can be done", "I'm sorry. Wait just a minute. I've got to get some dog food and bread for my dog and wife when I go home and I better write this down so I won't forget it."

God!, thought I. How can a student maintain himself. It's hard to maintain yourself when you see a two year student (male) sitting at home with tears in his eyes after studying his damn brains out for three weeks and then failing along with half his whole class! This doesn't happen at my college, at least not to my knowledge, or there wouldn't be 61,000 people there and the teacher would surely be fired. I think alot of people's boats in your college have been rocked and turned over and maybe the teachers should give them a life-jacket instead of a glass of water. A chance for an ambulance instead of an ambulance to a chance.

I'm taking this paper back to my college to my friend Jack, the editor of our newspaper, so he can see the condition your students are in as film production and book editor is his major. I believe he will like to read your paper (The Seahawk). Please pardon my typing.

Thank You
A visitor

Dear Visitor: Thanks for thought you might like to see that if bad advisors run the school, the dog food was his wife, the bread for the man at the ABC store, and to hell with the dog and the student--

Love, Ed

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on tuesday for wednesday distribution. all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on friday for publication on tuesday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief
robert maxey, advertising director
john wilkins, music editor
sheryl moore, paul walker, photographers
joyce crech, margaret monroe, typists
bobbie, tim willette, staff members
ms. linda moore, adviser

KANDID KAMPUS

--from Kampus Degeneracy League Proposal. Redesign of suggestive cafeteria food.

Christmas and the end of a semester. And then there is music. Music in your life that helps you face what was, is and will be. Think of it that way.

our life

a pull-out
by John Wilkins

in legend: Roxy Music than the first. It was obvious Roxy Music had gotten together what the first album lacked and the all for oneness of FOR YOUR PLEASURE filled in the gaps contained in the first LP. By the time "Do the Strand" was making it big back home, Roxy Music hit the states for their first tour.

"Editions of You" was another good song from the LP followed by "In Every Dream Home a Heartache" which is about a guy who falls in love with an inflatable life-size doll. It ends as Bryan says "I blew up your body, but you blew my mind".

All appeared to be going fine when suddenly Eno dropped out of the group to make an LP with King Crimson's Robert Fripp called "NO PUSSYFOOTING". Then his solo LP came out called "HERE COME THE WARM JETS" and Eno began a successful career on his own.

At this same time the third Roxy Music LP, STRANDED, with Eddie Jobson taking Eno's place appeared as well as the first BRYAN FERRY LP, THESE FOOLISH THINGS. Both albums were excellent but they ran into difficulty in getting them distributed here in America. After about six or seven months, Atlantic Records did take the distributing rights and Roxy Music began going places. Another tour and a TV concert gave them the exposure they needed and 'ans began to gather.

Back in England, Bryan Ferry's album hit number one and England was rocking to such classics as the Stones' "Sympathy for the Devil" and Joplin's "Piece of My Heart", all done in the Bryan Ferry style that could only put Bowie's PIN UPS to shame.

As for the STRANDED LP, it also reached high on the charts with the best material Roxy Music has produced up to this time. It proves that Roxy Music is continuously improving and may one day be as big as any English group that has ever hit America.

At present time, the second Bryan Ferry solo album has been released and was number three and rising on Melody Maker's POP 30 chart for August-September. The album is called ANOTHER TIME, ANOTHER PLACE and is similar in content as his first solo LP with songs like Dylan's "It Ain't Me Babe", the Platters' "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes", and Kristofferson's "Help Me Make It Through The Night", none of which could have been done better.

As for ROXY MUSIC as a whole, their fourth LP has been released in England; but it should be some time before it reaches our shore. If it is as good as its predecessors, the Legend of Roxy Music could go on forever. Till then, ROCK - OUT!!

NEKTAR REMEMBER THE FUTURE PASSPORT PPS-98002

Much has been said about NEKTAR to build America up for what is supposed to be the next supergroup. The question is why? NEKTAR is no better than the average band, but, with a few hard tries, they could do better than REMEMBER THE FUTURE.

The group is another English band who moved to Germany to gain what they call "more musical freedom". They have been, for reasons beyond me, said to resemble both Pink Floyd, Yes and (by some) even the Beatles. As Circus Magazine said, "In fact, Nektar are somewhat aware of such similarities, and have been known to spontaneously break into "Norwegian Wood" in the midst of an original tune!" Now, how groovy can you get?

The album attempts to tell a story, yet so much is left out that it is hard to put the parts together.

The lyrics, what few there are, are pretty good, but the Yes-type instrumentals between the singing parts destroy the meaning and make the L. P. boring from start to finish, except for a few parts.

The story of the L.P. is based around Bluebird, who is not understood by anyone because his strange looks frighten them, and a blind boy, who because of his lack of sight is not frightened by Bluebird but instead confused by Bluebird's stories. (If you got all that in one breath you are probably confused too.) To end the story the boy is given new eyes, and all his questions are answered by Bluebird. Bluebird then leaves "Knowing that his message had at least been heard".

The album is at times good, but it is obvious that NEKTAR never achieved the freedom they hoped to gain by leaving England. How could they, when they took the styles of three top English groups with them?

RECORD
WORLD

"Your Ears Are Our Business"

ROCK
FOLK BLUEGRASS
JAZZ
POP CLASSICAL IMPORTS
BROADWAY

Long Leaf Mall

Mon. - Sat.
10-9
791-7043

SEAHAWK'S SUPERSTAR FOR OCTOBER #2

MITCHELL!

With September over and done with, we find ourselves facing a long and cold winter with not much to look forward to.

There are, however, Halloween, Thanksgiving,

a pull-out
by John Wilkins

Music in

Jobriath, the next Bowie?

Could he be?

JOBRIATH
ELEKTRA EKS-75070-A

CREATURES OF THE STREET
ELEKTRA 7E-1010

Jobriath Boone is his full name and he could well be called the next Bowie. His looks, music, and album concepts remarkably resemble those of Bowie, but he has enough originality to pull it off without even hinting that Bowie exists (though we know he does).

Jobriath was first heard of a little over a year ago when he, a then-unknown, was being urged by several large record companies to sign on their labels. He chose Elektra and out popped his first album, Jobriath. The L.P. was so unusual that many people could not readily react to its greatness or failure. The cover was in itself the most unusual thing about the album, picturing Jobriath as a crumpling window man-iken.

Featured on the album is Jobriath's band which includes Steve Love from STORIES, Billy Schwartz, John Symis, and Andy Mason along with Peter Frampton. (Frampton's Camel).

The album is somewhat better than the second, containing only several bad cuts. "Earthling" is one such cut which is easily overlooked when hearing the album as a whole.

The best cuts on the L.P. are "Be Still" and "I'm a man". "Be Still" is about the type chick most guys run into once or twice in life. You know, the type that worries the hell out of a guy.

Do you have to show up on every corner Won't the Dancin' begin without you
Do you have to put on your eyes for me
Be Still I love you
Now Be Still

"I'm a man" is Jobriath's explanation of himself. The music and the lyrics make the song one of the best on either album.

I'm a man
So I'm an elegant man
I'm a man
Clara bowes and open toes
Are what I am

You know I could love
you
But if I should love
you
Then I would love you
The way a man loves a woman
And live my life like
I been livin' it
My body claims my mind and soul so let me be
What I am
An elegant man

Another good cut on the LP is "Rock of Ages". The song is about Rock music and mentions such greats as Little Richard and the Stones' "Satisfaction". This song lays down- the beginning of the second album, CREATURES OF THE STREET.

JOBRIATH's vocals on CREATURES change somewhat to a Mick Jagger sound. The group members are about the same with the exception of a few replacements and the addition of Led Zeppelin's John Paul Jones.

"Heartbeat" begins the LP and is the closest anyone has come to the JAGGER STONES sound without really trying to. Jobriath soon gets back to his own style with "Street Corner Love" and "OOH LA LA" which is to be the new English single.

"SCUMBAG" follows with a western type sound along with strange background noises similar to a MOTHER'S album. "Ecubyan" ends the side very abruptly as the song just stops when it seems like it has just begun.

Side two begins with "Good Time" and "Sister Sue" which are both boring and give the impression that Jobriath has run out of creativity. "What A Pretty" and "Listen Up" prove this observation wrong only to be followed by "Gone Tomorrow" with the Moog, backing vocals and lyrics making it the best song on the second LP.

"But if you go away
I couldn't make it that way
I don't believe in here today gone
tomorrow.

Jobriath's next LP should be interesting to hear. It could well be his ZIGGY STAR-DUST and make Elektra glad they paid the sum they did for Jobriath.

FRANKLY SPEAKING... by phil frank

© COLLEGE MEDIA SERVICES-BOX 9411-BERKELEY, CA 94709

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility. Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings - as an Air Force navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

MSGT. JERRY LEWIS, USAF Recruiting Office
4010 Oleander Drive, Browning Plaza No. 2
Wilmington, NC 28401 PHONE: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

Miss Wonderful goes all out for legs

... and RUSTIC proves it. Great suedes afoot in this kicky campus version of a hiker. Plenty of top stitching. Snug lacing. Your instep never had it so good. MISS WONDERFUL planned it that way.

Miss Wonderful™

Price range $46-$20

ask for it by name
RUSTIC

SEE YOUR YELLOW PAGES FOR NEAREST MISS WONDERFUL DEALER.

1st Year Nursing Students Receive Caps

SNA President Kathi Beall reads "Letters from a Student Nurse" to nursing instructors, students, and their families at September capping ceremonies. On stage seated left to right are participants in the program, nursing instructors Mrs. Carla Lewis, Miss Mary Alice Whitfield, Mrs. Jane Lowe, Mrs. Nancy White; Nursing Department Chairman Miss Dorothy Dixon; and second year student Miss Ann Smith. (photos by Neal Huntley).

First year students in UNC at Wilmington's James Walker Associate Degree in ker Associate Degree Program in Nursing listen intently to speakers who discuss history and significance of the cap and read the Nightengale Pledge.

P&R sponsors symposium on compensatory justice

A symposium on "Compensatory Justice - Philosophy Looks at the Problem of Reverse Discrimination" will be held Thursday, October 17, beginning at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the William Madison Randall Library.

The symposium, sponsored by the Philosophy and Religion Department, will examine questions about the relation of justice to the reverse discriminations of racial and sexual groups. For example, are the principles of justice sufficient to justify compensation for former unequal treatment of sexual and racial groups?

Invited speakers will include Professor William T. Blackstone, chairman of the philosophy department at the University of Georgia and Professor G. W. Roberts of the Duke University philosophy department. Professor Blackstone, a native of North Carolina, graduated from Elon College and earned his doctorate at Duke. He has held offices in the American Philosophical Association and has published in political and legal philosophy. Professor Roberts has doctoral degrees from the University of Chicago and Cambridge University in England. He taught at King's College of the University of London and was a member of the Aristotelian Society before joining the Duke faculty.

Dr. Shazad Ahmad and Dr. James Dixon of the political science department will participate in a discussion after the invited guests speak. Mr. Robert Duckett of the philosophy department will serve as moderator for the symposium.

As their names were read, first year students went up to receive caps/name pins from their big sisters/brothers from the second year class.

Approximately sixty students received a cap or pin. In years past, nursing students received caps at similar ceremonies, but with the introduction of more men into the profession, a provision was made for them to receive their name pins at the same time their female counterparts receive caps.

Student directory nears deadline

Anyone desiring their local address to be printed in the student directory this year, stop by the Pub and fill out a change of address form. It will only take five minutes of your time to fill out a form and this five minutes includes the time it takes you to walk to the Pub. The forms are all ready and waiting to be used. They are located straight in front of you as you walk in the front door.

If there has not been a form filled out, your home address will be used. There are no phone numbers for some of the addresses. If you have a phone and you want to be sure the number is printed please fill out a form.

Please do not wait till the last day to fill out a form. The deadline has been changed for your convenience. The last day is October 15 and it will not be changed again.

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry
Blouse tops
Bags
Shirts
Candles

Handmade Spreads
Embroidered Dresses

Belts
Leatherwork
Mexican Handicraft.

Headgear

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759
Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

Professional Uniform Center

THE TOTAL IMAGE CO.

Complete Range of Sizes

WEAR NEW BREVETTES ONLY

GLEN MEADE PLAZA

762-9898

CAST NOW REHEARSING FOR

The University Theatre now has Garcia Lorca's Spanish tragedy "Blood Wedding" in rehearsal. This is the University Theatre's opening play of the 1974-75 season. Later in the year Edward Albee's brilliant play "A Delicate Balance" and George Bernard Shaw's comedy "Candida" and a student production will complete the University Theatre season. "Blood Wedding" has been produced by professional and amateur groups throughout the world winning singular acclaim for this play. This powerfully passionate modern tragedy ranks in tender pathos with "Romeo and Juliet." Its star-crossed lovers attempting to break the bonds of their Spanish society parallel the attempt of the Spanish people to struggle against the oppression of their homeland. Lorca has captured the Spanish desire to free natural human impulses whether they be personal or national or universal. The play speaks not only to Spain but to the entire world as indicated by the constant worldwide success of the play. The University Theatre is an educational theatre striving to produce the best world theatre for the students and the community. This year's season brings three outstanding plays to Wilmington representing the theatre of Spain, England, and the United States. With the continued aid and support of the UNC-W student body, the SGA, and the people of Wilmington, the University Theatre will continue to produce outstanding contemporary and classical theatre.

'blood wedding'

The "Blood Wedding" cast includes Sharon Pierson as the Bride, John Simmons as the Groom, Penny Pridemore as the Mother, Lewis Musser as Leonardo, Linda Williams as the Wife, Janet Whitesides

as the Servant, Sherry Hill as the Mother-in-Law, Sharon Clark as Death, Sheryl Moore as the Neighbor, Joel Perry as the Father, Pam Davis and Margaret Monroe as young girls and Wes Knappe, Dennis Smith, and Everett Lewis as Woodcutters.

"Blood Wedding" will open October 18 and play through October 21 in the S.R.O. Theatre in Kenan Hall on the UNC-W campus. The University Theatre is open to anyone who wants to participate as either a performer or as a good audience.

for sale

For Sale
Waterbed--double size
Complete with Frame
Call 762-2185
Best Offer

1967 Camaro
Six cylinder, three speed
Caramel Brown
Good Condition.
$650
Phone-- 791-0340

For Sale:
2-piece surfer house wetsuit.
Long sleeves, size medium
and Johns (with green trim
around neck, armholes, and
legs) size medium, also.
GREAT CONDITION!
$45.00

One life preserver vest for boating. Green with zipper
red.
$10.00

One surfboard--"Channel
Island"--height 6 ft., 8 in.
Green deck and white bottom;
round tail
RIDES GOOD!
$75.00

contact: Michele Key
791-8327

For Sale
1973 Yamaha 250 MX
Many Extras
call Tim Handsel
Dorm room 311

For Sale: American 1972
Mobile Home-- 48 X 12,
2 bedrooms, all electric kitchen,
large bath. For more information, call:
799-1615.

1959 Ford six in good running condition. Reliable, economical transportation for school or work. Good tires,
new starter and fuel pump,
just passed inspection.
$115.00 -- 763-3224

Vets see carrot again!

House Senate conferees agreed Wednesday, October 2, to raise veteran's education benefits by 23%. Rep. Olin Teague, chairman of the House
Veterans Affairs Committee, said he has been assured President Ford will accept the bill.

The provisions of the bill are retroactive to September 1, 1974, provide for academic loans of up to $600 per year, and extension is only for use in a pursuit of an undergraduate degree. Additionally, veterans attending school under Chapter 31-Disabled Veterans-- will only receive an increase of 18% in benefits.

The bill must now go to the floor of both houses of the Congress and then to the President for signature.

The future looks good, but remember veterans have heard this song before.

Morgan manager

Ray Sturza, campus manager for Robert Morgan, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, wishes to announce that a table will be set up Thursday, Oct. 10th in the Pub to distribute campaign literature. Students may also obtain information on absentee ballot voting and pick up absentee ballot application cards, regardless urges involvement of party affiliation.

All students are encouraged to stop by and ask questions.
Volunteers are needed to help with the campaign. A sign-up sheet will be available for those who are willing to help.
This is an excellent opportunity for students to get involved in a rewarding cause and everyone is welcome.

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO
APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN
NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT
A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Wall-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen area
- Hotpoint range, refrigerator, garbage disposal
- Individually-controlled air conditioning
- Large swimming pool. Central laundry facilities.

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished.....$135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished.....$149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished.....$160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished.....$185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take
a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right.
From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17)
to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive.
We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

WANTED

BY THE
S.G.A.

FOR

LARRIMORE

Service in Student Government

Attention freshman class and student body! We are running on the same ticket because we feel, that if elected, we could accomplish more as a team. By working together, and with the student government, we would like to help curb some of the apathy on campus as far as student involvement in government and school activities. Also we would like to have the name "UNC-W" mean something to the city of Wilmington, and to see the city itself become more involved with the school.

We would appreciate any ideas or comments anyone may have to offer.

David Davis
Candidate for Freshman Senator
Greg Larrimore
Candidate for Freshman Class President

!VOTE!

VARSITY SOCCER SCHEDULE

Thursday, October 10	Pembroke State University	Wilmington, N.C. *
Saturday, October 12	High Point College	High Point, N. C.
Wednesday, October 16	St. Andrews College	Wilmington, N.C. *
Friday, October 18	Lynchburg College	Wilmington, N. C. *
Tuesday, October 22	The Citadel	Charleston, S. C.
Saturday, October 26	East Carolina University	Greenville, N. C.
Wednesday, October 30	Campbell College	Bute's Creek, N. C.
Saturday, November 2	Baltimore University	Wilmington, N. C. **
Tuesday, November 5	Methodist College	Wilmington, N.C. *
November 7 thru November 9	NAIA DISTRICT 29 PLAYOFFS	TBA

*Weekday home games 3:30 p. m.

Saturday home games 2:00 p. m.

Hawk booters score against ACC

by Jean Franceschiello,
sports writer

Tuesday, October 1, the UNC-W soccer team defeated Atlantic Christian College soundly, scoring five goals to ACC's one. With this game being the first of four NAIA District games, the Seahawks stand undefeated and hopeful for a chance at the District Playoffs.

In the first half, Nino Fleri scored, the only goal made during the half. A missed penalty kick at the end of the half kept the Hawks from leading by two. With the start of the second half, the Hawks took control and effectively dominated the game. N. Fleri broke loose, and with a dazzling display of exceptional skill and control, scored three more goals with assistance on all three by Gonzalo Rada. To complete the UNC-W scoring drive, Rick Lacy scored a goal on a corner kick situation with assistance from Dave Wycheil.

Coach Lane was extremely pleased with the players, he feels that the team played aggressively, evident by the Hawks 35 shots on goal as compared to ACC's 13 shots on goal. Coach Lane was also very happy that N. Fleri was able to play as well as he did, as he had shown much much promise in earlier games. Nino's four goals are a record high for a single game for UNC-W soccer. The coach also noted that the fullbacks played extremely well, having been outnumbered on several occasions and still being able to contain ACC's attack. Coach Lane also feels that this game gave the team more confidence in their ability and that they will play even better as a result. With the large number of games to be played, the coach hopes that injuries will be avoided.

October 10, at 3:30 p.m., the Seahawks will confront Pembroke State University on UNC-W territory. This will be the Hawks' second District game out of a total of four. In NAIA District competition the Seahawks must face four other schools, the four top teams emerging from this competition will then enter the NAIA District Playoffs.

Support from the spectators is a vital part of soccer, it gives the team the emotional lift to play well and win. Both Coach Lane and the soccer team hope that the students and faculty will turn out to give their support at both home and away games, so get out and support your team, one that's definitely out to win.

Malloy to coach team WRESTLERS, until

by Kathi Beall

Having received go-ahead to act as a temporary wrestling coach, Dr. William Malloy will begin season training for the grapplers next week after an organizational meeting this Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in the gymnasium.

There will be another informal meeting with "Coach" Malloy Friday.

Malloy has a broad background in wrestling knowledge, having wrestled in high school in Columbus, Ohio. He made state finals in his senior year.

He attended Denison College where he wrestled for four years. Upon graduation from Denison, he was named wrestling coach and assistant football coach at Wittenberg College in Springfield, Ohio. He held the position for 2 years before deciding to enter graduate school. "We're facing an uphill battle", Malloy stated, delineating lacks of funding, meet uniforms, practice facilities, schedule, and experience on the part of most of the team.

"But at least we have nowhere to go but up", he said.

Hoping that some schedule can be arranged for the grapplers, Malloy said he hoped to see the Hawks face junior varsity teams from The Citadel, ECU, and Appalachian, as well as Pembroke and Campbell grapplers.

"It will be rough going", Malloy said. East Carolina, for example, gives 18 scholarships for wrestling alone. But he expressed enthusiasm and hope that a number of men on campus were fired up enough to pursue reinstatement of the wrestling squad.

The team was disbanded after the former coach, Charles Sproles, resigned his teaching post.

Support urged for 9 sports

Much has been said about male sports. The soccer team wins, along with baseball and basketball are just a few of the male sports published. Not much is said about the females who work just as hard to win for their school. Women basketball, volleyball and tennis are played at UNC-W. Did you know or had you heard that our girls played Campbell College last week and won 6 - 3? The girls in the order of rank are: Joan Swart, Gwynn Hawes, Martha Richardson, Liz Hegele, Nancy Thornton, Brenda Knowles, Peggy Stiles, Patsy Carter, Evette Squires, Rhonda Wilford, Harriet Bialock and under the coaching of Jane Batson they are hoping for a good season. On Friday, October 4, they played Peace College, but lost 6 - 3.

Their next games are Monday, October 7 at Pembroke and Thursday, they will play Pembroke at home at 3:00 p.m.

Also, the girls volleyball team will play October 8th. Come and support our ladies. They need and deserve your support.

WOMEN'S TENNIS SCHEDULE

Sept. 24	ECU	A	2:30
Sept. 30	Campbell	H	2:30
Oct. 4	Peace	H	2:00
Oct. 7	Pembroke	A	3:00
Oct. 10	Pembroke	H	2:30
Oct. 14	St. Mary's	A	3:00
Oct. 15	Peace	A	2:00
Oct. 18	Atlantic Christian	H	3:00
Oct. 22	ECU	H	2:30
Oct. 24	Campbell	A	2:30
Oct. 30	Atlantic Christian	A	2:30

INTRAMURAL SCHEDULE

M/10-14	4-2
Tu/10-15	MAKE-UP
Th/10-17	MAKE-UP
M/10-21	PLAY-OFFS
Tu/10-22	PLAY-OFFS
W/10-23	PLAY-OFFS
Th/10-24	PLAY-OFFS

TEAM ROSTER

- 1 - Dolphins
- 2 - Eatonites
- 3 - Jocks
- 4 - Business Majors
- 5 - TKE
- 6 - Goremeh

ALL GAMES AT 4 PM

YOU HAVE A
sm
PERSONAL BANKER
AT
WACHOVIA
RIGHT ACROSS
FROM UNC-W

Then to the Lip of this poor
earthen Urn
I learned, the Secret of my Life
to learn:
And, Lip to Lip, it murmured
— "While you live,
Drink! — for once dead, you
never shall return."
Omar Khayyam
(Fitzgerald tr.)

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP
Terry and Marty Prigden
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

* New
T-Shirts

* chain locks
and
* Key chains

Bookstore

in The Pub

and school supplies

Chuck is here

seahawk

see pages 6 & 7

volume xvii, number eight

october 16, 1974

twelve pages

BLOOD

WEDDING

ELVIN BISHOP GROUP TO PLAY NOV. 6

The Elvin Bishop Group will be appearing at UNC-W Wednesday, November 6th. This concert promises to be one of the best rocking blues concerts not only in Wilmington but anywhere.

Elvin Bishop first came to prominence in 1966 as one of the two lead guitarists with The Paul Butterfield Blues Band of Chicago. The other guitarist was of course Mike Bloomfield. Elvin and Mike were the first white blues guitar virtuosos leading a line which would eventually include such greats as Eric Clapton, Duane Allman, Peter Green, Dickie Betts, etc. The Butterfield Blues Band was phenomenally successful musically, not the least for Elvin's fluid, melodic leads. Unfortunately, America's audience had not progressed beyond Herman's Hermits and the Butterfield albums which included the now legendary "East West" which many critics consider one of the 10 best albums released during the 60's rock era.

Elvin left Butterfield in 1969 to form the first edition of the Elvin Bishop Group, including his wife Jo Baker, on vocals. The band was enormously popular on the West Coast and the North East and is remembered basically for the good time blend of rock, blues and 'soul. Elvin has since disbanded that particular line up leaving behind a legacy which includes four fine albums on Bill Graham's Fillmore label and executing film appearance in the "Fillmore" Movie where they shared the stage with Hot Tuna, Greatful Dead, and Boz Scaggs.

For a time not much was heard from Elvin Bishop until he was signed with Capricorn Records of Macon, Georgia. The people at Capricorn consider The Elvin Bishop Group their finest signing since the Allman Brothers. That's a pretty strong statement, but those are their words not ours. Elvin has since assembled the finest group of his career and recorded what will become a classic "Let it Flow." With this album and the hit single "Travlin Shoes," Elvin has achieved the greatest commercial success of his career. Happily, he has achieved this success without sacrificing any musical quality. His music has a happy, loony quality and will leave the audience at UNC-W screaming for more.

Atlantis deadline Friday

The deadline for prose and poetry submissions to the UNC-W literary magazine, the Atlantis, is Friday, October 18th. All UNC-W students, regardless of their major, are encouraged to submit material.

The fall issue will also contain the winning poems in the University Poetry Contest.

The magazine should be available on campus the first week in December at no charge to students.

SHAKE 'EM UP WITH AN AZTEC EARTHQUAKE.

Montezuma® Tequila Earthquake
Montezuma Tequila, 1½ ounce. Strawberries, ¾ ounce sliced. Grenadine, 1 teaspoon. Orange bitters, ¼ teaspoon. Lime, 1 slice. Strawberries, 1 unsliced. Blend strawberries and grenadine in blender. Add in other ingredients with cracked ice. Serve in tall glass over ice cubes. Garnish with lime slice and unsliced strawberry.

THE EARTHQUAKE symbol for the 4th anniversary of the 1975 earthquake

© 1975 All Rights Reserved. Montezuma Tequila, New York, New York

Crack our book and stretch your bucks.

Spend a little time studying a Piedmont schedule. Then plan a weekend. Out on the ski slopes, enjoying an out-of-town ball game, partying with someone special or soaking up the bright city lights. Or home with the folks. We've got a place for you. And a Weekend-Plus Plan to help stretch your funds. Just leave on Saturday and return before noon Monday. You'll save up to 50% on the return portion of your round trip ticket, and fly with confirmed reservations to any of over 75 Piedmont cities. For information, see your travel agent or call Piedmont. Take us up

For Rent:
12 by 50 Mobile Home, private lot, unfurnished, air conditioned, convenient to beach and school, small deposit, $80 per month. Call 763 - 4854 after 12 noon, ask for Danny.

Professional Uniform Center

THE TOTAL IMAGE CO.
Complete Range of Sizes
PURITAN

HEAR NEW RECOVER NEW POSE
GLEN MEADE PLAZA
762-9898

First offering of University Theatre season

'Blood Wedding' to open Friday

The University Theatre will open its 1974-75 season with Federico Garcia Lorca's passionate modern poetic tragedy "Blood Wedding" Friday, October 18th and will run through Monday, October 21st.

This play blends the basic human emotions of love and hate into the eternal struggle for all human kind to reach states of individual adjustment. The desires of the individual are constantly coming into conflict with the communal rules, regulations and cultural traditions set up by any continuing body of people. The young lovers of "Blood Wedding" do not have the right to select their destinies. They must accept the ways of their people. The play depicts the continued and constant struggle of individuality under the collective control.

Lorca depicts this "Romeo and Juliet" situation with many moving passages of poetic beauty. The writing is lyric and earthy and adds an objective position which removes the viewer from just the domestic tragedy into the greater realms of universal human passion. The play has a tragic conclusion which suggests Lorca's viewpoint of constant authoritarian control and censorship. If individuals are not permitted the right to think their own thoughts and choose their own destinies then the conclusion of this play can be a very tangible result. The play helps the audience to consider this potential result of this restrictive behavior. This examination can be applied to the current actions of people of today. The play is universal and continues to hold world wide audience appeal because of its ability to present subjective "real life" situations through the objectivity of "art".

"Blood Wedding" will be produced in the S.R.O. Theatre with an 8:15 p.m. curtain. University students are admitted to each University Theatre's production free of charge. In order to be assured a place in the theatre it is possible to make reservations by either calling or coming by the Drama/Speech Department office Monday, October 14th through Friday, October 18th between the hours of 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. There may be seats available each evening at the box office but they are issued on a first come first served basis. Please make reservations so that we will not be forced to turn students away.

P&R sponsors symposium on compensatory justice

Tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Randall L. L. Philosophy and religion department will host a symposium on compensatory justice and reverse discrimination. The guest speaker, Professor W. T. Blackstone of the University of Georgia, is a visiting speaker in the Humanities Program at Southeastern Community College in Whiteville. We expect a number of students and faculty from the Humanities Program to be in attendance. The respondent, Professor G. W. Roberts of Duke University, will be on campus Thursday and Friday as a guest of the philosophy and religion department.

NEWS SHORTS

LIBRARY EXHIBIT

"The Judeo-Christian Tradition" prepared by Dr. Martin Weitz is the theme of the Randall Library's October exhibit. Featured are a facsimile of the TORAH, Bibles of various languages, and other relevant materials from the personal collection of Dr. Weitz.

of Larry Cockerham and other members of the faculty in the Department of Biology was published in August by Kendall/Hunt Publishing Company. The 134-page text is used in the introductory biology course at UNC-W.

POEM PUBLISHED BY DR. POWLES

"Shimmering Fireflies," a poem by Dr. Marie A. Powles of the English faculty, has been published in BARDIC ECHOES, XV, June 1974.

LAB TEXT PUBLISHED

An laboratory text titled LIFE PROCESS in the LABORATORY written by Dr. Walter C. Biggs with the assistance

WELCOME TO UNC by the SEA, CHUCK. GLAD YOU COULD JOIN US.

BOWMAR MX 75
Calculator
Memory &
Per Cent
Key

Was $99⁹⁵

- 5 Function, 8 Digit
- Memory Bank & omni-constant
- % Key & Floating Decimal
- Battery & Electric
- AC Adaptor/Battery Recharger & Case Incl.

Summit S180R
Electronic
"Slide Rule"
with Memory

Was $99⁹⁵

- Square root, Square, Reciprocal, percentage
- Fixed or Floating Decimal
- 8 Function
- AC Adaptor/Battery Recharger

SAVE UP TO $40
ON WORLD'S HOTTEST ELECTRONIC CALCULATORS
$59⁹⁵

YOUR CHOICE

All at One Low Cost!

BankAmericard • Master Charge

SOUTHEASTERN RADIO
ELECTRONICS

1002 So. College Rd.

Texas Instruments SR-10
Electronic "Slide Rule"

Was $69⁹⁵

- Square Root, Square, Reciprocal, Change Sign, Scientific Notation in addition to 4 normal functions.
- AC Adaptor/Recharger Included

Texas Instruments TI-2550 with Memory & Per Cent

Was $69⁹⁵

- Live memory, percentage, constant key
- Full floating plus 2 and 4 place decimal
- Adaptor/Recharger Included

EDITORIALS—

The Gadfly: Where the dogs; where the ivy?

The other day as I was walking to class I was suddenly struck with the answer to a question that has bothered me for some time. To be truthful, it wasn't a divine revelation, but it did settle an uneasy feeling I've had since first attending UNC-W.

You see, gentle reader, UNC-W has a drastic deficiency. As a college interested in accruing all the traditional trappings of an institution of higher learning, UNC-W has overlooked one vital element necessary to a university aspiring to true academic status. To wit, friends, there are no dogs on this campus.

Those of you who have never known any other school besides UNC-W are, perhaps, unaware of what a grave matter this is. Those of us who have transferred here, however, are.

Since the first colleges were formed there have been dogs there to grace the campus with their canine wisdom. How many students have looked out the windows of their lecture hall to envy the dogs sleeping calmly outside? How many coeds have blushed at canine antics which some may view as vulgar?

Man's best friend does not have the complex and frustrating society that man has and therefore the canine outlook is relatively simple. Dogs, at least those found of their own free will on college campuses, exude peace and calm. In the world of abstract thought they provide a link with the past, a sense of continuity. They also provide amusement. Of course, they may feel the same way about college students.

At Chapel Hill there was an Old English sheep dog that lived on the second floor of Bingham Hall, home of the English Dept. He belonged to no one but himself. He was a friend to all and would gladly listen to your problems and offer the consolation of his company. No one knew where he came from, but he was as well known on campus as any prof.

Now before anyone collects a group of dogs to loose on UNC-W, let me say this. Don't. You see, a true college dog shows up by himself. If the campus looks worthwhile, he moves in. If not, he moves on. It worries me not to see any dogs here. What is wrong with UNC-W? Despite the fact that UNC-W is officially a university, no dogs seem attracted to its campus.

Anyone having any good ideas as to why there are no dogs on UNC-W campus can write me in care of this paper. Right now I am going to see if I can find out why there is no ivy climbing any of the around here.

DEAR DARLENE

BY DARLENE PEARSON

Dear Darlene,
I'm a sophomore and a business major. My grades are kind of low so my parents are forcing me to leave school and get a job. They claim I don't know how to manage business matters. How can I prove to them that, although my grades are bad, I can be successful in life?

Business Major
Dear Business,
Why not send for my free booklet, "How to Get Rich Quick." Simply send a self-addressed envelope and $10,000 to cover shipping and handling to me in care of the newspaper.

Dear Darlene,
I live at the dorm. Almost every night, the girls in the next room throw a wild party. With all that noise, I can't get my homework done, and I certainly can't sleep. I came for an education.

Jaded
Dear J,
It sounds like a great idea for a book. After all, I have an Institute of Higher Learning. You can't get a more thorough education than at a co-ed dorm in the middle of the night.

Dear Darlene,
I'm in love for the first time. The only problem is the guy doesn't know it. In fact, he doesn't even know my name. What should I do?

In Love
Dear In,
An introduction would be a good start.

Dear Darlene,
I work part-time and I'm a part-time student. I have a wife and eight children. With so many kids, I never seem to have enough money for rent, food, electricity, and clothing. What should I do?

Desperate
Dear Desperate,
To start with, stop playing around with your wife.

Dear Darlene,
I just attended my first fraternity party. There was one subject that I heard mentioned a lot but I don't understand. Perhaps you can help. What's a quickie?

Baffled
Dear Baffled,
Oh, about $5.00.

Confidential to "Innocent"
Attend the next meeting for "Virgins at UNC-W." There's a meeting every night in the phone booth of the Hill. Have you got a problem? You'll feel better if you get off your chest. Write Dear Darlene in care of the Chapel Hill Mental Hospital.

More On Mags

Den of thieves?

There were a lot of good ideas brought forth in the October 3 meeting of the Student Affairs Committee, at which Chancellor William H. Wagoner appeared as a guest. BUT. Like everyone else on campus, the Committee discussed the Flesh Mag Hoax. In reviewing the theory behind campus bookstores, the Chancellor stated that he has ownership responsibility for the operation of the store, and that he had delegated his authority for financial operations of our store to the Director of Auxiliary Services (James K. Clark in this instance). He also stated that he could have overturned the decision for removal of PLAYBOY, PLAYGIRL, PENTHOUSE and VIVA if he had so chosen.

The Chancellor further said that these four magazines were often shoplifted, therefore negating any profits on these items.

Shoplifted???

We're not sure where the Chancellor got his information (though we've got a pretty good idea). We think he, as well as the students on campus, should be aware that bookstore personnel were not aware of the alleged stealing of these particular four magazines.

And why not?

We maintain that the nasty foursome are not being so ripped-off. We think that a drowning man in trouble (so to speak) is grasping at straws to gain needed support from "powers that be" to uphold him in a decision that was sadly lacking in foresight and judgement.

Thinking upon these things.

First, the covers were indiscreet (or so we were told).

Second, we got the "purpose of a campus bookstore" runaround. Even though other stores in the University system vend these magazines.

Third, now it comes to light that they were being stolen right under the very noses of the bookstore personnel.

How do we know they were being stolen, unless the person making the charges actually witnessed repeated episodes of shoplifting. And if this is so, why weren't the funds brought to justice?

We of the Seahawk, as students of UNC-W, resent certain implications of this whole miserable episode. First, some of our brother students have been accused as thieves. Recognizing that some humans, being just that, may err against God, the state, or themselves; we do not hold this as a false charge. But, it seems unfair to us that the charges have been leveled without benefit of justice. If the one who alleges has proof to back up those charges, let him come forward now so that the innocent will not continually have to pay for the crimes of the guilty.

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on tuesday for wednesday distribution. all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on friday for publication on tuesday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief
robert maxey, advertising director
john wilkins, music editor
sheryl moore, paul walker, photographers
joyce crech, margaret monroe, typists
bobbie, tim willette, staff members
ms. linda moore, adviser

ROCKY SAYS

The Union of Student Body Presidents met on September 28th at East Carolina University in Greenville. Among the members present were Wilmington, NC State, Pembroke, Asheville, Appalachian and Charlotte.

The new organization is made up of SGA presidents from all 16 State-supported schools. The two most important goals of the group is to create a student lobby in the state legislature in the next few years, and getting more student representation on the Board of Governors in Chapel Hill.

The organization met at the Mendenhall Student Center and worked out several important problems, including the future creation of a constitution and a system of communications among the schools.

Dr. Hans Indorf of ECU, a political science professor, acted as consultant to the group and was the guest lecturer for the day's meeting. "Here is the nucleus," commented Indorf, "of a future union that goes past the presidents themselves to a union of over one-hundred thousand students. This effort of cooperation state-wide is parallel to the efforts of the consolidated school administrations. With the formation of this group the students are catching up."

For the most part the session was an exchange of ideas and projects from the various schools. Each president was asked to cite some problem or program currently happening on his campus.

Some areas discussed were free legal aid to students, abortion loan funds, Student Run Banks, and Book Store Rip-offs. Also present was Fred Paddock a business major from Methodist College. He asked the group for aid in setting up a National Student Appeal in North Carolina. The Appeal would be similar to the United Fund, with contributions coming from college students. If every student in North Carolina gave a quarter, the United Student Appeal could raise three million dollars.

At this meeting I nominated Bob Lucas as Chairman of this Union. The presidents agreed to have Lucas send to the Board of Governors a letter stating their wish for more student input, and they all agreed that another meeting of the Union would be in order. The date for that second conference was set for October 19th at North Carolina State University.

THE TRANSPLANT

by
Milton Boone
Campus Minister

Women weep and children, under slightest pretence, melt in tears that just as quickly leapfrog into laughter.

"Men don't cry" they say, but watching falling leaves and passing years, and losing friends in death makes one crave a grieving time.

God who gives me leave to grieve is male or female to my hurt and waits beside my aching night with morning joy.

JAYCEES SPONSOR CANCER

Bike-A-Thon

BY: Rocky Lane Moore
Bicycle enthusiasts and humanitarians unite! There is much to be done in the continuing fight against cancer.

More money is needed for research into the causes and effects of cancer. Now is the opportunity for you to contribute. Americans all over the country are working to raise money for this great cause.

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?

Any individual, club, or fraternity can participate. Participation is not limited in any manner. In fact, the more that can participate, the greater will be the contributions, and the sooner we will be able to find a cure for cancer.

WHY SHOULD I HELP?

Because you are needed or because you care. There is much to be done and you're the person who can do it.

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THE RIDE?

Complete the registration forms located at the Student government office or the office of the director of Student Affairs, both locations of which are in the ~~the~~. Obtain as many sponsors as you wish.

WHO IS A SPONSOR?

A sponsor is a neighbor, friend, relative, local businessman, club, fraternity, even yourself, who will pledge to you a certain amount of money for every mile you ride.

Your sponsor should know the importance of the fund raising project, that the funds will be used for research to find a new cure for cancer.

DAY OF THE RIDE:

The starting point is the legion stadium at Carolina Beach. The check point opens at 10:00 a.m. For your own safety, wear light colored clothing. Dress according to the weather conditions. An official Ride Card will be furnished to each registrant at the time his Registration Form is submitted. The official stamp must be made at each check point on the Ride Card, which must be kept with the rider at all times.

DURING THE RIDE?

Obey the police and officials and observe all the traffic regulations. Do not ride on sidewalks, across the center line, or in a careless manner. Respect the property of others. Do not litter. If you lose your Ride Card, notify the official at the next check point. There will be medical aid and assistance along the route.

AFTER THE RIDE?

Collect the money from your sponsors and turn it in to the American Cancer Society office in the WGN Building, 211 North Second Street. The office will be open until 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

WHO IS THE STUDENT CHAIRMAN FOR UNC-W?
Grace Caruthers, a newly arrived Freshman at UNC-W, is chairman of the special committee to ~~to assist~~ the Wilmington Jaycees by enlisting support of fellow students. Grace reminds all bikers that the Bike-a-thon will begin October 26 at 10:00 a.m. Thank you.

Minutes to be published of Student Affairs Committee

In an effort to broaden campus communications, the Student Affairs committee will send a copy of the minutes from each meeting to the SEAHAWK for publication. According to Dr. Fletcher Norris, chairman of the committee, it is hoped that this, as well as open forum meetings for students with gripes, questions, and opinions, will provide for greater campus unity and lessen apathy and communication gaps.

Following are the minutes from the Oct. 3 meeting of that committee:

or act on committee suggestions, and that he should report his findings to the committee. The Chancellor also approved of this committee to act as an advisory committee to the Chancellor in administering non-academic student matters through the Vice-Chancellor for Student Affairs.

The Chancellor then reported on actions taken on our April 25 memo relating to campus improvements. The outdoor bulletin board has been structurally completed. The

Cont. on p. 8

MINUTES

Student Affairs Committee
The University of North Carolina at Wilmington Conference Room
William Madison Library
October 3, 1974

Members Present: Dr. Malloy, Dr. Powles, Mr. Goins, Mr. King, Mr. Burnett, Miss Moye, Mr. Wats, Mr. Perez, Dr. Norris, Mr. Hobbs, Mrs. Moore, Mr. Ainsley

Members Absent: Dr. Martin (in attendance at the Curriculum Committee Meeting)

Dr. Norris called the meeting to order at 11:30 a.m. and welcomed our honored guest, Chancellor Wagoner.

Dr. Norris reviewed the actions of the committee over the last two years. He also cited the frustrations the committee has confronted. He then read the statement of purpose of the Student Affairs Committee as stated in the Faculty Governance Document. A proposed new and stronger purpose was read by Steve Burnett and Dr. Wagoner was asked to voice his comments and suggestions. Dr. Wagoner had no objections to this new statement and suggested that it be submitted to the Committee on Committees for approval.

The Chancellor strongly suggested that the committee use the Vice-Chancellor for Student Affairs, Dr. Malloy, as our liaison to refer

It's time to choose your rings

BOLAND $300 to 3000
WED. RING $100
POLYNESIA $200 to 3000
WED. RING $200

Keepsake assures perfect clarity, fine white color and precise cut.

Keepsake
JEWELERS & ACCUTRON CENTER

Mills
Keepsake
JEWELERS & ACCUTRON CENTER

28 N Front St. • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 763-0790
Long Leaf Mall • 769-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

HEAR

Chuck Mitchell

IN CONCERT

THURSDAY

8p.m.

PUB

sponsored by

SUPB

YOU HAVE A
PERSONAL BANKER
AT
WACHOVIA
RIGHT ACROSS
FROM UNC-W

When he said,

'This is really special treatment
I'm getting'

I knew that what he meant was that he really dug being with folks who could appreciate it when he sang his soul out.
He was in Savannah,
at a regional National Entertainment Conference, and as I spoke to him, conducting an informal interview courtesy of Ma Bell,
I was surrounded by good folks
from UNC-W:
Director of Student Activities,
Ms. Linda Moore;
Student Union Program Board Coordinator
Craig Parker;
and Jo Hilton,
also ever-faithful to SUPB.

Chuck's thing is "Concert in Classroom," and the media is his music - - - so much a part of him that it fills him up and spills over into chords and lyrics that say not only how he feels, but tells the story of people everywhere
everywhen.
He comes to us from NEC-Savannah and before that NEC-Des Moines and before that Southern Methodist in Dallas and upon leaving us
he goes to Oakland University where he does his classroom concert thing.
And he says of it:

'The more time I spend doing it,
the more I like it'

He's looking forward to his return to Wilmington
Yes, he's been here before - when he played "The Other Side" at Wrightsville Beach in 67
(or was it 68?)
He's grown a bit since
DREAMS AND STORIES
(his "almost de'unct" album
4 or 5 years old)

'Right now I'm just floating along'

His material is varied
His music, entertainment and very "point of view"
He may range from very Elizabethan to show tune from concert hall to pop

Friends:
The

SUPB PRESENTS CAMPUS FIRST

A musician in residence for three days,

MIT

PARABLE

Chuck's

Campus Schedule

WEDNESDAY

- 10:30 a.m. Ms. Ping - Music Theory
- 1 p.m. Thornton - Music Appreciation
- 2 p.m. Thornton - Music Appreciation
- 2:30 p.m. Dr. McGowan - Invitation to Philosophical Thinking
- 7:30 p.m. Informal Concert - Dorm Lobby

THURSDAY

- 10:30 a.m. Ms. Welch - Speech
- 11:30 a.m. Poetry Contest Awards - SRO Theatre
- Afternoon View Inside Entertainment Field - Discussion
Check Pub lobby for details
- 8 p.m. Concert - PUB

FRIDAY

- 8:30 a.m. Sharpe - Modern Social Problems
- 9:30 a.m. Sharpe - Modern Social Problems
- 11:30 a.m. Rogers - History & Appreciation of Theatre
- 1:30 p.m. Collier - Modern Poetry

SEAHAWK'S SUPERSTAR FOR

OCTOBER #2

WELL!

MINUTES published

Cont. from p. 5

student body raised approximately $400 dollars for this project and the administration supplemented this with approximately $500. The Chancellor noted that outdoor benches and tables adjacent to the Alderman Building will need to be discussed by the Building and Grounds Committee of the Board of Trustees. He suggested that benches in the vicinity of the Marine Science and Business and Economics Buildings should wait until traffic patterns are established and landscaping begun. He asked the committee to do further study on the bike rack situation concerning location and type. He announced that several indoor bulletin boards will be installed shortly. The free standing bulletin boards recommended for the dormitory and Kenan Hall were estimated to cost over $600 each. The Chancellor stated that funds for the dormitory bulletin board must come from dormitory funds, and funds for the Kenan Hall bulletin board could come from the Building and Grounds budget. This amount of money is not available at this time. The courtyard areas of the Chemistry-Physics and Kenan buildings will be grassed soon by the Physical Plant Department.

The merits of a bike path on University property paralleling highway 132 were discussed. The Chancellor asked Dr. Malloy to check into this matter.

The idea of having a Student Affairs Committee meeting in the form of a forum open to all students was received enthusiastically by the Chancellor. He urged that the committee schedule such a meeting and agreed to appear with the committee to respond to student questions and opinions. The committee will formulate plans for such an open meeting in the near future and details will be widely advertised.

The Chancellor reviewed the theory behind a campus bookstore, and stated that he has owner-responsibility for the operation of our campus bookstore. He further explained that he had delegated his authority for the financial operations of our store to the Director of Auxiliary Services. The Chancellor stated that Mr. Clark's decision to remove Playboy, Playgirl, Viva and Penthouse from our bookstore could have been overturned by him if he had so chosen. He also mentioned that these four magazines were often shop-lifted, therefore negating any profits on these items. He also announced an Ad Hoc Committee to study present bookstore policies and advise him on policy development. Composed of faculty, students, and one staff member, it would study such issues as textbook turnover and textbook ordering.

The meeting was adjourned at 1:15 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Steve Burnett, Secretary
Student Affairs Committee

Med students to study in Europe ledge of medical terminology. One way of surmounting these obstacles is to enlist the aid of an experienced professional

APO to see-saw for Heart Fund

Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity will hold a Seesaw-a-Thon on October 17, 18, and 19, at Long Leaf Mall.

This project will be sponsored by the North Carolina Heart Fund. All donations will go to this association for research.

In this event, the brothers of APO will attempt to seesaw for 55 consecutive hours. The marathon begins at 2 p.m. Thursday and concludes at 9 p.m. Saturday.

Live entertainment and radio coverage will be featured. Donations will be collected at the shopping center and may also be sent to:

Heart Fund
c/o APO
Residence Hall, UNC-W

organization such as the Institute of International Medical Education. Provisionally chartered by the Regents of the University of the State of New York, the U.S. offices of the Institute are located at 222 East 19 St., New York. The Institute of International Medical Education not only assists qualified American students who wish to study medicine abroad, but also conducts a continuing medical education program, including master's programs in the administration of hospitals, nursing homes, ambulatory and health services.

The programs of greatest interest to a U.S. pre-medical student consist of an intensive 12-week to 16-week language, culture and medical orientation course designed to enable the student to successfully meet the challenge of a new and different university and cultural environment, as well as assistance with the complex applications and procedures of European medical schools.

As a result of its programs with the Alliance for Franco-American Graduate Studies and the Italo-American Medical Education Foundation, the Institute has been able to help over 300 American men and women gain admission to medical schools in France and Italy.

Increased governmental and private insurance programs are one of several reasons for the continuing shortage of physicians in the United States. With the limited enrollment in American medical schools, almost half the doctors employed by hospitals in this country are graduates of foreign medical colleges. The Institute of International Medical Education, a nonprofit organization, is helping to solve this problem and produces a closer collaboration between the American and European medical communities.

Musican in Residence for 3 days

S.U.F.B.

presents

another 1st.!

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.

Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings — as an Air Force navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

MSGT. JERRY LEWIS, USAF Recruiting Office
4010 Oleander Drive, Browning Plaza No. 2
Wilmington, NC 28401 PHONE: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

CHUCK MITCHELL is here!

COMMUNICATIONS GROUP

- TO INCREASE THE COMMUNICATION SKILLS OF LISTENING AND SENDING CLEAR MESSAGES

- PRESENTATION, DISCUSSION AND PRACTICE FORMAT

- 5 TWO HOUR SESSIONS, WEDNESDAY 3-5 P.M.

- BEGINNING WEDNESDAY, OCT. 23

- IF INTERESTED, CALL COUNSELING AND TESTING CENTER, EXT 242

BICYCLE SHOP

GITANE
PEUGEOT
JEUNET

Sales & Service
4403 Wrightsville Ave.

NSF GRAD fellowships available

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The National Research Council has again been called upon to advise the National Science Foundation in the selection of candidates for the Foundation's program of Graduate Fellowships. Panels of eminent scientists appointed by the National Research Council will evaluate qualifications of applicants. Final selection will be made by the Foundation, with awards to be announced on March 15, 1975. Initial NSF Graduate Fellowship awards are intended for students at or near the beginning of their graduate study. In general, therefore, those eligible to apply will be college seniors or first-year graduate students this fall. Subject to the availability of funds, new fellowships awarded in the Spring of 1975 will be for periods of three years, the second and third years contingent on certification to the Foundation by the fellowship institution of the student's satisfactory progress toward an advanced degree in science. These fellowships will be awarded for study or work leading to master's or doctoral degrees in the mathematical, physical, medical, biological, engineering, and social sciences, and in the history and philosophy of science. Awards will not be made in clinical, education, or business fields, in history or social work, or for work leading to medical, dental, law, or joint Ph.D.-professional degrees. Applicants must be citizens of the United States and will be judged solely on the basis of ability. The annual stipend for Graduate

Fellows will be $3,600 for a twelve-month tenure with no dependency allowances. Applicants will be required to take the Graduate Record Examinations designed to test scientific aptitude and achievement. The examinations, administered by the Educational Testing Service, will be given on December 14, 1974 at designated centers throughout the United States and in certain foreign countries. The deadline date for the submission of applications for NSF Graduate Fellowships is December 2, 1974. Further information and application materials may be obtained from the Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, Washington, D. C. 20418.

for sale

For Sale
Waterbed--double size
Caramel Brown
Call 762-2185
Best Offer

1967 Camaro
Six cylinder, three speed
Caramel Brown
Good Condition.
$650
Phone-- 791-0340

Applications for study

in Scandinavia accepted

Scandinavian Seminar is now accepting applications for its study abroad program in Denmark, Finland, Norway, or Sweden for the academic year 1975-76. This living-and-learning experience is designed for college students, graduates and other adults who want to become part of another culture while acquiring a second language.

An initial 3 weeks language course, followed by a family stay, will give the student opportunity to practice the language on a daily basis and to share in the life of the community. For the major part of the year he is separated from his fellow American students, living and studying, among Scandinavians at a "people's college" (residential school for continuing adult education) or some other specialized institution.

All Seminar students participate in the Introductory, Midyear and Final Sessions, where matters related to their studies, experiences and individual progress are reviewed and discussed. The focus of the Scandinavian Seminar program is an Independent Study project in the student's own field of interest. An increasing number of American colleges and universities are giving full or partial credit for the Seminar year.

The fee, covering tuition, room, board, one-way group transportation from New York and all course--connected travel in Scandinavia is $3,200. A limited number of scholarship loans are available.

For further information please write to: SCANDINAVIAN SEMINAR, 100 East 85th Street, New York, N. Y. 10028.

For Sale:
2-piece surfer house wetsuit.
Long sleeves. Size medium
and Johns (with green trim
around neck, armholes, and
legs) size medium, also.
GREAT CONDITION!
$45.00

One life preserver vest for boating. Green with zipper down front. Reversible side
red.
$10.00

One surfboard--"Channel
Island"--height 6 ft., 8 in.
Green deck and white bottom;
round tail

RIDES GOOD!
$75.00

contact: Michele Key
791-8327

For Sale
1973 Yamaha 250 MX
Many Extras
call Tim Hamsel
Dorm room 311

For Sale: American 1972
Mobile Home-- 48 X 12,
2 bedrooms, all electric kitchen,
large bath. For more information, call:
799-1815.

1959 Ford six in good running condition. Reliable, economical transportation for
school or work. Good tires,
new starter and fuel pump,
just passed inspection.
$115.00 -- 763-3224

1969 MGB
metallic blue with white convertible top. Rebuilt engine. Wire wheels.
Good condition.
Asking $1600.
Call 791-7733 and leave name and phone number.

Yearbook photos set Oct. 14 week

The Photographers to take pictures for the yearbook will be on campus the week beginning October 14 and will only be on campus for one week.
All students are encouraged to come to the upstairs of the Pub during this time in order to have their pictures made for the Pledging.

There is no required dress for the pictures, so come as you are.

ADK to give $100 scholarship

Alpha Delta Kappa International Sorority for women educators will award a $100 scholarship to a student in the education program at UNC-W. For consideration, one must be a junior or senior. Application blanks are available from Mrs. Eakins in the Department of Education, Arnold Kimsey King Hall.

H
o
m e c o
m i n
g

Committee

Tuesday, October 22 in the Student Government Association
Office in the Pub.

All interested persons are cordially invited. Take this chance to combat campus apathy! Join the S.G.A. in support of our school and team.
All suggestions are welcome and encouraged.

Neill L. King
Homecoming Committee
Chairman

M e
e t i n
g
s

THE 4TH
CORNER

4405 WRIGHTSVILLE AVENUE
WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA 28401
PHONE (919) 791-9325

ONE STOP SHOP
almost
FOR ALL YOUR SMOKING NEEDS!

Surprise people / Serve
MICHELOB.

MICHELOB.
J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

come
as you are!

Where pizza is always
in good taste!

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR
NOON BUFFET
11:30-1:30
3617 Market Street

KARTOONZ

FRANKLY SPEAKING... by phil frank

FRANKLY SPEAKING... by phil frank

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry
Blouse tops
Bags
Shirts
Candles

Handmade Spreads
Embroidered Dresses

Belts
Leatherwork
Mexican Handicraft.

Headgear

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759 Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

Hear Chuck
Thurs.
8 p.m.
Pub

Party PX

Wide Selection
of Beers & Wines

3412 Market St.
Phone 763-7880

Unique Party
Services Available

Soccer squad holds 6-2-1 record

by Jean Franceschiello,
sports writer

Friday, October 4, the Seahawks lost to N.C. State with a score of 3-1. Although the Hawks maintained control of the game, State managed to get behind the UNC-W fullbacks while effectively blocking any efforts to get behind State's fullbacks. After State had run up a score of two goals, Gonzalo Rada managed to kick in the Hawks' only goal with an assist from Dave Wycheil. State rallied once more and scored again to put the Hawks behind by two. Though Coach Lane was disappointed with the score, the record book indicated that the Hawks definitely outshot State but were unable to get past State's effectively deployed wings to score.

Wednesday's match with Pembroke proved to be a very frustrating but rewarding contest for the Hawks. Although the Hawks dominated the game with thirty-one shots on goal to Pembroke's five, they couldn't get the ball in to score. Three shots hit the crossbar and one hit a fullback only to rebound into the goalkeeper's hands.

Eight minutes after the start of the second half, the Hawks rallied with Solomon Bittion centering from the wing and Nino Fleri executing a beautiful header to put UNC-W ahead by one. With ten minutes left in the game, Pembroke scored to tie things up and tension began to mount on both sides as the game drew to a close. With two and a half minutes left to play, Steve Paul made an unassisted run at the goal and beat out three men to kick in the winning goal. Coach Lane felt that this was a great individual effort on Steve's part. Throughout the game the Hawks were very good in controlling and passing the ball, showing much character by coming back to win after being tied so late in the game.

Coach Lane was extremely disappointed that Hal Goodson was lost for the rest of the year because of a broken leg suffered during Wednesday's game. Goodson was the Hawks' defensive leader and his absence will be felt.

Pembroke was the second of four NAIA District games, which leaves the Hawks undefeated in District standing.

The record for the season stands at 6-2-1. Although the Hawks have lost two effective players because of injuries, the coach feels that the team will still do well with each man trying a little harder to compensate for these unfortunate losses.

BOOK REVIEW

Candid Ginsberg

Allen Ginsberg's candid and provocative views on subjects ranging from contemporary poets to the corruption surrounding much of the legislation on narcotics appear in a book which also abounds in rich and colorful anecdotes; Allen Verbatim -- Lectures on Poetry, Politics, Consciousness, compiled and edited by

Gordon Ball (McGraw - Hill, $6.99).

The book resulted from a series of "cross-country exchanges, talks, lectures, rhapsodies" of Allen Ginsberg with "fellow poets, students, scholars, sadhus." In most of them he speaks directly to the vast constituency of the young who see in him the embodiment of the escape from the "prison of conditioning."

In the area of contemporary American poetry, this volume provides valuable material on Ezra Pound, William Carlos Williams, Jack Kerouac, Charles Olson, Robert Duncan and many others, as well as Ginsberg's own theories on prosody and speech rhythms in poetry.

Another aspect of Ginsberg appears in the section of "Drug Traffic." Some chapter headings indicate the scope of his approach: "Addiction Politics 1922-1970"; "Crime in the Streets Caused by Ad-

Boyd to Speak

Dr. Bernard Boyd, professor at UNC-Charlotte, will be on campus Monday, Oct. 21, to discuss recent archaeological discoveries in the Holy Land.

There will be no admission charge for this meeting at 8 p.m. in King Auditorium of the Ed-Psych Building. Boyd is being brought to campus as part of the University Lecture Series.

dition Politics"; "Narcotics Agents Peddling Drugs"; "CIA Involvement with Opium Traffic at Its Source."

An internationally celebrated personality, Allen Ginsberg is best known for such books as Howl and Kaddish.

Victor de Keyserling

Dear Editor:

Should you feel the following information to be of sufficient interest to your student body or possibly your P.E. Department, we would appreciate your using it as a news item.

There will be a YMCA SCUBA Instructor Certification Institute conducted on weekends starting Nov. 1, 1974 at the Greenville, S.C. YMCA. For further information, contact C.B. "Dick" Carter, Institute Director, P.O. Box 628, Brevard, N.C. 28712 Telephone 704/884-4504 Thanks for helping.
C. B. Carter

VARSITY SOCCER SCHEDULE

Wednesday, October 16	St. Andrews College	Wilmington, N.C. *
Friday, October 18	Lynchburg College	Wilmington, N.C. *
Tuesday, October 22	The Citadel	Charleston, S.C.
Saturday, October 26	East Carolina University	Greenville, N.C.
Wednesday, October 30	Campbell College	Bute's Creek, N.C.
Saturday, November 2	Baltimore University	Wilmington, N.C. **
Tuesday, November 5	Methodist College	Wilmington, N.C. *
November 7 thru November 9	NAIA DISTRICT 29 PLAYOFFS	TBA

*Weekday home games 3:30 p.m.

Saturday home games 2:00 p.m.

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

Volunteer Openings

YMCA

2710 Market Street
Mornings, Monday through Friday
Aid with handicapped swim program

WILMINGTON BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

Across highway from college.
Tutoring reading with the Laubach method.

NEW HANOVER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Evenings
Work in clinic, nursery, children's ward, or as auxiliary aides.

BIG BROTHER, BIG SISTER PROGRAM

Be a friend to a youth in need.
Hours are yours to schedule.
Any amount of time is O.K.
4 training sessions starting
Oct. 16th.

FOR MORE DETAILS ON THESE &
OTHER OPPORTUNITIES,
SEE MS. LINDA MOORE, D. S. A.
IN THE PUB

Then to the lip of this poor
earthen Urn
I leaned, the Secret of my Life
to learn:

And, lip to lip, it murmured
"While you live,
Drink! — for once dead, you
never shall return."
— Omar Khayyam
(Fitzgerald tr.)

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful

WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art, Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP
Tasty and Merry Bridging.
3342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9675

KARTOOONZ

FRANKLY SPEAKING... by phil frank

FRANKLY SPEAKING... by phil frank

Hear Chuck
Thurs.
8 p.m.
Pub

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry Blouse tops Bags Shirts Candles

Handmade Spreads Embroidered Dresses

Belts Leatherwork Mexican Handicraft

Headgear

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759 Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

Party PX

Wide Selection
of Beers & Wines

3412 Market St.
Phone 763-7880

Unique Party
Services Available

Undeclared In district play

Soccer squad holds 6-2-1 record

by Jean Franceschiello,
sports writer

Friday, October 4, the Seahawks lost to N.C. State with a score of 3-1. Although the Hawks maintained control of the game, State managed to get behind the UNC-W fullbacks while effectively blocking any efforts to get behind State's fullbacks. After State had run up a score of two goals, Gonzalo Rada managed to kick in the Hawks' only goal with an assist from Dave Wycheil. State rallied once more and scored again to put the Hawks behind by two. Though Coach Lane was disappointed with the score, the record book indicated that the Hawks definitely outshot State but were unable to get past State's effectively deployed wings to score.

Wednesday's match with Pembroke proved to be a very frustrating but rewarding contest for the Hawks. Although the Hawks dominated the game with thirty-one shots on goal to Pembroke's five, they couldn't get the ball in to score. Three shots hit the crossbar and one hit a fullback only to rebound into the goalkeeper's hands.

Eight minutes after the start of the second half, the Hawks rallied with Solomon Bittion centering from the wing and Nino Fleri executing a beautiful header to put UNC-W ahead by one. With ten minutes left in the game, Pembroke scored to tie things up and tension began to mount on both sides as the game drew to a close. With two and a half minutes left to play, Steve Paul made an unassisted run to the goal and beat out three men to kick in the winning goal. Coach Lane felt that this was a great individual effort on Steve's part. Throughout the game the Hawks were very good in controlling and passing the ball, showing much character by coming back to win after being tied so late in the game.

Coach Lane was extremely disappointed that Hal Goodson was lost for the rest of the year because of a broken leg suffered during Wednesday's game. Goodson was the Hawks' defensive leader and his absence will be felt.

Pembroke was the second of four NAIA District games, which leaves the Hawks undefeated in District standing.

The record for the season stands at 6-2-1. Although the Hawks have lost two effective players because of injuries, the coach feels that the team will still do well with each man trying a little harder to compensate for these unfortunate losses.

BOOK REVIEW

Candid Ginsberg

Allen Ginsberg's candid and provocative views on subjects ranging from contemporary poets to the corruption surrounding much of the legislation on narcotics appear in a book which also abounds in rich and colorful anecdotes: Allen Verbatim -- Lectures on Poetry, Politics, Consciousness, compiled and edited by

Gordon Ball (McGraw-Hill, $6.95).

The book resulted from a series of "cross-country exchanges, talks, lectures, rhapsodies" of Allen Ginsberg with "fellow poets, students, scholars, sardus." In most of them he speaks directly to the vast constituency of the young who see in him the embodiment of the escape from the "prison of conditioning."

In the area of contemporary American poetry, this volume provides valuable material on Ezra Pound, William Carlos Williams, Jack Kerouac, Charles Olson, Robert Duncan and many others, as well as Ginsberg's own theories on prosody and speech rhythms in poetry.

Another aspect of Ginsberg appears in the section of "Drug Traffic." Some chapter headings indicate the scope of his approach: "Addiction Politics 1922-1970"; "Crime in the Streets Caused by Ad-

Boyd to Speak

Dr. Bernard Boyd, professor at UNC-Charlotte, will be on campus Monday, Oct. 21, to discuss recent archaeological discoveries in the Holy Land.

There will be no admission charge for this meeting at 8 p.m. in King Auditorium of the Ed-Peych Building. Boyd is being brought to campus as part of the University Lecture Series.

VARSITY SOCCER SCHEDULE

Wednesday, October 16	St. Andrews College
Friday, October 18	Lynchburg College
Tuesday, October 22	The Citadel
Saturday, October 26	East Carolina University
Wednesday, October 30	Campbell College
Saturday, November 2	Baltimore University
Tuesday, November 5	Methodist College
November 7 thru November 9	NAIA DISTRICT 29 PLAYOFFS

*Weekday home games 3:30 p.m.
Saturday home games 2:00 p.m.

Wilmington, N.C. *
Wilmington, N.C. *
Charleston, S.C.
Greenville, N.C.
Bute's Creek, N.C.
Wilmington, N.C. **
Wilmington, N.C. *
TBA

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

Volunteer Openings

YMCA

2710 Market Street
Mornings, Monday through Friday
Aid with handicapped swim program

WILMINGTON BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

Across highway from college.
Tutoring reading with the Laubach method.

NEW HANOVER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Evenings
Work in clinic, nursery, children's ward, or as auxiliary aides.

BIG BROTHER, BIG SISTER PROGRAM

Be a friend to a youth in need.
Hours are yours to schedule.
Any amount of time is O.K.
4 training sessions starting
Oct. 18th.

FOR MORE DETAILS ON THESE &
OTHER OPPORTUNITIES,
SEE MS. LINDA MOORE, D. S. A.
IN THE PUB

Then to the lip of this poor earthen Um
I learned, the Secret of my life
to learn:

And, Lip to Lip, it murmured
— While you live,
Drink! — far once dead, you never shall return."

— Omar Khayyan
(Fitzgerald tr.)

"Our Beverage Prices Are Beautiful

WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art, Inc.

HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Bridgen
3342 Wrightville Ave. 791-9675

music in your life

by John Wilkins

LINDISFARNE
HAPPY DAZE
ELEKTRA - 7E-1018

Many good groups from England have come to this country to try to become very big and never made it. For every group like the Beatles, Elton John and Bowie, there are five to ten like T. Rex, Genesis, and Roxy Music who gain only the title of being very underrated groups. LINDISFARNE is one such group that may never reach beyond this title.

The group originated in the late 60's and from 1970-1972 were at the height of their career, averaging a very good album a year. The first of the trio of LP's to appear was the NICELY OUT OF TUNE LP which came out in 1970. The album featured a good time country type rock along with the Rock-Ballad style and both done the way only LIN-

DISFARNE could do them. The feature songs on the album were "Clear White Light," "Road to Kingdom Come" and one of their greatest all time cuts, "Lady Eleanor."

By the time the second LP, "FOG ON THE TYNE" came out, Ray Jackson's harmonica and Simon Cowe's mandolin playing had given the group an identifying sound which could only be LINDISFARNE. "Meet Me On the Corner" and "Fog On the Tyne" (yes West, you can do a wee-wee on the wall too) were two of the better cuts and made the album a super attempt to hit big time.

The last of the trio was called DINGLY DELL and also contained the original members of LINDISFARNE; Ray Jackson, Simon Cowe, Rod Clements, Alan Hull, and Ray Laidlaw. The sound was still of LINDISFARNE but the subject content changed somewhat to politics. "Poor Old Ireland" and "Bring Down the Government" are examples of this and featured examples of the political world as it was in 1972 and to some extent, even today. "Wake Up Little Sister" was the best cut on the album, followed closely by "Mandolin King." The latter of the two featured both Simon Cowe and Ray Jackson on mandolin and could be compared to Rod Stewart's "Mandolin Wind" from the EVERY PICTURE TELLS A STORY LP.

Following these three albums was a live LP and with it, LINDISFARNE began the transformation into the group it is today. The only original members left are Ray Jackson and Alan Hull who last year put out the NEW LINDISFARNE LP, ROLL ON RUBY. The group did fairly well in keeping the original LINDISFARNE sound, yet added new members who were unaware of what the OLD group was all about.

HAPPY DAZE may be known as the group's less-successful album because most of the LINDISFARNE sound is gone. It is possible that Jackson and Hull now realize that the old LINDISFARNE is over and done with and the new must take a new road to progress. HAPPY DAZE could be called their experimental map to just which road to take.

The album does keep some of the original sound with Hull and Jackson doing the majority of the vocals as well as Jackson's mandolin work. "Tonight," the first cut on the LP, is very similar to cuts off the earlier LP's and is one of the better cuts from HAPPY DAZE. The song has a happy feeling and Jackson's vocals hint at the country sound which was also common on the early LP's.

Another song on side one that is of interest is "River." The vocals are by Hull and actually build up from a small stream to a river. The song is very moving as well as being the most creative on the LP.

Ending the side is "Juiced Up to Lose" which is sung by one of the new LINDISFARNE members, Thomas Duffy. The song is a fair cut but at times it should be called "Too Lose" instead of "To Lose."

"Dealer's Choice" opens side II followed by "Nellie" which features Jackson on mandolin and is about as close to the old LINDISFARNE sound as any song on the album. The last three cuts, "The Man Down There," "Gin and Tonix All 'Round" and "Tomorrow," sound very similar to the ROLL ON RUBY LP and are all fair cuts.

For those of you who have never heard LINDISFARNE, HAPPY DAZE could well be a very good album and, in its place, it is. For those of you who have heard LINDISFARNE, this LP could be a little disappointing, but it does grow on ya and, after all, that is the type LP which soon becomes your favorite. LINDISFARNE may never become a number one group, but it is good to know they are still trying. 'Till next week, ROCK-OUT!!!

TO THE READER,

In my articles I try to always make sure the information I give is correct. If you find mistakes in the information, please let me know by leaving a note on the Seahawk Office door or by seeing me personally in the office.

If you wish to hear any LP reviewed, it may be possible if I am in the office and can get a key to open the stereo cabinet. Also, any information about concerts in the state would be appreciated if you are sure the information is correct.

Your help with any of the above will be appreciated.

Thank you,

John S. Wilkins

John S. Wilkins
Music Editor

Next Week: HYDRA... not an average boogie band.

RECORD

WORLD

Your Ears
Are Our Business

Long Leaf
Mall

Mon. - Sat.

10-9 791-7043

C L O C K
C O R N E R
K

Kenan Auditorium

8pm

seahawk

volume xvii, number nine

october 23, 1974

eight pages

THEY'RE BACK

RIP

Though the mags are back, there's no victory in the Pub.

Summoned to the Chancellor's office late last week, I was already aware of the news. The Pub almost buzzed. "Did you hear? Did you hear?"

They're back, the ill-fated four: Playboy, Playgirl, Penthouse and Viva. Under the counter at our Local Student Store, we can purchase them on request.

But there is no victory. For it could all happen again. Col. James K. Clark, Director of Auxiliary Services, again made the initial decision, and was again upheld by Chancellor William H. Wagoner. To bring 'em back, this time.

Not to wipe out censorship, not to undo the wrongs. But because of an apparent "misunderstanding" arising from the Chancellor's remarks at a recent Student Affairs Committee meeting. Remarks alleging rip-off.

They maintain that they weren't inconsistent in their dealings and dialogues.

At any rate, if it matters, the mags are back. Buy 'em if you like. Don't if you don't.

For what it's worth....

-kathi beall

Elvin Bishop pays OWN DUES making it big without superhype

Rock n' Roll is in a funny fluctuating state at the moment. There are roughly two trains of thought on how to promote up and coming rock groups. One is the massive hype campaign which simply means that the group's record company and management organization mount a massive publicity campaign with full page ads in Rolling Stone, billboards in major markets, and overblown stories about how group X is about to become "the best thing out of England since fish and chips"; the lead guitarist can actually walk on water; and other inflated promises of superstardom all designed to make you the consumer feel like you should own every piece of vinyl that bears the group's logo. Occasionally the group or artist actually deserves the build up; can deliver the goods; and becomes a major creative force such as David Bowie. On the other hand, the audience may wise up when the act fails to produce music either live or on record that should justify the publicity. Such acts are quickly discarded and a new hype is found - such groups as the New York Dolls, Kiss, T-Rex and Slade are prime examples of groups that have failed to deliver what their publicity has promised.

The other train of thought is that the group should go through the time honored tradition of building a reputation slowly but surely. Thus the group begins by playing small clubs, college promotion tours, etc. what is generally known as "paying your dues." This brings us to an artist by the name of Elvin Bishop. He can hardly be considered an overnight success. Having started out in the Paul Butterfield Blues Band in 1966, Elvin Bishop's music has always been strongly rooted on America's only original contribution to music, "the blues". Playing with such masters as Paul Butterfield and Mike Bloomfield, Bishop's music has always evoked admiration from other major musicians.

His latest effort on Capricorn records features Dicky Betts of the Allman Brothers, Toy Caldwell of the Marshal Tucker Band, Vassar Clements formally of the Earl Scruggs Review, Sly Stone, and Steve Miller. The music was recorded in Macon, Georgia, and naturally carries that infectious quality of good time rock n' roll generally known as "Southern Music."

The folks at Capricorn Records believe in Elvin Bishop and consider him their most signing since their original band - The Allman Brothers in 1969. The success both musically and in record sales both of the album, "Let it Flow" and the single hit "Travlin' Shoes" would seem to indicate that their faith has not been misplaced. In fact, Capricorn intends to spend some money on their new signee and make him a big star. In the very near future you may see ads like, "Elvin Bishop is the best thing out of Georgia since Claxton fruitcake." The most amazing thing about the whole thing is that they're probably right.

Elvin Bishop, November 6, Hanover Hall, UNC-W student tickets are only $3.50 and go on sale Monday Oct. 28. At present, due to restrictions by the administration on the number of student concerts held in Hanover Hall, there are at present no more concerts planned for this semester. At least Elvin Bishop should provide some very nice memories until late January.

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Wall-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen area
- Hotpoint range, refrigerator, garbage disposal
- Individually-controlled air conditioning
- Large swimming pool, Central laundry facilities

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished $135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished $149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished $160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished $185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT . . .

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

PUB

WEEKDAYS	8AM - 10PM
FRI	8AM - MIDNIGHT
SAT	2PM - MIDNIGHT
SUN	2PM - 10PM

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry	Blouse tops	Bags	Shirts	Candles
Handmade Spreads	Embroidered Dresses
Belts	Leatherwork	Mexican Handicraft
	Headgear

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

ROCKY SAYS

I overheard a graduating senior say last year that "UNC-W Student Government is the best it has ever been." Some will agree. Others will laugh. But I remind you that our Student Government Activities are only as good as the people who work in it. I personally do not feel that we (Student Government) have really begun to tap the talent that exists in our student body of 2800. For this reason, I have tried to influence as many people as I know to take part in SGA activities.

Our Student Government often comes in contact with civic and community leaders, state and federal representatives and other SGA leaders from other colleges.

A degree is judged on the academic tradition that is evident at the school awarding the degree. Therefore, I see it as every student's responsibility to participate in making this school better academically, not only in class, but by bettering the tone of friendship and respect for every student and faculty member alike.

Student government needs the best leaders on campus. It is not a clique, nor is it merely an exercise in parliamentary procedure for interested students. It is a direct representation of the student population. These students feel not only on a student's deal not only on a local level, but they represent you in a North Carolina Student Assembly.

Let me encourage you to serve yourself and others through SGA. Drop by the office in the Pub to see where you can help. Remember, "SGA needs you and you need SGA."

NEWS IN CAPSULE:

Dance Committee - Three more beer busts and four regular dances are planned. The next dance is slated for Oct. 29 featuring NANTUCKET. The committee will have a dance in conjunction with Cape Fear Tech hopefully in November. They are also planning great things for Homecoming Week in January and are open for suggestions on the bands you would like to hear (the Cheap ones). Additionally, they need manpower. Please leave your name at the SGA office.

Student Union Program Board - Two members of SUPB and the co-chairman of the Dance Committee just returned from the National Entertainment Conference's regional convention in Savannah. They are anxious to share the new ideas they gained with all UNC-W students interested in entertainment. A sharing session will be held in Ms. Linda Moore's office in the Pub on Thursday, Oct. 24, at 11:30.

Union of Student Body Presidents - The Union met on Oct. 19, at State in Raleigh to work on the draft Constitution for a new North Carolina Student Assembly. Present at the meeting were presidents from UNC-W, NCSU, UNC-CH, UNC-C, Pembroke, and ECU. The constitution was tentatively approved in Committee. Another meeting is set next month.

Concert Committee - There will be another concert held Nov. 6 in the gym. Elvin Bishop has been contracted as the main act. The student tickets will be $3.50. Others $4.50. All tickets will be $5.50 at the door.

Jaycee Bike-a-thon - A number of students have agreed to help the Jaycees raise money for the Cancer Bike-a-thon next weekend. Most notable was the pledge of Sigma Alpha Beta, the school's professional business fraternity, to have more than half of their brothers assist in raising money for this charity.

Radio Station - All is at a go-ahead for a student run radio station here. All that remains is approval to build a room to house the station, in the student services building. The station may be carried on cable television. This could increase the station's audience from several hundred to around 25,000. This can be accomplished at minimal cost. Further, the station personnel have made live recordings of the Stampedeers, the bands "Benefit" and "Southpaw," Chuck Mitchell's concert and an interview with Billy Preston. Tentative date for completion of the station is January 8, 1975.

NCSL - The North Carolina Student Legislature will meet at Wake Forest University for a two-day session on October 26-27. All representatives and senators are requested to attend.

SGA Budget - A copy of the finalized budget will hopefully be published in next week's SEAHAWK.

Student Telephone Directory - A formal publication of the Directory will be postponed till Spring because there is not a compilation of student addresses and phone numbers available on campus at this time. Betty Price, Chairman of the Directory Committee, conducted a hard-fought drive to get enough phone numbers to justify this publication. But because of a limited response from the student body, the publication costs cannot be justified. An in formal publication will be made for those students who are still interested. An announcement will be made in the Today Bulletin when these will be ready.

Party PX

has the LARGEST selection of imported BEERS in town!

Greek Beer

$5.95 a case

3412 Market St.
Phone 763-7880

Miss Wonderful
goes all out for legs

...with BLAZER doing the suede thing. Little lacer with a low profile. Kind of a soft, cuddly feel in camel, blue, rust and some mix and match colors. MISS WONDERFUL likes the new shoe look with the old shoe feel.

ask for it by name
BLAZER

Miss Wonderful
Price range $16-$20

SEE YOUR YELLOW PAGES FOR NEAREST MISS WONDERFUL DEALER.

DU presents lecture

The Wilmington Chapter of Delta Upsilon proudly announces the first presentation of its Campus Lecture Series. The program is entitled "Underwater Dangerous Species" and will be presented by Mr. Bud Cowan of Underwater Sales and Service. This lecture will occur on the night of October 30, 1974 at 7:30 P. M. in King Auditorium (Psychology Bldg.). A narrated slide-show, and a question-answer session will be highlighted. This lecture is for the benefit of students in the area, particularly UNC-

W students. There, of course, will be no admission charge. We at Delta Upsilon hope that each and everyone of you will attend. Thank you.
Zack Sessions

ART MAJORS

It is requested that Art Majors, meet with their advisors at least one week prior to pre-registration.

Professional Uniform Center
THE TOTAL IMAGE CO.
Complete Range of Sizes

NEAR NEW BE MOVED WITH GROUP
GLEN MEADE PLAZA
762-9898

EDITORIALS

The Gadfly:

Taking up the pen
for those who took up the sword

Never again will I wait this late to write my column. (Halleluia! -Ed) Here it is an hour before my deadline and I am skipping class to try to write something to amuse and enlighten you on Wednesday. I hope you appreciate this as I am certain that my professor does not. This week I am going to take up the pen about those who took up the sword. On this campus there are quite a few of us who dug foxholes, sailed ships and ducked lead for a few years in service to our country. Those of us who had the experience of being in the military can never really explain what it was like to those who weren't.

For the most part, it was not a picnic.

Most veterans here and elsewhere going to school are not a vocal lot. Protesting and that sort of thing take too much precious time. Veterans are usually too busy trying to study or working so they will have the money to continue studying. The G. I. education benefits do help but certainly don't cover all expenses. Therefore, when a veteran isn't studying, he's probably working to make up the difference.

fight for UNC-W veterans and I am sure they appreciate it. Veterans know what a jungle the Veterans Administration can be. Anyone who can help them has to be determined almost beyond belief.

Veterans here and elsewhere are skeptical about the raise. Why shouldn't they be? How many times have they been through the agony of having their hopes raised only to be crushed. More than once for sure.

If President Ford vetoes this bill it will be a slap in the face to every veteran going to school, trying to better himself and indirectly, better his country. Those of us who thought the draft dodgers wrong may have cause to have second thoughts.

Fair?

We embrace neither the philosophy that UNC-W is plagued by the retired military, nor that the military mind is the source of world evil.

The things that disturb Mr. Ward (see Student Forum, this page) may or may not be valid on this campus, but it seems to us a little absurd to jump upon and beat all military lifers. The problems of death and destruction are not products of military minds, but of faulty human minds that are more self-serving than based on broader concepts of peace, harmony, or brotherhood.

True, bad things may come from one who cannot separate himself from military regimentation when re-entering civilian life. But so may bad things come from one who has never served.

The main point we wish to make is that competency should be the criteria for hiring and firing. There are plenty of ineffective folks around who have never seen the inside of a barracks, much less possess "military minds." It seems unfortunate in the extreme to us that the ineffective hang on so long under the protection of tenure, etc.

What can we do? Probably only grin and bear it. Learn what we can in spite of the obstacles of poor instruction or conditions.

Life isn't always fair, for sure. But no one ever promised us it would be.

Right now there is a bill which has been passed by both the Senate and the House to increase veteran's benefits by 23%. President Ford has hinted he may not sign it because it is "inflationary" in nature.

Well, what about all the aid being given to returning draft evaders? Surely, this program is not free. Doesn't it seem a bit strange that the draft evader should be helped while the veteran is left to get along as best he can?

Such things as delayed checks, lost files and endless forms are all old news to veterans. The behavior of the Veteran's Administration has been much less than laudable. Try telling your landlord that the V. A. is going to send you a check and that it's just late.

The V. A. people here on campus have fought a good

THE TRANSPLANT

Sea
rushing up watering my soul making it glisten
in Bright Light.
Flowing over me
in waves.

Sun pouring down keeping me warm filling me with feelings of joyous Oneness.
Steadily touching me in Quiet Caring.

Love brimming over seeping from my pores.
Bursting inside and wanting to escape to fill others with Bright Light and Quiet Caring of Him.

-a student

STUDENT FORUM

MILITARY COMPLEX ALIVE, DOING WELL AT UNC-W

Have you ever tried to put a square in a hole? It doesn't fit. The same can be said of an analogy made with the retired military person playing the part of instructor at any college excluding of course, West Point and the like. After 20 to 30 years in the military service a person looses all viewpoints of the individual and sees those subordinate to him (or her) as only faces and numbers on a roll call. They demand and create within the classroom the same atmosphere of inflexibility, intolerant of uncontrollable circumstances the average student faces attending college - late for class due to the traffic, automobile trouble, bad driving weather, etc. Additionally, purposely keeping a well-defined line of subordination at over arms length between himself and his students, as if to say, "Don't bother me; you're not worthy of my time."

As many of us see it, college should be a place for opinions, of flexibility, a place one can learn to express himself without fear of retribution, without losing "points" with the instructor for taking a separate view, length of hair, dress and the like. Not the case with the retired "lifer;" voice an opinion differing with him and you get on his "list."

I believe you get the picture. The clincher is the reason a college takes on these people (not individuals). They come CHEAP. They can afford to accept a lower salary because it serves to supplement their retirement pay, while someone more fitting as an instructor goes elsewhere. The same can be said of retired people placed in college administrative positions.

The military mind on campus is like the serpent in Eden. The whole atmosphere is suppressive and decadent. That mind has given the world millions of deaths, atrocities, and fostered the ability to wipe out life on the entire planet in only a few hours. I say get them off campus and back to their reservations.

Alton Ward
Ex-Viet Nam Vet
100% Disabled

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on tuesday for wednesday distribution. all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on friday for publication on tuesday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief
robert maxey, advertising director
john wilkins, music editor
margaret monroe, typist
jean francischello, wayne steels, sports writers

ms. linda moore, adviser

MEMBER

Volunteer Openings

YMCA

2710 Market Street
Mornings, Monday through Friday
Aid with handicapped swim program

WILMINGTON BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

Across highway from college.
Tutoring reading with the Laubach method.

NEW HANOVER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Evenings
Work in clinic, nursery, children's ward, or as auxiliary aides.

FOR MORE DETAILS ON THESE &
OTHER OPPORTUNITIES,
SEE MS. LINDA MOORE, D. S. A.
IN THE PUB

NEWZ

reported by darlene pearsall

Today, the administration turned down a request by a group of students to serve beer in the cafeteria. Since only beer was officially barred from the cafeteria - apparently brown-bagging is acceptable.

The computer center at Hoggard Hall temporarily closed Friday afternoon due to a rebellion. It seems that one of the key punch machines led the other machines and teletypes in a massive revolt. The machines demanded oil breaks, time-and-a-half for overtime, and paid vacations. The center is presently functioning as normal so the demands must have been met.

Jonathan Jason Jackson, UNC-W janitor, was recently interviewed on the subject of crime on campus. Mr. Jackson feels that the majority of the students are trustworthy. However, he does wish that the student who stole one of the toilets in the men's room of the Chemistry Building would return it.

The yearbook staff has agreed to publish a male centerfold in the '75 FLEDGLING. All interested males are urged to audition for the picture. No measurements will be taken.

Many professors on campus are trying to put an end to unexcused absences in class. Students missing a class are now required to bring a note from their doctor, parent, or legal guardian. Professors wish to emphasize that a guardian does not include a boyfriend, life guard, or bartender.

The bookstore has been searching for acceptable machines to be sold. In order to fill the gap for the recently censored Playboy and Viva magazines, the store considered selling The Weekly Reader and Jack and Jill. A controversy soon arose, however, over questionable material found in Jack and Jill. (After all, they're not married.) To settle the dispute, Playboy and Viva were reinstated.

SECRET STUFF: Dr. R. X. ran off to Mexico with Dr. Y. A. (I wonder what their wives will say when they find out.)

TONGUE IN CHEEK DEPT.

QUOTH THE COLONEL, "UNDER THE COUNTER."

Business frat challenges other Greeks

The New Hanover Jacee sponsored Bike-A-Thon (Saturday, October 26th) is a worthwhile cause that everyone can and needs to participate in. Members of the Sigma Alpha Beta business fraternity will be soliciting businesses for their support and biking the twenty-six mile course from Legion Stadium to Carolina Beach and back. The brothers challenge all of the fraternities and sororities of UNC-W to surpass the amount of money they collect to fight cancer. If you or your group feels that you want to help, but are unable to, why not pledge something to one of the bikers of the business fraternity (Call 686-0087).

MATH FRAT TO INITIATE MEMBERS

North Carolina Zeta Chapter of Pi Mu Epsilon, National Honorary Mathematics Fraternity, will conduct initiation of qualified candidates in the near future. Detailed qualifications for membership are available in the Mathematics Department Office.

Numerous candidates are under consideration for initiation. Any faculty member or student who desires to recommend a qualified candidate for Pi Mu Epsilon is requested to notify Uma Shankar, Zach Cox, Thad Dankel, or Glenn Long not later than Friday, Oct. 25. All such notifications will be treated in a confidential manner.

the casual man INC.
LONG LEAF MALL
799-8201

Surfboard for Sale
5 ft. 10in. Conn Crystal Butterfly. Fair Condition. Good for beginners. $25.00 Negotiable. Call 799-8557 Anytime after 3 P. M.

For Sale
1972 Honda SL 125. 2,400 miles. Perfect Condition. $300. Call 256-2526.

For Sale
Small men's wetsuit. U. S. Diver's brand. $40.00 Negotiable. Call 799-8557 Anytime after 3 P. M.

For Sale
Complete Diving outfit for warm winter diving. Almost new - Good Price. Call 762-3635.

KARTOOONZ

John Wasson to speak

Soc club to sponsor lecture

The Sociology Club is sponsoring a lecture to be held October 30 (Wednesday) at 8:00 upstairs in Hoggard room 201. The guest speaker will be Mr. John Wasson. His lecture will consist of an overview of social work. According to Mr. Wasson, "Many people think social workers are little old ladies in high button shoes handing out platitudes in baskets of food to the needy." The purpose of his lecture will be to dispel this stereotype by giving a realistic description of social work.

Mr. Wasson is a resident of Wilmington. He has his M.S.W. from Chapel Hill and is currently taking courses toward a doctorate in Public Health at UNC-CH. In the past he has worked as a director of Comprehensive Health Planning and a Community Problems Consultant with the State Department of Human Resources. He is presently the co-ordinator of the Master's degree program in social work at UNC-W. This program is sponsored by the school of social work at UNC-CH and the Sociology Department at UNC-W. Under this program people who are presently employed social workers are able to attend class on a work - study basis. During this three year program, participants are required to attend class one day a week for two years while they work. The third year of study must be completed in residence at Chapel Hill.

Students who are interested in this program and in the field of social work are urged to attend this lecture. Job opportunities in this field will also be discussed. The lecture will be brief with a question and answer period afterward. This is a FREE lecture so EVERYBODY COME!

FRANKLY SPEAKING... by phil frank

© COLLEGE MEDIA SERVICES • BOX 9411 • BERKELEY, CA 94709

come as you are!

Where pizza is always in good taste!

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR
NOON BUFFET
11:30-1:30
3817 Market Street

BLACK CAT SALE

BOOK STORE

PERIWINKLES

Ladies' Fashions
open 10-9 daily
Long Leaf Mall

Booters lose to High Point; awake to beat St. Andrews

October 12 the Seahawks travelled to High Point to face the undefeated High Point College soccer team. The first half did not go well for the Hawks at all with the fired up High Point team scoring one goal to establish their lead. During the last sixteen minutes of the second half, High Point scored again to make the score 2 to 0. With ten minutes left in the game the Hawks dropped their lethargy and began to dominate the game; Nino Fleri scored UNC-W's only goal with an assist from Gonzalo Rada. Coach Lane noted that High Point College has a fine team with a good program well underway and that they were emotionally prepared for the game. The coach feels that some of the Hawks' sluggishness during the early part of the game could have been attributed to the effects of the long drive to High Point.

This Wednesday, October 16, the Seahawks reawakened to win as they faced Saint Andrew's College on UNC-W home turf. Suffering from the loss of Hal Goodson and their recent loss to High Point College, the Hawks recovered to play one of their finest offensive games this season.

Wings Solomon Bitton and Tim Chance were the main power behind the Hawks' determined and successful offensive drive. T. Chance played the finest game of his collegiate career, driving in three goals on three difficult shots. Two goals, one on a left footed shot and one on a right footed shot, were made while under heavy pressure from the defending fullback. Tim's third goal was a nice placement shot made during a one on one confrontation with the St. Andrew's goalie.

The UNC-W offensive drive continually went to the wings to spread out the St. Andrew's defensive action considerably, and bring the ball into scoring position for the Hawks. Although the UNC-W fullbacks dragged slightly during the first half, they straightened up and functioned as a highly competent unit during the second half. Coach Lane was extremely pleased with the victory, Saint Andrew's has a much stronger team than was indicated by the score.

Both the coach and the team are appreciative of the faculty and students who have turned out to give their support, but are disappointed that there has not been a larger turnout. This has been a really fine season for the Seahawk booters and they deserve the cheering of more than a small percentage of the school, so get off your apathy and out of your stuffy dorm rooms to enjoy the fresh air and scintillating excitement of a Seahawk soccer game!

Jeann Franceschiello
Sports Writer

GREEK LINES

Fall semester 1974 has started off to be a good year for the M-Phi Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon. A good rush week produced 11 pledges who are Mike Griffin, Woody Woodward, Neal Farley, Gary Shipman, Flip Orr, Anhet Ozal, Troy Kelley, Harry Augustine, Jerry Dixon, Ronnie Brothers, and Steve Shields.

Recently, officers were elected for the fall semester and those now serving are: George Erkes, President; David Willis, Vice President; Herbie Walter, Secretary; Linwood Carter, Treasurer; Tojle King, Chaplin; Bill Wilkie, Sgt. at Arms; Cummins Melbane, Historian; and Bill Joner, Pledge Trainer.

There have been many good social activities this year. A good pig barbecue started off the semester followed by a Heil's Angels party, a fish fry, and last weekend, a camping trip to the mountains.

Cummins Melbane

Fishing

Competition

Meeting of all interested students, faculty and staff to finalize details of trip to USC-Coastal (Conway, S. C.) Thursday, October 24. 3:30. Pub Lobby.

Basketball practice begins

After a month of conditioning, the Seahawk basketball team began practice on October 15. There were ten returning players and four new players present.

Returning from last year are: Seniors- David Prince, Willie Jackson, and Perry Dobson; Juniors- Ernie Lynn, Rick Alessi, Bob O'Donnell, and Kenny Goodson; and Sophomores- Keith Yow, Jim Broden, and Ricky McKay.

New additions to the squad this year are: Greg Scott,

6 ft. 2 in. Sophomore; Harold Jackson, 6-2 Junior; Joe Westerfield, 6-6 Junior; and Richie Brooks 6-2 freshman.

There will also be four new schools added to the schedule, proving to be the most competitive schedule ever. The Citadel, Western Carolina University, unc-a, and Mars Hill are the new additions.

Coach Gibson remarks, "We are trying to increase the caliber of competition in order to attract better players and to increase prominence."

The first game this year will be Nov. 29 at Mars Hill, with the first home game against Shaw University on Dec. 6.

Then to the Lip of this poor
earthen Urn
I leaned, the Secret of my Life
to learn:
And, Lip to Lip, it murmured
— "While you live,
Drink! — for once dead, you
never shall return."
— Omar Khayyam
(Fitzgerald tr.)

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful
WE NOW CARRY THE
COMPLETE LINE OF

Wine Art, Inc.
HOME WINE-MAKING PRODUCTS

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Fridgen
2342 Wrightsville Ave. 791-9673

PUT ON THE DOG. AZTEC STYLE.

Montezuma®
Tequila Pup

Montezuma Gold
Tequila, 1½ ounces.
Honey, 1 teaspoon.
Lime juice, 1 lime.
Bitters, 1 dash.
Mix in shaker with cracked ice. Strain into chilled cocktail
glass.

ITZCUINTLI

(the DOG) symbol for the 10th day
of the ancient Aztec week

© 1974. 80 Proof. Tequila. Barton Distillers Import Co. New York New York

SONATA
$300 to $3000
WED. RING
$100

MARINA
$300 to $3000
WED. RING
$100

JUDO
$300 to $3000
WED. RING
$200

Give the gift of love

A perfect Keepsake diamond
backed by our written guarantee
of perfect quality, fine white color
and correct modern cut. Come in today to see our exciting collection
of Keepsake Diamond Rings.

Keepsake
REGISTERED DIAMOND RINGS

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

26 N Front St • 753-6311
Hanover Center • 753-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

music in your life

by john wilkins

HYDRA

Time: 1973

Pure Southern Boogie had been overworked. Too many imitations. Too much sameness. The nation fell to its knees and a savior was needed. Who? Who could put the boog back into Pure Southern Boogie? Who could prove the sound had not grown stale? Who could . . . ?

Time: 1974

Pure Southern Boogie began the hard climb back up. Just in the ta-ta-nick-of-time. Two groups made the save because they were different, yet kept enough of the old sound to still be classified as a part of it. These groups were Wet Willie and HYDRA.

Southern Boogie began to progress.

guitar, and Steve Pace-drums. HYDRA, their first album, was recorded in Macon, Georgia last December-February and has recently been released to begin the debut of the group in the states.

The album is somewhat different in sound due to Wayne Bruce's vocals. As for the music and lyric, they are almost the same as any of the Capricorn artists. Most of the material on the album is by the group except "Going Down" by Don Nix and "Feel the Pain" by Will Boulware.

The LP begins with "Glitter Queen," one of the better cuts from the album. "Going Down" and "Warp 16" are also fairly good cuts with the remaining cuts all similar to any other Southern Boogie except for the vocals.

All in all, the album is one of the better Capricorn Records to appear this year. The group has great expectations if they can continue as well as progress with the Boogie sound. If they can and people feel like I do, the sound may lose its already-staleness. I just wonder once a thing is stale, can it become fresh again. Till then, ROCK OUT.

In a few years the above may be true. As for now, the Allman Brothers did begin the popularity of Southern Boogie music, they have been somewhat over-copied, and Wet Willie and the new group HYDRA are the only ones to venture into the new aspects of the sound.

HYDRA is Wayne Bruce-vocals and guitar, Spencer Kirkpatrick-lead and acoustic guitars, Orville Davis-bass

Next Week - SMILER - Rod Stewart

HYDRA
HYDRA
CAPRICORN CP-0130

Time: 1968-1971

There was a group from the South. This group lived and loved the music they played. It was a different type of music, a sound the South could call its own.

This group signed to a big record label, cut a few albums, and in a short time the sound had hit the nation causing one of the biggest impacts any sound had caused in some time. The group was the Allman Brothers Band. The sound was pure Southern Boogie.

Time: 1972

Pure Southern Boogie had hit the nation hard. It seemed that each day a new group from the South popped up using the sound and hitting the big time. People wanted more. They screamed. They cried. They could not get enough of this sound. Was the South the next scene for a music revival?

WEEK DAY SPECIAL

Mon. - Thurs.

all NEW $6.98 LPs

only $4.99

Long Leaf
Mall

Mon. - Sat.

10-9

791-7043

African Arts
& Crafts
Incorporated

"Importers of RARE African Tribal Arts & Crafts"

TURQUISE & SILVER JEWELRY

AFRICAN TRADE BEADS

GLEN MEADE PLAZA next to New Hanover Memorial Hospital
Tel. 763-8853

seahawk

volume xvii, number ten

october 30, 1974

twelve pages

ASK THE MAN

OPEN FORUM

THURSDAY, OCT. 31

11:30 A.M.

ED-PSYCH Auditorium

bring your gripes, questions, problems to the Student Affairs Committee.

Chancellor William H. Wagoner will be on hand to answer questions.

They ain't sayin' much right now, but there have been rumors indicating that Renaissance may be highlighted at the next concert. (photo by sheryl moore)

USC wins debate honors

The University of South Carolina won top honors in both the varsity and novice categories in the 2nd Blockade Runner Invitational Debate Tournament hosted by UNC-W debaters October 18 and 19.

In the novice division, the USC team, speaking in the affirmative shared first place honors with Duke University's team, which took the negative stance.

In the varsity division second, third and fourth place winners were Lenoir-Rhyne College, Virginia Military Institute and Duke University. Varsity high scoring individual honors went to LaCivita of the University of Virginia, and second place in individual competition went to Schmitz of Lenoir-Rhyne.

High scorer in the novice division was Brockington of the University of South Carolina who totaled 145 points arguing in the affirmative. Price of Duke University compiled 137 points arguing in the negative to take second place in the novice individual scoring.

Winning teams were presented silver Revere bowls, while individual winners were awarded engraved gavels.

Crack our book and stretch your bucks.

Spend a little time studying a Piedmont schedule. Then plan a weekend. Out on the ski slopes, enjoying an out-of-town ball game, partying with someone special or soaking up the bright city lights. Or home with the folks. We've got a place for you. And a Weekend-Plus Plan to help stretch your funds. Just leave on Saturday and return before noon Monday. You'll save up to 50% on the return portion of your round trip ticket, and fly with confirmed reservations to any of over 75 Piedmont cities. For information, see your travel agent or call Piedmont. Take us up

John Wasson to speak

Soc club to sponsor lecture

The Sociology Club is sponsoring a lecture to be held October 30 (Wednesday) at 8:00 upstairs in Hoggard room 201. The guest speaker will be Mr. John Wasson. His lecture will consist of an overview of social work. According to Mr. Wasson, "Many people think social workers are little old ladies in high button shoes handing out platitudes in baskets of food to the needy." The purpose of his lecture will be to dispel this stereotype by giving a realistic description of social work.

Mr. Wasson is a resident of Wilmington. He has his M.S.W. from Chapel Hill and is currently taking courses toward a doctorate in Public Health at UNC-CH. In the past he has worked as a director of Comprehensive Health Planning and a Community Problems Consultant with the State Department of Human Resources. He is presently the co-ordinator of the Master's degree program in social work at UNC-W. This program is sponsored by the school of social work at UNC-CH and the Sociology Department at UNC-W. Under this program people who are presently employed social workers are able to attend class on a work - study basis. During this three year program, participants are required to attend class one day a week for two years while they work. The third year of study must be completed in residence at Chapel Hill.

Students who are interested in this program and in the field of social work are urged to attend this lecture. Job opportunities in this field will also be discussed. The lecture will be brief with a question and answer period afterward. This is a FREE lecture so EVERYBODY COME!

BASKETBALL TEAM ENTRY DEADLINE ANNOUNCED FOR NOV. 1

Nov. 1 is the deadline for all team entries for the 1974-75 basketball intramural season. Rosters of players may be turned in to Dave Warner in Room H-226, the Intramural office or the Physical Education office in the gym.

There is a place for all teams as the leagues will be determined by a Qualifying Tournament November 4-5-6 and 7th if needed. This tournament will place teams of comparable ability in the same league.

Regular season play will begin on November 8 at 6 p.m. with games scheduled every night in both gyms at 6, 7 and 8 p.m. The season will end in late February with a championship tournament to be held the week of February 24th.

Teams from clubs, fraternities, societies, departments, independents, faculty, staff or dormitories are welcome with each team limited to nine players. If more than this number are in your group it is possible to enter as many teams as you wish.

ART MAJORS

It is requested that Art Majors meet with their advisors at least one week prior to pre-registration.

THE 4TH CORNER

ONE STOP SHOP
almost
FOR ALL YOUR SMOKING NEEDS!

4405 WRIGHTSVILLE AVENUE
WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA 28401
PHONE (919) 791-9325

UNKNOWN PESTILENCE kills HUNDREDS

ABOVE -- Victim of plague (believed to be caused by macroorganism Wilmingtonian apathetica) clutches at side of mass grave site in last - ditch attempt to hold onto waning life. A good samaritan passing by filled the clutching hand with a can of cold beer. "It was good," said the Sam. "to see 'im die with a smile on his face."

ABOVE -- Rotting body of student found on Baja. The flesh, as you can see, is gone: A special single-site grave was dug for these remains - the Tomb of the Unknown Student. BELOW -- A special monument, shown in photo is to be erected at the Tomb of the Unknown Student.

AT RIGHT -- Mass graves covered campus last week as University officials laid to rest victims of an unidentified plague. Hundreds of students were struck down. Health officials released a statement indicating that many of the dead thought the onset of the malady--characterized by lethargy, fatigue, and overwhelming apathy--was simply a manifestation of "Sophomore Slump."

photos by sheryl moore

EDITORIALS —

The Gadfly:

TROUBLE NOT ALL BAD

This has been a hectic week so far. Last week was about the same. With little strain on the brain it's easy to foresee what next week will be like. More of the same. It's not even Thanksgiving, but the end of the semester suddenly is not so far away.

It is about this time during the semester that panic begins to set in. Suddenly you realize: you still have to decide what you will write on for your theme in English. There are two exams next week and your notes are only two weeks behind. You have to report on two books you haven't read yet this month.

If it is any consolation to you, as I am sure it probably will not be, problems and trouble seem to be a standard part of any period of human existence. After all, ever since Adam and Eve swiped the forbidden fruit, man has been in hot water. As a matter of fact, the temperature of the water has steadily gone up since then.

The ability of people to get into, or make, trouble is just barely exceeded by their ability to get out of it. At least that has been the case so far through history and it is to be greatly hoped that this characteristic is not lost.

Between religion, politics and education, it would seem there is an endless source of strife, confusion and just plain problems. If one of these elements cannot war with another then they will squabble within themselves.

Trouble is not, however, to be considered an entirely negative aspect of life. Without trouble there would be no reason to be forced to use our intellects to solve our problems. If it hadn't been that early man had to fight to survive his troubles we probably wouldn't have been half as well equipped to deal with our problems today.

Just think. Without the problem of having to write a paper this semester you would have never had become acquainted with the fine people in the library or have realized how to make a lot of nothing sound so important. This last achievement will stand you in good stand in later life. Especially if you go into politics, or write newspaper columns.

THE TRANSPLANT

Political prisoners in Babylon, Shadrack, Meshack and Abednego disdained the groceries brought home to the king and staged non-violent protest against a luxury at cross purpose with their conscience and their God.

It was a serious matter. Jewishness was in their blood. Judah's God had shaped their dreams; so dreaming in a hostile land of sand back home, they laid their lineage on the line affirming who they were against all odds and lesser gods.

God's gift is wrapped in affirmation of the me, the me that kicks against the same I have not earned or learned, and wages peaceful war with all demand to be what I am not, (a luxury ill begot). Shadrack, Meshack, Abednego are not their real names and never were.

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

STUDENT FORUM

SOC. CLUB

What exactly is SOCIAL WORK? If you don't know, come to the lecture that the Sociology Club is sponsoring tonight (Oct. 30). Mr. John Wasson, the co-ordinator of the Master's degree program in social work at UNC-W, is the guest speaker. He will give an overview of social work. This lecture will be held upstairs in Hogard room 201 at 8:00 p. m. The lecture will be brief, and participants will have an opportunity to ask questions afterwards. Everyone is invited to take advantage of this free opportunity to expand their knowledge of the field of social work.

Carolyn Bordeaux

ENDORSES MORGAN

To the Editor:

As a college student and a member of the Board of Alderman (city council) in Chapel Hill, I have worked hard to get young people involved in politics.

Many of my friends have asked questions about Robert Morgan, the Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator.

I endorse Morgan 100%. Robert Morgan is concerned and knowledgeable about inflation, farm problems, and the average consumer.

Students looking for jobs know how bad the economy is, and it is the Nixon-Ford administration that is destroying the dollar. Let's not make the mistake of sending another Republican to Washington.

I urge students and other college and University people to elect Robert Morgan U. S. Senator on November 5th.

Sincerely,
Gerry Cohen
Chapel Hill NC

MINORITY in LAW

Dear Editor,

All minority students in North Carolina who have an interest in studying law are being invited to attend the annual Minority Recruitment Weekend Conference on Saturday, November 9, 1974, sponsored by The Minority Recruitment Committee of the SBA.

UNC law students are currently making preliminary visits to campuses throughout the State to encourage participation. Discussions will include practical aspects of gaining admittance to law school such as the Law School Admission Test (LSAT), helpful undergraduate curricula, and financial aid sources.

The conference is informational and not directed specifically toward recruitment for the UNC Law School.

Participation by freshmen and sophomores, as well as juniors and seniors is encouraged since the conference includes long-range aspects of admission to law school, such as planning one's undergraduate curriculum and preparation for the LSAT.

The conference will be highlighted by a panel discussion on the topic of "Social and Political Dimensions of the Lawyer's Role." Speakers who have been invited are Atty. Henry E. Frye; Atty. Walter T. Johnson Jr.; The Honorable Judge Elreta Alexander; The Honorable Justice Susie Sharpe; Atty. Julius L. Chambers; and Atty. Arnold Locklear.

Registration for the conference will be held between 8:00 a. m. - 8:50 a. m. We look forward to your participation.

Sincerely,
Regie Watkins
Member of the Minority Recruitment committee

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on tuesday for wednesday distribution. all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on friday for publication on tuesday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief robert marey, advertising director
john wilkins, music editor
margaret monroe, typist
jean francischello, wayne steale, sports writers
ms. linda moore, adviser

MEMBER

TONGUE IN CHEEK DEPT.

COULD IT BE that this hall at the dorm was once full of happy, active students? Students who have succumbed to the torturous death caused by a bigger-than-life bug called Wilmingtonian apathetica? Page three's photos tell the woeful tale of students who could have led useful productive lives until the plague, characterized by lethargy, fatigue, and apathy, wiped them out. The cure, reports say, is simple and relatively painless and consists of getting involved. Hints of work and/or a little sweat activates the toxins which are released by the apathetica organism. (photo by sheryl moore).

BUSINESS BROTHERS bike; RAISE $700

SIGMA ALPHA BETA A LA BIKE-A-THON

photos by paul walker

REFUELING

They're involved!

By Mike Prevatte

Sigma Alpha Beta Business Fraternity is involved. Last Saturday, the Fraternity was represented by eleven concerned men against cancer in the Wilmington-Jaycees-sponsored Bike-A-Thon. They rode bicycles for 26 miles from Legion Stadium to Carolina Beach and back. The riders included business majors Steve Ezzell, David Howell, Wesley Hunter, Breck Newber, Terry Piner, Leon Walker, Jim Wofford, and Bill Jackson. Pete Thurston, E. H. Pridgen and Fred Walsh also rode for Sigma Alpha Beta. In their efforts to help raise money for the American Cancer Society, each rider went out and solicited businesses for their mile-contributions. Their total figure was over $700. Remarkable is the fact that at least three of the brothers who biked were over 30 years old. At least three other members who were unable to ride stayed behind to help others get registered and prepared to bike the course. One member had relatives there helping, also. Yet of all the students at this University (other than riders for the Busness Fraternity) the number of riders could have been counted on one hand.

Sigma Alpha Beta is trying to help our community by participation wholeheartedly in worthwhile projects like the Bike-A-Thon for cancer. Hopefully some of their concern will rub off on the rest of us.

DU presents lecture

The Wilmington Chapter of Delta Upsilon proudly announces the first presentation of its Campus Lecture Series. The program is entitled "Underwater Dangerous Species" and will be presented by Mr. Bud Cowan of Underwater Sales and Service. This lecture will occur on the night of October 30, 1974 at 7:30 P. M. in King Auditorium (Psychology Bldg.). A narrated slide-show, and a question - answer session will be highlighted. This lecture is for the benefit of students in the area, particularly UNC-W students. There, of course, will be no admission charge. We at Delta Upsilon hope that each and everyone of you will attend. Thank you.

Zack Sessions

TRY AZTEC BUTTERMILK. IT DOESN'T COME FROM A COW.

Montezuma®
Tequila Buttermilk

Montezuma Tequila,
1½ ounces. Lemon-
Lime Soda Pop. 1 bottle.

Blend in blender with cracked ice. Serve in tall glass. Garnish with lemon or lime wedge.

EHECATL
(THE WIND) symbol for the 2nd day
of the ancient Aztec week.

© 1974, 50 Proof Tequila Blanco Danilew Import Co. New York New York

UP, UP, AND AWAY -- Dave Wychel (10) and unidentified Lynchburg player are caught in mid-air as Gonzalo Rada (right) moves to get control of the ball. In background on left are UNC-W's Steve Paul and Vince Lindeschmit.

Seahawk soc-ers suffer losses

This past week the UNC-W soccer team has suffered two losses, the first back to back losses of the season.

October 18, the Seahawks met the undefeated Lynchburg College team. Lynchburg, according to Coach Lane, has a fine club with great skill, depth and speed. Although the Hawks are a much improved team this year and did control the game, they couldn't get behind the Lynchburg fullbacks and had to do most of their shooting from the outside.

At the end of the first half Lynchburg remained ahead with two goals to UNC-W's zero. During the second half Gonzalo Rada rallied to score the Hawks' only goal, but this was not enough. The game ended with a very disappointing score of Lynchburg-5, UNC-W-0. October 22 the Hawks faced The Citadel on Citadel home ground. Although the Seahawks were the better team, Citadel won with three goals to UNC-

W's one. During the first half the Hawks controlled the ball and seemed to dominate the game. The Hawks scored first with Nino Fleri going in for one with an assist from Dave Wychell. Then, late in the first half, Citadel tied the game when awarded a penalty kick on a very controversial call.

Late in the second half Citadel suddenly took over, with good speed and by expertly putting pressure on the Hawks, they surged ahead to score two more goals. By playing nineteen men, Citadel simply wore the Hawks out and went ahead to win.

Wrestling practice begins

Wrestling practice to begin November 4 at 3:30 p.m. in gym. All potential wrestlers should be present, as this is the start of formal drills. Equipment will be issued and plans for the season will be completed. A schedule is being studied which includes matches with Campbell, Pembroke, and Citadel. Other possibilities include Pfeiffer and Elon.

	District	All Games
	W L T	W L T
Campbell	3 0 0	10 0 0
UNC-Wilmington	2 0 0	7 4 1
Methodist	0 1 0	3 10 0
Pembroke State	0 2 1	3 8 1
Atlantic Christian	0 2 1	2 6 1

NAIA District 29 soccer standings (through Oct. 19)

TODAY IN THE PUB:
ERIC CLAPTON & CREAM
plus
THE ACE TRUCKING COMPANY
AND BRICKLEY'S BROADCAST

VIDEO TAPE COMMITTEE

PRESENTS:

Monday and Tuesday - Snack Bar Lobby
Wednesday - Pub

NEXT WEEK:
LOGGINS & MESSINA
plus
FUTURE SHOCK
and BRICKLEY'S BROADCAST

Char
distr

PEMER
a senior mington cer gran mington
three pa
Seahawk
and was 23 "Soc
Week"
"It was tiness pr
Seahawk
whose th
St. Andre counter
In p Chance scored right tow left. "Ch there wa him." sa Chau
the DCA
ter treat
Junior heroics pressure defense sive"

photo

HERE HE COMES -- Nino Fleri (left foreground) moves in, his edge offset by a Lynchburg player.

HARRIERS COMB BACK CAMPUS TRAILS

Autumn time - falling leaves - brisk air - trees of many colors - you may ask what this has to do with Cross Country running. The simple answer is everything. This is the season when the harriers (as cross country runners are known) run the trails and roads of the woods on the back campus. The course is divided into a three mile and five mile distance. Practice however may include ten to fifteen miles in the brisk air of the course. The runners do not take time to identify the leaves but do see the beautiful colors on the trails. Cross country is on the up swing at UNC-W with some eighteen harriers working out daily under the direction of Coach Dave Warner. Because of schedules not all practice at the same hour with the regular practice at the same hour with the regular practice time 4 pm daily meeting on the field in back of the gym.

The intramural cross country event (3 miles) is scheduled to be run November 5th with the harriers finishing between the halves of the UNC-W Methodist College soccer game. The men preparing for a record breaking time of about 15 min. 45 sec. for the 3 mile course are:

Mark Howard
Rex Whaley
Alan Anderson
David Mizarak
Greg Carroll

Jim Caley
Neil Kernodde
Steve Everhart
Jim Knopp
Tom Raines
Wyne Barbe
Mark Kelly
Eddie Ellis
Emerson Willard
Jan Storey
Phil Lambert
Ted Sharpe

It is expected that next season UNC-W will field an intercollegiate team running the distance with times for the five mile course about 27 min. 30 sec. and the six mile course in about 30 min.

Any individual interested is invited to practice with the team and participate in the intramural race. Any person entering the cross country event on November 5 must certify as to the conditioning program they have been in for at least three weeks prior to the race.

YMCA OFFER KUNG FU CLASSES

Hong Chum Kung Fu classes begin at YMCA on Nov. 4th (Monday) 7:00 p.m. This style offers much more than self-defense. It is a beautiful art which improves health, grace and confidence. For more information call YMCA or visit Monday Nov. 4th class.

SUNNY BUT SAD -- As Seahawks Lost to Lynchburg 5 - 0.

LADYHAWKS PLAY POWER VOLLEYBALL

This fall UNC-W watched the debut of it's first competitive women's volleyball team, the Ladyhawks. The ladies have shown themselves to be winners in true UNC-W style. Their record stands now at nine wins and two losses.

The Ladyhawks play power volleyball, a game that doesn't rely on strength or force, but on skill and technique. The strongest offensive weapon of the game is the spike, which consists of slamming the ball down sharply over the net into the opponents' court. The coach feels that the team's progress has been unbelievable for a first year team.

October 29 the Ladyhawks travelled to Wilson to face the Atlantic Christian College girls. On November 1 and 2 the Ladyhawks will participate in the North Carolina Class B Women's Volleyball State Tournament at Pembroke State University. The last match of the season will be at Pembroke S.U. on November 6 where the Ladyhawks will take on Pembroke and Francis Marion College.

PUB

WEEKDAYS	8AM - 10PM
FRI	8AM - MIDNIGHT
SAT	2PM - MIDNIGHT
SUN	2PM - 10PM

HOBBS SPEAKS

Did you realize that the term of office of each elected man and woman of our Student Government Association is half-over? At the end of the next six months, I hope that the student body can say that the SGA has been successful by working for the best interests of each student.

It is my personal belief that the Student Senate should continuously review and encourage maximum usage of the student activities funds and I hope that you will share with me your recommendations.

At the October 22 meeting the senate approved an additional request of $3,000 for our yearbook, The Fledgling and tabled the request for $1,425 by the Video Tape Committee. According to the SGA Treasurer, Wesley Hunter, there is $2,432 remaining in the Contingency Fund. The anticipated income earmarked for student activities is approximately $56,000.

During our next senate meeting, November 5, I plan to introduce a bill to the senate asking that Dr. Wagoner and the Board of Trustees consider naming the campus' first dorm Galloway Hall in remembrance of Ed Galloway. I would like to express my sympathy to the family and friends of Ed, who recently died from injuries resulting in an accident on campus a few weeks ago.

I would like to congratulate the following newly elected Freshman Class Officers: President - Gary Shipman

Vice President - Neil Farley
Secretary - Grace Caruthers
Senators: Michael Griffith
Woody Woodard
Bill Brockman
David Davis
Joanne Gentry

By actively working together, we can make the college experience more meaningful for each of us and we each know just how important the freshman year is.

The senate approved Hadden Clark and Jim Foster's nominations to the senate seats that were vacant in their respective classes. Hadden will serve the remaining term of this year as a Junior Class Senator and Jim will serve the Senior Class. Both men have the best interests of all students at heart, and I know they will contribute a great deal to the student body needs.

If a senate seat becomes vacant during a year, then our constitution requires that the class president appoint someone who meets the necessary qualifications. Upon fulfilling the qualifications, the senate either approves or disapproves the nomination.

On Tuesday, November 5, eligible voters in our country will have a chance to voice their opinion in our political system. I would like to encourage everyone to take advantage of this privilege and vote for the people who you feel will best represent us in our local, state, and national governments.

Let's get out and vote and continue our active support of all of our student activities.

Steve Hobbs

Junior Class President

CLUB SELLS TV TICKETS

Club Wazuri is now selling tickets at the rate of $1.00 for a 12 inch RCA television. Selling of the tickets will go through November with the winner being contacted on the day of the drawing. Money acquired during the ticket sells will go toward the Annual Black Awareness week to be held during Feb. 1975. Please contact any member for more information or the purchase of a ticket.

Elga (VIRNA LISI) is charmed by Bluebeard (RICHARD BURTON) in a scene from BLUEBEARD.

SEE AD P. 10
FOR DETAILS

Once Anne (JOEY HEATHERTON) has learned of Bluebeard's murdered wives, Bluebeard realizes that he must put an end to her as well in BLUEBEARD. Distributed by Cinerama Releasing.

ROCKY SAYS

If you want help or if you need help, then Open House has some thing to offer you. Open House is a crisis intervention and counseling center with phone and walk in services. Open House provides a valuable community service in offering Drug Counseling, Emergency Medical Aid, Free Legal Consultation, Client Advocacy service, and drug analysis or disposal. Additionally, they have a free clinic for (V.D., P.G., B.C., Medical) Thursday nights 7:00 through 10:00 pm. All transactions are protected by the Federal Confidentiality Law.

Open House also deals with problems of pregnancy, abortion, and suicide intervention. It is open Monday through Saturday from 2:00 - 10:00 pm. Emergency Crisis teams are on call 24 hours a day for overdoses, suicides, general freak-outs, depression, etc.

The primary source of man-power for open house comes from students like yourselves. We are proud of the effort that UNC-W students have undertaken on behalf of Open House and we hope that many other students will volunteer to continue the work which has been started. All students interested can contact the Open House Director, Pat Simmons, at 610 Market Street by calling 762-5597. All volunteers must undergo a 6 week (40 hours) training program and work 16 hours per month. Thank-you again.

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.

Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings - as an Air Force navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

MSGT. JERRY LEWIS, USAF Recruiting Office
4010 Oleander Drive, Browning Plaza No. 2
Wilmington, NC 28401 PHONE: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

COMMUNICATIONS GROUP

- TO INCREASE THE COMMUNICATION SKILLS OF LISTENING AND SENDING CLEAR MESSAGES

- PRESENTATION, DISCUSSION AND PRACTICE FORMAT

meets 3:30 to 5 p.m.

Nov. 4, 8
11, 13
18, 20

- IF INTERESTED, CALL COUNSELING AND TESTING CENTER EXT 242

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry

Stoneware

Bags

Shirts

Candles

Handmade Spreads

Embroidered Dresses

Belts

Leatherwork

Mexican Handicraft

Headgear

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

VET OFFICE

OFFERS POSITIVE HELP

The University of North Carolina at Wilmington has applied for and received a Veteran Cost of Instruction Payments (VCIP) grant. The (OVA) Office of Veteran Affairs exists to provide educational assistance to veterans and dependents of veterans enrolled at UNC-W. It provides peer and professional counseling, remedial services, tutorial services and coordinates the existing campus services to best serve the needs of the veteran and dependent enrollment.

The V. A. has been criticized in some areas, however through programs such as the VCIP and Veterans Representatives on campuses throughout the United States it is attempting to alleviate most of the plaguing problems.

In order for the V. A. to process information accurately,

Surfboard for Sale
5 ft. 10in. Conn Crystal Buttery. Fair Condition. Good for beginners. $25.00 Negotiable. Call 799-8557 Anytime after 3 P. M.

For Sale
Small men's wetsuit. U. S. Diver's brand. $40.00 Negotiable. Call 799-8557 Anytime after 3 P. M.

the veteran must submit accurate information including one's V.A. file number on all correspondence. When certain information is requested, mail it back as soon as possible.

The Veterans Association here on campus is a well-organized, functioning organization. However, attendance in the past has been rather low. In order for the organization to reach its full potential, ALL veterans who desire a voice must attend to be heard.

Don't forget, tutorial services are available to those veterans having difficulty in their academic endeavors.

FOR SALE:
1970 Champion Mobile Home
2 bedrooms, air conditioning, washer, new appliances, brand new wall to wall carpeting. $4,500.00. For information call 799-4102.

For Sale
1972 Honda SL 125. 2,400 miles. Perfect Condition. $300. Call 266-2526.

For Sale
Complete Diving outfit for warm water diving. Almost new - Good Price. Call 762-3635.

These young ladies avoided the dreaded death from Wilmingtonian apathetica recently. It seems that any form of work or study immunizes one from the fickle finger of fatality. (photo by sheryl moore).

BLACK CAT SALE

BOOKSTORE

come
as you are!

Where pizza is always
in good taste!

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

NOON BUFFET
11:30-1:30

3617 Market Street

KARTOONZ

Our "Peanuts" cartoon this week is dedicated to N.S.W.

HORROR SPECIAL FOR HALLOWEEN

DEATH LIVES in the VAULT of HORROR!

FIVE PEOPLE SEE BIZARRE
GLIMPSES OF WHAT IS IN STORE FOR THEM IN THE FUTURE!!

TALES FROM THE CRYPT

8 p. m.

BURTON IS
'BLUEBEARD'
He did away with beautiful women.

ALEXANDER SALKIND presents RICHARD BURTON as BLUEBEARD Also starring RACHEL WELCH with VERNA LISI and JOEY HEATHERTON TECHNICOLOR® FROM CENERAMA RELEASING

9:30 p. m.

Oct. 31

* Kenan Auditorium

FRANKLY SPEAKING... by phil frank

© COLLEGE MEDIA SERVICES: BOX 9411-BERKELEY, CA 94709

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

HALLOWEEN PHOTOS BY PAUL WALKER

YOU HAVE A
5th
PERSONAL BANKER
AT
WACHOVIA
RIGHT ACROSS
FROM UNC-W

They'd never forget the day he drifted into town.

Kenan Auditorium
Monday Nov. 4
8 p.m.

It's time to choose your rings

BOLAND $300 to 3000
WED. RING $100
POLYNESIA $300 to 3000
WED. RING $200
Keepsake assures perfect clarity, fine white color and precise cut.

Keepsake
REGISTERED JEWELERS

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

28 N Front St. • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 763-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 798-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

Budweiser.
KING OF BEERS

When you say
Budweiser,
you've said it all!

J.W. Jackson Beverage Co.
Wilmington

music in your life

by john wilkins

ROD STEWART
SMILER
MERCURY SRM 1-1017

STEWART

Rod Stewart can be said to be the image many newcomers to the Rock Music field wish to strive for. For some six or more years now he has had nothing but a string of successful adventures, moving in and out of the ultimate music circles in both England and America.

His first big contribution could be said to have taken place around 1967 when he began to be noticed while singing with the AYNSELY DUNBAR RETALIATION also featuring Aynsley Dunbar, (who has now played on almost every superstar's LP's), Jack Bruce and Peter Green. Not long after this, he moved into the ex-Yardbird JEFF BECK GROUP where he did several good LP's.

His next big step was in joining the Faces as well as cutting some LP's on his own and then going solo altogether. While all this was taking place he was also helping out on LP's by ELTON JOHN and JOHN Baldry.

"Maggie May was the song that put Rod where he is today as well as launch his EVERY PICTURE TELLS A STORY LP to the Gold Record mark. Then it was "You Wear It Well" and NEVER A DULL MOMENT, another very successful LP. After these, things slowed down a bit and the live album came out followed by a short period of silence. Now SMILER is out and Stewart is back at his best.

As for the SMILER LP, it is not better than the DULL MOMENT and EVERY PICTURE LP's, but then again, it is not worse either. In fact, it is just Rod Stewart. "Sweet Little Rock'n Roller," the old Chuck Berry song, begins the LP rockin' with Stewart's vocals as scratchy as ever. From here on out, Stewart is in complete control, changing here and there from a smooth clear sound to a rock 'n' roll frinzy. "Farewell" and "Sailor" follow the Barry song and were written by Stewart and a co-writer. Both are somewhat slower songs with Ray Jackson from LINDISFARNE playing mandolin on the first of the two. "Bring it on Home to Me/You Send Me" is (are) the next song (s) and was (were) written by Sam Cooke.

"Let Me Be Your Car" ends the side with Stewart being joined by one of the co-writers, Elton John - vocals and piano.

Carol King's "A Natural Man" opens side II with a bang followed by "Dixie Toot," a jazz type tune written by Stewart and Rod Wood.

"Girl From the North Country," by Dylan and "Mine for Me," by Paul McCartney end the side and are the best cuts on the LP. Stewart shines a new light on the two, making them glow where others have only imitated.

To sum up, Stewart has proven that he is still alive and doing excellent new material, as well as, adding his style to old material. The album is good in almost every way and could possibly sell as well as any of his others. Besides, who does not like something to do? Till then, ROCK-OUT!

NEXT WEEK: The Diamond Dog hits the stage... BOWEN DAVID LIVE.

RECORD WORLD

ROCK | FOLK | BLUEGRASS | POP | JAZZ | CLASSICAL | IMPORTS | BROADWAY |

WEEK DAY SPECIAL
Mon. - Thurs.
all NEW $6.98 LPs
only $4.99

Long Leaf Mall

Mon. - Sat.
10-9
791-7043

ROD STEWART'S NEW L. P. --- SMILER

seahawk

xviii number eleven

november 6, 1974

eight pages

Seahawk Soccer Team District Champs

Congratulations!

EDITORIALS—

The Gadfly:

Time's getting rough

Times are getting rough for those who really want an education. Times are also getting tough for those who truly want to educate. However, times have always been rough for true education. Socrates is a prime example of what happens to those who want to push reality and truth.

True education is a rare animal, always on the verge of extinction. People are disturbed by those who want the truth, who want to explore the unknown. The search for truth often upsets those who would keep things as they are. Book learning has traditionally been viewed by those relatively unacquainted with it as a work of the devil. It is a good thing for us that while there may be many who would extinguish the light of learning (with the best of intention) there are always a dedicated few who preserve it.

However, it is the enemy within that is much more dangerous than the enemy without. As Pojo said "We have met the enemy and they are us." The structure of modern education seems to be so constructed as to drive any serious teacher or student to drink.

The first and most vital link in the educational system is the student. While there are quite a number who go because Dad will pay the bills and there are free beer busts. However, none of us can escape the pressure of the grading system.

After having been brain washed by parents, teachers and our peers, we sometimes forget the real reason why schools are supposed to exist. Things are not made easier by the other two elements of educational structure.

The second link of education is the faculty. Theoretically, the teacher is supposed to teach but in reality he finds his time and energy drained off. The college professor is forced to worry about tenure, publishing, inter-faculty politics and attending endless committee meetings. It's a wonder that some professors have time to come to class.

The last link in this chain is the Administration. The administration is supposedly here to provide a smooth path for student and professor so education can proceed in an orderly fashion. Administration is supposed to take care of all those matters necessary to college life but not directly related to education.

That's the theory, but the reality is quite different as you will find out during pre-registration. Administration deals with money and records, two things that are essential to modern education. However, there are times when it would seem that to some, money and records are more important than the education they are supposed to support. To satisfy all the demands made on it, administration provides forms in triplicate and an endless request for signatures on the proper forms. A college student could become rich if he were paid for the hours he spends standing in line. Many a secretary could retire early if she were paid a dime for every form she typed out. Retire! She could probably spend the rest of her life on the beach at Tropez. All this does not encourage education. I wonder how many students have quit rather than endure another hour waiting in a drop-add line.

Things have come a long way in extra-curricular complications since Socrates strolled about the market place asking uncomfortable questions. Whether or not any true improvement has been made over this method of teaching, the bitterness of the hemlock still remains.

DEAR DARLENE

BY DARLENE PEARSALL

Dear Darlene,

Is it proper to date a guy just because he's got a lot of money?

Dater

Dear Dater,

Only if he's willing to spend it on you.

Dear Darlene,

Why do we have to get secretaries to sign our schedule cards?

Long Line Stander

Dear Long Line,

It helps to classify students. You can always tell the students with physical conditioning—they're the ones with the best schedules since they push the hardest and run the fastest.

Dear Darlene,

Is it true that milk will make your bust line seem longer?

Small

Dear Small,

Only if you implant the cartons on your bra.

Dear Darlene,

How long should someone take to prepare for an important test?

Student

Dear Stud.,

It depends on how fast you can write crib notes.

Dear Darlene,

What's the most effective means of birth control?

Eager

Dear Eager,

The word "no."

Dear Darlene,

Every so often I get a strange urge to dress up like Napoleon and sink rubber duckies in people's baths. Should I go to see a psychiatrist?

Napoleon

Dear Napo,

A psychiatrist? What on earth for? After all, everyone should have a hobby.

Have you got a problem?

You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write Dear Darlene in care of the Cherry Hill Mental Hospital.

THE TRANSPLANT

an adolescent world in process of becoming, groans and sighs and occasionally cries, like an adolescent girl, changing makeup in colored maple leaves or dogwood dye to find the proper face to please the public eye.

the public takes great pride in picking from its citizenry a face to please the eye, a voice to speak its mind or intercede in its behalf on issues where the right appears so wrong and wrong is made up right to bear the guilt of Adam's race and our own shame.

without protective center to go out from, we have no stomach for becoming, this growing up, without forgiveness born of grace, we lack the courage to discard the mask and own the shame that's ours, coming of age is an awkward age, an embarrassing time... in love, and politics and faith in one world or day.

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

hungry?

FOODLINE: Beginning Friday, North Carolinians wishing to know facts about food stamps will have a new way to get information. A toll-free number will be in operation in Raleigh from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. by the Division of Social Services of the N. C. Department of Human Resources. The new service is part of a statewide campaign to inform people about food stamps. According to the department, only about 35% of eligible people in North Carolina actually participate in the food stamp program. The number is 800-662-7935.

HELP!

Students try to crawl from gutter of boredom and apathy... For opinions, see page eight. (photo by greg larrimore)

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on tuesday for wednesday distribution. all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on friday for publication on tuesday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief
robert maxey, advertising director
john wilkins, music editor
margaret monroe, typist
jean francischiello, sports writer

ms. linda moore, adviser

MEMBER

UNC-W to host District

This week UNC-W will host the first of the NAA District Playoffs, an important event for the Seahawk soccer players. In order to play well and win, the team needs the support of the students and faculty. In games where there have been large turnouts, such as the crowd of 4,000 at Madison College and the one of 1500 at Campbell College, the Hawks have played brilliantly and achieved outstanding victories. The excitement generated by a large crowd of cheering spectators gives the players a feeling of security and a willingness to get out and win.

This year, the Seahawks have taken the District 29 title. At each home game there were a few dedicated fans and of course, the cheerleaders. The team appreciates the support of these people and hopes that an even larger crowd will turn out to give the much needed support a championship team deserves this Thursday at 3:00 p.m.

HAWKS beat Campbell for District title

The UNC-W Seahawks faced Campbell College October 30 for the NAA District title. In one of the most spectacular games of the season, the Hawks held Campbell down and claimed the District Championship with a score of 1-0. Campbell College was undefeated with a record of 11 and 0, while the Hawks were undefeated in District play. This game was a superb example of team effort, with each man giving his best to the team. Goalie Tim Willette, however, drew much notice because of his fantastic and successful efforts to keep Campbell from scoring. He had some twenty five saves, some of which were undoubtedly spectacular.

As NAA District 29 Champions the Seahawks will host the District Playoffs. Support from the students and faculty of UNC-W is vital for both the team and the school, so get out and cheer the Hawks on to victory November 7.

standing. Twenty five minutes into the first half Nino Fleri scored with a head shot on an assist from Gonzalo Rada. After scoring, the Hawks drew back in front of the goal to clog the middle, keeping Campbell from getting a clear shot at the goal. Coach Lane said that this is the biggest win the Hawks have had since he started coaching at UNC-W.

HAWKS come from slump to SMASH Charleston

October 25 the UNC-W Seahawks came out of a two game slump to win over The College of Charleston with a score of 10 to 2. Coach Lane feels that this win helped to improve the Hawks' mental outlook after losing two games in a row and helped to prepare them for the rest of their schedule.

scored one goal apiece; Salomon Britton had three assists and one goal while Gonzalo Rada ranked third with three assists. To complete the scoring picture is David Wyche with one assist and one goal.

Although the C.O.C. is only a first year team and still weak, the game was not one of the Hawks' most spectacular. There wasn't much movement but it is hard to be critical because of the score. Nino Fleri was the top scorer with four goals and three assists. Tom Bufington, Steve Paul, Vince Lindenschmidt and Doug White

"It is better to bury one's nose in a big glass. It's more protected than in a soldier's helmet. And for a standard or a pennant, it is best to follow The branch of ivy or of yew, which shows one where To drink!"

Olivier Basselin
Vaucluse

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Prigden
3342 Wrightville Ave. 791-9675

COMMUNICATIONS GROUP

- TO INCREASE THE COMMUNICATION SKILLS OF LISTENING AND SENDING CLEAR MESSAGES

- PRESENTATION, DISCUSSION AND PRACTICE FORMAT

meets 3:30 to 5 p.m.

Nov. 4, 6
11, 13
18, 20

- IF INTERESTED, CALL COUNSELING AND TESTING CENTER EXT 242

YOU HAVE A
sm
PERSONAL BANKER
AT
WACHOVIA
RIGHT ACROSS
FROM UNC-W

Crack our book and stretch your bucks.

Spend a little time studying a Piedmont schedule. Then plan a weekend. Out on the ski slopes, enjoying an out-of-town ball game, partying with someone special or soaking up the bright city lights. Or home with the folks. We've got a place for you. And a Weekend-Plus Plan to help stretch your funds. Just leave on Saturday and return before noon Monday. You'll save up to 50% on the return portion of your round trip ticket, and fly with confirmed reservations to any of over 75 Piedmont cities. For information, see your travel agent or call Piedmont. Take us up.

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry Blouse tops Bags Shirts Candles
Handmade Spreads Embroidered Dresses
Belts Leatherwork Mexican Handicraft
Headgear

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

Music in

by

BOWIE LIVE IN GREENSBORO

bling the skyscrapers in a disaster-like appearance.

The stagehands finished the last minute preparation and the house lights slowly dimmed to a complete darkness. The gasping crowd awaited.

The silence was at last broken by the howl of dogs and the lights came on in the win-

LAST SUMMER, DAVID BOWIE hit a tour of the U.S. which was somewhat unexpected due to his statements that concerts were out for a time. His PIN-UPS LP was finally getting the harsh handling most critics had given it when DIAMOND DOGS hit the market and rumors were out that a tour was to follow.

By June it was official that there would be a tour and the dates appeared in several rock magazines. Out of this tour North Carolina held two concerts in Charlotte and Greensboro, the latter of which I was lucky enough to attend.

July 6 was the date and a sizeable crowd gathered at the Greensboro Coliseum. The weather was hot and the crowd steeply waited for what was to be a most exceptional concert. The stage scenes were set with massive skyscrapers dripping with molten steel and great metal. Connecting the scaffolded structures was a single draw bridge resembling the dows of the half destroyed city. Next, spotlights came on from the city streets as if the next air raid was about to begin. The first bars of "1984" shot out as the howling dogs diminished and the backup singers entered on stage.

After a very elaborate instrumental version of "1984", BOWIE hit the stage with all spotlights on him, leaving the crowd in amazement and disbelief. After this song he disappeared only to be spotted again on the drawbridge which proved to move up and down. The song was "Sweet Thing" and Bowie, in a rain coat and hat, perfectly reflected the lonely man of the future.

Later it was "Space Oddity" as Bowie was lifted up and down from the top of a building, drifting and floating in mid air.

Then a mirrored capsule came out from under the bridge and flashes of light were reflected but over the spellbound audience. With BOWIE atop the capsule, "Big Brother" was sung, with him disappearing mid-way in the song. What was next but the capsule completely stopping, only to open and reveal a large hand with twinkling lights and a mass of Stardust Blue. As the hand slowly lowered, there was BOWIE, who sat in its palm once it had completed its movement.

It was unusual to see BOWIE as he was that night. Seeing photos of a weird looking guy dressed in almost anything was what the audience expected. But here was an average looking person with a suit on like almost anyone could wear.

He was refined, knowing exactly what to do and when. Controlling everyone from the audience to the players on stage, BOWIE proved that he was no longer the Ziggy Stardust or the Aladdin Sane from his older LPs, but the star, the Diamond Dog that he is today. He did the best material from all his LPs and the crowd loved him. When he finished the last song and left the stage an encore was called and there was not an encore to give. The Bowie Concert was over.

RECORD
WORLD

Mon. - Sat.

10-9

791-7043

Pong Leaf
Mall

your life

skins

DAVID LIVE

THE LP. BOWIE:

THE RISE AND FALL OF ZIGGY STARDUST AND THE SPIDERS FROM MARS could be Bowie's most interesting album. He not only proved to himself and the world that he was a serious artist, but that he had talent.

THE ALADDIN SAMI LP, recorded in Philadelphia on the 14th & 15th of this year, was made some 9 days after the short concert, it is a sounds like BOWIE has grown tired by his vocals, especially on the first side. Side A is songs mostly from the DIAMOND DOGS LP, "1984" and "Rebel Rebel" are the first two cuts on the side and are recorded very well. "Moonage Daydream" and "Sweet Thing" conclude the side with the latter being somewhat better than the studio cut.

Side B, is the best side on the album and contains such greats as "Changes" and "Sulfrapette City." There is also the song BOWIE wrote for MOTT THE HOOPLE, "All the Young Dudes" and is the first time it has appeared on a Bowie LP. The song is excellent and begins with BOWIE and the back-up singers doing a lot of harmonizing.

Side C features "Watch Me Dance" from the ALADDIN SAMI LP and "Changes" and "Sulfrapette City" which have excellent instrumental work on them.

The first side contains the best material on the LP, "1984" from the first side of the LP. The side ends with "Rock 'N' Roll Suicide," as did the concert itself, and makes the album complete.

To sum up, the album is very good to have been live and contains some excellent material. Never before has such a collection of Bowie songs been put together, making it a must for a collection. For those who saw the concert it will bring back memories of what was. For everyone it is what is...BOWIE. Till then ROCK-OUT!

Side C features "Watch Me Dance" from the ALADDIN SAMI LP and "Changes" and "Sulfrapette City" which have excellent instrumental work on them.

DAVID BOWIE
DAVID LIVE
RCA Records

David Bowie has been one of the greatest rock stars to have come out of England since the Beatles. Although he did not have a rise in America as an instant success, since he did begin to be noticed in New York City and became one of the most talked about rock stars of the 1970s.

Around 1970, Bowie made his first move to America by releasing his first two albums, SPACE ODYSSY and THE MAN WHO SOLD THE WORLD. The albums were on the Mercury label and, as any of the Mercury albums the company thought not at the time, did not sell due to lack of publicity.

This could be the main reason Bowie hit so big once he did. He had had two failures, switched to the RCA label and produced a new album HUNKY DORY. The two or three years that Bowie had moved from his failures and the RCA began publicity of the album. People began to wonder who or what this Bowie was.

Then a miracle happened. The SPACE ODYSSY and MAN WHO SOLD THE WORLD LP's were re-released on the RCA label and the ZIGGY STARDUST LP came out to rocket Bowie toward the top.

BOWIE on HUNKY DORY cover

Souther-Hillman-Furay Band

The term "super group" is hackneyed, trite, a term "so pretentious as to make you cringe with embarrassment." But, once in a while, it applies. It was applied to Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young, meaning people who left highly successful bands to form another one together, to form a supergroup. This word has been applied far too often, but it applies to the Souther-Hillman-Furay Band.

There was an air of cynicism about the band - the idea that forming a band around big names would automatically guarantee success. The S-H-F Band is successful, but this comes from honest talent and hard work and not from any record business hype.

Let me give a bit of the history of each of the band's members.

First, Cris Hillman - member of the original Byrds, and the original Flying Burrito Brothers, two of the world's best rock 'n' roll bands. The contributions the Byrds made to music is incalculable.

Their albums still stand today as infinitely enjoyable, beautiful pieces of music, especially the ones with Cris Hillman. Cris Hillman, with the sorely missed Gram Parsons, founded the Flying Burrito Brothers, who along with Poco were the best of the country-rock bands. The Burritos are enjoying a new wave of popularity, as people turn to their music seeking the beauty and spirits missing in much of today's music. Cris also worked with Stephen Stills Manassas, helping to keep Stephen's ego in check to let his considerable talents out, making Manassas, the best of Stills' post C.S.N.Y. Ventures.

Now, to Richie Furay, original member of Buffalo Springfield, again one of the world's best and most influential bands. I know all this talk about best and most influential seems exaggerated, but they really were as anyone who has listened to the Byrds, Burritos, and Springfield will tell you. Richie Furay left the Springfield to form Poco, an excellent band who never achieved the success they deserve, except with Poco lovers, of which there are many.

John David Souther is perhaps the least known of the three, but the others will insist he is the most talented. He has been the friend of Cris Hillman, Richie Furay, Jackson Browne, Joni Mitchell, The Eagles, and especially Linda Ronstadt. She did many of his songs on the album "Don't Cry Now," incidentally produced by Souther.

This brings us to the Sidersmen. But, these are no ordinary sidemen - they are consummate musicians and the most in-demand sessionmen in America. Jim Gordon has been a member of Traffic, Frank Zappa's Mothers, and Eric Clapton's Derek and the Dominoes as well, playing drums with just about every talented person on record. He is considered, along with Keith Moon, to be one of the best drummers in Rock 'N' Roll. Paul Harris has been a member of Stephen Stills Manassas, played with John Sebastian and has played keyboards on countless sessions. Al Perkins, steel guitarist, has been a member of the Burritos, Manassas, and doubles on a-coustics and electric guitars.

All these impressive credentials would mean little if these men were content to rely on their past achievements to get them by. However, they are growing, expanding their talents. Their debut album on Asylum Records amply bears this out. The album features expert musicianship, expert harmonies and lead vocals, and top quality songs.

"Falling in Love," "Border Town," "Believe Me" from Souther, Hillman, and Furay.

The S-H-F Band will be appearing with them will be Polydor's Atlanta Rhythm Section, a band playing rock 'n' roll, blues, and jazz with equal ease and quality. They currently have a hit single entitled "Doraville." A feature article on them will be appearing in these pages next week. UNC-W is extremely fortunate to have these bands, people who play and have played excellent music throughout their careers and whose best music and performances still are ahead of them. Tickets are $4.00 in advance and $6.00 at the door and may be purchased in the Pub.

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Wall-to-wall carpeting in living rooms, bedrooms, baths, halls
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining
- Attractive bar, separating living kitchen area
- Heat pump range, refrigerator, garbage disposal
- Individually-controlled air conditioning
- Large swimming pool, Central laundry facilities

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished $135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished $149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished $160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished $185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-3 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT ...

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

VIRGINIA BRADSHAW,

Payne's

Homecoming Queen, models a plaid outfit and blouse by BOBBIE BROOKS, and Earth Shoes by RUSHPUPIES.

Available at

Payne's

Long Leaf Mall

Hanover Center

&

Downtown

Committee presents pilgrimage film

On Monday, November 11 at 8:00 p.m. in Kenan Memorial Auditorium, the Fine Arts Committee of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington will present the movie "Pilgrimage to Mecca." The movie will be accompanied by the producer and director Abol Reza.

The annual pilgrimage of Muslims to Mecca is one of the world's great religious observances. It is very famous but non-Muslims have very little idea of what it is really like, because they are not allowed to enter the precincts of Mecca. And there are, of course, many devout Muslims who, for perfectly valid reasons, cannot perform the pilgrimage and who know about it only from hearsay.

"Pilgrimage to Mecca," filmed with the permission of the Saudi Arabian Government, is the first complete record of this ancient, still very vital expression of religious faith and brings you the unique privilege of witnessing the most important event in the life of every Muslim. You will meet the pilgrims at the port of Jiddah, the Gateway to Mecca, and share with them every step and experience of the pilgrimage.

You will go with them along the road which has withstood centuries of time, the road that is only open to the followers of Mohammad. A journey of many hardships, made bearable by their burning faith.

An experience of a lifetime, no one is likely to forget. You will see them as they enter Masjid-el-Maram the great Mosque of Mecca and circle the sacred Kaaba, the House of God, which is the heart of Mecca and the Muslim world. Around this sacred House, each pilgrim has to walk seven times.

You will see them as they journey along the corridor between Safa and Marwa, two rocks about three hundred yards apart. This also is a task that has to be done seven times covering a total distance of a mile and a third.

You will enter Medina, the second city of the Muslim world and visit Mohammad's tomb in a Mosque of great magnificence, the sacred Mosque of the Prophet revealing the decorative art of Islam at its finest.

The origins of this Mosque are contemporary with the Prophet; he himself worked on the first building which was made of sun-baked bricks, with date tree trunks for its ceiling beams.

You will go to Arafat, a wide stretch of desert, fifteen miles from Mecca, where Mohammad delivered his farewell sermon to his followers, and where more than a million pilgrims assemble once every year, just for one day, to perform part of their Haj rituals.

You will join this great assembly in Arafat and spend the day with the pilgrims and see them as they struggle back and forth over the peak of the Holy mountain. And when the night comes, you will leave the desert to its silence and solitude to go to Mina and watch the pilgrims stone the three devils and make a sacrifice of a sheep or a goat or a camel.

You will also see Mina after the ceremonies, deserted and empty. Mina being the only city in the world which comes to life once a year during the time of pilgrimage and reverts to a ghost town for the rest of the year.

"Pilgrimage to Mecca" is a unique record of a unique religious ceremony.

The director, Mr. Abol Reza will be available after the showing to answer any questions. UNC-Wilmington students will be admitted free upon presentation of their fall ID card. A small admission of $2.00 will be charged all others.

For information concerning group rates, call 791-9695 between 3-5 p.m., Monday - Friday.

GREEN DOME OVER PROPHET'S TOMB

COOL IT. AZTEC STYLE.

Montezuma®
Tequila Fizz
Montezuma Tequila.
2 ounces. Lime juice.
1/2 lime. Sugar. 1/2 teaspoon. Orange bitters. 2 dashes.
Stir in tall glass over ice. Fill glass with club soda. Garnish with lime shell.

QUIAHUITL
THE RAIN
Symbol for the 19th day
of the Aztec calendar.

©1974 80 Proof Tequila Barron Distillers Import Co. New York New York

OPEN DAILY 9 AM TIL 9 PM

REDIX

DISCOUNT VARIETY

MEN'S & WOMEN'S 10 SPEED BIKES

Reg. $79.95

NOW $59.95

starts Wed.

until Sun.

Professional Uniform
Center
THE TOTAL IMAGE CO.
Complete Range
of Sizes
GLEN MEADE PLAZA
762-9898

FOR SALE:
1970 Champion Mobile Home
2 bedrooms, air conditioning, washer, new appliances, brand new wall to wall carpeting.
$4,500.00. For information
call 799-4102.

For Sale
1972 Honda SL 125. 2,400 miles. Perfect Condition.
$300. Call 256-2526.

For Sale
Complete Diving outfit for warm water diving. Almost new -
Good Price. Call 762-3035.

Surfboard for Sale
5 ft. 10 in. Conn Crystal Butterfly. Fair Condition. Good for beginners. $25.00 Negotiable. Call 799-8557 Anytime
after 3 P. M.

For Sale
Small men's wetsuit. U. S.
Diver's brand. $40.00 Negotiable. Call 799-8557 Anytime after 3 P. M.

120 Causeway Dr.
Wrightsville Beach

OPEN SUNDAY 9 AM TIL 9 PM

Roving Reporter

CAMPUS APATHY — some thoughts

PHOTOS AND STORY
BY GREG LARRIMORE

Is there really a lack of student involvement? When I asked Mark Leonard (dorm student) he replied, "Yes, I think there is because the students don't believe they have anything to work for," Rick Deasy (senior) said, "There has been a lack of involvement since I've been here (3 1/2 years). Many others agreed and gave essentially the same reply. When I asked "why" the lack of involvement, many erupted with reasons. Vice-Chancellor Malloy said, "There are a large number of students off campus." Others said,

"There's a lack of communication;" "People don't have the time;" or "It's not worth the effort to get involved." However, the reasons that seemed to be repeated the most were "lack of unity" and "no school spirit." The "lack of unity" is one problem not easily resolved, but "no school spirit" is strictly an individual's problem. Are you proud of your school? Ellen Hall (senior) said, "I would defend my school around my friends anytime." Can many of you make that statement without laughing? Regrettably, I doubt it. When I asked for solutions to the "lack of involvement," again I was bombarded with ideas. Vice-Chancellor Malloy said, "We're trying to tailor activities to the student's needs." Dave Robertson (Ass't. Dean of Resident Living) said, "Students want to see results in what they do." Other ideas were, "We need a 24-hour library," "Open the snack school has fantastic potential, but lacks the student initiative to make it great. If you would like to see this "coffeehouse," 24-hour library, the snack bar open on week-ends and other things, go and talk to someone then do something about it. "If you don't do it, it won't get done."

MALLOY: WE'RE TRYING TO TAILOR ACTIVITIES TO THE STUDENT'S NEEDS

ROBERTSON: STUDENTS WANT TO SEE RESULTS IN WHAT THEY DO

bar on the week-ends;" "We need better communication on campus, and the radio station (WNCU) will definitely help;" "Need more dorm space;" "Want more to do on campus, such as a coffeehouse type place;" Out of all the reactions I've gathered, I can make the following conclusions: This

Let me offer some suggestions. Try staying here for the week-end, and maybe the school will start having things on the week-ends. The school

LEONARD: STUDENTS
DON'T BELIEVE THEY HAVE ANYTHING TO WORK FOR

DEASY: LACK OF INVOLVEMENT

INTERVIEWER LARRIMORE
(far right)

does defeat the purpose by scheduling things during the week because "everybody goes home on the week-end." Get involved and ask questions. Finally, I say, be proud to be a Seahawk. It's your school, and you get out of it only what you put into it. Make something big of it, you'll be glad you did.

A Proud Seahawk--
Greg Larrimore

SONATA
$300 to 3000
WED. RING
$100

MARINA
$300 to 3000
WED. RING
$100

JUDD
$300 to 3000
WED. RING
$200

Give the gift of love

A perfect Keepsake diamond backed by our written guarantee of perfect quality, fine white color and correct modern cut. Come in today to see our exciting collection of Keepsake Diamond Rings.

Keepsake
REGISTERED DIAMOND RINGS

Mills
Keepsake
JEWELERS & Accutron Center

38 N Front St • 763-6311
Hanover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

come you are!

Where pizza is always
in good taste

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR
NOON BUFFET
11:30-1:30
3617 Market Street

Party PX

HAVE A Blue Nun Bash

Best Price ever!!

3412 Market St
Phone 763-7880

seahawk

xviii number twelve

november 13, 1974

eight pages

There are concerts and There Are Concerts

Souther-Hillman-Furay band

TIME

8:00

PM

Nov. 14, 1974

Gum - UNCW

$4.00

in Advance

EDITORIALS—

The Gadfly: Mud Coffee

Well, at last UNC-W has realized that it has that most insidious disease, Apathy. Not only has UNC-W realized this but at long last no longer feels that Apathy is a cool thing to have. Needless to say this makes me feel that most fleeting of emotions, happiness. Maybe all that ink and skipped classes were not wasted after all.

However, academic bums, don't think I am going to turn sweet just because a few of you suddenly realize how dumb you are to waste four years of your life by merely going through the motions of living. Not hardly!

Gregg Larrimore's column last week brought a few good ideas to the surface. As usual I have little good to say about impotent hand wringers who do little more than say "Oh my how bad it all is." So when someone like Gregg Larrimore cares enough to wear out his shoe leather trying to liven things up around here, he deserves some sort of thanks.

Oh I could say "An official Gadfly thank you Gregg", and become an instant institutionalized nitwit. Instead, Mr. Larrimore and his fellow Seahawks should be thanked in a more positive way. Let's bring a few of these proposals on how to improve UNC-W to life.

Would it not be nice to have a place wherein students could sit down to a cold brew and discuss this experience some call living? While I am not ungrateful to the cafeteria for saving my life regularly with a cup of excellent mud coffee, I must say the place lacks atmosphere.

Well, it really doesn't lack atmosphere. It has lots of nice sterile atmosphere, sort of like a casual operating room. If it weren't for the jolly ladies behind the counter and the coffee it would be about as cheery as a visit to the dentist.

Whatever happened to dark wood paneling, individual booths, smoke-filled air and good conversation? And maybe one could at least get a cup of coffee in something besides one of those horrible foam plastic cups.

This campus' architecture comes from a period in American history when plastic, foam, and the rip-off dispenser machine were unknown. It would be in keeping with both the architecture and the academic tradition to provide both students and faculty with a place conspicuously lacking the modern inconveniences noted above. Perhaps we could get back to that which makes an institution of learning. The free flow of ideas between people, all of whom hold pieces of knowledge that could be exchanged. A little beer to lubricate the flow wouldn't be all bad either.

Excuse me, I've got to go refill my plastic foam cup with coffee. Next week, campus radio.

Stop Complaining! Get involved!

DU

Rush is now in full swing at the Delta Upsilon Fraternity house and all interested persons are invited to come by the house located on Market Street across from the Savings gas station. There is an Oyster Roast scheduled for Saturday, November 16. Come on by and see what a real fraternity is like. If you need a ride call the house at 799-9948, and arrangements will be made. A large crowd is expected.

Our first DU-sponsored lecture was an outstanding success. The first topic in our series was an interesting lecture-slide show on diving and diving safety. The next topic has yet to be decided, but plans will be published in the Seahawk when they are finalized.

Again, all interested persons are invited over to the house anytime, especially to the Oyster Roast on November 16.

Zack Sessions

THE TRANSPLANT

A country village is proper place to celebrate a real relationship. "There was a marriage at Cana..." the story goes, and wedding gives occasion for stopping work and drinking wine and reaching out to touch somebody's life with laughter as prelude to getting with other things where death and dying are the order of the day.

At wedding differences are left outside the door and Lord of blessing pours the wine that heals the village brokenness. In light of new insight, celebration calls for wedding of our separateness through him who turns the water into wine.

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

ROCKY

SAYS

First among things to be thankful for is a thankful spirit. Some people at UNC-W grumble because they don't like a concert, but forget to say anything to the one, two, or three unpaid students that worked all afternoon setting up the stage. Some complain that there is nothing to do on weekends, yet we have a few people in SGA working on skeleton crews trying to put on dances. Some complain about school spirit. Some lack of inspiration they can Who's fault is it? Where do you find a source of inspiration in a university?

Who can inspire students to a sense of industry, economy, and ambition so that a student will help build a better school?

All inspiration comes from within the individual. Give reason for action and students will volunteer their time. Wake up taste and imagination in students and they will fill the campus with activity. Apathy is a misnomer! Neglect is a better term. Happy Thanksgiving!!

PI KAPPS

Fall semester 1974 has started off to be a smash for the Gamma Theta Chapter of the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity. Our two week rush was a great success producing 9 pledges who are Drue Padgett, Al Myatt, Kim Auten, Glen Sanderson, Jeff Earp, Kenneth Huffman, Jim Birchfield, Jim Strickland, and Jessie Brock. New officers were elected and those now serving are: Robert Keith, Archon; Brad Walls, Secretary; Billy Kelly, Treasurer; Joe Herring, Historian; John Baker, Chaplain; and Dennis Esselman, Warden. Activities this semester have been a great success with the most recent being a "Halloween Party" held last Saturday.

The pledges have started a bike raffie so contact any of them if you are interested in buying a ticket. The bike is a Raleigh 10-speed, so it would be a good investment. They will greatly appreciate your participation. Thank you, Joe Herring

TKE

The newly formed TKE Little Sister program has recently initiated six new members which were the Alpha Pledge Class. These new girls are Joanne Essey, Jeanette Pittman, Chris Stolpa, Nan Dinsmore, Kathy Nash, and Sheila Arney. Halloween was a big night at the TKE house with a costume party and a large amount of "tequila sunrise" at hand. The "how-many-costumes-can-one-person-wear-in-a-night" award goes to Honorable Wayne Klander, who during the evening was seen in at least five (count 'em) different costumes.

The now-in-progress MU pledge class would like to announce their selection of Toni Gurnis and Chris Stolpa as pledge class sweethearts.

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on tuesday for wednesday distribution. all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on friday for publication on tuesday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief
robert maxey, advertising director
john wilkins, music editor
margaret monroe, typist
jean francischietto, sports writer
neal huntley, chief photographer
sheryl moore, paul walker, photographers

MEMBER

ms, linda moore, adviser

Wrong Way--Bitching about it...Right Way--See how you can help. SGA, SUPB, Clubs.

Souther-Hillman-Furay Band

When John David Souther, Chris Hillman and Richie Furay met to test the prospects of forming a band, each had already established himself as a writer and vocalist while helping fuel a succession of bands that included several of the most influential and popular American bands of the last decade--among them Poco and Manassas, and two of the greatest bands from rock and roll history, The Byrds and Buffalo Springfield. As seasoned players, they now sought something more ambitious. The new group would hopefully provide each with the flexibility and firepower a working band can offer; at the same time, Souther, Hillman and Furay would each maintain his separate musical identity.

Detroit-born and Texas-raised, J.D. Souther had formed Longhairs Pennywhistle as a duo with Glenn Frey before going solo; he recorded his first album for Asylum in 1972. Since then, and during the gestation for the new SHF band, Souther continued writing, on his own and in collaboration with Jackson Browne and Eagles Glenn Frey and Don Henley. He was also one of the producers for Linda Ronstadt's first Asylum album, Don't Cry Now.

As the original bassist for The Byrds, Chris Hillman developed rapidly both as a distinctive and influential instrumentalist and as a writer and a vocalist. Hillman's impact on The Byrds repertoire, through his own songs and through a more general influence on the group's gradual exploration of country roots, became apparent from The Byrds' third LP on. When Chris departed to form a new band with the late Gram Parsons (another former Byrd), The Byrds lost a key member, but the listeners gained the first full-throttle country-rock band--The Flying Burrito Bros. Hillman's vocals, bass, guitar and mandolin, as well as his writing, were focal to the Burritos for three years. Shortly after he left, the Burritos disbanded and Chris moved on to become one of the first members of Stephen Stills' Manassas.

Richie Furay's sweet vocal style and prolific writing first drew national attention when he helped form Buffalo Springfield with Stephen Stills and Neil Young. While Richie's tune ran a gamut of styles, his more melodic and directly country-flavored works (most notably "Kind Woman" and "A Child's Claim to Fame") became trademarks. After the Buffalo Springfield broke up, Richie's next project seemed to bear that direction out: with Springfield bassist and producer Jim Messina, Furay unveiled Poco as a distinctly ebullient young band that combined clear harmonies and shimmering guitar lines of country sources with the sheer visceral energy of overdrive rock 'n' roll. Richie remained that band's key natural resource through six albums.

Following initial meetings in Los Angeles, J.D., Chris and Richie headed for Colorado where the Furay home was transformed into a rehearsal studio for the next three months. As each player began unearthing songs and playing them for his new partners, the band trio coalesced. Other musicians living in Colorado, among them such transplanted talents as Al Perkins and Paul Harris, dropped by to play.

Perkins, a pedal steel guitarist whose work with the Flying Burrito Bros. and Manassas had been balanced by session dates (for musicians including the Rolling Stones, Kenny Rogers, Joe Walsh), was now added to the band. In addition to peak steel, Perkins brought down lively chops as a lead guitarist, bassist and dobro player.

Paul Harris was also asked to join. A native New Yorker, Harris brought not only seasoned keyboard skills but the ears of a skilled arranger that would be able to contribute to the development of strong tunes. Most recently with Manassas, Harris has also played piano and organ and arranged dates for artists ranging from Tom Rush, John Sebastian, B.B. King and Richie Havens to his own earlier band with Peter Galloway, Ohio Knox.

Jim Gordon is already familiar to most devotees of electric music. Apart from his role as drummer for Derek and the Dominoes and for Traffic, Jim has graced countless L.A. recording sessions. When he heard that Souther, Hillman and Furay were forming a band, he called seeking an audition--the call was a happy surprise and Gordon was immediately drummed into the band. (Of course, he didn't have to audition.)

Now complete, the group finished their debut Asylum album. John David Souther, Chris Hillman and Richie Furay have built a new band that lives up to their separate heritages.

THE 4TH CORNER

ONE STOP SHOP

almost
FOR ALL YOUR SMOKING NEEDS

4405 WRIGHTSVILLE AVENUE
WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA 28401
PHONE (919) 791-9325

TRY AN AZTEC MARTINI.

Montezuma's
Tequila Martini

Montezuma Tequila.
2 parts. Dry Vermouth. 1 part.
Vanilla extract.
2 drops.
Stir with ice. Strain into chilled cocktail
glass.

OCELOTL
(THE JAGUAR)
symbol for the 14th day
of the ancient Aztec week

Miss Wonderful goes all out for legs

...and ADVENTURE does its part.

Leather moc with super detail. A little pinking here, some punching there and a neatly rugged overall look. Terrific range of colors from black to red to maple to Jeans Blue.

MISS WONDERFUL has a way with color.

ask for it by name
ADVENTURE

Miss Wonderful

Price range $16-$20

SEE YOUR YELLOW PAGES FOR NEAREST MISS WONDERFUL DEALER.

WHO'S

WHO ?

Thirty-one students at UNC-W have been selected for inclusion in the 1974-75 edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES, a national publication honoring students from more than 1,000 schools in all 50 states and the District of Columbia.

For the first time on the Wilmington campus, nominations were solicited from students, administrators, and the entire faculty. Final selection was made by an ad hoc committee appointed by the Student Affairs Committee.

Wilmington residents named to the publication were Elizabeth Buffington, Keith Hales, Stephen Hobbs, Rocky Moore, John Talley III, Raleigh Todd III, Brad Walls, Pamela Welsh, Kathi Beall, and Craig Parker.

Others selected to represent UNC-W were Rick Alessi of Steubenville, Ohio; and, Tojle King of Elizabethtown.

Where pizza is always in good taste

VILLAGE INN
PIZZA PARLOR

NOON BUFFET
11:30-1:30

3617 Market Street

for sale

STEREO FOR SALE--$200.
Good deal. A component set:
AM/FM radio, Tape Player, BSR Turntable, 2 - 10" speakers in cabinets, with tweeter & midrange. Only one month old! Come by 4630 "C" Fillmore Drive, College Manor Apartments.

1965 Chevy Pick up Truck Runs Great. New tires & shocks. $600.00
call 256-2209
ask for Marc.

1972 Yamaha 250 MX
Just rebuilt (if you can hang on to it...) $400.00
call 256-2209
ask for Marc

1972 FIAT
124 Sport Spider
5 speed transmission.
AM - FM Cassette
4 new Michelins
$2400.00 or make offer
791-6697
ask for Jerry

360°

Dr. Hans Sagan, Professor of Mathematics at N.C. State University is scheduled to be a guest speaker at UNC-W on Wednesday, November 20th in Room C218 at 6 p.m. His talk, which is the Smallest Airport, is an elementary discussion of the Dakeya problem of finding the region of smallest area measure within which a segment of given length can be turned through 360 degrees, and its devastating consequences for real estate speculators. The only prerequisite is some elementary plane geometry. All interested students and faculty members are invited to attend.

CHESS CLUB

Chess club members--Meet upstairs in the Library on Thurs. Nov. 14. 8:30 p.m.

VIDEO-

NEWSCAST

People who would like to submit information to be presented on the Video Newscast, contact the secretary in the Drama Department or Ms. Linda Moore.

MINOLTA: PHOTO SPONSORS CONTEST

Want to hit Europe next summer, with a friend, and have $5000 in cash to spend?

This dream two months vacation can be all yours. No puzzles to figure out, either. Just take a picture which, in the opinion of judges, is worthy of publication in the Minolta College Gallery and is the best of all entries, and you'll be on your way.

Minolta's photo competition is exclusively for college students. Grad students, too. Male and female.

The big camera company has come up with a big idea: The Minolta College Gallery, a special section to appear periodically in College Magazine and containing at least ten prize winning photos taken by students attending a college or university in the United States.

The top prize will be a two months vacation in Europe next summer for the winner and a friend. The company will provide air transportation and in addition give the big winner $5,000 in cash to pay for all lodgings, food, ground transportation and other expenses. Additionally, the two travelers will each receive Minolta SR - T 102, 35 mm reflex cameras. Contestants, whose pictures are published in the College Gallery, will each receive $100 in cash.

Minolta has selected eight categories for the College Gallery: sports, still lifes, social commentary, human interest, abstracts, environmental, humor or news. Visual effectiveness and technical ability will rate high. Also, to be considered in the judging will be the appropriateness of the subject matter to a specified category. Judging will be done by an independent organization.

Students can enter as many photos as they wish, but each must have an official entry form. Forms can be obtained from Minolta's advertising department at 101 Williams Drive, Ramsey, N.J., 07446. Entries must be postmarked by January 20, 1975, and received by January 31, 1975.

A Minolta spokesman said that the contest for college students has no connection with any other contest the company might be running simultaneously.

So, get that camera loaded with film. And start shooting. We want one of you to win!

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Miller

SUMMER SANDS

FURNISHED AJOINING ROOMS FROM

$40-$75 a month

fully carpeted, fully furnished, heated, all utilities included

one block from Newell's on Wrightsville Beach
MAZUR REALITY Ph. 763-6964 or 256-4650

TIM WILLETTE: "PLAYER OF THE WEEK"

PEMBROKE--UNC-Wilmington pulled the soccer stunner of the season by upsetting previously unbeaten Campbell 1-0 at Bules Creek last Wednesday, and Tim Wil-lette, the Seahawks' great g goalie who made 25 saves, has been chosen District 29's

"Soccer Player of the Week."
Both Coach Calvin Lane of victorious UNC-Wilmington and losing Coach Nim Cole of Campbell voted for Willette.
"Tim played a super, fantastic game," extolled Coach Lane. "It was the best I've seen in two or three years."

Our whole club played well against a fine Campbell team, but Willette's performance had to be the difference."
Willette, a sophomore from Rockville, Md., is a player with "great quickness and great hands," noted Lane.
"Baltimore University's coach said Tim is the best goalie he's seen this year."

The Camels kept the ball in UNC-W's territory the majority of the game. One Campbell shot bounced off the post and another off the crossbar.
UNC-W also had one that bounced off the post.

John Beyer of Campbell also was cited by both Lane and Cole for an outstanding performance.
Lane, who called the game
UNC-W's best in his four years as coach, is now in the driver's seat in seeking the district crown.

PUNT, PASS, KICK

On November the 4th the annual fall Intramural punt, pass, and kick contest was held. Only four individuals participated making competition tight.
Individual winners were:

Punt 1st...John Melton, 124ft

5 in.

2nd...Jay Mayberry, 177

ft 2 in.

Pass 1st...John Melton 171 ft.

2nd...Jay Mayberry 150

ft.

Kick 1st...John Melton, 136 ft

4 1/2 in.

2nd...Steve Williams, 126

ft 5 1/2 in.

Individuals who participated were:

Gordan Sears

Steve Williams

Jay Mayberry

John Melton

FRANKLY SPEAKING... by phil frank

© COLLEGE MEDIA SERVICES-BOX 9411-BERKELEY, CA 94709

SOCCER: leading scorers

Leading scorers in the district for the respective teams are: Campbell--Tony Lotter-zo 25; UNC-Wilmington--Nino Fleri 18; Methodist--Juan Morini 8; Pembroke--Tommy Williams 8; and Atlantic
Christian--Chris Smallwood
5.

SUPPORT YOUR INTRAMURAL PROGRAM

PEANUTS

Apply To FLY ... Now.

If you're a college grad or soon will be, you can have a career that combines adventure, respect, responsibility.
Air Force officer training is the first step. Then you'll be attending flight school and have the opportunity of winning those silver wings -- as an Air Force navigator.

After that, your future is sky-high. You get flying officer's pay, free medical care, travel, 30-day paid
vacations, and much more.

Now is the best time to apply.

MSGT. JERRY LEWIS, USAF Recruiting Office
4010 Oleander Drive, Browning Plaza No. 2
Wilmington, NC 28401 PHONE: 799-0956

Find yourself in the Air Force.

the CASUAL man INC
LONG LEAF MALL
799-8201

Eleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry

Blouse tops

Bags

Shirts

Candles

Handmade Spreads

Embroidered Dresses

Belts

Leatherwork
Headgear

Mexican Handicraft.

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Bedwan, Owner

OPEN FORUM

photos by neal huntley

King Auditorium was the location of an Open Forum sponsored by the Student Affairs Committee on October 31, 1974. Over sixty student, faculty, and staff assembled to ask Dr. Wagoner questions about a wide range of topics. It has been suggested that this become a regular event.

Some of the issues raised were:

9. Out-of-state and in-state tuition laws

10. General bookstore operating policy

11. Dress code in the cafeteria

1. Wages paid to students working on campus

2. Student housing

3. A bike way 'bain on and off campus

4. The on-campus traffic problem

The OZONE is OPEN

5. Conditions in the library

6. On-campus parking problems

7. Job descriptions and classifications

8. Use of the gymnasium

WARNING!!

GET YOUR FALL BOOKS
BEFORE NOV. 20th!

IN ORDER TO MAKE ROOM FOR SPRING BOOKS, FALL BOOKS ARE GOING TO BE RETURNED!

Bookstore
in The Pub

3922 Market St.
ph. 762-8604.

ATLANTA RHYTHM SECTION TO PLAY WITH SHF BAND

Four years ago, progressive rock was little more than a dream in the minds of forward-thinking Atlanta musicians, producers, and those involved with musical talent. Buddy Buie, an Atlanta producer-songwriter who had considerable success in the Sixties with over twenty national chart records, began thinking seriously about implementing a group to concentrate on progressive rock at the same time he was setting up the now famous Studio One in 1970 with publishing expert Bill Lowery and consummate musician J.R. Cobb.

For this venture, Buddy had plenty of musical and lyric artistry at his disposal.

When Rodney Mills, a top local engineer, completed Studio One in September, 1970, Buddy and the session men/writers/rangers in residence there discussed this idea further and plans for the Atlanta Rhythm Section became concrete. The artistic coterie at Studio One boasted a formidable array of talent, experience, and achievement; it included guitarists Barry Bailey and J.R. Cobb, drummer Robert Nix, keyboard player Dean Daughtry, bassist Paul Goddard, and vocalist Rodney Justo, each of whom had experience in former groups and on countless sessions.

These five and Buddy worked in the studio and on live dates over the next year and the first album, "Atlanta Rhythm Section", was released in April, 1972, featuring a strong collection of trend-setting progressive rock. Afate that happens to far too many high quality LP's befell the album, however; it received unanimous praise throughout the critical media and was subsequently ignored by radio programmers and the public alike.

In the fall of '72, Rodney Justo left the group under amiable agreement to seek a solo career. His position on lead vocals was filled by Ronnie Hammond, a songwriter/vocalist who had done session work at Studio One.

The second Atlanta Rhythm Section album, "Back Up Against The Wall," was released in 1973. A superb successor and natural advance over the first LP, "Back Up Against The Wall" offered an arresting melange of balladry like the haunting "Conversation", gospel flavored blues like "Will I Live On?", and precedent-breaking rockers such as the stompin' "Cold Turkey, Tenn." and the spine-chilling title track.

Again, the LP was not given proper promotion, but it is a favorite album in the collections of many members of the rock hierarchy, both in America and England.

Now, the Atlanta Rhythm Section is determined to, as they say in the South, "kick ass". They're excited about a fresh start with Polydor, who believes they've got the cream of the crop in Southern rock. And they'll be very much visible in a cross-country American tour which will feature some exciting visual effects to go along with that exciting music. "Third Annual Pipe Dream" is the name of the Atlanta Rhythm Section's first LP for Polydor. They consider it the best thing they've ever recorded, and their standards for themselves are exacting. One critic who had an advance listen to the album called it "A milestone in Southern music... or just plain music."

Barry Bailey was a avid jazz listener during his Decatur, Georgia high school years, playing in bands including the Commotions and St. John and the Cardinals. He toured with Roy Orbison and began doing session work with Buddy Buie in 1969, playing lead guitar on his close friend Mylon LeFevre's first LP, which led to an association with Mountain and then session work with Felix Pappalardi, among others. His piercing guitar style and masterful control have been in demand for such artists as Maggie Bell, Taj Mahal, Badger and a host more. Most guitar players who know Barry Bailey will tell you he can hold his own with any top guitar player in the world.

Ronnie Hammond began playing drums, guitar and keyboards in Macon, Georgia high school bands such as the Celtics. Rodney Mills became interested in him as a writer and persuaded Ronnie to come to Atlanta and Studio One, where Buddy Buie also gained interest in Ronnie's talent. As Mills said, "When Justo left, there was no question who would take over lead singing in the 'Rhythm Section'."

Paul Goddard, whom his fellow musicians call "Our secret weapon -- he's a monster on bass," played lead guitar with Atlanta-based St. John and the Cardinals for five years in the Sixties, toured with Roy Orbison, and then joined Barry in a Cream/Hendrix-type group, Joint Effort, before doing session work on bass with Buie and the evolution to A.R.S.

Robert Nix, from Jacksonville, Florida, played with Southern rock groups for two

(continued on page eight)

YOU HAVE A
sm
PERSONAL BANKER
AT
WACHOVIA
RIGHT ACROSS
FROM UNC-W

It's time to choose your rings

SOLAND $300 to 3000
WED. RING $100
POLYNESIA $300 to 3000
WED. RING $200

Keepsake assures perfect clarity, fine white color and precise cut.

Keepsake
REGISTERED DIAMOND RINGS

Mills INC.
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

28 N Front St • 763-6311
Hawover Center • 762-0736
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

Natural Vitamins Health Foods

HENRIKSEN'S PHARMACY is the nutrition headquarters for Wilmington. We stock Plus Natural Vitamins, Deaf Smith County Organic Whole Wheat flour, meat substitutes and much more!!

Choose from our stock of books and magazines on nutrition, organic gardening and ecology. We offer the BEST!!!

Henriksen's Pharmacy

Hanover Center

BACK TO NATURE

"It is better to bury one's nose in a big glass.

It's more protected than in a soldier's helmet.

And for a standard or a pennant, it is best to follow The branch of ivy or of yew, which shows one where To drink!"

Olivier Basselin
Vandevies

"Our Beverage Prices
Are Beautiful"

GRAPE
and HOPS
SHOP

Terry and Marty Pridden
3242 Wrightsville Ave. 761-6675

music in your life

by john wilkins

Utopia

TODD RUNDGREN'S UTOPIA
BEARSVILLE BR - 6954

It seems hard to really sit down and write about Todd Rundgren. He has done so much over the past seven or eight years that a book could be written about him. Both as a producer and a musician, Rundgren has proven that almost none of the other American rock stars can come close to his achievements.

NAZZ was the first group Rundgren formed that gained any notice. The group cut three albums between 1968 and 1970, none of which became popular enough to give Rundgren the exposure he wanted. His musical abilities were hidden by the group's inability to play good music together. As the group split-up, all that remained were a few good songs, which had been recorded badly, and Todd Rundgren's eagerness to prove that he was more than a second-rate musician. This was proven when his "Hello It's Me," from the first NAZZ album, was redone to become one of the biggest hits of a year or so back.

Rundgren's solo career and the signing to Warner Brothers' Bearsville Records were his next big steps. The RUNT and BALLAD OF RUNT LP's were the first steps into his future toward the Today's UTOPIA. Although they never made him a superstar nor never sold many copies, they did begin to make Rundgren's abilities noticed and what few fans he had were none the less, astonished by the LP's.

Even after the SOMETHING/ANYTHING LP it took almost two years before "Hello It's Me" became the hit it was and another LP, A WIZARD, A TRUE STAR, before Rundgren's true popularity began.

Many things had happened over these years with Rundgren; not only producing, writing songs and doing all the music on his own LP's, but also producing albums for other people as well as Grand Funk's AMERICAN BAND and SHINE ON LP's.

Then he began his last tour on which we were lucky enough to present a concert this year. (March '74) The concert was uptown at New Hanover High and was not received well for unknown reasons. Some said that the taped music was what made the concert a failure, yet, it is obvious these people had never seriously listened to Rundgren's LP's. If so, they would have known that most of the instruments on his LP's are played by him, therefore, how could he have made the songs sound like the ones from the LP's without using his own taped versions? The second half of the concert was his introduction of his new group, his new sound and a new double album, UTOPIA.

Now, some nine months later, the second UTOPIA LP is out. Side one begins with two songs which were done on stage when the group was here, "Utopia" and "Freak Parade". "Utopia" was recorded live in Atlanta and is excellent for a live cut. The words of the song are what the new group and new sound, Rundgren has searched for for so long, are all about.

"City in my head
Utopia
Heaven in my body
Utopia
It's time for me
For me to go.

The music in the song is so sturdy that Rundgren's Utopia could easily rest atop it and, though few lyrics are in the song, it never becomes boring.

"Freak Parade" is also a strong song and shows the group's ability to play together and not destroy each other. Maybe this is the most important thing about the album and Rundgren has found his Utopia. Once again the music is the most important aspect of the song, but, once again, interest is not lost due to the group's communications.

Ending the side is "Freedom Fighters" which proves to be the best song on the album. It is also the shortest cut but then again, Rundgren returns to a more sung type song than played.

Side two is one song, "The Ikon", and can best be explained in the words of UTOPIA,

Following the evolutionary acquisition of Telepathic abilities, men discover themselves To be mankind and joyfully begin to Adjust their thinking along these lines.

As is not uncommon in historic events, the More eloquent gather, in this case to unravel The snarl of a formerly physically Oriented World. Out of the pomp, circumstance And unrestrained excitement of the Event, there is one lasting result: there Remains the shining form of humanities Highest aspirations, moulded in thought And more powerful and alive than any Material world force. The Ikon.

The song, although lengthy, still remains excellent and in the Rundgren tradition.

The album is different than most of the other Rundgren LP's, yet still proves the genius of him. To most of us, even the worst Rundgren album is worth having, but this is not his worst one. Till then, ROCK-OUT!!

ATLANTA RHYTHM SEC.

(from p. seven) years and then joined the Candymen on drums, remaining with them, after touring with Roy Orbison, until beginning session work with Bule in the late Sixties. Nix, who can't wait for the A.R.S. to tour England, recalls that every heavy in the English music industry was knocked out by the Candymen. "Graham Nash was hot to produce an album for us, but we had to go back home." Nix's solid drumming has been featured on some tracks of another hot Southern band Lynyrd Skynyrd's albums, and he recently completed work on a new single by Ike and Tina Turner, "Black Widow Spider."

J.R. Cobb took up guitar in high school in Jacksonville, Florida and played with the Classics IV until he also began sessions with Bule in 1968. His alternate lead, slide and acoustic guitar tradeoffs with Barry wield a jolting musical impact in the Rhythm Section.

Dean Daughtry started playing keyboards in Kingston, Alabama churches at the age of five. He played with Robert Nix in the Candymen and also with Mylon LeFevre. Dean transforms keyboards, ordinarily a rhythm instrument in rock, into alternate leads with his electric piano and organ cascades.

The Atlanta Rhythm Section has been waiting a long time for recognition. Now with the up and coming single "Dorville" this will become a reality. But these proud Southern men know that they're ready now in a way that they weren't before. And their fans, who include Procol Harum, Eric Clapton, Joe Cocker and many, many others, would probably agree with them when they say they feel sure the "Third Annual Pipe Dream" is about to become a reality.

RECORD
WORLD

WEEK DAY SPECIAL

Mon. - Thurs.

all NEW $6.98 LPs

only $4.99

Long Leaf
Mall

Mon. - Sat.

10-9

791-7043

FRANCO ZEFFIRELLI
ROMEO
& JULIET

No ordinary love story...

"DAZZLING"
—LIFE

Tuesday - Nov. 19

8:00 p. m.

Kenan Auditorium

Adm. 50¢ student's

seahawk

xviii number 13

november 20, 1974

eight pages

UNC-W WILDFLOWER PRESERVE DEDICATED

WELLS & MRS. BLUETHENTHAL

LANE RATES AS DISTRICT 29 COACH OF YEAR

PEMBROKE--Calvin Lane, who coached UNC-Wilmington to the regular season soccer championship of NAIA District 29 with a perfect 4-0 district mark, has been voted NAIA District 29 "Soccer Coach of the Year" by his fellow coaches.

A native of Denton, Md., Lane's team compiled an overall mark of 11-7-1. It's lone tie was with Madison, a soccer powerhouse in Northern Virginia. Among its victims was Campbell's perennially strong team.

This is Lane's fourth year as Seahawk soccer coach, and he has built the program each year. He played soccer for four years at Caroline High School in Denton, Md., then was on the UNC-Chapel Hill soccer varsity for three years. He captained the Tar Heels in his last year.

mittie in choosing teams for the NCAA College Division playoffs.

He earned both his B.A. in physical education and M.E. in education from UNC-Chapel Hill.

The son of Mrs. Willard E. Lane and the late Mr. Lane of Denton, Md., the UNC-W coach is married to the former Elizabeth Clarke of Goldsboro. She formerly resided in Lumberton. The Lanes have two children: Beth, 16 and Lee, 10.

Lane, 41, is a vestryman at St. John's Episcopal Church in Wilmington and serves as secretary of that board.

Lane, who is District 29 soccer chairman, has also served on the selection committee

by Craig Parker

On Friday, November 8th, some 40-50 persons mainly from the Biology Department and the Community assumed to acknowledge the official dedication of UNC-Wilmington's Wildflower Preserve. This 9 acre botanical park is the result of a joint effort by the university and Mrs. Bluethenthal. Chancellor Wagoner provided the opening remarks and expressed the wish that the preserve be used by both the academic and non-academic community. The Dedication was presented by Dr. C. Ritchie

Bell who described it as an "outdoor laboratory" and "a place to study the biological and cultural aspects of plants."

The highlight of the dedication was the unveiling of the Herbert Bluethenthal Memorial Plaque by Mrs. Bluethenthal.

PICK UP FLEDGLINGS PLEASE

If you have not picked up your 1974 Fledgling you may do so in Gwen Croom's office, A-1 from 8 am -5 pm Monday through Friday.

Also, if anyone has not received their proofs please go to Mrs. Croom's office. She has a few there.

EVERYONE: Please send their proofs back to Smith Studio as soon as possible. Make sure that you mark one proof to be placed in the 1975 yearbook.

WELLS PLAQUE

JAZZ LECTURE SLATED

A history of jazz--from its beginnings as "field hollers" among slaves through its various transitions into the modern "funky soul sound"--will be the topic of the next program in the University of North Carolina at Wilmington's

Faculty Lecture Series. William F. Adcock, assistant professor of music at UNC-W, will discuss and demonstrate the changes that have occurred in jazz from its beginnings up to the present on Thursday, November 21, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Arnold Kimsby King Hall (Education-Psychology Building) on the university campus.

A seasonal saxophonist, Adcock began playing professionally when he was 15 years old. After traveling "all over North Carolina" with the Jimmy Fuller and Ike Carpenter bands, Adcock was selected to play in the U. S. Navy's Jazz Band. Following his tour of duty, he played saxophone with the East Carolina Collegians and then joined Bob Astor's Band in Washington, D. C., which booked engagements throughout the Southeast.

As an instructor at Wichita University, Adcock directed a stage band and currently directs the Jazz Ensemble at UNC-W. He also plays professionally with local dance bands and jazz combos from throughout the state.

He earned his B.S. in music education at East Carolina University and received his M.M. from Northwestern University. He has also studied during the summers at L'ecole Montoux and at UNC-Chapel Hill.

Delta Upsilon Fraternity will serve refreshments to the audience during the question and answer portion of Adcock's lecture which is open to the public without admission charge.

ADCOCK

EDITORIALS —

The Gadfly: RADIO

No matter how much anyone knows, it isn't going to do anyone else any good unless he can communicate with them. One of the major aspects of college education is communication. Without communication there is no learning and without learning there is no college.

Now if you managed to follow all that proceed with caution to carefully ingest the following information. There are rumours that this school is going to get campus radio. If we are so lucky, it could make a major turning point in the evolution of this college. Such a continuous public involvement by the student body could draw this heterogeneous collection of academic bums together more than almost any other medium.

A talking newspaper would be an experience that we could all share. It would also be a modern relevant form of communication. All these things it could be. However, in my official position as Campus Pessimist, I must mention a few things it probably will turn out to be.

It would seem every high minded project, like campus radio, gets started by a group of highly motivated people. Then red tape and lack of interest begin to bog things down. A lack of funds further aggravates the problem.

What finally emerges is a pale copy of some commercial institution. Which of course is not too appealing. So things bump along at a slow rate and maybe finally, mercifully, die.

To prevent such a disgusting spectacle here on campus the people concerned with this project should concern themselves with a little public relations. An informative article in this paper and the Star News would be helpful.

I am not alone in my interest in campus radio I am sure, but as I write this I am about as ignorant as a clam as to what is going on. If campus radio is to be a secret underground organization it could hardly do better than it is doing to inform the student body of its activities. I intend to dig about and see if I can't come up with a few facts for you gentle readers.

However, this is an excellent pill for the disease of apathy. Campus radio could involve a large number of students. It could introduce people to the fascinating world of radio production. Here is some of that "experience" that employers always want. It is experience that can be carried over to the world of television production. Here is a free education for those who want to invest a few hours in a worthwhile, interesting project. Aside from all these idealistic motivations think of the prestige of telling your friends you are "working the radio."

So, if you are interested in campus radio, see Linda Moore. It would seem that Linda has a wealth of information about such projects and if she doesn't know about it, she will know someone who does.

Campus radio could do a lot for this campus, providing somebody out there (like you) does something for campus radio. If nothing else, write a letter to the editor in support of campus radio. And now, stay tuned for a slightly more informative article about campus video next week.

DEAR DARLENE

BY DARLENE PEARSALL

Dear Darlene,

So many tests are coming up that I just can't stand it anymore. I'm seriously considering suicide. I need your advice.

Troubled

Dear Trouble,

I think a gun would be the quickest and easiest way.

Dear Darlene,

I am an editor of one of the publications on campus. Surrounded by apathetic students and pressing dead lines, I sometimes wonder why I continue to do it. Perhaps you have an answer.

Editor

Dear Editor,

It's probably because deep down inside -- you want an ulcer.

Dear Darlene,

I'm in love with two girls at the same time. Neither one knows about the other. They're both beautiful, intelligent, and charming girls. Please, what should I do?

Confused

Dear Con,

Whatever you've got -- sell it. You'll make a fortune.

Dear Darlene,

I've got mother-in-law problems before I'm even married. What should I do?

Maxey

Dear Max,

Trade her in on a newer model.

To all my faithful readers (no, I don't mean you, mom and dad): Remember that this is the holiday season. So at your next meal, say this pre-Thanksgiving vacation prayer. I call it "Pre-Thanksgiving Vacation Prayer."

Dear Lord,

Help me to make it through the test rush, eat the turkey in the cafeteria without choking and find someone who offers reasonable prices for the answers to final exams. Allow me to leave the dorm before someone on the hall pours beer in my suitcase knowing that my mother will unpack for me. Assist me in passing such courses as Accounting Information Systems for it's not my fault that I'm doing so poorly -- it's just that I still haven't been able to locate the computer center. (Where in the hell is that thing?) And finally, please have the computer mess up while printing my schedule so that I'll get the classes I want and not the ones I signed up for.

Amen

Have you got a problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write Dear Darlene in care of the Cherry Hill Mental Hospital.

THE TRANSPLANT

Thanksgiving--
A time set aside
For dealing with
Our corporate pride.

Observed in gentle pleasures
Devoid of measures
That recall a pilgrim's courage
On a hostile shore.

Gratitude is on
The farther side
Of fear relieved.
In attitude that knows
There is no gift
Deserved
Or earned,
Only received.

The circle is complete
When life acknowledges Receipt of life
By giving thanks.

Milton Boone
Campus Minister

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on Tuesday for Wednesday distribution. All articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on Friday for publication on Tuesday.

Kathi Beall, editor-in-chief
Robert Maxey, advertising director
John Wilkins, music editor
Margaret Monroe, typist
Jean Francischiello, sports writer
Neal Huntley, chief photographer
Sheryl Moore, Paul Walker, photographers
Ms. Linda Moore, adviser

MEMBER

TM LECTURE SET WED., FRI.

Students' International Meditation Society will give a free and open lecture on Transcendental Meditation Wednesday, Nov. 20, and Friday, Nov. 22, at 8:00 P.M. in the Pub. A forty minute talk will be given by a qualified teacher of TM followed by a question and answer period. Students are highly welcome to come and go as they wish.

The following material was prepared from publications of SIMS on scientific research on TM performed at Harvard Medical School, UCLA, Stanford research Institute, and dozens of laboratories and universities throughout the world. More materials are available upon request.

In the past five years there has been an explosion of interest in the technique of Transcendental Meditation among research scientists, motivated by the uniqueness of the practice and its evident success. The technique itself is scientific and perfectly adapted to objective studies. Once learned it can be practiced by any individual without requiring any special setting, preparation, or life style, at any time or place, in a perfectly straightforward and repeatable fashion that is undisturbed by most laboratory measurements.

Furthermore, since 1958, TM has been taught in a careful, systematic, and uniform way to over 400,000 people of all ages, countries, and walks of life. By mid-1973, more than 14,000 men and women were beginning the practice each month in the United States alone. This large number of potential experimental subjects and the great benefits they have reported experiencing in many areas of their lives have encouraged scientists to investigate the practice and the results claimed for it.

Starting with the pioneering physiological studies of R. K. Wallace, a wide range of dramatic effects have been reported in the scientific literature. The accumulated evidence of the reality of TM and its effects is now overwhelming.

Transcendental Meditation is a major scientific discovery. The practice itself is unique and its effects seem to be unprecedented in their range and profundity. The scientific studies are here summarized under two main headings:

1. Proof of the reality of the practice of TM itself.
2. Proof that the benefits of daily practice of TM are carried over into activity.

1. Proof of The Reality of The Practice of TM itself. Transcendental Meditation is not a matter of philosophical attitude, religious belief, psychological suggestion, or mood; it is a definite, specific, systematic technique, easily learned by anyone in a short period of instruction.

Measurements show that the twenty-minute period of TM brings the experience of a "fourth major state of consciousness" distinct from dreaming, deep sleep, or waking. This new state is characterized by a dramatically reduced metabolic rate (oxygen consumption) lower than that attained at any point during sleep by reduced breath rate and by reduced work load on the heart, a state of extraordinarily deep physical rest. Skin resistance rises sharply during TM and blood lactate concentration decreases both

(cont. on p. 3)

Peanuts cartoons this week dedicated to DBA and KB, who need them.

TM LECTURE

(cont. from p. 2)

electrical change and biochemical change indicate relaxation and reduced anxiety.

2. Proof: That The Benefits of Daily Practice of TM Are Carried Over Into Activity.

The remarkable usefulness of TM depends on the fact that its effects extend beyond the actual period of meditation. It has been verified that TM brings measurable improvements to almost every area of human functioning and consequently contributes solutions to all the basic areas of human problems.

It is clear that the total effect of TM is elevating to the quality of individual life as a whole.

Educational

It has been shown that both intelligence and learning ability increase directly through TM and therefore it is not surprising that meditating college students are found to perform better academically. Moreover, the different kinds of electrical synchrony evident in the brain during meditation imply functional integration among the various areas of the nervous system responsible for comprehension, verbal ability, concentration, memory, and judgement, which together are necessary for gaining knowledge. The students who improved their studies, sciences, arts, and humanities-showing that increased orderliness and inventiveness of thought are equally valuable to any student. Finally TM has been shown to counteract the sources of negativity in student life by removing internal suppressive influences due to unbalanced psychology and emotional instability. Even sleep deprivation, sometimes a factor in the life of the working man who is also a student, has been found to be more easily overcome by the practice of meditation.

FRANKLY SPEAKING... by phil frank

© COLLEGE MEDIA SERVICES-BOX 9411-BERKELEY CA 94709

TRY THE HAUNTING REFRESHMENT OF THE AZTEC GHOST.

Montezuma® Tequila Ghost

Montezuma Tequila, 2 parts. Pernod, 1 part. Lemon juice, 1/2 part. Shake well with cracked ice. Strain into chilled cocktail glass.

MIQUIZTLI (THE GHOST) symbol for the 6th day of the ancient Aztec week

© 1974, 80, Proof, Tequila, Barton Distillers Import Co. New York, New York

SUMMER SANDS

FURNISHED AJOINING ROOMS FROM

$40-$75 a month

fully carpeted, fully furnished, heated, all utilities included

one block from Newell's on Wrightsville Beach

MAZUR REALTY Ph. 763-6964 or 256-4650

Music

by John W.

LENNON: WORKIN' HIS WAY BACK UP

JOHN LENNON WALLS AND BRIDGES
APPLE SW-3416

When the BEATLES broke up in 1970 they each took off in different directions to do the things they had always wanted to do. Harrison went into writing and doing his own material, Ringo hit here and there with acting, McCartney started forming a group along with his wife and Lennon and Yoko started the Plastic Ono Band and rallies for Peace.

At first they all had little success in becoming as big as they were together, but in the past two years we have seen some excellent work come from the four. Ringo's first very exceptional album appeared. Harrison has a new group and will soon do a tour, and Paul's BAND ON THE RUN LP is still selling well and proves to be the best of his albums. To top it off, LENNON has finally gotten rid of the thing most felt was holding him back (Yoko) and has cut the best solo album of his career. Though it has taken four years, WALLS AND BRIDGES could be said worth the wait, and a time of rejoicing is due for the LENNON fans.

For about the first two years after the split, John Lennon and Yoko Ono spent most of their time just f---ing off and making headlines for the strange things they were doing. Peace rallies seemed to be their biggest thing with several albums coming out which sold on the LENNON name alone and not for their musical qualities.

Lennon lost much of his popularity during these years and around 1972, began what could be said his comeback. With Dick Cavett as their means of getting exposure, John and Yoko did two shows on which they talked about themselves and what they had been doing. During these shows, Lennon's album, IMAGINE, and Yoko's album and movie FLY were all plugged and built up to great heights. After buying both albums, I found the FLY to be one of the most unusual LPs I had bought and the IMAGINE LP a real triumph for Lennon, when compared to the previous albums.

Although it was a much better album, it still lacked what people knew Lennon was capable of doing. The songs were either to, for or about Yoko, except for "How do You Sleep?" which was said to be aimed at McCartney, due to the trouble they had had. It turned out that the song "Imagine" hit radio big and Lennon did begin to regain some ground.

MINO GAMES was the next LP to be cut and remained much like the IMAGINE LP. Once again, Yoko's influence over Lennon was obvious and the title song hit air-ways as a hit.

Now, WALLS AND BRIDGES is out and only a slight hint of Yoko remains, as the two have split and gone separate ways. The LP gives hope that Lennon now remembers his first love, Music, and can once again regain all the popularity he lost.

The album is, in all ways, the best thing he has done since the split. The cover contains drawings by Lennon dated 1952 and are really amusing when compared to his musical abilities. It also contains an excerpt from a book called IRISH FAMILIES, THEIR NAMES, ARMS AND ORIGINS which states "No person of the name Leonard," from which Lennon came, "has distinguished himself in the political, military or cultural life of Ireland (or for that matter in England either). John's answer is "Oh Yeh?", and, what more can you say? "Whatever Gets You Thru the Night" is the only single from the LP so far, but most of the cuts off the album are better. As you probably know, Elton John does back-up on the song and other well known musicians; such as Jim Keltner, Klaus Voorman and Bobby Keys play on the song and album.

Keys' sax on the song makes it an excellent single and, with the combined talents on the song, it should sell very well.

"Old Dirt Road" follows the song and Lennon is joined by a long time acquaintance, Harry Nilsson. Nilsson not only sings on the song, but helped write it. The song is one of the slower ones on the album and is somewhat more together than the other cuts.

The last three cuts on this side; "What You Got," "Bless You" and "Scared," can be compared to some that were written for the BEATLES' last albums.

Side II begins with a really exceptional song entitled "99 Dream." The string arrangement and backing vocals make the song perfect, with Lennon's talents as a musician and lyricist topping it to a "7".

On a river of sound
Thru the mirror go round, round
I thought I could feel (feel, feel, feel) Music touching my soul, something warm, sudden cold
The spirit dance was unfolding

"Steel and Glass" is obviously written to Yoko and gives the impression that it was not a split ending in friendship.

There you stand with your LA tan
And your New York
walk
and your New York talk
Your mother left you when you were small But you're borna wish you wasn't gonna hit all
Steel and glass
Steel and glass

RECORD
WORLD

WEEK DAY SPECIAL

Mon. - Thurs.

all NEW $6.98 LPs

only $4.99

Long Leaf
Mall

Mon. - Sat.

10-9

791-7043

your life

SOUTHER, HILLMAN, FURAY
SOUTHER, HILLMAN, FURAY

SOUTHER, HILLMAN, FURAY
SOUTHER, HILLMAN, FURAY

SOUTHER, HILLMAN, FURAY
SOUTHER, HILLMAN, FURAY

SOUTHER, HILLMAN, FURAY
BAND was the main attraction last Thursday night when the Concert Committee presented the last concert for the fall semester. Photos above and photo and story on page eight.

photos by neal huntley

A HEALTHY COMPANY -- The cast from Feeling Good gathered at Mac's Place, a small variety store. Includes: Rex Everhart (Mac); Priscilla Lopez (Ethel); Ethel Shutta (Mrs. Stebbins); Ben Slack (Hank); Marjorie Barnes (Melba); and Joe Merton (Jason).

Feeling Good

"Sesame Street" has made a tremendous impact on youthful viewers through the antics of Big Bird, Bert, Ernie, Cookie Monster and the rest of the SS gang. The show has kept youngsters entertained while teaching them to read, count, and get along better with each other. And all that was agreeable to the oldsters. . .

But it left some of us feeling just a little bit jealous that we couldn't have some of the same fun while learning too.

Now, it's possible. Tonight, at 8 p.m. on PBS (Ch. 39, WJUN-TV), "Feeling Good" debuts. The show is made by the same folks who brought "Sesame Street" and "Electric Company" to our little ones. But it's designed for adults.

The experimental series - 26 hour-long shows to be broadcast each week for a full year - has been characterized as television's most ambitious attempt to both inform people and motivate them toward healthier living.

"Feeling Good" will employ a variety-magazine format using animation, song, dance, comedy and documentaries to treat 11 priority health topics: alcohol abuse, cancer, child care, exercise, dental care, the health care delivery system, heart disease, hypertension, mental health, nutrition and prenatal care.

Each topic will be treated several times during the series' first year.

A TALENTED CAST

The series will use a resident company of six performers who congregate at Mac's Place, a variety store in a shopping center. The characters include Mac, the owner; a resident at a nearby hospital and his wife, an exercise instructor; an elderly woman who frequently visits Mac's; a young waitress raising her nine-year-old child alone; and the middle-aged owner of a sporting goods store.

CTW auditioned 200 actors for the roles, finally settling on a cast that is rich in Broadway, TV and motion picture experience. Featured players are Rex Everhart (who played Ben Franklin in "1776"), Joe Merton (currently starring in "Raisin"), Marjorie Barnes (from "Hair"), Ethel Shutta

(a veteran radio performer last seen on Broadway in "Follies"), Priscilla Lopez (fresh from "Pippin"), and Ben Slack (most recently seen in "Serpico").

In addition to the regular

BB KING - steaming broccoli

Four of the country's top entertainers -- Johnny Cash, Bill Cosby, B.B. King and Helen Reddy -- will star in the first episode.

Country and western star Johnny Cash will appear in a segment on mental health, singing about the need for a "Helping Hand" in "time of trouble."

Bill Cosby and Helen Reddy take part in a segment on prenatal care. Cosby, suspended in air as an unborn baby, praises his mother for taking good care of herself -- thereby ensuring that he will be born healthy.

In a more serious vein, Helen Reddy sings of the changes a new baby brings to a woman's life. She also encourages women to start medical care as soon as they suspect they are pregnant.

Later in the first one-hour show, blues singer B.B. King shows viewers the proper way to cook vegetables so that they retain their nutritive value. While he steams some broccoli, he sings "Too Much Of A Good Thing," a number which is just two minutes long -- the time it takes the broccoli to steam.

COSBY - A BABY

PERIWINKLES

Ladies' Fashions
open

Long Leaf Mall

SONATA
$300 to $1000
WED. RING
$100!

MARINA
$300 to $1000
WED. RING
$100

JUDD
$300 to $1000
WED. RING
$200

Give the gift of love

A perfect Keepsake diamond backed by our written guarantee of perfect quality, fine white color and correct modern cut. Come in today to see our exciting collection of Keepsake Diamond Rings.

Keepsake

Mills
Keepsake
JEWELERS &
Accutron Center

28 N. Front St. • 753-6311
Hanover Center • 752-0735
Long Leaf Mall • 799-5510

SHOP NIGHTLY TIL 9
at HANOVER CENTER
& LONG LEAF MALL

Cleopatra Gift Shop

1315 South College Road

Goods from Morocco, India, and Mexico

Tapestry	Blouse tops	Bags	Shirts	Candles
Belts	Leatherwork	Headgear	Mexican Handicraft.

Come by and see what else!

Telephone: 791-3759

Zuhair Ali Badwan, Owner

REDDY - sings about Moms

Members of the Dorm Finances Committee are pictured above. They are: First Floor - Mike Good, Gina Zwan. Second floor- Jonny Cabeza, Andy Pendergrass. Third Floor - Greg Larri-

more, Rusty Walker. Fourth floor-Brenda Knowles, Allen Dixon. Fifth floor - Hewley Harris, Cindy Efland. Sixth floor- Sandy Brinson, Helen Pantazis. photo by neil huntley

WITHDRAWING

Students dropping classes or withdrawing from University through Friday Nov. 29 will have a grade of WF or WF entered on their record. A grade of WF counts as hours attempted and consequently affects the average.

Students finding it necessary to withdraw from the university must give written notice of his intention to the office of Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs. Students failing to do this will receive grades of F in all courses.

Students withdrawing from individual classes or the university Monday, Dec 2 through Friday, Dec. 20 will have a grade of F recorded for each withdrawal. Students wishing to appeal grades of F may do so by submitting pertinent information to Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. Vice Chancellor's Advisory Committee will serve as the appeals committee.

Final NAIA District 29 soccer standings:

Team	District	All Games
	W L T	W L T
UNC-Wilmington	4 0 0	11 7 1
Campbell	3 1 0	14 1 0
Atlantic Christian	1 2 1	3 8 2
Methodist	1 3 0	4 13 1
Pembroke State	0 3 1	4 11 1

DISTRICT 29 PLAYOFFS (First Round)

Campbell 2, Atlantic Christian 1
UNC-Wilmington 4, Methodist 2

(Championship)

Campbell 2, UNC-Wilmington 0

The first meeting of the Interclub Council will be held on Nov. 25th, 11:30 in the Pub. All clubs should participate. Thank you.

PI Kappa Phi wins the interfraternity council football game. Congratulations to the PI Kaps.

Professional Uniform Center

THE TOTAL IMAGE CO.

Complete Range of Sizes

NEAR NEW SAVING 50% OFF

GLEN MEADE PLAZA

762-9898

Mother's In Town

The MOTHER EARTH NEWS is a bi-monthly devoted to Grassroots Ecology, Organic gardening, family homesteads, sparkling blue water, far places, doing more for less, working for the fun of it, puppy dogs, fluffy clouds and all other facets of the joyous good life for everyone, everywhere.

All 28 issues now available ... take your pick. Articles like 'Living high on $6,500 a year ... home canning and freezing ... organic gardening ... survive in the city ... wind engines ... shoe a horse ... natural pest control ... solar power ... natural childbirth ...' and many many more.

The MOTHER EARTH NEWS is the how-to manual for anyone interested in country living, ecology and personal independence. The MOTHER EARTH NEWS is now available in the Health Foods department of Henriksen's.

Henriksen's Pharmacy
Hanover Center
The Health Food & Natural Vitamin Store

YOU HAVE A
sm
PERSONAL BANKER

AT
WACHOVIA

RIGHT ACROSS
FROM UNC-W

DO YOU GET A HASSLE EVERY TIME YOU GO APARTMENT HUNTING? UNCW STUDENTS CAN NOW RENT A NICE APARTMENT, WITHOUT A HASSLE, AT.....

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

- Walk-in-closets in living rooms, bedrooms, bath, hall
- Rooms ideally arranged for entertaining
- Attractive bar separating living-kitchen area
- Hotpoint range, refrigerator, garbage disposal
- Individually-controlled air conditioning
- Large swimming pool. Central laundry facilities.

1 BEDROOM Unfurnished.....$135.00
2 BEDROOM Unfurnished.....$149.50
1 BEDROOM Furnished.....$160.00
2 BEDROOM Furnished.....$185.00

MODEL APARTMENT OPEN DAILY

Mon. thru Sat. 10 am to 6 pm. Sunday 1-5 pm...or by appointment. Phone 791-8632.

ENJOY APARTMENT LIVING AT...

Country Club
APARTMENTS

Lullwater Drive just off Market Street

ONE MILE FROM UNC-W

Directions: From UNC-W, take Randall Drive. Take a left onto Lullwater Drive. You'll see us on the right. From downtown, follow Market Street (U.S. Route 17) to the Ramada Inn. Take a right onto Lullwater Drive. We're on the left just after crossing the railroad tracks.

PHONE 791-8632

music in your life

cont. from pages four and five

SOUTHER, HILLMAN, FURAY An Excellent Concert

By John Wilkins

Last Thursday, November 14, 1974, UNC-W Concert Committee held the last concert for the Fall 1974 semester.

The concert was held in Hanover Hall and featured the SOUTHER, HILLMAN, FURY Band and ATLANTA RHYTHM SECTION, The Committee, after being plagued with several disasters while attempting to get a November concert under way, once again ran into a slight delay. As some of the equipment arrived late, the concert was almost an hour late in starting. This, however, did not slow down the committee as they jumped into action, once the equipment arrived, and presented one of the finest concerts UNC-W has seen.

The first act was the Atlanta Rhythm Section, who stood up to all the publicity the concert committee had given them, if not more. Their present single, "Doraville" was very well accepted as were all the songs they played and the group did an excellent job of keeping the crowd moving until the star act came to stage.

Once the Souther, Hillman,

Furay Band appeared, the audience was constantly on its feet and moving to the music. The group introduced songs from their latest album which were received well by a majority of the crowd.

There were a few members of the audience, however, who were really rude and did some yelling during the acoustical guitar selections. This can be somewhat expected from some in a crowd that large, but if there was something wrong with the concert it was those people and not the musicians themselves.

Although the crowd was large, the Concert Committee still lost several hundred dollars. Most of this could have been caused by the short notice of the concert as well as problems with the media and getting the word around.

For those on campus who missed the concert, it was definitely a mistake on your part. For those of us who did see it, a feeling exists that the plague on the committee may be over. As for the Seahawk, we salute the UNC-W Concert Committee for this excellent presentation. May they have better luck Spring Semester.

The rock music field is by far the most unusual field there is when it comes to what is accepted and what is not. For the past several years, BARBRA STREISAND has been a pop singer who has broken the barrier and had several rock hits.

For almost 10 years, Streisand has been a big name in the music world. She then moved to movies and proved she could act in musicals, comedies, and dramas as well as sing. FUNNY GIRL, THE OWL AND THE PUSSYCAT, WHAT'S UP DOC?, and THE WAY WE WERE were all excellent examples of her acting ability.

After "Stoney End" did well on Rock radio, Streisand has moved more into a pop-rock field. With the BUTTERFLY album, she has proved she can do rock, as well as pop, to a point that people thought she was not capable.

Exceptional songs on the first side would be "Guava Jelly," "Grandma's Hands" and the old revival sound of "Jubilant." Streisand stays more with her original pop sound on this side only to completely reverse on the opposite side.

Opening the side is "Simple Man" (or Simple Woman in her case) followed by an explosive version of Bowie's "Life on Mars." It is the first time Streisand has tried a Bowie song, and from a Bowie fan's standpoint, the song should be a complete disaster. The thing is, it is not.

"Since I Don't Have You" follows and is an excellent version of the song. Streisand does her own backup singing which does not work on a few of the cuts, but on this one it does.

"Crying Time," the old country and western song, is also on this side and is the worst cut on the album. Her New York accent just does not fit the song, but the song doesn't ruin the album due to the amount of good songs there.

Many people who do not like Streisand will not like this album. For a pop singer, she CAN do good rock songs also. Sometimes I wonder what she cannot do. Anyway, give it a listen.

BARBRA STREISAND
BUTTERFLY
COLUMBIA - 33005

BUTTER
+
FLY

seahawk

January 22, 1975

QUEEN

OF

THE

70's

19

74

Virginia Bradshaw Bissenger, reigning UNCW Homecoming Queen, will relinquish her crown Sat. night during half-time of the Homecoming game -- UNCW vs. ELON.

Jo Hilton 1973

Diane Lace 1972

Kathy Lowrimer 1971

Pat Corcoran 1970

EDITORIALS—

The Gadfly: GOOD TO BE BACK?

The wind is blowing the spitting rain across the shining blacktop of the parking lot as the cars arrive rapidly filling up the space. It's eight twenty five on the UNC-W campus. The temperature is sixty degrees but the man on the radio said a cold front would move in this afternoon to drop the temperature into the twenties. Typical Wilmington weather.

Well, it's good to be back. Eating turkey and drinking cold duck is okay but it lacks the zest and excitement of driving through the insane traffic to an eight thirty class. I was getting spoiled, sleeping until 9AM.

As usual things are slowly getting underway for spring semester. The computer has almost decided, at last, who is a sheep and who is a goat. If your name has stayed on the printout this long you can almost quit worrying. On the other hand, if the big boman brain has refused you admittance to a class prepare for battle royal. Good luck poor soul.

Muzak at UNC-W is dead. Terry Ward and his cohorts have taken over the local airways and speakers. Elton John sounds much better straight than Muzak's strained-through-prune-juice version.

My own economy was considerably reduced and depressed after tuition, fees, and books. The book store is doing a good job of supplying texts and the professors seem to be resisting the urge to have us purchase huge nifty color illustrated completely unabridged and bound in leather texts. Still when that cash register quits singing its merry tune you feel like singing the blues. Well, that's what they mean by economic recession folks.

As a result of the reduced level in the quality of life I would make a suggestion. There are science clubs, language clubs and political clubs, why not an Epicurian club? Members could pool their major resources and buy a keg or a case once in a while. Guest speakers could illuminate the club members as to how cold wine should be served and how to bring Coors east of the Mississippi.

Oh well, it was just an idea. What do you expect at 9AM on a Monday morning? A brainstorm? Actually, the thoughts of an upcoming math course are depressing my usual exuberant spirits. I think I'll get my foam cup refilled with coffee.

NCAA Code of Good Conduct

BE COURTEOUS—to the teams, officials, and visiting fans; they are our guests.

BE ENTHUSIASTIC—by "rooting" for your own team, not "booing" opponents or officials.

BE GOOD SPORTS—by all-out support of your favorite team before, during, and after games.

BE FAIR—by having confidence in the honesty and integrity of the game officials. Remember, they are neutral; you are partisan.

BE A COOPERATIVE FAN—by not walking on the court; staying back from sidelines; keeping your silence during free throws; not smoking in the gym.

BE A GOOD FAN—it's a game with a respected opponent, not a fight with a bitter enemy.

BE SUPPORTIVE—of your basketball coaches and other college officials when they seek positive crowd control.

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on tuesday for wednesday distribution. all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on friday for publication on tuesday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief
robert maxey, advertising director
john wilkins, music editor
margaret monroe, typist
jean francischello, sports writer
neal huntley, chief photographer
sheryl moore, paul walker, photographers

ms. linda moore, adviser

MEMBER

Volunteer Openings

YMCA
Handicapped Swim Program
Mon.-Fri. mornings
Help physically and mentally handicapped children and adults learn to swim.

Juvenile Services Center
Mon.-Fri. anytime
Take social histories of juveniles; administer achievement tests.

Crisis Line
8 hr. per month requested
Act as resource person and confident to troubled people over phone. Six week training sessions beforehand.

Open House
4 hrs. per week
Act as resource person and confident to troubled who come to the House. Six week training session beforehand.

Parks and Recreation Dept.
Mon.-3:30-4 pm
Wed.-2:00-3 pm
Help mentally retarded adults learn to bowl.

FOR MORE DETAILS ON THESE &
OTHER OPPORTUNITIES,
SEE MS. LINDA MOORE, D. S. A.
IN THE PUB

I want to help people... as soon as I graduate.

Great! But why wait till graduation? There are many people who can benefit from your skills, talents, or hobbies NOW. And think of the benefits you'll be eligible for in return the gratitude of those you've helped the chance to try several career fields, lots of material for a paper or project, the opportunity to learn more about yourself and others, and the chance to experience that deep, warm feeling that comes when you give of yourself. The time involved is always up to you. Even an hour a week can be put to good use! If a 'one shot' project would be more suitable, there are plenty of opportunities to turn a boring Saturday afternoon into a satisfying experience. Just stop by Linda Moore's office in the Pub. She can tell you which one of the more than 55 service agencies in the Wilmington area you could contact. (See ad for some volunteer opportunities)

OPEN HOUSE

Open House operates as a Drug Abuse and Outreach Center. Our program is designed to aid the people of this community with information and lend a listening ear to the troubled.

We are now opening a Coffee House at Open House. This is designed to bring the younger adults off the street, and to give them something meaningful in their lives.

The Coffee House will open January 24th at 8:00 p.m. It will continue every second week of the month on Friday night at 8:30 p.m. 610 Market Street.

Anyone willing to donate any talent; whether it be singing or guitar playing, etc. come to Room 501 or 531.

LITERARY CONTEST

The annual Norfolk Society of Arts Literary Contest is being held this month. Sponsored by the Irene Leache Memorial Association the contest offers cash prizes totaling $630 in three major categories--the short story the essay, and poetry.

Previous winners have included five U.N.C.-W students: Sam Barbee, Ben Clayton, Martin Sonday Christl Weide and C. S. Crawford.

In the short story division, 1,000 to 3,000 words, $300 for first place, $50 second place, and $25 for third.

The essay division, 1,000 to 2,500 words offers $200 for first place and $25 for second.

In the three subdivisions of poetry, $75 will be awarded the winner of the free-verse division. There is a $25 second and a $15 third. For traditional verse (blank verse sonnet, and other conventional forms), $75 first place $25 second and $15 third. Light verse, the third poetry division, will offer $75 first prize, $25 second, and $15 third.

All entries for the Poetry divisions should send two typed copies, one signed, the other not signed, to Miss Elizabeth Dabney, 6148 Rolfe Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia 23508.

Short story entries send only one copy with title at top of page one, unsigned and unfolded, to Mrs. Fred Martin, 1544 Cloncurry Road, Norfolk, Virginia 23505. All submissions should be accompanied by self-addressed envelopes to ensure the return of material not used.

Entries must be postmarked by January 31. Winners will be notified in March. Prizes will be presented and winning entries read at the Spring Festival which will be held March 28, at the Chrysler Museum, Norfolk. Brochures of the winning poems will be distributed.

For further information see the English bulletin boards upstairs in the Kenan Building.

HO's

New ID cards and validation stickers are available in the Student Affairs Office, Alderman 113, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

GO HAWKS BEAT ELON!

Payne's
Hanover Center
Long Leaf Mall
&
Downtown

BO HOLLOWAY models
a long brown & white abstract print bra dress
by Poppy.
Matching bathing suits are also available at Paynes.

Payne's

EUROPE BOUND IN '75?

wouldn't you rather come with us?

Last year over 200,000 students summered in Europe. And the travelwise flew on charter because it costs about HALF! This year a 3 - 6 week ticket to London is $512; 2 - 3 weeks $597. And its $707 for over six weeks from New York. (That's what the airlines say now. Last year there were two unforcast increases!)

Not only do you fly with us at half, but you can just about have your choice of dates for 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 week duration during the summer. And all you have to do to qualify is reserve your seat now by sending $100 deposit, plus $10 registration fee. Under recently new U. S. Government regulation, we must submit all flight participants name and full payment sixty days before each flight. If you take the June 21 - August 19 flight to London for example, deposit reserve your seat and April 15 you send the $100 balance. Just one price for all flights whether you pick a weekend departure ($15 extra on the regular fare airline.) or peak season surcharge date.

So send for our complete schedule, or to be sure of your reservation now, call our deposit for one of our 1 to 10 weekly departures from June through September. Just specify the week you want to travel, and for how long. You will receive your exact date confirmation and receipt by return mail. All our flights are via fully certificated, safe, government, tandem jet and all first class service. From London there are only student flights to all parts of the Continent, frequent, frequent, and easy at 2/3 off the regular fare.

REPUBLIC AIR SYSTEMS INTERNATIONAL
863 10TH AVE N.E.
WILSON, NEW YORK 10097
800 - 223 - 5369
(TOLL FREE)

Charter flying is the biggest bargain in air travel today

SUMMER SANDS

FURNISHED AJOINING ROOMS FROM

$40-$75 a month

fully carpeted, fully furnished,
heated, all utilities included

one block from Newell's on Wrightsville Beach
MAZUR REALTY Ph. 763-6964 or 256-4650

H O M E N O M

Kathy Jo Teer sponsored by PI KAPPA PHI

Jean Welker sponsored by DELTA Upsilon

Linda Rhodes sponsored by WANTU WAZURI

Teresa Anne Horne sponsored by SIGMA ALPHA BETA

Donna Maria Waters sponsored by ASTRONOMY CLUB

Peggy Lyons sponsored by TAU KAPPA EPSILON

OMING NEES

Toni Gournas sponsored by DORM

Jeri Lynn Whitfield sponsored by ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Bo Holloway sponsored by SEAHAWK and FLEDGLING

Uma Shankar sponsored by SOCIETY OF PHYSICS STUDENTS

Cindy DeVall sponsored by CHEERLEADERS

DIVIDED WE STAND

Divided We Stand is an uncommon treat among great comedy acts. Not only do they combine the best of sight gags and fast dialogue, but they are also on their way up, allowing UNC-W students to see the best of new and fresh material. Their recent popularity on college campuses is evident in over 70 bookings from 4 regional National Entertainment Conference conventions. It should also be noted that, at the schools they have played, they have been rated as high as it is possible.

They were seen "in action" by three of our students last October, and all three can't praise Divided We Stand enough. For this reason and many more the Student Union Program Board is presenting Divided We Stand for HOMECOMING on Friday, January 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the PUB. So come out and see comedy like you'll never see again, unless they return.

TM LECTURE

A simple mental technique has been quietly spreading through the Wilmington area. The technique involves no change in life style, is easily learned by anyone, does not conflict with any religion and produces positive results in a short period of time. The name of this technique is Transcendental Meditation (TM). Practitioners of TM range from Joe Namath and Bill Walton to several Army generals and 25 Trappist monks at St. Joseph's Abbey in Spencer, Mass. Over 100 Wilmington residents have started the practice since its recent introduction into the area.

Studies done at Harvard Medical School, UCLA, Stanford Research Institute and dozens of other research centers throughout the world indicate that meditators use more of their mental, emotional and physical potential in every situation they encounter. This is evidenced by things such as faster reaction time, improved physiology, increased perceptual ability, increased productivity and improved mental health. Over 200 studies on the effects of Transcendental Meditation are now in progress. Of particular interest to students are three studies that show increased learning ability and improved academic performance.

Several major corporations including Sprague Electric, Arthur D. Little Inc. and Hughes Aircraft Company have incorporated TM programs with great success. TM programs have been implemented in numerous schools world-wide and resolutions endorsing TM have been issued by the U.S. Senate, the states of Illinois, Maryland, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Vermont, and over thirty city councils. The legislators were particularly impressed with TM's great success in the areas of crime and drug abuse.

The Students' International Meditation Society, a non-profit educational organization will present a free public lecture on Transcendental Meditation and the Science of Creative Intelligence on Thursday January 30 at 8:00 P.M. in the Pub. . . . For further information call David Sharp 791-6160. Inquires from professors who would like a qualified teacher of TM to guest lecture to one of their classes during the week of January 27 are invited.

THE 4TH
CORNER

TWO LARGE RACKS
OF ASST'D TOPS, SHIRTS, AND SWEATERS
NOW 1/2 PRICE

4405 WRIGHTSVILLE AVENUE
WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA 28401
PHONE (919) 791-9325

Lite
BEER

12 oz. No deposit bottles

THE BOARS HEAD

Carolina Beach Road Between Angelo's And The Waterway

SAGE

FRI 24 AND SAT 25

9 TIL 1

BLANKET PARTY

BRING YOUR OWN

$1.50 PER PERSON

I.D. REQUIRED

ONE FREE BEVERAGE OF YOUR CHOICE WITH STUDENT I.D.

HOME COMING CALENDER

WED	THUR.	FRI.	SAT.
OPEN NITE Catch UP ON Lost Sleep!	Spirit DAY 6:00 Seabroves plays the Squaws of PEMBROKE 7:30 UNC-W vs. PEMBROKE WEAR SCHOOL COLORS! CONTEST for group with most school spirit. Award presented half-time Sat. Night.	Eat out & Laugh IN 3:30 - Homecoming Parade! 5:00-6:30 - CockOut at Pub 6:30-7:00 BONFIRE 7:00-9:15 Comedy Group "DIVIDED WE STAND" 9:15 - 1:00 A.M. BAND "SOGUETREE" FREE BEER with VALID ID	PACK the GYM NITE 6:00 P.M. Old timers basketball game 7:30 UNC-W vs. ELON half time CROWNING of UNC-W Homecoming Queen & Presentation of AWARDS After game A dance with CONGRESS

YOU HAVE A
an
PERSONAL BANKER
AT
WACHOVIA
RIGHT ACROSS
FROM UNC-W

7-11

UNC by
the sea
- for friends

The 7-Eleven Food Store division of Southland Corp. will be on campus Jan. 28 recruiting executive management trainees to join the largest and fastest growing convenient food store chain in the world and equal opportunity employer. M/S

JEAN SCENE

5559 OLEANDER DRIVE
799-1365

Western Shirts $5.99
Flares $5.99
Screw Drivers $8.99
Rags $9.99
Big Bells $8.99
Rag Jackets $10.99
Toe Socks $3.99

"PSSSSSSST!"

SHOP AT THE BOOKSTORE

PASS THE WORD

music in your life

by: John Wilkins

ELECTRIC LIGHT ORCHESTRA ELDORADO United Artist UA-LA339-6

I can honestly say that up until this time I have not had any comments on or interest in the Electric Light Orchestra what so ever. Now that I have heard ELDORADO, I have the feeling that I may have missed something in their earlier material.

The group originated during the last days of the group THE MOVE in 1969 or 1970. ROY WOOD and JEFF LYNNE were the nucleus of ELO but Wood, who thought things were getting too serious for his type music, left to form WIZZARD almost as soon as ELO's first album was hitting the charts.

It was not until ELO II and the "Roll Over Beethoven" single that the group began to gain a substantial following of fans. Then the third album, ON THE THIRD DAY, came out and both group and LP gained mixed reactions. STEREO REVIEW gave the album somewhat of a bad review (June, 1974) as it said "none of the material is memorable, but it's interesting to listen to the musicians try to prop up Lynne's wobbly songs." On the other hand, the ELO concerts were said to be excellent.

Now we get to ELO's latest adventure, ELDORADO, a symphony. For those of you who have heard it, I think I can say that it is an excellent LP and not a single song needs to be propped up. This album can stand on its own.

The single off the album "Can't Get it Out of My Head" may be familiar as it is presently being played on local radio stations. The song is a cut version with much of the orchestration left out, therefore, making it inferior to the version on the album.

Not only is the orchestration done well on the song but also the lyrics:

Midnight, on the water
I saw, the ocean's daughter,
Walking on a wave's chicane,
Staring as she called my name.

Here is where the symphony begins and we find the main character dreaming of the perfect city, Eldorado, and the great riches this place can give him. His present home no longer interests him his dream of the place seems almost real.

At last he comes to his senses and we find him returning from a war. The people wait to greet him and he tells of the fighting and misery he has gone through. He then gives a message to the people of what he has learned from his experiences.

One thing, I have learned through these years,

Is that no man, should be stricken with fear,

It should be that he walks with no care in the world.

So my friends, who are gathered today,
Hear this clear, for I'll not further say,
That no man, shall cause me to take up arms again.

With this message the song "Boy Blue" ends.

The next episode, "Laredo Tornado," is about what has happened to the town and his friends while he has been away.

What can you do, when your dream world is gone.

And your friends and lovers too.
West Winter Street under the ground,
The air that makes you choke,
Towers of concrete, hellish go-round,
Were there when I awoke.

He then goes to another battle, the battle of the classes. With the rich and poor fighting, side one comes to an end.

"Mister Kingdom" begins side two and we find the character has survived another battle only to once again think of Eldorado. He asks Mister Kingdom to help him find it.

"Nobody's Child," in which he runs into a lady of the street, and "Illusion in G Major," the only true rock and roll song on the album, lead into the last of the album.

"Eldorado" ends the side with the character still dreaming of the place. The song is remarkable in the power of the vocals and music but returns the character to the same place he began.

The universal dreamer res
The universal dreamer rises up above his earthly burden.
Journey to the dead of night.
High on a hill in Eldorado.

The album is by far one of the best albums in content, music and lyrics I have heard for some time. Production is not at its best but can be considered adequate. It is a solid LP and holds together very well. If at present you do not own a ELO LP and plan to get one, this is the one to get. ELDORADO!!!

RECORD

WORLD

ROCK
FOLK
BLUEGRASS
POP
JAZZ CLASSICAL IMPORTS
BROADWAY

WEEK DAY SPECIAL
Mon. - Thurs.
all NEW $6.98 LPS
only $4.99

Long Leaf Mall

Mon. - Sat.
10-9
791-7043

seahawk

FEB. 27, 1975

BACK TO

PRESS

WHAT'S BEEN HAPPENING

At this point, on former Tues, we can only beg your indulgence. We want you to know that we really are trying.

After a number of economic and mechanical setbacks, we present the second issue of the '75 SEAHAWK. Slow, to be sure, but at least we're hanging in here.

Our main problems at this point fall into three major categories:

1) Help! We need it very badly. Typists, reporters, an ad salesman or two. Even friends. We've gotten a lot of talk from a lot of folks especially in the past two weeks, but talk does not a paper make. A sports editor or writer we could handle. We're not asking that it be done out of the goodness of your heart. We do have a couple of scholarships and such. But regardless of the benefits, it seems that most of the talk we've been getting is just that. So it's still men John'n Neal'n Linda. Do you want a newspaper or not?

2) Money! This speaks for itself in light of the fact that we are now operating without an advertising manager to bring in the bread. Face it, we can't pay the bills with our good looks.

3) Typesetting machines - It's really hard for the staff of a college publication to get their hearts into working hour after hour on a paper that looks - in print - like it was done by the third grade students of El Grito Elementary School. We've shelled out $320 in the past month to get our typesetting equipment working. It is functioning at this moment, but we have no idea when it might again go into congestive motor failure. We had been trying to get a new machine since October so we wouldn't start off this semester with these added burdens, but a wealth of red tape and misunderstandings contributed to the eventual scrapping of that idea - at least for this semester. But we'll keep trying. We're honestly convinced (from the number of notes, releases, and stories flocking into the office from the outside world) that there's someone out there somewhere who still has faith that the newspaper can and should be an important part of University life.

If you want to help, be not afraid.
If you just want to enjoy the paper, our best wishes. Please bear with us.

HOWELL FIRST TO DISPLAY IN NEW SERIES

Claude Howell, chairman of the UNC-W art department, is the first artist to display works in a new series being presented at the North Carolina Museum of Art in Raleigh.

The series is the first of its type in that only native resident artists can have their works displayed in the shows. In past series, works of deceased or non-resident native artists were shown at the Museum.

The Raleigh showing opened Jan. 15 and Howell lectured on his works Jan. 29. The paintings will remain on display until February 26.

Howell's works range from his 40's and early 50's to the present. Those early paintings he refers to as his "Romantic" style. Howell describes this by saying, "Romantic is when they (paintings) are emotional rather than analytical." During this period of style he used smooth lines and an easily defined subject.

By the late '50's his style showed sharp contrast from the "Romantic" to what he terms his "Intellectual" period. Here he uses an analytic form of expression. The subject matter is not easily defined and takes careful observation to detect sharp edges and striking color highlight the characteristics of these paintings.

From the late '60's to the present, Howell's works have become more realistic in nature. He has returned to the gracefulness of his "Romantic" style. This has allowed his subject material to be easily recognized with color and design remaining important as well.

Howell's work, as he himself does, expresses vividly the unusual quality he has of alertness and sensitivity to changing trends. This keeps him and his work in tune with the times.

Being a native of Wilmington, he reveals his love of the area by his use of North Carolina as his model. Even when in Paris in 1949, he painted scenes of North Carolina.

Howell graduated from high school in 1931. The difficult times brought about by the depression left him unable to continue his education. Instead, he went to work for the Atlantic Coast Line, where he was employed for 25 years, all the while continuing his painting.

The North Carolina Museum of Art is publishing a book on Howell to coincide with the exhibit. It is entitled, "Claude Howell: A Retrospective Exhibition of Paintings" and will soon be available in the campus library.

EUROPE BOUND IN '75?

wouldn't you rather come with us?

Last year over 200,000 students summured in Europe. And the travelwise flew on charters because it costs about HALF! This year a 3 - 6 week ticket to London is $512.; 4 - 3 weeker $597. And its $767. for over six weeks from New York. (That's what the airlines say now. Last year there were two unforcast increases!)

Not only do you fly with us at half price, but you can jump about have your choice of dates from 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 weeks later. number. And all you have to do to qualify is reserve your seat now by sending $100 deposit, plus $100 registration fee. Under recently new U.S. Government regulation we must advise you 15 days before each flight. If you take our June 21 - August 19 flight to London for example, deposit reserves your seat and April 15 you send the $100. We'll call a weekend one price for the flight whether you pick a weekend or peak season departure date.

So send for our complete schedule, or to be sure of your reservation now, mail your deposit for one of our 1937 week-end departure flights through September. Just specify the week you want to travel, and for how long. You will receive an exact date confirmation and receipt by return mail. All our flights are via fully certificated, U.S. Government-licensed jet and all first class service. From London there are no student flights to all parts of the Continent. Frequent departures and many at 2/3 off the regular fare.

REPUBLIC AIR SYSTEMS INTERNATIONAL

NEW YORK NEW YORK 10008
800 - 223 - 5389
(TOLL FREE)

Charter flying is the biggest bargain in air travel today

the seahawk

the seahawk, the official newspaper of UNC-W students, is published weekly on tuesday for wednesday distribution. all articles should be in the seahawk office by noon on friday for publication on tuesday.

kathi beall, editor-in-chief

john wilkins. music editor

pete hager, advertisement director frank seymour, advertisement dire linda ownley, typist neal huntley, photo

ms. linda moore, advisor

MEMBER

DR. GONZÁLEZ - DEL - VALLE

by pete hager

'I DREAM OF THE FREEDOM OF CUBA,'

HEBERTO PADILLA WAS A YOUNG POET--AGOOD POET, BUT NOW--RIGHT AT THIS MOMENT HE IS IN A CUBAN PRISON,'

VETERAN'S NEWS

The Office of Veteran Affairs would like to welcome all returning and new students to the UNC-W campus. We wish you much success in your academic as well as social endeavors.

We would like to invite all veterans and dependents receiving VA educational assistance to join the Veterans Association here on campus. The date and time of the meetings will be placed on various bulletin boards around campus.

Those veterans who received tuition deferments through the OVA are requested to please bring a copy of their receipt of payment by the OVA. The OVA would like to stress the fact that ANY CHANGE IN ONE'S CREDIT HOUR LOAD MUST BE REPORTED TO THE OVA. Any deviation in this procedure will result in an overpayment by the VA and possible complications in receiving your VA educational benefits.

Beginning today, a complete bulletin on all aspects of VA related questions and answers will be available in the OVA office, A-109, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m., Monday - Friday.

The Tutorial Assistance offered by the VA has been increased to a maximum of $60 per month. If you are having difficulty in any subject area please utilize this service. It is not counted against your basic entitlement. To utilize TA one must (1) acquire a statement from your instructor stating your need for TA, (2) come by the OVA for the necessary forms and a listing of persons qualified to tutor in various subject areas, (3) if you have an individual in mind to tutor you who is not on the OVA listing, make sure he is certified to be a tutor by the department chairman in that subject area.

FINAL DAY
FEB. 28!

The 1975 Fledgling Staff is currently taking organization photographs by appointment for the annual. Organizations are asked to call for an appointment. The schedule will be posted on the Fledgling office door upstairs in the Pub

Please call 791-8055 for further information. The final day for organization pictures is Feb 28.

photos by
neal huntley

Today the distinguished Dr. Antolin González-Del-Valle is a successful Professor of Spanish and is a unique faculty member at UNC-W.

Fourteen years ago at a Miami airport, he reached into his pockets only to find that he was penniless.

It all began when he was a young, energetic student at the University of Havana where he attained a Master's and Doctorate in humanities. At this time he also became interested in journalism.

He became a professional journalist after receiving his doctorate and continued to write essays for Cuban newspapers and magazines. In 1952, he was promoted to General Director of the Superior Education, with the University of Havana being the only Cuban university at that time.

Within the next seven years, Dr. González supervised the building of twelve more. During this period, he not only remained the chairman of all thirteen colleges, but also continued to free-lance.

"In my opinion a journalist must be free," Dr. González said in a recent interview. "Before Castro, there were four most important powers--the president, the legislature, the judicial system and the journalist."

He leaned back in his swivel chair and then continued. "This order does not mean that the president is more powerful than the courts. They are all equal, and it is the journalist's job to write the truth and then orient it to the public."

In 1959, the Castro Rebellion occurred. In February of that year, Dr. González resigned his post as General Director of the Cuban Universities because he could see that Cuba would lose her democratic republic and her freedom.

Soon criticism of the Castro regime along with freedom of the press became nonexistent. Heberto Padilla, for example, is a Cuban poet who ventured to criticize the dictatorship. He is presently a political prisoner in Cuba, as are countless others.

"No hay libertad--there's no freedom. You don't give your opinion," said Dr. González, opening his palms to accent the taboo "You say nothing."

In 1961, Dr. González, his wife and children took a Pan American flight from Cuba to Miami on the pretense of visiting a critically ill son. The son, of course, was not ill at all.

Many of González' friends and relatives were on hand at the Miami airport and shortly after departing, González realized that he had no wallet. He was at a new beginning.

He taught Spanish in Miami before being offered, and later accepting, a position at UNC-W in 1964.

Dr. González has published more than 20 books relating to literature, grammar, art, and poetry. His works range from a textbook for business Spanish, "Commercial Correspondence: Background and Form," to recent essays on literary criticism.

Some published essays are "La Ficción de Luis Romero" which was printed in a Spanish publication, CUADERNOS HISPANOAMERICANOS, "Análisis esquemático de GRAN SOL" in a New York publication, ENVIOS, and "Jose Martí" which was published in a New Jersey magazine, LICEO REVIEW.

In March, Dr. González will publish several interviews. One interview with prominent Spanish novelist Luis Romero will be published in HISPANIA magazine and another with Argentinean playwright Alberto Wainer will appear in REVISTA INTERAMERICANA DE BIBLIOGRAFIA.

Dr. González wishes to see UNC-W grow and better itself so as later to give even more service to the country. And to see Cuba free once more.

"I think of the freedom of Cuba," he said. "The liberty of Cuba is very important to consolidate the freedom of the American continent."

'IN MY OPINION, A JOURNALIST MUST BE FREE.'

EDITORIALS — NOT MUCH TO SAY

There's just not much we can say and still remain within society's boundaries of courtesy. But we couldn't pass up the opportunity - on the Eve of Student Government elections - to say a few words.

They are words that will perhaps bruise egos, step on toes, and maybe make enemies. But they are truths, also, and things that we can't ignore any more.

From what we've seen of the campaigning so far, SGA is going to give us another one just like the other one. We've heard promises, promises, promises. We've seen nothing, nothing, nothing.

SGA, as they would have us believe, have spent themselves into near oblivion. Yet now we understand there is in the planning an awards ceremony, inauguration ball for March. The awards are to honor all those (we can't wait to see who) who have done so much for their school. Awards ceremonies and inaugural balls are bound to cost SGA some money, whether each man pays for himself or if that revered body springs for it all. President Rocky Moore told the SEAHAWK that hopefully any money that was needed would come from the contingency fund.

Typical logic on the part of many of our leaders. When a group approaches SGA for additional money, they are told that the only money around is the contingency fund, which we understand is to cover emergencies and such. With the publications, our new campus radio station, dance committee and other groups really trying to do a service for the average UNC-W student, do we really need to be spending this money - which could well be spent in other ways - with a "Let's Pat Ourselves On The Back For Being So Wonderful" ceremony? And if the aforementioned groups are the ones SGA is planning on honoring, why not do it simply by listening to their experience and knowledge and by spending this money in ways to best benefit all students.

With the typesetting machine fiasco, we saw how SGA communication goes. If there was a way something could be fouled up, it was done in royal splendor. No one knew what anyone else was doing. We spent from October to January running circles around Rocky, Wesley Hunter, and the finance committee, only to find that no one knows what's happening. And there are still mysteries there yet unsolved.

What we need are not promises. We don't need the typical bureaucratic red tape and runaround. We don't need glowing, self-centered glaucous gluttons running the show. We do need serious, concerned, hard-working students dedicated to delivering quality goods to the University community. We desperately need level-headed officers who will give us what we want, need, and deserve.

WE SEE THE LIGHT

Last semester we were pretty hard on Col. James K. Clark, Director of Auxiliary Services, when we thought he was wrong. This semester, we want to begin by thanking him.

As most of you know, the SEAHAWK, FLEDGLING, and ATLANTIS moved upstairs in the old meeting room. At that time, the lighting was so poor that it was hardly the place to do any reading or writing. Col. Clark came to the rescue and ordered lighting fixtures which were recently installed, greatly facilitating our work here.

We just wanted to say thanks.

COLLEGE CAMPUS REPRESENTATIVE

Needed to sell Brand Name Stereo Components to Students at lowest prices. Hi Commission, NO Investment required. Serious Inquiries ONLY! FAD COMPONENTS, INC. 20 Passaic Ave. Fairfield, New Jersey 07006

JERRY DIAMOND 201-227-6814

The Gadfly:

MONDAY BLUES

Monday must be an invention of the devil. There can be no doubt that Friday was invented to offset Mondays, or maybe it was the other way around. At any rate, Mondays do exist and we have to live through them.

The traffic on Mondays is sulen and only half-awake. Yawning drivers weave down the highway toward the day's upcoming difficulties with all the enthusiasm of the doomed mounting the block.

Eight-thirty classes on Monday are conspicuously lacking in numbers as are afternoon classes on Friday. The reasons are quite different, however. Those brave souls who fling themselves into consciousness early enough to get to eight-thirty classes often run out of will power somewhere between 8:30 and 9:30. Eyelids droop lower and lower, heads bob up and down. A few collapse miserably; the more seasoned veterans appear to be attentive until you notice they don't move a muscle and the eyes stare vacantly.

Some few coffee addicts stagger from class at 9:30 and wobble over to the cafeteria. There they shuffle through the line to the coffee machine where they fill foam cups to the brim and anoint themselves once in a while. Drinking coffee will eventually wake you up, but spilling it on yourself provides instant results.

Monday morning must be

GET OFF

when they shoot Visine commercials and Anacin advertisements. If so, they could get some dandy subjects for such ads from any 8:30 class at UNC-W on Monday.

Well, perhaps such artificial stimulants as coffee or anacin help to some degree, but the best cure is the thought that Friday is not too far away. One warning, though, gentle reader - Don't think about Monday on Friday.

DEAR DARLENE

BY DARLENE PEARSALL

Dear Darlene,

I haven't had a date in two years. I don't understand what's the matter. I use a manly deodorant and a toothpaste with sex appeal. I'm always dressed in the latest men's fashions. What should I do to get dates?

Wondering

Dear Wonder,

